

Angels Fall

Thursday marked the opening night of the K-State Players production of "Angels Fall," a two-act play written by Lanford Wilson. See Page 7.

Weather

Cloudy and windy today with a 30 percent chance of showers, high in the mid-50s. Rain tonight and Saturday with tonight's low around 40, and Saturday's high around 50.

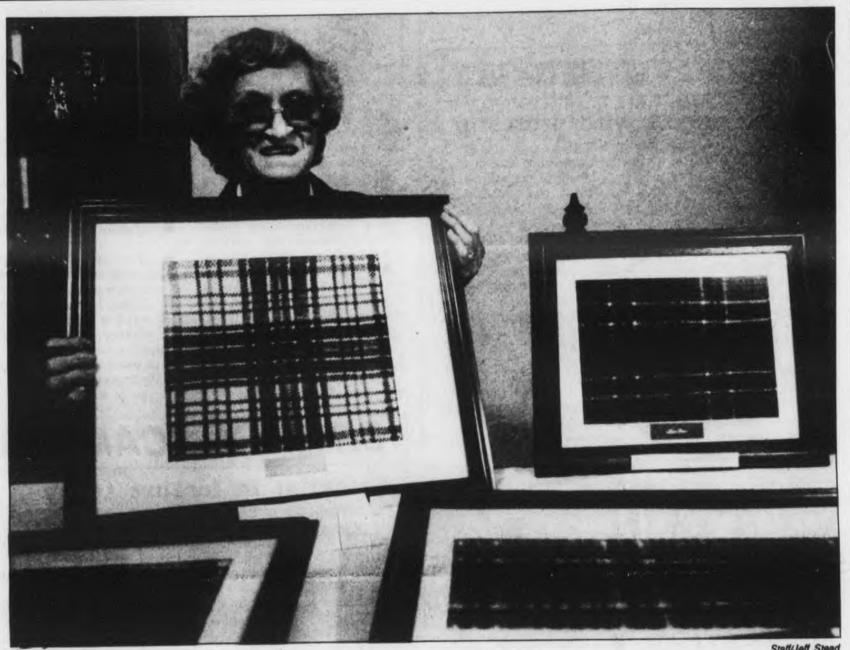

66612 me University of Kansas, K-State will try again to gain a mark in the win column as it meets lowa State Saturday. See Page 9.

Friday

November 10, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 59

Kansas State Collegian

Alice Davidson, Manhattan, has hand woven about 50 traditional tartan plaids of Scottish clans. Some of the original tartan plaid patterns date back to the 8th and 9th centuries. The exhibit is on display at the Wolf-Butterfield House, 630 Fremont, until Nov. 20.

Woman weaves Scottish 'history'

By Becky Jones Collegian Reporter

Alice Davidson doesn't refer to her hobby of weaving Scottish tartan plaids as art. She calls it history.

Davidson, Manhattan, has hand woven about 50 traditional tartan plaids of Scottish clans. She said the process requires much more than just weaving - there's also research.

Davidson researches the history of each clan, with most of her information coming from books. She also writes to the official tartan authorities in Edinburgh, Scotland, for information she cannot find. The Lord Lyon, King of Arms of Scotland, has the sole authority to grant clan tartans, she said.

Some of the original tartan plaid patterns date back to the 8th and 9th centuries, Davidson said.

Research also aids in the authenticity of Davidson's weaving. The color and thread count has to be exact to accurately represent the clan's official tartan, she said.

Each tartan is matted and framed, and comes with a nameplate and brief synopsis of the clan's history. Davidson does all the work herself, including the matting and framing. The frames are made by her brother who lives in Michigan.

"When people hear the word tartan, they typically think of the pattern of the tartan."

Davidson makes three sizes of tartans. The different sizes sell for $25, $40 and $100. Davidson said she has sold 20 to 25 of them and has also given some away as gifts.

Although Davidson said she could probably start a profitable business, she doesn't plan to pursue the venture in the near future.

"I don't pressure myself," Davidson said. "I like it as a

She made her first tartan plaid the Davidson pattern — in 1978. After her first success, Davidson thought other people might be interested in learning the history of scarves," Davidson said. "I do just their family and having a copy of the tartan plaid, so she began researching other clans.

"There is a certain amount of pride in tracing ancestors," she

Through her research, Davidson has discovered there are about 150 full-color clan plaids and 300 black and white. She plans to eventually make all the full-color plaids to pass down through generations of her family.

Davidson uses 100 percent fourply wool yarn, which she orders from the Cape Cod and Wisconsin. Her loom is from Canada.

She said there are various shades ■ See TARTAN, Page 14

Cuffy, McIntyre form 'coalition'

By Kendra Gensemer Staff Writer

Concern about the welfare of K-State and growing tensions within the student body - racial and living group - brought together Student Body President-elect Laurian Cuffy and John McIntyre, the defeated candidate, Thursday night.

"We want to manage perception of the racial problems," said Cuffy, senior in management. "We need to grow, not step back - get rid of these bad undertones and ask what is student government."

For a day it seemed the vision of "Unity and Growth for K-State" that won Cuffy the position of president had faded with the unofficial contest Wednesday of the election by some dissatisfied McIntyre supporters.

Supporters alleged Cuffy had disregarded regulations in his campaign. "It was a matter of interpretation," Cuffy said of the statements. "I interpreted the rules one way and I didn't perceive I was in violation."

Racial animosity was stirred up by

Cuffy received threatening racist

phone calls which were recorded on his answering machine at home. Cuffy said one message threatened

"Nigger, nigger, you'll be lucky if you're alive tomorrow morning." He said he has experienced no vandalism or physical threats, but police will be patrolling his apartment for the next three weeks. McIntyre, senior in industrial engineering, said members of his staff have also received racist threats. "There are a lot of individuals out there who are negative," Cuffy said. But Cuffy's vision brightened by Thursday.

McIntyre said neither he nor any of his supporters will be contesting the election.

"We asked ourselves some questions," he said.

He and some members of his staff felt the election was not unfair and would not contest.

Instead, Cuffy and McIntyre agreed in an informal meeting at the University Inn with their campaign managers and mediator David Ramsey, assistant dean of student life, to form an "informal coalition," which would allow them and their supporters to work together for a better student government.

"The reason we got together was that the damage to the student body from (suffering) racial relations and living group relations were not worth my pride," McIntyre said.

"SGA needs changes. By adding this situation (the contest), it was counter productive," Cuffy said.

"What we decide has to be coming from the heart, because, in essence, we're trying to reach a student body that is fragmented," Cuffy said. "If we can get together then, in fact, we are going places and we can move SGA and the student body. If not, the whole position of student body president and SGA is stag-nated," he said. "Right now you have tremendous support groups for Laurian and tremendous support groups for John. Throughout our campaigns we have stressed the theme of unity and we want to unify the student body," Cuffy said. "The coalition will reach out with a core group of people to make decisions," McIntyre said. "The student body president will be in charge of leading the way for the group."

McIntyre said that right now the president, the Senate chair, the chief of staff and the ASK director are four separate positions. Ideally the coalition would help the four student government leaders work together, thus creating a more efficient student government.

Both Cuffy and McIntyre said they are not going to formalize the coalition because they do not want to establish anything to which future student governments would have to conform, although they said they do believe what they are doing will establish precedence.

"I think we can do something that would be unprecedented," Cuffy

They said all factions will be able to work as one under the coalition.

Student government will be made up of "a group of students who will have just a little more idea of what students want," McIntyre said. Cuffy and McIntyre have not addressed what issues should be of importance to the coalition. Cuffy said they first need to "ensure that we create some calm and some peace."

■ See CUFFY, Page 13

9 million building opens

By Kevin Kramer

Collegian Reporter

The dedication of K-State's new $9 million Chemistry-Biochemistry Building Thursday afternoon marked a new chapter in the oldest university chemistry department in the state of Kansas.

The public ceremony offically opening the building included remarks by University and state officials involved with the development and construction of the building, a formal ribbon-cutting and marker-unveiling, and tours of the Chemistry-Biochemisty Building.

"One of the important things considered in the construction of the Chemistry-Biochemistry Building was to maintain and retain the distinctiveness of the physical identification associated with this geographical area and K-State," said former K-State President Duane Acker. The architectural styles of surrounding buildings are reflected in the design of the Chemistry-Biochemistry Building. The gothic style, from Dickens and Willard halls, and the modern influence, from King Hall, are symbolicly mixed, as are the two departments that will be working within it, he said.

"Often when disciplines meet there are clashes," Acker said. "But in an excellent university, that energy is made into more useful growth and purpose."

The four-story, 58,580-square-foot building houses facilities for half the chemistry and biochemistry departments, research teams, and 10 teaching laboratories for students.

Richard Dodderidge, chairman of the Kansas Board of Regents, said, "It's great to have a resource that measures up to the quality of work that is performed at K-State."

President Jon Wefald said the Chemistry-Biochemistry Building was vital in assisting the two departments - chemistry and biochemistry - provide the background in science needed by about a quarter of the student body. Chemistry and biochemistry have their roots in a number of disciplines throughout the University.

David Cox, head of the Department of Biochemistry, said, "The Chemistry-Biochemistry Building is a state-of-the-art facility with quality lab space, engineered as an enormous machine that functions as a Construction on the building began in 1986, and the building opened for University use in August, he said. The facility replaces the 50-year-old laboratories in Willard Hall. which have been technologically obsolete for several years.

"The essential element of the Chemistry-Biochemistry Phase I was to to get the teaching and research lab space out of Willard Hall," Cox said. "The design of the building has been very careful to meet the needs of laboratory space and safety."

Cox said constraints were kept on experiments in the Willard laboratories, so students wouldn't be subjected to dangerous or hazardous conditions.

"There are a lot of good things that have come about with the new building," said Joseph Paukstelis, professor of chemistry and chairman of the building committee. "This building is a lot safer than Willard,"

The building is most successful in providing good lab space and safer working conditions for both students and faculty, he said. But phasing the construction of the building has created a few problems.

"There's not enough space," Paukstelis said. "We will be pushed to the limits trying to move a few too many people."

The move to the new building would have been a more orderly change if phase II had been complete, providing more space, he said. While departments acquired the needed lab space, they didn't get the classrooms, lecture and conference rooms, and library space

Phase I of the Chemistry-Biochemistry Building didn't include needed classroom, lecture halls, faculty offices and library ■ See BUILDING, Page 14

Police arrest, hold football assistant

By Erwin Seba Senior Staff Writer

Riley County Police arrested a graduate assistant with the K-State football program Wednesday on two warrants containing seven criminal charges issued by the sheriff's office of Montgomery County, Timothy W. Lewis, 23, was arrested at 8:15 p.m. without incident at his home by Officer Herb Crosby of the RCPD.

Lewis is being held without bond in the Riley County Jail until his arraignment, which, with today's legal holiday in observance of Veteran's Day, will not occur before Monday.

A spokesman with the Montgomery County, Md., sheriff's office in Rockville, Md., Cpl. Robert Dauenhauer, said a bench warrant was issued for Lewis' arrest after he failed to appear in court Oct. 18 to answer criminal charges.

Crosby said the state of Maryland will seek Lewis' extradition from Kansas. Crosby said Lewis has said he will not waive extradition.

Extradition proceedings usually last between 30 and 60 days, Crosby said. Lewis is wanted for forgery of endorsement, theft of more than $300 and theft of more than $300/conspiracy, as well as storehouse breaking with intent to commit a felony, two counts of forgery and uttering. Dauenhauer said storehouse breaking was defined as the breaking into of a commercial establishment, and uttering constitutes identifying oneself as another person in order to pass a forged check.

Lewis was located in Manhattan by a bail bondsman from Rockville, Md., Dauenhauer said.

Lewis is also being sought by Prince George's County, Md., sheriff's office for failure to appear in court to answer fraud charges, Dauenhauer said. A spokeswoman with the office could not confirm Dauenhauer's statement.

A spokeswoman with the RCPD said she could not say if Lewis is being investigated for possible criminal violations in Riley County.

■ See ARREST, Page 14

Nuclear pacemaker implanted

NEWARK, N.J. - The world's first dual-chamber pacemaker to use nuclear power was implanted in the chest of a 47-yearold man this week, and doctors said the atomic energy source will help the device last as long as 40 years.

"Theoretically, this pacemaker will last a lifetime," said Dr. Victor Parsonnet, who operated on John Sniffen of Clifton on Tuesday at Beth Israel Medical Center here.

Pacemakers, which regulate the heartbeat, have been around for years, but the device given to Sniffen is the first dualchambered design powered by plutonium. While conventional battery-powered pacemakers must be replaced every five to eight years, Sniffen's is expected to last from 20 to 40 years.

Single-chamber nuclear pacemakers exist and last about 16 years, but the two-chamber design more naturally maintains the human heart's two-step rhythm. When the heart beats, the lower part squeezes blood into the upper chamber, where a second squeeze then sends the blood into the rest of the body.

The Pulsar-N1 pacemaker, an oblong device about 21/2 inches wide and an inch thick, is placed between the skin and the muscle of the chest wall.

Two wires are threaded through a vein to the heart, where they are attached to the upper and lower chambers, alternately jolting them with electrical impulses and adapting to the patient's rate of activity, Parsonnet explained at a news conference Thursday.

Chemical explosion injures 17

LOUISVILLE, Ky. - Fire touched off a chemical explosion at a printing plant Thursday, sending 17 people to hospitals with burns, cuts and bruises and forcing an evacuation at the state's largest newspaper.

The injured included 15 firefighters who were blown through the air by an explosion as they used water and chemicals to fight the second of two fires at the plant, said city fire Capt. Keith Milliner. He said none of the firefighters' injuries were believed to be serious.

Two pressmen at the Standard Gravure plant were taken to hospitals for treatment of second-degree burns on their arms and faces, officials said.

Production of the newspaper, The Courier-Journal, was disrupted by the evacuation of the building, which is adjacent to the printing plant and also houses the main office of The Associated Press for the state. Workers were allowed back into the building at 10 p.m., but power was not fully restored immediately.

George Gill, president and publisher of The Courier-Journal, said his staff was "going to go back to the old-fashioned way" to put out Friday's editions.

Courier-Journal'staffers set up with typewriters and telephones in an old company-owned building across the street.

Officer runs over pedestrian

FALLON, Nev. - The Nevada Highway Patrol has identified a pedestrian who was struck and killed by an off-duty Fallon police officer as Thelma Hanshew, 73, of Arkansas City, Kan. The driver was also publicly identified Wednesday as Marvin Smith, 35, who was on administrative leave with pay pending the outcome of the accident investigation. The victim was in a crosswalk at U.S. Highway 50 at Tedford Lane when she was struck Tuesday at 6:50 p.m., according to authorities.

Fallon Police Chief Danny Wood said a pedestrian was killed at that same location last summer but efforts to install traffic signals there were rejected by the state.

Turkeys scattered on highway

milar disposer principal compression of the contract of the co

ELKHART, Iowa - State Patrol officers, guns at the ready, surrounded hundreds of turkeys Thursday after a tractor-trailer truck overturned, spilling the birds onto Interstate 35.

"We were prepared to shoot them because fowl are very difficult to contain," patrol Capt. Loren Dykeman said.

Traffic on the busy interstate was rerouted around the interchange for four hours as six officers tried to prevent the birds from fleeing into an adjoining lane of the highway.

Authorities were concerned the birds would run into traffic and cause another accident, but Dykeman said they huddled together to keep warm in temperatures in the mid-30s.

The turkeys' moment of thanksgiving was short-lived, however. The 1,000 birds were bound for a processing plant in Ellsworth and workers loaded the last of the birds onto another truck, Dykeman said. About 300 turkeys were killed in the crash, in which the driver was injured.

Tunnel project kills 3 more

MILWAUKEE - An explosion in an underground sewerage tunnel Thursday killed three workers who fled when methane gas built up, but then returned to check the gas level.

The deaths were the fourth, fifth and sixth fatalities in four deadly accidents on the tunnel project. The contractor in March was cited by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration for unsafe conditions, including poor ventilation.

BRIEFLY THE REGION

Hayden meets with protestor

TOPEKA - Gov. Mike Hayden met briefly with a woman who handcuffed herself to a chair in the reception area of his office to protest the continued use of hazardous material.

"The governor said he would look into it, which is the response we always get," said Lauri Maddy after her meeting with the governor.

Maddy, 34, said she is suffering from a rare lung disease that she contracted after she moved into a Wichita neigborhood near the Vulcan Chemicals Co. plant.

The woman left the Statehouse after her meeting with Hayden and two of his assistants.

Maddy talked with Hayden for about 15 minutes after sitting handcuffed to a chair for about 31/2 hours. She told state officials she did not have a key, but a security guard with a master key unlocked the handcuffs so she could walk back to the governor's office.

About a dozen supporters sat with her during her protest. Maddy, who now lives in Rose Hill, said her doctor told her to move from her old Wichita neighborhood about two years ago because of her health.

"When I moved into the area, I was healthy," she said. "When I moved out, I was extremely ill and told I would

She said she handcuffed herself to the chair because she is frustrated about the degradation of the environment.

Man dies in head-on collision

UDALL, Kan. - A Winfield man was killed when his war drifted across the centerline and collided head-on with a tractortrailer in southern Kansas, authorities said.

The victim was identified as William F. Andreae, 26, according to the Cowley County sheriff's department. A car driven by Andreae was traveling eastbound on Kansas 15 when it crossed the centerline and collided with the westbound truck. The driver of the truck was not injured.

BULLETIN FOR CAMPUS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Campus organizations are encouraged to use Campus Bulletin. All announcements must be submitted by 11 a.m. one day prior to publication. Announcements for Monday's bulletin must be in by 11 a.m. Friday. However, publication is determined by the amount of space available on a first-come, first-serve basis and is not ensured. Information forms are available on the shelf outside Kedzie 118. Forms should be left in the box on the shelf after being filled out. All submissions must be signed and are subject to verification. Questions should be directed to the Collegian's campus editors in Kedzie 116.

KAPPA DELTA PI Seniors: Last day to order honor cards is today. See Dr. French in SINGLE PARENT/DISPLACED HOMEMAKERS Scholarship application forms are available at Bluemont 407 or the Fenix Office, Leasure 03.

COORDINATED PROGRAM IN DIETETICS is accepting applications for spring admission. Deadline is Nov. 30. Application forms available from Deborah Canter, Justin 104. Call 532-5521 for information.

K-STATE PLAYERS will perform

Angels Fall, at 8 p.m. today and Saturday in Nichols Theatre.

TODAY

GRADUATE SCHOOL has scheduled the final oral defense of Elizabeth V. Sholly for 1 p.m. in Bluemont 368.

SAILING CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in

STUDENTS FOR EDUCATIONAL AWARENESS will present a demonstration and guerrilla theater at 10 a.m. west of McCain

GYMNASTICS CLUB meets at 8 p.m. in Natatorium 4.

BETA SIGMA PSI LIL' SISTERS will meet in the afternoon at the Beta Sigma Psi

DIVISION OF BIOLOGY will present a seminar on Experimental Studies on the Evolutionary Ecology of Predator Avoidance at 4 p.m. in Ackert 221.

MORTAR BOARD will meet from 3 to 6 p.m. at 1412 Nichols. Bring food and supplies.

K-STATE POLICE

Wednesday

- A 26-inch, Murray 10-speed bicycle was reported lost or stolen from an unknown vicinity. Loss was estimated at $100.
- A Toyota Celica parked in lot A-25 was towed to Manhattan Wrecker.
- A Toyota Corolla parked in the drive to Pittman was reported disabled.
- The burglary theft of a trumpet and case from a vehicle parked in lot B-3 was reported. Loss was estimated at $300.

Thursday

A stray, brown, shorthair dog was found at K-10 Jardine.

- A wheel lock was placed on a red Ford Mustang parked in lot A-25. Lock was later removed.
- A wheel lock was placed on a white and brown Dodge parked in lot A-3. Lock was later removed.
- A wheel lock was placed on a Buick two-door in lot A-2. Lock was later removed.
- A faculty/staff parking permit was reported lost on campus.
- The burglary theft of a student parking permit from a vehicle parked off campus was reported.
- A wheel lock was placed on a black and silver Blazer parked in lot A-23. Owner reported a stolen faculty/staff parking permit.
- A wheel lock was placed on a blue Plymouth parked in a reserved stall west of Kedzie.

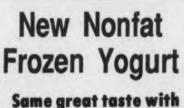

BRIEFLY AR CAMPUS

Scientist to lecture today

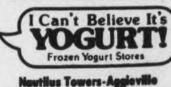

The Department of Biochemistry is sponsoring a public lecture today featuring Howard K. Schachman, chairman of the Department of Molecular Biology and director of the Virus Laboratory at the University of California, Berkeley.

Schaehman, a member of the National Academy of Sciences and the American Academy of Arts and Science, is presenting his lecture "Can a Simple Molecular Mechanism Account for the Regulatory Properties of a Complex Enzyme? A Model for Aspartate Transcarbsmylase." The lecture will begin at 4 p.m. in King Hall, Room 4.

Schachman's visit coincides with this week's dedication events for the new Chemistry-Biochemistry Building.

Same great taste with no fat or cholesterol

Phone 537-1616 UNITED ARTISTS

$2.50 PER PERSON SHOWS BEFORE 6:00 p.m. SETH CHILDS 6

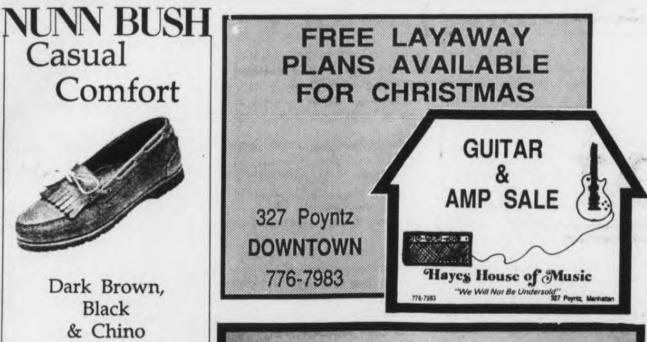

TH CHILDS AT FARM BUREAU RD. 778-96 U2-RATTLE & HUM 2:15, 4:35, 7:15, 9:40 THEY LIVE R 2:20, 4:40, 7:20, 9:30 IRON EAGLE II PG

Delly 7:15, 9:35 SAT. & SUN. 2:10, 4:40 EVERYBODY'S ALL-AMERICAN R 2, 4:30, 7:10, 9:45 CLARA'S HEART PG-13 Daily 7:10, 9:30 SAT. & SUN. 2:10, 4:40

Casual

Mobile classroom serves 13,000

By The Associated Press

GREENBUSH, Kan. - The body and its wonders, the human mind and its marvels - 13,000 school children in southeast Kansas are learning about health and substance abuse prevention in a positive way. They are learning about the miracle of life.

Southeast Kansas children are being shown how their bodies work through instruction given in the Life Education Center Mobile Unit, one of only three such centers in the United States. The others are in Chicago and Kansas City, Mo.

The mobile unit will be dedicated officially Tuesday at ceremonies to be attended by Gov. Mike Hayden and the State Board of Education. The board will hold its first regular meetings in modern times outside Topeka — Monday in Chanute and Tuesday in Greenbush, located about nine miles west of Girard.

A project of the Southeast Kansas Education Service Center in Greenbush, the LEC is a self-contained, 36-foot trailer designed to serve as a mobile classroom. High technology teaching aids fascinate children and often keep them spellbound as each class session comes alive with "Tam," the Transparent Anatomical Mannequin; electronic modules of the body's systems; and Harold, the singing giraffe.

The southeast Kansas unit is the first for the state of Kansas, and has been endorsed by Hayden. Serving 32 school districts and communities, the LEC will visit 52 communities and 73 schools during the 1988-89 school year, including all school districts in Crawford County.

"Through the Life Education Center, we are teaching substance abuse prevention by teaching children about themselves and the world around them," LEC teacher Sondra Torchia said, "not by scaring them or giving them 'dos' and 'don'ts."'

When first introduced to "Tam" and her transparent anatomy, the common reaction from children in the lowest elementary grades is "Oooh guts!" But by the end of the learning session, they recognize as each part of her anatomy lights up that "Tam" has a heart, lungs, liver, stomach and large and small

Torchia shows the students a film about a young girl who builds a robot because she wants a friend. The child in the film explains to her new mechanical friend that while "you need oil, I need love."

Coordinated with the film, the students use "Carpet Friend" to learn the parts of the body. One child lies on the carpet outline of the human body, while the other students place the brain, heart, stomach, lungs, and intestines in their appropriate places.

They learn that in addition to the various physical functions of the body, human beings also have feelings and that feelings are important. Torchia asks each child to describe what makes them happy, and they dance and clap their hands to the song "Nobody's Got a Body Like You," which stresses the individuality of each person.

After learning about the four basic food groups, the students are introduced to Harold the Singing Giraffe, a puppet who "thinks about what he eats — not too many lollies, but lots of vegetables and meat."

Third graders learn about such things as the harmful effects of nicotine on the body. Using electronic modules of various body systems, the students can actually see the effects of nicotine and other substances.

"They get the idea that things other than food, water and oxygen do have an influence on their bodies," Tor-

The fourth grade program deals mostly with peer pressure as the students do role-playing about such things as being hassled to smoke. The Life Education Center was founded in 1979 in Sydney, Australia, and was based on the philosophy that a positive approach to prevention is more successful than the use of scare tactics or information alone. There are currently LEC mobile units operating in Australia, New Zealand, the United Kingdom and the United

U.N. ambassador to speak at McCain

By The Collegian Staff

Vernon Walters, the U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, will deliver the 81st Landon Lecture on Public Issues at 10:30 a.m. today in McCain Auditorium.

Walters is a career diplomat, whose service in the U.S. Army spanned four decades. His roles included those of special aide to Harry Truman, translator and military attache in several countries. He was also deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency from 1972-76 and ambassador-at-large from 1981-85 before his appointment as U.N. ambassador in 1985. Charles Reagan, chairman of the Landon Lecture Series, said Walters will speak on recent successes of the United Nations. At 1:30 p.m. today, Walters will speak at the Veterans Day Ceremony at the site of the future K-State Vietnam Memorial, east of All-Faiths Chapel.

Site to be dedicated for memorial

INTIFADA

SALEH FAWWAZ, member of the Palestinian Aid Society speaks on the role of students in Palestinian uprisings,

Nov. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the International Student Center.

Sponsored by - Arab Student Assoc. and I.L.L

By Becky Jones Collegian Reporter

Exactly two years ago today, a committee was formed with the goal of constructing a memorial on campus to be dedicated to K-State students who died in the Vietnam War.

After many promotional activities, fund-raisers and a design contest, the committee's efforts have paid off. The site for the KSU Vietnam

Memorial will be dedicated in a ceremony at 1:30 p.m. today east of All-Faiths Chapel.

The ceremony is in conjunction with Veteran's Day observance.

Ambassador to the United Nations, Vernon Walters, who will deliver the 81st Landon Lecture at 10:30 this morning in McCain Audi-

Remember

18 oz. Fishbowls

QUALITY NATURAL

FOODS

For All Your Holiday Needs

People's Grocery

Cooperative

539-4811 811 Colorado

torium, will be the guest speaker at United States Army. the site dedication.

"He represents, to the (Vietnam Memorial) committee, a meaning for the memorial," said Bill Arck, director of Alcohol and Other Drug Education Services and adviser to the memorial committee.

Arck said the memorial's theme and purpose ties in with the principal task of the United Nations, which is the maintenance of international peace and security. "It (the memorial) is not a glorification to the war, but to the warriors," he said. "It's a statement for a hope of peace."

Also participating in the ceremony will be K-State's Army and Air Force ROTC groups, Arnold Air Society and the Association of the

In observance of Veterans Day, these groups will place wreaths at three war memorials on campus: All-Faiths Chapel, which is dedicated to K-State students who died in World War II and the Korean War; a wooden memorial in the Military Science Building with photos of K-State students who were killed in World War I; and a plaque in the Union near the check cashing counter dedicated to K-State students killed in the Vietnam War.

The wreaths will be placed at the memorials in brief ceremonies at 7:30 this morning, said Capt. John Taglieri, adviser for Amold Air Society and adviser to the memorial committee.

Construction on the Vietnam

Memorial is expected to begin in the spring, Arck said, and should be completed by the end of the spring semester. He said the committee would like to dedicate the memorial on April 29 to mark the anniversary of the offical end of the Vietnam War, which was April 30, 1975.

The memorial will be circular, with a bench and flagpole in the center. The walls of the structure will bear the names of 38 K-State students who either died in the Vietnam War or are listed as missing in action.

About $13,000 of the $20,000 needed has been raised for the construction of the memorial. The balance was appropriated by Student Senate this fall.

R.O.Y.A.L

Held over by popular demand! Photographer will be here until Nov. 18 to take Royal Purple portraits. 8:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. and 1:30-5:30 p.m. Union 209. Call now for your appointment.

539-5229 Take your fee card or student ID for your portrait sitting.

P•U•R•P•L•E

1800 Claflin 776-4111 Open 2 p.m. to 2 a.m.

See us for Group Discounts

"The Aggieville Alternative"

TONIGHT Live Band That Statue Moved

Thursday Try our new dry beer from Anheuser-Busch $1 Bottles

One drink & you'll drink it dry

Charlie's Specials Thurs.—$1 Wells Fri.-$1 Shots SATURDAY

$1 Pitchers

Open at noon on Sat. Come party before & after the game.

Traduates

Fall Bachelor candidates Commencement exercises:

Your graduation apparel is for sale November 1 - December 11

Includes cap, gown, tassel (and collar for women) Total price with tax is $14.58.

Mail orders for Bachelor's apparel should include height, weight, hat size, degree information and $1.50 extra for postage and handling.

Master, Doctorate, and Faculty

Master, Doctorate, and faculty rentals will be taken at the Supply Department Gift Counter Nov. 1 - Nov. 20. After Nov. 20 a $3.00 late fee will be added.

Rental Prices Masters Doctorate Cap/Gown/Tassel Hood $21.00 $23.25 $11.25 $12.50 Cap/Gown/Tassel only $ 9.75 Hood only $10.75

Announcements

Non-personalized white paperpkg. of 10 for $6.01 incl. sales tax See the gift counter clerk for further details.

Mon-Thur 8am-8pm Fri 8am-5pm 9am-5pm Sat 12n-5pm Sun

Is there a place in Manhattan where you can buy a stack of books three feet tall and only pay $10 ?? You'll have to be there to see it!!!

K-State Union's

YARD SALE

Misc. books $10/yard

Nov. 15-16-17 9am-4pm

2nd floor Ballrooms K & S

Brought to you by:

Editorial

Kansas State Collegian Opinions ■ Friday, November 10, 1988

Potential abounds in Walters' lecture

Well, they've done it again. He's white, male and the product of a conservative administration - Vernon Walters, the 81st Landon lecturer. No surprises.

A veteran of the U.S. Army for more than 30 years, Walters has been described as being involved in more government overthrows than any other official in the U.S. government. For this reason, his lecture has the potential to provide qualified insight into international relations.

His speech also has the potential to become the same useless political rah-rah speech, typical of the issue-avoiding candidates of the presidential election.

Walters is scheduled to speak on recent successes of the United Nations. This topic allows Walters a broad range of topics to discuss. It also presents the opportunity to avoid any type of controversy if he so chooses. People don't want to hear why the United States so desperately wants world peace. They want to know how government officals expect to accomplish it.

Just for starters, why do political analysts feel the Reagan administration has purposely downplayed the role of the United Nations by appointing Walters to the position without cabinet rank?

Why did Walters abstain from a vote condemning South African elections? How about the World Court's decision that the CIA broke international law by mining Nicaraguan harbors?

How does one go about recruiting mercenaries or organizing a coup with the intention of overthrowing a government?

Are there any moral and ethical standards considered in international politics?

These are some of the questions people want answered. If he refuses to discuss relevant and useful topics in his speech, then hopefully questions from the audience will provide insight into past covert dealings and what to expect in the future.

The potential is there to gain insight into a particularly murky side of U.S. politics - our domination of the rest of the world.

The potential is also there to lead the audience into the murky side of the Landon Lecture series - important speakers with nothing interesting to say.

Memorial dedication contrary to purpose

Vernon Walters, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, will give the 81st Landon Lecture at 10:30 this morning.

At 1:30 p.m., just east of All-Faiths Chapel, Walters will be dedicating the ground upon which the KSU Vietnam War Memorial will be built.

On Oct. 18 discussion arose in Student Senate as to the purpose of the Vietnam Memorial.

A member of Students for Educational Awareness voiced the opinion that the memorial should be an "anti-war" statement.

Members of the Arnold Air Society as well as the majority of the Senate responded by emphasizing that the purpose of the memorial is not to glorify war or to condemn it, but to commend the people who died.

A point well taken.

But now we have Vernon Walters, a man who claims the Vietnam War was "one of the noblest and most unselfish wars in which the United States ever participated."

How much more pro-war can one get?

Now we have this man dedicating the memorial's site. How much closer to glorifying war can one get?

If the Arnold Air Society truly wants the memorial to make a non-political statement, then choosing Walters to dedicate the ground was not a wise decision.

On the other hand, if the groups opposing Walters' lecture use the dedication ceremony as a site for protest, they are making an equally unwise decision.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

EDITOR	Ched L. Sanbor
MANAGING EDITOR	Lori Siegrii
NEWS EDITOR	Janet Swanso
EDITORIAL PAGE EDITOR	Jeff Schra
PHOTO/GRAPHICS EDITOR	John La Barg
SPORTS EDITOR	Chris Hay
ADVERTISING MANAGER	Catherine Dou
EDITORIAL BOARD	Nancy Chartrand, Christine Doll, Audra Dietz, Jim Dietz, Catherine Dou Susan L'Ecuyer, Scott Miller, Michael Nichols, Karla Redelsheimer, Chad L. Sanbor Jeff Schrag, Envin Seba, Paula Selby, Robert R. Short, Mark Schmeller, Janet Swanso
tions Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Man Monday and Thursday during POSTMASTER: Send address hattan, Kan, 66506-7167.	USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publica hattan, Kan. 66506. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the school year an summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. s changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Mar
News contributions will be a inquiries concerning local, nat tising questions should be dire	accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116. ional and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word adve- cted to (913) 532-6555.
	Kansas State Collegian Subscription Rates
One Semester (Fall or Spring)
Two Semesters (Fall and Spri	ng)
Summer Session
One Year (Fall, Spring and S	ummer)
	To charge by VISA or MasterCard, call (913) 532-6555
Send orders and address chan	ges to Student Publications, Kedzie Hall 103, Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kan. 6650

Electorate is human too oters can make bad choices

ast week Gary Larson published his last Far Side cartoon (at least for a while), Republicans compared themselves to another famous Democrat, K-State lost to the University of Kansas and Geraldo Rivera's nose got in the way of a flying chair.

This week Kansas Attorney General Robert T. Stephan was found guilty of breach of contract and Mr. "read my lips" George Bush (to no one's excitement) won the title of the "lesser of two evils."

These episodes all merit different reactions. You could be mad that Bush won the election and glad to see Stephan's name popping up in court or you could feel the total opposite. Most news is loosely related through democracy - you know, government for the people and by the people. People, humans, mortals or earthlings all linked through actions and opinions.

When a country vests the power of government in mere humans, there are bound to be some mistakes and differences of opinion. People are capable of making some not-tooswift decisions — the electorate as well as the

Michael Kinsley's article in Time magazine this week makes a good point. "It's widely considered a breach of democratic etiquette to question the collective wisdom of the electorate. To suggest that the voters are wrong ... opens you up to charges of elitism."

Let's look at our voting process. Considering that barely half of the country actually votes, we can hardly call the election a result of what Americans want. The top three reaCommentary

KARLA REDELSHEIMER Collegian

Columnist

sons this year were (no drum roll, please): 1) The candidates weren't worth voting

2) I didn't know enough about the issues or the candidates to vote.

And the best excuse was: 3) I trust Americans enough to let those people voting decide for me.

hen the winner of the election is announced, token patriotism that has been stuffed down Americans' throats for months (like, gag me with a flag) is interpreted and analyzed to death. The likeability factor, or how well the winning candidate's image comes across to the masses, is translated into deep, philosophical theories and strategies of why the Americans who did vote, voted the way they did. None of the campaign handlers, of course, will take credit for the cheesy ads and photo opportunities (with question opportunities avoided at all costs).

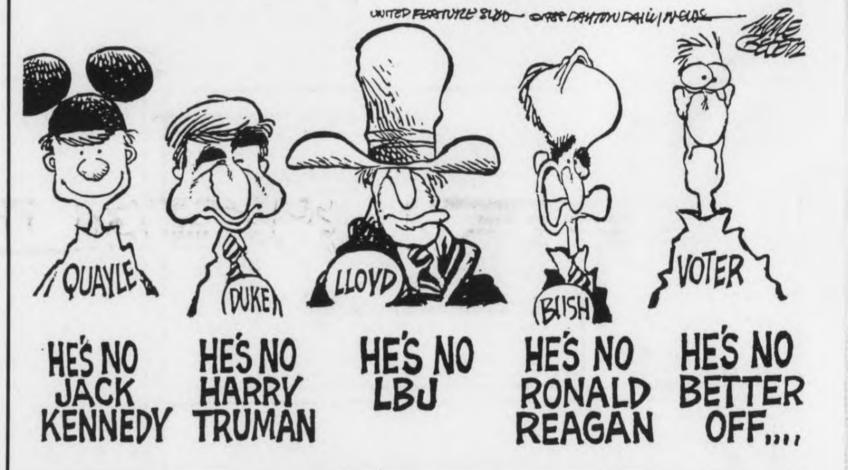

It's as if Americans were playing a game of spin the bottle with the elections. Let the bottle land where it may - let that magical force of chance determine who wins the election. It's easier to be victims of bad government than to be accountable for choosing a good or bad president.

he media are an easy target to blame for Americans' growing apathy toward politics. Throughout the campaign we were subjected to entertaining visuals, vicious attacks and candidate goofs. Bush and Dukakis were often under siege for not addressing the "real issues," but Americans didn't want to hear the issues. Although the issues were covered, they lacked that entertaining quality we all enjoy. It's not surprising that many Americans knew Dukakis used an air conditioner in just one room of his house instead of either candidate's record on environmental issues.

Americans are more concerned with their weight and cholesterol levels to be bothered with political issues. One problem with American politics is that it is based on humans and their nature. Their nature is to be distracted by entertainment or to get frustrated and lose faith in the system when their candidate loses.

Kinsley hit the mark when he wrote, "The theory of democracy is not that the voters are always right. Nothing about voting magically assures a wise result." He goes on to quote Senator Warren Rudman who wisely said during the Iran-contra hearings, "The American people have the constitutional right to be wrong." It's important to take advantage of this right and to realize there won't always be a perfect outcome.

Letters

the candidate issue of the Collegian was not making such decisions in the future. printed with the best interests of K-State students in mind.

The Collegian may be the only way many students have of gaining knowledge of potential student body presidents and should, therefore, fairly and accurately depict the issues and ideas of those candidates rather that express the opinions of its editors.

The Collegian's attempt to inform students of the views held by the editorial board effectively works to sway student opinion and, in the process, performs an extreme disservice to the other candidates, and, more importantly, to the students of the University.

While not denying the editors their Consitutional right to free speech or trying to pass a personal judgement on the candidate chosen by the Collegian, I believe that the political editorials published in a student newspaper should represent the views of individuals rather than the collective view of the newspaper itself. The Collegian editorial page states that it is a student newspaper.

After reading endorsements such as this, though, you must wonder whether the newspaper works to serve the students it is directed toward or the students who produce it. In this case, the Collegian clearly failed to show consideration for those students whose opinions had not yet been formed.

Fortunately, voter opinions were not significantly influenced by this article and decisions were made based on information gained either elsewhere in the Collegian or from

Though the Collegian's choice for student body president may well have proven to have been an excellent one, it is important that the students themselves be given the opportunity to make that decision based on the information presented to them by the candidates. I, therefore, ask the Collegian to acknow-

Shouldn't endorse ledge and respect the media's power to influence such important events and to report campus political activities objectively. The editorial entitled "Howard-Clayton Please allow the students the opportunity to picked to lead student body" and printed in form their own opinions when faced with

> Loren Sheets freshman in engineering

Match forgotten

Let me start by congratulating Saleh-el-Karsoua for having raised an important issue that has been bothering me for a long time: lack of covering for the intramural soccer tournament by the Collegian, especially the final game of the tournament.

I remember well that in the fall of 1986 when the African soccer team won the intramural soccer tournament, nothing was covered. However, last year's American team (Busch) won the tournament and its game was well covered by our Collegian newspaper. This year, the Arabo soccer team won the tournament. To my surprise and dismay, nothing was covered by our Collegian. Why?

Anyway, let me salute and congratulate both the African and Arabo soccer teams for winning in the 1986 and 1988 intramural soccer championships respectively. I am wondering whether I should congratulate the "Busch team" for winning the 1987 soccer Issue well done tournament. I guess I should because it is not its fault, after all. I believe it's the responsi- Editor, bility of the Collegian management to make sure that all organizations in this University ration for the very fine Election Special get fair coverage.

D.M. Mmofswa senior in agronomy

Slow reporters

I would like to congratulate the Collegian once again on a job well done! The article on Van Zile Hall on the cover of the Oct. 25 edition was an excellent article.

I am so glad I was informed about the bond issue that has been recommended. Hold it, I just remembered something. As I recall, this proposal was announced the week of Oct. 14. It took 11 days to get a story in the paper about this? Well, I guess it is a long walk over to the housing office from Kedzie Hall to interview someone. But wait, I saw it in the Mercury on the 18th and they aren't even on campus.

Gee, this is such a tough thing to figure out. guess it doesn't matter anymore if the students can't get news from their own newspaper quickly.

Randy Traylor senior in journalism and mass communications

Who's on strike?

I would like to know if the custodial workers are on strike in the library, especially in the stack areas. While studying in this area I notice papers that have been on the floor for months, and don't forget all the build up dust and dirt on the floors and tables.

Bertina Hayes freshman in pre-nursing

I wanted to be sure to write a note of admiwhich was a part of the Oct. 31 issue of the Collegian. I found your tables and comparisons to be among the clearest and most useful I have seen. It is the very sort of backgroundgiving which television cannot seem to bring itself to do, and which thus becomes even more important in trying to make an informed

Dave MacFarland associate professor of radio and television

'Romantic Comedy' challenges director

By Mark Rader Collegian Reporter

"Romantic Comedy" will be presented by the Manhattan Civic Theatre at 8 tonight at the City Auditorium.

The play, written by Bernard Slade, is being directed by Gary Leffler, graduate student in

It begins with New York playwright Jason Carmichael, portrayed by Gale Fulte, meeting Phoebe Craddock, portrayed by Turnetta Tubwell, on his wedding day. Complications begin as Jason and Phoebe fall in love and team up as writers.

Sound confusing? Well, it only gets worse.

After 10 years of yearning for Phoebe, Jason finally divorces his wife Alison, played by Nancy Wuertz.

But as fate would have it, Phoebe has married Leo, portrayed by Ed Minges, graduate student in economics.

The play then continues to follow the antics of Jason and Phoebe, who are what Leffler describes as "victims of unsynchronized passions."

"Romantic Comedy" is Leffler's first solo director job of a large production. It has been, he said, a pleasure and a challenge to work with the Civic Theatre.

Compared to the budget of K-State plays in which he has been involved, Leffler said the Civic Theatre's limited budget is a challenge.

The budget puts constraints upon the sets and costumes so members must do their best to find what they need in a closet or at a friend's house, he said. Leffler compared this with K-

State, where there is a large prop and costume room and things are easily found. This lack of materials was not always a bad thing, since the added responsibility of production helped to draw the cast members closer together, he said.

The play will be performed on the weekends through Nov. 19.

Senate allocates money for crew

By Nancy Prosser Collegian Reporter

At its meeting Thursday, Student Senate passed a bill that would allocate $3,000 to the K-State crew team.

The crew team had raised $3,500 to purchase a new rowing shell. The allocation from Senate would put them at the $6,500 mark, still $5,500 short of the cost of a new shell.

The crew team has not purchased a new shell since 1967. A rowing shell has a typical race life of 7-8 years, and as a workout shell it typically lasts 15-20 years, said Eric Custer, junior in political science and crew president.

"The purchase of a new shell would put us over the hump of being a national contender every year,' Custer said. "The shell currently used is old, and was purchased after having been used by both the U.S. Olympic team and the University of Minnesota. It is beginning to lose its usefulness as a racing shell."

The funds for the allocation would come from the Foundation Reserves for Contingencies fund, said Mark Burns, Senate finance chairman.

"When we set up the Foundation money, we set guidelines to its use. Use has to be on a one-time expense basis, and only after groups have exhausted all other sources of funding," said Graduate Sen. Justin Sanders. "I feel that the crew team meets all of these qualifications."

Senate amended the bill to read that the money would be allocated to crew after the team earned the rest of the $5,500 for the shell.

"Even though it is a large request, I feel that they need the money to be competitive and represent us," said Lisa Gast, human ecology senator.

Senate also approved a resolution issue on an athletic fee for the University. The resolution urged the 1989 Student Senate to move quickly to resolve the issue of an athletic fee.

"There wasn't enough time for this Senate to come to a decision on the athletic fee, so we decided to send all the information to the next Student Senate to let them deal with it," said Graduate Sen. Bernie Giefer.

Senate also approved a resolution that would urge Union management to seriously evaluate alternatives to the use of styrofoams, plastics and other non-biodegradable materials. Senators said they feel the use of these non-biodegradable materials is a threat to our environment.

"This resolution expresses a collective statement on Student Senate's part to express its concern," Giefer said. "Issues of marginal convenience should be considered secondary to environmental impact. We need to develop an awareness that there are alternatives of some biodegradable nature. We should think into the future."

"Since we, as students, have part of our fees going to the Union, I feel it is our business to know how and where they spend our dollars," said Education Sen. Melissa Blumel.

Agriculture Sen. Todd Johnson introduced a bill to re-evaluate the funding of children in the Childcare Cooperative. The bill would more efficiently distribute funds for the

The Senate heard first readings of three bills by Mary Jo Lampe, human ecology senator, that would revise SGA Bylaws and Constitution. The bills will be re-read and discussed at the next Senate meeting.

Collegian Line-up Thursday-Coupon Page Friday-Religious Directory Entertainment Page

BROTHERS In Aggieville riday Is Prime Time liffin' Time! OUR TRADITIONAL BBO ... is now even better. We've added more of your favorite BBQ extras to our FREE T.G.I.F. from 4-7 p.m. FRIDAY AFTERNOONS...

are the perfect times to relax with your friends, grab a pitcher, and enjoy our FREE BBQ.

18 To Enter • 21 To Drink

1120 Moro

537-9511

- Award-winning Pizza
 Great Pasta Dishes
- · Farnous Salad Bar · Carry-out · Catering
- Deli Counter

BUFFET SERVED EVERYDAY LUNCH 11 a.m.-2 p.m. DINNER 5-9 p.m.

Open everyday at 11:00 a.m.

537-4350

3019 Anderson

Village Plaza Shopping Center

Book Your Christmas Party Now For Our Back Room

a head start

On Your Day

Begin your day with a new, confident attitude.

537-1003

1107 N. 3rd NEW BEGINNINGS

EXPERIENCE A LITTLE FOLK HISTORY

At The Silver Dollar City Arts & Crafts Festival Nov. 10-13

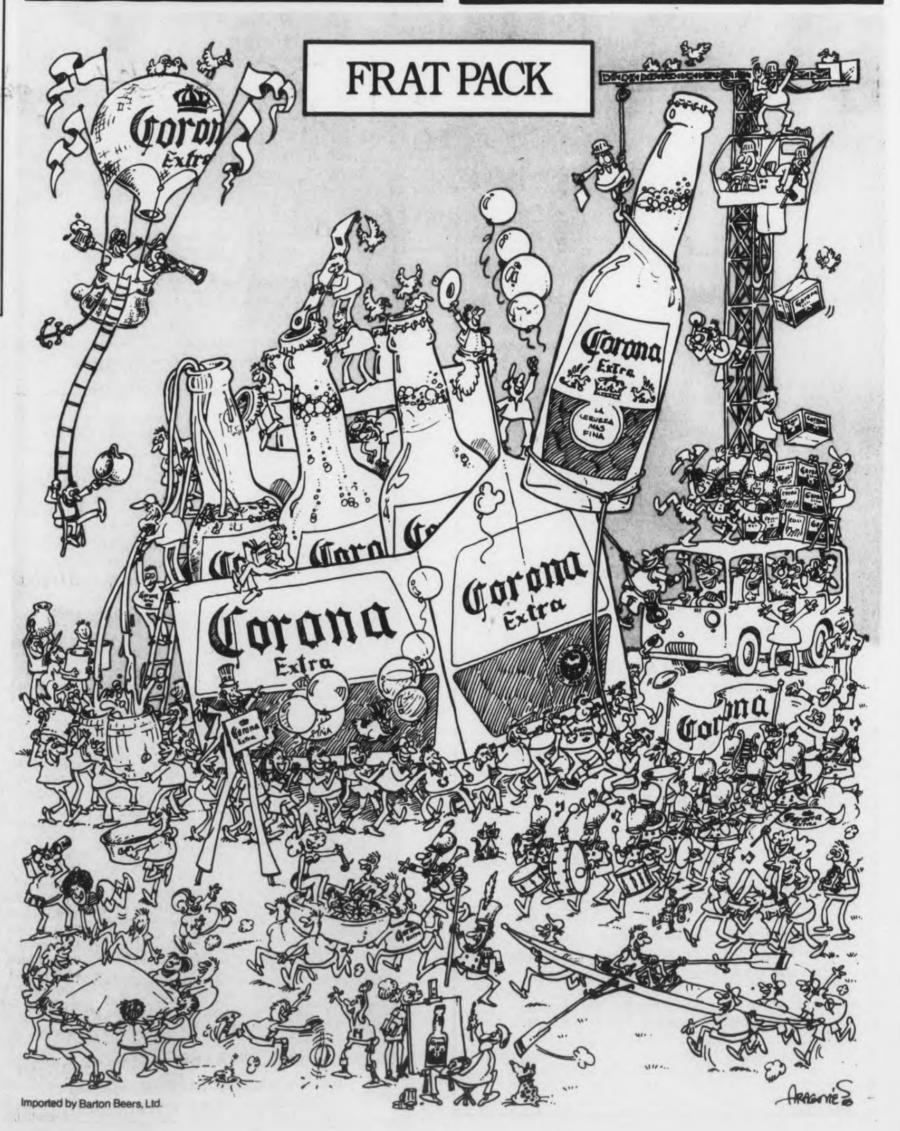

Come one come all and enjoy the folks from Silver Dollar City of Branson, Missouri. They are bringing a little part of folk history to Manhattan Town Center this Thursday-Sunday. Come view the traditional variety of arts and crafts costumed craftsmen and artisans make just like vesteryear's.

Booths will be located throughout the mall. It's paint, whittle and patch at The Silver Dollar City Arts & Crafts Festival. Don't miss the experience!

MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY 10-9, SUNDAY 12-5

DOWNTOWN MANHATTAN

Air Force unveils 'Stealth' fighter

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The U.S. Air Force has been flying a "Stealth" radar-evading jet fighter for seven years, and now has about 50 of the planes at an isolated base in Nevada, the Pentagon acknowledged Thursday.

Partially lifting a veil of secrecy that has enveloped the plane from its birth, the Pentagon and Air Force released a photograph of the unusual aircraft but declined to discuss its capabilities. The limited disclosures were made now because the Air Force needs to start flying the craft in daylight, a spokesman said.

The Pentagon said the plane had been declared operational and ready for wartime missions in October 1983, but that it first flew in June

The Stealth fighter "is officially known as the F-117A," said Dan Howard, the Pentagon's chief spokesman.

"It has been operational since October 1983 and is assigned to the 4450th Tactical Group at Nellis Air Force Base, Nev. The aircraft is basedat the Tonopah Test Range Airfield in Nevada."

The photograph released by the Pentagon depicts a relatively small, swept-wing plane with a flat underbelly. It somewhat resembles a sting ray - black or dark blue with no exterior markings.

The cockpit is located far forward in a nose that comes to a sharp point, with what appears to be gun barrels or air-speed probes sticking out.

The plane features a "V" tail atop a fuselage that ends in a rectangle, apparently completely encompassing the two engines that power the plane. The air intakes for the engines appear to be fitted tightly into the sides of the fuselage, just below the cockpit.

The swept-back wings would suggest the plane is capable of flying at supersonic speeds, but the Air Force declined to discuss the matter. Military sources have said the plane is designed for sneak ground attacks and not air-to-air dogfighting.

The Air Force has ordered 59 of the planes and 52 of them have been delivered, Howard said. Three of the planes have crashed and two pilots have been killed, the Air Force

To protect its secrecy, the plane has been flown only at night. But the Air Force needs to start flying the plane during daylight if it is to integrate the squadron's war plans with other units, Howard said.

Howard and Air Force officials declined to discuss how much the program cost. Nor would they offer information on the plane's dimensions or general capabilities, the materials from which it was constructed, or the major subcontractors involved.

The plane is built by the Lockheed Corp. at a tightly guarded plant in Burbank, Calif., the Air Force said.

According to military sources, the planes are kept at a high state of readiness for use as "aerial shock troops."

Most faculty, staff hear AIDS program

By The Collegian Staff

The faculty AIDS awareness program, sponsored by the Communicable Disease Committee, has reached 90 percent of the faculty and staff at K-State.

The last informative meeting was for the College of Veterinary Medicine. The meeting was the last of a series of six meetings in the Veterinary Medicine Center.

Cindy Burke, nurse educator at Lafene Student Health Center and meeting coordinator, said meeting participants have raised questions about the handling of the Dennis Howard case. Howard was a former associate professor of veterinary diagnosis who died of AIDS last summer.

The subject of the questions was whether the administration handled it properly, said.

The controversial issue concerned who is to decide if a victim of the AIDS virus is competent to work and what guidelines should be followed.

It was also questioned whether Howard was coerced into leaving.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The Reagan administration on Thursday removed most of the remaining bans imposed 47 years ago on home production in the garment industry to combat the exploitation of immigrants and other low-wage workers.

Labor Secretary Ann D. McLaughlin said that lifting the prohibitions will give workers increased flexibility and improve competitiveness of U.S. industries.

"The changing workforce demographics demand that we provide employment opportunities that allow workers the freedom to choose flexible alternatives, including the ability to work in one's own home," she said in a statement. "Women, for example, have entered the workforce by the millions."

Unions, which had opposed the administration's attempts over the garment production

GLENN'S MUSIC

Open Sunday 1-4

VOLUBE INTO MUSIC COME ON INTO GLENN'S.

Consignment Sales

Musical Instruments - Sheet Music

We Buy Used Instruments'

413 Poyntz

Manhattan, KS

539-1926

Accessories - Repair

the Labor Department's plan to license homework employers a "green light to exploit workers" and said they will challenge it in court.

Jay Mazur, president of the 173,000-member International Ladies Garment Workers Union (ILGWU), said the administration "cynically waited for American

We've got your

IT'S ON SALE

Amps from $87

NEW GUITAR, and

Acoustics from $109

Electrics from $159

past eight years to lift the ban, called working people to cast their ballots before launching a sneak attack on workers' rights."

> "With no public announcement, the lame-duck White House has given the green light to ... condemn countless American workers to exploitation and sweatshop conditions," he said.

FREE RENT

(one month with approved 12 month lease)

Free Campus Shuttle Stackable washers & dryers available 2 outdoor pools and spa

1408 Cambridge Pl. (913)539-2951

WORSHIP ON CAMPUS DANFORTH CHAPEL SUNDAY 11 A.M.

SERMON: Rev. AL ZIMMERMAN UNITED CAMPUS MINISTRIES, KSU.

FRIENDSHIP

Supper and Program-5:30 p.m., Campus Center, 1021 Denison DRAMA: "William Tyndale and Politics." By Gary Johnson, Folk Singer and Dramatist

EVERYONE WELCOME!

Sponsored by Lutheran Campus Ministry 539-4451 1021 Denison

Reagan lifts ban on

New regulations eliminating the homework prohibitions in five clothing industries effective Jan. 8 were published in the Federal Register. The White House abandoned efforts to also remove the ban on homework in a sixth field, women's apparel.

SUNDAY NIGHT

5:30 - 9 p.m.

1/2 slab $6.95 full slab $10.95

includes cole slaw corn-on-the-cob potato

UNIVERSITY

AN AMERICAN ROYAL SPECIAL EVENT THE STATLER BROTHERS

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 13

2:30 P.M.

KEMPER ARENA Kansas City, Missouri

With Special Guest MOE BANDY

And Featuring GIRLS NEXT DOOR

Tickets $12.00 and $10.00

Tickets available at all CATS outlets, or phone Dial-A-Tick (816) 931-3330, or the American Royal Ticket Office (816) 221-7979, with VISA or Mastercard. Or stop by the Third National Bank, in Sedalia.

No Rodeo performance this day. For complete 1988 entertainment schedule, call (816) 221-7979.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

PHILLIP WORSHAM 213 Orchard Street ustin, Oklehoma 10075

CAREER

EDUCATION

An entry level position in an or design firm. Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering, May 1987 Williamstown University; Justin.

EXPERIENCE

Summer Internahlp Summer 198 Central Power and Light, Justin, Interned in the Power Transmission

ACTIVITIES REFERENCES

Dean's List Varsity Soccer Intramural Softball Available Upon Request LIFUTENANT JACK TODD MILLS 285 Maple Street Justin, Oklahoma 10075

CAREER OBJECTIVE EDUCATION

An entry level position in an Electrical Engineering research or design firm. Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering.

Williamstown University; Justin, Oklahoma

EXPERIENCE

U.S. Army Signal Corps Officer Basic Course, September 1987 Training and Operations Officer, U.S. Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps, Williamstown University Planned, organized, and executed training for battalion of 110 cadets. Communications Platoon Leader, Headquarters Troop, 1-17 Cavairy, 82nd Airborne Division, Fort Bragg, NC Responsible for the training, discipline and welfare of a forty-man platoon.

Dean's List Distinguished Military Graduate
Commandant's List, Officer Basic Course

ACTIVITIES REFERENCES Army ROTC basic and advanced camps U.S. Army Airborne School Varsity Wrestling, Intramural Football PROFESSOR OF MILITARY SCIENCE

Lieutenant Colonel Karl Dunn Williamstown University College of Liberal Arts CMA 1.702

WHICH ONE WOULD YOU RATHER WRITE? When you spend four years becoming a leader, it shows. And that's what Army ROTC is all about. Fact is, when you graduate from college with a Lieutenant's gold bar, you'll bring more than a degree and a better resume to a job interview. You'll bring confidence and the knowledge that you've done something that will make you a desirable candidate in the job market A competitive edge few people your age have. Something you can be proud of.

So take a good look at Army ROTC. It just might help potential employers take a good

ARMY ROTC

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

Add success to your spring schedule! MSCI 105, Military Leadership. For more information, contact Army, ROTC at 532-6754.

Entertainment Friday

Kansas State Collegian ■ Friday, November 10, 1988 ■ Page 7

Vita Harris, played by Katie Morgan, checks the condition of her husband, Niles Harris, played by Geoffrey G. Kaufman, after a nuclear accident had been confirmed.

Politics, emotions mix as

Even "Angels Fall." But it can be more interesting when ordinary people hit bottom.

In the premiere of the K-State Players production of "Angels Fall" Thursday evening in Nichols Theatre, about 100 people saw how ordinary people deal with their worst mission church located in a desert in northern New Mexregion seem to be ants, scorpions and a lone priest who acts as the religious caretaker for the local Indians.

are forced to seek shelter at a nearby church when an accident occurs at a local uranium

Father Doherty, played by veterinary medicine, is an that his life work has been a energetic old priest who seizes this opportunity to exercise his conversation skills. These skills, he believes, have gone unappreciated for some time by his small congregation, composed primarily of Navajo Indians.

Among those retreating to his adobe church are: an Ivy "Angels Fall" is set in an old League art professor, Niles Harris, played by Geoffrey Kaufman, graduate in speech; ico. The only inhabitants in the and his loving wife Vida, played by Katie Morgan, freshman in fine arts.

The blocked roads detain the couple as they make their A unique blend of passersby way to an insane asylum in Phoenix where the instructor is to undergo treatment.

It seems the mild-mannered professor has recently undergone some deep self-analysis. Richard E. Brown, graduate in The instuctor has discovered total failure and is sent on sabbatical after he loudly proclaims this to his class.

Marion Clay, played by Pat Foltz, graduate in speech, a recent widow of a famous regional artist and her lover Salvatore Zappala, a young zestful tennis pro, played by Roger Burns, sophomore in radiotelevision, soon arrive at the same little church.

"All the people are at various crises in their lives," said Carl Hinrichs, associate professor of speech and the play's director.

Although all the characters have their own problems, they each find a unique and subtle way to interact with the others. Eventually they all come to some kind of conclusion about their decisions.

Don Tabaha, a young half-

Salvatore Zappala, portrayed by Roger Burns, is confused in the first act after he hadn't received information on a nuclear accident.

Indian doctor who was raised on the nearby reservation, is also at the mission. Tabaha was played by Rod Pocowatchit, senior in fine arts.

One underlying story deals with the priest's desire for the the young doctor to remain as the physician for his "people."

However, the doctor has decided to abandon this childhood notion in favor of pursuing a glamorous career with a cancer research facility in San Francisco.

The priest, a lifetime friend of the doctor, presses the ideals of right and wrong, which seem to become less clear-cut for the young man.

"It seemed to me, that what the priest was trying to get the doctor to do, was not to choose the wrong destiny," said Ben Hoffman, freshman in theater.

"On a real general basis, (the play) tends to deal with the idea of following your destiny," Hoffman said. "(The play) seems to present the idea that your destiny is there for you, but it's your job to live up to it."

"It's a funny play," Hinrichs for the general public.

story by Heather Huntington

photos by Joe Freeman

said. "There's a lot to laugh about, but it's not a comedy. It's a play with a lot of humor in it."

The crowd seemed to agree. Although the play was not a proverbial gut-buster, it did hold the audience's attention.

In addition to its humor, the play has an underlying antinuclear theme and shows how people deal with the crises of life, Hinrichs said.

Although the visitors to the area can walk away from the accident, the priest and the local Indians are forced to live with the constant threat of nuclear hazards.

"Angels Fall," which opened in New York in 1982, was written by playwright Lanford Wilson, who has also written, "Fifth of July," "Talley's Folly" and "Hot L Baltimore."

The two-hour play runs through Nov. 19 in Nichols Theatre at 8 p.m. Tickets are available in the Nichols Hall Box Office. The cost of admission is $4 for students and $6

NOW SHOWING

K-State Union

Cocktail 7 and 9:30 Friday and Saturday Forum Hall

Heavy Metal Midnight Saturday and Sunday. Forum Hall.

Campus Theater

Elvira Mistress of the Dark Daily, 7 and 9:15. Matinee 2:30 and 4:45, Saturday and Sunday

Westloop Cinema 6

Dominick and Eugene Daily 4:35, 7:05 and 9:30. Matinee 2:05, Saturday and Sunday

The Accused Daily 4:35, 7:05 and 9:30. Matinee 2:05, Saturday and Sunday

Daily 4:30, 7:10 and 9:25. Matinee 2:00 Saturday and Sunday Punchline

Without A Clue

Daily 4:25, 7 and 9:35. Matinee 1:50 Saturday and Sunday Young Guns Daily 4:30, 7:10

Saturday and Sunday Child's Play Daily 4:40, 7:15 9:25. Matinee 2:10 and 9:35. Matinee 1:50,

Seth Childs Cinema

U2-Rattle and Hum Daily 7:15 and 9:40. Matinee 2:15 and 4:35, Saturday and Sunday

They Live Daily 7:20 and 9:30. Matinee 2:20 and 4:40, Saturday and Sunday

Everybody's All-American Daily 7:10 and 9:45. Matinee 2:00 and 4:30, Saturday and Sunday

Clara's Heart Daily 7:15 and 9:35. Matinee 2:10 and 4:40, Saturday and Sunday

Ernest Saves Christmas Daily 7:10 and 9:30. Matinee 2:00 and 4:40, Saturday and Sunday

Iron Eagle II Daily 7:15 and 9:35. Matinee 2:10 and 4:40, Saturday and Sunday

Theater

Angels Fall K-State Players presentation. Nichols Theatre. Friday, Saturday and Nov. 16-19. Tickets are on sale at the Nichols Box Office.

Romantic Comedy Presented by the Manhattan Civic Theatre (see related article.) Tonight, Saturday and Nov. 16-19. City Auditorium.

Craft Show

Silver Dollar City Craft Show Manhattan Town Center. Today through Sunday.

New Video Releases

Three Men and A Baby - Nov. 16 Stand and Deliver - Nov. 16 Colors - Nov. 17 Not On This Earth - Nov. 22 Suicide Club - Nov. 22 Willow - Nov. 22 Funny Farm - Nov. 23

'Marion Clay, played by Pat Foltz, tries to stop Father William Doherty, played by Richard E. Brown, from getting into an argument while Niles Harris listens intently.

Lottery ticket revenue estimate reduced despite sales increase

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA - The Kansas Lottery has slashed by almost 17 percent the estimate of ticket sales it will generate between July 1, 1988, and July 1, 1989, even though annual sales so far have been higher than expected.

Director Larry Montgomery announced Thursday the agency predicts it will generate $70 million during that period, which comprises Fiscal Year 1989.

In its December 1987 estimate, the agency forecast it would generate $84 million during fiscal 1989, and stuck with those estimates through July and August in information it supplied to the Legislative Research Department. The difference is $14 million.

The lottery agency also previously cut its estimate of expected sales during its first full year of operation, which began in November 1987. When ticket sales began, lottery officials publicly said they projected gross sales of $83 million during its first calendar year of operation. On Thursday, Montgomery cited an esti- in the first four months of fiscal 1988. mate for the period of $72 million.

The lottery surpassed both estimates for its first full year of operation, generating sales of $89 million, the agency announced Thursday. That figure is 7 percent more than the old estimate and 24 percent more than the new estimate.

During fiscal 1988, which ended June 30, the lottery generated sales of $66 million — about $5 million more than expected.

Barbara Frick, the lottery's deputy director, described the older estimates for the first full year of operation as "guesstimates" that were refined over time.

Montgomery said his agency cut its estimate for the 1989 fiscal year because it recognized "the traditional second-year slump" and he expected "the traditional 'bloom is off the rose' news stories."

Montgomery also noted the $70 million estimate for fiscal year 1989 would exceed actual sales in fiscal 1988. The lottery did not sell tickets for Spring Semester Now given prior to Pre-Enrollment Dept. of Modern Languages Friday, November 11 4-5 p.m.

Placement Exams

French: EH124 Exam Locations: German: EH125 Spanish: EH15

For information: EH104 Ph. 532-6760

Now Your College I.D. Gives You An Instant Discount At Hardee's

on College I

Sundays after 11 a.m.

Just grab your college I.D. card and hurry over to Hardee's. You'll get 10% off the regular price of any food purchase when you show your college I.D. on College Night. Good Food. Great deal. Don't miss it! (And don't forget your I.D.)

606 N. Manhattan & 3116 Anderson Ave.

Hardees

ATTENTION WILDCAT FANS Enjoy A

25% DISCOUNT

on any small, medium, or large serving of ICBIY frozen yogurt when you wear purple on game day.

Our frozen yogurt has one-fifth the fat and one-half the calories of ice cream!

We'll also have available the popular Purple & White Swirl!!

Offer applies to all home football games. Toppings, waffle cones are regular price.

705 N. 11th Nautilus Towers Aggleville Open 11 a.m.-11 p.m. Dally Noon-11 p.m. Sunday

FFA modernizes name

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - The Future Farmers of America dropped the name farmer from its name Thursday in a change designed to show there are other agriculture careers besides working down on the farm.

Delegates to the national convention voted to change the name to National FFA Organization, the culmination of a five-year movement to broaden the organization's

"Many of these kids have no intention of going back to the farm, but are interested in other careers in agriculture," said Bill Stagg, director of information for the 416,000-member organization.

"The students who are already in have no concerns about the name," Stagg said. "But the new students, those people have an awfully tough time getting beyond our name. They are not interested in farming and it was difficult for them to take on a jacket and associate themselves with the word farmer."

The change was made to help counteract a 23 percent loss of membership that has occurred since the mid-1970s, and to help FFA appeal to high school students in suburban and urban areas, Stagg

"The problem we were experiencing was in the suburban and urban areas where those kids are not preparing to be farmers," said

"Beeperless" Answerer TAD-245 By DUOFONE®

Dual

Microcassettes

"The lottery will make every effort to exceed our projection by working with the lottery retailers and the Kansas Legislature to generate new games and promotions that will be of interest to lottery players," Mont-

Under state law, 30 percent of the money the lottery generates in sales in fiscal 1989 must go into state coffers. At least 45 percent must return to players in the form of prizes.

gomery said.

'88 Catalog Price 49.95

$40

Don't miss important calls, don't miss 31% off! Use any Touch-Tone phone to play back messages, control major functions, or signal someone at home to answer the phone. Voice activated recording. #43-394

Big-Button Telephone

ET-201 By Radio Shack HALF

Mount on

You can't miss! Big, bright orange buttons make dialing easy for fingers of all sizes and ages. Features convenient high/low/off ringer control and switchable Touch-Tone/ pulse dialing¹. #43-344

20% Off

Voice-actuated recording. #14-1040

Batteries extra

'88 Catalog

Price 99.95

Micro Recorder

Micro-25 By Realistic

'88 Catalog Price 499.95 Low As $17

Cut 30%—buy today before they're gone! "Freeze" the "big play" for later viewing. Picture-in-picture, remote on-screen programming of 21-day/8-event timer. HQ, VHS. #16-651 Remote batteries extra

Compact Disc Player

CD-2300 By Realistic

By Realistic

Cut

45%

Reg. 54.95

40-Watt Booster/EQ

7 Bands

40 watts total power output. Fader.

#12-1954

Digital—the ultimate in stereo at 41% off! Program the memory to play up to 15 selections in any sequence. Pushbutton repeat-play of one cut, programmed tracks or entire disc. #42-5006

Copy personal stereo tapes, play

two in sequence.

88 Catalog

Low As $15

Dual-Cassette Deck

SCT-45 By Realistic

Save

$50

Reg. 129.95

Hurry! Shop Today for Big Savings!

'88 Catalog Video Input for Price 159.95 Use as a Monitor

Picture won't wash out, even in sunlight! Light hood. #16-156 Batteries extra

Electronic Keyboard

Concertmate®-700 By Realistic

way! Has sound sticks for drum sounds, 12 preset sounds, 12

88 Catalog Price 199.95 rhythms. #42-4007 Low As $15 Per Month . Batteries extra

Radar Detector Sale Road Patrol XK® By Micronta

Save

Separate tones for X and K band radar. FAST™ circuitry

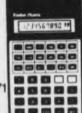

'88 Catalog

cuts false alarms. #22-1615 Price 169.95

> Dual-Powered Calc EC-4014 By Radio Shack

Cut 39%

Battery/solar powered. 71 functions. With battery. #65-979

Tandy

1000 HX

Reg. Separate

Items 998.95

Buy Now for These Pre-Christmas Sale Prices

HQ VHS Camcorder Model 100 MovieCorder™ By Realistic

Save $200 Reg. 1299.00

Infrared auto-focusing, 6-1 power zoom lens. Includes hardcase.

On-Screen-Programming Model 21 By Realistic HQ VHS VCR

Save $61⁹⁵ Wireless Remote Control Low As $15 Per Month •

349.95

Buy today and catch the latest video movie releases! 14-day/6-event timer, Quick-Timer recording, remote. #16-510 Remote batteries extra Compact Stereo

Dual decks, AM/FM, turnta-ble, 17"-high speakers. #13-1226 Per Month + AM/FM Stereo Headset 95 By STEREO-

45% Reg. 39.95 Weighs just 61/2 ounces, including batteries. #12-125 Batteries extra 100-Watt Rack Stereo System 1000 By Realistic

Save $150

Reg. 649.95 Low As $25 Per Month .

Dolby* B NR, spectrum analyzer, 12" woofers, synchro high-speed dubbing, EQ, AM/FM digital tuner. #13-1232

Portable CD Player CD-3200 By Realistic Save §60

Play Through Headphones Or Home Stereo.System Digital stereo to go! 16-selection memory, auto-search. #42-5011 Headphones, batteries extra.

29-Key Melody-Maker Concertmate-350 By Realistic

Super gift for young musicians! 100-note memory, 4 tones, 10 rhythms.

To guine

Tandy® 1000 HX Computer Save $200

With CM-5 Color Monitor Only $798.95

#25-1053/1043 Just power and run-MS-DOS® is built in! Builtin 720K, 3½" drive. 256K RAM. With Personal DeskMate™ 2. Runs PC-compatible software. #25-1053 MS-DOS/Reg. TM Microsoft Corp.

Sale! Dot-Matrix Printer DMP 132 By Tandy

Save *110

Low As $15 Per Month -Tandy and IBM® graphics printer emulations. Prints in draft and letter quality modes. Built-in

Ch. 9 Priority Mobile CB

TRC-474 By Realistic Save 560

Reg. 139.95

Why drive "alone"? Now you can get 43% off the radio that gives you instant access to Emergency Ch. 9 for highway help in a hurry. #21-1539

Radio ∫haek

2609 Anderson in Anderson Square 539-6151

#42-4008

Batteries extra

Weekdays 9-6

Saturday 9-5 Closed Sunday

Sports

Kansas State Collegian ■ Friday, November 10, 1988 ■ Page 9

Wildcats still trying to salvage season

Cyclones can move to .500

with victory over K-State

K-State defensive lineman Jim Oehm and middle linebacker Lorne Whittle pull down low back Joe Henderson during last season's game. Oehm, a starter, is out for the rest of the season.

By Chris Wilhelm Sports Writer

Saturday's football game between K-State and Iowa State at KSU Stadium will be a battle to reach season plateaus.

The Cyclones will be looking to reach the .500 mark after 10 games and the Wildcats, while not as lofty a mark, will be looking for their first victory in 10 tries in 1988.

"If we let K-State beat us, it will be a real step backward for our program," said Iowa State head coach Jim Walden. "We have accomplished some good things here this year. If you had told me three months ago that we would be 4-5 with a chance to go .500 after our tenth game, I probably wouldn't have believed it.

"If we let a team that has gone 0-9 and hasn't won a game since the 1986 season beat us, it will really take away from the positive things that we have done here this season. It would take us right into the tank."

Coming off its biggest loss of the season, a 30-12 setback at the hands of arch-rival Kansas, K-State is trying to bounce back against the muchimproved Cyclones.

"We tried to put last week's disappointment to bed last Sunday," said Wildcat head coach Stan Parrish. "We've had a good week. We've gotten a lot of things done and I think we have a good plan for (the Iowa State game). The kids have really bounced back from last week's defeat better than I expected they would.

"We'd like to help put (Iowa State) in the tank. There's no question about that. They have been doing a good job lately and we are going to have to do a much better job than we did last Saturday to get the job done."

Once again the two teams facing each other have different offensive

The Cyclones have been relying on the rushing abilities of their senior running back Joe Henderson, who rushed for 190 yards on 28 carries against the Wildcats last year, while the 'Cats will be hoping for a big day from their record setting receiver Greg Washington.

"I'm sure they'll try to run Joe Henderson at us right away," Parrish said. "I'm sure they'll try to establish the run, and they'll run the option also. Henderson is a good back and a good player and he's the one they'll try to establish first.

"We will probably do pretty much the same things we have been doing but we do have a couple of surprises that we don't want to put in print. We'll have a bag of tricks ready to go for this game.

K-State will be without the services of Alan Smith, Dimitrie Scott, Doug Blackbourne and Mark Young, who all suffered injuries in the KU game last week, bringing the number of Wildcat players who will miss the Iowa State game to 11.

"We have never let injuries be an excuse before and we are not going to use them now," Parrish said. "The kids know what they have to do and I think they will respond."

Iowa State Cyclones vs. K-State Wildcats

Game Time: 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Place: KSU Stadium (42,000).

whom Porter is currently tied.

TV: None. Radio: Wildcat Radio Network (WIBW 580 AM). Season Records: K-State 0-9, 0-5; lowa-State 4-5, 2-3 Series Record: Iowa State leads 43-24-4

Notes: lowa State has won the last three contests between the two teams ... Saturday will mark the final home appearance for Coach Stan Parrish, his staff and 20 K-State seniors, six of whom will not play on Saturday ... Wildcat receiver Greg Washington goes into the contest as the Big Eight's leading receiver with 59 catches. That total also places him sixth in the nation ... Cyclone starting quarterback Derek DeGennaro is out for the season with a knee injury ... Wildcat fullback Lee Pickett needs just 36 more yards in his last two games to break Don Calhoun's K-State season rushing mark for fullbacks (608 yards), set in 1972 ... K-State kicker Mark Porter needs just one more field goal to break the Wildcat career mark of 37 which is held by Steve Willis, with

Sports Briefly

Lady Cats play in St. Marys

The K-State Lady Cats had a purple-white intra-squad scrimmage Thursday night at the St. Mary's High School gym. The white team prevailed in the exhibition, 79-59.

Freshman Leah Honeycutt and senior Stacey Boyle led the white team to victory, scoring 17 points apiece while sophomore Nadira Hazim added 12.

The purple was led by junior Elyse Funk, who got 13 points, while three others also hit double figures. Juniors Rita Matteucci and Amy Davidson and sohpomore Kristie Bahner all had 11

KU signs prep point guard

LAWRENCE - Adonis Jordan, a 6-foot point guard from Reseda, Calif., signed a letter of intent Thursday to play basketball at the University of Kansas.

Jordan, a senior at Reseda's Cleveland High, averaged 17.3 points, 14 assists and seven steals as a junior. "This is a great start for us. Adonis has given us a commitment because he believes in us enough to know he will be going to a successful program," said first-year KU Coach Roy

"He stuck with us through a difficult week and gave us some positive news when we really needed some positive news," Williams said of the three-year probation recently slapped on Kansas.

Sundevil track on probation

TEMPE, Ariz. - Arizona State's track and field program was placed on probation for two years by the NCAA Thursday for 11 violations that included paying athletes and falsifying qualifying times.

Clyde Duncan, who was fired as track coach last spring, was told he would have to appear before the NCAA Infractions Committee should he apply for a job at an NCAA institution in the next five years.

Arizona State was put on a two-year probation by the Pacific-10 Conference in June after the school conducted its own investigation of the alleged violations and reported its findings to the conference.

Hershiser wins NL Cy Young

NEW YORK - Orel Hershiser, baseball's most dominant pitcher ever for the season's final two months, won the National League Cy Young Award unanimously Thursday, adding another honor to one of the most amazing years in history.

Hershiser's record streak of 59 scoreless innings ended the regular season and swept him past all rivals. He wound up 23-8 with a 2.26 earned-run average for the World Series champion Los Angeles Dodgers.

Hershiser got all 24 first-place votes and 120 points in balloting by two members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America in each league city. Two ex-Kansas City pitchers finished second and third in the voting. Cincinnati's Danny Jackson, 23-8, was second with 54 points and David Cone, 20-3 for the New York Mets, was third with 42 points.

Spikers to face MU, OU

By Russ Ewy Sports Writer

Perhaps the most important weekend for K-State volleyball starts tonight in Ahearn Field House as the Wildcats try to scratch their way into the Big Eight Conference tournament.

K-State will face the Missouri Tigers tonight and the Oklahoma Sooners Saturday. Both squads come to Manhattan with wins over the 'Cats. It took 16th-ranked OU five games to defeat K-State in Norman, while Missouri won in four in Columbia.

"This may be the best volleyball weekend K-State has ever had," Coach Scott Nelson said. "The quality of the opposition and what's at stake should make for some very competitive play."

Victories over the Big Eight foes would keep alive the 'Cats hopes for a berth in the conference tournament. The top four regular season finishers will compete in the league tourney in Salina during the Thanksgiving weekend.

"The way the teams are set up, we could have a shot at making the tournament by winning two of our last four," Nelson said. "However, if we keep winning, we're in control of our own destiny. If we do win all four games and go 6-6, we should definitely be in. If we go 5-7, we should have a good shot. At 4-8, it would depend on how other teams do.

'We see these two matches as opportunities to attain one of our goals, which is to compete in the postseason tournament,"

The Tigers are 13-16 overall and 3-6 in Big Eight play, just ahead of the 'Cats' 2-6 league See VOLLEY, Page 14

Harriers vying for nationals

By Chris Hays Sports Editor

The K-State men's and women's cross country squads will be vying for a chance to participate in the NCAA championships Saturday at the District V championships in Ames, Iowa. The top two teams in each division will advance to nationals, which will be at the same course Nov. 21.

At jeopardy for the women is their four-year string of consecutive appearances at the national meet and Coach John Capriotti said it is going to be very tough.

"It will be very hard for us to qualify as a team right now," Capriotti said. "But we'll just go out and compete and do the best we can - just like we always do."

The women's squad will be without the services of its No. 3 runner Janet Treiber. She suffered a stress fracture in her foot at the Big Eight Conference meet two weeks ago and is out for the season. Replacing Treiber on the squad will be Tammy Vanlaeys.

Although Capriotti said the women would have a tough time qualifying as a team, he still feels that for grabs." two runners, Janet Haskin and Angie Barry, have a chance to qualify individually for nationals. For an individual to qualify, she must finish in the top three among runners whose teams did not qualify, and that may also prove to be a tough chore, according to Capriotti.

"Oklahoma State is one of the favorites to qualify as a team, but should they not qualify, then two of the individual spots will probably go to its top two runners," Capriotti said. "So you really never can tell. It will be very tough. It's a good district."

Also running for the women this weekend will be Marge Eddy, Jenny Faunce, Jennifer Hillier, who is just recovering from tonsilitis, and Becky

The chances of the men going to nationals look a little better and Capriotti said he thinks the squad has a decent shot at qualifying.

"Iowa State has to be the favorite going in. They're ranked in the top three in the nation," Capriotti said. "But from there I think it's pretty wide open and five teams (including K-State) have a shot at (qualifying). I still believe that the second spot is up

Pat Hessini has led the way most of the time for the men this season, excluding the Big Eight meet in which he fell down and was stepped on but still got up to finish the race. His position on the team gives him a realistic shot at qualifying for the NCAA meet, though several runners have come on in recent weeks.

David Warders was K-State's fifth man before the Big Eight meet, where he led all Wildcat finishers, and he could give Hessini someone to run with this weekend.

Brian Zwahlen, the 'Cats' seventh man, took himself out of the meet because he thought eighth man Todd Eggers had been running better than him in practice.

"He came up to me and said that he thought Todd had been running better and I agreed with him. Brian and I kind of think alike," Capriotti said. 'And Brian is the kind of guy who will do whatever is best for the team."

Also representing the K-State men will be Rob Hays, Jan Jonsaan, David Keller and Ron Smith.

Saturday's meet will get underway at 10:30 a.m.

Irish have choice of bowls

By The Associated Press

Notre Dame, the nation's topranked and most sought-after college football team, has narrowed its postseason possibilities to the Fiesta and Orange Bowls.

The Fighting Irish are expected to make a decision this weekend on whether they will play fourth-ranked West Virginia in the Fiesta Bowl -No. 5 Florida State is another possible opponent — or go to the Orange Bowl to play the Big Eight champion, either No. 7 Nebraska or No. 8 Oklahoma.

"If I were a betting man, I'd bet on the Fiesta Bowl," a top Notre Dame official told the Associated Press Thursday.

The bowl picture, which normally falls into place one week before the official invitation date - Nov. 19 this year - is pretty much settled earlier than usual except for Notre Dame's decision. If Notre Dame decides to play

West Virginia in the Fiesta Bowl, defending national champion Miami will face the Big Eight champion again in the Orange Bowl.

If Notre Dame decides on the Orange Bowl, that would send Miami to the Fiesta against West Virginia. Either way, NBC-TV gets to show off Notre Dame and Miami, although not against each other.

Notre Dame is idle this week but the Fiesta Bowl will have representatives at seven games - West Virginia-Rutgers, Virginia Tech-Florida State, Colorado-Nebraska, Oklahoma-Missouri, Georgia-Auburn, LSU-Mississippi State and Syracuse-Boston College.

There are 17 bowls with the demise of the Bluebonnet and only three of the 34 berths have been filled "officially" - No. 10 Wyoming as the Western Athletic Conference representative in the Holiday Bowl (against No. 14 Oklahoma State), No. 11 Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl (against Florida State or UCLA) and Southern Mississippi in the Independence Bowl - although numerous deals are set.

A Notre Dame-West Virginia match in Tempe, Ariz., would send Florida State and the Pac-10 runnerup to the Cotton and Sugar Bowls.

If the runnerup is Southern Cal, the Trojans will play the Southeastern Conference champion — Alabama, Auburn, Georgia or LSU - in the Sugar Bowl and Florida State meets Arkansas in the Cotton. But if the Pac-10 runnerup is UCLA, the Bruins will go to the Cotton Bowl and Florida State to the Sugar.

After its champion goes to the Sugar Bowl - and Georgia will go if it beats Auburn on Saturday - the SEC has cut a three-way deal with the Gator, Sun and Hall of Fame.

Locks can prevent most bicycle thefts

By Christina Doherty Collegian Reporter

Of the 30 bicycles reported missing from campus locations since January, fewer than onethird have been returned, said Lt. James Tubach of the K-State Police.

The main reason bicycles are stolen is poor locking conditions of the bicycle when the owner is away, he said.

"I think in excess of half the bikes stolen are not locked and the ones that are locked are locked with very poor and cheap cables," said Lt. Scott Campbell of the Riley County Police Department.

Campus police have found nine of the missing bikes, Tubach said. The best way to prevent theft of a bicycle is to take certain safety precautions. One means of prevention, according to Tubach and Campbell, is to keep bicycles locked, even while at home. They suggest using a lock and cable if the bicycle has quick release wheels, running the cable through the wheels and frame.

Owners should know the bicyle's basic information, Campbell said.

"It would be a wise move for anyone to note the size, speed, serial number, and any special equipment that was on it," he said.

Other information that would be helpful includes the type of frame, men's or women's, and the specific size of both the frame and wheels, Campbell said.

This type of information on a stolen bicycle can be entered into the National Crime Information Center. This is used by all law enforcement agencies. However, campus police officers have not been successful in locating many bicycles through the system. "Bicycles are items that usually go from person to person," Tubach said. "On items that may go to a dealership, the owners may call (the police) if they are leery of buying (an item) that is found by the National Crime Information Center."

The only way an item can be found by the National Crime Information Center is if it has an identifiable make and model and unique serial number, Campbell said. The serial number put on an item by a manufacturer may not be unique.

Manufacturers may reuse serial numbers when the model is slightly changed, Campbell said.

"We have an identification procedure called Operation Information in which we assign numbers to any item you have. (The identification number) is uniquely yours and is readily identifiable to you," Campbell said.

Operation Information can be used to identify bicycles and the police will lend the owner an engraver to put the number on the bicycle, Campbell said.

Each year, the campus police and the county police auction recovered bicycles that have not been claimed.

Texas chosen as super collider site

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Texas beat out six other states Thursday in a high-stakes race to capture the $4.4 billion superconducting super collider, which, if Congress finds the money to build it, would be the largest scientific instrument ever constructed.

The announcement by Energy Department Secretary John Herrington drew immediate howls of protest from the six losing states, where officials had waged a years-long battle to win the giant atom-smasher and the jobs and scientific prestige that will accrue to the project's home state.

"The Texas decision has a strong smell of White House politics," said Sen. Donald Riegle, D-Mich. "We and the other five finalist states got a raw deal."

Illinois officials also were angered, with House Minority Leader Robert Michel calling on the president to review Herrington's decision declaring Texas the preferred site for what the department will name the Ronald Reagan Center for High Energy Physics.

Sen. Paul Simon, D-Ill., and Sen. Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., said they were asking Reagan and President-elect George Bush to halt confirmation of the site until the General Accounting Office reviews the choice and an independent commission evaluates Herrington's rationale.

Herrington said the Texas site some 16,000 farm acres in Ellis County 35 miles south of Dallas was "superior" to the others for building the collider, a 53-mile underground tunnel capable of whipping proton beams into each other with 20 times the force of the world's most powerful existing particle accelerator.

"The Texas proposal clearly received the highest overall technical evaluation ratings of any proposal and exhibited no significant overall weaknesses," Herrington said.

Herrington said the Texas site would best "permit the highest level of research productivity and effectiveness" at a reasonable cost of construction and with minimal impact on the environment.

"I have to tell you there are no politics in this," Herrington told a news conference attended by such prominent Texans as House Speaker Jim Wright and Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, both Democrats, and Sen. Phil Gramm, a Republican.

The decision was announced two days after Bush, an adopted Texan, was elected president.

In addition to Arizona, Illinois and Michigan, the other finalists were Colorado, North Carolina and Tennessee.

Questions remain whether money ever will be appropriated to build the super collider, an unprecedently powerful machine that physicists hope will help them explain the very origin of matter itself.

Many in Congress argue the project will starve other more useful scientific research. Congress has kept the project on a short leash, and only agreed to provide $100 million this year for research and engineering

Nonetheless, states eagerly sought the project, which is expected to create 3,000 scientific jobs and 3,500 construction jobs, great prestige and a non-polluting industry with untold scientific spinoffs for the host state.

The department now must prepare a full-fledged environmental impact statement. Assuming nothing in the statement disqualifies the Texas site, Herrington will make the selection final in January.

West German official praises Hitler era

By The Associated Press

BONN, West Germany - The president of parliament called the early years of the Hitler era a "glorious" time for many Germans, triggering a walkout during the government's solemn ceremony Thursday marking the Kristallnacht.

The remarks by Philipp Jenninger led to demands for his resignation by members of the opposition Greens and Social Democrats, who were among about 50 who marched out of the hall during the nationally televised speech to parliament.

Jenniger's address threatened to overshadow West Germany's carefully planned ceremonies marking early on in the Hitler dictatorship, but the 50th anniversary of the Kristallnacht, the night the Nazis began their first organized push against the Jews.

Among the guests at the government's ceremony Thursday was West German Jewish Community leader Heinz Galinski.

Social Democrat chairman Hans-Jochen Vogel later wrote to Jenninger, saying the parliament president had shown a "disturbing lack of judgment" in his speech. Vogel said he and other Social Democrats were filled with "shame and sorrow" over what Jenninger had done.

The 56-year-old conservative talked at length about the positive feelings of many ordinary Germans without giving counterbalancing comments.

"Didn't Hitler bring to reality what (Kaiser) Wilhelm II had only promised, that is to lead the Germans to glorious times? Wasn't he chosen by Providence, a Fuehrer such as is given to a people only once in a thousand years?" Jenninger asked rhetorically.

"For the fate of the Germans and European Jews, Hitler's successes were perhaps even more fateful than his crimes and misdeeds," Jenninger said. "The years from 1933 to 1938, even from a distant retrospective and in the knowledge of what followed, still are a fascinating thing today, since throughout history there was English is Crystal Night.

hardly a parallel to Hitler's triumphal procession during the first years."

Jenninger then cited such events as inclusion of the Saarland, Austria, and part of Czechoslovakia into the Third Reich, as well as the 1936 Summer Olympics in Berlin.

Starting with the Kristallnacht of Nov. 9-10, 1938, the Nazis made clear their intentions to wipe out European Jews. On that night, Nazi thugs destroyed Jewish homes, businesses and synagogues, sending 30,000 Jews to concentration camps and killing 91 Jews.

Shattered glass covered the streets and the Nazis, in a boastful mood, named it Kristallnacht, which in

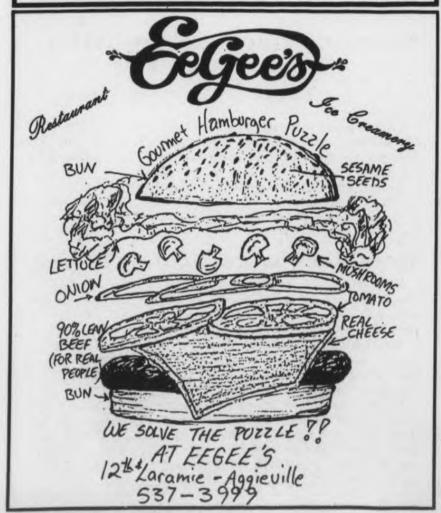

FREE DELIVERY 539-4400 1217 MORO IN AGGIEVILLE

CALL US FOR: PIZZA, LASAGNE, SPAGHETTI, SANDWICHES & SALADS —GAME SPECIAL—

NO COUPON NEEDED

Pizzas one item Pizzas two item

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK

539-8888

& Lounge

1304 Westloop

Sunday Buffet

11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

egg rolls crab ragoon crispy wonton tried rice Imperial soup regetable delight

FREE DELIVERY 11 a.m.-1 a.m.

sweet n' sour pork moo goo gai pan Shrimo with Lobster sauce

SUNDAY STUDENT SPECIALS

CHICKEN FRIED STEAK DINNER

Mushroom or Cream Gravy Includes choice of Potato plus Toast, Salad, Hot Food and Dessert Bar

++++

SALAD, HOT FOOD AND DESSERT BAR

Show your Student ID Card and request the Student Special of your choice!

Breaklast Buffet Sat/Sun. 6-10:30 a.m.

SIRLOIN STOCKADE

AUTHENTIC TEXAS AND MEXICAN FOOD GAME DAY SPECIAL

11 a.m.-5 p.m.

SINGLE BEEF FAJITA with sour crean, guacamole, & pico de gallo. Served with Spanish rice & frijoles

606 N. 12th NEXT TO HIBACHI HUT barrachos.

$3.95

☆ GREAT MARGARITAS

Falsettos

539-3830

Falsetto's Pizza Price Buster! The Best For Less Two Pizzas — *599

No Coupon Required

 Homemade — Made by hand Fresh Ingredients

Dough made daily
100% Real Mozzerella Cheese

Free Delivery — Limited territory

MENU Ham Extra Cheese TWO 8 14" 8.99 7.99 10.39 9.24 10.49 11.79 13.19 3 Items. 8.84 11.74 4 Items. 9.79 12.99 14.59 14.59 Deluxe..... 9.79 12.99 Vegle..... 9.79 12.99 14.59 Supreme 10.74 14.24 15.99 1.40

1127 Moro - In Aggieville

Mountain bike riders like comfort, safety

By Amy Bullock Collegian Reporter

Bicyclists coast along the asphalt road. Off to their left is a grove of trees, and in the distance runs a creek with a trail winding beside it. They turn to the grove of trees to ride the trail to wherever it may take them.

This scene may be familiar to the growing number of mountain bike enthusiasts. The mountain bike originated in California and became a national product in 1980.

Mountain bikes are a modification of the "beach cruiser," which is built with wide tires. Mountain bikes use the same design but have thinner tires and sturdier frames.

Richard Neumann, employee of The Pathfinder, a shop that sells bicycles, said mountain bikes are more comfortable than road bikes, and they are more durable and safer.

"Mountain bikes are a lot safer because you are riding at a more upright position, and you can see the traffic better. With the heavier tire, you can go over rough terrain and not get jarred about as much. They also tend to require less maintenance," Neumann said.

Chris Lewis, employee of Aggie Bike Station, said mountain bikes are not only safer but more versatile.

"Mountain bikes are built with a sturdier and more compact frame than road bikes. This enables you to be able to control the bike much easier. The fact that mountain bikes are so versatile is a big plus. With mountain bikes you can go on or off road, or virtually anywhere you want," Lewis said.

For Steph Cox, graduate student in English, versatility was one of the major reasons she purchased a moun-

"I was living in Colorado, and it was great to be able to go on trails with my bike that only hikers or people with four-wheel drive could go on. The scenery I was able to see was just incredible. What was really neat was being able to ride up the side of a mountain and then, two hours later, be riding on the highway. The range of terrain you can cover is just great," Cox said.

The mountain bike, with its thicktreaded tires and sturdy frame, has 18 speeds, which account for the ease in which riders can cover steep terrain. Not all bicyclists, however, turn in their road bikes for mountain bikes.

"The under-18 age group just doesn't seem to be interested yet," said Steve Salazar, an employee of The Pathfinder.

"We sale mostly to college-age people or people who ride their bikes to work," he said. Chris Lewis, an employee of Aggie Bike Station, agreed that people over the age of 18 are more likely to purchase mountain bikes.

"The older generation really seem ■ See BIKE, Page 13 mountain bike on Bluemont Hill. The mountain bike has thick-treaded with which riders can cover steep terrain.

Bob Isaac, senior in criminology, looks over East Manhattan atop a tires and a sturdy frame, with 18 speeds, which account for the ease

For good food before or after this weekend's game, check...

(GIIDE TO GOOD DINING)

776-1234 fregov's WEEKEND SPECIAL

Family Style Pan-Fried chicken54.50 Broiled Salmon w/ Crabmeat

PRICE REFILL

Bring in any old cup and we'll replace it with ours, with a ½ price refill purchase.

1455 Anderson • 537-2200 Anderson Village

GREEK & MEDITERRANEAN FOOD

1209 Laramie St.

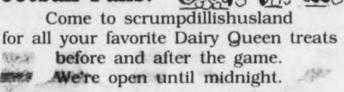

50¢ off Gyros sandwich offer expires 11/25/88

537-7533

Buy 1 Gyro sand. & get 2nd at 1/2 price offer expires 11/25/88

HOURS 11 a.m.-3 p.m., 4:30-9 p.m. MOST DELICIOUS TREAT IN TOWN

Welcome Football Fans!

Dairy Queen Brazier 1015 N. 3rd, Manhattan

776-4117 brazier.

CHICKEN and CATFISH SUNDAY DINNER

Family-Style

Village Plaza Chicken and Pan Fried Catfish

Chicken Gravy

Relish Tray

Cole Slaw

Mashed Potatoes Two Vegetables Homemade Biscuits

11:30-2 p.m.

Desserts

Senior Citizens *535 (10%) Special Children Prices

Expires 11-13-88

Come to Keck's for Sunday Dinner!

9 Piece Chicken Special

Limit 2 per visit or call ahead. Expires Nov. 30, 1988

901 N. 3rd. 776-9031 3002 Anderson 539-9491

Kentucky Fried Chicken

BACK THE CATS!

Then join us after the game for FROSTY MARGARITAS! SIZZLING HOT FAJITAS!

1219 Bluemont 539-3166

Open daily at 11:00 am

TAKE A BITE OUT OF MANHATTAN Dine at Manhattan Area Restaurants

PYRAMID PIZZA

1130 MORO, AGGIEVILLE, USA. 539-4888

LARGE 16" PIZZA $6.99

DINE IN OR DELIVERY

VOID WITH OTHER PROMOTIONALS VALID WITH COUPON ONLY

Highway proposal stresses road repair

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA - The state would spend $2.13 billion to improve its highways over 11 years and would raise the money from increases in sales and motor fuels taxes and vehicle registration fees under a plan three legislators unveiled Thursday.

The plan is designed to provide more money for maintenance of state roads to replace bridges and to complete a limited number of new construction projects from now until the year 2000.

Unlike past highway plans, its sponsors said its emphasis is on improving the condition of the state's existing 9,639-mile highway system. Any new construction projects would be selected by the state Department of Transportation.

Rep. Rex Crowell, R-Longton, and Sens. Bill Morris, R-Wichita, and Jim Francisco, D-Wichita, developed the proposal. Crowell and Morris are chairmen of the two legislative standing transportation committees. Crowell is chairman and Morris is vice chairman of a special study Committee on Transportation. Francisco is ranking minority member of the special committee.

The three legislators presented the plan to the special committee, which will review it in more detail later this month. The plan received mixed responses from committee members, and a spokeswoman for Gov. Mike Hayden offered limited praise for it.

"There seems to be quite a bit of positive response toward using this as a starting point," Crowell said.

Some lawmakers expressed concerns because of the proposed tax increases. Motor fuels taxes eventually would increase by 7 cents a gallon, and the state's 4 percent sales tax would increase by a quarter-percent.

Groups want pesticide use limited

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA - A spokesman for a national environmental organization said today the use of pesticides and herbicides by farmers has reached dangerous proportions.

"It is time that the slow poisoning of America through our food supply be brought to a halt," said Dick Russell, speaking on behalf of the National Toxics Campaign, a Boston-based organization.

Pesticides are a health threat not only to farmers, but to the general public, said Russell, who lives on a farm in Marshall County in northeast Kansas.

"Most Americans are exposed to pesticides, often without knowing it, in their drinking water or food," he told a news conference and rally on the steps of the Capitol.

Last year, he said, the National Academy of Sciences found that 53 different active pesticides used legally by farmers could cause cancer.

"Pesticides are also a leading source of groundwater contamination in this country," Russell said. Russell distributed copies of a report prepared by the National Toxics Campaign that said 375,000 tons of pesticides are dumped on U.S. farmland each year.

The report, called "Shadow on the Land," concludes that farmers desperate for short-term yields are forced to invest in chemicals, rather than take long-term measures to preserve their land, such as erosion control.

There are available methods of getting good yields with little or no chemicals," Russell said.

To preserve the family farm, the report supports a new national farm policy that would result in reduction in the use of agricultural chemicals.

Russell was also critical of the Environmental Protection Agency for its failure to adequately enforce its pesticide program.

He said 600 active ingredients used in various pesticides are supposed to be registered a second time with the federal government and tested. But so far, only 17 have been re-registered and tested.

"The legal system should also provide victims of toxic chemicals with a right to hold the manufacturers strictly liable for the injuries they cause," he said. Fred Bentley, director of the Kansas Rural Center in Whiting, said the Legislature should earmark some of the oil overcharge funds for programs that will help farmers make the transition from current methods to low-chemical farming.

He also urged lawmakers to fund the state's proposed statewide water plan by assessing a sales tax on agriculture chemicals.

Angels Fall by Lanford Wilson November 10-12, 16-19 8 p.m. Nichols Theatre Nichols Box Office 532-6398 12-5 Weekdays Presented by the K-State Players and the Dept. of Speech Limited Seating Order Tickets Today!

Weekend Special

Come visit our Pet Department

Small Algae Eaters 59°

Bettas reg. $3.98

Keep your dog from catching a cold. Choose from our large selection of Doggie Sweaters. - variety of sizes and colors -

GREEN THUMB

Serving Manhattan Over 30 Years 1105 Waters-539-4751 ACROSS FROM ALCO

Comedy Invasion Mon., Tues., Wednesday 9 p.m.

Ritch Shydner

APPEARANCES

·Sitcom: Married with Children (on Fox Network) ·Movies: Roxanne—Beverly Hills Cop II

·6 appearances on Johnny Carson (Tonight Show) ·2 appearances on Late Night with David Letterman ·reservations recommended but not necessary.

Schliebe Most Physical Contest TONIGHT-8 p.m.*Finals next. Thurs. 9 p.m. 539-9727 531 N. Manhattan 539-4321

Are you sick and tired of being sick and tired?

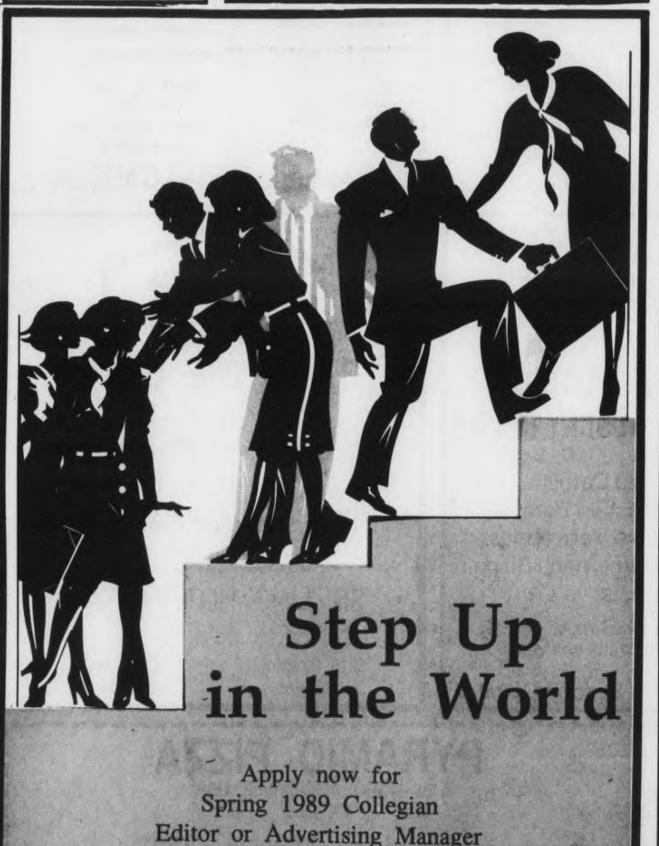

Call 537-8305 Dr. Mark Hatesohl 3252 Kimball Ave.

OF KANSAS

LEGISLATIVE INTERNSHIP $1500 Stipend

Full-time; Spring Semester Topeka Call Christine Graves 913-354-1394

Applications are available in Kedzie 103 and are due November 14 before 4 p.m.

Interviews will be November 21

Collegian

Religious Directory

WORSHIP 8 & 10:30 a.m.

Randy Sly, Pastor

For information on College Class

call church office

SUN. EVE. WORSHIP 6 p.m.

1st, 3rd and 5th Sundays

CARE CELLS (Small Groups) 6 p.m.

2nd and 4th Sundays

FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH

Worship at 8:30 and 11 a.m.

Sunday School-9:40 a.m.

(Collegiate Class)

WESTVIEW COMMUNITY

537-7173

537-8532

CHURCH

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

801 Leavenworth Worship 8°30 & 11 am. Church School 9:30 am. ·College Outreach (Tuesday, K-State Union) ·Weekday Programs for Youth Senior Minister

First Congregational Church United Church of Christ Church School 9:30 a.m. Worship 10:45 a.m.

Rev. Dr. Phillip S. Gittings II

Dr. Robert L. Carlson, Pastor

STUDENTS WELCOME! COLLEGE HEIGHTS BAPTIST CHURCH 9:15 a.m. Sunday School

10:30 a.m. Worship Service 6 p.m. Training Hour 7 p.m. Worship Service 2221 College Heights Rd. 537-7744

Trinity Presbyterian Church

Sunday Praise Hours

10:15 a.m. and 6 p.m.

egiate Bible Class

·Sunday School-9 a.m.

·Transportation available Office537-7633

Seth Childs Rd. at Gary Ave.

Mike Wall, Pastor 537-7967

MINISTRY FOR THE DEAF

Church School 9:30 a.m. Worship 10:45 a.m. Nursery Provided Handicap Accessible
 Rides Available

Pastor James Cramer 1110 College Ave. 539-3921

Manhattan

Jewish Congregation

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

8:45 a.m. Communion (first Sunday of the month) 9:45 a.m. Church School 8:45 & 11 a.m. Worship Nursery provided for all services

1000 Fremont

10th & Poyntz

3001 Ft. Riley Blvd.

John D. Stoneking, Pastor 612 Poyntz

First

Church of the Nazarene

"Stepping out in laith . . . Reaching out in love."

Morning Worship-10:50

Evening Praise-6:00

Sunday School-9:45

College Class-9:30

Pastor K. Ray McDowell 539-6376 (home)

*Nursery Available

539-2851 (church)

LUTHERAN CAMPUS MINISTRY

invites you ... WORSHIP, SUNDAY 11 a.m. Danforth Chapel (campus) Lutheran Sludent Movement 5 p.m. Sunday - Lutheran Student Center Don Fallon, Pastor 1021 Denison ome share the Spirit!

First Bap ist Church

Sunday Worship 11 a.m.

Church School 9:45 a.m. 2121 Blue Hills Rd. 539-8891

UNITED PENTECOSTAL CHURCH

Sunday School 10:00 a.m.

Worship Service 11:00 a.m.

Evangelical Service Sun. 7:00 p.m.

Youth Service Tues. 7:30 p.m.

700 Vattier, 776-8717 or 537-0384

1509 Wreath Ave. Shabbat Services 8 p.m. Fri. Religious School 9:30 Sun. Rides available at K-State Campus Adviser, David Margolies, 532-6154

sponsor B'nai B'rith Hillel

St. Luke's Lutheran Church Worship Saturday 6 p.m.

Sunday 8 and 10:45 a.m. -Bible Class-Sunday 9:30 a.m.

Student fellowship 5 p.m. in the K-State Union 539-2604 330 N. Sunset

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH Church School-9:45 a.m. Worship-8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m.

Disciples of Christ 115 Courthouse Plaza 776-8790

Manhattan Mennonite Fellowship Sunday School 9:30 a.m. Worship 10:45 a.m.

KSU Student Group 6:30 p.m. Dorothy Nickel Friesen, Pastor 1021 Danison

Christian Campus Ministry Worship 10:30 a.m. & 6 p.m. Bible Classes 9:30 a.m. & Wed. 7:30 p.m. Andy Miller-Campus Minister 539-6581 2510 Dickens Ave.

UNITARIAN-UNIVERSALIST FELLOWSHIP of MANHATTAN 10:45 a.m. Service & Sunday School Nursery provided, everyone welcome On K-18, 1/2 mile east of K-177 For info: call 537-2349

Unity Church of Manhattan Sunday Service 11 a.m. Study group 6:30 p.m. Sun. 1221 Thurston, UFM House 539-8416

Evangelical Free Church of Manhattan s.w. comer 14th & Anderson Steve Ratliff, Pastor Worship 9 a.m. Sunday School 10:15 a.m. 776-2086 Nursery Provided 776-0259

St. Isidore's Catholic Student Center 9:30 a.m., 11 a.m., 5 p.m. Saturday - 5 p.m. Duily Mass 10 p.m. 539-7496

> University Christian 776-5440

2800 Ciallin 8:30-11 a.m. Worship 9:45 a.m. Sunday School 6:30 p.m. Eve. Service

DIAL-A-PRAYER (913) 762-4837 762-2287 Someone there to pray with you.

24 hours

Kansas State

Bike

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 11 to like mountain bikes. They find it's a good form of transportation plus great exercise," he said.

Mountain bikes account for about 70 percent of Aggie Bike Station bike sales, Lewis said.

Dave Husted, junior in civil engineering, said that when most people try mountain bikes, they will never want to ride road bikes again.

"I first started riding mountain bikes in about 1984, and it is just so great how many more things you can do on a mountain bike,"

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

The two also agreed they had very similiar ideas throughout their campaigns, but used different tactics to express them.

"I emphasized my experience and knowledge in student government," McIntyre said.

"I used my experience with different student organizations and my vision of what student government should be," Cuffy said.

McIntyre said it was difficult for him to swallow his pride, but he wanted to do what was best for the student body.

"It's been a very strong dream of mine to be student body president. But I asked myself why. I wanted to give something back to K-State for all that it has given me," he said.

McIntyre said he is considering applying for director of the Associated Students of Kansas, in which he has been involved for three years.

CAN'T WAIT

TO TAKE

"LIFTS"OUT

OF SHOES ..

Bloom County

ClassAds Kedzie 103

One day: 15 words or fewer, $2.50, 20 cents per word over 15; Two consecutive dates: 15 words or fewer, $3.50, 25 cents per word over 15; Three consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 cents per word over 15; Four consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.75, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $5.00, 40 cents per word over 15.

Classifieds are payable in advance unless client has an established account with Student Publications. Deadline is noon the day before publication; noon FRIDAY for Monday's paper.

Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the advertiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not alter the value of the ad. Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103 or by calling 532-6555.

Display Classified Rates One day: $5.20 per inch; Three consecutive days: $5.00 per inch; Five consecutive days: $4.80 per inch;

Ten consecutive days: $4.60 per inch. (Deadline is 4:30 p.m. two days before publication.)

Classified advertising is available only to those who do not disciminate on the basis of race, color, religion, ational origin, sex or ancestry.

Announcements

ALL YOUR Mary Kay needs -skincare -glarnor -nails gifts for all seasons. Floris Taylor, 539-2070. FLYING INTEREST you? For information on K-State Flying Club call Sam Knipp, 539-6193.

GAY/LESBIAN? Write for Kansas/Missouri Information Personally, PO Box 218, Daly City, CA 94016.

MODELS NEEDED- Want a new look? Hairstyle models needed for education class held this weekend. Call Shear Dynamics, 776-9100.

990 COINTON hors d'oeuvre (ILIUIB

buffet

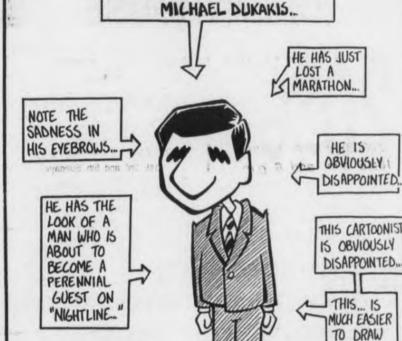

4-7 p.m.

418 Poyntz

THE VW doctor will keep your bug healthy and save you $$ at J&L Auto Service. 1-494-2388, seven minutes east. Repairs and salvage.

BY RILLIARD BROAD FOOT MY LAST OPPORTUNITY TO DRAW

CLASSIFIED RATES WATCH THE

the KSU stadium as part of Saturday's football game activities (weather permitting). Sponsored by the KSU

SPUDS MCKENZIE! SKI THE Best This Year, Ski Breckenridgelli Jan. 1st-7th or Jan 8th- 14th, prices include lodging, lifts, parties, etc... $205 land only, $249 roundtrip transportation. Deluxe condominiums with jacuzzi, kitchen and more, one block from ski liftill Contact: Cary Hassell 539-7647 or Dan Danitschek

Parachute Club and

SPRING BREAK '89 Reservations Available Now

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, TX from $149 Sheraton/Holiday Inn/Gulf View from $93* STEAMBOAT, CO

Shadow Run/Overlook DAYTONA BEACH, FL from $118'

Texan Motel MUSTANG ISLAND, TX " $136" Port Royal Condos

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, SC 100 $107 Hilton Head Beach Condos

Don't Wait Until It's Too Late! Call Toll Free Today

Tonight Only-

Chicken and Spaghetti

All you can eat PERMS: $19.95 includes cut and style. Tan 10 sessions $18. Telephone 776-1330.

Looking for a new way to Express yourself?

WANTED—100 overweight people to try herbal weight control program. No drugs, no exercise. Doctor recommended. 100% guaranteed. 776-5114.

2 Apartments—Furnished

APARTMENT FOR one person, one and one-half blocks east of City Park. 539-5778.

BEAUTIFULLY FURNISHED clean one-bedroom apartment, adjacent campus. $175/ month, non-smoking girl. Stockwell Real Estate, 539-4073.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM apartment. Water, trash, two-thirds gas paid. Laundry facilities. Nice for graduate student or couple. $260. Available Dec. 15 or Jan. 1. 539-2482 after 4p.m.

By Berke Breathed

By Jim Davis

THAN THIS.

Garfield GARFIELD, I PON'T FEEL LIKE SCRATCHING YOUR BELLY

Peanuts

EVERY VETERANS DAY I 60 OVER TO BILL MAULDIN'S HOUSE, AND WE QUAFF A FEW ROOT BEERS ..

537-1123.

TWO-BEDROOM, ONE and one-half bath, close to campus. January- August, nice. Must see to appreciate. 539-9177.

3 Apartments—Unfurnished

LARGE INTERESTING two-bedroom, 502 Osage, No pets. $250 with heat. 532-6873, Jim. 1-494-2756,

NICE EFFICIENCY apartment available Dec. 1st. $185/ month, heating paid. Please call 539-0555 ext. 30. After 5p.m. call 776-3415.

4 Automobiles for Sale

1975 KANNBACK Vega, excellent condition, very reliable transportation, 86k, best offer. Call 539-2634.

1972 CHEVY, Impala, $400 or best offer, 539-1948 1983 RENAULT/ Fuego, V-4, two-door, 52,000 miles, sunroof, full power, air conditioning, AM/FM stereo, cassette. Excellent condition. $2,700, $200 rebate.

1983 TRANS AM, loaded with options. Second place

CAN YOU buy jeeps, cars, 4x4s seized in drug raids for under $100? Call for facts today. (602)837-3401 ext 744.

MUST SELL: Dodge Omni 1979 and Toyota Corolla 1978. Best offer. Call 537-1583 or stop by 1200 Bluemont #2.

8 Computers

COMMODORE 128, color monitor complete with Se kosha printer and some software $675, negotiable

COMPLETE PEACHTREE software still in box $199,

PERSONAL COMPUTERS Authorized Warranty Service also servicing

> · PC compatibles & printers Televisions & VCRs

MIDWEST SERVICES

Manhattan 913-776-6650

FOR SALE: Line printer ribbons- Black multistrike no. QM MS (41/4 dozen), $1.25 each. Black nylon no. QM NY (15), $2.25 each. Call 532-6555 or come by Kedzie 103 to see.

9 Employment

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment cla Readers are advised to approach any such "employ-ment opportunity" with reasonable caution. ASSISTANT MAINTENANCE Technician, flexible hours, assist Maintenance Technician with general responsibilities for four banks. If interested call Sue Carlson, 537-0200. FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, Juniors: Train in the summer to become a Marine Corps Officer after graduation. Aviation available. Call collect

(913)841-1821. IF YOU would like a full- or part-time job earning $$$ and free needlecrafts. Call Shelley at 537-3846

JANITOR EVENINGS, 15- 20 hours per week. $3.75. contact Larry Algott at Manhattan Medical Center, 1133 College Ave.

MCDONALD'S ON Third Street is now hiring for all shifts. Starting wage is $3.50 with quarterly raises. Flexible hours, one-half price meals, free uniforms and a pleasant atmosphere. Please apply in NANNY/ MOTHER'S help: Responsible person to help care for two boys live, three and one infant girl. Own room, T.V., references required, non-smoker pre-ferred. Coastal town, 35 minutes to New York City. Call collect (914)834-6476.

NOW HIRING waitress to work 20 hours per week. Must be able to work evenings and weekends. Apply in person at the Third Street Pizza Hut.

OVERSEAS JOBS. $900- $2,000 month. Summer, year-round, all countries, all fields, free informa-Write IJC, P.O. Box 52-KS02, Corona Del Mar, CA

PEACE CORPS Campus Recruiter. Graduate assis tantship available. Part-time (20 hours). Returned Peace Corps volunteer preferred. Contact Dr. Jorns, Waters 108. 532-5714.

RESORT HOTELS, Cruiselines, airlines and amuse ment parks, Now accepting applications for sum-mer jobs, internships and career positions. For more information and an application write: National Collegiate Recreation Service, P.O. Box 8074, Hilton Head, SC 29938. SKI COLORADOI $25/ night for two. Ten cozy log cabins/ kitchens, some fireplaces. Gameroom fireplace, HBO, pool table, sauna. Fish, crosscountry ski. Ski Winter Park, Silver Creek. Mountain Lakes Lodge. Brochure/ reservations -Grand Lake, CO 1-303-627-8448. Call today! STUDENTS NEEDED for general labor- moving, hauling, rooting, construction, etc. Four-hour blocks in morning or afternoon, $4 per hour. Apply in person at Dykstra Hall personnel office. For questions cal Rebecca or Roberta, 532-6373.

SUMMER JOBS outdoors. Over 5,000 openings. Na-tional parks, forests, fire crews. Send stamp for free details. 113 E. Wyoming, Kalispell, MT 59901.

STUDENT DISPATCHER/ Operator, 15-20 hours per week starting Dec. 1, 1988. Students with employment potential of two years will be given preference. Must be willing to work evenings, holidays, summer months, weekends and school recesses. Ranking factors such as GPA, general employment experience as a dispatcher and/or computer operator will be considered. Computer Science major not necessary. Applications will be accepted until Friday. 5p.m., Nov. 11, room 23 Cardwell Hall, by Jacque Meisner, AA EOE.

WANTED WEEKEND Janitor. Apply in person at Ken-

WORK-STUDY STUDENT, 12- 15 hours/ week. Registrar's Office, 532-6254

1 Garage and Yard Sales

HUGE YARD Sale, Fort Riley Blvd. at Delaware. Three blocks west of Old Town Mall. Furniture, household items, loads of misc. Saturday and Sunday, 9a.m.-

13 Houses/Mobile Homes for Sale

1972 12x60, furnished/ unfurnished, new paint, central air, washer, dryer, waterbed, reasonable. 537-0734

1977 WINSOR, 14x75, two-car garage, insulated shop, redwood deck. All on three-quarters acre. Must see to appreciate. 1-494-8484.

14 Lost and Found

FOUND: LIGHTWEIGHT jacket in Cardwell. Come to room 23.

FOUND ON north side of campus, female orange Tabby cat with worn yellow collar. Please claim at 532-2362, ext. 435.

TAKEN BY mistake Friday evening. Please return the jardiniere- family sentimental attachment. Reward for return of planter and basket- 1628 Fairchild

15 Miscellaneous Merchandise

DESK, SWIVEL desk chairs, beds, chest, couch coffee tables, end tables, misc. antique furniture. 776-9705.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUSII New G.I. overshoes, combat boots and safety-toe boots, wool (blankets, gloves, socks and mittens). Field jackets, overcoats, carnoullage clothing. Also Carhartt work-wear. Monday- Saturday 9a.m.- 5p.m. Open Sundays till Christmas noon- 4p.m. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734.

PIONEER CAR amplifier, 100 watts per channel. Estimated new $400, must sell $200, 537-2614.

16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale

1977 HONDA moped. Need some repairs, $75 or best offer. Call 537-4146.

BICYCLE SALE, lay away for Christmas. Aggie Bike Station, Aggieville. (behind Hardee's).

FOR SALE: 21-inch red Raleigh mountain blke, brand new, Suntour shifting and braking, $350 or best Weekdays call 539-5453, weekends

17 Musical Instruments

ELECTRIC GUITAR; Aria Pro II. Double cutaway; easy action; good condition, $150 or best offer. Peavey Classic Amp. Two twelves, Reverb, Tremelo, footswitch, Tube with warm tones. Vintage $250 or best offer, 537-0485. Ask for Max.

IBANEZ DESTROYER Bass- $330, Roland TR505 125A Amp- $250; all negotiable, Chris 539-1089.

18 Personals

AARON B., Happy 20th Birthday. Hope they don't shower and flour you. y.l.p.

AZD'S- CHERISH, Tanna and Stacey- Beware, Satur day will be full of surprises. Prepare to get abused. The Messenger.

BABY WHALE-- Weekend memories: Four of clubs, Grand Canyon, Oh Man, MmMm, no sleep... no strings attached. I won't fall off the deep end, just don't forget me. Not just another naked body. COACH, THE season's end may be near, but have no fear, your team is great-bound for State in '8811 Good Luck! XO XO Love your fav #1 fan. DALLY- TOMORROW'S the big day, an old man you'll be. We'll celebrate tonight and get ready for K.C.I Happy Birthday and I love you! Jake.

DAVY(POO)- THIS past year has been the best.
Remember this time last year? "Fatal Attraction."
Just wait for the years to come. Whoever said clarinets and trumpets are a great match was right!
You'll always be my favorite trumpet. I love you.

You'll always be my favorite trumpet. I love you.

theart. Tammy(poo). DELTS- THE ballots are in, there will be a tally, and Friday night the start of a big rally. Republicans and Democrats aren't so cool, but ADPI's and Delts sure do rule. This is one election party you'll never forget.

Love your ADPI dates. FARRELL FIFTH floor- library assistant on crutches, I've met your mom- like to meet you. Want to file sometime? -girl in blue Tuesday.

HEATHER-YOU'RE not a teenager anymore, but I still love you! Happy 20th Birthday. Roomie.

JEROLD, FRIDAY is here and the party is near. You're in for a surprise from a girl of Alpha Chi. Can't wait till tonight. Love, Kristi. KARLA, HAPPY 20thi I hope we're we for your next 20 years! I Love You, Marc. KIM- NOW you're finally 21 and lots of partying to be done. There's no such thing as too much fun. Happy B-day. -Mike.

PREDATOR- FRIDAY dinner? Saturday, Sunday hunti Quall, pheasant, maybe skunk. Next season's open only for deer, in the mean time- take time out for a beer! Miss You, Out of Season.

PRETTY, SHAPELY black female seeks over-30 male. Mail photo? Respond to Box 2, c/o The Collegian Kedzie Hall, Kansas State University, Manhattan

KKG DAD Roger: We've got plans this weekend for you.
Would you like to spend it with your daughters two?
Give us the word if you'd like to go, for food and lootball and Joe Photo. KC and HDJ.

KSU BAND- Chris, Paul, Chad and everyone else-

- FROM D.C. to Arrowhead Punch, Fletch and boards formy bed. Drinking Coronas much too fast, cheers to friendship meant to last. Happy 21st.

MIKE- HAVE fun, but do you really need to leave town just for a goodnight kiss when you could walk across the street?

MY GDI Love, Have a happy 21st birthday with me. Don't party too much 'cause I'll be watching. Remember the first run's for me. Love your 20 year

PHI DELT Derek- Roses are red, violets are blue, Grab your toga, I'll be waiting for you. AX Amie PHILIP: HAPPY Anniversaryl I Love You more than words could ever express. Julie TERRI, 12:30 Thursday Gen, Orgn, Chem. Lab. Would like to take you out, interested? Kit. TRI SIGMAS- Get out your mini skirt and your high heeled shoes, but it's not the strip in Junction that we will cruise. Having fun tonight won't be hard, as pimps and hookers we'll sweep the Boulevard.

VICK- ME- "No Way" are you 21! Get ready to party, tonight is the night, the B.P. is high and there's lots of Coors Light! DMH, Bewarel BOTAI Love, Talk.

19 Pets and Pet Supplies

ADORABLE COCKER Spaniel puppy male, buff/ white, AKC registered with shots, $75, 539-0373.

20 Professional Services

PREGNANT? BIRTHRIGHT can help. Free pregnancy test. Confidential. Call 537-9180. 103 S. Fourth St., Suite 25.

PROMPT ABORTION and contraceptive services Lawrence. (913)841-5716.

22 Resume/Typing Services

ABOUT ANYTHING typed, editing and transcription services, reasonable rates, by professional secretary. 539-5998 after 5p.m.

RESUMES-LETTERS-PAPERS Professionally typeset; letter quality printer CLAFLIN BOOKS & COPIES

• 776-3771 COMPLETE DATA processing services, term papers,

Corner Denison & Claflin

ations, resumes. Laser jet printtheses and dissertating. Call 537-4146.

COMPLETE TYPING/WORD Processing: Letter quality printer with Spell check. $,75/page. Call 537-8701. FAST TURNAROUND for all your word processing needs, see us. Resumes, letters, papers, theses, dissertations. Quality work guaranteed. Ross Sec-retarial Service, across from Kite's, 614 N. 12th.

PROCRASTINATORS AND those on the ball, for exper

23 Roommate Wanted

utilities. 776-9582.

MALE ROOMMATE wanted to share two-bedro apartment in complex. Close to campus Aggieville, 537-2894.

NEED ONE non-smoking male roommate to share nt. $150/ month plus utilities. 539-5453.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE. $100/ month plus one-half

RESPONSIBLE FEMALE roommate wanted: To share

two-bedroom apartment, water, trash paid Washer/ dryer in the apart/nent, fireplace, one and one-half bath. For more information, call 776-6349 after 4p.m.

ROOMMATE WANTED, female non-smoker to take over lease. Will share house with two roommates, $133 a month plus utilities. For information call 776-9319 after 5p.m. VERY NICE apartment only two blocks from KSU, own room, cable TV, phone. Available now or spring. Call 537-7390 or 776-8045.

24 Situation Wanted

FAMILY WANTS college girl to live in for next semester, surmmer and fall. Board and room in exchange for duties. Write Box 1, 0'o Collegian, Kedzie Hall. KSU, Manhattan, KS 66506.

26 Sublease

NICE FURNISHED one-bedroom apartment. Ne campus, trash, water paid. Call 539-3260.

28 Adoption

A CHILDLESS loving couple wishes to adopt white newborn. We will provide a warm wonderful and loving home. We are committed to being the best parents possible. Legal and confidential. Please call collect, Kelly and Ramiro, (201)376-0894.

LOVE-FILLED HOME needs the joy of a new baby to complete our very happy marriage. If you plan to place your baby for adoption, please consider us. Expenses paid, confidential, legal. Call collect, Claire, (303)422-1297.

By Eugene Sheffer

Crossword

12 Abel, to 40 Min. part 41 Juice source 48 Easily angered

39 Supply a crew for scale of 1 to 10 com-18 Make, 51 Despicable barely 19 Health 52 Joplin resort tune of busy activity 26 Pizzeria purchase 29 Flower worker

Adam

8 Jose's home

plot 30 Tokyo, formerly 31 Hef's first name 32 Cushion

54 Ump's call 11 Reverence 16 Steal animals

20 Whale 1 Tennis school star 23 Stiff 2 Old drink picture 24 Do copy mag work 3 Pot 25 Inside starter info 4 Pay trib-26 Ayatollah's ute to 5 Thrill runner 6 Scoundrel 7 Spruce up 27 TV producer 8 Gem unit Frank 9 Actress Gardner Kick Out > film 32 Roosts 33 Erie. for one 35 Deceit 36 Shooter 38 Ski resort 39 Main theme of You"

44 Advantage 45 Hole-in-one 46 Youngster 47 Mine

42 Nick's wife 43 Aim output

CRYPTOQUIP

V D A ' V PB

UWPALQQ, LEWL EXABQF." VEQ'V P UDFBXAQ Yesterday's Cryptoquip: IMPORTANT RIGHT FOR

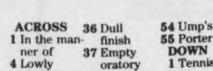

Today's Cryptoquip clue: L equals C

11-11

VAQQFV VQQF:

LOCAL ANGRY DRY CLEANER: FREEDOM OF THE

13 Winglike 14 Swear 15 Cooking 17 Put on a one 50 Have 21 "Chowed 53 Paradise down' 22 Source Solution time: 24 mins.

coupons 34 Mimic 35 Table feature item

33 Remove

Yesterday's answer 11-11 49 Eggs,

10 Skid Row

denizen

to Cicero

PRESS?

Tartan

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 of colors that can be used because the color process has changed over the years.

"Ancient colours" come from the time period in which berries and plants were used to dye the wool. The process of machine weaving and commercial dyeing began around the Victorian period, Davidson said, so the shades of colors look somewhat

Building

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

space, Cox said. Phase II will include faculty offices will be split between three buildings. (This) is resulting in faculty and graduate students - who can benefit from working together - being isolated," he said. "Phase II is quizzical in placing the entire department into one building."

"Until the completion of phase II, those spaces needed.

Davidson makes tartans in both ancient and Victorian colors. When making tartans for people, she always asks them which shades they would prefer, she said.

Davidson said some clans have more than one tartan plaid design. They wore the appropiate design to match the event. The MacRae clan has hunting, dress and mourning

She has tartan weaving down to a system now, Davidson said, and spends about a week on each one. The actual weaving does not take too also help the department in avoiding duplication of needed equipment and the chemistry library," Paukstelis said. "It is intolerable for a science department dependent upon the use of periodicals, to routinely run between the chemistry library in Willard, to Farrell Library, to library storage in Nichols Hall for

The chemistry library, as it exists, is not conducive for the department to look up information quickly for

'We especially need to improve supplies, Cox said.

information."

much time, but she has to spend three or four days on the research.

Davidson, who has been weaving since her days as a Camp Fire Girl, is self-taught in the ways of tartan weaving. And she is also one of the few people who weaves tartan plaids by hand.

She said the village of Kilbarchan, which is a few miles from Glasgow, Scotland, is the last colony of hand weavers, and only about 10 of the people who live there still hand weave the patterns.

"I'm a one-of-a-kind," Davidson said. "I'm quite proud of that."

A collection of Davidson's work is on display at the Wolf-Butterfield House, 630 Fremont. The exhibit will run until Nov. 20. Davidson has 32 framed plaids on display, and she is also exhibiting her loom with a pattem started.

Davidson will be at the Wolf-Butterfield House from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday and Nov. 20 to explain the history of making tartan plaids.

Arrest

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 "I cannot tell you if there is, was or ever will be an investigation," said Bonnie Wellmeier, RCPD dispatcher.

Football coach Stan Parrish said he learned of Lewis' arrest Wednesday after Lewis contacted him.

Lewis joined the football program in July and worked with the receivers' unit, Parrish said. Parrish coached Lewis as a player at Marshall University in Huntington, W.Va.

"He has a situation he's got to get straightened around," Parrish said. Assistant Athletic Director Jim Epps said Lewis is still employed

Whether Lewis will remain with the program "will depend entirely on the outcome of his legal situation," Lewis' arrest may be related to problems with his ex-wife, Parrish

About Lewis personally, Parrish said, "Obviously, my comments would be favorable or he wouldn't be with the football program.

Epps said.

Volley

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 9 mark. K-State is 13-11 overall. Like K-State, the Tigers are holding out hope for a tournament spot.

"We still have a chance, if we win two of our last three matches," Missouri coach Craig Sherman said. "I think the K-State match would put us over the top if we can win that one."

"Missouri is in the same boat we are," Nelson said. "This is a very big match for them, as well, because they need a win to better their chances to make it to the tournament."

The Oklahoma Sooners are second at 7-2 in conference play and have already made their reservations for Salina. Oklahoma upset Nebraska in last year's tournament finale after finishing second in the regular sea-

"I think Oklahoma will take us a little more seriously and probably be

ON THE HILL OVERLOOKING WESTLOOP SHOPPING CENTER

reg. $1.30

reg. $2.25

much better prepared this time around," Nelson said. "I have no doubt that there will be some hotly contested play."

According to Nelson, the 'Cats need to get aggressive to be in control of these next several matches. "I think we have discovered that when we are blocking, attacking and being real physical at the net, we have had a lot of success in our conference matches," Nelson said. "Oklahoma is a team that is larger than we are and (its players) are very physical along the net. If you don't do those things to them, they are going to control the tempo. Missouri is a little more finesse-oriented as a team, so if we can stay physical at the net we have a good chance of controlling the pace of the match."

The Missouri match will get underway at 7:30 tonight, while the OU match is slated for the same time Saturday. Both matches will be played in Aheam Field House.

The completion of phase II will research, he said.

Exceptional Gifts For All Occasions

Give a quality gift that will be treasured for a lifetime. Campbell's has a wide selection of china, crystal, silver, brass, linens, woods, and pewter.

NOW OPEN SUNDAYS 1-5 5th and Poyntz DOWNTOWN

1227 Moro AGGIEVILLE

ELVIRA, MISTRESS OF THE DARK PG-13 TODAY AT 7 AND 9 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 3 AND 5

WESTLOOP CINEMA 6

DOMINICK AND EUGENE PG-13 TODAY AT 4:35-7:05-9:3 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2:05

> THE ACCUSED R TODAY AT 4:35-7:05-9:30 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2:05

WITHOUT A CLUE PG TODAY AT 4:30-7:10-9:25 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2

YOUNG GUNS R MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2

PUNCHLINE R TODAY AT 4:25-7-9:35 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 1:50

CHILDS PLAY R TODAY AT 4:40-7:15-9:25 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2:10

AND GARLIC BREAD!! ONLY $3.25 SERVING 5-8 p.m.

Sanchos & Burritos 88¢ each Taco Dinners $1.77 (2 tacos, refried beans, salad with picos) (Offer good through Nov. 14) Closed Tuesday Sun.—Thurs. 11 a.m.-11 p.m. Fri.-Sat. TACO HUT 11 a.m.-12 a.m. 539-2091 2809 Claffin Ben Franklin "Better Quality for Less"

Prices Effective: Friday Nov. 11 thru Sunday Nov. 13, 1988.

WE SELL HUNTING LICENSES IN SPORTING GOODS.

(SUNDAY ONLY)

INCLUDES CHRISTMAS FLORAL ITEMS, KITS, FABRIC, RIBBON, ORNAMENTS, BOOKS (IF IT'S CHRISTMAS, IT'S ON SALE)

SUNDAY IS

OPEN HOUSE

C. REFRESHMENTS

•FREE CRAFT DEMONSTRATIONS

776-4910 Westloop Shopping Center M-F 9-9. Sat. 9-7, Sun. 1-6

gobble

Thanksgiving is a time to enjoy the Autumn's bounty and to get together with family and friends. That's why a Domino's Pizza is especially appro-Choose from nature's finest items.

rich tomato sauce, 100% natural cheese and high quality meats. You can be proud to serve a Domino's Pizza to your guests. There's no preparation! Just call. Within 30 minutes your order will be delivered, hot and delicious, at no additional charge.

Coke* available.

gobble gobu

Call us! Manhattan

539-0561

Sun.-Thurs. 4pm-1am Fri.-Sat. 4pm-2am

$5.99 Special!

Get two 10" cheese pizzas for only $5.99!

No coupon necessary. Prices do not include tax.

$7.99 Special!

Get one 10" AND one 14" cheese pizza for only $7.99! No coupon necessary.

Prices do not include tax.

$8.99 Special!

Get two 14" cheese pizzas for only $8.99! No coupon necessary.

Prices do not include tax.

Our drivers carry less than $20.00. Limited delivery area. $1988 Domino's Pizza, Inc.

FEDERAL DUCK & PHEASANT SHELLS 12 gauge, 4 or 6 shot or choose from 20 gauge, 4 or 6 shot.

588 REG. 24.97 FOUR GUN WALL RACK Decorator gun rack with 3 different wildlife prints.

299 REG. 3.97 CAMOUFLAGE HUNTING GLOVES Boss green camouflaged hunting gloves. 100% cotton.

REG. 2.77 CAMOUFLAGE HUNTING HAT Green camouflage roll up style hunting hat.

888 REG. 10.97 REVERSIBLE VEST Insulated reversible hunting vest. Camouflage to orange.

Daily 9 to 9, Sunday 11 to 6.

GOTT SPORT COOLER 16 qt.-holds 18 cans plus ice, seat top lid and handy food tray.

568 EVERYDAY LOW PRICE COKE BY THE CASE Choose Classic Coke, Dt. Coke, or Sprite. 24 can case.

3007 Anderson Ave.

Top Priority

The Margin of Excellence program will be presented as the top priority of the Associated Students of Kansas when they lobby before the Kansas Legislature in February. See Page 3.

Weather

Today, mostly sunny, windy and unseasonably warm with the high in the low 70s. Tonight partly cloudy, low 40s to 50s.

17-6 to the Cyclones for their last home game. Next week the 'Cats will try to break their 26 game non-winning streak. See Page 6.

Monday

November 14, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 60

Kansas State Collegian

Ambassador gives lecture

By Susan L'Ecuyer Senior Staff Writer

More than 40 years after its creation, "the U.N. is finally doing that for which it was created," said Vernon Walters, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

"I would say we have a less tense situation than we have had since World War II," Walters said to an audience of about 1,600 Friday at the 81st Landon Lecture in McCain Auditorium. His topic was the recent success of the United Nations in achieving its mission, and that mission, he said, is to "stop wars."

Walters credited part of the success to the United States for "staying the course" with a tough position and part to "what has happened in the Soviet Union."

He was referring to the structural

... we have a less tense situation than we have had since World War II." —Vernon Walters U.S. Ambassador changes being implemented in the Soviet Union by Mikhail Gorbachev.

"(Change) came about because an intelligent man like Mr. Gorbachev realized that his system wasn't working," Walters said.

Walters compared past attempts at changes in the Soviet Union to himself as a boy trying to fix his teddy bear. He decided to cut the bear open to replace the battery.

"That was the end of that bear," he said, describing it as the type of "retroengineering" that has been used by the Soviet Union.

"Mr. Gorbachev realizes his economy is in chaos. He realizes his socialist economy has collapsed," he said. "It's an ersatz religion, but how do you tell the people their system has failed?"

He said the Soviet Union can no longer afford to provide so much military and financial support to other communist countries.

"(The Soviets) have discovered that they've got to change their economy in order to survive," he said.

Walters said one of the dangers regarding the structural changes is that of giving too much support or "you'll drown them in American holy water.

"And it only takes two inches," Walters said.

The important thing, he said, is to encourage Gorbachev without giving ammunition to his political enemies.

Walters said another problem facing the United States in the United Nations is that only 44 or 45 of its 159 countries are democracies.

"We've got to stay the course and maintain a tough position," Walters said. "We've got to try to solve our problems without the cost of life."

Before his speech, Walters took about 10 minutes to dispute information and certain "terminological inexactitudes" regarding his background that he said were reported in the Nov. 10 issue of the Collegian. He called the sources that were used "unreliable" and said the paper and the public "should be taught the

Before the lecture, Walters was greeted outside McCain by about 50 people carrying signs saying, "No Spooks in the U.N.," "We're All Aflame With Purple Shame," "Diplomat My Ass," "Have You Hugged Your Death Squad Today?," and "General Walters, Which Democracy Will You Overthrow Today?" The protesters, led by Students for Educational Awareness, were protesting Walters' actions during his service in the military and in the CIA.

In a brochure distributed by the protesters, Walters was described as a terrorist and a man who was "involved directly or indirectly with toppling more governments than any other U.S. government official still toppling governments."

Wildcats five years, announcing football and men's basketball National Association of Sportswriters and Sportscasters.

Mitch Holthus, 1979 K-State graduate, has been the Voice of the games. Holthus was named 1987 Sportscaster of the Year by the

Holthus experiences 'Cat feelings

By Becky Ives Staff Writer

Rejoice with those who rejoice, and weep with those who weep.

Romans 12:15 Mitch Holthus uses that quote from Scripture to describe his job as the Voice of the Wildcats on WIBW Radio 580 AM.

"When you are the 'voice of,' you feel like you are a little more of a part of it. You experience highs and lows more than any other people in journalism," Holthus said.

Holthus, who has been the Voice Association of Sportswriters and of the Wildcats for five years, announces K-State football games and men's basketball games.

He graduated from K-State in 1979 with a dual degree in journalism and business.

"This is my alma mater, and it is a blessing to be able to be 'the voice' for your alma mater. But on the air, I try very hard to be objective. The way to really irritate me is to call me a cheerleader," Holthus

He was voted by the National Sportscasters as the 1987 Sportscaster of the Year. Twice he was voted the Metro Sportscaster of the Year by the Kansas Association of Broadcasters.

"You are either a natural at it or you're not," said Stan Parrish, football coach. "Mitch obviously is. He does his homework. He is as wellprepared as anybody I have ever worked with. I sometimes cut him in on a lot of our secrets to help him out with his broadcasts."

Holthus can rattle off a list of highs and lows he has experienced with the Wildcats. The times he has wept with K-State players and fans are numerous, but he said one game stands out in his mind.

"Pontiac, Michigan. The KU-K-State game in the Silverdome. That was the most devastating loss I have had to deal with on the air," Holthus said. "I had to be objective, but, as the Voice of the Wildcats, it was difficult. I just tried to be professional and take care of my postgame responsibilities.

■ See HOLTHUS, Page 12

Girl dies in motorcycle accident

By Kendra Gensemer Staff Writer

A 17-year-old girl died Saturday at the St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center in Topeka as a result of head injuries sustained Friday in a collision between a motorcycle and a Riley County Police Department car on Tuttle Creek Boulevard, north of Manhattan.

Sandie Oakleaf, of Effingham, was a passenger on the motorcycle driven by Sean D. McDougal, freshman in business

The motorcycle was being pursued after being checked by radar for speeding at about 4 p.m. by a RCPD car not involved in the accident, said a Kansas Highway Patrol spokeswoman. The speed of the motorcycle was not released.

The motorcycle collided with a second RCPD car, driven by Officer Faye Hannes, who was attempting to stop the motorcycle.

Oakleaf was taken to the St. Mary Hospital, and transferred to St. Francis at about 6:30 p.m. She died at about 3 a.m. Saturday of a "severe trauma to the head," said Nialson Lee, nursing supervisor at St. Francis. He also said the ambulance report stated Oakleaf was not wearing a helmet at the time of the accident.

McDougal was also taken to the St. Mary Hospital and admitted as a 24-hour outpatient, the KHP spokeswoman said.

He was released Saturday in "stable condition", said Coleen Rekes, nursing supervisor at the St. Mary Hospital.

The KHP spokeswoman said Hannes was not injured.

McDougal gave no comment about the McDougal's 1980 Honda motorcycle was damaged beyond repair. The damage to the police car, a 1987 Chevrolet, was estimated at $3,000, Riley County Attorney Bill Kennedy said.

KHP is investigating the accident and Kennedy said he expects the circumstances of the accident will be reviewed by the Riley County Law Board for any procedural or training questions.

Kennedy said his office will also conduct a legal review to determine what, if any, charges will to be filed.

PLO leaders accept council's resolution

By The Associated Press

ALGIERS, Algeria - PLO leaders accepted a U.N. resolution Sunday implicitly recognizing Israel's right to exist and recommended the PLO's parliament endorse the Approval by the Palestine National Council, the PLO's parliament-in-exile, is virtually certain and would meet one of the conditions for U.S. recognition of the Palestine Liberation Organization. The action by a committee of PLO leaders showed that chairman Yasser Arafat has won his struggle with hardliners over the controversial U.N. Resolution 242. In the 450-member PNC, 80 percent to 85 percent of the parliamentarians are aligned with Arafat.

In Washington, President Reagan was asked if he was pleased with the PLO leaders' action and said, "We're still looking at that; that's all I can say."

"The PNC will come out with a political decision and a program of peace," said PLO spokesman Ahmed Abdul-Rahman.

"In the political statement, we will adopt all resolutions of the U.N. Security Council dealing with the Palestinian question. What's more, we will emphasize resolutions 242 and 338 as the basis for an international conference to achieve peace in the Middle East."

Resolution 242 calls for an end to hostilities and Israeli withdrawal from territories occupied in the 1967 war. Adopted by the Security Council in 1967, it implicitly recognizes Israel by referring to the right of all states in the area to live within secure and recognized borders.

Resolution 338, passed in 1973 during the Arab-Israeli war, calls for an end to fighting; urges implementation of Resolution 242 and, most important, calls for negotiations between Arabs and Israel toward "a just and durable peace in the Middle East."

In the closed-door committee meetings among PLO leaders, there was strong opposition to Resolution 242 from the Marxistoriented groups, particularly George Habash's Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine.

Habash's faction is the second-largest of the eight groups comprising the PLO. Arafat's Fatah is the largest.

Sources close to the talks said that after two days of haggling, it was clear no compromise was possible.

Habash agreed to note his reservations but bow to the majority and not create a major

Salah Khalaf, a top Arafat aide known as Abu Iyad, said, "Never in my career have I seen the Palestinian leadership acting as responsibly as it is during this session. Unity is priority and the minority is accepting the verdict of the majority without any hard feelings." The 450-member Palestinian council began meeting Saturday and is expected to conclude on Tuesday with a declaration of independence for the West Bank and Gaza

In all previous meetings, the council has explicitly rejected Resolution 242. Those opposed to Resolution 242 objected to its referring to the future of Palestinians in

■ See PLO, Page 12

Site dedicated for Vietnam Memorial

By Becky Jones Collegian Reporter

For Vietnam veterans Kevin Hardy and David Herrs, construction of the KSU Vietnam Veterans Memorial marks the beginning of what they hope will be an era of awareness and changed attitudes toward the Extension, said the memorial will hopefully wake up K-Staters and dispel some of the apathy felt toward the Vietnam War and the people who served in it.

Vietnam)," Hardy said. "I just hope it (the memorial) opens the eyes of some people. I hope that it changes a lot of attitudes."

Herrs, sophomore in modern languages, said he hopes the memorial will encourage people to strive for a better understanding of the war to "learn from the past so we don't make future mistakes."

The site for the memorial was dedicated Hardy, a printer at K-State Cooperative Friday in conjunction with Veterans Day. The memorial will be built in a wooded area directly east of All-Faiths Chapel.

U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Vernon Walters, who delivered the 81st "I lost a lot of friends over there (in Landon Lecture Friday morning, was the ceremony's speaker.

"Today I can only repeat with all of you an enormous sense of gratitude for those who made the supreme sacrifice ... and to tell them they will live forever in our hearts," Walters

Catherine Barnes, junior in political science and chairwoman of the KSU Vietnam Veterans Memorial Committee, said the construction crew hopes to have the pad of the memorial in place before the middle of December. K-State construction science majors will help with the work, she said.

Construction, including the walls, bench, ■ See MEMORIAL, Page 12

Number of parolees high

WASHINGTON - Nearly 2 percent of American adults were being punished for crimes last year, with record numbers on parole or probation, a Justice Department study said Sunday.

The report by the department's Bureau of Justice Statistics said that of the 3.4 million Americans under the supervision of federal, state or local corrections officers, a record 2.6 million men and women were either on probation or parole.

Of those, 2.24 million were on probation, a 6 percent increase over the previous year, and 362,000 were on parole, an 11 percent increase. The study is based on records for the

Joseph M. Bessette, acting bureau director, said the probation and parole population has grown by 40 percent since 1983, while the number of people in jails or prison increased about 33 percent. He gave no explanation for the increases.

Of the men and women under supervision, 64.5 percent were on probation, 10.5 percent were on parole, 16.5 percent were in prisons, and 8.5 percent were in jails, the study said.

U.S. voter turnout declines

WASHINGTON - Voter turnout for this year's presidential election declined in 48 states and the District of Columbia from four years ago, according to a study by a vote research organization.

Despite the Republican victory, GOP turnout was down sharply while Democratic turnout rose marginally, said the Committee for the Study of the American Electorate.

Overall, approximately 91.3 million Americans - roughly half of the eligible voters - cast ballots in the Nov. 8 presidential election, down from 92.7 million, or 53.1 percent of those eligible, in 1984, the study said. Turnout was lowest in the District of Columbia, where 36.6 percent of the eligible voters cast ballots, followed by South Carolina with 38.2 percent; Georgia, 38.3 percent; Hawaii, 42.6

percent; and Alaska, 42.8 percent. The highest turnout was in Minnesota, where 65.3 percent voted for president, followed by Wisconsin, 61.3 percent; South Dakota, 61.1 percent; and Montana and Maine, both 61.0

Only two states had a higher turnout this year than in 1984, the study said. Nevada's turnout increased nearly 2 percentage points from four years ago to 43.4 percent while New Hampshire registered a 0.7 percentage point increase to 53.7 percent.

Since 1960, when 62.8 percent of eligible voters cast ballots, turnout has been decreasing steadily, except for a slight increase in 1984, according to the center's analysis.

Woman pleads guilty in death

ST. JOSEPH, Mich. - A former foster care home operator has pleaded guilty to involuntary manslaughter in a choking death after admitting she forced pieces of a doughnut into a resident's mouth.

Carol Detlaff, 58, entered the plea last week in the death of Gladys Mulhern, 59, who died May 1, 1986, at Detlaff's Adult Foster Care Home in Berrien County's Buchanan Township.

Detlaff said she forced the doughnut into Mulhern's mouth because the victim was playing with her food after other residents had finished eating.

Investigators initially ruled the death accidental. Detlaff was charged following a state Department of Social Services investigation into allegations of abuse at the foster care home.

Sentencing was scheduled for Dec. 12. Detlaff could receive up to 15 years in prison.

Shooting spree ends in suicide

WEST GARDINER, Maine - A man posing as a policeman killed a state official and wounded three other people in a twostate shooting spree believed linked to his firing from a home for the retarded, police said Sunday.

The man killed himself while police chased him at speeds up to 90 mph.

Alan Matterson, former head of the Mechanic Falls group home, shot the home's former bookkeeper, two officials involved in regulating such homes and one of their relatives. One person was in critical condition.

The shootings spanned about 100 miles in New Hampshire and Maine within four hours late Saturday and early Sunday, said state police spokesman Stephen McCausland.

Matterson, 36, was spotted near Gardiner and two state police cars pursued him at high speeds.

The state troopers saw Matterson shoot himself during the chase, McCausland said. That sent his car careening off the road, becoming airborne for a moment before it landed in a field.

Authorities said the shootings appeared to be related to management problems at a group home for 14 mentally retarded people that Matterson had managed, but said they did not know what triggered the violent rampage.

16 marry in shotgun wedding

CHICAGO - Police sirens gave way to wedding bells Sunday as eight men tied the knot with their girlfriends rather than be evicted from the apartments the couples had shared.

Overnight guests were banned from the Rockwell Gardens housing project after a Sept. 20 police raid to combat gang violence.

So on Sunday, eight brides, dressed in pink gowns donated by a local dressmaker, and eight grooms, wearing black tuxedos provided by a formal wear store, beamed as the Rev. Louise Reed pronounced them husbands and wives.

"When they raided my house, that was wrong," said Robert Johnson, who married Linda Hardy. "But today is the best day of my life. ... I'm ready to party."

"I just love it," said the former Tammy Grigsby, now married to Eugene Young. "We had been planning to get married, but since they went on and pressed the issue, we was all for

The group wedding, arranged by Chicago Housing Authority officials after the couples decided to get married rather than live apart, represents a big step for public housing in Chicago, said Vince Lane, CHA chairman.

"These people are models and I have high hope for them," said Lane, who attended the brief ceremony. "I think a great deal of what happens in public housing in Chicago is riding on

Fifth corpse found in yard

SACRAMENTO, Calif. - Police found a fifth corpse Sunday buried in the yard of a tree-shaded Victorian boardinghouse and hunted for the 71-year-old landlady suspected of killing the elderly victims and cashing their Social Security checks.

Investigators said they believe seven or eight bodies may have been buried in the yard. Homicide Lt. Joe Enloe did not elaborate except to say that the estimate was based on the number of residents who are missing.

Authorities were seeking boardinghouse manager Dorthea Montalvo Puente for questioning, police Sgt. Bob Burns said. Puente, who is on parole for her 1982 conviction for drugging and robbing three people, was interviewed by police after the first body was discovered Friday but released for lack of

The woman apparently had been cashing some of the victims' Social Security checks for several months, said Enloe.

BULLETIN FOR CAMPUS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Campus organizations are encouraged to use Campus Bulletin. All announcements must be submitted by 11 a.m. one day prior to publication. Announcements for Monday's bulletin must be in by 11 a.m. Friday. However, publication is determined by the amount of space available on a first-come, first-serve basis and is not ensured. Information forms are available on the shelf outside Kedzie 118. Forms should be left in the box on the shelf after being filled out. All submissions must be signed and are subject to verification. Questions should be directed to the Collegian's campus editors in Kedzie 116.

SINGLE PARENT/DISPLACED HOMEMAKERS Scholarship application forms available at Bluemont 407 or the Fenix Office, Leasure 03.

COORDINATED PROGRAM IN DIETETICS is accepting applications for spring admission. Deadline is Nov. 30. Application forms available from Dr. Deborah Canter, Justin Hall 104. Call 532-5521 for information.

K-STATE PLAYERS will perform "Angels Fall" at 8 p.m. Thursday through Saturday in Nichols Theatre.

TODAY

BETA ALPHA PSI will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 212.

CHIMES JUNIOR HONORARY will meet at 9 p.m. in Union 208.

SHEA STUDENT HUMAN ECOLOGY ASSOCIATION will meet at 7 p.m. in Justin MARKETING CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. will meet at 7 p.m. in Bluemont 343.

in the Union Big 8 roum.

COE AMBASSADORS will meet at 4:45 p.m. in Bluemont 106.

HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND FAM-

meet at 5:15 p.m. in Justin 254.

ILY STUDIES will meet at 6 p.m. at Amigos. HUMAN ECOLOGY COUNCIL will ECONOMICS CAREER SEMINAR will be at 7 p.m. in Union 207.

TUESDAY

WOMEN OVER 50 SUPPORT GROUP will meet from noon to 1 p.m. on the second floor of Lafene Student Health Center.

MUSLIM COMMUNITY ASSOCIA-TION will meet at 7 p.m. in the Union Big 8

GOLD KEY HONOR SOCIETY will meet at 6:30 p.m. in Union 212.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA will meet at 7 p.m. in Willard 301 to make nominations for

BAPP CLUB will meet at 4 p.m. in the Union Little Theatre.

BAKERY SCIENCE CLUB will meet at 7:15 p.m. in Shellenberger 101.

STUDENTS AGAINST DRINKING AND DRIVING will meet at 8:30 p.m. in Union 213.

POULTRY SCIENCE CLUB will meet at 6 p.m. in Call 226.

BUSINESS EDUCATION STUDENTS

K-STATE POLICE

Thursday

A burglary theft of cassette tapes and a box from a vehicle in lot B-3 was reported. Loss was $166. ■ The burglary theft of a student parking permit from a vehicle in lot D-3 was reported. Loss was $30.

A blue Caprice parked in lot A-30 was towed to Mike's Wrecker.

A two-vehicle, non-injury accident occurred in lot A-4. Damage was estimated at less than $500.

Friday

■ A domestic argument at Jardine Terrace was reported to have culminated in the battery of an exwife and damage to property.

The theft of a word processor manual from Seaton Hall was reported. Loss was $35.

An alarm was set off in Bushnell 207 due to ballast burning out.

An alarm was set off in Leasure 104 due to ballast in the light. ■ The theft of a stereo and criminal damage to a vehicle in lot B-3 was reported.

■ The theft of a bicycle from a bicycle rack near Farrell Library was reported. Loss was $125.

■ Two bowling balls were reported stolen from the Union recreation area. Loss was $80.

■ A subject was arrested for DUI, a stop-sign violation and reckless driving, then taken to Riley County Jail.

Saturday

■ A female subject reported a lost purse between Durland and Seaton Halls.

Criminal damage to the window of a car in lot D-2 was reported. A car parked in a reserved stall in lot A-14 was towed to Mike's

■ A car in lot B-16 was reported to have been burglarized, with items stolen and damage inflicted.

Sunday

 A one-car accident occurred on Creek Road on North Manhattan Avenue. Damage was more than

Tonics

New Nonfat Frozen Yogurt

Same great taste with no fat or cholesterol

I Can't Believe It's

YOGURTI

Frozen Yogurt Stores Mautilus Towers-Aggleville hone 537-1616

UNITED ARTISTS $2.50 PER PERSON SHOWS BEFORE 6:00 p.m.

SETH CHILDS 6 TH CHILDS AT FARM SUREAU RO. 776-9 U2-RATTLE & HUM

2:15, 4:35, 7:15, 9:40 THEY LIVE R 2:20, 4:40, 7:20, 9:30 IRON EAGLE II PG Daily 7:15, 9:35 SAT. & SUN. 2:10, 4:40 EVERYBODY'S ALL-AMERICAN R 2, 4:30, 7:10, 9:45

CLARA'S HEART PG-13

Daily 7:10, 9:30 SAT. & SUN. 2:10, 4:40

(24 oz!) GAME ON 7 FT. TV Dolphins tonite! Remember Taco Tuesday Tomorrow! ERNEST SAVES CHRISTMAS PG

> K-State Marketing Club Presents

FIRST INVESTORS CORPORATION

Tonight 7 p.m. Union Big 8 Room All majors welcome Refreshments following

Comedy Invasion Mon., Tues., Wednesday 9 p.m.

Ritch Shydner

APPEARANCES

·Sitcom: Married with Children (on Fox Network) ·Movies: Roxanne—Beverly Hills Cop II

·6 appearances on Johnny Carson (Tonight Show) •2 appearances on Late Night with David Letterman •reservations recommended but not necessary•

Grill Special: Steak & Shrimp $3.95

539-4321

531 N. Manhattan

539-9727

TONIGHT

-come watch Monday night football on the big

$2.50 Pitchers $1

screen TV with the Charlie's gang.

Arts & Science Council

Wendy Albrecht Deborah Dinges

Patrick Murphy Samuel Ory

Angie Smith

Paul Dykes Douglas Holle

Kristin Patterson Clinton Riley

Anita Krug David Lind

Stephanie Smith Travis Stumpff

Jodi Lookhart Diane Zumwalt

tour the world of Arts & Sciences

Margin of Excellence program ASK lobbying priority

By Sarah Kobs Collegian Reporter

The Margin of Excellence program will be presented as the top priority of the Associated Students of Kansas when they lobby before the Kansas Legislature in February.

The ASK policy council met in Topeka on Friday to review priority issues which included the MOE program, budget items and the admission of Washburn University into the Regents system.

ASK delegates from the seven Regents institutions addressed the Washburn issue with the concern that the MOE program would suffer if Washburn was admitted.

"The reality of Washburn becoming a Regents institution is likely to happen within five to ten years," said Scott King, K-State ASK campus director. "However, the first priority of ASK is to see that the MOE plan is fully funded for the next two years until we catch up with our peer institutions," he said.

Troy Lubbers, K-State student body president, said the Legislature must assure full funding for the MOE program in order for the other institutions to consider the admission of Washburn. Most of the ASK delegates believe the issue needs to be further examined by the Washburn Regents and the Kansas Board of Regents before the Legislature votes.

Part of the MOE program is to increase library funding at each institution. A task force consisting of one delegate from each school is going to research the historical background of each library to determine how much money each school should receive to catch up with peer institutions' library status. A delegate from K-State will head the task force since Farrell Library is in need of more funding than the other schools, King Educational opportunities and community services were established as top priorities by the ASK delegates.

Funding for the Youth Education

sity students to tutor "at-risk" high school students.

Through the YES program, students are more likely to graduate from high school and pursue further education, King said. The tutors will receive financial aid for their services. Another top ASK priority is the funding and enactment of a minority scholarship program.

The Kansas student community service project enhances education, health and human services, rural eco- ASK has developed.

Service makes it possible for univer- nomic development, conservation and urban renewal and assistance to the poor and elderly.

> ASK delegates established the college savings program as a priority that calls for more information on college costs, planning and programs to help students and their families save for college.

The legislators will be given a handbook that tells of the policies

Mouse-catching mascot hit by car

By The Collegian Staff

A part of the University For Man died last week.

Sometime Thursday night or Friday morning, UFM's unofficial mascot, a cat, was hit by a car on Manhattan Avenue.

The cat, whose name was UFM, had become "a part of UFM in the two years we've had him," said Eunice Dorst, director of educational programs.

"He was sort of a mascot, but we had first bought him to catch mice because a big building like this could have them," Dorst said. "He became a pet for everyone who worked here."

Dorst said her first reaction after hearing about the death was disbelief.

"It's going to be different around here without him. He would sit on our desks while we worked in the offices," she said. "He would wander into the classrooms and sit in the chairs. He was a familiar face to all of the students."

Dorst took the black-and-white cat home during school vacations. "No one owned him - he owned us. At times, he acted like he owned the house," she said. Richard Friesen, executive director at UFM, said the cat would

"There's obvious pluses and minuses to owning a cat. I've heard it said around here to be sure to check for cat hairs before drinking our milk," Friesen said. "He was an attention-getter."

"He's certainly given us some laughs, and occasionally some annoyances," Dorst said. "He'd knock papers off the desks, but it was worth it."

YUM—YUM! Cinn-A-Yum 2 for $1 coupon effective thru 11-20-88 Mon.-Sat. 9-9 Sunday 11-5 Delicious Cinnamon Rolls MANHATTAN TOWN CENTER

NOW OPEN Popcorn Palace

across from McCain Auditorium Serving Honey Hill Farms

Frozen Yogurt & Flavored Popcorn strawberry & banana featured today

1319 Anderson 2

WHY GIVE SOMEONE A HEADACHE FOR CHRISTMAS?

Of course copper and brass make great gifts. But along with the gift you give the headache of polishing it. Unless you purchase your gifts at Lakin's. All of our copper and brass is treated to prevent tarnishing, so all you'll be giving is enjoyment.

Lakin's Gift Shop & Metal Polishing

2040 Ft. Riley Blvd.

Tues.-Sat. 10-5:30 537-7712

Aggieville Flowers

6 ROSES FOR $6 OR $12 a dozen

> cash n' carry while supplies last

537-9549 • 10-5 M-S • 12th & Laramie

DANCE CLASSES SPRING 1989

DANCE 205 Dance As An Art Form

A lecture and film class exploring the origins of dance from primitive to contemporary society. FULFILLS FINE ARTS REQUIREMENT, 3 hours credit and Personalities A seminar format which analyzes through readings, discussion and video the major innovators and trends in dance. Emphasizing modern and post-modern performances.

DANCE 460 Dance Styles

3 hours credit DANCE 502

Dance Production

Performance and Technical experience. 1-2 hours credit Ballet, Modern, and Jazz dance classes, beginning through advanced levels are open to all majors. Level I requires no prior experience WATCH FOR KANSAS STATE REPERTORY DANCE COMPANY

AUDITIONS IN JANUARY!!! For more information, call 532-6887.

'TIS THE SEASON TO PARTY!

You deserve to look your best for that special party! Rent your tuxedo from the store with a quality difference. Check out the holiday selection of bowties and cummerbunds!.

Be the center of attention of any function with a stylish party dress that glitters, sparkles, and dazzles. Keep all eyes on you in a dress from Christine's!

NOW AT A NEW LOCATION!

776-7387

1223 Moro

M-S 10-5:30 p.m. Thurs. til 8 p.m.

Editorial

Kansas State Collegian Opinions ■ Monday, November 14, 1988

uestions at Landon Lectures fail to make point

omeone should write a manual about how to act, or more specifically, how to to ask questions at a Landon Lecture.

When Vernon Walters spoke Friday at the 81st Landon Lecture on Public Issues, the crowd was composed and courteous to the speaker and each other. They saved their comments until the question-and-answer session (for which President Jon Wefald graciously allotted a whole five minutes) and then things went downhill quickly.

It's amazing how naive many K-Staters seem. Many of those who asked questions, from the vehemence of their questions, seemed to believe they were asking something which would make Walters sweat. Unfortunately, part of Walters' job as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations is to field tough questions from people with a lot more information and power than the average K-State student or faculty member. It is easy to brush aside a single question from a K-State student and to make the student look like an uninformed fool.

Walters did this to the Collegian. Walters used the first 15 minutes of his speech to discredit the paper, going through every article and column it had published about him, taking apart its arguments and questioning its sources. He did this brilliantly. He's a seasoned politician. People at the lecture were commenting, even before he was done speaking, about how mad the Collegian staff probably was. After that "attack," anything negative the Collegian writes about the lecture, no matter how true, will probably be dismissed as vindictiveness. The free press at this college has, for all practical purposes, been made impotent on this issue. Walters dispatched each of the questioners in a similar

The problem with most of the questions was they weren't questions as much as brutal attacks intended to "break" Walters and make him confess to all the crimes of which he had been accused. The attacks drew the sympathy of the crowd to Walters and not the questioner. So, regardless of what Walters said, he had already won the "debate." When the first questioner began to attack Walters, a lot of the listeners in the lower balcony groaned, "Uh-oh, here they go," ("they" evidently referred to liberals) and the matter was settled. No one would support the questioner.

Also, the questions dealt mainly with the accusations about Walters' past, which he had already dispensed with at the opening of his speech, and not with the speech itself. Walters has almost certainly been asked those questions before and has probably developed standard answers.

He challenged journalists to find and publish any documents among those released by the government under the Freedom of Information Act which might prove his alleged evil past, but also said that certain "ultra topsecret documents" were not released because of their highly sensitive nature. It was his way of saying, "You can't prove a thing." It was subtle, and it may have been unintentional,

Commentary

DWAYNE LIVELY Collegian

Columnist

but it was the underlying theme.

The only questions that would have even a minute chance of shaking up Walters would be questions about the things he had just said. Of all the questions asked Friday, only one produced a relatively weak answer from Walters. Walters had commented on how the United States had cut off aid to the government of Guatemala after it was proven it was violating the human rights of its citizens. A man then stood up and pointed out that the United States had sold the Guatemalans 28,000 M-16 rifles not long after the sanctions were implemented. Walters responded by saying, in essence, that if the United States hadn't sold them the rifles, someone else would have. He did not, however, explain how that justified the weapons sale and, unfortunately, the man didn't ask him to pon further examination, Walters said a lot of things that he should have been asked to clarify. One of the Collegian accusations he "tore apart" was been asked but they weren't. Part of the probabout the United States' failure to comply lem is that the curators of McCain Auditorwith an International Court ruling that ium, as well as the organizers of the Landon ordered the United States to pay damages to Lectures, don't consider the students in the Nicaragua after mining its harbors. The min-balcony — who account for most of the stuing is a gross violation of international law. dents at the lecture - important enough to Walters defended the decision by saying that provide upstairs microphones. Instead, stu-10 other nations on the U.N. Security Council dents must scream questions while President also feel the court does not have the right to Wefald sternly interrupts them and insists interfere in the foreign policy of a sovereign they run out an exit, down two flights of nation. Walters did not say, and no one asked stairs, around a corner, through a door and him, if it was standard U.S. policy to commit down another flight of stairs to the microheinous acts of war against other sovereign phones in the lower auditorium. Even if you nations and exactly what the U.N. Security want to, it's difficult to ask a question at a

In yet another case, Walters defended the seating. U.S. government's reluctance to impose total economic sanctions against South Africa by saying the presence of U.S. companies provides a place for black South Africans to learn job skills, and therefore improve, and removing those jobs would leave the black South Africans at the mercy of their government. Once again Walters did not explain, and once again no one asked, exactly how many of the 35 million blacks in South Africa hold jobs with U.S. companies and how much money the companies make in comparison to what the black workers make. Also, no one asked if the real reason behind the reluctance to impose total sanctions is that South Africa is one of the few places in the world outside of the U.S.S.R. where titanium and other metals critical to the United States' defense can be obtained.

These questions and others should have why and do something to improve our grade.

Council has to do with international law. Landon Lecture if you can't afford preferred rofessors constantly remind us that we are at the University to learn to think on our own. They also tell us the only way we can do this is to ask questions and even then, we must ask the right questions. If we do not, we cannot learn anything and are stuck with believing the information given to us.

When we question people like Walters, who are paid to handle questions, we are not going to change their minds or pummel them into giving a Perry Mason-like courtroom confession. Maybe, however, if we ask the right questions, we can put a hint of doubt in the minds of people at the lecture with us and inspire them to work with us toward a common goal. We flunked Landon Lecture attendance last week. We need to ask ourselves

Lecture by Walters

Walters was everything a lecture series of this prestige should demand. He has an outstanding background and has played an outstanding role in worldwide politics. But, unlike many lecturers, he had something fresh and interesting to say.

Anyone can listen to the news or read the newspaper to get the official version of what is, was and will happen in the world. But few people can turn to someone who was there when the decision was made and find out what it was like and what it will mean.

That should be the real purpose of a public forum which features prominent figures - to give our small campus in the heartland a whiff of the aroma of decision-making, to see the people behind the policy and to learn why their policy is the way it is.

Walters did that. He addressed the comments about his past and then gave the audience something rare in a Landon forum some interpretation. This was followed by a number of questions,

Hopefully, when future lecturers request information about this forum, they will be told to leave their made-for-television cliches at home, and come here prepared to talk about the personal side gave personal insight

It should be a prototype.

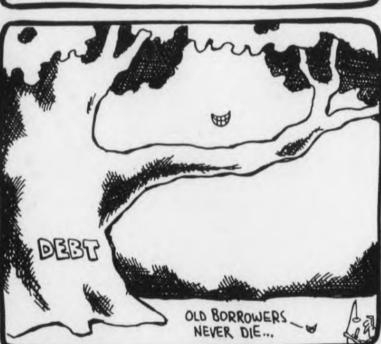

The 81st Landon Lecture on Public Issues featuring Vernon in which he neither avoided a question nor belittled a questioner.

of their position. The audience demands it.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

	News Staff
EDITOR	Chad L. Sanbo
MANAGING EDITOR	Lori Siegi
NEWS EDITOR	Janet Swans
EDITORIAL PAGE EDITOR	Janet Swars
PHOTO/GRAPHICS EDITOR	John La Bar
SPORTS EDITOR	Chris He
CAMPUS EDITORS	Karen Allen, Robert R. Sh
FEATURES EDITOR	Christine C
SPECIAL PROJECTS EDITOR	Christine C
AGRI/BUSINESS EDITOR	Scott MilPaula Se
ARTS AND ENTERTAINMENT EDITOR	Paula Se
GOVERNMENT EDITOR	Nancy Charra Michael Nich
COPY EDITORS	Nancy Downing, Ann Iseman, Mark Schreiner, Jane Thomps
SENIOR STAFF WRITERS	Nancy Downing, Ann Iseman, Mark Schreiner, Jane Thomps
STAFF WRITERS	Susan L'Ecuyer, Erwin Se
	Paul Branson, Audra Dietz, Becky Iv
SPORTS WRITERS	Brian Hummell, Steve Wall
or otto militale immenimination	Russ Ewy, Chris Hays, Micheal M
SPORTS COLLIMNISTS	Mike Rouse, Chris Wilhe
COLUMNISTS	mike House, Chris Wilre
	Catherine Doud, Dwayne Lively, Sheikh Faisal Razz
CARTOONIST	Karia Hedelsheirner, Mark Schmel
	Scott Oppig Scott Oppig Jennifer Lippx Chris Assaf, Brad Carrp, Jim Dietz, Joe Freem
EDITORIAL BOARD	Brett Hacker, Jeff Stead, Greg Voj
ADJEDNIC 11111	Advertising Staff
ADVENTISING MANAGER	Catherine Doc
	Michelle Slavk, Jenniter White Brent Winds
OFFICE/CLASSIFIED AD ASSISTANTS	Michelie Slavik, Jennifer White, Brent Winds Michelie Slavik, Jennifer White, Brent Winds Kirn Beyer, Tomari Quinn, Christa Sou
PHOTOGRAPHER	Dave Casper, Kendell McMinim
	udent Publications Staff DIRECTOR
BUSINESS MANAGER	Charle Fa
ASSIFIED ADVERTISING MANAGED	Shelly Pott
NEWS PRODUCTION COORDINATOR	Linda Schmi
ADVERTISING PRODUCTION COORDINAT	Connie Fulkerso
ADVENTISING PRODUCTION COORDINATI	OR
The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020 lions Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66 and Thursday during summer sessions. Second Thursday during summer sessions.), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Public 506. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the year and Monda ond class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. ansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Ma
News contributions will be accepted by te	Janhone (013) 533 5555
Inquiries concerning local, national and class	fied display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word adv.

roe by VISA or MasterCard, call (913) 532-655

ers (Fall and Spring)

Decision correct

$10

Editor, Being an Elections Committee member, I feel compelled to write this letter to clear the air concerning the exception given to Laurian Cuffy, student body president-elect.

In answer to the Collegian's claim on Nov. 7 that Eva Chatterjee, elections chairwoman, contacted Cuffy to warn him of the late report: Chatterjee had originally notified him indicating he would be removed from the ballot. Approximately five minutes later, Chatterjee received a call from Ira Bolden, Cuffy's campaign manager, explaining that the report was late due to a personal emergency. The Expenditure Report subcommittee, of which I am vice chairman, conferred with Chatterjee and decided to keep Cuffy on the ballot.

On the other hand, Mike Cormaci, whose name was removed from the ballot, had a completely different situation. Cormaci assumed he was exempt from turning in any report because he accumulated zero expenses since the last report was due. The election rules clearly state that an expenditure report needs to be submitted to the SGS office whether the candidate incurred expenses or not. I might add this was also clearly stated at the information sessions for all candidates as well. Cuffy's expenditure report was known to be late; the elections committee did not notify him of the violation until the decision was made to keep his name on the ballot. In addition, Cuffy's decision was not made solely by Chatterjee, but with input from myself, Sally Routson, our adviser, Wade Whitmore and the expenditure report committee which consisted of Craig Cursin and Chad Brightbill.

Letters

Due to the unfortunate circumstance which kept the report from being turned in on time by Cuffy's campaign treasurer, and that this committee considered it a "special case," our committee has taken unwarranted criticism. The entire committee feels that we were vested by Student Senate through SGA bylaws to make these kinds of decisions, hence having first jurisdiction over all instances pertaining to the elections of student body presidential and senatorial candidates. As vice chairman, I feel extremely comfortable with the decision our committee made.

> Mike Kadel senior in bakery science and one other

Editor's Note: The Collegian stands behind the accuracy of its story.

Collegian Editorial Policies

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR are always encouraged. Those which pertain to matters of campus and/or public interest are especially encouraged, and are given the highest priority. Letters should be kept as brief as possible, preferably under 300 words. Those who cannot condense their opinions should consider submiting their letter in the form of a guest column. All letters are subject to editing for space, style and taste. GUEST COLUMNS are also encouraged. The column should be no longer than two double-spaced, typed pages. If the submission is used as a column and not a letter to the editor, it will be accompanied by the author's photograph. SEND SUBMISSIONS to the Collegian in Kedzie 116. UNSIGNED EDITORIALS represent the consensus opinion of the Collegian's editorial board. Opinion columns do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the Collegian management, Student Publications, Inc. or the newspaper staff in general.

By Heather Huntington Collegian Reporter

The job market for Kansas Cooperative Extension positions has been depressed since January, but, with proposed state legislation, the outlook for Extension services is increasingly promising.

On July 1, 1989, the entry-level salary for graduates in Extension is going to rise from $18,000 to $20,000, said Stanley Farlin, associate director of the local division of Cooperative Extension.

"We were just barely meeting the competition's rates and we want the very best people we can get to serve Kansas," he said.

In addition to these positive developments, an organization of private citizens is requesting that legislation be enacted to further relieve the economic stress on the statewide Extension program.

This group is asking the 1989 Legislature to restore a minimum of two agents to each county, transfer the source of agents' salaries from the county to the state, restore 19 specialist positions and establish a statewide Extension satellite receiver network with a learning center in each county, Farlin said.

"They're not asking for anything new, except for the satellite program. The proposal is basically asking to restore the Extension program back to its original capacity," he said.

The heart of the program is the individual counties. Agents with specialties in home economics, agriculture, youth programs, energy development and community development reside there to give unbiased education to the residents, Farlin said.

The local agents are reinforced at the state level by specialists in the various fields who have access to recent research information, he

In January 1988, financial cutbacks from the state and the federal government forced the Kansas Extension Service to make staff adjustments.

A new staffing plan reduced the number of county agents from 279 to 246. A hiring freeze was placed on the state-based specialist support staff which had already been reduced by 33 members in the previous 10 years.

It is standard procedure to have two agents in a county - one who specializes in home ecomomics and another who specializes in agriculture. Many counties were left with only one agent.

The impact was that all of a sudden you had one agent in charge of all of the various programs but having expertise in only one," Farlin said. "This caused a lot of stress not only for the agents, but for the constituents who were worried about the delivery of a quality program."

Much of that worry has dissipated since the hiring freeze was lifted in July, Farlin said.

The outlook for position openings for new college graduates is good, he said.

"Right now, we have 11 county positions open," he said. "Sometimes, those counties prefer to look at new college graduates for budgetary reasons.

New college graduates interested in Extension jobs are required to have a 2.8 grade point average. In addition, it helps if the graduate is skilled in radio broadcasting, teaching and writing, said Marjory Mortvedt, member of Extension staff and program development.

"I'd like to find a job in Extension," said Julie Kaiser, senior in home economics education. "I think my chances are OK if I would be willing to take a job in any area of the state.

(Kansas) has 105 counties and each county has to have at least one agent. They may rearrange the jobs or the names, but Extension is always going to be here."

Although Kaiser said she is positive about her future in Extension, she admits that she has had doubts.

"I almost changed my major when all of the adjustments began, but I decided this was what I wanted to do," she said.

U2's latest movie live 'rockumentary'

By Michael Nichols Government Editor

"This is a song Charles Manson stole from the Beatles. Now we're stealing it back."

With these words, Bono, lead singer of the Irish rock group U2, introduced the group's rendition of the Beatles' "Helter Skelter," followed by about 11/2 hours of concert clips and interviews in U2's new movie "Rattle and Hum."

Film Review

Despite accusations that U2 takes itself too seriously, the movie is an entertaining depiction of the group's strongest attribute: live performance.

Directed by Phil Joanou, "Rattle and Hum" could be categorized as a slick, "80s-style rockumentary."

The opening concert clips are black and white and crisply focused. While the clips are live, the lack of a noticeable audience and the fading out of the cheers and jeers one usually associates with an audience give the impression of staged performances.

The interviews are also in black and white, but the image is hazier, slightly unfocused and reminiscent of low-budget "garage-band" videos

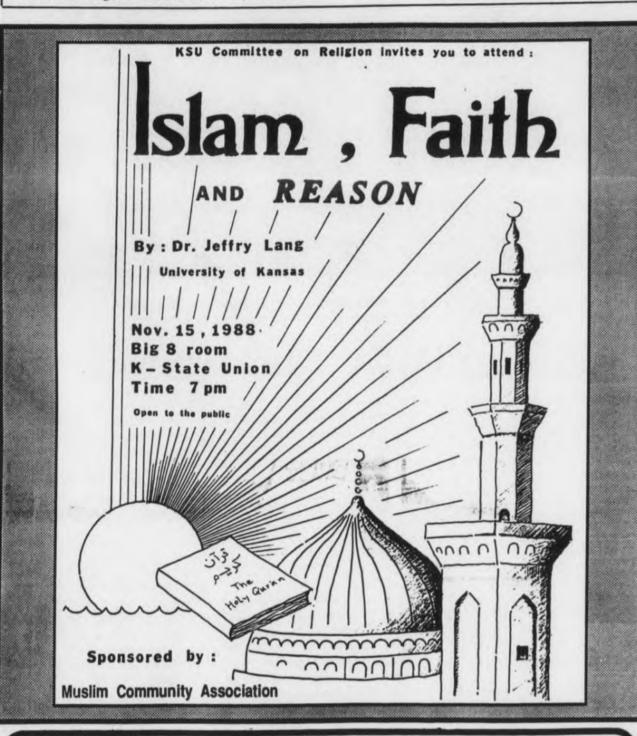

Although U2 is appealing to a young American public conditioned by years of slick music videos, the movie in no way undermines the group's famous intensity and energy.

Appearances by legendary blues guitarist B.B. King and a Harlem, N.Y., gospel choir, demonstrated an expansion of U2's musical styles since its first live-performance movie, "Under a Blood Red Sky."

The political activism of previous albums, however, is not lost. While performing politically motivated songs such as "Bullet the Blue Sky" and "Sunday Bloody Sunday," Bono lectures the audience about the pointlessness of violence and "the revolution.'

The band's attitude concerning politics was perhaps best expressed by bass player Adam Clayton. He was asked what he thought of not mixing sports and politics, or music and politics.

"I think it's bull shit," he said.

Is there a place in Manhattan where you can buy a stack of books three feet tall and only pay $10 ?? You'll have to be there to see it!!!

K-State Union's

YARD SALE

Misc. books $10/yard

Nov. 15-16-17 9am-4pm

2nd floor Ballrooms K & S

Brought to you by:

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

Excitement and adventure is the course description, and Army ROTC is the name. It's the one college elective that builds your self-confidence, develops your leadership potential and helps you ake on the challenges of command.

There's no obligation until your junior year, so there's no reason not to try it out right now.

COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

Add success to your spring schedule! MSCI 105, Military Leadership. For more information, contact Army ROTC at 532-6754.

HOCHHAUSER THANK YOU

KANSAS STATE . . .

for electing me to represent you.

As your State Representative, I will make sure our concerns are heard in Topeka.

And I will listen to your concerns here in Manhattan.

Please call me or come visit whenever you have any questions or concerns.

SHEILA HOCHHAUSER REPRESENTATIVE-ELECT, 67th DISTRICT Your representative working for you.

1636 Leavenworth

539-6177 (home)

539-4656 (work)

Pol. Adv. paid for by Sheila Hochhauser for State Representative, Phil Becker, Treasurer, 1851 Virginia Dr., Manhattan

SportsMonday

Kansas State Collegian ■ Monday, November 14, 1988 ■ Page 6

Turnovers cost Wildcats in 16-7 loss

By Chris Wilhelm Sports Writer

The K-State Wildcats entered the contest with the Iowa State Cyclones on Saturday with a bang and departed with a whimper as they dropped a 16-7 decision to the Cyclones on Saturday at KSU Stadium.

"K-State really had an excellent chance to get their first victory of the season today," said Iowa State Coach Jim Walden. "We were ripe for the picking today but they just couldn't get the job done."

K-State scored on its second possession. A nine-play, 73-yard touchdown drive following William Price's interception of a Bret Oberg pass put the 'Cats on top 7-0 midway through the first quarter. But that would be all of the scoring punch that the 'Cats would provide, allowing one of K-State's finest defensive efforts of the year to go to waste.

"We made way too many mistakes today — particularly on offense. We simply self-destructed," said K-State Coach Stan Parrish. "We played very hard on defense today. It was probably their best game of the season."

The 'Cats defense gave up only 336 yards, the least it has allowed all season. K-State allowed the Cyclones 224 rushing yards and 112 passing yards. K-State's previous low this season was 377 in its first home game, against Iowa.

While the K-State defense was doing an admirable job in trying to shut down the Cyclones, the Wildcat offense was having its second-worst offensive outing of the year. K-State only generated 235 yards in total offense. The Wildcats' lowest yardage output came against Nebraska when the Wildcats only mustered 199 total yards.

Lee Pickett was the biggest contributor to the K-State cause as he rushed for 79 yards on 16 carries, but his performance was overshadowed

STATISTIC	ISU	KSU
First Downs	18	14
Rushes-Yards	60-224	32-96
Passing Yards	112	139
Return Yards	10	13
AttCompInt.	6-10-2	19-31-0
Total Yards	336	235
Fumbles-Lost	3-1	4-3
Penalties	8-83	4-25
I-State	7 0	3 6-16
K-State	7 0	0 0-7
IV-DIGIO	The second second

RUSHING - K-State, Pickett 16-79, Dillon 4-40, Straw 9-(-24), Dulan 2-1, McKinnis 1-0. I-State, Henderson 40-156, Warren 14-61, Oberg 5-2, Thibodeaux

PASSING - K-State Straw 19-31-0, 129 yards, Washington 0-1-0, 0. I-State, Oberg 6-10-2, 112.

RECEIVING - K-State, Washington 5-45. McKinnis 5-19, Friedrich 2-18, Smith 2-16, Dillon 2-10, Tolbert 1-22, Wyatt 1-7, Dulan 1-2. I-State, Ross 2-41, Busch 2-26, Henderson 1-40, Brown 1-5. A - 10,850.

by that of Iowa State's premier running back Joe Henderson.

Henderson rushed for 156 yards on 40 carries with one touchdown and also had a 40-yard pass reception to keep a scoring drive alive.

On a third-and-eight from the K-State 41-yard line, Henderson caught an Oberg pass and advanced the ball all the way to the K-State 1-yard line before he was dragged down by Tyreese Herds of the Wildcats. A play later, Henderson scored on a 1-yard plunge, knotting the score at

"K-State played really tough today," Henderson said. "From what I had heard about them, I thought I would have a better game than I did. I really had to work for all the yardage that I got."

The K-State defense stopped the Cyclones on separate possessions in which Iowa State had driven the ball to the Wildcat 1-yard line. In the first half, a Danny Needham sack on fourth-and-goal from the 1-yard line forced the Cyclones to turn the ball over on downs.

On its first possesion of the second half, Iowa State had the ball thirdand-goal from the 1-yard line, but K-State put up another strong goal-line stand, and the Cyclones had to settle for a field goal and the 'Cats were able to keep it close, 10-7.

K-State's hopes were dashed early in the fourth quarter when on a firstand-goal from the 9-yard line, a late Carl Straw pitch was fumbled by halfback Chad McKinnis and the Cyclones recovered, stopping any K-State scoring hopes.

"I thought we had a good chance when we held them to three points and then drove the ball to their 9-yard line," said Parrish. "The worst we can do at that point is a 10-10 tie, if we don't fumble."

K-State threatened later in the fourth quarter after they moved the ball. ball 25 yards in four plays. But disaster struck again.

On third-and-six from their own 39-yard line, Straw was sacked for a 14-yard loss and fumbled the ball, giving ISU a first down at the K-State 36-yard line. The Cyclones scored seven plays later when Curtis Warren barreled 3 yards through the middle for a touchdown, providing for the final margin, 16-7.

"We haven't had any luck all year," Straw said. "I should have kept the ball instead of pitching it (on the fumble at the KSU 9-yard line). It is the kind of mistake you make when you are trying to make the big play."

The loss drops the Wildcats to 0-10 on the season and evens the Cyclones season mark at 5-5.

"I am deliriously happy that we are at .500. It feels great to be at 5-5 with this team," Walden said.

linebacker Elijah Alexander on a 5-yard gain up the middle in the first lowa State University running back Joe Henderson is hit by K-State quarter of Saturday's game. Henderson was the game's leading rusher with 156 yards in 40 carries and one touchdown.

Dropped ball costly to Buffs; Huskers win 7-0

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - J.J. Flannigan was carrying Colorado's hopes when he inexplicably dropped the Flannigan broke free in the first half Saturday and appeared on his way to an uncontested 43-yard touchdown against No. 7 Nebraska.

But he got to the Nebraska 19 and dropped the ball. By the time he picked it up, the Cornhuskers were upon him.

The 19th-ranked Buffaloes came out empty-handed, and Nebraska went on to a 7-0 win in the second-tolast Big Eight weekend of the season.

In other games, No. 8 Oklahoma turned back Missouri 16-7, No. 14 Oklahoma State blitzed Kansas 63-24 and Iowa State topped Kansas State 16-7.

Nebraska got past stubborn Colorado in Lincoln to set up the annual showdown next Saturday with Oklahoma for the trip to the Orange Bowl.

"Colorado points for this game," Huskers coach Tom Osborne said of the narrow victory over the Buffs. "I hope we have a better game this week. Colorado's defense played tought. There were no surprises. I thought we'd move the ball better, but we didn't."

Ken Clark ran for 165 yards and scored the game's only touchdown for Nebraska, 10-1 overall and 6-0 in the Big Eight.

It was a disappointing loss for Colorado, which had also played Oklahoma close before losing 17-14. The Buffs are 7-3 and 3-3.

"I thought our defense fought hard," Buffs coach Bill McCartney said. "I wish we could have gotten into the end zone a couple of times for them. "We had our opportunities in both games. We're going to look back at both games with regret. They're both great teams. They aren't going to beat themselves."

Missouri shut out the Sooners in the second half, but it was too late,

Charles Thompson led the Sooners to three scoring drives in the first half at Columbia to beat the Tigers,

2-7-1 and 1-5.

"I knew they would take a lot of gambles and make a lot of stunts," said Thompson. "You're going to have some success doing that. But 16 points happened to be enough today."

Tigers coach Woody Widenhofer didn't get the upset he needed as ammunition to get his contract renewed and fell to 11-31-1 in his four seasons, 2-7-1 and 1-5 this

"Maybe we should just play Oklahoma and Nebraska every week," said Widenhofer, whose team suffered a close loss to the Huskers two weeks ago. "I wasn't very happy that we lost. But I thought our kids played hard all four quarters. It was a tight, close hard-fought game."

Heisman voters, you just can't ignore Barry Sanders.

The Oklahoma State back ran for 312 yards and became only the third player in NCAA history to top 2,000 yards in a season.

"What Barry did is something we can all share in," said Coach Pat

Jones as his team went 7-2 and 4-2 with the victory in Stillwater.

"I told our squad it's not very often you get a chance to stand there and watch history being made. We had the opportunity to do it. The numbers, are just staggering, and we've still got two regular season ball games

Sanders has 2,003 yards, besting the Oklahoma State single-season record of 1,877 established by Ernest Anderson in 1982.

"I guess maybe it'll hit me 20 years down the road, but they're no big deal right now," said Sanders, who also established NCAA records with 31 touchdowns and 188 points this season.

Kansas, 1-9 and 1-5, put the nation's worst rushing defense in front of Sanders.

"He's looked like this against everybody," Jayhawks coach Glen Mason said. "It doesn't surprise me. The secret is he's a great running back and he's got a great offensive line in front of him."

Seniors endure trying, winless season

By Chris Hays Sports Editor

Although Saturday's last home football game held special significance for 20 K-State seniors, it provided no new excitement for Wildcat fans. The 'Cats lost for the 12th straight time and didn't win for a nation-leading 26th straight game.

Iowa State and turnovers were the spoilers on this day - one that could have been glorious for those departing at the end of the year. The seniors would have loved to have won their three K-State victories and have last game here, but it was not to be, as choked down 39 losses and last the Cyclones pulled out a 16-7

"You would like to go out with a win, of course," tackle Russ Stange said. "But nothing else has gone the way I planned for it to when I first came here."

Nothing has really gone as planned for any of K-State's seniors, some of whom have been here five years. Those who stuck it out that year's tie with arch-rival Kansas.

"It just hurts when you think about everything. Things like this (the loss to Iowa State) and last week (the loss to KU) are embarrassing," place-kicker Mark Porter said. "Nothing has gone the way I thought it would the past five years, but I have gotten some good things out of my experience at K-State."

The same goes for Stange, who long can claim to have been part of said he has no regrets after transferring here from Fullerton (Calif.) Community College two years ago.

"Heck no. I don't have any regrets for coming here. How could I?" he said. "I had a chance to play and not too many people get the chance to play against teams like Oklahoma and Nebraska and the rest of the Big Eight."

But how is having to deal with the adversity of a program such as K-State's going to affect these players in later life?

"I have had a lot of positive things come out of my experiences at K-State," Porter said.

"This has been a very trying experience for myself, my teammates and the rest of the coaching staff," said defensive end Robert Easterwood, another five-year team member. "But the opportunity to play and compete is such a big thing for us that the rest is not too hard to overcome."

are going to make our lives a lot bet-

And what do the seniors think it will take to turn the K-State football program around?

"Honestly, I don't know," Stange said. "But I think coach (Stan) Parrish could have done it if they would have given him the time. I disagree with that (Parrish leaving) and I'm a senior now so I can say that.

"I think that whatever coach does "The bad moments we've had here come in here should be able to turn it around. Coach Parrish has brought ter," fullback Lee Pickett said. some good, young players in here "We've learned a lot about adversity." and now the shelves are stocked."

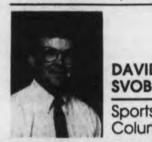

Wildcat fullback Lee Pickett (30) tries to break through the ISU defen- K-State tailback Tom Dillon (27) carries the ball in the third quarter. Dilsive line in the fourth quarter. Pickett rushed for 79 yards on 16 carries. Ion, a walk-on from Manhattan, rushed 40 yards in four carries.

Wildcat punter Shane Pouch kicks in Saturday's game. Pouch, a senior from Ellsworth, punted eight times for 256 yards.

Time to clean house in Chiefs' front office

Svoboda on Sports

DAVID SVOBODA Sports Columnist

Same song, different verse. That's exactly what the Kansas City Chiefs gave us Sunday afternoon with their impressive 31-28 defeat of the Cincinnati Bengals, one of pro football's elite teams in 1988.

How many times before have we seen the Chiefs struggle through a mediocre or just downright bad campaign only to get well at the end of the season, just in time to spoil any chances they might have had at gaining an additional blue-chip player through a high draft choice?

Until 1988 and the "emergence" of the Bengals, the Denver Broncos had been the Chiefs perennial late-season victims. Regardless of how good the Broncos were or how bad the Chiefs had been, it seemed as if Denver always invaded Arrowhead Stadium in Kansas City in November or December and left with a loss.

The Chiefs, having been emotionally revitalized by a win over one of the NFL's best teams, then charged through the remainder of their schedule, playing closer to their potential than they had during the first part of the year.

It's all rather academic, however, how you play in week No. 11 if you're 1-8-1 through the first ten

The 1988 Kansas City Chiefs are mediocre with a capital "M." That mediocrity starts at the top. In fact, Chiefs owner Lamar Hunt would be wise to chop the head right off his front office monster and start anew.

The team's president, Jack Steadman, is the first villain we should speak of here. This is the man largely responsible for the Chiefs doldrums years, don't you? After Hank Stram's boys had some glory early in the decade, Paul Wiggin, Tom Bettis and the like all moved through Arrowhead's doors to coach downright bad teams. Steadman, then the team's general manager, is to blame for starting this whole damn mess. Steadman, who oversees many of Hunt's businesses, including Worlds of Fun, should stay in the amusement park business. Maybe he thinks the Chiefs are a roller coaster. Their most recent seasons sure have resembled roller coasters.

Steadman's biggest mistake, though, was the naming of Jim Schaaf as his replacement as the in the 1970s. You remember those team's GM. Jim Schaaf knows about as much about football as I do about predicting it (as evidenced by my brilliant KU-K-State pick of two weeks ago).

Schaaf and his staff of scouts should all be swept out of office and replaced by competent men. Maybe Stram wouldn't be a bad place to

The New Orleans Saints, with proven NFL winner Jim Finks running the franchise, have turned their program around in less than five years. Finks hired a proven coach in Jim Mora and surrounded himself with other knowledgable football people - not a bunch of "yes" men. Seventeen seasons in the last 18 of mediocrity is quite enough, thank you. Fire Steadman and Schaaf now, keep head coach Frank Gansz long enough to evaluate his abilities with some help from his superiors and get things back in order soon.

I can't take anymore Sundays like this past one. Wins over teams like Cincinnati just get me too excited, and the eternal optimist in me always wants to see that light at the end of the tunnel.

In reality, it's games like the one Sunday that see that light go out because it's games like the ones Sunday that keep Steadman and Schaaf holding on by their fingertips.

Step on their hands Lamar, please.

List of possible coaches up to 6

By Chris Hays Sports Editor

The list of possible candidates to fill the soon-to-be vacant K-State football coach's position got longer instead of shorter over the weekend.

Athletic Director Steve Miller met with the search committee Friday intending to narrow the list to three finalists. Instead, he came out with six names of coaches who are still in the picture, three of whom are apparently head coaches at NCAA Division I-A

Miller announced the names of the other three candidates on Friday because they had already been leaked to the media, but he would not confirm the names of the head coaches. The three he announced were Ron Dickerson, assistant coach at Penn State; Bill Thornton, offensive coordinator at Texas Christian; and John Fox, defensive coordinator at Pittsburgh.

One name that did surface Saturday after the Wildcats' 16-7 loss to Iowa State was that of Boston College head coach Jack Bicknell. The Topeka Capital-Journal reported Sunday that Miller would not confirm whether time.

By The Associated Press

Mike Tomczak and Matt Suhey each ran for first-half touchdowns as the Chicago Bears, with recuperating coach Mike Ditka looking on from the sidelines, charged to a 20-0 halftime lead en route to a 34-14 thrashing of the Washington Redskins on

"He doesn't have to stand up and coach - he has a tremendous presence," Bears safety Dave Duerson said of Ditka, who suffered a mild heart attack only 11 days earlier. Bears defensive coordinator Vince

Tobin handled the team, with only a few pieces of advice offered by

In other games, it was Kansas City 31, Cincinnati 28; Indianapolis 20,

Green Bay 13; New England 14, the

New York Jets 13; Philadelphia 27,

Pittsburgh 26; San Diego 10, Atlanta

7; Tampa Bay 23, Detroit 20; Los Angeles Raiders 9, San Francisco 3;

New Orleans 14, Los Angeles Rams

10; Phoenix 24, New York Giants;

Denver 30, Cleveland 7; Seattle 27,

Houston 24, and Minnesota 43, Dal-

Sunday.

Ditka.

Ditka's presence felt by players

Bicknell was a finalist, although he did make one comment: "He'd qualify, wouldn't he?"

Other than that, Miller said he could not comment on the unknown candidates. Two coaches, Northern Illinois' Jerry Pettibone and Hawaii's Bob Wagner, have reportedly had some contact with K-State, but no confirmations have been made.

Miller had hoped to announce the name of Stan Parrish's replacement by Nov. 21, but he said it probably will be Nov. 28. He said he definitely wants to name the new coach by Dec. 1.

As far as Bicknell's qualifications for the job, he has good numbers during his tenure at Boston College, posting a 50-34-1 record and guiding the Eagles to four bowl appearances.

Miller said that he couldn't meet his original deadline of Nov. 21 because some of the candidates have games Nov. 26 and Dec. 3. Hawaii and Pittsburgh are two of the teams that have games on Dec.

Miller flew to Chicago Sunday to begin interviewing the finalists. Chicago is apparently where Miller interviewed Pettibone the last las 3. Buffalo is at Miami Monday

Bears 34, Redskins 14

ing Super Bowl champions to 49 yards in the decisive first half.

Washington quarterback Doug Williams completed only six of 19 passes for 69 yards before leaving early in the third period. Replacement

Mark Rypien threw touchdown passes to Ricky Sanders and Gary Clark but had four passes intercepted by the

Patriots 14, Jets 13

turnovers and John Stephens scored the clinching touchdown with 6:48 remaining as New England, 6-5, won its first road game of the season in Trailing 3-0, the Patriots turned the game around on the first play of the second half. Larry McGrew picked off Ken O'Brien's pass and, on the next play, Doug Flutie passed

19 yards to Stanley Morgan for a

A big-play defense forced three

NFL's top-rated defense.

The Bears, 9-2, limited the defend-

No K-State runners qualify for NCAA meet

By Chris Hays Sports Editor

Saturday's NCAA District V cross country championships turned out to be somewhat of a disappointment for K-State coach John Capriotti and his Wildcat cross country squads.

K-State failed to qualify anyone for next week's NCAA championships, although the men's squad missed qualifying as a team by just two places, finishing fourth behind Nebraska, Iowa State and Colorado. The women, hampered by illnesses and injuries, finished sixth. Nebraska won the women's division.

"The men ran a much-improved race from the conference meet two weeks ago," Capriotti said. "Some still didn't run that good, but we had a couple of guys who ran really well. We had a much better team race than at the conference meet."

The men were led by freshman Ron Smith who finished 17th. Smith was followed by David Warders (22nd), Pat Hessini (23rd), David Keller (24th), Jan Jonsson (38th), Rob Hays (43rd) and Todd Eggers

"I was pleased with the men's race although I know that it was still not as good as they are capable of running," Capriotti said.

The women were not healthy going into the district meet. They lost Janet Treiber, their No. 3 runner, who suffered a stress fracture in her foot at the Big Eight meet. No. 2 Angie Barry was battling a cold, No. 5 Jennifer Hillier was just coming off tonsilitis and No. 1 runner Janet Haskin had not been training hard due to tendonitis in her knee. "The women didn't have a very good meet, but then again, we're not very healty," Capriotti said. "We went in with, really, a partial team this weekend."

Barry led the women's squad with a 15th-place finish and she was followed by Marge Eddy in 26th place. Haskin, who had not finished lower than third this season, finished 27th, while Becky Ives took 29th, Hillier was 37th, Tammy Van Laeys was 40th and Jenny Faunce was 42nd.

"Janet Haskin had a very poor race," Capriotti said. "She just hasn't felt good in any of the workouts and we haven't been able to work her that hard. Overall, the women were pretty subpar."

The district meet marks the end of the season for the K-State harriers, and Capriotti can probably hardly wait until next year. He will not lose any of his top five scorers off either the men's or women's squads.

"I expect to be much better next season," Capriotti said.

sity of Oklahoma. After a win against the University of Missouri Friday

K-State volleyball team members Tami Tibbetts (10) and Valerie Kastens celebrate a point during Saturday's game against the Univer-

Sports Briefly

five starts.

Kruger signs 6-5 swingman

J.R. Rider, a 6-5, 200-pound swingman from Encinal High School in Oakland, Calif., has signed a national letter of intent to attend K-State, according to Coach Lon Kruger.

Rider is the first player signed by K-State in the early signing period, which began last Wednesday and runs one week. "J.R. is an outstanding prospect," Kruger said. "He's very athletic and shoots the ball with good range. We feel that he'll be a quality big guard in our program." As a junior, Rider averaged 21 points and 11 rebounds per game. He was a first-team All-East Bay selection by the Oakland Tribune.

Fiesta to get No. 1 matchup

Miami will stay home for the holidays. But Notre Dame and West Virginia are heading for a Fiesta in Arizona. Although bowl bids don't officially go out until Saturday, many of the nation's top college football teams are already making travel plans. Fourth-ranked West Virginia locked up a Fiesta Bowl date against No. 1 Notre Dame with a 35-25 victory over Rutgers, leaving No. 3 Miami the opponent for the Oklahoma-Nebraska winner in the Orange Bowl.

Volleyball squad loses in 4 to OU

By Russ Ewy Sports Writer

The K-State volleyball squad's hopes for a berth in the Big Eight Conference post-season tournament took a turn for the worse Saturday as the Wildcats fell to the Oklahoma Sooners in four games after a dramatic win over the Missouri Tigers in four games the night before.

Missouri was stunned three games in a row by the hard-hitting 'Cats, 4-15, 15-8, 15-13, 19-17. The Tigers, 13-17 overall and 3-7 in the conference, came out strong in all four games before being overcome by strong hitting and blocking.

"In the third and fourth games, Missouri had built leads on some hitting that went through our block mostly due to their physical play at the net," coach Scott Nelson said. "Then, when we picked that up and got a couple of blocks, our rhythm and tempo were going real strong."

As the score shows, the fourth game was the most spirited. The 'Cats were down 12-5 before staging an incredible comeback before an energetic crowd.

"The fourth game was just desire and effort," Nelson said. "We were really tired, yet we focused, passed and hit the ball."

"When the crowd gets excited like they did, it really feeds us," senior outside hitter Shawnee Call said. "Even when we made some mistakes, it seemed that the crowd was with us at the end. They wanted to see us win and that really helped out."

Just as K-State rose to the occasion, Missouri did not just roll over and die. Nelson said the level of performance of the Tigers was much improved since their win over the Cats in Columbia.

"One thing that I feel Missouri did that was really outstanding is that they took a lot of our best attacks and dug them with control right to their setter's position in their offense," Nelson said.

"Yvette Buhlig had some great digs. I mean she took some tough hits and dug them right to the net. That put a little bit of pressure on us."

Nelson also had high praise for senior backcourt specialist Mary evening, the team fell to the Sooners three games to one Saturday.

Staff/Greg Vogel

Leslie Kull (4) and Valerie Kastens attempt to block a ball during action Saturday in Ahearn Field House.

Mignano, who tallied three aces and 14 assists.

K-State could not, however, pull off a weekend sweep of their Big Eight foes. The 13th-ranked Sooners 15-5, 6-15, 15-6. K-State came out ference tournament.

strong in the first two games and led 5-0 before allowing 15 unanswered points in the second game.

K-State must win at least one of their next two matches to have a beat the 'Cats in four games, 15-11, chance of going to Salina for the con-

Speaker's activities denounced in satire

Golden Key Society

Kansas State Orchestra

CONCERT

Adrian Bryttan, conductor

Thursday, November 17 at 8 p.m.

By Brian Hummell Staff Writer

Students for Educational Awareness led a protest of Vernon Walters, 81st speaker in the Landon Lectures on Public Issues, attracting a crowd of about 100 before Walters' speech Friday.

Walters is the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

In a sketch produced by SEA titled "The Last-Ditch Redemption of Vern," the character Vern was called "stupid," "rotten" and "an idiot." The stated purpose of the production was "to leave (Vern) relatively in pieces."

Walters was portrayed attempting to enter heaven, but first he had to confront "the faceless masses."

The faceless masses were vic-

Works by

Grieg and Creston.

Rossini,

tims of Vern's activities "in overthrowing democratic governments." Vern threw an orphaned child on the ground and stepped on him as a way of apologizing for killing the child's parents.

He was given a last chance at redemption by speaking in Kansas. However, Vern had never heard of truth, justice or compassion, and so he was not redeemed.

Before and during the play, protesters distributed literature on Walters' background and lined the north entrance of McCain Auditorium with posters denouncing Walters.

After the play, five of the 25 protesters remained outside while the other protesters and observers went inside McCain.

Mannequins take the heat in tests

By Chris Koger Collegian Reporter

Fred's job is unlike any other research position at K-State. On any given day, he might be stuffed in a sleeping bag and subjected to freezing temperatures or placed in protective clothing while his surroundings are heated to desert temperatures.

Fred is one of two mannequins used to test environmental conditions at the Institute for Environmental Research in Seaton Hall.

IER was established in 1963 when the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air Conditioning Engineers gave the campus an environmental chamber which produced temperature extremes.

The chamber was initially used to establish a data base for indoor thermal comfort requirements. IER now has six of these chambers, and large companies across the nation come to campus for help in environmental studies.

Byron Jones, IER director, said almost half the research is for commercial companies which rely on these tests for product improvement.

"Many corporations don't want to be in the research business themselves, but they need information on how their product holds up in certain environments," Jones said. "That's why they come to us.

"We've done tests for most of the large sleeping-bag manufacturers. We put the products through temperature extremes, and, with the data we collect, the companies can design bags that can take the temperatures they designed the bags for."

Jones said it is up to the manufacturers whether to change the designs according to IER's data.

"We can't look at a product and say that our findings made a direct change in the design, but part of what we do is help make better products," he said.

IER operates with a limited staff and relies on faculty from other departments and on graduate students, Jones said. Some tests also rely on student volunteers.

There are certain requirements for the subjects, Jones said. The names of the people who participate in the tests are also kept confidential.

"Since a lot of tests concern research for companies, we are asked to keep our findings confidential," he said. "The companies pay us and the information is theirs, so we ask our subjects to not tell everyone what the test conditions were.'

Test subjects get at least minimum wage plus a bonus if the subject participates in all the experiments.

"Most of our tests require the subject to just sit in a certain environment and do homework or read, but other tests are more stressful," Jones said. "We have some problems with people showing up again after the more stressful ones.

"One time we tested the work-rest cycles for industry workers and had subjects walk up and down steps in high temperatures. By the end of the test, a lot of the subjects were almost sick and ready to pass out.

"Needless to say, they were glad when it was over."

IER is helping the Army Corps of Engineers research air conditioning and heating systems for buildings at Fort Riley.

DIRECTION IN ECONOMICS

Don Wissman, President of Development Planning & Research Associates, Inc.

·Nancy Twiss, Pre-Law Advisor

•Vic Tremblay, Professor of Economics, KSU - will provide insight to applications of degrees in Economics.

MONDAY, NOV. 14 UNION 207 7 p.m. KSU ECONOMICS CLUB

R.O.Y.A.L

Held over by popular demand! Photographer will be here until Nov. 18 to take Royal Purple portraits. 8:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. and 1:30-5:30 p.m. Union 209. Call now for your appointment. 539-5229

Take your fee card or student ID for your portrait sitting.

P•U•R•P•L•E

Admission Free Stock up on the nation's most popular, quality casual shoes

ALL KEDS 25% OFF-YES! 25% OFF

Buy now while we have your size-don't miss out-Keds are seldom on sale

Standing Room Only

McCain Auditorium

1222 Moro, Aggieville-Manhattan, KS 776-5331

Sale includes all styles and colors of Canvas and Leather "True Blue" Keds

A104 Physical Education

My first time tutoring was a night to remember. My student was something called Bone Crusher Reed, a.k.a. Billy Jo, defensive tackle for the football team.

I had the shock of my life when he answered his dorm room door. He was about six foot seven...in diameter. And when he shook my hand, I thought I'd never get it back.

So there I was, face-to-knee with the big man on campus, wondering how I was going to relate American Literature to The Hulk.

But then he pulled out a can of Orange Cappuccino. I was shocked! Could it be that this tough jock liked its delicate taste? And when Bone Crusher brought out the bone china, I was beyond belief.

Reading the expression on my face, he said, "What can I say? I like it. The Café Français is pretty good, too." Well, who's going to argue, I thought. As we sipped our Orange Cappuccino, I discovered that Billy Jo loves reading novels; his only problem was poetry. So I gave him tips on reading Emily Dickinson, and he gave me a copy of Ann Beattie's "Falling in Place."

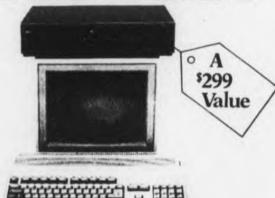

All I could think was, Dad's never going to believe this!

General Foods International Coffees. Share the feeling.

Free VCR

When You Buy A Commodore Amiga 500 Fast Forward System For Only

Fast Forward System Includes:

 An Amiga 500 computer A Commodore 1084S color monitor

A software package worth $450, including programs for word processing, financial management, graphics, home video titling, and entertainment.

Come in or call for complete details because quantities are limited. Also, ask about our Amiga Music Starter Package.

C=Commodore Only Amiga Makes It Possible.

MIDWEST COMPUTERS 3035 Anderson-Village Plaza 537-4460

Y ONE & GET ONE F Specify Original "Golden Braided" or new "Thin Style" Crust

Fast, Friendly & Free!

12th & Moro Aggieville, USA

1987 Pyramid Pizza, Inc.

Council prepares for holiday events

By Amy Bullock Collegian Reporter

The Christmas spirit is about to converge on K-State students as different committees of the Union Program Council prepare for several holiday highlights.

The Special Events Committee will sponsor its annual Santa suit rental from Nov. 28 to Dec. 23, said Mike Ribble, president of UPC.

"Last year we had a real good response to this. People like to rent the suits out for parties," he

The Santa suit rental rate is $10 for 24 hours.

The Special Events Committee will also be having celebrity Santas on hand from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Dec. 5-8 in the Union Courtyard. The purpose of this event will be to allow people to take pictures with their favorite celebrity Santa. Willie the Wildcat will be one of the Santas, Ribble said.

For the first time this year, Santa will be traveling to Jardine Terrace Apartments to visit residents. "We are trying to include the non-traditional students in our activities this year," Ribble said.

For those people interested in getting a head start on purchasing Christmas gifts, the Arts Committee will be hosting its annual arts and crafts sale Dec. 1 and 2 in the Union Ballroom. The arts and crafts featured will range from traditional handmade Christmas ornaments to wheat weavings, pottery and stained glass wall hangings, said Arlene Barnes, UPC secretary.

"The crafts are made by students, people in the community, and various people in local towns. A variety of gifts are available, not just Christmas things," she

The Country Club Plaza and Oak Park Mall will be the shopping sites for K-State students who choose to head to Kansas City with the Travel Committee on Saturday, Dec. 3. The price of $11 will cover transportation to and from Kansas City.

Police battle murderous gangs

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES - Drug-dealing gang members are murdering in record numbers despite police sweeps and the mayor's pledge to "take these terrorists off the streets."

But authorities insist the battle is being won in target areas such as south-central Los Angeles and say those successes are not reflected in the numbers.

Police Department figures show gang-related homicides rose threefold in October compared with the same month last year, from 11 to 33. For the year through Oct. 31, they were up nearly 25 percent, from 166 in 1987 to 207.

This year's total already surpasses the record 205 gang killings for all of

In Los Angeles County areas where the sheriff enforces the law, 79 gang-related murders were recorded

OUALITY NATURAL

FOODS

Domestic & Import Cheeses

People's Grocery

Cooperative

539-4811

811 Colorado

for all of 1987. Meanwhile, crack-dealing Crips and Bloods, the deadliest gangs in the nation's second-largest city, continue to surface in towns and cities across the western United States.

"We aren't losing the war, we just aren't winning in the data," department spokesman Cmdr. William Booth said Friday. However, Booth conceded, "The data does tell us we are a long way from winning the In April, Mayor Tom Bradley, a former police lieutenant, vowed during the first 1,000-officer gang task force sweep: "We are going to take these terrorists off the streets of Los Angeles."

More than 21,000 people, 12,000 of them gang members, have been arrested by the department's gang task force since February, most of them during the highly publicized

Remember

18 oz. Fishbowls

sweeps, including one Saturday by late October, matching the total night that netted more than 175 people. Police said they do not know how many arrests resulted in convictions.

Next year's mayoral race between Bradley and his expected challenger, Councilman Zev Yaroslavsky, will certainly put the focus on gangs

"Crime is the No. 1 issue on everyone's mind,' Yaroslavsky said Friday. "The gangs in the city have become the purveyor of drugs to the nation.'

U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, FBI and Customs agents recently joined the Police Department and Sheriff's Department in the gang battle. "The Los Angeles drug problem is not just a local problem. Federal intervention is absolutely essential," Yaroslavsky said.

In late October, gang violence took an especially heavy toll. A Cal State-Long Beach football star had a kidney removed after using his body to shield a child from a bullet at a Halloween party, and 10 people were wounded outside a Watts birthday party the same weekend, including a 15-month-old child who later died.

In south-central Los Angeles, where the gangs are worst and task force sweeps most frequent, homicide is down 17 percent, robbery down 4 percent and rape down 5 percent in October compared with a year

Gangs, however, are simply moving into other areas of the city to ply their drug trade, Booth conceded.

If you need abortion or birth control services, we can help.

Confidential pregnancy testing . Safe, affordable abortion services . Birth control . Tubal ligation . Gyn exams .

Testing and treatment for sexually transmitted diseases. Providing quality health care to women since 1974. Insurance, VISA &

MasterCard accepted.

omprehensive lealth for Women 4401 West 109th (1-435 & Roe)

Overland Park, Kansas For information and appointments (913) 345-1400 Toll Free (except KS) 1-800-227-1918

1112 Laramie Manhattan, Kansas 66502

Mon. thru Sat. 11-5:30

LARGE PIZZA ONLY 599

with one topping

dine in or free homendelivery with the boupon 15 oct. 31

Super Savings on:

posters prints framed artwork

accents & images, inc. =

(913) 537-9024 RELOCATION SALE

matboard pieces

"premium pizza at a cardboard pizza price"

523 South 17th

537-1484

Vistaburger (a $1.44 value)

with a minimum purchase of 8 gal. of gas at

720 N. Third Where else in Kansas can you get a Great deal like this? (checks with student ID accepted)

(or more)

DISPLAY ADVERTISING DEADLINE

> 4 p.m. 2 DAYS Before Run Date

Collegian Advertising

532-6560

AIM HICH Optometrist Pharmacist Physical Therapist

Physician Assistant The Air Force can make you an attractive offer — outstanding compensation plus opportunities for professional development. You can have a challenging practice and time to spend with your family while you serve your country. Find out what the Air Force offers. Call

CAPT LAMONT PACK 913-491-8640 COLLECT

Guess • 62 East • Used • Bugle Boy • Union Bay

on EVERYTHING

Now, for a limited time!!!

Only in the Manhattan Town Center • Vanity • Manhattan

Step Up n the World

Apply now for Spring 1989 Collegian Editor or Advertising Manager

Applications are available in Kedzie 103' and are due November 14 before 4 p.m.

Interviews will be November 21

Kansas State Collegian

Bush to pick cabinet positions

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Presidentelect George Bush is expected to appoint his budget director in a few days and will be considering his Cabinet choices this week, aides said Sunday.

Craig Fuller and Robert Teeter, co-directors of Bush's transition team, were interviewed on weekly television shows as Bush vacationed in Florida. The vice president returns to Washington of staff, was interviewed on "Meet the Press" on NBC and said announcement of Bush's choice to head the Office of Management and Budget should come in the next few days.

Fuller declined to confirm a Richard G. Darman, former deputy secretary of the treasury and a Bush for the job.

"There'll be three to five names for each of these key posts George Bush wants to look at," Fuller said.

Former Treasury Secretary James Baker, Bush's campaign manager and his choice to be Secretary of State, "will certainly have influence beyond foreign policy," Fuller said. But other cabinet officers also will influence foreign policy, he added, without identifying which ones.

Asked about a statement by Fuller, the vice president's chief Edward J. Rollins, a Republican political strategist close to the Bush camp, that Baker would "for all practical purposes ... be deputy president," Fuller said, "I don't think he would want that title placed on him so early."

Teeter, Bush's pollster, was report in the New York Times that asked on ABC's "This Week with David Brinkley" whether there was any talk about including a aide in the campaign, was in line Democrat in the Cabinet and replied, "At this point there is not very much talk about anything. We will come back tomorrow and begin to really address that. The vice president will be back Tuesday and that's what I think we'll be doing this week."

> Teeter was also asked about reports that he and Fuller, along with retiring New Hampshire Gov. John Sununu, might form a "troika" of top White House aides after Bush's inauguration on Jan. 20.

> "I haven't frankly thought a lot about that. I haven't talked to the vice president about it," he said.

> "I think he, over this weekend, is probably giving some serious thought to how he would like to structure his White House staff and how he thinks it can best serve

K-Staters among FFA members at convention in Kansas City

By Stephanie Morrill Collegian Reporter

K-Staters were among the more than 24,000 members of FFA at a national convention last week in Kansas City.

"The convention was really inspirational," said Christy Kelly, freshman in agricultural education. "To walk into Municiple Auditorium and hear 24,000 people screaming and yelling was incredible."

The convention began Wednesday with a business session which was important due to changes occurring this year, Kelly said.

A name change was recognized at the convention. The acronym "FFA" used to stand for Future Farmers of America. Now it doesn't stand for anything, Kelly said.

Another name change involved the name of the students' major -

> Vicki Atland Seleise Barrett Tara Berkgren Corine Berriel-Hamm Douglas Berryman

Pam Blackwell

Kathleen Blanck

Jill Marie Bush

Lauren Jolynne Camp Christine Chestnut Sharon Chitty

Steve Cook
Kimberly Cooper
Michelle Coupal
Sarah Cunningham

Tammy Eberhart Mary Carr Ecklund

Julie Lynn Garver Marsha Goodwin

Heather Gay Hart Russell W. Hart Deborah Kay Hedrick

Matthew J. Hirsch Lynnes Huffman

Angela Hull

Nancy Hein Leann Louise Hillbrant

Sheila Jean Huntington

Kirsten Ellen Johnson Carlene Kaiser Kaura Ann Krele

Christina Grauerholz Caroline Guilliams

Colleen Marie Orth Hampton Paula Shawn Harrelson

Mary Carr Ec Heidi Francis

Keily Buttron

vocational agriculture will be called agricultural education. This new title will require changing all of the organization's present symbols, such as the symbols on FFA jackets.

Awards were given throughout the week for accomplishments in such areas as computers and public speaking.

Jackie McClaskey, freshman in agriculture and vice president of the K-State chapter of FFA, placed fourth in public speaking.

FFA also announced that it raised a record amount of money this year - $3.3 million. This is $300,000 more than last year, Kelly said.

Thursday's session consisted of naming the American Royal Queen candidates. National bands and choruses performed for this occasion.

Comedian Jerry Clower and Miss America Gretchen Carlson provided entertainment for the organization.

M. James Medina Larslie Mitchell Katherine Montgor Karen S. Morris Kathleen Nelson

Catherine Noonas

Theresa Oberle

Jolene Ostmajer

Melissa Parisotto

Linda K. Pray Sarah K. Ramsey

Laura L. Riblett Amanda Robinson

Ann Hartnett Rose Carol Russell

Kindra Kaye Rust Corina Ann Ryland Tina M. Schaub

Tamera Deanne Sheldon

Renee Russell

Kirk Schuler

Sandra Skelton Theresa Songs Ann Beth Spears Karen J. Splichal

Cynthia Stasnopolis

Mari Stevenson Camille L. Strahm

Camille L. Stranm Shelli Lyn Swanson Judith M. VanLoenen Thomas P. Warders Joyce M. Watson Connie M. Wiles Pricilla Wilson Betty Wollenberg David A. Wright

Marian Peterson Sharon Kay Pettijohn

KAPPA DELTA PI

An Honor Society in Education

IOTA XI Chapter Kansas State University

Congratulations to our new members.

LAST CHANCE!

JANUARY SEMESTER BREAK

"Jerry Clower was really funny to watch," Kelly said.

New officers were elected. Dana Soukup, from Nebraska, was named president, and Jeff Johnson, from Florida, was elected secretary. Brad Chambliss, from Kentucky, was elected to represent the central region.

FREE CATALOG

of Government Books Send for your copy today!

Box 37000 Washington DC 20013-7000

Burgandy

& Cognac

$55.00

oleys spoes

1342 Westloop Place

New World String Quartet with David Shifrin, clarinet Tuesday, November 15,

a u d i t o r i u m

The first Quartet-in-Residence at Harvard University in its 350-year history, the New World has been hailed for its penetrating interpretations and perfect balance. Rounding out a program of Haydn and quartets is the Brahms C with David Shifrip

General Public: $12 . Senior Citizen: $10 . Student / Child: $8 Orchestra level seating only-

Charge tickets to MasterCard or VISA at 532-6428, or come to the box office noon to 5:00 p.m. weekdays.

This program is presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission. a state agency, and the National Endowment fate agency, and the Matter agency.

for the Arts, a federal agency.

Transportation for seniors available. through Kansas State Bank and the Manhattan Arts Council. For information, call Marie Dellen at 537-4400.

If Anyone Asks

"What Is Your Favorite Radio Station?"

KQLA Radio-Q-104 Manhattan-Ft. Riley-Junction City

YOUR ENTERTAINMENT ALTERNATIVE

DO YOU LIKE TO SHOP UNTIL YOU DROP?

Then join UPC Travel on their Kansas City Christmas Shopping Trip! We will be stopping at the fabulous Oak Park Mall for a few hours of "power shopping". Then, it's on to the famous Country Club Plaza where you can enjoy a wide variety of excellent eating establishments, a horse-drawn carriage ride around the Plaza or still more shopping! All the while, you will be able to enjoy the viewing of the Plaza Christmas lights and really get into that Christmas Spirit!!

Trip date: DECEMBER 3, 1988

Trip price: $11 (include round trip transportation) Info meeting:

Tuesday, November 15th at 7:00 p.m.

Union Room 207 Sign up Begins: Wednesday, Nov. 16 from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. in the Union Activities Center

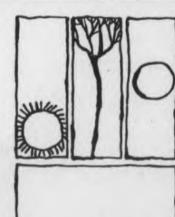

k-state union

November 19 & 20 The Aristocats (mat.)

30 & Dec. 1 Working Girls

December 10 & 11 Miracle on 34th Street (mat.)

(() k-state union

together for a short holiday in the countryside. During the next few days they meet the local village girls as well as two high-caste young ladies also on holiday. What follows is a series of drunken sprees, social embarrassments, and even a brief romance. On their return to Calcutta, each has a fuller appreciation of life and love. (In Bengaki with English subtitles) WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY, 7:30 p.m. Forum Hall & THURSDAY 3:30 p.m. Little Theatre $1.75 KSU ID Required

"DAYS AND NIGHTS IN THE FOREST"

(A film by Satajit Ray) "DAYS AND NIGHTS" deals with four friends from Calcutta who drive off

For more information on the location, times, and prices of Union movies please call the K-State Union's 24-hr. Movieline

TOLL FREE INFORMATION AND RESERVATIONS

· LODGING · LIFTS

Sunchase 7TH ANNUAL

CHARRIATE

Hurry - Call today!

Philippinos seek return Kedzie 103 of Marcos

By The Associated Press

MANILA, Philippines - About 5,000 demonstrators urged visiting U.S. congressmen on Sunday to ask President-elect George Bush to allow former President Ferdinand Marcos to return home.

But the leader of the six-member U.S. delegation, Sen. Bob Dole said he doubted Bush has paid any attention to the Marcos case since winning the presidential election. "I don't know if (Bush) has focused on that (Marcos' case) or not," Dole told reporters.

The pro-Marcos rally was held outside a swank seaside hotel where the U.S. congressmen were staying. Dole watched the protest from his room and later slipped out of the building to view the rally from the hotel's driveway.

Marcos and his wife were indicted by a federal grand jury in Manhattan, N.Y., on charges of embezzling more than $100 million during Marcos' 20-year-rule. Marcos has lived in Hawaii since fleeing the Philippines during a February 1986 uprising that propelled Corazon Aquino into the presidency.

Aquino has refused to allow Marcos to return, citing national security after a series of coup attempts. U.S. authorities have barred Marcos from leaving the island of Oahu without special permission.

CLASSIFIED RATES One day: 15 words or fewer, $2.50, 20 cents per word over 15; Two consecutive dates: 15 words or fewer, $3.50, 25 cents per word over 15; Three consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 cents per word over 15; Four consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.75, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $5.00, 40 cents per word over 15.

Classifieds are payable in advance unless client has an established account with Student Publications. Deadline is noon the day before publication; noon FRIDAY for Monday's paper.
Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the adver-tiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not after the value of the ad.

Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE

for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103 or by calling 532-6555.

Display Classified Rates
One day: $5.20 per inch; Three consecutive days: $5.00 per inch; Five consecutive days: $4.80 per inch; Ten consecutive days: $4.60 per inch. (Deadline is 4:30 p.m. two days before publication.)

Classified advertising is available only to those who do not disciminate on the basis of race, color, religion,

Announcements

national origin, sex or ancestry.

ALL YOUR Mary Kay needs -skincare -glamor -nails gifts for all seasons. Floris Taylor, 539-2070.

FOOD AND crafts for sale on Sunday, Nov. 20, noon 7p.m., 1021 Denison. Mennonite Fellowship,

GAY/LESBIAN? Write for Kansas/Missouri Information Personally, PO Box 218, Daly City, CA 94016.

FLYING INTEREST you? For information on K-State Flying Club call Sam Knipp, 539-6193. ISLAM, FAITH and reason by Dr. Jeffry Lang from University of Kansas. Union Big 8, Nov. 15 at 7p.m.,

MONDAY, GUN and Knife show, Nov. 19th, 9a.m. 5p.m., Nov. 20th, 9a.m. 4p.m. National Guard Armory at Manhattan airport. Buy, sell, trade. ion, 1-922-6979.

PERMS: $19.95 includes cut and style. Tan 10 sessions $18. Telephone 776-1330.

BY RICHARD

JEFF IS

TALKING TO HIMSELF.

WOE 15

JEFF

HE ONLY ENTERED THE

BAIT AND TAXIDERMY

INDUSTRY BECAUSE HE THOUGHT IT WOULD BE

THE COOLEST JOB

OHH ... POOP!

SALE!

IMMAGINABLE.

OF COURSE, HE WAS ONLY

TWELVE WHEN HIS BEST

FRIENDS JIMMY AND DON

TALKED HIM INTO

BECOMING A BAIT AND TAXIDERMY MAN ...

THEY TOLD ME

IT'D BE SO

COOL ...

THE VW doctor will keep your bug healthy and save you $$ at J&L Auto Service. 1-494-2388, seven minutes east. Repairs and salvage.

HE'S BUMMED OUT CUZ' HE JUST

STUDS IN BUGINESS" MAGAZINE.

READ AN ARTICLE IN "YOUNG

IT LISTED THE TOP 2,900 COOLEST

CAREERS FOR YOUNG STUDS... AND

"BAH SALES-TAXIDERMY" WASN'T ONE

THIS IS THE SAME

JIMMY AND DON WHOSE BUSINESS WAS LISTED

AS THE NUMBER ONE

MATERIALIST" MAGAZINE,

THE NEXT TIME

I'M IN TAHIT!

JUST SEE IF

I USE THEIR

ESCORT SERVICE.

COOLEST IN "YOUNG

BROADFOOT

DARN.

CINEMA for your movies. 537-1115 Village Plaza Shopping Center Something is coming Expressly

Don't Forget

HOME

SKI THE Best This Year, Ski Breckenridgelli Jan. 1st-7th or Jan 8th- 14th, prices include lodging, lifts, $205 land only, $249 roundtrip transportation. Deluxe condominiums with jacuzzi, kitchen and more, one block from ski liftil Contact: Cary Hassell 539-7647 or Dan Danitschek for you!!

SPRING BREAK '89 Reservations Available Now

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, TX trom $149" heraton/Holiday Inn/Gulf View STEAMBOAT, CO $93

hadow Run Overlook from $118 DAYTONA BEACH, FL. Texan Motel

MUSTANG ISLAND, TX 100 $136 Port Royal Condos

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, SC 100 $107' Hilton Head Beach Condos

Don't Wait Until It's Too Call Toll Free Today 1-800-321-5911

WANTED- 100 overweight people to try herbal weight control program. No drugs, no exercise. Do ded. 100% guaranteed. 776-5114.

2 Apartments—Furnished

APARTMENT FOR one person, one and one-half blocks east of City Park. 539-5778.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM apartment. Water, trash, two-thirds gas paid, Laundry facilities. Nice for graduate student or couple. $260. Available Dec. 15 or Jan. 1. 539-2482 after 4p.m.

Apartments-Unfurnished

NICE EFFICIENCY apartment available Dec. 1st. $185/ month, heating paid. Please call 539-0555 ext. 30.

After 5p.m. call 776-3415. 4 Automobiles for Sale

1975 KANNBACK Vega, excellent condition, very transportation, 86k, best offer, Call 539-2634 1983 RENAULT/ Fuego, V-4, two-door, 52,000 miles, sunroof, full power, air conditioning, AM/FM stereo, cassette. Excellent condition. $2,700, $200 rebate.

CAN YOU buy jeeps, cars, 4x4s seized in drug raids fo nder $100? Call for facts today. (602)837-3401 ext

MUST SELL: Dodge Ormi 1979 and Toyota Corolla 1978. Best offer, Call 537-1583 or stop by 1200 Bluemont #2.

By Berke Breathed

Bloom County

CASHIE

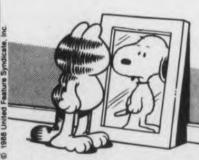

By Jim Davis

Garfield

Peanuts

8 Computers

ClassAds

COMPLETE PEACHTREE software still in box $199, asking $125. Call 537-4146.

ENLITH.

PERSONAL COMPUTERS Authorized Warranty Service

also servicing · PC compatibles & printers

MIDWEST SERVICES

Manhattan 913-776-6650

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such "employment opportunity" with reasonable caution.

ATTENTION- HIRINGI Government jobs- your area able part-time secretary- bookkeeper needed 20-25 hours per week. Typing 60 words per minute with word processing experience required. Send resume to: P.O. Box 1087, Manhattan, KS 66502.

summer to become a Marine Corps Officer after graduation. Aviation available. Call collect (913)841-1821

GRAIN STORAGE Biologist, Research Associate, fulltime, temporary, continuing annual appointment based upon availability of funds. Department of Grain Science and Industry, Food and Feed Grains Institute. Opportunity for temporary duty assignments in developing countries. Would function as a grain storage plant pathologist/ microbiologist indendently and as a team member of multi-discipline staff groups. Involves conducting applied rese training and advising foreign nationals of USAID cooperating countries in planning and developing viable grain storage management programs for reducing food losses. Required: PhD in Plant Pathology, or Microbiology with specialization in postharvest grain technology. Desirable: Academic teaching and research experience with emphasis on mycological problems. Knowledge of French and/ or Spanish. Professional experience in developing countries. Salary: Commensurate with total academic training and experience. Send resume, academic records, and names of three referrals to be contacted to: Dr. Charles W. Deyoe, Director Food and Feed Grains Institute, Kansas State University, Shellenberger Hall, Manhattan, KS 66506. Deadline for applications is Nov. 30, 1988. Kansas State University is an Equal Opportunity.

LOCAL FINANCIAL Institution seeking part-time new accounts representative, 9a.m.- noon, three Satur days a month. Must be personable and enjoy working with the public prior banking experience preferred. If interested, call Sue Carlson, 537-0200

MICROCOMPUTER PROGRAMMER for anticipated position. Must have experience on the MacIntosh HyperCard. Contact Kansas Careers, 304 Fairchild Hall for application. Applications close Nov. 18. 1988. KSU is an Equal Opportunity Affirmative Action Employer.

tory performance and availability of funds. Duties will involve instruction in short courses and other training programs offered through the International Grains Program in the milling and grain processing industries. Will also include some teaching and research responsibilities in the grain science prog ram. Activities may include foreign travel to provide training and consultation to foreign grain process-ing and milling industries. Such consultation would include flour milling, grain processing, grain hand-ling, grain quality and discussion of the milling and end-use properties of U.S. wheat. Research activi-ties would be associated with the milling qualities of U.S. wheats and their utilization. Required: Industry experience in wheat and grain processing with background in milling production and or manage-ment. A PhD degree in or related to grain processing required or a willingness to pursue a PhD in an area in or closely related to grain processing. Salary: Commensurate with training and expe ence. Send: Resume, transcripts of academic work, and at least three letters of recommendation to: Director, International Grains Program, Kansas State University, Shellenberger Hall, Manhattan, KS 66506. Kansas State University is an Equal Opportunity Affirmative Action Employer.

NANNY OPPORTUNITIES *Chicago- toddler- $300/ week" 'Dallas- two children- $185/ week" 'San Francisco- two boys- $150/ week" 'New York-newborn- $250/ week" 'Philadelphia and Europe-$200/ week". One-year commitment. Many positions available. Call 1-800-937-NANI.

COMMODORE 128, color monitor complete with Seikosha printer and some software $675, negotiable.

Televisions & VCRs

FOR SALE: Line printer ribbons- Black multistrike no. QM MS (4½ dozen), $1.25 each. Black nylon no. QM NY (15), $2.25 each. Call 532-6555 or come by

9 Employment

$17,840-$69,485. Call (602)838-8885 ext. J-1797. CONSCIENTIOUS, THOROUGH, accurate, depend-

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, Juniors: Train in the Affirmative Action Employe

JANITOR EVENINGS, 15- 20 hours per week. $3.75, contact Larry Algott at Manhattan Medical Center 1133 College Ave.

MILLING TECHNICIAN, Instructor, temporary, with continuing annual appointments based on satisfactors or conference and availability of funds. Duties

NANNY/ MOTHER'S help: Responsible person to help care for two boys five, three and one infant girl. Own room, T.V., references required, non-smoker pre-ferred. Coastal town, 35 minutes to New York City. Call collect (914)834-6476.

OVERSEAS JOBS. $900- $2,000 month. Summer year-round, all countries, all fields, free information. Write IJC, P.O. Box 52-KS02, Corona Del Mar, CA

PAY DAYI Beginning salary $3.60/ hour. All shifts for waiter and waitresses; Hotline server and porter Monday, Wednesday, Friday 10:20a.m.- 2p.m. Apply now at K-State Union Food Service for remaining fall positions. Apply early for spring semester when you have your spring schedule. We offer student pay plan, job variety, and centrally located work place. We require that you must be honest, reliable and display a sense of urgency, must be clean, neat and wear appropriate attire.

Food Handler's Card a must. IF YOU would like a full- or part-time job earning $$$ and free needlecrafts. Call Shelley at 537-3846. PEACE CORPS Campus Recruiter. Graduate assistantship available. Part-time (20 hours). Returned Peace Corps volunteer preferred. Contact Dr. Jorns, Waters 108. 532-5714. RESORT HOTELS, Cruiselines, airlines and amuse ment parks, Now accepting applications for sum-mer jobs, internships and career positions. For more information and an application write: National Collegiate Recreation Service, P.O. Box 8074, Hilton Head, SC 29938.

SKI COLORADOI $25/ night for two. Ten cozy log cabins/ kitchens, some fireplaces. Gameroom/ fireplace, HBO, pool table, sauna. Fish, cross-country ski. Ski Winter Park, Silver Creek. Mountain Lakes Lodge. Brochure/ reservations -Grand Lake. CO 1-303-627-8448. Call today!

STUDENT SECRETARY/ receptionist: Telephone and typing skills required, computer experience in WordPerfect, Lotus and/ or dBase desirable. Appli-cations are available at the Recreational Services Administrative Office from 8a.m.- 5p.m. Application deadline is Thursday, Nov. 17 at 5p.m.

STUDENTS NEEDED for general labor- moving, hauling, roofing, construction, etc. Four-hour blocks in morning, $4 per hour. Apply in person at Dykstra Hall personnel office. For questions oall Rebecca or Roberta, 532-6373.

SUMMER JOBS outdoors. Over 5,000 openings. Na tional parks, forests, fire crews. Send stamp for free details. 113 E. Wyoming, Kalispell, MT 59901.

TRAVEL FIELD Opportunity. Gain valuable marketing experience while earning money and free trips.
Campus representative needed immediately for Spring Break trips to Florida and South Padre Island. Call Echo Tours at 1-800-999-4300.

TUTORS FOR University tutoring program. Majors in math, science, business encouraged to apply. KSU students, 3.0 GPA, flexible hours, $4/ hour. Apply Educational Supportive Services, 134 Derby Fo er, 532-5642. Applications due Nov. 22. KSU is AA/EE Employer.

12 Houses/Mobile Homes for Rent

TWO-BEDROOM, main floor duplex, eat-in kitchen, hardwood floors, off-street parking, walk to KSU. Available Jan. 1, $345. 776-6063.

13 Houses/Mobile Homes for Sale

1972 12x60, furnished/ unfurnished, new paint, central air, washer, dryer, waterbed, reasonable, 537-0734.

1977 WINSOR. 14x75, two-car garage, insulated shop, redwood deck. All on three-quarters acre. Must see to appreciate. 1-494-8484.

14 Lost and Found

FOUND: LIGHTWEIGHT lacket in Cardwell, Come to

FOUND ON north side of campus, female orange Tabby cat with worn yellow collar. Please claim at 532-2362, ext. 435.

15 Miscellaneous Merchandise

30% OFF Salel On all comic books! Manhattan Coins, 1130 Laramie. 539-1184.

DESK, SWIVEL desk chairs, beds, chest, couch coffee tables, end tables, misc. antique furniture. 776-9705.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUSII New G.I. overshoes, com bat boots and safety-toe boots, wool (blankets, gloves, socks and mittens). Field jackets, overcoats, camoullage clothing. Also Carhart work-wear. Monday- Saturday 9a.m. 5p.m. Open Sun-days till Christmas noon- 4p.m. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734.

ROUNDTRIP TICKET to Chicago over Thanksgiving break available. Call 537-4714 for informati

16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale

1977 HONDA moped. Need some repairs, $75 or best offer. Call 537-4146.

BICYCLE SALE, lay away for Christmas. Aggie Bike Station, Aggieville. (behind Hardee's).

FOR SALE: 21-inch red Raleigh mountain bike, brand new, Suntour shifting and braking. $350 or best offer. Weekdays call 539-5453, weekends 1-461-5549.

17 Musical Instruments

ELECTRIC GUITAR: Bently series 10 and Washburn 30-watt guitar amplifier. Excellent condition. $250.

IBANEZ DESTROYER Bass- $330, Roland TR505 Drum Machine- $250; Lotus Guitar- $140; Spectra 125A Amp- $250; all negotiable. Chris 539-1089.

Hayes House of Music

Guitar Strings & Drumsticks Buy I Set, Get a 2nd Set 1/2 Price

776-7983 327 Povntz

18 Personals

KJF- THE fun fact for the day: "Never ever leave your undies exposed." -The Hagersnee twins. SANDY: HAPPY Belated 22nd Birthday. Love, Brian.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

JENNI COMBS!!! Take a long drag on your belt and Date a lambchop . . . not a Delt The new "fat face" needn't shink You're still not old enough to drink Careful spraying in your hair And remember . . . THEY'RE not square! No hugs, just hits and don't forget the honey

40 Love, Charlene and Pat

19 Pets and Pet Supplies

ADORABLE COCKER Spaniel puppy male, buff/ white, AKC registered with shots. $75. 539-0373.

20 Professional Services

PREGNANT? BIRTHRIGHT can help. Free pregnancy test. Confidential. Call 537-9180. 103 S. Fourth St., Suite 25.

PROMPT ABORTION and contraceptive services in Lawrence. (913)841-5716.

22 Resume/Typing Services

ABOUT ANYTHING typed, editing and transcription services, reasonable rates, by professional secret ary. 539-5998 after 5p.m.

RESUMES-LETTERS-PAPERS Professionally typeset; letter quality printer CLAFLIN BOOKS & COPIES

Corner Denison & Claflin 776-3771 COMPLETE DATA processing services, term papers.

theses and dissertating. Call 537-4146. rtations, resumes. Laser jet print FAST TURNAROUND for all your word processing needs, see us. Resumes, letters, papers, theses, dissentations. Quality work guaranteed. Ross Secretarial Service, across from Kite's, 614 N. 12th.

PROCRASTINATORS AND those on the ball, for expert typing give us a call. 537-3166, message.

23 Roommate Wanted

MALE ROOMMATE wanted to share two-bedroom apartment in complex. Close to campus and Aggieville. 537-2894.

NEED ONE non-smoking male roommate to share three-bedroom apartment. $150/ month plus utili-

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share two-bedroom furnished apartment. $152.99 plus one-half utilities NON-SMOKING FEMALE wanted to share spacious house starting Jan. 1. Own bedroom, rent $117 plus one-third electricity, cable and phone. 539-5714.

ONE/ TWO females. Block from campus, behind Ville,

two bedrooms, one and one-half baths, partially furnished. Call 537-1268. Move in A.S.A.P. RESPONSIBLE FEMALE roommate wanted: To share two-bedroom apartment, water, trash paid. Washer/ dryer in the apartment, fireplace, one and one-half bath, for more information, call 776-6349 after 4p.m.

ROOMMATE WANTED, female non-smoker to take over lease. Will share house with two roommates, $133 a month plus utilities. For information call 776-9319 after 5p.m. TWO ROOMMATES wanted one block from campus

Washer, dryer. $125/ month, one-fourth utilit own rooms. 539-7709. VERY NICE apartment only two blocks from KSU, own room, cable TV, phone. Available now or spring. Call 537-7390 or 776-8045.

24 Situation Wanted

FAMILY WANTS college girl to live in for next semester, summer and fall. Board and room in exchange for duties. Write Box 1, c/o Collegian, Kedzie Hall, KSU, Manhattan, KS 66506.

SUBLEASE AVAILABLE for female. $175/ month plus one-half bills. Water, trash paid. Call 537-7380 after

28 Adoption

A CHILDLESS loving couple wishes to adopt white newborn. We will provide a warm wonderful and loving home. We are committed to being the best ints possible. Legal and confidential. Please call collect, Kelly and Ramiro, (201)376-0894. ADOPTION. A young happily married doctor and wife with much love and security wish to adopt a white baby to age two, all expenses paid, totally legal Please call Jamie collect at (714)680-4468. Thank

LOVE-FILLED HOME needs the joy of a new baby to complete our very happy marriage. If you plan to place your baby for adoption, please consider us. Expenses paid, confidential, legal. Call collect, Claire, (303)422-1297.

By Eugene Sheffer

Crossword

Lucky 5 Sesame

41 Freedman Douce' 12 First-this type 49 Spotted 14 Black. beetles to Henri 51 Lotto's 15 The same cousin 16 Gambler's 52 Cartoon-

Silas and family magis-56 Ninny trate

23 Help 24 Former First Lady 28 Pre highschool reunion

32 Instrument for E. Power Biggs 34 Saratoga

Springs

57 Put an end to DOWN 1 Navigate 2 Comof Miss. motion

> 5 Brooke Shields, for one? 6 Mrs. Cantor 7 He was "Shane"

3 Once

4 Cure

again

8 Set into ist's lightbulb? a surface 9 Somewhat globular 10 "Eek!" confidence 54 Within:

comb. form 55 Young boys 11 Clumsy boats

MATTE

17 Affirmative 19 "Rio - " (movie) 22 Potential > energy 24 "A Shropshire -25 Actress Alicia 26 Required

cultists 29 Slender finial of dance

27 Art

kin

11-14

50 "Fill 'er up" stuff

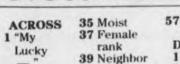

47 CRYPTOQUIP

HWXHWLR JH LYYT SROWXHR AR EWTR SYBA ROTH ERWB

Today's Cryptoquip clue: S equals B

CHIC FIANCEE, A SEER: "SHE'S A FORTUNE HUNTER."

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: DAD SNEERS AT SON'S

in Kentish law 42 History 45 Like 13 Political 18 Poet Amy 53 Betray a 20 Patriot 21 Venetian sweetheart?

regimen? 31 French donkey

SAFE Yesterday's answer 11-14

30 One type 33 Boris's negative 36 Desert basins provokers 38 Fence posts 40 Priestly vestment 42 Got off

Solution time: 24 mins.

the plane 43 Spanish negative 44 Chapter of the Koran 46 Spring season - the Woods" (musical) 48 Condo's

PLO

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 the occupied territories as "a just settlement of the refugee problem."

The Algiers conference was called to deal with the new developments in the Middle East and especially to take advantage of increased attention and sympathy for the Palestinian cause sparked by the uprising in the Israeli-occupied territories.

More than 310 Palestinians and 11 Israelis have been killed in the 11-month uprising.

Besides a declaration of Palestinian independence and approval of a political program that includes acceptance of Resolution 242, the conference was expected to establish a provisional government.

Abdul-Rahman said there was a draft resolution on a provisional government.

Holthus

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 "That was the most crushing, devastating loss, but on the other end of the spectrum, 48 hours earlier K-State beat Purdue."

Football has produced some heartbreaking times, among which Holthus lists the 1988 loss to Louisiana Tech and K-State's loss to The Wichita State University in 1985. With wins few and far between, it can be difficult to remain positive.

"It's tough, because mentally it puts everyone in a tougher frame of mind," he said. "Yet, I really have to concentrate and keep with positive

"But I look at it this way: There are only 104 Division I schools in the nation, so I am only one of 104 people who are lucky enough to do this."

Holthus has also been able to rejoice with those who are rejoicing. A list of those moments also comes readily to mind for Holthus, and KU plays an important part in the good

"I remember in 1984 when (football coach) Dickey beat KU. After the game, I saw Dickey in the locker room, and the emotions were so high that he gave me a big hug. It is a very vivid memory for me," Holthus said.

Another moment Holthus points out was the K-State victory over KU in the 1986 football season. It is the last time the Wildcats won under coach Stan Parrish.

"We did the TV show right after the game, and I remember standing down on the field with Stan, and the governor's trophy was right between us," Holthus said.

There is more to Holthus' job than a three-hour broadcast on Saturdays. On Monday nights he conducts a call-in talk show, on Wednesdays he films the TV show "Football with Stan Parrish," and on Fridays he tapes a pre-game show. He also must do his homework on K-State's

"At one time, I desired to be an attorney, and they told us to go beyond the obvious. I want to do that on the broadcasts," Holthus said. "I want to go beyond the sports page, and tell the listeners a little extra tidbit they didn't already know. Sports fans appreciate this."

In addition to the research and the three shows through the week, Holthus does other work for WIBW.

"I do three jobs," Holthus said. "I do the play by play, I sell the network to the people, and I raise money from our sponsors. In order to have a successful program, you have to recruit sponsors.'

Have story or photo ideas? CALL 532-6556

Memorial

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 light and flagpole, will be completed in the spring, Barnes said.

Bill Arck, adviser to the committee, said the dedication of the memorial is scheduled for April 29 to mark the official end of the Vietnam War, which was April 30, 1975.

One wall of the memorial will bear the names of the 38 K-State students nations."

who were killed in the Vietnam War or are listed as missing in action. The other wall will bear the following words, said by Abraham Lincoln:

"Let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne that battle, and for his widow, and his orphan - to do all which may achieve and cherish a just, and a lasting, peace among ourselves and with all

at Collegian Advertising

We're moving ahead of the competition.

MAKE A WISH COME TRUE

> Cakes & Logs for Holidays and all occasions.

Dairu Dueen brazier.

776-4117

1015 N. Third Manhattan

NOMINATIONS for COLLEGE of EDUCATION OUTSTANDING UNDERGRADUATE TEACHING AWARD are due by November 21.

Nomination Forms available in Bluemont 006.

FREE RENT

(one month with approved 12 month lease)

Free Campus Shuttle

Stackable washers & dryers available 2 outdoor pools and spa

(913)539-2951 1408 Cambridge Pl.

SALEH FAWWAZ, member of the Palestinian Aid Society, speaks on the role of students in Palestinian uprisings, Nov. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the International Student Center. Sponsored by - Arab Student Assoc. and I.L.L.

SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS WHO NEED

Every Student is Eligible for Some Type of Financial Aid Regardless of Grades or Parental Income.

- We have a data bank of over 200,000 listings of scholarships, fellowships, grants, and loans, representing over $10 billion in private sector funding.

 Many scholarships are given to students based on their academic
- interests, career plans, family heritage and place of residence.

 There's money available for students who have been newspaper carriers, grocery clerks, cheerleaders, non-smokers . . . etc Results GUARANTEED.

For A Free Brochure (800) 346-640

Falsello. PIZZA

539-3830

DON'T FORGET! OUR PIZZAS ARE BUY 1 GET 1

FREE

every day (Not just Mondays)

We guarantee 30-minute delivery to your dorm, fraternity or sorority or with this coupon Expires Nov. 14, 1988 Buy one large one topping pizza for only delivered (Not valid with any other offer)

BEST LESS!

1127 MORO IN AGGIEVILLE

Open 'til 2 a.m. Nightly

15th ANNUAL

Cafe Expresso Charlie's Neighborhood Bar Shawnee Animal Clinic

Wamego Telephone Co. P.J.C. Anesthesia, Inc., Salina

Danner Funeral Home, Abilene Campbell Distributors, Inc.

Aggie Barber

Mecca

Center

McCall's Patterns

Neill-Schwensen Funeral Home Inc., Clay Center

Braden Financial Services, Clay Center

Fullingtons Lumber, Clay Center Bud's Tire Service, Inc., Clay Center

Vally Fertilizer, Clay Center Heilman Insurance Agency, Clay

High Tech Awards, Clay Center Bruna Implement Co., Marysville Dammermuth Implement Co.,

Marysville

Americna State Bank, McCook, Neb.

The Fraternity of Phi Gamma Delta would like to thank Budweiser and the following mini-supporters for the generous contributions to the Fiji Run for Leukemia.

Marsh Insurance, McCook, Neb. Malleck Oil Co., McCook, Neb. Seastrom Kennels, Abilene Paul Ryan Kennel, Abilene Bockers Food Service WalMart K-Mart Conde's Rangers Steakhouse, Salina Goetsch-Irvine Motor Co. EeGee's Falsetto's Pizza Hayne's Style Shop Ag Press Pizza Hut Show Biz Pizza A Cut Above

Scoreboard Scene

Gary Haffener and Steve Area manipulate the graphics on the scoreboards at KSU Stadium and Bramlage Coliseum. See Page 6.

Weather

Mostly cloudy today with an 80 percent chance for showers, high around 70. Turning colder tonight with an 80 percent chance for showers, low in the 30s.

66612 ATTITIKU CITTIEII, ITIE ONLY senior on the women's tennis team this season, has been voted team captain for two years in a row. See Page 7.

Tuesday

November 15, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 61

Kansas State Collegian

Arafat recognizes Israel

By The Associated Press

ALGIERS, Algeria - The PLO's parliament today proclaimed an independent Palestinian state with Jerusalem as its capital, and extended an olive branch by implicitly recognizing Israel.

PLO chairman Yasser Arafat read the declaration early today to a chamber filled with delegates to the 450-member Palestine National Council, Arab dignitaries and observers, who broke into long applause and loud cheers.

Wearing the traditional black-and-white checked headdress, Arafat read his speech in Arabic in a low, solemn voice.

His voice rising to a crescendo at 1:38 a.m. (7:38 p.m. EST Monday), he said:

"The Palestinian National Council hereby declares the establishment of a Palestinian state with Jerusalem as its capital, which will be for all Palestinians wherever they are."

The PLO leader declared the new Palestinian state would be government by "a democratic, parliamentary system based on freedom of opinion, multiple parties, freedom of worship and equality between men and women."

The declaration of the new state did not set out its boundaries, which the Palestinians say should be determined in future negotiations.

It had been expected that the Israelioccupied West Bank and Gaza Strip would be included in the homeland. Israel captured the West Bank from Jordan and the Gaza Strip from Egypt in the 1967 Middle East war.

Algerian Foreign Minister Boualem Bessaieh announced to the council that Algeria officially recognized the new state, becoming the first country to do so.

The declaration came shortly after the council had endorsed a new political strategy implicitly recognizing the state of Israel and renouncing terrorism.

In Washington on Monday, President Reagan said PLO recognition of Israel "would be some progress," but added: "There are other problems that remain to be solved."

Israel rejected results of the Algiers meeting in advance.

We will not negotiate with the PLO," said Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir. "It's not a problem of definition and formulations of various positions. We'll not negotiate with them because they're opposed to peace with

Arafat and other PLO leaders consider the ■ See PLO, Page 10

Silhouetted swimmer

Charles Armstead, junior in criminal justice, trains in the Natatorium during track practice. Armstead, a hurdler, is silhouetted by the late Monday afternoon sun.

Drug tests ordered for transportation workers

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The Transportation Department on Monday ordered a wide range of drug testing, including random checks, for more than 4 million transportation workers from airline pilots and flight attendants to truckers and railroaders.

Transportation Secretary Jim Burnley said the transportation industries are no more immune from drug abuse as other parts of society, listing a series of accidents and other indicators he said shows narcotics to be a problem among truck and bus drivers, commercial pilots and railroad workers.

"The American people demand and expect a drug-free transportation system. These new rules will take us as far as practically possible toward that goal," Burnley said at a news conference.

He acknowledged the tests, which take effect in a year, likely will be challenged in

The Supreme Court has before it two separate drug-testing cases, including one involving post-accident testing of railroad workers. that are expected to be decided next year.

After Burnley's announcement, the head of the 40,000-member Air Line Pilots Association vowed to go to Congress and to the federal courts to overturn the requirement for random testing. "Random testing is a counter-productive, shotgun strategy that is at the same time an unwarranted invasion of privacy and of no significant value in the battle against drug abuse," said ALPA President Henry Duffy. The series of federal regulations announced by Burnley call for transportation companies to have a comprehensive testing program in place by December 1989. Companies with 50 or fewer employees - including tens of thousands of over-the-road independent truckers — have a second year to

The Transportation Department estimated the testing will cost businesses more than ■ See DRUGS, Page 10

Americans encouraged to give up smoking

By The Collegian Staff

Fifty million Americans will be urged to "Take a Breather" this for the 12th annual Great American Smokeout.

by the American Cancer Society, is to have mental things in their lives," he said. "It's a one in five smokers give up cigarettes for 24

Joe Younger, coordinator of the employee ment of Housing, said there will also be infor-assistance program, said the University will mation available in the residence halls' have a table in the Union to distribute information about smoking and helpful hints for smokers to make it through the day.

"What we want to do is heighten people's The goal of the 1988 Smokeout, sponsored awareness about physical, emotional and preventive thing."

Kelli Nichols, staff assistant in the Depart-dining areas that day.

A program designed to aid the smoker during the Smokeout is called Adopt a Smoker. Adoption papers make the abstinence formal and will be available at the information table in the Union.

The adoption papers require non-smokers to sign, along with their adoptive smokers, and provide the smokers with encouragement, snacks and a shoulder to cry on.

The smokers are encouraged to hide their cigarettes, tell friends they are going to quit for the day and call on their adoptive "parents" in times of weakness.

"If you're out there with a problem and you're out there alone, you might well be more committed to doing it if you have help," Younger said.

■ See SMOKE, Page 10

Committee studies options of childcare

By Melissa Paul Collegian Reporter

Hope is on the horizon for the KSU Childcare Cooperative, which for the past four years has suffered from a lack of funding.

There is now a committee studying alternatives to the co-op. The committee will make recommendations to the Student Senate by December to aid it while considering Educational Opportunity Fund distributions.

The 10-member committee is chaired by Charles Reagan, assistant to the president, and was formed this fall as recommended by the Faculty Senate.

The focus of the faculty members, students and staff on the committee is to review the current provision of child care by the co-op and recommend alternatives to the K-State administation and the Senate.

Cornelia Flora, president of Faculty Senate, said that when the recommendations were made last spring, the Faculty Senate was concerned with the low wages of the coop workers and the need to ensure availability of quality child care for faculty, students and

Flora said the committee has studied the 1984 task force report which led to the formation of the co-op and heard presentations concerning the co-op's current state of affairs from Nancy Bolson, director of the co-op, and Robert Krause, vice president for institutional advancement.

tion for the co-op did not include University funding other than plans to lobby for a portion of the student fees. It was designed to operate as, or similar to, a co-op.

Reagan said the co-op discovered in short order the system didn't work. The fces couldn't meet the costs.

According to the report, the recommenda- always work out as they are planned," he Bolson said part of the problem was that in the co-op's early days, the only requirements for the parents were one hour of work a month and a $25 membership fee. There was also an active parent board, a paid professional staff and parent cooperation to assist in "It's nobody's fault. It's just things don't building equipment and providing services.

In December 1986, a memo stating the coop's operating deficit was more than $100,000 was prepared by Krause. This spurred the formation of another task force.

In January 1987, several changes were made in conjunction with the task force's report. An accounting position in the department of housing was provided, the cooperative efforts and membership fees were eliminated, the fees for child care were raised and the University reduced the rent which was subsidized through the Department of

In March 1987, Bolson said an agreement was made with the University that made the co-op a part of the Department of Housing, subject to the policies and regulations of the University. It maintained facilities at Jardine Terrace Apartments instead of building a new facility as recommended in the 1984 report; turned over financial management; required the co-op to deposit gross income into a Safekeeping Account; made books and records public; changed the constitutional bylaws of the co-op and made the parent board's role advisory instead of active.

Bolson said the agreement was formalizing the recommendations of the 1986 task force.

In 1988, the co-op's debt to the housing department and continuing education was forgiven.

Again in 1988, the fees for child care were raised and the rent reduced. The University also provided $9,000 in direct subsidies, Reagan said.

He said it took care of the problem this year but did not take care of it permanently.

"What should the University do about child care, especially in the light of the malsubsidies it will require now and in the future?" he said.

■ See CO-OP, Page 10

KSU Childcare Cooperative request to be considered at Senate meeting

By Melissa Paul Collegian Reporter

Three appearances at Student Senate meetings last year netted $32,000 for the KSU Childcare Cooperative.

This year's initial request of $51,930.50 will be considered tonight when Senate discusses distribution of the Educational

The EOF, which was approved by the of the co-op. Kansas Board of Regents, consists of about 1 percent of total tuition gathered at the dents to find quality child care so they can University. The student-composed EOF study, do research and feel comfortable and

The $32,000 allocation last year and the requested money this year are earmarked to fund CHILDSHIPS, financial child-care aid for those who use the co-op's services.

The amount requested this year will allow the co-op to help fund 61 children.

An estimated additional 15 children on the Opportunity Fund in a special meeting at 6 basis of this year's waiting list will need selp next year, said Nancy Bolson, director

"It is a way to enable low-income stu-Committee will screen proposals, conduct trusting about where their children are," hearings and prepare a budget for expendi-tures for the $250,000 fund. she said. "I think we're in a fairly good pos-tures for the $250,000 fund.

She said that last year there was a lack of knowledge of child-care needs on campus; this year it's in the forefront. One thing that has helped bring child care to everyone's attention is the increasing population of non-traditional students, she said.

"If they (older students) know there is child care affiliated with the University, that is going to help (the University) recruit and retain students," she said. Troy Lubbers, student body president and chairman of the EOF committee, said. M See REQUEST, Page 10

BRIEFLY AROUND WORLD

Soviet launch successful

MOSCOW — The Soviet Union successfully launched its space shuttle Buran on its first, unmanned voyage early today, official Radio Moscow said.

The radio made the announcement just minutes after the scheduled 6 a.m. launch today (10 p.m. EST Monday) from the Baikonur Cosmodrome in Soviet Central Asia.

It gave no details of the launch, but the timing indicated the countdown had gone smoothly despite fears that rising wind and ice' would halt the launch for a second time.

Technicians were concerned that the shuttle Buran — which is Russian for snowstorm - and its giant booster rocket, Energia, might get covered with a coat of ice. "If the wind rises into a squall and the orbital vehicle (and) Energia become covered with a crust of ice, then launch time will be changed again," said correspondent Sergei Slipchenko, referring to a failed attempt to launch Buran last month. U.S. officials won't launch their space shuttle if there is ice on the booster rocket or orbiter, and cold temperatures contributed to the failure of booster rocket seals that led to the Challenger disaster in 1986.

Technicians began fueling the 198-foot Energia - the world's mightest booster rocket - with nearly 2,000 tons of liquid hydrogen, oxygen and kerosene, state-run Radio Moscow reported Monday night.

BRIEFLY ACROSS NATION

Gorbachev to visit America

WASHINGTON - Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev will make another visit to the United States early next month and hold a fifth and final meeting with President Reagan and, possibly, President-elect George Bush, U.S. officials said Monday.

The meeting would give the two sides another chance to try to close the gap on a treaty to sharply reduce their long-range nuclear weapons and to ease tensions caused by a slow-down in the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Afghanistan.

The treaty is enmeshed in several technical problems that may not be easily solved. But on Afghanistan, the Soviets already have pledged to have all their forces out by Feb. 15.

Blaming attacks by U.S.-armed Afghan rebels, the Soviets announced two weeks ago the withdrawal had been suspended. Still, Gorbachev has not ruled out adhering to the deadline.

The two officials, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said Gorbachev also would address the United Nations on his second visit to this country. His four meetings with Reagan have served to improve U.S.-Soviet relations, while Bush after winning election last week said he would like to hold a summit meeting with the Soviet leader, as well.

A third source said the likely date for Gorbachev's U.S. visit was Dec. 7.

Sign cleanup successful

LONG BEACH, Calif. - Gerrie Schipske didn't win a seat on the City Council, but her post-election cleanup could be a sign she has a bright future as an environmental activist, Schipske, anxious to clear the community of her campaign signs after last week's election, ran a newspaper ad offering $1 for each sign returned.

Unfortunately, she neglected to say in the ad that she only wanted her campaign signs, not everybody else's. On Sunday, as she waited at a park to collect her own signs, people showed up with signs from Assembly, Senate, congressional and presidential contests as well as from elections in the cities of Cypress, Garden Grove and Huntington Beach. There were even signs promoting the campaign of Les Robbins, who had defeated Ms. Schipske. "I kept telling them, 'Why should I pay for someone else's signs?" she said.

Dukakis admits problems BOSTON - Defeated Democrat Michael Dukakis, facing an uneasy transition back to the Massachusetts Statehouse, acknowledged Monday that his state has fiscal problems but insisted they're not as bad as George Bush said they were. In a scene far removed from the cheering rallies of the presidential campaign, the governor fielded questions from his home-state press on issues ranging from taxes to a new car for the lieutenant governor.

"We face major challenges," Dukakis acknowledged at a jammed Beacon Hill news conference. But he disagreed with critics who say the state faces a "fiscal crisis" and denied that problems had worsened at home because of his 20-month presidential campaign.

As he did on the campaign trail, Dukakis refused to rule out new state taxes. But he promised to balance the current $11.6 billion state budget when the fiscal year ends next June.

Asked about his own political future, Dukakis said he had made no decision about whether to run for governor again in 1990, when his current term expires.

"It's too early to tell. I'm back at a job I love. I'm challenged by it," Dukakis said, promising to make a decision on his plans "sometime next year."

Stolen baby returned to mom

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. - A premature baby stolen from a hospital two weeks ago by a woman posing as a nurse was found in good condition Monday, and the mother recommended the kidnapper "just ask the Lord to forgive her for what she's Christopher Michael Jones, who was born weighing only 4 pounds, was found at a home in Hot Springs, 50 miles away, by FBI agents and police responding to a tip to a hot line, said Little Rock Detective Ronnie Smith. The caller said the baby might be at the home, he said.

A 32-year-old woman was being questioned by Little Rock authorities at the Hot Springs Police Department, officials said. "If she took the baby because of a loss in her own life, I hope that she will have the opportunity to get some help," the child's mother, Annette Thomas-Jones, said at a news conference Monday night. "I forgive her." She held the baby, dressed in a tiny white shirt reading "Welcome Home," and said, "He looks like $250 million wrapped up - not just a million, but $250 million. He looks fantastic. He looks like his daddy." When she first was reunited with Christopher, she said, "I held him and I looked at him and I checked his fingers out and his toes out and his legs and his stomach and his head

BRIEFLY THE REGION

Hayden withdraws offer and everything's there.

539-TAME

TOPEKA - Gov. Mike Hayden, who has pushed vocally for anti-smoking legislation, apparently can't get some members of his staff to kick the habit.

Hayden announced Monday that he is withdrawing an earlier offer to pay staff members who would quit smoking an extra $100 a month. Only four persons on his 18-member staff smoke, and none of them took their boss up on the offer.

The governor announced the incentive program at the end of August, when he and representatives of three national health groups started a campaign designed to make the state's high school graduating class of 2000 free of smokers.

"It appears that the incentive plan initiated for my staff was not an effective tool, and therefore it has been rescinded," Hayden said.

The Kansas Association of Public Employees criticized the plan, noting that the $100-a-month raise would be far more than the average state employee received this year.

Hayden gave up chewing tobacco several years ago, and he led the fight for a measure the 1988 Legislature passed to ban smoking in public school buildings. In 1987, he signed legislation that restricted smoking in other public buildings.

33333333333333333333333333333333333333

HAIRCUTS

Guys-$7.50

Gals-$10.50

includes shampoo & style

939393939393939393939393939

Popcorn Palace

TAMERS 2026 Tuttle Creek Blvd.

BULLETIN FOR CAMPUS

TODAY

WOMEN OVER 50 SUPPORT GROUP will meet from noon to 1 p.m. on the second floor of Lafene Student Health Center.

MUSLIM COMMUNITY ASSOCIA-TION will meet at 7 p.m. in the Union Big 8

GOLDEN KEY HONOR SOCIETY will meet at 6:30 p.m. in Union 212.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA will meet at 7 p.m. in Willard 301 to make nominations for

BAPP CLUB will meet at 4 p.m. in the Union Little Theatre.

BAKERY SCIENCE CLUB will meet at 7:15 p.m. in Shellenberger 101.

STUDENTS AGAINST DRINKING AND DRIVING will meet at 8:30 p.m. in

POULTRY SCIENCE CLUB will meet at 6 p.m. in Call 226.

BUSINESS EDUCATION STUDENTS will meet at 7 p.m. in Bluemont 343.

PHYSICAL THERAPY CLUB will meet at 7:30 p.m. in Union 208.

the Union Little Theatre.

Throckmorton 131.

will meet at 4:30 p.m. in Bluemont 106.

FINANCE CLUB will meet at 7:30 p.m. in

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION Council

PHI THETA KAPPA ALUMNI OFFIC-ERS will meet at 8 p.m. in Union 202.

K-STATE AG REPS will meet at 6 p.m. in

MORTAR BOARD will meet at 9:30 p.m.

in Justin Hall.

WOMEN IN INTERRACIAL RELA-TIONSHIPS SUPPORT GROUP will meet at 7 p.m. in the Union Stateroom.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMI-NISTRATION will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Union Little Theatre.

SPURS SOPHOMORE HONORARY will meet at 9 p.m. in Union 206.

K-STATE POLICE

Monday

- A faculty/staff parking permit that was reported lost off campus was recovered.
- A faculty/staff temporary parking permit was reported lost off
- A wheel lock was placed on a green and brown Chevrolet pickup in lot A-18. The lock was later removed.
- A wheel lock was placed on a blue Chevrolet pickup parked in a reserve stall in lot A-26.
- A wheel lock was placed on a blue Buick four-door parked in lot A-26. The lock was later removed.
- A faculty/staff parking permit was reported lost off campus.
- A student parking permit was reported stolen from a vehicle parked off campus.
- Criminal damage to a fence post at the wind erosion lab was reported. Damage was estimated at
- A student parking permit was reported stolen from a vehicle parked off campus.

BRIEFLY THE CAMPUS

Forensics team places second

The K-State forensics team, Speech Unlimited, placed second Saturday at the Midland Invitational Tournament in Fremont,

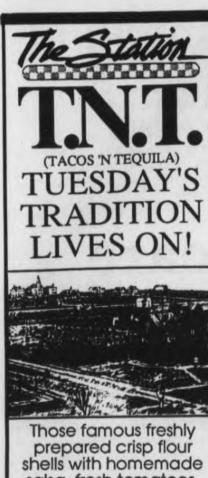

Seven K-Staters placed in the tournament in prose interpretation, poetry interpretation, dramatic interpretation and informative. All except one of the members of the team earning places

Speech Unlimited will travel Saturday and Sunday to a tournament at Wichita State University for a combined competition with the K-State Debate Squad.

Correction

In an editorial published in the Collegian on Friday, it was incorrectly stated that Vernon Walters, Landon Lecturer and U.N. ambassador, was not a member of President Reagan's cabinet. He is a member of the President's cabinet and is 18th in line to succeed the president.

Due to a reporter's error, Monday's story on the FFA convention had some inaccuracies. Jackie McClaskey is the vice president of Kansas FFA, not the K-State chapter. It was reported that FFA does not stand for anything now. Actually, it may simply be used instead of Future Farmers of America.

Plus New Lunch

Modeling by

Accessories Park

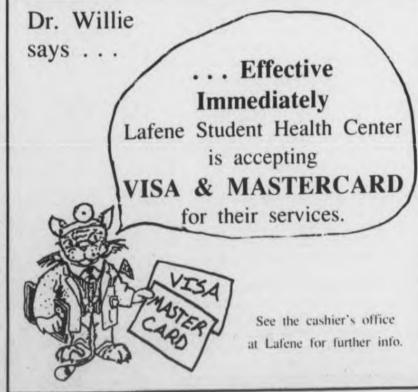

1115 Moro, Aggieville, 775-0030

(24 ounces!!) salsa, fresh tomatoes, lettuce and mounds of cheese 99¢ TACOS 3 for $2.75 • 1/2 PRICE MARGARITAS

1213 Moro St., Aggieville 776-6451

You can satisfy your craving for frozen yogurt or popcorn in between classes since we're right across from campus. Any 6 excluded Sub With the purchase of Medium Drink Sun.-Thurs. 11 a.m.-Midnight, Fri.-Sat. 11 a.m.-2 a.m. 539-9791

Vet Med Center cares for strays

By Kathy Winkthofer Collegian Reporter

If Manhattan residents find an injured or stray animal, they can take it to the Veterinary Medicine Center for care.

The center's Good Samaritan program administers to an animal's immediate needs for no charge, said Jerry R. Gillespie, professor of surgery and medicine.

After the center cares for the injured animal's immediate needs, it must consult with the state regulations board to decide what further treatment can be administered. The center must follow state rules because the state pays for these cases.

"The state requires that we can only keep each animal for three days, but we try to keep them longer if we can," Gillespie said. "We are driven by our own compassion for the animals, but our hands are often tied because we must follow the board's regulations."

After the animal is well or the treatments specified by the board are complete, the animal is sent to the county holding facility.

Healthy animals brought to the center are taken to the county center to be kept for five days for their owners to claim. After that, they are kept more two days for another person to adopt.

Many people who bring in an animal assume responsibility for it and pay for all or part of the treatment costs. When a client cannot pay all the costs, the center will share the costs, he said.

Gillespie said some people have tried to take advantage of the program to receive free care for their pets. However, few have done this.

Most people bring in dogs and cats that have been hit by cars. These animals usually suffer from broken bones, internal injuries or both, he said.

The center is open 24 hours for emergencies. An extra fee of about $25 is charged to normal clients who bring in their animals after office hours. The center is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Aggieville theater shows repeat movies

By The Collegian Staff

As prices on everyday items seem to keep rising, one Manhattan business is trying to keep its prices affordable.

The Campus Theater, in Aggieville, decided in June to change its format from showing both new releases and repeat movies at competitive prices to showing only repeat movies for $1, said Lee Kissiar, theater manager.

Repeat movies have been previously released. Because of this, they can be purchased by theaters at lower rates, Kissiar said.

The savings are passed on to moviegoers.

"The home office, which is located in New York, decided that since we were already showing a number of repeat movies, we'd better switch," Kissiar said.

"Right now, we take what the home office gives us, as far as the variety of movies goes — it chooses what movies will be shown and for what period of time," he said.

The theater is open evenings, seven days a week, and shows matinees on weekends.

"We have 550 seats and are reasonably full for all of the shows," Kissiar said.

"We haven't really noticed a change in the number of customers since the switch," he said. "Business has remained quite steady."

The top-grossing movie for the Campus Theater since June was "Die Hard."

The lower prices haven't caused concern for Bob Howard, manager of the Westloop 6 Cinema.

"The switch at the Campus Theater to $1 shows hasn't hurt our business at all," he said.

Clipping this ad could introduce you to that person you've wanted to

If you've spent the semester watching one particular person, it's time for you to write a Collegian Personal ad. A Personal will intrigue your mystery person and give you the opportunity to introduce yourself. Just bring this ad to Kedzie 103 to start your winter romance.

YOUR NAME PHONE ADDRESS I.D. NUMBER DAY TO RUN MESSAGE

Collegian Pusonals

Service teams to aid communities

By Melissa Paul Collegian Reporter

Nine rural communities in Kansas will benefit from the help of 40 K-

State students this summer. The project which will aid these communities is the Community Service Team. Teams of four or five students will spend the summer in a rural community in a volunteer program to improve diverse aspects of the communities. Carol Peak, administration assistant to the dean of arts and sciences and coordinator of the program, said the program is designed to help the student monetarily, and the community in a service sense. The participating student is required to enroll in a three-credithour community service seminar during the spring 1989 semester; spend eight weeks in the assigned community; and participate in a onecredit-hour seminar in the fall to evaluate the experience.

For their work, students receive a $1,500 stipend for the summer and a $400 scholarship for the fall

The spring seminar will prepare students for their experience in the community. Students will read the local newspaper and work with the other team members and the faculty mentor, who oversees the students. They will also begin contact with the community and work on other preparatory projects.

During the eight weeks in the community, the students may do a wide variety of service projects. Some will help develop a downtown area or a comprehensive plan assessing the potential of tourism, others will establish an area as a Historic Preservation District or design and develop a city park.

Peak said the wide array of projects calls for students with different types of skills and experience. Research analysis, economics, public relations, writing and graphics are among the skills needed. "We want them (the students) to really put that knowledge and experience to work," she said.

Office space, housing and transportation are provided for the students. The student is only held responsible for food.

Peak said most students become close to the family they live with and usually eat with them, so food is usually a minimal expense.

"The people we lived with wouldn't let us buy food," said Mindy Dutton, senior in political science and participant in the 1988 program.

"Our family was really good," said Karen James, another former participant in the program last year. "I spent about every evening with them. That was one of the big plusses of the

James, junior in pre-law, spent the summer in Beloit working on a tourism map for the 14 counties surrounding Beloit.

Mandy Stout, senior in humanities, stayed in Wallace County. Her team made the Fort Wallace Museum accessible to handicapped people and developed a fitness trail, among other projects.

"There's no way I would trade that summer for anything," she said. "When I first was going out there I wasn't excited, but I wasn't dreading it. Now I would recommend the project to anyone, it's a great experience."

This year, the teams are going to nine Kansas communities: Goodland, Leoti, Atwood, Oswego, Highland, Ransom, Louisburg, and two others which remain to be announced.

cause debate State tax revenue

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA - A state treasury bulging with unexpected tax revenues is expected to spur a debate in the 1989 Legislature about returning the remainder of a so-called state income tax windfall.

But after their 90-day session opens Jan. 9, legislators may have to decide first just exactly how much the remainder of the windfall is.

The windfall is actually an increase in income tax revenues the state received because of changes in the federal tax code in 1986. The 1988 Legislature returned a portion of the windfall. How large the windfall actually was and how much was returned depends upon a person's point of view.

Gov. Mike Hayden and his staff have said the state has returned all but $41 million of the windfall. Others think the figure is higher, perhaps between $85 million and $100 million.

"What do we consider the windfall?" asked Sen. Gus Bogina, R-Shawnee, chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee. "I think the first question is: How much is the windfall?"

Hayden and members of his administration have repeatedly stuck to an estimate of $135 million for the windfall. In fact, Hayden said the figure is "still the number" at a news conference Friday.

Tax collections, helped in part by an increase in income tax revenues, have exceeded previous estimates since February.

Last week, a group of state fiscal experts and university economists increased their estimate for tax collections during the rest of the fiscal year, which ends June 30, 1989, by $166 million. Budget Director Michael O'Keefe said then the state could have a treasury surplus of about $370 million on that date.

"I don't think we'll ever know how much in the unanticipated balances was windfall and how much was a better economy," said Sen. Fred Kerr, R-Pratt, chairman of the Senate Assessment and Taxation Committee. Kerr also is a candidate to replace retiring Senate President Robert Talkington, R-Iola.

Some lawmakers, especially those who represent relatively wealthy constituents in the Kansas City area suburbs of Johnson County, think the Hayden administration has underestimated the size of the windfall.

Rep. Robert Vancrum, R-Overland Park, cites estimates from the Legislative Research Department that conservatively estimate the windfall at $156 million.

Handgun waiting period considered

By The Associated Press

WICHITA - Four recent deaths have helped spur Wichita City Council consideration of possibly becoming the fifth Kansas community to require a waiting period for handgun purchases.

Junction City, Kansas City,

Manhattan and Lawrence already require a wait ranging from two days to two weeks.

Councilman Greg Ferris called for the Wichita waiting period study following the deaths three weeks ago of Doug Marx, a divorced man, and his two children, who were visiting him. Police said he shot his son and daughter and then himself with a .357-caliber Magnum pistol he had purchased one day earlier.

"We'll never know what was on Doug's mind," said his sister, Paula Sue Marx. "He loved his kids so much. I guess he wanted them with him. But I think there's a strong possibility they wouldn't be dead now if there was a waiting period." Police said a case where a homicide follows a gun purchase within hours isn't uncommon. Within a week of the Marx shootings, a Garden City cab driver was killed and a Pratt County sheriff's deputy was wounded.

"Rib-It" TONIGHT all you can eat Chef $3.95

Bar-B-Q Ribs |

11/15/88

111 S. 4th

PRE-HOLIDAY SALE

$2 off every §10 PURCHASE

any regular-priced item In-Stock Items Only*Cash or Check Please All Sales Final SALE ENDS DEC. 3, 1988

CROSS

REFERENCE

776-8071 322 POYNTZ AVENUE

SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS WHO NEED

Every Student is Eligible for Some Type of Financial Aid Regardless of Grades or Parental Income.

- We have a data bank of over 200,000 listings of scholarships.
- Many scholarships are given to students based on their academic interests, career plans, family heritage and place of residence.

 There's money available for students who have been newspaper care riers, grocery clerks, cheerleaders, non-smokers . . . etc Results GUARANTEED.

CALL

For A Free Brochure (800) 346-6401

Pool tournament at 8

Bottles—$1 Schnapps Shots

1800 Claflin

PREGNANCY

Anderson Avenue

Carol Lee

TESTING

CENTER

539-3338

Walk-ins welcome

Call for Appointment

Located across from campus in the

Student Services Center

(East of 7-Eleven) PREGNANCY

776-5577 776-5577 PIZZA SHUTTLE "NO COUPON SPECIALS"

Prime Time Special 3-10 in. Pizzas 1—Topping 4-Cokes 10.00

Two-Fers 2-10 in. pizzas 2-Toppings 2-Cokes $8.00

FAST N FREE DELIVERY

Ritch Shydner

APPEARANCES Sitcom: Married with Children (on Fox Network) ·Movies: Roxanne-Beverly Hills Cop II

6 appearances on Johnny Carson (Tonight Show) 2 appearances on Late Night with David Letterman Knots Landing

Smothers Brothers Suzanne Somers Triple Crown of Comedy-Showtime (airing this month)

Grill Special: Steak & Shrimp $3.95 531 N. Manhattan 539-9727

•reservations recommended but not necessary

Editorial

Kansas State Collegian Opinions ■ Tuesday, November 15, 1988

Talk shows become America's national pastime

"Never turn down a chance to have sex or go on television."

- Gore Vidal ound advice. But given the choice between having sex and going on television, which one would you choose? In an age of nasty diseases and sexual repression, my bet is that most Americans would opt for the latter. And why not? The talk shows crowding the nation's airwaves are really a lot like sex: No matter how many positions Phil, Oprah, Geraldo, Sally and Mort profess, it's still the same old screw.

Let me explain. It seems to me that America is becoming obsessed with talk shows, just like it used to be obsessed with sex. A sure indicator of this is the fact that the self-righteous folk out there want to take them away from us. Critics denounce the shows as pornographic and exploitative. And they are, in a sense. But we must remember that the people being exploited on these shows want to be.

In fact, people in America are crawling over each other to get on talk shows. A flip through the 1988 edition of the Directory of Experts, Authorities and Spokespersons should bear this out. The book is used by talk show programmers in their endless search for interesting and unusual guests. The directory lists the services of such information sources as Harvard's Kennedy School of Government and the Heritage Foundation, "a conservative think tank" (an oxymoron if I've ever heard one). The directory runs the gamut of possible guests, from the National Turkey Federation to the Communist Party of the United States, which promises "Real live Communists on your show!"

Indeed, the major selling point of most of the entries seems to be the ability of the individual or group to stir up controversy. Critics rush to blame the shows for attempting to do nothing but stir up controversy. What the critics don't realize is that talk shows fail to do this. True, talk shows deal with controversial stuff: drug dealing, prostitution, communism, fascism and bigotry. But they are essentially nothing more than hanging juries, in which the controversial folk in society are paraded before studio audiences, given their they invited them on their shows - their say, condemned by Geraldo and sentenced to Morton Downey's bad breath.

Talk shows might be controversial if Phil or Oprah took a position that was controversial, instead of telling us the obvious. I don't think we need Geraldo to tell us that Charles Manson is a "mass-murdering dog." We morons (Oprah) or "some sort of Yahoo mesdon't need Morton Downey to call a guest a siah" (the inspired moniker Rolling Stone "whore" when she has already introduced gave to Morton Downey).

Commentary

MARK SCHMELLER Collegian Columnist

herself as one. And we certainly don't need Phil Donahue to remind us that there is something wrong with being a Nazi.

oreover, it seems silly for talk show hosts to denounce their guests for the same reasons sheer repulsiveness. Then again, that's the true nature of these shows. They aren't factfinding missions or journalistic explorations, they are lynch mobs made for syndicated television, led by cheesy muckrakers (Geraldo), self-righteous twits (Phil), amiable

This is not to say that today's talk show hosts don't do a great job of guiding the mobs. Mort Downey can play a crowd of cretins like a piano, Geraldo can give a studio audience the deep understanding and courage to take a stand against satanism, and Oprah can crystallize the scientific complexities and medical advantages of facelifts, butt-tucks and silicon implants like no other mortal. They can do this because, for all their apparent spontaneity, talk shows are essentially staged events. Guests are invited because they are certain to provoke a reaction of disgust or to titilate oversexed TV junkies. The viewers' suspicions are confirmed, the stereotypes are solidified, and nothing is questioned or challenged. No controversy here.

Nonetheless, talk show hosts bristle at the suggestion that their shows may be staged. Several months back, two people posing as a sex therapist and her patient managed to get on Oprah, Geraldo and Sally Jessy Raphael before they were exposed as fakes. The three hosts were up in arms over the whole thing, but I can't really understand why. The shows with the fake therapist were just the same as previous shows with real ones.

After all, what's the difference? All that is required of guests is to reveal a few intimate details for all those horny homebodies out there. Anyone can do that, sexology degree or not. Indeed, even the hosts felt the two impostors were good guests, as they were invited back to offer advice to viewers on something even more important than sex how to get on television.

alk shows have also drawn the wrath of critics recently because of the fistfight that broke out on Geraldo a few weeks back. Once again, I must disagree. Seeing Geraldo getting popped was reassuring. First, I would have liked to have done it myself. Second, it shows that something spontaneous can still happen on these shows, despite all the staging - not that inviting skinheads on the show is intended to provoke peaceful discourse.

I, for one, am glad to see talk shows gaining the popularity sex once enjoyed. People used to make the argument that some pornography was good for society, as it channeled the urges of people into a harmless activity. Talk shows serve a similar purpose — they channel the self-righteous urges and closetpervert hangups of television viewers, keeping them indoors and away from their predispositions to march down the streets in lynch mobs or sneak down the alleys and through the back doors of the peepshows.

Campus needs to know

The student body has spoken.

Cuffy would be K-State's next student body president one Laurian Cuffy, one student body president.

mitted what he termed "blatant violations of the (election) would be tested, because no set procedures were in place.

announced he would not contest the election. He said he had formed an "informal coalition" with Cuffy, which

Apparently forming an informal coalition makes campaign violations vanish the way most campaign promises

After the meeting, Cuffy said this coalition "will reach out with a core group of people to make decisions."

It has been four days since this announcement, and K-State students have no idea who exactly will be representing them next year.

throughout his campaign — is important. However, two men running the same ship could cause twice the problems.

It is time for the president-elect of the student body to speak and explain his new coalition to those who gave him the power to speak in the first place.

rules." He claimed that Cuffy had campaigned in places where campaigning was illegal. No one knew how the complaint do - assuming any violations existed in the first place.

it different from the traditional president's cabinet? Most importantly, will it be making decisions that the student body has elected Cuffy to make?

what coalition will do

And when it spoke last Wednesday, it said that Laurian On election night, defeated candidate John McIntyre said that he would contest the election because Cuffy had com-

But the complaint remained. Then on the next day, McIntyre changed his mind. He would allow the former opponents and their supporters to work together for a better student body.

What exactly is this "core group of people," and how is

A unified student body — like the one Cuffy promoted

Imagine a Bush-Dukakis coalition running the nation.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

EDITOR	Chad L. Sanborn
MANAGING EDITOR	Lori Siegris
NEWS EDITOR	Janet Swanson
EDITORIAL PAGE EDITOR	Jeff Schrag
PHOTO/GRAPHICS EDITO	John La Barge
SPORTS EDITOR	Chris Hays
ADVERTISING MANAGER
The Kansas State Collegio	Susan L'Ecuyer, Scott Miller, Michael Nichols, Karla Redetsheimer, Chad L. Sanborn Jeff Schrag, Erwin Seba, Paula Selby, Robert R. Short, Mark Schmeller, Janet Swanson (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publica-
Monday and Thursday duri POSTMASTER: Send add hattan, Kan. 66506-7167.	ig summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. ress changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Man-
Monday and Thursday duri POSTMASTER: Send add hattan, Kan. 66506-7167. News contributions will be Inquiries concerning local,	ig summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. ress changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Mansas changes accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116. national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560.
Monday and Thursday duri POSTMASTER: Send add hattan, Kan. 66506-7167. News contributions will be	ing summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. These changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Man- Baccepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 118.
Monday and Thursday duri POSTMASTER: Send add hattan, Kan. 66506-7167. News contributions will be Inquiries concerning local, tising questions should be	ing summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. The sessions of the sessions of the session of the s
Monday and Thursday duri POSTMASTER: Send add hattan, Kan. 66506-7167. News contributions will be Inquiries concerning local, tising questions should be One Semester (Fall or Spr	ing summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. The session of the ses
Monday and Thursday duri POSTMASTER: Send add hattan, Kan. 66506-7167. News contributions will be Inquiries concerning local, tising questions should be One Semester (Fall or Spr Two Semesters (Fall and S	ing summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. The sess changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzle 103, Kansas State University, Mansas Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzle 103, Kansas State University, Mansas Collegian (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzle Hall 118. The institution of the insti
Monday and Thursday duri POSTMASTER: Send add hattan, Kan. 66506-7167. News contributions will be Inquiries concerning local, tising questions should be One Semester (Fall or Spr Two Semesters (Fall and S Summer Session	ess changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Man- es accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116. national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word adver- directed to (913) 532-6555. Kansas State Collegian Subscription Rates $25 pring)
Monday and Thursday duri POSTMASTER: Send add hattan, Kan. 66506-7167. News contributions will be Inquiries concerning local, tising questions should be One Semester (Fall or Spr Two Semesters (Fall and Summer Session	ing summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. Tress changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Mansas completed by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116. Inational and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word advertised to (913) 532-6555. Kansas State Collegian Subscription Rates 193

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR pertaining to matters of public interest are encouraged. Those which pertain to matters of campus/public interest are especially encouraged and are given the highest priority.

Letters should be kept as brief as possible. All letters are subject to editing on the basis of space, style and taste.

SEND SUBMISSIONS to the Collegian in Kedzie 116.

Letters

End the campout

Editor,

I am writing in response to Scott McEwen's letter on Oct. 4. I think we should continue the campout for season basketball tickets because it is a fun way to show our support for the basketball team, and it also gains a lot of recognition for K-State. Some people have suggested that we have all general admission seats to basketball games, but with K-State's campout reputation, students would probably camp out a week before the KU-K-State game anyway. I think we should keep the campout, but the Athletic Ticket Sales Committee needs to set up some guidelines to prevent people from camping out so far ahead of ticket sales. Glenda Sudbeck junior in accounting Some lights fixed

In reference to my Nov. 9 editorial concerning the number of burned-out exterior lights on campus, I would like to note that Jack Watson of University Facilities has responded by seeing to it that the lights I referred to were repaired. Many of the Durland Hall-area lights have been repaired as well as the Thompson Hall parking-area light and the three lights near McCain Auditorium. In addition, I have noticed that many of the lights around entrances to buildings have been repaired, such as near the southwest entrance of the old part of Farrell Library. I trust that in the coming days the exterior inflation has hit inflation." lights on Willard Hall also will be working.

be Farrell, especially after it closes. Further, quarter. Well ... he might raise gas prices a it is ironic to me that so much of the lighting little. I guess he has to get the money to keep around Farrell Library is focused on the walls of Farrell instead of on the walkways. Highintensity floodlights reveal the library walls while the walkways receive only indirect light and a few feeble incandescent lamps. It seems to me that our lighting priorities need some re-evaluation. The Farrell area needs much better illumination all night.

My thanks to facilities for responding to the need for better lighting maintenance. My hope is that the University will devote a fair portion of the facilities budget to upgrade the exterior lighting to at least the minimum level of lighting required.

> Phillip Anderson instructor of speech

Don't charge for air

It's ridiculous! The gas prices have been under $1 for about two years, and the oil companies have finally decided what to do about

I don't mind paying a dime for a cup of ice, or even a nickel for extra water. However, paying 25 cents for air to put in my tire is ridiculous. What do they put in this special mixture of air to make it so costly? Maybe, just maybe, they use a special prescription in this lifesaving device. This situation reminds me of a cartoon I once saw: A man was standing beside an airhentrance to Cardwell Hall and near the west ose that displayed a sign reading "AIR 25 CENTS" The caption read, "It looks like

In all fairness, I'll try to be open-minded.

The darkest area on campus continues to What would Joe Oil Baron do without that all those fuel-efficient carburetors off the market somewhere. Maybe the oil baron has another, more secret, method to his madness. Maybe he thinks that if we have to pay for inflation, we'll run our tires a little flatter, thus using more fuel.

Those last two statements were just food for thought. Here's more food if your thought is still hungry: the higher quality stations do not charge for air.

Brady "Moondog" Arnold sophomore in animal science

Bet against Svoboda

In my opinion it would be a wise choice to re-evaluate the usefulness of David Svoboda as a sports columnist for the Collegian. Valuable space, which could be put to much better use, is being wasted on his column. Perhaps if he were just to report the facts, his column would be worth reading. But when Svoboda starts rattling off predictions, I get a little concerned. I am disappointed that I didn't have the foresight to bet against any team that Svoboda picked to win. I would be a rich man.

What's next, "Greek?" What insightful news will we, the enlightened readers, hear from you first? Please spare us, I for one am tired of seeing you making a fool of yourself. However, if you continue to do so I will not hesitate to profit from your incompetency by promptly betting against any team you pick to

Art Millis senior in microbiology

Film looks closely at rape

By Tom McLaughlin Collegian Reviewer

"Accused," a film starring Kelly McGillis and Jody Foster, takes a close look at society's perception of

The film reports some commonly known statistics and, instead of just letting them remain hard and cold numbers, it humanizes them.

Not only does it let people know there is a rape every six minutes in the United States, it also informs the audience that one out of every four rapes includes multiple assailants.

The film manipulates point-ofview throughout to allow the audience to make value judgments about the victim, Sarah Tobias, played by Jody Foster. The film opens with Tobias running frantically from a low-class bar called The Mill. The name of the bar appropriately symbolizes the mill through which society churns victims.

As Tobias runs into oncoming traffic, the camera pans to a phone booth where a gang rape is being reported by Kenneth Joyce, played by Bernie Carlson.

The following scenes show the brutality and, at times, the insensitive the onlookers who cheered and "soliand machine-like attitudes which doctors, nurses and even counselors exhibit when dealing with rape

Tobias reminds the audience of her personal injury with her recap of the experience when she says, "I heard somebody screaming and realized it was me."

Movie Review

On the spot, almost immediately, is the strong-willed Deputy District Attorney Katherine Murphy, played by Kelly McGillis. It is McGillis' character who begins to manage and to manipulate point-of-view.

Soon the authorities discover that Tobias was drunk as well as high immediately before the gang rape. All of these facts, coupled with Foster's believably gruff portrayal of Tobias, begin to cause doubt about the rape. It's not so much doubt as a value judgment.

Murphy, too, has doubts.

Feeling pangs of guilt after she lowers the charges against the rapists, she realizes that she needs to do more for Tobias. Her tactic is to place cited" the rape on trial.

It is when Kenneth Joyce is called to the stand that the audience sees the rape, via flashback.

The graphic, realistically violent rape quiets any doubts. It is obvious that Tobias was, in fact, raped. The question remaining is whether the onlookers were responsible for perpetuating the rape.

As the rape is presented to the audience, each audience member becomes a voyeur and a spectator. It disgusted me to hear members of the theater audience laugh at the rape. They became spectators who encouraged the rape. Obviously, the tragedy of the film was missed in their cases.

The movie not only deals with the emotions experienced by rape victims, but also with the emotions of those who are hired to defend them.

Foster and McGillis deliver believable and passionate portrayals. Foster shows how much she has grown as an actress. Her character is carthy and believable.

Likewise, McGillis is effective as an unsympathetic and doubtful attorney who finds conviction and a

■ See ACCUSED, Page 10

Graduate student researches soy-based yogurt production

By Eva Craig Collegian Reporter

Soyburgers, tofu, soy sauce and soup bases are just a few commercial products made from soybeans - and yogurt may be next.

Mark Buono, who earned his doctorate in food science at K-State, based his doctoral research on the production of yogurt from soy milk. According to his study, yogurt — a prepared food curdled by the action of cultures - can also be made from soy milk by the same fermentation process used for cow's or goat's milk.

Buono, who is employed by the Kellogg corporation of Battle Creek, Mich., said yogurt can be made in one day and is easy to prepare.

A taste panel composed of nine K-State graduate students compared three soy milk yogurts to a commercial yogurt as part of Buono's research last semester, he flavor - sweetness or sourness - and texture. The soy milk yogurt fortified with evaporated cow's milk was found to be the most favorable when compared to the commercial yogurt, Buono said. "The (soy) yogurt fortified with non-fat, dry milk was too sour, and the (soy) yogurt fortified with 25 percent fructose was too sweet," he said.

Both milk and soy milk yogurts are nutritious, and each has its own advantages. Soy milk yogurt is cholesterol-free, while yogurt made from cow's milk contains calcium. However, calcium can be added to soy milk yogurt, said Daniel Fung, professor of animal sciences and industry and Buono's former professor.

Fung said the idea for the research came from the Orient. "Soy milk is very popular in China because cow's milk is scarce; soybean curd, which is like

American cheese, is eaten every day," he said.

Plant proteins, such as those found in soybeans, are less expensive to produce than animal or milk protein. "Literally hundreds of products can be made from the soybean,"

Fung said. "Grain is the most abundant food source in the entire world, but the beany flavor of soybeans is not favorable in the Western world," Buono said.

If Americans accepted the beany flavor, soybean products could prove to be profitable in the West,

"Soybeans are a very inexpensive raw material with unlimited use," Buono said.

While Westerners don't like the beany flavor, Fung said, the yogurt will be accepted in the Far East.

"Many products in the Far East are made from soybeans, so the beany flavor doesn't bother the people there," he said.

Outlook for game bird hunting good

By Julie Thompson Collegian Reporter

Hunting enthusiasts can be assured that the outlook for pheasant and quail season is better than last year's, said Kansas Fish and Game biologist Chuck Beaver.

"It's going to be good hunting for quail, and the numbers for pheasant are up statewide from last year," Beaver said.

Although the summer and fall seasons were relatively dry, Beaver said it did not show any affect on the bird population.

"The cover may not be as dense as years gone by," he said. "This might be a problem if there is a hard winter for the birds next spring."

Across the state, regulations and guidelines are strictly enforced by wildlife game wardens. Hunters must obtain a hunting license before they begin collecting the game. Anyone born after July 1, 1957, is required to take a hunter's safety

"The 10-hour course is taught by volunteers," Beaver said.

During the course, students are given a Kansas Hunter Education Manual to read and are required to take a test when they complete the course, said Jerry Dishman, volunteer instructor.

The manual states that by following three basic gun-handling rules. most hunting-related firearm accidents can be avoided.

Treating every firearm as if it were loaded is stressed in the manual.

Even though the gun isn't loaded, hunters should behave as though it is.

They should always point the muzzle in a safe direction, according to the manual. Once the firearm is in the hunter's hands — whether he is loading, unloading or carrying it in the field — he should continue to point the muzzle in a safe direction.

The manual also states that hunters must carefully identify their targets before firing. They should be sure of their target and what lies behind it.

Beaver said hunters should wear blaze-orange clothing for higher visibility, and they should always obtain permission before they hunt in an

The best hunting areas around Manhattan, he said, are north and west of town.

"There are many public hunting spots around Manhattan. Some places require a hunting permit and others do not. Near Fort Riley you have to have a special permit, but at Milford and Tuttle Creek Lake, you don't (need a permit)," he said.

Places that are well-populated for pheasant and quail in the state are the Northwest and Northcentral regions, Beaver said.

"The farther south and east you go, the fewer pheasants there are although you can still find quail there," he said.

LARGE PIZZA ONLY 599

with one topping

dine in or free home delivery effer good through Oct. 31

"premium pizza at a cardboard pizza price" 523 South 17th

537-1484

What is the Credit Union up to?

We're up to

The KSU Federal Credit Union board of directors has recently established longer term share certificates of deposit with higher earnings than you'll find at most savings institutions. Your savings are insured up to $100,000 by NCUA, an agency of the federal government.

And remember, we're temporarily in 6B Leasure Hall for approximately two months while our Anderson Hall office is being renovated.

Regular accounts earned: 6% APR for quarter ending Sept. 30th.

Share Certificates of Deposit 7.43% yield on 3-month certificates 7.79% yield on 6-month certificates 8.25% yield on 1-year certificates

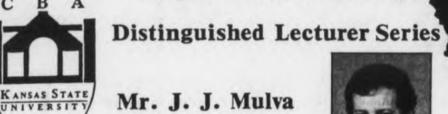

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

A service for faculty, staff and qualified graduate assistants

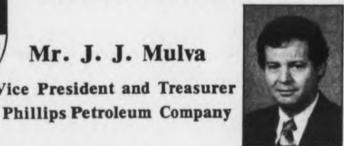

Leasure Hall, Room 6B Open 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday (except on University holidays) Telephone 532-6274

College of Business Administration

Mr. J. J. Mulva

Vice President and Treasurer

TODAY, Tues., Nov. 15 7:30 p.m.

K-State Union Little Theatre

All Majors Welcome

539-5303

One number brings out the best at KSU

Now, at KSU, there's just one number to remember for fast delivery of pizza that's every bit as good as one you'd go out for.

Godfather's Pizza™ Now you don't have to settle for anything less, anymore.

> 1118 Laramie Aggieville

Lunch Buffet only $2.99

Present this coupon and receive ONE all you care to eat lunch buffet for only $2.99. Regularly $3.99 per person!

only $9.99.

Two Large

only $9.99

Present this coupon and

receive TWO large

Pepperoni Pizzas I

DISCOVER OLITICS OF LO

Hear what Leo Buscaglia has to say on the "Politics of Love" Check out his tape for FREE in the SGA office 5 days a week.

Scoreboard graphics operators coax crowd to cheer at games

By Kevin Kramer Collegian Reporter

They do their best to motivate the crowd at every K-State football game, but they don't tumble, do balancing acts, or yell and lead cheers from the sidelines.

"We're the unseen cheerleaders," said Gary Haffener and Steve Area, K-State scoreboard graphics operators.

"We can't cheer form the pressbox, so we get the crowd into the game by using the scoreboard," Haffener said.

Area, of Topeka, and Haffener, of Manhattan, work for Southwestern Bell Telephone and volunteer their time to run computerized graphics and animations on the scoreboards at KSU Stadium and Bramlege Coliseum.

Haffener said he began working with the scoreboard graphics seven years ago with his college roommate, Randy Glenn. When Glenn moved to Colorado five years ago, Haffener was left with the job as scoreboard operator and he recruited Area to

"It's a lot of fun and interesting," Area said. "We come up two to three hours prior to the game to get set up. A lot of our computer-animated programs are produced prior to the games, but we change and personalize the programs to meet our needs with each game."

Haffener said, "We sometimes get called into extra duty during the games, especially if someone has a problem with a telephone."

When the University first got a graphic display scoreboard, it had an old computer system and a lot of graphics had to be created, which took a lot of time, he said.

The University receives packaged programs from Daktronics - a computer graphics company from Brooking, S.D., said Leah Buckert, assistant sports information director. The programs were included in the purchase, from Daktronics, of the KSU Stadium and Bramlage Coliscum scoreboards.

Area said there are standard graphic programs used every game, but special messages are added prior to each game. More than 200 programs are available for use at each football game.

'We use two computers in running the scoreboard graphics," Haffener said. "We use one to set up programs while the other computer is running a program on the scoreboard. We spend our extra time at the game working on new graphic programs."

Buckert said a number of the animations people see at the games are the result of an advanced graphics feature called sequences, the combination of two or more computer animation programs.

Area and Haffener said they look forward to the beginning of the basketball season and using the new scoreboard at Bramlage.

"The new scoreboard is first-rate," Area said. "It is one of the best in the

"It's going to be a lot of fun," Haf-

Headaches? Neck Stiffness? Low Back Pain? Don't wait for it to get scoreboard.

Dr. Mark J. Hatesohl Chiropractor 3252 Kimball Avenue

By Diane Zumwalt Collegian Reporter

Thirteen K-State students are in contention for three of the most prestigious and sought-after awards offered to college students - the Rhodes, Truman and Fulbright scholarships.

The Rhodes Scholarship was formed and endowed in 1902 by Cecil Rhodes, a British empire builder. Nationally, 32 of these awards are given every year.

Finalists for the Rhodes scholarships at K-State are Jeff Wing, senior in political science, and Sandra DeYoe, senior in modern languages.

"It was the intrigue and prestige of possibly being able to study in a foreign country that encouraged me to apply," Wing said.

Winners of this scholarship, which pays all tuition and expenses for resident academic study at Oxford University in England, must have outstanding intellect, character and demonstrate a record of service. Applicants, who must be under 23 years old and unmarried, go through a series of interviews and furnish references, in addition to writing essays.

Pupils seek scholarships

At K-State, the Rhodes candidates were chosen by a commission composed of professors in biochemistry, physics, history and English.

Another academic award that provides funds to enable student winners to study in a foreign country of their choice is the Fulbright Scholarship.

"K-State has had more than 14 Fulbright winners in the past decade," said Walter Kolonoski, associate professor in modern languages and a member of the K-State selection committee. There are an unusually large number of Fulbright candidates this year, he

K-State students who are applicants for the Fulbright are Kristina Lang, graduate student in grain science; Jolanta Jacobs, senior in biology; Julie Nelson and Michael Wilson, seniors in anthropology; Natalie Martin, senior in English; Sandra DeYoe, senior in modern languages; Leslie Guizlo, graduate student in geography; and James Ediger, graduate student in modern Another scholarship which has a history of K-State winners is the Truman Scholarship, which was established in 1977 as a tribute and memorial to President Harry S. Truman.

The purpose of the scholarship, which is administered at K-State by a committee of faculty members, is to encourage promising students from all fields of study to enter public service in government at local, state, national and international levels.

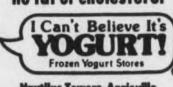

The winner of the Truman Scholarship receives a total of up to $26,000 for four years of study. The criteria include high academic achievement and a record of proven leadership in public service.

Candidates for the Truman scholarship at K-State are Anita Krug and Kristy Parker, sophomores in pre-law, and Clint Riley, junior in chemical science.

"Every year, the number of applicants for these important scholarships varies greatly among the schools in the Big Eight," said Nancy Twiss, academic adviser in the College of Arts and Sciences.

New Nonfat Frozen Yogurt

Same great taste with no fat or cholesterol

FREE DELIVERY 539-4400

1217 MORO 1N AGGIEVILLE

CALL US FOR: PIZZA, LASAGNE,

SPAGHETTI, SANDWICHES & SALADS

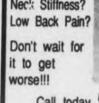

—GAME SPECIAL—

NO COUPON NEEDED

10" $595 14" $975

Pizzas one item Pizzas two item

Nautilus Towers-Aggieville me 537-1616

fener said. "It's a faster paced game and a challenge to do the graphics."

K-State-Athletes in Action exhibition game Wednesday, his fingers were worn out from typing on the mated board for basketball," Area said. "We have about 40 to 50 graphic programs for basketball, and (we are) creating new ones all the and Bramlage are built differently, so we can't use the same programs."

Bramlage is 32 by 96 feet and the stadium scoreboard is 24 by 96 feet, so changes have to be made to some of the existing programs to fit the new to have their favorite graphic - a train that moves across the scoreboard - available for the opening

"With a four-sided scoreboard, we'd try to get the train to circle the board while the pep band is playing

'The Wabash Cannonball," Area

basketball game against Purdue.

Area and Haffener said they hope

Haffener said, "The scoreboard at

"The scoreboards at KSU Stadium

"It's our first year with an ani-computer keyboard.

Haffener said that by the end of the

New Line of Scarves from California Tye-dye $12-18

124 Moro 539-0360

R.O.Y.A.L

Held over by popular demand! Photographer will be here until Nov. 18 to take Royal Purple portraits. 8:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. and 1:30-5:30 p.m. Union 209. Call now for your appointment. 539-5229

Take your fee card or student ID for your portrait sitting.

P•U•R•P•L•E

T

We'll take it. Commercial accounts excluded

Same Low Price-Cash or Credit

SPECIALS

6 pk Pepsi - $2.25

2 liter 7 UP - $1.39

6 pk Coke - $2.59

7 Convenient Locations - Open 24 Hours

If Anyone Asks

"What Is Your Favorite Radio Station?"

KQLA Radio-Q-104 Manhattan-Ft. Riley-Junction City

NEED TO GET YOUR MESSAGE OUT?

Selling your bicycle?

Need a job?

Buying a sofa?

Need a roommate?

the Collegian Classifieds

Kedzie 103

Phone 532-6555

Deadline-noon the day before publication

Collegian Classified Advertising

CLASSIFIED AD FORMS

Write your ad in the form provided below, and mail it in, along with the correct payment, to STUDENT PUBLICATIONS, INC., KEDZIE HALL, ROOM 103, KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506. You can also stop by Kedzie 103 to place your ad or call 532-6555. Student Publications now accepts MasterCard and Visa. (Minimum charge of $5.) The DEADLINE for Classified Ads is NOON the day before publication; NOON Friday for Monday's publication. Deadline for cancellation is NOON the day before publication.

CLASSIFIED AD POLICY

* Only the FIRST TWO words of each ad will be in all caps; all other words will be in caps/lower, except initials.

* No abbreviations, please

* No last names or phone numbers will be printed in the Personals section

Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the advertiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not alter the value of the ad-Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103

or by calling 532-6555. * If mailed ads do not arrive by the Noon deadline, they will be placed in the next day's paper.

* Ads which are incorrectly calculated will be run only for amount paid

* The Collegian reserves the right to edit or reject any advertisement at any time. Classified Ad Rates

16 17 18 19 20 21 22 22 23 24 25 26	2.50 2.70 2.90 3.10 3.30 3.50 3.70 3.90 4.10 4.30 4.50	2 3.50 3.75 4.00 4.25 4.50 4.75 5.00 5.25 5.50 5.75	4.25 4.55 4.85 5.15 5.45 5.75 6.05 6.35 6.65	4.75 5.10 5.45 5.60 6.15 6.50 6.85	5 5.00 5.40 5.80 6.20 6.60 7.00 7.40	1.00 1.05 1.10 1.15 1.20 1.25	01 Announcements 02 Apartments for Rent—Furnished 03 Apartments for Rent—Unturnished 04 Automobiles for Sale 05 Automobile Rentals	16 M 17 M 18 Pc	Miscellaneous Merchandise Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale Musical Instruments Personals
16 17 18 19 20 21 22 22 23 24 25 26	2.70 2.90 3.10 3.30 3.50 3.70 3.90 4.10 4.30 4.50	3.75 4.00 4.25 4.50 4.75 5.00 5.25 5.50 5.75	4.55 4.85 5.15 5.45 5.75 6.05 6.35	5.10 5.45 5.80 6.15 6.50 6.85	5.40 5.80 6.20 6.60 7.00	1.05 1.10 1.15 1.20	03 Apartments for Rent-Unfurnished 04 Automobiles for Sale	17 M	Musical Instruments
18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26	3.10 3.30 3.50 3.70 3.90 4.10 4.30 4.50	4.25 4.50 4.75 5.00 5.25 5.50 5.75	5.15 5.45 5.75 6.05 6.35	5.45 5.80 6.15 6.50 6.85	5.80 6.20 6.60 7.00	1.10 1.15 1.20	04 Automobiles for Sale	18 P
10 20 21 22 23 24 25 26	3.30 3.50 3.70 3.90 4.10 4.30 4.50	4.50 4.75 5.00 5.25 5.50 5.75	5.45 5.75 6.05 6.35	6.15 6.50 6.85	6.20 6.60 7.00	1.15	04 Automobiles for Sale	18 P	ersonals
20 21 22 23 24 25 26	3.50 3.70 3.90 4.10 4.30 4.50	4.75 5.00 5.25 5.50 5.75	5.75 6.05 6.35	6.50 6.85	7.00	1.20	ar the same and the same		OI OUT IMA
21 22 23 24 25 26	3.70 3.90 4.10 4.30 4.50	5.00 5.25 5.50 5.75	6.05	6.85		1.06			Pets and Pet Supplies
22 23 24 25 28	3.90 4.10 4.30 4.50	5.25 5.50 5.75	6.35		7.40			100
23 24 25 26	4.10 4.30 4.50	5.50 5.75				1.30	06 Card of Thanks	-	Professional Services
24 25 26	4.30	5.75		7.20	7.80	1.35	07 Child Care	21 A	Rentals
25 26	4.50		6.95	7.55	8.20	1.40	08 Computers	22 R	Resume/Typing Services
26		6.00	7.25	8.25	8.60	1.45	09 Employment	23 R	Roommate Wanted
	4.70	6.25	7.55	8.60	9.40	1.50			Situation Wanted
	4.90	6.50	7.85	8.95	9.80	1.60	11 Garage and Yard Sales		III STATE OF THE COLUMN TO STATE OF THE STAT
	5.10	6.75	8.15	9.30	10.20	1.65
	5.30	7.00	8.45	9.65	10.60	1.70	12 Houses and Mobile Homes for Rent		the service services.
	5.50	7.25	8.75	10.00	11.00	1.75	13 Houses and Mobile Homes for Sale
Over 30 words	440	14	1	1		1 1 1 1	14 Lost and Found	28 Of	ther then mental	20"	25'	30-	35"	40"
9							all Order Form
							Phone no
1		2				1	44
6		7				8		10	0
11		12				13	14	15
16		17				18	19	20
21		22				23	24	25
26		27				28	29	30
							Amount paid
Total days

K-State netter knows ups, downs

Emtell finally seeing success

By Julie Thompson Collegian Reporter

Lean years of losing seasons usually develop with athletic teams. The uphill road to success can be long and tedious, but when progress begins, programs become built up.

The women's tennis team has experienced lean years and is now close to becoming the most successful tennis team in the history of the program. One K-State player, Annika Emtell, has weathered those ups and downs on a road that seems to be heading up.

Emtell, a senior, started playing tennis at K-State when the Wildcats went 4-12 in 1986. Last year, they finished 9-8, their first winning season. She remembers, however, those earlier losses in her career.

"I can remember the first time we went to Wichita to play them in a match and we went 0-9. Now we are recruiting and getting better players to beat them 9-0," Emtell said.

A native of Djursholm, Sweden, Emtell came to K-State by way of another Swedish player, Sigrid Ivarrson, who played last season for the 'Cats. Ivarrson is not on the team this year.

"I recruited Annika from Sigrid. They were doubles partners when they played in Sweden," coach Steve Bictau said. "When Annika first came here, she had most of the shots down, but could not consistently hit them. Now she is much more dependable with her shots."

For Bietau, having Emtell on the team also offers many other things to his squad.

"It is difficult to describe everything Annika does for the team. She is a very mature, intelligent individual," Bietau said. "She came back from the off-season in the best shape and her work ethics are probably the best we have on the team."

Emtell has played from No. 6 singles to No. 1. This fall, Beitau moved her down to No. 3-6 singles but believes she can play any position well.

"Annika doesn't have the athletic ability as maybe some of the others, but she does all the other things very good in competition. It really doesn't matter to her if she's playing No. 1 or No. 6 singles," Bietau said. "I have faith in her effort that she will put out the same kind of effort at No. 6 as she would at No.

For some players, competing at lower positions could create tension, but the opposite has happened for Emtell.

"I feel more comfortable playing in the lower positions, and I gain more confidence during matches," Emtell said. "Of course, I always strive to play as high up in the lineup as I can, but it's OK to play the lower ones."

Emtell seems to be coping well with the expectations placed on her, the team's only senior.

"I really don't feel the pressure this year. We are fortunate to have several outstanding players," she said. "Maybe the top two players are more outstanding, but, from there on, anyone can play at any

Emtell, who has been voted team captain two years in a row and was also named honorable mention on the Lee Jeans All-Big Eight Academic team last season, enjoys the camaraderie of the team the

"We see each other every day and everyone pushes each other to help get through drills. You really get to know one another on the team," she

Although graduation is still months away, Emtell knows she won't start a coaching career as some athletes do.

"I'm not interested in being a coach. I've been involved with tennis since I was nine years old at a tennis club in Sweden," she said. "When I have kids, I would love to support them if they are interested in tennis."

Annika Emtell, senior in marketing, is the only senior on the team this year and has been the team captain for two years. She has also earned honorable mention on the Lee Jeans All-Big Eight Academic team.

Irish top the polls; USC 2nd

By The Associated Press

Notre Dame and Southern California are within one step of a showdown between the nation's No. 1 and No. 2 college football teams while Arkansas made the Top Ten for the first time this season and Houston cracked the Top Twenty after an eight-year absence.

Houston, which last appeared in the Associated Press poll in September 1980, upped its record to 7-2 by defeating previously unbeaten Wyoming 34-10 Saturday night and dropping the Cowboys from 10th place to 16th. Colorado, No. 19 last week, fell out of the rankings by losing to No. 7 Nebraska 7-0.

In addition, Auburn and Oklahoma swapped places, Auburn rising from ninth to eighth and Oklahoma slipping from eighth to ninth.

Notre Dame, idle last weekend, received 40 of 59 first-place votes and 1,156 of a possible 1,180 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters. The 9-0-0 Irish, who play Penn State on Saturday, are No. 1 for the third consecutive week.

Southern Cal, a 50-0 winner over Arizona State, received 18 first-place votes and 1,131 points. The Trojans, also 9-0-0, are No. 2 for the third week in a row.

AP TOP 20 POLL

9-0-0 1,1561 Notre Dm. (40) USC (18) 9-0-0 1,1312 Miami, Fla. (1) 7-1-0 1,0603 W. Virginia 10-0-0 977 4 Florida St. 9-1-0 937 UCLA 9-1-0 866 Nebraska 10-1-0 805 Auburn 9-1-0 769 Oklahoma 9-1-0 750 8 Arkansas 10-0-0 657 11 LSU 7-2-0 524 12 12. 7-2-1 508 13 Michigan Oklahoma St. 7-2-0 464 14 Syracuse 8-1-0 436 15 8-2-0 377 16 Clemson Wyoming 10-1-0 223 10 Houston 7-2-0 207 — Alabama 7-2-0 192 18 Wash. State 7-3-0 122 20 20. Georgia 7-3-0 57 17 Others receiving votes: Colorado 50,

Army 42, Brigham Young 16, Michigan St. 15, South Carolina 14, Pittsburgh 11, Southern Mississippi 10, Texas-El paso 8, Hawaii 3, Arizona 3 and Texas

Sanders should go pick up his Heisman

CHRIS HAYS Sports Editor

If Oklahoma State running back Barry Sanders does not win the Heisman Trophy Dec. 3 at New York's Downtown Athletic Club, a complete and total injustice will be done.

And, after Sanders' performance against Kansas on Saturday, he just may have started gaining some votes from the major media markets NCAA Division I-A career. After which, earlier in the year, seemed to be leaning toward UCLA quarterback Troy Aikman.

Yeah, you remember Aikman the guy who couldn't even crack the starting lineup at Oklahoma and then, when he finally did get a chance to play, the Sooners lost to KU, 28-11, in 1984. That, among other things, finally sent him off to the West Coast after the 1985 season.

Consider what Sanders did to KU. In the first half alone he had four touchdowns and 218 yards rushing. He wound up with one more score and a total of 312 rushing yards. That was Sanders' third 300-yard rushing game of the season. No person has ever had more than one in his entire that performance against KU, Sanders was named, for a record sixth time in a season, the Big Eight Player yards (three times). of the Week on Monday.

And Sanders' assault on the NCAA, Big Eight and OSU record books just has been phenomenal this season. He has already broken or tied seven NCAA records and is within reach of no fewer than nine more with two games remaining on the Cowboys' schedule.

In just nine games, Sanders has established NCAA records for: ■ Most consecutive games scor- rushing in a season. Sanders has ing two or more touchdowns in a sea-

 Most yards gained in five consecutive games — 1,141.

Most 300-yard rushing performances in career and season — 3. ■ Longest kickoff return — 100

Most touchdowns scored in a season — 31.

Most points scored in a season

-186.Most games scoring two or more touchdowns in a season - 9 (tied with Mike Rozier and Lydell And, with two games left, he needs just 340 yards to break Marcus Allen's NCAA record of 2,342 yards

What about Aikman's numbers? He is just the third-rated passer in the nation. Sanders is leading the nation in his specialty by a whopping 61 yards per game. Aikman has thrown for 2,282 yards. Sanders, who has played one game less than Aikman, is just 279 yards behind him, and Sanders got his yardage the hard way.

It didn't take long for K-State coach Stan Parrish to acknowledge how good Sanders is. Following the Wildcats' game with OSU, Parrish said that he thought his players did a good job on the Heisman candidate, but then he asked how many yards Sanders had. "320," replied a reporter. "He had 320 yards?" Parrish repeated three times. "Well, now I know that he is the best in the nation." But what Sanders doesn't have going for him is going to school in Stillwater, Okla. - not exactly a bigtime media outlet. And, let's face it. To win the Heisman, he is going to need a lot of hype.

That's just what the OSU sports information department was trying to accomplish last week. In a last-ditch campaign on behalf of Sanders, the Cowboys' SID sent out packets on Sanders which included full-color posters of the Wichita junior.

Oh, yes. That's another thing riding against Sanders — he is just a junior. With Aikman being a senior and some voters figuring that Sanders will get another chance at the Heisman next year, Aikman could get a lot more votes than he might

■ See COLUMN, Page 10

Poke star gets nod from NU's Osborne

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - As the only head coach to face both Troy Aikman and Barry Sanders this year, Nebraska's Tom Osborne speaks more knowledgeably than most on the subject of the Heisman Trophy

Osborne went into the season thinking he had a top candidate himself in senior quarterback Steve Taylor. But Taylor's chances have faded and Osborne is now beating the drum for the running back from Oklahoma

"I think Barry Sanders definitely deserves the Heisman," Osborne said Monday during the Big Eight's weekly teleconference with head

Aikman quarterbacked UCLA to a 41-28 victory over Nebraska this year for the Huskers' only loss. Sanders went over 200 yards although the Huskers whipped Oklahoma State 63-42 in a wild shootout.

"We played against Aikman, and he is a great player," Osborne said. "I know it can be hard for a guy from Stillwater, Okla., to win it. But Sanders, from all I've seen, is the best player. We think Sanders deserves the Heisman."

Not surprisingly, Pat Jones thinks he deserves it, too. What's more, the Oklahoma State head coach believes his relatively obscure junior running back is picking up momentum in his bid to overtake Aikman and USC quarterback Rodney Peete in Heisman balloting. But Jones and Sanders' other fans in the Midwest are worried that Peete and Aikman will benefit from their high-profile, much-televised programs in Southern California.

"I think he's the best player in college football and I'd like to think this award will be won between the white lines, on the playing field," Jones

Sports Briefly

One day left for Purdue tickets

Kansas State athletic ticket manager Carol Adolph has announced that the sale of student tickets for the Nov. 26 Purdue game will be cut off 4:30 p.m. Wednesday. Tickets can be purchased at the Aheam Ticket Office.

Duke tops preseason Top 20

Duke garnered 33 first-place votes and became the team that everyone else will be shooting for early on this season as it was voted No. 1 in the Associated Press preseason Top 20

Also in the Top 20, in order of votes received, were: Georgetown, Michigan, Louisville, Oklahoma, North Carolina, Iowa, Syracuse, Illinois, UNLV, Arizona, Villanova, Georgia Tech, Missouri, Florida, Florida State, Ohio State, N. Carolina State, Temple and Stanford.

Of the 54 teams receiving votes, Kansas State was mentioned on one ballot ranked 20th.

Angels name Rader manager

ANAHEIM, Calif. - Doug Rader, calling his new job a "dream opportunity," was named manager of the California Angels Monday.

Rader, 44, a former Texas Rangers' manager and Gold Glove-winning third baseman for the Houston Astros, worked as a scout for the Angels during the 1988 season.

Staff/Greg Vogel

Oklahoma State's Barry Sanders is leading the nation in rushing.

Ethiopian killed in racial attack

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore. - Civil rights groups expressed outrage Monday at the beating death of an Ethiopian man, apparently at the hands of white supremacist "skinheads," and said attacks by such groups have been growing nationwide.

Two other Ethiopian men were injured in the attack early Sunday by three young men who had shaved heads and wore military jackets.

Skinheads, bands of young toughs who espouse white supremacism and are prone to violence, have been linked to two other slayings nationwide, and a multitude of criminal acts against blacks, Asians, Jews and homosexuals.

"I think that what has happened is very tragic, the ultimate manifestation of racial hatred," said Avel Gordly, associate executive they may be skinheads.

secretary of Portland's American Friends Service Committee, which works for peace and social justice issues.

Gordly, who also is a member of the Black United Front of Oregon Inc., called for elected officials to put all their resources to work on stopping such attacks.

"We need to hear that these acts will not be tolerated and that the perpetrators will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law," she

Herman Brame, executive assistant for the Black United Fund, said local black leaders were discussing ways to exert pressure on white-supremacist

Police spokesman Dave Simpson said Monday that investigators had no leads in finding the men who attacked Mulugeta Ser-aw, 27, Wondwosen Tesfaye, 24, and Tilahule Antneh, 31. He said

Police find 2 more bodies at house

By The Associated Press

SACRAMENTO, Calif. - Detectives using backhoes and steel probes dug up a sixth and seventh body Monday from the yard of a rooming house whose missing landlady once said she took in elderly boarders as a way to repay society.

The sixth and seventh corpses unidentified like the others - were discovered shortly after digging resumed Monday morning.

The sixth corpse was "wrapped in some type of clothing," and buried in a shallow grave under a shed, said police Sgt. Bob Burns. The seventh was found Monday afternoon, by searchers using a backhoe, under a flower bed in the front yard, said Lt. Joe Enloe.

The cause of death was not immediately known.

On Monday, 200 spectators watched from behind police lines as investigators worked at the grounds of the home. Authorities say there could be eight bodies buried.

Burns said police are still searching for the landlady, Dorothea Montalvo Puente, 59. "Our first priority is to get her into custody," he said.

Burns said investigators were told she ran a board and care home eight or nine years ago about eight blocks away, and authorities were interviewing tenants and neighbors there. There were no immediate plans to dig at that property, Burns added.

Authorities issued an all-points bulletin for Puente, who disappeared Friday after detectives interviewed her for several hours and released her for lack of evidence.

Authorities believe the victims, apparently all low-income elderly people and all residents of the eightroom Victorian home downtown were killed for their Social Security checks. Enloe said the payments continued to be sent to them after their disappearances but that someone else fradulently cashed their checks. On Monday, detectives planned to examine Puente's bank records, Enloe

Police were led to the house after neighbors reported that a friend had been missing since August, and a social worker said some of her clients were missing.

Burns said police planned to get a search warrant for the home, which is sealed, later Monday.

Enloe said the means of death could not be determined until autopsies were performed. Evidence linking Puente to the deaths was found in the graves, said Enloc, but he declined to give details.

A social worker familiar with the rooming house described the residents as elderly people on fixed incomes with few relatives.

The case worker, Peggy Nickerson, told police that Puente had come to her in 1986, offering lodging. Nickerson said she referred 19 clients to the house during the last two years.

"She (Puente) was the best the system had to offer. She said she was a widow and had a big house, and she said it was her time to give back to other people. ... That was her story and I didn't have any reason to doubt her," Nickerson said. "I deal with a transient population and it's not unusual for people to be staying at a place and just pick up and leave."

Several neighbors periodically complained of a stench from the yard that smelled like dead animals. Puente told them it was a fish emulsion used as fertilizer, they said.

"It struck me that the tomato plants in the yard were doing beautifully,' said Vera Smith, a worker for Catholic Social Services who visited a man staying at the home. "The whole place was smothered. I was tempted to go and pick one." In 1982, Puente was convicted of drugging and robbing people in bars, and sentenced to a five-year term. She was paroled after 21/2 years, said Christine May, a spokeswoman for the state Corrections Department. On Sunday, police arrested John McCauley, 59, a resident of the house, on suspicion of being an accessory after the fact to homicide. He was in custody in Sacramento County jail.

Authorities believe McCauley assisted Puente after the slayings, and that she may have arranged for others to dig the victims' graves, police said. "We do not believe that this could have been done solely by herself," Enloe said.

400 to attend Swine

By Kelly Campbell Collegian Reporter

The Kansas Pork Producers Council expects more than 400 agribusinessmen and pork producers to attend K-State's Swine Day and the council's annual meeting Wednesday and Thursday at the Manhattan Holiday Inn & Holidome.

The event includes a trade show featuring 55 exhibitors representing animal health care products, insurance, computer software, livestock equipment and feeds, said Linda Pease of the Kansas Pork Producers

Topics for the council's membership meeting, scheduled for Wednesday, include pseudorabies eradication, swine identification and animal welfare issues, Pease said.

These are timely subjects, said Joe Hancock, associate professor of animal sciences and industry. Pseudorabies is an acute, often fatal disease that affects the respiratory and nervous systems of livestock. It is close to epidemic proportions in the United States, he said. There is a lot of controversy over the best method to eradicate the disease, Hancock said.

Some people are proposing eradication of herds that test positive and others want a vaccination policy. There are different laws in different states and there are problems with trying to meet requirements when producers move hogs between states,

There is mounting pressure on the livestock industry from animal rights groups to improve animal welfare, Hancock said. Sweden recently passed an animal bill of rights, and in Massachusetts animal welfare legislation is being considered, he said.

The American Society of Animal care guidelines for research animals. Hancock said this movement will on a variety of topics pertaining to swine production, including feed technology, economic issues and breeding.

cipants are invited to Weber Hall for ties and updates on research in the swine industry, Hancock said. The swine unit is also conducting an open house for those interested in touring its facility, he said.

cil meeting is for members only, Pease said. However, the trade show have an impact on the livestock industry and is an important issue. Swine Day will feature workshops

Following the workshops, partiguided tours of the renovated facili-

The Kansas Pork Producers Coun-

'TIS THE SEASON TO PARTY!

You deserve to look your best for that special party! Rent your tuxedo from the store with a quality difference. Check out the holiday selection of bowties and cummerbunds!.

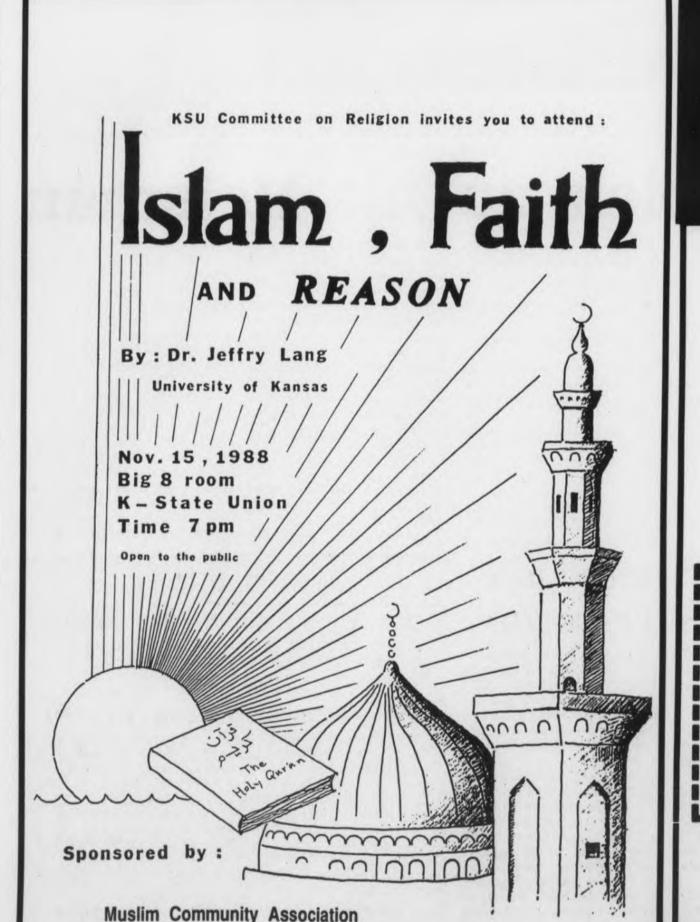

Be the center of attention of any function with a stylish party dress that glitters, sparkles, and dazzles. Keep all eyes on you in a dress from Christine's!

776-7387

1223 Moro

M-S 10-5:30 p.m. Thurs. til 8 p.m.

Falsettos PIZZA 539-3830

DON'T FORGET! OUR PIZZAS ARE BUY 1 GET 1

FREE

every day (Not just Mondays)

We guarantee 30-minute delivery to your dorm, fraternity or sorority or

$3 OFF

with this coupon Expires Nov. 14, 1988 Buy one large one topping pizza for only delivered (Not valid with any other offer)

LESS!

1127 MORO IN AGGIEVILLE

Open 'til 2 a.m. Nightly

One day: 15 words or fewer, $2.50, 20 cents per word over 15; Two consecutive dates: 15 words or fewer, $3.50, 25 cents per word over 15; Three consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 cents per word over 15; Four consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.75, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $5.00, 40 cents per word over 15.

Classifieds are payable in advance unless client has an established account with Student Publications. adline is noon the day before publication; noon FRIDAY for Monday's paper.
Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the adver-tiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not alter the value of the ad.

Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103 or by calling 532-6555.

Display Classified Rates One day: $5.20 per inch; Three consecutive days: $5.00 per inch; Five consecutive days: $4.80 per inch; Ten consecutive days: $4.60 per inch. (Deadline is 4:30 p.m. two days before publication.)

Classified advertising is available only to those who do not disciminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex or ancestry.

Announcements

- ALL YOUR Mary Kay needs -skincare -glarnor -nails -gifts for all seasons. Floris Taylor, 539-2070. FLYING INTEREST you? For information on K-State Flying Club call Sam Knipp, 539-6193.
- GAY/LESBIAN? Write for Kansas/Missouri information Personally, PO Box 218, Daly City, CA 94016. Discreet, confidential. FOOD AND crafts for sale on Sunday, Nov. 20, noon-
- 7p.m., 1021 Denison. Mennonite Fellowship,
- PERMS: $19.95 includes cut and style. Tan 10 sessions $18. Telephone 776-1330.
- ISLAM, FAITH and reason by Dr. Jeffry Lang from University of Kansas. Union Big 8, Nov. 15 at 7p.m., open to public.

SPRING BREAK '891 Reservations Available Now

The same and a second property of the second

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, TX from $149" Sheraton/Holiday Inn/Gulf View STEAMBOAT, CO

Shadow Run/Overlook DAYTONA BEACH, FL from $118' Texan Mote

MUSTANG ISLAND, TX from $136 Port Royal Condos HILTON HEAD ISLAND, SC 1107

Hilton Head Beach Condos Don't Wait Until It's Too Late!

Call Toll Free Today 1-800-321-5911

*Depending on Break dates & length of stay

99° Taco COINTON BUFFET

4-7 p.m. (FILIVIB 418 Poyntz 2 Fer 1 Drinks

MONDAY, GUN and Knife show, Nov. 19th, 9a.m.-5p.m., Nov. 20th, 9a.m. 4p.m. National Guard Armory at Manhattan airport. Buy, sell, trade.

Buy, Sell or Trade

in Collegian Classifieds

Information, 1-922-6979.

is coming Expressly for you!!

Something

Don't Forget HOME for your movies. 537-1115 Village Plaza Shopping Center

SKI THE Best This Year, Ski Breckenridgelli Jan. 1st-7th or Jan 8th- 14th, prices include lodging, lifts, parties, etc... $205 land only, $249 roundtrip transportation. Deluxe condominiums with jacuzzi, kitchen and more, one block from ski liftil Contact: Cary Hassell 539-7647 or Dan Danitschek 539-6397. Hurryl Limited!

THE VW doctor will keep your bug healthy and save you SS at J&L Auto Service, 1-494-2388, seven minutes east. Repairs and salvage.

WANTED— 100 overweight people to try herbal weight control program. No drugs, no exercise. Doctor recommended. 100% guaranteed. 776-5114,

2 Apartments—Furnished

APARTMENT FOR one person, one and one-half blocks east of City Park. 539-5778.

AVAILABLE JAN. 1, large two-bedroom apartment, four blocks south of campus, west edge City Park. No children or pets. $260 plus electric. 776-6396.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM apartment. Water, trash, two-thirds gas paid. Laundry facilities. Nice for graduate student or couple, $260. Available Dec. 15 or Jan. 1, 539-2482 after 4p.m.

NOW IS the time to rent for next semester. One-, two- or three-bedroom apartments. Nice, close to campus Not in complex. Low utilities. No pets. Call

3 Apartments—Unfurnished

JAN. 1, two-bedroom, large, attractive, patio apartment walking distance campus. One and one-half baths, washer, dryer connections. Really nice large apartment in choice location. $360 including carport. 537-4179 or 776-2462, evenings of

MOVING TO K.C. after the semester? We need subleasers! Beautiful two-bedroom, two-bath, full size washer and dryer in apartment, fireplace, balcony, 95th and 435. Chesapeake Estates. Call (913)888-3587, leave number and name if no

NICE EFFICIENCY apartment available Dec. 1st. $185/ month, heating paid. Please call 539-0555 ext. 30. After 5p.m. call 776-3415.

4 Automobiles for Sale

- 1975 KANNBACK Vega, excellent condition, very reliable transportation, 86k, best offer. Call
- 1981 PONTIAC Pheonix, four-cylinder, 83,000 miles, cassette. $850. 537-3772.
- CAN YOU buy jeeps, cars, 4x4s seized in drug raids for under $100? Call for facts today, (602)837-3401 ext 744.
- MUST SELL: Dodge Ornni 1979 and Toyota Corolla 1978. Best offer, Call 537-1583 or stop by 1200 Bluemont #2.
- WILL ACCEPT sealed bids until Nov. 30, 1988 on 1987 Toyota pickup. Long bed, extra cab, five-speed, AM/FM with a tape, cloth interior, silver, 38,000 miles, in excellent shape. May be seen by appointment only. 8a.m.- 4p.m., Monday- Friday. Phone

8 Computers

COMMODORE 128, color monitor complete with Sei kosha printer and some software $675, negotiable.

Bloom County

C'MON, JEFF.

YOU'RE A GREAT

TAXIDERMIST!

NO.NO... I

NEED A CAREER

CHANGE.

POOR OL' BILL THE LEFT FOR HIM NOW ?

CAT ... WHAT IS THERE

By Berke Breathed

By Jim Davis

Peanuts

TICKET SAYS, KID., SIT DOWN OVER THERE!

I DON'T CARE WHAT YOUR

YOU, TOO! SIT WHERE

YES MA'AM .. THIS

QM MS (4½ dozen), $1.25 each. Black nylon no. QM NY (15), $2.25 each. Call 532-6555 or come by

ENITH

PERSONAL COMPUTERS Authorized Warranty Service

> also servicing · PC compatibles & printers · Televisions & VCRs

MIDWEST SERVICES

9 Employment

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such "employment opportunity" with reasonable caution.

ATTENTION- HIRINGI Government jobs- your area. $17,840- $69,485. Call (602)838-8885 ext. J-1797.

BARTENDER WITH experience and references. Apply in person Tuesday and Wednesday between 2 and 5p.m. Ask for Michael. Hibachi Hut, 608 N. 12th.

BARTENDERS, WAITRESSES needed. Apply between 5:30 and 6:30p.m., Brother's CASHIERS AND waitpersons, Lone Star Cafe. Apply in person between 2 and 5p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday. Ask for Michael. 606 N. 12th. CONSCIENTIOUS, THOROUGH, accurate, depend able part-time secretary- bookkeeper needed 20-25 hours per week. Typing 60 words per minute with word processing experience required. Send re-sume to: P.O. Box 1087, Manhattan, KS 66502.

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, Juniors: Train in the summer to become a Marine Corps Officer after graduation. Aviation available. Call collect (913)841-1821.

GRAIN STORAGE Biologist, Research Associate, fulltime, temporary, continuing annual appointment based upon availability of funds, Department of Grain Science and Industry, Food and Feed Grains Institute. Opportunity for temporary duty assignments in developing countries. Would function as a grain storage plant pathologist/ microbiologist inde-pendently and as a team member of multi-discipline staff groups. Involves conducting applied research, training and advising foreign nationals of USAID cooperating countries in planning and developing viable grain storage management programs for reducing food losses. Required: PhD in Plant Pathology, or Microbiology with specialization in postharvest grain technology. Desirable: Academic teaching and research experience with emphasis on mycological problems. Knowledge of French and/ or Spanish. Protessional experience in developing countries. Salary: Commensurate with total academic training and experience. Send resume, academic records, and names of three referrals to be contacted to: Dr. Charles W. Deyoe, Director, be contacted to: Dr. Charles W. Deyce, Director, Food and Feed Grains Institute, Kansas State University, Shellenberger Hall, Manhattan, KS 66506. Deadline for applications is Nov. 30, 1988. Kansas State University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employe

IF YOU would like a full- or part-time job earning $$$ and free needlecrafts. Call Shelley at 537-3846.

LOCAL FINANCIAL Institution seeking part-time new accounts representative, 9a.m.- noon, three Satur days a month. Must be personable and enjoy working with the public prior banking experience preferred. If interested, call Sue Carlson, 537-0200.

position. Must have experience on the MacIntosh HyperCard. Contact Kansas Careers, 304 Fairchild Hall for application. Applications close Nov. 18, 1988. KSU is an Equal Opportunity Affirmative

MILLING TECHNICIAN, Instructor, temporary, with continuing annual appointments based on satisfac tory performance and availability of funds. Duties will involve instruction in short courses and other training programs offered through the International Grains Program in the milling and grain processing Industries. Will also include some teaching and esearch responsibilities in the grain science program. Activities may include foreign travel to provide training and consultation to foreign grain process-ing and milling industries. Such consultation would include flour milling, grain processing, grain hand-ling, grain quality and discussion of the milling and id-use properties of U.S. wheat. Research activi-is would be associated with the milling qualities of U.S. wheats and their utilization, Required: Industry experience in wheat and grain processing with background in milling production and or managent. A PhD degree in or related to grain processing required or a willingness to pursue a PhD in an area in or closely related to grain processing. Salary: Commensurate with training and experience. Send: Resume, transcripts of academic work, and at least three letters of recommendation to: Director, International Grains Program, Kansas State University, Shellenberger Hall, Manhattan, KS 66506, Kansas State University is an Equal Opportunity Affirmative Action Employer

NANNY/ MOTHER'S help: Responsible person to help care for two boys five, three and one infant girl. Own room, T.V., references required, non-smoker pre-ferred. Coastal town, 35 minutes to New York City. Call collect (914)834-6476.

NANNY OPPORTUNITIES "Chicago- toddler- $300 week" "Dallas- two children- $185/ week" 'San Francisco- two boys- $150/ week" 'New York-newborn- $250/ week" 'Philadelphia and Europe-$200/ week*. One-year commitment. Many positions available. Call 1-800-937-NANI.

OVERSEAS JOBS. $900- $2,000 month. Summer year-round, all countries, all fields, free information. Write IJC, P.O. Box 52-KS02, Corona Del Mar, CA PAY DAYI Beginning salary $3.60/ hour. All shifts for waiter and waitresses; Hotline server and porter Monday, Wednesday, Friday 10:20a.m.- 2p.m. Apply now at K-State Union Food Service for ning fall positions. Apply early for spring semester when you have your spring schedule. We offer student pay plan, job variety, and centrally located work place. We require that you must be honest, reliable and display a sense of urgency Food Handler's Card a must.

PEACE CORPS Campus Recruiter. Graduate assistantship available. Part-time (20 hours). Returned Peace Corps volunteer preferred. Contact Dr. Jorns, Waters 108. 532-5714.

RESORT HOTELS, Cruiselines, airlines and amusement parks, Now accepting applications for sum-mer jobs, internships and career positions. For more information and an application write: National Collegiate Recreation Service, P.O. Box 8074, Hilton Head, SC 29938.

SKI COLORADOI $25/ night for two. Ten cozy log cabins/ kitchens, some fireplaces. Gameroom/ fireplace, HBO, pool table, sauna. Fish, cross-country ski. Ski Winter Park, Silver Creek. Mountain Lakes Lodge. Brochure/ reservations - Grand Lake. CO 1-303-627-8448. Call today!

STUDENT SECRETARY/ receptionist: Telephone and typing skills required, computer experience in WordPerfect, Lotus and/ or dBase desirable. Applications are available at the Recreational Services Administrative Office from 8a.m.- 5p.m. Application deadline is Thursday, Nov. 17 at 5p.m.

STUDENTS NEEDED for general labor- moving, hauling, roofing, construction, etc. Four-hour blocks in rnorning, $4 per hour. Apply in person at Dykstra Hall personnel office. For questions call Rebecca or Roberta, 532-6373. SUMMER JOBS outdoors. Over 5,000 openings. Na-tional parks, forests, fire crews. Send stamp for free details. 113 E. Wyoming, Kalispell, MT 59901.

TUTORS FOR University tutoring program. Majors in math, science, business encouraged to apply, KSU students, 3.0 GPA, flexible hours, $4/ hour. Apply: Educational Supportive Services, 134 Derby Food Center, 532-5642. Applications due Nov. 22. KSU is AA/EE Employer

12 Houses/Mobile Homes for Rent

TWO-BEDROOM, main floor duplex, eat-in kitchen, hardwood floors, off-street parking, walk to KSU. Available Jan. 1, $345. 776-6063.

13 Houses/Mobile Homes for Sale 1972 12x60, furnished/ unfurnished, new paint, central air, washer, dryer, waterbed, reasonable. 1977 WINSOR. 14x75, two-car garage, insulated shop redwood deck. All on three-quarters acre. Must see to appreciate. 1-494-8484.

14 Lost and Found

LOST DOG: Red and white pointer, answers to "Red." Please call Brad at 537-1825.

15 Miscellaneous Merchandise

Hayes House of Music

Guitar Strings & Drumsticks Buy 1 Set, Get a 2nd Set 1/2 Price

327 Poyntz 776-7983

30% OFF Salel On all comic books! Manhattan Coins 1130 Laramie, 539-1184.

DESK, SWIVEL desk chairs, beds, chest, couch coffee tables, end tables, misc. antique furniture. 776-9705. ELECTRONIC PORTABLE typewriter. Many automatic features including correction memory. Nearly new $150. 539-9440, evenings. GOVERNMENT SURPLUSII New G.I. overshoes, com-bat boots and safety-toe boots, wool (blankets, gloves, socks and mittens). Field jackets, overcoats, carnouflage clothing. Also Carharit work-wear. Monday-Saturday 9a.m.- 5p.m. Open Sun-days till Christmas noon-4p.m. St. Marys Surplus days till Christmas noon- 4p.m. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734.

ROUNDTRIP TICKET to Chicago over Thanksgiving break available. Call 537-4714 for information.

16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale

BICYCLE SALE, lay away for Christmas. Aggie Bike Station, Aggieville. (behind Hardee's).

FOR SALE: 21-inch red Rateigh mountain blke, brand new, Suntour shifting and braking. $350 or best offer. Weekdays call 539-5453, weekends

17 Musical Instruments

ELECTRIC GUITAR: Bently series 10 and Washburn 30-watt guitar amplifier. Excellent condition. $250. 776-3063.

IBANEZ DESTROYER Bass- $330, Roland TR505 Drum Machine- $250; Lotus Guitar- $140; Spectra 125A Amp- $250; all negotiable. Chris 539-1089.

18 Personals

CUTE LATIN girl with red sweater in Union cafeteria (Friday). Don't stare at me like that. I am available Seaton 162. Looks like you're built like a Housel" Would like to meet youl -Gotcha England LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT seeking Industrial Engineer- Susan, I don't know your last name! Help. Tom.

MARCUS- CONGRATS, we've made it a month. You're stuck with me forever now! Get psyched- one more week! Catch you at the Calico Inn!

TO THE girl who gave me a ride home from Bush-wacker's Saturday night: Can you tell me what happened that night? The drunk from Claffin

19 Pets and Pet Supplies

ADORABLE COCKER Spaniel puppy male, buff/ white AKC registered with shots. $75, 539-0373.

20 Professional Services

PREGNANT? BIRTHRIGHT can help. Free pregnancy test. Confidential. Call 537-9180, 103 S. Fourth St., Suite 25.

PROMPT ABORTION and contraceptive services in Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

22 Resume/Typing Services

ABOUT ANYTHING typed, editing and transcription services, reasonable rates, by professional secretary. 539-5998 after 5p.m. COMPLETE DATA processing services, term papers theses and dissertations, resumes. Laser jet printing. Call 537-4146.

COMPOSING RESUMES and letters is our specialty. We have been in business nine years and offer permanent computer storage. Contact the professional staff regarding our full line of services Resume Service, 343 Colorado Street. 537-7294

FAST TURNAROUND for all your word processing needs, see us. Resumes, letters, papers, theses, dissertations. Quality work guaranteed. Ross Secretarial Service, across from Kite's, 614 N. 12th.

PROCRASTINATORS AND those on the ball, for expert typing give us a call. 537-3166, message.

23 Roommate Wanted

MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartment, fireplace, low utilities. Close to campus. $145. 539-6219.

NEED ONE non-smoking male roommate to share three-bedroom apartment. $150/ month plus utilities. 539-5453.

NON-SMOKER TO share large three-bedroom house, close to campus plus the Ville. Starting in January Low rent. Call 776-6036. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share two-bedroom furn-

NON-SMOKING FEMALE wanted to share spacious house starting Jan. 1. Own bedroom, rent $117 plus one-third electricity, cable and phone. 539-5714. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share furnished two-bedroom. Cats allowed. Call Paula or Brenda,

ONE/ TWO females. Block from campus, behind Ville two bedrooms, one and one-half baths, partially furnished. Call 537-1268. Move in A.S.A.P.

RESPONSIBLE FEMALE roommate wanted: To share two-bedroom apartment, water, trash paid. Washer/ dryer in the apartment, fireplace, one and one-half bath. For more information, call 776-6349

ROOMMATE WANTED, female non-smoker to take over lease. Will share house with two roommates $133 a month plus utilities. For information call 776-9319 after 5p.m.

TWO ROOMMATES wanted one block from campus. Washer, dryer. $125/ month, one-fourth utilities, own rooms. 539-7709.

25 Sporting/Recreational Equipmen

WEIGHT TRAINING instruction. Body- Sculpturing, fitness, performance, bodybuilding. Three free sessions with consultation. Iron Concepts,

26 Sublease

SUBLEASE AVAILABLE for female, $175/ month plus one-half bills. Water, trash paid. Call 537-7380 after

SUBLEASE: TWO-BEDROOM, furnished, dishwasher,

28 Adoption

A CHILDLESS loving couple wishes to adopt white newborn. We will provide a warm wonderful and loving home. We are committed to being the best parents possible. Legal and confidential. Please call collect, Kelly and Ramiro, (201)376-0894. ADOPTION. A young happily married doctor and wife with much love and security wish to adopt a white baby to age two, all expenses paid, totally legal

LOVE-FILLED HOME needs the joy of a new baby to complete our very happy marriage. If you plan to place your baby for adoption, please consider us. Expenses paid, confidential, legal. Call collect, Claire, (303)422-1297.

Crossword

ACROSS 40 Tilt 43 Inactive 1 Lateen, 47 Religious 6 Buck for one holiday 5 Catch of 49 Jumper 7 Prefix

bird

heroine

for arm or able candles

9 Love god

muralist

10 Spanish

11 Makes

17 Health

19 Wrath

23 Ending

22 Fruit

lace resorts preserve

for mad

or red

8 Tall

50 Yearn perhaps 51 Donkey 8 Examine - -awake 52 Singer Logan (alert) 53 Palmer Greatest"

54 Water

DOWN

2 Verdi

Trade

heroine

3 Anagram

for side

4 Many are contacts

tester?

15 Arabian 55 Suppose gulf 16 Traveler's need 18 Staple of romance novels

20 Nuisances

21 Sea eagle

the day,

13 "The

14 Region

22 Jolt 23 Thicket 26 New Jersey county 30 - in the hole 31 Edge 32 Pasture sound 33 Faint 36 Kind of 39 Kentucky

bluegrass

music 38 French season

Solution time: 27 mins.

24 Wood sorrel 25 Footlike organ 26 Orchestra's

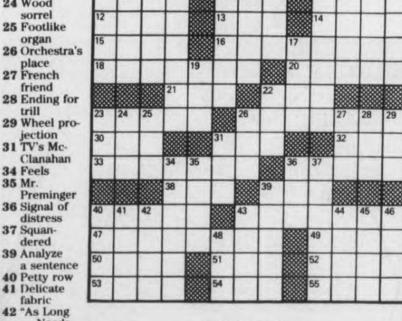

28 Ending for trill 29 Wheel projection 31 TV's Mc-

35 Mr. Preminger 36 Signal of distress 37 Squan-a sentence 40 Petty row 41 Delicate fabric 42 "As Long Needs Me" (song)

43 Mexican dollar 44 Captive of Hercules 45 Ave

46 Popular cheese

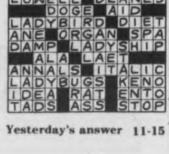

CRYPTOQUIP 11-15

LUYSVLDA ESUHD BUYBESE JHV GHLTBW JGLTB

EBLADBW Yesterday's Cryptoquip: NEIGHBORHOOD BUTCH-

Today's Cryptoquip clue: G equals H need

ER'S SAUSAGE IS GOOD BECAUSE HE MADE BOTH 48 Fermenting ENDS MEAT.

close to campus, lease through June, rent negotiable. Call 776-9846, leave message.

Please call Jamie collect at (714)680-4468. Thank

By Eugene Sheffer

Drugs

Co-op intentions, he said.

effectively than we do."

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

$2.1 billion during the first 10 years, but Burnley said the testing will save the same companies about $8.7 billion in increased productivity, accident reductions and medical cost

Besides requiring random checks,

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

history of support for child care at the University, despite the original

The bottom line is that there is a

"For alternatives, I don't know what (the committee) will come up with," Bolson said. "I doubt (any alternative) could run it more cost-problems are, and we're going to try to find a solution," Reagan said.

for-profit and non-profit off-campus child-care providers on the issues of availability, costs and conditions of Manhattan care centers. Sometime during the course of the deliberations, an open meeting will allow anyone concerned with the issue to Next the committee will hear from the regulations call for drug testing before employment, periodically during annual physicals if there is reasonable cause to suspect drug use and after an accident. The drugs covered by the tests are marijuana, cocaine, opiates, amphetamines and

The random-testing provision, which requires that at least 50 percent of a given workforce be tested during a single year, has attracted the make a presentation.

The committee plans to recommend one or more alternative ways to deal with child-care needs to the administration and Senate. The suggestions will include a financial summary and sources for the finances.

Request

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

child care is an area that will receive "I'm very sympathetic of what the some of the funds.

He said the committee is recommending that the co-op receive the amount requested for CHILDSHIPS.

The co-op submitted a separate application for funding to increase the salaries of its student employees.

"Our student salaries are among the lowest on campus," she said. The co-op is requesting $21,134 to pay 28 student salaries for one year.

Column

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 7 have if Sanders was also a senior. cause.

And let's just hope that Sanders doesn't wind up with the Terry Miller Syndrome. Miller, who also attended Oklahoma State, led the nation in rushing in 1977 but was shunned by the Heisman voters, who picked Texas running back Earl Campbell.

Oh yeah, Barry, one last thing. What is this ritual with you flipping the football to the closest official after every touchdown? Spike the damn thing. Put exclamation points on those 31 touchdowns. You earned

Accused

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 5

Leo Rossi, who plays one of the jeering onlookers, is gruesomely effective in capturing an unsympathetic male who views women as

By manipulating point-of-view, the director and author, Tom Topor, allows us to be both doubtful and sympathetic onlookers to this humanized statistic, Sarah Tobias.

The title of this film is an appropriate metaphor on several levels. It seems that the film is not only attempting to raise consciousness and break down the walls of the "rape myth," it also places the audience and society on trial.

LAST CHANCE! JANUARY SEMESTER BREAK FEAMBOAT L/BEAVER LODGING · LIFTS Hurry - Call today! 7TH ANNUAL PHARMATE Let's face it -you want to take a semester ski break to Colorado, but you're not sure who to call or where to go. Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the hotel or fully years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the hotel or fully years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the hotel or fully years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the hotel or fully years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the hotel or fully years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchase has the answer. All years of offering Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks... Sunchas fordable ski trips to the most popular destinations including hotel or fully equipped condominium (with kitchen) lodging for 5, 6 or 7 days including lift tickets, picnics, parties, all taxes, goodie bags, no damage deposit and experiequipped condominium (with kitchen) lodging for 5, 6 or 7 days including lift tickets, picnics, parties, all taxes, goodie bags, no damage deposit and experitickets, picnics, parties, all to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate Winter Ski Break '99 enced on site Sunchase stall to make sure your Collegiate with the sunch stall to make sure your Collegiate with the sunch stall to make sure your Collegiate with the sunch stall to make sure your Collegiate with the sunch stall to make sure your Collegiate with the sunch stall to make sure your Collegiate with the sunch stall to make sure your Collegiate with the sunch stall to make sure your Collegiate with the sunch stall the sunch stall to make sure your Collegiate with the sunch stall memories will last a lifetime! Not sure yet? Worried about driving in the snow? Finances a problem? Not sure yet? Worried about driving in the snow? Finances a problem? Ski group and we'll get you the bus! Ski group and we'll get you the bus! DON'T WORRY - BE HAPPY. Organize a ski group and we'll get you the bus! Consider flying - we'll get your round trip tickets ready! Need some time to pay the consider flying - we'll get your round trip tickets ready! And there's no additional for the trip - Sunchase accepts all major credit cards (and there's no additional for the trip - Sunchase accepts all major credit cards (and there's no additional for the trip - Sunchase accepts all major credit cards (and there's no additional for the trip - Sunchase accepts all major credit cards (and there's no additional for the trip - Sunchase accepts all major credit cards (and there's no additional for the trip - Sunchase accepts all major credit cards (and there's no additional for the trip - Sunchase accepts all major credit cards (and there's no additional for the trip - Sunchase accepts all major credit cards (and there's no additional for the trip - Sunchase accepts all major credit cards (and there's no additional for the trip - Sunchase accepts all major credit cards (and there's no additional for the trip - Sunchase accepts all major credit cards (and there's no additional for the trip - Sunchase accepts all major credit cards (and there's no additional for the trip - Sunchase accepts and the trip - Sunchase acc for the trip - Sunchase accepts all major credit cards (and there's no additional charge for using the plastic). Steambost, Vall/Beaver Creek, Winter Park or Keystone. The hardest pair is choosing which destination to "conquer" this coming lanuary. is choosing which destination to "conquer" this coming January! Available space is limited - DON'T DELAY - call Sunchase TODAY for your complete color ski trip brochure with all the exciting details. Abaliable space is limited - DON 1 DELAY - call sunchase complete color ski trip brochure with all the exciting details Mg TOLL FREE INFORMATION AND RESERVATIONS sunchase tours

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

ard creation of an independent state in the West Bank and Gaza. The council meeting is called the "Intefadeh" session after the 11-monthold uprising among the 1.5 million Palestinians of the occupied lands.

The approval of the new political strategy implicitly recognizing Israel's right to exist marked a major victory for Arafat's campaign for a more moderate policy that would meet some of Washington's conditions for dealing with the PLO, attempting to build on the uprising.

Smoke

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Most of the information is picked up by friends or relatives of a smoker, he said.

Bill Arck, director of the academic assistance center, said smoking has decreased among college students. "It is almost incredibly low," he

Arck said he estimates the smoking student population at 11 percent or 12 percent because it is closely correlated with the percentage of marijuana use, which is at 9 percent for K-State students.

The Smokeout began in 1974 as a movement organized by Lynn R. Smith, editor of the Monticello Times, a Minnesota newspaper. Smith called her idea "D-Day" for "Don't Smoke Day." The idea quickly spread through Minnesota.

When it reached California in 1976, it became known as the Great American Smokeout. In 1977, it was observed nationwide for the first time and now it is recognized in countries around the world.

Hurry! Shop Today for Big Savings!

"Beeperless" Answerer TAD-245 By DUôFONE®

IIIIIII: E

loudest protests from the unions.

They argue that such tests constitute an invasion of privacy and have min-

The required testing programs will

Nearly 3 million long-distance truckers, including independent drivers and those that work directly for large trucking companies. Intercity

■ More than 538,000 aviation employees, including 50,000 commercial pilots, 80,000 flight attendants and 300,000 airline mechanics.

Air traffic controllers already are subject to similar testing bus drivers also must be tested.

imal benefit.

requirements.

cover:

Save $40

HALF

'88 Catalog Price 49.95

Dual Microcassettes

Don't miss important calls, don't miss 31% off! Use any Touch-Tone phone to play back messages, control major functions, or signal someone at home to answer the phone. Voice activated recording. #43-394

Big-Button Telephone ET-201 By Radio Shack

Desk or Wall

You can't miss! Big, bright orange buttons make dialing easy for fingers of all sizes and ages. Features convenient high/low/off ringer control and switchable Touch-Tone/ pulse dialing! #43-344

Digital-Effects VCR

'88 Catalog Price 499.95

Cut 30%—buy today before they're gone! 'Freeze" the "big play" for later viewing. Picture-in-picture, remote on-screen programming of 21-day/8-event timer. HQ. VHS. #16-651 Remote batteries extra

Compact Disc Player CD-2300 By Realistic

'88 Catalog

Low As $15 Per Month . Digital—the ultimate in stereo at 41% off!

Program the memory to play up to 15 selections in any sequence. Pushbutton repeat-play of one cut, programmed tracks or entire disc. #42-5006 40-Watt Booster/EQ

B&W Pocket LCD TV

PRICE! '88 Catalog Video Input for Price 159.95 Use as a Monitor

Picture won't wash out, even in sunlight! Light hood. #16-156 Batteries extra

Electronic Keyboard Concertmate*-700 By Realistic

Play music your way! Has sound sticks for drum sounds, 12 preset sounds, 12 88 Catalog Price 199.95 rhythms. #42-4007 Low As $15 Per Month .

Radar Detector Sale Road Patrol XK* By Micronta

Save

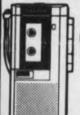

#22-1615

Separate tones for X and K band radar. FAST" circuitry cuts false alarms.

'88 Catalog Price 169.95

Micro Recorder Micro-25 By Realistic

20% Off

'88 Catalog Price 99.95 Voice-actuated recording. #14-1040

power output. Fader. #12-1954

By Realistic 7 Bands 40 watts total

Reg. 54.95

45%

Cut

SCT-45 By Realistic

: Save $50 Copy personal stereo

Dual-Cassette Deck

tapes, play two in sequence. #14-643

a

Reg. 129.95

Dual-Powered Calc EC-4014 By Radio Shack

Cut 39%

Battery/solar powered. 7 functions. With battery.

Buy Now for These Pre-Christmas Sale Prices

HQ VHS Camcorder Model 100 MovieCorder™ By Realistic

Save $200 Reg. 1299.00

Infrared auto-focusing, 6-1 power zoom lens. Includes hardcase. #16-801

Low-Light Low As $55 Per Month .

Recording

561⁹⁵

On-Screen-Programming

Model 21 By Realistic HQ VHS VCR Save

Wireless Remote Control Reg. Low As $15 Per Month • 349.95

OED 0ED

Buy today and catch the latest video movie releases! 14-day/6-event timer, Quick-Timer recording, remote. #16-510 Remote batteries extra Compact Stereo

Dual decks, AM/FM, turntable, 17"-high speakers. #13-1226 AM/FM Stereo Headset

By STEREO-MATE® Reg. 39.95 Weighs just 61/2 ounces, including batteries. #12-125 Batteries extra

100-Watt Rack Stereo System 1000 By Realistic

Save $150

Reg. 649.95 Low As $25 Per Month .

Dolby* B NR, spectrum analyzer, 12" woofers, synchro high-speed dubbing, EQ, AM/FM digital tuner. #13-1232

Portable CD Player CD-3200 By Realistic

Reg. 219.95 Low As $15 Per Month

Play Through Headphones Or Home Stereo System Digital stereo to go! 16-selection memory, auto-search. #42-5011

29-Key Melody-Maker Concertmate-350 By Realistic

de Griffen Super gift for young musicians! 100-note memory, 4 tones, 10 rhythms. #42-4008 Batteries extra

Tandy® 1000 HX Computer

Save $200

699.00

Reg. Separate

Tandy

1000 HX

With CM-5 Color Items 998.95 Monitor Only $798.95 #25-1053/1043 Just power and run-MS-DOS* is built in! Builtin 720K, 31/2" drive. 256K RAM. With Personal DeskMate* 2. Runs PC-compatible software. #25-1053 MS-DOS/Reg. TM Microsoft Corp.

Sale! Dot-Matrix Printer DMP 132 By Tandy

Save $110

Low As $15 Per Month +

Tandy and IBM® graphics printer emulations. Prints in draft and letter quality modes. Built-in tractor. #26-2814 IBM/Reg. TM IBM

Ch. 9 Priority Mobile CB TRC-474 By Realistic

Why drive "alone"? Now you can get 43% off the radio that gives you instant access to Emergency Ch. 9 for highway help in a hurry. #21-1539

Radio Shaek

2609 Anderson in Anderson Square Weekdays 9-6

Saturday 9-5 Closed Sunday

Art Interest

Chester Peters, who retired as vice president of student affairs in 1985, has been creating wooden sculptures for more than 30 years. See Page 5.

Weather

Decreasing cloudiness this morning. mostly sunny in the afternoon with the high 40 to 45. Mostly clear tonight, low 20 to 25. Mostly sunny Thursday, high 45 to 50.

*5-DIGIT 66612

Kansas State Historical Soc Attn: Newspaper Sect'n 120 West 10th Topeka, KS 66612

College after two successful years in the junior college ranks. See Page 9.

Wednesday

November 16, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 62

Kansas State Collegian

Topeka tornado leaves extensive damage

By Alan Wilds Collegian Reporter and Erwin Seba Senior Staff Writer

TOPEKA - Residents of southwest Topeka neighborhoods struck by a tornado Tuesday had no siren warning them of the tornado's approach, said Ken Burgett, director of emergency preparedness.

Burgett said lightning produced by the thunderstorm that spawned the tornado knocked out the siren on Burnett's Mound, which would have warned the area.

Officials at Stormont-Vail Regional Medical Center said 11 people were treated there for minor injuries.

Also, six injuries were reported at Topeka West High School, which was in the path of the tornado.

Red Cross officials sent volunteers late Tuesday afternoon to the area of Topeka hardest hit by the storm. The volunteers found 30 houses destroyed, seven others with major damage and about 20 with minor damage.

A police department spokesman said about 2,000 homes were without electrical service and Kansas Power and Light hoped to have the power restored by early today.

The tornado moved on a northeast track, first touching down at southwest 61st Street between 1:50 and 1:55 p.m.

Volunteer spotters were in place at 11 a.m., after the emergency preparedness office was alerted to the worsening weather situation by the National Weather Service.

"We thought the worst part of the storm had passed," Burgett said, "but it gained strength again."

Burgett-said a damage estimate was in the process of being completed.

Lt. Bud Brooks, public information officer with the Topeka Police Department, said about 60 police officers were deployed to deal with problems caused by the storm.

Brooks said Topeka Police were also being helped by officers of the Kansas Highway Patrol, the Shawnee County Sherriff's Office and Alcohol Beverage Control.

Most of the law enforcement agents were directing traffic away from damaged areas and patrolling for looters, Brooks said.

Damage to houses within an approximately 24-square block, which was declared a disaster area, ranged from a few broken windows and stripped shingles to roofs being torn off and entire houses being destroyed.

Topeka Police Department, who was controlling traffic at an intersection, said the police department's main objective at the time was to keep people out of the area who did not live there in order to avoid looting.

She said that residents received no warning of the tornado, but no major injuries had been reported, only minor glass cuts and bruises.

Carol Buckley, a Topeka nurse, was home during the storm. She said she was in the kitchen getting ready to start dinner when it was raining very hard and the electricity started going on and off.

"The wind started blowing so bad that it scared me," Buckley said. She said she then grabbed her 10-yearold son, who was in the living room, and ran downstairs.

"As soon as we got downstairs, it sounded like the whole house exploded," Buckley said.

and waited for the storm to pass, after her neighbors and survey the exten-

Miles Pulford had the middle sec-

"All of a sudden, debris started flying by our back yard. We went downstairs, and we heard a loud crack upstairs and the roof went off,"

"Some students were in class in the annex buildings when the roofs were torn off," Megibow said. Students were then moved into the gym and the basement below the school

He said the damage at the high school included a lot of downed power lines, broken windows on cars and severe damage to the roof of the main

Officer Julie Hoffman of the

"Hardly anybody was home at the time the tomado hit, and that is what saved everybody," Hoffman said.

Buckley said she hugged her son which she came upstairs to check on sive damage to her home.

tion of his roof tom out by the tornado. He said he was standing by his sliding glass door facing his back yard when the storm moved through.

Pulford said.

Topeka West High School also sustained damage from the storm. Mark Megibow, a Topeka West senior, was in class at the time. He said that after the power went off at about 2 p.m., the tornado hit the school without warning. cafeteria, Megibow said.

was done to southwest Topeka, but no serious injuries were reported.

At about the same time Tuesday, another tornado was reported in southeast Kansas, in Neosho County, and a storm damaged parts of neigh-

Onlookers watch while others clean Tuesday after a tornado touched down and destroyed several houses across the city. Extensive damage boring Montgomery County. The Kansas Highway Patrol said it had reports of property damage at seven locations in Neosho County, at least two of them from tornadoes. No injuries were reported and damage was estimated at $70,000. In Montgomery County, intense thunderstorms moved through the Independence area, injuring one man and leaving three severely damaged homes near the city. Minor damage was reported at other locations.

KSNT-TV meteorologist Tony Leita said that a tornado this late in the year is very uncommon. "Usually, cooler air is imbedded this time of

■ See TORNADO, Page 12 looks at her demolished house.

Marilyn Resnik, Topeka resident, is consoled by a friend as she Lightning knocked out the sirens, leaving Topekans unwarned.

Three Topeka residents rummage through what is left of the Severn home at 28th and Osborn during the aftermath of a tornado that ripped through the Topeka area Tuesday afternoon.

Senate allocates EOF funds

School of Journalism

misplaces application

By Susan L'Ecuyer Senior Staff Writer

Student Senate in a special session Tuesday wrung more than four hours of debate out of the issue of funding the KSU Childcare Cooperative, eventually approving the full amount of $51,093.50 requested by the co-op from the Educational Opportunity Fund.

The debate centered not only on the allocation of funds, but on the spirit of the guidelines established by the Board of Regents for the EOF.

The guidelines stated the allocations recommended by the special committee were "subject to modification and approval" by Senate.

The guidelines also required that the EOF committee invite proposals from campus departments and organizations as part of the allocation process. This being the initial year of the EOF, Senate wrestled with the question of setting a precedent regarding whether funds should be allocated to a group that did not originally request it.

The debate regarding the amendment introduced by Sen. Ira Bolden, junior in electrical engineering, called for decreasing the amount of money to $32,000 and placing it in an account for child care in general, not only for the co-op. The amendment would have required a special committee, possibly in the Office of Student Financial Assistance, to administer the child-care funds. Sen. Justin Sanders, graduate student in physics, supported the recom-

By The Collegian Staff

Journalism and Mass Communications did not get a chance to apply for part of the nearly $200,000 distributed by Student

Senate on Tuesday night in Education Opportunity Funds, Carol Oukrop, head of the school, said she did not see the packet sent out by the EOF committee until Friday. The deadline to return the application was Oct.

The A.Q. Miller School of mendation made by the EOF committee. He expressed distaste for the amendment and for the precedent it set, particularly because the regents specifically named child care as a designated priority of the EOF.

"I don't believe a quarter of the (EOF) budget going to child care is unreasonable," he said. "It makes

"I called Troy Lubbers and explained our situation," Oukrop said. "He was apologetic, but said he had sent out the applications two weeks earlier and there was

Troy Lubbers, student body president and chairman of the

EOF committee, said this was an

"At the time Carol called me, the applications had been out for about two weeks, and the journalism (school) was the only group to See FUNDING, Page 12

nothing he could do."

isolated incident.

more sense to allocate to a group that has specific plans for the money. I don't believe you should send it off to some nebulous fund."

Sen. Brenda Halinski, senior in elementary education, introduced an amendment to Bolden's that would require the funds to be earmarked for specific uses before being approved for the co-op.

Halinski said she was concerned that much of the generally allocated funds would be used for "expensive" infant care at the co-op, which charges $21 a day for infants, and would not be used for the less expensive care for older children.

"I think it's real stupid to fund infant care at this point," Halinski said. "We do need to subsidize infant care, but not at the co-op.'

Halinski referred to the infant service as a "Cadillac service" and said earmarking funds to go to the co-op would keep the parents who receive the childships from seeking the most expensive service available.

In other action, Senate passed an amendment refusing to grant funds for a part-time graduate assistant's position for the Graduate Student Council and approved another one ■ See SENATE, Page 12

Harsh penalties enforced for DUI laws, but the United States is not

By Theresa Luling Collegian Reporter

Drunk driving and its prevention go hand in hand. At least, many people believe they should.

"We need to see an attitude change, making drunk driving socially and legally unacceptable, to tackle the problem," said Bruce Beale, director of the Kansas Alcohol Safety Action Project.

"There is no federal drunk driving statute," he said. "But it is a popular legislative item in the states, changing from year to year.'

With the statute passed by Gov. Mike Hayden, Kansas now has one of the toughest laws in the United States concerning drunk drivers, he said. "An arrest results in mandatory jail time of 48 hours or 100 hours of community service," Beale said. "And a minimum fine of $200 is imposed."

the only country taking a tough stand. According to an article by the National Highway Traffic Safety

Administration, a drunk driving arrest in other parts of the world carries serious consequences. Here are some examples: ■ El Salvador — A first offense is the last offense. Drunk drivers are executed by a firing squad.

■ Australia — The names of the drivers are sent to the local newspapers and are printed under the heading "He's Drunk and in

■ Israel — A convicted drunk driver is sentenced to a mandatory two-year jail term, making the problem of drunk driving virtually non-existent. An Iraeli Embassy spokesman said there is about one drunk driving case in Israel each year. ■ Malaya — The convicted

States may be enacting tough
See DRINKING, Page 12

BRIEFLY

* ASSOCIATED PRESS

BRIEFLY AROUND WORLD

Arafat urges U.S. involvement

ALGIERS, Algeria - PLO chief Yasser Arafat said Tuesday it was up to the United States to make the next move toward Middle East peace now that the Palestinians have formed an independent state that implicitly recognizes Israel.

"The ball is now in the American court," Arafat said a few hours after the Palestine National Council, the PLO's parliament-in-exile, solemnly proclaimed Palestinian independence in a ceremony early Tuesday.

The declaration accepted U.N. Security Council Resolution 242, which implicitly recognizes Israel when it refers to the right of all countries in the region to live within secure and recognized borders.

The proclamation topped the list of issues taken up during the council's four-day special session in Algeria, which ended Tuesday. The 450-member council also voted to form a provisional government at a future date and pledged to restrict guerrilla operations to military targets in Israeli-occupied territories.

The council's move, largely symbolic and clearly aimed at capitalizing on the 11-month-old Palestinian uprising in Israelioccupied lands, sought to remove obstacles to U.S. and Israeli dealings with the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Soviets launch space shuttle

The Soviets broke the U.S. monopoly on reusable spacecraft Tuesday by launching their own space shuttle on a 31/2 -hour, unmanned orbital flight that President Mikhail S. Gorbachev hailed as a major coup for his country.

"The space plane has ushered in a new era in the history of Soviet space exploration," state-run Radio Moscow declared after the 100-ton Buran made two orbits, streaked earthward in a fireball and landed at a specially built runaway in Soviet Central Asia on its maiden mission.

The pilotless flight of the Buran - "snowstorm" in Russian - was a major success for the Soviet space program after a series of problems that included the near loss of cosmonauts on a joint Soviet-Afghan mission in September and loss of contact with a probe sent to Mars. The early morning launch of the Buran fastened to the back of the 198-foot-tall Energia booster rocket also ended a sevenyear U.S. monopoly on reusable spacecraft inaugurated by the launch of the shuttle Columbia in April 1981.

BRIEFLY ACROSS NATION

Reagan, Gorbachev to meet

WASHINGTON - President Reagan set limited goals Tuesday for his meeting early next month in New York with Soviet

But mindful of Gorbachev's escalation of their agenda in Iceland two years ago, Reagan said, "We'll just have to see what

Gorbachev to the U.N. General Assembly, would ease the transition to President-elect George Bush's assumption of office Jan.

Bush, who is already committed to pursuing a summit with

Gorbachev next year, will participate in the session and not see

The meeting, to be held in conjunction with a speech by President Mikhail S. Gorbachev, saying it would not be in the

In Washington, NASA congratulated the Soviets on the mission.

AIDS up most among women

WASHINGTON - With AIDS increasingly striking women, those women at highest risk of exposure should make extraordinary efforts to avoid contracting the deadly disease, even if that means possible abandonment, physical harm or never having children, a private study said Tuesday.

The report from the Women's Research & Education Institution, "The American Woman, 1988-1989," noted that AIDS is growing faster among women than among men or children.

Figures from the federal Centers for Disease Control show the number of AIDS cases rose 106.1 percent for women from 1987 to 1988, 49.5 percent for children and 31.4 percent for

To combat this rapid increase, the new report - a compilation of existing studies - said programs aimed at educating those most at risk are imperative, even if the consequence of knowledge is the serious disruption of lives.

The study said those most at risk are intravenous drug users and sexual partners of male intravenous drug users and bisexual

Yet many of these vulnerable women, the report said, don't know the danger they are in because they do not realize that the behavior of their sex partners puts them at high risk of contracting AIDS or acquired immune deficiency syndrome.

"For a woman to take the steps necessary to avoid sexual and perinatal transmission of AIDS may mean risking rejection, abandonment, even physical harm at the hands of her partner, and the disruption of sexual and/or family relationships," the report said. "In some cases, it may mean the decision not to

Worker weds over lunch hour

HOUSTON - Some people have elaborate weddings in gardens or banquet halls, and some have a ceremony with a gimmick - such as exchanging vows on horseback or while scuba

Johnny Hamblen and Kathryn Rogers, both 30, chose to tie the knot simply, at lunchtime, while guests clad in work clothes leaned on ladders, ate sandwiches and sipped sodas.

Hamblen, a union carpenter in the midst of setting up for a convention at the George R. Brown Convention Center in downtown Houston, snuck away from work shortly before noon

Monday to trade his jeans for a black suit with a boutonniere. Moments later, to the accompaniment of the sounds of saws and hammers, several friends sang "Here Comes the Bride" while Rogers walked through construction rubble to meet

Hamblen at a makeshift altar. Hamblen said it was the only way he could fit a wedding into his schedule.

"He has to go back to work this afternoon," his new wife explained.

FBI joins search for landlady

SACRAMENTO, Calif. - Federal agents joined the hunt Tuesday for the fugitive landlady of a rooming house where seven bodies were found, and investigators believe the woman may have fled to Nevada.

Detectives and workers with shovels were nearly finished excavating the grounds where the bodies - all apparently elderly and all unidentified - have been unearthed since Friday. Police Sgt. Bob Burns said the victims were apparently killed for their Social Security checks, and all had died since the beginning of the year.

The search for Dorothea Montalvo Puente focused on Las Vegas, Burns said.

"We're still looking for the suspect. She has not been located. She may have gone to see a relative in Las Vegas. We are investigating that. The Las Vegas police have not completed their investigation," he said.

අද අද අද අද අද අද අද අද අද

Horticulture Club Pecan Sale

Waters 41A 7:30-5:30

Union-1st floor-9:30-4:30 5 lb. Cracked Pecans

Proceeds go towards Club Scholarships and community projects

Nov. 17, 18

*Waters 41A

Enter from outside

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Campus organizations are encouraged to use Campus Bulletin. All announcements must be submitted by 11 a.m. one day prior to bulletin must be in by 11 a.m. Friday. However, publication is determined by the amount of space available on a first-come, first-serve basis and is not ensured. Information forms are available on the shelf outside Kedzie 118. Forms should be left in the box on the shelf after being filled out. All submissions must be signed and are subject to verification. Questions should be directed to the Collegian's campus editors in Kedzie 116.

KAPPA DELTA PI seniors: Last day to order honor cords is Friday. See Dr. French in Bluemont 206.

SINGLE PARENT/DISPLACED HOMEMAKERS scholarships available: Application forms available at Bluemont 407 or the Fenix Office, Leasure 03.

COORDINATED PROGRAM IN DIETETICS coordinated program in Dietetics is accepting applications for spring admission. Deadline is November 30. Application forms available from Dr. Deborah Canter, Justin Hall 104. Call 532-5521 for information.

TODAY

FRENCH CONVERSATION TABLE will meet at 11:45 a.m. in the Union Stateroom

GYMNASTICS CLUB will meet at 9 p.m.

BAKERY SCIENCE CLUB will meet at 6:30 a.m. in Shellenberger 101.

BAKERY SCIENCE CLUB will meet at

THURSDAY

PRE-VET CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in Trotter 201

BULLETIN FOR CAMPUS

CAMPUS CRUSADE FOR CHRIST will meet at 7 p.m. in Throckmorton 131.

SIGMA NU LITTLE SISTERS will meet at 5:30 p.m. at the house

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF CHEMI-CAL ENGINEERS will meet at 1:30 p.m. in Ackent 120.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS OPEN HOUSE COMMITTEE will meet at 6:30 p.m. in Cambells Distributor's "Eagle Nest". AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL wil

ICTHUS CHRISTIAN FELLOWHIP

meet at 7:30 p.m. in Union 207.

will meet at 8 p.m. in Union 212

SAILING CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in

FRIDAY

ALPHA PI MU will meet at 6:30 in the Durland library. The meeting is for members who are interviewing faculty.

POULTRY SCIENCE CLUB BBQ will meet at 6 p.m. at Call Hall for rides

Correction

Sandra Deyoe, senior in modern languages and one of two K-State finalists for the Rhodes scholarship, was listed in a story published Tues-3:30 p.m. in Shellenberger 101 for a bake sale. day with a misspelling in her name.

BRIEFLY A CAMPUS

Handbook policy changed

The committee responsible for revisions of the faculty handbook will not be making any changes in the handbook this spring, said Fred Appl, professor in mechanical engineering and chairman of the committee.

Appl said he became chairman of the five-member committee this fall. The committee decided to update the faculty handbook every two years, instead of every year. The handbook has been published in August of each year in order to notify faculty members of any changes in University policies.

The committee will make the next revisions for its publication within the next year and the handbook will be published in the fall of 1990. The committee will revise material that is no longer applicable because it is outdated or unnecessary, Appl

Sally Routson, coordinator of student activities and student government adviser, said the student handbook is revised every two years. Routson is solely responsible for revisions made in the student handbook.

In the spring I usually send out a notice of revisions and the people in charge note whatever policies have changed," she Routson said she uses the information she receives to decide what changes need to be made in the handbook.

the Soviet leader separately.

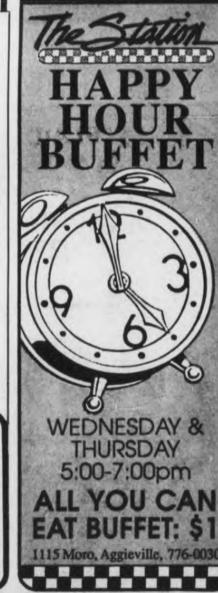

nature of a summit.

Cordovan & Black Sizes 8-12 B, D

$59.95

at "The Aggieville Alternative"-Charlies.

1800 Claflin

776-4111

අදුරු අදුරු අදුරු අදුරු අදුරු අදුරු $1.99 PITCHERS GUEST DJ's Pete Hanley and Angie Johnson & their bar directors • FREE MONEY (funny moncy) for auction 18 to enter - 21 to drink, 619 North 12th St., Aggieville, 539-979

Waters

Voting turnout down in student elections

By The Collegian Staff

More students from the College of Engineering voted in the general elections for Student Senate and student body president than from any of the other colleges.

With 21 percent of the total college enrollment voting, the numbers exceeded the College of Veterinary Medicine, which only had a voter turnout of 2 percent.

John Noordsy, associate dean of the College of Veterinary Medicine, said the difference in age and the busy class schedule of the veterinary students are important factors which affected voter turnout.

"Students in the (Veterinary Medicine) college are basically graduate students who are pinned down to 18 to 22 hours a semester," he said.

Other colleges had a wide range of turnout percentages: College of Agriculture, 19 percent; College of Architecture and Design, 11 percent; College of Arts and Sciences, 11 percent; College of Business Administration, 14 percent; College of Education, 12 percent; Graduate School, 3 percent; and College of 30 percent of all seniors voted.

Human Ecology, 14 percent.

Overall, 13 percent of students enrolled in the University voted in the general elections, a decrease of 1 percent from last year's elections.

"(The turnout) could have been better, but it was up to what we've had in the past," said Eva Chatterjee, chairwoman of the elections committee.

There is also a difference in the numbers of males and females voting in the election. While 14 percent of males voted, only 11 percent of females voted University-wide. Forty-six percent of the winning Senate candidates are male.

Living situations did not seem to make a great impact on the voter turnout. Students living in residence halls counted for 33 percent of the total vote, off-campus students had 34 percent of the total, and students living in greek houses constituted 33 percent of the overall votes.

The numbers of students voting from each class increased with year. Twenty percent of the freshman class voted, 22 percent of sophomores voted, 24 percent of juniors voted, and

Commission rejects Aggieville plan

By Angela Smith Collegian Reporter

The Manhattan City Commission on Tuesday rejected a request for streetscape improvements in Aggieville, and decided instead to have the city staff negotiate with the Aggieville Business Association, which had made the request, and with the architect providing the design for the project.

The commission rejected the original petition 5-0, and then passed the motion directing the staff to negotiate.

Architect Ken Ebert said before the commission will hear the one of the Aggieville apartment request again, it wants a contract negotiated for the funding of the design services and a revision of the district in which the streetscape improvements would be made.

The commission decided a revision was needed because of a conflict with apartment owners in the Aggieville area who did not wish to be a part of the project.

The original district proposed by the business association included some apartment complexes, causing at least two of the apartment owners to complain.

"We would get no benefit from (the project)," said Ruth Shrum, owners at the meeting.

She said her apartments are student housing, and she was shocked to see them included in the streetscape project district.

'We don't sell retail and would like to be excluded from this (proposed project)," Shrum said.

Mayor Dave Fiser also disagreed with the way the business association divided the districts.

"I would object to (the current proposal), and have it come back to us minus some of the lots in the petition," Fiser said. Commissioner Nancy Denning said, "I want the Aggieville Business Association to ... have a redefinition of the benefit district."

John Levin, Aggieville Beautification Committee co-chairman, said he was pleased with the deci-

"It was a friendly rejection in my interpretation," he said. "They invited us to come back with a new petition with different boundries of the benefit district."

sion made by the commissioners.

Levin said the commission's decision to have the proposal negotiated was a "good-faith motion in support of Aggieville."

Johnson Johnson

DISPOSALENS SYSTEM

Wednesday ONLY with coupon all you want at 99' each 11/23/88

FREE BACON CHEESE BURGER with purchase of Bacon Cheeseburger, Chef 1/2 fries & reg. drink exp. 11/27/88

1/4 Ib. CHEESEBURGERS

$1.59 up to 4 per coupon this week only Exp. 11/27/88

WEDNESDAY MEANS 60 MARGARITAS WELL DRINKS ALL DAY & NIGHT! * * RELAX ON OUR FAMOUS

SANTA CLAUS PATIO

APPEARANCES ·Sitcom: Married with Children (on Fox Network)

·Movies: Roxanne-Beverly Hills Cop II

·6 appearances on Johnny Carson (Tonight Show)

•2 appearances on Late Night with David Letterman

·Knots Landing ·Smothers Brothers

Suzanne Somers Triple Crown of Comedy-Showtime (airing this month)

Grill Special: Steak & Shrimp $3.95 539-9727 531 N. Manhattan

•reservations recommended but not necessary•

.. yours can too at our Optical Dispensary

Drs. Price, Young, Odle, and Horsch

Optometrists

537-1118

1119 Westloop Place

Collegian Classifieds Where K-State Shops

Dr. Willie says . . .

... Effective Immediately

Lafene Student Health Center is accepting VISA & MASTERCARD

for their services.

See the cashier's office at Lafene for further info.

Pitchers

•NO DRESS CODE •NO COVER CHARGE THE FINEST LITTLE TAVERN BY A DAM SITE 537-3133 RL 5

LAMBSWOOL SWEATERS 890 to 1090 Orig. to '32.

TARTAN PLAID SKIRTS & PANTS 2790 Orig. to '48

> TURTLENECKS 890 Orig. 16

Open Sundays 1-5 331 Poyntz Downtown Manhattan

Editorial

Kansas State Collegian Opinions ■ Wednesday, November 16, 1988

Unfair to compare all democracies with U.S.

his is the month of elections. Elections were held in Israel on the first of this month. November 8 was the day of judgement in the United States. Today, general elections are being held in Pakistan. And on November 21, Canadians go to polls.

In no other country is so much contingent upon the success of elections as it is in Pakistan. Not simply because these elections are the first free ones in almost 12 years, but because such elections, if successful, could determine the fate of the country for years to

Most of you might be wondering why I emphasize the success of elections, instead of success of certain candidates. It is my understanding that no other thing hurts a country, economically or politically, more than the absence of a legitimate rule of succession. Absence of such rule was one of the most important reasons for the demise of the Roman empire.

It is not very difficult to state a rule of succession, but it is extremely difficult to legitimize it. Especially in today's world, where people in one part of the world know more than ever before about people elsewhere in

The increasing role of the media in the world politics has definitely exerted more pressure toward the exercise of democratic principles. Increased knowledge about what good democracy brings to a country has invigorated the anti-apartheid movement in South Africa, has initiated the Solidarity movement in Poland, has prompted the reexamination of political systems in eastern bloc countries and has driven demand for democracy in newly independent countries to levels which parallel democracies in the advanced western world.

Unfortunately, democracy is not something which can be superficially imposed upon a country. Democracy is more like an immortal plant which sooner or later develops into a strong tree depending upon the political environment.

When people in newly independent countries observe democracies in the western people of the western world cannot take this women and then blacks were included in the

Commentary

SHEIKH FAISAL RAZZAQ

Collegian Columnist

fact into account when they criticize undemocratic practices in these countries.

A comparison between two countries which are on opposite ends of the same spectrum might make my point clear.

irst take the case of the United States. This country became independent in 1776. The constitution world, they demand democratic government ruled that the government be elected on on the same footing. This is synonymous democratic principles. The electorate first with planting a huge tree in an environment consisted of white population which owned a which could only nurture a plant. But people certain amount of property. As time passed, of these countries don't understand and the all white men, then white men as well as electorate. In short, the electoral base was broadened as the political awareness of different segments of the population increased.

Now consider a country like Pakistan which became independent in 1947. From the beginning of its independence, the electorate has consisted of all Pakistanis over the age of 21. In this case, the electoral base is broad, but not necessarily because everybody is politically conscious, but because the role model, the United States, has defined an electorate as such. Of course, the result is participation of people in the political process who could be easily manipulated by shrewd politicians, and that could lead to instability of even rightfully elected governments. The underlying assumption here is that the foreign rule over populations inhibits growth of political consciousness of the ruled, which is inter-related to more apparent disruption of economic growth and social welfare.

If Pakistan were to progress at the same pace as the United States in including women in the electorate, then Pakistani women will not be able to vote until the year 2091. Today, women are not only eligible to vote in Pakistan, but as the result of today's election it is very likely that a woman could be elected to the highest office in the government. Such an event has not occured in the United States in its entire history.

The question, however, is whether people will accept the outcome. The answer is not clear since the choice of electorate could be questioned as it has been in the past.

ue to the drive to adhere to democratic practices displayed by advanced western democracies, the underdeveloped countries (in the political sense) are forced to fly a jet before they learn to fly a paper plane. Fortunately, a crash does not end the journey, and certainly there comes a time when people in newly independent countries will realize the true value of democracy and learn to play according to its rules.

Today is another day for the people in Pakistan to demonstrate that they have learned these rules. I believe Pakistan has had its toll of nose dives and the politicians have ridden the learning curve. This is certainly not wishful thinking when I say that Pakistan is ready to cruise into years of economic prosperity and political stability.

New abortion pills need testing in U.S.

For years, drug producers have searched for a drug to remove unwanted fetuses from pregnant women. For even longer, women have used home remedies for this purpose, with little safety or success. Recently, two drugs have been accepted by European nations and China that could effectively and safely cause a pregnant woman to abort intentionally.

These drugs, rightfully called abortion pills, work by interfering with progesterone production. This hormone maintains an acceptable environment for the fetus to develop. When taken, these pills cause the uterine lining to detach and leave the body

The effectiveness of the pills closely rivals surgical abortion. Dutch researchers have found epostane to be 84 percent effective in pregnant women five to eight weeks pregnant. Other studies conclude that the French developed RU 486 is 95 percent effective on women during the first five weeks of pregnancy. Surgical abortion is only slightly more effective, with a 96 to 98 percent success rate.

Now that these pills are available, it is time that they should be clinically tested in the United States. If American researchers find that these pills are as safe and effective as other countries have found, the pills should be made available for American

However, these abortion pills should not be as easy to obtain as aspirin. An abortion pill is an alternative to a surgical abortion and should be treated in the same way. The same amount of preparatory care, before and after the treatment, should be used. There should also be strict control of the availability of

If abortions are to be performed, it is imperative that women seeking them be allowed to use the safest, most effective method available. Women should not be forced to use only one method of abortion because anti-abortionists object to easier abortions.

I THOUGHT HE WAS TAKING ALL THIS TOO WELL ...

Group aids international prisoners

Political violence not foreign to all students graduating K-State student told me recently that she was tempted by several jobs in the United States, but was torn between starting her career and visiting her parents overseas. I asked her why she couldn't do both. Her answer: "If I go home to see them, I may not live to come back." One of her friends at home had recently been taken from her dormitory and beaten to death. It was assumed at home that her murder was politically motivated, as she belonged to a political party which was officially out of favor during an unstable period of that country's government.

I have heard similar stories from students at K-State. One student recalled his experiences when he was under house arrest at a foreign university. He was isolated and tortured for more than a year without a trial. In this time, he was told daily to confess his crimes against the state. He later learned that a student had named him and other students who were under similar torture. Still another student, who hasn't experienced any direct persecution but knows of its existence at home, tells me that it's better not to express his opinion in editorials.

Why don't we read more accounts of human rights violations like these from K-State's population? In part, because those who could report such stories are afraid of being identified. They often feel unassured that freedoms of expression, association and other essential rights we take for granted are guaranteed to them here or when they return home. Some also think that if their story reaches print, it will be dismissed as a "foreign" problem — something that can't be changed in Manhattan.

Many people at K-State are aware of these stories. An increase in the number of people participating in Amnesty International indicates a desire in this community to address human rights abuse, an issue that is not foreign, but is international. To ignore the problem, particularly in an academic community where so many people come from, or travel to countries where abuses are well documented, Commentary DONNA SCHENCK-HAMLIN Guest Columnist is unconscionable. Universities have a special responsibility to ensure freedom of thought since there can be no intellectual progress without it.

Amnesty provides one means of reporting and opposing human rights abuses, both here and overseas. Amensty's founders recognized that in local situations where people are afraid to express their beliefs, only condemnation of abuses from the outside can rescue victims of authorized persecution. An international network based in London has been developed by Amnesty to obtain news of abuses and to collect an effective international voice of opposition. That voice comes from individual volunteers who actively use the very freedom of expression that is being denied to others by writing letters on their urrently, letters are being requested from Manhattan supporters on behalf of Walter Kania, a Czechoslovakian Prisoner of Conscience whose offense was to sign a human rights petition known as Charter 77. Kania's case, like those of all other Amnesty International Prisoners of Conscience, was researched thoroughly by Amnesty to determine that he never used or advocated violence to support his beliefs. His imprisonment since 1977 was extended on 1981 when he wrote a letter to Vienna requesting medical attention. He suffered two heart attacks before writing that letter, which was intercepted by authorities and interpreted as "preparing to damage the interests of the Republic abroad."

-State Amnesty members have written letters to authorities in Czechoslovakia requesting Kania's release and calling attention to his precarious health. Recently one writer from Manhattan received a rare response, from Kania himself, who had been temporarily released to a hospital. He writes: "There are times in life when one is ... full of despair and hopelessness, when all that is left is one's will to overcome one's difficulties. ... My health was such that I had already stopped believing I would ever be free. And in the midst of such conditions, a package arrived from someone completely unknown to me, helping me to deal with my troubles. You really cannot imagine at all ... what a great, and above all, moral support

"The strong and constant urge to see the unknown benefactor and warmly shake his hand helps one overcome many difficulties. No longer does one feel that life has lost its meaning.

"The boundless efforts and the tenacity of many fine people in many countries, of the friends from Charter 77 and of the American doctors from Helsinki Watch have led to my early release from prison. After 11 years, I have come home.'

Unfortunately, Kania's short reprieve is only temporary, and he will soon be reimprisoned to serve more years of his extended term. He anticipates little assistance from fellow citizens who risk the same punishment for expressing themselves on his behalf, but Amnesty believes that continuous letters from overseas will have a positive impact. Those of us who enjoy freedom of speech can put it to its best use by supporting Kania and others whose rights are denied.

Anyone wishing to compose or sign a letter on his behalf, or who wants more information about Amnesty, should stop by the Amnesty table Thursday in the Union, or attend the meeting on Saturday.

Editor's Note: Donna Schenck-Hamlin is an instructor for Farrell Library.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

EDITOR

	Lori Siegrist
NEWS EDITOR	Janet Swanson
EDITORIAL PAGE EDITOR	Jeff Schrag
PHOTO/GRAPHICS EDITOR	John La Barge
SPORTS EDITOR	Chris Hays
ADVERTISING MANAGER	Catherine Doud
	Susan L'Ecuyer, Scott Miller, Michael Nichols, Karla Redelsheimer, Chad L. Sanborn Jeff Schrag, Erwin Seba, Paula Selby, Robert R. Short, Mark Schmeller, Janet Swanson
tions Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhatta Monday and Thursday during sum	S 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publica- an, Kan. 66506. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the school year and irrer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. anges to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kan, 66506-7167.	anges to names state contegran, circulation bean, necess 100, names on the strip, man
News contributions will be acce	pted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116, if and classified disptay advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word adverd to (913) 532-6555.
	Kansas State Collegian Subscription Rates
One Semester (Fall or Spring)	$25
Two Semesters (Fall and Spring).	$45
Summer Session	$10
One Year (Fall, Spring and Summ	ner) to Student Publications, Kedzie Hall 103, Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kan. 66506.

Collegian Editorial Policies

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR are always encouraged. Those which pertain to matters of campus and/or public interest are especially encouraged, and are given the

Letters should be kept as brief as possible, preferably under 300 words. Those who cannot condense their opinions should consider submiting their letter in the form of a guest column. All letters are subject to editing for space, style and taste.

GUEST COLUMNS are also encouraged. The column should be no longer than two double-spaced, typed pages. If the submission is used as a column and not a letter to the editor, it will be accompanied by the author's photograph.

SEND SUBMISSIONS to the Collegian in Kedzie 116. UNSIGNED EDITORIALS represent the consensus opinion of the Collegian's editorial board. Opinion columns do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the Collegian management, Student Publications, Inc. or the newspaper staff in general.

2 men share art interest

Wood carving, painting fill spare time

By Eva Craig Collegian Reporter

Chester Peters and Robert Krause have more in common than a history of working at K-State. They both share an interest in art.

Peters, who retired from his position as vice president for student affairs in 1985, has created wooden sculptures for more than 30 years. He works with hard woods only, and has also done a few marble sculptures.

His home is laden with his carvings including "Hurricane Gilbert," which hangs next to his television.

"I got the idea one day when I was watching the news," Peters said.

Like all his works, the hurricane piece is abstract. It is composed of about 10 types of wood and forms a circle with an eye in the center.

Peters' studio, built three months after his retirement, looks like a home. It is a large open room with a bathroom and a smaller work and storage room to the right. A large circular fireplace occupies the center of the studio. The walls are covered with shelves full of his works.

On one wall a hodgepodge of pictures, plaques, awards, medals and a wooden plaque reading, "Vice President for Student Affairs" makes up what Peters calls his history.

His sculptures range from animal and human subjects to abstract themes such as communication and family structure.

"My wife has first dibs," Peters said. "Anything she wants, we keep around, but nothing is ever thrown away."

Peters uses his sculptures in speeches to illustrate concepts or ideas. Many of his works are also sold at arts and crafts festivals.

Six campus buildings house his sculptures, including the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex. The seven-foot, 300-pound figure entitled "Achievement" stands on the second floor of the complex.

"I can create anything I want. Each of my works has a mission," he said.

Krause, vice president for institutional advancement, paints watercolor landscapes for a hobby. His interest in the art began in high school.

"The high school I attended had a tremendous commercial art program, and I even thought about attending an art institute after graduation," he Krause, who has been at K-State since 1986, received a bachelor's degree in art and art education at Western Illinois University. It was there, while working with the residence hall system, that he decided to change his career goal.

He received his master's degree in college student personnel work at Michigan State University.

He still enjoys painting landscape watercolors, but does not have much time for the hobby.

Between 200 and 300 of his paintings and prints have been stored in Minnesota. He also sold a number of his paintings during his senior year of college.

Krause's works are usually of rugged terrain and involve a lot of sky and weather conditions, he said.

"The fall is my favorite time of year to paint, and I especially like the landscape of the country here in Kansas.

"I enjoy working out in the environment and watching light interact with the subject," he said. "Watercolor is always a challenge.

"Some year I would like to take a month off in the fall and go to the mountains and paint."

The state of the s

Staff/David Mayes

Chester Peters chisels a large piece of wood, which he is making on a commission. Peters, who retired from his position as vice president for student affairs in 1985, has created wooden sculptures for more than 30 years. He works with hard woods only and has also made a few marble sculptures.

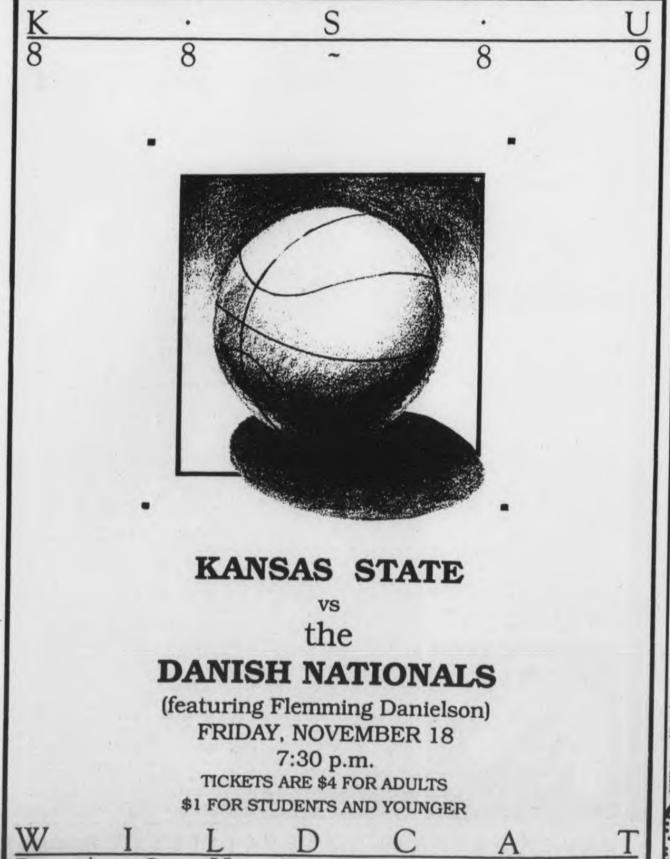

HOOP IT UP AT THE HYATT

Make the Hyatt your home court for the UMKC vs. K-State basketball game Saturday, Dec. 17 at Municipal Auditorium in downtown Kansas City. The Hyatt basketball package includes first class accommodations and two reserved seats for what's sure to be the hottest action in town! All for only $79 per night. Call 816-421-1234 today for reservations.

HYATT REGENCY CROWN CENTER

2345 McGEE STREET KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI 64108 USA

BREAKING NEW GROUND TO KEEP AN OLD PROMISE.

More than 30 years ago, we first broke ground for Memorial Hospital. And as we did so, we made a promise to our community.

We promised to bring to this area the most comprehensive health services possible. And we promised to expand these services as new techniques and new needs arose.

For more than 30 years, we have upheld our pledge. But today we find that to continue to keep our promise, we must once again break ground.

In the months to come, you'll be seeing some remarkable changes at Memorial Hospital. We'll be updating our admissions area, adding operating suites, expanding outpatient facilities, improving our emergency room, and generally, preparing our hospital for the next 30 years.

And when the changes are complete, you'll see a brand new Memorial Hospital . . .

Keeping a 30-year-old promise alive.

Memorial Hospital

We're working together for a healthier you.

1105 Sunset • Manhattan, KS 66502 • 913-776-3300

Navy recruiters target minorities

By Scot Dye Collegian Reporter

Navy personnel told members of the Black Student Union Tuesday night the Navy is trying to increase the number of its minority officers.

"We're trying to target the minorities on campuses to recruit them because the Navy is sort of deficient in minority officers, especially blacks," said Cmdr. Claven Williams, of the Navy Recruiting Command in Arlington, Va.

"We're trying to get a demographically balanced Navy. We're trying to get more minorities in, especially in the officers' corps," he said.

The Navy bases its desired percent of minority officers on the percent of minorities graduating from four-year colleges or universities, Williams said.

Nationally, about 5 percent of the students who graduate with four-year degrees are blacks. The Navy would like its percentage of minority officers to match that 5 percent.

It uses the percent of blacks graduating from colleges because a four-year degree is one of the prerequisites for gaining entry into the officer program, Williams

"Out of the (more than) 70,000 officers, we've had less than

Prime Time

Special

3-10 in. Pizzas

10.00

-Topping

PIZZA SHUTTLE

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

776-5577

2,500 blacks. We're talking 3.4 percent. For Hispanics we're talking 1.8 percent. So you see a very small percentage on either side," said Lt. Cynthia Kurtz, who works in the Recruiting Officer Management Orientation program.

Williams said that while the Navy is not meeting its desired percentage of minority officers, it is over-recruiting minority enlisted personnel.

The desired percent of minorities in the enlisted personnel is based on the percent of minorities in the total population.

"For the enlisted ranks, we looked at the general makeup of the population. (Blacks) make up about 12 percent. We presently have 14 percent (in the enlisted personnel) and are increasing," he

During the past two years, the Navy has received about 20 percent of its enlisted personnel from the minority population, Williams

If the Navy continues to enlist minority personnel at the same rate, minorities will constitute 30 percent of the Navy by 1990, he

The Navy is trying to increase the number of minority officers in order to balance the number of minority officers with the number of enlisted personnel, Williams

Everyday

Two-Fers

2-10 in. pizzas

2—Toppings

2-Cokes $8.00

776-5577

State agencies' budgets may be cut

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA - A top adviser to Gov. Mike Hayden warned state agencies Tuesday that they should expect their wish lists to get trimmed back, despite a state treasury bulging with unexpected revenues.

Budget Director Michael O'Keefe said the state cannot afford to finance all of the agencies requests and consider returning the remainder of a socalled income tax windfall at the same time. The windfall was an increase in income tax revenues generated by changes in the federal tax code in 1986.

O'Keefe released figures showing that state agencies have total spending requests of almost $4.93 billion - an amount that would represent a 13.3 percent increase in their budgets for the next fiscal year, if their requests for supplemental funds for the current budget year are met. The budget director made the figures available at a news conference.

That level of spending would result in an ending balance of $43.5 million at the end of the next fiscal year, June 30, 1990. The figure does not include money for state employee pay increases and does not take into account returning the rest of the windfall, which Hayden has said he is considering.

"Clearly, the governor will not spend more money than the state has, and he will retain what he considers adequate balances," O'Keefe said.

O'Keefe had a similar news conference last year, to show that agency requests coupled with a return of a portion of the windfall would result in a large budget deficit. Under the Kansas Constitution, the state is generally prohibited from running a deficit.

Last week, a group of state fiscal experts and university economists increased by $166 million its estimate for how much tax revenue the state can expect to collect during the 18 months.

> Get Personal in Collegian Classifieds

Our frozen yogurt is an economical way to stop your cravings! Visit us between your classes.

1319 Anderson E

NOMINATIONS for COLLEGE of EDUCATION OUTSTANDING UNDERGRADUATE TEACHING AWARD are due by November 21.

Nomination Forms available in Bluemont 006.

INTIFADA

speaks on the role of students in Palestinian uprisings, Nov. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the International Student Center. Sponsored by - Arab Student Assoc. and I.L.L

Free Campus Shuttle Stackable washers & dryers available 2 outdoor pools and spa

1408 Cambridge Pl. (913)539-2951

WERE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

American Heart Association

FAST N FREE DELIVERY If Anyone Asks

"What Is Your Favorite Radio Station?"

KQLA Radio-Q-104 Manhattan-Ft. Riley-Junction City

LOANS

WE WANT TO MAKE YOUR STUDENT LOAN!

Have the professionals at Kansas State Bank make your student loan. Simply contact us at:

> 537-4400 Lender code #821176

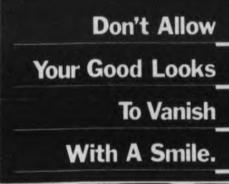

KANSAS STATE BANK 1010 Westloop & 11th and Bluemont, (913) 537-4400 Worried about a JOB after graduation?

We have good jobs!

For Bakery Science, Milling Science and Feed Science majors

KSU is the only university in the U.S. awarding these degrees Visit the Department of Grain Science 201 Shellenberger Hall

t can happen in an instant, your smile can disappear. It can happen in any sport, racquetball, intramural football, basketball, boxing, wrestling, weightlifting, baseball, or even track and field.

A comfortable, custom-made, smile protector can give you passive protection for your teeth and supporting bone structure. The basic mouth guard starts at

A sports appliance won't eliminate the chance of dental injury. Only careful athletic endeavor can do that. But a custom sports appliance, a smile protector, may lessen sport's impact on you.

Lifestyle

Kansas State Collegian ■ Wednesday, November 16, 1988 ■ Page 7

Shoes

What's Hot, What's Not

melda Marcos had over 1,000 pairs.
Holly Rathbun, senior in journalism and mass communications, has more than 40 pairs. Doug French, junior in accounting, has 20 pairs of shoes.

Shoes are becoming not only a fashion frenzy, but an increasingly important part of women's and men's wardrobes.

"It makes the outfit," said Jason Eis, freshman in apparel and textile marketing. "The shoes will stand out more than anything else."

Retail shoe store personnel agree with Eis.
"Shoes are no different than clothes," said Dean Miller, senior in marketing and salesclerk at Burke's Shoes. "They say a lot about the person."

Dave Taylor, owner of Taylor's Shoes, said he believes today's consumer is looking for more than fashion.

"I think people, right now more than ever, are wanting the most they can get for their money," he said. "People are interested in getting something that's comfortable and looks good because they're on their feet a lot."

The comfort and cost of shoes also relate directly to the health of feet, said Dr. Joseph A. Svoboda, podiatrist.

"A good shoe should be leather, have a good flexible sole and a good heel," he said. "The leather needs to be soft to conform to the foot, and the shoe should have a good arch support and minimal man-made material."

Leather is important, he said, because it will stretch and allow the foot to breathe. "The man-made shoe won't do either."

Today, however, Svoboda sees almost none of the trendier men's or women's shoe styles as having these qualities, "except the really good high heels that are leather."

Some shoe fanatics, though, are less con-

Some shoe fanatics, though, are less concerned with the health of their feet than they are with fashion.

"Of all my shoes, only a few are probably good for my feet. I guess I don't really think about that aspect when I buy them," Rathbun said. "I buy shoes because I think they're fun."

Her collection of fun shoes includes English riding boots, glitter-covered pumps, Japanese slippers, black-and-red-striped rubber flats, and some black suede pumps.

"Some of them are pretty wild, but they're all interesting, which is why I bought them," she said.

Interesting is a key quality in the collections of most shoe fanatics, Templer said.

"I have paisley shoes. I have green corduroy shoes with blue and red designs on them. I have every possible color of shoes — except yellow; I threw them away," Templer said.

One of her newest acquisitions is a pair of destroyed leather boots.

Destroyed leather is one of the hottest looks in Manhattan shoe stores this season, said Dan Dejmal, senior in mechanical engineering and sales clerk at Burke's Shoes.

"(The destoyed leather) has a rugged look; it looks like it's already been worn before it

"It's just a trendy thing."

The destroyed leather is also dominant in the biggest seller of the season, the camp moc for men or women, Dejmal said.

"The hottest thing now is the moc oxford with the camp moc sole," he said. "If you look at your college kids, they're looking for 'something' that's trendy, yet economical.

(The camp mocs) will be trendy until the market is saturated, and then they'll want something else."

Another popular style this season is the leather flat with an embossed crest emblem on the top. A variation on this style is the canvas shoe with the crest emblem sewn into the Grossgrain ribbon is trendy, too. It can be around the top edges of the shoe for a color accent, or is often tied in a bow on the top of the shoe, particularly to add a contrast in

"A lot of the patent shoes have fabric bows instead of patent bows," said Janelle Rice, sophomore in business administration and salesperson in Dillard's shoe department. "Many of them have bows that can come off to diversify the shoe."

The style of the shoe is changing, too, Miller said.

"Things are going back to pointed toes, a 1930s style. There are also a lot of t-straps and weaves in women's shoes."

By Heather Hunington Collegian Reporter

Benetton, Esprit and Ralph Lauren are names that tempt fashionconscious consumers to buy and are easily recognized by the fashion elite's peer group — even when the peer group is a class of second graders.

Today, children are more conscious of what they wear and what their peers wear, said Marlene McComas, instuctor in clothing and textiles and interior design.

There are several basic reasons behind "kid clout," she said.

"Demographic studies reveal that having kids is in again," McComas said. "All of the baby boomers have negative as it sounds.

Remember

18 oz. Fishbowls

QUALITY NATURAL

FOODS

Domestic & Import Cheeses

People's Grocery

Cooperative

811 Colorado

N. 3rd

reached their childbearing years. "The birth rate has been steadily rising, peaking at 3.8 million babies born in 1987 — the most since

Although more children are born today, fewer are reared in a "Beaver Cleaver" type atmosphere, she said.

"Fewer than 30 percent of children reside in a traditional family with a working father and a housewife mother," she said, "More than 64 percent of women with kids under 18 work outside the home. I believe that parents are spending more money on their kids, because they are spending less time with them.

The idea of parents' spending less time with their children may not be as

GOODSON

AUTO TRIM

Tailor Made Seat Covers Tonneau Covers

Boat Covers

Window Tinting

Convertible Tops

Vinyl Tops

Complete Auto, Truck

& Boat Upholstery

201 Sarber Lane

(behind Wal-Mart)

Manhattan, Kansas 66502

"I think it's positive in the respect that parents are more mature and have more of a focus in their own lives," she said. "They are spending quality time with their children."

This maturity may also carry through to the grandparents.

"Grandparents are buying more for their grandchildren since the children are being born during the grandparents' higher, moredisposable-income phase of life," she said.

Another reason for the rise in fashion-conscious kids could be the idea that children like the kind of clothes that the adults in their family

"The kids definitely make their own decisions, and they like the expensive things," said Debra Miller, department manager for children's clothing at Dillard's Department Store in Manhattan.

"They see what their big sister or aunt wears, and that has a lot to do with influencing their decision," she said. "Parents also dress better than they used to, and they want their kids to be 'in."

"Parents seem to perpetuate the notion that the clothes make the kid," McComas said. "Often they try to create miniature designer-clothed versions of themselves.'

"In general, status symbols and prestige symbols are becoming more important to consumers," said Karen Zimmerman, area sales manager for Dillard's Department Store in Manhattan.

"There doesn't seem to be a middle ground in the children's market," Miller said. "There are customers who shop for their children in department stores and in Wal-Mart."

Although they cater to different consumer groups, both markets seem to be popular.

"Both department stores and Wal-Marts are doing well because you can buy everything under one roof," Zimmerman said.

"No matter what income level you look at, kids are still important to parents, and they want the best for them," McComas said.

> For up-to-date Sports Coverage, Read THE COLLEGIAN

Pregnant . . .

and don't know what to do?

CALL BIRTHRIGHT

They'll help you make the decisions you will have to make. Help that is free, confidential. Help that is as close as your phone.

Call any time.

Free pregnancy test, confidential

537-9180

New Nonfat Frozen Yogurt

Same great taste with no fat or cholesterol

Nautilus Towers-Aggieville Phone 537-1616 Manhattan

LARGE PIZZA ONLY 599 with one topping dine in or free home Addivery with this coupon, 30

extended through Noct. 31
EXTENDED
"premium pizza at a

"premium pizza at a cardboard pizza price" 523 South 17th 537-1484

I DO AFTER GRADUATION?"

Many students are asking this question. But where can you use your degree in the best way? One answer is to become an Air Force officer through Air Force ROTC. You'll have an unequaled opportunity to lead, manage and be successful. Aim High with Air Force ROTC.

> CAPT EVERETT 913-532-6600

Leadership Excellence Starts Here

"WHAT DO MCAT

Res. 776-7614

INTENSIVE CARE FOR TEST-TAKERS.

Get a healthy MCAT score by taking a test prep course with Stanley H. Kaplan. Our educational review and test-taking techniques are the best in the field. Call!

Study over Winter Break! 3 week intensive review Dec. 22-Jan. 12 Call (913) 262-TEST Kansas City

Vistaburger (a $1.44 value)

with a minimum purchase of 8 gal. of gas at

720 N. Third Where else in Kansas can you get a Great deal like this? (checks with student ID accepted)

FREE R.O.Y.A.L

Held over by popular demand! Photographer will be here until Nov. 18 to take Royal Purple portraits. 8:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. and 1:30-5:30 p.m. Union 209. Call now for your appointment.

539-5229 Take your fee card or student ID for your portrait sitting.

PelleRePel

Get The

We are delighted with the response we have had from our Collegian ads. Not only has the number of students shopping here increased but we have sold the items pictured in the ads. We are especially pleased with the enthusiasm we have received about our gift selection from the students. Kristine Springer-owner Lakin's Gift Shop

Kansas State

COLLEGIAN ADVERTISING

reaching over 18,000 people daily

the campus"

"your key to

Kedzie

532-6560

$40,000 SCHOLARSHIPS: THE FAST TRACK TO SUCCESS.

EARN $1,100 A MONTH SCHOLARSHIP FOR UP TO THREE YEARS WHILE COMPLETING YOUR DEGREE. NO DRILLS/UNIFORMS/HAIRCUTS. FULL MILITARY BENEFITS.

QUALIFICATIONS:

ALL MAJORS CONSIDERED

GPA = 3.0 OR BETTER

U.S. CITIZEN

PHYSICALLY FIT

MIMIMUM 45 CREDIT HOURS AND MUST BE IN SEMESTER THAT WILL GIVE YOU 60 CREDIT HOURS.

AFTER GRADUATION, YOU'LL BECOME AN IMPORTANT PART OF THE NAVY ADVENTURE AS A COMMISSIONED OFFICER, AND BEGIN ADVANCED TRAINING IN ONE OF THE FOLLOWING CAREER FIELDS:

- PILOT/FLIGHT OFFICER
- BUSINESS MANAGEMENT
- NUCLEAR ENGINEERING
- OCEANOGRAPHY
- ENGINEERING R/D - SURFACE WARFARE
- INTELLIGENCE - CIVIL ENGINEERING

Minority Representatives will be on campus TODAY

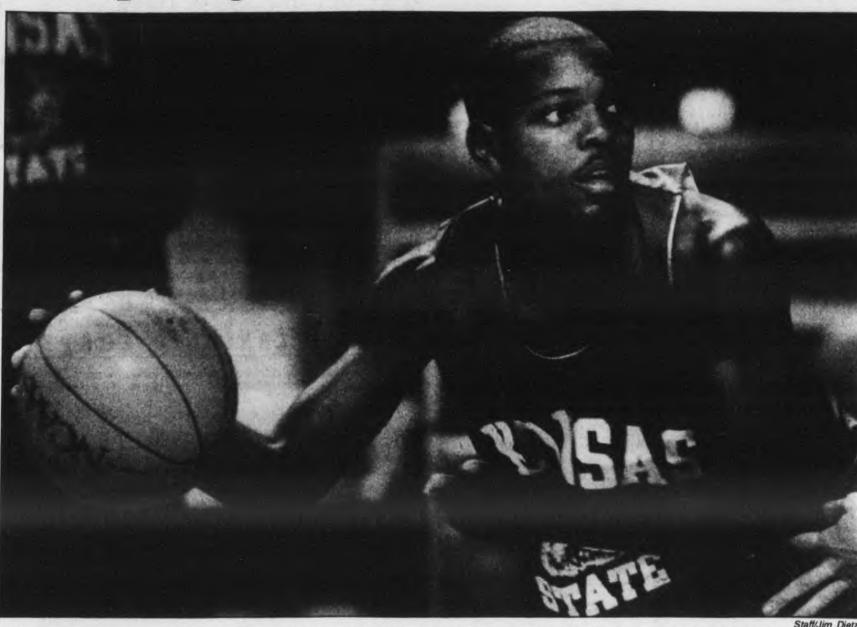

Contact Placement Office for more information or call our toll free number: 1-800-821-5110.

NAVY OFFICER

You are Tomorrow. You are the Navy.

Humphrey hoping to break in quick with Wildcats

LaKeith Humphrey is one of this year's new faces on the K-State transition to K-State basketball isn't easy, but he appreciates the big basketball squad. Humphrey, a junior college transfer, has realized the crowds at basketball games that make the transition easier.

By Chris Wilhelm Sports Writer

The K-State men's basketball team has lost some of the familiar faces from last year's team, but some of the new faces hope to make names for themselves. One of those players is junior college transfer LaKeith Humphrey.

Humphrey, who transferred to K-State after two successful years in the junior college ranks at Barton County Community College, realizes the transition to NCAA Division I-A basketball won't be easy.

"It's a much, much higher level of play," Humphrey said. "I have great respect for the guys I played with in junior college. They could play some good basketball, but these guys are so much better.

"Even though it's such a step up in intensity, it's exactly what I expected.'

One thing Humphrey didn't expect was the crowds that would be cheering the 'Cats on.

"Midnight madness was great," Humphrey said. "I've never had that many people watch me play in a game, much less practice. Bramlage is a great place to play. It really lets the players feel the crowd. Ahearn had great tradition but it will be fun starting a new tradition in Bramlage.'

An all-Region VI selection his sophomore season at Barton, Humphrey averaged 16.9 points and 2.7 rebounds a game from his guard slot, helping the Cougars to a 24-9 record.

He hit 53.8 percent of his field goal efforts, including 41 percent from three-point range.

The 'Cats will be needing help in these areas from all of their young players.

"I think there's no question that our young players will have to play well for us to have success," Coach Lon Kruger said. "The quicker they can make the transition, the better off this team will be. They are all hard workers and the biggest thing we have to guard against is putting too much pressure on them.

"We don't want to ask more from them than they can reasonably do. They are all very eager to contribute to this team."

In K-State's first game of the year, an exhibition with Athletes in Action, Humphrey got some quality playing time and put up some impressive statistics.

In 25 minutes on the floor, Humphrey scored 11 points, hitting all four of his floor shots, including one three-pointer. He also canned two of his three free throw attempts, dished out seven assists and pulled down three rebounds.

If Kruger's praise is any indication, Humphrey is well on his way to filling an important role in the Wildcat lineup.

"LaKeith seems to be making the transition well," Kruger said. "It takes guards a little longer to come around because of the leadership they provide and the responsibilities they are asked to fill, but so far I like

■ See LaKEITH Page 12

K-State rodeo team places three in second competition this season

By Mark Rader Collegian Reporter

*K-State's intercollegian rodeo team returned home from a weekend competition in Alva, Okla., with three cowboys placing in the top ten in their respective events.

It was the team's second competition this year. They will travel to a total of ten rodeos by the end of the spring semester.

The top two individuals in each event, as well as the top two teams at the end of the season, will qualify for the College National Finals Rodeo in Bozeman, Mont., in June.

Sam Keifer, senior in criminal justice and rodeo team captain, is on his way to qualifying for the CNFR with a strong performance in the bull riding last weekend. He scored 71 points on his first bull which qualified him to return for the next round.

ten compete again, Keifer scored 75 points on his second bull to win first in the short round and take second in the two head average.

Currently Keifer is among the top five bull riders in the region since he also placed at the first college rodeo this fall in Pratt.

Keifer said he likes his chances for qualifying for the CNFR because he feels like he can give a consistant performance in his events. He also rides in the saddle bronc event and considers it his favorite.

"I would rather be known as a saddle bronc rider who gets on bulls, than as a bull rider who gets on horses," he said.

Dave McComb, junior in agriculture education, also came back to K-State with some prize money from the steer wrestling event. McComb placed eighth in the first

In the short round, where only the top round with a time of 5.5 seconds. He returned to the short round and threw his steer in a time of 6.4 seconds to split second and third in the round said. "I don't see how we can comand win fourth in the average.

> currently fifth or sixth in the region, larships consistantly." although he was not exactly sure.

Nute Rucker, senior in agriculture education, also qualified for the short round in the steer wrestling with a time of 4.7 seconds but failed to make a qualifying run in the short

Rucker was in fifth place in the long round but did not receive any points towards year end awards, since only the top four receive points

McComb said this is the toughest region in the nation.

"There are a lot of good Oklahoma and Texas cowboys who we (K-State) have to compete against," he pete with some of the Oklahoma schools as a team because of their McComb said he thought he was ability to give good cowboys scho-

> McComb said that most of the team members came to K-State because of the combination of a good education and the opportunity to compete in rodeos. Some, like McComb, also turned down scholarship offers elsewhere to attend K-

"We have a lot of outstanding talent on this team," Keifer said. "But the luck of the draw is out of our hands, we just need to get things together at the same time and we'll do all right."

K-State crew takes team to Texas event

By Susan Reimer Collegian Reporter

This past weekend members of the K-State Crew Team traveled to Austin, Texas for the Head of the Colorado river race.

A head race is held on a river, therefore it has a longer race course than regattas which are usually held on lakes. Town Lake, where the race was held is part of the Colorado River. Saturday's course was 5,000 meters which is about three and one quarter miles

K-State competed against 10 other teams including the University of Texas.

The crew took a limited squad consisting of a varsity four, novice four, novice eight and an alumni pair.

The crews finished with the novice eight taking gold, the varsity four grabbed a bronze and the novice four and alumni pair both took silvers.

Kirstin Wood, senior in information systems and varsity crew member, said the boats went to "The novice wanted to get their first race in before the spring season, the pair also wanted to get more experience rowing together," Wood said.

Teresa Purvis, sophomore in biology and varsity crew member, said the team was at a disadvantage due to lack of good water

"The water has been really bad. It has been so windy so the water is very choppy and that forces us to stay in the cove," Purvis said.

Sports Briefly

USC, Illinois to play in Moscow

WASHINGTON - USC and Illinois were named today to play in the Glasnost Bowl football game next Sept. 2 in Moscow. The 1989 season opener for both clubs will be the first American-style football game played in the Soviet Union.

The game, duplicating the Rose Bowl practice of matching teams from the Pacific 10 and Big Ten conferences, will be played at the Dynamo soccer stadium, which seats about

Kirk convicted on tax charges

MEMPHIS, Tenn. - Former Memphis State Coach Dana Kirk, who parlayed his basketball success into lucrative business deals, was convicted Tuesday of cheating on his income taxes and trying to intimidate a grand jury witness.

"I have never shot, raped or robbed," Kirk said after a U.S. District Court jury announced its verdict. "I am not a criminal and I was never given the opportunity to look at my taxes and say pay this and pay that." Kirk, 53, faces up to 24 years in prison and fines of $275,000. A sentencing hearing is expected in 30 days following a routine investigation by the federal probation office. Kirk took over a struggling basketball program at Memphis State in 1979 and led the Tigers to the NCAA's Final Four in 1985. He was fired by the university in September 1986 shortly before he was indicted by a federal grand jury.

Gordon top minor leaguer

Kansas City, Mo. - Tom "Flash" Gordon, a 20-year-old right-handed pitcher and top prospect in the Kansas City Royals organization, has been named Baseball America's 1988 Minor League Player of the Year.

Gordon put together a story book season in 1988, leaving a wake of hitters in his strikeout path from A ball to the major leagues. In three minor league stops, including Appleton (A), Memphis (AA) and Omaha (AAA), Gordon compiled a 16-5 record with a 1.55 ERA over 185.2 innings in which he fanned 263 hitters. He added 18 strikeouts in 16 September innings with the Royals to stretch his K total to 281 for the season, second only to Boston's Roger Clemens in professional baseball.

Gibson named

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK - Kirk Gibson, who inspired the Los Angeles Dodgers in the clubhouse and carried them at the plate, was named the National League Most Valuable Player on Tuesday.

Gibson drove in only 76 runs, the fewest RBI by an MVP since Pete Rose in 1973, but did enough to finish comfortably ahead of Darryl Strawberry of the New York Mets. Orel Hershisher, the playoff and World Series MVP, finished a distant

Gibson got 13 first-place votes and finished with 272 points. Strawberry had seven first-place votes and 236, followed by Kevin McReynolds of the Mets with the other four firstplace votes and 162 points.

Pittsburgh's Andy Van Slyke got 160 points, San Francsico's Will Clark got 135 and Hershiser, who received just one third-place vote,

Two members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America in each NL city did the voting prior to the postseason. The American League MVP will be announced Wednesday.

Gibson hit .290 with 25 home runs and stole 31 bases in delivered what he promised, a championship to the Dodgers. He left the Detroit Tigers and signed with Los Angeles on Feb. 1 after becoming a free agent in the Collusion I case.

All four hitters who finished behind Gibson had better statistics. Strawberry led the league with 39 homers and drove in 101 runs, McReynolds batted .288 with 27 home runs and 99 RBI.

But Gibson gave the Dodgers the drive they needed to rebound from their first consecutive sub-.500 finishes since 1967-68.

Missouri AD to evaluate Widenhofer's performance

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - Missouri Athletic Director Dick Tamburo says an evaluation of Woody Widenhofer's performance as football coach is under way - and it will consider everything from poor attendance to a losing record to the future of the program.

Tamburo said in an interview published Tuesday by The Kansas City Times that it would be a "few days" after the season ends if Missouri decided to make a change in head coaches. Widenhofer goes into the final game of his fourth season at Missouri with an 11-31-1 overall record Saturday at Kansas.

Asked about his mail concerning Widenhofer, Tamburo replied: "Right now, let's just say my file is very large. I have more people showing concern."

Asked in the interview if he feels the football program had made progress this season, Tamburo replied: "You've got to go back from day one. That's where I want to leave it."

In response to another question, Tamburo said he felt it was natural that the name of Texas-El Paso Coach Bob Stull keeps popping up as a possible replacement for Widenhofer.

"He was there (Texas-El Paso) with the chancellor (Haskell Monroe). He was successful with the program. Personally, when I read some of the suggestions people are making, I think that's natural," he

"I've known Bob Stull since 1971. I've known him longer than the chancellor has. He was an assistant coach, and I was an assistant athletic director. We even had a few beers together," Tamburo said.

Widenhofer, meanwhile, says he is focusing on the game with Kansas and a chance to improve Missouri's record this season to 3-7-1.

"That game has got a lot of coaches fired over the years," Widenhofer siad. "I sure don't want to add to it. If it's going to happen, it's going to happen."

Gym club prepares for open

By Susan Faler Collegian Reporter

Five members of the K-State Gymnastics Club will compete in the Rocky Mountain Open at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo., on Nov. 26 and Dec. 3.

The event is open to the public with the lone stipulation being that a participant must be a high school graduate.

"We're going to make an honest attempt to do the best we can, but since we're not competitive, we don't expect to be at the same level as say - Nebraska," said Dave Lien, the club's sponsor and assistant professor in physics. "Most of the schools competing are from the Midwest. I know that in the women's division, the Fort Hays (State) gymnastics team will be competing and, of course, the Air Force men's and women's teams will be there."

K-State will be represented by three in the men's division, which will compete Nov. 26. Those three are Sam Ory, sophomore in political science; Dan Nguyen, sophomore in electrical engineering; and

■ See GYM Page 12

sponsors fundraiser

By Christina Doherty Collegian Reporter

Bring a can of food and dance all night at the First Annual Thanksgiving Food Fundraiser.

The dance party, scheduled for 10 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. Saturday in the main ballroom of the Union, will give K-Staters the opportunity to have fun while helping the needy.

The fundraiser is sponsored by KSDB 91.9 FM's Saturday evening program "Jam the Box" disc jockeys Phil Canty, senior in radiotelevision, and Markl Johnson, senior in radio-television, and the Omega Psi Phi fraternity.

"To get in the party it will cost one canned good and $1.50. Without a can, it's $3," Canty said. "We're donating all the food to the Salvation Army to help feed the needy this Thanksgiving. We have a goal of 700 canned goods and 30 turkeys."

Canty and Johnson got the idea for the fundraiser from a party they held earlier this year called "Shake Your Thang." It was a promotional party for the program "Jam the Box," which features urban contemporary music. About 400 students attended that party, Canty said.

For this party Canty and Johnson hope to have about 500 people in

"We're not here just to take money from people, we're here to support the community," Johnson said.

"They supported us at our last party so we want to give something back," Canty said. Fort Riley and Junction City are also included in this effort to help the Salvation Army. Canty and Johnson will be going to grocery stores in those areas to collect food, in addition to the Manhattan area.

'We're also having a ticket giveaway to a concert," Johnson said. "It's the Eric B and Rakim concert on Nov. 24 at Kemper Arena. We'll be giving away many pairs of tickets."

"We want all types of students to come," Canty said. "It's going to be all kinds of music, so we want all kinds of students.'

Canty and Johnson will be providing the music as the disc jockeys at the party.

> Get the News First! Read Manhattan's Only Morning Newspaper— The Collegian

Kedzie 103 CLASSIFIED RATES

One day: 15 words or fewer, $2.50, 20 cents per word over 15; Two consecutive dates: 15 words or fewer, $3.50, 25 cents per word over 15; Three consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 cents per word over 15; Four consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.75, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $5.00, 40 cents per word over 15. Classifieds are payable in advance unless client an established account with Student Publications. Deadline is noon the day before publication; noon FRIDAY for Monday's paper.

Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the adver-

do not disciminate on the basis of race, color, relig

Announcements

ALL YOUR Mary Kay needs -skincare -glarnor -nai -gifts for all seasons, Floris Taylor, 539-2070. FLYING INTEREST you? For information on K-State Flying Club call Sam Knipp, 539-6193.

Classified advertising is available only to those who

(Continued on page 11)

ourney

Buy, Sell or Trade in Collegian Classifieds

Open House Sunday, Nov. 20th

539-0360 Aggieville . 1124 Moro

Free Drinks & Hors d'oeuvres Mobile

Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE

for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103 or by calling 532-6555.

Display Classified Rates
One day: $5.20 per inch; Three consecutive days: $5.00 per inch; Five consecutive days: $4.80 per inch; Ten consecutive days: $4.80 per inch. (Deadline is 4.30) p.m. two days before publication.)

Service

Specializing in DJ Entertainment For All Occasions For a Professional Sound At Reasonable Rates Give Us A Call For Your Next Party

537-0547

THE NEXT BEST THING TO BEING THERE THIS HOLIDAY SEASON SEND A VIDEO TAPE TO FAMILY AND FRIENDS

SPECIAL RATES THROUGH CHRISTMAS 537-4735 P.O. BOX 147

Ladies

Bring your shoes to Eddie and Christin for heel and scuff repair.

While-you-wait heel service and discounts for multiple pairs.

At OLSON'S SHOE SERVICE

1214-B Moro Aggleville 539-8571

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

THE MORE YOU USE YOUR HEAD,

Enroll in Army ROTC as a college elective and serve part-time in the Army Reserve or National Guard, and you can get as much as $4000 a year for college. That includes your Guard or Reserve pay, the GI Bill and up to a $1000 grant from ROTC.

Add it all up, and you'll graduate with a college degree plus an Army Officer's commission. And all you have to do is use your head.

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

Add success to your spring schedule! MSCI 105, Military Leadership. For more information, contact Army ROTC at 532-6754.

GRAM COUNCIL YOUR ENTERTAINMENT ALTERNATIV

You Can't Pay More than $44.95!

Complete Eyeglasses

SINGLE VISION

BIFOCALS

Our only Extras: Cox Coating (scratch guard)-$10 and Photo Grey Extra (lenses that darken)-$10.

Payless Optical Outlet

537-1574 M-F 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. Sat. 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

Odeis Taylor and the Tyme Tyders will be performing country and country rock music today at 12 noon to 1 p.m. in the K-State Union Courtyard.

k-state union

Music provided by DANCE Cately UNITIL SEMESTER WINDINGS SEMESTER, Nov. 18th in the Union k-state union

Come see your favorite family film "The Aristocats," and UPC Kaleidoscope Films will donate 50¢ from every admission to the Riley County Animal Shelter for the care of homeless cats and dogs.

Saturday, November 19, 2 p.m. Sunday, November 20, 2 and 7 p.m. Forum Hall Admission $1.50

One of Satyajit Ray's most critically acclaimed films, DAYS AND NIGHTS deals with four friends from Calcutta who drive off together for a short holiday in the countryside. During the next few days they meet the local village girls as well as two high-caste young ladies also on holiday. What follows is a series of drunken sprees, social embarrassments, adventures with servants, officials, prostitutes, and even a brief romance. On their return to Calcutta, each has a fuller appreciation of life and love. (In Bengali with English Subtitles)

Today and Tomorrow 7:30 p.m. Forum Hall and Thursday 3:30 p.m. Little Theatre $1.75, KSU ID required

THE ZANIEST, SEXILATION OF THE SUMMER. "A HIL ARIOUSLY UNHINGED FARCE!" Friday, Nov. 18 and Saturday,

Nov. 19, 7 and 9:30 p.m. Forum Hall $1.75 KSU ID required

(() k-state union

Then join UPC Travel on their K.C. Christmas Shopping Trip! We will be stopping at the fabulous Oak Park Mall for a few hours of "power shopping". Then, it's on to the famous Country Club Plaza where you can enjoy a wide variety of excellent eating establishments, a horse-drawn carriage ride around the Plaza or still more shopping! All the while, you will be able to enjoy the Plaza Christmas lights and really get into that Christmas Spiritl!!

DECEMBER 3, 1988 Cost $11

(includes transportation) Sign-up TODAY! Activities Center, 3rd floor of the Union 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

539-6397. Hurryl Limited) THE VW doctor will keep your bug healthy and save you SS at J&L Auto Service. 1-494-2388, seven minutes east. Repairs and salvage.

WANTED- 100 overweight people to try herbal weight control program. No drugs, no exercise. Doctor recommended. 100% guaranteed. 776-5114.

> Something is coming Expressly for you!!

SPRING BREAK '89 Reservations Available Now

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, TX rom $149 Sheraton/Holiday Inn/Gulf View STEAMBOAT, CO from $93*

Shadow Run/Overlook DAYTONA BEACH, FL from $118' Texan Mote

MUSTANG ISLAND, TX From $136 Port Royal Condos HILTON HEAD ISLAND, SC 100 $107

Hilton Head Beach Condos Don't Wait Until It's Too Late!

SOUTHERN

FOOD AND crafts for sale on Sunday, Nov. 20, noon

MONDAY, GUN and Knife show, Nov. 19th, 9a.m.

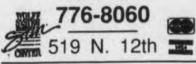

PARTY GAS (helium)... you fill... we fill... our balloons.

your balloons. 1231 Westloop, 539-4038.

ion, 1-922-6979.

7p.m., 1021 Denison. Mennonite Fellowship.

THE TANNING SALON Keep your tan glowing with us

$1 off your Collegian Classified with your contribution to the Flint Hills Breadbasket. Take canned goods to Kedzie 103 to receive $1 off your Collegian Classified.

Prepaid ads only. Not valid with any other offer. Deadline: noon one day prior to publication

Offer expires noon Dec. 8, 1988

BY RILHARD BROADFOOT

WHY JEFF WANTS A NEW JOB ...

I.TAXIDERMIST/BAIT SALES-MEN RARELY GET INTERVIEWED ON TV ... 2. MONEY

3. WORKING AT "BAITWORLD" CLIPS THE WINGS OF JEFF'S POETIC SOUL ..

4. CATS KEEP FOLLOWING HIM HOME ...

5. "BAITWORLD" HAS A LOUSY SOFTBALL TEAM. 6. MONEY

7.TAXIDERMISTS DO IT WITH DEAD ANIMALS ...

2 Apartments—Furnished

5p.m., Nov. 20th, 9a.m.- 4p.m. National Guard Armory at Manhattan airport. Buy, sell, trade. APARTMENT FOR one person, one and one-half blocks east of City Park. 539-5778.

AVAILABLE JAN. 1, large two-bedroom apartment, four blocks south of campus, west edge City Park. No children or pets. $260 plus electric. 776-6396.

PERMS: $19.95 includes cut and style. Tan 10 sessions AVAILABLE JAN. 1: One-bedroom with dishwasher central air, across from Marlatt Hall. Call 776-7891. NICE ONE-BEDROOM apartment. Water, trash, twothirds gas paid. Laundry facilities. Nice for graduate t or couple. $260. Available Dec. 15 or Jan.

1, 539-2482 after 4p.m. NOW IS the time to rent for next semester. One-, two- or three-bedroom apartments. Nice, close to campus in complex. Low utilities. No pets. Call 539-4641

ONE-BEDROOM FURNISHED in 12-unit complex two blocks west of campus. Available immediately 539-7811 or 1-456-8297.

Second Semester Apartment

We project 20 Jan. 1st vacancies in our university oriented complexes.

> Call soon for best selection!

Development

Apartments-Unfurnished

DUPLEX, TWO-BEDROOM near campus. Clean. Stove, refrigerator, hookups. Good for couple Available Nov. 19, 539-3524

JAN, 1, two-bedroom, large, attractive, patio apartment walking distance campus. One and one-half baths washer, dryer connections. Really nice large apart ment in choice location. $360 including carport. 537-4179 or 776-2462, evenings or

MOVING TO K.C. after the semester? We need subleasers! Beautiful two-bedroom, two-bath, full size washer and dryer in apartment, fireplace balcony, 95th and 435. Chesapeake Estates, Call (913)888-3587, leave number and name if no

NICE EFFICIENCY apartment available Dec. 1st. $185/ month, heating paid. Please call 539-0555 ext. 30. After 5p.m. call 776-3415.

4 Automobiles for Sale

1975 KANNBACK Vega, excellent condition, very reliable transportation, 86k, best offer. Call 539-2634.

1979 DATSUN 210 wagon, stereo, snow tires, needs some work. Must sell, $250. Jason, 776-7089. 1981 PONTIAC Pheonix, four-cylinder, 83,000 miles. cassette. $850, 537-3772.

1982 BUICK Regal- low mileage, runs great. Kenwood stereo, custom cover, $3,000 or best. John after 6p.m. or leave message. 532-5156.

1983 RENAULT Alliance, 58,000 miles, 4.V, four-door, air conditioning, AM/FM stereo, excellent condition. $2,000. 537-3721.

1985 FIERO special edition. Awesome inside and out, runs great; 36,000 original engine miles. $6,000 or best offer. Call 539-4185, ask for Brian.

CAN YOU buy jeeps, cars, 4x4s seized in drug raids for under $100? Call for facts today. (602)837-3401 ext

WILL ACCEPT sealed bids until Nov. 30, 1988 on 1987 Toyota pickup. Long bed, extra cab, five-speed, AM/FM with a tape, cloth interior, silver, 38,000 miles, in excellent shape. May be seen by appointment only. 8a.m.- 4p.m., Monday- Friday. Phone (913)532-6274.

8 Computers

PERSONAL COMPUTERS Authorized Warranty Service

also servicing PC compatibles & printers

 Televisions & VCRs MIDWEST SERVICES

Bloom County

By Berke Breathed

By Jim Davis

By Charles Schulz

FOR SALE: Line printer ribbons- Black multistrike no. QM MS (41/4 dozen), $1.25 each. Black nylon no QM NY (15), $2,25 each, Call 532-6555 or come by

9 Employment

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification Readers are advised to approach any such "employ ment opportunity" with reasonable caution.

ATTENTION- HIRINGI Government jobs- your area $17,840-$69,485. Call (602)838-8885 ext. J-1797

BARTENDER WITH experience and references. Apply in person Tuesday and Wednesday between 2 and 5p.m. Ask for Michael. Hibachi Hut, 608 N. 12th.

BARTENDERS, WAITRESSES needed. Apply between 5:30 and 6:30p.m., Brother's

CASHIERS AND waitpersons, Lone Star Cafe. Apply in person between 2 and 5p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday. Ask for Michael. 606 N. 12th.

CONSCIENTIOUS, THOROUGH, accurate, dependable part-time secretary- bookkeeper needed 20 25 hours per week. Typing 60 words per minute with word processing experience required. Send resume to: P.O. Box 1087, Manhattan, KS 66502

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, Juniors: Train in the summer to become a Marine Corps Officer after graduation. Aviation available. Call collect (913)841-1821.

GRAIN STORAGE Biologist, Research Associate, fulltime, temporary, continuing annual appointment based upon availability of funds, Department of Grain Science and Industry, Food and Feed Grains Institute. Opportunity for temporary duty assign ments in developing countries. Would function as a grain storage plant pathologist/ microbiologist inde pendently and as a team member of multi-disciplini staff groups. Involves conducting applied research training and advising foreign nationals of USAID cooperating countries in planning and developing viable grain storage management programs for reducing food losses. Required: PhD in Plant

Pathology, or Microbiology with specialization in postharvest grain technology. Desirable: Academic teaching and research experience with emphasis on mycological problems. Knowledge of French and/ or Spanish. Professional experience in develooing countries. Salary: Commensurate with total academic training and experience. Send resume, academic records, and names of three referrals to be contacted to: Dr. Charles W. Deyoe, Director, Food and Feed Grains Institute, Kansas State University, Shellenberger Hall, Manhattan, KS 66506. Deadline for applications is Nov. 30, 1988. Kansas State University is an Equal Opportunity. Affirmative Action Employer

IF YOU would like a full- or part-time job earning SSS and free needlecrafts. Call Shelley at 537-3846

LOCAL FINANCIAL Institution seeking part-time new accounts representative, 9a.m.- noon, three Saturdays a month. Must be personable and enjoy working with the public prior banking exper preferred. If interested, call Sue Carlson, 537-0200

MICROCOMPUTER PROGRAMMER for anticipated position. Must have experience on the MacIntosh HyperCard, Contact Kansas Careers, 304 Fairchild application. Applications close Nov. 18, 1988. KSU is an Equal Opportunity Affirmative

MILLING TECHNICIAN, Instructor, temporary, with continuing annual appointments based on satisfac tory performance and availability of funds. Duties will involve instruction in short courses and other training programs offered through the International Grains Program in the milling and grain processing industries. Will also include some teaching and research responsibilities in the grain science program. Activities may include foreign travel to provide training and consultation to foreign grain processing and milling industries. Such consultation would include flour milling, grain processing, grain hand ling, grain quality and discussion of the milling and end-use properties of U.S. wheat. Research activities would be associated with the milling qualities of U.S. wheats and their utilization. Required: Industry experience in wheat and grain processing with background in milling production and or manage ment. A PhD degree in or related to grain process ing required or a willingness to pursue a PhD in ar area in or closely related to grain processing Salary: Commensurate with training and experience. Send: Resume, transcripts of academic work and at least three letters of recommendation to: Director, International Grains Program, Kansas State University, Shellenberger Hall, Manhattan, KS 66506, Kansas State University is an Equal Opportunity Affirmative Action Employer

NANNY/ MOTHER'S help: Responsible person to help care for two boys five, three and one infant girl. Own room, T.V., references required, non-smoker preferred. Coastal town, 35 minutes to New York City Call collect (914)834-6476.

NANNY OPPORTUNITIES 'Chicago toddler $300/ week' 'Dallas- two children- $185/ week' 'San Francisco- two boys- $150/ week" "New York-newborn- $250/ week" "Philadelphia and Europe-$200' week*. One-year commitment. Many posions available. Call 1-800-937-NANI

OVERSEAS JOBS, $900- $2,000 month. Summer year-round, all countries, all fields, free information. Write UC, P.O. Box 52-KS02, Corona Del Mar, CA

PAY DAYI Beginning salary $3.60/ hour. All shifts for waiter and waitresses; Hotline server and porfer Monday, Wednesday, Friday 10-20a.m. 2p.m. Apply now at K-State Union Food Service for sorgious fall waither Apply parts for sorgious remaining fall positions. Apply early for spring semester when you have your spring schedule. We offer student pay plan, job variety, and centrally located work place. We require that you must be honest, reliable and display a sense of urgency. must be clean, neat and wear appropriate attire Food Handler's Card a must.

PEACE CORPS Campus Recruiter, Graduate assistantship available. Part-time (20 hours). Returned Peace Corps volunteer preferred. Contact Dr. Jorns, Waters 108, 532-5714.

RESORT HOTELS, Cruiselines, airlines and amuse ment parks, Now accepting applications for sum mer jobs, internships and career positions. For more information and an application write: National Collegiate Recreation Service, P.O. Box 8074, Hilton Head, SC 29938.

RUNNER TO work 10-15 hours per week, $3.35. Duties include moving, hauling and deliveries. Must be willing to work evenings, holidays, summer months, weekends and school recesses. Applications will be accepted until Nov. 18, 5p.m., room 23, Cardwell Hall, by Jacque Meisner. AA/ EOE.

SKI COLORADOI $25/ night for two. Ten cozy log cabins/ kitchens, some fireplaces. Gameroom/ fireplace, HBO, pool table, sauna. Fish, cross-country ski. Ski Winter Park, Silver Creek. Mountain Lakes Lodge, Brochure/reservations -Grand Lake, CO 1-303-627-8448. Call today!

STUDENT SECRETARY/ receptionist: Telephone and typing skills required, computer experience in WordPerfect, Lotus and/ or dBase desirable. Applications are available at the Recreational Services Administrative Office from 8a.m.- 5p.m. Application deadline is Thursday, Nov. 17 at 5p.m. STUDENTS NEEDED for general labor- moving, hauf ing, roofing, construction, etc. Four-hour blocks in morning, $4 per hour. Apply in person at Dykstra Hall personnel office. For questions call Rebecca or

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN, Wednesday, November 16, 1988

Roberta, 532-6373. SUMMER JOBS outdoors. Over 5,000 openings. Na-lional parks, forests, fire crews. Send stamp for free details. 113 E. Wyoming, Kalispell, MT 59901.

12 Houses/Mobile Homes for Rent

TWO-BEDROOM, main floor duplex, eat-in kitcher hardwood floors, off-street parking, walk to KSU. Available Jan. 1, $345, 776-6063.

13 Houses/Mobile Homes for Sale

1972 12x60, furnished/ unfurnished, new paint, central washer, dryer, waterbed, reasonable

1977 WINSOR. 14x75, two-car garage, insulated shop redwood deck. All on three-quarters acre. Must see to appreciate. 1-494-8484.

14 Lost and Found

FOUND: BOOKS on Hunting Street Sunday morning Call 539-8256 and leave message and phone number for Sandy.

15 Miscellaneous Merchandise

30% OFF Salet On all comic books! Manhattan Coins. 1130 Laramie, 539-1184.

ELECTRONIC PORTABLE typewriter. Many automatic features including correction memory. Nearly new. $150, 539-9440, evenings.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUSII New G.I. overshoes, combat boots and safety-toe boots, wool (blankets gloves, socks and mittens). Field jackets, overcoats, carnouflage clothing. Also Carhartt workwear. Monday- Saturday 9a.m.- 5p.m. Open Sundays till Christmas noon- 4p.m. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734.

ROUNDTRIP TICKET to Chicago over Thanksgiving break available. Call 537-4714 for informatio

16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale

BICYCLE SALE, lay away for Christmas. Aggie Bike

17 Musical Instruments ELECTRIC GUITAR: Bently series 10 and Washbur watt guitar amplifier. Excellent condition. $250 776-3063. Hayes House of Music

Guitar Strings & Drumsticks Buy 1 Set, Get a 2nd Set 1/2 Price

327 Poyntz 776 7983

18 Personals

B-12 COUNSELOR, Sorry about the weekend, but thanks for the card, the call Saturday, and the pillow. Stocker M.

CHUCK-THE last three months have been great. Here's to Delta Sigma Phi, freckles, my tennis ability, snuggling, K.C., zerberts, maps, that great tickle and us. Love- The Democrat CUTE LATIN girl with red sweater in Union cafeteria (Friday). Don't stare at me like that. I am available.

DAN, LET'S meet in the library to review.

JOHN W. (Joe?). The time we spent together this summer was great. I know you're trying to avoid me, so I just wanted you to know. I'm four months along and starting to show.

J.R.- IT'S been a great two months full of great times Happy Anniversaryl Goofy. LISA H., Happy 21st Birthday. Have a good time, but beware of rug burns on your knees

To all the Marketing Club Members that took Chicago by storm, here's a few reminders (in case you forgot or never knew) of the fun that was had. Mother's, Baja Beach Club, Choices, ' Save the Wabbit", female impersonator, 1 per booth—1 per booth, just one more round, daddy that's not mommy, "I'm normally a quiet person," 1 out of 4 tours—not bad, they take VISA, Joe, isn't that the same shirt you had on yesterday? it was an incredible wreck, " Save the Wabbit!", And compliments of the stewardesses,"The party's over, welcome to the real world." Watch out New Orleans, here we

MATT- RUME the Walrus

TO THE girl who gave me a ride home from Bushwacker's Safurday night: Can you tell me what happened that night? The drunk from Claffin Wildcat Inns.

PREGNANT? BIRTHRIGHT can help. Free pregnancy test, Confidential, Call 537-9180, 103 S. Fourth St.

PROMPT ABORTION and contraceptive services in Lawrence. (913)841-5716.

21 Rentals

STORE YOUR valuables over Christmas break. Azte Storage, open seven days a week. Call 776-1111 for discount rate, or come by, 5004 Murray Road.

22 Resume/Typing Services

ABOUT ANYTHING typed, editing and transcription services, reasonable rates, by professional secretary, 539-5998 after 5p.m.

COMPLETE DATA processing services, term papers, theses and dissertations, resumes. Laser jet printing. Call 537-4146.

sional staff regarding our full line of services Resume Service, 343 Colorado Street. 537-7294 FAST TURNAROUND for all your word processing

PROCRASTINATORS AND those on the ball, for expert

23 Roommate Wanted

MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartn

NON-SMOKER TO share large three-bedroom house. close to campus plus the Ville. Starting in January Low rent. Call 776-6036.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share two-bedroom furn hed apartment. $152.99 plus one-half utilities. 539-9564.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE wanted to share spacious house starting Jan. 1. Own bedroom, rent $117 plus one-third electricity, cable and phone. 539-5714.

776-5669. NON-SMOKING MALE to share three-bedroom furn room, pay one-third rent and utilities, 776-8871

two bedrooms, one and one-half baths, partially furnished. Call 537-1268. Move in A.S.A.P. RESPONSIBLE FEMALE roommate wanted: To share two-bedroom apartment, water, trash paid

ONE/ TWO females. Block from campus, behind Ville.

ROOMMATE WANTED, female non-smoker to take over lease. Will share house with two roommates, $133 a month plus utilities. For information call 776-9319 after 5o.m.

ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom apartment in complex. Close to campus and Aggieville. 537-2894

TWO ROOMMATES wanted one block from campus. Washer, dryer, $125/ month, one fourth utilities, own rooms, 539-7709.

WEIGHT TRAINING instruction, Body- Sculpturing, fitness, performance, bodybuilding. Three free sessions with consultation, Iron Concepts,

25 Sporting Recreational Equipment

26 Sublease

537-1878

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY, one-bedroom unfurnished apartment close to campus and Aggreville. $150/ month plus one-fourth utilities. See at 922 N. Manhattan #3 after 4p.m.

SUBLEASE AVAILABLE for female, $175/ month plus one-half bills. Water, trash paid. Call 537-7380 after SUBLEASE: TWO-BEDROOM, furnished, dishwasher, close to campus, lease through June, rent negotiable. Call 776-9846, leave message. SUBLEASE. LARGE turnished two-bedroom apart

28 Adoption

A CHILDLESS loving couple wishes to adopt whit newborn. We will provide a warm wonderful and loving home. We are committed to being the best parents possible. Legal and confidential. Please

ADOPTION. A young happily married doctor and wile with much love and security wish to adopt a white

LOVE-FILLED HOME needs the joy of a new baby to complete our very happy marriage. If you plan to place your baby for adoption, please consider us. Expenses paid, confidential, legal, Call collect,

29 Ride Needed

RIDE NEEDED to Minnesota, Twin City area, for Thanksgiving, Call Al, 539-3585 after 10p.m.

Crossword

28 Singer ACROSS Eydie 1 Luau dish 30 Libel or 4 West or slander

7 Flowerless plant 8 Soothing ointment 10 Kilmer

37 Dress size plant 13 Mary's school companion 16 Toady's word? 17 Woodland deity 18 It might be cast

(Western) 23 Cram for exams shelter lake

DOWN 1 Equals 2 Hershiser of baseball 3 Declares firmly

4 Macho 5 Turner's wood 6 Wicked 7 Like certain

23 Coarse lunch? 8 Fist hominy fight 24 High-9 Eluded pitched voices 25 Suitable Solution time: 23 mins.

come!!

41 Pig's digs 10 Biblical pronoun

12 Poet

14 London

15 Barbara scrap cask

21 Respect

22 Soapbox

speaker?

19 Table

20 Large

gallery

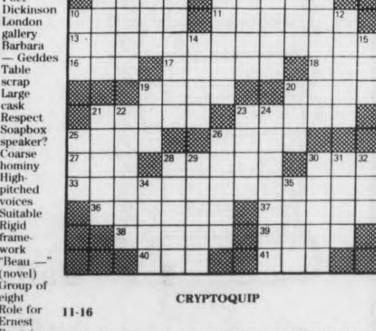

26 Rigid frame 28 "Beau (novel) Ernest

Borgnine

31 Strong yen TOAD 32 He fol lowed HST Q D P

Today's Cryptoquip clue: Z equals F

ITOOLNK OLDGQLN INTUDUVK

ZLDOP TZ EMPEROR WAS HAILED WHILE HE REIGNED.

Busch 33 Where Mother Hubbard went 36 Dean Martin poem 11 Salad parties

38 Ceremonies 39 Italian noble family 40 On pension: abbr

19 Palindromic name 20 Legendary Swiss. hero 21 - opera

25 Frontier 26 Mountain 27 Once - blue moon

Yesterday's answer 11-16 35 Hop kiln

29 Group of 30 Role for

34 Let one's

20 Professional Services

COMPOSING RESUMES and letters is our specialty. We have been in business nine years and offer permanent computer storage. Contact the profesneeds, see us. Resumes, letters, papers, theses dissertations. Quality work guaranteed. Ross Sec retarial Service, across from Kite's, 614 N. 12th 539-6219.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share furnished two-bedroom. Cats allowed, Call Paula or Brenda.

Washer/ dryer in the apartment, fireplace, one and one-half bath. For more information, call 776-6349

ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom house trailer, $100/ month, half utilities. Call Allen.

ment. One and one-half blocks from campus. Call 539-1312.

call collect, Kelly and Ramiro, (201)376-0894. baby to age two, all expenses paid, totally legal Please call Jamie collect at (714)680-4468. Thank

Claire, (303)422-1297

By Eugene Sheffer

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: IMPOSING ROMAN

Lien said.

duals competing.'

Gym

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 9

Ory will compete in floor exercise, pommel horse and parallel bars; Nguyen in the floor exercise and parallel bars, and Lien in the vault and floor exercise.

Tara Farley, freshman in foods and nutrition science, and Cheryl Steen, wife of Norman Steen, graduate in public administration, will represent K-State in the women's division.

Steen will compete in floor exercise and vault, while Farley will be in the floor exercise and the balance

"Four to six events will take place at the same time in the men's catago-> journalism department, Student Publications and University Printing. Sometimes a letter goes to the wrong ries and two to three women's events will take place at the same time,"

'The entry fee is $10 per person and we will be gone three days," he said. "The money for the entry fee and lodging will come from the club's funds and the rest of the expenses will come from the indivi-

The club will have an exhibition from 4 to 5 p.m. Saturday at the Manhattan Town Center. The members will display some tumbling runs and and we like to share the beauty of it,"

Lien said. "You can get an idea of who will be competing in Colorado and their skills at the exhibition."

"Gymnastics is a very artistic sport mini-trampoline exercises.

Oukrop said the school would have applied for money to pay for Drinking

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

drunk driver is jailed, and if he's married, his wife is jailed also.

■ Soviet Union — First offenders are banned from the roadways for six months. In one instance, a drunk driver who killed six people and injured five more during a drive through northern Moscow was sentenced to death.

■ Turkey — Police take convicted drunk drivers 20 miles from town and force them to walk back, said.

while escorted. South Africa — A drunk driving conviction results in a 10-year prison sentence and/or the equivalent of a $10,000 fine,

"Although the laws are stringent, (the other countries') drunk driving rates are incredibly lower than the United States'," said Michael Dix, project manager for the safety belt education office in Justin Hall.

Dix said tough laws have reduced the problem, but more effort is needed. The extra effort for prevention has to come from society, he what I've seen.

LaKeith

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 9

"He played very well in the Athletes in Action game. I thought, considering the pressure the guys from AIA showed, he made some really good decisions on the floor."

"I think what Coach Kruger likes most about me is my defense and my quickness," Humphrey said. "He's wanting me to get the ball to the right people and make sure they're in the right position.

"If I can improve my defense, I think my offense will automatically come.

While this year's squad will be hard pressed to duplicate the feats of last season's NCAA Midwest Regional semifinalists, Humphrey still remains optimistic.

"This team is definitely not over blessed with talent at all. I think we will have a very good team though," Humphrey said. "We have excellent team unity and that will play a big part in how this team performs. Every day we're coming together a little bit closer and moving in the right direction."

Tornado

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 He said that the region has had a southerly flow of air for the past from the north, combined with a low pressure system and the warm air in week and a half, which allowed the ground to be warmed. The storm was caused by a massive blast of cold air the area.

"Usually there are only about 20 tornadoes reported in the country during November," Leita said. He said that so far this month, the only other tornado reported (in Kansas) was in Pittsburg.

The Associated Press contributed information to this story.

Senate

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

granting the council six fellowships at $1,000 each. The amount approved for the Graduate Student Council by Senate totaled $10,000.

Senate also rejected requests for funds by the Agricultural Academic Competition Teams.

The total amount of money allo-

Don't get caught unprepared! Read Collegian Weather Forecasts

Get ready for Finals

by improving your memory.

Check out his tape for FREE in the SGA office 5 days a week.

cated by the Senate for fiscal year 1990 was $199,418.50 out of a total of $200,900 for the first year. Troy Lubbers, student body president, said the EOF Committee approached its recommendations for allocations from a "macro-concept" ideal. It considered which areas on campus it most wanted to help, which proposals best met the committee's concepts and which proposals helped the students most.

Get the News First! Read Manhattan's Only Morning Newspaper— The Collegian

mmmmmm d

complain about not getting the applications," Lubbers said. the school, said the mix-up may have

Funding

Stephanie Harvey, secretary for started in the school's mail center. 'We sort mail for four departments." Harvey said. "We sort for the place."

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

minority student scholarships.

"The criteria stressed minorityrelated uses for the money, and I think we would have had a good chance at being accepted," Oukrop political science department, the

> Discover Power of Memory

> > 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday, November 19 K-State Union Little Theatre

Sponsored by KSU Marketing Club

JOB HUNTING IN THE WORK JUNGLE

Call it—"Intro to the Real World," a course you will not find in your college handbook.

-Track your talents, personality and career goals.

-Conquer the interview armed with the right answers and an unbeatable resume.

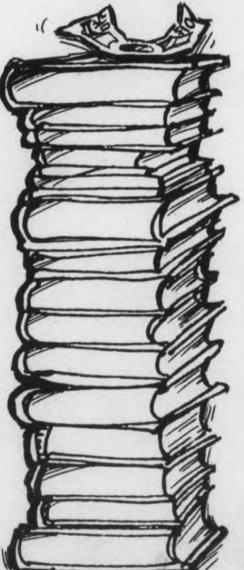

Presented by K-State graduates who survived the jungle.

Send check for $15 for seminar and materials or $20 including lunch. Reservations necessary.

Events, Inc. 9300 W. 110th Suite 255 Overland Park, KS 66210

(913) 345-2228

Is there a place in Manhattan where you can buy a stack of books three feet tall and only pay $10 ?? You'll have to be there to see it!!!

K-State Union's

YARD SALE

Misc. books $10/yard

Nov. 15-16-17 9am-4pm 2nd floor Ballrooms K & S

Brought to you by:

'TIS THE SEASON TO PARTY!

You deserve to look your best for that special party! Rent your tuxedo from the store with a quality difference. Check out the holiday selection of bowties and cummerbunds!.

Be the center of attention of any function with a stylish party dress that glitters, sparkles, and dazzles. Keep all eyes on you in a dress from Christine's!

776-7387

1223 Moro

NOW AT A NEW LOCATION!

M-S 10-5:30 p.m. Thurs. til 8 p.m.

	Examination Hour Day	7:30 a.m. to 9:20 a.m.	9:40 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.	11:50 a.m. to 1:40 p.m.	2:00 p.m. to 3:50 p.m.	4:10 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.	7:00 p.m. to 8:50 p.m.
DAYOF	Monday December 12	Family Rel Sci El Sch Eng Comp 1-2 Bus Law 1 Mech Materials	T-11:05 11:30	W-11:05 11:30	T-1:05 1:30	W-3:05 3:30	Engr Graph 1-2 Bus Finance Ed Psych 1-2 Gen Physics 1-2 Fund Accounting Thermo 1
EXAMI	Tuesday December 13	Public Speaking Dynamics Statics L Arts El Sch	T-7:30	W-8:05 8:30	T-10:05 10:30	W-1:05 1:30	Chemistry 1-2 General Chem El Org Chem Gen Org Chem S S El Sch
NAT-ON	Wednesday December 14	Economics 1-2 Prin El Ed	T-3:05 3:30	W-9:05 9:30	W-2:05 2:30	T-8:05 8:30	Math El Sch Math 100, 150, 201, 205, 220, 221, 222, 240
	Thursday December 15	Fun Com Prog Prin Biology Gen Botany El Survey Eng	T-2:05 2:30	W-10:05 10:30	T-9:05 9:30	W-7:30	Descriptive Physics
	Friday December 16	Engr Phys 1-2 Intro Human Dev	T-12:05 12:30	W-12:05 12:30	T-4:05 4:30	W-4:05 4:30

 Students enrolled in classes that meet Wednesday (MTWUF, MTWF, MW, TWUF, WF, W, MWF) and all classes at the various hours on MU and MT, will be examined during the period designated by W and the hour of the regular class session. (See Item IV below and the chart above for special examination periods for certain courses.) For example, a class that regularly meets MWF at 11:30 will be examined on Monday,

December 12, 11:50 a.m. to 1:40 p.m. Students enrolled in classes that meet on a schedule which includes Tuesday, but does not include Wednesday (T, TU, U, F, TUF, MT) and classes meeting at the various hours of TF and UF, will be examined during the period designated by T and the hour of the regular class session. III. Day classes meeting only once a week on Monday, Thursday, and Friday or Saturday will be examined as follows:

Monday, Dec. 5 Thursday, Dec. 8 Fr Friday, Dec. 9 Monday, Dec. 5 IV. No classes shall meet after Friday, Dec. 9, and all examina tions shall be given as scheduled. V. Students scheduled to take more than two final examinations on any given day may see their instructors, and then department heads or Deans to resolve conflicts and to relieve heavy

VI. Students scheduled to take two or more special exams at the same time should take the one occurring first in the list at the scheduled time and arrange through the instructor, department head, or Dean to take the others at other times.

VII. Evening classes that meet after 5:00 p.m. will be examined during final exam week at 7:00 p.m. on the night the class would regularly meet. Classes with multiple meeting nights including Wednesday will be examined on Wednesday, December 14 at 7:00 p.m. Classes with multiple meeting nights including Tuesday will be examined on Tuesday, December 13 at 7:00 p.m. Students scheduled to take a special group exam at the time of the evening class will take the evening class exam at a time to be arranged in consultation with the evening class instructor. Departmental representatives should schedule general use classroom space for final examinations for evening classes by contacting University Physical Facilities Room Scheduling and completing a "Request for Use of University Buildings and Grounds"

Attn: Newspaper Sett 120 West 10th Topeka, KS ind block, housemomer for the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, recently competed in the New York City

Marathon. See Page 9.

5-DIGIT 66612

Thursday

November 17, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 63

Kansas State Collegian

Bush staff silent

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Leaders of George Bush's transition team closed ranks publicly on Wednesday, refusing to talk about the reported selection of Washington outsider John Sununu as White House chief of staff. Bush asked aides to sign a pledge designed to prevent leaks and conflicts of interest.

As the capital buzzed about the choice of Sununu, the feisty, conservative governor of New Hampshire, Bush spent the day in separate meetings with British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and Soviet dissident Andrei Sakharov. Bush will meet with Thatcher again over breakfast today.

The vice president was mum about filling the chief of staff's job, saying "no final decisions" had been made.

Sources close to Bush said, however, he would name Sununu to the post. Next to the president, the chief of staff is the most powerful person in the White House with influence over access to the Oval Office, the agenda, scheduling and other

The other contender for the job was Craig Fuller, who has been Bush's vice presidential chief of staff for four years.

Sununu, who returned to New Hampshire after a Monday night meeting with Bush, said, "We've had discussions ... about that job (chief of staff) in particular."

At a news conference in Concord, Sununu said, "A request isn't a formal request until the tall thin guy (Bush) sings. And the tall thin guy hasn't sung publicly, and therefore I'm not going to comment on this in any way at all.

"Until the vice president decides yes or no - and he certainly could decide no in the interim - I don't think it's appropriate for me to comment."

In Washington, Fuller said at a news conference he did not know if Bush had made a decision.

Fuller said he raised the question with Bush in a morning meeting. "His comment was, 'Just let them know that when I'm ready to make an announcement, they'll hear from me on this."

Standing at a podium with transition co-director Robert Teeter, Fuller said, "There's no one standing here who's opposed to John Sununu hav-

■ See BUSH, Page 12

Steam blown

Deficit called 'greatest economic threat

A student walks through steam from the power plant north of Seaton Hall. The cool temperature and wind caused the steam to stay low to the ground Wednesday.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The National Economic Commission opened its post-election attempt to break a seven-year deadlock on the budget deficit with repeated warnings Wednesday that the deficit represents the nation's greatest economic threat.

Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan, one of the leadoff witnesses before the bipartisan panel, said "The deficit already has begun to eat away at the foundations of our economic strength, and the need to deal with it is becoming ever more urgent."

Greenspan joined other witnesses in saying that Congress and President-elect George Bush must reach agreement quickly on ways to slash the deficit or run the risk that foreigners will stop financing America's borrowing needs.

"We must put our fiscal house in order so that we can address the other problems which are important to us as a nation," said Alice Rivlin, former head of the Congressional Budget Office. "Getting the budget deficit behind us is a test of our ability to govern."

The comments offered a sharp contrast to much of the debate during the presidential campaign when both candidates sidestepped questions concerning the deficit because they did not want to offer detailed solutions. However, some of the witnesses said Bush, now that he is presidentelect, very well could be forced by events in financial markets to seriously bargain with Congress or risk triggering a free-fall in the value of the U.S. dollar.

"The rest of the world may well give up on the dollar if it foresees four more years of towering twin (budget and trade) deficits," said C. Fred Bergsten, head of the Institute for International Economics.

Investors have been unusually jittery in the past week over concerns that Bush's tough stance against new taxes and the larger Democratic marjorities in Congress would translate into further gridlock on solving the deficit problem.

The dollar has come under heavy selling pressure and that has put downward pressure on U.S. stocks. The Dow Jones industrial average was down almost 15 points by midafternoon Wednesday, resuming a sharp decline that began after Bush's election last week.

A fall in the dollar sends U.S. stocks tumbling because investors fear that interest rates will have to rise in this country to continue to attract the needed foreign investments. Rising U.S. interest rates reduce business prospects and raise threats of a recession.

Responding to the market concerns, Bush has pledged to make the budget deficit a top priority. However, he has not indicated any willingness to abandon his "flexible freeze" proposal by which overall spending increases, excluding Social Security and interest on the debt, would be held to the rise in inflation each year.

While Bush's economic advisers have insisted that the country could grow its way out of deficit problem without sharp spending cuts or tax increases, Greenspan rejected such a notion. He indicated that tough choices would have to be made on spending cuts to get the deficit under control.

But Greenspan supported the Bush contention that the deficit should be reduced on the spending side rather than by boosting taxes.

However, if spending cuts alone are not sufficient to narrow the deficit, Greenspan said tax hikes should be considered because the need to cut the deficit was so critical.

Dollar weak despite gains

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The U.S. trade deficit narrowed by almost 15 percent to $10.5 billion in September, the government said Wednesday, but not enough to prevent a new assault on the dollar over worries about what the head of the Federal Reserve called a "dangerous corrosion" of the American economy.

Exports rose by $700 million to a record high $28.2 billion, the Commerce Department said.

Imports declined by 2.5 percent or $1.1 billion to $38.7 billion from a record high in August. The $10.5 billion trade gap for September was down by $1.8 billion from the revised August trade deficit figure of $12.3 billion, a drop of about 14.6 percent.

But neither change was big enough to stem a new selling wave of dollars by traders worried about inflation from an overheating economy and skeptical of Presidentclect George Bush's promise to reduce the federal budget deficit through a "flexible freeze" without any tax increases.

The dollar, resuming its downward path of last week, fell about half a percent against the Japanese yen and I percent against the West German mark on Wednesday despite what currency traders said was intervention by the Fed to prop it up through massive purchases of dollars using yen.

In the past month, the dollar has fallen nearly 9 percent in value against the yen and about 7 percent

■ See TRADE, Page 12

Assault reports may be easier

Program aims at victims

By The Collegian Staff

For the victim of a sexual assault, one of the hardest steps may be reporting the crime, but next semester this step may be

"We are in the process of setting up a program that would encourage sexual mult reports by the victims," said Susan Scott, associate dean of student life.

"We understand how hard it is for the victim to report this type of crime, but we want them to know that they should tell omeone - let someone know what happened," Scott said.

The Women's Resource Center is working with Scott to establish the program. The meram would consist of victims completng written consent forms and returning them to the program.

These forms would be available through student service offices, faculty members and residence hall staff members.

We want the report forms to be available through people who come in direct contact with the students, since the victim may feel more comfortable talking to these people rather than the police," she said.
One problem the University had this semester, especially at the beginning, was dealing with rumors about rapes, Scott

One of the advantages of this program is that it will help track down the rumors and separate fact from fiction because the forms will be completed and returned by the victim, she said.

The program will help to "diffuse the" rumor mill and give us the information we need," said Judy Davis, director of the Women's Resource Center. That information includes how frequently rapes occur and the typical situations they occur in, she

"Through this program, we want to be able to educate other students about sexual assaults," Scott said, "Since the program is still very much in the preliminary stages, it would be premature to report on any specif-

"A similar program was implemented eight or nine years ago, but we're not sure why it was discontinued."

Educating students about the program and corresponding with faculty members on a regular basis in case a victim approaches them are two ways the sponsors hope to help the program succeed, she said. The main focus of this program is to gather information about the assault - not to uncover the names of either the victim or the suspect. Davis said.

"We won't take the decision (to report the assault to the police) out of the victim's inds," she said.

Sixteen gang members arrested in Junction City

By The Collegian Staff

Sixteen people have been arrested by the Junction City Police as a result of disputes between two Junction City motorcycle gangs.

Seven arrests were made Saturday night and nine were made Monday, said Capt. Charles Winters, of the Junction City Police Department.

The arrests resulted from a fight Saturday night involving the gang members.

Saturday night we made seven arrests. They were members of the Wingmen organization. The arrests we were involved in Monday night involved members of the Deadmen organization. These Deadmen members were all from out of state," Winters said.

All nine of the arrested Deadmen members are members of that gang in their home states. The men came to Junction City after hearing about Saturday's disturbance, he said.

"The arrested members of the Wingmen were primarily from out of state. However, two of the gang members are local military personnel," he said. The members were charged with a variety of charges, mostly unlawful use of weapons,

Winter said. In addition, there were some narcotics charges made, he said. No gunfire was involved in any of the arrests or disturbances. Unlawful use of firearms can also mean illegal possession, Win-

Weapons confiscated during the arrests include 20 firearms, 15 knives, chains and billy clubs. "We have not had trouble of this kind before," Winters said. "The Wingmen have been an established motorcycle club in the Junction City area for about two years.

"The Deadmen are a recent addition. We believe there are territorial disputes between the two groups. The trouble may stem from

■ See ARRESTS, Page 12

BRIEFLY

ME ASSOCIATED PRESS

BRIEFLY ACROSS NATION

North wants to tell secrets

WASHINGTON - Former presidential aide Oliver L. North is seeking to scuttle the criminal charges against him by trying to disclose national secrets irrelevant to his defense, Iran-Contra prosecutors charged Wednesday.

Independent counsel Lawrence E. Walsh sought a court order barring North from revealing any government secrets in his defense of charges he conspired to illegally divert U.S.-Iran arms-sale proceeds to the Nicaraguan rebels.

Walsh contended in court papers that the former presidential aide had flouted court orders "by not presenting a good-faith listing of the classified documents that he reasonably deems necessary to defend against the indictment."

Walsh charged that North's "grossly overblown" list of secret government documents he wants to use as trial exhibits includes items that "are simple efforts at graymail and have no conceivable bearing on the charges in the indictment."

North's list of 40,000 pages of top-secret documents "demonstrates once again his expectation that intransigence will encumber the processes of law, threaten some of our nation's most valuable secrets and provoke a dismissal of the case," Walsh

Sakharov warns against SDI

WASHINGTON - Soviet physicist Andrei Sakharov warned Wednesday that deploying a Star Wars strategic defense system could tempt a pre-emptive attack against it and trigger nuclear world war.

Sakharov delivered his stark message at a dinner honoring Dr. Edward Teller, the U.S. physicist often dubbed the father of the American hydrogen bomb who is a strong advocate of deploying a space-based nuclear missile defense system.

It was the first meeting between the two and Sakharov, winner of the Nobel and Albert Einstein peace prizes, used it to emphasize his differences with Teller and to say that the world could be on the doorstep of significant arms control efforts if Star Wars is not allowed to stand in the way.

Sakharov, the Soviet Union's most celebrated human rights activist, told a black tie audience of some 750 people in a hotel ballroom that he has great respect for Teller and believes he is a man of conviction and principle.

But he said he strongly disagrees with Teller on the issue of deploying the Strategic Defense Initiative, popularly known as Star Wars.

"I consider such a system to be a great error," Sakharov said. "I feel it would destabilize the world."

Shuttle to fly defense mission

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. - Space shuttle managers Wednesday set Dec. 1 as the date for launching Atlantis and five military astronauts on a secret Defense Department mission.

Rear Adm. Richard Truly, NASA's associate administrator for space flight, made the announcement at the conclusion of a two-day flight readiness review.

"I've just finished hearing a comprehensive assessment of flight readiness from both contractor and government representatives of all shuttle elements and systems," he said. "I am pleased to report that the space shuttle Atlantis is as ready to fly as Discovery was at this same point before its flight last September."

The flight will be the second for the shuttle program since the Challenger explosion that killed seven astronauts on Jan. 28, 1986. Following a 32-month standdown for major modifications, the program resumed Sept. 29 with the successful launch of Discovery and a five-man crew.

Refugee earns 7th MIT degree

BOSTON - Tue Nguyen did more than nibble from the tree of knowledge, he made a feast of it.

Just nine years after arriving in this country with thousands of other Vietnamese boat people, Nguyen, 26, has earned his seventh degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, a doctorate in nuclear engineering. The school says it thinks that is a record for MIT.

Nguyen told the MIT public relations office that he earned multiple degrees "to get the most out of my time at MIT and out of my tuition."

He also said he isn't a partygoer.

The super scholar was in Burlington, Vt., this week preparing to start a job at IBM designing technology for the manufacture of semiconductor devices. He did not return telephone calls from The Associated Press. But one of his fans back in Cambridge was happy to crow about him.

"You're not likely to find another person like this very often," said nuclear engineering professor Sidney Yip, Nguyen's

"He's a very quiet guy, very laid back," said Yip. "But, as you can imagine, deep down he has a lot of will power."

Nguyen entered MIT in 1981. By taking up to 12 courses a semester instead of the normal MIT student load of four, he earned his first undergraduate degree in three years and finished up four more bachelor's degrees in one more year. He then began his graduate work.

He was so busy attending classes that he had difficulty doing his homework assignments, Yip said.

BRIEFLY THE REGION

Emporia minister charged

JUNCTION CITY - A former minister whose love affair with his secretary was spotlighted in a television miniseries was charged Wednesday with first-degree murder in the slaying of the woman's husband.

Thomas P. Bird, 38, was taken from the Kansas State Penitentiary in Lansing to Geary County District Court where he was charged in the November 1983 shooting death of Martin K. Anderson.

The long-delayed charge against Bird, former pastor of Faith Lutheran Church in Emporia, came less than two weeks after Anderson's former wife pleaded guilty to second-degree murder and implicated Bird in Anderson's slaying.

Bird's bond was set at $250,000, but Geary County District Judge George Scott said Bird would return to Lansing between court appearances. Another hearing was scheduled Nov. 23.

Bird was taken back to the prison, where he is already serving a life prison term for first-degree murder in the 1985 slaying of his wife and 21/2 to seven years for solicitation to commit murder in an earlier, unsuccessful plot to kill Anderson.

Fire traced to children

WICHITA - An election night fire that destroyed the Land Tool Co. building was caused by children who had been playing there, fire officials said Wednesday.

The $217,000 fire began when two juveniles, 12 and 9 years old, knocked over an oil-filled candle in a playhouse they had constructed inside the vacant building, said Ray Mauck, Wichita Fire Department chief investigator.

He said the youths attempted to put the fire out but fled when they failed.

A 5-gallon can of thinner then exploded causing the fire to spread quickly, Mauck said. Solvents and other chemicals were stored in the building, where motorcycle helmets used to be manufactured, he said.

TAN—TAN—TAN

10-30 minute sessions

Wolff System Beds

3236 Kimball

776-1750

BULLETIN FOR CAMPUS

TODAY

make the second of the second second

FRENCH CONVERSATION TABLE will meet at 11:45 a.m. in Union Stateroom 1

PRE-VET CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in Trotter 201.

CAMPUS CRUSADE FOR CHRIST will meet at 7 p.m. in Throckmorton 131.

SIGMA NU LITTLE SISTERS will meet at 5:30 p.m. at the house.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF CHEMI-CAL ENGINEERS will meet at 1:30 p.m. in

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS OPEN HOUSE COMMITTEE will meet at 6:30 p.m. in Campbell Distributor's "Eagle Nest."

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL will meet at 7:30 p.m. in Union 207.

ICTHUS CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP will meet at 8 p.m. in Union 212.

SAILING CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in COLLEGIATE 4-H will meet at 3:30 p.m.

SOCIETY OF AUTOMOTIVE ENGI-NEERS will meet at 6:30 p.m. in Durland 129.

COLLEGIATE FFA will meet at 8:30 p.m. in Waters 135. PARACHUTE CLUB will meet at 7 p.m.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA LITTLE SIS-TERS will meet at 8 p.m. at the Lambda Chi

A.I.C.H.E. will meet at 1:30 p.m. in Ackert

K-STATE POLICE

Monday

- A white 1980 Mustang was reported disabled in Nichols Drive.
- A maroon Oldsmobile was towed from a reserve stall in lot A-14 to Manhattan Wrecker.
- The burglary theft of a student parking permit was reported. Loss was $15.
- A report was filed regarding the burglary theft of a top-loading balance. Loss was $1,200.
- A report regarding a suspicious subject between the Union and Seaton Hall was filed.

Wednesday

reported stolen from a vehicle parked in Aggieville was later found. Owner was notified.

- A blue Ford Fairmont in lot A-28 was reported disabled.
- A billfold was reported found in Eisenhower Hall.
- A student parking permit was
- reported lost on campus. A wallet and contents were reported lost in an unknown location.
- Criminal damage to a vehicle in lot A-28S resulted in $100 damage.
- A faulty fire alarm sounded on the third floor of Ford Hall.
- The theft of a video cassette recorder from the football office was A student parking permit reported. Loss was $1,000.

BRIEFLY AR CAMPUS

Ag economist to give seminar

John Schnittker, agricultural economist and former K-State professor, will give a seminar this afternoon to discuss farm policy changes that might occur after George Bush becomes president in January. The seminar will be at 3 p.m. in Waters Schnittker owns an agricultural economic consulting firm in Washington. He is a consultant to private industry and to governmental agencies in the United States and abroad.

Schnittker has served as adviser to three presidents. During the Eisenhower administration, he was on the staff of the council of economic advisers. He was director of agricultural research under President John F. Kennedy. He was Undersecretary of Agriculture during the Johnson administration until 1969. Schnittker then returned to K-State to continue his teaching and research in rural economic development as a professor of agricultural economics until 1970.

The Gamma Sigma Delta agriculture fraternity will present Schnittker with the Distinguished Alumni Award tonight at a

Are you sick and tired of being sick and tired?

Call 537-8305 Dr. Mark Hatesohl 3252 Kimball Ave.

Tornado damage reaches $3.8 million

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA - Damage from the tornado that skipped through Topeka Tuesday afternoon will probably run to about $3.8 million, a civil defense official said.

Ken Burgett, Topeka-Shawnee County Emergency Preparedness director, said Wednesday that officials were out assessing damage that hadn't been surveyed earlier. He said he was told the additional damage was not expected to exceed $200,000, added to the $3.68 million he estimated earlier.

The Topeka damage was the worst of at least three tornadoes that touched down in eastern Kansas Tuesday afternoon. Officials confirmed tornadoes in Neosho County, near Erie, and in Atchison County, near Huron.

Montgomery County had severe storm damage, as did Franklin County, where witnesses reported seeing a tornado in the air. Captain Craig Davis of the Franklin County sheriff's department estimated that there was about $100,000 in damage, three-fourths of it at the Ron Hendricks farm near Ottawa, where a barn was destroyed and vehicles and outbuildings damaged.

Hendricks is convinced it was a tornado.

Davis said he was also sure there was a tornado.

Col. Mahlon Weed, deputy director of the division of emergency preparedness in the Kansas Adjutant General's office, said there was $110,000 in damage in Montgomery County, $70,000 in Neosho County and $38,000 in Cowley County.

At Topeka, cleanup continued from the storm that destroyed homes and businesses in the southwest area

Local hospitals reported treating only about two dozen people for minor injuries, most for cuts from flying glass, or bruises.

Officials at the 1,300-student Topeka West High School, where a tornado drill had been run just last week, were thankful there were not many people in the building which suffered the greatest damage when the tornado hit about 1:55 p.m.

"There was no warning," said Earl Williams, who was teaching a history class in an adjacent building. "We had no idea about what was happening, and given the facts afterwards, I'd say we came out pretty lucky."

Aaron Tompkins, 14, who was in a woodworking class in the building that had the worst damage, said the lights went out and at first students thought it was hailing.

"Everybody got panicky when big objects started hitting the window and there was a droning, low sound."

His teacher, Bruce Wayant, said he told students to move toward the wall and assume protective positions. "Everybody was terrified and trying to get in the corner," he said. 'The windows exploded and there was loud rumbling and we heard debris falling."

Principal Robert McFraizer praised teachers for reacting quickly, which he said helped prevent severe injuries.

At least 175 cars in a school parking lot were damaged, and there was heavy damage to the Fairlaw Greens apartment complex south of the

Passports vital for foreign travel By Christina Doherty

ing the passport. Each person wanting a passport needs to complete an application in person at the place of execution. Each application must be accompanied by proof of citizenship, proof of identity, two photographs and fee payment.

Proof of citizenship is usually done by presenting a certified birth certificate, Tucker said. Identity can be proven in various ways. The most common way is showing a valid driver's license.

The only part of the process that tends to cause trouble is getting certified copies of a birth certificate, Tucker said. Certified copies of a birth certificate must be obtained from the state in which the applicant was born. These copies have raised seals to verify their validity.

"I mail (completed applications) and goes to the place that is execut- to the passport agency each day, and from there they are mailed back to the applicant," Tucker said.

The passport agency that serves Kansas is in New Orleans. The passport books are made there, she

"They've been running about two weeks or less," Tucker said. "The longest it's taken since I've been doing this was in the summer, the busiest season, and it took two months. They've been computerized and so the process has sped

Passports are good for 10 years for adults and five years for children. To get a passport renewed, the process is a little shorter.

To get a passport renewed, applicants don't have to go into the executing office and complete the application. Instead, they get an application to take home and mail without having to pay the $7 execution fee.

They must have been issued a passport within the past 12 years, send their most-recent passport with the application, and have been at least 16 when their last passport was issued.

"It's not really a renewal. They just issue a new passport," Tucker

A list of countries that require passports is available at the passport office.

Melanie Berry, a local travel agent, said there is a definite increase in the number of students who go to her agency about planning trips abroad during the holiday season and spring break.

The most popular vacation spots for students going abroad are San Juan, Mexico, other Central American countries and Europe.

Populist party victorious in Pakistan

By The Associated Press

Collegian Reporter

abroad, the process of obtaining a passport may appear confusing, but it only takes a few minutes at a post

A passport is "an internationally recognized document attesting to the identity and nationality of a bearer," according to a government

The cost of getting a passport for 'Seven dollars of each fee is an

the first time is $42 for adults and execution fee," said Amy Tucker, employee in charge of passports at the Manhattan post office. "The other cost is the passport applica-beginning the application process

The execution fee pays for brochure on passports.

$27 for children.

tion fee."

office.

For anyone planning a trip

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan - Benazir Bhutto claimed victory Thursday after election returns showed her populist party trouncing the opposition in Pakistan's first open elections in more than a decade.

With 103 of 205 districts reporting, the Bhutto Pakistan People's Party had 52 seats in the National Assembly compared with 21 for its main rival, the right-wing Islamic Democratic Alliance.

The nine-party alliance includes loyalists of President Mohammad Zia ul-Haq, the military president who died in a plane crash three months ago. Another 30 seats in the assembly went to independents and minor parties.

Bhutto, as leader of the victorious party, would be the first woman to lead this Islamic nation.

"The victory the PPP achieved is because of the selfless sacrifices, the struggle by people of the PPP," Bhutto said at a news conference after a rally of 8,000 people on the lawn of her family home in the southern city of Larkana.

The crowd chanted "Long Live Benazir!" and "Benazir, prime minister!"

Former Prime Minister Mohammad Khan Junejo, one of Bhutto's main rivals from the Islamic Alliance, conceded defeat late Wednesday in his bid for an assembly

"We're on the losing side," he said of his defeat by a Pakistan People's Party candidate in his hometown of Sindhri. He said the Bhutto party had 'succeeded very well." The chairman of the Alliance, Ghulam Mustafa Jatoi, lost in both districts he contested to Pakistan People's Party candidates.

Under Pakistani rules, candidates may contest more than one seat to (さいからかいかいかいないないないかいかいかいかいか) improve their chance of election but must forfeit all but one. The vacant seats are contested later in byelections.

The other main rival of Bhutto, chief minister Nawaz Sharif of Punjab state, claimed victory in the race for an assembly seat in Lahore, his hometown, but lost to a Pakistan People's Party member in another

Cheap, but effective Collegian Classifieds

SALEH FAWWAZ, member of the Palestinian Ald Society. speaks on the role of students in Palestinian uprisings, Nov. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the International Student Center. Sponsored by - Arab Student Assoc. and I.L.L.

FOOD DRIVE

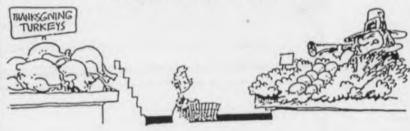

Sponsored by: AUSA

Now through Nov. 22 Please donate your canned goods for the Flint Hills Breadbasket.

> •Drop-off Location• Military Science Building (north end, near office)

Celebrate Thanksgiving like you ve never before!

Turkey, Dressing Mashed Potatoes and Tea

Sat., Nov. 19 5:00-9:00 p.m. at the Station

All you can eat for

$5.00 (Nautilus Members) $6.00 (Non-Members)

Purchase your tickets at Nautilus or The Station Sponsored By:

All May All Wal MM 60.7

BOLD BEAUTIFUL MONET JEWELRY

機動 ampbell's

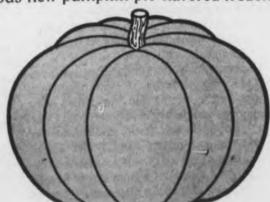

5th & Poyntz DOWNTOWN Now open Sundays 1-5

AGGIEVILLE

Pumpkin

From I Can't Believe It's Yogurt! Just for the Holidays Delicious new pumpkin pie-flavored frozen yogurt.

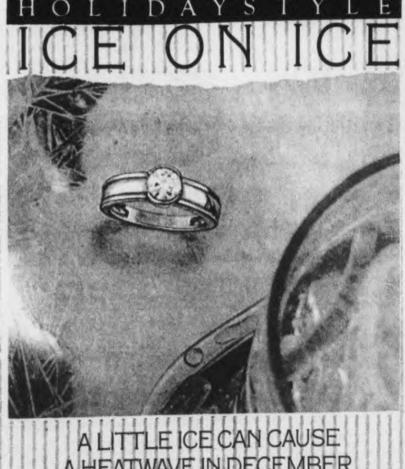

25% DISCOUNT

on any small, medium or large serving of our new pumpkin pie-flavored frozen yogurt. Offer good while flavor is available.

(Topping and waffle cones at regular price.)

705 N. 11th Nautilus Towers Open: 11 a.m.-11 p.m. daily Noon-11 p.m. Sunday

A HEATWAVE IN DECEMBER

Pour on the ice. Coolly elegant diamond jewelry that will fire her imagination this holiday season. Come in and see our selection of exquisite diamonds from the Ice on Ice Collection. They're sure to have temperatures rising.

A DIAMOND IS FOREVER

Across from the Courthouse Plaza

TZ MANHATTAN 913-776-7821

Editorial

Kansas State Collegian Opinions ■ Thursday, November 17, 1988

First impression a false scenario

Seminar activities give incentive to freshmen

reshman Seminar. The words bring several things to mind right away, none of them good. Probably one scenario is a small class full of maladjusted, sniveling freshmen being oriented on how to study, how to enroll, how to get along with playmates and how to survive K-State by crusty, old staff advisers who haven't been students themselves in 50 years.

It sounds like a worthless, pud class that all incoming freshmen are probably encouraged to take, at least to help their grade point averages, which probably will be suffering by the end of the semester.

But it's not. A new class this fall has given new meaning to the words Freshman Seminar. Instead of maladjusted freshmen, it contains some of the most intelligent incoming students available. Instead of stuffy, old instructors, it combines a pool of qualified instructors from all majors in the College of Arts and Sciences with a group of volunteer upperclassmen. But the real genius of the course is that instead of boring topics such as how to pass a first exam, it provides students with the incentive to attend culturally important events occurring on campus.

A complete the complete the state of the sta

Some examples of these include the Sydncy Symphony performance, the New World String Quartet performance, Landon Lectures, plays, dance performances, foreign films and many other types of events that are hard to find in Kansas but occur naturally at his new, experimental class meets once a week for two hours so the students and instructors can go over reading material about upcoming events and discuss past events and how they relate to them. There is also one event scheduled each have something for everyone or at least help week that the student must attend and write the students pinpoint their likes and dislikes. an opinion paper about.

be the continuity of good event selection as approach to the problem

Commentary CATHERINE DOUD Collegian Columnist

well as the enthusiasm and creativity of its instructors and undergraduate volunteers. Care has been taken to schedule a variety of events that individually may not interest every freshman in attendance but overall will

As an experimental program, the class The key to the success of this program will must be commended for its innovative of integrating new students into the University as well as forming new habits and attitudes toward cultural events at K-State. It is rare that a group of students can attend a worldclass symphony one week, experience the next week a spirited performance by K-State jazz students and turn around and attend a performance by a famous string quartet the week after that.

The program has many benefits. The students will benefit by having contact with instructors outside their majors, having access to an upperclassman and having involvement in a variety of programs that they normally might not attend or of which they might not even be aware.

The undergraduate volunteers also are benefited by being involved with an instructor and younger students from whom they can learn and assist as well as receiving access and incentive to attend the events many of us would like to attend but just don't make the he instructors also benefit by having a break from their normal classes as well as by being involved in the unique programming of this class.

The performing arts and lecturers benefit, too, because a new group of audience members is being created as they learn what is available to them, form opinions, and then possibly choose to continue to attend these events on their own.

But most of all, K-State is benefiting. It is showing an interest in involving its new students with the campus as well as creating a pool of students who are culturally aware, have a diversity of thought and will hopefully continue these interests to support better the University community. Hopefully, after the evaluation period that will follow this new class, it will be found worthwhile and will remain on the line schedule at K-State.

Cabinet choices may lack qualifications

How would you like a job in the Bush administration? Don't let a lack of experience or intelligence stop you from applying — it didn't stop Dan Quayle. The only thing that really counts is how hard you worked for the Bush campaign. If you don't have that going for you, just lie about it on your resume - it worked for Dan Quayle.

To his credit, Bush seems willing to fill his cabinet with more women and more ethnic diversity. He will also hire fewer hard-line conservatives. His choice of James Baker for Secretary of State was good news for American banking and corporate interests, whom Baker has served well as Secretary of the Treasury. As for the rest of us, Baker's effectiveness remains to

As for the lower, but nevertheless important, positions in the administration, the tradition of handing out jobs to loyal campaign workers remains. Bush officals have sorted out 19 different credentials for sub-cabinet posts. The credentials range from supporting Bush in his 1970 senatorial bid, his 1980 presidential bid, lending financial support to his campaign, or backing him early on in the 1988 campaign, when Bob Dole was supposed to win. The more credentials one has, the better his or her chances for a position.

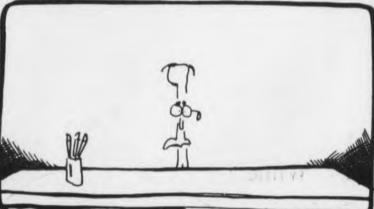

Granted, this process ensures the hiring of loyal subordinates. But it doesn't exactly ensure the hiring of capable employees, especially after this campaign. Bush appointees may be well versed in the subtleties of the Pledge of Allegiance and prison furloughs, but their policy acumen is an unknown quantity.

In fact, the whole hiring process seems to favor inexperienced, ambitious resume-builders with unopinionated, unquestioning loyalty and a lack of any real political substance. People like George Bush.

Letters

STRANGE ... THIS SAYS OF THE NEWS MEDIA, FOR THE NEWS MEDIA, BY THE NEWS MEDIA

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

EDITOR
MANAGING EDITOR
PHOTO/GRAPHICS EDITORJohn La Barge
The state of the s
Jeff Schrag, Erwin Seba, Paula Selby, Robert R. Short, Mark Schrneller, Janet Swanson
Stort, Mark Schmeller, Janet Swanson

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publica-ions Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the school year and Monday and Thursday during summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzle 103, Kansas State University, Man-

News contributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116. Inquiries concerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word ad tissing questions should be directed to (913) 532-6555.

Kanaas State Collegian Subscription Rates Two Semesters (Fall and Spring). $10 Year (Fall, Spring and Summer) To charge by VISA or MasterCard, call (913) 532-6555

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR pertaining to matters of public interest are encouraged. Those which pertain to matters of campus/public interest are especially encouraged and are given the highest priority.

Letters should be kept as brief as possible. All letters are subject to editing on the basis of space, style and taste.

SEND SUBMISSIONS to the Collegian in Kedzie 116.

Walters not truthful

Editor,

Vernon Walters should take back all the nasty things he said about the Collegian at the Landon Lecture. The slavish enthusiasm with which he was praised in your Nov. 14 editorial more than makes up for the effrontery shown by Scott Miller in his guest column of Nov. 10. Miller summarized Walters' involvement in many attempts, often successful, to overthrow elected governments. But it turns out, according to your editorial, this constitutes an "outstanding role in worldwide politics."

Is the Collegian so awestruck by Walters' namedropping, by his ability to impress Castro with his Spanish and the Soviets with his Russian, by his allowing us to "whiff ... the aroma of decision-making," that you would forget that his address was made of lies and distortions with a few harmless anecdotes thrown in to make us think we were seeing "behind the policy?"

For example, Walters opened by saying we should be "taught the truth." Within minutes, he was saying that he had "never had anything to do with the organizations of the Contras." But in sworn testimony before the World Court, former Contra leader Edgar Chamorro said Walters was instrumental in bringing the Contras together under former National Guardsmen. In response to a question, Walters denied the CIA was involved in the overthrow of the Allende government in Chile. This, too, was a lie, as the CIA's role has been extensively documented.

The questions addressed to Waters appeared to be attempts to expose Waters' inability to defend his record except by either lying or saying, in effect, "Try to pin it on me!" These questions were "brutal attacks," in the words of Dwayne Lively in the Nov. 14 Collegian, but, considering the many brutes he has helped install as heads of government and the terror they have inflicted on their own people, Walters deserved at least to be asked a few such questions. Certainly, no one expected him to confess.

If the Collegian had been less carried away with Walters' wit and charm, you might have seen that we really didn't "find out what it was like" at all. You might have whiffed a different aroma.

T.S. Cox adjunct associate professor of agronomy

Questioners wrong

After reading the Collegian's editorial page last week, I became highly disappointed with both the people who have written to the paper about our United Nations ambassador, Vernon Walters, and the Collegian for apparently supporting these people's views.

I attended the Landon Lecture and became even more disappointed when I witnessed the rudeness of a few self-righteous members of the audience toward our ambassador. When questioned about his involvement in some alleged CIA covert activities, General Walters repeatedly cited evidence that he had no involvement in the activities mentioned.

It appeared these "concerned citizens" were not concerned with facts but only with their own entirely incorrect perceptions. Luckily, I was able to attend the post-lecture luncheon and speak with the ambassador. I handed him one of the "lie leaflets" circulated at the lecture, and jokingly asked him to sign it and write whatever comments he desired on

He wrote, "I don't always look like this, only when I am listening to (this) garbage. Good wishes, Vernon Walters.'

I can only hope and pray that this handful of "radical ignorants" can overcome their fear of facts by becoming educated here at K-State and will not prevent other fascinating speakers from coming to our campus.

Neil Neaderhiser freshman in engineering undecided

McCain mishaps

Two points are important about the events at McCain Auditorium Nov. 10 and 11. First, although I disagree with honoring an international thug because he was appointed U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, there should be an opportunity to confront his ideas and discuss them.

The forum should perhaps not be a Landon Lecture, however, but an open symposium with more than five minutes for opposing views and discussion. That is indeed what K-State should be about.

Secondly, we all need to be aware of another, more subtle approval of military thought and influence. Many on campus were shocked at conferring honor on Gen. Walters and openly expressed that shock in the Collegian.

Where, however, was the public outcry when the 1st Infantry Division Band opened for the KSU Wind Ensemble only the night before? Why? Because, no matter what uniform you dress it in, the Army is there to kill people to "protect our interests," just as Gen. Walters has been doing for many years.

When the 1st's band, or any other U.S. military band, plays at a civilian concert, there is a tacit approval, an assumption that this band is a logical part of our everyday existence. When the New Orleans Symphony is bankrupt, why are we spending military tax dollars to keep and feed musicians who ought to be practicing their trade as civilians? First, there is a huge military budget from which no one is trying to cut extravagances; and second, these bands obscure the purpose for which these men and women are recruited. If they are playing such beautiful music, invited and encouraged by the University, surely what they represent is just as beautiful. We never think to question it. Of such ingredients are Dachaus made.

> David Norlin Concordia, Kan.

Bar's alternative music night popular

By Jenny Reschke Collegian Reporter

Tuesday nights are providing an alternative for people in Manhattan who are bored with Top 40 music.

Alternative Music Night at Brother's Bar in Aggieville is gaining popularity.

What began this summer as an "experiment" is drawing a new, diverse crowd to Brother's and is making Tuesday nights busier than usual for the bar, said Ward Morgan, owner of Brother's.

"We started this summer, on every other Tuesday night, because of requests for it," Morgan said. "We plan on keeping it to alternative Tuesdays."

Randy McKinley, bartender at Brother's, offered his explanation for the growing popularity of Tuesday

"I think it's a night to change. We come here," he said.

have a deejay brought in who specializes in modern music. Tuesdays have really picked up. It gives people a chance to hear new music," he said.

On an average night, the crowd numbers around 100, but it was closer to 150 this summer, said Jon Mertz, senior in hotel and restaurant management and a regular Tuesday night patron. 'We (the people who attend) packed the bar that first night, so we knew there was a crowd who wanted it," Mertz said. "We wanted something different - we didn't really care what that difference was."

However, students' busier schedules during the regular school year hinder weeknight attendance. Jim Fieser, graduate student in speech, explained his situation.

"I don't come here an awful lot because I'm busy studying, but I like the music and a lot of my friends

Stephanie Mann, junior in English, also regretted not being able to attend more often.

"We (my friends and I) haven't come for a while. It started this summer and we were here all the time,"

Patrons have different definitions of "alternative music," but enthusiasm for something different is a common factor in the crowd.

"Our goal is to play a wide variety, not just Top 40. We play rap, disco, anything," Mertz said.

Many patrons, like Laura Rentfro, freshman in architecture, come for the atmosphere as much as for the

"I think it's exciting and it's a good variety for college students. It's a good stress reliever," she said. Amy McLelland, freshman in architecture, found her first experience at Alternative Music Night a welcome surprise.

"It's free, and I like the music because it's not what you hear every day - it's different. I like the wide variety of people here," McLelland

Morgan described the crowd as "not the typical Brother's crowd," and patrons are quick to point out the differences between the Tuesday night crowds and weekend crowds.

'There's a lot of different groups that come together. Tastes in music, politics and activities all sort of gel," Mertz said.

Marystar Ely, sophomore in social work, emphasized the crowd's individuality.

"We're all from different backgrounds. We're open to new things. We're not in the mainstream," she

"It's like being your own person. We're not really meaning to be separatists or anything," Ely said.

School Board hears plans for district

By Susan E. Faler Collegian Reporter

The Manhattan Unified School Board heard a plan of action from two representatives from Planning Advocates Inc., an educational consultant that will advise the concerns of additional space, programs and equipment for the district.

In a previous meeting, the board accepted the proposal of Planning Advocates for $45,000 or less, with the condition that the demographics for the study be conducted by K-State.

Planning Advocates is not willing to use somebody else's enrollment projections, but it will do the projection within the allowed budget for this part of the study, said Superintendent Hal Rowe.

"There is a strong possibility that the demographics background for enrollment projections could be different than the demographic investigation that is built into the proposal," Rowe said.

Dwayne Gardner, Planning Advocates representative, indicated it isn't possible for someone else to do the projections, Rowe said. Planning Advocates will do the enrollment projection part within the limitation that the district has in mind and the district will simply control the time for collecting the data, he said. Gardner will be in charge of the evaluation of the schools' facilities and ways to better house the needs of the schools.

"I will look at the space (within the schools) in terms of programs already housed and the direction that they're going in," he said.

A core committee will be formed consisting of representatives from different groups interested in what is happening with the district.

Planning Adovocates plans to present its findings to the core committee.

Bill DeYoung, representative for Planning Advocates, will be in command of the core group and the demographic community analysis. Members of the board are planning to meet with DeYoung Friday morning.

Admission Free

Corporations may get tax break income

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA — Corporations would receive $16.7 million in income tax breaks under a set of recommendations a special legislative committee endorsed Wednesday.

The Special Committee on Assessment and Taxation approved a plan that would lower corporate takes effect. The committee will pass have benefitted from a "corporate the plan onto the 1989 Legislature before it convenes Jan. 9.

The measures are designed to lower corporate taxes and answer criticism from the business community about a package of changes in the state's income tax code passed by the 1988 Legislature.

The recommendations also come income tax rates and eliminate a con- at a time when lawmakers are diswindfall" - an increase in income tax revenues generated by changes in the federal tax code in 1986.

"The committee made the recommendations recognizing there will be several proposals for tax reductions next session," said Sen. Fred Kerr, R-Pratt, a member of the special committee and the chairman of the standing Senate Committee on Assessment and Taxation.

The existence of the windfall and what to do with it was one of the most controversial and significant issues during the 1988 Legislature. It is expected to be a hot topic.

The administration of Gov. Mike Hayden estimated the state received a individual income tax windfall of $135 million, although some lawmakers, particularly those from relatively wealthy Johnson County, thought that figure too low.

troversial minimum tax before it cussing the possibility the state may Take an ice cream cake home to your family for Thanksgiving dinner.

Various designs are available. 8" round cake-$9 10" round cake-$11.25 Sheet cake-$16.25

Made to order 776-4117 1015 N. 3rd

Manhattan

Dr. Willie says Effective Immediately Lafene Student Health Center is accepting VISA & MASTERCARD

See the cashier's office at Lafene for further info.

Take your fee card or student ID for your portrait sitting. P•U•R•P•L•E

R.O.Y.A.L

Held over

by popular demand!

Photographer will be here

until Nov. 18 to take Royal Purple portraits. 8:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

and 1:30-5:30 p.m. Union 209.

Call now for your appointment.

539-5229

Trendy Twenty! Thrifty Thirty! Frugal Forty!

Now you don't have to be 50 to get free checking account service. At the Kansas State University Federal Credit Union there is no monthly service charge on the new share draft account. Balances maintained over $500 earn 5.5% APR. Ask one of our employees how you can sign up for direct pay check deposit and automatic transfers for credit union loan and savings accounts. We're in 6B Leasure Hall for approximately two months while our Anderson Hall office is being renovated.

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

A service for faculty, staff and qualified graduate assistants.

Leasure Hall, Room 6B Open 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday (except on University holidays) Telephone 532-6274

Hyundai Computers Introduced to Kansas

DENVER (FSI). The Hyundai Corporation has selected Connecting Point Computer Centers as their exclusive authorized dealer in Lawrence and Manhattan, Kansas. This selection follows the signing of a major supply contract with the 180 store Connecting Point chain here last month.

Hyundai, the $24 billion company known for its high quality, economical cars, has been a major producer of of microcomputers for the past several years.

Hyundai's Super 16TE line of PCs follows their automotive tradition of price/performance. Myles Schachter, Connecting Point President, said that he chose the Hyundai product line because of its great price, high speed and excellent software bundle. Each Hyundai, he said, is fast at 10 Mhz or twice as fast as the original PC; has a full 640K memory, 12" or 14" flat amber screen and a 101 keyboard.

The Electric Desk software included with every computer is a quality word processor, spreadsheet and database. The system also comes with Keyworks, a program to store keystrokes.

Dr. Rhonda Ross, the firm's Customer Support Manager, has found that the price has not compromised the construction of these powerful PCs. She states that the systems appear to be trouble free and highly compatible. She said this explains the manufacturer's 18 month warranty far in excess of the industry standard.

Hyundai Super 16TE

Due to the new Connecting Point-Hyundai contract, the Manhattan and Lawrence stores are introducing these PCs at more than 20% off already competitive compatible prices with training included with every purchase. Already, United Telephone Midwest Group, Menninger's Foundation and PARS Service has selected Connecting Point to provide Hyundai PCs to their employees.

Kansas State Orchestra CONCERT Adrian Bryttan, conductor Works by Rossini, Grieg and Creston. Thursday, November 17 at 8 p.m. McCain Auditorium

Golden Key Society

Clipping this ad could introduce you to that person you've wanted to meet all semester.

If you've spent the semester watching one particular person, it's time for you to write a Collegian Personal ad. A Personal will intrigue your mystery person and give you the opportunity to introduce yourself. Just bring this ad to Kedzie 103 to start your winter romance.

YOUR NAME
PHONE
ADDRESS
I.D. NUMBER
DAY TO RUN
MESSAGE

Collegian Pusonals

Defaulting on student loans has long-term effects

By Amy Bullock Collegian Reporter

Students who have defaulted on a student loan may find it harder to obtain a credit card, purchase a car or receive a bank loan.

Many Guaranteed Student Loan recipients are not paying back their loans and are suffering because of it. said Mary Hershberger, vice president of the Higher Education Assistance Foundation.

"It is definitely a problem. When an individual does default on a loan, he or she will have a difficult time getting loans for anything," she said.

Upon receiving a loan, students are required to sign a promissory note. That legal document spells out be considered a loan defaulter," Bon-how and when repayments are to begin. Most loan institutions have agreed on a six-month grace period for graduates before they must begin repaying their loans.

At that time, an individual may choose to repay the minimum amount required, which varies with specific loans, said Judy Bonjour, student loan representative for Kansas State Bank, which loans about $4 million to about 2,000 students each

"A payment schedule is set for the student either through the bank that serviced the loan or a loan service center. The problem for the individual begins when a payment is 180 days past due. At this point, a person will

When this happens, the bank that serviced the loan contacts a higher agency known as the guarantor. A claim is filed with that agency, stating that efforts were made to contact the individual, but no response was received.

"Once we have done everything we can, HEAF reimburses us. Then they turn the loan over to a collection agency. This can become very difficult for a person who has defaulted on a loan," she said.

Federal regulations require that all credit bureaus receive the names of people who have defaulted, Hershberger said.

Many collection agencies operate on a payment-in-full policy, meaning the defaulted loan must be repaid in one lump sum upon receiving the notice.

According to a U.S. Department of Education brochure, if payment is not made to the collection agency, the IRS will withhold a defaulter's federal income tax refund and apply it toward repayment of the defaulted loan. Some states also have similar programs for withholding state income tax refunds.

Defaulting on a loan can have long-term effects for both the institution that services the loan and the individual who defaults.

"If a bank has a high default rate, the bank runs a risk of shutting down. We also have had several students come in and apply for loans every semester and they are denied because they have defaulted on a previous loan," Bonjour said.

Many employers and loan companies do credit checks before granting a job or a loan, Hershberger said. Having defaulted is usually a strike against the person, she said.

Defaulters can redeem themselves.

"If they can make payments eight consecutive times, then we will guarantee them another loan, but they are still considered in default status," Hershberger said.

Defaulting on student loans is a national problem and K-State is not immune. Last spring, K-State reported a default rate of a little more than 8 percent. Larry Viterna, director of Student Financial Assistance, said this was comparable to other Big Eight schools.

The latest 14.4 percent default rate figure does not represent an increase but rather an effect of a longer time span used in figuring the rate, Viterna

"The time span looked at with the 8 percent figure was not the entire scope - that figure was based on about three years of loans," he said.

Two representatives from local banks will answer questions for graduating seniors about how to prepare for loan repayments and what guidelines should be followed at 2 p.m. on Nov. 17 and 18 in Union 206.

Kansas contributions increase 'greenhouse effect,' group says

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Kansas has increased its carbon emissions from fossil fuels, the main contributor to the "greenhouse effect" threatening a global warming, by nearly 50 percent over the past two decades, an environmental group reported Wednesday.

From 1966 to 1986, carbon emissions from the burning of coal, oil and natural gas in Kansas grew by 46.8 percent while the same emissions increased nationwide by 27.6 percent.

In its study, "Reducing the Rate of Global Warming: The States' Role," the nonprofit educational group Renew America said states can play an important part in addressing the problem of the so-called greenhouse effect through environmental laws and policies that promote energy

CHICKEN CLUB

SANDWICH

MIPO

Chef

& ½ Fries

11/17/88

conservation and renewable energy to the latest report.

The report is the latest to issue a warning on what some scientists think is a global warming trend from a buildup of carbon dioxide, industrial pollutants and other gases. Other studies have suggested severe environmental and economic effects may result from potentially higher temperatures and drier conditions in the

The greenhouse effect is so named because the buildup of certain gases acts as a barrier to trap solar heat around the Earth. Carbon dioxide accounts for about half of the next century.

Get Personal

greenhouse-effect gases, according

in Collegian Classifieds

airport flea market Manhattan, Kansas OPEN EVERY WEEKEND

Sat. 8am-4pm Sun. 10am-6pm

Household Goods, Tools, Collectables, Crafts, Furniture. Jewelry & Lots More Space available

Ft. Riley Blvd. to Airport Rd., to Murray Rd., Right to Access Rd., Right to the Market. Watch for the signs.

PRIDE CO. 913-776-6906

In Kansas, the study said that carbon emissions from fossil fuels had increased from 12.4 million metric tons in 1966 to 18.2 million metric tons in 1986. During the same period, carbon emissions nationwide increased from 999 million metric tons to 1.28 billion metric tons.

During the most recent decade, from 1976 to 1986, carbon emissions continued to rise in Kansas by 7.2 percent but they declined by 4.1 percent nationwide.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The maturing of America will raise the nation's median age to Jack Benny's never-changing 39 by the year 2010, the Census Bureau estimated Wednesday.

The maturing of the post-World War II Baby Boom generation is combining with that group's relatively small production of offspring to raise the median to its highest point ever.

The median age — meaning half of Americans are older and half younger than that mark - touched 30 for the first time in 1950, then slipped back as the Baby Boom lowered the numbers.

Median age to rise in U.S.

It took until the 1980 census to hit 30 again, edged up to 31.7 as of 1986 and is expected to climb to 33.0 by 1990, 36.5 by 2000 and 39.0 by 2010, the bureau's projected.

Whether the aging of United States will halt at that point, as it did jokingly for the late comedian Benny, depends on birth and death rates in the coming years. The new projections are based on the assumptions that current trends will continue.

At that rate, despite the aging of the population overall, the socalled dependency ratio is expected to decline.

That ratio is the number of people under 18 and over 65 compared with the number of people of working age in between.

GUARANTEE

WE WANT TO MAKE YOUR STUDENT LOAN!

Have the professionals at Kansas State Bank make your student loan. Simply contact us at: 537-4400 Lender code #821176

KANSAS STATE BANK 1010 Westloop & 11th and Bluemont, (913) 537-4400

 $\overline{8}$

Ride the K-State Union Express!!

The K-State Union wants to Express you to and from Bramlage Coliseum during the exciting Wildcat Basketball Season! K-State Union Express Shuttle tickets are free to you with any purchase from the K-State Union on game day! Just ask any K-State Union cashier for your K-State Union Express ticket.

The K-State Union Express will begin 2 hours before the game and will run in 15 minute intervals, and will continue to run until the last Wildcat fan is returned to the K-State Union. Or, park at Bramlage, if you prefer, and ride free to the K-State Union to purchase all that great Wildcat memorabilia!

Pick up and drop off points will be: the NE entrance at Bramlage & the South entrance of the Union. So, hop on!! The K-State Union Express kicks off the Wildcat Season Nov. 26, when the Cats fight Purdue!

DINNER FOR TWO

CHOICE OF ANY TWO

TERIYAKI CHICKEN—BONELESS CHICKEN BREAST MID-WEST SIRLOIN-7 OZ USDA CHOICE STEAK GOLDEN FRIED SHRIMP-ONE DOZEN 1/2 OZ TAILS DEEP FRIED CATFISH-6 OZ BONELESS CATFISH

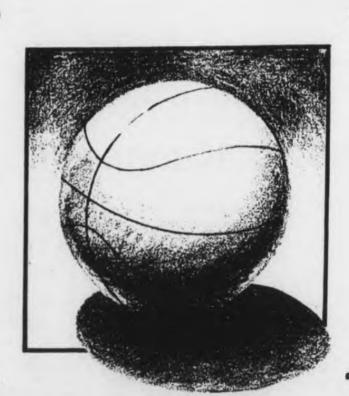

WESTLOOP SHOPPING CENTER 776-8660

POTATO, RICE OR VEGETABLE, HOT BREAD & OUR FAMOUS UNLIMITED SOUP & SALAD BAR

MID-WEST FAMILY DINING

TERIYAKI CHICKEN, MID-WEST SIRLOIN GOLDEN FRIED SHRIMP, DEEP FRIED CATFISH

Potato, Rice or Vegetable, Hot Bread & Our Famous Unlimited Soup & Salad Bar Not Good With Other Discounts

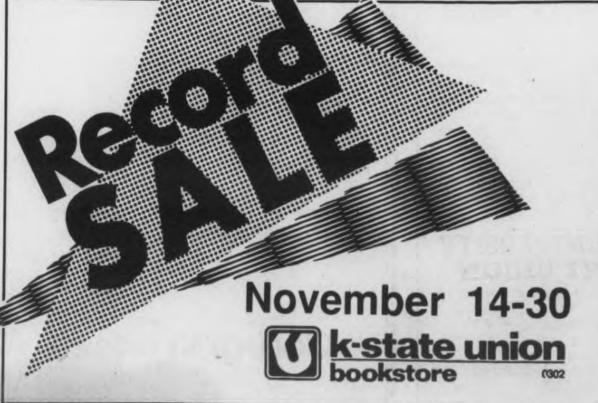

KANSAS STATE

the

DANISH NATIONALS

(featuring Flemming Danielson) FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18

7:30 p.m. TICKETS ARE $4 FOR ADULTS $1 FOR STUDENTS AND YOUNGER

Infocus

Kansas State Collegian ■ Thursday, November 17, 1988 ■ Page 7

GRIF!

An ailment without a medication

"Only people who avoid love can avoid grief. The point is to learn from it and remain vulnerable to love.'

John Brantner

Grief is an emotion most people have to deal with during their lives. Margaret Grayden, clinical social worker at Lafene Student Health Center, and Lance Schwulst, senior in journalism and mass communications, are starting a peer group for students who have lost a significant person through death.

"The only ones who know what to say and know how to listen are those who have gone through similiar circumstances," Schwulst said. Schwulst lost his brother, Mathew, and his sister-in-law, Anna, in a car accident last spring.

"At first, you feel singled out, like you are the only person who is dealing with this," Schwulst said.

The group's objective is to support each member in a relaxed atmosphere and talk about whatever the group wants, Grayden said. "Knowing they aren't going to upset each other because they're all in the same boat helps people to open up," she said.

"We don't have the training to call it therapy - just support,"

When a student requests counseling, Lafene either lets a student request a counselor or a counselor is assigned for the student. After the first counseling session, students are asked if another appointment should be scheduled.

"I give my card to them and let them know I'm available because something so personal can't be imposed on," Grayden said.

"I think it's very important people take the grieving process at their own pace," she said. "A lot depends on the relationship at the time of

Usually, the stronger the relationship to the dying person, the longer the grieving process, she said.

People have been grieving for thousands of years, according to "Grief Counseling and Grief Therapy," by J. William Worden.

In the past, religious leaders and institutions were the main resources for people seeking help with grieving. Today, because many people do not belong to formal religious organizations, they often turn to mental health workers.

According to Worden's study, grief has been compared to physical illness. In the Old Testament, the prophet Isaiah admonishes people to "bind up the brokenhearted."

Both grief and physical illness take time to heal and both include emotional and physical aspects, the book said.

"I worked with a student who had physical complaints of feeling dizzy while driving," Grayden said.

His physical ailment was attributed to his high school years when his younger sister was killed in a car accident, she said.

He felt guilty because she had asked him for a ride home that night, but, because he was busy, he told her to find another way home. "It wasn't until four years later that he confessed to his guilt and unburied his grief," she said. "All the guilt made him physically sick,"

Gravden said.

Because his family never talked about the death, he was unable to express his grief and guilt. Instead, he tried to forget about it, she said. Families vary in their ability to express and to tolerate feelings. If expressed feelings are not tolerated, physical grievances often serve as equivalents, she said.

"Where the family is closed, often times they think they have to be so strong and they close up," Grayden said.

They try and convince themselves not to talk about death because it's too upsetting. What they need to do is get it out in the open, she Worden's study concluded that there are two ways of diagnosing a complicated grief reaction. A patient will be self-diagnosed, or the patient will seek help for a medical or psychiatric problem and be unaware that unresolved grief is at the heart of the distress.

Worden discovered while lecturing in the Midwest an unusual example of grieving. A young woman approached him and wanted to talk about her father. Her parents had recently lost an infant, and she was concerned that he was not grieving. As Worden spoke with her, he learned that the father had asked to carry the tiny casket on his shoulders from the funeral service to the cemetery.

The women said that since the death, her father, a farmer, had spent many hours on a tractor alone in the fields.

Being alone was the father's way of letting go of his baby. It is not unusual for a person the handle grief alone, Worden said. It is sometimes difficult, however, for family members to understand.

Worden said grief consists of four tasks: to accept the reality of the loss; to experience the pain; to adjust to an environment in which the deceased is missing and to withdraw emotional energy and reinvest it in other relationships.

"When you really need support is when you start to get your life back in order," Schwulst said.

"When I read something clever or am having a rough time, I'll catch myself for a fleeting second thinking, 'I'll call Matt,' and then I realize, I can't do that," he said.

One particular incident Grayden remembers is when a 7-year-old girl, who had lost her father through suicide, had repeated nightmares of her father coming back and saying he would be back to take her with

"She had a chronic sleep problem and was afraid her father would come back and take her to never-never land," Grayden said.

Grieving is a gradual process of cutting cords, according to Worden. Other critical times, according to Worden, are around the first anniversary of the death and during holidays. Many thoughts, memories and feelings of the deceased often occupy the minds of the people they left behind, and extra support is needed.

"One of my best friends sent some flowers one time and a simple card that said, 'Keep on keeping on,' and that is exactly what you have, to do," Schwalst said.

"Grief is a very painful process, but it's normal. We are all going to face it sometime in life," Grayden said.

"Time always heals," Schwulst said, "and it does."

Story by Stacy Sweazy

/ Illustration by Richard Broadfoot

Mental health care found inadequate

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA — The chairman of a task force on mental health reform told a legislative committee Wednesday that services for the mentally ill in Kansas are inadequate.

Dave Seaton of Winfield, chairman of the Governor's Task Force on Mental Health Reform, said community services for the mentally ill need to be improved, but added that the problem will not necessarily be solved by throwing more money at it.

"Our system is not adquate," Seaton told the Special Committee on Ways and Means. "Our recommendations to the governor are going to proceed from that assumption."

The 21-member task force has held a series of public hearings across the state in recent weeks,

He said the commission will make recommendations to the govemor by the end of the year, which will include such things as a bill of rights for mental patients.

Seaton said the range of services offered at the community level needs to be improved to allow state hospitals to release patients.

The state has four hospitals for the mentally ill — in Topeka, priate environment. Larned, Osawatomie and Kansas He said "well train Strengthening community services is the first step toward reform," he told the committee, which also is reviewing the state's mental health services.

"I've discovered, much to my disappointment, the glorious past of mental health in Kansas doesn't exist today," he said.

The task force will recommend the hiring of additional case management workers in communities to ensure that patients are receiving the proper treatment in the appro-

He said "well trained, well supervised, adequately paid case managers" can improve the current system in a short period of time.

Paul Klotz, executive director of the Association of Community Mental Health Centers of Kansas, proposed that the state contract with the Mental Health Consortium to provide local services to reducethe state hospital population.

The consortium consists of 30 Kansas mental health centers.

"We're trying to respond to what the state says it needs," Klotz said.

State reappraisal running smoothly

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA - George Donatello, coordinator for the statewide reappraisal, told a legislative panel today that a majority of counties have no major problems in updating property values.

Donatello told the Interim Committee on Assessment and Taxation that only six counties have major problems that require "management attention."

Those six counties are Barber, Johnson, Jefferson, Jackson, Phillips and Rush.

Another 31 counties have seen some "minor delays" in their reappraisal effort while 68 have had no major problems.

The reappraisal, the first in more than 20 years, is scheduled to be completed Jan. 1, 1988. Lawmakers and state officials are beginning to wrestle with the impact it could have on school finance and local property

"Johnson County has a mapping problem," said Terry Hamblin, director of the property valuation division at the Department of Revenue. "That is not going to impair getting the reappraisal done in Johnson County."

He said there were adequate existing urban maps to complete reappraisal by the Jan. 1 deadline.

Hamblin said other counties have a "supervision problem."

Dirty, overworked heaters fire hazards

By Julie Thompson Collegian Reporter

The colder the weather gets, the more heating units work overtime. Should the load become too much and if the units are not properly ignite, said Curtis Henning, coowner of Midstate Mechanical Inc. "All heating units should be checked at least twice a year. (Once) in the fall before you fire them up and cleaned, there is a chance fires will

Henning said. When they are checked, Henning said, filters should be changed.

WordPerfect

also in the spring after the winter,"

"The flue (a pipe for transferring heat around the house) should also be checked to see if there is any buildup. With electric furnaces you don't have a problem with it. However, they should always be checked for other things, such as if it needs to be oiled," he said. "Owners should never store any combustible materials within 7 feet of the furnance because there is a high risk of catching the materials on fire," he said.

Marvin Rodriguez, senior marketing representative for Kansas Power and Light, said the heat exchanger in older-model furnaces also needs to be checked because it cracks easily. "You don't see as much cracking in the newer ones," he said. Often owners use extra space where the furnace is as a broom closet, Rodriguez said.

The furnace is with the water heater. We've seen people store items that collect dust. Then we have a place that's highly explosive," he said.

Rodriguez also said deterioration in the furnace pipes can cause damage to a house.

"Moisture will rust out the pipes and cause fumes to be put back in the house," he said.

CPI photo finish

on color processing & 4x6 prints

Each picture is the best it can be or we reprint it free...now!

Manhattan Town Center

Many homeowners have fireplaces for pleasure and additional heat. Areas near fireplaces are more suspectable to fires, Henning said.

"People put (in) more wood than the fireplace can handle then the wood rolls out," said Henning, "They need to get the owner's instructions that tells them how many pieces of wood to put in."

Fire Marshal Larry Wesch said dry seasoned woods, such as oak and ash, are best for longer burning and less sparks.

"Wood-burning stoves and fireplaces must have a screen area in front and (must not be) carpeted."

Color Enlargements

in One Hour

Same Low Price-Cash or Credit

SPECIALS

6 pk Pepsi - $2.25

2 liter 7 UP - $1.39

6 pk Coke - $2.59

Convenient Locations - Open 24 Hours

969696969696969696

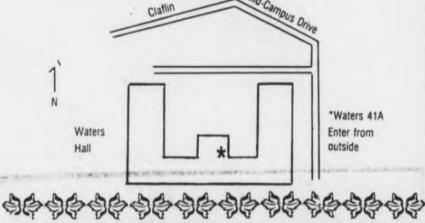

Horticulture Club Pecan Sale

Waters 41A 7:30-5:30 Union-1st floor-9:30-4:30

5 lb. Cracked Pecans

Proceeds go towards Club Scholarships and community projects

Nov. 17, 18

WordPerfect

Get the highest rated word processor at an unbelievable educational price - with speller and thesaurus! ☐ WordPerfect V.4.2 -$ 125 ☐ WordPerfect V.5.0 -$ 135 75%

NO LIMIT ON ROLLS!

4x6 Color Prints in One Hour

CPI photo finish

ConnectingPoint. 222 1115 Westloop Shop. Ctr 539-0801

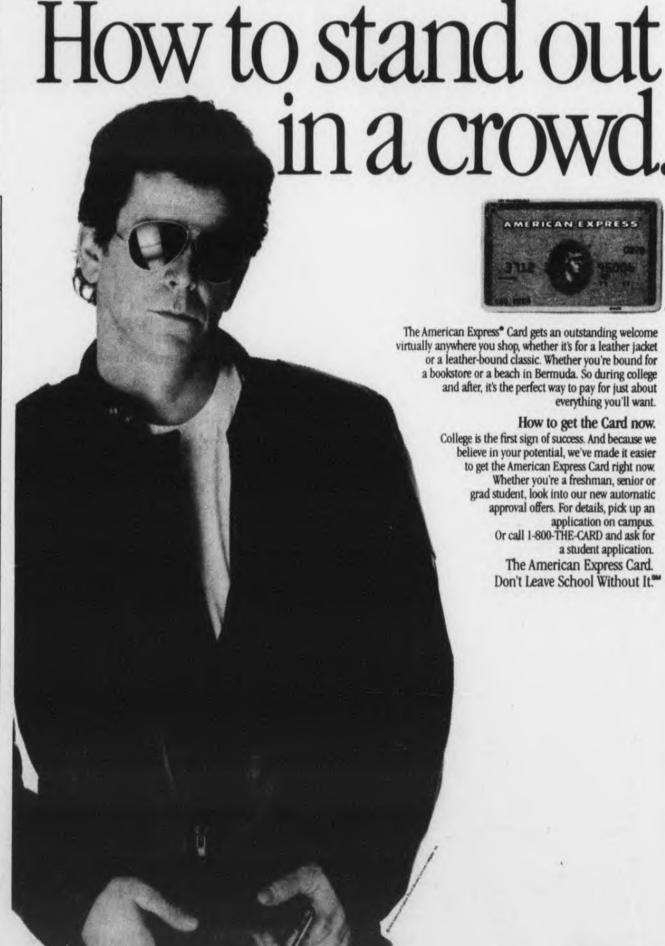

F/T Faculty & Students ONLY

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE FALL 1988 SEMESTER Examination 4:10 p.m. 2:00 p.m. 7:00 p.m. 9:40 a.m. 11:50 a.m. 7:30 a.m. Hour to to 3:50 p.m. 6:00 p.m. 8:50 p.m. 11:30 a.m. 1:40 p.m. Day 9:20 a.m. Engr Graph 1-2 Bus Finance T-1:05 W-3:05 T-11:05 W-11:05 Family Rel Monday 11:30 1:30 3:30 Sci El Sch 11:30 D December 12 Ed Psych 1-2 Eng Comp 1-2 Gen Physics 1-2 Bus Law 1 Fund Accounting Mech Materials Thermo 1 0 F Chemistry 1-2 T-10:05 W-1:05 Tuesday T-7:30 W-8:05 Public Speaking General Chem 8:30 10:30 Dynamics December 13 El Org Chem Statics A Gen Org Chem L Arts El Sch S S El Sch N Math El Sch W-9:05 W-2:05 Wednesday Economics 1-2 T-3:05 T-8:05 Math 100, 150, 9:30 Prin El Ed 8:30 December 14 201, 205, 220, 221, 222, 240 Descriptive Fun Com Prog T-2:05 W-10:05 T-9:05 W-7:30 Thursday 2:30 10:30 9:30 Physics Prin Biology December 15 Gen Botany El Survey Eng Friday Engr Phys 1-2 T-12:05 W-12:05 T-4:05 W-4:05 Intro Human Dev 12:30 4:30 December 16

- I. Students enrolled in classes that meet Wednesday (MTWUF, MTWF, MW, TWUF, WF, W, MWF) and all classes at the various hours on MU and MT, will be examined during the period designated by W and the hour of the regular class session. (See Item IV below and the chart above for special examina tion periods for certain courses.) For example, a class that regularly meets MWF at 11:30 will be examined on Monday, December 12, 11:50 a.m. to 1:40 p.m. II. Students enrolled in classes that meet on a schedule which
- includes Tuesday, but does not include Wednesday (T, TU, U, F, TUF, MT) and classes meeting at the various hours of TF and UF, will be examined during the period designated by T and the hour of the regular class session. III. Day classes meeting only once a week on Monday, Thursday,
- and Friday or Saturday will be examined as follows:

 Monday, Dec. 5 Thursday, Dec. 8 Friday, Dec.

 IV. No classes shall meet after Friday, Dec. 9, and all examina-Friday, Dec. 9 tions shall be given as scheduled.
- V. Students scheduled to take more than two final examinations on any given day may see their instructors, and then department heads or Deans to resolve conflicts and to relieve heavy examination loads.
- VI. Students scheduled to take two or more special exams at the same time should take the one occurring first in the list at the scheduled time and arrange through the instructor, department head, or Dean to take the others at other times.
- VII. Evening classes that meet after 5:00 p.m. will be examined during final exam week at 7:00 p.m. on the night the class would regularly meet. Classes with multiple meeting nights including Wednesday will be examined on Wednesday, December 14 at 7:00 p.m. Classes with multiple meeting nights including Tuesday will be examined on Tuesday, December 13 at 7:00 p.m. Students scheduled to take a special group exam at the time of the evening class will take the evening class exam at a time to be arranged in consultation with the evening class instructor. Departmental representatives should schedule general use classroom space for final examinations for evening classes by contacting University Physical Facilities L'oom Scheduling and complete ing a "Request for Use of University Buildings and Grounds"

AMERICAN EXPRESS

everything you'll want.

a student application.

How to get the Card now.

Whether you're a freshman, senior or approval offers. For details, pick up an application on campus. Or call 1-800-THE-CARD and ask for

The American Express Card. Don't Leave School Without It."

Kansas State Collegian ■ Thursday, November 17, 1988 ■ Page 9

Phi Delt housemom runs NYC marathon

By Sarah Kobs Collegian Reporter

From the Little Apple to the Big Apple, Linda Breen has traveled many miles, not only by airplane, but also on foot.

Breen, housemother for the fraternity Phi Delta Theta, recently returned from New York City where she participated in the seventh annual New York City Marathon on Nov. 6. More than 22,000 runners participated in the marathon, which was referred to by Breen as the "granddaddy of them all."

She began running nine years ago when she lived in Iowa.

"I was real shy about it at first and would run at night so no one would see me," she said.

It didn't take long, however, until she became an addicted runner. She has ran in six marathons in the past two years.

Her first marathon was in May 1986 at Lincoln, Neb. Her son, Kevin, a former cross-country runner, inspired her to enter the marathon. Since then, she has cut her time by 20 minutes. She finished second in her age group at the 1987 Lincoln Marathon.

Breen followed an 18-week training program to prepare for the New York City Marathon. She trained with three friends from Salina, who also joined her in New York.

"I figured I ran approximately 828 miles during the entire training program," Breen said.

Following a training program is important because it helps during recovery from the race, she said. It also helps build endurance.

Her eating habits didn't change drastically until a couple of weeks before the race. She ate pasta and foods high in carbohydrates to store extra energy

"New York City had more hills than I expected, but I like hills," she said. "I get excited at hills because I feel like I have an edge over the others."

Overall, Breen finished 12,052th of 22,299. In her age division, 40-49, she finished 245th of 975. Her time was 4:11:45 for the 26.2-mile course.

"I was hoping to finish in 3:55, but my ankle started bothering me around the 18-mile marker," she said.

The runners began on Staten Island and made their way through all five boroughs, finishing in Central Park.

"Before the race began, the national anthem was played while we were on the bridge waiting to start," she said. "The flag was blowing in the breeze and I was thrilled to be there. "New York City comes alive for the marathon. One person described it as 'one big block party that goes through all five boroughs."" This year, it was estimated that 2.5 million people cheered for the runners. "I talked to a lot of neat people during the race and we gave each other lots of encouragement," she

Some participants dressed in crazy costumes for the race. Breen said one man carried a palette and painted

Linda Breen, Phi Delta Theta housemother, runs along Sunset Avenue. Breen has recently returned from New York City, where she competed in the Nov. 6 New York City Marathon.

while he ran and a newly married couple ran holding hands while wearing T-shirts that read "Just Married." Others wore animal costumes, some wore George Bush or Michael Dukakis masks and others wore waiters' outfits, according to a story in the New York Post.

Breen wasn't concerned with competing against the other runners. Her goal was achieved through the experience of running in the

"It was such a thrill, I kept wanting of the Statue of Liberty." to pinch myself," she said.

Breen had only been to New York City one other time for a brief visit. This time, she got to tour the city and see many of the attractions, including the two Broadway plays "Me and My Gal" and "Cats."

"I felt like we ran 26 miles on Sunday and walked at least 26 miles the rest of the time," she said. "We climbed 22 flights of stairs to the top

The weather on the day of the race was sunny and 60 degrees with 80 percent humidity.

"It was warmer than I would have liked for it to have been," Breen said. "Ideally, marathons should be run when the temperature is 42 degrees with overcast skies."

As Breen crossed the finish line, ■ See MARATHON, Page 12

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK - Jose Canseco, the first major leaguer to hit 40 homers and steal 40 bases in one season, was selected unanimously the American League Most Valuable Player on Wednesday.

The muscular Oakland right fielder received 28 first-place votes and 392 points from a panel of 28 sportswriters, two from each AL city. Canseco is the seventh AL player to be the MVP unanimously, and the first in 15 years. Hank Greenberg (1935), Al Rosen (1953), Mickey Mantle (1956), Frank Robinson (1966), Denny McLain (1968) and Reggie Jackson (1973) were the other unanimous selections.

Boston left fielder Mike Greenwell, with 242 points, was runner-up to Canseco, followed by Minnesota center fielder Kirby Puckett with 219 points, New York right fielder Dave Winfield with 164 points and Oak-156 points in the voting by the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

All the finishers in the marathon received a medal like the one Breen is holding. This was her sixth race in the past two years the Athletics to the AL pennant and a 104-58 record.

Unlike many players, winning the MVP doesn't mean a cash bonus for Canseco because he had no such clause in his contract, which earned him $355,000.

In three-plus seasons in the major leagues, Canseco has 111 home runs and 367 RBI.

This was by far Canseco's most consistent season, however, as he

"I'm an older player, if you consider that 24 is old," Canseco said. "Experience has helped. I know the pitching and I'm more comfortable."

Canseco's 111 career homers, including five after a late-season call-up in 1985, are the 10th-highest land reliever Dennis Eckersley with total for a player at the end of the year 1986 with 33 homers and 117 RBI en in which he turned 24. The other nine players are in the Hall of Fame.

There have been various debates Canseco hit .307 with 42 homers over the definition of an MVP but and 124 runs batted in while leading Canseco more than qualified on all counts.

> Of his major-league leading 42 homers, 27 either tied the score or put the Athletics in the lead. Oakland also won 29 of the 37 games in which Canseco stole a base. He led the AL with 76 extra-base hits and was second in runs scored with 120.

> The American League charts 17 offensive categories and Canseco ranked in the top 10 in 12 of them.

"I don't think I had a bad drought raised his batting average 50 points. except for an 0-for-20. And even when I was 0-for-20, I was hitting the ball well, so the key was staying consistent," said Canseco, who led the Athletics to their first pennant since

It is Canseco's second major route to the Rookie of the Year award. In 1987, he had 31 homers and 113 RBI.

On Aug. 6, Canseco stole his 30th base to become the 11th player to join the 30-30 club, joining such alltime greats as Wille Mays and Aaron. On Sept. 23 at Milwaukee, Canseco took a place in baseball history when he stole his 39th and 40th bases.

A's manager Tony La Russa said of Canseco's 40-40 feat, "It's got to be on the list of top five or 10 achievements in history."

The homers kept coming for Canseco in the playoffs. He hit three against Boston while the Athletics swept the Red Sox in four games.

In Game 1 of the World Series, Canseco was hit by a pitch in the first inning and hit a grand slam in the second. But after that, he went 0-for-19 as Los Angeles won in five games to spoil an otherwise dazzling season award in the majors. He hit .240 in for Canseco and the A's.

Sports Briefly

Mossman signs second recruit

Polly Williams, a 6-3 center from Harper Woods, Mich., is the second athlete to sign with the K-State Lady Cats. Coach Matilda Mossman announced her second signee Wednesday, the last day of the early signing period.

"We are very excited about signing Polly Williams because that assures us of having another quality post player with the loss of Stacey Boyle after this year," Mossman said. "Polly is a very good athlete. She runs the floor well, has good hands and can score inside. She was recruited by a lot of people and we feel very happy to have her join us at K-State."

Williams, a senior at Regina High School, has been averaging 18.3 points and 11.1 rebounds a game this season. She also has blocked 5.2 shots a game while shooting 49.8 percent from

The two-time all-league and all-Catholic selection, is the school's career scoring leader. She was the first in school history to go over the 1,000 point mark. She also holds the school record for most points in a game (44). Williams, coached by Diane Laffey, was honorable mention all-state last Mossman had not previously signed any athletes during the early recruiting period. This year she has signed Kelly Moylan, a 5-9 guard from St. Marys, and Williams.

Elliott, King, Ferry head all-America list

From Staff and Wire Reports

Spikers need to win last two

The K-State volleyball team will be going for its only conference sweep of the season tonight when it travels to Lawrence to meet Kansas.

"Right now, this is the only match that matters," Coach Scott Nelson said. "We need to win two to get into the tournament, so there is no sense in looking ahead to Nebraska."

K-State enters the contest 14-12 overall and 3-7 in the Big Eight Conference. The Wildcats are still fighting for the fourth and final spot in the conference tournament. Only Iowa State and K-State have a chance of joining Nebraska, Oklahoma and Colorado in Salina over Thanksgiving weekend.

The Cyclones have the advantage with a 4-7 league mark and a road match left at Missouri. Should K-State defeat Kansas and lose to Nebraska on Saturday, Iowa State would earn the tournament berth, despite having the same record as the Wildcats.

The tiebreaker is based the Wildcats' and Cyclones' record against the upper echelon of the conference and the Cyclones own an upset of second-place Oklahoma. If K-State beats KU, they can qualify by upsetting Nebraska Saturday night in Ahearn Field House.

Earlier this season, K-State defeated Kansas in three games, 15-4, 15-10, 15-9. In the past two regular seasons, K-State is 3-0 against Kansas.

"We played well in our first match against them here," Nelson said. "But I don't think they played as well as they are capable, which was to our benefit.

"They showed me last weekend that they are playing better now, because it took Oklahoma five games to beat them and Oklahoma beat us in four, so they're playing good volleyball."

K-State will play its last home match at 7:30 p.m. Saturday against fifth-ranked Nebraska.

By The Associated Press

Sean Elliott of Arizona, Stacey King of Oklahoma and Danny Ferry of Duke — three players who were instrumental in their team's Final Four appearances last season — were the top vote-getters in The Associated Press' preseason All-America team announced Wednesday.

Joining the three senior forwards on the six-man team were sophomore guard Mark Macon of Temple, senior guard Sherman Douglas of Syracuse and junior forward J.R. Reid of North Carolina. Douglas and Reid tied for the final spot in the voting of the 65-member panel which selects the weekly Top Twenty.

Elliott and Reid were All-Americans last season, while Ferry and Macon were chosen for the second team.

The 6-foot-8 Elliott was the top vote-getter, having been named on 56 ballots, two more than King and three more than Ferry.

Macon was named on 30 ballots, while Douglas and Reid each appeared on 23.

King is the leading returning scorer of the group, having averaged 22.3

last season while grabbing 8.5 rebounds and blocking 2.6 shots per game. The 6-10 King is considered the top center in college basketball and many feel King will be playing the season feeling he has to prove his being cut from the Olympic team was a mistake.

Elliott didn't make the Olympic team either despite his being considered a versatile player so necessary in that situation. He, too, will be on a team hurt by graduation as Elliott and Anthony Cook are the only starters returning from the Wildcat team which held the No. 1 spot for six weeks last season. Elliott averaged 19.6 points and 5.8 rebounds last season while shooting 57 percent from the field, 47 percent from 3-point

Ferry is looking for his third Final Four trip in a storied career at Duke, the No. 1 team in the preseason poll. The 6-10 son of the Washington Bullets general manager was named Atlantic Coast Conference player of the year last season after averaging 19.1 points, 7.6 rebounds and 4.0

Rozelle reinstates Chiefs' Bell

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - Defensive end Mike Bell was reinstated by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle Wednesday, ending his suspension for violation of the league's substance abuse

Bell, a 10-year veteran, is expected to play this week against the Seattle Seahawks. He was suspended Oct. 20 after testing positive in a random test. The substance found in his system has not been identified. It was the first time he had tested positive, but was suspended by Rozelle because of a previous conviction on drug charges in which he served a four-month prison sentence in 1986.

NFL owners prepare labor plan

SKOKIE, Ill. - NFL owners, whose teams have been playing without a union contract for more than a year, are set to unveil a new labor plan they say they will implement unilaterally after the season unless they can come to terms with the players association.

The plan, developed by the league's Management Council and almost sure to be approved by the owners, includes a modified form of free agency based on time played and a rookie salary scale. But it is expected to be rejected out of hand by the union, which plans to continue to press the antitrust suit it filed at the conclusion of last year's 24-day strike.

"It's not even worth tawking about," said Gene Upshaw, the executive director of the NFL Players Association. He said he got the basis of the proposal from Jack Donlan, his management council counterpart, on Oct. 4.

"If they came up with something that meets the rule of reason, we'd accept it. But they're not going to do do it."

According to Upshaw and some management sources, any player beyond the first three years of his contract who plays less than half the offensive or defensive plays would become free agents without compensation or right of first refusal. Moreover, all rookies would be paid the same - $60,000 for the first season and $70,000 for the second.

Friend contributes transplant heart

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO - They were neighbors, schoolmates and friends and between them, they had one sound heart.

through my mind is that a friend of mine is dead," 18-year-old Maria Ortiz said Wednesday from her bed at the University of Illinois-Chicago Hospital, where she is recovering from heart transplant surgery after receiving a surprise gift - the heart of a friend.

"Now I've got a chance ... and I'll be real happy because I know the girl and I know most likely how she was and I'll feel better than having a stranger's heart in me," she said.

"At least," she added, "I knew

Ortiz lived all her life with a weakening heart muscle. After an attack Nov. 6, she was brought to Masonic Hospital, where doctors her.

feared she had only days left.

Ortiz began to accept that she might never see her 4-month-old daughter grow up. In a waiting room nearby, her mother, Carmen Geliga, struck up a conversation "The first thing that went with another woman whose daughter was in the same unit with a neurological disorder that had left her brain dead, but with a healthy heart.

> Geliga had no idea then that their daughters had exchanged greetings at the neighborhood pool and talked occasionally in the halls at Roberto Clemente High School before Maria dropped out.

> "I wanted to ask her, but I couldn't, because it seemed very cruel to come out and say, 'Please, give us her heart," Geliga recalled.

Instead, she went home and prayed. When she returned to the hospital, Geliga learned the the intensive care unit at Illinois woman had asked to speak with

Arkansas tornadoes create chaos

By The Associated Press

SCOTT, Ark. - National Guardsmen helped keep order Wednesday after up to 10 tornadoes churned through Arkansas, killing six people, damaging scores of homes and businesses and temporarily knocking out power to 16,000 customers.

The twisters destroyed or damaged 240 homes and mobile homes and eight businesses, said Gary Talley, spokesman for the state Office of Emergency Services. No monetary estimate of the damage was available Wednesday.

Seven counties were declared disaster areas by Gov. Bill Clinton, who set aside $350,000 in state emergency funds.

At least 49 tornadoes touched down in Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Illinois and Iowa on Tuesday night. A seventh person was killed in southwest Missouri. The same storm system left three people dead in road accidents in Colorado and was blamed for the electrocution death of a woman in Illinois.

The National Weather Service front colliding with warm, moist air.

Chief Darnell Scott of the central Arkansas town of Lonoke, where two people were killed and about 30 houses were reported heavily

At the height of the storm, 16,000 customers of Arkansas Power & Light Co. lost power for different periods, said AP&L spokesman Jerol Garrison. By Wednesday morning, only about 1,000 customers still had no power, he said.

About three dozen National Guardsmen were called out for several hours Wednesday to look for survivors and keep non-residents away from homes in the Scott area in Pulaski County. More guardsmen performed similar duties in Van Buren County.

Three of the tornado victims, a couple and their infant son, died when their mobile home in Scott was battered by the last of the tornadoes to hit the state, authorities said. They were identified as Randall Dycus, 24, his wife, Kristi, 22, and Waylon, about 1.

Robert W. McCain and Juanita A. said the storms were caused by a cold McCain, both 62, died when high winds overturned their van on Inter-We saw it coming, but there was state 40 near Lonoke, and Louis nothing we could do," said Police Breckel, 68, was killed in Van Buren County when the storm destroyed his home, authorities said.

Breckel lived across the street from the new Southside High School gymnasium, which was destroyed, Sheriff Kenny Lee said.

"Luckily, most of those people where the homes were completely destroyed were all out at a high school basketball game" in another county, Lee said.

William Brown, a 25-year resident of Scott, appeared resigned Wednesday as he viewed the twisted remains of his home, which the tornado lifted off its slab.

"We'll rebuild," Brown said, as he waited for his insurance agent.

Next to the house sat his pickup truck, its windows blown out and a stick almost an inch in diameter imbedded in the dashboard.

The trees in the area, coated with fiberglass insulation that was sucked into the storm's path, looked as if they were blooming with pink cotton, and broken glass, uprooted trees and loose boards were strewn everywhere. Two boats, hoisted by high winds from a nearby bayou, sat 20 yards from the shoreline.

A twister in Garland County demolished the Lake Hamilton Fire Department, along with a half-dozen mobile homes and a barn, and 14 mobile homes were destroyed and the roofs of several residences were damaged in Hot Spring County, said state Trooper Janet Welch.

In Johnson County, said Sheriff Eddie King, "We had several homes demolished, six to 10 homes homes destroyed - roofs blown out, trailer homes flipped over. Trees were just twisted up, thrown in people's yards. Cars were picked up — one was thrown up into the tree."

> Be informed. Read the Collegian.

Christmas Preview Open House

Sunday, Nov. 20th Free Drinks

& Hors d'oeuvres 1124 Moro Aggieville

New Nonfat Frozen Yogurt

Same great taste with no fat or cholesterol

I Can't Believe It's YOGURT Frozen Yogurt Stores

Nautilus Towers-Aggieville Phone 537-1616 Manhattan THE QUALITY IS WAY UP.

Black & Cordovan

$54.95

foley's shoes

1342 Westloop Place

Show you care with a Collegian Classified.

Remember 18 oz. Fishbowls

776-5577

776-5577 PIZZA SHUTTLE "NO COUPON SPECIALS"

> rime Time Special 3-10 in. Pizzas 1—Topping 4-Cokes °10.00

Everyday Two-Fers 2-10 in. pizzas 2—Toppings 2-Cokes FAST N FREE DELIVERY

Discover what they

Congratulations

Jill Warren

Arts and Sciences

Student of the Semester

Spring 1988

your the world of Arts & Sciences

You too can be a success!

Check out his tape for FREE in the SGA office 5 days a week.

don't teach you at the Jarvand Business

One of Satyajit Ray's most critically acclaimed films, DAYS AND NIGHTS deals with four friends from Calcutta who drive off together for a short holiday in the countryside. During the next few days they meet the local village girls as well as two high-caste young ladies also on holiday. What follows is a series of drunken sprees, social embarrassments, adventures with servants, officials, prostitutes, and even a brief romance. On love. (In Bengali dialogue with English subtitles) TODAY-3:30 p.m. Little Theatre, Union TONITE-7:30 p.m. Forum Hall, Union KSU I.D. Required—Admission-$1.75 their return to Calcutta each has a fuller appreciation of life and

For more information on the location, times, and prices of Union movies, call the K-State Union 24-hour Movieline at 532-6570.

was kaleidessen

SATYAJIT RAY'S DIN RATRI

Friday , NOV.

Wk-state union

POSTPONED UNTIL SPRING SEMESTER!!

RISTOCATO

With the vocal talents of Phil Harris, Eva Gabor, and Sterling Holloway, a cast of fanciful felines takes center stage for this animated tale based on a true story of Parisian cats that became heirs to a fortune in the early 1900s.

Come see your favorite family film "The Aristocats", and UPC Kaleidoscope Films will donate 50¢ from every admission to the Animal Control Shelter for the care of homeless cats and dogs.

Nov. 19 & 20, Saturday 2 p.m. and Sunday 2 & 7 p.m. Union Forum Hall. Admission: $1.50, KSU I.D. Required, Rated G

Monty Python's John Cleese stars as a stuffy English attorney defending one of an oddly assorted gang of jewel thieves. One of the thieves is Jamie Lee Curtis, a seductive con woman who takes a liking to Cleese when he becomes the accidental owner of an extremely valuable item from the gang's recent multi-billion dollar heist.

Friday, Nov. 18 and Saturday, Nov. 19, 7 and 9:30 p.m. Union Forum Hall, KSU I.D. Required, Admission: $1.75, Rated R

*(Special Giveaway! "A Fish Called Wanda" t-shirt will be given away at the 7 p.m. show on Fri. Nov. 18)

(i) k-state union

ClassAds 532-6555 Kedzie 103

CLASSIFIED RATES One day: 15 words or fewer, $2.50, 20 cents per word over 15; Two consecutive dates: 15 words or fewer, $3.50, 25 cents per word over 15; Three consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 cents per word over 15; Four consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.75, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $5.00, 40 cents per word over 15.

Classifieds are payable in advance unless client has an established account with Student Publications. Deadline is noon the day before publication; noon

FRIDAY for Monday's paper. Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the adver-tiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not alter the value of the ad.

Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103 or by calling 532-6555.

Display Classified Rates One day: $5.20 per inch; Three consecutive days: $5.00 per inch; Five consecutive days: $4.80 per inch; Ten consecutive days: $4.60 per inch. (Deadline is 4:30 p.m. two days before publication.)

Classified advertising is available only to those who do not disciminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex or ancestry.

Announcements

PARTY GAS (helium)... you fill... we fill... our balloons. your balloons, 1231 Westloop, 539-4038. FOOD AND crafts for sale on Sunday, Nov. 20, noon-7p.m., 1021 Denison. Mennonite Fellowship.

POLITICAL SCIENCE Club will be meeting Monday, Nov. 21 in Union 207 at 8. Dan Atcheson Brown will be speaking on Mozambique.

ATTENTION:

Due to the Thanksgiving break all classified ads needing to run on Monday. November 28 must be placed on Monday. November 21 by noon in Kedzie 103. Thanks for your cooperation!

LOOKING FOR A NEW JOB ... STAGE 1 "CONFIDENCE"

STAGE 3

WHY THE HELL

WON'T THEY

CALL BACK!

IMPATIENCE" INDIGNATION"

SPRING BREAK '89

FLYING INTEREST you? For information on K-State

SKI THE Best This Year, Ski Breckenridgelli Jan. 1st-

7th or Jan 8th- 14th, prices include lodging, lifts, parties, etc... $205 land only, $249 roundtrip transportation. Deluxe condominiums with jacuzzi, kitchen and more, one block from ski liftil Contact:

$1 off your

Collegian Classified

with your contribution

to the Flint Hills

Breadbasket. Take

canned goods to

Prepaid ads only. Not valid with any other offer.

Deadline: noon one day prior to publication

Offer expires noon Dec. 8, 1988

PERMS: $19.95 includes cut and style. Tan 10 sessions

MONDAY, GUN and Knile show, Nov. 19th, 9a.m.

ALL YOUR Mary Kay needs -skincare -glamor -nails -gifts for all seasons. Floris Taylor, 539-2070.

RIDE THE

K-STATE UNION

Express!!

on, 1-922-6979.

5p.m., Nov. 20th, 9a.m.- 4p.m. National Guard Armory at Manhattan airport. Buy, sell, trade.

Hassell 539-7647 or Dan Danitschell

Flying Club call Sam Knipp, 539-6193.

539-8397. Hurryl Limited!

Classified.

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, TX $149* Sheraton/Holiday Inn/Gulf View $93* STEAMBOAT, CO Shadow Run/Overlook $118 DAYTONA BEACH, FL

Reservations Available Now

Texan Motel MUSTANG ISLAND, TX Port Royal Condos HILTON HEAD ISLAND, SC ... $107'

Hilton Head Beach Condos Don't Wait Until It's Too Late!

Call Toll Free Today 1-800-321-5911

THE VW doctor will keep your bug healthy and save you $$ at J&L Auto Service. 1-494-2388, sever east. Repairs and salvage.

WANTED- 100 overweight people to try herbal weight control program. No drugs, no exercise. Doctor recommended. 100% guaranteed. 776-5114.

GOSPEL SERVICES

Presenting the simplicity of Christ Our hope is to bring the faith of lesus to someone who does not have it and to strengthen the faith of those who do-The Bible is the only Interature used No. appeals will be made. These services are quiet and reverent. People of any faith are invited Speakers Nellie Lewis and Jovee Beals Sundays, 4 p.m.; Wednesdays, 7 30 p.m.; through Dec. 14. at KSU Danforth Chapel.

BY RICHARD BROADFOOT

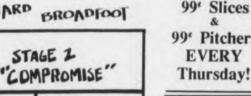

OH WELL ... I'LL

TAKE $25,000.

AS LONG AS I GET A COMPANY

STAGE 5

CAR!

2 Apartments—Furnished

APARTMENT FOR one person, one and one-half blocks east of City Park, 539-5778.

PYRAMID

AVAILABLE JAN. 1, large two-bedroom apartment, four blocks south of campus, west edge City Park. No children or pets. $260 plus electric. 776-6396.

AVAILABLE JAN. 1: One-bedroom with dishwasher, central air, across from Marlatt Hall. Call 776-7891.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM apartment, Water, trash, twothirds gas paid. Laundry facilities. Nice for graduate student or couple. $260. Available Dec. 15 or Jan. 1. 539-2482 after 4p.m.

NOW IS the time to rent for next semester. One-, two- or three-bedroom apartments. Nice, close to campus. Not in complex. Low utilities. No pets. Call

ONE-BEDROOM FURNISHED in 12-unit complex two 539-7811 or 1-456-8297.

3 Apartments—Unfurnished

AVAILABLE SECOND semester. Less than one block from campus, two bedrooms, one full by utilities. Clean and nice. Call 776-3788 or DUPLEX, TWO-BEDROOM near campus. Clean.

Stove, refrigerator, hookups. Good for couple. Available Nov 19 539-3524 LARGE ONE-BEDROOM, campus location, coin operated washer and dryer. No pets, available

January. $265 plus deposit. 539-1465. MOVING TO K.C. after the semester? We need subleasers! Beautiful two-bedroom, two-bath, full size washer and dryer in apartment, fireplace, balcony, 95th and 435. Chesapeake Estates. Call (913)888-3587, leave number and name if no

NICE EFFICIENCY apartment available Dec. 1st. $185/ , heating paid. Please call 539-0555 ext. 30. After 5p.m. call 776-3415.

Bloom County

By Berke Breathed

Peanuts

Garfield

AND HERE'S A PHOTO OF YOU

WITH THE PIGS ON MY FOLKS

JAN. 1. two-bedroom, large, attractive, patio apartment walking distance campus. One and one-half baths, washer, dryer connections. Really nice large apartment in choice location, $360 including carport. 537-4179 or 776-2462, evenings or

FOR RENT, nice two-bedroom apartment, seven-month lease, starting Jan. 1st, excellent location.

Second Semester Apartment

We project 20 Jan. 1st vacancies in our university oriented complexes. Call soon for best selection!

Kedzie 103 to receive $1 off your Collegian McCullough Development

2700 Amherst (913) 776-3804

4 Automobiles for Sale

1979 DATSUN 210 wagon, stereo, snow tires, n some work. Must sell, $250. Jason, 776-7089. 1981 PONTIAC Pheonix, four-cylinder, 83,000 miles, cassette, $850, 537-3772

1982 BUICK Regal- low mileage, runs great. Kerwood stereo, custom cover, $3,000 or best. John after 6p.m. or leave message. 532-5156.

1983 RENAULT Alliance, 58,000 miles, 4.V, four-door, air conditioning, AM/FM stereo, excellent condition $2,000. 537-3721. 1985 FIERO special edition. Awes are inside and out.

runs great; 36,000 original engine miles, $6,000 or best offer. Call 539-4185, ask for Brian. WILL ACCEPT sealed bids until Nov. 32, 1998 on 1987 Toyota pickup. Long hed, extra cab, five-speed, AM/FM with a tape, cloth interior, silver, 38,000 miles, in excellent shape May be seen by appointment only. 8a.m.- 4p.m., Monday- Friday. Phone (913)532-6274.

8 Computers

AT&T 7300 computer, Unix operating system, 10 meg hard disk, 15 software packages (including Dbase III, WordStar 2000, spreadsheet). Seven software packages unopened, Must sell. Call after 5p m.

PERSONAL COMPUTERS Authorized Warranty Service

also servicing · PC compatibles & printers · Televisions & VCRs

FOR SALE: Line printer ribbons- Black multistrike no. QM MS (4), dozen), $1.25 each. Black nylon no. QM NY (15), $2.25 each. Call 532-6555 or come by Kedzie 103 to see.

9 Employment

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such "employment opportunity" with reasonable caution ATTENTION- HIRINGI Government jobs- your area

$17,840- $69,485. Call (602)838-8885, ext. BARTENDERS, WAITRESSES needed. Apply between 5:30 and 6:30p.m., Brother's. FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, Juniors: Train in the summer to become a Marine Corps Officer after graduation. Aviation available. Call collect

(913)841-1821. IF YOU would like a full- or part-time job earning $$$ and free needlecrafts, Call Shelley at 537-3846. MICROCOMPUTER PROGRAMMER for anticipated position. Must have experience on the MacIntosh HyperCard, Contact Kansas Careers, 304 Fairchild Hall for application, Applications close Nov. 18, 1988. KSU is an Equal Opportunity Affirmative Action Employer. NANNY/ MOTHER'S help: Responsible person to help care for two boys five, three and one infant girl. Own room, T.V., references required, non-smoker pre-ferred. Coastal town, 35 minutes to New York City Call collect (914)834-6476.

OVERSEAS JOBS. $900- $2,000 month. Summer year-round, all countries, all fields, free information. Write UC, P.O. Box 52-KS02, Corona Del Mar. CA

PART-TIME EDITORIAL/ Administrative Assistan eeded for non-profit agency's news magazine (Circulation 19,000). Will assist with writing, editing circulation and advertising tasks. Twenty hours pe week, $5 per hour. Experience in journalism, public relations preferred. Send cover letter, newsclips and resume by Nov. 28 to: Search Committee North Central-Flint Hills Area Agency on Aging, 437 Houston St., Manhattan, KS 66502. For information: (913)776-9294. EOE/ AA.

PAY DAY! Beginning salary $3.60/ hour. All shifts for waiter and waitresses; Hotline server and porter Monday, Wednesday, Friday 10/20a.m. 2p.m. Apply now at K-State Union Food Service for remaining fall positions. Apply early for spring semester when you have your spring schedule. We offer student pay plan, job variety, and centrally located work place. We require that you must be honest, reliable and display a sense of urgency. must be clean, neat and wear appropriate attire Food Handler's Card a must

FYRAMID PIZZA is now taking applications for delivery personnel. Please apply in person, 1130 Moro

RUNNER TO work 10- 15 hours per week, $3.35. Duties include moving, hauling and deliveries. Must be willing to work evenings, holidays, summer months, weekends and school recesses. Applications will be accepted until Nov. 18, 5p.m., room 23, Cardwell Hall, by Jacque Meisner, AA EOE.

SKI COLORADOI $25/ night for two. Ten cozy log cabinal kitchens, some fireplaces, Gameroom fireplace, HBO, pool table, sauna. Fish, cross country ski. Ski Winter Park, Silver Creek. Mountai akes Lodge. Brochure/ reservations - Grand Lake, CO 1-303-627-8448 Call today!

STUDENT SECRETARY/ receptionist: Telephone and typing skills required, computer experience in WordPerfect, Lotus and or dBase desirable. Appli cations are available at the Recreational Services Administrative Office from 8a.m.- 5p.m. Application deadline is Thursday, Nov. 17 at 5p.m.

SUMMER JOBS outdoors. Over 5,000 openings. Na-tional parks, forests, lire crews. Send stamp for free details. 113 E. Wyoming, Kalispell, MT 59901.

12 Houses/Mobile Homes for Rent

TWO-BEDROOM, main floor duplex, eat-in kitchen, hardwood floors, off-street parking, walk to KSU. Available Jan. 1, $345, 776-6063.

VERY LARGE house three blocks from campus, suitable for five, with carpet, drapes. Phone 539-5267.

13 Houses/Mobile Homes for Sale

1972 12x60, furnished/ unfurnished, new paint, central air, washer, dryer, waterbed, reasonable, 537-0734.

977 WINSOR, 14x75, two-car garage, insulated shop, redwood deck. All on three-to appreciate. 1-494-8484.

14 Lost and Found

FOUND: BOOKS on Hunting Street Sunday morning. Call 539-8256 and leave message and phone number for Sandy.

15 Miscellaneous Merchandise

30% OFF Sale! On all comic books! Manhattan Coins,

1130 Laramie 539-1184. BASEBALL CARDS- Want to make some extra spending money? Dig those baseball cards out of your closer and bring them back after Thanksgiving break. We're buying! Call Mark at 539-3606. DRAFTING TABLE, 6'x4', heavy duty, with drawers, drafting arm, electrical socket, $175. Also, parallel bar and miscellaneous architect/drafting supplies. 776 0696 after 5p.m.

ELECTRONIC PORTABLE typewriter. Many automatic features including correction memory. Nearly new. $150, 539-9440, evenings.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS! New G.I. overshoes, combal boots and safety-toe boots, wool (blankets, gloves, socks and mittens). Field jackets, overcoats, carnouflage clothing. Also Carhartt workwear Monday- Saturday 9a.m.- 5p.m. Open Sundays till Christmas noon- 4p.m. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734.

TYPEWRITER- RENTALS- Sales- Repairs. Good selection of used IBMs and Smith Coronas. Advanced Business Systems 713 N. 12th (Aggieville).

16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale

BICYCLE SALE, lay away for Christmas. Aggle Bike Station, Aggieville. (behind Hardee's).

CYCLE AND helmet covers, S-100 Cleaner. Motorcycle Supply, 1221 Moro. 776-6177.

17 Musical Instruments

Haves House of Music Guitar Strings & Drumsticks

Buy I Set, Get a 2nd Set 1/2 Price

776 7983

ELECTRIC GUITAR: Bently series 10 and Washburn 30-watt guitar amplifier, Excellent condition, $250, 776-3063,

18 Personals

ARLETA, THANKS for the talk! You're right-I'm on my way and no more mind games!- The Real Fake. BRAN FLAKES- Okayl Okayl You were right! But, don't expect the arguing to stop. Congrats on making B-Ball squad. (By the way, when's our next road trip?) Luv. BB.

ULIE N. The tough week is almost over and you still mean everything to me. The future looks bright, for today is #3. Love, JJ.

KATHI C. Heyl Heyl Congratulations on making alternate for B-Ball. It's going to be a great semester. But please try not to step on my feet WESTMORELAND ROBIN: Sorry we missed on Wednesday. Let's try again Friday, 9a.m., same place. YVETTE- SORRY I can't be here on the 20th, (quess I'd.

rather be in Colorado). But, Happy 21st anyway. ZEPHORIAH ANN Brenski-Congratulations on being a finalist in Schliebe's Most Physical Contest. Good luck tonight at Bushwacker's. You're the best! Love,

Z-THERE must be some way outta here-How about a "trip to hell?"- Thanks for being there. -"L."S,D,

19 Pets and Pet Supplies

BURMESE PYTHONS, seven- 11 foot, And baby Boas. 776-3238, keep trying.

20 Professional Services

PREGNANT? BIRTHRIGHT can help. Free pregnancy test. Confidential. Call 537-9180. 103 S. Fourth St. Suite 25.

PROMPT ABORTION and confraceptive services in Lawrence. (913)841-5716.

21 Rentals

STORE YOUR valuables over Christmas break. Aztec Storage, open seven days a week. Call 776-1111 for discount rate, or come by, 5004 Murray Road

22 Resume/Typing Services

ABOUT ANYTHING typed, editing and transcription services, reasonable rates, by professional secretary, 539-5998 after 5p.m.

COMPLETE DATA processing services, term papers, theses and dissertations, resumes. Laser jet printing. Call 537-4146. COMPOSING RESUMES and letters is our specialty.

We have been in business nine years and offer permanent computer storage. Contact the profes sional staff regarding our full line of services Resume Service, 343 Colorado Street, 537-7294 FAST TURNAROUND for all your word processing needs, see us. Resumes, letters, papers, theses. dissertations. Quality work guaranteed. Ross Secretarial Service, across from Kite's, 614 N. 12th 539-5147

PROCRASTINATORS AND those on the ball, for expert typing give us a call. 537-3166, message.

23 Roommate Wanted

MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartme fireplace, low utilities. Close to campus. $145. 539-6219.

NON-SMOKER TO share large three-bedroom house. close to campus plus the Ville. Starting in January. Low rent. Call 776-6036.

NON-SMOKER ROOMMATE to share apartment one block from campus. Call Miguel at 532-7210 or

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share two bedroom furn ished apartment. $152.99 plus one-half utilities 539-9564.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE wanted to share spacious

house starting Jan. 1. Own bedroom, rent $117 plus one-third electricity, cable and phone. 539-5714. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share furnished two-bedroom. Cats allowed. Call Paula or Brenda, 776-5669

NON-SMOKING MALE to share three-bedroom furnished house. Quiet neighborhood and own bedroom, pay one-third rent and utilities. 776-8871. ONE/ TWO females. Block from campus, behind Ville two bedrooms, one and one-half baths, pa furnished. Call 537-1268. Move in A.S.A.P.

RESPONSIBLE FEMALE to share furnished apartment close to campus. $121.25. 537-1977 ROOMMATE WANTED, female non-smoker to take over lease. Will share house with two roommates,

$133 a month plus utilities. For information call 776-9319 after 5p.m. ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom apartment in complex. Close to campus and Aggieville. 537-2894

ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom house

railer. $100/ month, half utilities. Call Allen, 537-3909. TWO ROOMMATES wanted one block from campus. Washer, dryer, $125/ month, one-fourth utilities, own rooms, 539-7709.

24 Situation Wanted

REASONABLY BRIGHT Individual needs Organic Chemistry tutor for next semester. 776-0510.

25 Sporting/Recreational Equipment

WEIGHT TRAINING Instruction. Body- Sculpturing. fitness, performance, bodybuilding. Three free sessions with consultation, Iron Concepts,

26 Sublease

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY, one-bedroom unfurnished apartment close to campus and Aggieville, $150 month plus one-fourth utilities. See at 922 N. Manhaitan #3 after 4p.m.

one-half bills. Water, trash paid. Call 537-7380 after SUBLEASE: TWO-BEDROOM, furnished, dishwasher, close to campus, lease through June, rent negoti-

SUBLEASE AVAILABLE for female, $175/ month plus able, Call 776-9846, leave message SUBLEASE. LARGE furnished two-bedroom apartment. One and one-half blocks from campus. Call

28 Adoption

A CHILDLESS loving couple wishes to adopt white newborn. We will provide a warm wonderful and loving home. We are committed to being the best parents possible. Legal and confidential. Please call collect, Kelly and Ramiro, (201)376-0894.

ADOPTION. A young happily married doctor and wife with much love and security wish to adopt a white baby to age two, all expenses paid, totally legal. Please call Jamie collect at (714)680-4468. Thank

LOVE-FILLED HOME needs the joy of a new baby to complete our very happy marriage. If you plan to place your baby for adoption, please consider us. Expenses paid, confidential, legal. Call collect, Claire, (303)422-1297.

29 Ride Needed

RIDE NEEDED to Minnesota, Twin City area, for Thanksgiving. Call Al, 539-3585 after 10p.m.

Crossword

ACROSS 36 Sought

1 Put up, as paintings 37 Wilson, 5 Dooley Wilson role 8 Iowa city

15 Great 50 Talk Chinese crazily 51 Cry of dis-

poet

(novel) toady

average member partner

cation

31 Stepped

32 Tavern

33 Calling for quick

down

action 34 Young boy 35 Top card question

tastes

26 Caravan

29 Vinegar

30 Appli-

22 For

52 Ceremony 10 Sorbonne 53 Famed ship 54 Pale 55 Monopoly 18 Corporate card DOWN 20 Thyme, e.g.

covery

19 Feel 1 Sacred queasy Solution time: 26 mins.

44 - the

Yesterday's answer 11-17

2 Françoise's 21 Slippery friend one 23 Director 3 Siestas 4 Metal Stanley 24 Monster evelet 5 Endure 25 Garden 6 It might pest 26 Serene be fresh

7 Birthplace

ogist's season

worker,

for short

11 Capitol

concern

27 Jai -28 So-so of Hals 32 Skating 8 Caustic extrava ganza 9 Neurol-33 Bruce > thriller 35 Stout 36 Mlle. after marriage 38 "Hi and > > Lois'

Willis

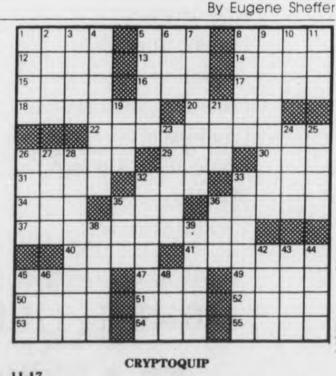

son 39 Gaseous element wanna's partner 43 Kitty starter line (conformed) 45 Period of history 46 Impair 11-17

KNHZRDDYHLGW TGDORN.

TGD XHTL. YL KGLR Yesterday's Cryptoquip: POTTERY TEACHER PROBABLY HAS FEATS OF CLAY.

TYLXHT; TOH ZRWW

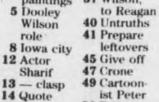

Today's Cryptoquip clue: T equals W

By Charles Schulz

Trade

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE against the mark, halted only by a brief respite Monday when Bush and Treasury Secretary Nicholas Brady promised that the new administration would not scrap a two-year effort to maintain its stability.

Stock prices, in turn, resumed their downward turn, with the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks falling 38.59 points.

Many analysts had expected the trade deficit to drop into "single digits" or below $10 billion in September, like it did in May and July.

When it didn't, "more general concerns" over the federal budget deficit and the willingness of foreigners to keep financing U.S. consumer habits triggered the Wednesday selling spree on financial markets, said David Wyss, chief financial economist for Data Resources Inc. of Lexing-

Including the September figures, the trade deficit the first nine months of this year is running at an annual rate of $137.2 billion, compared with a record $170.3 billion last year and $155.1 billion in 1986.

The government reported earlier that the unemployment rate in October had fallen back to 5.3 percent, matching a 14-year low, and that retail sales in the month had shown their biggest increase in seven

The Commerce Department also reported Wednesday that plants were running at 84 percent of their capacity, the highest rate of the six-year economic expansion. All of those figures are viewed as bellwethers of higher inflation.

Marathon

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 9 she said she felt tremendous elation that her goal had been reached. When she finished, she received a medal for finishing and a mylar blanket to reduce heat loss.

"I had a lot of time to think during the race and be thankful for all the (Phi Delt) house have been really supportive.

Before she left for New York, the fraternity members gave her a T-shirt which they had signed to wear during

"She's not a stereotypical housemom. She's something special," said John Carey, freshman in arts and sciences undecided and Phi Delt member. "It takes a lot to manage a fratersupport my family and friends had nity, besides prepare to run in a margiven," she said. "The guys at the athon. She's by no means average."

FREE MEDIUM SOFT DRINK

with the purchase of any sub

12th & Moro-Aggieville

WITH THIS COUPON ONLY

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 ing a major role in this administration."

Denying reports that he had tried to block Sununu's appointment, Fuller said, "I have in no way been opposed to John Sununu for the chief

Arrests

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 an alleged stabbing of a gang member last spring."

Arrested Deadmen members are Calvin Barrios, La., 36 years old; Rudy Breaux, La., 29; Dalton Harper, La., 37; James Ives, S.D., 36; Roger Kendrick, La., 31; Harvey Lovell, Ariz., 51; David Reid, La., 33; Michael Richie, La., 37 and Dennis Williams, La., 30.

Arrested Wingmen members are William Beard, N.C., 29; Paul Hargrove, Ala., 46; Larry Hodnett, Ala., 33; Peter Mueller, Fort Riley, 23; Michael Roy, N.C., 32; Jimmy Teasley, Fort Riley, 36; and Alan Zimmer, Ga., 36.

COUPONS of staff job or any other position in this administration." Meanwhile, all of the staff and volunteers involved in Bush's takeover of power were asked to sign a "standards of conduct" document that FOR YOU applies both during the transition and a Bush presidency. At the top of the list was a no-leak promise. TO CLIP

IMPRESSIONS

HAPPY THANKSGIVING! 20% OFF

Permanents or Haircuts with style ·ebony services available· 411 Poyntz-Lower Level

expires 11/30/88

This coupon good for

Kung pao chicken over rice $1.99 not good with any other special or promo. expires 11/23/88

Free Delivery with min. $7 order 11 a.m.-1 a.m.

539-TAME (8263)

2026 Tuttle Creek Blvd.

Perms Gals-$25 and up Guys-$28 Partials-$20

'All perms include cut and style

Exp. date 11/30/88

LARGE PIZZA O

with one topping

dine in or free home delivery with this coupon offer good through Oct. 31

"premium pizza at a cardboard pizza price"

523 South 17th 537-1484

Popcorn Palace

Expires 11/30/88

Buy 1 item & receive anything else of equal value or less free with this coupon!

M-Th. 11 a.m.-11 p.m. Fri. & Sat. 11 a.m.-Midnight Sun. 11 a.m.-10 p.m. Expires 11/30/88

1319 Anderson

Void with other offers

Thank You!

The family and I appreciate the trust and confidence you have placed in me to serve you as your Kansas Senator. I'll work hard...for you and your family.

Warm Regards

- lang

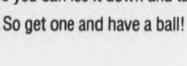

Pd. for by Lana Oleen for Kansas Senate, Robert Haines, Treasurer.

THE PARTY BALL

A PORTABLE, DISPOSABLE KEG ALTERNATIVE

It's the new way to party from Coors and Coors Light. It's filled with over five gallons of brewery-fresh draft beer. It's portable. It's disposable. It's the preferred alternative for any party. It even comes in a box with its own liner, so you can ice it down and take it anywhere.

IT'S JUST NOT A PARTY IF YOU DON'T HAVE A BALI

EARLY CHRISTMAS SALE

Harper's Pre-Christmas Sale Starts Today! Coordinates from Personal reg. to 4819.90 Knit Dresses.....reg. to 4819.90 Challis Coordinates..... reg. 36 12.90-14.90 24 Button Sweaters reg. 4019.90 Cardigan Sweaters..... reg. 3216.90 Lambswool Sweaters reg. to 48 .. 8.90-10.90 Cable Knit Sweaters reg. to 3816.90 Handbagsreg. to 189.90 Challis Scarvesstarting at 7.90

IZOD RUSS TOGS & INVERSION GROUPS 30-40% OFF RETAIL!

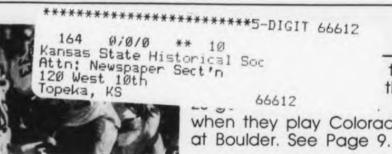

Wabash

On Dec. 13, 1968, a fire gutted Nichols Hall, destroying all of K-State's music compositions, with the exception of "Wabash Cannonball." See Page 7.

Weather

Mostly cloudy today, high in the mid-50s. Cloudy tonight, with a 30 percent chance of showers, low 40 to 45. Cloudy Saturday, with a 30 percent chance for showers, high near 50.

their when they play Colorado

the

Friday

November 18, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 64

Kansas State Collegian

Senators revise constitutional bylaws

Officers sworn in for 1989 Senate

By Kendra Gensemer Staff Writer

The 1988 Student Senate made revisions to the Student Governing Association constitution and bylaws in a meeting that ended early this morning, and approved various other legislation.

Student Body President-elect Laurian Cuffy and the new Senate were sworn in. Selection of new officers was completed at about 3 a.m.

Conflicts arose throughout the 1988 Senate's term because of unclearly written legislation in the constitution and bylaws.

Revisions to clarify that legislation included reorganization and rewriting of sections pertaining to Senate duties and election process.

One major change assigned the duty of impeachment proceedings to the Senate Operations Standing

The duty of the committee will be to keep a tally of absences, determine when an individual should be considered for impeachment and present it to Senate.

Senate will have the option to pull a consideration out of committee. There has previously been no established procedure for handling impeachment proceedings. senators which contradicted bylaws mittee to investigate the investment and caused problems for 1988 Senate was also changed.

All members of Senate will be week. Visitations to campus organizations will be determined by each

Senate at the beginning of its term under its standing rules.

The process of filling vacancies was changed also.

received the highest vote and pro-council will appoint the replacement. Furthermore, the language of the appointment procedures was

The original language was unclear as to what a nomination was and what appointments had to be

Appointments now include nominations and appointments, both of which will be approved by the Student Affairs and Social Services committee, with Senate having the option to take any approvals out of committee for consideration.

All information pertaining to the election process was put into one section and reorganized

Legislation concerning duties of from the Ad Hoc Investment Comof student monies into companies

Senate extended the date the required to have one office hour per committee will make its final report

Currently positions are filled by college councils. Under the revised constitution, the vacant seat will be offered to unsuccessful candidates who ran for office, beginning with the unsuccessful candidate who ceeding down the list.

When the vacated seat cannot be filled with an unsuccessful candidate as prescribed, the appropriate college approved by Senate.

chronologically.

Senate also heard an interim report doing business in South Africa.

to Senate to Feb. 2, 1989.

Michel Cavigelli, graduate student

J. D. Llewelyn, chancellor of the Student Tribunal, swears Laurian Cuf-oath early today during the first session of the 1989 Student Senate. fy into the office of student body president. Cuffy was administered the in agronomy and committee chairman, said the committee has not received needed information from KSU Foundation or the Common Fund, an investment group through which student monies are invested. The committee requested a complete listing of companies in which student monies are invested, but has not received the information from the Common Fund.

Lauren O'Connor, junior in accounting, was approved as Coordinator of Finances.

Senate also revised the athletic ticket sales policy which established rules for camping out to purchase basketball season tickets.

Rules may be obtained in the Student Government Services Office. Official campout for tickets will begin with the raising of a purple flag rollowing Curry's swearing-in, a new senate chairman was elected on the Anderson Hall flagpole.

To assume a position in line, students will have to put up a tent with an identifying sign attached. One person may purchase a block of 20

In the first meeting of the 1989 Student Senate, Todd Johnson was elected Senate chairman and Cuffy made beginning statements. Johnson, junior in chemical engineering, has one year of experience in Student Senate as Faculty Senate representative, academic affairs committee member, University Child Care Task Force member, and Students for the Enhancement of the Library

Cuffy said the Senate needs to think about the student body and what is best for students when approaching issues.

Engineering fee discussed

By Chris Koger Collegian Reporter

TOPEKA - The possibility of implementing a special fee for engineering students at K-State and other Kansas Board of Regents schools was discussed at the regents meeting Thursday in Topeka. Although the outcome of the fee won't be decided until December, Dean of Engineering Donald Rathbone said he thinks the odds of having the fee "are pretty good."

"We can't say for sure, because the Board of Regents will make the decision," Rathbone said. "I think unless they change their mind, it has a good chance."

Rathbone, who proposed a the University of Kansas and $75-per-semester fee for engineering students at K-State, said the extra funds would go toward buying and maintaining laboratory equipment.

"In the past, private donations have been the primary source for new equipment, and we can't rely on private donations," he said. "We want to be at the cutting edge, and have to have up-to-date equipment."

The College of Engineering needs a budget of about $1 million a year, Rathbone said. The proposed fee would generate about $400,000 a year for the college.

Other regents schools, including

Wichita State University, expressed interest in a $10-per-credit hour engineering fee. K-State is the only university considering a semester fee instead of an hourly fee.

With the fee, K-State engineering students could expect to pay $600 extra during a four-year period. Students at universities with the hourly fees would pay less in the first years of college than in later years, because general requirement classes are usually taken first.

Rathbone sent out questionnaires and met with engineering students in two open forums to discuss the

"I'm getting tremendous support from the students," he said. "They want a quality program, and they're doing something about it."

The board also approved authority to place Van Zile Hall into the K-State's Department of Housing, and approved the budget for the remodeling and construction project that will connect Van Zile to Boyd and Putnam halls. Revenue bonds totaling $5 million were authorized to be used as needed for the renovation.

Van Zile, K-State's oldest residence hall, was closed in 1984 due to structural problems. Construction is expected to begin in the spring of 1989.

Drought affects world economy

By Scott Berg Collegian Reporter

The possible continuation of this year's drought through next year will have major effects on the world's agricultural economy in the near future.

The 1988 drought is now the leading influencing force in world agriculture, said John Schnittker, president of the Washington, D.C., agriculture consulting firm of Schnittker Associates.

Its effect on supplies and the possibility that the drought will continue has made the U.S. farm policy and GATT negotiations become secondary in importance, he said.

The estimated numbers for world grain and soybeans will drop and fall short of the normal reserve levels, Schnittker said. The world stocks will move by mid-1989 from huge surpluses to a level below the stabilization reserve level.

This will cause an increase in retail food prices by an estimated 6 percent in 1989, he said. Even with a good harvest in 1989, a price increase is expected.

These predictions are based on long-range forecasts from climatologists, who indicate there is a moderate risk of the drought continuing through next year, he said.

"A bad year next year will cause smaller crops and force prices up," he said. "This will make farmers happy for a few years.' He said the increasing grain prices in the United States will have repercussions on international commercial trade, making U.S. grain less Rains during the next year will have to be better than normal to get an average grain reserve level for 1989, he said.

According to Schnittker's prediction, President-elect Bush will leave the farm policy to Congress as did the administrations under Presidents Reagan, Carter, Ford and Nixon.

The transition between the Reagan and Bush administrations should be a stable one, he said. The new secretary of agriculture will be from the agricultural establishment and some staff members will change. No reappraisal will be made on recent policy determinations, since they were made by friendly officials, he said.

"Congress will stay the course with the present policy until it is forced to change it," he said.

The Food Security Act of 1985 will guide farm production and marketing through the 1989 and 1990 crops, Schnittker said. Bush might try for limited legislation in 1989 to set spending limits, but Congress may delay action on a comprehensive farm bill until 1990 or

"World circumstances will force the president and Congress to come together to lower the deficit," he said.

Cuts in the deficit will likely come from farm programs, unless something, such as defense or Social Security, is cut or there's an increase in revenue, Schnittker said.

One of the circumstances of the deficit would be a lowering of the 'target price" on crops that farmers are guaranteed by the government,

Glickman urges rural development

By The Associated Press

WICHITA - Rep. Dan Glickman said Thursday he wants rural areas to get serious attention in the 1990 farm bill through revision of the Farm Credit System's operations.

"We need to give the Farm Credit System significant additional lending authority for rural development projects," he told an audience of more than 200 at the Kansas Agribusiness Expo in Wichita.

The system, which is borrowerowned and federally regulated, is now restricted to lending to farmers, ranchers, and cooperative agribusinesses.

Glickman said the recently developed secondary mortgage market for farm loans will diminish FCS activity opening the door for its involvement in new areas. He said the system could possibly be authorized to make loans for rural satellite television systems, small hospitals, water and sewer facilities and other projects.

The Kansas Agribusiness Expo is the combined annual meeting of the Kansas Grain and Feed Dealers Association and the Kansas Fertilizer and Chemical Association.

Glickman told the group other issues besides farm subsidies should be examined closely as the new farm bill is written. He said the government's role in agricultural markets in the United States and abroad should be analyzed. Glickman suggested some congressional restrictions on the Secretary of Agriculture's powers to manipulate grain reserves, prices and export incentives might be appropriate.

During a question and answer session, Glickman was asked who on the spending side," Glickman George Bush's top candidates for agriculture secretary are.

The congressman said the names he has heard are Rep. Tom Coleman of Missouri; Clayton Yeutter, the U.S.'s international trade representative; and Frank Naylor, a Kansas native who currently heads the Farm Credit Administration.

The new secretary will have the benefit of dealing with a decreasing agriculture budget and the difficult problem of improving U.S. foreign trade relations, he said.

Glickman said to avoid a recession, Bush and Congress should try to reach a federal budget accord during the new president's first 90 days.

"He will certainly have to bite some of his promises made in the campaign to do that. And we in Congress will have to resist efforts to add

While Bush promised no new taxes, he's going to have to say now "Yeah, I made those statements during the campaign, but the country's at stake and the economy is slipping," the Kansas Democrat said.

The new revenue doesn't necessarily have to come from increased income or Social Security taxes, Glickman said. An oil import fee, or increases in so-called sin taxes on liquor, wine, beer and cigarettes are also possibilities, he said.

There is a bipartisan mood in Congress that could allow such a budget compromise to be reached, Glick-

"Americans love that balance. They like a Republican president and a Democratic Congress," Glickman

Youths attack U.S. servicemen

SEOUL, South Korea - Forty youths wielding iron pipes and clubs hurled firebombs on Thursday at a housing complex for families of U.S. troops, U.S. authorities said. Two servicemen were wounded.

The assailants, believed to be radical students, escaped after damaging or destroying nine military vehicles and passenger cars, the officials said.

Attackers yelled "Yankee go home!" during the evening assault about one mile from the U.S. 8th Army headquarters near central Seoul, authorities said.

Gen. Louis C. Menetrey, who commands U.S. forces in Korea, issued a statement Friday calling the attackers "cowardly criminals." U.S. officials said security was increased at the housing complex.

A U.S. Army spokesman said the youths attacked the back gate of the Hannam Village complex, which houses about 2,500 military dependents. At least 15 youths got inside, he said, speaking on condition of anonymity.

The spokesman said the back gate is used for road traffic and was open, with two guards on duty. He said additional help was called, but the attackers fled.

BRIEFLY ACROSS NATION

Stepson steals $40,000

MILWAUKEE - When Kansas Highway Patrolman Michael Weigel stopped four Wisconsin teen-agers for speeding, he didn't expect to find a paper bag full of cash in the car trunk.

And after he found the $32,000, he didn't expect one of the youths to tell him the money was part of about $40,000 he took from his stepfather's house in the Milwaukee suburb of West Allis.

"We figured they were drug trafficking," Weigel said. But, according to records on file Thursday in Milwaukee County Children's Court, the stepfather, who is a contractor, confirmed that "there was around $40,000 in the locked cubby space in the attic."

Weigel and trooper David Weed stopped the 16-year-old youth from West Allis and three teen-age companions on Interstate 70 west of Salina, Kan. on Oct. 31.

Officials said the four had left Wisconsin the previous day in a car owned by one of them, and they spent more than $5,000 between Milwaukee and Lincoln County, Kan.

After they were stopped, a check of records indicated one had been reported as a runaway. A search found the bag of money in the trunk, another $2,500 stuffed between the cushion and back rest of the driver's seat and a small amount of marijuana.

BRIEFLY THE REGION

Film protested in Lawrence

LAWRENCE - About 300 people stood and kneeled in prayerful protest Wednesday outside a theater that is showing the film "The Last Temptation of Christ."

Police stood by and helped with traffic control. No problems were reported.

About 30 people watched the Wednesday night showing at the Liberty Hall Theater, where the controversial film opened last Friday.

Garden City receives grant

TOPEKA - Garden City Community College has received a $166,000 grant to develop a regional alcohol and drug abuse prevention center, it was announced Thursday.

The grant for the center is part of the Governor's Toward A Drug-Free Kansas program.

"I am pleased to announce the establishment of this new Southwest Regional Prevention Center and the services that will be available in 19 southwest Kansas counties," Hayden said.

The center will work with existing statewide programs and will assist parent and community organizations in anti-drug initiatives.

Hayden said although the primary goal of the new center is prevention, the Southwest Regional Prevention Center will work with community intervention services.

The new center will provide services in Clark, Finney, Ford, Grant, Gray, Greeley, Hamilton, Haskell, Hodgeman, Kearny, Lane, Meade, Morton, Ness, Scott, Seward, Stanton, Stevens and Wichita counties.

The state now has seven alcohol and drug abuse prevention centers, serving more than 60 counties.

Five centers began operation in July 1987, while a sixth was opened in northeast Kansas earlier this year.

Dynamite found in K.C.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - The Kansas City police bomb squad disposed of four cases of unstable, crystallized dynamite found abandoned in a trailer in the city.

The bomb squad had to work without protective gear because the trailer was so small. The trailer was parked in a lot used for storage in south Kansas City. A street was shut off and businesses closed in a three-block area as the officers performed the delicate operation.

A police spokesman, Sgt. Gregory Mills, said police found 83 50-pound bags of Maynes mix, which is used by construction companies to blow apart rock walls, 1,500 blasting caps and the dynamite. There were 25 sticks of dynamite in each of

The dynamite was extremely volatile because the nitroglycerin inside had crystallized, and any disturbance could have caused it to explode, Mills said.

The explosives were taken to Richards-Gebaur Airport south of Kansas City, where police burned them. Some of the material was considered too unstable to move and was burned in the trailer, which was destroyed in the fire.

Greeting card line for kids

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - A new line of greeting cards for children is being launched by Hallmark Cards Inc., backed by a $5 million advertising campaign that is the biggest in its

The "To Kids With Love" line of 106 cards, being unveiled in New York Thursday, will be shipped to retailers in January. The cards, under development for three years, are designed for children ages 7 to 14 and will sell for 90 cents.

"The cards will create a totally new market with unique messages and designs to help grown-ups show kids how much they care," said Tom Johnston, Hallmark brand group vice president. "They're not for birthdays or holidays. They're for all the little moments and important events in every child's life.'

Many of the cards express sentiments such as love or congratulations, but there are also others dealing with divorce, moving or death.

"We see these cards as conversation starters, a way to initiate face-to-face communication," Johnston said. "They can also be used to boost a child's self-esteem, to praise, show appreciation or help a child through a difficult time.'

The advertising campaign, a Hallmark record for a new line, is more than 10 percent of the $40 million or so a year the company spends on advertising.

BULLETIN FOR CAMPUS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Campus organizations are encouraged to use Campus Bulletin. All announcements must be submitted by 11 a.m. one day prior to publication. Announcements for Monday's bulletin must be in by 11 a.m. Friday. However, publication is determined by the amount of space available on a first-come, first-serve basis and is not ensured. Information forms are available on the shelf outside Kedzie 118. Forms should be left in the box on the shelf after being filled out. All submissions must be signed and are subject to verification. Questions should be directed to the Collegian's campus editors in Kedzie 116.

KAPPA DELTA PI Seniors: Last day to order honor cords is Friday. See Dr. French in Bluemont 206.

SINGLE PARENT/DISPLACED HOMEMAKERS Scholarships available: Application forms available at Bluemont 407 or the Fenix Office, Leasure 03.

COORDINATED PROGRAM IN DIETETICS is accepting applications now for spring admission. Deadline is Nov. 30. Application forms available from Dr. Deborah Canter, Justin Hall 104. Call 532-5521 for information.

K-STATE PLAYERS will perform Angels Fall, at 8 p.m. Nov. 10-12 in Nichols KSUTTC is still taking entry applications for the big Saturday, Nov. 19, table tennis tournament in the Aheam Gymnasium. For information see Todd Cochrane, Department of Mathematics, Cardwell Hall.

INTER VARSITY CHRISTIAN FEL-LOWSHIP will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 212.

A LITERARY DISCOVERY Women's voices in the season of change. Meeting is at 3 p.m. in Union 204.

ALPHA PI MU will meet at 6:30 p.m. in the Durland library. The meeting is for members who are interviewing faculty.

GERMAN CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. at 405 N. 10th Apt. 1. They will play German

STUDENTS FOR EDUCATIONAL AWARENESS will meet at 3 p.m. in Union

GYMNASTICS CLUB will meet at 8 p.m. in Natatorium 4.

POULTRY SCIENCE CLUB BBQ will meet at 6 p.m. at Call Hall for rides.

HISTORY CLUB will meet today in the Union stateroom 1 for a brown bag lunch. Guest speaker is David McCart, who will speak about the Sacred Stone People's Lodge THEN and NOW.

SATURDAY

AKAK LIL' SISTERS PARTY will meet before 2 p.m. at the Acacia house.

INDIA STUDENT ASSOCIATION will meet at 6 p.m. at Lee School.

K-STATE POLICE

Wednesday

- A black Monte Carlo was reported disabled in lot D-5.
- A blue Buick was reported dis-
- abled in lot A-18. ■ The burglary theft of a faculty/ staff parking permit was reported.
- Loss was $44. A fire alarm in Weber Hall was activated by a burning ballust. Man-
- hattan Fire Department responded and conducted minor repair. A wheel lock was placed on a
- black Mercury Capri parked in lot

Thursday

A stray, male, black Labrador was taken from south of the Union to later removed.

the Veterinary Medical Center. A wheel lock was placed on a white Pontiac four-door parked in lot blue Chevrolet pickup. The lock was

- A-1. The lock was later removed. A wheel lock was placed on a silver Honda two-door parked in a handicapped parking space south of the Union. The lock was later
- A subject was reported engaging in lewd and lascivious behavior
- in Farrell Library. A wheel lock was placed on a
- A wheel lock was placed on a red Mercury Topaz in lot A-29.

BRIEFLY AMPUS

Debaters second in nation

few feathers!!!

Ioin us for dinner and you'll be thankful you did.

erving K-Staters Since 1939!"

The K-State debate team is one place away from being the best team in the nation. Rankings released this week by the Cross Examination Debate Association included K-State in second place — only 10 points behind first-place Southern Illinois University. More than 250 debate teams are eligible for a spot in the national rankings.

Our decision to stay open for Thanksgiving has already ruffled a

1/2 slab $6.95 full slab $10.95

includes cole slaw corn-on-the-cob potato

UNIVERSITY V

17th & Anderson Ave.

L.G.I.F. Friday Is Prime Time Jiffin' Time!

FREE SANDWICH BAR...

from 4-7 p.m. this afternoon. Design your own submarine sandwich with all your favorite ingredients and side dishes included.

FRIDAY AFTERNOONS...

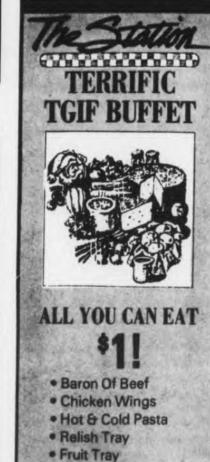

are the perfect times to relax with your friends, grab a pitcher, and enjoy our FREE T.G.I.F. sandwich bar.

18 To Enter • 21 To Drink

1120 Moro

537-9511

· Chips & Dip

· Cheese & Crackers

You have to eat it to believe it!

East coast nannies earn money, experience

By Amy Bullock Collegian Reporter

Kari Gregerson, junior in secondary education, wanted a break from school. So she decided to be a nanny because it could provide new experience, and it paid a salary.

For one year, Gregerson was a nanny for a family in Bedford, N.Y., which is about 40 miles from New York City.

"I had babysat in high school, but that was really the only experience I had ever had," she said.

Gregerson applied through Helping Hands. It matched her with a family that had a 2-year-old child. That one child, however, kept her busy from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Friday.

"I was responsible for getting her to pre-school and we would have different activities on different days. Some days she would play at a friend's house, so I would work out. Or if it was nice, I would lay out,"

The parents would return around 7 p.m. and then Gregerson could do what she wanted. She also had access to the family car.

"I usually liked to get out for a while after a long day, so I would go to a friend's house, or we'd go to a movie. Sometimes we would go out to the local bars," she said.

Sightseeing proved to be the biggest expense. She said it was difficult to spend less than $150 when she spent a weekend in New York City.

"Cover charge for the bars was usually about $25 to $30 and meals were really expensive. I was lucky, though. A friend of mine was a nanny for a family that owned an apartment in Greenwich Village, so we would stay there on the weekends that we went to New York City," she said.

Gregerson said the most challenging aspect of being a nanny was living with a family that was not her

"You have to get used to their lifestyle and ways of doing things," she said. "I was lucky, though. The family I lived with was great. They told me that as long as I could get up and do my job, then I could do anything I wanted on my free time."

After one year of being a nanny, Gregerson returned to K-State, with friends in New York and money to buy a new car, she said.

"(The child I watched) was my pride and joy. I talk to the family about every two weeks," she said.

Another K-State student, Christina Ross, also became a nanny. She is working as a nanny in Newport, R.I. She is in charge of two children, a 5-year-old boy and a 2-year-old girl.

College students fill role of revitalizing profession

By Amy Bullock Collegian Reporter

Although nannies may have been left behind with Mary Poppins blowing away in the wind, the number of families looking for nannies is increasing.

It is one of the top 10 areas of growth, said Shirlee Burrage, director of recruiting for Helping Hands Inc., an agency that pairs nannies with families.

"The demand for nannies has gone up in the last five to seven years. The reason nannies are so popular, especially in the East, is because a lot of the parents are dedicated, professional people who have to commute a long way to work, and the day-care centers sometimes can't provide service for the long hours the mother and father work," Burrage said.

See NANNY, Page 12

Ross was placed by a child-care schooling," Ross said. placement agency in Boston.

"I just felt like I needed a break from everything. But most of all I just didn't really want to be in Kansas anymore. I guess you could say I felt like I was in the middle of nowhere in Kansas," Ross said.

The oldest child attends school during the day, so Ross is in charge of one child most of the time.

"This time of year is really nice because it not as stressful as the summer. In the summer both kids were home all day, and they have a lot of energy. So we would be doing activities all day. We went to the beaches a lot," she said.

Ross and the family she is placed with have a written contract. She will work for one year, and they have agreed to fly her home for Christmas. The family will also pay for half of any college courses she takes while living with them.

"They are real education-oriented, so they encourage me to continue my

The agency that placed Ross calls her periodically to make sure she is not having any problems and to check to see if she is meeting other

Relations with the family are also positive, Ross said.

"I get along with the family great. They were really good about telling me exactly what they expected of me. I didn't want to overstep my responsibilities," Ross said.

It was important to accept the family and the different ways people may do things, she said.

"I knew it would be different and that you are living with someone for a year, so you want to learn to accept differences in people, but I've gotten along great with the family," she

Ross said she will probably stay in Newport longer than a year.

Bush appoints Sununu Cabinet

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Presidentelect George Bush on Thursday named New Hampshire Gov. John Sununu White House chief of staff and tapped wily campaign strategist Lee Atwater as chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Bush's selection of Sununu as his top White House adviser prompted the resignation, effective in January, of long-time aide Craig Fuller, who said he had told Bush he was eager for the job.

Bush said he would like Fuller, cochairman of the transition team and his chief of staff since 1985, to consider a role in his administration but that he chose Sununu because he was the "right man for the job."

"John Sununu has the background and experience necessary to work not only with his former colleagues in the nation's statehouses but also to build a constructive relationship with the U.S. Congress," he said.

Sununu, the first Washington outsider to be named by Bush, will bring "a refreshing new perspective" to the job, the president-elect said.

Atwater will succeed Frank Fahrenkopf Jr., who announced months ago that he would relinquish the GOP chairmanship at the end of President Reagan's term and return to Nevada to practice law.

Bush said Atwater's function will be "winning elections." While Republicans have won the presidency in five of the past six elections, they have been less successful in Congress, where Democrats hold comfortable majorities in both houses.

"I'm a nuts-and-bolts politician," Atwater said. "I will be extremely campaign-oriented."

The Republican National Committee will formally act on Bush's choice in January.

Bush made the announcements after meeting over breakfast with British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and his customary weekly lunch with Reagan.

Both Sununu and Atwater share reputations as adept players of political hardball.

Atwater is considered a master of negative campaigning, and was an architect of the strategy that helped Bush wipe out a 17-point poll lead by Democrat Michael Dukakis and romp to a 40-state victory in the presidential race.

Sununu, 49, an engineer by training and a former Tufts University professor, has no previous experience in Washington. He has a reputation for being a quick study, highly intelligent and assertive. Some also regard him as arrogant and abrasive, traits that could hurt him in working with Congress.

Sununu made light of that reputation Thursday.

"I'm a pussycat," Sununu said. "Let me tell you about Washington. Certainly I have a lot to learn in regard to the details. I think I'm a quick learner. I consider a great number of congressmen to be close friends, both Democratic and Republican."

539-8888

Jewish lobbyists have criticized the New Hampshire governor for being the only governor to refuse to endorse a proclamation attacking a 1975 U.N. resolution that equated zionism with racism.

"I'm very sensitive to that issue," said Sununu, who is partly of Arab

"The problem I had as a governor is that I felt it was inappropriate. In terms of the issue, I have no problem saying it should be repudiated."

He acknowledged that he was a considered a conservative Republican governor and had no intention of changing his political philosophy. But he promised to be an "honest broker" and consider both sides of an Sununu is credited with helping revive Bush's candidacy with a victory in the New Hampshire primary last February after the vice president finished a poor third in Iowa's caucuses.

1304 Westloop

Cartoons, mascots popular write-ins

By Susan E. Faler Collegian Reporter

The race for the Kansas State Board of Education was close between Willie the Wildcat and Mickey Mouse. But it's pretty embarrassing when the mouse gets the best of the cat.

Although only one write-in candidate won a race in the 1988 Riley County general elections, some of the losers were Bugs Bunny, John Wayne, Ted Kennedy, Robert Redford, Mickey Mouse, Patrick Swayze and the one and only Willie the Wildcat.

"I just can't believe Mickey beat me, but I'm going to protest on the technicality that he's not a resident of Riley County," Willie said.

"It's nice to be compared to Mickey," he said. "I idolize him. Much of what I do is a direct reflection of him on my life. I'm a true Mouseketeer at heart.

"I think I received my support from my obvious leadership capabilities that I show in public. I didn't campaign, I just went on my own credentials."

Ilene Colbert, county clerkelect, said the reason people write in candidates such as Willie is because the voters don't respect their privilege to vote and are trying to be funny.

They may just be unhappy with the candidates, but it causes us a lot of work," said Trisha Champlin, secretary at the county clerk's office.

All write-in candidates must be recorded in a special book which is kept in the clerk's office, Colbert said.

Colbert said she was unsure about the consequences if one of ■ See WILLIE, Page 12

If you need abortion or birth control services, we can help.

Confidential pregnancy testing . Sale, affordable abortion services • Birth control • Tubal ligation • Gyn exams • Testing and treatment for omprehensive sexually transmitted diseases.

Providing quality health care to women since 1974. Insurance, VISA & MasterCard accepted.

Lealth for Women 4401 West 109th (I-435 & Roe) Overland Park, Kansas

For information and appointments (913) 345-1400 Toll Free (except KS) 1-800-227-1918

Pitchers Come Party with the Charlie's Gang

1800 Claflin 776-4111

TEMPORARY

during Christmas break in Johnson County

Available for typists, word processors, file clerks, data entry and light industrial.

Please phone for appointment. Will be interviewing on Friday Nov. 25, 8:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

BOSSLER-HIX TEMPORARIES

11015 Metcalf, Overland Park, Ks. Call Ann 1-913-491-0944

Chicken Lo mein crab ragoon sweet n' sour pork crispy wonton moo goo gai pan fried rice Chung King pork Imperial soup regetable delight

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK

南亚河南西西西南

Restaurant

& Lounge

Sunday Buffet

11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

a head start •

FREE DELIVERY 11 a.m.-1

On Your Interviews

Your interview look can land your perfect job.

537-1003 NEW BEGINNINGS 1107 N. 3rd a full-service salon.

Free Admission UCM Student Center 1021 Denison United Campus Ministry

TONIGHT

7:30 p.m.

"THE CHINA SYNDROME"

Starring Jane Fonda

FREE DELIVERY 539-4400 1217 MORO IN AGGIEVILLE

> Special no coupon needed

Pizza Pizza one item one item one free 2 free 16 oz. Coke 16 oz. Cokes Pizzas Pizzas one item one item 2 free 2 free 16 oz. Cokes 16 oz. Cokes

Special not valid with other coupon or offer.

539-4400

Editorial

Kansas State Collegian Opinions ■ Friday, November 18, 1988

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

EDITORChad L. Sanborn
MANAGING EDITOR
NEWS EDITOR
NEWS EDITOR
EDITORIAL PAGE EDITOR
PHOTO/GRAPHICS EDITORJohn La Barge
Chris Hays
Calherine Doud
EDITORIAL BOARD
Susan L'Ecuyer, Scott Miller, Michael Nichols, Karla Redelsheirner, Chad L. Sanborn
Jeff Schrag, Erwin Seba, Paula Selby, Robert R. Short, Mark Schmeller, Janet Swanson
Jen Schrag, Erwin Seca, Faula Selby, Piccer N. Silott, Mark Schribler, Vallet Strains
Secretary to the secretary
The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publica-
Washing Wall 102 Manhattan Kan 66506. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the school year and Thursday during summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan, 66502.
POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Man-
PUSIMAS IEM. Selle decless charges to hands

News contributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116. Inquiries concerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word advertising questions should be directed to (913) 532-6555.

Kansas State Collegian Subscription Rates One Semester (Fall or Spring) Two Semesters (Fall and Spring). .$10

Send orders and address changes to Student Publications, Kedzie Hall 103, Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kan. 66506.

Chicago officials should consider consequences

Last week, public housing officials in Chicago required that eight couples living together in the same complex to marry to avoid being evicted. One official attending the octuple wedding ceremony called the couples "models" for the public housing situation in Chicago and said he had "high hopes" for their futures.

"Models?"

The ultimatum to get married or be evicted was given after Chicago police banned overnight guests in an effort to combat gang violence.

Aside from the alarming attempt by police to dictate the private matters of Chicago citizens by banning overnight guests, the bright idea of forcing tenants to marry one another is an unrealistic solution to the Rockwell Gardens housing project's

Consider the whole precedent of requiring these people to marry in order to keep living in public housing and the assumptions behind the idea.

It's not just an amazing coincidence that these eight couples were all waiting for the right sign from above to marry their live-in spouses. If that sign was the threat of eviction, it is hardly a motive to get married. In fact, one is left with an impression of self-righteousness and patronization on the part of the officials.

It is as if they assume that, by just getting married, the couples would immediately assume those traditional values represented in the concept of marriage and therefore solve all the problems associated with living "in sin." There might no longer even be a need for public housing if all the other tenants conformed as well.

The "solution" ignores the roots of the original problem of crime.

The choice of marriage should be a voluntary act, not one prompted by an outside situation. Certainly, it should not be a decision effected by overzealous housing officials whose quickfix solutions are based on ambiguous values.

Don't worry, be thankful

n light of the fact that most students are starting their Thanksgiving break this weekend, I thought it was high time for us to count our blessings.

Take a break from writing those computer programs. And if you happen to be sweating out the end of the semester in the Farrell Library stacks, sit down and rest, for heaven sakes, and take time out to appreciate the things we often take for granted. You've put that research paper off this long, it can wait a few more minutes.

So here they are from our home office in Scottsdale, Ariz. - the Top 10 List of Reasons to Be Thankful.

No. 10. The Jayhawks are on probation. OK, this is a cheap shot, but it still feels good. It's almost as good as that certain triumphant feeling you get when your stuckup older brother gets in trouble for something you did (not to imply that the K-State basketball team is committing NCAA violations). Try saying just a few of those key phrases out loud - recruiting violations, three years, Vincent Askew, Larry Brown - without cracking a smile.

No 9. We live in Kansas.

Let's face facts. There probably aren't too many other states in the country where people can wear shorts one day, then wool sweaters and turtleneck sweaters the next. It's the middle of November and there hasn't been a single week this semester when temperatures haven't hit the 70-degree mark. No state but Kansas can offer clean air, a low cost of living and no gridlock. And those snobby coastal people think they have it made. Ha!

No. 8. Although it sounds strange, we should all be thankful for the color black. hink about it. No other color can instantly take five pounds off a person's figure. No other semester. Then get back to the books to sal-

Commentary

KARLA REDELSHEIMER

Collegian Columnist

color lets artsy types express themselves. If worn correctly, black says "Hey, I'm mysterious, creative and politically aware." The paler a person is, the better. It makes people look more needy. It's sort of like conforming to be nonconformists.

No. 7. The elections are over!

Getting mail was nice for a change, but there's this feeling of serenity that comes after being bombarded with endless political

No. 6. The K-State Union is one of the best in the nation.

The French have sidewalk cafes, we have the Union Stateroom. Besides having the best chocolate chip monster cookies in the state, the Union offers a true university atmosphere. Home of the infamous Union Lab, there isn't any other spot on campus that offers students a place to study and a chance to be social at the same time. Weekdays between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., the Union has better scoping ground than any bar in Aggieville.

No. 5. After next week (which is only two days away, anyway) we have only two weeks of school before finals.

If that's not good news for some readers, relax and remember everyone has one bad vage what's left of that grade point average. For those who are having the best semester of their life, take time out to celebrate the success. Go a little crazy — buy a huge bag of M & M's and refuse to share them with anyone (sound advice courtesy of Hallmark cards).

No. 4. Discount movie nights are back this

Tuesday night has come to mean more than just the night before Wednesday (which is otherwise known as hump day). It's the only night you can rationalize seeing a newly released stupid movie without feeling guilty for shelling out $4 or $5. Discount movie nights are also a good excuse for putting off studying one more night and instead asking that special someone out for a cheap date or for getting together with your long lost freshman buddies.

No. 3. Basketball season is almost here. After all that camping pandemonium, it'll be paradise to break in Bramlage Coliseum with the rockin' spirit of Ahearn Field House. Bring on the nail-biting basketball excitement. K-Staters are ready for action. No. 2. Football season is coming to an end. Need I say more?

And the No. 1 reason to be thankful is that we live in the United States.

merica. What a concept. We have capitalism, corruption, rock 'n' roll, homeless people, drugs, Yes, it's a little Pollyanna-ish, but it's nice to wake up in the morning and know we don't have to fight for any of those basic human

So enjoy all those Thanksgiving parades and turkey dinners, and last (but not least) take advantage of those little pleasures in life that didn't make the Top Ten List of Reasons to Be Thankful.

FIRST PICTURES OF THE REAGAN/BUSH STEALTH FIGHTER STEALTH HOMELESS EDUCATION STEALTH FIGHTER STEALTH ETHICS POLICY STEALTH DRUG PLAN

Letters

Skeptics praised

In his famous Landon Lecture of Sept. 16, 1970, President Richard Nixon admonished his audience: "There are those who protest that if the verdict of democracy goes against them, democracy itself is at fault, the system is at fault - who say that if they don't get their own way the answer is to burn a bus or bomb a building. Yet we can maintain a free society only if we recognize that in a free society no one can win all the time.'

By all accounts, the 13,000 assembled in Ahearn Field House cheered Nixon wildly. Little did they know that the day before he uttered these words, Nixon had ordered CIA Chief Richard Helms to do anything necessary to overthrow the democratically elected president of Chile, Salvadore Allende.

In September 1973, the CIA's anti-Allende campaign achieved Nixon's objectives, beginning 15 years of brutal military rule. The deputy director of the CIA at the time of the coup was last Friday's Landon Lecturer, Vernon Walters. Following in the footsteps of his former boss, Walters lied outrageously when he denied that the CIA was involved.

Thanks to last week's hard-hitting Collegian article, and the tough questions asked by Students for Educational Awareness, many in Walters' audience were restrained and skeptical. At least we can be proud that the K-State campus is no longer the easy mark it was 18 years ago.

John Exdell associate professor of philosophy

Walters insulting

Ambassador Walters seemingly captivated part of his audience with little anecdotes from the circles of diplomacy. He dropped names and titles, told jokes and spent a great deal of time addressing a rather incisive article written by a member of the Collegian staff.

Walters is a fairly good actor. He was somewhat amusing and sort of affable as he told his stories and gave us a less than insightful analysis of the changing U.S.-Soviet relationships.

Evidently, he does not credit us with very much intelligence. All this would have been innocuous had he been straight and honest with his audience. Instead, he insulted our intelligence by having the audacity to say the United States had no role in the overthrowing of the constitutional government of Salvador

Let us look at the facts and make up our own minds. The "Church Committee" reports are widely available for students to read and ponder. Plenty of other sources exist, not the least of which is Seymour M. Hersh's "The Price of Power: Kissinger in the Nixon White House."

The "Church Committee" report states: "The CIA was instructed by President Nixon to play a direct role in organizing a military coup d'etat in Chile to prevent Allende's accession to the presidency. The agency was to take this action without coordination with the departments of state or defense and without informing the U.S. ambassador in Chile ... Those Chileans who were inclined to stage a coup were given assurances of strong support at the highest levels of the U.S. government, both before and after a coup."

These were the orders given by Nixon in the fall of 1970. It is interesting to note that the commander of the Chilean army, Gen. Rene Schneider, was strongly opposed to a coup. He staunchly advocated that the constitutional process be followed.

Standing up for democracy, however, has its costs, even for a high-ranking general. During Oct. 19-20, 1970, Schneider escaped two attempted kidnappings by CIAsupported military officers. On the third attempt Oct. 22, a hit squad was successful in assassinating this democratically minded general. Perhaps Walters could learn a few lessons from the memory of Schneider.

The assassination of Schneider and the plotting against Allende did not, however, prevent Allende's accession to the presidency in 1970, and the covert plots continued. From 1970 to 1973, an extensive series of both covert and overt operations were waged against the constitutional government of Chile. U.S. involvement is a known fact and well documented.

Needless to say, the CIA did not have to give direct orders to the Pinochet coup plotters. It only needed to give them significant assistance in carrying out its blatantly antidemocratic mission. In 1973, the antidemocratic forces of Pinochet succeeded. Thousands of Chileans lost their lives thanks to this reality.

For Walters to state that the U.S. government was not involved in the 1973 coup in Chile, is an outright insult to all thinking people. Furthermore, for Walters to suggest that democracy is on its way in Chile thanks to the recent plebiscite is an outrageously farcial statement. Pinochet intends to remain commander of the armed forces even if future elections put him out of office.

Some kind of democracy, Walters. Daniel G. Acheson-Brown graduate student in political science

Walters dishonest

What do we expect from our celebrated visitors?

In Kansas, we assume that people we invite to speak will be as honest and informative as possible. After all, this is educational we are paying them! But these are not congressional hearings, and Gen. Walters wasn't appointed CIA deputy director because he liked to spill the beans. Did we expect him to say, "OK, damn it, I'll 'fess up"?

Not only our student editors suspect Walters' history. Editors of the Washington Post connected him to Watergate. The Boston Globe risked an article about his alleged connection to the assassination of former Chilean Defense Minister Orlando Letelier. The truth in these matters is intentionally cloudy. The New York Times documents his $300,000 fee from a Virginia arms merchant whose murky name is "Environmental Energy Systems, Inc."

Walters may have been in Paris when the Shah of Iran overthrew democratically elected Mossadegh. So was the ayatollah while he orchestrated the revolution against the shah. No one expects a general to pull the trigger on the streets of Iran, Argentina or Chile. It wasn't necessary for Ollie to be in Remote control? Sure, today's generals don't lead the cavalry.

Listeners to these talks should remember that laws of perjury don't apply to Landon

Lectures. Our highest officials have made "I can't recall" and "disinformation" in the name of our national interest an honored Col. North is now collecting big fees for speaking engagements. Perhaps he'll be considered for an upcoming Landon Lecture. Will you still believe him? Even the commander-in-chief was perhaps "ill or sedated" when he signed approval of arms sales to Iran. Supporters, who believe these selfless disclaimers are justified, should remember Gen. Secord's profits on arms sales to the Contras.

"Check it out for yourselves with the Freedom of Information Act," the general essen-

But he didn't say that the act specifically does not apply to documents of national

No, don't wait for bombshells from notable speakers. These will be saved for postmortem autobiographies or in lieu of prison, not the Landon Lectures.

William Dorsett Manhattan resident

Recycling helpful

According to Monty Wedel, head of the Riley County Planning Office and Recycling Committee, the Riley County Landfill will close on June 30, 1990. The primary reason for this is that "volatile organics" (i.e. petroleum distillates, etc.), originating from the landfill have contaminated private wells located in the area.

Before a new dump site opens, costly measures required by the EPA will have to be taken in order to prevent a similar scenario from happening. This will translate in dumping costs at least three times higher than the current $2.50 per cubic yard.

With burgeoning economic and environmental solid waste disposal costs looming on the horizon, now is the time to recycle the trash we produce on a much larger scale. Manhattan has facilities which accept and pay for many recyclable items.

For instance, the Can Man, a Manhattan recycling company, will give money for aluminum cans, glass and plastic containers, car batteries, newspapers and a variety of scrap metals. It also takes any non-glossy paper, envelopes with plastic windows removed and cardboard. Several auto service stations will recycle used oil, engine blocks, and auto bodies.

As educated people we cannot continue to irresponsibly pollute our land, water and air with recyclable waste. For those of you who do not recycle, this newspaper would be a suitable item to start with.

Vern Stiefel graduate student in agronomy

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR pertaining to matters of public interest are encouraged. Letters should be kept as brief as possible. All letters are subject to editing on the basis of space and style considerations.

Send submissions to the Collegian in Kedzie 103.

Pole painting

Stan Findley, K-State housing and maintenance worker, paints a Jardine Terrace Apartment building Thursday afternoon. The building is expected to be completed in two weeks, depending on the weather.

Condemned man's wife wants federal court to stop execution

By The Associated Press

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. - Gerald Smith's wife asked a federal appeals court Thursday to stop the state from executing her husband, contending Smith is not competent to abandon his appeals.

Lynn Smith filed the "next friend" petition with the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis, prompting the state to file its own motion asking that the execution go forth at 12:01 a.m. Friday as scheduled.

> MOVIE INFO. 539-1291 IN JUNCTION CITY Call 762-4092 CAMPUS

U2 RATTLE AND HUM PG-13 TODAY AT 7 AND 9:15 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2:30 AND 4:45

WESTLOOP CINEMA 6

HIGH SPIRITS PG-13 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2:05

THE ACCUSED R TODAY AT 4:35-7:05-9:30 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2:05

WITHOUT A CLUE PG TODAY AT 4:30-7:10-9:25 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2

OLIVER AND COMPANY G TODAY AT 4:30-7-8:30 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2

PUNCHLINE R

CHILDS PLAY R

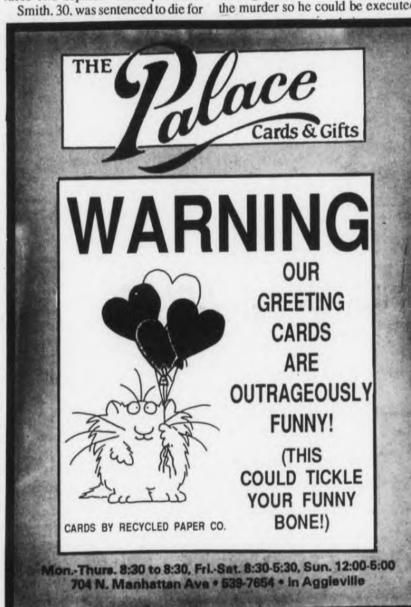

TODAY AT 4:40-7:15-9:25 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2:10 was also pending before the U.S. Supreme Court.

It marked the second time in six weeks the state has prepared its execution chamber at the Missouri

A motion for a stay of execution the 1985 stabbing death of fellow inmate Robert Baker. He had been scheduled to die Oct. 4 for the 1980 beating death of Karen Roberts, a former girlfriend.

Authorities said Baker was killed State Penitentiary for Smith, who in a dispute over a diamond ring, faces two separate death penalties. although Smith said he committed the murder so he could be executed.

LOANS

WE WANT TO MAKE YOUR STUDENT LOAN!

Have the professionals at Kansas State Bank make your student loan. Simply contact us at:

537-4400

Lender code #821176

KANSAS STATE BANK

1010 Westloop & 11th and Bluemont, (913) 537-4400

Landlady declares innocence

By The Associated Press

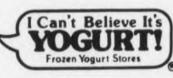

SACRAMENTO, Calif. - A landlady suspected of killing seven elderly tenants at her boardinghouse to collect their Social Security money said Thursday she had cashed some checks but was no

Dorothea Montalvo Puente, who vanished Saturday after police unearthed the first of seven bodies buried in the yard of her boardinghouse, was arrested at a downtown Los Angeles motel late Wednesday after a pensioner she had approached in a nearby bar became

Need a fuel-efficient Car? Check the Classifieds

New Nonfat Frozen Yogurt

Same great taste with no fat or cholesterol

Nautilus Towers-Aggieville Phone 537-1616 Manhattan

PRE-HOLIDAY SALE

$2 OFF EVERY $10 PURCHASE

any regular-priced item In-Stock Items Only*Cash or Check Please All Sales Final

SALE ENDS DEC. 3, 1988

CROSS REFERENCE

776-8071 322 POYNTZ AVENUE

Closed Classes 33680 33780 32830 33800 29780 32840 33850 13970 17340 26650 24866 32850 33930 29790 13980 17830 24880 26670 26710 29820 32870 34420 09250 13990 24900 01640 29840 32990 34530 14050 26720 02080 09400 17930 25850 34540 29890 33010 19510 25880 26760 09640 14000 02140 29990 33040 34570 25890 26770 09800 14080 19520 02390 33060 26890 31230 34630 19680 25900 0983C 14270 02460 33080 26920 31330 34640 20080 25910 1145C 14360 02510 26930 31370 33090 34890 20090 25920 14370 11601 02620 31760 33100 34940 26940 14420 20360 25960 03150 11630 33110 35210 26950 31810 20420 25990 1164C 14530 03170 33120 35300 20560 31820 26000 26980 14680 11650 03600 33130 35370 31910 26010 26990 15040 20850 04240 11660 33140 35470 21020 32010 15050 26080 27460 04490 11670 27470 32020 33150 35730 21130 26110 15070 116BC 04800 32030 33160 36310 29470 26160 04916 11700 15100 21250 32040 33170 37520 05700 15180 21260 26220 29490 11710 331 90 32740 37600 11720 22300 26270 29560 15220 05820 15250 32750 33200 37720 29670 11730 22630 26410 05830 22660 32770 33210 37840 15330 26440 29700 05840 11810 26470 29710 32780 37940 15470 22670 05870 32790 33320 38050 29720 15480 23680 26480 0588C 12440 33330 38060 32810 17040 24390 26600 29730 05980 12450 29750 32820 33340 38070 24500 26620 13780 17110 06130

539-5303

One number brings out the best at KSU

Now, at KSU, there's just one number to remember for fast delivery of pizza that's every bit as good as one you'd go out for.

Godfather's Pizza." Now you don't have to settle for anything less, anymore.

> 1118 Laramie Aggieville

Large Super Combo only $9.99

Present this coupon and receive a large Original Super Combo pizza for only $9.99.

Weighs over 5 lbs. WE DELIVER receive any large pizza for the price of WE DELIVER

Large Pizza

for a

Medium Price

Present this coupon and

Not valid with Sunday FREE drinks or any other discount offer Pizza... Not valid with Sunday FREE drinks or any other discount offer American Pizza...

Grades concern, affect all students

By Stephanie Morrill Collegian Reporter

Midterms, group projects, homework and finals - all are worries for a traditional student, and all are part of the big picture of a student's grade point average.

"From fall 1986 to fall 1987, GPA scores for both males and females remained steady," said Gunile DeVault, assistant director, office of the registrar.

The average GPA in fall of 1986 was 2.865, compared with fall 1987 when it dropped to

"I don't foresee a noticeable rise in GPA scores. Instead, I think they will be quite stable," said Mike Lynch, assistant vice president for institutional advancement.

"About 10 years ago, we saw what is called 'grade inflation,' where students' grades rose considerably," Lynch said. "We may attribute this to the inclusion of a number of electives in the University curriculums.

"Eventually, people began to conclude that the grading procedures were becoming too lax and decided to tighten up the standards. If anything, this may have caused scores to dip a little."

Freshmen may worry about GPA scores as much as seniors but for different reasons.

"Freshmen come to the academic assistance center when they first notice that their college grades aren't as high as those they received in high school, but this is expected. College is a new experience," Lynch said.

"On the other hand," he said, "juniors and seniors begin to worry more about the effect their GPA will have on their overall employment opportunities.

"Overall, students in general must consider GPA scores for a number of reasons, but I'd say the biggest reason is the increased competition for a limited number of employment opportunities."

Additional reasons include scholarships and other general policies and procedures, such as financial aid requirements, retake policies, incomplete policies and athletic requirements.

"Students who may be having trouble with grades tend to meet with their advisers, the dean, or even their roommates," DeVault

Lynch said: "The students who come to the academic assistance center usually have general questions about a certain class.'

Students realize value of education

By Susan Johannsen Collegian Reporter

Despite the increase in college tuition and the threat of selective admissions, many students are electing to persue a higher education because "college is a wise investment," said Bruce Laughlin, director of the Career Planning and Placement

Students are also realizing a college education will aid them in making plans for the future and allow them to use the skills they learned to make a social contribution, Laughlin

"Students are more serious now than they were in the 1960s and 1970s. They are more focused on internal things such as careers rather than the social aspects," said Michael Babcock, professor of economics.

But Henry Camp, associate professor of sociology, said students know that competition is tough in the job market.

"Students are recognizing the

CROSS

POINT

Christian Rock on the edge Sunday 5 to 9 p.m.

competition for jobs and future employment. Other students continue because their parents want them to go to college or their friends are going," Camp said.

In the last four or five years, what economists call a "Rate of Return" has occurred. This has created a large gap between high school earnings and college earnings, Babcock said.

The payback is getting shorter for college students. It is taking less time for someone who has been to college to catch up with someone who has never been to college and has been out in the labor force longer, he said. For some college students, a degree means they have more of "an edge" over someone who has not been to college.

"Education between high school and college is different. College is worth more because you are on a schedule and have deadlines to meet. You learn how to schedule your time better," said Shalene Davis, senior in human ecology and mass communications.

"College should be a place where you want to learn something. You shouldn't waste your money on trying to get out just so you get a highpaying job," she said.

The older generation has the idea that many young people are too money oriented. The point is, that while in college, learning should be fun and satisfying, Laughlin said. Students will be gaining skills they can apply to goods and services in society, he said.

Although tuition costs are rising, it does not seem to be hampering the students' decisions.

"Costs are often overestimated by many people. If a college costs $15,000 a year, people assume this is true for colleges everywhere, and it isn't," Laughlin said.

LARGE PIZZA ONLY 599

with one topping

offer good through with 310

EXTENDED

"premium pizza at a

"premium pizza at a cardboard pizza price" 523 South 17th 537-1484

Friday TGIF-5 p.m. Free Hors d'oeuvres

Comedy Invasion Mon., Tues.-9 p.m. EVAN DAVIS

☆ Star Search Finalist '86 a

OF ARCHITECTURE STUDENTS, A GROUP IN THE COLLEGE OF ARCH. & DESIGN. IS PROVIDING A GRAPHIC DESIGN SERVICE FOR ANY INTERESTED PARTIES. WE WILL PROVIDE A GRAPHIC DESIGN AND LOGO OR LETTERING AT THE FOLLOWING RATES:

T-SHIRTS - $20 AND FREE T-SHIRT. BANNER - $1 SQ. FT. PLUS MATERIALS. 81/2 x 11 POSTER - $10

CONTACT CAROLE AT 539-5241

The Pizza Restaurant That Didn't Stop With Pizza

- Award-winning Pizza
 Great Pasta Dishes
- · Famous Salad Bar · Carry-out · Catering
- · Deli Counter

BUFFET SERVED EVERYDAY DINNER 5-9 p.m. LUNCH 11 a.m.-2 p.m. Open everyday at 11:00 a.m.

537-4350

3019 Anderson Village Plaza Shopping Center

Book Your Christmas Party Now For Our Back Room

— Tonight — Chicken and Spaghetti Cher All you can eat.

UNITED ARTISTS $2.50 PER PERSON

SHOWS BEFORE 6:00 p.m.

SETH CHILDS 6 ETH CHILDS AT FARM BUREAU RD. 776-9684

FRESH HORSES PG-13 7:15, 9:40 Sat, Sun. 2:15, 4:35 THEY LIVE R

2:20, 4:40, 7:20, 9:30 IRON EAGLE II PG Daily 7:15, 9:35 SAT. & SUN. 2:10, 4:40 EVERYBODY'S ALL-AMERICAN R 2. 4:30. 7:10. 9:45 LAND BEFORE TIME G

7:10, 9:30 Sat., Sun. 2:10, 4:40

ERNEST SAVES CHRISTMAS PG

Photographer will be here until Nov. 18 to take Royal Purple portraits.

R.O.Y.A.L

Held over

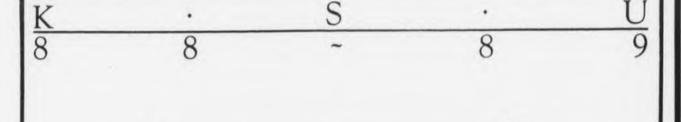

by popular demand!

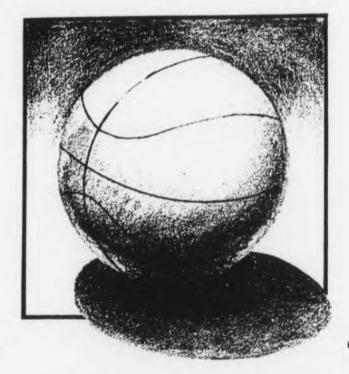

8:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. and 1:30-5:30 p.m. Union 209. Call now for your appointment.

539-5229

Take your fee card or student ID for your portrait sitting.

P•U•R•P•L•E

KANSAS STATE

the

DANISH NATIONALS

(featuring Flemming Danielson) FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18

7:30 p.m. TICKETS ARE $4 FOR ADULTS $1 FOR STUDENTS AND YOUNGER

 $\frac{\mathbf{W}}{\mathbf{B}}$

OUR DOORS WILL BE

PEN

THANKSGIVING WEEKEN

SATURDAY, NOV. 26TH

Building Hours: 12n - 8pm Stateroom: 12n - 8pm Recreation: 2pm - 11pm Info Counter: 12n - 8pm Bookstore: 12n - 8pm

SUNDAY, NOV. 27TH

Building Hours: 12n - 10pm Stateroom: 12n - 10pm Recreation: 2pm - 10pm Info Counter: 12n - 9:30pm Bookstore: 12n - 5pm

k-state union

host to the campus

Plus! Ride the K-State Union Express Wildcat Game Shuttle Nov. 26th!!

EntertainmentFrida

Kansas State Collegian ■ Friday, November 18, 1988 ■ Page 7

NOW SHOWING

K-State Union A Fish Called Wanda 7 and 9:30 Friday and Saturday, Forum Hall

> Aristocats 2 p.m. Saturday and 2 and 7 Sunday, Forum Hall

Campus Theater

U2-Rattle & Hum Daily 7 and 9:15. Matinee 2:30 and 4:45, Saturday and Sunday

Westloop Cinema 6 High Spirits

Daily 4:35, 7:05 and 9:30. Matinee 2:05, Saturday and Sunday

The Accused Daily 4:35, 7:05 and 9:30. Matinee 2:05, Saturday and Sunday

Without A Clue Daily 4:30, 7:10 and 9:25. Matinee 2, Saturday and Sunday

Punchline Daily 4:25, 7 and 9:35. Matinee 2, Saturday and Sunday

Oliver and Company Daily 4:30, 7, 8:30 and 9:40. Matined 2, Saturday and Sunday

Childs Play Daily 4:20, 7:15, 9:25. Matinee Saturday and Sunday, 2:10

Seth Childs Cinema

Fresh Horses Daily 7:15 and 9:40. Matinee 2:15 and 4:35, Saturday and Sunday

They Live Daily 7:15 and 9:40. Matinee 2:20 and 4:40, Saturday and Sunday

Iron Eagle II Daily 7:15 and 9:35. Matinee 2:10 and 4:40, Saturday and Sunday

Everybody's All American Daily 7:10 and 9:45. Matinee 2 and 4:30, Saturday and Sunday

Land Before Time Daily 7:10 and 9:30. Matinee 2:10 and 4:40, Saturday and Sunday

Ernest Saves Christmas Daily 7:20 and 9:35. Matinee 2:20 and 4:45, Saturday and Sunday

Theater

Angels Fall K-State Players' production of a play by Lanford Wilson. Nichols Theatre 8 p.m. today and Saturday. Tickets on sale at the Nichols Box Office. Admission is $4 for students and $6 for the general public.

Romantic Comedy Presented by the Manhattan Civic Theatre. today and Saturday 8 p.m. City Auditorium.

Music

Dance Party Thanksgiving dance sponsored by KSDB 91.9 FM. Saturday Union Main Ballroom from 10 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. Admission is one canned good and $1.50, without canned good $3.

"The Sons" tonight Charties Neighborhood Bar

Photo courtesy/ University Archives

On Dec. 13, 1968, a fire destroyed the interior of Nichols Hall, including the band director's office, which housed all of the band's music and instruments.

'Wabash' plays on after fire

By Susan Faler Collegian Reporter

You hear it at every football game. You hear it at every basketball game.

The crowds love the cheerleaders' routine to it.

K-State fans were jamming to it last year in Aggieville bars when the basketball team beat Purdue. What is it?

The "Wabash Cannonball," of course. Where did that upbeat, toe-tapping and hand-clappin' song that has become a tradition at K-State originate? Well, it all started on Dec. 13, 1968, when Nichols Hall was gutted by a fire. At that time the hall housed the Department of Military Science, a basketball court, the Department of Art and a swimming pool. In a corner on one of the floors sat a desk, sheet music and instruments. This was the office of Phil Hewett, a man who should go down in K-

State history. All the music K-State owned was stored in this corner, and when Nichols caught fire so did all of K-State's music.

That is, with the exception of a piece of music that Hewett had taken home in his conductor's folder earlier the day of the fire.

The name of that piece - the "Wabash Cannonball."

The reason Hewett happened to have "Wabash" in his conductor's folder was because he and a friend were re-writing some parts of the

Just three days later, the band was scheduled to play at a men's basketball game in Ahearn, but most instruments and all the band's music had been destroyed.

Hewett spent the majority of his time that weekend calling most of eastern Kansas to find instruments for the students to play.

"Wabash" into sheet music for the various instruments. The band knew the K-State Fight Song and the "Wabash." That would be it for the game against Houston. "At that time the band consisted of 60 students, and they couldn't play very well. It was fantastic that they stayed (after that night)," Hewett said. "We took advantage of the fire band. Two years later our band had 250 members.

"At a meeting shortly after the game, I told the kids we had two options, 'to pack it in and forget about the band, or we could get busy and get something done," he said.

by recruiting people to play in the

At this time the band consisted of 60 members. Hewett told them to each bring another person to the next practice whether they could play or

"We didn't get 120 students, but we did get 96," he said.

Not only did the band play "Wab-

"Wabash," throughout K-State history. "That night we played 'Eat 'Em Up' in a way that no other band has played," he said.

"It used to make me so mad to go to the KU games and see their fans waving their arms back and forth to their fight song," Hewett said. "We had a unique fight song, but not one that the fans could go wild about. We (Hewett and his friend) were changing "Wabash" to fit our group (band) and were hoping it would get our fans on their feet.' Joel Leach is the actual composer way that would continue, along with of "Wabash Cannonball," but today, due to the changes Hewett and his colleague made on the piece, the sheet music reads, "as played by the K-State Marching Band.'

Besides Hewett introducing these tunes to K-State, he also started another band tradition - the yearly performance at the Kansas City Chiefs football games.

Hewett played in a band that performed at the Dallas Texans, a professional football team that later became the K.C. Chiefs.

He became friends with Lamar Hunt, the Texans owner, and upon ■ See WABASH, Page 12

Chad Niehoff, sophomore in business administration, directs the K-State marching band as it plays the school fight song, the "Wabash Cannonball," during a halftime performance at KSU Stadium.

Swine producers meet in Manhattan

By The Collegian Staff

Kansas pork producers and agri-business representatives filled the Manhattan Holiday Inn & Holidome for the 1988 Kansas Pork Congress/Trade Show and K-State Swine Industry Day Wednesday and Thursday.

Members of the Kansas Pork Producers Council elected new officials and discussed topics of

"There were some issues that had pulled us apart."

— Ralph Rindt council president concern to pork producers at the council's annual meeting Wednesday.

"There appears to be a real move toward uniting the Kansas Pork Producers Council," said Ralph Rindt, newly elected president of the council. There were some differences of opinion on how KPPC should be structured. Members voted to have a committee of nine members determine issues that need to be addressed by the council, he said. Six of the members were selected by the members and three by the council president.

"There were some issues that had pulled us apart," Rindt said. When issues cause a split among producers, the committee needs to take a neutral position, he said.

"Those nine are not just a team — they are an all-star team ... We will be much stronger and I am very pleased," he said.

Trade show exhibitors displayed a variety of livestock products in the Holidome.

K-State Swine Industry Day featured presentations Thursday on swine nutrition, farrowing facilities and swine production economics.

The Department of Animal Sciences and Industry sponsored tours through Weber Hall. Attendees toured classrooms and research facilities and had the opportunity to visit the swine unit.

Greg Thompson, pork producer from Hutchinson, said he thought the event was worthwhile. "The presentations are interest-

"The presentations are interesting and the trade show gives you a chance to stay on top of what's happening in the industry," he said.

Auction will help art scholarships

By Eva Craig Collegian Reporter

Original sculpture, water colors, oil paintings or pieces of jewelry can be purchased while helping new and continuing art students earn scholarships at the K-State Art Scholarship Auction Nov. 19.

The works will be displayed for viewing and bidding at the Salina Holidome, 1616 W. Crawford. This is the first year the auction is being held outside Manhattan, said Charles Stroh, head of the Department of Art.

He said the nearly 100 works for the auction have been contributed by faculty, students, alumni and interested community artists. The auction will feature works by such nationally and internationally prominent artists as Jim Hagan, Frederic James, Antoni Clave, Ray Kahmeyer, Auguste Renoir, Charles H. Sanderson, Signe Larson and many others.

Proceeds will benefit the art scholarship fund.
"The scholarship fund has provided assistance to 10 or 15 art students a year," Stroh said.

Laura Fatemi, junior in fine arts,

Laura Fatemi, junior in fine arts, has donated a ceramic piece, Torso III, to the auction. The piece, which took 15 to 20 hours to complete, is a woman's torso styled into a vase, she said.

She has donated ceramic works to the auction for the past three years and prints for two years before that.

"I enjoy donating these works because the money goes to a good cause; it really helps the art students," she said.

776-5577

Michael Converse, sophomore in fine arts and one of 13 recent recipients of the scholarship, has contributed a colored pencil breakfast still

Converse also donated a silk-screen print.

"I like donating, because it helps the art department and the scholarship fund," he said.

A recent recipient of the scholarship, Brian Maxwell of Salina, has been hired as a master printer with Tyler Graphics in New York City. Maxwell graduated from K-State in the spring of 1988 with a bachelor's degree in fine arts and a concentra-

Prime Time

Special

3-10 in. Pizzas

10.00

1—Topping

4—Cokes

tion in print making.

Tickets are $20 per person or $35 per couple, which can be deducted from an auction purchase. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. and complimentary refreshments will be served. The auction will begin at 8 p.m., and a cash bar will be available. Tickets will be available at the door, but reservations are encouraged.

Don't get caught unprepared! Read Collegian Weather Forecasts

Everyday

Two-Fers

2-10 in. pizzas

88.00°

2—Toppings

2-Cokes

776-5577

Cooperative

Start Your Sunday Mornings With The Right Side Up!

Join 95.3, The Kat, for three hours of light, contemporary fusion Jazz—
The perfect sound for a relaxing Sunday morning 8:50-11:50 a.m.

Sunday Side Up...
Sunday Mornings Never Sounded So Good!

FAST N FREE DELIVERY

PIZZA SHUTTLE

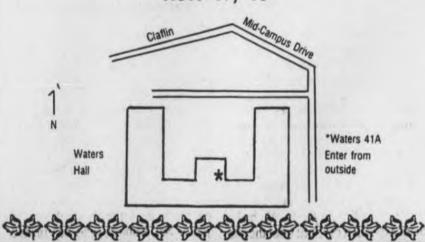

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

Horticulture Club Pecan Sale

Waters 41A 7:30-5:30 Union—1st floor—9:30-4:30

5 lb. Cracked Pecans

Proceeds go towards Club Scholarships and community projects Nov. 17, 18

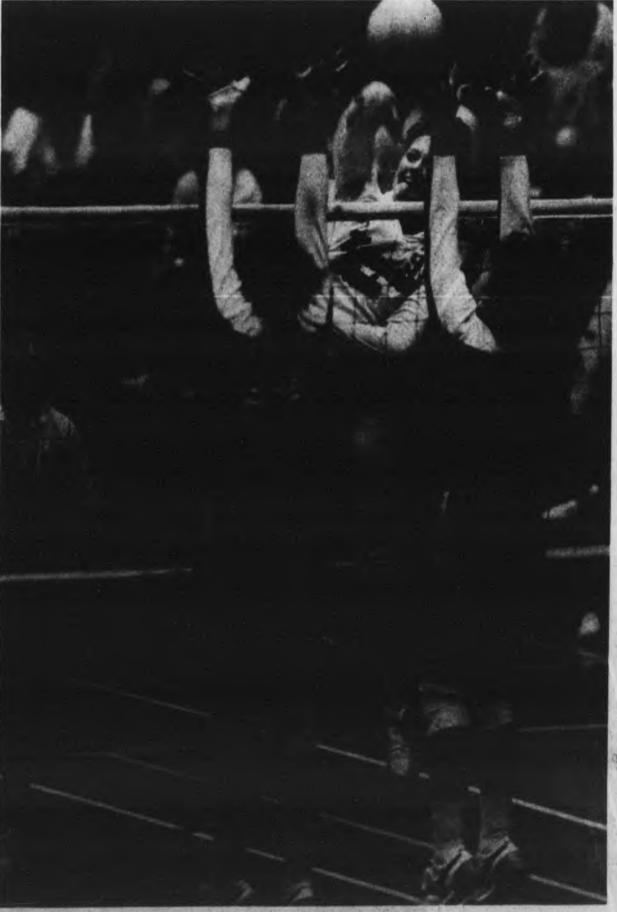

Dr. Willie says ... Effective Immediately Lafene Student Health Center is accepting VISA & MASTERCARD for their services. See the cashier's office at Lafene for further info.

#5 Nebraska vs. Kansas State

Saturday 7:30 p.m.

Ahearn Field House

Sports

Kansas State Collegian ■ Friday, November 18, 1988 ■ Page 9

'Cats, Buffs square off in season finale

Saturday's game will be emotional one for Parrish

By Chris Wilhelm Sports Writer

Saturday's football game between K-State and Colorado at Boulder could be either the high point or the low point for departing Wildcat coach Stan Parrish.

If Parrish's squad can beat the Buffaloes, it will be his biggest win at K-State. If K-State loses, it will mark the 27th consecutive game in which the Wildcats have been defeated.

"We have played very well at times this season, we just haven't been able to put it together for an entire game to come away with a victory," Parrish said. "This team is young and from some of the things they've shown this year, next year's coach should have some good players to work with."

The Buffaloes are 7-3 and have been improving their Big Eight Conference play, which is putting them closer to being able to compete at the top of the conference.

"We're still not up there (with Oklahoma and Nebraska)," said Colorado coach Bill McCartney. "By no means are we up with the big two. We're closing in, though. We're inching up. We're making strides."

Colorado made a huge stride last week in losing an extremely close 7-0 decision to Nebraska in Lincoln, ending a six-game road winning streak, which was the longest in the Big Eight. "I was proud of our effort against Nebraska," McCartney said. "We had our oppurtunities, but we just didn't capitalize on them. We had a chance to pull it off right until the end of the fourth quarter, but we ran out of steam.

K-State Wildcats vs. Colorado Buffaloes

Game Time: 1:10 p.m. (CST), Saturday. Place: Fulsom Field (51,463).

TV: None. Radio: Wildcat Radio Network (WIBW 580 AM). Season Records: K-State 0-10, 0-6; Colorado 7-3, 3-3.

Series Record: Colorado leads 31-12-0.

Notes: Kansas State will be trying to avoid its second winless season in a row, and its 26th straight game without a victory ... Saturday, Wildcat coach Stan Parrish will walk off the field for the last time as the K-State mentor. He currently has a 2-29-1 record in his third year as Wildcat coach ... 20 seniors will also be playing there final game in a K-State uniform ... Last week Colorado gave Nebraska a scare in Lincoln but the Huskers were able to pull out a 7-0 win ... Eight Wildcats are definitely out for Saturday's game. They are: DT Doug Blackbourne (shoulder), DB Dimitrie Scott (shoulder), NG Mark Young (ankle), QB Paul Watson (shoulder), NG Rob Goode (pinched nerve), WR David Brooks (knee), TE Russ Campbell (knee) and QB Gary Swim (foot) ... WR Greg Washington slipped to No. 2 in the Big Eight and No. 7 in the nation with 64 catches, an average of 6.4 catches a game. OSU's Hart Lee Dykes has 59 catches but has played in one less game than Washington ... Colorado's Eric Bieniemy is the conference's second and the nation's sixth leading rusher, averaging 124 yards a game.

We played very aggressively on defense and mixed things up pretty good using stunts and blitzes. The defense reacted very well."

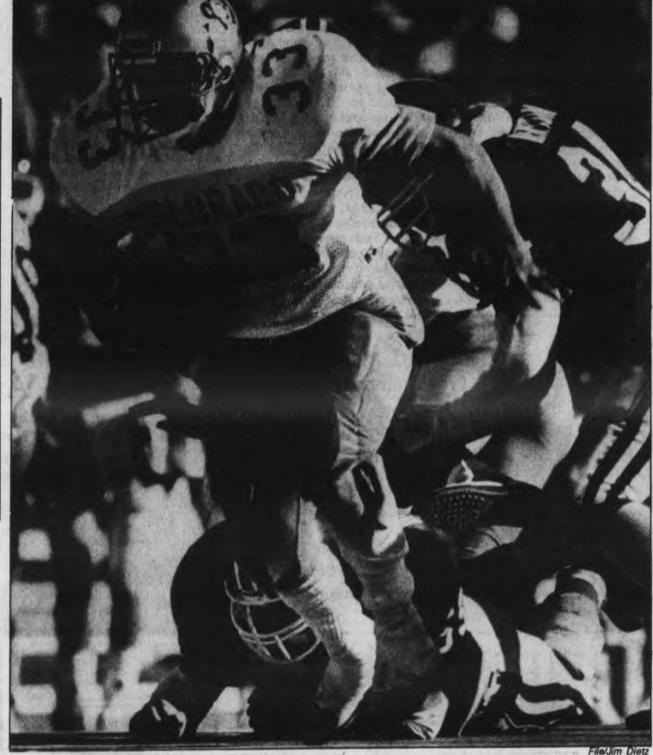

While K-State's defense is coming off its best outing of the season, holding Iowa State to 336 yards, it won't be able to rest on its laurels.

Colorado has the sixth leading rusher in the nation in Eric Bieniemy, who averages 124.3 yards rushing per contest, and one of the conference's more agile quarterbacks in junior Sal Aunese, who has rushed for more than 350 yards this season. The Wildcats were able to hold Bieniemy to just 16 yards on 14 carries in last year's game, a feat they would like to repeat.

"If we can shut (Bieniemy) down like we did last year, our chances in the game will be greatly increased," Parrish said. "We'll also have to watch Aunese. He has big play potential and he doesn't make very many mistakes."

While Colorado is heavily favored to win the game, McCartney has warned his players against letting Colorado fullback Erich Kissick carries the ball during last year's K-State-CU matchup.

Sports Briefly

Danish visit Bramlage tonight

The Danish National basketball team will play an exhibition game with K-State tonight in Bramlage Coliseum starting at 7:30. Tickets for the game are $4 for adults and $1 for students and younger.

It will be K-State's second exhibition game of the season. The Wildcats barely slipped by a tough Athletes in Action team, 97-91, last week.

Satuday, Nov. 26, marks the home-opener for the K-State men. The Wildcats will play host to Purdue, which will be out for revenge after K-State upset the Boilermakers in last year's NCAA Midwest Regional Semifinals, 73-70. All Tickets for the Purdue game are sold out.

USC's Peete catches measles

LOS ANGELES - A case of the measles has thrown a monkey wrench into the race for the Rose Bowl, the Heisman Trophy and the No. 1 college football ranking.

Southern Cal quarterback Rodney Peete, feeling poorly for almost a week, was diagnosed with the measles Wednesday. Trojans coach Larry Smith says his status for Saturday's Pacific-10 showdown with cross-town rival UCLA is questionable.

But Peete, who was already showing the characteristic skin blotches measles bring, was optimistic he would be well enough

"I'm feeling a lot better and if things keep progressing as they are I hope to be out there Saturday," Peete said Wednesday night. "I'm sorry to have alarmed or worried anybody and I appreciate everyone's concern."

The game between second-ranked Southern Cal and No. 6 UCLA will decide who represents the Pac-10 in the Rose Bowl and possibly showcase Heisman candidates Peete and Bruin quarterback Troy Aikman in a nationally televised game.

Bird to be out for 3 months

BROOKLINE, Mass. - Larry Bird will have surgery to remove bone spurs on both heels and is expected to be lost to the struggling Boston Celtics for at least three months.

The team made the announcement Thursday afternoon after Bird sought a medical opinion from a doctor unaffiliated with the club.

The Celtics said the surgery would be done by Dr. Roger Mann and Dr. Arnold Scheller, the team physician, at New England Baptist Hospital in Boston. The operation was expected to be performed as soon as the doctors and the hospital could work it into their schedules.

Preseason NIT starts tonight

Three of the nation's top 10 teams - No. 4 Louisville, No. 6 North Carolina and No. 8 Syracuse — open their 1988-89 basketball seasons Friday as the Big Apple National Invitation Tournament begins at eight sites.

Louisville will play Xavier of Ohio in Cincinnati's Riverfront Coliseum, Tennessee-Chattanooga will be at North Carolina and La Salle travels to Syracuse.

In other tournament games, Southwest Missouri State will be at No. 14 Missouri, No. 20 Stanford travels to Montana, Illinois State will be at Indiana, Arkansas State will be at Georgia, and Wyoming plays host to Southern Methodist.

The quarterfinals also will be played at campus sites, with the semifinals next Wednesday and the final two days later being held at New York's Madison Square Garden.

K-State downs KU in 3 games

By Mike May Collegian Correspondent

LAWRENCE - The K-State volleyball team swept Kansas for the second time this season, 15-10, 15-6, 15-8, Thursday night. The Wildcats won for the fifth time in their last seven outings in keeping their hopes alive for postseason play.

The victory was the first Big Eight Conference road victory for K-State since Oct. 22, 1987, when the team defeated Missouri in five games at Columbia.

In the first game, K-State pulled out in front 5-1 before the Jayhawks took a 10-9 lead. Then Mary Mignano served six consecutive points to give K-State the win.

"Mary Mignano has been a major factor for us all season," Coach Scott Nelson said. "The first game was a major factor in us winning tonight. and she really provided us with a spark, both with her serving and with her set selection."

The Wildcats broke open a close second game with seven consecutive points - three of those coming off service aces. Val Kastens and Leslie Kull led the Wildcat blocking barrage with four and three block assists repectively, which also helped K-State pass KU easily in game two.

"As the match went on, our blocking continued to improve," Nelson

Things were looking bleak for the Cats in the third game when K-State trailed 7-3, but that was before Lynda Harshbarger checked into the K-State lineup. Harshbarger, playing in just one game, had 11 kills and 16 attacks for a .688 hitting percentage, leading the Wildcats on a 12-1 spurt propelling them to a 15-8 third game victory.

During the past four weeks, the Wildcats have won seven of 10 matches and have won the right to control their own destiny. K-State now holds the prospect of postseason play in its own hands. However, the task will not be a small one. K-State must defeat 12-time defending Big Eight champion Nebraska on Saturday to advance to the Big Eight postseason tournament.

The Wildcats, now 15-12 overall and 4-7 in the conference, end the regular season Saturday against the fifth-ranked Cornhuskers who own a record of 23-4, 9-1.

Wildcats control their own destiny

By Russ Ewy Sports Writer

It's all on the line for the 1988 K-State volleyball team when Saturday night's match with Nebraska rolls around, as K-State needs to win to advance to the Big Eight tournament.

"It's going to be tough," Coach Scott Nelson said. "We're going to need to block well, serve the ball extremely well and we could use some breaks.

"Nebraska has a very potent offense to go along with its strong defense. What we face with Nebraska is that they are equal in size, but they play a fast style."

For seniors Mary Kinsey, Shawnee Call, Mary Mignano and Valerie Kastens, their last home match is a chance to defeat the Cornhuskers for the first time in their careers. It is also a chance to save a season of promise that has instead been up and down.

"When these seniors leave, they will take a lot of playing experience away from our team," Nelson said. "This match with Nebraska is a great opportunity for the seniors and for the fans to see the nation's fifthranked team."

The Wildcats entered the season with high hopes. Those hopes were raised when the squad started with a school-record eight straight wins. Since that time, however, the 'Cats are 6-12 as the eight-match winning streak was followed by a nine-match losing streak.

Still, K-State can save the season. A win over Nebraska would put the 'Cats in the postseason tournament.

"We will have to try to serve more effectively to slow its offense down. However, the advantage Nebraska has is that even if we are serving tough, Nebraska has such an excellent setter that she can still keep an up-tempo offense going," Nelson said. "If we serve relatively easy, Nebraska will go off and have a tremendous night offensively.

"They run a quick offense, which is very hard to defend against, and they have the premier setter in the nation in Lori Endicott, and Virgina Stahr is the best middle hitter in the Big Eight Conference. As a team, they will challenge us to an excellent level of volleyball."

Despite the mid-season slump, Nelson is still encouraged by his ■ See VOLLEY, Page 12

Pacers' coach Ramsay steps

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS - Jack Ramsay, the NBA's second-winningest coach but winless this season, resigned Thursday as coach of the Indiana Pacers, saying the enjoyment was

"I didn't like the direction the team was taking and it wasn't enjoyable anymore," said Ramsay, 63, who has coached a record 1,647 games and was 0-7 this season.

The decision by Ramsay, in his 21st season, was announced as the Pacers prepared to leave Phoenix for a Friday game with the Los Angeles

The club said a decision on a before its next home game against Milwaukee on Tuesday. Assistant coaches Mel Daniels and Dave Twardzik will guide the team against the Clippers and the Sacramento Kings Saturday.

The Pacers have lost all their games this season by an average of 11.7 points. The latest loss came Wednesday night, 123-104 at Phoenix, when Indiana was outscored 38-15 in the fourth quarter. President Donnie Walsh, who flew to Phoenix to see the game, met with Ramsay after the loss.

"I think between the way the team ended the season last year and the way the team began the season this year, he just doesn't feel it's enjoyreplacement would likely be made able and that he is the guy to get them to win," Walsh said.

Indiana made the playoffs in 1987, finishing 41-41 in Ramsay's debut with the club. But, it slipped to 38-44 last season and missed the playoffs when it lost its final game to the New York Knicks by two points.

"I could see that the team wasn't responding and basically it looked like they weren't going to. For a coach that's a torture chamber and from the standpoint of management it becomes a problem," said Walsh, a former NBA assistant and head coach, adding that he had no plans to return to the bench.

"Last night after the game, Jack and I sat down and we basically agreed, that, first of all it was too tough on him because the team wasn't responding. And that it was probably better for the franchise that we make a change and get started in another direction," Walsh said in a telephone interview with WIBC

Ramsay was in the final year of his contract. His 864 victories leaves him second to Red Auerbach's 938 on the league's all-time list and he was recently named for induction to the Basketball Hall of Fame.

In 1968, Ramsay launched his NBA coaching career with the Philadelphia 76ers. He coached there for four seasons, moved to the Buffalo Braves for four years and then was with Portland for 10 years before joining the Pacers.

Moscow skeptical of Estonian 'declaration of sovereignty'

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW - The Kremlin on Thursday summoned the leaders of Estonia to Moscow and expressed serious doubt about the constitutionality of the tiny Baltic republic's unprecedented challenge to its authority.

Residents of a second Baltic republic, Lithuania, gathered outside their parliament building with banners and flags, and watched on live television as their legislators convened a session at which they will debate a similar challenge.

The Estonian Supreme Soviet, or parliament, on Wednesday overwhelmingly passed a constitutional amendment requiring Estonian approval of any new Soviet law.

The legislators also approved a "declaration of sovereignty" that declares the republic's independence in all areas except defense and foreign affairs.

The Estonian parliament's action, under the banner of President Mikhail S. Gorbachev's reform effort, nevertheless was a threatened to spread to other areas and a sign of Gorbachev's continuing serious problems with rising ethnic feelings.

Moscow's first reaction Thursday was measured, but deeply skeptical.

Taking into consideration that the amendment and a number of other documents adopted by the Estonian parliament are at variance with the provisions of the current Constitution of the U.S.S.R., the Presidium of the U.S.S.R. Supreme Soviet has decided to consider the above-mentioned issue at its next meeting, with representatives of the Estonian republic to be invited," the Tass news agency reported. The Presidium is the Soviet government's highest executive authority and Gorbachev serves as its chairman.

Tass said committees of the national Supreme Soviet were ordered to prepare an analysis of the issue, which it said "affects the initial principles of the building and the Nazis.

challenge to Kremlin authority that and unity of the Soviet socialist federation.'

It did not say when the meeting would take place, but presumably it would be before the national parliament goes into session again Nov. 29.

Residents of the westwardlooking Baltic republics have been pushing for greater economic and cultural freedom from Moscow under Gorbachev's reform policy. Thousands of people in Lithuania, Estonia and the third republic, Latvia, have joined the grassroots People's Front organization.

The Balts have been angered by amendments to the national constitution proposed by Gorbachev, saying they would shift the little power they have to Moscow and eliminate their constitutional right to secede.

The three republics were independent countries between the world wars and were annexed by the Soviet Union in 1940 following a 1939 pact between the Soviets

Road kills increase in fall

By Guy Peverley Collegian Reporter

The highway is deserted as a person travels home from a long day at work. The driver's mind is wandering and very little traffic is flowing at dusk. Suddenly a deer crosses the road and the driver takes precautions to avoid it. Relieved, the driver watches the doe wander off into the darkness, before starting off again.

Without warning, a buck jumps out onto the road in front of the car in pursuit of the doe. This time the driver and the deer weren't as lucky.

Last year alone, more than 3,800 deer were killed on Kansas highways. Most of these accidents occur in the fall, which is also the deer breeding season, said Keith Sexson, deer project leader for the department of Wildlife and Parks in Emporia.

The deer breeding season, or rut, usually starts in October and runs through early December, Sexson said. The peak of the rutting activity will usually be in mid-November. Deer are much more active at this time than at any other time of the Chances of a car/deer collision can be reduced if some precautionary

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Worship 8*30 & 11 am.

Church School 9:30 am.

(Tuesday, K-State Union)

-Weekday Programs for Youth

-Nursery available

Senior Minister

Rev. Dr. Phillip S. Gittings III

First Congregational Church

United Church of Christ

Church School 9:30 a.m.

Worship 10:45 a.m.

Dr. Robert L. Carlson, Pastor

STUDENTS WELCOME!

COLLEGE HEIGHTS

BAPTIST CHURCH

9:15 a.m. Sunday School

10:30 a.m. Worship Service

6 p.m. Training Hour

7 p.m. Worship Service

2221 College Heights Rd.

537-7744

537-7006

College Outreach

steps are taken, Sexson said.

Areas where deer are likely to cross roads include streams, shelter belts and wooded draws. Deer are browsers and are likely to be any place where food is available, said Ted Cable, assistant professor of forestry. Drivers should be extra cautious, he said, if crops are planted along a wooded area near the road.

When approaching such an area, drivers should try to watch well ahead of the vehicle, Sexson said. If it is dark, they should keep the headlights on bright as much as possible. A deer's eyes will glow in the beam of the headlights.

If a driver sees a deer crossing the road in front of the car, the driver should assume there will be more to follow, Sexson said.

The carcass of a large animal along the roadway does the most to slow motorists down and make them more alert, Cable said.

Kedzie 103

CLASSIFIED RATES

One day: 15 words or fewer, $2.50, 20 cents per word over 15; Two consecutive dates: 15 words or fewer, $3.50, 25 cents per word over 15: Three consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 cents per word over 15; Four consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.75, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $5.00, 40 cents per word over 15.

Classifieds are payable in advance unless client has an established account with Student Publications.

Deadline is non the day before publication; non FRIDAY for Monday's paper. Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion, it is the adver-tiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not alter the value of the ad.

Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103 or by calling 532-6555.

Display Classified Rates
One day: $5.20 per inch; Three consecutive days: $5.00 per inch; Five consecutive days: $4.80 per inch; Ten consecutive days: $4.60 per inch. (Deadline is 4:30 p.m. two days before publication.)

Classified advertising is available only to those who do not disciminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex or ancestry.

Announcements

ALL YOUR Mary Kay needs -skincare -glamor -nails -gilts for all seasons. Floris Taylor, 539-2070.

BACKLESS BRAS, strapless bras. Undercover Ling erie, 1224 Moro, Aggieville, 539-5956. FLYING INTEREST you? For information on K-State Flying Club call Sam Knipp, 539-6193.

(Continued on page 11)

Popcorn Palace

Our frozen yogurt is an economical way to stop your craving! Visit us between your classes.

1319 Anderson

VESTVIEW COMMUNITY

WORSHIP 8 & 10:30 a.m.

Randy Sly, Pastor

For information on College Class

call church office

SUN. EVE. WORSHIP 6 p.m. 1st, 3rd and 5th Sundays

CARE CELLS (Small Groups) 6 p.m.

2nd and 4th Sundays

Compatibility Defined

IBM-Com-pat'i-bil'i-ty adv. 1. Capable of existing together in harmony. 2. Able to use most common software; usu. of the business/research world. 3. Growth & flexibility. 4. Hyundai 16TE.

Introducing the Super 16TE PC-compatible.

Introducing a new level of IBM-compatibility, speed (10Mhz) and flexibility (5 expansion slots). Each Hyundai includes 640K memory, a "101" keyboard, full software (wp, spreadsheet, database), orientation, support and an 18 month warranty. Best of all- its backed by $20 billion Hyundai Corporation and your local Connecting Point Computer Center in Westloop Shop. Center. Retail KSU Price. Disc.

$ 1045. $ 735. 30% ☐ Super 16TE

Sample Systems:

1095. ☐ 2 drive, amber monitor 1299. 2 drive, color monitor ☐ 30Mb, amber monitor 1495.

30Mb, color monitor * Based upon full system purchase. IBM is a reg. tm of IBM Corp.

1699.

KSU's "Seoul" Authorized Hyundai Dealer

Connecting Point 333 COMPUTER CENTER

1115 Westloop Shop. Ctr 539-0801

Attention KSU Apple Purchasers:

Connecting Point's "Apple Team" has contracted to support KSU departmental and personal purchases. Call us for assistance in selecting systems, software solutions and ordering your Mac. Connecting Point has a full line of Apple "Add-Ons" from disks to software to cases to drives.

Religious Directory

Sunday Praise Hours 10:15 a.m. and 6 p.m. ·Sunday School-9 a.m. ·Collegiate Bible Class ·Transportation available

BURNES TO

Office537-7633 Seth Childs Rd. at Gary Ave. Mike Wall, Pastor 537-7967

Trinity Presbyterian

Church

Church School 9:30 a.m.

Worship 10:45 a.m.

Pastor James Cramer

Manhattan

Jewish Congregation

Shabbat Services 8 p.m. Fri.

Religious School 9:30 Sun.

Rides available

sponsor B'nai B'rith Hillel

at K-State

Campus Adviser,

David Margolies, 532-6154

St. Luke's Lutheran Church

539-3921

Nursery Provided
 Handicap Accessi

1110 College Ave.

1509 Wreath Ave.

MINISTRY FOR THE DEAF

FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH Worship at 8:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday School-9:40 a.m.

3001 Ft. Riley Blvd.

, Juliogiate Class) 10th & Poyntz

537-8532

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

8:45 a.m. Communion (first Sunday of the month) 9:45 a.m. Church School 8:45 & 11 a.m. Worship Nursery provided for all services

John D. Stoneking, Pastor 612 Poyntz

First

Church of the Nazarene

Morning Worship-10:50

Evening Praise-6:00

Sunday School-9:45

College Class-9:30

1000 Fremont

1021 Danison

Pastor K. Ray McDowell 539-6376 (home)

'Nursery Available FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Church School-9:45 a.m. Worship-8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m.

Disciples of Christ

115 Courthouse Plaza 776-8790

Sunday School 9:30 a.m.

Worship 10:45 a.m.

KSU Student Group 6:30 p.m.

Dorothy Nickel Friesen, Pastor

Christian Campus Ministry

Manhattan Mennonite Fellowship

539-2851 (church)

539-4079

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

YOUR FIRST STEP TOWARD SUCCESS IS THE ONE

At Army ROTC Camp Challenge, you'll learn what it takes to succeed - in college and in life. You'll build self-confidence and develop your leadership potential. Plus you can also qualify to earn an Army Officer's commission when you graduate. Army ROTC Camp Challenge. It may be just what you need to reach the top.

ARMY ROTO

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

Add success to your spring schedule! MSCI 105, Military Leadership. For more information, contact Army ROTC at 532-6754.

LUTHERAN CAMPUS MINISTRY invites you ...

WORSHIP, SUNDAY 11 a.m. Danforth Chapel (campus) Lutheran Student Movement 5 p.m. Sunday - Lutheran Student Center Don Fallon, Pastor

1021 Denison Come share the Spirit!

First Bap list Church

Sunday Worship 11 a.m. Church School 9:45 a.m. 2121 Blue Hills Rd.

Evangelical Free Church of Manhattan S.W. comer 14th & Anderso Steve Ratilif, Pastor Sunday School 10:15 a.m. 776-2086 Nursery Provided 776-0259

St. Isidore's 9:30 a.m., 11 a.m., 5 p.m. Mans 10 p.m. 519-7496

University Christian 776-5440 8:30-11 a.m. Worship 9:45 a.m. Sunday School 6:30 p.m. Eve. Service To Nandicesped Stadents Welco

Worship Saturday 6 p.m. Sunday 8 and 10:45 a.m. -Bible Class-Sunday 9:30 a.m. Student fellowship 5 p.m.

in the K-State Union 330 N. Sunset 539-2604

Unity Church of Manhattan Sunday Service 11 a.m. Study group 6:30 p.m. Sun. 1221 Thurston, UFM House 539-8416

DIAL-A-PRAYER (913) 762-4837 762-2287 there to pray with you.

24 hours

Worship 10:30 a.m. & 6 p.m. Bible Classes 9:30 a.m. & Wed. 7:30 p.m. Andy Miller-Campus Minister 539-6581 2510 Dickens Ave.

UNITARIAN-UNIVERSALIST FELLOWSHIP of MANHATTAN 10:45 a.m. Service & Sunday School lursery provided, everyone welcome On K-18, 1/2 mile east of K-177 For info: call 537-2349

PARTY GAS (helium)... you fill... we fill... our balloons. your balloons. 1231 Westloop, 539-4038.

PERMS: $19.95 includes cut and style. Tan 10 sessions $18. Telephone 776-1330.

POLITICAL SCIENCE Club will be meeting Monday, Nov. 21 in Union 207 at 8. Dan Atcheson Brown will be speaking on Mozambique SEAMED BLACK paniyhose. Undercover Lingerie, 1224 Moro, Aggleville. 539-5956.

WANTED— 100 overweight people to try herbal weight control program. No drugs, no exercise. Doctor recommended. 100% guaranteed. 776-5114.

$1 off your Collegian Classified with your contribution to the Flint Hills Breadbasket. Take canned goods to Kedzie 103 to receive $1 off your Collegian Classified.

Prepaid ads only. Not valid with any other offer. Deadline: noon one day prior to publication Offer expires noon Dec. 8, 1988

CROSS POINT Christian Rock

SKI COLORADOI $25/ night for two. Ten cozy log cabins/ kitchens, some fireplaces. Gameroom/ fireplace, HBO, pool table, sauna. Fish, cross-country ski. Ski Winter Park, Silver Creek. Mountain Lakes Lodge. Brochure/ reservations -Grand Lake, CO 1-303-627-8448. Call today!

THE VW doctor will keep your bug healthy and save you $$ at J&L Auto Service. 1-494-2388, seven minutes east. Repairs and salvage.

on the edge Sunday 5 to 9 p.m.

SPRING BREAK '89 Reservations Available Now

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, TX from $149 Sheraton/Holiday Inn/Gulf View STEAMBOAT, CO

Shadow Run/Overlook from $118* DAYTONA BEACH, FL MUSTANG ISLAND, TX from $136

Port Royal Condos HILTON HEAD ISLAND, SC from $107 Hilton Head Beach Condos

Don't Wait Until It's Too Late! Call Toll Free Today

*Depending on Break dates & length of stay

THE POLITE"

SETS YOU UP

INTRODUCTION:

FOR THE BIG FALL BY MAKING YOU

ICECUBE'S CHANCE

THE CONSOLATORY

LAST PARAGRAPH:

THIS IS WHERE

MAKE YOU FEEL

LIKE DIRT FOR

HATING THEM ..

(IT NEVER WORKS)

NOW LOOK! DEFEATED

DUKAKIS CLOSET-

IBERALS LIKE ME

JUST PON'T BELIEVE

SO BALL

IN EGYPT OF GETTING THE

BY RICHARD BROADFOOT

THE ANATOMY OF THE REJECTION LETTER ...

THE REALLY 1 PROFESSIONAL LOOKING" LETTERNEAD:

DESIGNED TO IMPRESS... SO YOU KNOW SOME IMPORTANT PEOPLE

ARE NOT GOING TO HIRE YOU... THE "HARD RIGHT TO THE BODY" BODY: (WORSE THAN GETTING HIT BY MIKE TYSON...) THIS IS WHERE THEY TELL YOU THAT YOU GIDN'T

GET THE JOB ... WHY YOU DIDN'T GET THE JOB .. AND WHY YOU'LL NEVER GET A JOB ...

STOP IT. PUT THAT DOWN.

Garfield

BOY, THIS EXERCISING IS TOUGH

Peanuts

IF YOU HATE RIDING ON THE SCHOOL

YOUR OWN PRIVATE LIMOUSINE?

BUS SO MUCH, WHY DON'T YOU HIRE

FRISKY BISCUITS DOG FUD, INC.

Thank you for lating the line to interview with our ACTUALLY GOT AN COURSE. CHANCE and with your really sent looking resume.

THINK YOU'VE ACTUALLY GOT AN KECUBE'S CHANCE OF THE COURT OF

there we are sorny to inform you that we are not able to offer you a position at this line. On personing your application we concluded that a little part as the one are are allering regulars person with at least half a brain in his head.

when reconiting gantitudes, our interseever last at a variety of features academic achievement, amplogued esperience, and of course, you coreer interests. Haborhandly, our interviewer couldn't only language language to look at your creditabiles. So we all need out for beers.

Again, thanks for the interest and good lack

Pth Cale Pally Cake Remel Director

THE "RUBBER STAMP" SIGNATURE: THIS IS THE PERSON WHO DIDN'T HIRE YOU... SIGN HER UP FOR SIX YEARS OF "WRESTLING DIGEST."

Bloom County

DEFEND YOURSELF.

CARTOONIST'S NOTE: THIS WILL BE THE LAST "SALAD" FOR A WHILE... I'M OFF TO SPEND A FEW DAYS IN SUNNY, FUNNY "NORTHEAST KANSAS!"(HOME OF TROPICAL BREEZES WHITE SAND BEACHES ... AND SEVERAL REALLY GOOD TRUCK STOPS...)

IT'S GIVING ME

THAT'S THE BEST

IDEA I'VE EVER

HEARD.

THANK

YOU

ATTENTION:

Due to the Thanksgiving break all classified ads needing to run on Monday, November 28 must be placed on Monday. November 21 by noon in Kedzie 103. Thanks for your cooperation!

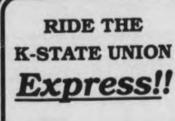

2 Apartments—Furnished

AVAILABLE JAN. 1, large two-bedroom apartment, four blocks south of campus, west edge City Park. No children or pets. $260 plus electric. 776-6396. AVAILABLE JAN. 1: One-bedroom with dishwasher, central air, across from Marlatt Hall. Call 776-7891.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM apartment. Water, trash, two-thirds gas paid, Laundry facilities. Nice for graduate student or couple. $260, Available Dec. 15 or Jan. 1, 539-2482 after 4p.m.

NOW IS the time to rent for next semester. One-, two- or three-bedroom apartments. Nice, close to campus. Not in complex. Low utilities. No pets. Call 539-4641.

ONE-BEDROOM FURNISHED in 12-unit complex two blocks west of campus. Available immediately. 539-7811 or 1-456-8297.

3 Apartments—Unfurnished

AVAILABLE SECOND semester. Less than one block from campus, two bedrooms, one full bath. Low utilities. Clean and nice. Call 776-3788 or

DUPLEX, TWO-BEDROOM near campus. Clean. Stove, refrigerator, hookups. Good for couple. Available Nov. 19. 539-3524.

Second Semester Apartment

We project 20 Jan. 1st vacancies in our university oriented complexes.

Call soon for best selection!

2700 Amherst (913) 776-3804 FOR RENT, nice two-bedroom apartment, seven-month lease, starting Jan. 1st, excellent location.

JAN. 1, two-bedroom, large, attractive, patio apartment walking distance campus. One and one-half baths, washer, dryer connections. Really nice large apart ice location, $360 including carport. 537-4179 or 776-2462, evenings (602)625-5869. LARGE ONE-BEDROOM, campus location, coin-operated washer and dryer. No pets, available January. $265 plus deposit. 539-1465.

MOVING TO K.C. after the semester? We need subleasers! Beautiful two-bedroom, two-bath, full size washer and dryer in apartment, fireplace, balcony, 95th and 435. Chesapeake Estates. Call (913)888-3587, leave number and name if no

Automobiles for Sale

1979 DATSUN 210 wagon, stereo, snow tires, needs some work. Must sell, $250. Jason, 776-7089. 1981 PONTIAC Pheonix, four-cylinder, 83,000 miles, cassette. $850, 537-3772.

1982 BUICK Regal- low mileage, runs great. Kernwood stereo, custom cover. $3,000 or best. John after 6p.m. or leave message. 532-5156.

I'M SURE OF IT.

LEMME CHECK MY A.C.L.U. CARD...

By Berke Breathed

WE'RE RIGHT

By Jim Davis

TRY LOOSENING

By Charles Schulz

I'D RANK IT RIGHT ALONGSIDE

STAYING IN BED ALL DAY!

CRAPOLA

8 Computers

AT&T 7300 computer, Unix operating system, 10 meg hard disk, 15 software packages (including Obase III, WordStar 2000, spreadsheet). Seven software packages unopened. Must sell. Call after 5p.m. 776-1056.

1983 RENAULT Alliance, 58,000 miles, 4.V, four-door air conditioning, AM/FM stereo, excellent condition $2,000, 537-3721.

1985 FIERO special edition. Awesome inside and or

WILL ACCEPT sealed bids until Nov. 30, 1988 on 1987
Toyota pickup, Long bed, extra cab, five-speed, AM/FM with a tape, cloth interior, silver, 38,000 miles, in excellent shape. May be seen by appointment only. 8a.m.- 4p.m., Monday- Friday. Phone (913)532-6274.

runs great; 36,000 original engine miles. $6,000 or best offer. Call 539-4185, ask for Brian.

FOR SALE: Line printer ribbons- Black multistrike no. QM MS (4½ dozen), $1.25 each. Black nylon no. QM NY (15), $2.25 each. Call 532-6555 or come by Kedzie 103 to see.

FLINT HILLS COMPUTER SYSTEMS

AT START AT: 1199 XT START AT: 749 Systems include 512K. Keyboard and Monitor. DISK PRICES !!!! 10 - 5 FOR 3 2400 BAND MODEM 129

MUCH MORE !!!! LOCATED AT THE MASTER GAMER 1205 MORO. AGGIEVILLE 539-1853 xT 8 AT are Registered Trademarks of IBM

ENITES PERSONAL COMPUTERS

Authorized Warranty Service also servicing

· PC compatibles & printers Televisions & VCRs

MIDWEST SERVICES 624 Tuttle Creek Blvd.

Manhattan 913-776-6650

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such "employ-ment opportunity" with reasonable caution.

ATTENTION- HIRINGI Government jobs- your area. $17,840- $69,485. Call (602)838-8885, ext.

BARTENDERS, WAITRESSES needed. Apply be-tween 5:30 and 6:30p.m., Brother's.

DO YOU like kids? I need a fun-loving, flexible person for childcare. Room, board, salary plus car provided. We are very nice. Call Becky (415)328-6229.

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, Juniors: Train in the surrorse to become a Marine Corps Officer after graduation. Aviation available. Call collect (913)841-1821.

MAINTENANCE WORK: The KSU Police Department is INTENANCE WORK: The KSU Police Department is looking for students to work in the parking lost throughout the University. The job consists of maintenance and cleanup in the parking lots. Interested students should apply in person at the KSU Police Department between the hours of 8a.m. and 5p.m., Monday through Friday.

MICROCOMPUTER PROGRAMMER for anticipated position. Must have experience on the MacIntosh-HyperCard. Contact Kansas Careers, 304 Fairchild Hall for application. Applications close Nov. 18, 1988. KSU is an Equal Opportunity Affirmative Action Employer.

OVERSEAS JOBS. $900- $2,000 month. Summer, year-round, all countries, all fields, free information. Write IJC, P.O. Box 52-KS02, Corona Del Mar, CA

PART-TIME EDITORIAL/ Administrative Assistant needed for non-profit agency's news magazine. (Circulation 19,000), Will assist with writing, editing. circulation and advertising tasks. Twenty hours per week, $5 per hour. Experience in journalism, public relations preferred. Send cover letter, newsclips and resume by Nov. 28 to: Search Committee, North Central-First Hills Area Agency on Aging, 437 Houston St., Manhattan, KS 66502. For informa-Houston St., Manhattan, KS 66 tion: (913)776-9294. EOE/ AA.

PAY DAY! Beginning salary $3.60/ hour. All shifts for water and wateresses; Hotline server and porter Monday, Wednesday, Friday 10:20a.m.- 2p.m. Apply now at K-State Union Food Service for remaining fall positions. Apply early for spring semester when you have your spring schedule. We offer student pay plan, job variety, and centrally located work place. We require that you must be honest, reliable and display a sense of urgency, must be clean, neat and wear appropriate attire. Food Handler's Card a must.

PYRAMID PIZZA is now taking applications for delivery personnel. Please apply in person, 1130 Moro.

RUNNER TO work 10- 15 hours per week. $3.35. Duties include moving, hauling and deliveries. Must be willing to work evenings, holidays, summer months, weekends and school recesses. Applications will be accepted until Nov. 18, 5p.m., room 23, Cardwell Hall, by Jacque Meisner. AV EOE.

UNIT ASSISTANT- Baker. $5.57 per hour, fringe benefits, five and one-half hours per day. Assist manager in production of bakery products for 1,300 manager in production of basely and or training in baking. Applications must be received by Nov. 23, 1988 to be considered. Apply to: U.S.D. 383, 2031 Poyntz Ave., Manhattan, KS 66502. (913)537-2400. EOE.

11 Garage and Yard Sales

GARAGE SALE: 1535 Harry, 9a.m.- 3p.m. Saturday. One Day Onlyll Lot of misc. Items, Come one, come one 41 Caged 42 Klinger, for one shape? 15 Sturdy material 17 CSA soldiers 18 Litter's littlest

19 Bender 20 Dirty Harry's portrayer 22 Max Smart's

ACROSS

1 Jeanne

4 Search

8 Heart

13 Roman garb 14 Office

carefully

12 Life story

24 Secrete 25 Repairs 29 Altar oath 30 French landscapis 31 Be in debt 32 D.C.

gallery 34 Grand (first place) 35 Algerian port.

1 One network

4 Stand in's

6 Past the wind 48 Landdown bound bird find

10 Play wrigh David 51 Excavation

OIL. 1157 THE REAL PROPERTY.

Yesterday's answer 11-18 45 Tote

12 Houses/Mobile Homes for Rent

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN, Friday, November 18, 1988

TWO-BEDROOM, main floor duplex, eat-in kitche hardwood floors, off-street parking, walk to KSU. Available Jan. 1, $345. 776-6063.

VERY LARGE house three blocks from campus, suitable for five, with carpet, drapes. Phone 539-5267.

13 Houses/Mobile Homes for Sale

972 12x60, furnished/ unfurnished, new paint, central

1977 WINSOR. 14x75, two-car garage, insulated shop

FOUND: BOOKS on Hunting Street Sunday morning. Call 539-8256 and leave message and phone

15 Miscellaneous Merchandise

30% OFF Sale! On all comic books! Manhattan Coin

ANTIQUE SHOW

POTTORF HALL, CiCo PARK

MANHATTAN, KANSAS

NOV. 19 & 20, 1988

SATURDAY 10 a.m.-9 p.m.

SUNDAY 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

Fundan Glass I have Police

Sponsored by Pilot Club of Manhattan

FOR INFORMATION CONTACT:

Delores Bolding

3212 Cloud Cr., Manhattan, KS 66502

539-3707 - Residence 776-6255 - Work

ANTIQUE OAK furniture, misc. used furniture.

BASEBALL CARDS- Want to make some extra spend COLOR TV- 19" remote control, cable ready, on-screen display, five months old. Call 532-6346.

DRAFTING TABLE, 6'x4', heavy duty, with drawers, drafting arm, electrical socket. $175. Also, parallel bar and miscellaneous architect/ drafting supplies.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUSII New G.I. overshoes, combat boots and safety-toe boots, wool (blarkets, gloves, socks and mittens). Field jackets, overcoats, carnoullage clothing. Also Carhart workwear. Monday- Saturday 9a.m.- 5p.m. Open Sundays till Christmas noon-4p.m. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS, 1-437-2734.

TYPEWRITER- RENTALS- Sales- Repairs. Good selection of used IBMs and Smith Coronas. Advanced Business Systems 713 N. 12th (Aggleville).

16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale

BICYCLE SALE, lay away for Christmas. Aggie Bike

CYCLE AND heimet covers, S-100 Cleaner. Motorcycle Supply, 1221 Moro. 776-6177.

ELECTRIC GUITAR: Bently series 10 and Washburn 30-watt guitar amplifier. Excellent condition. $250, 776-3063.

Hayes House of Music

Guitar Strings & Drumsticks

Buy 1 Set, Get a 2nd Set

1/2 Price

ACACIA BRADON- Thanks for the serenading Saturday

ALPHA CHI Kristi-The time is near for our Thanksgiving

ATO ACTIVES- Badger, Brad, Woody and Lipps are sneaking us on a long trip. We've scrubbed your toilets and mopped your floors. Until Sunday we're through with chores. Colorado is where you'll find

AZDS- THE day is here- bet you couldn't wait, get excited Xis 'cause it's gonna be great! 5:15 is the time- so don't be late. See you at Retreat- No, you

DELTA TAU Delta Stoney- After all this time, let's get

KELLY B., Get psyched! Because tomorrow we're going to Red Dog. -Mike.

LORI, PRINCESS, and Goober. What can I say, but

*L*SD- THE real me is looking forward to our next trip. No shattered dreams, just broken glasses, -Z.

PHI TAU Actives: On sneak we have gone, two weeks

Thanks for the memories. You made the last two years very interesting. Maybe someday our paths will cross again on better terms. Thanks again and take care. You are one great lady. Love always, Jeff, Frog and Snuffy.

one thing straight: I never bit you! -M. JOHN: NEED address of the lady who gave you your scholarship. (KU Medical Center) Deena.

us. We are leaving sanity behind us. C.U. Soon. Pledge Class '88.

night in Stockton. How about a repeat. AZD break to be here. But before you go home, with Liberal in sight, get ready for a great time, this Saturday night. Jerold.

327 Poyntz

18 Personals

don't need a date.

776.7983

Station, Aggieville. (behind Hardee's)

17 Musical Instruments

776-0696 after 5p.m.

ing money? Dig those baseball cards out of your closet and bring them back after Thanksgiving break. We're buying! Call Mark at 539-3606.

14 Lost and Found

1130 Laramie, 539-1184,

number for Sandy.

redwood deck. All on three-quarters acre. Must see to appreciate. 1-494-8484.

washer, dryer, waterbed, reasonable

19 Pets and Pet Supplies

BEAUTIFUL, LOVING bunny for sale. Taupe colored, dwarf lop-earred. 532-2054, Marsha. As soon as

STORE YOUR valuables over Christmas break. Azteo

COMPLETE DATA processing services, term papers, theses and dissertations, resumes. Laser jet printing. Call 537-4146.

COMPLETE TYPING/ word processing: letter quality printer with Spell Check. 75¢/ page. Call 537-8701.

PROCRASTINATORS AND those on the ball, for export

FEMALE, OWN room, nice house near campus vasher, dryer. $145/ month plus utilities. 537-8825. MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartment,

MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartment near campus. Washer/ dryer furnished. $125.

NON-SMOKER ROOMMATE to share apartment one block from campus. Call Miguel at 532-7210 or 776-8121.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share two-bedroom furn-ished apartment. $152.99 plus one-half utilities.

house starting Jan. 1. Own bedroom, rent $117 plus one-third electricity, cable and phone. 539-5714. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share furnished two-bedroom. Cats allowed. Call Paula or Brenda.

ished house. Quiet neighborhood and own bed-room, pay one-third rent and utilities. 776-8871 ONE/ TWO females. Block from campus, behind Ville.

two bedrooms, one and one-half baths, partially furnished. Call 537-1268. Move in A.S.A.P. RESPONSIBLE FEMALE to share furnished apartment close to campus. $121.25. 537-1977.

ment in complex. Close to campus and Aggieville ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom house trailer. $100/ month, half utilities. Call Allen, 537-3909. ROOMMATE WANTED, female non-smoker to take 539-4070 or 537-4420. TWO ROOMMATES wanted one block from campus. Washer, dryer. $125/ month, one-fourth utilities, own rooms. 539-7709.

24 Situation Wanted

REASONABLY BRIGHT individual needs Organic Chemistry tutor for next semester. 776-0510.

25 Sporting/Recreation Equipment

fitness, performance, bodybuilding. Three free sessions with consultation. Iron Concepts,

26 Sublease

SUBLEASE AVAILABLE for female, $175/ month plus one-half bills. Water, trash paid. Call 537-7380 after

SUBLEASE: TWO-BEDROOM, furnished, dishwasher. close to campus, lease through June, rent negoti

ment. One and one-half blocks from campus. Call 539-1312.

28 Adoption

baby to age two, all expenses paid, totally legal Please call Jamie collect at (714)680-4468. Thank Claire, (303)422-1297.

29 Ride Needed

22 | 23

ago you were wrong, we'll think of you as we party and ski- well, no we won't! Phi Tau Pledges. TO MY future sis-in-law: Happy 24th Birthdayl Don't party too hard! Love, Karlene.

By Eugene Sheffer

DOWN 36 Marie's

46 Gratify completely 47 Out of

49 Supple 50 Hospital

HANG SAM AMES OMAR THE GUNE ONAR THE GUNE MICOLEGICO CAMER OUT AGE

11 Different 16 Herbert classic 19 Classify 20 Stylish 21 Venice beach

22 Bible's

23 Elvis's

cousin

43 Corrida

Today's Cryptoquip clue: H equals M

WASHER, WHO FELL DOWN, WAS IN PANE.

BURMESE PYTHONS, seven- 11 foot. And baby Boas. 776-3238, keep trying.

20 Professional Services

PREGNANT? BIRTHRIGHT can help. Free pregnancy test. Confidential. Call 537-9180, 103 S. Fourth St., PROMPT ABORTION and contraceptive services in Lawrence. (913)841-5716.

21 Rentals

Storage, open seven days a week. Call 776-1111 for discount rate, or come by, 5004 Murray Road.

22 Resume/Typing Services

ABOUT ANYTHING typed, editing and transcription services, reasonable rates, by professional secretary. 539-5998 after 5p.m.

FAST TURNAROUND for all your word processing needs, see us. Resurnes, letters, papers, theses, dissertations. Quality work guaranteed. Ross Sec-retarial Service, across from Kite's, 614 N. 12th.

typing give us a call. 537-3166, message.

23 Roommate Wanted

fireplace, low utilities. Close to campus. $145. 539-6219.

539-9564 NON-SMOKING FEMALE wanted to share spacious

NON-SMOKING MALE to share three-bedroom furn-

ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom apart over lease. Will share house with two roommat $133 a month plus utilities. For information call

WEIGHT TRAINING instruction. Body- Sculpturing, able. Call 776-9846, leave message SUBLEASE, LARGE furnished two-bedroom apart

ADOPTION. A young happily married doctor and wife with much love and security wish to adopt a white

LOVE-FILLED HOME needs the joy of a new baby to complete our very happy marriage. If you plan to place your baby for adoption, please consider us. Expenses paid, confidential, legal. Call collect,

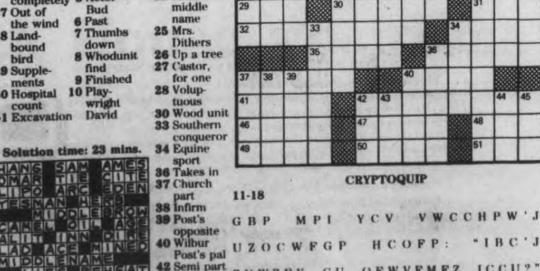

RIDE NEEDED to Minnesota, Twin City area, for Thanksgiving, Call AI, 539-3585 after 10p.m.

Crossword

brother 37 Tony or Edgar 2 Brazilian 40 Stubborn resort 3 Hallway > work 5 Actor Bud

HCOFP: ZUWZFY CU OFWVFMFZ ICCU?" Yesterday's Cryptoquip: PROFESSIONAL WINDOW

20 21

Willie.

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3 these famous write-ins would be elected, but she thought the next legitimate candidate would automatically fill the position.

In the race for county clerk, there was a four-way tie between Willie, Ted Kennedy, John Wayne and Mickey.

"I'm not really upset about my losses (in the elections), because I feel

Upbeat'

The findings could have important implications not only for Alzheimer's patients, but also for millions of

"Only a few close personal friends, family and, of course, my mom, can call me Bill, so it was probably a close buddy of mine," Willie that those elected were far more qual-

Although there was a write-in vote for Bill the Wildcat, the clerk's office took it for granted the vote was for ified than myself," Willie said.

"Losing the elections doesn't make me Jayhawk blue," he said. "Look for me to make a showing in chemical needed

Depression, a potentially debilitat-By The Associated Press ing disorder by itself, is still poorly CHICAGO - Depression that understood, and current theories cenafflicts hundreds of thousands of ter on the belief it is caused by low Alzheimer's patients may be caused activity of chemical messengers in the brain called neurotransmitters. by deterioration in parts of the brain These neurotransmitters permit that produce chemicals believed to keep people upbeat, researchers said nerve cells to communicate with each other, and they are believed to be key in maintaining normal levels of optimism, energy, appetite, sound sleep and interest in pleasurable

Contrary to popular belief, it is not from Alzheimer's disease to become depressed, however devastating the disease, and only about 30 percent of Alzheimer's patients show depressive symptoms, according to Dr. Jacob H. Fox, director of the Rush Alzheimer's Disease Center in form at the Chiefs game.

Wabash

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 7

Hewett's move to K-State and

Hunt's move to K.C., Hunt gave

Hewett an invitation in 1968 to per-but the commissioner of the Big Eight informed K-State's athletic director that it was against rules to perform for a professional athletic team, so the band was not allowed to

Hewett accepted the invitation,

Chicago. But that still means hundreds of thousands of the estimated 2.5 million people in the United States with Alzheimer's are depressed in addition to having a progressive mental disease that robs them of memory, judgment and physical mobility.

Alzheimer's accounts for about 60 percent of U.S. cases of dementia, or loss of mental function, while multiple small strokes account for another 10 percent, a combination of the two another 10 percent and the remaining 20 percent have a "hodge-podge" of causes, Fox said.

Somehow the Kansas City Times

In 1968 the band was allowed to

Hewett left K-State in 1982, due to heard about the incident and broke perform at a Chiefs game, marking another first in K-State and Hewett's health reasons and returned to Eastland High School in Eastland, Texas.

where he had his first teaching job.

once a K-Stater always a K-Stater,"

"It was hard to leave K-State, but the story to the public.

history.

Hewett said.

To explore what might be causing their depression, Pennsylvania researchers performed autopsies on the brains of 37 demented patients, mostly Alzheimer's victims, including 14 who were also diagnosed with major depression.

Nanny

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

Nannies are sought from across the country, but the majority of them come from the Midwestern and Western part of the United States.

Agencies place advertisements in college newspapers or use recruiters. Helping Hands has recruiters in most parts of the United States for personal interviews with applicants, Burrage said.

"We like to do personal interviews because that way we can match a family with a nanny, rather than just place the nannies. We do thorough interviews on both the family and the applicant," she said.

The family who is wanting a nanny contacts an agency. The agency then finds a nanny that it thinks would be right for the family. For their services, most agencies charge the families.

Burrage said the main qualification to be a nanny is a love for children. Other qualifications require the applicant be 18 years old, be a high school graduate, provide three written references, have a good driving record, and preferably be able to swim, because most of the homes will have pools.

The salary for a nanny is based on the nanny's experience and the resources of the family, Burrage said.

"Most of the nannies are paid anywhere from $150 to $300 per week, but there are added benefits such as use of the family car, membership to various clubs, and possibly vacations with the family," Burrage said.

Helping Hands encourages the nannies and the families to have a written contract that spells out responsibilities and expectations of both parties. There is also a one-year commitment expected.

Burrage said the nanny business seems to appeal more to women rather than men, and the average age of nannies employed by Helping Hands is about 25.

Volley

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 9 squad's competitiveness when dealing with powerful opponents and said he feels they can rise to the Saturday's match will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Ahearn Field House.

younger people who are depressed but not demented, one of the researchers said. "normal" for someone who suffers DAY SPECIAL 3 Tacos-$1.25

reg. 55' each Burrito Dinner—$2.77

Large burrito covered with chili & cheese, refried beans, salad, picos reg. $3.25

Sun.-Thurs. (offer good Nov. 16-21) 11 a.m.-11 p.m. Closed Tuesday Fri.-Sat. TACO NUT 11 a.m.—12 a.m.

Aggieville Flowers

6 ROSES FOR $6 OR $12 a dozen

cash n' carry while supplies last

537-9549 • 10-5 M-S • 12th & Laramie

Build the strong relationships you desire Check out his tape for FREE in the SGA office & dive a week

Enter the Zenith Data Systems

MASTERS of INNOVATION COMPETITION

Win a $5,000* Zenith Computer System.

We're searching for tomorrow's innovators. If you've developed or used software or hardware—that is compatible with Zenith Data Systems products-to creatively address a problem or task in your field of study, we want to hear from you.

You could win a $5,000* Zenith Data Systems computer system for yourself, $5,000* worth of computer equipment for your college campus given in your name, and national recognition from your peers.

For More Information And Official Rules, Call 1-800-553-0301. Competition Ends March 1, 1989. Void Where Prohibited.

Thanksgiving is a time to enjoy the Autumn's bounty and to get together with family and friends. That's why a Domino's Pizza is especially appro-

Choose from nature's finest items, rich tomato sauce, 100% natural cheese and high quality meats. You can be proud to serve a Domino's Pizza to your guests. There's no preparation! Just call. Within 30 minutes your order will be delivered, hot and delicious, at no additional charge.

gobble gob

Call us! Manhattan 539-0561

Sun.-Thurs. 4pm-1am Fri.-Sat. 4pm-2am

$5.99 Special! Get two 10" cheese pizzas for only $5.99! No coupon necessary. Prices do not include tax.

$7.99 Special! Get one 10"

AND one 14" cheese pizza for only $7.99!

No coupon necessary. Prices do not include tax.

$8.99 Special!

Get two 14" cheese pizzas for only $8.99! No coupon necessary. Prices do not include tax.

Our drivers carry less than $20.00. Limited delivery area.

4 1988 Domino's Pizza, Inc.

Animal Fans

K-State helps Osborne Industries, a ventilation company, to test livestock ventilation fans. See Page

Weather

Sunny today with the high in the upper 40s, clear tonight with the low in the mid-20s. Mostly sunny Tuesday, the high in the mid-50s.

Monday

November 21, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 65

Kansas State Collegian

morning in a parking lot behind Putnam Hall. The gun was removed

Law enforcement officers unload a 12-gauge shotgun early Sunday from a car that was involved in a high-speed chase through three counties that ended in the hall's parking lot.

High-speed chase ends on campus

By Susan L'Ecuyer Senior Staff Writer

A high-speed chase that began in Shawnee County ended in a parking lot behind Putnam Hall early Sunday, but not before vehicles belonging to two Putnam residents were damaged.

Dennis P. Tenpenny, 28, of Topeka, was arrested about 1:30 a.m. Sunday in lot A-9 on the east side of Putnam Hall. He was charged by Riley County Police with aggravated assault of a police officer, attempting to flee and elude a police officer, and reckless driving. Police reports said Tenpenny was driving under the influence of Tenpenny is being held in the Riley County Jail on two $10,000 bonds from Riley and Pottawatomie counties. Shawnee County has yet to file charges and set bond.

Police, who said they relieved Tenpenny of a revolver at the time of the arrest, also removed a loaded 12-gauge shotgun, 12- and 16-gauge shotgun shells and beer cans from Tenpenny's car.

The Shawnee County Sheriff's Department said the chase began at 12:38 a.m. in Silver Lake, near Topeka, after a police car responded to a report of a suspicious vehicle. Tenpenny, who was driving a 1985 Nissan, failed to respond to attempts by police to stop him, said Shawnee County Detective Richard Mergen,

The ensuing chase involved about a dozen police units and rushed west on Highway 24 through Shawnee, Pottawatomie and Riley counties before ending in Manhattan. Police at the scene of the arrest said the chase reached speeds of more than 100 miles per hour and defied roadblocks and attempts to shoot out the tires of Tenpenny's car.

Residents at Putnam Hall were disturbed by sirens and the smell of

Staff/Greg Vogel

Officers found beer cans and shotgun shells while searching the vehicle. The driver is being held at Riley County Jail.

burnt rubber at about 1:20 a.m. Bill Hetrick, junior in music education, was greeted with the sight of a pickup truck from the Pottawatamie County Sheriff's Department parked against the side of his smashed-up Volkswagen Beetle.

Gary Reinheimer, senior in architectural engineering and Putnam Hall staff member on duty Sunday morning, saw Hetrick's car wedged against his Escort GT.

"You parked too close to me, Bill," said Reinheimer, who had had his car rebuilt this past summer.

Deputy Sheriff Robert Sauerbrunn, who drove the truck and ■ See CHASE, Page 13

Union to offer transportation

By Alan Wilds Collegian Reporter

To encourage basketball fans to continue visiting the Union before going to games, Union officials have developed the K-State Union assigned to her. She said she initially Express to transport fans between Bramlage Coliseum and the Union.

The Express will have two buses route. for men's games and two vans for women's games. The buses will operate on 15-minute intervals from the south entrance of the Union to the northeast entrance of Bramlage. The back to the game. service will begin two hours before each game and will continue until the come into the building and do the last basketball fan leaves, said Vera Carr, associate director of the Union.

Carr said tickets for the Express are free with any purchase in the Union.

Jack Sills, Union director, said many people have become accustomed to enjoying the Union's services and then walking across the street to Ahearn Field House for a basketball game. However, the opening of Bramlage presented a problem with continuing this tradition.

"It was going to interrupt what we were accustomed to and what they (the customers) were accustomed to," Sills said. He said the Union distributed questionnaires during the last basketball season to many of the Union's patrons for ideas on how to handle the opening of Bramlage. Busing, he said, was high on the list of recommendations.

"Customers were interested in being able to continue to eat and enjoy the company of one another before the game," Sills said.

Carr said after the original idea was conceived, the project was met with K-State Police Chief Charles Beckom to establish a shuttle

A shuttle will also run from Bramlage to the Union before the game to allow people to park at Bramlage and take the shuttle to the Union and then "This will allow for people to socializing that they are accustomed to," Carr said. She said buses will remain at Bramlage during the game for ticketholders who want to leave early. The Union is sponsoring the Express. Sills said he believes the business the Union receives will offset the cost.

"We hope that the revenue produced by those that patronize us will subsidize the bus expenses enough so that it will be a success," Sills said.

Carr said the Express will be on a trial basis until December.

"I hope it is so popular that it could be a service for next year's football (season)," Sills said.

Charles Thomas, director of Bramlage, said the Express is perfect for people who want to eat at the Union before a game.

"I think it has a lot of merit to it," Thomas said.

Union to be open for holiday break

By The Collegian Staff

Visitors and students staying in Manhattan this Thanksgiving break will be able to use Union services that are usually closed on vacation breaks.

Jack Connaughton, assistant director of the Union, said the Union will have special hours to accommodate visitors for the women's McCall Pattern Classic basketball tournament Friday and Saturday and the men's basketball game against Purdue Saturday.

"We're going to have some big athletic events here on the Thanksgiving break, especially since it will be the first men's varsity game in Bramlage," Connaughton said. "I hope the game will be sold out, which means there could be over 13,000 people on the campus."

The Union will offer all services Tuesday and Wednesday, although many departments will have shortened operating hours. The Union will be open from 7 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. Tuesday and from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Wednesday. The Union will be closed on Thursday.

Friday, only the basement recreational area will be open from 2 p.m. to 11 p.m. All services, except the copy center, will be offered Saturday, when the building will be open from noon to 8 p.m., and Sunday from noon to 10 p.m.

Connaughton said the Union is normally closed on the Sunday of vacation breaks, but he also said the policy will probably change.

'We've received comments about being open the day before classes resume after long holiday breaks so we're leaning towards opening the Union on those Sundays," Connaughton said.

"Besides, not everyone goes home on breaks, or they come back early," he said. "If they want to bowl or go to the bookstore, we can accommodate them."

Bush to name 2 for White House positions

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Presidentelect George Bush will round out his economic team today by naming Richard G. Darman as White House budget director and Michael J. Boskin as chairman of the president's Council of Economic Advisers, transition sources said Sunday.

On an otherwise quiet weekend, Bush attended church, jogged in the misty afternoon and met with his choice for White House chief of staff, Gov. John Sununu of New

The vice president's aides said he would make some transition announcements this morning before he meets with former Presidents Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter, who recently wrote a report with bipartisan advice for the new president.

Bush announced last Tuesday he would retain Nicholas F. Brady as treasury secretary. He told reporters Friday he was concentrating on naming the rest of his economic team before turning his attention to defense and national security posts.

Transition sources, who spoke only on condition that they not be identified, said the directorship of the White House Office of Management and Budget post would go to Darman and that Boskin, a Stanford University economics professor, had been tapped to head the Council on Economic Advisers. Both nominations have been widely expected. Darman was the top aide and protege to James A. Baker III during his four years as President Reagan's first chief of staff. In Reagan's second term, Darman was deputy to Baker as treasury secretary. Both left the government when Baker resigned in August to run Bush's presidential Bush named Baker, his longtime associate from Houston, as his choice for secretary of state on Nov. 9, the morning after the election.

as a caretaker senator from New Jersey in 1982, was sworn in two months ago as Baker's successor at Treasury. He is a former chairman of the investment banking house of Dillon, Read & Co. Inc. Darman once was an Elliot Richardson aide at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in the early 1970s. He has an inside knowledge of government and the budget that rivals that of Reagan's first budget director, David A. Stockman.

Boskin helped inspire Bush's idea of a "flexibile freeze" in government spending to wipe out budget deficits the morning after the election. now running at $155 billion a year. Brady, who served eight months An authority on the Social Security system, Boskin argued in a recent book titled "Too Many Promises" that the program should be overhauled to separate its welfare and pension functions.

Boskin proposed a two-tier system, with a flat monthly payment aimed at helping people stay out of poverty and the upper tier tied strictly to how much people paid into the

Currently there is a sharp tilt to Social Security benefits, with lowerincome workers getting a far heftier return on their payroll taxes than middle- and upper-income workers. Bush scheduled a meeting today with computer magnate David Packard, who headed a commission that recommended major changes in Defense Department procurement

On Tuesday, the president-elect plans to fly to Alabama to visit a conference of Republican governors and to Houston for a get-acquainted meeting with Mexican presidentelect Carlos Salinas de Gortari.

Bush will return to Washington Tuesday night, then fly Wednesday to Kennebunkport, Maine, for a long Thanksgiving holiday weekend that could include a fence-mending session with Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis, the vanquished Democratic presidential nominee.

BRIEFLY

* ASSOCIATED PRESS

BRIEFLY AROUND WORLD

Soviets ask U.N. for help

NEW DELHI, India - Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev and Indian Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi on Sunday asked the United Nations to help establish a broad-based government

"A U.N.-supported international conference may be needed for this purpose," said a joint statement, released at the end of

Gorbachev's three-day visit to India. The communique did not reflect a change in the Kremlin's position, but it coincides with increasing Soviet efforts for a political settlement of the war. After nine years of Soviet military intervention, the war still rages.

Under a U.N.-sponsored accord signed in April, the Soviet Union is to complete the withdrawal of its troops from Afghanistan by Feb. 15. About half of an estimated 100,000 Soviet soldiers have already left.

Gorbachev and Gandhi also signed an agreement for the Soviet Union to build two nuclear reactors for an Indian power plant. During the visit, the Soviet Union and India concluded agreements for economic, scientific and cultural programs worth $5.3 billion, said an Indian Foreign Ministry spokesman, speaking on condition of anonymity.

The statement on Afghanistan said "the process of national reconciliation should be encouraged."

"National reconciliation" is the term President Najib of Afghanistan has used in his efforts to persuade Moslem guerrillas to stop fighting and participate in his government.

Spaniards remember Franco

MADRID, Spain - Thousands of flag-waving Spaniards held an anti-government demonstration in downtown Madrid on Sunday to commemorate the 13th anniversary of the death of Gen. Francisco Franco.

The demonstration, led by Carmen Franco Polo, the only daughter of Franco, was organized by a veterans group that includes men who fought with Franco against the second Republic during the 1936-39 Spanish Civil War. Organizers estimated the crowd at 150,000, but the municipal police said only 20,000 attended.

Demonstrators shouted slogans in favor of Franco and his regime and against the government of socialist Prime Minister Felipe Gonzalez.

Giving the fascist salute, the protesters shouted, "Franco, Franco, Franco!" and "Long live Franco!"

Transport workers may strike

MANILA, Philippines - Officials placed the military and police on natiowide alert Sunday, the eve of a planned transport strike in Manila, media reports said.

The state-run Philippines News Agency and the government's Radio of the Nation said the military chief, Gen. Renato De Villa, issued the order to prevent violence during Monday's planned strike by a militant transport group.

De Villa said armed troops would ride buses in the capital Monday and military trucks would prowl the streets to assist commuters stranded by the strike.

There was no explanation why the military was placed on nationwide alers when the strike was called only for the Manila

But Monday also is President Corazon Aquino's 1,000th day in office, and military sources have said opponents may try to foment unrest to divert attention from official ceremonies marking the date.

Aquino took office Feb. 25, 1986, after a popular uprising toppled President Ferdinand Marcos and forced him to flee to exile in Hawaii.

Join us for our Christmas

OPEN

HOUSE

and a cup of cider

Nov. 26 10-5:30

Nov. 27 1-4 Register for a free gift!

Lakin's Gift Shop & Metal Polishing 2040 Ft. Riley Blvd. 537-7712

BRIEFLY ACROSS NATION

Telephone bill helps police

WAUKESHA, Wis. - A 27-year-old man who police say telephoned his grandmother in Florida while burglarizing an apartment here was arrested after authorities traced the phone call.

Harold Schmidt of Waukesha was arrested last week on charges he stole cassette tapes, jewelry, and vitamins from the apartment on April 8. Also taken were chicken patties from a freezer and aspirin, police said.

Police earlier interviewed Schmidt about the burglary, but it wasn't until the victim received her telephone bill several months later that he was connected to the crime, according to a criminal complaint.

Schmidt has since returned two necklaces, a set of earrings, 16 cassette tapes and a solar-powered calculator, the complaint

Schmidt was ordered to appear before Court Commissioner Gerald Janis on Dec. 5. If convicted, he could be sent to prison for up to 10 years.

Tropical storm nears Cuba

MIAMI - A late-season Caribbean depression grew into Tropical Storm Keith off Mexico on Sunday, and forecasters expected it to reach hurricane strength after veering northward through the Gulf toward Florida.

The National Hurricane Center upgraded the system to the 11th tropical storm of the season at 11 a.m. EST Sunday, and forecasters predicted western Cuba would be pummeled by the

"The strongest part of the storm is going to affect the western tip of Cuba tonight," forecaster Jim Lushine said. "But the northeast Yucatan Peninsula will also feel strong winds, heavy rains and high surf."

Winds of 50 mph, accompanied by up to 10 inches of rain, hit islands off the Honduran coast Sunday and were expected to extend to the interior of that Central American nation.

The Honduran National Weather Service reported up to 3 inches of rain had fallen in coastal cities by mid-day Sunday, but forecaster Arthuro Ayala said, "For now, there is no danger for Honduras, but the phenomenon is likely to increase in strength in the next eight hours."

Plant controls tightened

AIKEN, S.C. - Federal officials are expanding on-site controls and safety training at the troubled Savannah River Plant in an effort to correct problems that have shut down the only U.S. facility capable of producing nuclear weapons materials.

The added safety procedures make it unlikely that the plant will meet a Dec. 31 target date for restarting one of three reactors at the federal facility, which has been run since 1950 by the E.I. du Pont de Nemours Co.

Creating an extra fifth shift, effective Monday, means that one of the 14-member control room teams will be undergoing training at any given time.

The crews will double the time they spend each year at a computer simulator, up to 150 hours, and classroom work also will be expanded and improved, said Charlie Ahfield, a Du Pont reactor program manager,

Putting federal officials permanently inside each reactor facility for the first time will allow the government to keep a closer eye on the reactors' operation.

The changes are intended to improve safety at the sprawling 300-square-mile site in a pine forest along the Savannah River, where more than 16,000 employees work under tight security.

The scene is surprisingly tranquil outside K reactor, the first of three scheduled to return to operation.

LARGE PIZZA ONLY 599 with one topping

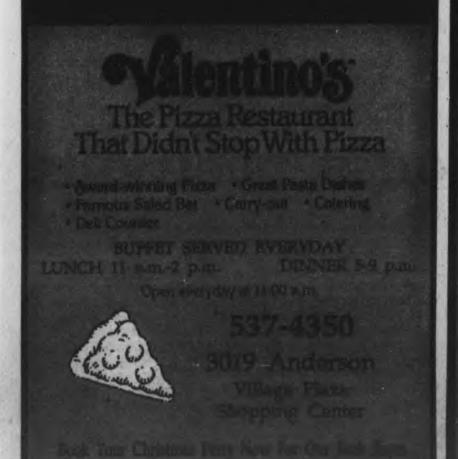

dine in or free home delivery with this coupon offer good through Oct. 31

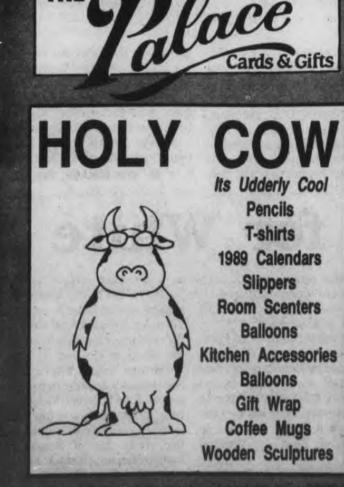

"premium pizza at a cardboard pizza price" 523 South 17th

537-1484

BULLETIN FOR CAMPUS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Campus organizations are encouraged to use Campus Bulletin. All announcements must be submitted by 11 a.m. one day prior to publication. Announcements for Monday's bulletin must be in by 11 a.m. Friday. However, publication is determined by the amount of space available on a first-come, first-serve basis and is not ensured. Information forms are available on the shelf outside Kedzie 118. Forms should be left in the box on the shelf after being filled out. All submissions must be signed and are subject to verification. Questions should be directed to the Collegian's campus editors in Kedzie 116.

SINGLE PARENT/DISPLACED HOMEMAKERS Scholarship forms are available at Bluemont 407 or the Fenix Office,

COORDINATED PROGRAM IN DIETETICS is accepting applications now for spring admission. Deadline is Nov. 30. Forms available from Dr. Deborah Canter, Justin Hall 104. Call 532-5521 for

TODAY

ADVERTISING CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 206.

ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGIATE ENTREPRENEURS will meet at 7 p.m. in the Union Big Eight room. FARMHOUSE LITTLE SISTERS will meet at 9:30 p.m. at the house. GYMNASTICS CLUB will meet at 9 p.m. in Natatorium 4.

ENGINEERING STUDENT COUNCIL will meet at 6:30 p.m. in Union 213.

POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB will meet at 8 p.m. in Union 207.

ASSOCIATION OF ADULTS RETURNING TO SCHOOL will meet from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in Union Stateroom 3.

WEDNESDAY

ASSOCIATION OF ADULTS RETURNING TO SCHOOL will meet from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in Union Stateroom 3.

Notice

This is the last issue of the Collegian before the Thanksgiving break. Publication will resume Nov. 28.

K-STATE POLICE

Friday

A wheel lock was placed on a red firebird parked in a reserve stall in lot A-4. The lock was later removed.

A white and tan cat was taken from Anderson Hall to the Veterinary Medical Center.

A green Datsun parked in lot A-28N was towed to Manhattan Wrecker. The car had damage to the left rear quarter panel, a mirror was missing and damage to the passenger side was reported.

■ The theft of a violin worth $1,500 from a locker in McCain Auditorium's music wing was reported.

A wheel lock was placed on a 1985 Volkswagen parked in lot A-28S displaying a stolen parking

A blue car coat was reported stolen at a loss of $130. A red Pontiac was reported disabled in lot D-4.

permit. The lock was later removed.

Criminal damage to a vehicle parked in lot A-17E was reported. Vehicle was scratched on both sides. Damage was estimated at $300.

A suspect was arrested for criminal damage to a police department wheel lock.

A student parking permit was reported lost off campus.

A report was filed regarding unlawful deprivation of a student parking permit. Loss was $30, and one subject was arrested.

A green four-door Datsun was reported disabled in the entrance to the grain elevator off of Denison.

An intoxicated individual was taken to Memorial Hospital after having caused damage to the inside of a residence hall.

Saturday

A two-car, non-injury accident occurred in lot B-2. Damage to the vehicles was more than $500. A suspected intoxicated individual was booked into the Riley County Jail.

A car and truck were involved in a non-injury accident in lot A-28. Damage to the vehicles was more than $500. A suspected drunken individual was booked into the Riley County Jail.

A false fire alarm was activated on the first floor of Ford Hall.

Criminal damage to a vehicle parked in lot B-3 occurred as part of a burglary and theft of an AM-FM stereo and compact disc player. Damage was more than $500 and loss to theft was estimated at $450.

A stray cat was removed from Marlatt Hall after it bit several people. Cat was taken to Veterinary Medical Center for rabies testing.

Water was reported leaking into the main lobby of Weber Hall.

Sunday

A multi-vehicle, non-injury accident occurred in lot A-9.

■ The stop sign on the west end of lot D-1W was reported missing.

Mon. & Tues. at 9 p.m. EVAN DAVIS ·Star Search Finalist 1986 (reservations recommended

531 N. Manhattan

but not necessary)

539-9727

Thanksgiving Buffet

$8.95 Adults

$5.95 Children (12 & Under)

• Roast Turkey • Sage Dressing

· Baked Ham with Cherry Sauce

• Fried Chicken • Baked Fish

Mashed Potatoes
 Giblet Gravy

• Green Beans • Corn O'Brien

· Sweet Potatoes · Rice Pilaf

• Never Ending Salad & Dessert Bar

11 a.m.—3 p.m. For Reservations call 539-7531

Skate sailing

homemade sailboard Sunday afternoon east of KSU Stadium.

Bob Harris, sophomore in architectural engineering, sails on a

BIG with Collegian Coupons

DESIGN GRADHICS

AMERICAN INSTITUTE
OF ARCHITECTURE
STUDENTS, A GROUP IN
THE COLLEGE OF
ARCH. & DESIGN, IS
PROVIDING A GRAPHIC
DESIGN SERVICE FOR
ANY INTERESTED
PARTIES. WE WILL PROVIDE A GRAPHIC
DESIGN AND LOGO OR
LETTERING AT THE
FOLLOWING RATES:

T-SHIRTS - $20 AND FREE T-SHIRT. BANNER - $1 SQ. FT. PLUS MATERIALS. 8½ x 11 POSTER - $10 CONTACT CAROLE AT

539-5241

Well, well, well... what do ya' know?
TONIGHT

50¢ Well Drinks

Start your inanksgiving break a day earlyl

18 To Enfer * 21 To Drink

1120 Moro

537-9511

Read Collegian Ads!

for special bargains

Staft/Brad Camp

Remember
18 oz. Fishbowls
Only
$1
105
N. 3rd

Remember
776-9879

The Shoppers' Connection...

a great way to begin your Christmas shopping!

This holiday season make your shopping hassle-free and ride The Shoppers' Connection sponsored by the Manhattan Merchants. The bus will stop at 15 locations in all parts of Manhattan and Ogden beginning Friday, Nov. 25 and will run every Friday, Saturday and Sunday until Dec. 24th. Pickups begin as early as 9a.m. and run as late as 6:30 p.in.

Buy a Day Pass for $2 and make as many stops as you want, or pay only 75¢ for each stop in Manhattan.

Ride FREE Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 25-27 courtesyof Manhattan Town Center.

Pick up your Shoppers' Connection Bus Schedule at the Customer Service Center in Manhattan Town Center or call 539-9207 for more information.

Immigrant Cubans still in prisons

By The Associated Press

ATLANTA — A year after Cubans from the Mariel boatlift rioted at two prisons for a chance at freedom, thousands are out on parole, but more are dribbling back into what could be lifetime custody.

Many of the thousands of Cubans held by the Immigration and Naturalization Service will be freed more quickly because of changes made in the review process as a result of the agreement that ended the riots, but others will have to await new laws or the whim of the Cuban government.

Critics of the process acknowledge it has increased the number of Cubans freed but say it has other problems.

"We're not saying some of (the Cuban prisoners) in there aren't bad," said Gary Leshaw, a Legal Aid lawyer who has represented the detainees. "We're saying we're not sure the system is designed to sort out the people who do not belong there."

The detainees are a minority among the 125,000 Cubans who arrived during the five-month "Freedom Flotilla" from the Cuban port of Mariel in 1980. Many of those who arrived were criminals or mental patients freed from jails and hospitals.

A few were arrested on arrival for crimes committed in Cuba. Others were convicted of crimes here and turned over to the INS for deportation after finishing their sentences. But Cuba wouldn't take them back, so they remained in detention.

Since the detainees never were officially admitted to the United States, they have existed in legal limbo as "excludable aliens." Courts ruled that the Cubans did not have to be released and could be excluded without legal protections.

Then rioting erupted at federal prisons in Oakdale, La., and Atlanta after the State Department's Nov. 20, 1987, announcement that Cuba had agreed to take back more than 2,500 of the 3,800 Mariel refugees locked up nationwide at the time. The rioters took 145 hostages and burned several buildings. One inmate was killed in the 11-day uprising in Atlanta.

The uprisings ended Dec. 4, 1987, after the government agreed to a moratorium on deportations and a one-time-only Justice Department review of each INS decision.

INS spokesman Duke Austin in Washington said the agreement also called for speedy reviews of inmates' cases, which have resulted in the parole of about 60 percent of the detainees. Since the uprisings, INS increased the number of review panels from four to 20.

"The reviews conducted by these panels go beyond anything that's required by law or by court order," Cary Copeland, a deputy associate attorney general, said Thursday. "They're designed to give the detainee and his representative every opportunity to tell the panels anything they feel appropriate in reaching their decisions."

So far about 2,500 Cubans have been paroled. Parole has been denied to about 1,500 others who will continue to get annual INS reviews but could spend years, even their lives, in INS custody even through they have finished prison sentences for their crimes.

About 115 are at a federal facility in Talladega, Ala., awaiting word on whether they will be sent back to Cuba. The Justice Department announced plans Thursday to deport 15 detainees. Leshaw sued to block that, claiming the cases are entitled to additional review.

An additional 3,000 Cubans are serving jail sentences and eventually will enter INS detention, either to be paroled or held until Cuba takes them back

Unless another agreement is reached with Cuba, many will not face deportation, but will stay in jail indefinitely until an INS panel decides they are fit for parole.

Ride the K-State Union Express!!

The K-State Union wants to Express you to and from Bramlage Coliseum during the exciting Wildcat Basketball Season! K-State Union Express Shuttle tickets are free to you with any purchase from the K-State Union on game day! Just ask any K-State Union cashier for your K-State Union Express ticket.

The K-State Union Express will begin 2 hours before the game and will run in 15 minute intervals, and will continue to run until the last Wildcat fan is returned to the K-State Union. Or, park at Bramlage, if you prefer, and ride free to the K-State Union to purchase all that great Wildcat memorabilia!

Pick up and drop off points will be: the NE entrance at Bramlage & the South entrance of the Union. So, hop on!! The K-State Union Express kicks off the Wildcat Season Nov. 26, when the Cats fight Purdue!

Editorial

Kansas State Collegian Opinions ■ Monday, November 21, 1988

American future talkshow nightmare

gered in. He was pale and he was trembling. He sat down at my table.

"D.L.," he said. "I'm worried about America.'

"Why?" I said. "George Bush won the election. I thought you were supposed to be ecstatic, and I was the one who was supposed to be worried."

"Bush may never be president." "Is this going to be a Dan Quayle joke?" I said. "If it is, I don't want to hear it. I'm getting tired of those."

"No, you don't understand!" Bart screamed. "I've just had a vision! Things are pened to you?" not good! The wheat is eaten! The woods are

"Start at the beginning, Bart," I said. Bart leaned forward.

"I was sleeping in my room last night when there was a knock on my door. As I went to answer it, it suddenly burst open and in walked George Washington."

"Had you been drinking, by any chance?" I said. "Don't interrupt me!" Bart said. "George came forward and said: 'I am the ghost of was sitting in Espresso Royale when on a brief, hypothetical journey.' And sudmy fraternity brother Bart Bryce stag- denly we were at a White House press conference. President Reagan was announcing that the recent, nationwide computer virus had affected the computers that counted votes and we would all have to revote."

"So?" I said.

"Man, don't you get it?" Bart said. "After the election, all the bankers thought it was safe to go ahead and announce that they might foreclose on nearly 80,000 farmers. After that, if we have to revote, Bush might lose. That's what George Washington said and he always tells the truth. My God, D.L., what if Bush loses?"

"I don't know," I said. "What else hap-

"George Washington faded out and suddenly Walter Mondale appeared. He said, 'I am the ghost of elections present. I am here to take you on a brief journey.'

"Wait a minute," I said. "Walter Mondale's not dead."

"He is politically," Bart said. "But that's not important. He took me to see the voting of the Electoral College. They voted for George Bush for president just fine. But while they were taking a break right before voting for vice-president, someone slipped hallucielections hypothetical. I am here to take you nogenic drugs into their coffee and, when they drank it, their minds were affected." "Did they begin foaming at the mouth?" I orse," Bart continued. "They began voting for Jesse Jackson.' This is a joke, right?" I asked. "You're making all this up."

DWAYNE LIVELY Collegian

Columnist

"I wish I were, my friend," Bart said. "Mondale also showed me how, with Jackson as his vice president, Bush became a nonentity. His macho image failed him when compared to Jackson. I mean, how can a phrase like 'We are the change' compete with a phrase like 'We have mine sweepers in the Persian Gulf when what we need are drug sweepers in the Gulf of Mexico.'? It can't.' "I guess not," I said.

"Bush was forced to adopt the behind-thescenes role of vice president," Bart said. "Even though he was still president. Few people even knew his name."

"He should be used to that," I said. "He was vice president, after all. Probably more people know who Vanna White is than who the vice president is."

"Poor George," Bart said. "Mondale took me to visit the homes of Republicans and Democrats who were were so bored they were planning to assassinate George so Jackson could become president. Bush can't help it if he's boring, D.L., but that's no reason to shoot him. Is it?"

"Of course not," I said. "What else happened?"

"Mondale brought me home and then he disappeared," Bart continued. "Almost instantly, my television turned itself on. 'I am the ghost of elections future,' it said. 'I have such things to show you as you have never

"I pleaded with it. 'No! No! Please don't show me anymore! I can't take anymore!' But it said: 'You must be shown. You must see. I am the future. In order to be president of the United States, all pretenders first must answer to me. If they shrivel under my scrutiny, they are lost forever."

"Sounds scary," I said.

"It gets much, much worse," Bart said. The television showed me a future of endless polls that would eventually replace voting. It laughed with glee as it described how it would lull all Americans into a trance and make them believe that the opinions expressed in the polls were their opinions. It got a big kick out of that.

Then the television described the president of the future: A man who projected a macho image because no voter wants a wimpy intellectual for a leader, a man capable of handling any thing thrown at him by specialinterest groups, and, above all, a media-slick man who knows how to capture attention."

"But, Bart, does such a man exist?" I said. "Could such a man ever exist? I don't think you have anything to worry about."

art shook his head and leaned forward. "Worry, D.L., and pray. He exists. I have seen his face, and I am afraid. Pray, D.L., pray.'

I leaned forward. Bart was making me nervous. "Who is he?" I asked. "Who is the future of the presidency?"

"Geraldo Rivera," he whispered. God help us, everyone.

PLO deserves praise for diplomatic move

A time for change in the Middle East may be here. However, with the current philosophy of Israel, the Palestinian Liberation Organization and the United States, improvement in this situation may be a long way off.

Recently, PLO chairman Yasser Arafat made a declaration recognizing Israel's right to exist. But in the same speech, Arafat also proclaimed an independent Palestinian state with Jerusalem as its capital.

The PLO has much to gain at the bargaining table by accepting Israel's right to exist as a sovereign nation. So it makes little sense for them to shoot themselves in the foot by declaring an independent state which they do not politically possess. The PLO would be better to take advantage of their new position and use this as a bargaining chip to achieve what they have strived for.

For Israel, it is time to quit being the bully of the Middle East. Much could be gained through a peaceful solution to the Palestinian uprisings, but Israel is doing nothing but inflame this problem. It is time Israelis remembered what it was like to be persecuted in the 1930s and 40s and stop inflicting a similar treatment on the Palestinians.

Negotiating with the Palestinians might have short-term costs for Israel. However, the costs of constant unrest will be much greater. Israel needs to realize that a peaceful solution is the only solution to a problem that will continue as long as oppressive actions are not terminated.

As Yasser Arafat said, the ball is now in the American's

I ANNOUNCE THE FORMATION OF A PALESTINIAN STATE.

Student unity necessary

Coalition makes contest unneeded et me begin by extending a warm and sincere thank-you to my campaign staff for a job well done. Your leadership, coupled with our many supporters, carried my campaign theme of "unity and growth" throughout K-State. Together we planted seeds of hope within our student body.

As the campaign heated up, the seeds took

On Nov. 9, our student body marveled at how "growth" manifests itself - a diverse, yet unified student body made its presence known. It stated clearly and decisively that Laurian Gonzalvo Cuffy would be the next student body president, charged with the responsibilities of leading a unified student body.

During and after the presidential election, questions were expressed in an attempt to undermine decisions made by the elections committee and by the students. Was the elections committee right in ruling that I should stay on the ballot? Should I have been allowed to visit food centers and communicate with students? These are valid questions.

I see nothing wrong with students questioning the actions of our student government. If there are problems with any process within our government, we need to solve them. Only then can we improve the quality of student government. My concern, however, is that making student government more effective is the motivation behind questions.

I became alarmed as I perceived a student body that had the potential of becoming explosive and divisive because of the consequences of my interpretation of rules concerning campaigning in residence halls. I apologize for any ill feelings that may have

LAURIAN CUFFY

Guest Columnist

It was encouraging to witness your energy and enthusiasm in the residence halls during the election. As your representative, I look forward to working with you to maintain that level of energy, enthusiasm and involvement among all groups within our student body.

s a result of these ill feelings and the possibility of a contest of election results, it became indispensable that John McIntyre and I discuss whether first, a contest was warranted, and second, what impact such action would have on the student body. Finally, we asked how we could unite a student body that was growing apart — in our eyes an important objective because our campaigns focused on a unified student body.

On Nov. 10, an informal meeting was conducted by John, our top staffs, Assistant Dean of Student Life Dave Ramsey and myself. The focus of the meeting was to defuse any potential tension within the student body. During the course of the meeting, the following was agreed upon: John and I would reveal our opinions on the fairness of the election. We confirmed the fairness of the process and agreed to not contest the outcome.

■ We agreed to endeavor to reunite the student body. To do this, we would use our personal influence when addressing

■ We agreed to encourage student leaders not elected, including John, to apply for positions in student government in an effort to lend their talents and experience to the new leadership.

Finally, the need for an "informal coalition" was discussed and agreed upon. This coalition would focus on the need for increased communication and cooperation among key elements within student government leadership.

t the conclusion of our meeting, I realized what made John McIntyre a formidable opponent. He cares greatly for the welfare of the student body. This point of view is of paramount importance. Because I see John as an exceptional leader, I personally extend my sincere desire that John apply to be part of my administration. His expertise in Student Senate and his knowledge of the lobbying efforts of the Associated Students of Kansas will be instrumental in helping me carry out the goals and objectives of my presidency.

In closing, I am excited at the prospect of leading the student body. I am confident that the executive, legislative and judicial branches of student government will work hard to enhance the quality of life at K-State. Student government is a functioning organization designed to serve the needs of you, the student body. Let us work hard to keep the channels of communication open so your concerns and needs are addressed.

Editor's Note: Laurian Cuffy, senior in management, is K-State's student body president-elect.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

	News Staff
FOITOR	Chad L. Sanborn
HANAGING FOITOR	Lori Siegrist
NEWS COLOR	Janet Swanson
NEWS EDITOR	Janet Swarson
EDITORIAL PAGE EDITOR	John La Barge
PHOTO/GRAPHICS EDITOR	Obda Ham
SPORTS EDITOR	Chris Hays
CAMPUS EDITORS	Karen Allen, Robert R. Short
FEATURES EDITOR	Christine Doll
	Soott Miller
	Paula Seby
ARTS AND ENTERTAINMENT EDITOR	Nancy Chartrand
GOVERNMENT EDITOR	Michael Nichols
COPY EDITORS	Nancy Downing, Ann Iseman, Mark Schreiner, Jane Thompson
	Susan L'Ecuyer, Erwin Seba
STAFF WRITERS	Paul Branson, Audra Dietz, Becky Ives
	Brian Hurramell, Steve Walker
SPORTS WRITERS	Russ Ewy, Chris Hays, Micheal May
SPORTS COLUMNISTS	Tom Perrin, David Syoboda
COLLIMNISTS	Mike Rouse, Chris Wilhelm Tom Perrin, David Svoboda
	Karla Redelsheimer Mark Schmaller
DEVICUEDO	Karla Redelsheimer, Mark Schmeller Bradley Atchison, Carrie Miller, Torn McLaughlin
CASTOONIST	Richard Broadloot
COADUIC ADTICT	Scott Oppliger
GRAPHIC ANTIDI	Jennifer Lippold
STAFF ASSISTANT
PHOTOGRAPHERS
FR.	Brett Hacker, Jeff Stead, Greg Vogel lancy Chartrand, Jim Dietz, Audra Dietz, Christine Doll, Catherine Doud
EDITORIAL BOARD	rancy Chantano, Jim Dietz, Audra Dietz, Christine Doll, Catherine Doud
Susan L'Ecuy	ver, Scott Miller, Michael Nichols, Karla Redelsheimer, Chad L. Sanborn
Mari	k Schmeller, Jeff Schrag, Erwin Seba, Robert R. Short, Janet Swanson dvertising Staff
ADVERTISING MANAGER	Catherine Doud
ACCICTANT MANAGER	Todd Schultz
DISPLAY SALES REPRESENTATIVES
DIG LAT BYLLE THE THEOLITTITIES SHARE	Michelle Slavik, Jennifer White Brent Windon
DEFICE/CLASSIFIED AD ASSISTANTS	Michelle Slavik, Jennifer White, Brent Windsor Kim Beyer, Tomari Quinn, Christa South
COADUIC ADVICTS	Dave Casper, Kendell McMinimy
PLOTOGRAPHED	Jennier Quist
PHOTOGRAPHEN AND AND AND AND AND AND AND AND AND AN	manuscript and a second
Studen	nt Publications Staff
	The second secon
DIRECTOR	David L. Adams
ACTING DIRECTOR/ADVERTISING DIRECTOR	Gloria Freeland
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR/NEWS ADVISER	Charlie Fair
BUSINESS MANAGER	Ann Foster
OFFICE MANAGER	Shally Potter
CLASSIEED ADVERTISING MANAGER	Linda Schmidt
ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT	Connia Fukerson
WELLER DOOD LOTTON COORDINATOR	David Svoboda
ADJECTIONS OFFICE COORDINATOR	Wanda Haynie
ADVENTISING PHODOCTION COORDINATOR	minimum manus manus manus manus wanda Haynie dent newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publica-
The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 2011 U2U), a stu	centralise is published Monday through Foldowshed by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. 11	ne Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the year and Monday and Thursday during summer sessions. Second cla	ass postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Man-
POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas S	State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167.
News contributions will be accepted by telephone	e, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116.
Inquiries concerning local, national and classified dis	play advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word advertising questions should be directed to (913) 532-65	86.
The state of the s
Kenses Stat	te Collegian Subscription Rates
One Semester (Fall or Spring)	$25
Two Semesters (Fell and Spring)

Stagehands enjoy benefits

By Christina Doherty Collegian Reporter

Many students work while attending college.

Few, however, can claim to have had the opportunity to do something enjoyable while meeting the actors, actresses and touring groups that perform at McCain Auditorium.

Students working backstage at McCain get the opportunity to do just that.

Most of these students are not in theater or the arts. They are in architecture, engineering or computer science and work because of their interest in it, said Allan Bailey, stage manager at McCain.

"I'm in electrical engineering and have always been interested in sound and lighting equipment. The sound system they have there (McCain) is very good. Working experience and work a lot on their with that kind of equipment is good experience for me and hopefully will help me find employment sometime," said Erick Larson, senior in electrical engineering.

Bailey said he believes many theater majors don't work backstage because they are heavily involved in their own productions and don't have the time.

Students working backstage "do maintenance work, run scenery up and down, sweep and mop the stage, unload trucks, lighting, - they do everything, sound Bailey said.

"During the show, I usually am the follow spot (operate the spotlight that follows the performer) and that's a lot of fun," said Melanie Olson, freshman in business.

There is a core group of about eight students that works every show. These students usually have own, Bailey said.

"Some are on a casual basis that I can call now and then," Bailey

Larson has been working backstage for three years. He and Olson had backstage experience from high school when they began working at McCain.

Besides experience, there are other benefits for the students.

"I get to see entertainment while I'm doing it," Olson said.

Workers can attend shows at which they are not working for free, Bailey said.

"One fellow got tickets for his housemother every once in a while," Bailey said.

"You get to meet a lot of people in the touring groups, the various actors and their crews," Larson

Officials looking for processing method to develop low-fat meats

By Guy Peverley Collegian Reporter

Consumers' awareness of meat products has K-State meat officials looking for a low-fat product to better fit the needs and diets of the American people.

"We are exploring ways of processing methods and processing ingredients that will allow us to manufacture processed meats with lower caloric density," said Melvin Hunt, professor in animal sciences and

"We are also in search of lowcalorie ingredients that have fat-like texture properties or other functional properties important to material texture," Hunt said.

The department is in the second phase of a three-phase research project. The main objective of this phase is to substitute water for fat in bologna, said Jim Claus, graduate student

This is achieved by starting with a leaner product and adding water as a substitute for fat, Claus said. If the water is not added to the leaner product, the bologna will become "rubbery and tough" after the cooking

The water maintains texture and replaces the natural water lost in the cooking process, he said.

The USDA set new regulations in April 1987 which state a combination of fat and added water cannot exceed 40 percent of the content of bologna.

In K-State's research, the maximum addition of fat and water has been found to be between 20 and 25 percent, Claus said. Water beyond that level creates a softer, less cohesive product with the excess water visible in the package.

One of the main reasons for this low-fat bologna research is to let the processor market a product to fill a new niche - the health-conscious consumer, he said. "Consumers are really hesitant when new ingredients are added to a product," Claus said. Some additives could be used to make the product more tender but would scare the consumer from purchasing. "The overall main goal is to try to improve the nutritional image of processed meats - product to fit into a nutritional food plan," he said.

One of the biggest challenges is to maintain texture and palatability, Claus said. As fat is removed, the product will look leaner and darker.

One of the biggest worries with the product is how shelf-stable it will be, he said. Claus and Mohsen Shirzadi, graduate student in food science, are conducting research to see if the bologna will last as long on the shelf as other processed meats.

539-5303

One number brings out the best at KSU

Now, at KSU, there's just one number to remember for fast delivery of pizza that's every bit as good as one you'd go out for.

Godfather's Pizza." Now you don't have to settle for anything less, anymore.

> 1118 Laramie Aggieville

How to make a hit.

The American Express® Card is a hit virtually anywhere you shop, from Los Angeles to London. Whether you're buying books, baseball tickets or brunch. So during college and after, it's the perfect way to pay for just about everything you'll want. How to get the Card now. College is the first sign of success. And because we believe in your potential, we've made it easier for students of this school to get the American Express Card right now-even without a job or a credit history. So whether you're an underclassman, senior or grad student, look into our automatic approval offers. For details pick up an application on campus. Or call 1-800-THE-CARD and ask for a student application. The American Express Card. Don't Leave School Without It.™

floor from 8 a.m. until only $10 and the card

4 p.m., Monday thru

Friday. The cost is is good through

December 1989!

GUARANTEEL STUDENT LOANS

WE WANT TO MAKE YOUR STUDENT LOAN!

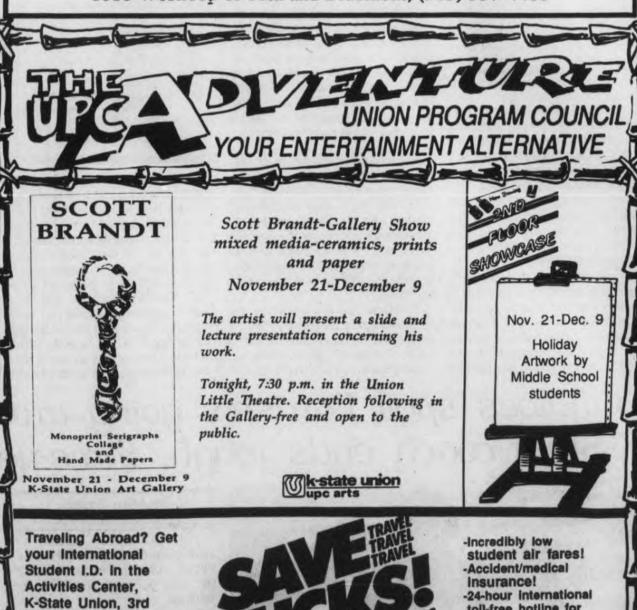

Have the professionals at Kansas State Bank make your student loan. Simply contact us at:

537-4400

Lender code #821176

KANSAS STATE BANK

1010 Westloop & 11th and Bluemont, (913) 537-4400

toll-free hotline for medical, legal and

Countless discounts

K-state union

on travel, cultural accommodations, and more! -Internationally recognized form of identification! Get it today!

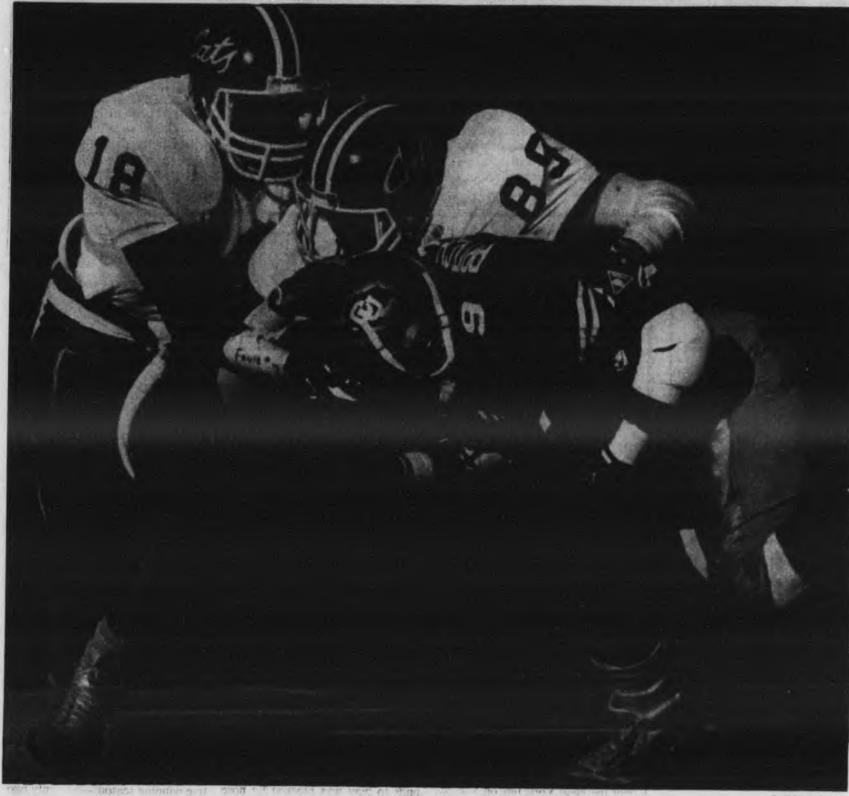

financial emergencies!

events,

SportsMonday

Kansas State Collegian ■ Monday, November 21, 1988 ■ Page 6

'Cats drop 56-14 decision to Colorado

Staff/David Mayes K-State's Emmett Bradford, left, and Elijah Alexander wrap-up Color- to the Buffaloes 56-14. This was the Wildcats' 27th consecutive nonado's Mike Pritchard during Saturday's game in Boulder. The 'Cats fell winning game, and the last with Parrish as head coach.

Wildcats' season ends winless again

By Mike Rouse Sports Writer

BOULDER, Colo. - For the K-State football team, a lot of things came to an end Saturday in addition to the 1988 season with the 56-14 loss to Colorado.

Stan Parrish ended his three-year reign as head coach and 20 seniors played their final collegiate game.

Saturday, the K-State offense, in addition to wanting to win the game, wanted to break the single-season passing record set in 1969 when Lynn Dickey was quarterback.

They succeeded in breaking the record when Chris Cobb threw a 63-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Greg Washington in the third quarter.

"We knew where we were exactly the whole game on breaking the record," Parrish said. "Our offensive group is very proud of setting the record."

That play was about the only highlight for the 'Cats in the game, as they watched the powerful Colorado offense blow right by the K-State

The Buffaloes' gained 555 yards and seemed to have no problem moving the ball all day.

"They dominate you up front and knock the hell out of you. I think they can play with the other two (Oklahoma and Nebraska)," Parrish said.

Colorado scored on its first three possessions to blow the game open and led 35-7 at halftime.

K-State only could muster 75 yards rushing but got 344 yards passing. Cobb and Carl Straw shared the duties as quarterback and each threw for a touchdown.

was kind of rusty when I went out 1-9, Nelson 2-51.

Washington again showed he is one of the best receivers in the Big Eight by catching five passes for 111

"Greg has had a magnificent season. He has caught around 70 passes for a team that hasn't won a game,"

Parrish said. The 'Cats were on offense for almost a minute longer than Colorado, but they turned the ball over five times, including four interceptions. "Our feet are full of holes. We would drive the ball then turn it over. It was liking shooting yourself in the foot," Cobb said.

"We aren't there to finish the job

■ See FOOTBALL, Page 13

STATISTIC First Downs Rushing Yards 393 Passing Yards 162 Return Yards 32 Att.-Comp.-Int. Total Yards 555 Fumbles-Lost 5-3 Penalties 6-54 K-STATE COLORADO RUSHING - K-State: Pickett

17-84, Dillon 5-20, Madden 3-6, McKinnis 1-1, Cobb 2-(-9), Straw 7-(-28). Colorado: Flanigan 20-151, Reliford 17-125, Aunese 5-40, Hemingway 4-38, Walters 4-15, Kissick 5-15, Hagan 3-13, Arterberry 1-0, Pritchard 3-(-4).

PASSING - K-State: Straw 17-31-3, 148 yards; Cobb 5-13-1-1, 121. Colorado: Aunese 1-4-1, 12; Walters 4-6-1, 150.

RECEIVING - K-State: Washington 5-111, Freidrich 5-37, Dillon 4-27, Hernandez 3-34, Tolbert 3-27, Austin 1-22, Smith 1-11. 'I wasn't expecting to play today. I Colorado: Campbell 2-102, Stone

The more things change, the more they.

This column first appeared in the Collegian on Dec. 3, 1985, the day after Stan Parrish was hired as head football coach at K-State. It is being repeated here as my way of saying thanks and goodbye to a good friend, and as a way of illustrating that the more things change, the more they stay the same.

If first impressions are any indication, Stan Parrish may just be the man who can bolster the sagging fortunes of the K-State football program.

David Svoboda

At the Monday morning press conference announcing his hiring, Parrish exhibited several characteristics common to most successful major college coaches today - selfconfidence, a winning attitude and a firm grasp on reality.

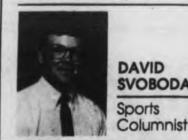

Parrish will be the first to tell you it would take an unbelievable effort to compete with the University of Oklahoma or the University of Nebraska at this point, but that doesn't mean he won't dare to dream that someday his Wildcats will be giving the 'Huskers and Sooners all they can handle.

He has set three basic goals that he wants to achieve during his first year at K-State: improving the self-image of his players, installing a wide-open passing attack and recruiting on a national basis. His personality would lead one to believe he just might accomplish all three. But he's going to need some help, and it appears he

Improving the self-image of his players shouldn't be too hard for a man who is confident in himself. Parrish is right out of the mold Athletic Director Larry Travis has established in putting together his staff - a mold which calls for an employee to be a salesman and a promoter in addition to performing his duties to the best of his ability.

"I believe that the self-image of the players must be lifted," Parrish told reporters at the press conference. "State-of-mind is half the battle in putting a winning team on the field." Svoboda on Sports

DAVID SVOBODA Sports

Installing an exciting and effective passing attack may be a bit tougher. After all, isn't K-State the team that had a former defensive end playing quarterback during the second half of the 1985 season? Isn't this the same club that had the worst offense statistically in NCAA Division I-A this year? Parrish recognizes that K-State's offensive personnel may not be what he would ultimately like to be working with, but he refused to say that returning players would not offensive scheme.

"I don't think you can count anybody out," Parrish said. "We'll learn a lot about the players we have and what their strengths and weaknesses are in our winter program and at spring practice."

If the players Parrish has returning aren't capable of getting the job done, chances are he's not going to be afraid to go out and get someone who can get the job done. That brings us to his third major goal - recruiting on a national basis.

Recruiting on a national level will be easier said than done at a University that at this point has little to sell in the way of a football program. This is where Parrish's dynamic personality and Travis' opening of the athletic department's purse strings will be ever so important.

To sell players on a school and its football program, a familiarity with the school and a winning tradition are nately, Parrish isn't extremely famil- day," Parrish said. "I'm a firm iar with K-State at this point, and K-State's football program has been on a downward spiral for as long as most of us have been alive.

Parrish is just the kind of man, however, who will make his best effort to take a crash course on the University and all it has to offer and who will promote the school's "family" atmosphere as the biggest advantage K-State can offer the studentathlete.

When Parrish has been here for a year and has established some type of reputation, his program will begin to sell itself. Until that time, however, Travis will have to give him the money it takes to make personal recruiting visits to each and every athlete Parrish wants to bring to K-State. Anything less simply won't cut it.

"I plan on being on the road recruiting every day between this Thursday and the Christmas holibeliever in a head coach personally visiting every recruit."

If Parrish spends the amount of time on the job that he indicated he would at the press conference, chances are he will be successful. But as former Wildcat coaches Vince Gibson, Ellis Rainsberger and Jim Dickey will tell him, anything less will lead to his ultimate demise.

The football program has nowhere to go but up. Travis has hired a man in Parrish that reminds one of current Kansas City Chiefs head coach John Mackovic - self-confident and not afraid to sell his product.

One can only hope, however, that Parrish will succeed where Mackovic has failed in his first three years at the K.C. helm and put a winner on the field at K-State. If he does, he will be long-remembered. If he doesn't, he'll join a long list of good men who tried to put a winner on the field at K-State and failed.

play an important role in his overall important considerations. Unfortu-Buffaloes spoil Parrish's going away party; K-State coach ends tough, three-year stint

John Crawford, left, and Jim Oehm carry Stan Parrish off the field after Saturday's game. This was Parrish's last game as head coach.

By Mike Rouse Sports Writer

BOULDER, Colo. - An era of K-State football ended Saturday as Stan Parrish walked off the field for the last time as head coach of the Wildcats.

Following a 31-28 loss to Lousiana Tech Oct. 1, Parrish announced he would resign at the end of the seaon. Parrish leaves K-State with a record of 2-30-1 during his threeyear stint, but he still has a winning record (57-41-3) over his 10-year collegiate coaching career. "I'll miss the kids and my staff more than anything in the world, but the rest I won't miss a lick," Parrish said Saturday after the Wildcats' 56-14 loss to Colorado.

"We have been through all these losses together and they're still hanging in there. It's over and K-State goes in a new direction," he said.

Since Parrish announced his resignation, K-State played seven games in which Parrish thought the team played well.

"I have put an incredible amount of effort into just keeping us going, but keeping them going isn't the name of game," he said. "I resigned seven weeks ago and it would have been easy for the kids to say, 'The hell with you,' but they continued to play," he said.

Eric Harper, who poured a bucket of water on Parrish after the game Saturday, said that he will lose a good friend when Parrish is gone.

"We've had some bad experiences and bad times. Stan was the one who brought me to K-State and it's like losing a good friend. I wish him the best," Harper said.

For now, Parrish planned on being moved out of his office by Sunday and was going to watch all the pro football games on Sunday.

Colorado linebacker Don DeLuzio knocks the ball from K-State wide receiver Greg Washington. The fumble was recovered by CU.

K-State guard Steve Henson puts pressure on Danish National team guard Henrik Starup-Hansen during the exibition game in Bramlage Coliseum. The 'Cats won 85-66. K-State will open their season Saturday against Purdue University.

K-State cruises to win over Danish nationals

By Russ Ewy Sports Writer

The K-State men's basketball team did not end its exhibition slate in a way which Coach Lon Kruger would have liked.

The 'Cats disposed of the Danish National team 85-66 in front of about 4,500 fans Friday night in Bramlage Coliseum, but only after a sluggish 40 minutes of basketball.

"I would have liked to come out of the game feeling a little more confident, but we have some things to work on," Kruger said. "We opened the ball game not ready to do the things that we need to do to be successful and they opened up the game comfortable.

"I think that it was a combination of their shooting ability and our lack of effectivness on defense. It seemed that we lacked the sting on defense and we need to improve on that."

K-State was kept under pressure by the sharp-shooting Danes until Henson hit a 21-footer. From there, K-State went on a 14-2 run, led by Henson's 10 points and capped by a last-second shot by Mark Dobbins, ending the first half ahead 45-29.

The Danish team came back in the middle of the second half and closed the gap to seven points, but K-State rallied with another scoring run to put the game

The Danes shot 57.8 percent from threepoint range, good for half of their scoring, while only hitting 46 percent from inside

Henson hit 10 of 10 free throws and 50 percent of his field goals to lead the 'Cats with 22 points, while both Fred McCoy and LaKeith Humphrey pumped in 11.

"Steve has always done what's asked of him," Kruger said. "I think he will come through for us this year."

Kruger will start his third season at the helm Saturday against the Purdue Boilermakers in front of a sellout crowd. Last year, the 'Cats upset Purdue in the NCAA Midwest Regionals 73-70. "I don't think that Purdue is after us as much as we're after them. But when the ball goes up, you really don't think of the (rivalry)," Kruger said. "What we need to do now is learn to transfer the things we do in practice to the game."

R. SMITH	21	3-0	1-1	0-0	2 1	1
ASSOP	20	4-6	0-0	1-3	8 1	9
IcCOY	20	3-5	0-0	5-6	5 5	11
ENSON	28	5-10	2-6	10-10	3 0	22
TANFIELD	11	0-0	0-0	1-2	0 2	1
umphrey	22	4-6	1-1	2-2	20	11
ettiger	20	0-1	0-0	1-3	3 4	1
ritt	20	4-6	0-0	0-2	4 3	8 5 2 2
obbins	19	2-5	1-2	0-0	5 3	5
iggins	13	1-3	0-0	0-0	0 0	2
ritz	4	1-1	0-0	0-0	2 0
immons	7	2-2	0-0	2-4	2 1	6
/eigel	7 2	0-0	0-0	0-0	1 0	0
Totals		29-51	5-10	22-32	41 20	85
ANISH	MN	FG	FG3	FT	RF	TP
EINHOLT	33	4-7	0-0	6-7	8 4	14
ANIELSEN	35	4-10	4-8	2-2	4 2	14
ORENSEN	27	1-2	0-0	0-2	1 3	2
ANSEN	32	6-13	.5-8	1-2	0 3	18
IELSEN	29	2-8	0-1	0-0	10	4
tampe	8	2-3	0-0	0-0	2 3
nudsen	15	2-3	0-0	0-3	3 4	4
ack Jensen	15	1-2	1-1	0-0	0 3	3
alsgaard	6	1-2	1-1	0-0	0 1	3
Totals	-	23-50	11-19	9-16	2123	66
a o sum		-	7 7 7 7

Halftime score: K-State 45, Danish 29. Turnovers: K-State 17, Danish 16. FG Pct.: K-State 56.8, Danish 46.

Chiefs down Seattle; Bills clinch East for second week in a row, 27-24

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - Nick Lowery's 40-yard field goal with 46 seconds left lifted the Kansas City Chiefs past the Seattle Seahawks 27-24 Sunday, but the NFL's hottest place kicker insists on sharing the

"I love it, but it's completely unfair to say I won the game," said Lowery, whose 39-yarder in the last seconds a week ago beat the Cincinnati Bengals. "I had my part to play, but how about the offensive line which has been maligned all year but did a super job," Lowery said. "And what about (quarterback) Steve DeBerg, and the defense with all the injuries we've had there?" Lowery leads the NFL in field goal accuracy this year, missing only once in 22 tries. "My job is easy, the way our offensive line has been playing," Lowery said. "We have not had one kick blocked all year, and I don't think there are many teams that can say can say they've lost seven in a row at Arrowhead Stadium like the Seahawks.

coach Chuck Knox said. "We can't line on a quarterback draw, and then blame anybody but ourselves. We scored on the bootleg. just got beat."

"The hex today was we had the advantage of them," Seahawk quarterback Dave Krieg said. "I don't play, 59-yard drive that tied it 24-24. know what it is about this place."

The Seahawks, 6-6, began the day tied with Denver and Los Angeles for first place in the AFC West.

"We knew we couldn't lose any games and we come in here and lose," Krieg said. "We'll find a way to bounce back, but this one hurts.

The Chiefs, 3-8-1, drove 51 yards in 13 plays to set up Lowery's heroics after the Seahawks had tied it 24-24 on Krieg's 14-yard touchdown pass to Brian Blades.

Steve DeBerg's 1-yard touchdown run on a quarterback bootleg had given the Chiefs a 24-14 lead less than a minute into the third period.

Lowery's 34-yard field goal following Jayice Pearson's interception of a Krieg pass gave the Chiefs a 17-14 lead early in the third period.

A few minutes later, Grant Neither are there very many who Feasel's low snap went through the legs of Seattle punter Ruben Rodriguez and the Chiefs took over on the Seahawks' 19. On third-and-6 from "The stadium didn't do it," Seattle the 15, DeBerg went to the 1-yard

Norm Johnson's 32-yard field opportunities and we didn't take goal made it 24-17 with 10:13 left and was followed by Seattle's seven-

> James Saxon and Christian Okoye scored on 2-yard runs to give the Chiefs a 14-0 lead in the first half. Then Krieg's 12-yard touchdown pass to Ray Butler cut it to 14-7 at halftime.

> On the second play of the second half, Terry Taylor stepped in front of Herman Heard to intercept a DeBerg pass and ran 27 yards for a touchdown that tied it 14-14.

> The Chiefs hadn't scored three rushing touchdowns in a game since Dec. 16, 1984.

> Officials first gave DeBerg a 15-yard touchdown run on his quarterback draw, but replay officials overruled the call.

> Albert Lewis, the two-time all-pro cornerback who played a key role in Kansas City's comeback victory the week before over Cincinnati, left in the second quarter with a bruised back and did not return.

Late Lowery field goal lifts KC | Bills edge New York in OT, 9-6; mistakes spoil Jets' upset bid

By The Associated Press

The AFC East race is over, sooner than it has ever been.

Scott Norwood's third field goal, from 30 yards at 3:47 of overtime, gave the Buffalo Bills a 9-6 victory over the New York Jets on Sunday that clinched the division crown. Buffalo, at 11-1 the best record in the league, clinched earlier than any AFC team has won its division since the NFL went to a 16-game schedule in 1978. It was the Bills first division crown since 1980.

Norwood's winning kick was set up by a fumble by New York's Roger Vick, who was stripped of the ball by Derrick Burroughs at the Jets' 32. The Bills ran four plays before calling on Norwood to win the game before Buffalo's seventh sellout crowd of the season. Many of those fans stormed the field and tore down the goalposts.

Said Bills owner Ralph C. Wilson Jr.: "It feels great because I remember when they were throwing programs at me.

Not all of the fans had a good time, however - security workers said three fans may have suffered broken legs in the process of tearing down

The Bills have won seven straight, while the Jets, 5-6-1, have dropped their last three.

from 25 and 26 yards, while Pat win ever. They also took a two-game Leahy hit from 23 and 40 yards. lead over the Rams in the NFC West Leahy's 40-yard attempt with 25 sec- and clinched their second consecuonds to play was blocked by nose tive winning season - the only two tackle Fred Smerlas.

Indianapolis, which sion last year, was eliminated when it lost 12-3 at Minnesota. New England and and Miami, the other two AFC East teams, played Sunday night with the Patriots winning, 6-3, but neither can catch the Bills.

Also Sunday, hard times continued for three of the NFL's most successful franchises. Dallas lost its eighth straight game, 38-24 to Cincinnati; Pittsburgh fell to 2-10 with a 27-7 loss at Cleveland, and Green Bay was beaten 19-9 at home by Detroit.

In other games, it was Chicago 27, Tampa Bay 15; Houston 38, Phoenix 20; Kansas City 27, Seattle 24; Atlanta 12, the Los Angeles Raiders 6: New Orleans 42, Denver 0; Philadelphia 23, the New York Giants 17 in overtime, and San Diego 38, the Los Angeles Rams 24.

Washington plays at San Francis-

At New Orleans, Bobby Hebert completed 20 of 23 passes for 193 yards and three touchdowns as the Norwood's other field goals came Saints recorded their most lopsided in team history.

> Hebert hit Eric Martin for 40- and 6-yard scores and also connected with John Tice for an 8-yard touchdown. Rueben Mayes had 115 yards rushing, the first time in 20 games he has gone over the 100-yard mark since coming off knee surgery.

Denver, 6-6, remained in a threeway tie with Seattle and the Raiders for the lead in the AFC West. The Broncos had only 52 yards rushing.

Boomer Esiason threw three touchdown passes and James Brooks scored on a 51-yard run while rushing for 148 yards for the AFC Central leaders, 9-3. Dallas' 2-10 record is its worst in 29 years.

Brooks, who leads the NFL in rushing average with 5.3 yards per carry, also caught a 13-yard scoring pass from Esiason, who also hit TD passes of 20 and five yards to Rodney

Nebraska ends spikers' season

By Russ Ewy Sports Writer

A season full of high hopes ended Saturday night at the hands of the Nebraska Cornhuskers in Ahearn Field House when the K-State volleyball squad lost in three straight games.

K-State stayed close with effective blocking but came up short in all three games, 15-11, 15-10, 15-10.

"We knew we had to be very physical," coach Scott Nelson said. "We had to block well at the net, attack well, and I think we did. That's why we even stayed in the match, but we just didn't do it at a high enough level.

"It's important in the system that we were running that we score a lot of points early in the game, because toward the end of the game, we become more conservative offensively."

Despite the aggressive blocking, the 'Cats were unable to slow down the 'Husker offensive attack which was led by All-American Lori Endicott.

"It seemed that all their cylinders were firing. With the physical play of their offense, they proved why they are the fifthranked team in the country," he

Nelson also had praise for the senior setter Endicott, who had a match-high 50 assists and a .505 assist percentage.

"When you have the No. 1 setter in the nation, she'll pull your team through the match," Nelson said. "She definitely controlled the tempo of the match. Half of what she touched went for a kill. Endicott dominated the play in the match and kept a lot of pressure on us. She is an All-American and she had an All-American performance.'

Saturday's match was the last for setter Mary Mignano and outside hitters Shawnee Call, Val Kastens and Mary Kinsey, who have used up their eligibility at K-

The 'Cats end the season 15-13 overall and 4-8 in the Big Eight, falling short of a berth in the conference tournament. K-State had won seven of its last 10 matches in an attempt to go to Salina along with Nebraska, Oklahoma and Colorado.

co Monday night. the $7,000 goalposts. Nebraska shuts down Sooners, 7-3; bowls take 4 conference teams

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - Nebraska just wouldn't let Oklahoma turn the corner.

The seventh-ranked Cornhuskers stopped the Oklahoma wishbone cold Saturday, taking a 7-3 victory in Norman to buy an Orange Bowl ticket with the Big Eight championship.

"Our defense just stuffed them when we had to," said Huskers coach Tom Osborne, who will take 11-1 Nebraska to play Miami in the Orange Bowl.

Elsewhere in the Big Eight, No. 13

Oklahoma State stunned Iowa State in the fourth quarter 49-28, Missouri gave Coach Woody Widenhofer a 55-17 victory over Kansas and Colorado kept Kansas State winless

The weekend left Oklahoma in the Citrus Bowl against Clemson, Oklahoma State in the Holiday Bowl against Wyoming and Colorado in the Freedom Bowl against Brigham

Nebraska, 7-0 in the Big Eight, beat Oklahoma for the first time in four years to win its first outright Big Eight title since 1983. A 31-game ended for the ninth-ranked Sooners, who finished 9-2 and 6-1 in the

'We couldn't do anything offensively, that's the trouble," said Sooners coach Barry Switzer. "Our ineptness on offense didn't allow us to compete in the ballgame. "Our defense played well enough to win. If you had told me we were only going to score three points, I'd have thought we'd have gotten the hell beat out of us."

Nebraska took the opening kickoff 80 yards for the only score of the conference winning streak was game, played through intermittent rain in 35-degree weather. Quarterback Steve Taylor scored from 1 yard

> Oklahoma, averaging 368 yards rushing per game, was held to 98 yards on the ground and 137 total yards. The Sooners failed to score a touchdown for the first time in 62 games, getting only a 29-yard field goal from R.D. Lashar.

Barry Sanders took his show to Ames as Oklahoma State turned back

Semifinals set for preseason tournament

By The Associated Press

Syracuse's first two baskets Sunday came on fast-break layups. The rest of the game wasn't much

The eighth-ranked Orangemen overcame Wyoming's pressure defense and rolled to an easy 107-81 victory Sunday over the Cowboys in the quarterfinals of the Big Apple National Invitation Tournament.

"We were getting it off the glass and they were leaving us out there with three-on-one opportunities, and we were able to convert," said Stephen Thompson, who led six Orangemen in double figures. Syracuse is 2-0.

Wyoming, 1-1, hoped to shut down Syracuse's fast break by outrebounding the Orangemen, but the strategy failed.

"We were able to run on them because they were sending everybody to the boards," Thompson said. "Give us credit. We worked hard getting out on the break."

Elsewhere in the quarterfinals of the NIT, it was No. 6 North Carolina 99, Georgia 91; No. 14 Missouri 83, Xavier, Ohio 71, and Indiana 84, No. 20 Stanford 73.

Byron Irvin scored 28 points and Missouri held off a second-half rally. Xavier, which upset fourth-ranked Louisville in the first round, cut Missouri's 13-point halftime lead to three midway through the final period, but Irvin hit a layup with 9:54 remaining and the Musketeers never threatened again.

Irvin was 11-for-17 from the field and 6-for-8 from the line. Doug Smith added 16 points and Lee Coward had 13 for Missouri, 2-0.

Stan Kimbrough led Xavier, 1-1, with 21 points and Derek Strong had Scott Williams scored 25 points and Kevin Madden had 18 as North Carolina knocked off Georgia.

The Tar Heels, 2-0, advanced to the semifinals with two big scoring runs and a defense that held off a Bulldog rally late in the first half.

Jay Edwards scored 11 of Indiana's first 20 points and the Hoosiers forced five Stanford players to foul

Universities helping ventilation companies

By Stuart Puls Collegian Reporter

K-State, Iowa State University and the University of Illinois have something special in common they are each helping local ventilation companies manufacture labtested ventilation fans.

K-State is working with Osborne Industries, one of four ventilation companies in the nation that sell labtested ventilation fans, on a project titled "Advancement of Technology for Livestock Ventilation Systems,' said Albert Heber, assistant professor of agricultural engineering and director of the project.

Osborne Industries manufactures fiberglass products for companies that make such products as industrial vehicles, athletic equipment, industrial machinery and home products. More than 60 percent of Osborne's sales are in agricultural equipment, particularly for livestock, Heber said.

Livestock growth and productivity suffer when there isn't proper ventilation. Therefore, K-State is doing research for Osborne to implement better mechanical ventilation, for small or large fans to be used in confinement livestock facilities, he said.

All the ventilation research being conducted by K-State is funded by the Kansas Technology Enterprise Corporation, Osborne, Kansas Agricultural Experiment Station, the Kansas Utilities and the Agricultural Engineering Department.

K-State is working on three KTEC-sponsored projects. The first KTEC/Osborne project involved a wind diverter, which prevents wind back-pressure on ventilation exhaust

K-State tested the diverter in the USDA Wind Erosion Laboratory on omprehensive

campus. While in the tunnel, the diverter was tested for oncoming winds, along with winds from the side and from angles, Heber said.

"(K-State researchers) were able to improve the design of their wind diverter in this first project," he said. 'We quantified the detrimental effects that our strong Kansas winds would have on the airflows of unprotected exhaust fans."

The first project cost about $25,000, with Osborne contributing $12,000 and the Kansas Committee on the Relation of Electricity to Agriculture contributing $5,000. KTEC gave $8,000 to the project.

K-State and Osborne Industries are finishing work on the second KTEC project in which they studied variable-speed fans and characterized the performance of Osborne's present system.

"We tested various things on the simulations along with lab tests to fans and defined where some problems were and what could be done to correct them," Heber said.

The second project, due for completion in December, cost Osborne and KTEC nearly $5,000.

The third KTEC project began in August and will not be completed until August 1990. It is a designoptimization project for variablespeed fan systems, using results from the second project, and also a test to measure the electrical harmonics produced by the motor and controller of variable-speed fans, he said.

Harmonics are higher frequencies of current and voltage that distort the normal waveform of electricity. This can cause radio and telephone interference and motor overheating while degrading the quality of electricity supplied, Heber said.

The research will use computer components, including the motor, the propeller and the controller, he said.

K-State has a "state-of-the-art" motor-testing facility for relatively small motors. By testing the motors, Osborne and K-State will be able to properly study the total fan system, Heber said.

"We are not sure from the overall fan efficiencies obtained from the fan tests whether inefficiencies are caused by the motor or by the propeller or both," he said.

The third project will cost about $36,000. Most of the support will come from the Kansas Electrical Utility Research Program, which will donate $16,000. Osborne will contribute $12,000 and KTEC will give $8,000.

The Utility Research Program is interested in the results of the harmonics testing, Heber said, mainly optimize the design of individual due to its potential to degrade the quality of the electric power supplied.

Other faculty members working on the projects with Heber are John Slocombe and Joe Hamer, associate professors of agricultural engineering and Medhat Marcos, assistant professor of electrical engineering.

Steve Cole, a recent graduate with a master's degree in agricultural engineering, worked on the first project and Junping Li, graduate student in engineering, helped with the design-optimization study. An undergraduate honors research program has also been initiated to contribute to the projects.

"Osborne Industries is a progressive company striving to be one of the top fan manufacturers. We learn from them and they learn from us. It is an exchange of knowledge," Heber

If you need abortion or birth control services, we can help.

Confidential pregnancy testing . Safe, affordable abortion services . Birth control . Tubal ligation . Gyn exams .

Testing and treatment for sexually transmitted diseases. Providing quality health care to women since 1974. Insurance, VISA & MasterCard accepted.

lealth for Women 4401 West 109th (1-435 & Roe) Overland Park, Kansas For information and appointments (913) 345-1400 Toll Free (except KS) 1-800-227-1918

Hey K-Staters:

If you're not able to go home this week, join us for our Thanksgiving buffet with turkey, ham and all the trimmings (only $7.95 and 10% discount with K-State id)! You'll be thankful you did. Those of you traveling, please drive safely and we'll see you when you return.

539-2651

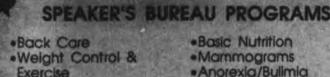

Village Plaza Shopping Center

SPEAKER'S BUREAU

Just Another Way to Better Serve Our Community

Professional medical personnel from Memorial Hospital are proud to offer their service, by providing programs for organizations and events. Health Education is just another way we are "working together for a healthier you."

To schedule a program or for more information please call the Director of Education, at (913) 776-3300, ext. 113 weekdays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. A minimum of 3 weeks notice is needed to schedule a speaker.

 Fitness & Exercise Stress Management/ Relaxation

 Sports Injuries Cardiovascular Fitness

 Diobetes Poison Prevention

•The Medicated Generation-The Elderly Medi-Mate Program
 Family Life-Birthing, Baby

 Anorexia/Bullmia Home Care Equipment

Home Oxygen/ Respiratory Therapy ·Lung Disease

•Smoking Cessation •Tissue & Organ Donation

•Trends in Health Care Heart Healthy Diets Labor and Delivery

·Blood Bank ·Health Care in Manhattan

Memorial Hospital

Autologous Transfusions • And Many, Many More

We're working together for a healthier you.

1105 Sunset • Manhattan, KS 66502 • 913-776-3300

PRICES ARE FALLING ON NEW MUSIC!

CASSETTE OR LP ONLY $599

BRITNY FOX -BRITNY FOX (CBS)

CD only $999

TOMMY CONWELL

& THE YOUNG RUMBLERS-RUMBLE (CBS)

CD only $1000

SALT 'N' PEPA ASSAULT WITH A DEADLY PEPA (Next Plateau)

CD only $999

RHYTHM CORPS COMMON GROUND (CBS)

CD only $999

CASSETTE OR LP

K-State Union

K-State Union Bookstore has the tunes you're looking for!!

CD only $1290

SOLSTICE II (Windham Hill) CD only $1200

NIGHTNOISE -AT THE END OF

THE EVENING (Windham Hill) CD only $1200

(Windham Hill) CD only $1299

PLAYGROUND (Atlantic)

CD only $1100

Limited time!! Buy now for Christmas!! Sale ends Nov. 30th.

Bookstore is making changes with the student in mind!

WE'RE NOW OPEN LATER WEEKDAYS AND OPEN ON WEEKENDS FOR YOUR SHOPPING CONVENIENCE!!! Saturday 9am-5pm Bookstore hours: Monday - Thursday 8am-8pm Friday 8am-5pm

Check out our NEW line of cassettes & CD's at competitive prices!!

Social crisis plagues S. Africa

By The Associated Press

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa - Severe economic problems aggravated by the costs of apartheid are causing a spread of hunger, disease and unemployment in South Africa, a prominent research organization reported Sunday.

The South African Institute of Race Relations, an independent group with a reputation for impartial research, said in its annual survey that "the effects of economic decline pervade the picture of South African society."

Housing experts estimate that 7 million of the nation's 26 million blacks live in shacks, the report said.

It quoted the National Tuberculosis Association as reporting that the disease, although preventable, was killing 10 people a day.

The institute cited a university study forecasting that South Africa could have a surplus of 9 million unskilled workers without jobs by the year 2000 unless the economy is revitalized.

Unemployment estimates among blacks range from 20 percent to 50 percent, though reliable figures are not available.

"Economic problems continue to be exacerbated by expenditure on segregated structures, and by the government's failure to meet black political demands," the report said. It referred to a recent speech by President P.W. Botha in which he said the government's plans to eliminate inequalities in social services were being disrupted by foreign sanctions and embargoes in protest of apartheid, under which the black majority has no voice in national

Botha said the "campaign of economic war being waged against us" could deprive the government of $400 million for social programs over the next five years and delay their implementation by 10 to 15

The race relations institute cited estimates that the government wasted $400 million each year operating racially segregated health

Government health officials reported widespread malnutrition problems, and Operation Hunger, a private group, said it was feeding 1.2 million South Africans a day, according to the institute's report.

The report said economic problems had sidetracked a longstanding government promise to equalize perpupil spending at black and white schools. This initiative has been stalled because the country's annual economic growth rate is now 2.5 percent, instead of the projected 4.1 percent rate on which the plan was based, the report said.

Of government spending on education, 41 percent went to white schools, although only 11 percent of the students were white, the report

University program to cater to America's love of ice cream

By The Associated Press

COLUMBIA, Mo. - Modern Americans have fallen in love with ice cream again, and the University of Missouri-Columbia is working to keep the affair kindled.

The university, long a leader in dairy sciences, is spending $160,000 to revamp existing buildings into a high-tech ice cream research center, said Robert Marshall, leader of MU's new ice cream program.

"It's our desire to be the No. 1 laboratory and teaching center in the nation," he said. "We're going to have a top-notch facility."

Along with the new research center, which is about 40 percent complete, MU is working to get some $300,000 into its endowment for ice cream and frozen dessert endowment is named for the late W.S. Arbuckle, a 1940 MU graduate who was considered one of the nation's authorities on ice cream.

The university's push comes just after the ice cream world was turned topsy-turvy by the popularity of expensive products such as Haagen-Dazs and Ben and Jerry's, Marshall said.

"The industry used to try to make ice cream as cheaply as possible. Now they are seeing that might not have been the best way to go," he said.

It was the high-quality and expensive brands that were responsible for the decade of almost steady growth in ice cream consumption, said Jim Miller, a dairy economist with the U.S. Department of Agriculture. In 1987 the research, Marshall said. The average American consumed more than 18.3 pounds of the frosty dessert, up one pound from a decade earlier, according to government statistics. Sales of the premium products rose steadily through the 1980s before stalling in mid-1987, Miller said. "The high side of the business has kind of stumbled lately." However, the demand for ice cream is solid going into the 1990s, Miller said.

To keep demand for ice cream growing, Marshall said MU's laboratory will search for improved formulations and develop new products.

One of the biggest challenges is finding a way to reduce the amounts of fat and cholesterol in ice cream without losing the traditional taste and texture.

Want to make some extra CASH?

Over Thanksgiving, dig through your closets and bring back all your old cards!

BASEBALL CARDS BOF EVERY YEAR

In 12 Months It's Yours

- Try Before You Buy
- Cancel at any Time

- Learn How to Operate On Your Own
- Great for Fill In Equipment Needs · Low, Low Monthly Cost
- Free Maintenance During
- Pick Your Favorite Computer · Your Choice of Printers
- Delivery and Set Up Available Catch Up On Overdue Work/Class Assignments
- Improve and Learn New Office Skills

Todays Computers

In Kraft Manor

913-823-7596

29840 32870 33800 00250 05830 11470 13970 Closed Classes 01090 05870 11630 13990 17930 24390 25990 26840 29990 32990 33930 01420 05880 11640 14050 19510 24500 26000 26860 31230 33010 34010 01540 05900 11650 14060 19520 24740 26010 26890 31330 33040 34060 01640 05910 11660 14080 19680 24760 26070 26920 31370 33050 34120 02000 05920 11670 14270 19720 24850 26080 26930 31750 33060 34420 02080 05940 11680 14360 19860 24860 26090 26940 31760 33080 34530 02140 05980 11690 14370 20070 24870 26110 26950 31770 33090 34540 02390 06130 11700 14420 20080 24880 26160 26980 31810 33100 34570 02460 06950 11710 14530 20090 24900 26220 26990 31820 33110 34630 02510 06960 11720 14680 20100 25030 26270 27400 31840 33120 34640 02660 07090 11730 15040 20360 25060 26271 27460 31900 33130 34890 02680 07170 11750 15050 20410 25130 26410 27470 31910 33140 34940 03150 07250 11810 15070 20420 25220 26440 29470 32000 33150 35210 03170 08910 11850 15100 20560 25230 26450 29480 32010 33160 35300 03600 09140 11860 15180 20850 25260 26470 29490 32040 33170 35370 03950 09250 11940 15220 21020 25640 26480 29560 32680 33190 35440 04050 09400 11980 15250 21130 25650 26600 29670 32690 33200 35470 04080 09640 11990 15330 21250 25700 26610 29700 32740 33210 35730 04090 09660 12440 15470 21260 25740 26620 29710 32750 33290 36310 04240 09690 12450 15480 22300 25750 26630 29720 32770 33320 36320 04450 09800 12620 15560 22630 25780 26650 29730 32780 33330 36350 04490 09830 13240 17040 22660 25790 26670 29750 32790 33340 36620 04800 11230 13370 17110 22670 25840 26680 29760 32810 33430 37090 04910 11350 13760 17120 22700 25850 26710 29770 32820 33580 37140 05630 11370 13770 17340 22720 25880 26720 29780 32830 33590 37520 05700 11450 13780 17830 22940 25920 26760 29790 32840 33680 37600 05820 11460 13890 17900 23080 25960 26770 29820 32850 33780 37720

You Can't Pay More than $44.95! Complete Eyeglasses SINGLE

VISION

BIFOCALS

Our only Extras: Cox Coating (scratch guard)-$10 and Photo Grey Extra (lenses that darken)-$10.

Payless Optical Outlet

537-1574 M-F 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. Sat. 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

NEED TO GET YOUR MESSAGE OUT?

Selling your bicycle?

Need a job?

Buying a sofa?

Need a roommate?

Kedzie 103

Phone 532-6555

Deadline-noon the day before publication

Compatibility Defined

IBM-Com-pat'i-bil'i-ty adv. 1. Capable of existing together in harmony. 2. Able to use most common software; usu. of the business/research world. 3. Growth & flexibility. 4. Hyundai 16TE.

HYUNDA

Introducing the Super 16TE PC-compatible.

Introducing a new level of IBM-compatibility, speed (10Mhz) and flexibility (5 expansion slots). Each Hyundai includes 640K memory, a "101" keyboard, full software (wp, spreadsheet, database), orientation, support and an 18 month warranty. Best of all- its backed by $20 billion Hyundai Corporation and your local Connecting Point Computer Center in Westloop Shop. Center.

Retail KSU Price. Disc. $ 1045. $ 735. 30% ☐ Super 16TE Sample Systems: ☐ 2 drive, amber monitor 1095. 2 drive, color monitor 1299.

Based upon full system purchase. IBM is a reg. tm of IBM Corp.

30Mb, amber monitor

☐ 30Mb, color monitor

KSU's "Seoul" Authorized Hyundai Dealer

Connecting Point. 333 COMPUTER CENTER

1115 Westloop Shop. Ctr 539-0801

Attention KSU Apple Purchasers:

Connecting Point's "Apple Team" has contracted to support KSU departmental and personal purchases. Call us for assistance in selecting systems, software solutions and ordering your Mac. Connecting Point has a full line of Apple "Add-Ons" from disks to software to cases to drives.

Brandt exhibit set for display at Union

By Eva Craig Collegian Reporter

Artist Scott Brandt will kick off his Union Gallery exhibit with a slide-lecture orientation today at 7:30 p.m. in the Union Little Theater.

The title of the exhibition is "Ceramics, Prints and Paper." Displayed will be Brandt's mixed-media works, said Karen Smaldone, program adviser for Union Program Council.

"His work is three-dimensional and very abstract," she said. Brandt was chosen as the lecturing artist based on his lecture experience and the quality of his work, Smaldone said.

"His work is exceptional, and, since he is a college instructor, he has experience lecturing," she

Brandt received a bachelor's degree in interior design from Maryville College and his master's degree in printmaking/ ceramics from Washington University, both in St. Louis.

He has had numerous individual exhibitions in galleries in St. Louis, as well as exhibitions with groups internationally. Two of his prints are displayed in the Municipal Government offices of Mayor Shunichi Kasahara of Suwa City, Japan, and Mayor Zhang Yaohu of Nanjing, China, its sister city.

One of Brandt's biggest accomplishments was as project director in the 1987 "St. Louis Contemporary Works: An International Exchange."

Brandt has worked as an interior designer with LVK Associates of St. Louis.

PLO says U.S., Israel blocking peace

By The Associated Press

AMMAN, Jordan - King Hussein said Sunday the PLO has met American conditions for a place in Arab-Israeli peace talks and suggested Israel and the United States were blocking peace.

Hussein made the comments in an interview on CBS television's "Face the Nation." The program was screened on state-run television in Jordan, which shares Israel's longest

"I believe the PLO has gone as far as it was asked to go and has contributed its share for progress toward a just and comprehensive peace," the king said.

Israel for years has pinned its peace hopes on a separate deal with Hussein, cutting out the Palestine Liberation Organization. But Hussein insists that the PLO take part in any Middle East settlement.

The PLO's policy-setting Palestine National Council last week endorsed U.N. Security Council resolutions 242 and 338, implying recognition of Israel's right to exist.

It also endorsed the Cairo Declaration, which calls for an end to 21 years of worldwide Israeli-PLO underground warfare and restricts guerrilla operations to military targets in Israel and the occupied territories.

Israel officially rejected the council's move, saying the organization has not explicitly recognized Israel nor renounced terrorism. The United States also had refused to deal with the PLO until it renounced terrorism.

"I believe they have denounced terrorism time and again," Hussein said. "I believe that if there is any intransigence - and there is indeed it is in the Israeli position, which hasn't changed, and up to now the United States' position.

"I believe our friends in Washington had better go back and look at the papers and positions they adopted and they will find there is no difference between their initial demands and requests and suggestions and what the PLO has come through with now."

U.S. officials have reacted cautiously to the PLO declarations. Resolution 242, adopted in 1967, called for an Israeli withdrawal from the territories it captured in that year's Arab-Israeli war - the West Bank and Gaza Strip. Resolution 338, passed in 1973, called for implementation of the earlier resolution and negotiations for "a just and durable peace in the Middle East."

Hussein said there would be "no

Get Personal With a Collegian Classified!

AGGIEVILLE

hope for peace" if Israel's hard-line

Likud faction holds to its demands that Israel maintain all of the territory land the Arabs hope to trade in return form a new Israeli government following Nov. 1 elections and is trying elect George Bush's claim that a Palestinian state would be a threat to way," said the monarch, who has guided the often-imperiled kingdom

Hussein disputed U.S. President-

"I see no threat in any form or to forge a coalition government.

The Likud bloc has been asked to captured from the Arabs in 1967 -

Thanksgiving centerpieces

FLOWERS

$10 and up

(cash n' carry) 12th & Laramie 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Mon.-Sat. 537-9549

DISPLAY ADVERTISING DEADLINE

4 p.m. 2 DAYS

532-6560

TEMPORARY

during Christmas break in Johnson County

Available for typists, word processors, file clerks, data entry and light industrial.

Please phone for appointment. Will be interviewing on Friday Nov. 25, 8:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

BOSSLER-HIX TEMPORARIES

11015 Metcalf, Overland Park, Ks. Call Ann 1-913-491-0944

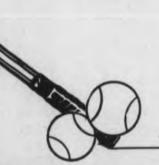

Before Run Date Collegian Advertising

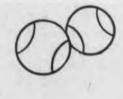

Lee Co.

presents

The Jones Store Co.

Tennis Classic

Lendl vs. Agassi

Wednesday, November 23, 1988 7:30 p.m.

Municipal Auditorium Arena

-Becker was forced to withdraw due to injury-

For ticket refunds take to Cats outlets-your place of purchase by Nov. 23

No refunds will be offered after this date.

Collegian advertising has what you need

BUY ONE Sandwich or Dinner GET ONE FREE 1 with any reg. price Mondays only

UNITED ARTISTS

$2.50 PER PERSON SHOWS BEFORE 6:00 p.m.

JA SETH CHILDS 6 TH CHILDS AT FARM BUREAU RD. 776

TRESH HORSES PG-13 7:15, 9:40 Set, Sun. 2:15, 4:35 THEY LIVE R 2:20, 4:40, 7:20, 9:30 IRON EAGLE II PG

Daily 7:15, 9:35 SAT. & SUN. 2:10, 4:40 EVERYBODY'S ALL-AMERICAN R 2, 4:30, 7:10, 9:45 LAND BEFORE TIME G 7:10, 9:30 Sat., Sun. 2:10, 4:40

ERNEST SAVES CHRISTMAS PG

for men and women MANHATTAN & TOWN CENTER

776-5577

PIZZA SHUTTLE "NO COUPON SPECIALS"

rime Time Special 3-10 in. Pizzas 1—Topping 4-Cokes °10.00

Everyday Two-Fers 2-10 in. pizzas 2—Toppings 2-Cokes $8.00

776-5577

FAST N FREE DELIVERY

UIRECTORY

Westside

Amoco

VISA

·Self-Service & Full Service

3001 Anderson 539-4331

Mike's

Wrecker Service

•24 Hour Service

Wheel Lift Service

(913) 539-4221

·Food Shop

·Minor Auto Repairs

AUTO

Post Muffler House

- Complete Exhaust Systems

- Free Estimates - Custom Exhaust - Installation

776-8955 700 N. 3rd

Western Auto

Your Total Automotive Headquarters!!

Automotive Accessories and High Performance *Discount Auto Parts *Professional Installation

*Complete line of Available Self-Service Gasoline *Convenient Store Hours

'Fast Friendly Service Western Auto

> Low Discount Prices Everyday of the week

Western Auto The Auto Supply Company

539-0535

Tuttle Creek Blvd. & Kimball Ave. Next to Dutch Maid

THOMASON AUTO

AMERICAN & FOREIGN •Transmission •Starters •Brakes ·Alternators •Tune-ups

776-1366

COMPLETE LINE OF FOREIGN PARTS Quality Parts

539-0577 315 S. 3rd "AT THE VIADUCT" 9-5:30 M.F. 9-1 Sat.

161 McDowell Creek Blvd. *Auto Tune-ups Man *Electrical Repairs

Automatic Transmission Service Clark Heater & Air Conditioner Service 539-1040 BODY SHOP INC. 214 Colorado

COMPLETE BODY REPAIR SINCE 1967

ESTIMATES INSURANCE CLAIMS

WELCOME

2160 Pillsbury Dr. . S. Hwy. 177

SERVICE

11/2 miles E. on U.S. 24

IMPORT CAR PARTS & SERVICE EXPERT MECHANICS ON DUTY

> Roasonable Prices Lots of Free Advice

*Diesel Engine Service *Computer Engine Analysis

C&M AUTO SUPPLY

Parts · Supplies Equipment • Accessories ·Automotive Paints · Welding Supplies DOMESTIC-IMPORTS-CUSTOM PARTS

776-4747

Mon.-Sat. 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m. 305-311 South 4th

KSU Friends offers community service

By Christina Doherty Collegian Reporter

KSU Friends of Big Brothers/Big Sisters, a new campus organization, gives people an opportunity to work with area children through Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Manhattan.

"KSU Friends of Big Brothers/Big Sisters is a new campus organization started because there was an expressed interest by KSU students who couldn't give three to six hours a week to a child or weren't going to be here very long. There was a community service opportunity happening that was being unused," said Migette Forssberg, junior in interior design and president of KSU Friends.

Any K-State students, faculty members, staff members or their spouses may join this organization.

In this organization, students do not have to be a Big Brother/Big Sister to a child, but can work with the organization by participating in activities involving children who may be on a waiting list to get someone or children who already have someone assigned to them, Forssberg said.

"It helps children who have the potential to be possible problem children," Forssberg said.

chance to meet some people and, in the long run, keeps kids from getting in trouble, which benefits the community," said Mark Stenberg, sophomore in mechanical engineering and member of KSU Friends.

To become a member, one must attend an informational meeting, be willing to be active in the organization and be interested in volunteering, Forssberg said.

"At this point, the activities we are planning that involve the waiting children are skating and swimming,' Forssberg said.

Not only do the children benefit from this organization, but also the members of KSU Friends benefit, Forssberg said.

"If you get involved one on one (with a child), you realize you're making a difference in someone's life. It's a good community service type of program," Forssberg said.

"I wanted to do something good for the community. I want to help out the kids and become good friends with them and maybe learn something about myself," Stenberg said.

KSU Friends is also a good way to become a Big Brother/Big Sister. To become a Big Brother/Big Sister, members must go through an application process which includes getting recommendations.

Brokerage firm offers scholarships

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK - Merrill Lynch & Co. and the National Urban League have promised 250 first-graders in 10 cities either full college scholarships or $1,000 cash for those preferring the military or a

Representatives of the civil rights group and the nation's largest brokerage firm planned to unveil their joint "ScholarshipBuilder" program in ceremonies set for Monday at the 16 elementary schools named as participants in the

"You are the hope for our future," said Merrill Lynch chairman William A. Schreyer in remarks prepared for delivery Monday morning at the Rafael Hernandez-Langston Hughes Elementary School in East Harlem, one of the schools chosen.

"That is why we are investing now in your higher education. In return we want you to stay in school, to study well, to be free to dream important dreams, and to know that you can make them come true," he said. Other corporations and philanthropists have offered similar tuition guarantees in recent years to persuade youngsters to stay in school. Philanthropist Eugene Lang, for example, promised 61 East Harlem sixth-graders full college scholarships if they stayed in school. A group of businessmen called the "100 Black Men of Atlanta" is acting as mentors to a class of 28 ninth-graders and is guaranteeing their college

But Schreyer said "Scholarship-Builder" differs in several respects from other such "adopt-a-class" programs.

"Our program begins earlier in the child's educational career - first grade — and provides funds not only for college or other postsecondary education but also a stipend upon high school graduation for students who immediately become fully employed or who enter military service.

The schools selected for the program are in Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Detroit, Houston, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, and Washington. A school in Philadelphia is to be named shortly, according to Merrill Lynch.

The Merrill Lynch Foundation, the brokerage's charitable arm, will finance the scholarships initially with a $500,000 annual contribution, or $2,000 per student, to cover college tuitions estimated to reach $17,500 by the year 2000, when this year's crop of first-graders will enter their freshman year.

Those getting jobs straight out of high school or entering the military would receive a one-time $1,000 cash payment to cover clothing and travel expenses.

The foundation's future annual contribution could go up or down to meet projected average college costs. But foundation president John A. Fitzgerald estimated his fund eventually would contribute about $8 million, which could appreciate to $16 million through investments by the time students are old enough to draw upon it.

The foundation already donates some $3 million a year to educational organizations, according to Merrill Lynch spokesman William

The Urban League selected inner city schools, each of which ranked high in terms of orderliness, attendance rates, parental involvement and other "effectiveness" measures. Students were then chosen by random selection, but with an eye toward ethnic and racial balance.

Enter the Zenith Data Systems

MASTERS of INNOVATION COMPETITION

Win a $5,000* Zenith Computer System.

We're searching for tomorrow's innovators. If you've developed or used software or hardware—that is compatible with Zenith Data Systems products-to creatively address a problem or task in your field of study, we want to hear from you.

You could win a $5,000* Zenith Data Systems computer system for yourself, $5,000* worth of computer equipment for your college campus given in your name, and national recognition from your peers.

For More Information And Official Rules, Call 1-800-553-0301. Competition Ends March 1, 1989. Void Where Prohibited.

Albert Einstein in cross live The Roger Richman Agency, Inc. Beverly Hills, CA.

514 Humboldt Plaza Sports Dentistry Department 913-537-8831

Trade agreement major issue in Canadian elections today

By The Associated Press

TORONTO - Supporters and opponents of the U.S.-Canada free trade agreement combined lastminute electioneering Sunday with a final advertising blitz on the eve of national elections.

Prime Minister Brian Mulroney, buoyed by recent polls that showed his Progressive Conservative Party back in the lead, toured his native Quebec while his leading rival, Liberal Party leader John Turner, campaigned in Vancouver, British

Both have focused on the trade deal - the major issue in Monday's

Mulroney told a Saturday news conference in Quebec that he would call Parliament back into session quickly to proceed with final passage

Headache? Back Pain?

Neck Pain?

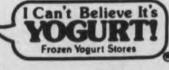

Not with Chiropractic Call 537-8305 Dr. Mark Hatesohl 3252 Kimball Ave.

New Nonfat Frozen Yogurt

Same great taste with no fat or cholesterol

Nautilus Towers-Aggieville Phone 537-1616 Manhattan

Vistaburger (a $1.44 value)

with a minimum purchase of 8 gal. of gas at

720 N. Third Where else in Kansas can you get a Great deal like this? (checks with student ID accepted)

of the pact, which Turner has vowed to reject.

In an interview with this week's Maclean's magazine, Mulroney was quoted as saying he would try to pursue the trade agreement even if his party can only form a minority

'The trade deal is a must for Canada's future," he was quoted as saying. "It's a visionary instrument of job creation and new wealth and it is clearly something that is on the right side of history.'

But Turner has revived his campaign by saying the pact threatened to make Canada a U.S. colony.

Speaking at a Saturday campaign rally, Turner repeated his call to "keep Canada Canadian for Canadians" and cancel the pact with a vote for his party.

In this week's Maclean's, Turner was quoted as saying the pact "would radically change the direction of our country. It yields the economic levers of sovereignty: our energy, our investment policy, our capital markets, supply-management of agriculture.

Local ads going satellite

By Lori Rice-Morsell Collegian Reporter

Viewers of ESPN, CNN, USA and MTV satellite networks may have noticed local ads on these stations and wondered how local businesses get ads on a satellite

Since March, a company called Kansas Cable Ads has offered this service to businesses in Manhattan, Junction City, Hutchinson and Salina, said Robert Justus, coowner of Kansas Cable Ads.

Each of these satellite networks allot two minutes each hour for local commercials. CNN schedules its two minutes together, while the other networks have two oneminute slots, Justus said.

Most businesses pay $540 per month for 30-second spots which are played four times a day. These ads are popular because they are seen "in over 90 percent of homes (and because) it is a way to target, demographically, the people you want to appeal to," he said.

Kansas Cable Ads usually makes ads on location, Justus said, but the studio at Channel 6, a local station, also has been used.

The spot is put on a master tape, so by using local insertion equipment, the ad is inserted into the time slot provided by the network, said Jerry Marrow, Program Director of Cable TV in Manhattan.

One local business, Varney's Book Store, used ads on MTV, USA and ESPN for a back-toschool promotion, said Jon Levin, president and general manager of Varney's.

The bookstore did this as "a departure from the usual advertising plan," Levin said.

Clipping this ad could introduce you to that person you've wanted to meet all semester.

If you've spent the semester watching one particular person, it's time for you to write a Collegian Personal ad. A Personal will intrigue your mystery person and give you the opportunity to introduce yourself. Just bring this ad to Kedzie 103 to start your winter romance.

YOUR NAME
PHONE
ADDRESS
.D. NUMBER
DAY TO RUN
MESSAGE
	The state of the s
	39/8/3
	C. P. V. 17 . D.

Collegian Pusonals

OUR DOORS WILL BE

OPEN

THANKSGIVING EEKEN

SATURDAY, NOV. 26TH

Building Hours: 12n - 8pm Stateroom: 12n - 8pm Recreation: 2pm - 11pm Info Counter: 12n - 8pm Bookstore: 12n - 8pm

SUNDAY, NOV. 27TH

Building Hours: 12n - 10pm Stateroom: 12n - 10pm Recreation: 2pm - 10pm Info Counter: 12n - 9:30pm Bookstore: 12n - 5pm

Plus! Ride the K-State Union Express Wildcat Game Shuttle Nov. 26th!!

European allies withdraw forces

By The Associated Press

MANAMA, Bahrain - Gambling that peace will prevail despite a deadlock in Iraq-Iran peace talks, the United States' European allies are stepping up the postwar dismantling of their military forces in the Persian Gulf.

In recent days the mine sweeper Crocus, the last of three Belgian warships deployed to the gulf a year ago, sailed for home. The last five Italian warships and one from the Netherlands are preparing to leave by Dec. 31.

Officials said those moves, like an earlier cutback in France's regional fleet from 11 to seven ships, came because the Iraq-Iran ceasefire, three months old Sunday, had brought stability to the gulf.

The European actions could add pressure on President-elect George Bush to step up an American pullout, according to U.S. diplomats and military officials, speaking on condition of anonymity.

The United States has withdrawn one ship and scaled back convoys and other operations. But its 25 warships represent about half the foreign vessels in the Diplomats said defense budget cutters are likely to focus on the operation, whose monthly cost the Pentagon estimated at $15 million-$20 million at its peak.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

helped make the arrest, said he had followed Tenpenny into the tiny one-exit parking lot that is surrounded by the east and north wings of Putnam

Football

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6

on the drives. We always seem to

K-State's first score came in the second quarter when Straw threw a one-yard pass to Alan Friedrich. The drive started on K-State's 48-yard line after Eric Harper recovered a

Later, a 13-yard pass from Straw to Washington put the ball on the 1-yard line. The Buffalo defense then held K-State on three running plays before the pass to Friedrich. The touchdown was the first for K-State

Colorado had an excellent game

Bloom County

from backup halfback J.J Flannigan, against Colorado since 1984.

turn the ball over," Parrish said.

Chase

U.S. officials, however, say the American commitment to peacekeeping has led to the best-ever relations with the Arab gulf states, and the Arab leaders remain nervous about a hasty pullout.

"They have made it clear they want us here and they aren't pushing for us to leave too quickly," said a senior diplomat.

U.S. military sources say Arab sensitivity to a U.S. pullout prompted Pentagon officials in September to fudge reports on the departure of the USS Vincennes, listing the cruiser as still on duty nearly a week after it left the area.

The Pentagon says decisions on reducing the U.S. Joint Task Force Middle East — 15 ships in the gulf and a 10 in the Arabian Sea — depend on the Iran-Iraq cease-fire holding.

The Pentagon has given no timetable for cutbacks but says the gulf-based force eventually would revert to five or six ships, the level before last year's buildup to protect shipping endangered by the gulf's "tanker war."

The U.N.-sponsored truce has held despite warnings from leaders in both Baghdad and Tehran that fighting could resume if no peace agreement is achieved.

"The general feeling seems to be that the (war) momentum in the gulf is gone, and even if fighting started elsewhere it wouldn't spread," a U.S. diplomat said.

Sauerbrunn said Tenpenny had smashed into the back of the driver's side of Hetrick's car, sending it into the side of Reinheimer's vehicle. He said he was too close behind Tenpenny to avoid the same collision. Meanwhile, a Riley County sheriff's vehicle sustained some damage when sealing off the exit, preventing Tenwho rushed for 151 yards on 20 carries and scored three touchdowns.

Flannigan stepped into the starting job after star running back Eric Bien-

One of Colorado's offensive highlights came on a 90-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Eric Walters to Jeff Campbell in the third quarter.

Colorado turnovers, including two interceptions by junior Tyresse

For K-State, a second straight sea-

"We should be better next year.

"It's over, and K-State goes in a

OUR ADS WERE LATE.

WAS WEAK!

We're 0-0 now and we get to start fresh in August," junior Lorne new direction from here and that is son of winless football and the era of Stan Parrish has come to end.

K-State's defense did force five penny's escape.

nimey was injured.

Herds.

Whittle said.

that," Parrish said.

OUR VOLUNTEERS

WERE UN-

MOTIVATED

AND FINGERS ARE STILL POINTING.

Kedzie 103 ClassAds

One day: 15 words or fewer, $2.50, 20 cents per word over 15; Two consecutive dates: 15 words or fewer, $3.50, 25 cents per word over 15; Three consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 cents per word over 15; Four conse tive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.75, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $5.00, 40 cents per word over 15.

CLASSIFIED RATES

Classifieds are payable in advance unless client an established account with Student Publications. Deadline is noon the day before publication; noon

PRIDAY for Monday's paper.
Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the advertiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not alter the value of the ad.

Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103 or by calling 532-8555.

Dieplay Classified Rates
One day: $5.20 per inch; Three consecutive days;
$5.00 per inch; Five consecutive days; $4.80 per inch;
Ten consecutive days: $4.80 per inch. (Deadline is 4.30 p.m. two days before publication.)
Classified advertising is available only to those who do not disciminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex or ancestry.

Announcements

ALL YOUR Mary Kay needs -skincare -glamor -nails -gifts for all seasons. Floris Taylor, 539-2070. FLYING INTEREST you? For information on K-State Flying Club call Sam Knipp, 539-6193.

PARTY GAS (helium)... you fill... we fill... our balloons... your balloons. 1231 Westloop, 539-4038. PERMS; $19.95 includes cut and style. Tan 10 sessions

SKI COLORADOI $25/ night for two. Ten cozy log cabins/ kitchens, some fireplaces. Gameroorn/ fireplaces, HBO, pool table, sauna. Fish, cross-country ski. Ski Winter Park, Silver Creek. Mountain Lakes Lodge. Brochure/ reservations -Grand Lake, CO 1-303-627-8448. Call today!

RIDE THE K-STATE UNION Express!!

ATTENTION:

Due to the Thanksgiving break all classified ads needing to run on Monday, November 28 must be placed on Monday, November 21 by noon in Kedzie 103. Thanks for your cooperation!

45 Years Serving America's Children

Cheap, but effective, Collegian Classifieds.

BARFED A HAIRBALL ON COMNIE CHUNG.

By Berke Breathed

east. Repairs and salvage.

WANTED— 100 overweight people to try herbal weight control program. No drugs, no exercise. Doctor recommended. 100% guaranteed. 776-5114,

2 Apartments—Furnished

NICE ONE-BEDROOM apartment. Water, trash, two-thirds gas paid. Laundry facilities. Nice for graduate student or couple. $260. Available Dec. 15 or Jan. 1. 539-2482 after 4p.m.

ONE-BEDROOM FURNISHED in 12-unit complex two blocks' west of campus. Available immediately. 539-7811 or 1-456-8297.

ONE-BEDROOM BETWEEN campus and Aggleville. $205 plus utilities, Jan. 1, six-month lease avail-able. 539-5894.

Second Semester Apartment

We project 20 Jan. 1st vacancies in our university oriented complexes.

Call soon for best selection!

McCullough Development 2700 Amherst (913) 776-3804

3 Apartments—Unfurnished

AVAILABLE SECOND semester. Less than one block from campus, two bedrooms, one full bath. Low utilities. Clean and nice. Call 776-3788 or 776-1222.

FOR RENT, nice two-bedroom apartment, seven month lease, starting Jan. 1st, excellent location. 537-8749.

JAN. 1, two-bedroom, large, attractive, patio apartment walking distance campus. One and one-half baths, washer, dryer connections. Really nice large apartment in choice location. $360 including carport. 537-4179 or 776-2462, evenings or

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM, campus location, coin-operated washer and dryer. No pets, available January. $265 plus deposit. 539-1465.

MOVING TO K.C. after the semester? We need subleasers! Beautiful two-bedroom, two-bath, full size washer and dryer in apartment, fireplace, balcony, 95th and 435. Chesapeake Estates. Call (913)888-3587, leave number and name if no

NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate. Across from City Park, own room. 537-1273.

4 Automobiles for Sale

Is your car on its last leg, and you need a fuel-efficient car? Read the Classifieds.

1979 DATSUN 210 wagon, stereo, snow tires, needs some work. Must sell, $250. Jason, 776-7089. 1983 RENAULT Alliance, 58,000 miles, 4.V, four-door $2,000. 537-3721.

Child Care

NEED BABYSITTER in my home for two- year and three- month old. Monday- Thursday, 10a.m.noon. 537-8543.

8 Computers

AT&T 7300 computer, Unix operating system, 10 meg hard disk, 15 software packages (including Dbase III, WordStar 2000, spreadsheet). Seven software packages unopened. Must sell. Call after 5p.m. 776-1056.

OR SALE: Line printer ribbons- Black multistrike no. OM MS (4% dozen), $1.25 each, Black nylon no. OM NY (15), $2.25 each, Call 532-6555 or come by Kedzie 103 to see.

9 Employment

ACROSS

firmness

Later,

fruit

plants 14 Arab ruler

16 French

17 Massag

18 Peaceful

- (give orders) forth actors

25 Merchants

28 Brazilian

bird

30 Sloths

32 Offer

35 Wide-

29 Wields a dom?

of puzzle marriage

" — the Stilt"

24 Inept

20 Call the

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such "employ-

ATTENTION- HIRINGI Government jobs- your area. $17,840- $69,485. Call (602)838-8885, ext. J-1797.

13 Musical

work

Na Na"

constel-

19 Frees

20 TV's

21 The

22 Sharif

Around'

(song) 4 Stings

5 Give the cold

6 Moray

7 It might

8 Cross

out

ballpark

DO YOU like kids? I need a fun-loving, flexible person for childcare. Room, board, salary plus car provided We are very nice. Call Becky (415)328-6229.

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, Juniors: Train in the summer to become a Marine Corps Officer after graduation. Aviation available. Call collect (913)841-1821.

MAINTENANCE WORK: The KSU Police Department is looking for students to work in the parking lots throughout the University. The job consists of maintenance and cleanup in the parking lots. Interested students should apply in person at the KSU Police Department between the hours of 8a.m. and 5p.m., Monday through Friday.

OVERSEAS JOBS, $900- $2,000 month. Summer year-round, all countries, all fields, free information. Write IJC, P.O. Box 52-KS02, Corona Del Mar, CA

PAY DAYI Beginning salary $3.60/ hour. All shifts for walter and waitresses; Hotline server and porter Monday, Wednesday, Friday 10.20a.m.- 2p.m. Apply now at K-State Union Food Service for remaining fall positions. Apply early for spring semester when you have your spring schedule. We offer student pay plan, job variety, and centrally located work place. We require that you must be honest, reliable and display a sense of urgency, must be clean, neat and wear appropriate attire. Food Handler's Card a must.

PYRAMID PIZZA is now taking applications for delivery personnel. Please apply in person, 1130 Moro. RESPONSIBLE PERSON to babysit in my home evenings including weekends for two older children and one toddler. 537-8537.

UNIT ASSISTANT- Baker, $5.57 per hour, fringe benefits, five and one-half hours per day. Assist manager in production of bakery products for 1,300 meals a day. Must have experience and/ or training in baking. Applications must be received by Nov. 23, 1988 to be considered. Apply to: U.S.D. 383, 2031 Poyntz Ave., Manhattan, KS 66502 (913)537-2400. EOE.

12 Houses/Mobile Homes for Rent

VERY LARGE house three blocks from campus, suitable for five, with carpet, drapes. Phone 539-5267.

13 Houses/Mobile Homes for Sale

1972 12x60, furnished/ unfurnished, new paint, central air, washer, dryer, waterbed, reasonable. 537-0734.

14 Lost and Found

TAKEN BY mistake Friday evening. Please return the jardiniere- family sentimental attachment. Reward for return of planter and basket- Call 539-2703.

15 Miscellaneous Merchandise

ANTIQUE OAK furniture, misc. used furniture.

BASEBALL CARDS- Want to make some extra spend ing money? Dig those baseball cards out of your closet and bring them back after Thanksgiving break. We're buying! Call Mark at 539-3606.

PERSONAL COMPUTERS Authorized Warranty Service

also servicing · PC compatibles & printers

· Televisions & VCRs MIDWEST

SERVICES 624 Tuttle Creek Blvd. Manhattan 913-776-6650

GOVERNMENT SURPLUSII New G.J. overshoes, com-NOTIFICATION OF THE CONTROL OF THE C

TYPEWRITER- RENTALS- Sales- Repairs. Good selection of used IBMs and Smith Coronas. Advanced Business Systems 713 N. 12th (Aggieville).

16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale

1982, 550 Yarnaha Maxim. Good condition. New tires. $700. Call 776-3458.

BICYCLE SALE, lay away for Christmas. Aggie Bike Station, Aggieville. (behind Hardee's).

CYCLE AND helmet covers, S-100 Cleaner. Motorcycle Supply, 1221 Moro. 776-6177.

18 Personals

CARLA- LIVE it upl it's your birthday! Love ya, Cathy. CHAD- REMEMBER two things: I love you and miss you

MATTHEW, I hope you decide to stick around for next semester. Who else would I eat dinner or drink mochs mint at Espresso with? Love, Steffany.

PHI DELT Dave H.: Even though I'm on my way, you only have to walt one more day till we are all in the sun, drinking tequila- having fun! I can't wait till I'm alone with you, but maybe John Elway can come

SIG EP Dave W.: Good luck at Phantom tryouts. Love too? Hurry here! And remember I love you! Flower

CHI-O KRIS celebrates the Big "20" in the Little Apple. We'll celebrate again when you're home in public. Love, Mother and the whole family.

USHER'S BROTHER: Six months. Like Sue said "Something must be right!" Love, Maid of Honor. WEST THREE Jean S .- Have a great break-?

19 Pets and Pet Supplies

BEAUTIFUL, LOVING bunny for sale, Taupe colored, dwarf lop-earred, 532-2054, Marsha. As soon as

20 Professional Services

PREGNANT? BIRTHRIGHT can help. Free pregnancy test. Confidential. Call 537-9180. 103 S. Fourth St.,

PROMPT ABORTION and contraceptive services in Lawrence. (913)841-5716.

21 Rentals

PRIME AGGIEVILLE location for lease. 600 square feet Call (913)642-3366

STORE YOUR valuables over Christmas break. Aztec Storage, open seven days a week. Call 776-1111 for discount rate, or come by, 5004 Murray Road.

22 Resume/Typing Services

ABOUT ANYTHING typed, editing and transcription services, reasonable rates, by professional secret ary. 539-5998 after 5p.m.

COMPLETE DATA processing services, term papers, theses and dissertations, resumes. Laser jet printing. Call 537-4146.

COMPLETE TYPING/ word processing: letter quality printer with Spell Check. 75¢/ page. Call 537-8701. PROCRASTINATORS AND those on the ball, for expert typing give us a call. 537-3166, message.

23 Roommate Wanted

FEMALE, OWN room, nice house near campus, washer, dryer. $145/ month plus utilities. 537-8825 FEMALE ROOMMATE to share house, close to carnpus, furnished, washer/ dryer, many more extras. $162.50/ month plus deposit. Call Renee, 539-8695

MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartment near campus. Washer/ dryer furnished. $125. 776-5855.

MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bed/bath apartment furnished with dishwasher, microwave, low utilities no deposit. Close to campus. $170 negotiable

MALE ROOMMATE needed. Lease up in May. $154 and one-half utilities. One-half block from campus. 776-8584. NON-SMOKER ROOMMATE to share apartment one block from campus. Call Miguel at 532-7210 or

NON-SMOKING MALE to share three-bedroom furn ished house. Quiet neighborhood and own bed-room, pay one-third rent and utilities. 776-8871. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share nice three-bedroom.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share two-bedroom furnished apartment. $152.99 plus one-half utilities. 539-9564

Close to campus, Aggieville. $160/month plus utilities. 537-2507.

RESPONSIBLE FEMALE to share furnished apartment close to campus. $121.25. 537-1977. ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom apartment in complex. Close to campus and Aggieville. 537-2894. ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom he trailer. $100/ month, half utilities. Call Allen, ROOMMATE WANTED, female non-smoker to take over lease. Will share house with two roommates, $133 a month plus utilities. For information call 539-4070 or 537-4420.

24 Situation Wanted

FAMILY WANTS college girl to live in for next semester, summer and fall. Board and room in exchange for duties. Write Box 1, c/o Collegian, Kedzie Hall, KSU, Manhattan, KS 66506.

REASONABLY BRIGHT individual needs Organic Chemistry tutor for next semester. 776-0510.

25 Sporting/Recreation Equipment

WEIGHT TRAINING Instruction. Body- Sculpturing. fitness, performance, bodybuilding. Three free sessions with consultation. Iron Concepts,

26 Sublease

SUBLEASE: TWO-BEDROOM, furnished, dishwasher, close to campus, lease through June, rent negoti able. Call 776-9846, leave message.

SUBLEASE, LARGE furnished two-bedroom apart-ment. One and one-half blocks from campus. Call 539-1312. SUBLEASE: LARGE one-bedroom, next to campus Water and trash paid. Furnished or unfurnished

Call 539-2484. 28 Adoption

LOVE-FILLED HOME needs the joy of a new baby to complete our very happy marriage. If you plan to place your baby for adoption, please consider us. Expenses paid, confidential, legal. Call collect, Claire, (303)422-1297.

29 Ride Needed

RIDE NEEDED to Minnesota, Twin City area, for Thanksglving. Call Al, 539-3585 after 10p.m.

By Eugene Sheffer

Garfield

Peanuts

ISN'T IT A SHAME THERE'S NO UNIT OF MEASURE FOR HOW GOOD FOOD TASTES?

By Jim Davis

23 Give By Charles Schulz

Crossword 36 Bright 1 Cul-deretort 2 Prescrip-Tomorrow, " — You in Malaga tion word

Loved Me Alligator' 8 Tropical 41 Baker's need 42 Island 12 Flowering off California

47 - and 15 Old-time dance man 48 Comes weapon 49 Dirk novelist 50 It's be > fore book god 10 Marmoset or break 51 Gary 11 Clapton Cooper role of music Solution time: 26 mins 6020m

ARE SEAN Suo Toga Sordurov

23 Expunge 25 Deceitful 26 Marsh shoulder bird 27 Window be "in the frame 29 Washer cycle 31 Pig's digs 9 Egyptian 33 French 34 Ambush 36 Extend 37 It grows on trees 38 Stratford's river

39 Hawaiian goose 40 Command to Rover 43 Dr.'s org. 44 "Who am judge?" 45 Relative of Saul

46 Inquire

lation Lyra CRYPTOQUIP 11-21

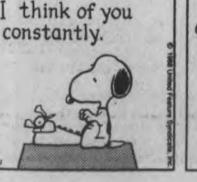

CDVUWGTWGK UWLADK

KMAJL EHUA KHEEHJC MTAEEO Saturday's Cryptoquip: THE HAPPY SLOGAN OF HARD-WORKING DEMOLITION COMPANY: "EDIFICE

Today's Cryptoquip clue: J equals N

CONGRATULATIONSI

University Distinguished Professors from the College of Arts and Sciences

Cornelia Butler Flora
Professor of Sociology

"...Recipient of the first Rural Sociological Society "Award for Excellence in Research" ... for work which is "a road map to a decade and a half of effort to focus sociological and developmental attention on the role of women in social life...at the cutting edge of rural policy analysis. ... When Dr. Flora speaks, the conference listens—and hears."

Wava G. Henry Chair, Anthropology/Sociology University of Wisconsin Centers

"... A role model of scholarship devoted to public service... scholarship noted for its sensitivity to human concerns."

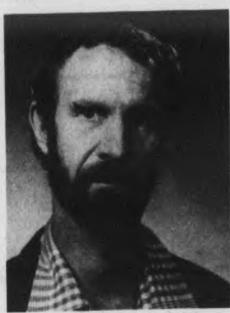

Daryl Hobbs
Director, Office of Social and Economic Data Analysis
University of Missouri

"... Sought out as an instructor because of her knowledge, enthusiasm, and her desire to work closely with students."

Marvin Kalser
Acting Associate Dean
KSU College of Arts and Sciences

"... One of those professors who is able to irradiate creative potentialities. With her work, she is always challenging her students to go beyond, giving them increasing responsibilities."

Estanislao Gacitua Graduate Student KSU Department of Sociology

Jonathan Holden
Professor of English
Poet in Residence

"... A contemporary example of a type of literary person all but extinct for the past three decades—the poet/scholar... through the example of his poetry and through the insights of his provocative critical essays, defines our age."

Neal Bowers Professor of English Iowa State University

"There are perhaps four or five critics of contemporary poetry who matter, and Jonathan is clearly one of them. . . . an intellectual force . . . in his teaching and in his criticism."

Stephen Dunn Poet/Professor of Creative Writing Stockton State College, New Jersey

"He is not merely a significant younger critic and poet with prizes. He is a moral presence ... His mien as teacher is to embrace and support while exacting the student's best, just as it combines knowledge of literary heritage with reception of the new."

David J. Smith Professor of English Virginia Commonwealth University

"Holden has something to say; he says it with force and grace.... he connects things so rightly that we glow and illuminate ourselves."

W. D. Snodgrass
Poet, in Intro. to Leverage, Winner of 1982
Associated Writing Programs Award

"... Locus of creative energy for his students."
"... A classroom wizard."
Grant Snider, Derick Burleson

Graduate Students KSU English Department

Kenneth Klabunde

"... A world-leader in the field of metal atom chemistry and application of this chemistry to catalysis research... made some of the most significant basic research advances in this field... recognized as an innovator in reaction design... has made the field accessible to conventional synthetic chemists."

Donald J. Burton Professor of Chemistry The University of Iowa

"His book and many publications are widely recognized and are standard references in the field. . . . one of the outstanding developers of macro-syntheses using metal atoms from throughout the Periodic Table."

John L. Margrave E. D. Butcher Professor of Chemistry Rice University

"His achievements are far reaching and cross many disciplines of chemistry. The majority of his contributions center around his developments in the area of metal vaporization chemistry. . . . a pioneer in this area of

Reuben D. Rieke Howard S. Wilson Professor of Chemistry University of Nebraska—Lincoln

"A model mentor. The intensity with which he pursues his diverse scientific interests is a constant source of inspiration and motivation to students."

Allan Olsen Graduate Student KSU Chemistry Department

Patrick Richard
Professor of Physics

"... Status in the world scientific community... continually being invited to serve on the advisory and program committees of major international conferences and to contribute review papers and chapters to major treatises... has played a leading role in developing the Macdonald Laboratory into one of the foremost research establishments in high-energy atomic physics and a center for international collaboration."

Bernd Crasemann Professor of Physics University of Oregon

"He is responsible for a number of pioneering experiments which have contributed to our enormously increased understanding of atomic processes involving inner-shell electrons and highly ionized projectiles."

Eugen Merzbacher Kenan Professor/President-Elect, American Physics Society University of North Carolina

"To many European and Japanese atomic physicists, a visit to the U. S. is incomplete without a visit to Kansas State, the Macdonald Laboratory, and Pat Richard."

James C. Legg Professor/Head KSU Physics Department

"It is a privilege to work with a physicist of his calibre and prestige. . . . I decided to come to K-State specifically to work with Dr. Richard.

Justin M. Sanders Graduate Student KSU Physics Department

Sadahiro Saeki
Professor of Mathematics

"... A mathematical powerhouse ... elegance and depth are his stamp, his productivity is consistent and strong."

John J. Benedetto
Professor of Mathematics
University of Maryland

"There is hardly anyone around who can be compared to Saeki in fertility of invention, in number of results, and in sheer analytic powers."

Edwin Hewitt Professor of Mathematics University of Washington Visiting Professor University of Singapore

"... The problems Professor Saeki tackles are always extremely interesting and often known to have beaten other experts in the field... the results are frequently the best possible."

T. W. Körner Professor of Mathematics University of Cambridge, England

"... When I took a course from Prof. Saeki ... mathematics seemed more like a painting, requiring skillful strokes, but whose beauty, meaning, and vision are clear to the naked eye."

Edward L. Thome Graduate Student KSU Mathematics Department

Record of Quality Teaching

Scholarly or Creative Activities Recognized in the Field

Contributed to Development of Other Scholars

Participated in Advancement of the Profession

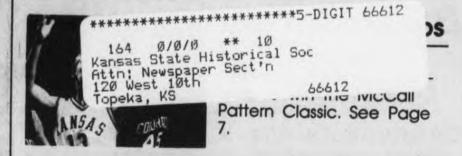

Bramlage Baptism

The Wildcats' pulled out a 81-77 victory over 20thranked Purdue in the first men's basketball game in Bramlage Coliseum. See Page 6.

Weather

Windy today and warmer with mostly sunny skies, high 40 to 45. South wind increasing to 15 to 25 mph by afternoon. Increasing cloudiness tonight, low in upper

Monday

November 28, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 66

Kansas State Collegian

over Purdue, the Big Ten Conference power, Saturday night in the first game until the final minutes, winning by a score of 81-77.

A capacity crowd of 13,500 witnessed the K-State Wildcats' victory men's game in Bramlage Coliseum. The 'Cats didn't take control of the

Win helps K-State transfer tradition

By The Collegian Staff

Since K-State opened basketball practice in mid-October, the talk has been of transferring the tradition of Ahearn Field House to Bramlage

No easy task, considering the years of Wildcat basketball success and loud, sellout crowds at Ahearn.

Saturday night, a capacity crowd of 13,500 witnessed the first men's game at Bramlage, an 81-77 K-State win over perennial Big Ten Conference power Purdue. Judging from comments made by those who attended the game, the torch has been successfully passed.

"I thought the transition went over hellaciously well," said Brent Ediger, junior in marketing.

The seesaw game, which didn't see K-State take control until the final minutes, gave fans plenty of opportunities to see just how much noise the new building could handle.

"I thought it was every bit as loud as Ahearn," said Steve Logback, junior in journalism and mass communications. "It didn't seem like much was lost as far as spirit."

"It was exciting. The electricity was in the air," said David Cole, said.

sophomore in journalism and mass communications. "I think Bramlage can definitely get as loud as Aheam.' K-State coach Lon Kruger, who was a part of Ahearn as both a player

"I thought the transition went over heliaciously well."

-Steve Logback junior in journalism and mass communications and a coach, was pleased with the Bramlage opener.

"I thought the crowd was outstanding," he said. "I think it was every bit as loud." The K-State women's team actual-on Friday night, a 70-56 win over Colorado State in the McCall Pattern However, the main event of the

ly played the first game in Bramlage weekend was clearly Saturday night's men's opener.

"It's nice to know that 20-30 years from now, they'll be looking back on this one in a positive way," Kruger

Pedestrian struck by K-State student

By The Collegian Staff

Using only the names of a high school graduating class printed on the front of his T-shirt, Riley County police labored for five hours Saturday evening before identifying the victim of an injury

Byron C. Peterson, 23, of Manhattan, apparently was walking along the side of South Manhattan Avenue shortly before 6 p.m. Saturday when he was struck by a car south of Wildcat Creek Bridge, police said. The car was driven by Todd D. Axelton, said. sophomore in geology.

Axelton said he did not see the

Peterson was transported to

Memorial Hospital with head injuries before being flown by helicopter to Stormont Vail Hospital in Topeka. As of Sunday evening, Peterson was listed in critical condition with neck and head injuries.

Sgt. Larry Freeby of the Riley County Police Department said Peterson was wearing darkcolored sweats and a T-shirt underneath listing the names of a Labette County high school graduating class.

"We just went down the list and started calling the names," Freeby

Cindy Springer, of No. 17 Northcrest Trailer Park, said she was on her way home Saturday See IDENTITY, Page 12

Senate to choose

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Majority Democrats gained only a single Senate seat in this month's elections, but the chamber is likely to undergo a personality change with the choosing of a new majority leader this week.

The current majority leader, Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., is stepping down to assume the chairmanship of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee, taking with him his unparalleled parliamentary expertise and a courtly style.

Running to replace him in one of the toughest elections they will ever face are Sens. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, J. Bennett Johnston, D-La., and George Mitchell, D-Maine. The election takes place Tuesday.

While they can't match Byrd's knowledge of the rules, the candidates have appealed to fellow Democrats with promises to keep the ungainly institution on schedule and to make other reforms.

And Democrats hope that, unlike the somewhat stiff Byrd, the new majority leader will have a popular appeal that emanates to the nation beyond Capitol Hill as Congress does battle over the budget with a new Republican president.

Inouye, 64, is the oldest of the three and the most senior in the Senate, having first been elected in

"My experience, my seniority, should be in my favor," Inouye said in appearance with his two rivals Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press."

While he won praise for his eloquence and incisiveness during the 1973 Watergate hearings, Inouye's reputation was seen by some to be tarnished when the Iran-Contra hearings he helped direct turned into a televised platform for White House aide Oliver North. He also ran into criticism for inserting in a spending bill $8 million in federal aid for a school for North African Jews living in France.

Johnston is perhaps most like Byrd in his command of the legislative labyrinth, but he is also the most public in pushing for change.

The 56-year-old senator, in his third term, has been rapidly gaining influence. He is chairman of the Energy and Natural Resources Committee and chairman of the Appropriations energy subcommittee. In the last Congress, he often handled difficult bills on the Senate floor for retiring appropriations chairman John Stennis, D-Miss.

Johnston has the support of Southern senators including Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, and Sam Nunn, D-Ga. If that conservative wing of the party is ascendant, Johnston, a moderate, could help move the Democrats' image away from the liberal one that seems to hurt them in national elections.

leader

"Clearly my centrist approach is an advantage.'

George Mitchell, 55, has only been in the Senate for eight years but has quickly developed a reputation as a thoughtful and well-spoken

The former prosecutor and federal judge saw his reputation grow as a result of the Iran-Contra investigation. Afterward he co-wrote a book on the subject with Maine colleague Republican Sen. William Cohen.

Like Johnston, Mitchell has been chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, and during his tenure the party regained control of the Senate after the 1986 elections.

Mitchell's voting record isn't quite as liberal as Inouye's, and some see him as a choice that could point to the future for traditional Democratic

U.N. to consider moving

By The Associated Press

UNITED NATIONS - The U.N. Arab League ambassador said Sunday he has enough votes to move a General Assembly session to Geneva so PLO chief Yasser Arafat can address the world body on the Palesti-

Jordan and Egypt agreed to spearhead the effort to reconvene the world body in the Swiss capital, Jordan's official news agency reported.

They urged the unprecedented protest after the United States denied Arafat a visa Saturday to address the body in New York.

In Kuwait, a senior Palestine Liberation Organization official said the U.S decision was "an open call for extremism." Egyptian Foreign Minister Esmat Abdel-Meguid and his Jordanian counterpart, Taher Masri, said they had scrapped plans to visit New York in Reaction to the U.S. decision came quickly. Israeli leaders praised it, but Algeria, Egypt, France and Norway were among nations which protested the decision.

Clovis Maksoud, the Arab League's U.N. ambassador, said Arab nations felt "deep anger and outrage" over the U.S. decision and will ask the General Assembly to condemn it.

Arafat wanted to enter the United States to address the U.N. body in New York on Thursday, when debate is scheduled on the Palestinian problem. A nearly 1-year-old Palestinian uprising in Israeli-occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip has left at least 316 Palestinians and 11 Israelis dead.

However, the State Department rejected his visa Saturday, and said the leader of the PLO "knows of, condones and lends support to" terrorist attacks.

used by the State Department, because the State Department knows very well that resistence to Israeli occupation does not under any stretch of he imagination fall under the rubric of terrorism," Maksoud said.

Arafat has not commented on the decision. Approval to move the U.N. body to Geneva would require a simple majority of the 159

"The issue of terrorism is a red herring members. The members have regularly approved Palestinian-backed resolutions by an overwhelming majority.

"I really don't see any problem (of passage) if the resolution is proposed in a reasonable manner," Maksoud said.

"Tomorrow (Monday) the recommendation will be made at a meeting of the Arab group" of U.N. member states, Maksoud said. "Also we will ask the General Assembly to condemn this decision. This is the thrust of our thinking."

"I think that also the people in the nonaligned countries and the European countries realize what a dangerous precedent" the U.S. action is, he said. The non-aligned group has 101 voting members in the General

A source close to the Arab League, speaking on condition of anonymity, said the Arab diplomats will consider a legal challenge to the U.S. decision when they meet Monday.

U.N. spokesman Francois Giuliani said the U.N. legal counsel was studying the State Department's decision and would advise Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar on Monday. Until then, he said, the United Nations would have no comment on the developments.

Moving the General Assembly out of New York as a protest would be unprecedented.

Maksoud said the Arab group probably would call for postponement of debate on Palestine in the regular session, scheduled to end by mid-December, and reconvene in December or January in Geneva.

The Palestine National Council, a PLO parliament-in-exile, proclaimed an independent Palestinian state Nov. 15. The move implicitly recognized Israel by endorsing Security Council Resolution 242.

BRIEFLY AROUND WORLD

Cosmonauts check systems

MOSCOW - Soviet and French cosmonauts practiced maneuvers they will use in docking with the space station Mir and checked on-board systems Sunday, their first full day in space.

The crew of Frenchman Jean-Loup Chretien and two Soviets, Alexandr Volkov and Sergei Krikalev, circled the earth every 90 minutes, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Their Soyuz TM-7 spacecraft blasted off from Baikonur Cosmodrome Saturday evening with French President Francois Mitterand on hand to watch.

The Soyuz is to dock with the Mir space station Tuesday evening. The three Soviet cosmonauts aboard the Mir took Sunday off, Tass said.

Ethnic violence in U.S.S.R.

MOSCOW - Two Communist Party officials in the southern republic of Azerbaijan have been fired, and Soviet newspapers charged Sunday that local authorities and police are not cooperating with soldiers trying to quell ethnic violence.

The military newspaper Red Star said local officials are not helping troops trying to keep the clashing Azerbaijanis and Armenianians apart in the city of Kirovabad. Rallies of up to 500,000 people were reported Sunday in Baku, the republic's capital.

At least seven people have died and 160 injured in Kirovabab in the largest outbreak of violence since spring between the mainly Christian Armenians and Moslem Azerbaijanis.

The report said three soldiers died after a bus driver refused to transport wounded troops to a hospital and local medical personnel apparently refused to treat them. "In the end, military doctors had to save the wounded," the newspaper said. The duty officer at the Azerbaijani Communist Party headquarters in the city of Baku denied the charges, saying, "The party is in control." The official refused to give his name.

He claimed the first secretaries of the Communist Party in Kirovabad and the autonomous republic of Nakhichevan were fired Saturday "due to party reshuffling" that was unrelated to last week's ethnic violence.

The republic's ruling party Central Committee on Saturday fired Ramiz Bagirly, the first secretary of the Communist Party in Kirovabad, and replaced him with Suleiman Mamedov, former chief of the Kirovabad city executive committee.

BRIEFLY ACROSS NATION

Cocaine found after bribe offer

SALTON CITY, Calif. - A sheriff's deputy found 1,500 pounds of cocaine stashed under carpet scraps in the bed of a pickup truck he stopped for speeding, authorities said.

The driver allegedly offered sheriff's Deputy Al Reyes a $50,000 bribe to "just let him go," said Lt. Mike Schneewind, an Imperial County sheriff's department spokesman. The tehicle was stopped Saturday along a highway about 150 miles southeast of Los Angeles. The alleged offer prompted a search of the truck, which netted more than 20 bags of cocaine, the spokesman said. About $2,500 in $100 bills was found in the truck's cab, he said.

The cocaine was worth an estimated $80 million. The driver, 60-year-old Armando Martinez Cortez, whose address was unavailable, was turned over to federal authorities in San Diego, sheriff's deputy Joe Alcazar said Sunday. No charges were immediately filed.

Mother takes up son's sport

OKLAHOMA CITY - Trenna Klee's first exposure to BMX racing came when she took her 10-year-old son to a track near their home in Wichita.

This weekend Klee, 35, entered her first national competition at the American Bicycle Association's BMX Grand Nationals in

"I think the person closest to my age is 17," said Klee, who entered the 13-and-over girls' cruiser class. "The girls are real sweet to me, but not patronizing. They seem really excited that a mom would be racing in it."

Klee entered three girls' motos, or rounds, but didn't win a race to qualify for the quarterfinals. She did get some valuable experience.

"I fell in the first moto, coming over the first big jump. It is big, and it is scary," she said. "I've never fallen. This was a first, and I did not like it."

Klee says she's not sure how her son feels about her taking up racing after he gave it up for computers, but her husband is

Santa favors flying gyrocopter

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. - Even Santa has become hip with the times and has ditched the traditional sleigh this year in favor of a gyrocopter.

That's what Freddie Roberts says, anyway. Roberts recently surprised residents of nearby Elkton, Ky., when he flew over the town in his kit-built gyrocopter adorned with five plywood reindeer and an aluminum sleigh.

"Actually, I'm not Santa Claus, I'm his mechanic," said Roberts, dressed in a red Santa suit and crash helmet with white beard attached.

"It's a shame that parents lie to their kids and say there's no such thing as Santa Claus or flying sleighs and flying reindeer." Roberts said. "Now the kids will be able to tell them

Roberts attached the reindeer and sleigh, which doubles as a rudder, to the helicopter-like craft despite warnings from the manufacturer that it wouldn't fly. He crashed on his first two test flights because of engine failure.

Although he wasn't hurt, Roberts had to rebuild the copter. Now that he's mastered the Santa copter, Roberts said he will try to perfect his Frisbee-like shoes that allow the wearer to walk on water - as long as the engines don't fail or run out of gas.

Priest gambles, wins jackpot

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. - Could it have been divine intervention? Perhaps pennies from heaven?

The Rev. Frank Giliberti, a Roman Catholic priest, won

$1,077,777.77 while playing a slot machine at Trump's Castle casino hotel.

Giliberti, from the archdiocese of Philadelphia, won the money Friday at a $1 progressive slot machine, which shares a jackpot with other slot machines, said Tom Cantone, casino vice president.

Cantone said Giliberti is a regular slot player at Trump's Castle, usually playing on Friday. The priest waited for the machine he wanted to play and then played 11/2 hours before hitting the jackpot, he said.

Giliberti was accompanied by two friends and had told them he was going to win $1 million, Cantone said.

Giliberti will use the bulk of the money to set up a fund for teen-agers to attend Catholic High School in Philadelphia, and give some to charities, along with buying a car for a friend,

Cantone said. "He says he's been set for life working for the church and now he will help someone else," Cantone said.

Giliberti did not immediately return calls seeking comment

BULLETIN FOR CAMPUS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

and a street of the first garden and the contract of the street of the s

Campus organizations are encouraged to use Campus Bulletin. All announcements must be submitted by 11 a.m. one day prior to publication. Announcements for Monday's bulletin must be in by 11 a.m. Friday. However, publication is determined by the amount of space available on a first-come, first-serve basis and is not ensured. Information forms are available on the shelf outside Kedzie 118. Forms should be left in the box on the shelf after being filled out. All submissions must be signed and are subject to verification. Questions should be directed to the Collegian's campus editors in Kedzie 116.

SINGLE PARENT/DISPLACED HOMEMAKERS scholarship application forms available at Bluemont 407 or the Fenix Office, Leasure 03.

COORDINATED PROGRAM IN DIETETICS is accepting applications for spring admission. Deadline is Wednesday. Forms available from Dr. Deborah Canter, Justin 104. Call 532-5521 for information.

GYMNASTICS CLUB will meet at 9 p.m.

CHIMES JUNIOR HONORARY will meet at 7 p.m. at the Manhattan Town Center

HUMAN ECOLOGY COUNCIL will meet at 5:15 p.m. in Justin 254.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI will meet at 8 p.m. in

GRIEVANCE RESOLUTION PANEL SPONSORED BY AAUP will meet at 3:30 p.m. in Union 212.

THURSDAY

HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND FAM-ILY STUDIES will meet at 2:30 p.m. in

SUNDAY K-LAIRES SQUARE DANCE CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in Aheam Field House.

K-STATE POLICE

Friday

A past theft report was filed.

Saturday

A criminal damage to property report was filed. Unknown subjects smashed the vehicle's window.

Sunday

A student called for an ambulance and was taken to Memorial Hospital, where she is listed in stable condition.

looking better and feeling like a new person. All of which can happen when you follow your doctor's orders for keeping your blood pressure under

American Heart Association

WERE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

N-State
Anderson Avenue

TESTING
TESTING CENTER

539-3338

Walk-ins welcome
Call for Appointment

Located across from campus in the Student Services Center
(East of 7-Eleven)

LARGE PIZZA ONLY 599

with one topping

dine in or free home wellivery through Wet. 31

"premium pizza at a cardboard pizza price" 523 South 17th 537-1484

$2.50 Pitchers $2.00 ice Teas

Come watch Monday Night Football on our big screen TV.

1800 Claffin

776-4111

539-5303

One number brings out the best at KSU

Now, at KSU, there's just one number to remember for fast delivery of pizza that's every bit as good as one you'd go out for.

Godfather's Pizza." Now you don't have to settle for anything less, anymore.

> 1118 Laramie Aggieville

Join the Spirit of Giving

Lighting of the Mayor's Holiday Tree

TONIGHT

Nov. 28, 7:00 p.m. Triangle Park Aggieville

Donations Benefit: Flint Hills Breadbasket and The Energy Assistance Program

Refreshments of Hot Apple Cider & . Holiday Cookies

Caring & Sharing ° for

Manhattan

K-State research team develops wheat tester

By Guy Peverley Collegian Reporter

A research and development team from K-State has developed and patented an instrument that could change the nature of wheat buying.

The instrument is a single-kernel, wheat-hardness tester and was developed by former K-State agricultural engineer Steven Eckhoff, K-State grain scientists Art Davis and Keith Behnke, and Darrell Oard, research assistant in agricultural engineering.

Research on the hardness tester began in October 1983 and the patent was granted on Nov. 3, 1987, said Behnke, associate professor in grain science and industry.

Now the hardness tester is at the Federal Grain Inspection Laboratories, where it is undergoing accuracy tests and comparisons, he said.

The tester measures the force it takes to slice 200 kernels a minute and records the force reading at onehalf millisecond intervals, taking 300 to 500 readings per kernel, Behnke

A recent test of more than 1,000 commercial samples of wheat from across the United States showed that the instrument misclassified less than 1.5 percent of the samples as compared to the Federal Grain Inspection Service's visual classification, he

The instrument will help solve the problem of distinguishing between hard and soft wheat, Behnke said. Many problems can occur when hard and soft wheats get mixed at terminal grain elevators.

The economic effects of misidentification can be significant, he said. There can be a price difference of 30 to 50 cents per bushel between hard and soft wheats. This can create an economic incentive for traders to mix hard and soft wheats without the buyers' knowledge.

The lack of knowledge about hardness mixtures can cause problems for millers and bakers, Behnke said.

"The soft wheat is used for cake, cookies and pastries, while the hard wheat is used in breads," he said.

The hard wheat doesn't work well for bakeries and mills, Behnke said. The hard wheat, when processed for flour, tends to plug up flour streams, which can cost the millers extra time adjusting the machines to achieve the proper final product. Also, the bakery milling of hard wheat causes excess wear to the equipment.

Activists fight for animals' rights

By Kelly Campbell Collegian Reporter

Although Massachusetts voted down an animal welfare bill this month, some livestock producers are wary of continued efforts to regulate their businesses.

The Massachusetts' referendum was a testing ground for animal rights activists, said Bill Fuller, assistant director of the public affairs division of the Kansas Farm Bureau. Approval of the referendum may have increased the animal-rights movement nationwide.

Had the Massachusetts referendum passed, it would have virtually eliminated veal production in the state; required that anesthetics be used for surgical procedures such as castration, tail docking and dehorning; and would have established a five-member advisory board to approve all farm building renovations or additions that

By Richard Broadfoot

Staff Writer

Management positions of editor and advertising manager for the spring Kansas State Collegian have been announced by the Board of Stu-

Janet Swanson, senior in journalism and mass communications, has been selected spring 1989 editor of the Collegian. Swanson, who has been a Collegian staff member for three semesters, is currently the Collegian news editor and has also served as agri-business editor and the experience I have gained with the Collegian, and others will bring their experiences, and together we can improve upon what we've built, with a few minor alterations," Swanson

These minor alterations will include the creation of a city desk to cover the Riley County Police

"Hopefully, I'll be able to bring dent Publications Inc.

board would have been composed of the state animal health director and four appointees selected by animal rights groups, Fuller said.

Livestock producers are all for animal welfare, said Ralph Rindt, president of the Kansas Pork Producers Council.

"We would never do anything to our animals that would keep them from growing and breeding," he said. "We put them in environmentcontrolled facilities. We feel it is better than a hog lying out in a mud hole where it's unbearably hot in the summer and freezing in the winter."

Fuller also said producers are concerned about adequate space, facilities and care of livestock.

"Without proper care, they don't produce and that's where the money comes from," he said.

Animal activists think animals should be properly housed and fed but should not be mistreated, said exceeded a cost of $10,000. The Mabel Owens, the state animal health director for Massachusetts, in an article in the September issue of Pork 88.

> Animal activists believe animals have rights, and they should not be used for food, fiber or labor, according to the article. Animal activists are trying to humanize animals, Fuller said. "But there's a point where it becomes ridiculous when trying to compare humans and animals," he said. He said the activists are well-intentioned but misguided. "They are not very wellinformed about livestock production and animal agriculture," he said.

There are about 400 animalrights groups across the nation, according to the article. The groups would like the Animal Welfare Act of 1966 revised to include farm animals. Currently, farm animals are exempt from the act.

During the past term, Congress considered a bill that would have brought farm-animal research under federal regulation and subject to unannounced inspections by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It would also have regulated exhibitions of farm animals, including 4-H and FFA shows. Congress did not pass the bill.

The Animal Welfare Act protects dogs, cats and other warmblooded animals from mistreatment when used for research, raised for sale in pet shops, transported commercially or used for exhibitions.

Livestock and farm organizations are forming coalitions to research animal-welfare issues and to keep the livestock community informed on legislative efforts.

The Kansas Farm Bureau has scheduled a seminar on the animalrights movement in America at its annual meeting in December.

Livestock producers do not see the movement as a threat,

Judging team takes first at livestock show

By Guy Peverley Collegian Reporter

The K-State livestock judging team has put to rest another year of competition, but not before bringing home the gold from a national judging contest.

Twenty-one senior college teams from across the nation gathered at the American Royal Livestock Show in Kansas City, Mo., four weeks ago to judge cattle, sheep, hogs, and to give oral reasons to justify the placings. Of the 21 teams, K-State came out on

The judging team finished first in cattle, first in oral reasons, second in hogs and sixth in sheep.

Every year at the American Royal, the livestock judging team that won the Royal 20 years before is honored, said Dave Nichols, the judging team's coach and associate professor in animal sciences and industry. The

Vistaburger (a $1.44 value)

with a minimum

purchase of 8 gal.

of gas at

720 N. Third

Where else in Kansas can you get a Great deal like this?

(checks with student ID accepted)

VISA Mart

Mart

victor 20 years ago happened to be K-State.

"It was a great feeling to win with the 20-year team there," said Mike Bandel, judging team member and senior in agricultural education. "(The win) made them (the alumni team) feel good too."

A week after the American Royal, the judging team headed to Louisville, Ky., for the final contest of the year. This contest usually decides which team is the national champion, Nichols said.

Forty-one teams competed in the contest. K-State finished fourth

The judging team finished seventh in cattle, fifth in reasons, fourth in hogs and 17th in sheep.

■ See JUDGING, Page 12

McCain auditorium

Samuel Ramey, Bass Thursday, December 8, 8:00 p.m.

Hear a rare concert by the former ·K-Stater who is the most recorded American bass in history. From the brute fury of Mephistopheles in Faust to the moving soliloquy of Billy Bigelow in Carousel, Colby native Samuel Ramey can do it all. Numerous opera engagements make Mr. Ramey's recitals exceptional events, eagerly anticipated. He comes to Manhattan between soldout performances in Don Giovanni at Lyric Opera of Chicago.

The most extraordinary bel canto basso of our time (and that of our fathers, if not our grandfathers, as well.)" -Fantare

... 'General Public: $15, 13, 10 Senior Citizens: $12, 10, 8 Students/Children: $10, 8, 5,

Charge tickets to MasterCard or VISA at (913) 532-6428, or come to the box office between noon and 5 p.m.

weekdays.

This program is presented in part by the  Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency

Transportation for seniors available through Kansas State Bank and the Manhattan Arts Commission For information, call Marie De

Top Collegian positions announced Department, the Manhattan City Commission and the Riley County Commission, she said.

"A city desk is something we have needed for a long time. It will allow us to cover the city more completely and allow the government desk to concentrate more on the state legislature, the Board of Regents and the Student Senate," Swanson said.

Chad Sanborn, fall Collegian editor and senior in journalism and mass communications, said the selection of Swanson was a good one.

"She'll do a good job. She has great organizational skills, she is highly motivated and she's one of the hardest workers I know," Sanborn Taking over as advertising manager is Todd Schultz, senior in journalism and mass communications. Schultz has been on the advertising staff for four semesters and is in his second tenure as assistant advertising manager.

"I'm excited. I can't wait to get started with the new staff," Schultz said. "I have some new promotional ideas and I can't wait to get working on them."

One of Schultz's new ideas is to encourage his staff to work on more campaigns for their advertising clients as opposed to individual ads.

"We need to begin to put together advertising packages for our clients rather than just picking up weekly ads," Schultz said.

Schultz also said the advertising staff will begin to make more use of its new computer. "(The computer) allows the staff members to put the ads together themselves and to get more creative with them," Schultz said. Catherine Doud, fall advertising manager and junior in journalism and mass communications, said she was pleased with the selection of Schultz. "He's experienced, he's hard-working and I think he'll do a good job," Doud said. Gloria Freeland, acting director of Student Publications Inc., echoed their sentiments, praising the selection of both Schultz and Swanson.

They've both done good jobs with the Collegian. They're both good leaders and just really outstanding people," Freeland said.

Applicants interviewed Nov. 21, with position announcements following the interviews.

Finalists were chosen on the basis of experience and expertise in dealing with people, said Jeff Schrag, senior in journalism and mass communications.

"We are looking for a person who possesses two kinds of skills. The person needs to not only have the technical skills to do the job, but also the skills to manage a staff," Schrag

Read Collegian Ads! for special bargains campus editor.

the scanner you've always wanted for your Macintosh®...

Easy to use and $250 back! Now - between October 1.

1988 and December 31, 1988 - you can receive a $250 factory rebate. Buy an HP ScanJet Scanner and an HP Scanlet Interface Kit for the Macintosh®, see how easy it is to use and get $250 back!

ConnectingPoint. COMPUTER CENTER

Panasonic Rack System

CS1946

Full Cable Ready with a programming

On screen Channel Display
Integrated wireless Remote Control

 Double Cassette Deck *Turn Table * 28 Key A/V unified remote * Quartz AM/FM Tuner with 16 pre-sets. MITSUBISHI' TV

HSUSO MITSUBISHI

Beautiful Hi-Fi Sound

-Digital Auto Tracking

-8 Event/4 Week Timer with

On-screen Program
-107 Channel Cable Tuner

Flawless Special Effects
 8 Event, 2 Week On-Screen

SONY. Sony Cassette Deck Dolly B&C
 Record level Control
 Low distortion, direct coupled circuit
 Head phone output.

LIMITED TO STORE STOCK ・こうコー

AUDIO . VIDEO . TV

ARCH. & DESIGN, IS PROVIDING A GRAPHIC DESIGN SERVICE FOR ANY INTERESTED PARTIES. WE WILL PROVIDE A GRAPHIC DESIGN AND LOGO OR LETTERING AT THE FOLLOWING RATES: T-SHIRTS - $20

AMERICAN INSTITUTE

STUDENTS, A GROUP IN

OF ARCHITECTURE

THE COLLEGE OF

AND FREE T-SHIRT. BANNER - $1 SQ. FT. PLUS MATERIALS.

8% x 11 POSTER - $10 CONTACT CAROLE AT 539-5241

Editorial

Kansas State Collegian Opinions Monday, November 28, 1988

Virginia law addresses potty parity problem

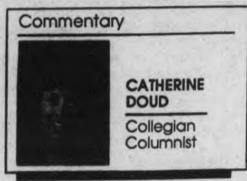

efenders of equal rights for women, take notice. At long last the first major steps have been taken to ensure that women will have as much opportunity as men have to compete for the necessities of life.

The Commonwealth of Virginia has taken an inspired step and remedied one of the most obvious sex inequities which remained in their state. Granted, this may not be the most important inequity, nor the most publicly debated. In fact, this is one inequity that will probably never make "Nightline" or "60 Minutes." But all the same, it is a topic that most women have been frustrated by and have had to deal with at some point in their

To illustrate this common dilemma, I'll give a simple scenario. Imagine a football game, a basketball game, an opera, a rodeo or a play. What do all of these events have in common? OK, right, they're held in public places, what else? OK, so they're entertaining, but what else? What is it that you will almost inevitably see at any of these large public events? Of course, a long line trailing out of the women's bathroom, down the hall and into the parking lot, while the men's bathroom looks nearly deserted. Maybe I exaggerate a little, but not much. It is such a common sight today that it is taken for granted that if you are a woman in a public place, you just might as well expect to wait in line a good 10 or more minutes to use the

There are few women in the United States today who have not had to stand in line, often towing small children with uncontrollable bladders, in order to use the public restroom, whether it be in an airport, a sports arena or even at a gas station.

For these women, there are few alternatives. In many cases, these are the only bathrooms available without leaving the premises and trying to re-enter, probably missing most of the entertainment that they paid to see in the first place. Intermission is never long enough these days. Granted, they just could try to hold it, but then how many women can sit with crossed legs through extra innings without doing serious injury to themselves? And then there are the few brave souls who venture to the nearly deserted men's facilities, risking personal shame for the sake of bodily necessity.

his has gone on for years. And through all this time, for some reason, no one has ever given serious thought to why this inequity in lines always seems to occur.

Finally, Virginia took things into account and organized a study on the potty parity situation in public restrooms. Jack Rollison of the Virginia House of Delegates proposed a bill that, based on the potty parity study, would increase the number of women's cent. The bill was passed by the State Housing and Community Development Board and will take effect on March 1, 1989, in all new buildings that will house public events.

Rollison based his recommendations on the findings of the study which listed several reasons why women suffered from such long lines at the restrooms. Reasons listed in the study include: many women are accompanied by small children who take more time; and, in general, women wear more clothes than men.

While the first finding is easy to agree with, it is a little uncertain what the second means, unless women tend to wear two or three pairs of underwear, or if pantyhose count as more clothes than a pair of pants. I think what they really mean by this statement is that men, due to their bodily structure, are more efficient in relieving themselves quickly than women, regardless of the number of study but weren't, such as the fact that and achieve potty parity.

restrooms in comparison to men's by 50 per- women tend to go to the restroom in groups, causing a small traffic jam. I don't know why we do this, but we do and that's life.

> nother possible reason could be that women tend to do more in the bathroom than men. I won't go into to all the details, but I think women do considerably more than men. And last but not least, women seem to go to the bathroom more often than men. No, I can't prove this one either, but it sure seems like it. Now, if a study were done on this, it would certainly vindicate this potty parity theory.

For whatever reasons this potty parity act was established, they were certainly good enough for the Virginia House of Delegates and for me as well. It is time for legislatures to begin to address topics that, while they may seem insignificant at the time, have a major effect on the happiness and well-being of a large sector of society. Let Virginia's new law be a model to the rest of the country. It seems as if there are numerous other rea- There's no use just getting pissed off about sons which could have been cited in this the potty situation. It is time to take action

New reporting system will help rape victims

Late at night, every night, women walk across campus alone. How many times have you heard a woman say that she walked home by herself after a test or study session?

But for some reason, students here at K-State don't seem to hear much about rape on campus. At times, it makes youe wonder if maybe things are being hushed. That maybe rapes are occurring but someone is keeping them quiet.

Well, you're right.

Millions of women are raped every year, but only a fraction of those attacked report the crime.

Rapes aren't reported to authorities because women don't want to talk about their experiences, especially to people they don't know. They just want to forget.

But rapists don't get caught unless rapes are reported. In order to increase the number of reported rapes at K-State, the office of Student Life and the Women's Resource Center are implementing a rape report program.

Consent forms are now available through student service offices and are being distributed to faculty members and residence hall staff members. These forms allow rapes to be reported to someone other than a stranger.

While it would be ideal for a rape victim to go straight to the police, with the psychological trauma involved, it is not always possible.

This is a progressive and much needed program at K-State. Not only will this program help cut down the number of rumors associated with campus rapes, but it will also help heighten the University's awareness of rape.

Abortion rights questionnaire

Do you think abortion should be made illegal?

If yes, would you favor an exception if a woman's life is endangered?

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

News Staff Janet Swarson Jeff Schrag John La Barge Chris Hays Robert R. Short CAMPUS EDITORS. ne Dall MENT EDITOR SPORTS WRITERS SPORTS COLUMNISTS GRAPHIC ARTIST STAFF ASSISTANT PHOTOGRAPHERS Chris Assaf, Brad Camp, Jim Dietz, Joe Freeman Brett Hacker, Jeff Stead, Greg Vogel d, Jim Dietz, Audra Dietz, Christine Doll, Catherine Doud EDITORIAL BOARD Advertising Staff DISPLAY SALES REPRESENTATIVES OFFICE/CLASSIFIED AD ASSISTANTS GRAPHIC ARTISTS ... Student Publications Staff ACTING DIRECTOR/ADVERTISING DIRECTOR ... ASSISTANT DIRECTOR/NEWS ADVISER... BUSINESS MANAGER OFFICE MANAGER OFFICE MANAGER CLASSIFED ADVENTSING MANAGER. ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT... NEWS PRODUCTION COORDINATOR... ADVERTISING PRODUCTION COORDINATOR

No alarm in building

Editor,

The Collegian has had a lot of letters and articles concerning the lack of adequate lighting on campus recently. I would like to shed a little light on another important campus issue the lack of fire alarms in campus buildings.

One building in particular has come to my attention - the Military Science Building. It does not have a single fire alarm. My research revealed that it would cost about $50 to get an adequate fire alarm system in this building (batteries not included).

Isn't a human life worth more to K-State than $50 and a couple of batteries a year?

The University has done a good job of recruiting new students this year. Let's see about keeping these students alive. Let's make all campus buildings safe, now,

J.R. Walden sophomore in business administration

Transport needed

How many people in Manhattan have accessible transportation all of the time? I think the City of Manhattan should provide a bus transportation system for a safe and reliable means of transportation for both young and old. This would be one good way for the city to actually help everyone in the

> Scott McEwen sophomore in business finance

Thanks for donating

I wish to express sincere appreciation and thanks to the K-State students, faculty, staff and community volunteers who participated in the K-State Bloodmobile drive of Oct.

Letters

25-28, 1988. Through the efforts of these volunteers, 1,306 usable units of blood were collected. Since four components are obtained from each unit, 5,224 people will benefit from this drive.

My apologies to the potential donors who experienced unusually long waits Friday. On the last day of the drive, a lack of community volunteers and the illnesses of Wichita Red Cross staff members contributed to this problem. Your attempt to support the drive was appreciated. Please try to donate again during the February 1989 drive.

K-State continues to lead in blood collection drives in the Wichita region. We can all be proud of our commitment to such a worthwhile project.

Phyllis M. Hammond K-State Bloodmobile Coordinator

Get bikes off walks

Editor,

As we near the winter months, we close yet another season of bicyclists swerving to miss students on the sidewalks.

Haven't we put up with this annoyance long enough? The police department's Traffic and Parking Regulations states that "bicyclists shall ride on designated bike paths or bike lanes where available." It's time either the bicyclists become aware of this rule or the police department start enforcing it.

Hopefully, this editorial will open some eyes on campus. It's time to do something about this problem. Let's make this the last season for "the sidewalk bicyclists" on

Bob Polley junior in business administration and 14 others

Headline wrong

I need to point out that the Collegian headline, "School of Journalism misplaces application," is inaccurate.

The school did not "misplace" the packet sent out by the Educational Opportunity Fund committee. The packet arrived in our afternoon mail Tuesday, Nov. 1, not Friday, Nov. 11, as your story indicates.

Carol Oukrop, director School of Journalism and Mass Communications

Collegian Editorial Policies

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR are always encouraged. Those which pertain to matters of campus and/or public interest are especially encouraged, and are given the highest priority.

Letters should be kept as brief as possible, preferably under 300 words. Those who cannot condense their opinions should consider submitting their letter in the form of a guest column. All letters are subject to editing for space, style and taste.

GUEST COLUMNS are also encouraged. The column should be no longer than two double-spaced, typed pages. If the submission is used as a column and not a letter to the editor, it will be accompanied by the author's photograph. SEND SUBMISSIONS to the Collegian in Kedzie 116.

UNSIGNED EDITORIALS represent the consensus opinion of the Collegian's editorial board. Opinion columns do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the Collegian management, Student Publications, Inc. or the newspaper staff in general.

Students discover research alternatives

By The Collegian Staff

It's late Sunday night and you're returning home after a great weekend - only to remember the speech you must give the next morning is still in the planning stage.

Panic sets in.

Some students choose to stay up all night and create a masterpiece, while others sort through their roommates' files and duplicate an old speech.

Still others plan ahead and send away for the speech or term paper from one of several companies across the nation who sell them. The students who purchase these papers can choose from a wide variety of topics, according to the November issue of The Chronicle of Higher Education.

One such firm, Research Assistance, in Los Angeles, publishes a catalog listing more than 16,000 topics for papers in 141 academic areas.

Each entry describes the essay and includes the number of pages, footnotes and bibliography sources.

The average price per page for a basic paper is $7. However, papers which require specialized research by the company can cost up to $22

"Our theory is simple," said Art Stekel, partner in the Research Assistance firm. "The best way to learn sound research techniques is through studying letter-perfect research papers in the exact area of your assignment.

"The most popular súbjects are business and management, finance, accounting and computers."

A Chicago-based company, Author's Research Services, clearly states in its literature: "All materials are sold for research assistance and as an adjunct to your own individual effort, not as a finished product for academic credit."

Author's Research Services photocopies the research onto colored paper and stamps the copyright warning on each page in order to comply with a 1972 Illinois law restricting its operation, according to The Chronicle.

BM & MAC COMPATIBLE

Many of these companies advertise in national publications, such as Rolling Stone magazine.

The paper-purchasing process begins when a student contacts one of the companies and looks through its catalog. The firms require a college ID and the name of the university before sending the paper and a list of other places where it has been

At least three K-State instructors said they have had minimal, if any, problems with students handing in exact duplications of company-based research papers.

Dave Smit, instructor of English, said he hasn't had problems with the research papers in either of his English Composition 1 or English Composition 2 classes.

Mary Keehner, graduate teaching assistant in speech, said although she hasn't had a problem with students bringing in purchased speeches, she did have a student last year who tried to duplicate another student's speech.

"It was very obvious. First because the student clearly did not understand the topic, and second because the student referred several times to a certain author's work that I had read, but I knew the student had not," Keehner said.

GTAs are given a lot of flexibility on the policy of plagiarism, she said.

"It really depends on the individual case, but if it is a clear violation, we flunk the student out of the class," Keehner said.

"Occasionally I have cheaters," said Phillip Anderson, temporary instructor of public speaking. "I think it's very hard to cheat, especially on a speech, because the student must relate the speech to his or her own personal experiences and must also direct it to the audience."

Cheating is more of a problem in speech quiz-out because it is a onetime event, rather than in actual speech class, he said.

"The main precaution we take is to check student ID's, to make sure the right student is taking the quiz-out," Anderson said.

Staft/Brad Camp

Tree Hunting

Bill Moore, Optimist Club member, helps Janet Daniels and her three-year-old daughter, Maggie, both of Manhattan, move a Christ- The club started their tree sales Friday.

mas tree at the Optimist Club Christmas tree sale Sunday afternoon.

Scrooged' poor remake of classic

By Brad Atchison Collegian Reviewer

Stop me if you have heard this one

Once upon a time there was a very powerful man who had a whole bunch of money. He hated Christmas not because of the bad traffic and obnoxious Christmas music but because Christmas is a time for love and family. This guy had no room for these spiritual gratuities in his busy work year. Anyway, this guy ... oh, you have heard it before? Well, so have I.

The movie plot I was describing is from "Scrooged," a new Christmas movie starring comedy mogul Bill Murray.

"Scrooged" may be a new movie, but the story, as I am sure you have deduced, is another mutation of Charles Dickens' classic novel, "A Christmas Carol."

Film Review

In "Scrooged," Murray plays the role of Ebeneezer Scrooge ... I mean Francis Xavier Cross, a television executive with a heart the size of a pin head. Cross is the product of "the television generation," bleached of all humanity by thousands of hours spent watching the boob tube.

I don't need to tell you the plot of this show. Just take "A Christmas Carol" - any version - and imagine Murray in the role of Scrooge, Buster Poindexter as the Ghost of .Christmas Past, Carol Kane as the Ghost of Christmas Present, etc.

Call me old fashioned, but I didn't like it when Tiffany remade "I Saw Her Standing There" and I am not very impressed with this remake of "A Christmas Carol."

Although "Scrooged" does not capture the spirit of Dickens, it does possess a comedic element which makes the show watchable.

In the opening scenes of the show, Cross is previewing network Christmas specials such as "The Day the Reindeer Died," starring Lee Majors as the Santa-saving "Six-Million Dollar Man," and yet another version of "A Christmas Carol" featuring the Solid Gold Dancers as street people and Mary Lou Retton as Tiny Tim. Funny stuff!

However, the best scenes in the ■ See REVIEW, Page 12

If you don't need all this pizazz, check out our other two Silentwriters. No matter which one you choose, you won't waste time with breakdowns. They all have an average life of 600,000 pages—more than twice as much as

So if you want to get the most out of desktop publishing, don't waste time with other printers.

Connecting Point. 333

1115 Westloop Shop. Ctr. 539-0801

NEC NEC PRINTERS THEY ONLY STOP WHEN YOU WANT THEM TO

Wayne's

CHANGE OIL AND FILTER COMPLETE 12 POINT CHECK MINOR MECHANICAL REPAIRS BRAKES -AIR CONDITIONING RADIATOR FLUSHES

SOUTH OF HOLIDOME

539-5431

2304 SKY-VUE LANE-MANHATTAN

HOURS: 8-6

MON.-FRI. NO APPOINTMENT NECESSARY

GUARANTEE STUDENT LOANS

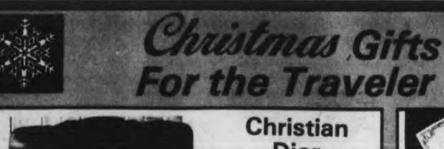

WE WANT TO MAKE YOUR STUDENT LOAN!

Have the professionals at Kansas State Bank make your student loan. Simply contact us at:

537-4400

Lender code #821176

KANSAS STATE BA 1010 Westloop & 11th and Bluemont, (913) 537-4400

Dior

"In matters of elegance and grace the detail is as important as the essential"

HERITAGE ATTACHE SALE *38.95 Reg. '48.95

Diane Von Furstenberg "A Matter of Elegance"

50% OFF

DELSEY HARDSIDE LUGGAGE

31" Pullman +139.95 $129.95 29" Pullman 119.00 $109.95 ⁵82.95 24" Pullman *110.00

SALE

SALE *195.95

CREATIVE TRAVEL DESIGNER LINE w/Logo

Money Belts

$7.50 reg *18.50

Carriers

⁵17.95

reg *19.95

957 Seth Child Village Plant Shopping Center $39-9531

SportsMonday

Kansas State Collegian ■ Monday, November 28, 1988 ■ Page 6

K-State stuns Boilermakers in opener

Purdue folds down stretch

By Chris Hays Sports Editor

Departed from the K-State men's basketball team are the likes of Mitch Richmond, Charles Bledsoe, Ron Meyer and Will Scott.

But after the Wildcats' 81-77 victory over 20th-ranked Purdue Saturday, not many, if any, K-State fans were mentioning those four names. Instead, the talk was about the new K-State stars - names like LaKeith Humphrey, Reggie Britt, Billy Ray Smith, Tony Massop and, of course, the not-so-new faces, Steve Henson, Fred McCoy and Mark Dobbins.

Except for Henson and McCoy, most of this year's Wildcat basketball squad saw its first real action at the major college level Saturday and most of the game it showed, but they came through when it counted.

There was Humphrey, scoring 17 points and taking over at the point guard spot when the Wildcats needed to get regular point guard Henson open on the wings.

There was Henson, sporting a new haircut and a new role this year, as he dropped in 26 points and shot the ball 16 times, well over the six shots per game he averaged during his first two seasons at K-State.

There was Dobbins, hitting key baskets down the stretch run to keep the 'Cats close.

There was Britt, Massop, McCoy and Smith banging it around inside with the much more physical Boilermakers to give K-State a onerebound edge, 35-34, in the end.

"We have a different kind of ballclub this year," Wildcat coach Lon Kruger said. "I want this club to establish its own personality."

Going up against the much stronger and taller Purdue squad that led most of the game, K-State looked to be out of its league in the first half. Boilermaker center Melvin McCants scored at will against the Wildcat man-to-man defense en route to 13 points in the first half. But somehow, K-State only trailed by three at halftime, 47-44.

"We were on the ropes all night long," Kruger said. "We were just scratchin' and clawin' and hoping to hang on and have a chance late."

The second half didn't look like it was going to go much better for the Wildcats, as Purdue led nearly the rest of the way. But McCants' bucket at the 4:50 mark that put the Boilermakers up by eight, 77-69, was the last bucket they were to get.

From there it was all K-State as the Wildcats' scrapping defense flustered Purdue into numerous mistakes late in the game. The Wildcats scored the final 12 points of the contest to wrap up their first victory of the season and their first victory in Bramlage Coliseum.

Possibly the key to the Wildcats' comeback was a switch from the man defense, that didn't seem to work on McCants, to a zone defense.

"We knew going in that they were strong and physical and we had a lot of respect for the entire Purdue team," Kruger said. "But in the first half, they were way too confident and McCants was doing whatever he wanted inside. We weren't planning on using the zone but we felt we had to make some adjustments."

The K-State zone helped put two or three Wildcat players around the Purdue center most of the second half. Although McCants did finish with a game-high 27 points, what the zone seemed to help most was the 'Cats' rebounding efforts. With two or three Wildcat players getting position under the basket, the Boilermakers rarely got second shots.

"They were really physical underneath," said Massop, who had the dreaded role of guarding McCants most of the first half. "But, in the first half, I think that I was just not doing the little things that I had to as far getting into position."

"I think when we went into the zone it kind of put them back on their heels. It made them stop and look," Henson said. "It also helped us on our rebounds because they weren't getting any put backs."

K-STATE	M	FG	FG3	FT	RFP
B.R. SMITH	22	0-1	0-0	0-0	3 3 0
MASSOP	28	3-9	0-0	1-2	947
McCOY	23	4-14	0-0	3-3	6 3 11
HENSON	38	7-16	4.9	10-11	4 2 26
DIGGINS	15	0-1	0-0	0-0	100
Britt	22	4-5	0-0	3-8	4 2 11
Dobbins	19	4-7	1-3	0-1	529
Humphrey	27	6-10	2-3		3 1 17
Simmons	6	0-0	0-0	0-0	000
Totals	1	28-63	7-15	20-32	351781
PURDUE	M	FG	FG3	FT	RFP
OLIVER	31	2-7	0-4	1-2	635
McCANTS	38	12-19	0-0	3-4	4 4 27
SCHEFFLER	22	4-6	0-0	2-5	7 4 10
REID	27	4-9	3-7		2 2 11
JONES	27	4-8	2-3	2-2	4 4 12
Clybum	13	1-2	1-1		3 2 3
			0.0	0.0

0-1 0-1

6 1-1 0-0 0-0 0 1 2

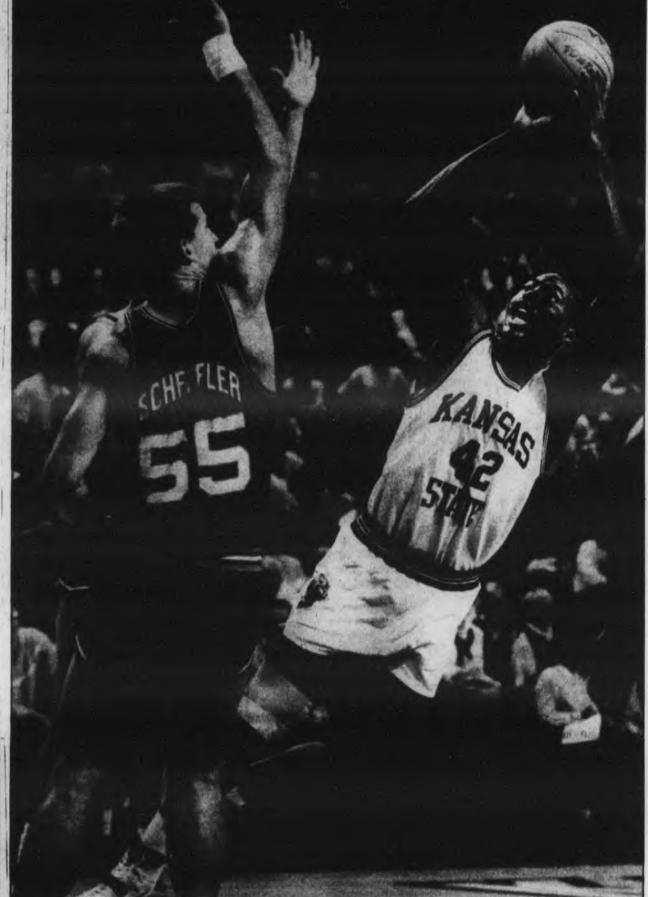

11 1-1 1-1 2-2 1 2 5

30-59 7-17 10-16 3427 77

0-0 1 1 0

Halftime score: Purdue 47, K-State 44 Turnovers: K-State 11, Purdue 16. FG Pct.: K-State 44.4, Purdue 50.9. Att.: 13,500.

Stewart

K-State forward Tony Massop goes up for a shot as Purdue center Stephen Scheffler applies defensive pressure in the first half of Saturday's game in Bramlage Coliseum.

Past coaches return for opener

By Kevin Kramer Collegian Reporter

The history and future of K-State basketball met in front of a sell-out crowd of 13,500 in Bramlage Coliseum for the K-State men's basketball squad's season opener Saturday night. Prior to the tip-off of the Purdue-K-State basketball game, the game ball was presented to coach Lon Kruger by former K-State coach Jack Gardner.

Gardner, basketball coach for K-State when Ahearn Field House opened Dec. 9, 1950, ceremonially passed the tradition of K-State basketball by presenting Kruger with the first game ball to be used for a men's basketball game at Bramlage. "This is history in the making," said Gardner, a consultant and talent nence in basketball." scout for the NBA's Utah Jazz. "Lon is a tremendous coach and will keep the rich history of K-State basketball alive.

"K-State basketball has grown so much since since 1939," Gardner said. "The large crowds, interest in the game, and the new arena shows that K-State has progressed with the game."

Two other former K-State basketball coaches, Fred "Tex" Winter and Jack Hartman, were on hand for the ceremony at midcourt.

"It's hard to watch a K-State home game that is not at Ahearn," said Winter, an assistant coach and scout for the Chicago Bulls. "But the move to Bramlage is a step that had to be made to maintain K-State's emi-

"Tonight has started a new chapter to K-State's excellent basketball tradition," Hartman said. "Bramlage is a super arena to play in and there is no question that the sixth man (the crowd) has made the transition to Bramlage."

Said Kruger, "It's awfully special now that it is over. It's not something you talk a lot about before the game. It will be nice to know 20 or 30 years from now they will be talking about the first game positively."

"If we had lost, we would have probably said that it was no big deal," K-State guard Steve Henson said of the opener. "But now that it's over and we won, it is pretty special."

Irish eyes smile on Holtz, Notre Dame

Purdue players Melvin McCants and Stephen Scheffler put the squeeze on K-State guard Steve Henson during the game Saturday evening in Bramlage Coliseum. The Wildcats won 81-77.

Irish eyes are smiling.

Notre Dame, with riverboat gambler Lou Holtz pushing all of the right buttons, soundly whipped the University of Southern California 27-10 Saturday to solidify its hold on No. 1 in college football.

In doing so, the Irish sent a message to West Virginia, their opponent Jan. 2 in the Fiesta Bowl. The message is really quite simple: "If you relax against us and rely on just what you've seen on the films or what you hear about us going in, we're going to leave you crying in the green beer-you get at the local pub."

Holtz, who is one of the finest coaches in America, proved last Friday that he's also one of the gutsiest. In suspending the team's leading rusher and leading receiver - tailback Tony Brooks and flanker Ricky

Watters - for disciplinary reasons, Holtz took a big gamble.

When you're about to face the No. 2-ranked team in the country, and you're going to do so without two of your top three offensive weapons, you would appear to be going in with the blindfold on tightly and that last cigarette dangling from the corner of a bloodied mouth.

And it was a mouth you'd bloodied yourself.

Holtz, as he would many times during the win over USC, gambled that he wouldn't split his team up by suspending two of its top personalities. It's a gamble he won quite convincingly.

"I thought my decision to suspend the two players might be a divisive influence because we had been close all year," Holtz said after the win. Svoboda on Sports

DAVID SVOBODA Sports Columnist

Linebacker Wes Pritchett, who spent most of his day helping Barry Sanders win the Heisman Trophy by making Trojan quarterback Rodney Peete's life a living hell, said the move really brought the team

This was something the team agreed upon, the coaches agreed on," he said. "And I think it was a positive motivating factor. It brought the team together."

As much as the suspensions may have brought the team together, it was Holtz's tinkering with the game plan that was largely responsible for the ease with which his team won.

Take an exchange early in the contest, for example. The Trojans had taken the opening kickoff, driven into Irish territory, and then pinned Notre Dame at the 2-yard line with a great punt.

Time to grind it out on the ground for three downs and get off a punt of your own, right? Wrong. Not with the Nutty Professor calling the shots.

Holtz threw away the conventional playbook and called for a deep downfield throw.

And, just like Holtz had planned it, quarterback Tony Rice dropped back into his own end zone and launched the ball downtown to receiver Raghib Ismail. Fifty-five yards and several utterances of "wow" or "can you believe that shit?" later, Notre Dame had Ismail with the ball and had wrested the momentum from the stunned Trojans.

"I was tinkering with the idea of throwing deep all week," Holtz said. "When we got the ball at our 2, I thought it would give us a good chance to get out of a hole."

Oh, really? Nice understatement,

And don't forget about the aforementioned living hell Pritchett and teammates put Peete and the USC offense through all day long.

There were constant Irish blitzes throughout, and the scheme led to the Trojans being held to just a touch- Lou Holtz.

down and a field goal. USC turned the ball over four times, twice each on fumbles and interceptions.

Throwing from deep in your own end zone or blitzing repeatedly in a game with the mythical national title hanging in the balance is something you'd expect from a team that had nothing to lose, not from one that had everything to lose and very little to

Yet that's exactly what Holtz did, and by doing so he left his team one small step from finishing its storybook season by winning that national

Irish eyes are smiling, and there's a grin on the face of the biggest leprechaun of all, that Nutty Profes-'sor who's really a coaching genius,

Lady Cats rally to win tourney

By Chris Hays Sports Editor

Last year, if the K-State women's basketball squad was down by 20 points with 5:19 to play, it may have been time to throw in the towel.

But, then again, last year the Lady Cats didn't have Mary Jo Miller. Down by 20 with just over five minutes left in Saturday's championship game of the McCall Pattern Classic at Bramlage Coliseum, Miller sparked a furious comeback, leading the Lady Cats to a 66-65 victory over Montana.

"That is the biggest comeback that I've ever been involved in," Lady Cat coach Matilda Mossman said. "With six minutes to go and we're down by 20, there was only one person on the floor that thought for sure we still had a chance to win and that was Mary Jo Miller."

And what Miller did in her second collegiate game was phenomenal. The freshman took control at the 4:47 mark, hitting two 18-foot jumpers to get K-State within 14, 62-48. Then, after four Montana free throws, she hit a three-pointer and added two free throws to bring the Lady Cats within 12, 65-53, with 3:03 left to play. Sixty-five points were all the Lady Grizzlies were going to get.

A tough K-State full-court defense, led by Miller, Elyse Funk and Amy Davidson, dictated the rest of the game as the Lady Cats forced numerous turnovers. And when K-State fouled, the Lady Grizzlies missed their free throws.

"We did make a few turnovers, but they also put us on the line, and I think we missed four front-ends (of one-in-one attempts)," said Montana coach Robin Selvig. "We make two out of those eight potential free throws and we win the ball game."

But where the Lady Grizzlies failed, K-State succeeded, as the Lady Cats hit nine of their last 10 free throws. The only free throw they missed was rebounded and put back in by Kristie Bahner, who hit another bucket 25 seconds later to put the Lady Cats within one, 65-64, with Nothing changed until the 24-second mark, when Montana's Jean McNulty broke the K-State press on an inbounds play and looked to have a wide-open layup, but she failed to handle a perfect pass and then kicked the ball out of bounds.

"That was the first and last thing we said before we broke out of the huddle (after a time out). ... Don't give up the long pass," Mossman said. "We were very fortunate on that

The McNulty miscue set the scene for Nadira Hazim's last-second heroics. With eight seconds left, Miller shot an 18-footer that rimmed out, but Hazim grabbed the rebound and that saw the Lady Cats outscore Montana 25-4 in the final 6:31.

"You think back to last year's team and it's hard to see us coming back like we did today," Bahner said.

K-STATE	M	FG	FG3	FT	RFP
MADSEN	16	3-6	0-0	0-0	416
D. MILLER	30	3-11	1-2	1-2	418
BOYLE	20	2-9	0-0	2-3	326
HAZIM	31	8-17	0-0	1-1	5 2 17
M. MILLER	28	4-9	1-1	4-6	0 4 13
Bahner	29	2-6	0-0	5-6	849
Davidson	14	0-2	0-0	2-2	212
Matteucci	10	0-3	0-0	0-0	510
Lane	5	1-3	0-0	0-0	3 1 2
Funk	13	1-1	0-0	1-1	022
Cobb	4	0-0	0-0	1-1	021
Totals	:	24-67	2-3 1	6-22	3421 66

put it back in, capping a scoring spurt "But we are a different team this year, and I know that we were still hoping to pull this one out."

Hazim's 17 points led K-State. Miller added 13 and Bahner had 9.

■ See CHAMPS, Page 12

					-
MONTANA	M	FG	FG3	FT	RI	P
AUSTIN	38	8-13	0-0	0-2	4 4	116
KINZLER	21	2-4	0-0	0-0	7 () 4
McLEOD	2	6-12	0-0	6-6	10 5	5 18
McNULTY	35	7-14	3-5	3-5	11 3	3 17
BRANDELL	40	2-7	0-1	4-6	2 2	2 8
Cate	23	1-5	0-2	0-0	6 3	3 2
Haasl	8	0-0	0-0	0-0	3 1	0
Mendel	4	0-0	0-0	0-0	0 (0 (
Bahnmiller	2	0-0	0-0	0-0	0 0	0 (
Totals	1	26-55	3-8 1	3-19	4318	65

Halftime score: Montana 28, Lady Cats 21. Turnovers: Lady Cats 16, Montana 24. FG Pct.: Lady Cats 35.8, Montana 47.2.

Records fall

Tournament records in 13 dil Single Game Records

- 3, by Shannon Cate (Montana)
vs. Eastern Illinois. Ties Elicha
Ramer (Arkansas-Little Rock) vs.
Central Missouri St., 1967.

Most three-point field goals attempted — 8, by Shannon Cate (Montana) vs. Eastern Illinois.

Most free throws -- 11, by Barb Perkes (Eastern Ilinois) vs.

Most free throws attempted

14, by Barb Perkes (Eastern Illinois) vs. Montana.

wo-Game Records (Individual Most three-point field)

3. by Shannon Cate (Mont

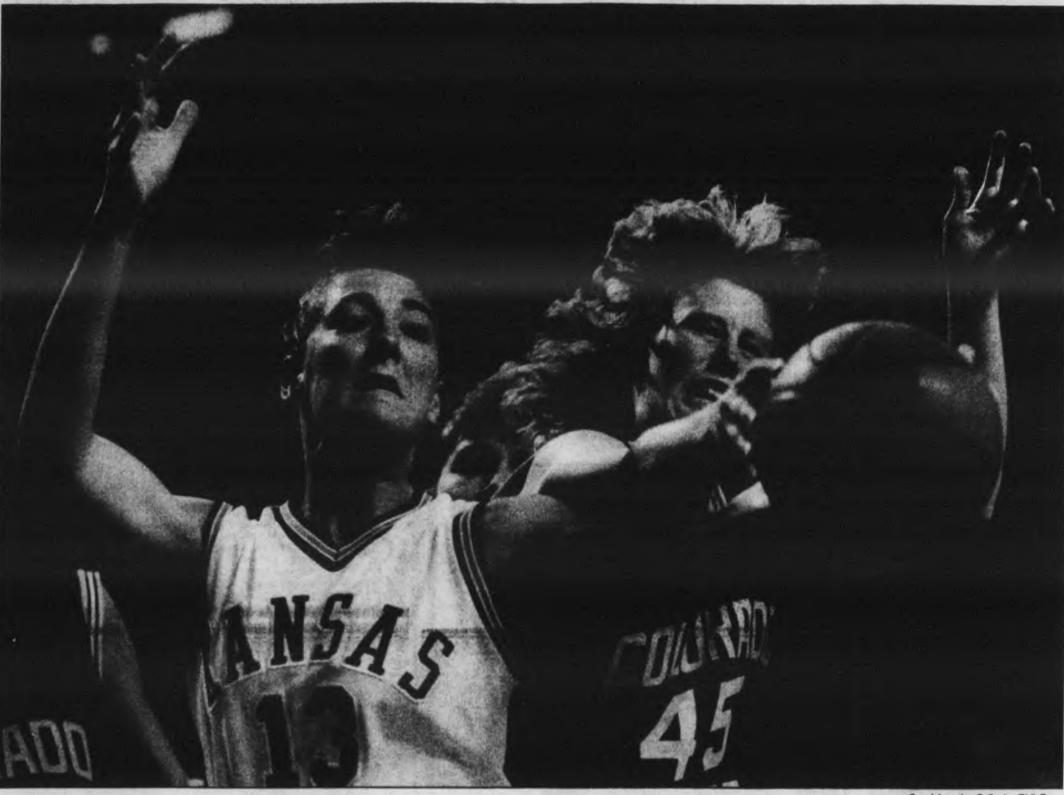

Most three-point field goals tempted — 10, by Shannon

Most free throws — 19, by larb Perkes (Eastern Illinois).

Most free throws attempted 26, Barb Perkes (Easie le-Game Records (team) Most three-point field goals by Montana vs. Eastern Most steals — 22, by KState vs. Colorado State.

Two-Game Records (team)
Most three-point field goals
7, by Montana.
Most three-point field goals attempted — 18, by Montans.
Most steals — 37, by KState

Special to the Collegian/Phil Bays

K-State forward Rita Matteucci tries to get the ball from Colorado State forward Kris Osterberg in the first round of the McCall Pattern Classic. The 'Cats beat Colorado State 70-56.

Sports Briefly

Coach may be named Tuesday

Athletic Director Steve Miller said Sunday that he should know by today who the new K-State football coach will be and that he has tentatively set the announcement to take place somtime between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Tuesday.

Six coaches are said to be in the running, including three that have been confirmed as finalists: Penn State assistant Ron Dickerson, Texas Christian assistant Bill Thornton and Pittsburgh assistant John Fox. The exact time of the Tuesday announcement should be known sometime today.

Kansas City suspends Palmer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - Kansas City Chiefs running back Paul Palmer was suspended from the team Sunday, apparently because of comments he made on the team bus about the coaching staff, according to some players.

Palmer, the team's leading rusher and second-leading receiver, was suspended just before the Chiefs' game with the Pittsburgh Steelers for "conduct detrimental to the team." He returned to Kansas City alone and would not discuss the suspension.

A Chiefs player who requested anonymity told the The Kansas City Star and Times that Palmer was suspended because he said he did not believe the coaching staff would return next season. The comments, made on a team bus Saturday, reportedly were overheard by strength and conditioning coach C.T. Hewgley.

Neither Chiefs General Manager Jim Schaaf, Hewgley, nor Coach Frank Gansz would comment on that report when contacted after the team returned to Kansas City Sunday night.

Washburn loses in playoff

MONTICELLO, Ark. - Quarterback Sean Rochelle raced 26 yards for a fourth-quarter touchdown that put the University of Arkansas at Monticello ahead to stay in a 20-13 victory over Washburn, Kan., in the first round of the NAIA playoff on Sunday.

Washburn took a 13-12 lead on Dave Ruder's 36-yard field goal with 11:17 to go in the fourth quarter, but Rochelle came back with his third touchdown of the game. The TD ended a seven-play, 56-yard drive and came with 7:55 to play. Rochelle, who carried 23 times for 139 yards, tacked on the two-point conversion.

Washburn came right back and moved to the UAM 30. Free safety Mac Newcomb, on a blitz, separated Barry Griffiths from the ball and Eric Richardson recovered at the UAM 46. The Weevils consumed the final 5:18 with 11 running plays. Rochelle kept the drive alive when he made 2 yards on fourth-and-one at the Washburn 45.

Chiefs drop ninth to Pittsburgh

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH — The Pittsburgh Steelers managed to win for only the second time in 12 games by keeping Kansas City's offense - and the Steelers' own punting team - off the field for most of the game.

Gary Anderson ended three long scoring drives with field goals and Merril Hoge scored on a 10-yard run Sunday as Steelers beat the Chiefs 16-10 behind three fourth-quarter goal-line stands.

The Chiefs, 3-9-1, managed only a field goal by Nick Lowery on two fourth-quarter drives inside the Steelers' 7-yard line as Pittsburgh, 3-10, broke a four-game losing streak and the Chiefs' two-game winning streak. The game ended on an incomplete pass with Kansas City

"The defense was up and down, but they were up at the end of the game," Steelers coach Chuck Noll said. "It's tough to know what to say because it's been so long since we won. What does this do for us? It gives us the chance to celebrate and we haven't been able to do that in a while."

"It might have looked ugly, but we look at it as being pretty," cornerback Rod Woodson said. "It's a 'W' in our record and right now, we'll take all the wins we can get."

"We had an excellent chance to win," Chiefs coach Frank Gansz said. "We had a few key mistakes, a few turnovers, and it comes down to things like that. We didn't score every time we had field position, and those kind of things beat you."

The Steelers used a nearly 2-to-1 their first losing home record since first-half edge in time of possession to take a 13-7 halftime lead while avoiding the special teams breakdowns that have beset them all season. Pittsburgh has had an NFLrecord six punts blocked this season.

The Steelers didn't have to punt until midway through the third period and Harry Newsome averaged 50.7 on three punts despite a heavy Chiefs' rush.

"I don't know if anybody held their breath on the punts but the fans in the stands," Noll said.

"Their punting team came back to do an excellent job, a fine job, and I give them credit," Gansz said.

The Steelers, 3-4 at home, are headed for their worst season since they were 1-13 in 1969 and need to win Dec. 18 against Miami to avoid moving into Three Rivers Stadium in

The Chiefs remain winless on the road at 0-5-1.

With the Chiefs leading 7-6, Hoge scored from the 10 on a third-andtwo play with 1:06 left in the first half, ending the Steelers' only touchdown drive.

Anderson ended two lengthy drives with field goals of 23 and 20 yards as the Steelers took a 6-0 lead by keeping the Chiefs' offense off the field for all but four first-quarter plays. Anderson added a 22-yarder in the third quarter and has made his last 30 attempts inside the 40-yard line, including all 18 attempts this season.

Bengals hand Buffalo second loss

By The Associated Press

The Cincinnati Bengals' offense faced a tough test Sunday against the Buffalo Bills' defense, ranked first in the AFC.

The Bengals' offense not only passed, it made the honor roll.

"We know we have the best offense in the NFL. We think we can run on anybody," quarterback Boomer Esiason said after Cincinnati stayed in first place in the AFC Central with a 35-21 victory over the Bengals.

Esiason completed 17 of 25 passed for 238 yards and the Bengals ran for another 232 yards. Ickey Woods ran for 129 in 26 carries and scored three times and James Brooks ran for 93 yards and scored twice on a defense that had allowed 101 yards rushing per game. The Bengals netted 455 yards against a defense that had been giv- ses and set up a third in a victory over ing up just 270, best in the AFC and second-best in the NFL.

"It is far and away the best offense we have seen," said Buffalo coach Mary Levy, whose team clinched the AFC East title last week and still has an 11-2 record, a game better than Cincinnati at 10-3.

In other games Sunday, it was Cleveland 17, Washington 13; Chicago 16, Green Bay 0; Pittsburgh 16, Kansas City 10; New York Jets 38, Miami 34; Philadelphia 31, Phoenix 21; Atlanta 17, Tampa Bay 10; San Francisco 48, San Diego 10; Indianapolis 24, New England 21; Denver 35, Los Angeles 24 and New York Giants 13, New Orleans 12.

On Monday night, the Los Angeles Raiders are at Seattle.

Eagles 31, Cardinals 21 Philadelphia held on to as least a tie for the NFC East lead as Ron Johnson caught two touchdown pas-

Phoenix.

The Eagles, who have won seven of their last nine, boosted their record to 8-5 and dropped the Cardinals out of a three-way tie for the division lead at 7-6.

Randall Cunningham, who completed 17 of 35 passes for 214 yards and two touchdowns, rallied the Eagles from a 14-7 halftime deficit to a 24-14 lead after three periods. He got an assist from backup Matt Cavanaugh, who came in for one play and threw nine yards to Johnson for a touchdown.

Browns 17, Redskins 13 Cleveland virtually ended the playoff hopes of the defending Super Bowl champions when Earnest Byner ran 27 yards for a touchdown with 1:49 remaining. Byner's score wiped out a 13-10 Washington lead on a third-and-five situation. Byner broke tackles by Ravin Caldwell and Todd Bowles en route to the end zone on a draw play. An interception by Cleveland cornerback Mark Harper with 41 seconds remaining sealed the victory for the Browns, 8-5, who remained in the thick of the playoff picture in the Washington, 6-7, lost its third straight game for the first time since

Bears 16, Packers 0 Neal Anderson scored his second touchdown of the game on an 80-yard run in the third quarter, but Chicago saw quarterback Mike Tomczak and defensive end Richard Dent injured against hapless Green Bay. The Bears clinched at least a wildcard playoff spot with a 11-2 record, while the Packers fell to 2-11 with their sixth straight defeat.

Tomczak suffered a separation of his left, non-throwing shoulder with a minute left in the first half, and was replaced by Jim Harbaugh.

Americans say deficit No. 1 priority

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK - Americans far and away say reducing the budget deficit should be George Bush's top priority as president, and most favor a tax crackdown and defense cuts to accomplish it, a Media General-Associated Press survey has found.

Respondents to the national poll firmly opposed most new or higher taxes to address the deficit, and most also opposed cuts in domestic programs such as welfare or a freeze in Social Security benefits.

Strong majorities, however, did support higher federal taxes on cigarettes and alcohol, and a narrow majority, 52 percent, favored reductions in defense spending to cut the

The survey also found overwhelming support for an Internal Revenue Service crackdown to collect taxes, an approach urged by Democratic nominee Michael Dukakis in the presidential campaign but ridiculed by Bush.

The 1,084 adults polled were asked: "What do you think should be George Bush's No. 1 priority once he takes office?" Thirty-four percent said the deficit, an unusually high rate of agreement in an open-ended question.

No other category drew a response rate in the double digits. Seven percent cited other economic matters, 5 percent said poverty or homelessness, 5 percent said defense and the rest were scattered over a range of

Only 3 percent said drugs, an issue that ranked far higher in importance in pre-election polls during the summer but then faded in the fall as concern about the deficit rose.

On drugs, the poll found support for drug testing of all federal workers, for military drug patrols at the nation's borders and for a crackdown on drug users.

The survey also found broad support for aggressive measures to address the trade deficit, including higher import taxes and quotas. It found some support for restrictions on foreign investments in the United States, but not if that investment cre-

The poll, conducted Nov. 10 to 20, had a margin of sampling error of plus or minus 3 percentage points.

Although the budget deficit was the leading issue, signals were mixed on how to address it. Two-thirds favored higher corporate taxes, for example, but a third of that group said they would change their minds if corporations responded to tax hikes by raising prices.

Opposition to most other taxes was stronger: Eight in 10 opposed higher personal income taxes, threequarters opposed higher gasoline taxes, three-quarters opposed taxing the Social Security benefits of higher-income Americans, and 64 percent opposed a national sales tax.

More than seven in 10, however, approved of higher cigarette and alcoholic beverage taxes. Even more popular was an IRS crackdown "to make sure people and companies pay their full taxes," with 87 percent approval.

On the expenditures side, eight in 10 opposed a freeze in Social Security cost-of-living increases, seven in 10 opposed welfare cuts, seven in 10 opposed cutting the Medicare benefits of higher-income Americans and six in 10 opposed cuts in farm

Only defense cuts were favored by a majority, with particular support from liberals and Democrats but backing also from moderates and independents. When respondents were asked specifically if they supported cuts in the Strategic Defense Initiative missile defense program, or "Star Wars," 56 percent did.

To address the foreign trade deficit, 65 percent said the United States should impose higher taxes on imports, and nearly all said they would hold that position even if it increased prices for some goods.

Nearly nine in 10 favored restricting U.S. imports to countries that do not allow the United States to sell products there freely.

Media General Inc., a communications company based in Richmond, Va., publishes the Richmond Times-Dispatch, the Richmond News Leader, the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune and the Winston-Salem (N.C.) Journal, and operates TV stations WXFL in Tampa, WCBD in Charleston, S.C., and WJKS in Jacksonville, Fla.

Laughlin awarded first professorship counting had been awarded to igene J. Laughlin, professor of

The endowed professorship has been established through gifts and pledges totaling $100,000 from K-State graduate Ralph Crouch and Peat, Marwick, Main and Co., an international CPA firm.

an international CPA firm.

A professorship is a designation of an individual who has outstanding qualities as a teacher or researcher, said Maurice Stark, professor of accounting.

The professorship honors the person named and the person or organization that contributes the money, he said. Earnings from the endowment will be used annually endowment will be used annually to enhance the recipient's salary.

Laughlin was nominated for the position by Stark, who first consulted with other faculty members before recommending Laughlin to the dean of the college. Randolph Pohlman, dean of the College of Business Admi-nistration, discussed the faculty's mendation with the fire and then Laughlin was selected, Stark said Laughlin has an out-standing reputation as a professor.

Laughlin has been a professor since 1955 in the College of Business Administration. He received his master's degree from K-State and his doctoral degree from the University of Illinois. He served as the associate dean of the College of Business Administration from 1966 to 1975. The students from 1966 to 1975. The studen and faculty of the college selected him as the outstanding undergraduate teacher of 1982.

The Peat Marwick Foundation and K-State alumni who serve as partners of the company contri-buted to the fund, Ralph Crouch, a 1934 graduate, was the princi donor of the endowed professorship.

Pakistan's leader Officials to announce

By The Associated Press

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan - President Ghulam Ishaq Khan said he will name the new prime minister on Thursday, two weeks after Benazir Bhutto's party won the most votes in the first free elections in more than a decade.

The official television network said Sunday that Khan will make the announcement in an address to the nation.

The newly elected members of Parliament are to be sworn in Wednesday, the television report said. Bhutto met with the president last week and urged him to let her left-leaning Pakistan's People's Party form the new government and make her the first woman prime minister of an Islamic country.

The party led by Bhutto, who is the daughter of the late Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, won 93 of 207 seats in the Nov. 16 general elections. Her right-wing rival, the Islamic Democratic Alliance, got 55 seats in Parliament. Bhutto has insisted she has strong enough support among possible coalition partners to command a majority in the legislature.

The Parliament has 237 seats -207 for Moslems, 10 for non-Moslems and 20 for women, who are to be elected by the new assembly another 64 legislators. during its first session on Wednesday.

Under the laws of Islam, which dominates Pakistan, women are not allowed to appear in public without a veil covering their faces. Few women participate in public affairs.

Nawaz Sharif, who leads the rightwing Islamic alliance, has yet to concede the National Assembly to Bhutto, saying he can command a majority if smaller parties and women support him.

Bhutto's party has to pick up the votes of 26 members of Parliament to gain a simple majority, while Sharif's group would need the support of Sharif was a protege of the late President Mohammed Zia ul-Haq. who died with U.S. Ambassador Arnold Raphel and 28 others in an Aug. 17 plane crash that an investigation blamed on sabotage. No charges have been filed, and a probe is continuing.

Zia overthrew Bhutto's father in 1977. Bhutto was hanged in 1979 after being convicted of complicity in a murder conspiracy.

Zia appointed Sharif chief minister of the populous Punjab province after firing his civilian government in

BUY ONE

Sandwich or Dinner

GET ONE FREE

Chef

All regular priced meals are for 1 with any reg. priced

11/28/88

Clipping this ad could introduce you to that person you've wanted to meet all semester.

If you've spent the semester watching one particular person, it's time for you to write a Collegian Personal ad. A Personal will intrigue your mystery person and give you the opportunity to introduce yourself. Just bring this ad to Kedzie 103 to start your winter romance.

YOUR NAME PHONE ADDRESS I.D. NUMBER DAY TO RUN MESSAGE

Collegian Pusmals

QUALITY NATURAL FOODS w Holiday Hours Tues., Wed., Fri. 10-6 Thurs. 10-8, Sat. 9-5 People's Grocery Cooperative 4811 811 Colorado

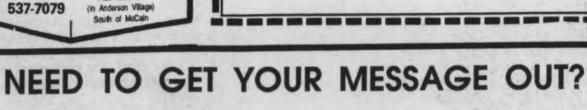

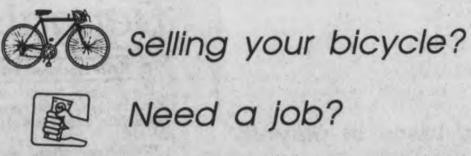

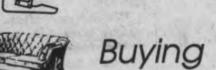

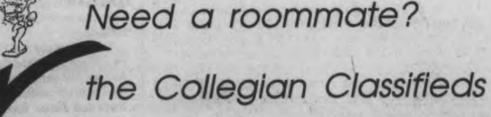

Buying a sofa?

Phone 532-6555 Kedzie 103 Deadline-noon the day before publication

Officials expecting increase of homeless living on subways

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK - Though Clarence Charlton is homeless, he knows he has a warm and dry place to sleep — as long as he doesn't mind waking up several miles away from where he laid his head down.

Charlton, like hundreds of New York's street people, calls the city's subway system home, and officials say they expect the numbers to surge as winter sets in.

"I can always get on the subway. I usually have the fare," said Charlton, 78, a former mental patient who was wearing a black-knit cap, grimy pants, no shirt, a sweater and tweed coat one day last week. Bedroom slippers failed to cover his swollen feet.

"In the daytime I'm out on the bench, and at nighttime I get in the subway," he said, lighting a cigarette butt, which he says helps his asthma, "In bad weather, I'll go underground."

Charlton had company that day at the 179th Street Station in Queens. Another homeless man was at the other end of the platform, and at least eight already were on the E train when it rolled up to start its run to Manhattan.

York's subways are drawing ever more homeless people. The attraction: a warm, relatively safe environment, all for a dollar.

As the winds get colder, New

For many riders, the disheveled and often unbathed passengers are not welcome on the nation's largest transit system.

"They stink. They're dirty. They can smell up a whole train," said passenger Bernard Nashofer.

Transit police walk a thin line, rousting homeless people who cause trouble but letting the others sleep. Maintenance crews find themselves cleaning the kinds of messes that subways weren't meant for. Subway passengers learn to select cars by scent.

In response, the Metropolitan Transit Authority approved a plan last week to hire the Volunteers of America, a social service group, to patrol subway platforms and trains. Members plan to talk to the homeless and offer them the group's shelter as an alternative to sleeping underground. But many homeless people shun shelters.

Closed Classes

Last summer, the transit authority estimated there were 1,400 people using its trains and stations as home. Advocates for the homeless say that's far too low an estimate, and the authority admits the number will be much greater this

The problem is not unique to New York; it is an issue only in cities where buses and subways run all night. In Los Angeles, transit officials say, many homeless people, drifters and alcoholics ride buses from one end of the line to the other all night long.

There is no policy against riding the buses over and over as long as people pay the fares, said Leilia Bailey, transit director of the Southern California Rapid Transit

Shuttle prepared for launch

By The Associated Press

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. Technicians completed inspecting and closing out Atlantis' engine compartment Sunday as NASA moved to start the countdown for launching the shuttle with five astronauts and a secret intelligencegathering satellite.

The countdown was due to begin early today, in preparation for a launch Thursday morning.

Because the mission is classified, the Defense Department and NASA are disclosing few details of the flight. A brief statement was issued Sunday describing the preparations completed earlier in the day with the inspection and closure of the engine compartment.

Officials are mum on the length of the flight and what the astronauts will be doing in orbit.

As for the timing of the launch Thursday, reliable sources have said that it should take place about 7 a.m. EST if weather and other conditions are adequate. But officials will say only that launch is scheduled to occur sometime between 6:32 a.m. and 9:32 a.m. They say they will make the time public when the clock reaches the 9-minute mark.

A preliminary weather forecast for Thursday was not favorable, calling for overcast sky, brisk winds and a chance of showers.

Once Atlantis reaches space, NASA plans only two public announcements. The first, four hours after launch, will report briefly on the condition of the spaceship. The second will be a 24-hour advance notice on when the astronauts will land at Edwards Air Force Base in California.

The silence will be broken only if a serious problem develops.

The Pentagon contends the secrecy makes it more difficult for Soviet satellites and spy ships prowling off Cape Canaveral to monitor the flight and learn its purpose.

Critics argue that such secrecy is unnecessary because the Soviets, with their intelligence capabilities, undoubtedly already know a great deal about the mission and that once Atlantis' satellite is in its own orbit, the Soviets will be able to track it precisely and know what it is doing.

The satellite reportedly will gather extremely sharp radar images of military targets as it follows a path that will carry it over 80 percent of the Soviet Union.

The five military astronauts who will fly the mission are scheduled to arrive here Monday from their training base in Houston to make final preparations for launch. They are Navy Cmdr. Robert L. Gibson, the commander; Air Force Lt. Col. Guy S. Gardner, the pilot; and Air Force Col. Richard M. Mullane, Air Force Lt. Col. Jerry L. Ross and Navy Cmdr. William M. Shepherd.

The flight will be the 27th for the space shuttle, the third dedicated totally to the military and the second since the Challenger explosion that killed seven crew members in January 1986. Following the accident, NASA held up flights for 32 months while management and hardware changes were made.

Discovery and a five-man crew returned the shuttle to space with a flight that began Sept. 29.

Compatibility Defined

IBM-Com-pat'i-bil'i-ty adv. 1. Capable of existing together in harmony. 2. Able to use most common software; usu. of the business/research world. 3. Growth & flexibility. 4. Hyundai 16TE.

MHYUNDAI

Introducing the Super 16TE PC-compatible.

Introducing a new level of IBM-compatibility, speed (10Mhz) and flexibility (5 expansion slots). Each Hyundai includes 640K memory, a "101" keyboard, full software (wp, spreadsheet, database), orientation, support and an 18 month warranty. Best of all- its backed by $20 billion Hyundai Corporation and your local Connecting Point Computer Center in Westloop Shop. Center.

Retail KSU Price. Disc. $ 1045. $ 735. 30% O Super 16TE

Sample Systems:

☐ 30Mb, color monitor

☐ 2 drive, amber monitor 1095. 1299. ☐ 2 drive, color monitor 1495. ☐ 30Mb, amber monitor

Based upon full system purchase. IBM is a reg. tm of IBM Corp.

1699.

KSU's "Seoul" Authorized Hyundai Dealer

Connecting Point 333 COMPUTER CENTER

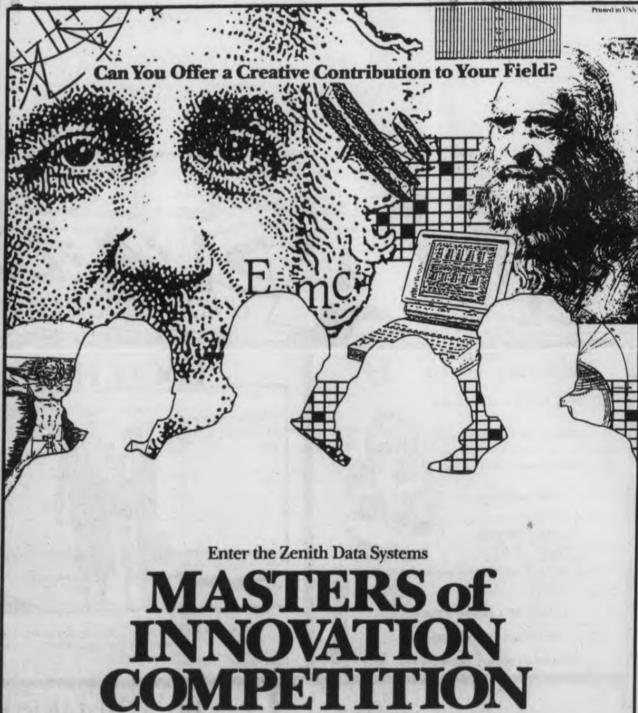

1115 Westloop Shop. Ctr 539-0801

Attention KSU Apple Purchasers:

Connecting Point's "Apple Team" has contracted to support KSU departmental and personal purchases. Call us for assistance in selecting systems, software solutions and ordering your Mac. Connecting Point has a full line of Apple "Add-Ons" from disks to software to cases to drives.

GER DENTAL ASSOCIATES, P. A. Humboldt Plaza Hyglene Department 913-537-8823

Win a $5,000* Zenith Computer System.

We're searching for tomorrow's innovators.

If you've developed or used software or hardware—that is compatible with Zenith Data Systems products—to creatively address a problem or task in your field of study, we want to hear from you. You could win a $5,000* Zenith Data Systems computer system for yourself.

$5,000* worth of computer equipment for your college campus given in your name, and national recognition from your peers. For More Information And Official Rules, Call 1-800-553-0301.

Competition Ends March 1, 1989. Void Where Prohibited.

Bush to begin working with Dole

By The Associated Press

KENNEBUNKPORT, Maine -George Bush's top advisers are mostly longtime friends and loyalists whom he trusted for strategy during his campaign and to whom he now turns for advice as president-elect.

But on today, Bush will have to reach beyond this inner circle to try to forge a working relationship with a former political rival, Senate Minority Leader Robert Dole of Kansas.

The meeting could be an early test of Bush's ability to work with those outside his core of associates in dealing with Congress.

The two are to meet for lunch in Bush's vice presidential office in Executive Office Building next to the White House. Bush was returning to Washington Sunday after spending a four-day Thanksgiving vacation here.

There is one new face in Bush's inner circle - New Hampshire Gov. House chief-of-staff. Otherwise, most part those who advised him during the campaign — James A. Baker

III, Nicholas Brady, Lee Atwater, Robert Teeter and Robert Mosbacher.

Some members of Bush's inner circle have already been rewarded for their loyalty with Cabinet posts, including Baker, who will be secretary of state.

Bush prides himself on the loyalty he showed as vice president for eight years to President Reagan, and he clearly values the trait in others.

Baker, 58, is one of Bush's best friends. The friendship goes back more than two decades to when they forged a social and political alliance in Houston - Baker, a lawyer, and Bush, then an oil man.

When Baker was grieving over the death of his first wife, Bush talked then-Democrat Baker into becoming active in Republican politics. Baker switched parties, managed Bush's 1970 Senate race and his 1980 and 1988 presidential bids.

Another longtime Bush friend John Sununu, who will be White already holding a Cabinet post is Treasury Secretary Brady - whom Bush's closest associates are for the Reagan chose in August to fill the vacancy created when Baker resigned to oversee Bush's general elec-

Bush, who had a role in Reagan's choice, is keeping Brady, 58, in that post in his own Cabinet.

A New York investment banker, the wealthy Republican also represented New Jersey in the Senate from 1980-82, filling the term of Democratic Sen. Harrison Williams, convicted in the Abscam bribery and conspiracy scandal.

Sununu, 49, was not a member of Bush's inner circle previously, but was an early and tireless campaign volunteer.

Bush is known to credit Sununu at least in part for his comeback victory in last winter's New Hampshire primary - which, coming after Bush's defeat in Iowa, put him squarely on the victory trail.

Sununu became one of the most active of Bush's surrogate speakers. His job as governor of a neighboring state gave him a convenient platform from which to blast Gov. Michael Dukakis' management of Massachusetts - which the outspoken Sununu did at every opportunity.

Teeter, 49, a Republican pollster who worked full-time in Bush's campaign and is currently co-director of the Bush transition team, is another Bush confidant.

Sununu has offered him the job of deputy staff director. However, amid reports that he had hoped for something more prestigious, Teeter has indicated he wants more time to decide whether to accept the offer or return to the private sector.

Atwater, the brash and innovative political operative who was Bush's campaign manager and whom Bush has selected to head the Republican National Committee, is another close adviser. Atwater, 37, got his start working for Sen. Strom Thurmond,

Although Atwater's combative approach and sometimes unorthodox tactics sometimes troubled other more-cautious Bush advisers, the president-elect is known to be fond of him and to seek out his counsel.

Shuttle to Bramlage operates smoothly

By The Collegian Staff

About 300 Wildcat baskethall fans made use of the K-State Union Express Saturday before and after the men's basketball game against Purdue, said Vera Carr, associate director of the Carr said the Express ran smoothly in its first time in operation, with Union patrons giving many favorable comments.

"The bus drivers heard many positive comments about the Express all evening," Carr said. 'Go Cats" stickers were distributed to riders.

Express buses will transport fans to and from Bramlage Coliseum for men's and women's basketball games. Round-trip tickets are free with any purchase from Union cashiers. Carr said the pick-up points are the south entrance of the Union and the northeast entrance of Bramlage. "We did have to run (the buses) about 45 minutes after the game nstead of 30, until everyone got back," she said.

Jody Campbell, junior in man-agement, said she and her parents rode the express.

"It (the express) will give people the opportunity to shop at the Union, and the Union won't lose business," she said.

Although Campbell said it was cold while waiting for the bus, she said it was worth it.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, THIS GUY

Excitement and adventure is the course description, and Army ROTC is the name. It's the one college elective that builds your self-confidence, develops your leadership potential and helps you take on the challenges of command.

There's no obligation until your junior year, so there's no reason not to try it out right now.

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

Add success to your spring schedule! MSCI 105, Military Leadership. For more information, contact Army ROTC at 532-6754.

Collegian Classified Advertising

CLASSIFIED AD FORMS

Write your ad in the form provided below, and mail it in, along with the correct payment, to STUDENT PUBLICATIONS, INC., KEDZIE HALL, ROOM 103, KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506. You can also stop by Kedzie 103 to place your ad or call 532-6555. Student Publications now accepts MasterCard and Visa. (Minimum charge of $5.) The DEADLINE for Classified Ads is NOON the day before publication; NOON Friday for Monday's publication. Deadline for cancellation is NOON the day before publication.

CLASSIFIED AD POLICY

* Only the FIRST TWO words of each ad will be in all caps; all other words will be in caps/lower, except initials.

No abbreviations, please.

- * No last names or phone numbers will be printed in the Personals section.
- Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the advertiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not alter the value of the ad. Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103
- If mailed ads do not arrive by the Noon deadline, they will be placed in the next day's paper.
- * Ads which are incorrectly calculated will be run only for amount paid
- * The Collegian reserves the right to edit or reject any advertisement at any time.

Classified Ad Rates Classified Categories 2 3.50 3.75 4.00 4.25 4.50 4.75 5.00 5.25 5.50 5.75 6.00 6.25 6.75 7.00 7.25 15 Miscellaneous Merchandise 02 Apartments for Rent-Furnished 16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale 17 Musical Instruments 4.85 5.15 5.45 6.05 6.35 6.65 6.95 7.25 7.55 7.85 8.15 5.80 03 Apartments for Rent-Unfurnished 2.90 3.10 3.30 3.50 3.70 3.90 4.10 4.30 4.50 4.70 18 Personals 04 Automobiles for Sale 6.15 6.50 6.85 7.20 7.55 7.90 8.25 8.60 8.95 9.30 9.65 10.00 6.60 7.00 7.40 7.80 8.20 8.60 9.00 9.40 9.80 10.20 19 Pets and Pet Supplies 05 Automobile Rentals 06 Card of Thanks 20 Professional Services 07 Child Care 21 Rentals 08 Computers 22 Resume/Typing Services 09 Employment 23 Roommate Wanted 10 Financial Services 24 Situation Wanted 11 Garage and Yard Sales 25 Sporting/Recreational Equipm 12 Houses and Mobile Homes for Rent 26 Sublease 13 Houses and Mobile Homes for Sale 27 Welcome Classified Mail Order Form --Phone no. Address Student ID # Date ad begins Amount paid Total days in paper Category

AM COUNCIL. YOUR ENTERTAINMENT ALTERNATIVE

SANTA SUIT RENTAL Bring joy and Christmas spirit to friends and family this seas Rent a Santa Sult from the Activities Center. $4.80 $4.00 BO VALDE The cost, only $10 for one day. Call 532-6571 Monday - Friday 9am - 4pm for reservations! November 28 through December 23

This entrancing comedy proves hard to resist.

A warmly refreshing movie." H NEW YORK DAILY NIWS

Wednesday, November 30, 7:30 p.m., Forum Hall and Thursday. December 1, 3:30 p.m. & 7:30 p.m., Little Theatre. (This show replaces "Working Girls") All shows $1.75; KSU ID required.

Let's Talk About It . . .

WILDCAT BASKETBALL

Get psyched for K-State Basketball as Lon Kruger and members of the basketball team talk about the upcoming season!

Thursday, December 1 Noon Union Courtyard

Buy your Christmas gifts early! December 1, 11 a.m.-6 p.m. December 2, 10 a.m.-4 p.m. K-State Union Ballrooms

DO YOU LIKE KANSAS CITY? DO YOU LIKE TO SHOP 'TILL YOU DROP?

Then join UPC Travel on their K.C. Christmas shopping trip! We will be stopping at the fabulous Oak Park Mall for a few hours of "power shopping." Then, it's on to the famous Country Club Plaza where you can enjoy a wide variety of excellent eating establishments, a horse-drawn carriage ride around the Plaza or still more shopping! All the while, you will be able to enjoy the Plaza Christmas lights and really get into that Christmas spirit!!

December 3, 1988

Cost $11

(includes transportation)

Traveling abroad? Get your International Student ID in the Activities Center. K-Sate Union, 3rd floor, 8 a.m.-4 p.m., Monday-Friday.

Cost is only $10 and it's good through December 1989! Save on airfare, tickets, hotels, and lots more!

Sign-up TODAY! Activities Center, 3rd floor of the Union 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

Animal lover opens exotic talent agency

By The Associated Press

ELLENWOOD, Ga. - All her life, Jama Hedgecoth has loved animals. But she never quite expected it to come to this: She sells housebroken, exotic pigs and runs an animal talent agency that represents a variety of four-legged stars.

On a 25-acre animal farm south of Atlanta, with the help of her husband, Charlie, and four children, Hedgecoth tends to some 300 creatures: dogs, cats, raccoons, foxes, deer, goats, chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese, an ostrich, a miniature horse, one 300-pound hog and a pack of pint-size pigs.

She sells the petite porkers through Designer Pigs, one of her business ventures. As for the rest of the menagerie, some are stars represented by her other venture, The Animal Agency. Others are family pets.

"When I was a kid, we traveled all over the world, because my father is an evangelist, and we could never have animals like this," Hedgecoth said. "When I got married 17 years ago, I told my husband, 'My dream is to live on a farm and have every animal that's feasible to own,"

Five years ago, the Hedgecoths

By The Associated Press

week since her 4-year-old son disappeared, Sharon Haddadi has been

One has her trapped in Iran, the country she fled years ago, and where authorities believe her son Joey is living today. The second depicts a life without her son, who is thought to have been abducted in Kansas City by his Iranian father and flown out of Haddadi, 32, is trying to find her son and bring him back to his hometown of Kansas City. But international obstacles may make it a long

The United States and Iran have no diplomatic relations and Iran prevents federal authorities from extraditing Hossein Haddadi, Sharon's former husband. His custody rights are protected by the laws of his

By The Collegian Staff

nizations spend a lot of time and effort each year raising money for philanthropies, said Barb Robel,

Fraternities and sororities contributed $53,962 and logged 10,144 hours of effort for several charitable organizations during the past year,

Raising donations is an important

Bloom County

director of Greek Affairs.

THE LAST THINGS OPUS

STEP INTO THE ROOM!

Garfield

JPM DAV95

REMEMBERED AT THE BACK-ALLEY LIPOSUCTIONIST:

K-Staters involved in greek orga-

To find her son, Haddadi may be haunted by two dreams.

the country.

battle

homeland.

Robel said.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - In the got their farm, along with dogs and

In 1987, a friend asked her where he might find 15 cats for a cat litter commercial. What the producers feared would be eight hours in cat hell turned into a 30-minute lark she has a knack for animal training and a business was born. Hedgecoth and her partner, Bryan Hudson, began contacting advertising agencies and anybody else who might need a well-behaved animal now and then.

In less than two years, The Animal Agency has worked on about 100 jobs, half of them still-photo modeling sessions and the other half TV commercials, mostly for agencies in Her Benji-look-alike dog, Amber, starred in a Honda Accord spot. Roy, a mammoth tom turkey, starred in a

For a Reebok spot, she brought along Hickory the goat, Scarlett the black miniature pig and 81-year-old Griffin farmer James Roy Goggans and his sneaker-wearing cow, Daisy, whose stage name is Bessie.

The Animal Agency also supplied animal actors for a TV movie recently filmed in Georgia.

Mother haunted by dreams return to Iran and reunite with Joey's

ing hiring a mercenary squad to grab

Joey in Iran and bring him back to back to Iran," said Haddadi, a pharmaceutical technician. "No, no. My worst nightmare is to live without my

On Nov. 18, Joey's father arrived at his mother-in-law's home to pick up Joey for the weekend. He had been granted liberal visitation when

Jackson County Judge William Ely

signed the divorce decree in March.

The visits were on the condition that Haddadi not take the boy out of the Hossein Haddadi promised to take his son to a pizza parlor, which kept

Joey from crying as he usually did when his father took him for the Fraternities, sororities raise money part of each house, said Jill Fyfe,

House members participate in money-making events to get involved in house activities. Usually participation isn't mandatory, members just want to do it, Fyfe said.

Many houses set goals on how much

The amount of total contributions has increased since the last survey taken in 1985, Robel said. The they need to raise each year.

president of the Panhellenic Council and senior in marketing.

But on the afternoon of Nov. 20, weekend, Haddadi said.

"My worst nightmare is going

She said she is seriously consider-father.

son."

forced to do what her ex-husband's Haddadi did not bring the boy back to

THAT'LL BE

#500.

IM PUTTING

MYSELF THROUGH

SCHOOL.

CLASSIFIED RATES

One day: 15 words or fewer, $2.50, 20 ents per word over 15; Two consecutive dates: 15 words or fewer, $3.50, 25 cents per word over 15; Three consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 cents per word over 15; Four consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.75, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $5.00, 40 cents per word over 15.

Classifieds are payable in advance unless client an established account with Student Publications. Deadline is noon the day before publication; noon

FRIDAY for Monday's paper.

Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the advertiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not alter the value of the ad.

Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103 or by calling 532-6555.

Display Classified Rates
One day: $5.20 per inch; Three consecutive days: $5.00 per inch; Five consecutive days: $4.80 per inch; Ten consecutive days: $4.60 per inch. (Deadline is 4:30 per inch.)

Classified advertising is available only to those who do not disciminate on the basis of race, color, religion,

national origin, sex or ancestry.

Announcements

relatives wanted her to, which is his grandmother's home, which was front porch.

Department.

ALL YOUR Mary Kay needs -skincare -glamor -nait-gifts for all seasons. Floris Taylor, 539-2070. FLYING INTEREST you? For information on K-State Flying Club call Sam Knipp, 539-6193.

LAFENE STUDENT Health Center will close at 3:45p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 29. Emergency Services will be available, and will reopen Wednesday at 8a.m.

required in the divorce decree.

The boy's mother and grandmother rushed to Haddadi's home and saw no one in the house. A neighbor later told them that a taxi had been idling outside the home the day before while a child waited on the that a cab took Haddadi, 40, and a child from the house to Kansas City

International Airport, said Sgt. Gregory Mills of the Kansas City Police are in Iran," Mills said.

'We have no reason to doubt they

Sharon Haddadi was certain of this

Friday when she and a reporter telephoned her ex-husband's relatives in Isfahan, Iran. A relative told her the father and son were in Iran, and urged

Haddadi to move to Iran to be with religious rights to keep their children amount of contributions has received financial support from the houses last year, including the Cystic

Fibrosis Association, Manhattan's

Sunset Zoo and the American Diab-softball tournaments, Halloween and Christmas parties, food drives, 10-kilometer runs, triathalons and chariot

By Berke Breathed

Fund-raising events have included

There are 48 organizations which increased about $20,000.

etes Association.

relay races.

A TEENY

WEENY

Joey and her former husband.

Since then, police have confirmed

Kedzie 103 ClassAds

PERSONAL COMPUTERS

also servicing

. Televisions & VCRs MIDWEST

Manhattan 913-776-6650,72

SOMEONE WHO HAS EVERY-GIFT CERTIFICATE

THE DUSTY BOOKSHELF Aggieville Manhattan, KS 66502

PARTY GAS (helium)... you fill... we fill... our balloons. your balloons. 1231 Westloop, 539-4038. PERMS: $19.95 includes cut and style. Tan 10 sessions $18. Telephone 776-1330.

SKI COLORADOI $26/ night for two. Ten cozy log cabins/ kitchens, some fireplaces. Gameroom/ fireplaces, HBO, pool table, sauna. Fish, cross-country ski. Ski Winter Park, Silver Creek. Mountain Lakes Lodge. Brochure/ reservations -Grand Lake, CO 1-303-627-8448. Call today!

1 off your Collegian Classified with your contribution to the Flint Hills Breadbasket. Take canned goods to Kedzie 103 to recieve 1 off your Collegian

Prepaid ads only. Not valid with any other offer.

Classified.

Deadline: noon one day prior to publication. Offer expires noon Dec. 8, 1988.

WANTED— 100 overweight people to try herbal weight control program. No drugs, no exercise. Doctor recommended. 100% guaranteed. 776-5114,

Apartments-Furnished

In Iran, fathers have the legal and whice ONE-BEDROOM apartment. Water, trash, two-thirds gas paid. Laundry facilities. Nice for graduate student or couple. $260. Available Dec. 15 or Jan.

ONE-BEDROOM FURNISHED in 12-unit complex two blocks west of campus. Available immediately

ONE-BEDROOM BETWEEN campus and Aggieville. $205 plus utilities, Jan. 1, six-month lease available. 539-5894.

3 Apartments—Unfurnished

AVAILABLE SECOND semester. Less than one block from campus, two bedrooms, one full bath. Low utilities. Clean and nice. Call 776-3788 or

FOR RENT, nice two-bedroom apartment, seven-month lease, starting Jan. 1st, excellent location. 537-8749.

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM, campus location, operated washer and dryer. No pets, available January. $265 plus deposit. 539-1465. NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate. Across from City

4 Automobiles for Sale

Park, own room. 537-1273.

1979 DATSUN 210 wagon, stereo, snow tires, need some work. Must sell, $250. Jason, 776-7089.

8 Computers

AT&T 7300 computer, Unix operating system, 10 mag hard disk, 15 software packages (including Dbase III, WordStar 2000, spreadsheet). Seven software packages unopened. Must sell. Call after 5p.m. 776-1056.

FOR SALE: Line printer ribbons- Black multistrike no. QM MS (4½ dozen), $1.25 each. Black nylon no. QM NY (15), $2.25 each. Call 532-6555 or come by Kedzie 103 to see.

Authorized Warranty Service

· PC compatibles & printers

SERVICES 624 Tuttle Creek Blvd.

9 Employment

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such "employment opportunity" with reasonable caution.

ATTENTION- HIRINGI Government jobs- your area. $17,840- $69,485. Call (602)838-8885, ext.

BUS DRIVER needed to start immediately for Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 11- noon, to drive children from U.S.D. 383 to child care center. Class B license required. Previous experience preterred. $3.75 an hour. Apply Nancy Bolsen, director, L-9 Jardine Terrace, Manhattan, KS. 539-1806. Equal Opportunity Employer.

DO YOU like kids? I need a fun-loving, flexible person for childcare. Room, board, salary plus car provide We are very nice. Call Becky (415)328-6229.

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, Juniors: Train in the summer to become a Marine Corps Officer after graduation. Aviation available. Call collect

MAINTENANCE WORK: The KSU Police Department is looking for students to work in the parking lots throughout the University. The job consists of maintenance and cleanup in the parking lots. Interested students should apply in person at the KSU Police Department between the hours of 8a.m. and 5p.m., Monday through Friday.

OVERSEAS JOBS. $900- $2,000 month. Summer, year-round, all countries, all fields, free information. Write IJC, P.O. Box 52-KS02, Corona Del Mar, CA

PAY DAY! Beginning salary $3.60/ hour. All shifts for waiter and waitresses; Hotline server and porter Monday, Wednesday, Friday 10:20a.m.- 2p.m. Apply now at K-State Union Food Service for remaining fall positions. Apply early for spring semester when you have your spring schedule. We offer student pay plan, job variety, and centrally located work place. We require that you must be honest, reliable and display a sense of urgency.

PYRAMID PIZZA is now taking applications for delivery personnel. Please apply in person, 1130 Moro. RESPONSIBLE PERSON to babysit in my home evenings including weekends for two older children and one toddler, 537-8537.

TRAVEL FIELD Opportunity. Gain valuable marketing experience while earning money and free trips. Campus representative needed immediately for Spring Break trips to Florida and South Padre Island. Call Echo Tours at 1-800-999-4300.

12 Houses/Mobile Homes for Rent

NICELY FURNISHED, 10x50 mobile home, Ideal for

13 Houses/Mobile Homes for Sale

1972 12v80, furnished/unfurnished, new paint, central air, washer, dryer, waterbed, reasonable 537-0734.

14 Lost and Found

TAKEN BY mistake Friday evening. Please return the Jardiniere- family sentimental attachment. Reward for return of planter and basket- Call 539-2703

15 Miscellaneous Merchandise

ANTIQUE OAK furniture, misc. used furniture

BASEBALL CARDS- Want to make some extra spending money? Dig those baseball cards out of your closet and bring them back after Thanksgiving break. We're buying! Call Mark at 539-3606. GOVERNMENT SURPLUSII New G.I. overshoes, com-

VERNMENT SURPLUSII New G.I. overshoes, com-bat boots and safety-toe boots, wool (blankets, gloves, socks and mittens). Field jackets, over-coats, carnouflage clothing. Also Carhartt work-wear. Monday-Saturday 9a.m. 5p.m. Open Sundays tiil Christmas noon- 4p.m. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734.

NEED TO sell: Two one-way tickets from KC to Phoenix Dec. 16. Best offer. 539-8978.

TYPEWRITER- RENTALS- Sales- Repairs. Good selection of used IBMs and Smith Coronas. Adanced Business Systems 713 N. 12th (Aggieville)

16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale

1982, 550 Yarnaha Maxim. Good condition. New tires. $700. Call 776-3458.

BICYCLE SALE, lay away for Christmas. Aggle Bike Station, Aggleville. (behind Hardee's).

CYCLE AND helmet covers, S-100 Cleaner. Motorcycle Supply, 1221 Moro. 776-6177.

18 Personals

CHI-O KRIS celebrates the Big "20" in the Little Apple We'll celebrate again when you're home in public. Love, Mother and the whole family.

SAE JOEL- Thanx again for the great time last Friday. By the way- what's your name? No, your last name! Hal Hal Luv, AX, Robin.

532-6555

20 Professional Services

PREGNANT? BIRTHRIGHT can help. Free pregnancy test. Confidential. Call 537-9180. 103 S. Fourth St.,

PROMPT ABORTION and contraceptive services in Lawrence. (913)841-5716.

21 Rentals

PRIME AGGIEVILLE location for lease, 600 square feet.

STORE YOUR valuables over Christmas break. Aztec Storage, open seven days a week. Call 776-1111 for discount rate, or come by, 5004 Murray Road.

22 Resume/Typing Services

ABOUT ANYTHING typed, editing and transcription services, reasonable rates, by professional secret-ary. 539-5998 after 5p.m.

AVOID DISASTERI Hire a professional Resumes designed for your profession. Typeset and laser-printed. Graphics Plus, corner of Bluemont and N. Manhattan, Aggleville. 539-6027.

COMPLETE DATA processing services, term papers, theses and dissertations, resumes. Laser jet printing. Call 537-4146.

COMPLETE TYPING/ word processing: letter quality printer with Spell Check. 75e/ page. Call 537-8701. COMPOSING RESUMES and letters is our specialty.

We have been in business nine years and offer permanent computer storage. Contact the profes-sional staff regarding our full line of services. Resume Service, 343 Colorado Street, 537-7294. PROCRASTINATORS AND those on the ball, for exper typing give us a call. 537-3166, message. TYPING: RESUMES, cover letters, papers, any other typing. Call Debbie, 539-2411.

23 Roommate Wanted

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share house, close to carnpus, furnished, washer/ dryer, many more extras. $162.50/ month plus deposit. Call Renee,

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apart-ment. Close to campus. Half rent and half utilities. Starting Jan. 1st. Call 537-7269. MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartment near campus. Washer/ dryer furnished. $125.

MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bed/bath apartment furnished with dishwasher, microwave, low utilities, no deposit. Close to campus. $170 negotiable.

MALE ROOMMATE needed. Lease up in May, $154 and one-half utilities. One-half block from campus. 776-8584.

NON-SMOKER ROOMMATE to share apartment one block from campus. Call Miguel at 532-7210 or 776-8121.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share nice three-bedroom. Close to campus, Aggieville. $160/month plus utilities. 537-2507.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share furnished two-bedroom. Cats allowed. Call Paula or Brenda, close to campus, $121.25, 537-1977.

ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom apart ment in complex. Close to campus and Aggleville.

537-2894. ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom house trailer. $100/ month, half utilities. Call Allen, 537-3909.

ROOMMATE WANTED: Second semester for two-bedroom, one and one-half bath apartment. Complex three blocks from campus. $187 plus half

24 Situation Wanted

FAMILY WANTS college girl to live in for next semester, summer and fall. Board and room in exchange for duties. Write Box 1, c/o Collegian, Kedzie Hall, KSU, Manhattan, KS 66506.

26 Sublease

FEMALE TWO blocks from campus, clean, spacious, efficiency, turnished or not. $140 all utilities paid. Available Dec. 15 or later. 539-6499.

SLEEP LATE! No parking hassles! One-bedroom apart ment right across from campus with all utilities paid. Leave message, 537-8548.

SUBLEASE: LARGE one-bedroom, next to campus Water and trash paid. Furnished or unfurnished

28 Adoption

LOVE-FILLED HOME needs the joy of a new baby to complete our very happy marriage. If you plan to place your baby for adoption, please consider us. Expenses paid, confidential, legal. Call collect, Claire, (303)422-1297.

By Eugene Sheffer

Crossword

ACROSS 40 Harem 58 Correct

room

island

partner

ledger?

part

55 Landing

56 Chicken

1 Opera division 41 Small 4 Author masses Jong 43 Uproar 9 Put on the 45 More's (make imaginary well known) 12 Card game 47 Macaw 13 TV tele- 48 Feather 48 Feather's thon host 14 Gl's 49 Bachelor's usual way 17 Dutch cupboard 18 — Marie Saint 19 Table linen

21 Stemware

15 In the

25 Romantic word in Latin I 26 Tennis need

28 Permeate 31 Indochinese kingdom 33 Distress

27 "You're the team 5 Dissong) counts 29 Pakistan's 6 - Jima 7 Plant language 30 Greek shoots 8 African 32 Social 9 Takes bets rebuff 10 On - with 34 Syrian

59 Warden's

1 Vestment

3 Toddler

4 Football

opener

2 Shy

20 Stately display 21 Black-ones

39 Lav in 42 Capital of Oregon 4 Calloway 45 Beehive 46 O'Hara homestead 50 Blvd.'s kin 51 Hardwood 52 Matador's cheer

ENFCVAFJ RJDCVNDA RAGNHJA

HARDY RUNNER IN TRAINING TODAY: A LAP DOG?

REPORT TODAY IS ABOUT CEILINGS! IF EVERYONE WILL LOOK UP. YOU'LL NOTICE WE HAVE DIRECTLY ABOVE OUR HEADS SOMETHING WE CALL A 'CEILING!

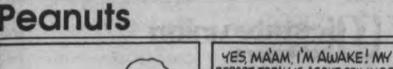

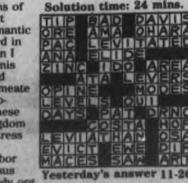

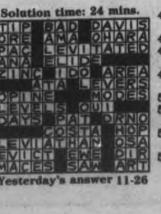

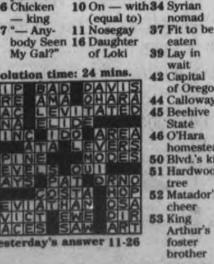

LFAJJHFA. LCAF Yesterday's Cryptoquip: FAITHFUL PET FOR A

Today's Cryptoquip clue: L equals P

Review

show arrive with a visit by the Ghost of Christmas Present, a la Carol Kane. Her character is the only aspect of "Scrooged" that deserves to be added to Dickens' original text. Instead of relying on images of a pitiful Tiny Tim to reform her Scrooge, this ghost resorts to violence.

Francis Cross is allowed to return to his world only after Kane gives him a much deserved kick in the groin and smack in the face with a toaster oven. Christmas Present reminds us "sometimes the truth can be painful."

"Scrooged" is packed with dry and satiric comedy. This movie made me laugh, but it made me cringe, too. All efforts to present "Scrooged" as a valid version of "A Christmas Carol" were made in vain, including Murray's 15-minute concluding monologue on the beauty of Christmas.

As a comedy, "Scrooged" is good, but when it comes to a Christmas bedtime story, I'll take Dickens.

Identity CONTINUED FROM PAGE

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 12 when she was flagged down by "a man jogging with a flashlight."

"He flagged me down and said, 'I need you to go home as fast as you can and call an ambulance,'" she said. "He said he had hit a jogger. "He was very upset."

Police reached the scene of the accident at 6 p.m. and found Peterson lying injured in the roadside ditch.

No charges have been filed or are pending against Axelton, Freeby said.

Champs

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 7

Bahner and Miller were joined on the All-Tournament team by Montana's Vicki Austin, Cheryl Brandell and Lisa McLeod, and Eastern Illinois' Barb Perkes.

To advance to Saturday's final, the Lady Cats defeated Colorado State Friday night, 70-56. K-State jumped out to a 14-0 lead against the Lady Rams, who didn't get their first point until Gina Crawley hit a free throw at the 11:34 mark.

pending against Axelton, Freeby said. Bush is to meet with former Senate Minority Leader Robert

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 12

Earlier Sunday, the Bushes, accompanied by daughter Dorothy LeBlond, attended morning worship services at the First Congregational Church of Kennebunkport.

Bush is to meet with former rival Senate Minority Leader Robert Dole on Monday at a private White House lunch.

Transition team sources also said that the vice president this week would announce his selection of Texas oil man Robert Mosbacher, a longtime friend, as Commerce secretary.

You won't notice any difference, but your country will.

The five minutes you spend registering with Selective Service at the post office won't change you. But it will make a difference to your country. So when you turn 18, register with Selective Service. It's quick. It's easy. And it's the law.

A public service message of this publication and Selective Service System.

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

"Never before has Kansas City and Louisville been won back to back by one team," said Stacey Krehbiel, judging team member and a senior in animal sciences and industry. "We could have been the first. We had a good chance."

Louisville was the final judging tests in Denver, Ho contest for this year's team members.

Each member is eligible for one year.

Fort Worth, Texas.

A new team is being formed and will begin in January, Nichols said. "I've been judging since I was 12,"

Krehbiel said. "I'm glad that the workouts are over, but I'll miss going to the contests."

"It'll be different not judging any-

"It'll be different not judging anymore," Bandel said. "I've been (judging) since I was a freshman in high school."

K-State competes at national contests in Denver, Houston, Wichita, Kansas City, Mo., Louisville and Fort Worth, Texas.

Confidential pregnancy testing • Safe, affordable abortion services • Birth control • Tubal ligation • Gyn exams • Testing and treatment for comprehensive sexually transmitted diseases.

Providing quality health care to women since 1974.
Insurance, VISA &
MasterCard accepted.

Health for women

4401 West 109th (1-435 & Roe)
Overland Park, Kansas
ents (913) 345-1400

For information and appointments (913) 345-1400 Toll Free (except KS) 1-800-227-1918.

Michael Floorwax

along with Joey Marlotti
The Big Wax Machine has appeared on The Late Show, Showtime Comedy Network and is a Bushwacker's favorite.

(reservations recommended but not necessary)

Grill Special—Steak & Shrimp $3.95 39-4321 531 N. Manhattan 539-9727

You don't need your parents' money to buy a Macintosh.

Mon.-Thurs, 8:30 to 9:30, Fri.-Sat. 8:30-5:30, Sun. 12:00-5:00

704 N. Manhattan Ave • 639-7654 • In Aggleville

Just their signature.

It's never been difficult for students to convince their parents of the need for a Macintosh* computer at school.

Persuading them to write the check, however, is another thing altogether.

Which is why Apple created the Student Loanto-Own Program. An ingenious loan program that makes buying a Macintosh as easy as using one.

Simply pick up an application at the location listed below, or call 800-831-LOAN. All your parents need to do is fill it out, sign it, and send it. If they qualify, they'll receive a check for you in just a few weeks.

There's no collateral. No need to prove financial hardship. No application fee.

Best of all, the loan payments can be spread over as many as 10 years.

Which gives you and your parents plenty of time to decide just who pays for it all.

Introducing Apple's Student Loan-to-Own Program

k-state union

Regular Semester Hours: M-Th 8-8, Fri 8-5, Sat 9-5, Sun 12-5

© 1988 Apple Computer, Inc. Apple, the Apple logo, and Macintosh are registered trademarks of Apple Computer, Inc.

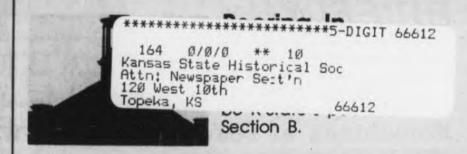

Crafty

The Union Program Council is sponsoring its annual Arts and Crafts Sale. See Page

Weather

Mostly cloudy, windy and colder with a chance for snow flurries today. High 40 to 45. Northerly winds 10 to 20 mph. Clearing and cold tonight. Low around 20.

Tuesday

November 29, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 67

Kansas State Collegian

Let there be light

bers, former K-State student body president.

ABOVE: A crowd of approximately 400 spectators gathered Monday evening in Aggieville's Triangle Park to witness the annual lighting of the mayor's Christmas tree. Standing about 25 feet high, the Blue Spruce was donated by the Ivan Wilkinson family and Joe Mills family, both of Manhattan. RIGHT: Members of the Kansas State Choir caroled for the tree-lighting ceremony. This is the first Christmas tree permanently planted in Triangle Park. Among the guests speaking at the ceremony was Dave Fiser, mayor of Manhattan and Troy Lub-

Football coach to be named

From Staff and Wire Reports

Bill Snyder, offensive coordinator at the University of Iowa, will be named the University's head football coach Wednesday at a news conference on campus, according to reports published Monday.

Snyder reportedly attended the K-State-Purdue basketball game Saturday in Bramlage Coliseum while visiting with University administrators this weekend.

The Manhattan Mercury and the Kansas City Star both identified Snyder, a long-time associate of Iowa coach Hayden Fry, as the choice to replace Stan Parrish. Resigning at mid-season, Parrish finished the year and compiled a threeyear record of 2-30-1 at K-State.

Kenny Mossman, K-State sports information director, refused to confirm or deny the newspaper reports.

Snyder, 47, has been associated with Fry for 13 years, including one year at North Texas State and 10 years at Iowa.

Snyder will be K-State's 12th head play this year — the Peach Bowl Dec. 31 against North Carolina State.

Others who had been mentioned as finalists are Charles Bailey, Memphis State University coach, and Milan Vooletich, defensive coordinator at the U.S. Naval Academy.

K-State, which has not won in 27 straight games, lost 45-10 to Iowa at KSU Stadium this year.

Athletic Director Steve Miller said the new coach, whom he refused to identify, would receive a salary of $85,000 per year. Parrish received $72,000 in salary.

Bill Snyder

Miller said the new coach would be "offered some incentives" based coach since 1945. In that period, the on the number of games the team Wildcats have had four winning sea- wins. The details of the incentive sons. Iowa still has one game left to package have not been finalized, he

> "We'll work out the specifics of that as we go along," Miller said. He said he did not know if Parrish had a similar incentive package. The new coach will also receive a courtesy car for use in recruiting and other trips the coach may be required to take. Parrish also received a courtesy car.

■ See COACH, Page 10A

U.S. 'firm and final' on denying visa for Arafat

By The Associated Press

UNITED NATIONS - Arab nations said Monday the General Assembly session will move to Geneva so PLO chief Yasser Arafat can address it, unless the United States reverses itself within 48 hours and grants him a visa.

In Washington, the State Department said the U.S. decision to deny the visa was "firm and final." It gave reluctant consent to moving the debate on Palestinian issues, scheduled to begin Thursday.

U.N. legal counsel Carl-August Fleischhauer told a U.N. committee the United who represent, in the view of the host counquarters Agreement, but the committee took Assembly through Chairman Arafat. The States was violating the 1947 U.S.-U.N. Headquarters Agreement, which requires the host country to grant visas to people invited by the United Nations.

"I am of the opinion that the host country was and is under an obligation to grant the visa request of the chairman of the executive committee of the Palestine Liberation Organization, an organization which has been granted observer status by the General Assembly," Fleischhauer said. "The agreement does not contain a resertry, a threat to its sovereignty and security," the lawyer added.

Patricia Byrne, alternate U.S. representative, said the U.S. government disagreed with Fleischhauer's interpretation. She did not

The U.N. Committee on Relations with the Host Country, which Fleischhauer addressed, heard many speakers condemn the U.S. decision. The chairman, Ambassador Constantine Moushoutas of Cyprus, said in a summation "the vast majority" of speakers vation of the right to bar the entry of those felt the United States had violated the Head-no action. Arab diplomats called the U.S. visa denial a "slap in the face" and a violation of the agreement.

The Soviet Union and China, and U.S. allies Britain and France, told Moushoutas' committee Arafat should be allowed to speak. Most nations urged Washington to reconsider, saying the U.S. action was harming prospects for peace in the Middle East.

The PLO's U.N. observer, Zuhdi Labib Terzi, complained, "We have a message of peace that we want to bring to the General United States is imposing some obstacles that would impede easy access, so we have to do it somewhere else."

"The decision (to move to Geneva) is already taken by Arab countries and the PLO that the U.N. debate on Palestine and the Middle East should be done in a more hospitable country which abides by its obligations," the PLO envoy told reporters.

On Saturday, Secretary of State George Shultz denied Arafat's request for a visa on the grounds the PLO chief has condoned acts of terrorism.

Yuppie flu'

National chapters established

By Scott Berg Collegian Reporter

Chronic Fatigue Syndrome, a little-known disease nicknamed "Yuppie Flu," has affected thousands of people across the United States, resulting in the formation of a national organization to help combat

The syndrome, formerly known as Chronic Epsten-Barr Virus, is an immune deficiency virus. According to an article in the March 1988 edition of Annals of Internal Medicine, the disease's name was changed because researchers didn't have proof that the virus was the only causing agent of the syndrome.

The virus has been found in people who have AIDS, but someone who has the virus doesn't necessarily have AIDS, said Evelyn Zanella, head of the local Chronic Fatigue Syndrome support group.

A national organization, Chronic Fatigue Syndrome Society (CFSS), supports research to find which virus causes the disease. It also sends new information to its members and lobbies for research funding and recognition of the problem.

The organization has regional and local chapters in which people with the syndrome and their relatives can attend meetings, learn about developments and get support, she said.

The society is a nonprofit organization with headquarters in Portland, Ore. The national and local chapters are in need of funding and will accept donations, Zanella said.

A central board of administrators is being established to improve the organization's function nationally,

Many changes have occurred in Washington, D.C., concerning help for those with the syndrome. Zanella said the Centers for Disease Control are monitoring people with the disease to determine its cause.

Social Security has become available to those who meet the guidelines established by the government, she said. The amount of quarter-hours the person worked before giving up their employment is a consideration, while other qualifications must be

According to the organization's national newsletter, members of Minann Inc., a foundation that lobbies for Chronic Fatigue Syndrome research, have appeared before Congressional committees in Washington, D.C. urging continued financial support for research on the disease.

The syndrome isn't contagious, but research hasn't identified what causes it, Zanella said. Some scientists feel the virus is already in the body in an inactive state.

The virus then needs something to trigger it into lowering the system's level of immunity, she said. The triggering device could be the flu, mononucleosis or even a car accident.

People with the disease usually avoid telling their employers they have the virus unless the symptoms worsen to the point that the person's work is affected, Zanella said. Its effects differ from day to day, she said. There will be good days when it clears up and bad days when.

it is in full effect, often causing the-person to be bedridden. The disease affects each person to a different degree. Some will tell ■ See VIRUS, Page 10A

Former K-State player

By Susan L'Ecuyer Senior Staff Writer

parried into President Jon Wefal as office Monday, assaulting how while angrily yelling about the selection of the new head football

Marlan E. Ray, 47, of Clay Center, entered Wefald's office around p.m., shouting and wrestling Vefald to the floor before being estrained by David R. Wilson, cohomora in environmenta sign who works in the pre-

K-State Police unived shortly for and arrened flay for battery. Local in the reports said Mort-ty than Bill Smyder, offensive poedinator at the University of

Rey, a retired Army major who reed during the Victnam War, It attacks Wefald in office no outpatient of the Topeka State-Hospital. A K-State football letter-nan from 1959-1961, he graduated from K-State's College of Veterin-ury Medicine in 1964.

Wefald, who was shaken but uninjured, said the incident was "a first" for him.

"I had heard about the perils of being president, but I never expected anything like this," be said in a statement released

"When he entered the office, I could see right away that the per-ion was mentally deranged," Wefald said, "When you're talking on the plione and a guy comes in with that look in his eyes ..., it's tomething you don't warm to look

Miller said Ray's behavior appeared "very disjointed."
Ray left a scrapbook with Miller containing clippings that dealt with his college and military career. Miller said Ray asked him to deliver it to his former K-State football coach, Doug Weaver, who is now at Michigan State.

"I said I would, and I was at least ewhat successful in mollifying him," Miller said. "His behavior alternated between outbursts of swearing and fits of anger to even shaking my hand."

Because of his behavior and per-ceived mental state, police took Ray to Memorial Hospital for observation and evaluation. Campus police said they expect Ray to be confined at the Topoka State Hospital for continued observation pending presentation of the case in Riley County district court.

Wefald said be plans to press charges against Ray.

fig. a service in it and a representation of the control of the co

BRIEFLY

ASSOCIATED PRESS

BRIEFLY AROUND WORLD

Frenchman at space station

MOSCOW - A Soyuz TM-7 spacecraft carrying a joint Soviet-French team docked Monday with the Mir orbiting space station, the Tass news agency said.

Soviet cosmonauts Alexander Volkov and Sergei Krikalev, and Frenchman Jean-Loup Chretien joined up with the three Soviets aboard the Mir, and are all feeling well, Tass said.

Volkov, Krikalev and Chretien blasted off from the Baikonur Cosmodrome in Soviet Central Asia on Saturday, with French President Francois Mitterrand on hand to watch.

Chretien is to return to Earth on Dec. 21 with cosmonauts Musa Manarov and Vladimir Titov, who will be completing a full year in orbit. Earlier this month they broke the space endurance record set by cosmonaut Yuri Romanenko in 1987.

Volkov and Krikalev will replace Manarov and Titov. Chretien is to make a space walk to install some equipment and conduct tests during his month in space.

Painting brings $38.5 million

LONDON - Pablo Picasso's "Acrobat and Young Harlequin" brought $38.46 million Monday night at Christie's, the highest price ever paid at an auction for a 20th century work of art.

Spokesmen for the auction house said the buyer was Japanese and attended the sale, but chose to remain anonymous. The seller was identified only as a private owner.

The 1905 work from the artist's Rose Period was sold in 31/2 minutes. Bidding opened at 5 million pounds ($9.2 million) and ended at 20.9 million pounds ($38.46 million). The price topped the previous record for a 20th century painting, $24.75 million paid for Picasso's "Maternity" Nov. 14 in New York.

Monday's auction of 60 works by 40 artists brought 55.44 million pounds ($102.01 million), a record for an Impressionist and modern art sale in London. Individual records were set for works by Picasso, Paul Gauguin, Alberto Giacometti, Paul Klee and Paul Signac.

Christie's had offered 69 paintings for sale, but nine were withdrawn or did not reach the minimums set by the owners.

BRIEFLY ACROSS NATION

Shuttle countdown begins

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. - NASA set an invisible countdown clock in motion Monday for Thursday's launch of space shuttle Atlantis with five military men who reportedly will deploy the $500 million Lacrosse satellite to spy on the Soviet Union.

NASA and the Pentagon say the flight and its cargo are topsecret, but reports have circulated widely about the satellite, and even the Soviet Union has discussed the mission through its news agency, Tass.

The weather could be a problem for launch day. A preliminary forecast for Thursday called for overcast sky, brisk winds and isolated rainshowers — unfavorable conditions that would prevent NASA from giving the go-ahead for liftoff.

The astronauts flew here Monday afternoon from their training base in Houston and their commander, Navy Cmdr. Robert L. Gibson, told reporters, "We're ready to go; the crew is cited about the mission, and we're anxious to be under v He said he hoped for good weather on Thursday.

The crew members have been instructed not to discuss their mission publicly, and when a reporter shouted a question about the flight, Gibson smiled and replied, "Good to see you."

776-4117

Drazier.

BRIEFLY THE REGION

Woman, 84, dies of exposure

TOPEKA - A Topeka woman who was found dead Sunday morning near the nursing home where she lived died of exposure, Shawnee County Deputy Coroner William N. Leifer said.

Ernestine Cook, 84, was reported missing about 8 p.m. Saturday from the Brighton West Nursing Home, said Detective Sgt. Gary Halford of the Topeka Police Department.

A bulletin was issued shortly afterward and police dogs were Sunday in a yard near the nursing home, the police report said. The deputy coroner estimated the time of death at about 6 a.m. He said the woman had Alzheimer's disease and apparently wandered away from the nursing home. He said no autopsy used to try to locate her. The body was found at 7:10 a.m.

Fire damages FAA computer

OLATHE - Air traffic over the Kansas City area was rerouted for about an hour early Monday after fire damaged the main computer at a Federal Aviation Administration facility.

The breakdown at 4 a.m. caused several delays at airports in St. Louis, Chicago and Denver as flights had to go out of their way to reach their destinations and other slowdowns occurred, FAA officials said.

A backup computer was installed about an hour later at the FAA's Air Route Traffic Control Center, some 20 miles south of downtown Kansas City, Mo., and airplanes slowly began entering the area controlled by the center. Slowdowns continued for several hours and flights were delayed up to 30 minutes at

"Things are pretty much back to normal now," Sandra Campbell, an FAA spokeswoman in Kansas City, said Monday afternoon.

The Olathe center monitors all flights of more than 18,000 feet in a huge oval over the nation's heartland. The center's area of responsibility covers about 190,000 square miles - and parts of 10 states within a 200-mile radius of the FAA center. It covers the area from 100 miles east of St. Louis to 100 miles east of Denver and from Oklahoma City to 70 miles south of Omaha.

"There was no hazard," the FAA spokeswoman said. "We didn't lose any planes and were able to control all aircraft already in the vicinity when the fire occurred."

The fire was put out by carbon dioxide extinguishers at the center. The cause was not determined.

Death penalty bill might fail

TOPEKA - If incumbent senators voted the same way they did in 1987, a bill to reimpose the death penalty for murder in Kansas would fail if it comes up in the Kansas Senate in the 1989 session, based on a survey of how 10 new senators say

Seven of the 10 newly-elected senators said they would vote for capital punishment, while three said they would be opposed in a survey made public today by the Topeka Capital-Journal.

The newspaper did not survey returning senators, but said the 7-3 breakdown of the new senators would not provide a death penalty bill with enough votes to pass it. The count still would be 21-19 against the death penalty, with two more votes needed to approve it in the upper legislative chamber.

The Senate voted 22-18 against a House-passed bill in 1987, the last time the Legislature has considered the issue. It did not come up in the 1988 session because of the opposition in the

PRESENTS

at 9 p.m.

BULLETIN FOR CAMPUS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Campus organizations are encouraged to use Campus Bulletin. All announcements must be submitted by 11 a.m. one day prior to publication. Announcements for Monday's bulletin must be in by 11 a.m. Friday. However, publication is determined by the amount of space available on a first-come, first-serve basis and is not ensured. Information forms are available on the shelf outside Kedzie 118. Forms should be left in the box on the shelf after being filled out. All submissions must be signed and are subject to verification. Questions should be directed to the Collegian's campus editors in Kedzie 116.

EBONY THEATRE COMPANY will perform at 8 p.m. Thursday through Saturday in Purple Masque Theatre.

TODAY

GRIEVANCE RESOLUTION PANEL will meet at 3:30 p.m. in Union 212.

MORTAR BOARD will meet at 9:30 p.m. in Justin.

BAKERY SCIENCE CLUB will meet at

7:15 p.m. in Shellenberger 301. WOMEN IN INTER-RACIAL RELA-TIONSHIPS will meet at 7 p.m. in Union

ALPHA CHI SIGMA will meet at 7 p.m. in Willard 218.

GRADUATE SCHOOL Carolyn Glenn will give her dissertation at 10 p.m. in Bluem-

NATIONAL AGRI MARKETING ASSOCIATION will meet at 7 p.m. in Union

PHI THETA KAPPA ALUMNI will meet

OMICRON NU will meet at 6 p.m. in Union 213.

STUDENTS AGAINST DRUNK DRIV-

ING will meet at 8:30 p.m. in Union 213. ASSOCIATION FOR ADULTS RETURNING TO SCHOOL will meet at 11:30 a.m. in Union Stateroom. WHEAT STATE AGRONOMY CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in Throckmorton 313.

HOSPITALITY MANAGEMENT SOC-IETY will meet at 7 p.m. in Justin SPURS HONORARY will meet at 9 p.m.

KSU HORSEMAN'S ASSOCIATION will meet at 7:30 p.m. in Weber 146.

WEDNESDAY

COLLEGIATE FFA CHRISTMAS MEETING will be at 6:15 p.m. at Waters

GYMNASTICS CLUB will meet at 9 p.m. in Natatorium 4.

ASSOCIATION OF ADULTS RETURNING TO SCHOOL will meet at 11:30 a.m. in the Union Stateroom.

THURSDAY

PHI KAPPA PHI will meet at 4 p.m. in

CAMPUS CRUSADE FOR CHRIST will meet at 7 p.m. in Throckmorton 131.

FRIDAY

STUDENTS FOR EDUCATIONAL AWARENESS will meet at 3 p.m. in Union

K-STATE POLICE

Monday

A white Mazda was reported disabled in lot D-3.

■ The theft of a bicycle from Boyd Hall was reported. Loss was $375.

A student parking permit was reported lost off campus.

The burglary and theft of items worth a total of $395 from Seaton Court was reported.

A student parking permit was reported stolen from a vehicle parked off campus.

A student parking permit was reported lost off campus.

A student parking permit was reported lost in an unknown vicinity. An Oldsmobile was reported disabled in lot D-1E.

Correction

Due to a reporter's error in a Nov.

18 story about passports, San Juan was incorrectly referred to as a favorite Central American vacation spot. San Juan is considered a U.S. territory and is not in Central America.

Collegian Line-up Thursday—Coupon Page Friday-Religious Directory Entertainment Page

Collegian Advertising We're leaving our competition behind.

532-6560

KANSAS KOUNTRY KLASSICS

FEED SACK JUMPERS

•Prewashed 100% Cotton ·Custome Made Nine Designs ·Unique Gift

·Size S-M-L

$3995

537-1193

Joyce 776-9048 Call after 4 p.m. Manhattan, Kansas

539-4400 1217 MORO IN AGGIEVILLE

"Next to Last Chance Saloon

no coupon needed

Pizza one item one free 16 oz. Coke

Pizza one item 2 free

Pizzas

one item

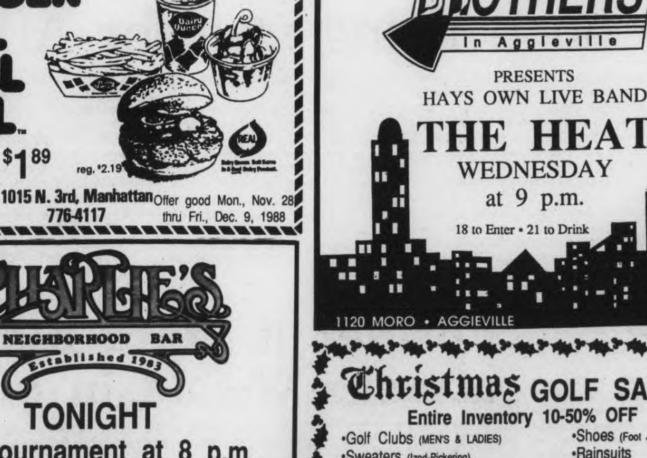

2 free 16 oz. Cokes

Pizzas one item 2 free

16 oz. Cokes

16 .oz. Cokes

Special not valid with other coupon or offer.

istmas golf sale!!

Entire Inventory 10-50% OFF ·Shoes (Foot Joy-Dexter)

STAGG HILL GOLF CLUB

 Sweaters (Izod-Pickering) Windbreaker Jackets Wood Headcovers ·Golf Socks

·Putters & Wedges

·Golf Shirts Men's Corduroy Slacks Pull Carts by Titleist Retail *80

Rainsuits

Golf Bags

Umbrellas

·Golf Gloves

PRO SHOP 539-104 GOLF BALLS SALE $18°

GIFT CERTIFICATES AVAILABLE LESSONS FOR SPRING

Titleist, Pinnacle, TopFlite, Slazenger

a.m.-6 p.m. Seven Days A Weel Mile East of Manhattan Airport on K-18

State, University battle animal sicknesses

Vet-med center conducts tests | Plan marks pseudorabies for rabies antibodies in humans son who works with animals to be

By Melissa Paul Collegian Reporter

Researchers at the Veterinary Medicine Center played an important role in the development of the rabies vaccination used today.

The center is also one of only three in the United States that is capable of testing for rabies antibodies in prevaccinated people.

Rabies is a virus that is wellknown, but rarely contracted by humans, said Dr. Robert Tout, director of student health. Yet each year, about three million people are vaccinated and thousands of dollars are spent, because rabies is fatal if left untreated, he said.

Debbie Briggs, a medical technician at the veterinary diagnosis lab, said K-State is one of three places that performs the Rapid Florescent Focus Inhibition Test, which determines the amount of antibodies a preimmunized person has to the virus.

The other labs that perform the test are in Atlanta and Maryland. She said it is important for a per-tested regularly.

Clyde Seedle, assistant professor in laboratory medicine, said there was only one case of rabies in the United States in 1987, and it was contracted in another country. In other countries, there are about 20,000 deaths each year, mainly due to dog

The previous rabies vaccinations used required 14 to 21 shots in the abdomen and had serious side effects, Tout said.

He said the first vaccine was made from rabbit spinal cord and brain. The next vaccine was made from duck embryo and was less dangerous, but still caused problems.

The human diploid vaccine is the only vaccine available today. It is not only safer, but allows pre-exposure shots, which are used to protect animal workers and others in danger of being bitten, and only requires six shots in the arm.

"Yes, there are reactions to it (the human diploid cell vaccine), but they are very mild," he said.

Tout and the diagnosis lab at the center worked with the Mario Institute, which developed the vaccine, to test its effectiveness when used for pre-exposure shots in much smaller

Until 1985, a person receiving the pre-exposure shots was given three, 1 cubic centimeter shots of the vaccine into a muscle during a 21- to 28-day period. The test at the diagnostic center determined that the vaccine was still effective with three, 1/10 cubic centimeter shots, into the skin, during a 21- to 28-day period.

With the pre-exposure shots, it is necessary to receive a booster shot after a person has been bitten. The booster enhances the effect of the previous shots.

A person receiving shots after a bite would receive one rabies immune gobulin shot and five human diploid shots.

"There is not a vaccine developed in the world yet that we could say is 100 percent effective, but we're approaching that," Seedle said.

By Kelly Campbell Collegian Reporter

Kansas has initiated a program to eradicate pseudorabies in swine, joining other states across the nation in an attempt to check the spread of the highly contagious disease.

The Kansas program went into effect Sept. 27. Under the program, breeding and feeder hogs cannot be transported across the state line unless they have a negative blood test for pseudorabies or come from a herd that has been tested and found negative for the disease, said Mike Jensen, executive vice president of the Kansas Pork Producers Council.

Although Kansas has not had a significant increase in the occurrence of the disease, pseudorabies has reached epidemic proportions in some areas of the country, said Joe Hancock, assistant professor of animal sciences and industry.

Pseudorabies is a form of the herpes virus, said David Schoneweis, professor of surgery and medicine. Infected pigs have flu-like symptoms. They stop eating and have a nasal discharge and fever.

pigs usually die when they contract the disease, Schoneweis said.

humans, he said, but it affects dogs, cats, horses, cattle and sheep. It is only slightly contagious in these animals, but is usually fatal when they contract it.

Pseudorabies is transmitted most commonly by a carrier animal, through nasal discharge or saliva, Schoneweis said. Authorities do not always know what causes an outbreak.

"It just doesn't play fair," he said. "It is hard to predict. Sometimes it disappears and then comes back for no apparent reason." Once a herd of hogs is infected with pseudorabies, it spreads quickly and is difficult to eradicate.

No single eradication program will work for every victim because the disease is so unpredictable. Schoneweis said. The infected animals can be destroyed, isolated or left alone. Sometimes the disease will just disappear on its own.

State veterinarians usually prohi-

Although the disease is not nor- bit vaccination, he said, because hogs mally fatal to adult pigs, newborn immunized with the traditional vaccine will then test positive for the disease. Because of this, it is impossible There is no danger of the disease to to determine if vaccinated hogs have a positive response from the vaccine or have the disease.

Pharmaceutical companies have recently developed some new vaccines and diagnostic tests which look promising, Schoneweis said. The new diagnostic tests, when used in conjunction with companion vaccines, permit differentiation between vaccinated pigs and infected pigs.

Although the disease is rapidly spreading in parts of the nation, there has not been an increase of the disease in Kansas, he said.

Twenty-one herds in Kansas are known to be infected with pseudorabies, Jensen said.

'Iowa has more than 2,000 infected herds. It is a real hotbed," he

Forty states have initiated programs to eradicate the disease, Jensen said. Some states have a more extensive program than others. Pseudorabies is so widespread in Minnesota

■ See DISEASE, Page 10A

Academic service assists students

By Lori Rice-Morsell Collegian Reporter

For some students, graduating would be almost impossible without the help of an office on campus called Educational Supportive Services.

Laurie McCauley, academic counselor and assistant director of ESS, said it is a federally funded program designed to work with disadvantaged, low-income, learning-disabled and minority students. "ESS is an academic support service directed at specific subpopulations of the student body," said Mike Lynch, assistant vice president for educational and personal development. ESS, a nationwide service, has been at K-State 15 years. Other universities in Kansas which have Kansas, Emporia State University can.

and The Wichita State University. McCauley said the programs are similar, but there are different alternatives for the special needs of each university.

ESS provides academic counseling, personal counseling, career planning, a tutoring center, help sessions, financial assistance counseling, a study skills lab and a fundamentals grammar course.

Those who are eligible for ESS are first-generation college students and/or low-income students, ethnic minority students, physically limited students and learning-disabled students, McCauley said.

Eligible students receive this service free. However, McCauley said the ESS office will talk to ineligible students to link them with the service are the University of tutors and give them any help it

Mental health panel proposes

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA - A task force recommended Monday that the state increase spending on community mental health programs by $14.6 million. But some members criticized the panel's proposals because they did not call for an overhaul of the state's system for treating the mentally ill.

The Governor's Task Force on Mental Health Reform recommended that the state fully finance all community mental health programs and that it hire 80 local "case managers." The task force also proposed that the state prevent cities and counties from using zoning ordinances to discriminate against the mentally ill by keeping their group homes out of residential neighborhoods.

However, the task force's report is silent on whether the state should change its system for determining whether a mentally ill person is sent to a state hospital and allocating money among state hospitals and other treatment centers.

The task force's recommendations will be submitted to Gov. Mike Hayden by the end of the week. Hayden will decide whether to pass them on to the 1989 Legislature, which convenes Jan. 9.

The task force's chairman, Dave Seaton of Winfield, said the panel will continue to meet to grapple with other issues concerning the treatment of the mentally ill.

This is really just a first step in our work," said Seaton, publisher of the Winfield Daily Courier. "I have taken to calling them (the proposals) a road map for strengthening community services."

However, one of two legislators on the task force, Rep. Henry Helgerson. D-Wichita, insisted that the panel must discuss more radical proposals to reform the mental health treatment system.

"It comes down to the governance issue," Helgerson said. "We still haven't grappled with the basic question.

Some legislators and mental health experts have proposed that the state set up "gatekeepers" in each county or in groups of counties to determine who is placed in a state hospital. Money then would be allocated to different centers based upon the patients they treated.

In September, a report by two national advocacy groups ranked Kansas 42nd in rating how well states cared for the mentally ill. It also said Kansas is "moving backward" in treating the mentally ill.

The task force agreed to discuss the gatekeeping in January and to try to make a recommendation by March 15. However, Helgerson said he does not think the Legislature will increase financing for mental health programs until it deals with the issue of reforming the system.

Seaton agreed the task force should study the issue, but said it hadn't had time to study it thoroughly. The exchange between Seaton and Helgerson became heated.

"I don't know what the bloody rush is," Seaton said.

Helgerson replied: "The bloody rush is that the system has been broken down for several years and that this is the one opportunity to fix it." Under the committee's recommendations, the financing increase would be matched by a $7.4 million increase in federal funds and phased in over several years.

Committee members said they want to emphasize to members of the Legislature that they feel the state needs to spend the full $14.6 million.

"Three or four million ain't going to cut it," said David Wiebe, executive director of the Johnson County Community Mental Health Center. "That's the message I think we ought to get across."

Pasta House Tuesday Night Special Spaghetti and Meatballs Includes bread, butter, salad and fruit. P.S. You can have as much as you like.

Back by popular demand! Dave Dishman speaks on THE FOUR MISCONCEPTIONS OF CHRISTIANITY

Also featuring David Letterman and his silly sidekick Paul

Tuesday, Nov. 29th

10 p.m. Phi Kappa Theta Fraternity 1965 College Heights
Sponsored by Campus Crusade for Christ

November 29 Reopening at 8 a.m., Nov. 30 Emergency Services Available

Lafene Student Health Center

Closing at 3:45 p.m. on Tuesday

ONLY 25 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS BUT WE'LL BE OPEN FOR EVERY ONE OF THEM

Lakin's Gift Shop & Metal Polishing Stone house corner of Westwood & Ft. Riley Blvd. 537-7712

Up until Christmas, we'll be open extra hours to make your Christmas shopping more convenient. Our new holiday hours are: Monday-Saturday 10-5:30 Thursday nite till 8:00 Sunday 1-4

GRADUATE STUDY

The University of Iowa College of Medicine Department of Anatomy

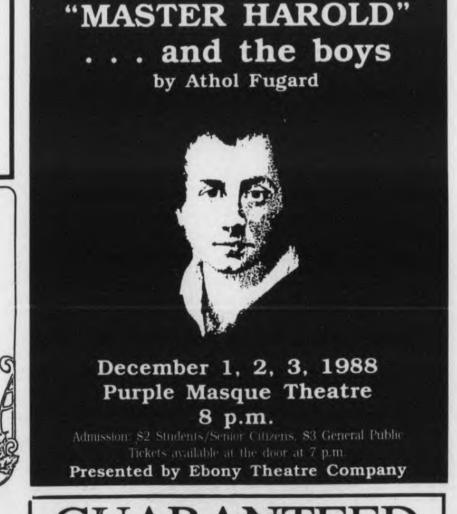

Graduate students in Anatomy at The University of Iowa are art of exciting academic and research programs and enjoy the cultural and social activities of a nationally acclaimed Big Ten University! WONT YOU JOIN US??

Your Ph.D. work may be concentrated in FERTILIZATION/REPRODUCTION NEUROBIOLOGY CARDIOVASCULAR SYSTEM DEVELOPMENT/GROWTH FACTOR

> Full-time doctoral students receive a stipend (currently $10,500) and full tuition.

Applicants should hold an undergraduate degree with prepara-tion in sciences and mathematics: transcripts, GRE scores (R6681), and recommendations required. Women and minority students are encouraged to apply. For more information:

> The University of Iowa Graduate Program in Anaton owa City, IA 52242

WE WANT TO MAKE YOUR STUDENT LOAN! Have the professionals at Kansas State Bank make your student loan. Simply contact us at: 537-4400 Lender code #821176

1010 Westloop & 11th and Bluemont, (913) 537-4400

Editorial

Kansas State Collegian Opinions III Tuesday, November 29, 1988

World has good news, for those who want it

Gee whiz, what's happening to our world? There is so much of that gosh-darned bad news out there that it could put a person into a coma of apathy.

For all those people who complain about all the bad news in newspapers, today is their day. Today we will concentrate on some of the good things that are happening in our big, bad universe - you know, the sugar-coated news that thaws even the iciest of hearts.

Hmmm, no civilian jetliners have been shot down. No public official has been caught embezzling public funds. The number of missing children on milk cartons seems to have dwindled. No floods or snowstorms have wiped out Manhappiness. No pedestrians have been hit by cars this semester. The squirrel population seems to be alive and well. The elections are over. And Oprah has lost almost 70 pounds.

Jeepers, we do live in a wonderful world after all. It's easy to live in harmony with your head in the sand.

Animal rights activists shouldn't forget people

Animal rights activists have been getting a lot of attention from the media lately.

Last week Bob Barker (of The Price is Right fame) led 2,000 marchers in New York City to protest the use of animal

According to protestors, this is part of a broad campaign against industries that abuse dogs, cats, pigs and other animals. This includes companies that use animals to test products that will eventually be used on humans as well as those companies that use animals for their hide or other body parts.

The protest groups have placed radio, TV and newspaper ads, put up billboards and have even planned a rock benefit concert.

While it is important that there are people who look out for the rights of animals, at this time of the year, it seems a bit

There are millions of homeless Americans who won't have heat or food this winter. The Salvation Army is ringing bells on street corners asking for donations for the poor and homeless, while at the same time there is a rock concert planned to help the treatment of dogs.

Something isn't quite right.

While it is a noble cause, it seems that the time and energy, not to mention the money, spent to decrease the abuse of animals could be better spent helping those Americans who have been abused by poverty, crime and discrimination.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

MANAGING EDITOR	Chad L. Sanborn
	Janet Swanson
	Jeff Schrag
PHOTO/GRAPHICS EDITOR.	John La Barge
	MANAGEMENT MANAGEMENT AND
	Susan L'Ecuyer, Scott Miller, Michael Nichols, Karla Redelsheimer, Chad L. Sanborn Jeff Schrag, Erwin Seba, Paula Selby, Robert R. Short, Mark Schmeller, Janet Swanson
ions Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Ma Monday and Thursday during POSTMASTER: Send addre hattan, Kan. 66506-7167.	Jeff Schrag, Erwin Seba, Paula Selby, Robert R. Short, Mark Schmeller, Janet Swanson (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publica-hattan, Kan. 66506. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the school year and summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. ss changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzle 103, Kansas State University, Man-
tions Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Ma Monday and Thursday during POSTMASTER: Send addre hattan, Kan. 66506-7167. News contributions will be	Jeff Schrag, Erwin Seba, Paula Selby, Robert R. Short, Mark Schmeller, Janet Swanson (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publica-hatten, Kan. 66505. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the school year and summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. It is schanges to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Manaccepted by telephone, (913) 532-6566, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hali 116. It is and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word advertional and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word adver-
tions Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Ma Monday and Thursday during POSTMASTER: Send addre- hattan, Kan. 66506-7167. News contributions will be Inquiries concerning local, na	Jeff Schrag, Erwin Seba, Paula Selby, Robert R. Short, Mark Schmeller, Janet Swanson (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publica-hatten, Kan. 66505. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the school year and summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. It is changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Manaccepted by telephone, (913) 532-6566, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hali 116, Itional and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word advertiging the collegian research.

Collegian Editorial Policies

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR are always encouraged. Those which pertain to matters of campus and/or public interest are especially encouraged, and are given the highest priority.

Letters should be kept as brief as possible, preferably under 300 words. Those who cannot condense their opinions should consider submitting their letter in the form of a guest column. All letters are subject to editing for space, style and taste. GUEST COLUMNS are also encouraged. The column should be no longer than two double-spaced, typed pages. If the submission is used as a column and not a letter to the editor, it will be accompanied by the author's photograph. SEND SUBMISSIONS to the Collegian in Kedzie 116.

UNSIGNED EDITORIALS represent the consensus opinion of the Collegian's editorial board. Opinion columns do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the Collegian management, Student Publications, Inc. or the newspaper staff in general.

The truth hurts politicians more than telling lies does

"Read my lips - no new taxes" -George Bush, Republican Convention acceptance speech

"We're obviously going to have to raise taxes, aren't we?' -President-elect George Bush, interview with J. William Medley, The New Republic, November 28, 1988

es Virginia, Bush was lying about not raising taxes. Not that it's any great surprise to anybody. A recent survey indicates that nearly 70 percent of the American people believed that both candidates were lying about not raising Today's column is not the normal columnist's kvetch about politicians who lie. It's pretty much a given for most folks (at least 70 percent, anyway) that politicians are compulsive liars. Indeed, it has gotten to the point where Americans can't conceive of a politician not engaged in some sort of deception. The crisis is when a politician tells the truth. People just don't know how to react.

Consider the recent senatorial election in Nebraska. With a lead in the October polls, Republican incumbent David Karnes made the mistake of telling the truth about the farm crisis. That is, he said the problem is that we have too many farmers. Naturally, farmers don't like hearing this, truth or not. Karnes nosedived in the polls and former Gov. Bob Kerrey won the election.

These days, it seems that more politicians get in trouble for telling the truth than telling lies. Remember Walter Mondale's attempt at honesty about taxes in 1984? Whatever became of him anyway?

My problem with all of this is not the politicians who lie. After all, when 70 percent of American people think you are lying, why bother telling the truth? My problem is with people (including myself) who think politicians are incessant liars. By assuming that a politician is lying every time he opens his mouth, by only being able to make out a "B" and an "S" when we read George Bush's lips, we have created a political process by which we ignore everything that is said and promised, cynically allowing our leaders to do whatever they want. If we don't make politicians stick to their words, we're just asking Commentary

MARK SCHMELLER Collegian Columnist

My solution? If politicians are going to continue pretending to tell the truth, people should start pretending to believe them. We should listen to their speeches with all the dewy-eyed gullibility of kindergartners. "Oh es." "Oh yes, Mr. Reagan. We know that you'll cut the deficit." Once politicians see that we believe them, they might be afraid to welsh on their promises.

Naturally, this is just another silly idea that will never work. And why not? Because people don't like being told the truth, and this is not just because the truth can sometimes hurt. People like being lied to because they've been raised on it.

rom the first time we lay eyes on a TV set, a magazine or a cereal box, we are bombarded with advertising. And what is advertising but pure and simple deception? We are told that we need things that we did not know previously existed. Ads tell us we will become happier, healthier and more sexually attractive if we put down $19.95 for the Ginsu knives or the rhinestone and stud setter.

And do we believe it? Usually not. But it feels so good to sit in front of our televisions and act like world-weary sages, successfully navigating the quagmire of media deception. After all, I think we all find a certain joy in having our intellects insulted, in feeling like we can see through the shallow Madison Avenue propaganda. It's easy to sit there and pick out the lies without ever arriving at the

We laugh at Joe Isuzu commercials because they are larger-than-life examples of the sort of wholesale trickery that goes on in sees a big red YOU MAY HAVE ALREADY WON $10 MILLION emblazoned across the front of an envelope? We all get a slight feeling of intellectual superiority from it, thinking that there must be someone out there gullible enough to tear open the envelope and look for a check.

here's also a certain warmth I feel when I detect a lie. It brings back so many memories, reminding me of those carefree days when I was innocent and foolish enough to believe that the spy scope in the Captain Crunch box could hear through walls or that the X-ray glasses advertised in the back of my Spiderman comic book would allow me to see through Suzy Smith's dress. Ah, youth. I feel so much older and wiser these days, and every time I'm lied yes, Mr. Bush. Of course you won't raise tax- to I feel that much more mature and shrewd. You've got to get up pretty early to fool this boy, I say to myself with gleeful pride.

> I imagine that many others, to a certain degree, feel the same way. We are all so accustomed to bald-faced lies that the naked truth can often sound rather strange. That is, if we are still capable of believing that anything can be the truth. And that's often the problem.

> Back in August, when George Bush challenged America to read his lips, we had no way of knowing if he was lying or not. Crazy as it may sound, he could have been telling the truth. But few were willing to give him the benefit of the doubt, and he probably knew that. But he also knew that as long as he pretended to have the easy answer, and his opponent appeared to have no answer, he would

> These days, making a decision about anything, whether it be who to vote for or what beer to buy, seems to be less a matter of sorting out fact from fiction and more a matter of choosing the more compatible of an assortment of fictions. Do you want "competence" or a "kinder, gentler nation?" Are you a "Bud Man" or would you rather catch a "Silver Bullet?" Or perhaps you would rather just chuck it all and head for the mountains of Busch, where your nights will belong to Michelob. Either way, the product (or the candidate) is still the same old lukewarm, watered-down swill it always has been.

Letters

Get walkers off paths

My letter concerns the campus bike paths, especially the ones by Durland Hall. First of all, a big thank-you to those who are not walking on the bike paths.

For those who continue to walk on the bike paths, you are helping to cause accidents between bikers. Bikers, when you see people walking in front of you on the path, do not cross to the other bike path. Loudly ask the people to move, and if they don't, go on by them anyway. You could also use a bell, horn or even an air horn to warn pedestrians that they are in your way. By crossing, you increase the chance of meeting another biker head-on, which could be painful. By standing up for the right to ride on the bike path, you encourage less pedestrians to use it as a sidewalk.

Also, if you must ride on the sidewalk to get to a bike rack, be courteous to the people walking. The sidewalk is their territory.

Basically, if we all watch where we are walking and riding, there will be less problems and frustrations.

> Liz Schmalzried senior in chemistry

Combine tickets

What is the answer to K-State's football sorrows? I guess no one really knows. We have tried such things as improving our facilities and keeping fresh blood at the head coaching job, as it seems we hire a new coach every three years. But we have not succeeded, as evident by the grand total of 2,600 student season tickets sold this year.

I would like to see the idea of a dual ticket system next year, combining football and basketball season tickets, into one. This would more than double the football ticket sales of 1988, with the 6,000 basketball fanatics who will pay any price to see their beloved Fred McCoy and the 'Cats play. So, as the new football coach comes to K-State, let's show him that we support him and what he does. The only way we can do this is to fill the stands next fall.

Eric Haeker sophomore in animal sciences and industry

BusinessTuesday

Kansas State Collegian ■ Tuesday, November 29, 1988 ■ Page 5A

Hazel Roberts, Manhattan resident, has sewn her way into a steady income for the past 10 years. Hobby horses and casserole carriers are her specialties. Roberts has made thousands of hobby horses.

Peddling their wares has begun. With the holi- the question," he said. ping is becoming slim. But before battling the bitter cold and the frantic crowds, many will feast on this year's smorgasbord of crafts on display in the Union.

Thursday and Friday the Union Program Council is sponsoring its annual Arts and Crafts Sale on the second floor Main and West Ballrooms.

Area residents will be displaying handmade items such as ornaments, paintings, wood carvings, needlewock and ceramics.

mhatum resident Duane Daily got more than he bargained for eight years ago when he offered to take a stained glass course at K-State with a friend.

"I never realized I would get so involved in the craft," Daily said. 'Now, it has become a second income for me."

Daily teaches at Manhattan High School. At night, he sets up shop in his living room and works - sometimes spending hours on a single

"The advantage of doing it (in the living room) is the light, but stained glass wares throughout his

"Magazines and posters provide the ideas, and I change the original design as I go along," he said. Daily has found that materials for his hobby are not cheap. "You can tie up a lot of money real fast," he said. "People who see my items at craft shows do not realize how much money goes into

But to those people who view Daily's wares, the time and effort he puts into each item is evident.

live in a zoo," said Wendy Matthews, Manhattan resident. Matthews' home is in the middle of the Sunset Zoo. And, in the basement, one can find Matthews at her workbench designing, welding, filing and polishing for hours as she crafts

"I was destined to be in jewelry," she said. "I crafted jewelry out of necessity when I lived in New he Christmas countdown walking around barefoot is out of York. And now it's become a business for me."

days only weeks away and Creating everything from roses For the past three years, Matthfinals creeping up, time for shop- to cowboys, Daily handcrafts items ews has worked out of her home, in vivid colors. He displays his making jewels for galleries, shops and shows.

"A lot of people want handcrafted items," she said.

Recently, Matthews has developed an interest in weaving metals into bracelets and earrings.

"Not only does the jewelry express an individual's personality, but it is a wearable form of art - a one-of-a-kind accessory that won't go out of style," she said.

The months of September through December are the moneymakers for Matthews because the majority of craft shows occur during this season.

"I starve the rest of the year," she

"Being a craftsman, it's hard to peddle my wares. And I've found that (craft) shows are great advertising.

People at the shows are so nice," Matthews said. "They know what goes into making each item. And they are aware that craft shows are not an easy way to make a

Matthews receives a great deal of support from her husband.

"I don't think I could do it without him. He takes care of the kids when I'm working," she said. "It requires an effort on both our obby horses and casserole carriers are specialties of another Manhattan resident, Hazel Roberts. "It's therapy for me," Roberts said. "I sew like mad to get a few more items done before each craft show I'm in."

For the past 10 years, Roberts has sewn her way to a steady income with a self-satisfying skill.

"I began this hobby knowing that I was going to retire and needed something to do in my spare time," she said. Roberts began sewing for her many grandchildren and great-grandchildren and has since developed an assembly-line production of hobby horses. "I have made thousands of them," she said. "The ideas and patterns were personal designs of

"When I go to a show, I am usually lucky enough to sell most of my crafts," Roberts said.

This stained glass ornament, featuring a sandblasted cowboy, is one of Daily's favorites.

Making and selling hand-crafted jewelry is how Wendy Matthews, Manhattan resident, earns her income.

Duane Daily, Manhattan resident, got involved in more than he bargained for when he took a stained glass class at K-State eight years ago. Daily has been making and selling it ever since.

Story by Theresa Luling

Photos by John La Barge

Foundation to help educate students in geography skills

By Diane Zumwalt Collegian Reporter

Americans are lost when it comes to the study of geography, said Duane Nellis, head of K-State's geography department.

"Many public school curriculums do not even include the study of geography above the primary level," Nellis said. Most of the other countries of the world include geography as part of their basic education core curriculum, but U.S. schools do not, he said.

The U.S. Congress designated the week of Nov. 13-18 as Geography Awareness Week in an effort to address the problem of geography illiteracy. Gov. Mike Hayden also signed a proclamation to the same effect.

The observances bring to public attention the growing concern among educators of the lack of geographic education in the nation's public schools and universities, he said.

As an example of the dilemma facing educators, Nellis cited a recent study done at Wichita State University. The study, which was conducted by professors Michael Broadway and Randy Bush, showed that two-thirds of the WSU students tested could not identify Vietnam on a world map and only a third or less of the students were correctly able to locate Washington, D.C., on a map.

"The scores on the tests we gave at

Collegian Coupons—

* They *.

* really + *

add up! +

QUALITY NATURAL FOODS New Holiday Hours Tues., Wed., Fri. 10-6 Thurs. 10-8, Sat. 9-5

People's Grocery
Cooperative
539-4811 811 Colorado

AMERICAN INSTITUTE
OF ARCHITECTURE
STUDENTS, A GROUP IN
THE COLLEGE OF
ARCH. & DESIGN, IS PROVIDING A GRAPHIC
DESIGN SERVICE FOR
ANY INTERESTED
PARTIES. WE WILL PROVIDE A GRAPHIC
DESIGN AND LOGO OR
LETTERING AT THE
FOLLOWING RATES:

T-SHIRTS - $20 AND FREE T-SHIRT. BANNER - $1 SQ. FT. PLUS MATERIALS. 8½ x 11 POSTER - $10

CONTACT CAROLE AT 539-5241

WSU serve to emphasize the importance of teaching geography in the secondary schools," Broadway said.

The tests, which were given twice during a two-year period, showed no improvement in scores between the two years, he said.

Using other recent surveys done by the National Geographic Society and the Gallup Organization, Nellis said more than 20 percent of American teachers who teach geography

"The purpose of the foundation is to make workshops and seminars available to public school teachers to encourage them to make geography an integral part of studies in the schools."

> -Duane Nellis head of geography have taken no classes in the subject and do not have the training to teach geography subjects.

"University educators and government officials who have studied current survey data believe the problem of geographic illiteracy must be first solved at the K through 12 level in the public schools," he said.

Much of the support for the campaign to upgrade the geographic education of America's students has come from the National Geographic Society.

"The Society has set up a geographic education foundation, which it has funded with $30 million," Nellis said. "The purpose of the foundation is to make workshops and seminars available to public school teachers to encourage them to make geography an integral part of studies in the schools."

With the support of the State Board of Education, Nellis and Paul Phillips, professor of geography at Fort Hays State University, have been asked to coordinate the establishment of a geographic alliance network in Kansas for the purpose of implementing the study of geography in the public schools.

phy in the public schools.

"Knowledge of geography enriches students' lives and is integral to an ability to understand the world around them," Nellis said. "Without this knowledge, how can we expect students to deal with potential world issues on which their very survival may hinge?"

Concert to be traditional

By Christina Doherty Collegian Reporter

K-Staters and Manhattan citizens have the opportunity to participate in a traditional English Christmas service right here in town.

The Kansas State Festival of Lessons and Carols is scheduled for 8 p.m. Dec. 5 and is free to the public.

This year's concert is at the First United Methodist Church in downtown Manhattan, unlike previous years, when it has been at McCain Auditorium.
It has been moved to make the program more like a traditional service that is held in Cambridge, England, said Rod Walker, professor of music and a coordinator of the program.

This is the first time since the 1960s that something like this has been tried regarding the Christmas concert. It is an experiment and, if the town reacts positively to the change, the concert may take place at the church in future years, Walker said.

"It's based on a traditional service done at Kings College Chapel in England every Christmas," Walker said.

The service has required more time and organization than Christmas programs of the past, he said.

Readings of the Christmas story — divided into lessons — and of Christmas carols will be the features of the service. Student Body President Laurian Cuffy, students involved in the performing choral groups and members of the faculty and administration have been asked to read some of the lessons.

"I like the range of speakers (readers) because it has someone almost anyone can identify with and should make for a better program," said Kristi Mitchell, sophomore in music education and member of the K-State Choir.

The K-State Choir, the K-State Chorale and the brass ensemble will be performing Christmas carols between the lessons.

"The brass ensemble will accompany the group (audience) in carol singing and will play at the beginning and at the end (of the service)," Walker said. "It's an outreach to the community from our department | (music). We don't want to charge people to come during the Christmas season.

"I don't want us to get locked into the same thing every year. It's nice to have a change.

"I'm excited about it and I hope it can become a new tradition in itself. I like having it in a church. It seems more like the Christmas spirit than a big auditorium," Mitchell said.

Walker believes having the program in a church provides a more appropriate setting for this type of service.

"It's a beautiful church and a lovely setting that can handle the various people. It's a good place to sing," Walker said.

Call in news, sports or photo tips to the Collegian at 532-6556

NCR SALUTES: THE WINNERS OF THE STAKEHOLDER ESSAY COMPETITION

NCR

"Progressive companies have begun to think beyond the traditional relationship of the firm to society and have begun to manage all of the relationships upon which they depend for survival. Firms that don't follow suit may regret their short-sightedness."

Murray B. Low, Winner NCR Stakeholder Essay Competition

Some of today's most important ideas are held in trust by the leaders of tomorrow.

More than 2,500 such leaders, college students from all over the country, recently competed in an NCR-sponsored essay competition. The topic: "Creating Value For Stakeholders In Corporations And/Or Not-For-Profit Organizations." At stake: $300,000 in awards. And at even greater stake: a chance to affect the way the world does business.

NCR is proud to salute the first prize winner, Murray B. Low of The Wharton School, The University of Pennsylvania; and the second prize winner, Ron Gilbert of The University of Iowa. NCR also congratulates the 98 national and state award winners, as well as their schools. Their names are listed below.

Our sincere thanks to all who entered the competition. Their ideas promise a bright future—for themselves, and for business the world over.

STAKEHOLDER ESSAY COMPETITION WINNERS

First Place
Murray B. Low
University of Pennsylvania/
Wharton School of Business

Second Place
Ron Gilbert
University of Iowa

NATIONAL WINNERS
Scot Barenblat
University of Texas/Austin
Mark Christel
University of Wisconsin
Scott Evans
Colorado State University
Kalyanaram Gurumurthy
Massachusetts Institute of Technology/Sloan
Gregory Heyworth
Columbia University
Yen-Chi Huang
Stanford University
Darnell Hunt
Georgetown University
James Mahon, Jr.
University of California/Berkeley

Amy Montgomery University of Michigan STATE WINNERS Kathryn Adam University of Minnesota Sumy Ahn Northwestern University Ajay Ahuja University of Idaho/Moscow Bruce Alexander Middlebury College Robert Asseln Steve Atkins University of Alaska Thomas Austin University of Wisconsin/Stout Jack Ballentine University of Georgia John Banko University of Florida Fred Bentsen Rice University Michael Blach California Polytechnic State/San Luis Obispo Susan Bodenheim Miami University

University of Florida
Fred Bentsen
Rice University
Michael Blach
California Polytechnic
State/San Luis Obispo
Susan Bodenheim
Miami University
George Bohan
Case Western Reserve University
Mark Caligaris
University of Pennsylvania/Wharton
Marinilka Barros Carrero
Interamerican University
Nikki Chong
University of Pennsylvania/Wharton
Suzanne Chung
Northwestern University
Robin Clair
Kent State University
William Cowie
University of California/Irvine
Christopher Cunningham
Kansas State University
Howard Dewes
Trinity Bible College

Peter Donati Cornell University/Oxford Gerhaldt Douglass University of Miami Timothy Duning Purdue University/Krannert Chris Dyke University of Florida Vanita D'Silva Virginia Polytechnic Institute George Ellis University of Michigan Brant Enderle Ohio State University Judith Finestone
Drexel University Duane Ford East Texas State Bruce Friedman Harvard Business School Eran Gartner Cornell University Marc Greidinger University of Maryland William Hammer Northwestern University Philip Hutcheson David Lipscomb College Thomas Irwin Hawaii Pacific College John Jacobs North Carolina State Scott Johnston Brown University Stephanie Jordan Appalachian State University Andrew Scott Keating Dartmouth College Sonya Kelly University of Nebraska Charlotte Klaus University of Denver Gail Koren Kent State University Michael Kuhn Washington University Lawrence Kupers U.C.L.A. David Lambert University of Florida James LaPrath Montana State University Signe Larkin Northern Arizona University Leonard T. Lee Cornell University Mark Lofstrom Columbia University Gary MacDonald University of Michigan Charles Marquette, Jr. Louisiana State University

Douglas McMahon University of Virginia

Susan Ann Milne Willamette University

Brian Minney University of Maryland

Ernest Ndukwe Michigan State University

Matthew O'Nuska, III University of New Mexico

Russell Meier Rice University

Etienne Weiss Ozorak Earlham College Elizabeth Parsons Northeastern University Bradley Pick Northwestern University John D. Powell Louisiana Tech University Bruce Rebhan University of California/Berkeley Richard Reid Harding University David Roeder Mississippi State University Gordon Sargent University of Kansas Peter K. Schalestock Cornell University Justus Schlichting Claremont Graduate School Kimberly Schwartz College of St. Benedict John Schwerin Christian Brothers College Scott Shafer University of Cincinnati Brian Shaffer University of California/Berkeley Angela Sizemore University of South Carolina Julia Snell Auburn University Michael Solka University of Pennsylvania/Wharton Lisa Stamm Northern Kentucky University Michael Strong Monterey Institute of International Studies Ashu Suri Princeton University Brent Taliaferro Oklahoma State University Dianne Todd Northwestern University Jay Tompt Monterey Institute of International Studies Hilary Turner University of Washington/Seattle Curt Walker Purdue University Joji Watanabe University of Virginia Gary Wiggin Georgia State University Robert Williams Harvard Business School Linda Gail Williamson Carnegie-Mellon University Stewart Wilson Brigham Young University Mike Windey, Jr. University of South Carolina Gary Winger University of Utah Barry Wolverton Millsaps College

NCR's Mission: Create Value for Our Stakeholders

Sports

Kansas State Collegian ■ Tuesday, November 29, 1988 ■ Page 7A

Lady Cats, UMKC square off tonight

From Staff and Wire Reports

Coming off two season-opening victories this past weekend in the McCall Pattern Classic, the Lady Cats' basketball squad will again be in action in a 7:30 matchup tonight when they meet Missouri-Kansas City at Bramlage Coliseum.

Last year, UMKC defeated the Lady Cats, 77-73, at Sweeney Recreation Center in Kansas City, Mo., to even the series between the two teams at 1-1.

"Last year, we played them right before everyone was going home for Christmas break, and I think we had a lot of distractions," Lady Cat coach Matilda Mossman said. "But, at the last year, but they lost a lot of starters."

UMKC, 0-2 after losses to Oklahoma State (82-55) and New Mexico State (61-58), lost all but one starter from a team that finished 9-16. The Lady Kangaroos will be led by their lone returning starter Maryann Mitts. The sophomore guard is averaging 12 points a game this season.

Also averaging in double figures for UMKC is junior college transfer Yolande Geralds, who is averaging 11.5 points per game.

UMKC is coached by former Northeast Oklahoma A&M Junior College mentor Brian Agler, who is in his first year at the helm of the Lady Kangaroos.

"We have been in contact with Coach Agler in the past when we recruited some of his players," Mossman said. "So I know that he will have a very intense team that will play good defense. They will be ready to play. ... He'll make sure of

K-State had four players average in double figures in its first two games. Nadira Hazim leads the Lady Cat charge with 13 points a game, followed by fellow Topekan Kristie Bahner at 12.5, while Mary Jo Miller and Diana Miller are averaging 10.5.

The Lady Cats' next action will be same time, they had a very good team ' Friday night when they meet Texas A. & M. in the Minnesota Dial Soap Classic at Williams Arena in Minneapolis. Tip-off is scheduled for 6 p.m., with the winner playing the winner of the Minnesota-Radford game in the championship Saturday afternoon. K-State's next home game will be Dec. 6, against Central Missouri State.

		PRO	BABLE STAR	TERS
K-State		61	Pos.	Miller (5-1
Madsen	(3-0,	11.7		Milliot (9-

Madsen (5-8, Jr.)	F	Miller (5-10, Sr
D. Miller (5-10, So.)	F	Hill (5-10, Jr
Boyle (6-1, Sr.)	C/G	Geralds (5-7, Jr
Hazim (5-7, So.)	G	Mitts (5-8, So
M.J. Miller (5-5, Fr.)	G	Rentro (5-8, Jr.
		The second second

Notre Dame near unanimous No.1

By The Associated Press

Notre Dame, fresh from a 27-10 victory over Southern California in their 1-2 shootout, was a nearunanimous choice as the nation's top college football team Monday in the Associated Press' next-to-last regular-season poll.

The setback dropped Southern Cal from second place to fifth and cost the Trojans their shot at the national championship.

Defending national champion Miami, an 18-16 winner over previously unbeaten Arkansas, moved up from third place to second and West Virginia, Notre Dame's Jan. 2 Fiesta Bowl rival, jumped from fourth to third. It was the highest ranking ever in the AP poll's 53-year history for the Mountaineers, who, like Notre Dame, completed an 11-0 regular season for the first time.

Notre Dame, which is No. 1 for the fifth consecutive week, received 57 of 60 first-place votes and 1,197 of a possible 1,200 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Miami, whose only loss was 31-30 at Notre Dame when the Hurricanes disdained an almost certain tie with 45 seconds left and tried a two-point conversion pass that failed, received one first-place vote and 1,124 points. The Hurricanes, 9-1, conclude their regular season Saturday against Brigham Young.

The other two first-place votes went to West Virginia, which totaled 1,069 points.

Florida State, which finished second to Miami a year ago but has won 10 straight since an opening-game 31-0 loss to the Hurricanes, trounced Florida 52-17 and climbed from fifth to fourth with 1,013 points, followed by 10-1 Southern Cal with 946 place with 891 points and Auburn, 10-1, a 15-10 winner over Alabama, remained seventh with 865 points.

UCLA, 9-2, rose from ninth place to eighth with 733 points, barely edging Arkansas, 10-1, which slipped from eighth to ninth with 731 points. Oklahoma, 9-2, again rounded out the Top Ten with 649 points.

gan, Oklahoma State, Clemson, Houston, Wyoming, Louisiana State, Washington State, Syracuse, Georgi-

1.	Notre Dame (57)	11-0-0	1,19	71
2.	Miami, Fla. (1)	9-1-0	1,12	43
3.	West Virginia (2)	11-0-0	1,06	92
	Florida St.	10-1-0	1,01	35
5.	USC	10-1-0	946	2
6.	Nebraska	11-1-0	891	6
7.	Aubum	10-1-0
8.	UCLA	9-2-0
9.	Arkansas	10-1-0	731	8
10.		9-2-0	649	10
	Michigan	8-2-1	591	11
12.	Okla. St.	8-2-0	548	12
13.		9-2-0	488	13
14.		9-2-0		-
15.		11-1-0
16.		8-3-0
17.	CHARLES THE RESERVE TO THE PARTY OF THE PART	8-3-0		_
18.		8-2-0		-
19.	Contraction of the second	8-3-0
		Market Market Tolker	10000

Others receiving votes: Colorado 81, Michigan St. 29, Texas-El Paso 20, Southern Mississippi 13, South Carolina 5, Fresno State 4, Arizona 3, Army 1,

Nebraska, 11-1, held onto sixth

The Second Ten consists of Michia and Alabama.

Last week, it was Michigan, Oklahoma State, Clemson, Houston, Wyoming, LSU, Alabama, Washington State, Syracuse and Georgia. Alabama remained in the Top Ten despite losing to Auburn,

The AP will conduct its final regular-season poll following next weekend's games and will announce the national champion on Jan. 3.

20. Alabama 7-3-0 90 17

Super Bowl champion to be different for ninth straight year as 'Skins lose

By The Associated Press

Sunday's NFL action didn't exactly make the playoff picture any clearer, although it did seem to make a new Super Bowl champion an almost sure thing for the ninth straight year when Cleveland beat Washington 17-13. That dropped the Redskins' record to 6-7, leaving them ninth in the NFC and requiring a highly unlikely set of circumstances to make the playoffs.

While the Bears joined the Bills as the second team to qualify for one of the 10 playoff spots - Chicago's 16-0 win over Green Bay guaranteed it of at least an NFC wild-card spot - it also suffered injuries to defensive end Richard Dent and quarterback Mike Tomczak that could force it to take just that wild-card route to the playoffs.

And another old face moved back into contention: The New York Giants, who looked like they were out of its when they lost Phil Simms in a loss to Philadelphia, upset new-face New Orleans 13-12 Sunday night with Jeff Hostetler and Jeff

Rutledge at quarterback. Going into the final three weeks of the regular season, 17 of the 28 teams have at least marginal playoff shots. This is how the playoff picture looks, old faces and new:

Despite its 35-21 loss in Cincinnati, an almost predictable letdown following its victory that clinched the East a week ago, Buffalo still controls the conference with its 11-2 record and can clinch the home-field advantage throughout the playoffs by winning its final three with the Bucs, Raiders and Colts. The final one, at Indianapolis, looks like the toughest assignment.

The Colts, who are 7-6, remained in contention for a wild-card by beating New England, also 7-6, 24-21. The Jets, 6-6-1, are marginally alive, although they made their mark Sunday by setting an NFL record with 39 first downs in a 38-34 win over Cincinnati, 10-3, leads the Central over Houston, 9-4, and Cleveland, 8-5, with the Oilers and Browns quite likely to both qualify as wild cards. But Houston can win the division by winning its last three at home with 3-11 Pittsburgh and the Bengals, then at Cleveland, although that final game may be tough for a team that's 6-0 at home, 3-4 on the road.

The West almost surely won't provide any wild cards, and the winner will be decided in a series of games involving Denver, which took a temporary lead at 7-6 by beating the Rams 35-24 pending the outcome of Monday night's game between Seattle and the Raiders, each 6-6.

NFC Philadelphia, one of the "new faces," controls the East at 8-5 by virtue of its two wins over the Giants and Sunday's 31-21 win over

But 8-5 New York's win over New Orleans may have rejuvenated a team that's been looking for a spark, and ■ See NFL, Page 12A

Call earns all-Big 8 honors

From Staff and Wire Reports

K-State volleyball player Shawnee Call has completed her career by becoming the first Wildcat named to the All-Big Eight team three times.

Call, an outside hitter from Ellsworth, joins Nebraskans Lori Endicott and Virginia Stahr as repeaters from the 1987 squad.

Call ended her K-State career with 10 school records, including career marks in kills, attacks and digs. She had an attack percentage of .261 during her senior campaign, which placed her ninth in the conference. She was second in the league with 3.41 digs per game and fifth with an average of 3.38 kills per game.

K-State middle hitter Valerie Kastens, a senior from Wichita, was named to the honorable mention team. She also picked up first-team honors on the Lee Jeans Big Eight Volleyball Honor Roll (academic team). Mary Kinsey, another Wildcat senior also was named to the Lee Jeans Honor Roll list. Kastens carries a 3.3 grade point average in preveterinary medicine. She was an honorable mention choice to the team a year ago. Kinsey holds a 3.33 grade point average in elementary education.

Missouri cruises to 97-55 win

By The Associated Press

COLUMBIA, Mo. - Senior guard Byron Irvin had 18 points and eighth-ranked Missouri held Tennessee-Martin to just 21 points in the second half, as the Tigers deteated the Pacers 9/-33 Monday evening.

Tennessee Martin's Paul Huff hit a 3-point shot to bring the Pacers within 21-20 with 9:22 remaining in first half. But Missouri's Gary Leonard connected on two free throws to start a 12-point run by the Tigers, who took a commanding 33-20 lead with 6:59 seconds left in the half. Missouri led 46-35 at halftime.

Sophomore forward Doug Smith had 15 points for the Tigers and reserve guard John McIntyre added 13 for the Tigers.

Missouri, which lost 86-84 in overtime to Syracuse in the finals of Big Apple NIT on Friday, moved to 4-1 on the year. The only other Big Eight team in action Monday night was Kansas which played in the championship game of the Great Alaskan Shootout against Seton Hall. Due to the late start of the game, results were unavailable at press time.

Guarian 2-5 0-0 4, Riddick 1-3 0-0 2, Thomas 8-14 0-2 16, Hansen 3-14 4-4 11, Cox 3-7 2-3 8, Jonasson 0-0 2-3 2, Huff 2-7 2-4 8, Rayford 0-3 4-4 4, Young 0-6 0-0 0. Totals 19-59 14-20 55.

MISSOURI (97)
Smith 6-9 3-3 15, Sandbothe 3-6 0-0 6, Leonard 4-7 2-3
10, Coward 0-2 0-0 0, Irvin 7-8 4-7 18, Wewrzyniek 2-3 0-0
4, Horton 0-1 0-1 0, Burtin 7-8 0-0 14, McIntyre 6-10 0-0
13, Coleman 1-1 0-0 2, Church 1-4 1-2 3, Sutton 1-1 0-2 2, Peeler 4-10 2-2 10. Totals 42-70 12-20 97.
Halltime—Missouri 46, Tenn.-Martin 35. 3-point goals—
Tenn.-Martin 3-15 (Guarian 0-1, Hansen 1-7, Cox 0-2, Huff 2-4, Rayford 0-1), Missouri 1-2 (Irvin 0-1, McIntyre 1-1).
Fouled out—Nome. Rebounds—Tenn.-Martin 28 (Guarian 5, Riddick 5), Missouri 48 (McIntyre 8). Assists—
Tenn.-Martin 9 (Hansen 4), Missouri 28 (Irvin 5, McIntyre 5). Total fouls—Tenn.-Martin 16, Missouri 19. A—11,389.

Lady Cats may be for real this season

How 'bout those Lady Cats? Or should we call them K-State's version of the "Cardiac Kids?"

Probably no one attending Saturday's championship game of the McCall Pattern Classic thought the Lady Cats could pull out a victory after trailing Montana 61-41 with 5:19 remaining - no one, that is, except coach Matilda Mossman and her players.

The 796 fans who stayed for the conclusion witnessed what probably will be the best finish to a basketball game that they will see.

The Lady Cats outscored Montana 25-4 the rest of the way to edge the Lady Grizzlies 66-65, capturing their sixth McCall Pattern Classic title in the tournament's nine years. But wasn't this supposed to be somewhat of a rebuilding year for the Lady Cats? Obviously, having just one senior and six juniors does not give anyone the impression that the Lady Cats are going to be some kind of powerhouse this season.

Montana though, is a different story. The Lady Grizzlies entered the season as the defending Big Sky Conference champions, returning two starters from a 28-2 squad.

And the Lady Grizzlies' experience seemed to be giving K-State fits all afternoon as Montana appeared well on its way to wrapping up Saturday's championship game. But the Lady Grizzlies didn't have one thing that this year's Lady Cats have heart.

The Lady Cats won this game because they had more heart than Montana, and they showed they deserved to win Saturday because they wanted it more.

And the rest of the Lady Cats might want to give some of the credit for their miraculous comeback to Mary Jo Miller, who showed a desire to win, no matter what the odds been used to coming from behind. As soon as the freshman Miller took control, scoring nine straight points late in the game, her inner drive to win suddenly seemed to shift to the rest of the K-State team. From there, the Lady Cats' gutsy defensive play and all-out hustle created havoc for Montana, which succumbed to K-State's pressure.

With nearly three minutes remaining, the Lady Cats suddenly looked like a team possessed - an opposite from the team that had fallen behind by 20 points earlier in the game.

The Lady Cats went from a team that had, more or less, gone through the motions on defense for the first 35 minutes to a team that was all over the court - double-teaming, diving against them, to a team that had not for loose balls, deflecting passes and just flat out out-playing the Lady Grizzlies in the last five minutes. It would be no surprise if a lot of the Lady Cats were banged up after this battle.

And it's that gutsy, all-out style of play that will become the Lady Cats' trademark this season and also probably win them a lot more games than the eight they had last year.

Mossman has to like the position that she is sitting in now. Her team is 2-0 after coming out of a tournament where it was expected to do no better than 1-1, considering the competition that Mossman had lined up for the McCall Pattern Classic.

But what Mossman can feel most comfortable with is the fact that no Cats, with the exception of herself she's not used to losing.

and the team, and that alone is going to haunt a lot of teams this season.

And if the Lady Cats can solve their offensive problems, which is Mossman's main concern, the other teams on the K-State schedule this year better take heed - this year's version of the Lady Cats are for real on the court, no matter how they might look on paper.

This season the Lady Cats may have found exactly what they needed an inspiration in the form of Mary Jo Miller. The 5-foot-5 Miller, whose teams have a combined record of 128-9 since the seventh grade, just may be the little spark that the Lady one expects much from her Lady Cats needed lit under them. After all,

movie enjoyable

By Nancy Chartrand Arts/Entertainment Editor

During Thanksgiving break, I gave in to eight pouting faces and took my nieces and nephews to see the new Walt Disney feature "Oliver and Company."

Before my 4-year-old niece informed me it was a cartoon about an orphaned kitten in New York City, I thought it was some intense movie like "My Dinner with Andre."

Review

K-State crop

Shows how much I know, right?! Not exactly being a cat lover and realizing that I would be missing out on all those great sales at the mall, I smiled and said, "Sure, why not?"

Little did I realize that I would enjoy it as much as the children did if not more.

Knowing that most children will be accompanied by parents, grandparents or, in my case, aunts, Disney incorporates some chuckle-worthy humor only adults will catch.

"Oliver and Company" tells the story of an orphaned kitty named Oliver who takes up with a group of

They teach Oliver the ways of the street and, in the process, get him mixed up with a loan shark.

These lovable canines are brought to to life by the voices of Richard Mulligan, Cheech Marin, Bette Midler and Billy Joel.

As in all Disney pictures, there is a happy ending. The big bad loan shark gets his dues, Oliver finds a home with a cute little girl named Jenny, and his friends go off singing down

The music, a la Billy Joel and per-streetwise stray dogs, each of whom formed by the canines, is as enjoy-has a heart of gold. formed by the canines, is as enjoy-able as the story itself. It may not able as the story itself. It may not rival technically anything from Joel's "42nd Street" album, but it did send my toes tapping.

> So if you go home over the holidays and your little brother begs you to take him to a movie, give in.

> Take him to see "Oliver and Company." Chances are you will end up enjoying it as much as he will.

After a grueling fall semester and finals, you'll deserve to get lost in a little fantasy. third team places

By Mark Rader Collegian Reporter

K-State's crop judging team placed third overall in its two national contests this year in Kansas City and Chicago. A contest consists of three individual contests: identification, seed analysis and grain grading, each producing individual and team scores. Each division is worth 600 points, making 1,800 points possible in individual competition. Each team has three members, making 5,400 points available in a contest, said Eric Fabrizius, junior in agronomy and member of the team.

In a close contest on Nov. 15 in Kansas City, the K-State team, coached by Gerry Posler, professor in agronomy, finished third with 4,976.4 points, 20 points from first place and 3.2 points out of second place, Fabrizius said.

Fabrizius, with 1,714.8 points, was named high individual for the Kansas City contest. He placed first in grain grading and sixth in seed

The team placed first in seed analysis behind the efforts of Eric Woofter, senior in agriculture education, who was high individual in that

Matt Wilber, senior in agronomy, was third-high individual in identification.

In the Nov. 19 contest in Chicago, the team again placed third overall with 5,043 points, grabbing second in seed analysis, second in identification and fourth in grain grading.

In the Chicago contest, Fabrizius also finished as third-high individual varieties.'

with 1,724.4 points, second in seed analysis, second in identification and fourth in grain grading. He received a $200 scholarship from the Chicago Board of Trade for his efforts.

Woofter was fourth in seed analysis and seventh in identification. Wilber was second in identification at the Chicago contest.

"In identification, we are given 200 different plant samples to identify," Fabrizius said. "The team spent a lot of time learning different plant

IR TAMERS 2026 Tuttle Creek Blvd. 539-TAME

HAIRCUTS Guys-$7.50 Gals-$10.50

includes shampoo & style

Student health center to accept credit cards

By The Collegian Staff

Students can now use Visa and Mastercard to pay for services they receive at Lafene Student Health Center.

The service went into effect Nov. 11, said Doris Beck, cashier supervisor at Lafene.

"Students come into Lafene and don't always have money," Beck said.

The service acts as a comforting thought to students who cannot pay their bill at the time the service is rendered, she said. Lafene had a good response to the service on Friday and Monday before advertising began.

In order to get the service started, Lafene submitted a letter to Doug Ackley, head of the cashier and loan office in Anderson Hall. The cashier in the Controller's Office contacted the Union National Bank, which then set up the service.

After the letter was accepted, the equipment used for credit card transactions was ordered and picked up, Beck said.

Lafene is given a 2.4 percent service charge, which is paid by the University, for the service.

SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE

Looking for a scholarship? Air Force ROTC has two-through four-year scholarships that can cover tuition and other expenses, plus $100 per academic month, tax free.

> CAPT EVERETT 913-532-6600

Find out if you qualify.

Leadership Excellence Starts Here

From I Can't Believe It's Yogurt! Just for the Holidays Delicious new pumpkin pie-flavored frozen yogurt.

25% DISCOUNT

on any small, medium or large serving of our new pumpkin pie-flavored frozen yogurt. Offer good while flavor is available.

(Topping and waffle cones at regular price.)

705 N. 11th Nautilus Towers Open: 11 a.m.-11 p.m. dally Noon-11 p.m. Sunday

PHYUNDAI

The Price / Performance PC with an 18 month Warranty

IBM-compatibility with speed and growth: 10Mhz speed, 640K memory, 2 drives or 30 Mb hard disk, mono or color screen, 101 keyboard, clock/calendar, word processing, spreadsheet and database software, 18 month full warranty - with training included!

Qualifies for Endowment Financing

Connecting Poin

Includes 2 drives, 640K, 10 Mhz speed, 14" mono monitor, word processing, spreadsheet, database software, DOS, 101 keyboard, 18 mo. warranty and training. IBM is a registered trademark of IBM Corporation.

1115 Westloop Shopping Center + Manhattan 539-0801 + Open Mon - Sat

Featuring a variety of gifts at bargain prices.

November 29 thru December 2 Tuesday-Friday 8:30am-4:30pm Union Ballrooms KSU

Look for your discount certificate through University mail.

A K-State Union Bookstore Event

Collegian Classified Advertising

CLASSIFIED AD FORMS

Write your ad in the form provided below, and mail it in, along with the correct payment, to STUDENT PUBLICATIONS, INC., KEDZIE HALL, ROOM 103, KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506. You can also stop by Kedzie 103 to place your ad or call 532-6555. Student Publications now accepts MasterCard and Visa. (Minimum charge of $5.) The DEADLINE for Classified Ads is NOON the day before publication; NOON Friday for Monday's publication. Deadline for cancellation is NOCN the day before publication

CLASSIFIED AD POLICY

Only the FIRST TWO words of each ad will be in all caps; all other words will be in caps/lower, except initials.

* No last names or phone numbers will be printed in the Personals section. Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the advertiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not alter the value of the ad.

Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103 or by calling 532-6555

* If mailed ads do not arrive by the Noon deadline, they will be placed in the next day's paper.

* Ads which are incorrectly calculated will be run only for amount paid.

* The Collegian reserves the right to edit or reject any advertisement at any time.

	CIE	assiti	ed A	o Ha	tes		Classified Cat	egories
Words/Day 1-15 18 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 heer 30 words (per word)	1 2.50 2.70 2.90 3.10 3.50 3.50 3.70 3.90 4.10 4.30 4.50 4.70 4.90 5.10 5.30 5.50	2 3.50 3.75 4.00 4.25 4.50 5.25 5.50 6.75 6.00 6.25 6.75 7.00 7.25	3 4.26 4.55 4.85 5.15 5.45 6.05 6.35 6.05 7.25 7.35 7.35 7.35 7.35 8.45 8.75	4 4,75 5,10 5,45 5,80 6,15 6,85 7,20 7,55 8,85 7,20 8,25 8,60 8,95 9,85 10,00	5 5.00 5.40 5.80 6.20 6.60 7.00 7.40 7.80 8.20 9.00 9.40 10.20 10.60 11.00	Extra Day 1.00 1.05 1.10 1.15 1.20 1.25 1.30 1.35 1.40 1.45 1.50 1.55 1.60 1.65 1.70 1.75	01 Announcements 15 02 Apartments for Rent—Furnished 16 03 Apartments for Rent—Unfurnished 17 04 Automobiles for Sale 18 05 Automobile Rentals 19 06 Card of Thanks 20 07 Child Care 21 08 Computers 22 09 Employment 23 10 Financial Services 24 11 Garage and Yard Sales 25 12 Houses and Mobile Hornes for Rent 26 13 Houses and Mobile Hornes for Sale 27	Miscellaneous Merchandise Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale Musical Instruments Personals Pets and Pet Supplies Professional Services Resume/Typing Services Roommate Wanted Situation Wanted Sporting/Recreational Equipment Sublease Welcome Other
Address					1	210	Student ID #
1		2			1	3		6
	Killio	7				8	9	10
11	1 10	12			79.0	19	9	15
	40.					40	10	20
10	1-	- 22	100	31	Title?	23	24	25
21
21		27		-		28	29	30
21as	begins	S	THE PARTY	910-	1000	561		William Control

12 12 MM F 1 1 1711 111

Kedzie 103

ClassAds

532-6555

One day: 15 words or fewer, $2.50, 20 cents per word over 15; Two consecutive dates: 15 words or fewer, $3.50, 25 cents per word over 15; Three consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 cents per word over 15; Four consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.75, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $5.00, 40 cents per word over 15.

Classifieds are payable in advance unless client has an established account with Student Publications.

Deadline is noon the day before publication; noon FRIDAY for Monday's paper. Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the adver-tiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not after the value of the and after the value of the ad.
Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE

for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103 or by calling 532-6555.

Display Classified Rates
One day: $5.20 per inch; Three consecutive days:
$5.00 per inch; Five consecutive days: $4.80 per inch;
Ten consecutive days: $4.60 per inch. (Deadline is 4:30 p.m. two days before publication.)
Classified advertising is available only to those who do not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national ordin, say or ancestry.

tional origin, sex or ancestry.

Next time you feed your face, think about your heart.

Go easy on your heart and start cutting back on foods that are high in saturated fat and cholesterol. The change'll do you good.

Announcements

ALL YOUR Mary Kay needs -skincare -glarnor -nails -gifts for all seasons. Floris Taylor, 639-2070.

OKAY ... SO I COULDN'T

BUT HEY ... I'VE

STILL GOT MY

HEALTH!

CASHIER-

GET A NEW JOB ..

IT'S NOT WHAT YOU

DO, BUT HOW WELL

IT'S NOT THE SIZE OF

THE DOG IN THE FIGHT...

BUT THE SIZE OF THE FIGHT IN THE DOG!

YOU DO IT!

WILL SOON BE CHEWED

UP AND SPIT OUT

BY THE BIG FISH

IN THE BIG POND.

FLYING INTEREST you? For information on K-State Flying Club call Sam Knipp, 539-6193.

HEY ALL you fruitcake lovers! Yes, it's that time again.
The Bakery Science Club is taking orders now! If you would like to order fruitcakes for your holiday party, for gilts, or for yourself; just leave your name, how many you want, and a number where you can be reached. Call 776-2408 today!

PARTY GAS (helium)... you fill... we fill... our balloons... your balloons. 1231 Westloop, 539-4038.

PERMS: $19.95 includes cut and style. Tan 10 sessions

SKI COLORADOI $25/ night for two. Ten cozy log cabins/ kitchens, some fireplaces. Gameroom/ fireplace, HBO, pool table, sauna. Fish, cross-country ski, Ski Winter Park, Silver Creek, Mountain Letter Ledes Rechard Letter Lakes Lodge. Brochure/ reservations -Grand Lake, CO 1-303-627-8448. Call today!

WANTED— 100 overweight people to try herbal weight control program. No drugs, no exercise. Doctor recommended. 100% guaranteed. 776-5114,

1 off your Collegian Classified with your contribution to the Flint Hills Breadbasket. Take canned goods to Kedzie 103 to receive 1 off your Collegian Classified.

Prepaid ads only. Not valid with any other

Deadline: noon one day prior to publication. Offer expires noon Dec. 8, 1988.

RICHARD BROADFOOT

SPRING BREAK '891 Reservations Available Now

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, TX from $149 Sheraton/Holiday Inn/Gulf View STEAMBOAT, CO from $93*

Shadow Run/Overlook DAYTONA BEACH, FL from $118" Texan Mote

MUSTANG ISLAND, TX from $136" Port Royal Condos

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, SC from $107 Hilton Head Beach Condo: Don't Wait Until It's Too

Late! Call Toll Free Today

2 Apartments—Furnished

NICE ONE-BEDFIOOM apartment. Water, trash, two-thirds gas paid. Laundry facilities. Nice for graduate student or couple. $260. Available Dec. 15 or Jan. . 539-2482 after 4p.m.

NOW IS the time to rent for next semester. One, two or three-bedroom apartments. Nice, close to campus. Not in a complex. Low utilities. No pets. Call ONE-BEDROOM FURNISHED in 12-unit complex two blocks west of campus. Available immediately. 539-7811 or 1-456-8297. PREFER MARRIED couple or single adult for quiet, well-maintained one and two bedroom apartments. Assorted features: laundry, patio, paid heat, queensized bed, carport and more. $220, $275, $335. One year lease. No smoking, pets, waterbeds. 537-9686 for application.

RIDE THE K-STATE UNION Express!!

3 Apartments—Unfurnished

AVAILABLE SECOND semester. Less than one block from campus, two bedrooms, one full bath. Low utilities. Clean and nice. Call 776-3788 or

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM, campus location, coin-operated washer and dryer. No pets, available January. $265 plus deposit. 539-1465.

NICE TWO-BEDROOM apartment across from Nichols Available January 1, $330, 539-2920.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate. Across from City Park, own room. 537-1273.

TWO-BEDROOM, PARTLY furnished, air conditioned apartment, two blocks southwest of high school. Off-street parking. Trash and water paid. Available Jan. 1. $315, 539-5921.

4 Automobiles for Sale

GREAT SCHOOL carl Good condition. Low mileage.

WILL ACCEPT sealed bids until Nov. 30, 1988 on 1987 Toyota pickup. Long bed, extra cab, five-speed, AM/FM with a tape, cloth interior, eliver, 38,000 miles, in excellent shape. May be seen by appointment only. 8a.m.- 4p.m., Monday- Friday. Phone (913)532-6274.

8 Computers

AT&T 7300 computer, Unix operating system, 10 meg hard disk, 15 software packages (including Dbase III, WordStar 2000, spreadsheet). Seven software packages unopened. Must sell. Call after 5p.n 776-1056.

Bloom County

HAS JUST BEEN CHEWED

UP AND SPIT OUT BY

THE BIG FISH IN THE BIG POND ..

Peanuts

21 Delibes By Charles Schulz 24 Central

COMMODOR AMIGA 1000 with digital/analog color moniter, extra memory, two drives and over $500 of software. $1099. 776-9539 after 5p.m.

FOR SALE: Line printer ribbons- Black multistrike no. QM MS (4½ dozen), $1.25 each. Black nylon no. QM NY (15), $2.25 each. Call 532-6555 or come by

ENITES.

PERSONAL COMPUTERS Authorized Warranty Service

also servicing PC compatibles & printers

· Televisions & VCRs MIDWEST SERVICES

624 Tuttle Creek Blvd. Manhattan 913-776-6650

9 Employment

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Reeders are advised to approach any such "employment opportunity" with reasonable caution.

ATTENTION- HIRINGI Government jobs- your area. $17,840- $69,485. Call (602)838-8885, ext. J-1797.

BUS DRIVER needed to start immediately for Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 11a.m.-noon, to drive children from U.S.D. 383 to child care center. Class B license required. Previous experience preferred. $3.75 an hour. Apply Nancy Bolsen, director, L-9 Jardine Terrace, Manhattan, KS. 539-1806. Equal Opportunity Employe

DO YOU like kids? I need a fun-loving, flexible person for childcare. Room, board, salary plus car provided. We are very nice. Call Becky (415)328-6229.

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, Juniors: Train in the summer to become a Marine Corps Officer after graduation. Aviation available. Call collect (913)841-1821.

GODFATHER'S PIZZA is now hiring personnel at all positions. Delivery drivers have the possibility of earning up to $9 an hour. Drivers must be 18 years of age and have liability insurance. Applicants may stop by from 11a.m.- 5p.m.

KANSAS REGENTS Network (Telenet) announces a position opening for Telecommunications Assis-tant. Part-time position to handle clerical tasks and monitor University teleconferenced courses. College education or professional training required. Twelve- 15 hours weekly, mostly evenings and saturdays. Begin January. Send resume and three professional references by Dec. 5 to Telenet, Umberger 312, Kansas State University, Manhattan, KS 66506. AA/ EOE.

MICROCOMPUTER PROGRAMMERS: You could be a part of a software development team that produces software that is marketed throughout the United States, while still in college. Kansas Careers is offering employment to students at all grade levels who are ambitious, creative and have good programming skills. Our programming team develops software for IBM PC, Apple II and MacIntosh microcomputer systems. Several languages are used, including "C," dBase III, 6502 and others. Programming at Kansas Careers enhances your college education while providing job experience. and excellent wages. Applications will be accepted at Fairchild Hall room 304 (532-6540) through Dec 7, 1988. Kansas Careers and KSU are Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer

ENROLL NOW!

Four Ad Production Internships available for

Spring 1988

Title of course: Publications Practice, 1 credit hour, JMC 360. Must attend 8:30-11:30 a.m. one day a week.

For more information and permision slip come to Kedzie

NOW ACCEPTING applications for spring semester Consumer Relations Board Director. Person needs to be resourceful, have leadership qualities, enthusiastic about educating people and capable of handling Consumer/Landbrd-Tenant grievances. Director required to work 15 plus hours/ week, gross $335/ month Applications may be picked up gross $335/ month. Applications may be picked up in the Student Governing Office and are due by

OVERSEAS JOBS. $900- $2 00 month. Summer, year-round, all countries, all fields, free information. Write IJC, P.O. Box 52-KS02, Corona Del Mar, CA

PAY DAYI Beginning salary $3.60/ hour. All shifts for walter and waltresses; Hotline server and porter Monday, Wednesday, Friday 10:20a.m.- 2p.m. Apply now at K-State Union Food Service for remaining fall positions. Apply early for spring aining fall positions. Apply early for spring ester when you have your spring schedule. We offer student pay plan, job variety, and centrally located work place. We require that you must be honest, reliable and display a sense of urgency, must be clean, neat and wear appropriate attire. Food Handler's Card a must.

OFFICE STUDENT help-- Must have office experience and some computer experience. Average 12 hours per week (four-hour slots) and be able to work this summer. $3.50 per hour, stirting immediately. Call Forestry Department. $37 150.

PYRAMID PIZZA is now taking applications for delivery personnel. Please apply in person, 1130 Moro RESPONSIBLE PERSON to babysit in my home evenings including weekends for two older children and one toddler. 537-8537.

TRAVEL FIELD Opportunity, Gain valuable marketing experience while earning money and free trips. Campus representative needed immediately for Spring Break trips to Florida and South Padre Island. Call Echo Tours at 1-800-999-4300.

VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full-and part-time help. Must be able to work some noon shifts. Apply in person

12 Houses/Mobile Homes for Rent

NICELY FURNISHED, 10x50 mobile home, ideal for single or married student. Two singles okay, $165. 776-8552.

13 Houses/Mobile Homes for Sale

1972 12x60, furnished/ unfurnished, new paint, central air, washer, dryer, waterbed, reasonable, 537-0734.

14 Lost and Found

FOUND: SOUTHEAST on campus. Friendly, black female chow mix dog. To claim or adopt call

TAKEN BY mistake Friday evening, Please return the jardiniere- family sentimental attachment. Reward for return of planter and basket- Call 539-2703.

15 Miscellaneous Merchandise

ANTIQUE OAK furniture, misc. used furniture.

BASEBALL CARDS-Want to make some extra spend-ing money? Dig those baseball cards out of your closet and bring them back after Thanksgiving break. We're buying! Call Mark at 539-3606.

FOR SALE: Two KSU basketball season ticket books-ten games in each. Great seats- second rowl Call Terri 532-3240.

Hayes House of Music

Guitar Strings & Drumsticks Buy 1 Set, Get a 2nd Set 1/2 Price

327 Poyntz

GOVERNMENT SURPLUSII New G.I. overshoes, combat boots and safety-toe boots, wool (blankets, gloves, socks and mittens). Field jackets, overcoats, camouflage clothing. Also Carhartt work wear. Monday- Saturday 9a.m.- 5p.m. Open Sun days till Christmas noon- 4p.m. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734

NEED TO sell: Two one-way tickets from KC to Phoenix Dec. 16. Best offer, 539-8978.

PHOTOGRAPHIC EQUIPMENTS: 23CXL enlarger clock, safelight, papers. Everything. Graduate, must sell. 539-9373.

TYPEWRITER- RENTALS- Sales- Repairs. Good selection of used IBMs and Smith Coronas. Advanced Business Systems 713 N. 12th (Aggieville). 539-7931.

16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale

1982, 550 Yarnaha Maxim. Good condition. New tires. $700. Call 776-3458.

BICYCLE SALE, lay away for Christmas. Aggle Bike Station, Aggieville. (behind Hardee's).

CYCLE AND helmet covers, S-100 Cleaner. Motorcycle Supply, 1221 Moro. 776-6177.

18 Personals

ATO's- CHEESE, Morgy, Hardon and Mule- Ozarks were great, had a blast, hot tubs, suana, drinking, went by too fast. Kappa formal will soon be here-drinking, dancing and holiday cheer. Well, enough of this rhyrning, enough of this cheese, will you be our dates on December 10th please?! Trace, Kelli, Char and Krista. P.S. (WNAD)

BIG BO-HUNK, hot rockin' babe in 9:30 bowling class Monday, think name is Carl, you won't strike out with me either. Will say "hi" Wednesday. CHI-O KIM, Have I got the date for you! Does the name

Rulus ring a bell?

EDGE 14.9.3.21.11.16.9 5.17.21.241 13 22.9.17.3.3.26 16.13.19.19.9.1 26.11.4 10.10.10.11.11.11. PJ.

20 Professional Services

PREGNANT? BIRTHRIGHT can help. Free pregnancy lest. Confidential. Call 537-9180. 103 S. Fourth St., Suite 25. PROMPT ABORTION and contraceptive services in Lawrence. (913)841-5716.

21 Rentals

PRIME AGGIEVILLE location for lease, 600 square feet Call (913)642-3366.

Storage, open seven days a week. Call 776-1111 for discount rate, or come by, 5004 Murray Road.

22 Resume/Typing Services

ABOUT ANYTHING typed, editing and transcription

AVOID DISASTERI Hire a professionall Resumes designed for your profession. Typeset and laser-printed. Graphics Plus, corner of Bluermont and N. Manhattan, Aggieville. 539-6027.

COMPLETE DATA processing services, term papers, theses and dissertations, resumes. Laser jet print-ing. Call 537-4146.

COMPLETE TYPING/ word processing: letter quality printer with Spell Check. 75e/ page. Call 537-8701.

COMPOSING RESUMES and letters is our specialty We have been in business nine years and offer permanent computer storage. Contact the professional staff regarding our full line of services. Resume Service, 343 Colorado Street. 537-7294. PROCRASTINATORS AND those on the ball, for expert typing give us a call. 537-3166, message.

TYPING: RESUMES, cover letters, papers, any other typing. Call Debbie, 539-2411.

722 N. Manhattan • Aggieville • 539-6027

23 Roommate Wanted

Graphics Plus

FEMALE, OWN room, nice large house, $130/month plus part utilities. Call Arry 776-1790. FEMALE ROOMMATE to share house, close to campus, furnished, washer/ dryer, many more extras. $162.50/ month plus deposit. Call Renee, ment. Close to campus. Half rent and half utilities Starting Jan. 1st. Call 537-7269. FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted to share nice three

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartbedroom house near campus, $150/month, one-third utilities, Call 776-5294. MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartment near campus. Washer/ dryer furnished. $125. 776-5855.

MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bed/bath apartment furnished with dishwasher, microwave, low utilities. no deposit. Close to campus. $170 negotiable. 537-1289.

NON-SMOKER ROOMMATE to share apartment one block from campus. Call Miguel at 532-7210 or

MALE ROOMMATE needed. Lease up in May. $154 and one-half utilities. One-half block from campus.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share nice three-bedroom. Close to campus, Aggieville. $160/month plus utilities. 537-2507.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share furnished twobedroom. Cats allowed. Call Paula or Brenda, 776-5669. NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate, spacious two-bedroom. Walk to campus and Aggie-ville.$172.50/month. Available January 1. 537-2364 or 539-6585. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share two-bedroom furnished apartment. $152.99 plus one-half utilities.

ROOMMATE WANTED: Second semester for two-bedroom, one and one-half bath apartment. Com-plex three blocks from campus. $187 plus half utilities. 539-2618.

24 Situation Wanted

FAMILY WANTS college girl to live in for next semester, summer and fall. Board and room in exchange for duties. Write Box 1, c/o Collegian, Kedzie Hall, KSU, Manhattan, KS 66506.

26 Sublease

FEMALE TWO blocks from carrous, clean, spacious efficiency, furnished or not. $140 all utilities paid. Available Dec. 15 or later. 539-6499.

SLEEP LATE! No parking hassles! One-bed ment right across from campus with all utilities paid. Leave message, 537-8548. SUBLEASE: LARGE one-bedroom, next to campus. Water and trash pald. Furnished or unfurnished. Call 539-2484.

SUBLEASE: NICE one-bedroom apartment, one-half block to campus. Available Dec. 19th. New furni-ture. Call 539-7275.

28 Adoption

ADOPT: A Baby is our dream! We are blessed with a wonderful, happy marriage and financial success. Let us give your baby love, security and the best of everything. Legal. Expenses paid. Call Lynn and Martin collect: (212)362-6834.

By Eugene Sheffer

Crossword

ACROSS 36 Bridge DOWN 1 Seance position 37 Biblical 1 Sinbad's

bird

2 Philippine

3 Church

bench

6 That

7 Gave

Magic'

volcano

outcast helping 38 Boiled 8 Tree bread stump dish 12 Export 41 Drunkard 42 Winglike sounds acronym

5 Corn

14 Large

villain

25 English

26 Like the

31 Large books

32 Future

33 Kind of stingray 35 Fictional child-

composer

"Oz" lion

of Cadmus

13 Ending for 43 Pasture ration pealers? 48 Songwriter's 15 Ranch topic? employees 17 "Othello" Malay

8 Brawl isthmus memento? 18 Ram's dam 51 One type 19 Commercial wood of pearl 52 Sink in 10 Press the middle 11 Ill-mannered 37 Tennis 53 Waiter's person Solution time: 27 mins.

ERICA Hariagock kas Hobret Bros Hobret Bros AMO NETT I MBUE 44 "...man — mouse ANKLE PAL ODA 45 Irish sea god

Yesterday's puzzle 11-29

wonder 20 Macaws 21 Secular 22 River in Italy 23 Be sure of 24 Celestial traveler? 5 Chaplin's

27 Small

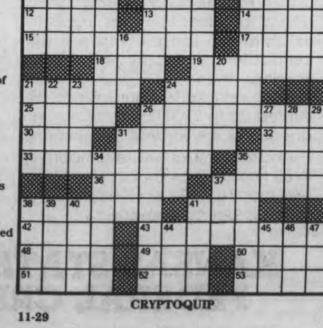

16 Solemn

28 Learning 29 Calendar's duration 9 Valuable 31 Kermit's cousin? 34 Approached amount

38 Chums 39 Lotion 40 Church

Thompson

C V.I S A MSBL ACZYUIWAP, TWGCT GWAYVZSTM PCL

HSJZYM IJS SCAU Yesterday's Cryptoquip: OBSTINATE MARINERS CONFORM BECAUSE OF PIER PRESSURE

Today's Cryptoquip clue: V equals F

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1A their boss and some don't. It depends on how bad it affects them," she said.

People with the disease don't have problems working with others, Zanella said. They usually have type "A" personalities. They strive to accomplish goals and take satisfaction in a job well done.

People don't want to jeopardize their job by telling their employers, but they will tell if necessary, she

Symptoms of the syndrome are numerous and vary from one person to another. Some of the most common ones are fatigue, depression, vision problems, stomach problems and sleep disturbances, as well as aches and pains in joints and worst of the summer drought apparently missed Missouri and Kansas,

By The Associated Press

but food prices and some farm incomes in the two states are rising anyway, according to a report by the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas

The report by economists Alan

Barkema and Julie Stanley said the worst of the drought touched only the City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - The

A criteria outline has been established for doctors to use when identifying a person who has the syndrome. The individual has to tire easily, with all other possible diagnoses ruled out through testing. The person must also have a majority of these symptoms: mild fever, sore throat, painful or tender lymph nodes, unexplained general muscle weakness, muscle pain and discomfort, headaches, pain in joints, neuropsychologic complaints and sleep disturbance.

According to the article, no standard testing procedure exists for the syndrome because it isn't a single disease, but rather a complex of related symptoms that tend to occur together, but which possibly have several causes.

Extensive diagnostic and neurop-northern part of Missouri and a sliver of northeast Kansas. Most other farmers harvested nearly normal crops or had large supplies of unsold grain

Many of those farmers will sell their crops for higher prices than were forecast before the drought, the parts of the country already are starting to push retail food prices slightly higher and should add about 3 cents

But drought-related losses in other from previous harvests.

report said.

sychological testing needs to be done to rule out chances that the illness could be something else, Zanella

"Most doctors haven't seen the virus and don't read their literature on it," she said.

The doctors who are treating people with the disease recommend that someone with symptoms keep a diary for a period of time, Zanella said. The doctors hope to use the information in treating those

A nutritional, low-fat diet with less red meat and salt will help the person with the virus feel better, she

Infected people should try to do light exercise. Water exercises and walking are good examples, but those should be discontinued if pain

That increase, added to what already was expected, could produce a 6 percent to 8 percent jump, the report said.

It also said drought losses were severe in a broad arc from California, across the Northern Plains of the Dakotas and Minnesota and down through the eastern Com Belt to Georgia and the Carolinas.

State food prices to each $1 that consumers will spend for food in 1989.

Closed Classes

00000	05660	09560	11990	15340	20380	24390	25810	26990	32040	33720	37520
00250	05670	09580	12190	15350	20410	24490	25820	27090	32370	33770	37600
02950	25700	09640	12210	15370	20420	24500	25430	27400	32440	33780	37720
01000	05740	09660	12440	15380	20430	24680	25840	27460	32680	33800	37840
01090	05760	09690	12450	15410	20450	24740	25850	27470	32690	33830	37940
01150	05800	09800	12590	15420	20560	24750	25870	29430	32710	33850	38050
01170	05010	09830	126 00	15440	206 20	24760	25880	29440	32740	33930	38070
01410	35820	10290	12620	15450	20740	24770	25 920	29450	32750	33990
01540	05030	11230	12640	15470	20850	24850	25940	29470	32760	34060
01640	05850	11240	13210	15480	20950	24860	25990	29480	32770	34120
01990	25850	11250	13240	15490	21000	24870	26000	29490	32780	34300
	25870	11260	13310	16550	21010	24880	24010	29540	32790	34340
02000		11270	13340	16570	21020	24900	26070	29540	32810	34350
02010	05880	11260	13370	16620	21230	25030	26080	29670	32820	34420
02080	35910	11320	13410	17040	211 30	25050	26090	29700	32830	34530
02140		11350	13490	17110	21250	25060	26100	29710	32840	34540
02390	05920		13740	17120	21260	25070	26110	29720	32850	34570
02460	05930	11360	13760	17210	21270	25080	26160	29730	32860	34630
02670	05940	11370	13770	17270	21280	25120	26220	29750	32870	34440
02510	05980		13780	17300	21310	25130	26270	29760	32970	34890
02590	36080	11440	13890	17340	21360	25140	26271	29770	32990	34940
02660	06130	11450	13970	17380	21380	25150	26400	29780	33010	35210
02680	06390	11460			21400	25160	26410	29790	33040	35211
03150	06530	11461	13980	17740	21430	25170	26430	29820	33050	35300
03170	36610	11470	13990	17820	21450	25180	26440	29840	33060	35310
03630	06670	11480	14000	17840	21460	25190	26450	29860	33080	35370
03870	06930	11490	14050		21470	25220	26470	29890	33090	35380
03880	06940	11500	14060	17850	21490	25230	26480	29990	33100	35410
03930	36953	11510	14080	17870	21500	25240	26490	31120	33110	35440
03930	06960	11550	14220	17880	21510	25260	26600	31130	33120	35470
03950	06970	11601	14270	17900	21830	25270	26610	31140	33130	35730
03980	07080	11620	14360		22300	25020	26620	31190	33140	35770
04020	07090	11630	14570	17930	22550	25630	26630	31220	33150	35930	1.5
04030	27170	11640	14420	19510	22630	25640	26650	31230	33160	36300
04050	07250	11650	14530	19520	22640	25650	26670	31330	33170	34310
04040	07390	11660	14560		22660	25660	26680	31370	33180	36320
04070	37583	11670	146 80	19610	22670	25670	26710	31750	33190	36330
04080	27600	11680	14940			25680	26720	31770	33200	36350
04090	07610	11690	14970	19690	22680	25690	26730	31810	33210	36360
04100	08410	11710	14980	19720		25700	26760	31820	33220	36370
04240	38500	11720	14990	19730	22700	25710	26770	31840	33290	36400
04450	08510	11730	15000	19860	22720	25720	26840	31870	33320	34420
04490	04110	11750	15040	19870	23080		26860	31880	33330	37050
04520	08 18 C	11000	150 50	19880	23120	25730	24890	31890	33340	37060
04580	3 67 90	11810	15070	19950	24010	25750	26900	31900	33430	37070
04800	08910	11850	15080	19960	24150	25760	26920	31910	33570	37080
05510	09110	11860	15100	19970	24220		26930	31970	33580	37090
05580	39140	11870	15180	20090	24230	25770	26940	32000	33590	37100
05610	3 92 50	11860	15220	20100	24240	25780	26950	32010	33600	37140
05620	09400	11940	152 50	20360	24260	25800	26980	32030	33680	37330
05430	09490	11980	15330	20370	24300	£ 2800	20700	32030	23000	31330

What is the Credit Union up to?

We're up to

25%

The KSU Federal Credit Union board of directors has recently established longer term share certificates of deposit with higher earnings than you'll find at most savings institutions. Your savings are insured up to $100,000 by NCUA, an agency of the federal government.

And remember, we're temporarily in 6B Leasure Hall for approximately two months while our Anderson Hall office is being renovated.

Regular accounts earned: 6% APR for quarter ending Sept. 30th.

Share Certificates of Deposit 7.43% yield on

3-month certificates 7.79% yield on

6-month certificates 8.25% yield on

1-year certificates

KANSAS STATE UNIVERS FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

A service for faculty, staff and qualified graduate assistants

Leasure Hall, Room 6B Open 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday (except on University holidays) Telephone 532-6274

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 7A the Giants have all three games at home - Phoenix and Kansas City with the Jets, techinically an "away" game, as the closer. If they get Simms back from a bruised shoulder, three wins would get them a wildcard or the division title if the Eagles stumble in one of their final three against Washington at home; at Phoenix or at 2-10 Dallas.

Phoenix, at 7-6, is marginally alive but needs wins over the Giants, Eagles and Green Bay.

The Bears are probably most at risk next Monday night at the Rams, who have now lost four straight but remain dangerous. Jim Harbaugh will be at quarterback for the Bears with Jim McMahon activated as a

But it may be harder to replace Dent, the 1986 Super Bowl MVP, who was having his finest year at defensive right end.

N. 3rd

Are you sick and tired of being sick and tired?

Call 537-8305 Dr. Mark Hatesohl 3252 Kimball Ave.

New Nonfat

Frozen Yogurt

Same great taste with no fat or cholesterol

Can't Believe It's

The Saints are in the same position in the West.

At 9-4, they lead 8-5 San Francisco by a game, but the two meet at Candlestick Park Dec. 11. Since San Francisco won the first game, if the margin stays at one game or less, the 49ers will win the division title by beating New Orleans because they won the season opener in New Orleans, 34-33.

Coach

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1A

A membership to the Manhattan Country Club will be provided for the new coach and will be paid for from the football program budget. Miller said Parrish was also provided a country club membership.

Retirement benefits for the new coach will be the same as those offered to all instructors through the TIAA/CREF system.

Disease

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3A that the state regulates intrastate transportation of hogs.

Pseudorabies has been around at least 100 years, but was not viewed as a significant problem until 1975, according to an article in the Oct. 1988 issue of Hog Farm magazine. Incidence of the disease has multiplied since then. Estimates by a pharmaceutical company indicate six million of the nation's 80 million hogs are now infected with the disease.

The increase is partially attributed to a change in swine management practices, the article said. Some authorities associate the disease with intensive production methods. Large herds in confined areas and constant integration of new animals into herds causes hogs to be more susceptible to the disease.

FUNDRINKERY

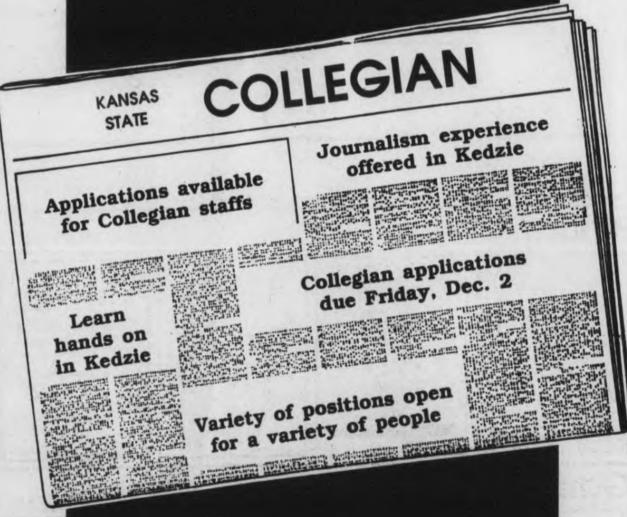

Comedy Invasion Mon. & Tues. at 9 p.m. Appearing This Week

Michael Floorwax

along with Joey Marlotti The Big Wax Machine has appeared on The Late Show, Showtime Comedy Network and is a Bushwacker's favorite. (reservations recommended but not necessary)

Grill Special—Steak & Shrimp $3.95 539-9727 539-4321 531 N. Manhattan

Now Taking Applications for Spring Collegian:

News Staff-Campus Editor (2) Managing Editor News Editor Arts and Entertainment Editor Editorial Page Editor Feature Editor Government Editor Photo Editor Sports Editor Science/Health Editor City Editor Staff Assistant Copy Editor (4) Graphic Artist Staff Writer (7) Sports Writer (4) Sports Columnist (4) Business Writer Reviewer (3)

Columnist (5)

Cartoonist

Advertising Staff— Assistant Advertising Manager Campus/Tearsheet Representative Sales Representative (6) Graphic Artist (2)

Pick Up Your Application in Kedzie 103 NOW!

Applications due by 4 p.m. Friday, Dec. 2 in Kedzie 103.

The Kansas Board of Regents chose the six peer institutions in 1983 for Legislative comparisions. However, all of them don't consider each other to be a peer. See Page 2B.

Increasing minority enrollment has become a focus for Colorado State University officials. See Page

After peaking in 1985, lowa State University's enrollment has been falling. See Page 4B.

Research is helping North Carolina State University thrive. See Page 5B.

Oklahoma State University's campus is undergoing a state of growth and celebration. See Page

Oregon

At Oregon State University, the three branches of organized housing provide support for each other. See Page 7B.

All six of the peer institutions are land grant universities, but each has a set of problems all of their own. How they stack up and compare to each other isn't always clear. See Page 8B.

Tuesday, November 29, 1988

Kansas State Collegian

Section B

Fading comparisons...

... It's a phenomenon that was once restricted to the suburbs when the Smiths tried to keep pace with the Joneses. But the phenomenon has expanded. University administrators now compare programs, facilities and staff to those at universities they aspire to duplicate - their peers. to fade ...

In 1983, the Kansas Board of Regents selected five land-grant universities to be K-State's peers. All six of the state universities have a few similarities, but each has to battle very different problems. In comparison, all of their similarities seem

Staff, students provide strengths

Campus' future lies in change

> By Lisa Pfannenstiel Collegian Reporter

know a spot that I love full well, tis not in forest or yet in dell. Ever it holds me a magic spell, I think of thee, Alma Mater. KSU ..." was founded 125 years ago with its foundation of native limestone structures and architectural design.

As a land-grant university, its cornerstone lies in the strength of the people: the students, faculty, administration and community that have created the purple pride K-State upholds, said University President Jon Wefald.

The 668 acres of campus are in the wooded Flint Hills. Of the many buildings on campus, Holton Hall and Nichols Hall would not have been renovated without students' support. The Holton Hall renovation is ongoing, and the frame of Nichols, which was gutted by a fire, was rebuilt with $6.18 million in interior construction four years

The completion of the $10.6 million Chemistry/Biochemisty Building will enhance the departments' research and programs, Wefald said.

The Department of Chemistry has an international reputation for work in spectroscopy, the experimental observation of optical spectra. The department has received $1 million from the Environmental Protection Agency to find a way to detect hazardous emissions given off by landfills.

Modern equipment purchased as part of the renovations reflect innovation and progress, said Lawrence Garvin, director of facilities planning. Such is the case with Weber Hall's $7.7 million renovation and addition.

Because of the state-of-the-art facilities and research capabilities provided in Weber, the Department of Animal Science and Industy is able to challenge the future of the beef industry, said Walter R. Woods, dean of the College of Agriculture.

Although the University has expanded in specific departments, the physical structures and services are not growing in proportion to the technology and student needs, said Mark Lapping, dean of the College of Architecture and Design.

For example, architecture and design students have been shuffled in temporary studios, Lapping said.

Overcrowding due to lack of space is not unique to Seaton Hall. Prioritizing the need for space is difficult, Garvin said. The renovation of Seaton and Calvin has been moved back to 1991, due to plans for other expansion projects.

pace is also a problem in Farrell Library and the Computer Department.

Farrell Library is approaching its capacity in shelf space, said Brice Hobrock, dean of libraries. There are 30,000 shelves in the library that house 1,099,797 volumes.

Each shelf is nearing its maximum holding capacity. One book per shelf is added each year. There is space for three additional books per shelf. In three years, this building will be full and something will need to be done, Hobrock said.

The sun bounces off Anderson Hall, a 109-year-old structure, named after John A. Anderson, a former K-State president. Anderson is a symbol of K-State.

In addition to lack of space, Farrell Library has struggled for financial support. The library's budget is about $5 million. which fails to support the rate of inflation of monographs costs and foreign periodical subscriptions, he said.

"In the last two years, the net loss of our budget allocations vs. the inflation rate of periodicals is $273,000, which converts into a 25 percent cut in periodical purchases," Hobrock said.

Students, administration and faculty have joined together in an effort to upgrade the library. Students have formed an awareness organization, Students Help Enhance Library Funding, to lobby for increased financial support. Friends of the Library has contributed $10,000 to the library's budget, and support from the Margin of Excellence will increase the 1989 budget, Hobrock

The Margin of Excellence is a funding plan proposed by the Board of Regents for improvements of the general infrastructure and faculty salaries. The funds are allocated from the Kansas Legislature to the regents'

Hobrock said the library has some strengths in comparison to other universities' services.

"The library excels in information technology, delivering data to undergraduates through CD-ROM at a level not seen in our peer institutions," he said.

An additional dilemma shared by the library and the computing department is inadequate processing power and space for additional equipment, which includes the new library computing system, NOTIS.

*Computing services suffer from a severe lack of space. Data entry devices have been stored in the halls for 18 years. We have no storage rooms, no teaching labs and no conference areas," said Tom Gallagher, director of University Computing Activities.

Boxes of computer paper are stored in the hallway of the ground floor in Cardwell Hall, and computer terminals are located in the hall space as a makeshift computer lab. Despite the lack of space, about 400 microcomputers are available to students in department and public labs. Fairchild and Justin offer microcomputer labs; Seaton and Cardwell have terminal labs.

"(K-State's) lack of emphasis on infrastructure doesn't restrain our ability to compete scholastically in computer technology; however, it is tougher to develop a competitive edge," Gallagher said.

ompetition for an increase of the infrastructure budget has been a concern of the University's strategic planning, said Edward Rice, director of University Facilities.

"Many people don't see the maintenance needs; many of the problems remain unseen," Rice said.

The budget of about $5 million fails to cover the University's maintenance needs, he said. For example, many of the buildings' roofs need attention, but the cost of $100,000 each year to complete a job is impossible to finance.

The 1988 budget for daily maintenance, such as paint and light fixtures, completed by University Facilities employees, is $230,000. This falls about $1 million short of meeting the requirements, Rice said. "In the category of special maintenance projects - costing $25,000 or above - the backlog totals $12 million," he said. "The administration has acknowledged the problem and is supportive of the budget

Rice said administrators understand the campus could deteriorate in 10 years to 20 years, and the cost could be much greater to

As newer buildings are constructed with high-technology equipment, more maintenance personnel are required to attend expensive training sessions that add additional expenses, he said.

In constrast, the older buildings require more than general maintenance, often construction work which must be subcontracted, Rice said.

Van Zile Hall, which closed in 1984 and is K-State's oldest residence hall, is one example of a maintenance project requiring construction work. The influx of 1,252 new students this fall has prompted a renovation plan for the building to accommodate the growing student population. Enrollment for fall 1989 is predicted to be equal to or greater than fall 1988's total head count of 19,301, said Don Hoyt, director of planning and evaluating services. The renovation of Van Zile and changes in Putman and Boyd halls are expected to cost $6.9

A group of students take a brisk, morning walk to class near Farrell Library.

Additional campus construction will include the $13.4 million Phase II development of Throckmorton Hall for the advancement of plant science. The addition will include a chiller for the campus power plant, and the construction of the Education Communications Center. The center is a more than $5 million federally-funded telecommunications system which will emphasize distance education.

nother financial issue challenging University administrators is the dilemma of faculty salaries and benefits, Hoyt said.

"Faculty retention is difficult when you compare the salaries and benefits of K-State with those offered by other universities. We've been lucky to retain some of the best faculty despite low salaries," Lapping said.

K-State is 14.4 percent behind the national average of faculty salaries. In 1987, the average faculty member's salary was about $32,994, compared to the average salary of the peer institutions — $36,015. The deficit in benefits was even greater to the peers. The fringe benefit deficit was 21.8 percent.

To improve the fringe benefits, the faculty salaries committee is drafting a cafeteria plan of benefits to propose to the regents. Faculty members would have the option of investing in their desired benefits.

Supplemental support from the Margin of Excellence and efforts of the Essential Edge Campaign compensate University faculty salaries to retain and attract the best educators.

Four categories decide peers

Comparisons used in guiding MOE effort

By Janet Swanson News Editor

n 1983, the Kansas Board of Regents decided K-State needed some Consequently, five peer institutions for across-the-board comparisons were chosen based four main similarities.

State sizes

"Comparison institutions should be drawn from states whose ability to support public education, whose higher education pattern, and whose populations were relatively similar," according to "Research in Higher Education," a report co-authored by Donald Hoyt, assistant provost.

Programs

"Since a major purpose of the projectedcost study was to estimate the financial implication of a given program mix, it was essential that comparison institutions conduct the specific programs for which cost estimates were needed," according to the Enrollment sizes Mission statements

"Peer institutions should resemble each other, for example, in the relative emphasis given to instruction, research and public service," according to the report.

Comparisons and similarities can be easily made in theory, but are more difficult to construct in practice, Hoyt said.

"It can be a problem to make the universities look like we do. We compare on every level," he said. "We get back to every nickle spent."

The comparisons, Hoyt said, are usually made to the peer average.

"There's nothing magical about where the peers average," Hoyt said.

Hoyt said he would estimate that K-State is at about an 85 percent level of comparability to the peers.

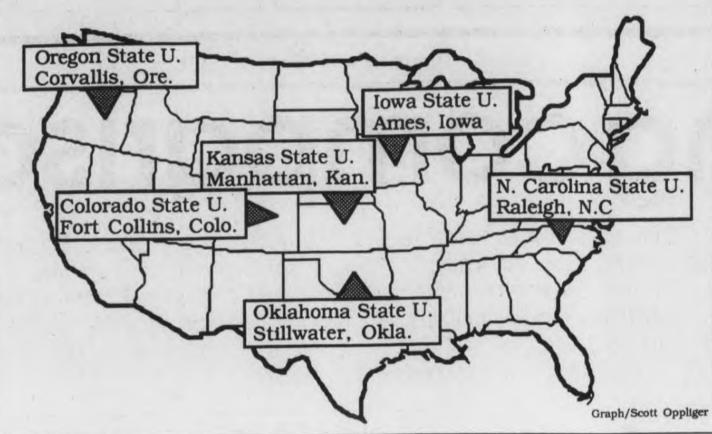

"The numbers are correct, but those with planning responsibilities have to answer the question of 'So what?" he said.

The Margin of Excellence plan was designed to bring K-State to 95 percent of the peer institutions, but Hoyt said he doubts the University will achieve that level by the end of the plan.

"It's going to take double what they have planned," he said.

"Even 95 percent of the peers is not a very ambitious target. Even 100 percent would not be a very ambitious target. ... At least we've got something to aim at anyway. But to relax and think we're doing OK comparing to them would be wrong."

Ray Hauke, director of planning and budget for the regents, said he does not expect the regents to do a re-evaluation study of the peers before 1991, the end of Peer Institutions

"I don't really expect you (K-State) to achieve that level unless the peers slow

he only comparisons not made with the five peers are on athletic budgets, extension services, utility expenditures and museums and galleries. Most universities, Hoyt said, select peers.

"They select them differently in a more objective way. Our peers are very realistic. They select their peers as a group they aspire to be like," he said.

"No one wants to compare to us, because we're so poorly funded."

The regents decided to select peers for the university in 1983, Hoyt said, so a reasonably objective comparision can be made between universities for Legislative

"It's true that it's an indistinguishable group," Hoyt said. "It gives a true peer comparision. The set is about as adequate as we

"They don't give faculty much of a target to shoot at.

Hauke said the peers were selected as a "measuring stick for the University."

"In practice, there are going to be problems (comparing). No matter what level ... but the purpose is to provide a benchmark so that the universities aren't run in a vacuum," he said. "Universities are in competition.

There is no doubt about that."

Hoyt said selecting a second set of universities could be a consideration.

"Some say that we may need a second set (of peers) with ideals or characteristics, and that might prove useful," he said. "I haven't heard anyone raise questions about whether they're accurate, but (I) have heard questions about whether or not they're relevant."

In addition to the peer institutions, the University can be compared with Big Eight and Kansas Board of Regents universities.

"We are in the same athletic conference and geographic region, but that's about the extent of it. We have a lot of programatic dissimilarities," Hoyt said. "We have less in common so we use this (group) less for comparisons.

"It's our hope that a peer looks like us, so we use them more," he said.

Kansas regents institutions are selected to be dissimilar, Hoyt said. "The regents want them to be as dissimilar as possible," he said. "So, we don't really use them for a comparison either.

Warren Madden, vice president for business and finance at Iowa State University, said Iowa State has used a list, Landgrant 11, for university-wide comparisons since Their list includes one of K-State's peers - North Carolina State. It does not, however, include K-State.

'We looked for comparative universities that are land grant, and have enrollment and program mixes comparable to ours," Madden said. "Mainly, it's those universities we compete with when it comes to hiring and losing faculty.

"The institutions are ones that we feel are major players with Iowa State. K-State did not emerge as one of those players."

Il of Iowa State's peers have a veterinary medicine program and the University of Iowa's peers are in the same state.

Comparisons, Madden said, are made on teaching loads, class sizes, physical size and utility plant size.

'We're not at the top in any case, that's why we use them to compare," he said. Iowa State uses the Big Eight universities for comparisons in athletic departments, regional enrollment and tuition data.

With a focus on research and forestry, Colorado State University uses a list of 13 Carnegie Research I Institutions as peer universities.

All of Colorado State's peers have experiment stations, cooperative extension services, veterinary medical centers and a department that acts as an outside agency, such as the Colorado State Forestry Service. Again, Colorado State doesn't consider

Top 15 peers based on 1984 evaluation

1. Iowa State University 2. Washington State University

3. Colorado State University

4. Oklahoma State University

5. Auburn 6. Oregon State University

7. Virgina Polytechnical Institute

8. Purdue

9. Texas A. & M. University

10. University of Missouri

11. University of Nebraska 12. University of Georgia

13. University of Tennesse

14. North Carolina State University

15. University of Arkansas

K-State an active peer.

"I think you will find a lot of universities whose peers don't consider them peers. We say they are ours, but they won't say they are ours," said a systems analyst for Colorado State's office of institutional advancement.

Oregon State University's faculty salaries also look low when compared to the university's peers, said Allan Mathany, director of budgets and planning.

"We use a group of West Coast institutions for salary averages. But we don't do studies like you do. There are times that we use Pacific-10 Conference schools," he

Mathany said Oregon uses information compiled in K-State's peer group

We consider K-State to be equal. But we don't really use it that much (for comparison)," Mathany said.

Differences and similarities in Oregon's and K-State's programs make it difficult for the two to be compared, he said. Oregon State has a forestry and an oceangraphy program. But they both have internationally known agricultural programs and veterinary medical complexes.

Administrators at North Carolina State University and Oklahoma State University were unavailable for comment.

Students, fees basis for K-State

By Lisa Pfannenstiel Collegian Reporter

hroughout K-State's history, students have had an active voice in the university's development and success, said Don Foster, university registrar.

"Look around this campus — the Union, rec complex, coliseum and Nichols Hall would not be here if the students didn't have an active voice in the long-range planning of K-State," Foster said. As an example, the basketball teams will play their first season in Bramlage Coliseum partly due to support from student fees. The 6,000 student basketball tickets, costing $38.50 each, were in high demand as demonstrated by the traditional camp-out for season tickets.

The sections designated for students are sold out, said Carol Adolph, administrative assistant of the Intercollegiate Athletics Inc. Faculty members still have unlimited seating available.

Student fee revenue bonds, $30.50

Student Health

Activities Fees

Union.

KSDB-FM

Student Services

of the $681,40 semester fees, support the construction of the coliseum and campus buildings. The funds are divided into three areas: K-State Union receives $10.50; the coliseum receives $8.25 and the Chester E. Peters Recreational Complex receives $12.

"Actions of the student government made 30 years ago affect today's students. Student government knows its decisions are binding on the next generation of K-Staters,' he said.

tudent Senate's legislative duties include allocating about $780,000. The money comes from an $8 activity fee included in tuition and is given to such recipients as the college councils and the Associated Students of Kansas, a student lobbying group representing the University's concerns to the Legislature.

"In general, I feel Senate does a good job of representing the students' needs and wishes. We are respected by the Legislature and regents for submitting strong proposals, and we have an active voice in

$60.00

30.00

30.50

3.00

8.00

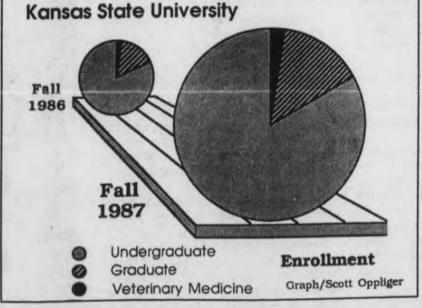

17.00

3.00

.85

$131.40

1.25

allocating student fee monies," said Sen. Andrea Krug, senior in agricultural economics.

During the November 1988 Student Senate elections, the number of students voting compared to 1987 declined. Despite the enrollment increase, 2,543 students - 13 percent - voted during the student body presidential run-off.

Issues debated during the elections included proposed athletic and engineering fees, Farrell Library's and Lafene Student Health Center's financial needs and parking.

Lafene faces inadequate funding. The student health fee of $60 fails to cover the center's expenses, said Dr. Robert Tout, Lafene's director. The center's $2.5 million budget will leave about $430,000 in debts outstanding for 1988.

This debt will result in higher patient costs, and eventually, if the situation is not addressed, cutbacks in staff and services, Tout said.

He said Lafene's proposal to Senate requires a $25 increase in health fees during the next three

Another student concern is the access of campus parking. An effort to increase parking availability was made this year with the addition of 1,000 spaces, for a total of 9,214 oncampus spaces.

University Police Captain Charles Beckom said parking tickets are plentiful on campus, despite space availability. About $25,000 is collected annually in parking fines. Since July, 11,652 tickets have been issued for improper parking.

"Despite student complaints of inadequate parking, even on the worst day, I can count between 25 and 200 open parking places," Beck-

Nevertheless, the parking areas near the Union and the eastern portion of campus, including Anderson, Bluemont, Justin halls, and the library are congested, Beckom said.

"Solutions will not be immediate. Creating one parking space costs $1,000," he said. "Funds are not available to make sudden changes. It will take time and compromises by the faculty, staff and students."

Ithough the University's administrators and student government face many concerns, K-State offers a dent Jon Wefald said.

Mark Lapping, dean of the College of Architecture and Design said he agrees with Wefald. "The strength of the University is not in its physical structure, but the strength is recognized in the hardworking, dedicated faculty and administration, and the Midwestern work-ethic of the students," he said.

For the past 13 years, K-State has been in the top 1 percent of American universities in Rhodes Scholarships awarded to its students. The cumulative record of K-Staters earning Truman Scholarships is greater than that of any other pubic university in the nation.

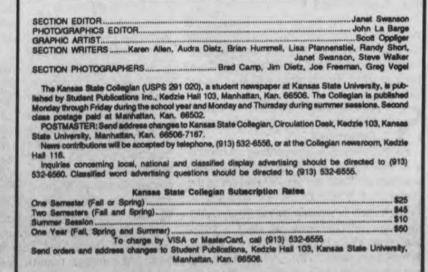

K-Staters have high acceptance rates to professional programs: 100 percent to nursing; 95 percent to law school; 95 percent to veterinary school and 75 percent to medical Graduate enrollment increased by great opportunity in education, Presi- 171 students this fall. In addition, the graduate programs received about $29 million in research funds from outside sources in 1988, an increase of $14 million since 1984.

Faculty and graduate students' research is an important function of the University, Wefald said. Centers of Excellence for Wheat Genetics Research and for Computer Controlled Automation, a Center for Basic Cancer Research, a Center for Molecular and Solid State Energentics, a laser laboratory, an nuclear accelerator and the BioServe NASA project are all on campus.

'K-State has quality faculty and students," said Pat Weisenberger, assistant professor of libraries. "K-State is a caring community of people. ... It is difficult to explain what causes it or why it exists, but somehow there is a realism about this University that permits students to grow and not lose their traditional values."

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

This section is special to the Collegian and is copyrighted with all rights reserved. A portion of the funds for this project was provided through a Readers Digest grant.

full time 12 + hours

Union Repair & Replacement

Student Fee Rev. Bonds

Rec Building Program

Recreational Service

Student Publications

Refunding Bond

Colistum Bonds

Kansas State University

Fee Breakdown

for Fall 1988

Graph/Scott Oppliger

CSU emphasizes minority recruitment

Tuition steadily increasing

> By Steve Walker Staff Writer

ORT COLLINS, COLO. -A city of about 82,000 people, Fort Collins, Colo., is bounded by the Rocky Mountains and the Great Plains, but in its center is Colorado State University.

The campus, 60 miles north of Denver, has many ski areas nearby. Cross-country skiing is as close as the foothills - just a 15-minute drive. Fort Collins has about 300 days of sunshine each year, with a yearly average snowfall of 60 inches.

The university has an enrollment of 19,885 students from all 63 counties in Colorado, the 50 States, the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico and 96 foreign countries. The enrollment has been steadily rising since 1985 from 18,084 to its present figure.

Colorado State's fall 1988 enrollment is about 52 percent male and 48 percent female. In-state residents make up 78 percent of the enrollment.

With a 7 percent minority enrollment, the university is looking for ways to increase it, said Keith Miser, vice president of student affairs.

"We are aiding and supporting the recruiting of minorities," Miser said. "We have formed teams of advocate offices for blacks, Asians, Hispanics, Native Americans and disabled people in student services."

In-state tuition is $849.53 and outof-state is $2,316. For the 1988-89 academic year, an in-state student's expenses are projected to be $6,819. An out-of-state student is expected to spend about $10,675. Tuition has been steadily rising from $632.42 in 1984, due to the rising cost of living and trying to keep up with a lack of funding from the State Legislature, said Mary Otiveros, director of admissions.

"We are trying to keep up with a lack of money from the State Legislature," Otiveros said. "The commitment to education isn't firm, and it's always a struggle."

In 1987-88, about 60 percent of the students received more than $27 million in financial assistance.

The university's admission policy requires incoming students to have a 3.0 grade point average and a 25 on the American Collegiate Testing exam. Despite the policy, exceptions are made, Otiveros said.

"Right now, 70 percent of the students meet the requirement," she said. "By 1992, 80 percent of the campus will be meeting this requirement."

Freshmen must live two consecutive semesters in one of the eight residence halls or three suite halls, said Norma Freestone, assignment coordinator of resident life. Suite halls have two rooms with two residents in each room. They share one bathroom. Students pay $1,588 a semester in one of the standard halls and $1,720 per semester in one of the suite halls. About 30 percent of the students

A Colorado State University student fishes for his flying disk in a pond on CSU's campus. Ducks and geese are common residents of the campus pond.

live off campus, 10 percent in greek housing and the remaining 60 percent live in a residence hall or one of the 724 university-owned apartments. arking on campus can be a problem because the university sells three times the number of parking permits as the number of parking spaces available, said Katie Bumpus, a student staff member of the Parking Management

"It costs $40 a semester for faculty and staff and $35 for students," Bumpus said. "We are putting in a small lot now, and there is some talk of a parking garage, but nothing is in the plans.'

There are eight colleges and 59 departments, offering a total of 80 majors. The colleges are agricultural sciences; applied human sciences; arts, humanities and social sciences; business; engineering; forestry and natural resources; natural sciences; and veterinary medicine and biomedical sciences.

The College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences and the College of Applied Human Sciences tie as the largest college with each having an enrollment of 3,653. The smallest is the College of Agricultural Sciences with 1,081.

The university was ranked among the nation's best buys in higher education by the New York Times in terms of giving the students "the biggest return for their money."

"I think Colorado State deserved the compliment," said Shawn Milne, director of finance for student government. "Our college is great all

The veterinary school is one of the top three in the nation and is the country's largest, enrolling more than 500 students. The equine science major is the only program of its kind in the country.

More than 300 clubs and organizations are offered, including 11 sororities and 16 fraternities. The student body is governed by the Associated Students of Colorado State University and any student enrolled in more than six hours is a member. "We reach a lot of students," Milne said. "The ASCSU is here for the students and we are here to do all we can in that regard."

Mark Haney, student body president, said ASCSU wants to publish the results of student evaluations of faculty.

"In the past, the students couldn't see how they felt as a group about faculty, and we should be able to.

"Another issue on the ASCSU agenda is cooperating to upgrade the library. Our library is ranked 106th out of 106 in the state. We are lobbying the State Legislature for more funding to bring our library up to par," he said.

The student government, Haney said, has a bad image at times.

"We are seen as elite and cliquish," he said. "We've got a PR department that is using education and awareness to help change the image. We've got to get out of elitism and recruit volunteers for everything anyone wants to do.

"If someone walks in the office and wants to work, we've got to use them." The administration recognizes the needs of students and wants to help, Miser said.

"We want the students to be academically and personally successful," he said. "We use support ■ See COLORADO, Page 8B

Students take advantage of the courtyard of the Charles A. Lory Student Center to study. Recently the center was named in the top 10

Colorado State University

Fee Breakdown for Fall 1988

Assoc. Students of CSU		$7.40
Assessment of Courses & Teachers		.40
Handicapped Accessibility		.50
Transport		3.60
Board of Student Comm.		1.60
Recreational Sports Dept.		6.42
Student Center		45.45
Operations	38.20	10.10
Facilities Const.	2.25
Renovations	5.00
Health Center	0.00	52.87
Legal Services		3.03
Ombudsman Office		1.00
Counseling & Career Service		25.07
Gym/Stadium & Operations		26.31
The state of the s		73.65

full time 6 + hours

Graph/Scott Oppliger

Lack of alumni support necessitates student athletic fee

By Steve Walker Staff Writer

ORT COLLINS, Colo. - Due to a $26.71 student athletic fee, Colorado State University can afford to have more resources available to its athletic program, which includes eight men's varsity sports and nine women's.

CSU's athletic fee generates about $520,000 a semester in revenue for the department's $5 million budget.

The athletic fee has been in place for 21 years, as long-as Colorado State's Moby Gym, the oldest arena in the Western Athletic Conference, has been standing, said athletic director Oval Jaynes.

"The athletic fee is part of the fee structure," Jaynes said. "It is a way of survival. We've got to generate revenue and somebody has got to pay."

When a full-time student pays tuition,

$26.31 of the money goes to the Athletic Department.

"Alumni support is pitiful here," said Shawn Milne, director of finance for the student government. "I support the fee; we couldn't field a team without it."

The fee not only helps the Athletic Department, but it also guarantees students' support of their school teams. If the students didn't want the athletic fee, the Student Fee the whole issue up to a university vote, said Mark Haney, student body president.

unions in the country.

"The fee is good for the majority of students," Haney said. "Some people don't utilize it, but overall it's a good thing."

Any campus department that wants a student fee petitions the Fee Review Board, which decides if the issue should go to the student senate. If the Senate passes the proposed fee, it goes to an all-campus vote, said

Leon Fuller resigned as head football coach for the Rams Monday morning.

Keith Miser, vice president of student affairs. ecause of the athletic fee, student seating can only be sold to students. If students don't buy tickets, the student section remains empty, Jaynes said. Twenty-five percent of Moby Gym is reserved for the students.

Student season tickets are not sold for basketball, but they are for football. Tickets can be picked up for three games at a time, with four different student pick-up dates for

The fee makes it easier to plan (the budget)," Jaynes said. "You know you've got that money coming in."

John Twining, assistant athletic director for administration, agrees with Jaynes. "There is no question it helps," he said. "We only really fund about three or four men's sports and three women's." Some of the varsity sports such as women's tennis and men's golf are on the funding agenda but don't receive huge amounts of money, Twining said. Tickets for individual football games at CSU cost $12 each while season tickets sell for $26.50. An individual game reserve ticket costs $6, $3 for students. One of the reasons CSU has an athletic fee is because the university's students are very athletically inclined, said Joe Cervi, sports editor for the Rocky Mountain "The students just voted on a $4.1 million new recreation complex," Cervi said. "They wanted it. They voted for it and they voted for a student fee to pay for it."

Colorado State University's athletic fee generates about The 21-year-old fee has been in effect as long as CSU's Moby $520,000 a semester for the department's $5 million budget. Gym, the oldest arena in the Western Conference.

Iowa State tightens enrollment policies

By Audra Dietz Staff Writer

yclones in Ames, Iowa don't destroy nearby corn fields or hog houses. The eye of this storm isn't a low-pressure zone — it's the campus of Iowa State University.

ISU is a land-grant institution established in 1858 by the Iowa General Assembly. ISU undergraduates can choose froms 120 majors and awards more than 4,500 degrees each year from eight colleges which include: agriculture, business administration, design, education, engineering, home economics, sciences and humanities and veterinary medicine. For three consecutive years, enrollment has fallen from its 26,529 peak in 1985 to its current level of 24,344.

State funding cuts, tuition increases and stricter admission policies have caused enrollment to drop. State funds aren't keeping up with enrollment, said David Lendt, director of information.

"The state didn't give us an inflationary increase from 1985 to 1986, and that left us short about $30 million. We had about 3,000 more students than we had the money for," he said. The lack of state money has forced tuition to rise, Lendt said. Tuition for in-state undergraduates has climbed by more than $200 since 1985. Nonresident undergraduate tuition has almost doubled.

The Tuition Freeze Network, a student protest group, was trying to raise student support for a tuition freeze but hasn't had much impact. A recent rally on campus drew a crowd of about 30 students. A Network spokesman told students to "make some noise" and asked them to go back to their hometowns to rally support for a tuition freeze, but the protest wasn't enough.

On Nov. 16, Iowa's Board of Regents approved a 9 percent tuition increase for out-of-state students, and a 7 percent hike for Iowa residents.

State allocations for the university increased this fall by 17 percent, according to the Chronicle of Higher Education.

But instead of boosun ment, administrators used the funds to boost faculty salaries.

"All good things flow out of good salaries. This includes good instructors, good curriculum and a good classroom atmosphere," Lendt said.

Raising salaries has been a top priority for the last year. The university lost 70 instructors in 1987, but lost only 35 in 1988. Lendt credits the improved retention rate to the increased salaries.

Instuctors haven't left for better teaching jobs but have gone to government agencies and the private sector, so the university doesn't feel threatened by the losses, he said.

A smaller faculty means more can be spent on the payroll. Faculty salaries will rise 13 percent in 1989, 12 percent in 1990 and 10 percent in 1991, he said.

he state can't take all the blame for the loss of more than 2,000 students.

This drop in enrollment is partly intentional, because of a change in admission policies," said Assistant Dean of Students Sharon Walker.

Stricter admission standards were intended to reduce enrollment to a number the university could support.

"We want to increase our quality and decrease our numbers," Lendt

Freshmen must be in the top half of their high school graduating class and score at least a 23 on the American College Test to enroll, she said. Students who don't meet these requirements will be required to enroll in six hours of summer school, taking at least two classes that satisfy general graduating requirements and must earn a "C" in both courses to be ny touch-tone phone in the country can be used by punching in the student's access code, identification number and the course numbers. A recording tells the student if a class is closed and asks them to enter an alternate selection.

Admission standards are tough, but once students are in, enrolling is easy. There aren't long lines for computer print-outs or enrollment forms. Students just use a touch-tone phone to make out the next semester's schedule.

Touch-tone enrollment was installed two years ago, and Walker said it saves time and money and eliminates the frustation of waiting in Modern enrollment systems and strict admissions policies alone don't make a good university. Active students, however, do give ISU its reputation.

"If you want to go to ISU, you better mean business," Lendt said.

The university's tough academic reputation scares some potential students, but that's not always a disadvantage, he said.

"Competiton is tough on campus for everything. Student involvement tenants and their landlords. We just provide students with the tools they need to solve the problem," Fairchild

The center opened in 1986 and is funded by the student government and the dean of students office. In 1987, the center helped more than 7,800 students, Fairchild said.

The University Student Apartment Complex houses 1,771 single and married students. There are 34 fraternaties and 16 sororities with 2,070 members in the greek system.

All living groups and colleges are represented in the Government for the Student Body. Residence halls and colleges and international students are allocated one senator for every 1,500 students, said Todd Kruse, student body vice president.

College and resident population is determined each fall prior to the April elections and is reapportioned every year.

he university's positive atmosphere in class and in the locker room is the backbone of the athletic program, said Athletic Director Max Eurick.

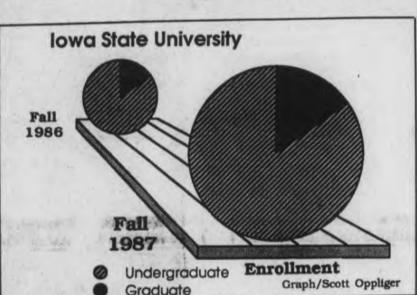

"People get people. If you have a good institution and a good program, you'll get good people," he said. Good faculty salaries are also an incentive, and the university's improved retention rate has helped the athletic program, he said. A $9.50 athletic fee is included in tuition and that's a good bargain, Eurick said.

"This fee has stayed the same for 35 years," Eurick said.

Students don't mind paying for is heavy here," Walker said.

The strong student body is a result of living group unification and this eases segregation among factions, she said.

Whether students live in residence halls, in off-campus housing, university apartments or in greek houses, they are part of an active organization.

As soon as a student arrives here, they are part of a group," Lendt said.

Each floor in the eight residence halls has a name and is known as a house. Every house elects officers and competes in intramurals and other campus activities.

Students choosing apartment life aren't left out in the cold. The Off Campus Center sponsors social functions, intramural teams, purchases block seating at football games and also helps students with housing problems.

"The most important thing we do is offer students one specific area to go for housing information," said Ellen Fairchild, center director.

The center provides students with apartment listings and landlords with lists of potential tenants. The organization also provides tenants with free legal services to settle disputes with landlords and roommates.

"We don't act as a go-between for athletics, because there are more expensive fees, Kruse said.

Engineering majors pay a $100 computer fee each semester. "This is a total waste for a lot of students who don't ever use the computers," Kruse said. Lab fees increase every year, which is worse than the tuition hikes, Tuition you expect to pay, but not all these added fees and lab costs," Kruse said. Students enrolled in any foreign language or computer courses pay an extra $12.50 in lab fees each semester. thletic season tickets are assigned by lottery for students, faculty and the

"The lottery system is fair to all students," Eurick said.

The process also eliminates lines at the ticket counter, he said.

The camping out, first-come firstserve process wouldn't work at ISU, Kruse said.

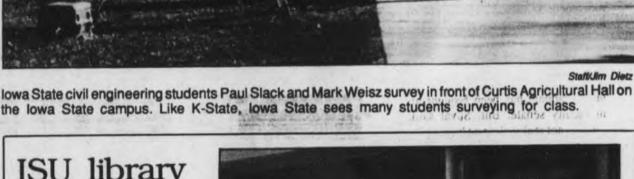

"Camping out does not get a good reaction here - for anything," he

The athetic fee allows students to buy season tickets for athletic events at a reduced rate. Cyclone Stadium

■ See ISU, Page 8B

Students protesting with the Tultion Freeze Network carry a banner in opposition to tultion increases.

.1.

the lowa State campus. Like K-State, lowa State sees many students surveying for class.

ISU library ranks No. 1 with peers

By Audra Dietz Staff Writer

MES, IOWA - Iowa State University's Parks Library is ranked first among the peer institutions in volume inventory, faculty salaries and budget.

The library is a member of the Association of Research Libraries. because of its large number of volumes. Parks has 1,708,592 volumes in stock in fiscal 1988.

A four-story building, the library has plenty of study space and lounging areas. A glass wall on the building's south side lets in natural light.

Parks is a pioneer in the use of computerized catalog systems and now lists half of its books and all of its periodicals on a computer system called SCHOLAR - the online System for Computerized en-Hancement of Learning and Research.

The system makes drawer-file card catalogs and microfilm listings obsolete, said Warren Kuhn, dean of library services. There are 48 SCHOLAR terminals in the library and they are connected to the campus computer network. Other computers in the campus network can tap into the card catalog 24 hours a day and search for titles of books and magazines.

"We ultimately want to have SCHOLAR available to the dorms and to homes in Ames. That way, anyone with a personal computer can search our card catalog," Kuhn

Fred Gulden, library computer specialist, programmed the SCHO-LAR system for the university. The program now has 56 percent of the library's total collection listed. Searching the catalog by computer saves time and frustration for library users, Gulden said.

Books and magazines are found by typing in the author's last name. the subject or the title. All books and periodicals in the collection. that fall under the entered heading appear on the screen with their call icial to the Collegian/Nick Zuber The Parks Library atrium is often used for study and relaxation.

SCHOLAR is constantly updated as new serials are added and others are cancelled. Expanding the system won't cause cramped quarters, Gulden said, because the 48 SCHOLAR terminals are in an interchangeable

The floors and ceilings are false and can be raised or lowered at any time to accommodate more computers and work space. The walls are portable and can form any number of rooms. "This system is infinitely expandable. All the hardware is in this building, and we can move it anywhere in the library," Gulden said. computerized card catalog saves time and space, but it's not a replacement for a qualified staff, Kuhn said. The library employs 42 librarians, and is in first place among the peers in faculty salaries. Last year the library's salary budget was

$3,217,465. A qualifed staff builds a quality collection, Kuhn said.

"We look for expertise in our staff members. We have nationally respected people here," he said.

The library employs four fulltime bibliographers who work strictly with specialized scientific collections. Each bibliographer is a specialist in engineering and physics, agriculture and biology, humanities and fine arts or the social sciences. These specialists work on building and maintaining journals and periodicals in these See LIBRARY Page 8B

Federal money supports research

Publishing Many commuters attend the unversity—this fall 4,105 are enrolled in the Lifelong (Continuing) Educaimportant at NCSU

By Karen Allen Campus Editor

ALEIGH, N.C. - Pine needles carpet the brick sidewalk and make a slippery path for students hurrying to class on a brisk November morning. Early sunbeams offer little light for the silent walkers, whose paths cross with those of paper-laden professors.

The 100-year-old campus of North Carolina State University, in Raleigh, N.C., is slowly waking to another day of lectures, meetings and

In the 1987-88 fiscal year, NCSU's total expenditures for research and sponsored programs passed $125,000,000, a 23 percent increase from 1986-87. The College of Agriculture and Life Sciences' expenditures alone topped $57,000,000 in the last year. About $36 million was channeled to the university through federal funds for research and development in 1987-88.

Elizabeth Suval, professor of sociology and anthropology and president of faculty senate, said the role of the faculty has changed in the last five or six years because the main thrust of the university has moved toward research and the graduate school.

"The days when people will be hired just because they are good teachers are over," Suval said. "They know they won't make it to associate professor if they don't publish."

But Suval said receiving extramural support has its advantages. "External funding is good for everybody," she said.

Extra funding can be used to hire more help so instructors are free to pursue research.

Whether or not a conflict exists between those who dedicate themselves to research and those who believe the main focus should be the undergraduate has been brought up in faculty senate. But, Suval said, "We're not really clear on how we're resolve any of the programs are organized through the Research Triangle Park, a 6,700-acre community that is home to more than 35 research facilities representing government, industry and universities. Duke University in Durham, the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill and NCSU in Raleigh form a triangle around the park. Driving time between the three cities is no more than 20 minutes.

Raleigh, with more than 212,000 people, is the largest of the three cities. The capital of North Carolina, Raleigh is three hours from the Blue Ridge Mountains to the west and three hours from the Atlantic Ocean to the east. The university is one mile from downtown Raleigh.

Many commuters attend the uniin the Lifelong (Continuing) Education program - and contribute to the parking problem on the 623-acre

Last year, the university's police issued $60,000 worth of parking tickets, mostly to cars without parking permits, said Janis Rhodes, director of transportaion.

While some students pay $120 a year for the right to park on campus, others pay half that and receive a "fringe parking sticker," Rhodes said. These lots are on the periphery of campus, where students can then catch a transit bus.

In 1979, the university ruled that all students living within a mile of campus could not purchase parking permits. And freshmen who live on campus cannot have cars.

This fall, 4,799 freshmen contributed to the final head count of 25,537. Eighty-nine percent of those freshmen chose to live in one of the university's 19 residence halls. The halls, which house about 6,700 students, offer a required 20-week meal plan for freshmen and an optional meal plan for upperclassmen. Another housing option is the 24 fraternities and eight sororities.

Freshmen planning on returning their sophomore year and requesting a residence hall room are not guaran- dents in temporary housing this fall.

North Carolina State

Fee Breakdown for Fall 1988

Health Services	$50.00
Intramural	5.00
Student Government	2.33
Student Handbook	.25
Student Publication	6.64
School Fee	2.50
Student Legal Services	2.00
Student Telephone Reg.	2.00
Reserve	.30
Intercollegiate Athletics	25.00
University Student Center	73.50
Gym Building Fund	32.50
Physical Education	6.50
The state of the s	$209.00
full time 12 + hours	Graph/Scott Oppliger
full time 12 + hours

teed living space. A lottery system is used to determine the residents, but students whose names are not drawn can resubmit their names the next

An unexpected increase in the number of upperclassmen choosing to remain in the residence halls and new freshmen forced the Department of Housing to put more than 300 stu-

Some students tripled up in residence hall rooms and about 50 others are still living in The Mission Valley Inn, said Mark Denke, associate director of housing and residence

Those students who will remain in temporary housing through the semester will be credited $100 toward their spring housing contract, he said. Because of the usual student turnover rate between semesters, Denke said he doesn't foresee a housing shortage in the spring.

Denke said the housing department will continue to use the same random lottery to assign rooms, but will "be more conservative in terms of number projections," so the problem will not recur next year.

he university is composed of eight colleges, including agriculture and life sciences, education and psychology, engineering, forest resources, humanities and social sciences, physical and mathematical sciences. textiles and veterinary medicine. The College of Veterinary Medicine, which occupies 182-acres, graduated its first class in 1985. Engineering, with 7,170 students, is the largest college, and Forest Resources, with 635, is the smallest.

Sixty-two student senators are elected each year in April. Representation is by class rank within the colleges. For example, freshmen in engineering elect a certain percentage of their peers to represent them. One of the biggest problems facing the student senate is apathy, said Pam Powell, student body president.

"Last year, only 14 percent of the student body voted (in senate elections)," she said.

Of the university's 1,587 faculty members, 1,447 are full-time. Seventy-six percent, or 1,203, of the total members have doctorate degrees. The student/faculty ratio is 14 to 1, and the average class size is

To be admitted, applicants must submit their Scholastic Apptitute Test scores and high school transcript to the university by May 1 for the fall semester. In 1987, 9,025 students applied for admission and 5,731 were accepted. The basis for selection includes high school achievement, counselor evaluations, extracurricular activities and performance on the SAT. Students must have scored at least 400 on both the verbal and mathematical sections of the SAT to be accepted.

A new process of registering for classes by telephone was implemented this fall for the 1989 spring semester. The system, called TRACS (telephonic registration access to computerized scheduling), tells the student immediately if a desired section is available. It can also search for an appropriate substitute and will handle all drop/add requests. Implementation of the system increased student activity fees $2 per semester.

Powell said that although TRACS makes it easier for returning students to enroll, she and the student senate are against incoming freshmen registering by phone instead of attending the university for a day to pre-enroll. "We don't feel it would be beneficial enough just to send them a packet ... (With TRACS), freshmen could register without seeing the university," Powell said.

TRACS is not the only computerbased system on campus. The Campus Communication Network can be accessed from the library, computer labs, residence halls and individual campus offices. Information available through the network includes the library's catalog, course catalog, an on-line telephone directory and electronic mail. The university has more than 3,000 microcomputers on its campus, 500 of which are Macintoshes, said Henry Schaffer, assistant provost for academic computing.

The Triangle University Computer Center is also accessible from campus and has been for 25 years, Schaffer said. A Cray Y-MP supercomputer will be installed at the Triangle Park next summer and will be accessible from the university for specialized computer purposes, he

The supercomputer was funded through an $18 million grant from the North Carolina State Legislature. It took six years to plan for and acquire the computer, Schaffer said.

Although computer usage is highly correlated with research, Schaffer said it's the research that needs the computers - not the other way around.

"It's not strictly the chicken and the egg," he said. "You need the computer capability first. ... It provides the faculty with the facilities so they can get out and get the research grants."

D.H. Hill Library has more than 1,250,000 volumes and a total budget ■ See NCSU, Page 8B recial to the Collegian/Scott Jackson Women students from North Carolina State University march through women's safety on the campus. Students at NCSU are allowed to the Free Expression Tunnel located on the campus to demonstrate for express themselves by writing inside the tunnel. Campus to link private sector, academia

By Karen Allen Campus Editor

ALEIGH, N.C. - A revolutionary concept of tying academic inquiry with private sector technology is taking shape on 780 acres of land adjacent to North Carolina State University.

Rolling fields surround Lake Raleigh and the future site of Centennial Campus, an academic research and village center. The project, which will double the size of the university, is the first of its kind in the nation. Similar research parks are affiliated with Stanford and Princeton universities, but neither of them bring corporate research activities into the mainstream of academic life.

Fall

1987

Fall

1986

North Carolina State University

Undergraduate

Graduate

the school of design and the university's principal representative during the construction, said the campus offers a unique situation in which "everybody wins."

"The campus will allow us to express our land-grant mission in the 21st Century," he said.

The present campus, he said, is landlocked with no room for expansion. 'From 1887 to 1937, we gave out

337 diplomas, and in 1987, we gave out 3,000," McKinney said. "It's really only in the last 25 years that the university has really taken off." Twelve "academic clusters" will form the basic organizing units of the new campus, with the first cluster scheduled for completion in 1994. Each cluster will consist of laborato-Claude McKinney, former dean of ries, classrooms, offices, public and private buildings, residential facilities, plazas and courtyards.

Enrollment

Veferinary Medicine Graph/Scott Oppliger

More than 40 percent of the 25 to 30 acres of each cluster will be devoted to open spaces that will be geared to pedestrians and cyclists. One goal of the campus is to create a site that complements the natural contours and features of the land, he said. Parking lots, will be built into the ground or surrounded by trees.

"We want to provide the amenity of parking without a shopping-center look," McKinney said.

The land, which used to be part of the Dorothea Dix Hospital ground, is state owned. Because of this building space will only be leased to corporations, rather than sold, McKinney

"It gives the university the opportunity to renew itself," he said.

McKinney said the land is recyclable because buildings can be converted into different research labs if the need arises.

"We only want the current 'hip' research (in Centennial Campus) the other can go back to the main campus," he said.

In one lab, for example, the temperature can only vary one-tenth of one degree, he said.

The term "cluster" is used because each of the self-supporting units will be centered on the academic buildings. Scientists will be able to work, eat, and communicate directly with corporate researchers, McKinney said. Close surroundings between the research teams will enhance

"They can take the research discoveries and put them into the mainstream of the economy faster," McKinney said.

Too often, he said, discoveries are made and then simply "rest on the shelf." new College of Textiles will be located in the first academic cluster. The state authorized expenditure for the building, which will have 199,629 square feet, was $26.5 million. The college is expected to be ready for occupation by the fall semester of 1990. This number contradicts the 1994 prediction, because only the building will be ready - not the entire cluster.

In less than five years, McKinney said he hopes to see the completion of a "people-mover." The transportation system will be similar to that of the Disneyworld monorail system and will provide easy accessibility to and from the present-day campus, he said the residents' initial reaction of concern was normal.

Funding for the campus will be acquired through four different channels: state appropriations, borrowed funding from banks, investments in the private-sector and bondedindebtedness.

"It will not cost the university anything, nor will it bleed other university programs dry," McKinney said. Before construction began, NCSU had to apply for a thoroughfare conditional use from the city of Raleigh,

Not all of the residents were supportive of the campus at first. The university had to convince them that "we weren't going to degrade the environment," McKinney said.

"I think it's true nationwide communities are very sensitive about their environment," Upchurch said. "Immediately (after construction started) we began to see the earth turning red and the dust in the air." But Upchurch said he was optimistic about the residents' eventual acceptance of the campus, which he a natural drainage system.

Raleigh Mayor Avery Upchurch described as a home for the "leaders of tomorrow."

"I believe nature can be helped. And this land will be developed from farmland into a beautiful landscape," he said.

Lake Raleigh may be used for aquatic training and paddleboating. And Walnut Creek, which divides the land roughly into northern and southern halfs, will be maintained as

Oklahoma State nears 100th year

By Brian Hummell Staff Writer

TILLWATER, Okla. -Oklahoma State University is an institution touched by change and tradition.

Founded Dec. 25, 1890, Oklahoma State is slightly more than two years away from its centennial, but preparations for the celebration are already under way. Almost every piece of stationery and any brochure or handbook published by the university bears the centennial logo.

The campus is in Stillwater, a city with a population of about 38,000. It covers 415 acres and consists of 80 permanent buildings, including the Noble Research Center for Agriculture and Renewable Natural Resources. The $19 million first phase of the center opened in November. It houses three departments and laser research will be conducted once renovations are complete.

This year, the university is allotting about $5.2 million to overall campus building maintenance. G. D. Shepherd, director of physical plant services, said the money in the budget covers every area of his department, including employee salaries, grounds work, tools and equipment and custodial services.

Glen Summers, director of architectural services, said the campus master plan of anticipated future projects has an estimated cost of over $184 million.

"Of course, the approval of all of these projects has not been finalized nor has their scope or the time frame," Summers said.

The fall 1988 enrollment, 20,764, is slightly more than 50 percent of the population of Stillwater. The total number of students has not varied by more than 500 in the past four years. The number of minority students enrolled, 1,583, is an increase of 10 percent from 1987. Minorities account for 7.6 percent of the university's current enrollment.

Fall

1986

Freshmen are required to live on campus unless they are commuter students, live in greek housing or live with a relative in Stillwater.

Judy Quisenberry, manager of business and administrative services for residential life, said the 12 residence halls are at 92 percent capacity. This year, 4,238 students live in the residence halls.

all residents are not allowed to have alcohol in their rooms and each residence hall has limited visiting hours. Quisenberry said half of the residence hall rooms have cable television outlets available, and all but two of the residence halls have air conditioning.

Four cafeterias serve the halls. Each serves specialty items such as hamburgers, a weight-watchers menu and deli foods.

Tuition and student fees are based on the number of credit hours a student takes.

Tuition at OSU has more than doubled since the 1982-83 academic year. This year a full-time, lowerdivision, resident student will pay $414 in tuition plus $102.60 in student fees. In 1982-83, the same student would have paid less than $200 in tuition.

A full-time, lower-division, nonresident student will pay $1,350 in tuition and the same $102.60 in student fees. Of that, $36 goes for student health care. Of each credit hour fee, $2.15 goes for an activity fee and $3.40 to a facility use fee.

Costs for resident upper-division and graduate-division students are 10 and 38 percent, respectively, higher per credit hour, than resident lowerdivision tuition. Non-resident upperand graduate-division tuition is 17 percent and 42 percent, respectively, higher per credit hour than nonresident lower-division tuition.

OSU has played its home basketball games in Gallagher-Iba Arena since 1938, but renovations to the facility have cut the seating capacity from its original 9,000 to 6,380. The most recent renovation took place in 1987 at a cost of $4.5 million.

Jody Johnson, student body president, said students should have more input on how the fees are spent.

'Right now, we allocate about 16 percent of of the $1.1 million that students pay in fees," Johnson said. "We feel it's a matter of principle. We're looking at drawing up a feasible plan to get control of more of the money, and we're also researching legal action."

He said 270 organizations had requested more than $380,000 in funds, while the student senate only allocates about $165,000.

He said one of his goals as student body president is to try to get student government to be more serviceoriented. Among the student government projects are course and teacher evaluations, a textbook exchange service, committees to bring in speakers and changing the visitation and alcohol policies in the residence

Alcohol is not allowed on campus, and Johnson said he would like for students of legal-age to be able to have alcohol in their residence hall rooms if they want.

Students living in the residence halls have three options for visitation: no one of the opposite sex allowed in the room; people of the opposite sex allowed from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and noon to 2 a.m. Friday and Saturday; or visitors allowed noon to midnight Sunday through Thursday and noon to 2 a.m. Friday and Saturday.

he students elect the executive branch of student government and 25 apportionment. The other 25 senators, based on college classification, are elected in the fall semester.

Another goal of Johnson's is to increase funding for the university's library. He said the student senate is considering the proposal of a $5 lab fee for student library use that would raise additional revenue for the library.

"I would support the $5 lab fee if the library budget is raised from 5 percent to 6 percent of the university budget," Johnson said.

The Edmon Low Library has a budget of $5.2 million for fiscal 1988, which is an increase of 13 percent from fiscal 1987. About half of the 210,000 square-foot library is studying space.

As of June 30, the library had 1,483,703 volumes and 10,911 serials. The library is also a federal depository for documents, which increases by more than 2,500 the number of documents the library has. The library also has 2.1 million microform units - documents and serials on microfiche, microfilm and microcards.

Norman Nelson, assistant librarian, said the library is open an average of 102 hours per week. The library closes at 11 p.m. every night except during the holidays and the last 10 days of the semester. Nelson said the library closing time may be changed to midnight.

"We are a typical academic library," Nelson said. "We attempt to provide intesive, hands-on instruction in the library."

He said the library is in the process senators based on living group of loading the card catalog onto the

Still in the final stages of construction in October, the $19 million first phase of the Noble Research Center for Agriculture and Renewable Natural Resources was completed in November. It houses three departments and laser research will be conducted in the basement when renovations are complete.

university's mainframe. Once it is loaded, it will be tested for a year in the hopes of phasing out the card catalog. Use of the computerized card catalog during the testing phase will be limited, but, if the system is adopted, it will be open to all library

The library has 45 professional librarian positions and 75 full-time clerical staff. Nelson said about 165 students work in the library, averaging 18 to 20 hours per week.

he Faculty Council is an advisory board to the administration, said Darrel Kletke, chairman of the council.

"We provide input, as far as academic standards, and make general studies of what's going on," he

The average faculty salary was $32,767 in 1986-1987.

"We have a reasonable budget for education this year, but there were four or five years where there were minimal salary increases ... We've certainly lost ground with our peers," Kletke said.

Administrators at OSU consider the university's peer institutions to be the Big Eight and Big Ten schools, he said.

The intercollegiate athletics program at Oklahoma State is quickly becoming a national power. The wrestling and baseball programs are perennial challengers for national championships. The football team boasts a top candidate for the Heisman Trophy in running back Barry Sanders and The Sporting News has picked the basketball team to place third in the Big Eight.

The Athletic Department is operating on a budget of between $6.5 million and $7 million this year. Steve Buzzard, sports information director, said about half of that goes to the university's 12 non-revenue sports. Football, basketball and wrestling are considered to be revenue

Buzzard said about 9,000 student season tickets were sold to the football games this season and the average attendance through Oct. 23 was 44,500. The stadium seats 50,440. Student season tickets for football

Oklahoma State University Fee Breakdown

for Fall 1988

$36.00 Health 25.80 Activity Facility 40.80 $102.60

full time 12 + hours

and basketball cost $35. Buzzard said of the 5,800 basketball season tickets sold last year, 2,000 were to students. OSU has played its home basketball games in Gallagher-Iba Arena since 1938, but renovations to the facility have cut the seating capacity from its original 9,000 to 6,380.

The most recent renovation took place in 1987 at a cost of $4.5 million.

"We didn't have $15, $16, $17 million to build a new building, but we have all the luxuries of a new building," Buzzard said.

He said the reduced number of seats has not caused a problem.

"So far, we haven't shown a need for more seats," Buzzard said. "If we've got some people that can't get in, I'm not sure that's so bad. That would be a good problem to have."

Oklahoma State University

Staff/Greg Vogel

more input on how the fees are spent. Student senate allocates about requested about $380,000 in funds, with about $165,000 available.

Jody Johnson, student body president, says students should have 16 percent of of the $1.1 million that students pay in fees. Organizations

Union features hotel

By Brian Hummell Staff Writer

TILLWATER, Okla. - With more than 540,000 square feet, Oklahoma State University's Student Union ranks as one of the largest college unions in the world.

But besides being large, it is also innovative and unique when compared to other college unions.

mall.

The Union, completed in 1950, has expected to open this month. undergone three major additions. The additions include one in 1960 and one in 1965 to lege unions to ever invite private business the physical plant, and the construction of a into its union," Keys said, "As a result, we three-level parking deck in 1970.

Thomas Keys, director of the Union, said this year's Union budget is $8.8 million, with an additional $500,000 to $600,000 provided from students as a building use fee. Most of the student fee money, he said, hour into the Student Activities budget. Keys said more than 2 million customers went through the Union last year.

"That's just the customer count — those that went through the cash registers. So the people who use the Union without buying something aren't counted in that figure,' Keys said.

ustomers at the Union have a wide variety of items and services from which to choose. Among the Among the Union's features are a full ser- privately owned businesses in the Union are vice, 81-room hotel and a 13-store shopping a jewelry store, a travel agency, a barber and a beauty shop. A computer sales store is

> 'Oklahoma State is one of the first colfeel that helps us have a real nice relationship (with the town) because we are a supporting economic base, (and) to a degree, the community by having privately owned

He said the relationship between the goes toward student programs and renova- Union and other local businesses is healthy, tions. Each student pays $1.30 per credit because the Union shops are locally owned.

"We have not gone the franchise route of a major chain. We will be looking at that over the next couple of years in terms of food service, but all of our shops are locally owned," Keys said.

On average, the privately owned shops lease space for $11 per square foot or 5 percent of their gross sales, whichever is greater, but Keys said the individual contract of each shop varies.

The Union also owns and operates the bookstore, student store, games area, a novelty shop, food service and the hotel. The games area is being remodeled and renovated. Keys said the renovation is necessary because the bowling alley was closed and sold three years ago.

The hotel in the union, he said, offers a full range of services.

'We try to operate on a $36 daily rate, which is pretty much in line with some of the comparable properties, such as Holiday Inn and Best Western," Keys said.

'Our hotel operates as a normal hotel would operate. Our primary clientele is ■ See UNION, Page 8B

The student union ranks as one of the largest unions in the world.

OSU stresses research

By Robert Short Campus Editor

ORVALLIS, ORE. - The mountains, the ocean and Oregon State University are just a few of the better places to find opportunites to grow in the Northwest.

Founded in 1850 in a city of about 40,000, the Corvallis campus is crowded with trees and rustic stone buildings.

The university boasts 12 colleges and schools with graduate and undergraduate degrees offered in professional, technological and liberal arts

"Our students are very science and agriculturally oriented. Students are buried in their books a lot of the time, making this a conservative campus. We are very progressive," said Chris Voigt, student body president.

Entering freshman are required to live in organized housing. The three options are greek houses, residence halls or cooperative housing, said Jo Anne Trowe, vice president for student affairs.

The greek system, with 26 fraternities and 15 sororities, is one of the largest and strongest on the West Coast, said Roger Penn, dean of student life.

"What is unique here, in some ways, is that the university and the greek houses and communities have been supportive of each other," he said. "I think (there are) far less problems, far less adversarial relationships. I think the quality of the houses is pretty high."

The fraternity chapters are governed by the Intrafraternity Council and the sororities are controlled by the Panhellenic Council. Resident capacity for greek houses is 2,247. The options in the 11 residence halls range from intensive study halls to wellness halls where students emphasize avoiding the use of alcohol, drugs or tobacco, Penn said.

oopertive housing offers the least-expensive route for organized living off campus. Organized in 1935, the university began providing low-cost housing while trying to maintain high-quality living quarters.

Each of the eight cooperatives house between 40 and 60 students. The residents of these houses sport the highest GPAs of all campus living groups. The houses elect leaders and all residents are expected to participate in the maintenance of the structures.

Enrollment during the past decades has been anything but predictable. But, in the past four years, head counts have increased by less than 300 students. During the university's peak enrollment years, 1979 to 1981, enrollment topped 17,000.

In 1986, the university's enrollment dipped to its lowest mark since the early 1970s. Fourth-week enrollment figures of 15,637 for 1988 mark a four-year high and university officials expect that trend to continue, Trowe said.

"We anticipate a slowly increasing enrollment to continue over the next couple of years. We emphasize our high-quality undergraduate programs," Trowe said.

Although recruiting focuses on the "good student," Trowe said some areas are showing greater increases than others.

"The most interest is in the liberal arts areas and in business and in engineering. The traditional areas, such as agriculture and forestry, have not had the kind of increased interest that we have noticed in the other areas," she said.

Additional recruiting, Trowe said, has focused on attracting students from neighboring states. Figures show an increasing proportion of students from California, Hawaii, Alaska and Washington. "This is more of an international university, as you would expect the other land-grant (universities) to be," Penn said.

University officials are comfortable with the enrollment increases and don't expect to have any problems before the university reaches its capacity, Trowe said.

"In terms of our overall enrollment, our ideal enrollment is around 16,500. That is head count. We have

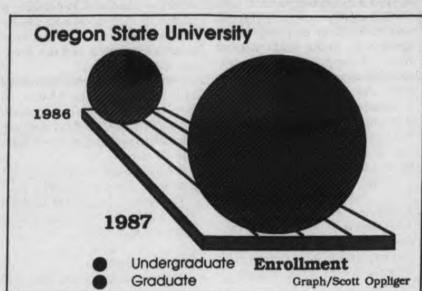

Instruction and research account for 53.9 percent of the budget expenditures. Other large expenditures included public services and auxiliary enterprises, together claiming 22.1 percent of the budget.

Physical plant and services required less than 6 percent of the

One area of the university that needs improved funding, Trowe said, is the library.

"The library really needs some support," Trowe said.

Because the library is unable to house all its volumes, students often have to wait on materials which are stored in the library's warehouse.

a ceiling set for us by the (State Board of Higher Eduacation) of 15,500 (full-time equivalents)," she said.

Undergraduate tuition jumped to $534.50 in 1988, a $22.50 increase from 1987 tuition costs, the largest increase in four years.

An additional 8.5 percent increase in tuition is being proposed within two years. Trowe said the increase will meet resistance from students who want the state legislature to increase its portion of the funding, instead of increasing tuition, Trowe

"They have tried to keep the cost of tuition for resident students at about 25 percent the cost of instruction, with non-residents paying 100 percent of the cost of instruction," she said.

tudent fees are $113 for the 1988-89 academic year, paid at the beginning of each trimester. About 37 percent of the fees support student health services. About 25 percent is for Memorial Union. Recreational sports and educational activities make up for the rest of the fee money. "Our total fee budget is about $4 million. Our student fees are broken down to a state system building fee, which is mandatory fee set by the state legislature, and a student health fee, mandated by the State Board of Higher Education," said Don Sanderson, director of student activities. "The remaining is called the incidental fee. It provides for funding intercollegiate athletics, the Memorial Union, recreational sports and educational activities. The incidental fee is the part the students have the most effect on," he said.

Demonstrating many of the funding problems common to land-grant universities, the university relies on state funding for a large percentage of its total budget. Just under 30 percent of the university's total budget is from outside gifts, grants and contracts, according to published budget library is planned within the next five

"The library is the only budget that has not suffered budget reductions of the last couple of years. At the state level, they are asking for $3.5 million to raise the quality of library holdings," Trowe said.

However, increasing costs of periodicals have forced the library to cut back on the number of journal subscriptions.

"The library has been severely underfunded for years. Student government made the big push to earmark more funds for the library. Our biggest problem is space. There are a couple hundred thousand volumes in storage," Voigt said.

The main issue universities are facing is cost, Penn said.

"The same issue is the cost of education. Computers, the library, parking ... have been issues in higher education every place," Penn said.

s demonstrated with the push to improve the library facilities, student involvement is possibly one of the university's greatest strengths. The university emphasizes the opportunities presented by the more than 60 student committees on campus and the governing body called the Associated Students of Oregon State University.

'(Oregon State) is unique in that it has a high degree of student involvement in the governments of the institution. ASOSU is the governance group that participates with faculty and administrators around whatever issues are of concerning interest," Penn said.

ASOSU consists of an elected senate, executive, and appointed officers. All students are automatically members of the ASOSU.

The ASOSU claims more than 25 percent of the educational activities budget, receiving $243,154 in student fees for allocation to different subcommittees.

The largest student programming

Construction of an addition to the Students stand outside of the James K. Weatherford Hall, which houses dining facilities at Oregon State.

body on campus, the Memorial Union Program's Council, is made of volunteer and elected members.

"MUPC is seen as a program development implementation group regarding student activities in general," Penn said.

The philosophy of the council stems from the idea that everything can be improved in some way, according to its mission. The group organizes Moms Weekend and Dads See OREGON, Page 8B Oregon State Fee Breakdown

for Fall 1988

Memorial Union Health Service Fee Educational Activities Recreational Sports Intercollegiate Athletics

9.80 12.70 15.80 $100.00

$24.80

36.90

full time 12 + hours

Graph/Scott Oppliger

Nation's oldest sea-grant facility coastal residents benefits

By Randy Short Campus Editor

ORVALLIS, ORE. Oregon State University's sea-grant facility dedicates more than one-fourth of its total to benefit residents living on the coast who rely on ocean resources to make a living.

Funded by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, a outside monies, the sea grant is one of 29 sea-grant institutions in the

Founded in 1968, the facility is the oldest in the nation. Its budget runs division of the U.S. Department of about $2 million, with a national budget to extension service programs Commerce, the state of Oregon and budget for the other 28 independent facilities totaling about $40 million, said Joe Cone, sea-grant science

> Sea grant is involved in funding research primarily. There is also a degree of funding for education and also for extension activities," Cone

There are between 20 and 30 research projects being conducted which focus on projects ranging from conserving the quality of shrimp meat during processing to studying shore-line erosion. The projects, Cone said, run in two-year cycles.

"(Oregon sea grant) adjoins a region of the Pacific Ocean that is not particularly well known - historically. Whereas, other sections of the Pacific are better known physically than the ocean off Oregon. The point is, there has been a lot to learn," he Extension agents from cities along the coast and faculty from OSU, the University of Oregon and other universities participate in the research and extension projects that are conducted at the facility.

"There are three parts to sea grant. There is education; there is research; and there is the extension service," Cone said. "The extension service is people where they work and where they live.

"For example, the extension agents along the coast tell fishermen about the latest techniques for fishing," Cone said.

James Good, a marine extension agent and coastal research specialist, works directly with the coastal industries, including fishing and tourism. He is also active in programs dealing with wetland management, shoreline erosion, and coastal and offshore protection.

concern of extension agents, Good said, is the possibility of the ocean level rising very rapidly in the next 50 years. This will have a dramatic effect on people with economic interest in coastal resources.

They are very vulnerable. We have an education program to raise the consciousness of (property owners)," he said.

Good is associated with extension projects dealing with waterfront revitalization. One of the biggest obstacles to the revitalization is expanding tourism industry in an area which has an established fishing industry, Good

"There is currently a lot of conflict heavily involved in connecting with with the fishing industry and other interests. The fishing industry is worth more than $200 million. To the state, that is not much, but for the coastal cities, it is one-fourth of their economy. Anything that affects the coast causes a big impact," Good

> The seafood processing plants and shipyards are not the most inviting places for tourists, he said.

In an attempt to remedy many of the existing problems, extension agents are conducting a series of regional conferences along the coast to educate people from the coastal cities on a variety of topics. One of the issues at these conferences is

"We use case studies of communities which have dealt with the different problems (of tourism) effectively," Good said.

Although very few of the courses are for undergraduate study, Oregon sea grant allows graduate students to participate in all areas of research and extension projects, Cone said.

"There is a substantial number of graduates who have received funding for their graduate studies (through sea grant)," he said.

Carl Schreck, leader of the Oregon Cooperative Fisheries Research Unit, has been adapting fresh water. salmon-hatchery techniques to find ways of improving return rates and boosting egg production.

Peers differ despite similarities

By The Collegian Staff

Despite the similarities which caused the six land-grant institutions to be selected as comparable peers, they all differ in other areas.

For example, all of the universities are governed by a Board of Regents. However, North Carolina State University has 16 universities within its system; Oregon State University has eight; K-State has seven; Iowa State University and Colorado State University have three; and Oklahoma State University has its own board.

Oregon is not only a land-grant university, but is also a sea-grant institution.

Information in seven specific areas was compiled by reporters who traveled to the university to speak with students, faculty and administrators.

Computing budget

Computing budgets for the six institutions are broken into academic and administrative portions. Based on an average of the middle three peer figures from 1986 information, K-State ranked lower than average in each of the administrative budget's categories.

The largest deficit, $622.68, was for the cost per full-time equivalent faculty. The University's closest match was $81.01 per student head count. The peers' average was

Cost per faculty full-time equiva-academic computing budget. K-State's average is $384.49 per faculty member, and the peer average is $1,065.04.

Parking

Excluding coliseum parking, K-State has 5,768 spaces available for visitors, students, faculty, staff, reserved, time-limited, handicapped and motorcycles. An additional 3,763 spaces are available for service, government, residence hall and Hall Governing Board members' parking.

North Carolina has a total of 11,200 campus parking spaces. Freshmen are not required to live on campus, however, if they do, they are not allowed to park on campus. In 1987, about 89 percent of the freshmen lived in college housing.

About 2,500 faculty parking permits are sold for the 1,800 faculty parking spaces at Oregon State. Another 4,890 permits are sold to students for the 2,800 spaces are available. About 1,600 spaces are open lots for reserved, handicapped and special parking without a permit.

Oklahoma State officials estimate that more than 12,000 cars are on campus each day. Because of this, all students are encouraged to walk to

Although freshmen at Colorado can have a car, they must live on campus for two consecutive semesters and must park in the residence

Iowa State is the only peer institulent also had the largest deficit in the tion that doesn't have parking on campus. The campus does have perimeter parking next to a limited number of buildings. Freshmen are allowed to have cars but can only park in residence halls' lots.

Library

Iowa State has the largest library budget, more than $6 million, for fiscal year 1987-88. K-State ranked last of the six institutions with a budget of just more than $4 million.

Oklahoma State University had a 13 percent increase in library funding for fiscal year 1988-89, bringing its budget to more than $5 million. The library has 10,911 journal subscriptions and more than 2,500 documents from the federal depository.

The library's operating budget at Oregon State has been increasing from the $4.3 million level in 1985-86 to a $5.4 million budget for 1988-89.

North Carolina, like the majority of other universities, is having to make cutbacks from its 7,000 periodical subscriptions. The library's budget of about $7 million is almost equally divided between salaries and purchasing new volumes.

For 1988, K-State's operating budget is about $5 million. The libraries have 1,099,797 volumes and 5,400 journal subscriptions. Colorado State's library operating budget is about $6 million.

Housing

Oklahoma's residence hall and greek housing is at 92 percent capacity. About 37 percent of the student body lives in organized housing.

At North Carolina, freshman living in one of the 19 residence halls are required to participate in the meal program. The program is optional for upperclassmen. About 25 percent of the student body lives on campus. On-campus married housing is about 300 people. The university's greek system is composed of 24 fraternities and eight sororities.

About 14 percent of Oregon State's student body lives in greek housing. Residence halls house about 24 percent, cooperative housing about 3 percent and the remaining 59 percent of the student body lives off campus.

More than 8,000 students at Iowa State live in residence halls and another 1,700 in university-owned apartments. About 8,500 students live in off-campus housing not owned by the university. Only 2,000 students live in greek houses.

About 4,000 K-Staters live in residence halls and 552 apartments are leased to married or single parents. The 12 sororities and 25 fraternities have about 2,600 residents.

About 30 percent of Colorado State's students live in off-campus apartments. Another 15 percent of the student body rent houses off campus. Residence halls house about 24 percent, and less than 5 percent of the students live in greek housing.

Faculty salaries For 1987-88, K-State is 14.4 percent behind the peer universities and is 84 percent lower than the national average. Based on 1986-87 information, K-State employees need a 21.8 percent increase in benefits and a 9.2 percent increase in salary to match the peer average.

Faculty-student ratio

The teaching ratio at Oklahoma State is figured in two different ways. In the 16-to-1 student to instructional staff ratio, staff graduate teaching assistants and faculty members are included. In the 23-to-1 student to faculty ratio, only faculty members are included.

According to an institutional research study at Oregon State, the university was determined to have a ratio of 15 students to each faculty member. But, the institutional research coordinator said it is probably closer to 9-to-1.

K-State's 1988 student to faculty ratio increased from 14-to-1 to 15-to-1. The 1989 ratio is expected to be 16-to-1. The College of Business Administration has the highest ratio with 21-to-1.

Colorado State's ratio is 17-to-1 and North Carolina's is 14-to-1.

The ratio at Iowa State is about 50-to-1 and the largest class size is estimated to be 400.

Construction

Kansas

Colorado State

N. Carolina

Oklahoma

State

State

State

lowa

State

Oregon State's more than $11 million maintenance and physical plant budget for 1986-87 is 5.2 percent of the university's budget. The university is planning to construct an addition to its library within the next two years.

Proposed construction at Iowa State includes a $10 million recreation center and a $32 million molecular biology building. The biology building is anticipated to be the biggest in the United States. However, construction will not begin on either project before 1990.

A $4.1 million recreation complex is planned for construction at Colorado State University.

Oklahoma State has a $5.1 million maintenance budget for salaries, housekeeping, equipment, tools, grounds, streets and lots.

With about a 150 buildings on the North Carolina campus, the university has a capital improvement budget for 1989-91 of more than $25

K-State's plans include construction of the $5.9 million Educational Communications Center beginning in March 1989. In addition, federal funding for Phase II construction of Throckmorton Hall have been approved with scheduled completion in 1995. The $27 million addition is part of K-State's goal to be the national biotech center.

This information was compiled by Karen Allen and Randy Short, Campus Editors, Audra Dietz, Brian Hummell and Steve Walker, Staff Writers, and Lisa Pfannenstiel, Collegian Reporter.

Peer Institutions Library Funding

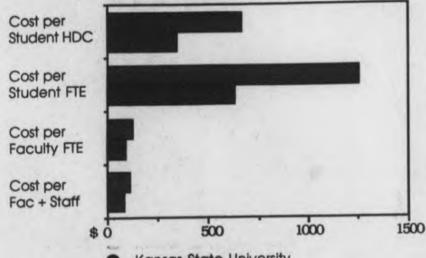

Information not available for Oregon State University $millions

Total Volumes

Total Budget

for Fiscal Year 1987-1988

Peer Institution Comparision and Projections Administrative Computing

- Kansas State University
- Peers (average)

Colorado

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3B services, learning and education opportunities, and we create an environment to support these goals."

he Office of Student Affairs wants the more than 3,000 older students to adapt to the environment of young college life, Miser said. The office, he said, wants to help integrate the minority students and build a stronger relationship with the members of the greek system.

"We've got a reputation as a technical and research school," Miser said. "I think the social values of the campus are politically conservative and personally liberal."

The Charles A. Lory Student Center was recently cited by the New York Times as one of the top 10 student unions in the country. Included in the center facilities are an art gallery, game room, bowling alley, lounges, study areas, meeting rooms, TV lounge, ballrooms and a full shopping arcade. The arcade includes a florist, travel agency, copy center, bank, hair stylist, T-shirt shop and Hardee's.

According to a Times article, the center was chosen because of its effectiveness as a hub for campus organizations and for its success as a magnet for student life.

Colorado State, which is a member of the Western Athletic Conference, has a winning basketball team and a losing football program. Its athletic teams, the Rams, are in Division I-A.

Fall

Colorado State University

"You notice that all the winning teams in college football have the best attendance," said Oval Jaynes, athletic director. "When people don't come and don't care, it's hard to get a win." Joe Cervi, sports editor of the Rocky Mountain Collegian, said the students are concerned with the football team's poor performance and the decision of whether to fire the head coach. The Rams have won one game this season.

In addition to the funded athletic programs, there are soccer, rugby, mountain biking and skiing clubs.

Students pay $171.10 in fees, which include student center renovation and operation fees, an athletic fee, and a $51.44 fee to the health center. Besides the required student fees, some of the departments have special course fees. The State Board of Agriculture, which is the governing body of the university, has established policies governing the use of these lab fees, said John Thomas, university registrar.

If department administrators believe their classes require a special cost, they apply to the dean of their college. The dean then applies to the Office of Admissions and Records for verification of the course data. Finally, the request is presented to the Vice President of Finance for review and approval.

"We'll have some lab fees some years and then we'll wipe all of them out." Thomas said. "It swings back and forth. Right now, most of the departments on campus have some kind of fee or another."

*stats compiled from the ARL official listings Peer Institution Comparision and Projections Academic Computing

Kansas State University

Peers (average)

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 4B seats 50,000 people, all student seats are reserved and season tickets are $28.00 for six home games.

Football and basketball seats are assigned by lottery numbers on

All tickets in a block must be purchased by one person, who is designated as the group coordinator.

For basketball, it's impossible to get stuck with a bad seat, or a good one, all season, because students purchase rotating tickets in four difno one gets stuck in the corner or above the balcony for every game, Eurick said. Students are assigned one seat above and one below the balcony, and two seats in sections in the balcony.

Holton Coliseum holds about 14,500 people, and students get 4,500 seats.

Of the university's 450 athletes, 314 are on scholarship. Eurick said freshman in five-year curriculums, like engineering, are not red-shirted. Instead, they are given an exhausted eligibility so they can finish school. The Cyclones helped 37 athletes pay ferent sections. With rotating seats, for a fifth year of school in 1987.

Union

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6B made up of conference people attending education class programs with business on campus, but we're not restricted to that," he said. Of the 300 employees working in the Union-operated shops and the hotel. Keys estimated that half are students. He also said that "a considerable number of the privately owned

The Union is also used for conventions and office space. Among the offices located in the Union are the Board of Regents, the OSU Foundation, Alumni Association and the University Credit Union. The agen-

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 5B

of $7,219,187 for the 1988-89 year.

A book tower is being added to the library and, when completed, will have space for an additional 2 million

Bill Lowe, head of reference services, said part of the reason for the cutbacks is directly related to the Board of Governors' current funding distribution for the 16 colleges in the

"We're all funded according to the same formula," Lowe said. "We get no more money than the smaller four-year institutions receive. We really lack the funding that we need seventh nationally in terms of total

In 1988-89, North Carolina ranked to operate a research library."

ike many other universities,

NCSU has had to cut back on journal subscriptions.

cies pay $9.89 per square foot for the office space.

Graph/Scott Oppliger

"It gives us a pretty decent mix of both retail and commercial aspects of a college union," Keys said. The Union is expected to be a self-supporting, self-sustaining facility, The Union also houses the headquarters of many student organizations, including the student government and student activities offices.

"Our traditional student organizations, mixed with our retail outlets, mixed with the number of agencies that are over here that students and other members of the university community use on a regular basis, gives us a pretty good mixture of ser-

lowa State University

Fee Breakdown for Fall 1988

	4 0 75
Memorial Union Debt Service	$ 3.75
Colisieum Debt Service	10.50
Memorial Union Operations	17.50
Memorial Union Remodeling	.75
Intercollegiate Athletics	9.75
Student Recreational Services	4.40
Government of Student Body	16.31
United Students of Iowa	.65
Rec Building Debt Service	9.73
City-Univ. Transit Serv. Oper.	10.65
	$84.09
full time 12 + hours	Graph/Scott Opplige

Library

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 4B specialized areas.

"This highly trained staff has given us superb collections that are carefully selected," Kuhn said.

Librarians who specialize in biology, fiction, children's literature and many other subjects are an advantage to the students, Kuhn said. A staff of subject-experts is the driving force it takes to build and maintain complete collections and an efficient library, he said.

ISU's library doesn't just employ experts, it produces them. Parks has the longest running librarian training program in the nation. The program turns out quality staff and has put ISU among the top seven libraries in the country for the number of journals published by librarians, Kuhn

"People come here to learn how to be good librarians," he said.

Members of the staff at Parks don't waste their talents in the stacks levels sorting books and doing research. They pass their knowlege on to the students.

Library Instruction 160 is required for all undergraduates. The course is designed to teach students how to use the library and develop efficient research skills. The class is taught by seven people in a separate library department.

The course runs for half the semester and is worth one-half of a credit hour. The course was initiated in 1891, but wasn't a graduation requirement until 1971.

However, like most libraries, Park's has lost a portion of its state revenue which has forced drastic cuts in periodical subscriptions.

We had no duplications in our other libraries to cut. When we cancelled subscriptions, we cut into the bone of our library's collection," Kuhn said.

stores employ students."

NCSU

volumes.

state system.

state appropriations for higher education. The state distributes $1,329,606,000 among its 16 Board of Governors schools. The state moved up 19 places in the rankings vices and facilities," Keys said.

The university received $216,378,000 of the 1988-89 appropriations, up 14 percent from from 1986-87, when it was ranked

These figures are reflected in the tuition costs at NCSU. This fall, residents of North Carolina paid $448.00 for semester tuition and fees, compared to $2,249.00 for out-of-state students. Eighty-two percent of the university's students are residents of the state.

Dixon said appropriations are high and tuition costs low because "the Board of Governors and the (North Carolina) General Assembly are committed to offering the lowest possible rate for its residents."

Oregon

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 7B Weekend, movies and awareness weeks.

"The other forms of student selfgovernment on the campus are Residence Hall Association, Intrafraternity Council, Panhellenic, Intercooperative Housing Council and the 300 recognized student organizations on campus," Sanderson said.

The University also maintains the Experimental College, founded in the 1960s.

"People (of the 1960s) were saying the real curriculum isn't dealing with important things, so (they) started an experimental college. (It) deals with everything from underwater basket weaving to exploring the stars," Penn said. The classes cannot be taken for credit, but have a high interest among stdents, he said. The college offers about 60 classes a term through the Experimental College.

'Our students are serious about their studies. They are goal-oriented. (The students) work awfully hard and have clear goals in mind," Penn

Fall Undergraduate Enrollment Graduate Veterinary Medicine Graph/Scott Oppliger

Swing Dancer

Mary Howell, graduate student in adult education, has been teaching swing dance lessons since 1981. Howell's classes are at the Ranch Saloon. See Page 7.

Weather

Partly cloudy today with the high 40 to 45. Clearing and cold tonight, low 15 to 20. Mostly sunny Thursday, with the high in the low to mid 40s.

66612

Missouri-Kansas City Kangaroos 54-35. The 'Cats are now 3-0 for the season. See Page 9.

Wednesday

November 30, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 68

Kansas State Collegian

Counties expected to challenge state census

From Staff and Wire Reports

TOPEKA - Local officials from three counties are expected to file two lawsuits Wednesday, challenging a special state census conducted this year to provide new population figures for legislative reapportionment. Attorneys representing Douglas, Leavenworth and Riley counties and the city of Manhattan plan to file lawsuits in Shawnee County District Court and U.S. District Court in Topeka. The Lawrence City Commission was scheduled to decide Tuesday night whether to join in the lawsuits.

The federal lawsuit will challenge the constitutionality of the 1987 state law under which the census was conducted, said Patti Hackney, Douglas County assistant counselor. The law required the state to count college students and military personnel as residents of their permanent hometowns, rather than the cities in which they attended classes or were stationed.

"We were concerned because so many college students list their hometown as their permanent address, even though they actually live here in Manhattan for most of the year, just to have a place to send their mail," said Riley County Commissioner Marjorie Morris.

"We filed the suit because we are primarily against the methodology used to take the census," Morris said.

Hackney said the lawsuit filed in the state court will ask for a review of the census procedures. It will also raise some of the same concerns contained in the federal lawsuit. Hackney's superior, County Counselor Bob Fairchild, is the lead attorney in the case.

"(U.S.) Supreme Court cases have said we have a fundamental right to equal representation and to not have our votes diluted," Hackney said.

The cities and counties expected to file the suits all saw their populations drop, compared with figures from the state's past census in 1978 and the federal census in 1980. The changes way students and military personnel were counted.

"We built the entire census fully expecting it to be legally challenged," said Brent Anderson, the secretary of state's legal counsel and former census director. "Certainly, it's not surprising that those areas that were adversely affected would challenge the results."

Morris said research had been done to verify the grounds for a lawsuit before action was taken.

"We allocated $2,500 to the KU Law School to find out whether or not we actually had a grievance and they said we certainly did," she said. "After we received this information came about primarily because of the we allocated up to $1,500 for the lawsuit."

> The state last redrew districts for state representatives and state senators in 1979, using numbers from a regular census conducted by the counties and overseen by the state Department of Agriculture. However, the state abolished that census after the last reapportionment.

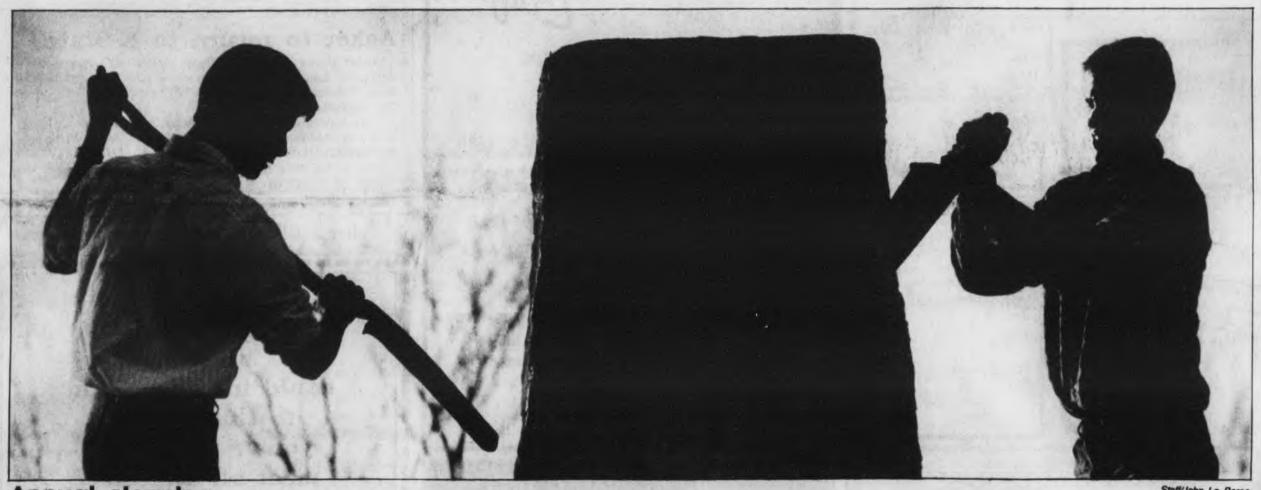

Dan Myers, legal council for the data. County Commission, said the criteria used for the most recent census was similar to the census taken in 1979.

"If you go by those numbers, we've lost around 7,000 people in Riley County and we haven't lost that many people," Myers said. "You can see by the increase in construction in town that that's just not true."

Under an amendment to the Kansas Constitution voters approved in November, the state will reapportion House districts before the 1990 election and districts for both houses again before the 1992 elections, the next time senators face re-election. The state will reapportion every 10 years after that, using federal census

Lawmakers have said the state cannot use 1980 census data to reapportion in 1989 because federal courts have ruled such data too old. States must follow guidelines set down in a historic 1962 U.S. Supreme Court decision, which said

■ See CENSUS, Page 14

Staff/John La Barge

Annual cleaning

Craig Gaskill, freshman in computer engineering, and Darren Klish, freshman in chemical engineering, chip old paint off the Beta rock Tuesday afternoon at the Beta Theta Pi house.

Bus service brings mixed reactions

By Lori Rice-Morsell Collegian Reporter

A bus service for the Manhattan/ Ogden area was met with mixed reviews from local merchants after its first weekend of service.

Sponsored by Manhattan Transit Charters, the service began over the weekend and will continue each weekend through Christmas, said Lawana Bush, office manager of Manhattan Transit Charters.

Mickey Thompson, advertising marketing director at Manhattan Town Center, said Town Center worked with Manhattan Transit to develop this service because "it would increase (shopping) traffic in Manhattan."

Lori Greathouse, manager of Maurices clothing store, said, "The shuttle gives people a chance to come to the mall, but I haven't seen a change (in business) yet."

She added there may be an increase in the coming weeks as the number of shopping days before Christmas lessens.

Don Carrel, owner of Kitchens Plus, said he saw the bus stop in Westloop during this first weekend but didn't see many people get off. He said this may be because it is a new service and few people know about it.

However, he said there may be other problems with the service. The shuttle may not stop often enough to be a convenient source of transportation, Carrel said. For example, if a shopper was dropped off at Westloop another bus would not return for two thing that will bring people to the shopping area is a good idea."

Larry Fronce, president of Manhattan Transit Charters, said this is the first year the service has been

"This is an experiment to see how many people would be willing to use mass transit in Manhattan," he said.

Executive Director of Meadowlark Hills Roger Closson said he believes the retirement center was included as one of the stops for the shuttle because "there was an understanding that a lot of people (at Meadowlark Hills) would use the bus."

He said a number of residents will be using the shuttle service because transportation is often a problem

Carrel did say, however, that "any- with older people, especially during cold weather.

> Bush said the shuttle takes shoppers to Westloop, Aggieville, Manhattan Town Center, K mart and Wal Mart. The shuttle will run 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays and 1 to 7 p.m. on Sundays.

The cost for the service will be 75 cents per ride or $2 for a one-day pass. Free rides will be sponsored Dec. 16-18 by the Manhattan Town Center, Bush said.

Areas to board the shuttle include Ogden, the Picnic Place at Manhattan Town Center, Meadowlark Hills, Candlewood, Alco, Westloop, Marlatt Hall, North Manhattan Avenue and Triangle Park in Aggieville. These stops are made about every two hours, Fronce said.

Suicide suspected in student's death

By Erwin Seba Senior Staff Writer

Riley County Police are investigating the Tuesday death of a K-State freshman from a selfinflicted gunshot wound to the head.

Galen Keith Wade, a 19-yearold freshman in journalism and mass communications, was found dead Tuesday at about 10:45 a.m. in his room at the Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity house by his roommate, Brent York, senior in geography, said Lt. Buddy Mays of the Riley County Police

Dr. Robert Cathey, Riley County coroner, said Wade's death would be ruled a suicide.

Wade was killed instantly when he fired a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun into his fore-head, said Dr. John Bambara, deputy coroner. He declared Wade dead at the scene at 11:25 a.m. Bambara fixed the time of Wade's death at approximately 4 a.m. Tuesday.

One hand of Wade's body was gripping the front end of the barrel of the pump shotgun, Bambara said. No ejected shells were found in the room. The breech of the weapon was closed and live ammunition was in the magazine,

The door to Wade's room was locked from the inside and a note titled "Will" was attached to the inside of the door, Bambara said.

The note listed "20 or so individuals" and read, in part, "to this and such person, I give my love and apologies," Bambara said. Cathey said no autopsy would be performed on Wade's body. Lt. Allen Raynor of the RCPD said "the circumstances surrounding the death are being investigated."

One question to be answered, Raynor said, is why the noise from the firing of the shotgun at about 4 a.m. was not heard by anyone in the house.

Jim Reynolds, senior in marketing and president of AKL, said no one in the house heard the noise.

"No one heard it. I didn't hear it. I was at the house at the time,"

Reynolds said. The RCPD is also trying to determine who owns the shotgun, Mays said. Wade did not own the shotgun. The first member of Wade's family to be notified was his brother, Stephen Wade, sophomore in pre-medicine, said Cheryl May of University News. Stephen Wade was notified by

Assistant Dean of Student Life See DEATH, Page 14

y explosions k Kansas Cit

From Staff and Wire Reports

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - When a flash of light brightened her bedroom in the predawn hours and the tremendous blast that followed blew out the windows in her apartment, Cindy Denning thought nuclear war had

"I woke up and my first reaction was it's nuclear war or a gas explosion in my building. I thought the building probably was on fire," she

When Denning looked out the window, she saw what resembled "something out of a war movie" -people in nightclothes, some carrying children and possessions, shouting and scrambling to get into cars in the shivering cold and drive away.

Police cars with loudspeakers drove through the Stonehaven apartment complex, warning residents to evacuate for fear of a second explosion from a construction site a halfmile away across a heavily wooded ridge.

"I drove down to a nearby police station and asked what happened," said Denning, the assistant manager of the apartments. "A policeman said six people had been killed in a dynamite explosion and to expect a second explosion."

The expected second explosion was not as loud as the first. But it still sounded "like a volcano erupted," said apartment resident Tamara Taylor. She and her husband, Kerry, grabbed their 9-year-old daughter

"All the glass in the apartment broke. Everything exploded in mid-air," Taylor said. 'T heard the police say the word 'evacuate,' and that was all I needed to hear. It scared the living daylights out of me."

In the early-morning darkness, six firefighters died when 45,000 pounds of ammonium nitrate exploded at a construction site on 71 Highway in south Kansas City. Blasting at the site, owned by the state of Missouri, began this summer.

The firefighters were extinguishing a fire, which police are ruling as arson, involving a pickup truck when

M See BLAST, Page 14

BRIEFLY

ASSOCIATED PRESS

BRIEFLY AROUND WORLD

AIDS estimates lowered

GENEVA - The World Health Organization on Tuesday slashed its estimate of the number of people expected to contract AIDS by 1991, saying the lower figures resulted from changes in the behavior of high-risk groups.

The organization projected that within the next three years, 6 million to 7 million people are expected to be infected with the HIV virus that causes the fatal disease.

That figure is sharply lower than WHO's estimate in March 1987, when it said 50 million to 100 million people could be infected by 1991. That report said even that estimate "will be conservative if HIV penetrates and spreads through South America and Asia."

In its statement Tuesday WHO also said the worldwide total of officially reported AIDS cases climbed to 129,385 in 142 countries in November, an increase of 4.1 percent from October.

It estimated that the true number of AIDS victims was twice the reported number, and that 5 million to 10 million people worldwide may currently be infected with the HIV virus.

BRIEFLY THE REGION

Steer found mutilated

HUTCHINSON — The Reno County Sheriff's department is investigating what appears to be the mutilation of a 600-pound steer Sunday in a pasture just north of Hutchinson.

The steer's remains were found Sunday morning by Fred Welch, who fed and cared for the animal owned by his father, Raymond Welch of Buhler.

Reno County Sheriff's Detective Dennis Radke said his office is investigating the connection between the killing of the steer and a traffic arrest made Sunday night, during which parts of an animal were found.

Authorities said it appeared the animal was still alive when someone began mutilating it.

BRIEFLY ACROSS NATION

'Terrorist' found guilty

NEWARK, N.J. - A Japanese man called an international terrorist by prosecutors was found guilty Tuesday of weapons charges and of transporting homemade bombs with the intent to U.S. District Judge Alfred J. Lechner convicted Yu Kikumura in a non-jury trial after the 36-year-old defendant admitted to the government's charges in an agreement worked out with

"There is no contest and there is no alternative," Lechner said. "I find the defendant Yu Kikumura guilty of each count of the indictment."

Lechner set sentencing for Jan. 23. Kikumura faces up to 100 years in prison.

Under the agreement, Kikumura admitted to the charges but retained his right to appeal pre-trial rulings. If the pre-trial rulings, which bear on the admissibility of evidence against him, are overturned, his conviction could be thrown out.

Asbestos ruling disregarded

WASHINGTON - More than a fifth of the nation's schools appear to be disregarding federal asbestos management requirements, a company that prepares asbestos plans said Tuesday.

Federal law required all public and private school districts to inspect their buildings and submit to state governors, by Oct. 12, plans to manage asbestos in the buildings. In September, Congress amended the law to permit school authorities to seek Twenty-four states are unable to say what proportion of their schools are complying with the law, according to a survey sponsored by Kaselaan & D'Angelo Associates of Haddon Heights, N.J.

In the other states, local authorities in charge of about 40 percent of the schools have requested permission to delay submission of management plans for a year, the architectural and engineering firm said. A roughly similar proportion turned in plans on time.

BULLETIN FOR CAMPUS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

EBONY THEATRE COMPANY will erform at 8 p.m. Thursday through Saturday in Purple Masque Theatre.

SGA Applications for Student Senate interns and standing committee chairpersons are available in the SGS Office in the Union. Applications are due Friday.

TODAY

COLLEGIATE FFA CHRISTMAS MEETING will be at 6:15 p.m. north of Waters Hall.

COLLEGIATE FFA will meet at 6:15 p.m. in the parking lot north of Waters Hall.

GYMNASTICS CLUB will meet at 9 p.m. in Natatorium 4.

RETURNING TO SCHOOL will meet at 11:30 a.m. in the Union Stateroom.

THURSDAY

ASSOCIATION OF ADULTS

KSU PARACHUTE CLUB will meet at 7

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA CRESCENTS will meet at 7 p.m. at the Lambda Chi House.

ROCK CLIMBING CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in the basement at 1021 Thurston St. ENGINEERING AMBASSADORS will meet at 7 p.m. in Durland Hall.

ICTHUS CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

will meet at 8 p.m. in Union 212.

NSAE will meet at 4:30 p.m. in Union For-

PRE-VET CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in Trotter 201.

PHI KAPPA PHI will meet at 4 p.m. in

CAMPUS CRUSADE FOR CHRIST

will meet at 7 p.m. in Throckmorton 131.

FRIDAY

A LITERARY DISCOVERY Women's Voices in the Season of Change will meet at 3 p.m. in Union 204.

K-STATE POLICE

Monday

- A care and treatment report was filed.
- A faculty/staff parking permit was reported lost or stolen in an unknown vicinity. Loss was $44.

Tuesday

- A white Chevy Citation was reported lost in an unknown vicinity. reported disabled in lot A-11.
- A blue Chevrolet two-door was towed from lot A-28N by Manhattan Wrecker.

Memorial Hospital.

A black and silver Bronco was towed from lot A-30 by Mike's Wrecker.

A student parking permit was reported lost in an unknown vicinity. A wheel lock was placed on a white Lincoln displaying a stolen parking permit parked in lot A-29.

A student parking permit was

A white four-door Oldsmobile Delat was towed from lot A-29 to Mike's Wrecker.

A white and brown Mercury A person experiencing a sei- Cougar parked in lot A-4 was towed zure in Denison 114 was taken to to Manhattan Wrecker.

Get Personal With a Collegian Classified!

Sun.-Thurs.

11 a.m.-11 p.m.

Fri.-Sat. 11 a.m.-12 a.m.

2809 Claflin Rd.

Remember 18 oz. Fishbowls 776-9879

Pregnant ...

and don't know what to do?

LA WOOD TO THE PARTY OF THE CALL BIRTHRIGHT

They'll help you make the decisions you will have to make. Help that is free, confidential. Help that is as close as your phone.

Call any time.

SALE—SALE—SALE—SALE

Taco Burgers—2 for $1

Enchilada Dinner—$2.19 2 enchiladas covered w/chili & cheese, refried beans, salad with picos (reg. $3.05)

Offer good Nov. 30-Dec. 5

Closed Tuesday

"Where good friends get together"

"MASTER HAROLD"

. . . and the boys

by Athol Fugard

December 1, 2, 3, 1988

Purple Masque Theatre

8 p.m.

Presented by Ebony Theatre Company

Free pregnancy test, confidential

537-9180

Ben Franklin Ma "BETTER QUALITY FOR LESS"

Christmas Gift Ideas SALE!

Sale thru Sunday, December 4, 1988 Assorted lvy bushes, 115 leaves $4.99

·Ghristmas Garlands—20% off

•Country Placemats—97¢

with $10 purchase, Christmas Idea Book-while supplies last.

Quantities limited-hurry for best selection

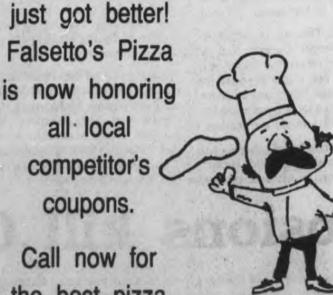

PLUS MUCH MORE

Westloop Shopping Center M-F 9-9, Sat. 9-7, Sun. 1-6

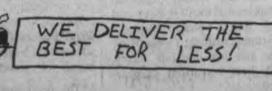

776-4910

Falsettos

The best pizza 539-2091

the best pizza around.

BRIEFLY A CAMPUS

Acker to return to K-State

Former University President Duane Acker will return to the campus in January to assume a teaching position in the Department of Animal Sciences and Industry, according to a report in The Manhattan Mercury.

Since leaving K-State in 1986, Acker has served as assistant to the administrator for Food and Agriculture for the Agency for International Development in Washington, D.C.

Prior to becoming president, Acker was associate dean of the College of Agriculture.

Collegian classifieds: Where K-State shops

Clipping this ad could introduce you to that person you've wanted to meet all semester.

If you've spent the semester watching one particular person, it's time for you to write a Collegian Personal ad. A Personal will intrigue your mystery person and give you the opportunity to introduce yourself. Just bring this ad to Kedzie 103 to start your winter romance.

PHONE		harmon and
ADDRESS			TI-V
I.D. NUMBER	-	-	-
DAY TO RUN			- 1
MESSAGE	3 - 50	Sec. 6	0
		THOU I
Will be a second	P. Sand
A STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE PAR	The state of	10 mm 100	11100

Collegian Pusmals

Employee award applications taken

Nominations for the 1989

employee of the year awards are being accepted until Dec. 20 in the Office of Personnel Services.

Three awards will be given during ceremonies in McCain Auditorium on March-22. The employment categories are secretarial/ derical, service/skilled crafts and echnical/professional.

Employees can be nominated by anyone, said Joe Younger, manager of staff training and

"Anyone can submit a nomination - a superintendent, a peer, a colleague, anyone who has knowedge of the employee's qualificaions," he said. The Classified Affairs Committee, which selects the winners, looks for seven specific qualifica-tions in determining the employees of the year.

They must be service-oriented: must demonstrate quality in their work; must possess creativity and/or adaptability; must take initistive; must be dedicated to K-State, their departments, and fellow employees; must show team-work and cooperation; and must demonstrate effectiveness and

"We look at each case on its own merits," said Jim Deegan, committee member and past

"Once we determine some (candidates) that we're interested in, an interview committee goes out and talks to other employees,"

Nine finalists will receive engraved pen and pencil sets, and the three winners will each receive an engraved plaque of Anderson Hall and honorariums donated from campus depart-ments totaling about $750 each.

The recognition program started 12 years ago with an endowment from Walter and Catherine Jones of Oklahoma City, Younger said. Jones attended K-State in 1927-28 and played freshman and varsity

Panel defines grievance procedures

By Mark Rader Collegian Reporter

The American Association of University Professors sponsored a Grievance Resolution Panel Tuesday afternoon in the Union to define ways University employees can express and resolve grievances.

Charles Thompson, professor of psychology and president of the AAUP, said the panel was to be an informative hearing to outline the new sets of procedures in place for the various committees.

Richard Gallagher, chairman of the General Faculty Grievance Board, said the new set of procedures for the board were passed by Faculty Senate last year.

The board, which is designed to hear and resolve grievances of faculty, will follow this new set of guidelines, he said. It first will hear all evidence relevant to the grievance, make those findings a fact and notify those concerned.

The board will decide then what changes need to be sustained by the grievance and will provide a course of action to follow.

The GFGB will send its report to the president of the University, all parties involved in the grievance, and the president of Faculty Senate for response. Gallagher said it was possible for the length of time from the filing of a grievance to the response by the president to take up to 84 school days.

Mary Ellen Sutton, chairwoman of the Descrimination Review Committee, said her committee was responsible for covering complaints based upon race, age, sex, birthplace and other grounds covered in University

"premium pizza at a cardboard pizza price"

523 South 17th

537-1484

ICHES

The committee consists of five faculty members, with an alternate ability to respond to allegations. position available for a committee member who is associated with the particular type of complaint. For example, if the complaint deals with a handicapped person, a handicapped person will fill the alternate position, Sutton said.

Jane Rowlett, director of Affirmative Action, said she is responsible for dealing with complaints of discrimination from faculty, staff and students.

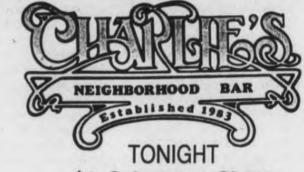

She said Affirmative Action tries to resolve problems at the lowest possible level, and assure that both parties have due process and have the

James Mitchell is serving as the University's ombudsman - a recently created position. The ombudsman's responsibility, Mitchell said, is to give guidance and counsel to people with grievances.

Mitchell said he is asked a lot of questions by faculty who have grievances. He tries to refer each of them to the appropriate committee to handle the particular complaint.

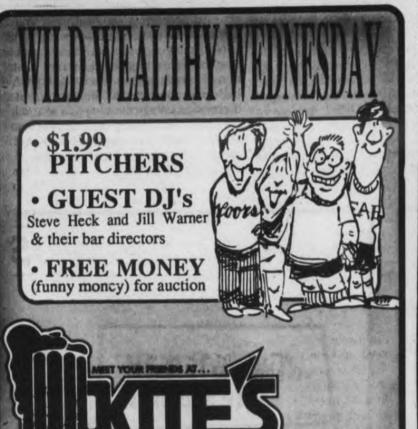

Thompson said: "I have felt very good the last several years with the various grievance committees that we have had."

$1 Schnapps Shots $1.50 Imports

Don't forget to plan your date dash at "The Aggieville Alternative"-Charlies 1800 Claffin

776-4111

18 to enter - 21 to drink, 619 North 12th St., Aggieville, 539-9794

The Shoppers' Connection...

a great way to begin your Christmas shopping!

This holiday season make your shopping hassle-free and ride The Shoppers' Connection sponsored by the Manhattan Merchants. The bus will stop at 15 locations in all parts of Manhattan and Ogden beginning Friday. Nov. 25 and will run every Friday, Saturday and Sunday until Dec. 24th. Pickups begin as early as 9a.m. and run as late as 6:30 p.m.

Buy a Day Pass for $2 and make as many stops as you want, or pay only 75¢ for each stop in Manhattan.

Pick up your Shoppers' Connection Bus Schedule at the Customer Service Center in Manhattan Town Center or call 539-9207 for more information.

Sponsored by the Manhattan Merchants

Tulsa Ballet Theatre Roman Jasinski and Moscelyne Larkin, Artistic Directors in

The Nutcracker Saturday, December 10, 7:30 p.m. Sunday, December 11, 2:30 p.m.

Ring in the holiday season with the ballet that has enthralled audiences of all ages for nearly 100 years. Thirty local children perform as mice, angels, rabbits, soldiers, and downs in the Christmas classic that features .shimmering scenery, dazzling costumes, and Tchaikovsky's everappealing music.

General Public: $14, 12, 10 Senior Citizen: $12, 10, 8 ... Student / Child: $8, 7, 5

Charge tickets to Mastercard or VISA at (913) 532-6428, or come to the box office between noon and  1. 5:00 p.m. weekdays.

A Mid-America Arts Alliance Program with the Kansas Arts Commission. Corporate support by the Kansas Farm Bureau.

available through Kansas State Bank and the ... Manhattan Arts Council. For Information. call Marie Dellen at 537-4400. ALL VINE STREET, NO. 2

LARGE PIZZA ONLY 599

with one topping

dine in or free home delivery

Biller good through lock.

with this coupon

ATTENTION SKIERS

Are you tired of riding a bus and skiing the Summit in Colorado every year? Then why not ski with Overland Mountain Tours as we travel to Taos Ski Resort N.M. (located in the Rockies, on the border of Colorado and New Mexico) aboard our own private car of an Amtrac Train.

Cost of the trip is approximately $230. All O.M.T. trips include:

*Round Trip Transportation *2 Nights Lodging '3 days Lift Tickets *3 days Rental Equipment 'And a Group Leader

For info. contact Chuck Powell at 776-6855. Informational meeting coming soon!

Study over Winter Break! Call (913) 262-TEST Kansas City

Samuel Ramey, Bass Thursday, December 8, 8:00 p.m.

Hear a rare concert by the former ·K-Stater who is the most recorded American bass in history. From the brute fury of Mephistopheles in Faust to the . moving soliloquy of Billy Bigelow in Carousel, Colby native Samuel Ramey can do it all. Numerous opera engage ments make Mr. Ramey's recitals exceptional events, eagerly anticipated. He comes to Manhattan between soldout performances in Don Giovanni at . Lyric Opera of Chicago.

The most extraordinary bel canto basso of our time (and that of our fathers, if not our grandfathers, as well.)" -Fanfare

-'General Public: $15, 13, 10 Senior Citizens: $12, 10, 8 Students/Children: $10, 8, 5

Charge tickets to MasterCard or VISA at 1(913) 532-6428, or come to the box office between noon and 5 p.m.

This program is presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state ency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

ransportation for seniors availal h Kansas State Bank and the anhattan Arts Commission Information, call Marie De

(KMAN 1350

Be Sure and Tune In to KMAN AM 1350 to Hear All K-State Men's Basketball Games. Support the Cats!!

TheEyesHaveIt

. yours can too at our Optical Dispensary

Drs. Price, Young, Odle, and Horsch

Optometrists

537-1118 1119 Westloop Place

Editorial

Kansas State Collegian Opinions ■ Wednesday, November 30, 1988

OPEC countries forget it's no longer 1973

ow would you like to pay 35 cents (estimated price if Saudi Arabia were to produce as much oil as it can sell) for a gallon of gas? If there were international anti-trust regulations like the ones in United States, such a prospect would not be at all unrealistic.

However, because low production slows the depletion of petroleum resources and keeps profits high for oil-producing countries, collusive agreements among these countries are not illegal on the international scene. And the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries is proof of this.

OPEC is an international organization of 13 major oil-producing countries. It was formally constituted in January of 1961. The driving force behind the formation of OPEC was the abundant supply of crude oil in the 1960s and the unilateral price cuts by major oil companies. Because the taxes and royalties to the governments of oil-producing countries were reduced substantially, OPEC was formed to prevent further price cuts.

The objective of OPEC is to coordinate petroleum pricing and production policies of its members. In economists' jargon, OPEC is a cartel, an international oligopoly agreement among member countries.

OPEC became unpopular - at least, among Americans - in the 1970s when it used the so-called "oil weapon" to retaliate against American support of Israel in the Arab-Israeli war of 1973. In its 35th meeting by 70 percent, followed by another increase of 130 percent at the Tehran Conference in December 1973.

In addition to the raise in prices, an embargo was placed on shipments to the United States. Crude oil prices increased from a mere $3 per barrel in 1973 to $30 in 1980. Most Americans probably still remember the long lines at gas stations and the towering oil prices of the 1970s.

The scare of what happened after the 1973 oil embargo still haunts us. On Nov. 17, OPEC began meeting to address the issue of surging production and depressed oil prices, and proceedings at the meeting are being observed very attentively. But the fact of matter is that this is no 1973.

To be able to evaluate the effects of OPEC agreements on future oil prices, an analysis of the success of OPEC in 1973 to 1980 era would be very enlightening.

During that era, the worldwide demand for petroleum was less elastic than today, meaning that the oil-importing nations were willing to pay high prices for crude oil and at the same time were not willing or able to cut their consumption proportionately. One reason was the low substitutability of fossil fuel. Automobiles did not run on solar energy and aeroplanes could not be plugged to electric

The other reason why OPEC was so successful in reaping maximum profits was the increase of OPEC's share of total world oil in Vienna during 1973, OPEC raised prices output, from about 20 percent of total world Commentary SHEIKH FAISAL RAZZAQ Collegian Columnist output in the early 1940s to about 70 percent by 1973.

he third reason for the astounding success of OPEC was its competitors failure to increase their output. The increase in quantity supplied by the non-OPEC countries was less than the proportionate increase in oil prices. OPEC's competitors were unable to increase production from existing wells at short notice and thought it would be impractical to explore and drill new wells.

But this is 1988.

Today, the world demand for petroleum is certainly more elastic than in the 1973-80 period. Thanks to increasing use of nuclear power plants and other alternative energy sources. Although automobiles still don't have solar cells, they are more fuel efficient. And, although aeroplanes still cannot be connected to electrical outlets, the electricity generated by nuclear energy plants now is being used to run train engines.

Also, America has become less dependent on OPEC oil in recent years. In 1970, the United States imported 222 million barrels of crude oil from OPEC countries. This represented 46 percent of the total $483 million barrels of crude oil imported by the United States that year.

In 1980, this percentage was up by 27.4 percent to 73.4 percent of total imports. By 1986, however, the percentage dropped to 50.6 percent, with the United States importing 771 million barrels from OPEC countries out of a total 1.5 billion barrels.

The net U.S. imports of petroleum from all sources, as a percent of apparent consumption, has declined from 37 percent in 1980 to 29 percent in 1985. The United States had decreased its reliance on imported oil.

In today's age of advanced technology, OPEC's competitors are better able to increase supply of petroleum when necessary. Advanced exploring and drilling techniques, such as drilling undersea, have enabled non-OPEC countries to increase oil production.

Apart from these reasons, there are political and other economic reasons which are likely to erode the impact of OPEC on future oil prices. Although Iran and Iraq were two of the founding fathers of OPEC, they are no longer brothers or even friends. In the crude oil market, which approximates an oligopoly, there is an immense need for trust among the members of the cartel. But today, violations of production quotas are the order of the day. This has led to a sharp plunge in oil prices. from $18 per barrel last year to $12 per barrel

The current OPEC meeting is another attempt on the part of OPEC countries to reach an acceptable production accord. The odds were against reaching an accord when I heard the last reports. But who cares?

ven if an agreement is reached, considering the prevailing circumstances, the chances that production quotas will be strictly followed seem quite remote. So a $2- to $4-increase in crude oil prices, which analysts are predicting as a result of the accord, is likely to be a temporary phenomenon.

This is not to say that an energy crisis like the one in the 1970s is not possible again. But it surely won't be as a result of OPEC actions. It would rather be as a result of exhaustion of oil resources.

Since the OPEC cartel is crumbling, it may consider redefining its objectives. Maybe OPEC should try to restrict oil production for conservation of petroleum resources rather than for maximizing oil prices. Low production in pursuit of conservation will produce high prices, which will hopefully cause a decrease in energy consumption as it did in the 1970s. Redefining the objective would not necessarily lead to optimal and stable oil prices, but at the very least it would improve the image of OPEC.

Money for Stealth could be better used

On Nov. 22, the Air Force unveiled its most expensive and sophisticated plane — the Stealth bomber.

One of these top-secret weapons costs $450 million to build. The defense department plans to build a fleet of 138 planes. These planes are too expensive and will hinder growth and repair of existing weapons. The United States needs to upgrade and replace existing bombers and land-based missiles that have become obsolete.

The fleet is already over budget by about 18 percent and will halt the production and maintenance of other defense weapons. The budget for 132 Stealth bombers is an estimated $60 billion for 1990. The original cost estimate was $36.6 billion in 1981. The Stealth, also called the B-2, is designed to escape enemy detection by slipping through radar waves. The plane will be used to destroy Soviet mobile missles and their command center in retaliation of an attack.

The air force should be spending the money to repair and replace outdated missiles, planes and other obsolete defensive weapons that could be used to protect this country in a nuclear attack.

The Federation of American Scientists told the Washington Post that a Stealth Fleet would provoke the Soviets to deploy more mobile missiles. These, in turn, could destroy the satellites that the B-2s' need for navigation and aiming. This possibility alone makes the Stealth Fleet useless before it can even be deployed.

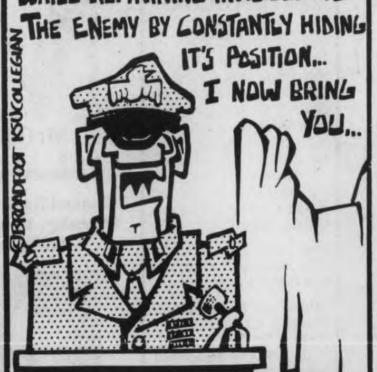

The Union of Concerned Scientists told the Kansas City Times that Soviet air defense can detect the planes from its satellites. The Union also argues that the Stealth would defeat arms control negotiations with the Soviets.

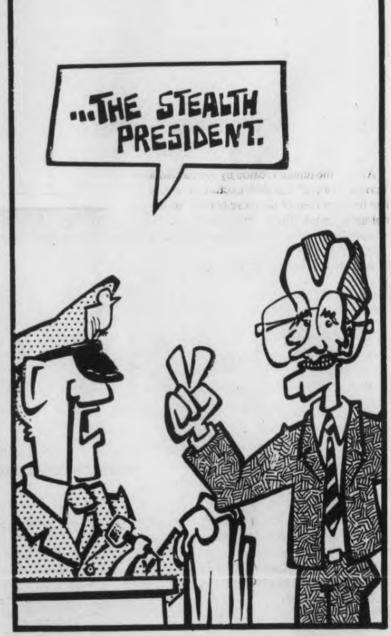

This deterrent weapon is too expensive and the fleet won't be complete for almost 10 years. In another decade, the Soviets could deploy other satellites to destroy the bombers, as well as have the technology to detect them in flight. So much for America's top-secret plane.

The Stealth fleet should not be built. These billions could be better used in repairing and replacing defensive weapons to protect this country and not be wasted on a bomber that is outdated before it takes off.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

LADIES AND GENTLEMAN ... IT IS MY PLEASURE TO UNVEIL OUR LATEST TOP SECRET TECHNOLOGY, ALTHOUGH THIS PROJECT HAS BEEN KEPT UNDER WRAPS FOR EIGHT YEARS ... WE CAN NOW CONFIRM THAT IT IS ABLE TO OPERATE AT LOW-LEVELS WHILE REMAINING INVISIBLE TO

Many positions still available for students interested in SGA

ere's the deal. It's 1:30 in the morning. Letterman is over. My friends are in bed. I still can't figure out how to start my column. The Union janitor just emptied the trash in my office. I know it's going to be a great day

I have to get people excited about student government, but how do you convince someone to get involved? Senate needs a lot of fired up students to serve on committees and as interns for the new year. I wonder if I could convince the administration to give away electric blankets to everyone who filled out an application? But they don't make purple electric blankets, do they?

I bet there are a bunch of people who think it's too late to do anything in student government. They're saying, "Elections are over, aren't they?" I have to let them know about all of the potential for involvement. For example, there is the Finance Committee. It makes recommendation on any money Senate allocates. That is more than a quarter of a million dollars a year. Then there's Senate Operations Committee. It supervises elections, interns and selection of paid personnel for student-funded groups. It also looks over proposed legislation to make sure it fits Senate guidelines.

It's now 2 a.m., my coffee's cold and I still haven't come up with a catchy way to start my column.

Commentary TODD JOHNSON Guest Columnist

Well, back to committees. Academic Affairs and University Relations Committee deals with advising, faculty evaluations, academic grievances and library funding.

Student Affairs and Social Services is certainly a "catch-all" committee. Who knows what controversial issues, such as Lafene and athletic fees, it will get to work with this year. tudents on the Legislative Affairs Committee get to do interesting things like lobby in Topeka and organize the K-State High School Leadership Conference. This committee always gets in on the Aggieville riots, also.

I wish I already had the Communications Committee appointed, because its members could be here at 2:30 in the morning helping me figure out how to start my column. It's their job to get the word out about Student Senate and its activities.

nterns are definitely an important part of Student Senate. They help senators research issues and student opinions. Interns can speak on the Senate floor but they don't have voting privileges. The Department of Speech also offers two hours of credit Seriously, if you are interested in being a chairperson or a member of one of the above standing committees, or if you'd like to be an intern, stop by the Student Governing Services office on the ground floor of the Union. There are several people in the SGS office who you can consult for more information about committees or interns. Pick up an application, fill it out and return it to the office by 5 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 7.

If you are concerned about the issues that will be facing students this year, get involved in some aspect of student government. It's a great way to assure that you're represented in your government.

If you have decided not to get very involved in student government, you still need to let us know how you feel about issues. Stop by the SGS office and talk to your senators, or call them on the Senate Hotline at 532-7777. We need your input to be

Editor's Note: Todd Johnson, junior in agronomy, is the newly elected Student Senate

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR pertaining to matters of public interest are encouraged. Letters should be kept as brief as possible. All letters are subject to editing on the basis of space and style considerations.

Send submissions to the Collegian in Kedzie 103.

OpEd

Kansas State Collegian OpEd ■ Wednesday, November 30, 1988

Letters

The state of the s

Help storm victims

Editor,

Five weeks ago, Hurricane Joan left one in 10 Nicaraguans homeless, destroyed more than 600 schools and 20 hospitals, and inflicted major damage on vital export crops. This disaster has greatly increased the misery of a country already suffering from the U.S. economic embargo and seven years of U.S.-sponsored Contra war.

Because the Reagan administration has refused emergency assistance to Nicaragua, churches and community groups are offering the only relief supplies coming from the United States.

The Manhattan Alliance on Central America is raising funds to send a shipment of clothing, medical equipment and construction material in mid-December. Two K-State students have volunteered to haul these supplies in a grain truck to the Nicaraguan Baptist Convention in Managua. The truck will also be donated to the emergency relief

To help finance the project, the Lonesome Houndogs, Jeb Bolan, and Dalai Lama are performing at a special benefit concert at 8 p.m. Thursday in Charly's Party Dome in Aggieville. Admission is $5.

> Mark Delbridge senior in economics

Racism concerns all

Editor,

This concerns the letter from Renee Shepard. I sympathize with you over the problem we have with racism at K-State. It is not only K-State's problem, but the world's problem. I applaud you for your "brave" effort in writing about this. This all started, however, not by people with prejudices but by people that discriminate (putting forth action).

words.

People (including you) can put a stop to beside not getting a laugh, their behavior will not be tolerated. This starts from the lowest form of racism — jokes — to the highest level of society. I hope President-elect Bush chooses not to help countries like South Africa with their apartheid system.

We even can have a say in K-State's investments. Maybe that is what Laurian Cuffy will do as student body president. Just remember you can start by telling these incongruous butts that their "off-color" jokes are unfunny and unwanted. They may not like you too much, so you choose what is more important. I would rather move into the 21st century than stay quiet. Silence could concede complacency.

> Darryl S. Martin senior in finance management

No more advertising

While making a trip to the Collegian advertising office, two different posters caught my attention. One was the "Ronnie Rebound" located above the trash can (it called for President Reagan to be the backboard of all half-court paper wad trash shots,) the other was a slam against President-elect

I have also noticed several articles that lean toward Michael Dukakis. These articles that you print are fine. You can print them and I really don't care. You have a free press.

And you don't have to like Bush or Reagan. You don't have to agree with a single thing they do or say.

But you do have to respect them. The office of President is one of the most important in the world. Who ever holds this office

To put it plainly, actions speak louder than should be respected - regardless of personal opinions of character, policies or whatever.

My company has - in the past - adverthis by letting these creatures know that tised in the Collegian. We will not continue until your paper restores respect to the U.S. government (notice I said "respect" and not 'agreement"). And I ask all other respectable business and individuals to do the same.

> Paul McDonald junior in electrical engineering

North draws 400

I've just returned from attending a conference in Phoenix. Next door to our meeting site, the "modern-day" American hero who single-handedly alerted the American people to the desperate situation in Central America, spoke on the evening of Nov. 17th.

There apparently was (quoting from the announcement taped to all the telephone poles in the area) "a dramatic videotape prepared exclusively for the people of Arizona," and "live entertainment, including the best patriotic music you've ever heard.'

But when Lt. Col. Oliver North can only draw an estimated 400 Arizonans with this kind of hoopla, I'm thinking maybe the country isn't as bad off as the recent federal election led me to believe.

On the other hand, I should point out that my wife quickly doused my daydreams about a saner America by pointing out that even with the paltry 400, North still brought in about $8,000 for his "North Defense Trust," contributions to which, by the way, are not tax deductible.

> James L. Armagost associate professor of speech

Open records are not open as they appear to be

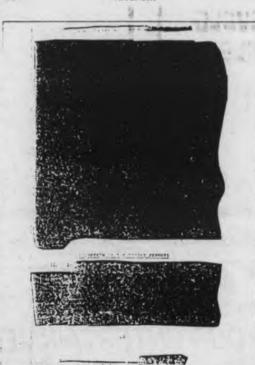

Amidst the tumult created by Ambassador Vernon Walters' Landon Lecture, I would like to correct one of the more blatant "terminological inexactitudes that should be set straight," if I might paraphrase him.

Walters stated that under the U.S. "Freedom of Information Law" (sic), "you can get any American document more than 12 years old no matter how secret it is, except for a very few exceptions."

This is absurd, as anyone who has attempted recently to do research in the National Archives will attest. The Reagan administration has consistently attempted to gut the Freedom of Information Act, and narrow its interpretation, as numerous articles in the Chronicle of Higher Education will attest. I spent part of last summer researching in the National Archives, only to be told that due to "national security" considerations, many previously open documents up to 50 years old had been re-classified.

Furthermore, many "declassified" documents that are released are sufficiently censored so as to be worthless; enclosed is an example.

In dismissing not only the Collegian, but the journals which have reported on Walter's activities in the past (such as the U.S. News and World Report, New Statesman, the New York Times and the Washington Post), Walters engages in smear tactics of his own. If such sources are slandering him, he has recourse to the courts to clear his name, as did General Westmoreland when he sued one of the networks. How odd that for all the "inex-actitudes," Walters has yet to take this step. One final thing; since Walters insists on sources, I have two to suggest. For those who are interested in the CIA and its relations to Congressional oversight (and its releasing of documents), see the House select Committee on Intelligence Report of January 19, 1976 (also known as the Pike Report). Should one wish to discuss the availability of document, the National Archives telephone number is (202) 523-3218, the CIA (703) 351-1100.

John C.K. Daly

assistant professor of history

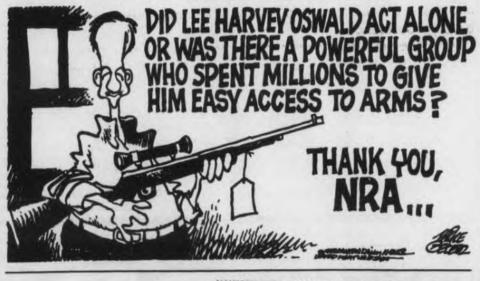

"Methinks the gentleman doth protest too much."

FERDINAND AND IMELDA PINNED DOWN IN THAT HOUSE,

Campus rape prevention should be re-examined ways. Many women are raped, causing physical and psychological consequences that can last years. Don't kid yourself. It's not just a "few" women that we're talking about here. A careful study showed that 44 percent of women have to endure rape or attempted rape sometime in their life.

But the second consequence is even more widespread, and we're seeing it at K-State now. Fear of rape can cause everything from restricted lives to a sort of mass hysteria that further disadvantages women in their quest to learn, work and grow.

We need to re-examine the fuss about campus lighting and reconsider what is an appropriate campus response to rape and the fear of rape. Most of the Collegian articles I have read recently talk openly about rumors as the source of the concern. Some students want lights in certain places because of rumors that somebody was attacked there. These same rumors are causing many women students to reconsider whether they need to go to the library or the lab at night, or women worry while they are trying to study.

We need more effective rumor control on this campus. More openness about what hap-ape hurts women in at least two pens would help. This means, first of all, that people who experience an attack should report it. Report it to the Counseling Center or the Women's Resource Center if you don't want to report it to the police. But tell somebody! This is also the first step in getting help. The University has made a commitment to help you, and it will follow through.

Our campus agencies should help more with rumor control, too. We need a central reporting procedure so we can get a more accurate picture of what's happening. The public could have more information about our community without violating privacy or confidentiality if reports are statistical or generalized.

If we had an effective central reporting system, we would quickly discover something important - if you're concerned about rape, lighting is by far not the most urgent need. If we want women students to be safe, we need to be working on something else. Even though women are sometimes attacked by strangers in dark, public places, far more rapes occur in different circumstances.

ore than 50 percent of rape survivors knew their attackers before the incident. They were "friends,"dates or acquaintances. These attacks generally occur in places such as apartments, fraternity houses, dorm rooms, cars or isolated rooms in public buildings not on dark sidewalks. If we want to help women prevent rape, the most important issue is acquaintance rape. The most important places to avoid are apartments and isolated places where you might go with a date, but where you couldn't get away or get help if you need it. Avoiding dark sidewalks, or lighting all of them, won't help much.

Rape must not be seen as some exotic event in which a crazed psycho leaps out from behind bushes while pale moonlight shines on the scene. Rape is a mundane crime. It seems to be a crime of opportunity. Somebody who has poor control of his own impulses and little respect for women finds himself with someone he can overpower in a place where he won't be interrupted or caught.

he more we focus on stranger rape and on campus lighting, the less energy we have as a community for the only kind of rape "prevention" that has my chance of making a change: educating women and men about acquaintance rape. Women need to know the truly dangerous places, and skills of self-assertion and selfdefense. Men need to stop regarding sex as conquest and women as targets and to know that acquaintance rape will be punished.

If we told women to avoid being alone with a man any place where they couldn't get away or get help, we'd improve their safety. But we'd also be telling them not to use escort services. Think about it. Some universities have abandoned their escort services because the "escorts" have abused their positions and become the attackers. Even if we have confidence in our escorts, however, the implied message of escorting is dangerous: It's OK to be in a dark, lonely place if you're with a

So what should we do? Leave the campus dark and cancel the escort service? I recommend these things:

Decide about lighting based on measurements of the amount of light and a University policy on the best use of facilities funds, not on rumors about attacks. We may need more lighting to prevent robberies, but let's not kid ourselves that this has anything to do with rape prevention.

Follow Stanford University's lead and turn escort services into rape elimination and education projects.

Strengthen programs to teach women effective ways to protect themselves and to help men change their attitudes toward women and sex.

Punish rapists. This involves more reporting, more investigating, better and stronger University policies and a stronger commitment from the University that women students deserve to be safe. Letting the community know that rapists are caught and punished might be the best educational campaign

Editor's Note: Sandra Coyner is the director of the Women's Studies Program.

we could devise for campus men.

qualify for forensic meet

The state of the s

By Diane Zumwalt Collegian Reporter

Three members of the forensics team have qualified to be in the American Forensics Association National Individual Events Tournament.

The AFA-NIET, scheduled for April, will be in Fargo, N. D. The competition represents the top 10 percent of collegiate competitors.

This trip will be the third trip to the national tournament for Lara Dillinger, senior in secondary education. Dillinger said the forensics competition is much like a track meet.

"To me, speaking and performing in front of an audience is the same as running a race, because it is done for a ranking," she said.

Dillinger said she enjoys traveling with the forensics team and meeting new people.

"Being on the team has given me an opportunity to compete against students from other universities, and some of my toughest competitors have become my best friends," she

Dillinger will compete in a duet event with Ted Sullivan, freshman in theater, using scenes from "To Gillian On Her 37th Birthday."

"The duo event is one of the most difficult events to compete in forensics," said Craig Brown, director of forensics. "Because of Lara's experience and enthusiasm, I feel she will represent K-State very creditably," he said. "The first two times that I competed in the AFA-NIET, I feel that I just 'went,' and I did not do as well as would have liked," Dillinger said.

Collegian Coupons— They really add up!

"This time I hope to win but it is not worth it if I am not having fun - and forensics is fun for me."

In order to qualify for the AFA-NIET, students must place in three preliminary tournaments. Dillinger and Sullivan placed first in duo in a tournament at The Wichita State University in November and Shelah Shanks, junior in arts and sciences, was second in prose. This finish, combined with results from earlier tournaments this semester, gave them the right to compete at the AFA-NIET.

"We have a good coaching staff and this, in combination with other team members' skills and enthusiasm, makes forensics a good learning experience as well as fun," Dillinger said.

Collegian advertising has what you need

Zoo admission fee considered during commission session

By The Collegian Staff

The Manhattan City Commis-sion received a request from the Department of Parks and Recreation at a work session Tuesday to consider instituting an admission fee for Sunset Zoo.

Ron Fehr, assistant director of parks and recreation, said the recommended admission fee would be 75 cents for ages three through 12 and $1.75 for ages 13

"The admissions fee money would generate revenue for 200 renovations," Fehr said.

A random telephone survey was conducted by Cynthia Frazier, K-State associate professor of mark-eting, to get feedback on establish-ing an admission fee to the zoo, Fehr said.

"The survey included Manhattan, Junction City and Fort Riley residents," Frazier said. "People in this community feel it would be reasonable to have a zoo fee."

Frazier said 67 to 77 percent of Manhattan residents thought an admission fee was reasonable, with 70 to 80 percent of the Junction City and Fort Riley residents

In addition to the random telephone survey, an in-house survey for 200 visitors was conducted on three separate days," Fehr said.

Of the out-of-town visitors surveyed, 74 percent thought it was reasonable to charge an admission. Of the Manhattan residents visiting the zoo, 66 percent thought it was reasonable, Fehr said.

"Only 3 percent said they would not visit the zoo if it was not free,"

Collegian Classified Advertising

CLASSIFIED AD FORMS

Write your ad in the form provided below, and mail it in, along with the correct payment, to STUDENT PUBLICATIONS, INC., KEDZIE HALL, ROOM 103, KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506. You can also stop by Kedzie 103 to place your ad or call 532-6555. Student Publications now accepts MasterCard and Visa. (Minimum charge of $5.) The DEADLINE for Classified Ads is NOON the day before publication; NOON Friday for Monday's publication. Deadline for cancellation is NOON the day before publication.

CLASSIFIED AD POLICY

- Only the FIRST TWO words of each ad will be in all caps; all other words will be in caps/lower, except initials.
- No abbreviations, please.

Date ad begins

Total days in paper

- * No last names or phone numbers will be printed in the Personals section.
- Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the advertiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not alter the value of the ad.

Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103 or by calling 532-6555. * If mailed ads do not arrive by the Noon deadline, they will be placed in the next day's paper. * Ads which are incorrectly calculated will be run only for amount paid * The Collegian reserves the right to edit or reject any advertisement at any time. Classified Ad Rates Classified Categories Words/Day 1-15 3.50 3.75 4.00 4.25 4.50 4.75 5.00 5.25 5.50 5.75 6.00 6.25 6.50 6.75 4.75 5.10 5.45 5.80 6.15 6.50 6.85 7.20 7.55 7.90 8.25 8.60 8.96 9.30 9.65 10.00 5.00 5.40 5.80 6.20 6.60 7.00 7.40 7.80 8.20 8.60 9.00 9.40 9.80 10.20 02 Apartments for Rent-Furnished 16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale 2.70 03 Apartments for Rent-Unfurnished 17 Musical Instruments 4.85 5.15 5.45 5.75 6.05 6.35 6.65 6.95 7.25 7.85 8.15 8.45 8.75 04 Automobiles for Sale 18 Personals 3.30 3.50 3.70 05 Automobile Rentals 19 Pets and Pet Supplies 06 Card of Thanks 20 Professional Services 3.90 4.10 4.30 4.50 4.70 21 Rentals 07 Child Care 08 Computers 22 Resume/Typing Services 23 Roommate Wanted 09 Employment 10 Financial Services 24 Situation Wanted 11 Garage and Yard Sales 25 Sporting/Recreational Equipment 12 Houses and Mobile Homes for Rent 26 Sublease 13 Houses and Mobile Hornes for Sale 27 Welcome 14 Lost and Found 28 Other Over 30 words ----- Classifled Mail Order Form --Name Student ID # Address

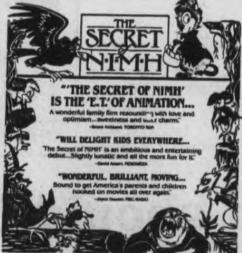

Junistinus Giis For the Traveler Alarm Clocks Money Belts Converters reg *18.95 reg *18.50 Park Floral 1300 SALE $175.00 Christian Dior MANY MORE ITEMS ON SALE Travel Books, Cards, travel tapes, Travel Flasks and lots of gift items! RAVEL STORE and

JNION PROGRAM COUNCIL YOUR ENTERTAINMENT ALTERNATIVE

Category

Friday December 2, 7 and 9:30 p.m. Saturday December 3, 7 and 9:30 p.m., Union Forum Hall. Admission $1.75, KSU ID Required

Saturday December 3, 2 p.m. & Sunday, December 4, 2 & 7 p.m., Union Forum Hall, Admission $1.50, KSU ID Required

This animated tale centers on Mrs. Brisby, a widowed field mouse, and efforts to protect her children and save her home. With help from a crow named Jerry, she's able to save her home.

957 Seth Child Village Plaza Shopping Center • 539-0531

A movie from Bill Forsyth that critics and audiences have been raving about. It concerns a rich old oil man, a young oil man, a village that wants to get rich and an old man who doesn't.

Today 7:30 p.m. Union Forum Hall, Thursday 3:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Union Little Theatre. Admission $1.75, KSU ID Required.

Whentate union

UPC Eclectic Entertainment Presents:

Performing today at Wednesday Noon Live:

Byron Jensen and Dahl Carmichael playing guitar and singing for your enjoyment.

DO YOU LIKE KANSAS CITY? DO YOU LIKE TO SHOP UNTIL YOU DROP?

Then join UPC Travel on their K.C. Christmas shopping trip! We will be stopping at fabulous Oak Park Mall for a few hours of shopping. Then it's on to the famous Country Club Plaza for MORE shopping while you enjoy the beautiful Plaza lights and really get into the spirit!

December 3, 1988. Cost $11 (includes transportation)

> Sign up TODAY! Activities Center 3rd floor of the Union, 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

Let's Talk About ... K-State Basketball

Lon Kruger and members of the KSU Basketball Team will be in the Union Courtyard, Tomorrow at noon! Get psyched for the upcoming season!

Stress management solutions discussed

By Heather Huntington Collegian Reporter

With the exception of the death of a family member or problems with the law, tests and finals cause the greatest amount of stress for students, said David Ramsey. leadership coordinator in the office of the dean of student life.

Ramsey participated in a stress management seminar Tuesday in the Union Big 8 Room, where four basic ways to effectively manage stress were discussed.

Any type of exercise is good as long as it uses energy and is done for 20 to 30 minutes three to four times a week.

Sleep is the one time the body has to fully relax and meditate. Students should try to sleep for 71/2 hours each night instead of eight. Sleep cycles last about 90 minutes, and it's easier to wake up if the sleep cycle isn't interrupted.

Biofeedback is a performance enhancement service which measures the body's biological reactions to stressful situations. This service is available through campus counselors.

There is no reason to shy away from counseling. The people who work in the counseling center are on campus for the purpose of helping students deal with stressful situations.

A THE PERSON OF STREET OF RESTREET

Overload of activities is another problem most students

To help deal with activityoverload, Ramsey said he suggests using time wisely, making lists, setting priorities and saying no to some activities.

"You can't manage time. You have to manage yourself," he said. It's important to leave time for the things you want to do, he said.

"Don't let the urgent things get in the way of the important things," he said.

"One way students directly affect the amount of stress they are going to have to deal with is when they make out their class schedules for the semester," said Brad Kintzle, senior in milling science and management.

"(Students) often keep everything bottled up inside of them. They have to learn that even people they admire have failed and have learned to deal with it,"

-Wed. & Thurs. Only-Dinner $2.99 Chef

Dance teacher promises success

By Amy Bullock Collegian Reporter

"I can teach anyone to swing dance. I guarantee success," says Mary Howell.

Howell, who is working on her masters degree in adult education, has been teaching swing dance lessons since 1981. In the last eight years, she has seen the number of swing dance enthusiasts increase during the years.

"I had a large amount of people wanting to learn how to swing dance around the time the movie 'Urban Cowboy' came out. It tapered off a little for a while and for the past several years the interest has increased. I'm having to split classes up because I've got so many people," she said.

The lessons are held at The Ranch Saloon on Monday nights, 8:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. During that time, the bar is filled with about 35 couples learning the basic dance steps for various country music songs.

THE SCECREAM

· A variety of delicious flavors

537-7079

New shipment of Holiday Cannisters

FREE local delivery & we ship UPS

BOCIAL

good old-fashioned

POPCORN

A Treat To Please...

anyone on your list

1429 Anderson

South of McCair

For years now, college students have joined the ranks of those who enjoy learning how to two- and four-step.

"I've always had college students closed a few years ago, about 80 percent of the students I teach are college-age," Howell said.

When Mark Mullen was a freshman, he saw his friends swing dancing at a barn party. Mullen, now a senior in mechanical engineering, is taking swing dance lessons.

"I always wanted to take lessons. I thought it looked really fun," he said.

The appeal of swing dancing for Mullen is the constant movement and variety of beats, rather than the same monotonous beat of contemporary

According to Howell, swing dancing is not dictated by any one beat. There is a variety of music I use with different beats when I teach," she said. "If a class wants to learn something using a faster beat to util-

THE NEXT BEST THING TO BEING THERE THIS HOLIDAY SEASON SEND A VIDEO TAPE TO FAMILY AND FRIENDS

CHRISTMAS

537-4735 P.O. BOX 147

ize a faster step, then that is what I'll teach."

All the individuals start out at the same level — that of a beginner.

Mullen stresses that choosing a good partner can be a contributing factor to the success of swing dancing. Howell also suggests picking a partner who is confident enough to

"Swing dancing relies a lot on the following of your partner, so you want to have a partner who is confident and enthusiastic," she said.

"It is a lot of fun and great exercise. After swing dancing for over an hour, you've worked up a pretty good sweat," Mullen said.

For Howell, seeing her students master the techniques of swing dancing provides her with the satisfaction to continue teaching year after year.

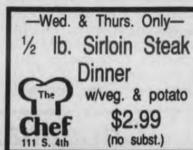

"If I can get someone out here one time for a lesson, I can keep them here and have them coming back week after week until they learn. I feel I can teach anyone to swing dance - even the most reluctant person," she said.

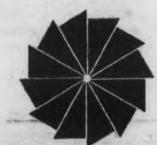

Closed Classes

							-
00060		07610	11420	13410	15350	19400	21230	24300	25770	26990	32040	33600	36500
00090	35623	07620	11440	13680	15370	19610	21250		25780	27110	32370	33680	36550
00250		07630	11450	13690	15380	19020			25790	27400	32440	33700	36560
00950	25660	07780	11440	13710	15410	19660			25800	27460	32580	33770	36620
01000	05670	08040	11441	13740	15420	19680	21280	24680	25820	27470	32680	33780	37050
01090	05700	08120	11470	13760	15430	19490	21310	24690	25870	29410	32690	33800	37040
01150	25742	08130		13770	15440	19720	21360	24740	25880	29430	32710	33830	37070
01170	05760	08180	11490	13780	15450	19730	21380	24750	25920	29440	32740	33850	37080
01410	05790	08300	11500	13890	15470	19740	21400	24760	25960	29450	32750	33930	37090
01540	25800	08410	11510	13900	15480	19750	21450	24770	25990	29470	32760	33970	37100
01990	35810	08440	11520	13970	16520	19820	21460	24850	26000	29480	32770	33990	37140
02000	05820	04500	11550	13980	14530	19830	21470	24860	26010	29490	32780	34000	37330
02010	05830	04510	11601	13990	14540	19850	21490	24870	26070	29540	32790	34010	37520
02080	05840	08770	11620	14000	16550	19860	21500	24880	26080	29560	32800	34040	37600
02140	35850	08780	11430	14050	165 60	19870	21510	24900	26090	29670	32810	34060	37720
02390	05070	08790	11640	14060	10570	19880	21840	25030	26100	29700	32820	34120	37840
02460	05880	08800	11650	14080	16580	19950	22300	25040			32830		37940
02470	05900	08910	11660	14150	16620	19960			26110	29710		34300	38050
02510	25912	09110	11670	14220	10090	19970	22550	25 050	26160	29720	32840	34310	38070
02590	05920	09140	11660	14270		20080	22630	25060	26220	29730	32850	34340	30070
02660	05930	09250	11710		16710		22640	25070	26270	29750	32860	34350
02460	35940	09400	11720	14340	17340	20090	22650	25680	26271	29760	32870	34420
03150	35980	09490			17110	20100	22660	25120	26400	29770	32970	34530
	24080		11730	14420	17120	20360	22670	251 30	26410	29780	32990	34540
03170	06130	09520	11750	14530	17210	20370	22680	25140	26430	29790	33010	34570
03400			11800	14560	17270	20380	22690	25150	26440	29820	33040	34630
	04390	09540	11610	14570	17280	20400	22700	25160	26450	29840	3 30 50	34640
03870	26530	09440	11850	14410	17290	20410	22720	251.70	26470	29860	33060	34890
03880	36543	09660	11840	14440	17300	20420	22730	25180	26480	29870	33080	34940
03900	06580	09690	11870	14480	17340	20430	22740	251 90	26490	29890	33090	35210
03950	06610	09830	11880	14780	17380	20440	23080	25 2 20	26540	29990	33100	35211
03 97 0	06620	10240	11940	14790	17740	20450	23120	25 230	26600	31120	33110	35300
03980	3 6643	10250	11980	14890	17820	204 70	23380	25240	26610	31130	33150	35310
04020	06650	10290	11990	14940	17830	20540	23450	25260	26620	31140	33130	35370
04030	04670	10300	12190	14950	17840	23620	23480	25 270	26630	31190	33140	35380
04040	36690	10310	15510	14970	17850	20630	23720	25310	26650	31220	33150	35410
04050	34900	10840	12220	14980	17870	20640	23730	25620	26670	31 230	33160	35440
04360	36933	10920	12230	14990	17880	20740	23740	25630	26680	31330	33170	35470
04070	04940	11230	12440	15000	17890	20810	23760	25640	26710	31370	33180	35700
04080	06950	11540	12450	15010	17900	20840	23890	25650	26720	31750	33190	35730
04090	00900	11250	12590	15040	179 30	20850	23910	25000	26730	31760	33200	35770
04130	36973	11260	12600	15050	18970	20950	23920	25670	26760	31770	33210	35930
04240	07020	11270	12620	15070	18990	21000	23950	25680	26770	31810	33220	36300
04450	07080	11580	12630	15080	19010	21010	24010	25690	26840	31820	33290	36310
04490	27090	11320	12640	15100	19030	21.020	24020	25700	26890	31840	33320	36320
04520	37170	11330	13070	15110	191 30	21 030	24040	25710	26900	31930	33330	36330
04580	07250	11340	13210	15180	19150	21100	24150	25720	26920	31910	33340	34340
04800	07240	11350	13240	15220	19490	21130	24220	25730	26930	31970	33430	36350
05170	27392	11340	13310	15250	19510	21140	24230	25740	26940	32000	33570	36360
05510	37580	11370	13340	15330	19520	21170	24240	25750	26950	32010	33580	36370
05580	07600	11380	13370	15340	19570	21 220	24260	25760	26980	32030	33590	36480
05560	0 7600	11380	13370	15340	145 10	21 220	24260	25760	26980	32030	33590	36480

Ramsey said. -Wed. & Thurs. Only-CHICKEN FRIED Steak Dinner w/veg. & potato $2.99 Chef (no subst.)

Worried about the high cost of a college education? Let us help

Peoples Heritage

Federal Savings

2710 Anderson Manhattan, KS 66502

We offer Stafford Loans (formerly Guaranteed Student Loans), Parent Loans for undergraduate students, and Supplemental Loans for students.

> Call Kristen or Nancy at 537-0550 or come by 2710 Anderson.

19 branches across the state to better serve your needs.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

THE MORE YOU USE YOUR HEAD,

Enroll in Army ROTC as a college elective and serve part-time in the Army Reserve or National Guard, and you can get as much as $4000 a year for college. That includes your Guard or Reserve pay, the GI Bill and up to a $1000 grant from ROTC.

Add it all up, and you'll graduate with a ge degree plus an Army Officer's on. And all you have to do is use

Add success to your spring schedule! MSCI 105, Military Leadership. For more information, contact Army ROTC at 532-6754.

Featuring a variety of gifts at bargain prices.

November 29 thru December 2 Tuesday-Friday 8:30am-4:30pm Union Ballrooms KSU

Look for your discount certificate through University mail.

A K-State Union Bookstore Event

Mitchell Senate majority leader

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - George Mitchell of Maine was elected Senate majority leader on Tuesday by Democrats seeking a forceful new spokesman during yet another Republican reign at the White House, and he quickly promised George Bush his initiatives will be met with "interest and enthusiasm."

Mitchell, a 55-year-old former to federal judge, easily defeated Sens. T Bennett Johnston of Louisiana and Daniel Inouye of Hawaii. He succeeds Robert C. Byrd of West Vir-President-elect Dan Quayle, as well ginia, who stepped aside after 12 as President Reagan.

years as the Senate's Democratic

Asked if he would cooperate with Bush, Mitchell said he plans to meet soon with the president-elect and "We hope to move forward on a broad range of issues," including the federal deficit, health care, day care and the environment.

Mitchell also planned to meet
Wednesday with Sen. Bob Dole of Kansas, re-elected by Republicans to a third term as their leader earlier Tuesday.
Mitchell received congratulatory calls from Bush and Vice nterest and enthusiasm the proposals of the next administration,"

Mitchell, who was just elected to his second term in the Senate, has a liberal voting record but promised "to work with all the Democrats in developing a broad agenda."

Within minutes of his election, Mitchell emerged from the party caucus in the historic old Senate chamber of the Capitol to meet with reporters. Quickly turning aside suggestions he would be a partisan fighter, he said, "We hope to coop-erate with the new administration to deal with the serious problems and spoke into the microphone.

The Democrats await with important challenges facing our Mitchell fell only one vote short of winning the Democratic leadership post on the first ballot, picking up 27 votes. Inouye and Johnston tied for second at 14 votes each, and quickly agreed to give Mitchell a unanimous victory.

Perhaps Mitchell's greatest claim to public fame was his performance last year during the Iran-Contra hearings. In a quiet but nationally televised confrontation with Lt. Col. Oliver North, who had testified with great patriotic fervor, Mitchell looked at the witness and

Assembly urges U.S. to grant Arafat visa

By The Associated Press

commende the state of the first form

UNITED NATIONS - The General Assembly's legal committee voted 121-2 Tuesday night to ask the State Department to grant PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat a U.S. visa. Only the United States and Israel were opposed.

It was an indication of how lopsided the vote is likely to be today when the 159-member General Assembly takes up the Arabsponsored resolution deploring U.S. denial of a visa to Arafat so he can address the assembly at U.N. headquarters in New York.

In denying the visa on Saturday, the State Department said Arafat had condoned acts of terrorism committed by the Palestine Liberation Organization. On Tuesday it said its rejection was final.

All U.N. member nations are represented on the legal committee, but not all were present for the vote Tuesday night.

U.N. officials, meanwhile, began calculating the cost of the unprecedented step of moving the General Assembly to Geneva to hear Arafat speak on the Palestinian problem and Middle East issues. One source suggested it could run around $150,000.

Arab diplomats, speaking on condition of anonymity, said they have enough votes to reconvene the General Assembly in Geneva. They said the session probably would be in the week of Dec. 12-16, with Dec. 13-14 the likely dates.

Most nations were expected to assign their Geneva ambassadors to the session and nations would bear the cost of their own travel, diplo-

The General Assembly on Tuesday delayed its annual debate on the Palestinian problem, originally scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Dec. 6, to permit arrangements for Arafat to speak elsewhere.

The U.S. rejection of a visa set off an international uproar and demands that Arafat be allowed to speak.

If U.S. authorities reject the resolution to reconsider, as is expected, the next step will be a second resolution later this week seeking to move the assembly to Geneva.

Backstage deliberations sponsored by the British failed to remove harsh language from the first resolution. It says America is in "violation" of the host country agreement and "deplores" the failure to grant Arafat a visa.

Under the 1947 U.S.-U.N. Headquarters Agreement, the United States pledges not to impede the travel or work of U.N. diplomats or guests. The PLO holds non-voting observer status at the United Nations and is an honored invitee.

It is considered the sole, legitimate representative of the Palestinian people and is invited to speak in all such

In Washington, Secretary of State George P. Shultz said the strong opposition to his decision to bar Arafat shows that people are forgetting what a threat international terrorism

Nuclear weapons plant halts production

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The only U.S. plant which makes a critical component of nuclear weapons won't be able to resume production until at least next spring or summer because of persistent safety concerns, Energy Secretary John S. Herrington said

Just last month, Energy Department officials said their Savannah River Plant, near Aiken, S. C., would begin a phased restart of its K reactor in December, and that it could resume production of tritium in January. None of the three reactors at Savannah River has produced weapons material since last April.

"We are hoping to start (the K reactor) in the spring, summer," Herrington said in an interview with The Associated Press. "We are not going to start up or operate a reactor that we are not satisfied is totally safe."

Since October, engineers with the Energy Department and the operating contractor, the E.I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., have been developing much more stringent operating and safety criteria.

"We're not slipping. We are using more caution, OK?" Herrington said in the interview.

"I am satisfied with the progress. I think our start-up criteria, our modifications and our upgrade are proceeding well. I do not want to put a predicted date on the start-up," said Herrington.

The three reactors at Savannah River are the only operational facilities in the United States capable of producing two critical nuclear weapons materials, tritium and plutonium. Herrington has told Congress that the United States is "awash" in plutonium.

Tritium decays at the rate of 5.5 percent per year and administration and congressional sources say stockpiles will be depleted badly within six months to two years, although the exact numbers are classified. Tritium, a radioactive isotope of hydrogen, is used to boost the yield of nuclear weapons.

Asked when tritium would be in critical short supply, Herrington said: "I think we are OK with spring and summer," but declined to give an

Herrington listed these new safety measures for Savannah River:

Requiring the shift superviser to have an engineering degree. Officials at Savannah River say that nine out of the 12 shift supervisers hold degrees, and the gap can be closed by reassigning engineers from other

Adding more technical support on each shift.

■ Using a five-shift rotation for key operations workers, one more shift than before, freeing an entire shift for training at any given time. This will double the hours each shift spends per year on a computer simulator;

Increase Energy Department headquarters oversight and approval of key start-up procedures.

WASTE TIME W You won't have to with an NEC Silentwriter™ LC890 desktop publishing printer. Its extra memory puts information together faster. So you'll save minutes on every page.

It features the powerful PostScript' page description language allowing you to layout the most sophisticated text and graphics imaginable. If you don't need all this pizazz, check out our other two Silentwriters. No matter which one you choose, you won't waste time with breakdowns. They all have an average life of 600,000 pages—more than twice as much as So if you want to get the most out of desktop publishing, don't waste time with other printers. Connecting Point. 333

IBM & MAC COMPATIBLE

Manhattan 1115 Westloop Shop. Ctr. 539-0801

NEC PRINTERS THEY ONLY STOP WHEN YOU WANT THEM T

for

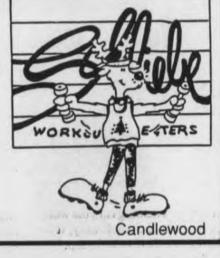

Exp. Dec. 31

Get 10 tans for $20

E-STERS

776-1750

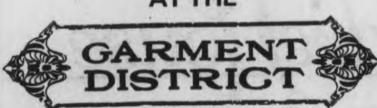

3236 Kimball

INVESTMENT DRESSING AT AN AFFORDABLE PRICE

-WOMEN'S, JUNIORS' & PLUS-SIZES-NAME BRANDS SOLD ELSEWHERE FOR $14-$60

AT THE

323 Poyntz NEW SHIPMENTS ARRIVE DAILY!!

OPEN SUN. 1-5

COLLEGIAN KANSAS STATE Journalism experience Applications available for Collegian staffs hands on in Kedzie

offered in Kedzie

Collegian applications due Friday, Dec. 2

Variety of positions open for a variety of people THE RESIDENCE AND THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF THE PARTY

NEED TO GET YOUR MESSAGE OUT?

Selling your bicycle?

Need a job?

Buying a sofa?

Need a roommate?

Kedzie 103

Phone 532-6555

Deadline-noon the day before publication

Now Taking Applications for Spring Collegian:

News Staff-Campus Editor (2) Managing Editor News Editor Arts and Entertainment Editor Editorial Page Editor Feature Editor Government Editor Photo Editor Sports Editor Science/Health Editor City Editor Staff Assistant Copy Editor (4) Graphic Artist Staff Writer (7) Sports Writer (4) Sports Columnist (4) Business Writer Reviewer (3)

Columnist (5) Cartoonist

Advertising Staff— Assistant Advertising Manager Campus/Tearsheet Representative Sales Representative (6) Graphic Artist (2)

Pick Up Your Application in Kedzie 103 NOW!

Applications due by 4 p.m. Friday, Dec. 2 in Kedzie 103.

Kansas State Collegian ■ Wednesday, November 30, 1988 ■ Page 9

Lady Cats win third straight

By Mike Rouse Sports Writer

When a team shoots only 34 percent from the field in a basketball game, it usually loses.

But that is what the K-State Lady Cats shot Tuesday night in a 54-35 victory over Missouri-Kansas City for their third straight win of the Neither team could find the bottom of the basket, as both shot less than 40 percent from the field. The Lady Kangaroos shot 24 percent from the field for the night.

"We were getting the shots all night, but just couldn't get them to fall," Lady Cats coach Maltida Mossman said. "I don't think we're that bad of shooters."

Sophomore Kristie Bahner led all scorers with 18 points, including six-

"I don't think we're that bad of shooters."

-Matilda Mossman Lady Cat coach of-six from the free throw line. Bahner also led the club with eight rebounds.

Diana Miller added 12 points for the Lady Cats, while Nadira Hazim and Mary Jo Miller both had six. UMKC was never able to get its offense going and was held 22 points below what it averaged in the Lady Kangaroos' first two games. K-State's defense forced had six blocked shots and forced UMKC to turn the ball over 24 times.

TO A STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE ABOVE OF THE

"Our defense was great tonight. We were very sound against them,' Mossman said. "We played strong in the inside tonight.'

The Kangaroos were led in scoring by JaLea Renfro, who had seven points, while UMKC's Angela Hill led both teams with 15 rebounds.

The Lady Cats seemed a bit sluggish in the first half, but Mossman accredited some of that to possible fatigue from this past weekend's McCall Pattern Classic.

"We got beat up pretty bad over the weekend, but we were able to come back and play fairly well tonight," Mossman said.

K-State will head to the Dial Soap Classic this weekend in Minnesota where the Lady Cats will try to extend their winning streak against Texas A&M on Friday.

NOTES — K-State starter Janet Madsen went down with an injury to her right knee Monday in practice and was unable to play Tuesday night. It is the same knee that she injured last season and she will go in for tests today to find out the exact extent of the injury. If surgery is needed, it could be done as soon as Friday and Madsen would then receive a redshirt year, giving her an extra year of eligibility.

Staff/Greg Voge

Maryann Mitts and JaLea Renfro (34) Tuesday evening in Bramlage

Lady Cat guard Mary Jo Miller goes in between Lady Kangaroos Coliseum. K-State went on to defeat UMKC 54-35 for its third consecutive victory. UMKC fell to 0-3 on the year.

have been leaked intentionally Snyder rumors may

Denials from athletic department officials aside, it appears that Bill Snyder will be announced this morning as K-State's new head football coach. If Snyder's naming isn't the worstkept secret in K-State history, it has to be right up there near the top. Usually, these things don't leak out until around the night before the morning press conference, but this time the news began to spread nearly 48 hours before anything official would be

If the leak on the search committee was intentional, it makes good sense. Before it's all over, K-State will be on the front pages of newspapers all over the area for four straight days. Not bad for a football program that hasn't won in two years.

The one person the leak may have harmed is President Jon Wefald, the victim of an assault at the hands of Marlan E. Ray of Clay Center. Ray was reportedly a wee bit upset about the choice of Snyder. All I know is that Ray is pretty darned lucky that Toughy, the Wefalds' attack poodle, didn't get hold of him.

Objections from Ray aside, Snyder appears to have almost exactly the type of credentials Athletic Director Steve Miller was looking for in a coach when the search began in early October. Snyder, a assistant coach at Mid-Week Commentary

TOM PERRIN Sports Columnist

the University of Iowa, comes from a winning program in a major conference.

Early on, Miller had hoped he could get someone with K-State connections, but that quality was secondary to finding someone with a winning background at the top level of college football. In Snyder, K-State gets a person who has been a coach for a school that's been to a bowl game every year in recent memory.

For ten years, Snyder has been Iowa's offensive coordinator, coaching a number of players who have gone on to pro careers, such as Detroit Lions' quarterback Chuck Long.

Not only have Iowa's offenses traditionally been successful, they have done so by putting a major emphasis on the passing game. If K-State is going to ever be anywhere

'Cats do things differently than other Big Eight Conference teams. Curbesides K-State and Kansas could be considered truly pass-oriented.

If K-State could somehow develop an effective passing attack, perhaps the 'Cats could give the conference's top teams a run someday. To think the 'Cats will any time in the near ruture be able to run the football as unrealistic. building upon the work former head America.'

near average, it will be because the coach Stan Parrish has done in establishing the passing game.

K-Staters had also better hope that rently, no teams in the Big Eight Snyder won't get carried away and make a long list of promises that he probably can't keep. It practically always takes at least four years, and usually five or more, for programs to turn the corner under new coaches.

But just as Snyder's early expectations need to be realistic, so too must be the expectations of the a well as Nebraska, Oklahoma, Okla- tion and the public. Only through an homa State or Colorado is open, mutually supportive atmosphere will Wildcat football every be By committing to Snyder, K-State able to shake the label of the "losingis apparently committing itself to est college football program in

Sports Briefly

mith named all-academic

K-State defensive tackle Alan Smith has been named to the strict 7 academic all-America team. The squad is picked by ers of the College Sports Information Directors of Ameri-

Smith, a senior from Farmers Branch, Texas, will now appear to the national ballot for the academic all-America team. Smith one of five Big Eight players on the District 7 squad. The ther four representatives are from Nebraska. Smith transferred to K-State after Wichita State dropped its otball program. He registered 26 tackles on the season, cluding eight solos. He also troke up a pass and recovered a fumble. Smith missed the final two games of the season ith a knee injury.

A pair of K-State juniors have been named to the Football lews all-America honorable mention team. Wide receiver Greg Vashington and linebacker/defensive back Erick Harper were out tabbed for the squad.

Blue-Gray Bowl picks Porter

Mark Porter, who broke the K-State record the longest field not with a 61-yarder against Nebraska this year and also tied to Wildcat career mark for field goals with 37, has been wited play in the Blue-Gray Aff-Star Classic Dec. 24, in fontgomery, Ala.

rde's Thomas wins But aus

ORLANDO, Fla. — Alabama's slashing play-breaker Derrick Thomas nosed out his buddy. Broderick Thomas of Nebraska, a win the fourth annual Butkus Award Tuesday as the usbon's national coach Bill Curry called the 6-foot-4, 220-pound staide linebacker "one of the greatest in Alabama history." Derrick Thomas, an All-Southeast Conference performer with 2 sacks, said he realized he was following in the footsteps of armer NFL star Dick Butkus, for whom the award is named. "He intimidated offenses, and I feel I can do that too," laid terrick Thomas, who is from Miami.

Vest Va., Miami differ on title

CHARLESTON, W.Va. — Any University of Miuni claim to a national championship is flawed by its loss to Notre Dame, and there's no way the Hurricanes can change that. West Virgi-a coach Don Nehlen said Tuesday.

Minul coach Jimmy Johnson said Sunday that if his team its the reat of its games and No. I Notre Dame leses to No.

West Virginia in the Figure Bowl, the Hurricanes should sucally defend their 1987 title,

Utah State visits tonight

By Chris Wilhelm

The K-State men's basketball team will get a feel for what it will be like to play in front of a true college student crowd when it meets the Utah State Aggies tonight in Bramlage

Sports Writer

K-State opened the season Saturday night with an 81-77 victory over Purdue in the first men's game played at Bramlage. However, due to the Thanksgiving holiday break, many of the students who purchased season tickets were not among the sell-out crowd.

"I'll be very interested to see what kind of difference it will make to have a true student crowd at Bram-lage," said head coach Lon Kruger. "We had a big crowd for the Purdue game and they were very loud, but the students seem to be more vocal when they pack the stands."

The Aggies should make the game exciting. They return four starters off a team that posted a 21-10 record last year and made it to the NCAA Tournament. "Utah State will be very tough," Kruger said. "They definitely have more experience than we do. We had several players step in and play key roles for us in our win against Purdue and we'll need the same type of thing against Utah State.

"We also got some excellent play from our bench. It's a real plus for us to be able to go out and play that well eight or nine deep."

their season opener were Steve Henson with 26 points; LaKeith Hum-

"Mark Dobbins, Humphrey and (Reggie) Britt all played well for us off the bench," Kruger said. "They stepped up and contributed a great deal. A good team needs to have good play from its bench and I'm happy with what I've seen so far."

The Aggies will be opening their regular season after two exhibition wins over Athletes in Action (86-84) and the Yugoslavian Belgrade Red Star team (84-82).

In the game against the Yugoslavs, The key players for the Wildcats in the Aggies hit 69 percent of their field goal attempts. Reid Newey, a senior guard, hit 7 of 8 three-point phrey, who came off the bench to shots on his way to a 29-point perforscore 17; and a host of second-team mance, while center Greg Houskeeper added 19.

> "We're showing constant improvement," said Aggie head coach Kohn Smith. "We're getting to a point where we're starting to gel better together and play better together — on both ends of the floor.

> "We have a real tough schedule this year so I expect some exciting games against some great teams. Kansas State will definitely be a good test for us."

Duke stays No. Mizzou moves up

By The Associated Press

Duke remained atop The Associated Press college basketball poll after the first major weekend of

The Blue Devils, 2-0, were No. 1 in the preseason balloting nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters and have stayed there for the first two polls of the regular season.

Oklahoma to win the eight-team tournament, which had four members of the Top Twenty in the field. Georgetown changed places with Michigan after receiving seven firstplace votes and 1.096 points.

Indians fell from the ranking after losing in two Big Apple NIT games wide panel of sports writers and	aga	inst Missouri and	MOLTH (Caronia.

broadcasters and have stayed there	1.	Duke (47)	2-0-0	1,2291
	2.	Michigan (7)	3-0	1,1623
for the first two polls of the regular	3.	Georgetown (7)	2-0	1,0962
season.	4.	Syracuse (1)	4-0	1,0906
Only one new team joined the Top	5.	Oklahoma	2-1	970 4
Twenty, Tennessee, although there	6.	lowa (1)	1-0	914 7
was some shuffling in the order of	7.	Illinois	1-0	808 9
teams.	8.	Missouri	3-1	766 13
THE STREET STREET	9.	UNLV	2-1	742 8
Duke, which beat the Citadel	10.	North Carolina	3-1	709 5
93-52 in its only game last week	11.	Arizona	0-0	670 10
received 47 first-place votes and	12.	Georgia Tech	1-0	520 14
1,229 points.	13.	Louisville	0-1	397 12
Michigan, which won the Top	14.	Florida St.	1-0	369 17
Twenty-heavy Maui Classic, moved	15.	Ohio State	2-1	364 16 from third to second with seven first-	16.	N.C. State	1-0	299 18
	17.	Temple	0-0	205 19
place votes and 1,162 points.	18.	Villanova	1-1	145 11
The Wolverines, 3-0, beat Vander-	19.	Florida	2-1	121 15
bilt, Memphis State and then-No. 4	20.	Tennessee	1-0	103 -

Three top NL list

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK - Two blacks and a woman are among the top contenders to become National League president. If chosen by the search committee, the new president would become professional sports' highest-ranking official from a minority group.

Simon Gourdine, a former deputy commissioner of the NBA, is the top contender among the minorities, according to a baseball source who asked not to be identified.

Gourdine was a deputy commissioner and chief operating of the NBA for eight of his 12 years with the league, and dealt with labor and television negotiations, expansion, and the league's merger with the American Basketball Association. For the past three years, Gourdine, 48, has been director of labor relations for New York's Metropolitan Transportation Authority, which operators the subway and bus system and commuter railroads. Phyllis Collins, the vice president and secretary of the NL and the league's No. 2 official behind Bart Giamatti, also is being given top consideration, according to the source. Giamatti is leaving to become baseball commissioner. Collins, 57, has been with the league for 11 years and gradually has become the top official in the league office, dealing with the adminstrative details of running the league. Before coming to the NL, she was a secretary with the Atlanta Braves for 10 years. Gilroye A. Griffin Jr., the vice president of labor relations for Bristol-Myers, is another leading candidate, but currently is ranked behind Gourdine, the source said.

New York Mets general manager Frank Cashen told the committee he did not want to be considered for the NL presidency, according to the source.

charges upheld against Oliver North

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The judge in the Iran-Contra case on Tuesday upheld two of the central charges against Oliver L. North but dismissed the third count.

U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell refused to dismiss the two charges of conspiracy to defraud the government and theft of government property against the former National Security Council aide that arose from the diversion of U.S.-Iran arms-sale proceeds to the Nicaraguan rebels.

"The indictment clearly alleges a conspiracy which involved concealing the very existence of the profits of the enterprise from the start and hiding from Congress information relating to the conspirators' assistance for the Contras," Gesell said.

"Its purpose depended on deceit from the start, and acts of concealment were actually part of the commission of the substantive crime," the judge said of North's contention the conspiracy count was invalid because it alleged more than one criminal conspiracy.

FREE

Vistaburger

(a $1.44 value)

with a minimum

purchase of 8 gal.

of gas at

720 N. Third

Where else in Kansas can you get a Great deal like this?

checks with student ID

accepted)

DESIGN

AMERICAN INSTITUTE

OF ARCHITECTURE STUDENTS, A GROUP IN

THE COLLEGE OF

PARTIES. WE WILL PROVIDE A GRAPHIC

LETTERING AT THE

FOLLOWING RATES:

ARCH. & DESIGN, IS PROVIDING A GRAPHIC

DESIGN SERVICE FOR ANY INTERESTED

DESIGN AND LOGO OR

T-SHIRTS - $20

AND FREE T-SHIRT. BANNER - $1 SQ. FT.

PLUS MATERIALS.

81/2 x 11 POSTER - $10

CONTACT CAROLE AT

539-5241

VISA Burt

Mart

fraud charge, saying it "is, in many ways, a cumulative count" that would only create "substantial confusion in the minds of the jurors."

All three charges also were filed against North's codefendants: former national security adviser John M. Poindexter and arms dealers Albert Hakim and retired Air Force Maj. Gen. Richard V. Secord.

Gesell's dismissal of the wire fraud count suggests that charge may also be dropped against the other defendants, who are scheduled to be tried separately.

The judge refused to dismiss six charges that North lied to congressional committees that investigated whether he and other members of the National Security Council staff were covertly providing military aid to the Contras in violation of the law.

So far, Gesell has ruled on 34 of North's 37 pre-trial motions. He has dismissed only two of the 16 original counts against North, including a charge that the retired Marine lieutenant colonel obstructed an FBI probe of the installation of a security fence But Gesell dismissed a wire around his Great Falls, Va. home.

Hayden, minority leaders meet

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA — Democratic legislative leaders Michael Johnston and Marvin Barkis said Tuesday they are pleased by Republican Gov. Mike Hayden's effort to achieve a greater degree of cooperation in the 1989 legislative session opening in January.

Johnston, the Senate minority leader from Parsons, and Barkis, the House minority leader from Louisburg, met for an hour and a half with the governor - at Hayden's invitation. They told reporters it was a "positive and productive" session.

The governor called the meeting "constructive as well as productive" in a statement issued through his press office.

"While there was a good spirit of cooperation at this meeting, Democrats offered little in the way of specific suggestions for my budget and legislative recommendations," Hayden said. "However, I remain open to their ideas and solicit their key involvement on the critical issues facing our state."

The governor expressed disappointment that Barkis' "position on a comprehensive highway plan appears to be unchanged." The House Democratic leader opposed a highway proposal submitted by Hayden to a special session in September there is "support for working with me to return the windfall and that there appears to be support for a permanent funding source for our state's water plan."

The two Democratic leaders said virtually all major issues likely to come before the '89 session were dis-

Tailor Made Seat Covers

Tonneau Covers

Boat Covers

Window Tinting

Convertible Tops

Vinyl Tops

Complete Auto, Truck

& Boat Upholstery

201 Sarber Lane

(behind Wal-Mart)

Manhattan, Kansas 66502

hone 776-7679

were sought and none were given. They said it was premature to comment on specific proposals because Hayden has not yet outlined his budget or legislative proposals for them to react to them.

They also said they expect differences to remain, but that keeping communication open is bound to help relations between the two parties during the session.

"I told this governor the day after he was elected (two years ago) that I'd support him when I could and I'd oppose him when I must. Nothing has changed that," said Johnston.

Hayden's effort to create a more cooperative relationship between the majority Republicans and minority Democrats is the result of significant inroads the Democrats made into the GOP majorities in both houses of the Legislature in the 1988 elections. Democrats gained two seats in the state Senate to whittle the GOP advantage to 22-18, and picked up seven seats in the House to reduce the GOP margin to 67-58.

Hayden's attitude toward bipartisanship this year is in marked contrast to two years ago when he was elected governor after serving as House speaker, said Barkis.

"It was as if the minority party didn't exist" in the 1987 session, Hayden's first as governor, said

In the 1988 session, Hayden began meeting with the two minority leaders on a weekly basis. They said Hayden asked them to coordinate their schedules to resume those weekly meetings in the 1989 session. Barkis said he thinks those sessions might be expanded to be held more than once a week next year.

QUALITY NATURAL FOODS

New Holiday Hours Tues., Wed., Fri. 10-6 Thurs. 10-8, Sat. 9-5

People's Grocery Cooperative 4811 811 Colorado

New Nonfat

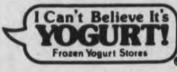

no fat or cholesterol

Nautilus Towers-Aggieville Phone 537-1616 Manhattan

Frozen Yogurt

Same great taste with

ATTENTION K-STATE BASKETBALL FANS!

"Win" when the

Tonight when the Men's Kansas State Basketball team is victorious, we'll help with the treats!

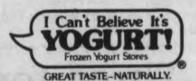

Here's How It Works;

You'll receive the percent off your total purchase that matches the point spread. For instance, if the Wildcats win by 15 points, you'll receive a 15 percent discount. If they win by 30, it'll be 30 percent, etc.

Cheer the Wildcats on to victory tonight against Utah State and then come in to celebrate with us!

Enjoy the discount following the game November 30 and December 1.

705 N. 11th Nautilus Towers Open: 11 a.m.-11 p.m. Dally Noon-11 p.m. Sunday

8.00-5.30 Weekdays 8.00-8:00 Thursday 8:00 4:30 Saturday losed Sun & Mon 776 1193

1987. The Legislature rejected it. Hayden also said he was pleased cussed, but no pledges of support

GOODSON AUTO TRIM GET INVOLVED

Student Government needs YOU! Apply for membership on a Student Senate Standing Committee

Academic Affairs & University Relations Communications

Finance Legislative Affairs

Senate Operations Student Affairs & Social Services

or Be a Senate Intern

Applications are due Wed. Dec. 7 at 5 and may be picked up in the SGS office

Ouestions: call the Senate Hotline 532-7777

SGA

Res. 776-7614

+ High Power (10Mhz, 640K) + High Compatibility + Fantastic Price* + Come In and Test Drive this New Off-Road Performer

Connecting Point COMPUTER CENTERS

1115 Westloop Shopping Center Manhattan

Your "Seoul" Hyundal Authorized Dealer

Get Ready to Ski!

Under $950 complete w/software, add monitor in great ski wear

available at

1111 Moro in Aggieville

STUDENT LOANS

WE WANT TO MAKE YOUR STUDENT LOAN!

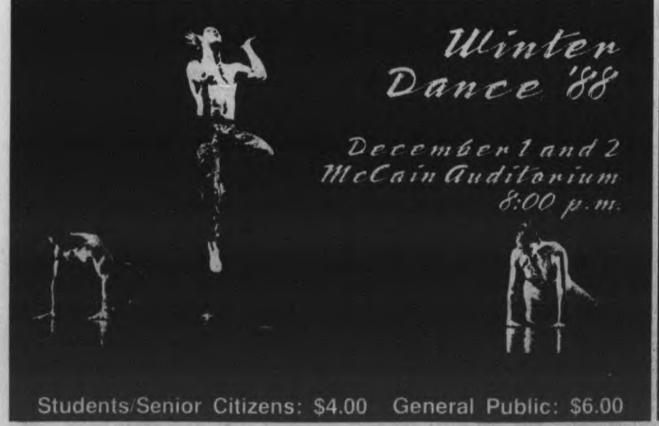

Have the professionals at Kansas State Bank make your student loan. Simply contact us at:

> 537-4400 Lender code #821176

KANSAS STATE BANK

Westloop • Aggieville • K-State Union, Manhattan, Kansas 66502

State group endorses plan to reduce patient population

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA — A special legislative committee Tuesday endorsed the bare bones of a plan that would create a pilot program to provide additional mental health services at the local level.

The Special Committee on Ways and Means approved the plan that is designed to reduce the patient population at state mental hospitals. However, the amount of additional state money the state would have to funnel to local mental health centers to provide those services remained uncertain.

The committee was reviewing the way the state cares for chronically mentally ill. Earlier this month, it endorsed the concept of providing additional mental health services through community-based programs, rather than hospitalizing people.

"Part of the problem in dealing with the issue is our inability to deal with details," said Rep. Rochelle Chronister, R-Neodesha. "We frankly do not have the expertise."

Her proposal, endorsed by the committee, would require the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services to develop a pilot program of increased funding for local mental health centers within an unspecified multi-county area. Those counties would be able to contract with local mental health centers or with private organizations to provide the additional services.

The pilot program would be implemented by February 1990, allowing counties to prepare for providing the additional services.

"Our goal would be to reduce the hospital population by one complete ward," Chronister said, or by about 35 patients.

"We're not talking about closing an entire institution," she added.

Under the pilot program, additional state money would be given to county governments, who would underwrite the expanded services that local mental health centers would provide.

Chronister emphasized the plan would not create a greater financial burden for the counties, since all the increased services would be funded by state money.

The counties would, however, assume greater administrative responsibility for treatment for chronically mentally ill.

"The buck is going to have to stop at the county commissioners' desk," said Sen. Merrill Werts, R-Junction City.

Pilot admits deviations

By The Associated Press

IRVING, Texas — The pilot of a Delta Air Lines jetliner that crashed Aug. 31, killing 14 people, testified Tuesday that some rules might have been bent in readying the Boeing 727 for takeoff but that preparations were adequate.

Larry Davis admitted seeming deviations from the rules under questioning by aerospace engineer Jeff Gorney as the National Transportation Safety Board opened an inquiry into the crash on takeoff at Dallas International Airport. Ninety-four people survived.

For instance, the Delta veteran of 23 years said he had used hand signals instead of calling out completion of each item on the pre-flight checklist and had made a takeoff briefing at

"I like to get as much done as possible before we get into the position of getting rushed," said Davis.

Gomey also said a flight attendant was allowed into the cockpit when the jet was waiting to take off, despite an Federal Aviation Administration rule requiring a "sterile" cockpit once the plane has left the gate.

But he noted that the plane was "waiting in a line of traffic" and added: "I don't believe it was a critical phase of flight, but technically it was (in violation)."

The FAA requires pilots to go through a checklist but does not specifically require a verbal "challenge and response" between pilots. The agency, however, has made clear on many occasions that such an exchange is preferable.

According to NTSB documents, Delta procedures Aug. 31 only suggested a verbal exchange during some phases of the checklist.

FAA recently chastised Delta for inadequate cockpit discipline and poor coordination and communications among pilots, and Delta has said that it will formalize the checklist process with increased emphasis on verbal challenges.

Delta procedures say the pre-flight briefing should take place "before takeoff" but also says it could begin during the "before start check" which normally occurs about five minutes before the plane pushes back from the gate.

Davis testified that he went to full power as soon as he felt engine "compressor stalls" unlike any he had ever felt before.

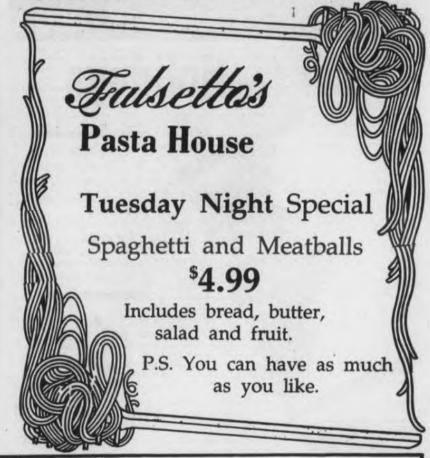

"It was like driving a car 60 mph down the highway and driving into a water puddle. It was pronounced deceleration," Davis he said under questioning from a representative of Pratt & Whitney, manufacturer of the airplane's engines.

Investigators have ruled out mechanical failure as a cause of the stalls, and have focused instead on the position of the wing flaps.

GIFT WRAP NOW AVAILABLE

Special delivery

539-4610

The Birthplace

The birth of your child is one of the most special times of your life. So it's important to choose a maternity program which will bring you as much joy as your new baby. One like The Birthplace at Manhattan's Memorial Hospital.

The Birthplace is filled with special extras for you and your family. Like baby's first T-shirt, compliments of our Auxiliary. And, special Sibling Classes are available to help your children prepare for the arrival of their new brother or sister. We offer unlimited visiting privileges for the baby's father and grandparents, and a special get-acquainted visit can be scheduled for your children to meet the new baby.

When you and your baby are ready to go home, we have prepared a beautiful gourmet gift basket to send with you. Enjoy your first meal at home without having to cook!

At Memorial Hospital's Birthplace, we make sure every delivery is a special delivery!

We would welcome the opportunity to meet you and to show you The Birthplace. Please call the Director of Education at (913) 776-3300, ext. 113, to schedule your personal tour.

Memorial Hospital

Sunset & Claflin • Manhattan, KS 66502 • (913) 776-3300

25% to 40% off

Selected precious stone jewelry

Distinctive and different gifts. Imagine blue topaz, opals or amethysts in pendants, rings, earrings or bangles. Some accented with sparkling diamonds.

40% off

Pearl jewelry
Lustrous cultured or freshwater pearl pendants, necklaces, earrings or bracelets. At a brilliant 40% savings.
Some accented with diamonds.

50% off 14K gold chains,

charms and earrings
Gifts that will be treasured this Christmas and for years to come. Choose from 14K gold chains, charms and earrings for a great gift.

25% off

Better watches
A timely occasion to circle your loved one's wrist with a watch from Pulsars or

30% off

Diamonds
The most wanted of all the gemstones.
Unusual styles in cocktail settings, earrings, pendants, men's rings or bridal sets. Set in 10K or 14K gold.
25% off Wedding bands.

40% off Men's accessories

Money clips, tie tacks, tie bars and more!
In our Fine Jewelry department.

250/0 Off

Fashion jewelry

Add that special touch to her wardrobe.

Earrings, pins, necklaces, bracelets and Does not include those items designated in our stores as Everyday Values. Diamond jewelry includes only that jewelry where diamonds constitute the largest value. Sale pricos effective through Saturday, December 31, 1988. Photos may be enlarged to show detail. Excludes SmartValue items

F. L.C. Pennsy Company, Inc.

JCPenney

Manhattan Town Center 776-4867

KPL increases surveys

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA — KPL Gas Service said Tuesday it is taking additional steps to reduce the possibility of natural gas accidents on its distribution system.

Chairman David S. Black said in a statement the company would accelerate scheduled leak surveys in its four-state service area -Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Nebraska - starting this week, with a goal of completing them by next summer.

KPL service crews also will conduct leak tests any time they go to a customer's home on a service call, Black said.

KPL announced in October it would use flame ionization tests to check all bare steel customer service lines for leaks by next fall, and also would begin electrical testing of those lines for corrosion deterioration on underground bare steel lines, which generally are found in homes built more than 25 years

"Although many of the service lines to homes were installed by the customer or on their order by others, KPL has assumed responsibility for leak detection and necessary repairs on these lines, up to the point where gas enters the home," Black said.

"Recent accidents involving natural gas have raised questions about the safety of gas delivery systems, and whether utilities are doing all they can to assure the public safety. We want our customers to feel confident about the safety of natural gas and our delivery system but, at the same time, we are calling for their help in detecting leaks."

He said customer reporting of suspected leaks is "vital" in the company's safety program. "Customer reports of the odor of gas in their homes or in their yards are our most important aid in finding leaks," he said.

KPL Gas Service, with headquarters in Topeka, serves 571,000 natural gas customers in Kansas, 406,000 in western Missouri, 36,000 in northeast Oklahoma and 4,000 in southeast Nebraska.

Education advocates discuss school agenda with governor

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA — Education advocates urged Gov. Mike Hayden today to use his position to increase the awareness of educational issues among legislators and the public.

The advocates, members of the Governor's Public Education Advisory Committee, met with Hayden this morning to discuss proposals they hope he will forward to the 1989 Legislature, which convenes Jan. 9.

Hayden agreed that some states are considered leaders in education because their governors make educational issues visible. He also said he plans to speak out for programs for students who are considered dropout

"I feel really comfortable doing that," Hayden said during the 30-mi-

Hayden did not specifically endorse any of the group's proposals, nor did he indicate how much of an increase in spending for education programs he will propose in his next budget, to be submitted at the beginning of the legislative session.

Still, the committee's chairwoman, Sheila Frahm of Colby, said the group was encouraged by its meeting with Hayden. Frahm is vice chairwoman of the State Board of Education, a position she will give up next month because she won a seat in the state Senate.

"We didn't expect any specific figures," Frahm said.

The State Board of Education has recommended that the state increase general aid to local school districts by $100 million, to help offset the expected effects of statewide property reappraisal. Reappraisal, scheduled to be completed Jan. 1, is expected to alter property values, the basis of the state's aid formula.

The board also has recommended increases in financing for transportation and special education programs, as well as spending $5 million to develop programs for "at risk"

Hayden said he will consider the board's recommendation.

"It's going to take some money," Hayden said. "I'll be looking at the dollars."

Jack Jones, a member of the Wichita Board of Education, said Hayden could increase public awareness of the need to help at-risk students if he mentioned the proposal in his speeches.

THURSDAY • DEC 1

Hair for Holidays

MANHATTAN: TOWN CENTER:

5:30 - 9:00 P.M.

MANHATTAN

Graphics Plus

BUDWIESER*THE SOUND SHOP krystallos PRESENT...

WITH... MORE T.b.a

THUR, DECEMBER, FIRST, 8PM

at charlie's partydome labove brothers tavern

ALL PROCEEDS GO TO ASSIST FAMILIES IN CENTRAL AMERICA.VICTIMS OF THE HURRICANE DISASTER. for inf 0-(532-3146)

Span the globe without a M.A.C.A PROD. leaving your hometown b.y.ø.b [you must be twenty-one to consume alcohol]

FOR THE HOLIDAYS!

- PANTY HOSE regular & control top
- SHIMMERY HOSE
- TEXTURED

STOCKINGS

- KNEE SOCKS
- ANKLETS

New Extended Holiday Hours Mon.-Thurs.: 10:00-8:30, Fri.-Sat.: 10:00-6:00, Sun.: 1:00-5:00 708 North Manhattan Avenue, Aggieville 537-0707

an You Offer a Creative Contribution to Your Fi

Enter the Zenith Data Systems

MASTERS of INNOVATION COMPETITION

Win a $5,000* Zenith Computer System.

We're searching for tomorrow's innovators. If you've developed or used software or hardware—that is compatible with Zenith Data Systems products—to creatively address a problem or task in your field of study, we want to hear from you. You could win a $5,000* Zenith Data Systems computer system for yourself, your name, and national recognition from your peers. For More Information And Official Rules, Call 1-800-553-0301. Competition Ends March 1, 1989. Void Where Prohibited.

$5,000* worth of computer equipment for your college campus given in

618 N. MANHATTAN AGGIEVILLE

SUN.-THURS. 7 a.m.-1 a.m. FRI. & SAT. 7 a.m.-2 a.m.

ClassAds 532-6555 Kedzie 103

CLASSIFIED RATES

One day: 15 words or fewer, $2.50, 20 cents per word over 15; Two consecu-tive dates: 15 words or fewer, $3.50, 25 cents per word over 15; Three consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 cents per word over 15; Four consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.75, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $5.00, 40 cents per word over 15.

Classifieds are payable in advance unless client has an established account with Student Publications. Deadline is noon the day before publication; noon FRIDAY for Monday's paper.

Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the advertigant responsibility to contact the paper if an error tiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not after the value of the ad.

Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE

for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103 or by calling 532-6555.

Display Classified Rates
One day: $5.20 per inch; Three consecutive days: $5.00 per inch; Five consecutive days: $4.80 per inch; Ten consecutive days: $4.80 per inch. (Deadline is 4:30

Ten consecutive days: $4.60 per inch. (Deadline & 4.30 p.m. two days before publication.)

Classified advertising is available only to those who do not disciminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex or ancestry.

Announcements

The KSU PARACHUTE CLUB

will have its last meeting of the semester. ALL members MUST attend to be considered a current member for next semester. THURSDAY, DEC. 1 7 p.m. UNION 206

JEFF SEES AN

OMEN OF BAD

THINGS GOMIN ... IT

WANTED— 100 overweight people to try herbal weight control program. No drugs, no exercise. Doctor recommended. 100% guaranteed. 776-5114.

ALL YOUR Mary Kay needs -skincare -glarnor -nalls -gifts for all seasons. Floris Taylor, 539-2070.

SPRING BREAK '89

Reservations Available Now

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, TX from $149

MUSTANG ISLAND, TX from $136

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, SC 100m $107

Don't Wait Until It's Too

Late!

Call Toll Free Today

1-800-321-5911

Sheraton/Holiday Inn/Gulf View

STEAMBOAT, CO

Port Royal Condos

Texan Motel

Shadow Run/Overlook

DAYTONA BEACH, FL

Hilton Head Beach Condos

BY RILHARD BROADFOOT

OH NO... I GOT A CHRISTMAS BONUS!!

OF COURSE, JEFF

WILL BELIEVE THAT

ANYTHING IS AN

THINGS GOMIN'.

OMEN OF BAD

"BUILD UP FOR THE SEASON-ENDING

GLIFF-HANGER ... "

TACO

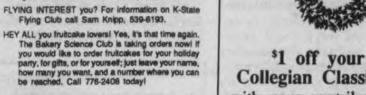

59° Tacos

All day, Every day

1155 Westport Rd.

from $93*

from $118'

Collegian Classified with your contribution to the Flint Hills Breadbasket. Take canned goods to Kedzie 103 to receive ⁵1 off your Collegian Classified.

SKI COLORADOI $25/ night for two. Ten cozy log cabins/ kitchens, some fireplaces. Gameroom/ fireplace, HBO, pool table, sauna. Fish, cross-country ski. Ski Winter Park, Silver Creek. Mountain Lakes Lodge. Brochure/reservations -Grand Lake, CO 1-303-627-8448. Call today!

PARTY GAS (helium)... you fill... we fill... our balloons... your balloons. 1231 Westloop, 539-4038.

Prepaid ads only. Not valid with any other

Deadline: noon one day prior to publication. Offer expires noon Dec. 8, 1988.

2 Apartments—Furnished

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM basement apartment. Par-tially furnished, washer, dryer, disposal. One-half mile west of campus. Available Jan. 1. Les, 776-4792 after 2p.m

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM. $230 plus utilities, Jan. 1.

LARGE TWO-BEDROOM. $260 plus utilities, Jan. 1.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM apartment. Water, trash, two-thirds gas paid. Laundry facilities. Nice for graduate student or couple. $260. Available Dec. 15 or Jan. 1. 539-2482 after 4n.m.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM efficiency. $175 plus utilities.

NOW IS the time to rent for next semester. One, two or hree-bedroom apartments. Nice, close to campus. Not in a complex. Low utilities. No pets. Call

ONE-BEDROOM FURNISHED in 12-unit complex two blocks west of campus. Available immediately. 539-7811 or 1-456-8297.

PREFER MARRIED couple or single adult for quiet, well-maintained one and two bedroom apartments. Assorted features: laundry, patio, paid heat, queen-sized bed, carport and more. $220, $275, $335. One year lease. No smoking, pets, waterbe 537-9686 for application.

SECOND SEMESTER LEASE? One and two bedroom apartments close to campus. priced from $250 $400

2700 Amherst (913) 776-3804

3 Apartments—Unfurnished

AVAILABLE SECOND semester. Less than one block from campus, two bedrooms, one full bath. Low and nice. Call 776-3788 776-1222

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM, campus location, coinoperated washer and dryer. No pets, available January. $265 plus deposit. 539-1465. NICE TWO-BEDROOM apartment across from Nichols Available January 1, $330, 539-2920.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate. Across from City Park, own room. 537-1273.

TWO-BEDROOM, PARTLY furnished, air conditioned apartment, two blocks southwest of high school. Off-street parking. Trash and water paid. Available Jan. 1. $315. 539-5921.

UNFURNISHED APARTMENT, $300 plus utilities. Near Aggieville. 537-2811. After 5p.m. 776-0231.

Automobiles for Sale

1977 BUICK, great car. $1,050 or best offer. Call Howard at 539-5499.

Bloom County

By Berke Breathed

BUY!!

SERVE RUBBU

Peanuts

HELLO, KID? I'M CALLING ABOUT THE CHRISTMAS PLAY ... APPARENTLY I MADE A LITTLE MISTAKE .. NO, YOU WON'T BE PLAYING GERONIMO AFTER ALL

1978 CUTLASS Suprems, 70,000 miles, cruise control, power steering, air conditioning, stereo. Must selli $900. 537-0560.

1983 RENAULT Allianos, 58,000 miles, 4.V. four-door, air conditioning, AM/FM stereo, excellent condition. $2,000. 537-3721.

GREAT SCHOOL carl Good condition. Low mileage. 1981 Chevette. 776-0065.

8 Computers

COMMODORE AMIGA 1000 with digital/analog color monitor, extra memory, two drives and over $500 of software, $1,099, 776-9539 after 5p.m.

PERSONAL COMPUTERS Authorized Warranty Service

also servicing · PC compatibles & printers · Televisions & VCRs

MIDWEST SERVICES

Manhattan 913-776-6650 624 Tuttle Creek Blvd.

9 Employment

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such "employment opportunity" with reasonable caution. AEROBIC INSTRUCTORS needed. Call for appoint-

ATTENTION- HIRINGI Government jobs- your area. $17,840- $69,485. Call (602)838-8885, ext. J-1797.

BOBBY T'S taking applications for part-time cooks and bartenders. Apply in person. 3240 Kimball.

BUS DRIVER needed to start immediately for Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 11a.m.-noon, to drive children from U.S.D. 383 to child care center. Class B license required, Previous experience preferred. $3.75 an hour. Apply Nancy Bolsen, director, L-9 Jardine Terrace, Manhattan, KS. 539-1806. Equal Opportunity Employer

DO YOU like kide? I need a fun-loving, flexible person for childcare. Room, board, salary plus car provided. We are very nice. Call Becky (415)328-6229.

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, Juniors: Train in the summer to become a Marine Corps Officer after graduation. Aviation available. Call collect (913)841-1821.

GODFATHER'S PIZZA is now hiring personnel at all positions. Delivery drivers have the possibility of earning up to 59 an hour. Drivers must be 18 years of age and have liability insurance. Applicants may stop by from 11a.m.- 5p.m.

KANSAS REGENTS Network (Telenet) announces a position opening for Telecommunications Assistant. Part-time position to handle clerical tasks and monitor University teleconferenced courses. College education or professional training required. Twelve- 15 hours weekly, mostly evenings and Saturdays. Begin January. Send resume and three professional references by Dec. 5 to Telenet, Umberger 312, Kansas State University, Manhattan, KS 66506. AA/ EOE.

ENROLL NOW! Four Ad Production Internships available for Spring 1988

Title of course: Publications Practice, 1 credit hour, JMC 360. Must attend 8:30-11:30 a.m. one day a week.

For more information and permission slip come to Kedzie 113.

MICROCOMPUTER PROGRAMMERS: You could be a CRCCOMPUTER PROGRAMMERS: You could be a part of a software development team that produces software that is marketed throughout the United States, while still in college. Kansas Careers is offering employment to students at all grade levels who are ambitious, creative and have good programming skills. Our programming team develops software for IBM PC, Apple II and MacIntosh microcomputer systems. Several languages are used, including "C," dBase III, 6502 and others. Programming at Kansas Careers enhances your college education while providing job experience, and excellent wages. Applications will be accepted at Fairchild Hall room 304 (532-6540) through Dec. 7, 1988. Kansas Careers and KSU are Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employers. Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employers.

NOW ACCEPTING applications for spring semester Consumer Relations Board Director. Person needs to be resourceful, have leadership qualities, enthuslastic about educating people and capable of handling Consumer/ Landlord- Tenant grievances. Director required to work 15 plus hours/ week gross $335/ month. Applications may be picked up in the Student Governing Office and are due by Dec. 2 at 4p.m

OFFICE STUDENT help-- Must have office experience and some computer experience. Average 12 hours per week (four-hour slots) and be able to work this summer. $3.50 per hour, starting immediately. Call Forestry Department. 537-7050.

1977 DATSUN B210. Runs good, $750 or best offer. Carol 776-5012, 10a.m.- 5p.m. weekdays. 537-3872 other times. NANNIES NEEDED. New England area-good pay and benefits. One-year commitment. Call 537-0947.

OVERSEAS JOBS. $900- $2,000 month. Summer. year-round, all countries, all fields, free information. Write IJC, P.O. Box 52-KS02, Corona Del Mar, CA

PAY DAYI Beginning salary $3.60/ hour. All shifts for water and waltresses; Hotline server and porter Monday, Wednesday, Friday 1020a.m.- 2p.m. Apply now at K-State Union Food Service for remaining fall positions. Apply early for spring semester when you have your spring schedule. We offer student pay plan, job variety, and centrally located work place. We require that you must be honest, reliable and display a sense of urgency, must be clean, neat and wear appropriate attire. Food Handler's Card a must.

PYRAMID PIZZA is now taking applications for delivery personnel. Please apply in person, 1130 Moro.

TRAVEL FIELD Opportunity. Gain valuable marketing experience while earning money and free trips. Carripus representative needed immediately for Spring Break trips to Florida and South Padre island. Call Echo Tours at 1-800-999-4300.

VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full-and part-time help. Must be able to work some noon shifts. Apply in person.

12 Houses/Mobile Homes for Rent

NICELY FURNISHED, 10x50 mobile home. Ideal for single or married student. Two singles okay, $165. 776-8552.

13 Houses/Mobile Homes for Sale

1972 12x60, furnished/ unfurnished, new paint, central air, washer, dryer, waterbed, reasonable 537-0734.

14 Lost and Found

ESCAPED: SIX- month- old black lab. 5416 College View, Quivera Area. 776-9492.

FOUND: CALCULATOR in Cardwell Hall. Call and claim

FOUND: SOUTHEAST on campus. Friendly, black temale chow mix dog. To claim or adopt call 537-4722.

LOST IN Eisenhower Monday, Theory of the Novel, Stevich. Reward. Call Paul McCarthy, 532-6716.

TAKEN BY mistake Friday evening. Please return the jardiniere- family sentimental attachment. Reward for return of planter and basket- Call 539-2703.

15 Miscellaneous Merchandise

ANTIQUE OAK furniture, misc. used furniture.

FOR SALE: Two KSU basketball season ticket books-ten garnes in each. Great seats- second rowl Call Terri 532-3240.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUSII New G.I. overshoes, combat boots and safety-loe boots, wool (blankets, gloves, socks and mittens). Field jackets, over-coats, carnouflage clothing. Also Carhartt work-wear, Monday-Saturday 9a.m.-5p.m. Open Sumia days till Christmas noon- 4p.m. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734.

NEED TO sell: Two one-way tickets from KC to Phoenix Dec. 16. Best offer, 539-8978.

PHOTOGRAPHIC EQUIPMENTS: 23CXL enlarger clock, salelight, papers. Everything. Graduate, must sell. 539-9373.

TYPEWRITER- RENTALS- Sales- Repairs. Good selection of used IBMs and Smith Coronas. Advanced Business Systems 713 N. 12th (Aggleville).

Hayes House of Music

Guitar Strings & Drumsticks Buy 1 Set, Get a 2nd Set 1/2 Price

TO THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF

1982, 550 Yamaha Maxim. Good condition. New tires. $700. Call 776-3458.

JIM B.- Here's to an elephant's memory of great times:
Ahearn campground, Doorknobs, Pillsbury, All Season's Study Sessions, Barbecue Climbing, warming up after Wichita, and... coming back from K.C. Our "Crimes of Passion," have been many, I'll miss you, and I hope this won't be the end, but for now let's see what happens under the "Moonlig and Mistletoe"... Drive careful, Julie or Jules.

20 Professional Services

PREGNANT? BIRTHRIGHT can help. Free pregnancy test. Confidential. Call 537-9180, 103 S. Fourth St.

PROMPT ABORTION and contraceptive services in Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

21 Rentals

PRIME AGGIEVILLE location for lease, 600 square feet Call (913)642-3366

STORE YOUR valuables over Christmas break. Aztec Storage, open seven days a week. Call 776-1111 for discount rate, or come by, 5004 Murray Road.

22 Resume/Typing Services

ABOUT ANYTHING typed, editing and transcription services, reasonable rates, ary. 539-5998 after 5p.m. rates, by professional secret

AVOID DISASTERI Hire a professionali Resumes designed for your profession. Typeset and laser-printed. Graphics Plus, corner of Bluemont and N. Manhattan, Aggieville. 539-6027.

COMPLETE DATA processing services, term papers, theses and dissertations, resumes. Laser jet prining. Call 537-4146.

COMPLETE TYPING/ word processing: letter quality printer with Spell Check. 75¢/ page. Call 537-8701.

COMPOSING RESUMES and letters is our specialty. We have been in business nine years and offer permanent computer storage. Contact the profes-sional staff regarding our full line of services. Resume Service, 343 Colorado Street. 537-7294.

TYPING: RESUMES, cover letters, papers, any othe typing. Call Debble, 539-2411.

TYPING SERVICE; Professional and experienced secretary. Very reasonable rates. Pick-up and delivery available. Call 776-9736.

23 Roommate Wanted

FEMALE; NICE house near campus, own room, washe and dryer. $145/ month plus utilities. 537-8825. FEMALE, OWN room, nice large house, $130/month plus part utilities. Call Arry 776-1790.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share house, close to campus, furnished, washer/ dryer, many more extras. $162.50/ month plus deposit. Call Renee.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apart-ment. Close to campus. Half rent and half utilities. Starting Jan. 1st. Call 537-7269. FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted to share nice threebedroom house near campus. $150/month, one third utilities. Call 776-5294.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share three-bedroom house near campus, washer/ dryer furnished. $125, 539-1021. MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartment near campus. Washer/ dryer furnished. $125. 776-5855.

MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bed/bath apartment furnished with dishwasher, microwave, low utilities no deposit. Close to campus. $170 negotiable 537-1289.

MALE ROOMMATE needed. Lease up in May. $154 and one-half utilities. One-half block from campus. 776-8584. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share nice three-bedroom

Close to campus, Aggieville. $160/month plus utilities. 537-2507. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share furnished two-bedroom. Cats allowed. Call Paula or Brenda, 776-5669.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate, spacious two-bedroom. Walk to campus and Aggie ville.$172.50/month. Available January 1 537-2364 or 539-6585. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share two-bedroom furn-ished apartment. $152.99 plus one-half utilities

NON-SMOKING MALE to share four-bedroom house one-half mile west of campus. Washer, dryer, cable. Available Jan. 1. Les, 776-4792 after 2p.m. ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom house trailer, $100/ month, half utilities. Call Allen. 537-3909.

24 Situation Wanted

FAMILY WANTS college girl to live in for next semester, summer and fall. Board and room in exchange for duties. Write Box 1, c/o Collegian, Kedzie Hall KSU, Manhattan, KS 66506.

COZY ONE-BEDROOM apartment available immediately, convenient location, air conditioning, water and trash paid, $225/ month. 539-4152 after 5p.m

SLEEP LATEI No parking hassles! One-bedroom apartment right across from campus with all utilities paid. Leave message, 537-8548.

SUBLEASE: NICE one-bedroom apartment, one-half block to carrpus. Available Dec. 19th. New furniture. Call 539-7275.

28 Adoption

ADOPT: A Baby is our dream! We are blessed with a

Crossword

ACROSS 39 Patriotic 1 It might "dele

46 Buck-

teachers stem cover

wheat

50 Sandarac

mint

Leslie

be dry? 5 Luau dish patched 8 Exchange 43 Jewish 5 Luau dish 12 Concert halls

13 Secreted

14 Spruce or fir 15 Holland sight 17 "Picnic" playwright 18 Trite 19 Over there 21 Pitcher - canto (vocal style)

25 Spiel-

berg 28 Desert waste 30 Rhine feeder

33 Once called Clay 34 Wooden shoe 35 "The -

Who Loved Me' 36 Prohibit 37 Arabian gulf 38 Italian noble family

DOWN 1 Elsie, et al. 2 Fix the split in-finitives

4 Soup 51 European servers 5 Key 54 Role for letter 6 Iran Caron 55 Political

3 Singer

Horne

export

7 Vainly 56 Feudal 8 Backbone 9 Simple flunky 57 Back talk winch 10 French 58 Strong angel

Solution time: 23 mins.

HERO 42 Doze APS COUNTY AS DUST COUNTY AND INC. COUNTY AND STANKER 44 Kir's forte NOTO S ROE 45 Water bird LEPER 47 Take a

TRAY Yesterday's answer 11-30

59 It cancels 11 Word before group

16 Kittenish 20 Last writes? 22 Old oath 23 Dressing gowns 25 Poke

26 Miss.

neighbor 27 Tedious talkers 29 Treat for Asta learn 32 Bread 34 Hindu

31 Quick to garment 38 Engraves with acid 40 Hillside dugouts 42 Doze off

49 Incite 352 Witness

box phrase 53 Worn-out horse

33 CRYPTOQUIP 11-30

TDNEJK

LQTXYMELQ ULJ CDYAZ HXLH

CMYAZ HXZ Yesterday's Cryptoquip: AFTER A DEWY RAIN-STORM, LOCAL CORNFIELD MAY BE WET BEHIND THE EARS.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: U equals W

BICYCLE SALE, lay away for Christmas. Aggie Bike Station, Aggieville. (behind Hardee's).

18 Personals

DAWN-HERE is your Personal. How about a date this weekend? Brian (Art History).

TO THE Men of Sigma Nu: Over the campus and through the streets, to the Sigma Nu house we'll go. In purple and white we will party all night as the 'Cats defeat their foe. With 'purple passion' in our hearts and in our cups as well, Alpha Chis Sigma Nus will back the 'Cats and together we'll raise... cain! -Love, the Alpha Chis -P.S. Thanks for the flowests.

26 Sublease

CLEAN, SPACIOUS, very nice two-bedroom apartment, close to campus. Available for sublease, Call 539-9599.

FEMALE TWO blocks from campus, clean, spacious, efficiency, furnished or not. $140 all utilities paid. Available Dec. 15 or later. 539-6499.

SUBLEASE: LARGE one-bedroom, next to campus. Water and trash paid. Furnished or unfurnished. Call 539-2484.

wonderful, happy marriage and financial success. Let us give your baby love, security and the best of everything. Legal. Expenses paid. Call Lynn and Martin collect; (212)362-6884.

By Eugene Sheffer

Garfield

HEY, LOOK THE MAILMAN'S HAND IS STUCK

IN THE

By Charles Schulz

Blast

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

another fire broke out in a nearby storage shed. Two pumper trucks drove up an access road to the blaze, and the firefighters were killed instantly when the shed containing the chemicals exploded.

Kansas City, Mo. police are investigating the deaths as homicides. Tuesday evening police made no arrests, but detectives questioned four persons to "evaluate their alibis," according to Sgt. Gregory Mills, a police spokesman.

Investigators said they had no clear motive but did not think the fires were a professional job. They did not rule out that they could have resulted from a prank.

The explosions, which created two huge craters at the construction site, shattered windows up to 10 miles away and knocked out electricity for blocks in the surrounding area. Many people in the metropolitan area thought they had felt an earthquake or a natural gas explosion.

Neighborhoods just to the north of the blast site looked as though they had been ravaged by riots. Thousands of windows were blown out of businesses, homes, schools, banks and hospitals along and near Troost and Prospect streets. Property damage was expected to total in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Lucy Love, who lives about five miles northwest of the blast site said the explosion rattled the windows in her home.

know what it was," she said.

Utility crews searched for natural gas leaks in a large area surrounding the accident site.

At least 75 windows were shattered at the Stonhaven apartments. "The window companies say they are just swamped," Denning said.

"They said they can send people to help board up windows, but it might be tomorrow before they get here to get the glass replaced. At the 4-Acre Motel about threequarters of a mile from the accident site, doors were blown off hinges, scores of windows were broken and the blast blew a lock out of a door. "It's just like a bomb, really," said motel clerk Dee Cornelius. "Property you can fix up, but those poor At least 100 large plate-glass windows at the John Deere Co. plant about two blocks away from the blast

Buy, Sell or Trade in Collegian Classifieds

site were shattered and parts of the ceiling caved in. The company, which employs 200 people, was forced to close Tuesday but hoped to reopen today.

"If it had happened a couple hours "It was scary because you didn't later, I think there would have been a lot of injuries from flying glass and debris," said Dale Brommerich, a personnel supervisor. "I talked to a policeman who was directing traffic outside after the first blast and he said the second one knocked him right off

Flags flew at half-staff around the city following the tragedy, which was the worst loss of life in the history of the Kansas City Fire Department.

Firefighter John Seise, who was manning an emergency shelter at a nearby apartment complex for people who had to evacuate their homes, knew all six of the dead firefighters.

"I tell you what, I haven't come to grips with it," Seise said. "I just can't get it off my mind. You never realize how vulnerable you are in this business until something like this

Census

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

both houses of a legislature must be apportioned so each citizen has an equal measure of voting power.

Hackney said the cities and counties believe the state census law violates the "one-man, one-vote" principle. She said state representatives and senators will be physically representing more people than they are theoretically supposed to - each citizen will have less than full representation in the Legislature.

The University of Kansas is in Lawrence in Douglas County. The U.S. Army's post, Fort Leavenworth, is in Leavenworth County.

"They'll have less access to representation, and their vote is diluted," Hackney said.

Anderson questioned whether the students and military personnel are being denied representation if they are counted as residents of their permanent hometowns.

Death

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Caroline Peine and another person in Peine's office, May said. After being notified, Stephen Wade found a ride to his parents' home in Olathe. He then informed his parents of his brother's death.

Peine visited the AKL house Tuesday and said the residents were "shocked and stunned" by Wade's death. Wade was an AKL pledge.

Reynolds said, "The house is feeling a great loss. We're all hurt."

A memorial service for Wade is scheduled for 4 p.m. today, Reynolds said. The location for the service has not been decided, he said.

FREE SPEECH 6 PERSUASIVE SPEECHES ON KSU ISSUES

Selected from Public Speaking II "KSU: The Only Big 8 School That Doesn't Offer Academic by Graham Dorian "KSU Campus Needs Better Night Time Security"

by Marty Villers "Sexual Responsibility at KSU: Dispense Condoms In Campus by Christine Vanderweide Student Senate Should Support A Student-Run Alcohol

by Roger Drake Support Group" 'Campus Lighting: Let There Be Light!" by Suzanne Brown "Student Government Should Pay To Promote Attendance At Football Games' by Doug Miller

Thursday, December 1, 1988 Nichols Hall Theatre Noon-1 p.m. These speeches are free—The public is invited.

Bonus points for Public Speaking alumni!

Boxed Christmas Cards T-shirts Balloon Greetings 1989 Calendars Crabtree & Evelyn Stockings Kansas Keepsakes Candy Aqua Tank

Stuffed Animals

BAKERY SCIENCE CLUB FRUITCAKE BAKE SALE December 7 $7 a piece

Shellenberger Hall, Room 105 Call early to place your order 776-2408

DRESS IN STYLE FOR THE HOLIDAYS AND SAVE ... CHOOSE ANY DRESS SHIRT and TIE FREE! WITH THE PURCHASE OF ANY SPORT COAT at regular price (prices range between $95 to $125) encounter. 1208 Moro Open 10-8:30 Mon.-Thurs. -fashion clothing for men-

Some Students Don't Need A BANK IV Student Loan.

Studious

"I discovered heretofore unidentified organic compounds in ordinary dorm food which I processed to propel a spaceship the size of Duluth to the Andromeda galaxy and back..." On one hand: Won every scholarship known to humanity. On the other: Needs money only to buy pocket protector and dental floss.

(12 simultaneous part time jobs. Too busy to talk.) On one hand: Learns value of a dollar. On the other: Collapses of exhaustion 2 weeks before graduation.

"... and then we'll get up to their campus, steal the weasel mascot, and hold it for 50 kegs ransom."

On one hand: Lots of laughs. On the other: All assets controlled by bail bondsmen.

Most, However, Do. Typical College Student "$69.95 for one book?!? Used!?! On one hand: Could qualify for a BANK IV Student Loan. On the other: Hasn't applied yet.

A BANK IV Student Loan Isn't For Everybody.

But it's probably right for you. 'Cause BANK IV believes in you. And in the future you're building for yourself. So if you need money for school, send us this coupon. We'll send you complete details.

The Strength of Kansas. BANKIV

Send me information on BANK IV's Student Loan program. Expected Graduation Year Clip out coupon and mail to: BANK IV Educational Loan Department P.O. Box 1318

BANK IV Educational Loan Department / P.O. Box 1318 / Wichita, KS 67201 / (316) 261-2103 or 1(800) 283-LOAN

Left-Handers

Left-handed people learn to cope with living in a right-handed world. See Page 7.

Weather

Partly cloudy this morning, mostly sunny by mid-day, high in the low to mid-50s. Mostly clear and mild tonight, low 30 to 35. Sunny Friday and mild, high around 60.

The K-Siule . their second victory of the season by defeating Utah State 86-67. See Page 9.

*5-DIGIT 66612

Thursday

December 1, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 69

Kansas State Collegian

Bill Snyder gestures during a press conference after being Snyder has been the offensive coordinator for the University of Iowa potball coach for the Wildcats. for the past 10 years. He is expected to sign a five-year contract.

Snyder: 'a monumental task'

By Chris Hays Sports Editor

and stood in front of you, that Kansas State University was in a unique position. ... Something very special is going to happen," Athletic Director Steve Miller said Wednesday at the press conference announcing the hiring of the new K-State football coach. "There weren't great jobs in this country, only great people. And we have found and isolated and hired a great human being and a great football coach.

"It is not something that will hap-"I said, several weeks ago or a pen overnight, but it will take few months ago when I came here time," Miller said of the K-State football situation. "But you need an architect, and no university in this country understands architecture better. We have hired the best architect in America. We have hired a person who can build this program into something that we can all be proud of."

Surprise! Iowa offensive coordinator Bill Snyder was named the 31st K-State head football coach Wednesday at a formal press conference in the Union Big Eight

The appointment had become known several days prior to the press conference, although no one from the KSU Athletic Department nor the Iowa football office would confirm any published reports.

Now, it's official. Snyder will succeed Stan Parrish as the Wildcats' head coach and it seems that he couldn't be any happier with his next football task.

"I am so proud to be here. This is certainly a delightful day in my life. It's an exciting day," Snyder said. "This is a task. ... It's a monumental task. It's one with a tremendous challenge. It's the greatest challenge in my life and I am certainly proud and I'm honored.

"I could not be happier with the people that were responsible for having me here today. The president and athletic director of this university have proven to me, bey-

■ See COACH, Page 14

U.N. advances venue change

By The Associated Press

UNITED NATIONS - The General Assembly on Wednesday censured the United States by a vote of 151-2 and gave it 24 hours to reverse itself and grant a visa to PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat so he can speak

The world body, spurred on by the Arab nations, will ask for an extraordinary protest session in Geneva in mid-December to hear the Palestine Liberation Organization leader if the United States persists in its refusal, as expected.

A second resolution to this effect is expected to be voted upon Friday, or early next week. The reconvened session in Geneva would be held Dec. 12-16.

The United States and Israel were alone Wednesday in voting against the resolution.

Britain abstained, saying the criticism of its U.S. ally was too harsh. But all other U.S. allies voted against Washington's position.

The resolution asked Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar to inform the General Assembly on Thursday of the U.S. response. The United States says it will defy the resolution. The vote in the 159-member assembly was conducted in a rare roll call ballot requested by Jordan, a departure from the standard electronic voting. Absent were Dominica, Grenada, St. Kitts and Nevis, Paraguay and South Africa. The State Department denied a visa to Arafat last Saturday on grounds he condones and encourages terrorism. Arafat addressed the world body in 1974. Arab diplomats said they will swiftly introduce a new resolution shifting to Geneva the assembly meeting on the Palestine problem and the Middle East. Arafat would explain there the recent PLO declaration of an independent Palestinian

Washington says it does not oppose a move to the Swiss city and would participate in the debate there. Some diplomats say shifting the session could set an unfortunate precedent, alienate the United States and encourage it to deny visas to other U.N. visitors it considers dangerous or offensive.

"I feel very pained to see that the United States is the odd couple with Israel in the United Nations," said Clovis Maksoud, ambassador of the Arab League, which sponsored the resolution deploring the U.S. action. "We are hopeful the international outcry against the U.S. position will jolt the subsequent U.S. administration into a reassessment of its policies of bias toward Israel."

Iraqi Ambassador Ismat Kittani said before the vote that U.S. failure to change its stand "will constitute a grievous blow to the process of peace in the Middle East.'

He said Secretary of State George P. Shultz now "has a chance to rise to the occasion and prevent a grievous wrong, untold injury to the United Nations and its relations with the host

But Shultz said earlier Wednesday the United States would not change its mind.

U.S. Ambassador Herbert S. Okun, the acting U.N. representative, told the assembly the U.S. government "does not agree with the tone or substance of the resolution and voted against it."

"The denial of a visa to Mr. Arafat is fully consistent with the Headquarters Agreement between the United States and the United Nations and this includes our right to protect our national security," Okun said.

The 1947 U.S.-U.N. Headquarters Agreement requires visas to be granted to U.N. diplomats and people invited on U.N. business.

Evaluations necessary, dean says

By Kevin Kramer Collegian Reporter

K-State's search for five new department heads in the College of Arts and Sciences has created an atmosphere of excitement, said Thomas Isenhour, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

The college is progressing at a fascinating rate, bringing together the collective disciplines, he said. The search has reinforced the need for established periodic reviews of University department heads.

"I have a strong belief in the use of periodic reviews," he said. "They bring out internal questions, problems, and positive aspects of a department."

The K-State Faculty Handbook states that the term of office of a department head shall be fixed in length with reappointment to subsequent terms possible, Isenhour said. No definition is given as to the specific length of terms or the frequency of review for reappointments, though.

"Some people within the University hold on to the philosophy of 'If it ain't broke, don't fix it," Isenhour said. "But it should be: 'If it is broke, you should fix it."

The average length of terms of the 22 department heads the College of Arts and Sciences reviews is about 4.5 years, he said.

"Don't get me wrong," Isenhour said. "We have a fine bunch of department heads in the College of Arts and Sciences. I'm not looking for problems, but we have got to have a system to meet the needs of the College and University."

The use of periodic reviews brings a healthier situation to the departments and the University as a whole, he said. The point of the reviews is to build a great University. "I'm planning to schedule reviews in Arts and Sciences on a four- to five-year cycle," Isenhour said. "Because of the large number of current openings for department heads, I'm going to make their next review in either four or five years."

Only three to six department heads can be reviewed in a year, depending on the size of the department, he said.

The review process involves meetings and personal interviews with department heads, faculty, staff and student groups by the dean and his office, Isenhour said. The interviews allow faculty members to state their views and recommendations, which are given serious consideration in the appointment and reappointment of department heads.

Charles Thompson, professor of psycholgy and member of the Faculty Affairs Committee on Faculty Senate, said he agrees with the review philosophy shared by Isenhour. "I think it is a good idea for the review to be on a fixed timetable. Useful information comes out of the procedure," he said. Faculty interviews during the review of the departmental heads help the dean see the needs of the University's departments, Thompson said. "It's not a time to solve problems, but to identify them," Thompson said. "Departmental reviews often identify cases of low and high morale."

The system of reviewing department heads not a new idea.

"The Faculty Senate and academic deans have been working together for some time to implement this system of reviewing departmental heads," Isenhour said.

Cornelia Flora, professor in social work and president of Faculty Senate, said the interviewing of faculty working under the department heads is an essential part of the review process.

"The Faculty Senate was very avid about faculty involvement in the review of department heads," she said. "There is accountability to the people under you, as well as over

The Faculty Senate wanted a policy specifying a set length of term - five years, Flora said — but the deans opposed it.

"The deans felt that a specified term would result in them being unable to recruit new department heads," she said.

Robert Kruh, associate provost, said: "A good candidate for the position of department head would not be threatened by a specified term. Most would expect it as a means to measure the type of job they are doing."

Flora said the abilities of department heads are not being questioned. The faculty see the review process as a necessary evil to make the departments run better.

"If a department head is not doing a good job, there should be the mechanism for change," she said. "But, at the same time, if they are doing a good job, there should be that vote of confidence from the faculty."

The idea of the routine review of department heads is a University-wide effort — it is not unique to the College of Arts and Sciences, Flora said. Some faculty members questioned if some University department eads were ever reviewed.

Kruh said historically K-State has used the structure of departmental heads as opposed department chairs.

"The use of departmental heads provides better continunity of leadership and established policy than the use of a chaired position that rotates among departmental faculty," he said. "The current policy of fixed

m See DEAN, Page 14

Wefald's attacker enters treatment

Observation set for 90 days

By Susan L'Ecuyer Senior Staff Writer

The man arrested Monday for assault-

The man arrested Monday for assaulting K-State President Jon Wefald signed a court agreement Wednesday committing himself to the Topeka State Hospital, a K-State Police official said.

In a court hearing closed to the public, Marlan Ray, 47, of Clay Center, agreed to spend 90 days in the Topeka State Hospital for observation and evaluation, said Charles Beckom, campus police captain.

Under the terms of the agreement, after 14 days of observation the hospital is required to provide written reports on Ray's mental condition to the court responsible for the case, Beckom said. sible for the case, Beckom said. The case will proceed based on the information in the reports.

Charges have yet to be filed against Ray, and Wefold said Wednesday after the hearing was completed that he was waiting for recommendations from his attor-

Ray, and Welald said Wednesday after the hearing was completed that he was waiting for recommendations from his attorneys. He had indicated on Tuesday has intended to press charges.

Campus police and the Clay County Sheriff said Ray has been admitted to mental facilities several times, including the federal facility in Springfield, Mo., and the Veteran's Administration Hospital at Topeka as well as the Topeka Sinse.

Seribed primarily as treatment for manic depressives to control mood swings.

There is always a certain lithium level in the body, "she said. "If the level is lower than bound, then (lithium) is what (doctors) administrate as treatment."

The elder Ray said his son, a retired amore region to prevent as a veterinarian with the special forces in Vietnam, was homerably discharged from the army in 1975 because of his mental condition.

Hospital.

In 1981, Ray crashed the gate at the White House, and a number of incidents have since been reported to the Clay County Sheriff's department. One of those included a threat to the life of President Ronald Reagan in 1985.

"The feds got involved in that one, and he (Ray) was sent to the federal facility in Springfield, Missouri," said Sheriff Gary Caldwell of the Clay County Sheriff's Department.

Caldwell said his department has had to take Ray into protective custody "about

"It's always the same thing," Caldwell said. "He gets off his medication and he goes wacke."

Ray's father echoed Caldwell's sum-

Ray's father echoed Caldwell's summary of the problem.

"He's OK," said Rosco E. Ray, of Wakefield. "When he doesn't take his medication, he just gets a little riled is all."

Ray has been taking lithium for medication. Bernie Wampole, a pharmacist at Memorial Hospital, said the drug is presented primarily as treatment for manic

Bangladeshi cyclone kills 317 DHAKA, Bangladesh - A cyclone battered low-lying coastal areas of southern Bangladesh and eastern India, killing at least 317 people and razing hundreds of mud huts, officials and news reports said Wednesday.

At least 275 fishermen were reported missing in Bangladesh. The casualty toll was expected to rise after reports arrived from hundreds of tiny islands and remote villages cut off after communication lines snapped during Tuesday's storm.

Officials at the Cyclone Prepardness Center in Dhaka said that the cyclone killed 288 people in southern Bangladesh. Press Trust of India news agency said 29 people perished in eastern India. Sources at the southern port of Chittagong said that a Singapore registered vessel, the Pamir, sank in the cyclone with 16 crew members on board. The fate of the crew members was not known, but port officials said they were presumed dead. On the river Teesta, a boat caught up in the storm capsized near Bhairab, 45 miles northeast of Dhaka, and 20 of the 24 passengers were swept away and killed, an official said.

Food Minister Amjad Hossain said he expected the casulty figures to go up, but said timely evacuation of thousands of people had dimished loss of lives.

Southern Bangladesh is barely above sea level, and there are hundreds of islands, some little more than sandbars.

USS Nimitz fire kills sailor

MANAMA, Bahrain - A jet fighter's gun fired by mistake Wednesday, setting six planes ablaze on the USS Nimitz flight deck and killing a sailor, but crews averted disaster by dousing the flames quickly, U.S. officials said.

A second crewman was severely burned in the fire, which was brought under control in about 20 minutes, Navy spokesmen reported. They said a cannon on an A-7 Corsair was fired accidentally during "troubleshooting maintenance" aboard the carrier in the Arabian Sea. The 20mm shell exploded against another parked plane, starting a fire that eventually spread to six aircraft, A-6 Intruders and A-7s that suffered "minor to major damage," according to the reports.

One of the damaged aircraft was a KA-6 Intruder tanker, fitted for air-to-air refueling, but the officials said they did not know whether it was the one hit by the shell.

A-7 fighter-bombers are among the Navy's older combat planes, and carry two 20mm guns.

BRIEFLY ACROSS NATION

U.S. limits launch filming

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. - The Associated Press and The New York Times rejected on Wednesday a Defense Department demand that military officials be granted the right to confiscate film from remote AP cameras in the event of an accident during the launching of the space shuttle Atlantis on a secret military mission.

As a result, they were denied permission to install remote cameras in an area near the launch pad to take closeup pictures of the liftoff, which is scheduled for today.

Some other news organizations accepted the Pentagon requirement under protest, and were allowed to place their cameras in sites near the launch pad.

Atlantis' five-man crew reportedly is to deploy a top-secret spy satellite, and the Defense Department and NASA have placed a secrecy veil over most details about the mission.

Soviets allow radio broadcasts

WASHINGTON - The Kremlin has shut down thousands of broadcast jamming devices, allowing Radio Liberty and Radio Free Europe to be heard "loud and clear" across the Soviet Union and most of Eastern Europe for the first time in 38 years, government officials said Wednesday.

The Soviet action came so quickly that radio engineers were only becoming aware of it as Secretary of State George Shultz said in a broadcast to Europe Wednesday morning that radio jamming was one area where progress was still needed with the Soviet jamming of Germany's Deutsche Wella and KOL Israel also stopped Tuesday, officials said.

"It's another marker in the Soviet march toward trying to be an acceptable citizen of the world community as against the pariah that they have been," said Charles Z. Wick, U.S. Information Agency director.

Wick said he and other U.S. officials have raised the issue of jamming, which is illegal under international agreements, several times with the Soviets - most recently in a September visit by U.S. broadcasting officials to Moscow.

He said the move was likely was timed to coincide with the meeting of Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev with President Reagan and President-elect George Bush next week in New York.

BRIEFLY # REGION

Legislators challenge census

TOPEKA - A group of officials, students and residents from three counties filed two lawsuits Wednesday to prevent the Legislature from using population figures gathered in a special state census this year to redraw legislative district lines.

The Douglas, Leavenworth and Riley county commissions, as well as 17 other individuals, filed two separate suits in Shawnee County District Court and U.S. District Court in Topeka.

The federal lawsuit challenges the constitutionality of the 1987 law under which this year's state census was conducted. The second lawsuit makes the same challenge, but also asks the state court to find that census procedures were "unreasonable, arbitrary and capricious."

The group filing the suit is challenging the validity of the census primarily because the census law requires the state to count students and military personnel at their "permanent" hometowns, rather than the cities in which they attend college or are stationed.

Washburn president, 60, dies

TOPEKA - John M. Duggan, president of Washburn University the past five months, died Wednesday at Stormont-Vail Regional Medical Center. He was 60.

Duggan, who became Washburn's 12th president on July 1 and was inaugurated in campus ceremonies on Oct. 16, died at 3:38 p.m. in the intensive care unit at the hospital, where he was admitted Nov. 8 and underwent exploratory surgery Nov.

Stormont-Vail issued a statement saying Duggan died of pancreatic cancer which was discovered following the surgery. "At the request of the family, additional information will not be released," the hospital statement said. Services were pending at Penwell-Gable Funeral Home here. Duggan succeeded John L. Green Jr. as Washburn's president. Green resigned but remained on the Washburn faculty as a business professor. Washburn is the only municipal university in the U.S. An effort is expected in the 1989 legislative session to have it taken into the state regents system, and Duggan was the university's leader in that effort.

BULLETIN FOR CAMPUS

Campus organizations are encouraged to use Campus Bulletin. All announcements must be submitted by 11 a.m. one day prior to publication. Announcements for Monday's bulletin must be in by 11 a.m. Friday. However, publication is determined by the amount of space available on a first-come, first-serve basis and is not ensured. Information forms are available on the shelf outside Kedzie 118. Forms should be left in the box on the shelf after being filled out. All submissions must be signed and are subject to verification. Questions should be directed to the Collegian's campus editors in Kedzie 116.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

EBONY THEATRE COMPANY will perform "Master Harold and the Boys" at 8 tonight through Friday in the Purple Masque

SGA applications for Student Senate interns and standing committee chairpersons are available in the SGS Office in the Union. Applications are due Friday.

TODAY

GLRC World AIDS Day today.

KSU PARACHUTE CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 206.

STUDENT GERONTOLOGY CLUB will meet at 6 p.m. at Meadowlark Hills.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS will meet at 7:40 p.m. in Throckmorton 132.

PHI KAPPA PHI will meet at 4 p.m. in Union 212. ALPHA PHI ALPHA will meet at 8 p.m.

in the Union Stateroom.

SAILING CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in COLLEGIATE 4-H will meet at 7:30 p.m. in Union 207.

PRE-VET CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in Trotter 201.

AICHE will meet at 12:30 p.m. in Ackert

KSU WILDLIFE SOCIETY will meet at

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF CHEMI-CAL ENGINEERS will meet at 1:30 p.m. in

7 p.m. in Ackert 221.

Ackent 120. KSU MICROBIOLOGY CLUB will meet at 4 p.m. in Ackert 116.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA CRESCENTS will meet at 7 p.m. at the Lambda Chi House.

ROCK CLIMBING CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in the basement of 1021 Thurston St.

ENGINEERING AMBASSADORS will meet at 7 p.m. in Durland Hall for regional meeting. Room numbers are posted on Ambassador bulletin board.

ICTHUS CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP will meet at 8 p.m. in Union 212.

NSAE will meet at 4:30 p.m. in Union For-

PRE-VET CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in Trotter 201.

PHI KAPPA PHI will meet at 4 p.m. in Union 212.

CAMPUS CRUSADE FOR CHRIST will meet at 7 p.m. in Throckmorton 131.

FRIDAY

ALPHA PHI ALPHA will meet at 8 p.m. at the Liberty Inn in Junction City.

BAKERY SCIENCE CLUB will meet at 5:30 p.m. in Shellenberger 110.

A LITERARY DISCOVERY Womens' Voices in the Season of Change will meet at 3 p.m. in Union 204. STUDENTS FOR EDUCATIONAL

AWARENESS will meet at 3 p.m. in Union

SATURDAY

BAKERY SCIENCE CLUB will meet at 9 p.m. in Shellenberger 110.

ALPHA PHI ALPHA will meet at 6 p.m. at Aggie Station.

WORLD CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP will meet at 7:30 p.m. at 1644 Fairview Ave.

SUNDAY

BETA SIG LIL SIS MEETING will be at 8 p.m. at the Beta Sig house.

ALPHA PHI ALPHA will meet at 10:45 a.m. at the Second Baptist Church in Junction

MONDAY

K-STATE STUDENT SPEECH Language and Hearing Association will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 206.

K-STATE POLICE

Trendy Twenty!

Tuesday

A student parking permit was Loss was $30.

■ The theft of a woman's wallet and contents from Shellenberger Hall was reported. Loss was $64.

■ A report was filed regarding the theft of $90 from a coat in the

Wednesday

A jacket was reported taken reported lost in an unknown vicinity. from an unlocked car parked in lot C-1.

A yellow, male cat was taken from Seaton Hall to the Veterinary Medicine Center.

A two-vehicle, non-injury hitand-run occurred in lot A-17E. Damages were estimated at more than

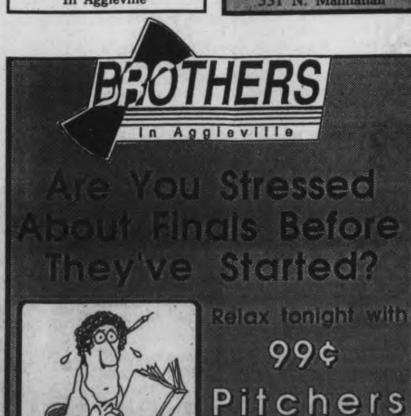

Only all Brother's

Now you don't have to be 50 to get free checking account service. At the Kansas State University Federal Credit Union there is no monthly service charge on the new share draft account. Balances maintained over $500 earn 5.5% APR. Ask one of our employees how you can sign up for direct pay check deposit and automatic transfers for credit union loan and savings accounts. We're in 6B Leasure Hall for approximately two months while our Anderson Hall office is being renovated.

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

A service for faculty, staff and qualified graduate assistants.

Leasure Hall, Room 6B Open 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday (except on University holidays) Telephone 532-6274

ial service at the Church of the Nazarene at 10th and Fremont. Wade, a included words from friends, family members and clergy.

Friends and family of Galen Wade mourn Wednesday during a memor- K-State freshman, committed suicide Tuesday morning. The service

Mourners recall K-State freshman

By Erwin Seba Senior Staff Writer

Galen Wade, a freshman in journalism and mass communications who died Tuesday from a selfinflicted gunshot wound to the head, was remembered by friends during a Wednesday afternoon memorial service at the First Church of the Nazarene.

Terrill Roberts, senior in management, described Wade as "a deeply dedicated Alpha Kappa Lambda." Wade was a pledge of the Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity.

'He was willing to do his part for the house and more," Roberts said.
"AKL was part of (Wade's) daily conversation, and he could hardly keep it out of his conversation," Roberts said. "AKL was his family."

"Galen will continue to live in our hearts, especially his wide smile and his deep laugh," he said.

and campus pastor of the Lutheran Campus Ministry, said when a person commits suicide people are tempted to deny their feelings.

Student's death follows charge of rape of Olathe 15-year-old

> By Erwin Seba Senior Staff Writer

A detective of the Olathe Police Department said Galen Wade, who died Tuesday in Manhattan of a selfinflicted gunshot wound to the head, had been charged Monday morning in Olathe with the rape of 15-yearold girl.

The Rev. Don Fallon, K-State coordinator of religious activities

Detective Robin Pritzel of the OPD said Wade, a 19-year-old K-State freshman in journalism and mass communications, was alleged to have raped the girl on Nov. 26 at an

■ See DEATH, Page 12

"When a person chooses not to live by suicide, we almost want to run away and hide," Fallon said.

Drawing a message from the 23rd Psalm, which was read at the service by Wade's cousin, Godfrey Sese, junior in radio and television, Fallon said, "In the midst of (David's) struggle to find faith and meaning in his life, he speaks these words, 'The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want,"

"There are in those times (of struggle) moments when God breaks through and says you are loved," he

Describing these moments of breakthrough as grace, Fallon said ■ See MOURNERS, Page 12

BRIEFLY A CAMPUS

Panel to discuss programs

Alpha Gamma Epsilon, a student gerontology club, and the Center for Aging will sponsor a panel discussion at 6 tonight at Meadowlark Hills Retirement Center, 2121 Meadowlark Road.

The panel members will be describing their programs, and students will have the opportunity to ask questions about parttime employment, volunteer work and career opportunities. A tour of Meadowlark Hills will follow the discussion.

Nobel laureate to lecture

Yuan T. Lee, a 1986 Nobel laureate, will speak at 4:30 p.m. today in Cardwell 102.

Lee, known as the "the Mozart of physical chemistry," is a faculty member at the University of California at Berkeley. He won the Nobel Prize with two other researchers after creating the first detailed understanding of chemical reactions, according to the New York Times.

He helped discover a way to see the interplay of energy which changes one kind of matter into another kind, replacing the traditional frozen picture.

Using tools they invented in the 1950s and 1960s, the researchers brought the theory and technology of modern physics into chemistry. Lee studied chemical reactions molecule by molecule for the first time by firing beams of molecules at supersonic speeds.

Their work, called reaction dynamics, can be used in a variety of problems, including how reactions are driven by catalysts, agents central to the industrial manufacture of chemicals and to crude oil refining.

1,090 eligible to graduate

On the evening of Dec. 11, 1,090 students may be able to call themselves K-State alumni. According to the registrar's office, this number is slightly higher than last year's December graduate totals.

In 1987, 1,037 students were eligible to graduate from the eight colleges holding commencement exercises. However, only 908 students received a diploma.

Charlotte Pfaff, records supervisor, said the totals for this year's December graduates also may decrease. This is attributed to students' failing to complete a required class or not completing the necessary paperwork.

This year the Graduate School has the most eligible graduates with 203. The College of Engineering is next with 200, followed by the College of Arts and Sciences with 197.

The College of Business Administration has 169 students eligible, the College of Agriculture has 126, and the College of Education has 102. The College of Human Ecology has 86 and the College of Architecture and Design has eight.

20% OFF STOREWIDE

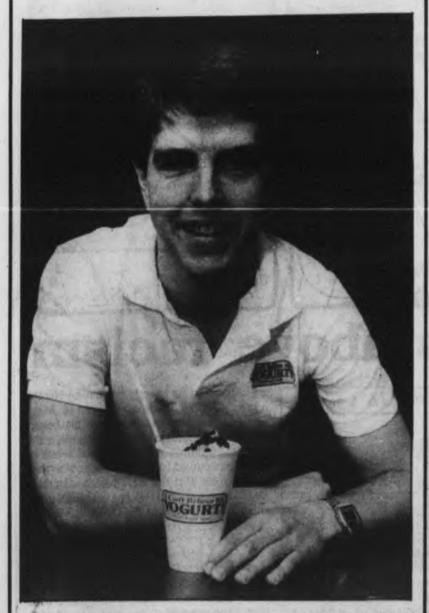

December 1 through 8 Everything in the store is at least 20% off-selected items up to 50% off!

Manhattan Kobbies & Toys

317 Poyntz, Downtown

Advertising in the Collegian has visibly enabled our business to effectively communicate our message to K-Staters and other customers in the Manhattan area.

-Larry Boyd, manager

Kansas State

COLLEGIAN ADVERTISING

reaching over 18,000 people daily your key to the campus"

Kedzie

532-6560

Mon.-Sat. 10 am -9 pm Sunday Noon - 5:30 pm

712 N. Manhattan

776-9911

MUSICAL GARAGE SALE

PRE-OWNED BOOKS, RECORDS, MUSIC, ETCETERA

Leavengood Courtyard McCain-Music Wing Thursday, Dec. 1 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m.

Sponsored by Pi Kappa Lambda Honorary

Editorial

Kansas State Collegian Opinions ■ Thursday, December 1, 1988

Denial of Arafat's visa sets poor precedent

More than 200 years ago when the U.S. Constitution was ratified, many of our founding fathers were concerned that the Constitution lacked a Bill of Rights. They were so concerned about it that they insisted one be added.

One of the most important of the rights added was the freedom of expression. Apparently, though, that right doesn't sit too well with the secretary of state.

Late last week, Secretary of State George P. Schultz denied a request from PLO Leader Yasser Arafat for a visa to address the United Nations. The U.S. State Department denied the visa on the grounds that Arafat "knows of, condones and lends support to terrorist attacks."

Despite Arafat's questionable past, he has made recent moves toward peace. The United States has an obligation to let him address the U.N. General Assembly. When the United States agreed to headquarter the United Nations in 1947, it agreed to grant visas to people whom the United Nations invites to speak. The denial of Arafat's visa is in direct violation of this agreement.

Besides the technical reasons the United States should allow Arafat to speak, the decision sets a dangerous precedent. Many European and Arab nations were quick to protest the decision and it is likely that Arafat will address the U.N. General Assembly in Geneva. If the United States continues to deny visas to foreign diplomats, what is to keep the U.N. from moving to Geneva altogether?

It is unwise for the United States to reject Arafat's visa when so many nations are working for peace in the Middle East. If we are to keep the respect of other nations, we must work toward Middle East peace as well.

If Arafat and the PLO can recognize Israel, surely we can allow Arafat to speak on American soil.

Priorities can change after tragic events

The holiday season. It's a time for friends, family and joy. But when you open the newspaper to see articles about deaths close to home, like a student suicide and a nearby explosion, its hard to feel joyous.

The days, weeks, months and even years to follow will be filled with questioning, grief and even guilt for the friends and family of those who died.

But, hey, that won't effect us. Oh sure, maybe we'll stop and say, "How tragic. ... How sad." But finals are coming and we've got projects to finish and tests to take, and ... and ...

But we should stop. We should stop in our tracks and think. Everything that seems so important to us now could become so unimportant if we were to wake up tomorrow morning and find out that our best friend had just died.

Questions of "Why didn't I tell him how much I loved him?" and "Why was I so damn busy that I couldn't take time out of my precious schedule to just talk to him?"

So that you won't be caught asking, "Why, why?" some day, stop now; slow down.

Take time to separate the urgent from the important. Put this paper down now and call up some friends you haven't seen in a while and tell them how much you miss

If you don't do it today, you'll miss them much more if tomorrow any one of them is gone.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Е ОПОВ		Chad L. Sanborn
MANAGING EDITOR		Lori Siegrat
NEWS EDITOR		Janet Swanson
EDITORIAL PAGE EDITOR		Jeff Schrag
BOTTO PARHICS FOITOR		John La Barge
SPORTS FOITOR		Chris Hays
ADVERTISING MANAGER		Catherine Doud
EDITORIAL BOARD	Susan L'Eouyer, Scott Miller, Michael Nichols, Karla Redek Jeff Schrag, Erwin Sebs, Paula Selby, Robert R. Short, Mark I	sheimer, Chad L. Sanborn Schmeller, Janet Swanson
tions Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhat Monday and Thursday during su POSTMASTER: Send address of hattan, Kan. 66506-7167.	changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Deek, Kedzie 103, Ka popted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsro- nal and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6 ed to (913) 532-6555.	66502. unsas State University, Man- corn, Kedzie Hall 116.
	Kaneas State Collegian Subscription Rates
One Semester (Fall or Spring)
Two Semesters (Fall and Spring)
Summer Session
One Year (Fall, Spring and Sum	VIIII)	$50
	To charge by VISA or MasterCard, call (913) 532-6555	the transfer and and

Collegian Editorial Policies

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR are always encouraged. Those which pertain to matters of campus and/or public interest are especially encouraged, and are given the

Letters should be kept as brief as possible, preferably under 300 words. Those who cannot condense their opinions should consider submitting their letter in the form of a guest column. All letters are subject to editing for space, style and taste.

GUEST COLUMNS are also encouraged. The column should be no longer than two double-spaced, typed pages. If the submission is used as a column and not a letter to the editor, it will be accompanied by the author's photograph.

SEND SUBMISSIONS to the Collegian in Kedzie 116. UNSIGNED EDITORIALS represent the consensus opinion of the Collegian's editorial board. Opinion columns do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the Collegian management, Student Publications, Inc. or the newspaper staff in general.

End-of-year style resolutions need adjusting for students hanksgiving. Christmas. New Year's. The traditional mainstream winter holidays come right on the tail of one another, hardly giving us time between to rest. To students, these holidays mean only one thing ... a much-deserved break from school.

Aside from that universal feeling all students share, each holiday has its own special meaning to individuals. Some people choose to celebrate Christmas elaborately, while some choose not to observe it or to observe another religious holiday.

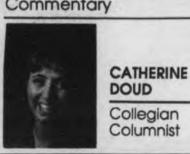

There is one tradition common to most people on New Year's Eve - making New Year's resolutions.

Almost everyone makes New Year's resolutions. It's a BIG DEAL. It's an easy topic of conversation for about two months. Everyone always sits around and asks each other what resolution they made. And when resolutions are broken, which they almost always are within a month or so, it causes the person great grief and sorrow, besides public humiliation (as if the person expected to keep the resolution for the entire year).

While New Year's resolutions are common, they don't make sense for students. What is there to resolve to do when you are on Christmas break and lounging around the house? There is, however, one time of the year when most students make more promises and resolutions than any other time, and that is right about Thanksgiving time.

There is nothing like coming back from Thanksgiving vacation and realizing there are only two weeks of school before finals two weeks to get those projects done, two weeks to go to that class that you've skipped for the past two months, two weeks to cram before finals. Few things are more sobering to a college student.

Commentary

Collegian Columnist

Thus, I propose doing away with New Year's resolutions for students, replacing them with Thanksgiving Day resolutions.

Think about it. There is a much more dire need for resolutions at this time. There are more problems around so that you can have interesting resolutions instead of the old stand-bys that everybody uses. Which sounds better, resolving to lose 30 pounds in two weeks like always or resolving to never, ever, ever, miss an Art History lecture again (which you can do since you only have two more weeks of that class).

lus, the resolutions only have to last until the end of the year, which, luckily, is only a month and a half away. This beats being tied to a certain behavior pattern for 12 months just because you had a little too much eggnog on New Year's and made a stupid resolution that someone just happened to write down and save for posterity.

To get the ball rolling on this new Thanksgiving Day resolution trend, I offer some of my own Thanksgiving Day resolutions.

irst, I resolve never to miss any more of my classes until the end of the semester. (Because if I do, I probably will flunk.)

Second, I resolve to have all of my papers done early this year so that all I have to do during finals week is study for tests. (Ha! I always resolve this and it will never happen, but it's a good plan.)

Third, I resolve never again to shop in a store that displays Christmas items before Halloween is over, no matter how good of a sale it's having.

Fourth, I resolve to hide my plastic money from myself until Christmas is over.

Finally, I resolve to read the material for my finals before finals week is here.

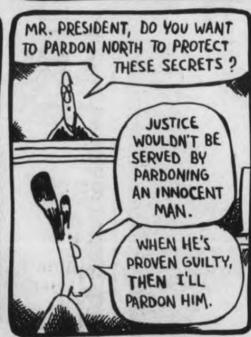

Now, wasn't that easy? How many of you have already made little promises to yourselves that sound a lot like these? Just think, you could have made them resolutions and have a neat little conversation topic for those days when there is a lull in the conversation around the Union Stateroom.

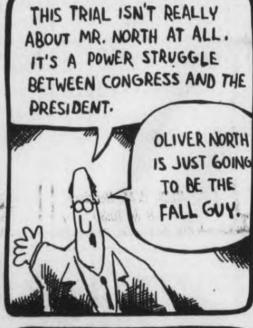

Plus, you can use these little resolutions to show your parents how responsible you've become while at school.

The best part is you were going to make these little promises to yourself anyway. Don't let them just be promises, be a part of a hip and growing student trend. Be a part of the Thanksgiving Day Resolution generation.

Relationships above racis sudden silence on the phone when the words are mentioned. Or faces will frown and stare. Ways to deal with it are through avoidance or racist remarks. Unfortunately, these are common responses to interracial relationships.

CHINERIAL PRESI SYND.

WANNA

BET?

SHHH

YOU'RE

A HERO

There are many types of interracial relationships, but the most common is the black and white interracial relationship which I think tends to stimulate the most racism.

We hear the complaint that the white female is stealing the black male or the black female is stealing the white male. We forget that there should be enough men in the world, regardless of race, for any woman, if she wants a man.

This also re-enforces the stereotype that women are competitive, jealous and are in a rivalry for men. But what should be remembered is that we share many commonalities as women, especially when it comes to wife abuse, rape and incest.

Another misconception is that persons involved in interracial relationships are denying their culture. A person can have a strong sense of her or his identity and culture yet still be interracially involved.

As a matter of fact, maybe the person interracially involved knows it is important to combine and to contribute cultural identity in order to improve and to enrich our society.

This doesn't mean forgetting cultural roots; it means realizing that our world is divided. It's filled with hate and prejudice because many of us refuse to leave our race lines and contribute our culture and selves to improving the melting pot of our society.

As a black woman who knows how it feels to like someone from another race, I also know the criticisms, criticisms such as white men raped and beat black women during slavery and black men were beat and hung if hey were suspected of having a relationship with a white woman.

But there are men, regardless of race, who are capable of raping, beating and killing. Prisons are filled with some of them.

ven though black and white societies have slavery in their histories, how long can we live with vengeful hating and blaming? We need to concentrate on changing racist attitudes and

I'm not saying we should forget the negative effects of slavery because I think we can learn from slavery how destructive and harmful racist feelings of superiority can be. Maybe this could help us change for the better.

Another prejudice that concerns me is the idea that children from interracial relationships are confused and don't know who they are. There's also the well-known statement that "I don't mind those interracial relationships, but what about the children? It only shames and hurts them."

y school of thought is that it all depends upon the projected selfimages of the parents and their socioeconomic values and attitudes. After all, there are people who have been born from parents of the same race who are confused and mixed up about their identities.

It also should be remembered that interracial relationships usually are not planned. It just happens, but sometimes individuals are made to feel guilty and ashamed. This shouldn't be. That's why I was compelled to start the Women in Interracial Relationships Support Group.

I see it as an outlet for women in interracial relationships to share experiences and feelings in a supportive, non-judgemental and non-racist environment. No one in an interracial relationship has done anything wrong. I think it's time we challenge our limited perceptions of relationships. Editor's Note: Barbara Baker is a graduate student in educational counseling and student personnel.

Letters

Cartoon in bad taste think is a brainstorm. Both schools have a

Editor,

As firm believers in the American citizens' right to bear arms, the cartoon in the Nov. 30 issue of the Collegian about the N.R.A. infuriated myself and several others.

The fact remains that many students, such as ourselves, are sportsmen and gun owners. We feel that this was, in effect, a slam on us due to the fact that this cartoon portrayed gun owners as unstable people whose values and ideals are synonymous with those of a presidential assassin. Therefore, we feel that this cartoon was in extremely bad taste and its portrayal of gun owners was in blatant disregard for the millions of responsible gun owners in the United States.

Tom Krauss senior in range management and 12 other Second Amendment supporters

Start a 'Cat fight

Editor

An open letter to Steve Miller, athletic director and all Wildcat fans:

I am an alumnus of K-State and the University of Arizona in Tucson (a member of the Pac-10). I was thinking about how I would like to see K-State and Arizona play each other in basketball. In playing with ideas on how to get that to happen, I had what I cars).

think is a brainstorm. Both schools have a wildcat mascot and I propose to use this to develop "THE CAT FIGHT."

Arizona, K-State, Kentucky, and Villanova all have solid basketball programs. All have a wildcat mascot. The Pac-10, the Big Eight, the SEC, and the Big East are powerful basketball conferences. They are in different areas of the country with great basketball traditions from which to draw recruits. Playing each other would provide the teams with greater visibility throughout the nation.

Using the "THE CAT FIGHT" theme would tie together the strengths of the participating universities with none of the weaknesses. This would showcase the universities. Having K-State mentioned in the same breath as Villanova, Kentucky and Arizona could do nothing but help our sports program. The four have had great success in the past few years and none of the four is considered anything but solid. Now is a good time to move to establish "THE CAT FIGHT."

I propose the format to be a double-header played after the beginning series of early-season tournaments but before the series of holiday tournaments. During a three-year cycle, each team would play each of the other teams. With the caliber of teams, it should be no problem to get a TV contract (ESPN perhaps) and a corporate sponsor (Lincoln-Mercury — Cougar, Bobcat and other 'cat' cars).

There would be no tournament, just a double-header. We can use this to keep our team with the best, but, more importantly, this most likely would help recruiting in other sports, especially those in which we could use a great deal of help. (I won't mention which one needs the most help.)

This is an idea that could make it. What do you think? Any suggestions? Write in to the Collegian and let the campus know what you think. Let us, the K-State community, work together to build an exciting new chapter in K-State athletics.

Edward L. Lubbers USDA research associate

Repaint crosswalks

Editor,

Being a student and feeling the need for safety on campus, I believe the crosswalks need to be repainted.

Our campus is without a doubt one of the most aesthetically pleasing campuses in the Midwest, but that doesn't do a thing for the safety of students. It just isn't right to spend all the money collected from students, such as parking permits, on flowers and sprinklers.

This money should be used in repainting and marking the crosswalks. This would ensure the students, who pay to attend this university, the right to feel safe when crossing the street. I have many other things to worry about beside dodging cars while trying to get to class. disservice you are doing to yourself and fellow students. I am a returning student, so per-

Gavin Seiler sophomore in animal science

Many lack respect

Editor.

I am completely appalled at the total lack of respect for the dignity of other human beings on this campus. There are numerous individuals taking a stand for respecting the rights of others in other countries, which I think is important. But, if we cannot be respectful here, how can we expect others to be respectful of human dignity in far-off lands? I am most concerned with the disrespect shown to professors on campus.

In several of my classes, there are professors who have not only worked hard to get their Ph.D.s, but also have worked hard to be prepared for classes and who are being demoralized and basically slapped in the face by their students. People talking in a normal tone of voice all the way through class, leaving en masse before the end of the hour and poking fun at genuine human error are just a few of the atrocities.

Whether or not you personally like your professor and his or her teaching style, he or she is still a person deserving some common courtesy.

This does not even take into account the disservice you are doing to yourself and fellow students. I am a returning student, so perhaps I am a little more serious than the undergraduates in my classes, but if you aren't here to learn, stay out of class. Class is not a social hour or a punishment session to get out of as soon as possible. If you are going to school, do it right! And if you feel that your neighbor can explain it better, ask after class can explain it better, ask after class.

I think we could all learn some good lessons about respect here that would affect us and others the rest of our lives. The greatest man who ever lived said it best: "You shall love (respect) your neighbor as yourself."

Deirdre Bath graduate student in grain science

Parking swiped

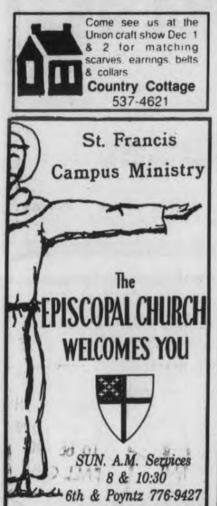

Editor,

The faculty is taking over!

The faculty reserved stalls in the Union parking lot are growing every year. What is ironic is that the lot directly in front of the Union is designated specifically for the use of students and yet the faculty slowly takes a bite of it every year.

And unless we as students protest this, they will continue to proceed as they have. Let's keep what is ours — make yourself heard!

Nick Hulsing junior in marketing

Learn hands on in Kedzie

WE WANT TO MAKE YOUR STUDENT LOAN!

Have the professionals at Kansas State Bank make your student loan. Simply contact us at:

537-4400 Lender code #821176

Airport
Flea Market
Manhattan, Kansas
OPEN EVERY WEEKEND
Sat. 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

Sat. 8 a.m.-4 p.m. Sun. 10 a.m.-6 p.m.

Household Goods, Tools, Collectables, Crafts, Furniture, Christmas Items and Decorations, Jewelry & Lots More Space available

Ft. Riley Blyd, to Airport Rd., to Murray Rd., Right to Access Rd., Right to the Market, Watch for the signs.

PRIDE CO. (913)776-6906

GET INVOLVED

Student Government needs YOU!

Apply for membership on a Student Senate Standing Committee

Academic Affairs & University Relations

Communications Finance

Legislative Affairs Senate Operations

Senate Operations
Student Affairs & Social Services

or Be a Senate Intern

Applications are due Wed. Dec. 7 at 5 and may be picked up in the SGS office Questions: call the Senate Hotline

532-7777

WordPerfect

Get the highest rated word processor at an unbelievable educational price - with speller and thesaurus!

WordPerfect V.4.2 -$ 125
WordPerfect V.5.0 -$ 135

Connecting Point. 111

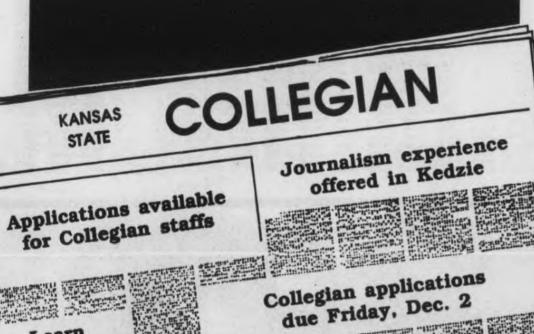

COMPUTER CENTER
1115 Westloop Shop. Ctr

75%

F/T Faculty & Students ONLY

th & Poyntz 776-9427

Westloop • Aggieville • K-State Union, Manhattan, Kansas 66502

variety of positions open for a variety of people

Now Taking Applications for Spring Collegian:

Campus Editor (2) Managing Editor News Editor Arts and Entertainment Editor Editorial Page Editor Feature Editor Government Editor Photo Editor Sports Editor Science/Health Editor City Editor Staff Assistant Copy Editor (4) Graphic Artist Staff Writer (7) Sports Writer (4) Sports Columnist (4) Business Writer Reviewer (3) Columnist (5) Cartoonist

News Staff-

Advertising Staff—
Assistant Advertising Manager
Campus/Tearsheet Representative
Sales Representative (6)
Graphic Artist (2)

Pick Up Your Application in Kedzie 103 NOW!

Applications due by 4 p.m. Friday, Dec. 2 in Kedzie 103.

PYRAMID PIZZA

Medium Large Single Topping Single Topping $799

For All You Late Night Operators

You've been operating all night with your friends. All the pizza places are closed? And you're hungry. What do you do? Your friends pull through and remember that Pyramid Pizza is open until 2 a.m. weeknights and 3 a.m. weekends. You call. You eat. Yumm. Show them what good times are all about. Tonight, let it be Pyramid.

Pyramid Pizza. Open when you really want it.

development harbors racism Poll shows

By Mary Gomez Collegian Reporter

An analysis of Gallup Poll data by a K-State professor provides evidence that the problem of racial discrimination in career development is yet to be solved.

Kenneth Hoyt, professor of education, finished analyzing the data last summer and is now serving on the National Career Development Association's presidential task force on equal opportunity to provide information on the issue of employment

In March at the National Career Development Association's 1988 convention, Hoyt made a presentation where he discussed the fact that "Twenty years ago when Martin Luther King, Jr. was assassinated, NCDA pledged to eliminate racism." The problem is still there, he said, with the added dimension of sex discrimination.

Hoyt analyzed and reported data pertaining to racism and sexism in career development that was collected by George Gallup pollsters.

discrimination.

The association commissioned Gallup to conduct the national survey. Hoyt also has prepared a literature search on the topic. "The task force came out of the paper (Bringing Equity of Opportunity for Career Development to All) and the Gallup Poll survey," Hoyt

"We have not made a substantial difference," he said. "That is why the task force has been developed." Veryl Switzer, assistant vice president of minority affairs, agrees that there is still employment discrimination on the basis of race and sex. "Each year, thousands of complaints are turned in nationally to the Office of Civil Rights," Switzer said. think there has been some improvement here at K-State, but we're still not meeting our societal needs as a diverse nation in terms of equal opportunity."

Hoyt's paper gives statistics that show that some progress has been

■ The proportion of college graduates among young blacks has risen 700 percent since 1940.

The proportion of black high school dropouts has decreased from 32 percent in 1973 to about 20 percent in 1983.

■ By the year 2000, 17 percent of the increase in the labor force is projected to be black. Hispanics are projected to be 24 percent of this increase, and Asians to be 11 percent. Although those statistics show an improvement in minority career development, Hoyt said other statistics show a negative side.

Public school enrollment figures show that while 16.2 percent of pupils are black, only 6.9 percent of teachers are black and that while 72.2 percent of pupils are non-minority whites, 89.6 percent of teachers are non-minority whites.

The percent of black high school graduates enrolling in college has declined from 29.2 percent in 1971 to 26.1 percent in 1986.

In 1986, the unemployment rate for black high school graduates was one-fifth higher than the rate for white high school dropouts, according to research in Hoyt's paper.

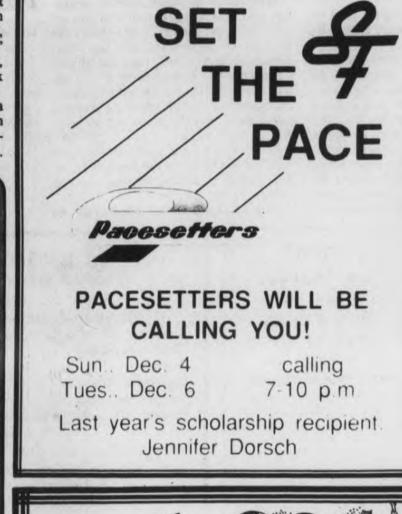

"I don't think there's any doubt that there is discrimination in career development," Hoyt said.

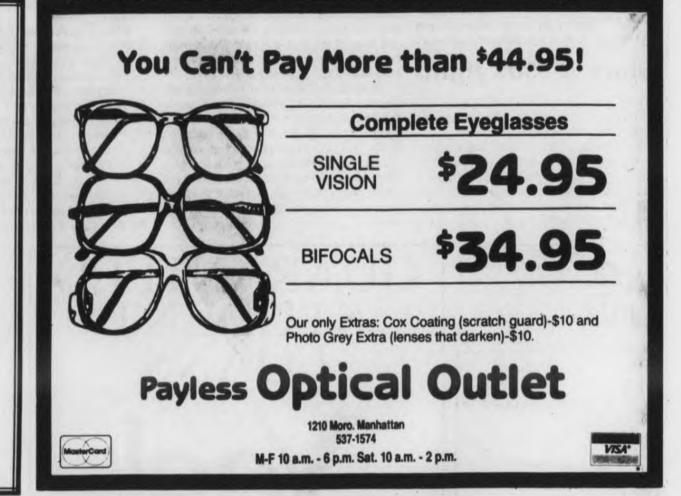

Hoyt's findings and the work of others will be used by the association to formulate resolutions aimed at eliminating racism and sexism in career development. The association is an organization of about 10,000 professionals representing industrial employee development counselors, high school counselors, educators, state and federal policy makers and university career planning and placement officers.

The Office of Affirmative Action handles discrimination claims and cases at K-State. Jane Rowlett, director, estimates that eight to 10 claims of sexual discrimination and 10 to 12 claims of racial discrimination go through the office each year.

Switzer said he is more optimistic than ever that improvements will be made in terms of equal opportunity.

It took Galileo 16 years to master the universe. You have one night.

It seems unfair. The genius had all that time. While you have a few short hours to learn your sun spots from your satellites before the dreaded astronomy exam.

On the other hand, Vivarin gives you the definite advantage. It helps keep you awake and mentally alert for hours. Safely and conveniently. So even when the subject matter's dull, your mind will stay razor sharp.

If Galileo had used Vivarin, maybe he could have mastered the solar system faster, too.

Revive with VIVARIN:

gers & more bur McCain uditorium

Tulsa Ballet Theatre nan Jasinski and Moscelyne Larkin, Artistic Directors in

The Nutcracker Saturday, December 10, 7:30 p.m. Sunday, December 11, 2:30 p.m.

Ring in the holiday season with the ballet that has enthralled audiences of all ages for nearly 100 years. Thirty local children perform as ce, angels, rabbits, soldiers, and clowns in the Christmas classic that features

> General Public: $14, 12, 10 Senior Citizen: $12, 10, 8

box office between noon and

A Mid-America Arts Alliance Progr h the Kansas Arts Commission, Corpo support by the Kansas Farm Bi

Transportation for sen Manhattan Arts Council. For inform call Marie Dellen at 537-4400. ALL TO BE DESCRIBED

InFocus

Kansas State Collegian ■ Thursday, December 1, 1988 ■ Page 7

All thumbs

Left-handers face life in right-handed world

No wonder blondes have more fun — a recent study found that a high percentage of left-handers are blond.

According Lefthanders International of Topeka, 10 to 15 percent of the world's population is left-handed.

Some say the number of left-handers is increasing each year because people are letting left-handers be left-handers, said Kim Kipers, executive assistant at Lefthanders International.

Lefthanders International helps left-handers survive in a right-handers' world. The organization tries to answer left-handers' questions, collect research data and approach manufacturers to make left-handed items, she said.

"Four years ago, we started a mail-order products business, and (now we) have a catalog with about 130 items in it for lefties," she said.

Lefthanders International was founded in 1975 by Dean Campbell, a Manhattan beer distributor, and his wife, both left-handers, Kipers said.

"They felt that they needed a place to address the needs and interests of left-handers," Kipers said.

Originally, Lefthanders International had chapters in states across the country, and it had a magazine that was supplemented with newsletters.

Today, the headquarters in Topeka mails bimonthly magazines. The magazines replaced the chapters and are now the only form of membership to the club. The magazine costs $15 a year, and about 23,000 subscribe, Kipers said.

Members include Sen. Bob Dole and former President Gerald Ford. Both are on the board of trustees, Kipers said.

"We seem to be better known on the coasts and do a lot of business in New York and California. They've heard of us for quite a while, but we're not so well known in the Midwest," she said.

"People are just beginning to find out that we exist, and as word spreads, it helps to increase the memberships," she said.

Data the club has collected shows that left-handed people usually are more creative, intuitive, wholistic, image-oriented and imaginative than right-handers are.

According to a report by William H. Thomas' which he based on the research of neurologist Norman Geschwind, these attributes have been overlooked.

Research has focused on the association of left-handers with learning disorders and immune diseases. These diseases are based on dyslexia and immune diseases of the intestine and thyroid, which are prominent in people who are strongly left-handed.

The disorders that are currently being studied for their relation to lefties are autoimmune diseases, stuttering, dyslexia and alcoholism. Kipers said.

According to the report, dexterity is a continuum ranging from extremely left-handed to extremely right-handed, including all levels of ambidexterity.

People who are mildly right-handed show more of a chance to be dyslexic then the strongly right-handed show. A minor deviation from full right-handedness is accompanied by a sharp rise in the frequency of dyslexia.

Geschwind, left-hand research expert and Harvard neurologist, thinks that the development of the brain determines whether a person is left- or right-handed. Usually, the left side of the brain matures faster then the right side, making the person right-handed. But in left-handers, the right side matures faster, making them left-

Geschwind theorizes that an increase in certain hormones, such as testosterone, changes the side of the fetal brain which matures faster from the left to the right.

The hormones cause the right side of the brain to stay ahead of the left side when it would normally begin to slow down and lag behind. It stays ahead through development and causes the person to be left-handed.

There are a couple theories, based on genetics and birth trauma, which try to explain how the brain decides which hand will be dominant.

Studies indicate that left-handed people are more likely to have twins than right-handers are, Kipers said.

Information from Lefthanders International states that left-handers have special advantages that often have been overlooked. Studies have shown that many lefties have visual-spatial, mathematical and musical talents superior to right-handers.

Most of these abilities originate in the right side of the brain and are attributed to the dominance of that side in lefties, she said.

Acute visual and spatial perception allows left-handers to excel in engineering, architecture and the sciences. Creative and intuitive left-handers can use their talents to tap their hidden potential and achieve high goals, according to the information.

Story by Scott Berg

Illustrations by John La Barge

Firefighters warned of risks before highway site explosions

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - The six firefighters who died in the first of three ammonium nitrate explosions that rocked a highway construction site Tuesday had been warned there could be explosives at the scene, transcripts of conversations with dispatchers show.

But fire officials said there were no signs at the site indicating that the explosives were in the construction trailers that blew up.

Two pumper crews were sent to the site in south Kansas City after dispatchers were told first that a pickup truck was on fire, and that explosives might also be burning.

The call came at 3:40 a.m. from someone who said the truck was burning. Harold Knabe, the Kansas City Fire Department spokesman, said Wednesday that officials do not know who made that call but that they assume it came from two security guards at the site.

The guards, a brother and sister, told investigators they had seen prowlers in the area before finding the pickup burning. Police homicide and arson detectives are investigating.

As the dispatcher asked questions about the location of the fire, another voice is heard in the background on the tape provided by the fire department, saying, "Oh, the explosives are on fire.'

When the dispatcher asked what

"There's some explosives up on a hill that I also see now is burning."

The dispatcher sent a pumper from Fire Station 41 to the scene, with a word of warning of explosives.

Capt. James Kilventon Jr., 54, headed the three-man crew that reached the scene at 3:47 a.m. and immediately asked for another pumper and then for police because of suspected arson.

Ten minutes later, Pumper 41 told the dispatcher to alert the pumper crew from Fire Station 30 "that there's the trailer on fire up there, stay away from it." The crew also asked for a battalion chief, and said, "there's supposed to be explosives involved in that."

At 4:08 a.m., Battalion Chief Marion Germann told the dispatcher, "Explosion just as we pulled up in here. Get us a ... all kinds of ambulances in here, get us ambulances ... and uh, at least a couple, three more companies."

Just before the blast, Germann had noticed what he described as a glow coming from the trailer and decided to pull the crews back. He was reaching for his radio to give the order when the explosion hit, forcing his car back about 50 feet and breaking the windshield.

Officials said the first explosion was in a construction trailer containing 30,000 pounds of ammonium nitrate, used most commonly fuel oil. A second trailer containing about 15,000 pounds of the chemical exploded about half an hour later, and fire officials said there was also another much smaller explosion.

The blasts left two craters 30 to 40 feet wide and 6 to 7 feet deep, along with a smaller one, and broke windows in scores of homes and

As police pressed their search for clues to the cause of the fires, fire officials reviewed the response of the two crews and found no immediate reason to question it.

"This is the big question today," said Knabe. "Everybody is kind of Monday morning quarterbacking. But the officer in charge has to evaluate and size up the situation. The rest is strictly a judgment on his part."

"Whatever they were doing, apparently there was nothing there to indicate to him there was any type of danger," the department spokesman said. "I'm sure that a man with the experience he had would not have jeopardized his men and himself. Without knowing and seeing what he was dealing with, we don't have any idea what action should have been taken." Knabe noted that Kilventon and Gerald C. Halloran, 59, the other captain who died, had more than 60 years of experience between them.

"They are not going to direct

Payment system altered

By The Collegian Staff

The sight of students fumbling with a handful of computer cards at registration will soon be a thing of the past.

"There will be no packet of computer cards as with the old system," said Donald Foster, registrar. "The new system has a single fee receipt with all fees listed on it."

There are several reasons for the change, he said. One is that the old system's equipment is outdated and no longer serviceable.

The new system will allow students to enroll and pay fees in one day. The old system sometimes made it necessary to do it in two, he said.

Foster said the new system can assess the fee cost of special groups of students, such as graduate teaching assistants, part-time students and

Frozen Yogurt Same great taste with no fat or cholesterol

New Nonfat

Can't Believe It's OGURT Frozen Yogurt Stores

Nautilus Towers-Aggieville Phone 537-1616 Manhattan

students from Missouri who have a special fee. The current system has problems with these situations. Fee calculation will be done by a computer and not by people, said Sharon Hauck, administrative office employee in the enrollment center. This will reduce the chance of mistakes, she said.

"The old system didn't handle them well," Foster said.

It is planned to incorporate refunding fees with the drop/add process, he said. This will allow the student to receive a refund at the time a class is dropped, eliminating the step of going to the cashier's and loan office in Anderson Hall.

"It will give greater coordination between the cashier's and registrar's

Testing of the new system was positive and will be used starting with the spring semester's enrollment, Foster said.

Students will not get their class schedule if they don't pay their fees, which had happened with the old system, he said. Exceptions will be made where financial aid is involved.

There is a plan to get a billingreceived system where all fees, fines, and expenses - yearbook, parking permits, etc. - are put on one bill so only one check has to be written, Foster said. This would include making one check to students on financial aid for the bill and one for money left

KANSAS KOUNTRY KLASSICS

FEED SACK JUMPERS •Prewashed 100% Cotton ·Custom Made ·Nine Designs

·Size S-M-L $3095

Norma 537-1193

•Unique Gift

Joyce 776-9048

Call after 4 p.m. Manhattan, Kansas

College of Business Administration

Distinguished Lecturer Series

Presents

Douglas A. Fraser Past President, UAW

Thursday, December 1st 7:30 p.m. Forum Hall - K-State Union

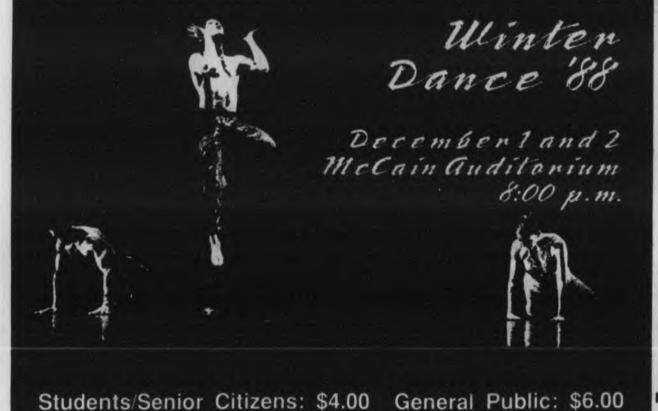

All Majors Welcome

their men into a place they know is as a fertilizer but which is also used was burning, the first voice said, in blasting after being mixed with going to blow up," he said. ARE YOU NEARING GRADUATION? . . .

Want to Work Your Chosen PROFESSION? ... Do you KNOW HOW TO GET THAT POSITION? ...

I WILL SHOW YOU TECHNIQUES SO POWERFUL, that THEY WILL INCREASE YOUR OPPORTUNITIES! . . YOU WILL CAIN AN EDGE over your or iduating class! Included are instructions detailing what to do once you've used these techniques to gain that all important first interview, and how to turn it into an OFFER

ORDER this book "ADVANCING YOUR CAREER," TODAY! ... Send $9.95 plus $1 for postage and handling to: CAREERS: Box 548, Olathe, KS 66061

539-5303

One number brings out the best at KSU

Now, at KSU, there's just one number to remember for fast delivery of pizza that's every bit as good as one you'd go out for.

Godfather's Pizza™ Now you don't have to settle for anything less, anymore.

> 1118 Laramie Aggieville

IT'S JUST NOT A PARTY IF YOU DON'T HAVE

Kansas State Collegian ■ Thursday, December 1, 1988 ■ Page 9

K-State's Fred McCoy shoots over Utah State's Gilbert Pete during the Wildcats' 86-67 victory over the Aggies Wednesday

Staff/Greg Vogel evening in Bramlage Coliseum. The 'Cats play on the road this Saturday against Oregon State.

K-State routs Aggies, 86-67

By Chris Wilhelm Sports Writer

The K-State Wildcats took control early in the basketball game against Utah State and cruised to post an easy 86-67 victory over the Aggies Wednesday night in Bramlage Coliseum.

"I thought generally we opened the ballgame the way you like to open ballgames," K-State head coach Lon Kruger said. "We were working the ball to the open man, playing aggressive inside and hustling. You benefit from a fast start all night long.

"We didn't open up the second half very well. We let them get within six points by not doing the things we did well early in the game. I was pleased that we rebounded and bounced back after they made it close."

Fred McCoy and Steve Henson were the keys to the 'Cats offense.

McCoy took game high scoring honors hitting 23 points on 7 of 13 shooting from the field and 9 of 12 from the free-throw line. Henson hit 17 points on 7 of 14 from the field (1 of 3 from three-point range) and 2 of 2 from the charity stripe. Both players had 11 points in the second half.

Henson scored 11 straight points for the 'Cats early in the second half to turn an eightpoint lead (49-41) into a 14-point lead (60-46).

There was only one lead change in the game, as K-State scored the first eight points of the game and never trailed. The closest the Aggies could get to the Wildcat lead was six points, 47-41. The 'Cats scored the next four points and led by at least eight points the rest of the way.

"K-State is a very fine basketball team." Utah State head coach Kohn Smith said. "We played tentative in the first half and I'm not sure why. We are a faster team than we showed tonight. I hope that our jitters were because this was our first game and on the road in front of a very vocal crowd.

"We came out in the second half and played basketball the way it's supposed to be played. We were a little more patient. We got some good shots and trimmed their lead. We just let Henson get away from us."

The Utah State coach credited 'Cats guard Henson with taking control of the game and ensuring the victory for K-State.

"(Henson's) my kind of player. He plays with a lot of confidence. When we started to get back into it, he took the game over. He also made the players around him play better. He hit 11 in a row for them and it rattled us. Kendall Youngblood drew his fourth foul and knew we were in trouble."

The Aggies got a good game out of starting guard Reid Newey as he scored 22 points on 8 of 20 shooting, including 6 of 13 from threepoint range, but it wasn't enough.

"I thought (K-State) had more talent last year than this year," Newey said. "I don't know if they're better this year, but they are as good. They were really physical inside and I don't think we ever got into the rhythm of that type of game with them."

Newey also had praise for Henson.

"I have a lot of respect for Henson. He plays hard and hustles. He's got a lot of talent but he really works hard to get the most out of what he's got. A lot of guys with talent are happy with what they have but he really works hard."

Mark Dobbins also had an outstanding night from his forward spot for the 'Cats as he scored 11 points on 5 of 5 shooting, including of 1 from three-point range.

"I'm not really looking to shoot the ball more than last year," Dobbins said. "I was just wide open. I don't take too many contested shots. If I'm not open I try to get the ball to the open man. Tonight I was open all night long.'

McCoy, Henson and Dobbins were the only K-State players to hit double figures in ■ See CATS, Page 14

K-State SMITH 22 0-1 2-7 23 24 24 16 22 16 5 MASSOP 2-6 0-0 0-2 McCOY 7-13 0-0 9-12 11 3 HENSON 1-3 7-14 3-4 0-0 DIGGINS 3-10 1-2 0-0 Humphrey 2-3 0-0 0-0 0-0 0-0 1-2 Rettiger 16 Dobbins 5-5 12 11 Stanfield 0-0 1-1 0-0 0-0 0-0 Maydew Weigel 0-1 0-0 0-0 0 0 Totals 32-65 FG3 Utah State MN

18 2-3 GRANT 3-6 CONWAY 0-0 0-0 0-0 0-1 HSEKPER YOUNGBD 19 1-1 NEWEY 8-20 6-15 38 Pete 13 1-3 0-0 0-0 White 3-7 0-0 0-1 Thomas 0-0 0-1 0-0 0 1 Pepek 27-62 9-21 4-7 3019 67 Totals Halftime score: K-State 44, Utah State 26.

Turnovers: K-State 13, Utah State 22. FG Pct.: K-State 49.2, Utah State 43.5.

K-State seems to have one happy 'football family'

DAVID SVOBODA Sports Columnist

A happy family is one that works well together and gets things done. A happy family doesn't let any activity, or lack thereof, detract from its overall harmony.

From first appearances, K-State's new football family of head coach

Miller and president Jon Wefald is a happy one indeed.

Let's hope it leads to some tangible successes.

Not to point fingers or to cast stones, but the final few months of the era of Stan Parrish as Wildcat football coach weren't exactly filled with family chats while roasting marshmallows over an open fire.

Parrish was hired by former K-State athletic director Larry Travis, who was in turn hired by former K-State President Duane Acker. In other words, Parrish was Travis' son and Acker's grandson, of sorts.

When Granddad Acker left, the son was just fine. Just as long as dad

Bill Snyder, athletic director Steve was around, the family feeling was intact. When Granddad Wefald arrived, Parrish felt much like one would if his wife's father moved to town — comfortable and uneasy at the same time.

Then dad died.

When Travis resigned, Parrish was left without the security he had found in the friendship of Acker and Travis.

Wefald had been a supportive backer — remember the scene after the win over KU in 1986 with Wefald and Parrish in an embrace outside the locker room? And Miller's arrival gave Parrish a staunch ally, but both moves left Parrish with none of his immediate family, those with a vested interest in him because they were responsible for his arrival in Manhattan.

Parrish's own failure to put winning teams on the field was a major if not the major - cause of his demise, but a feeling that the family wasn't quite getting along was a big reason why the son ran away from home. Parrish never admitted it in front of the microphones, because a grandson's first job is to respect his

Wefald and Miller now have found their natural son, and chances are great that he'll be treated just like Parrish was by his "parents," and, very likely, even better. Snyder isn't the adopted child of Wefald and Miller, he's their flesh and blood, and letics, and this is one son who wants appears to be cut from much the same mold. First of all, the new coach is a winner. If anything can be said about Wefald and Miller, it's that they've both been successful in everything they've done. Look at the changes this University has undergone since Wefald's arrival. Look at the dynamic course Miller has plotted for his athletic department. Look at results.

Wefald and Miller are betting that Snyder will produce the same type of results, and it's a good bet.

First of all, Snyder's going to get a nice allowance from dad. Financial support is a key in major college athto wear nothing but Polo clothing and drive the nicest cars. It appears granddad and dad are ready to spoil him until he's rotten.

Rotten, however, is something Snyder will never become. He's here to run a program based on integrity, he said Wednesday. That's another thing that made him so desirable to Miller, and another thing that makes him so much like Wefald.

There will be no short cuts taken here in an attempt to give K-State what it thirsts so greatly for - a winner in football. The Polo clothes and fancy cars Snyder attains will be in the form of benefits designed to give

■ See COLUMN, Page 14

impressed with Snyder after first meeting

By Chris Hays Sports Editor

The wait for the K-State football players to find out who their new coach would be finally ended Wednesday morning when Steve Miller anounced the hiring of Iowa offensive coordinator Bill Snyder.

"I'm glad that it's finally over," said junior defensive back Erick Harper. "It's really all that has been on my mind since Coach Parrish resigned. I just wanted to know who it would be and what kind of philosophy he would have."

The Wildcats found out first-hand in a team meeting Wenesday just exactly what kind of philosophy Snyder is going to have.

"He talked a lot about loyalty and that's what we were really concerned about," said redshirt freshman tight end Al Jones. "Coach Snyder put a really good impression on us and I think that with Coach Snyder we're going to start going up.

One player who attracted a lot of ention at Wednesday's press conence was redshirt freshman quarterback Paul Watson. Watson, the Wildcats' No. 1 quarterback in preseason before hurting his throwing shoulder, was rumored to have enter-

"I'm glad that it's finally over. It's really all that has been on my mind since Coach Parrish resigned."

-Erick Harper K-State defensive back

tained ideas about leaving K-State after Parrish had resigned.

"After talking to the team at the meeting he really impressed us," Watson said. "What I like about Coach Snyder is that he's not going to let anybody push him around. He's going to take his time and when it (turning the program around) happens it will happen.

'But when it does, he's not going to let it back down like in previous years ... like the year we went to the Independence Bowl (1982)."

Watson also said that one of the main reason he showed up at the press conference was because he wanted to find out just exactly what Snyder was going to say to the media and K-State supporters.

"I was very impressed with Coach Snyder at the press conference,' Watson said. "I was kind of worried about him saying something to the team and then going to the press conference and saying something different, but he said the same thing. He showed that he really cares about us."

"What I liked was that he let us know from the start just what he plans to do," Harper said. "I'm just glad he's not going to try and do everything real quick."

Snyder said that he has no time table as far as turning around the K-State football program, but Watson was impressed enough to make his own judgment as to how long it would take Snyder.

"With the young players that we have and the attitude that Coach Snyder has taken, I think it can happen within the next two years," Watson said. "He talks about bringing good people in here and how much he will take care of us, and that really matters to this program."

Paul Watson, redshirt freshman quarterback for the Wildcats, looks on as Bill Snyder is announced as the new head football coach during a press conference Wednesday in the Union.

Quayle discusses future duties

he committed during the campaign to curb a tendency toward talking too much. "Verbosity leads to unclear, inarticulate things," he Quayle also said he would make no recommendation as to who said.

should replace him in the Senate, but he did not reject suggestions that he favors Rep. Dan Coats, the former aide who represents his old congressional district.

His comments about conservatives were his strongest public rejection of the notion that he would become a link between the Republican Party's far right and the new administration. Quayle himself is an ardent conservative who has largely supported Reagan administration positions during his eight years in the Senate. ght years in the Senate.

by the Democrats.

On a personal note, he said he had learned from the verbal gaffes conservatives in the past; a lot of he committed during the campaign good friends are conservatives, but to curb a tendency toward talking to much. "Verbosity leads to servatives in this administration.... You won't see me being the socalled spear carrier for all the so-called conservative issues," Quayle worth of difference in philosophy" between him and President-elect George Bush, who in the past has been perceived as more moderate.

Quayle also hinted that he may take a more active role in his official capacity as president of the Senate, presiding over the Democratic-controlled chamber

"It's certainly an option," he

The presiding officer has sub-intial discretion as to which senator to recognize for the purpose of offering amendments, bills and motions. Normally the chair is occupied by a member of the majority party. A Republican in charge could spell contention between Democrats and the

"Clearly the constitutional role

He said "there's not a penny's of being president of the Senate is something I've got to sit down and decide on how I'm going to allocate my time. ... There have been suggestions to me by many that I consider spending more time in the Senate than my predecessors have I have not made a decision on that,

Quayle said.

Quayle said he and Bush have not spoken substantively about his role in the administration, but he ided that he wouldn't mind if he has to spend time fulfilling largely ceremonial duties such as going to

"There is ceremony for the funerals, but you can also do a lot of work. You can meet a lot of people.
You can have some meetings and you'd be surprised at the kind of information and contact that is made beyond the ceremonial requirements," he said.

New AIDS treatment found by researchers

By The Associated Press

LONDON - Monthly transfusions of blood plasma from otherwise healthy carriers of the AIDS virus have caused the virus to disappear from bloodstreams of 10 patients with AIDS or an AIDS-related disease, researchers said Thursday.

The researchers said the treatment apparently kills the virus without causing serious side effects.

Dr. Abraham Karpas of the Laboratory of Molecular Biology, affiliated with Cambridge University, said the plasma, treated to remove viruses, contains high levels of neutralizing antibodies that can kill the AIDS virus.

AIDS patients lack such antibodies in their blood, said Karpas, who led the research team. Research details appear in December's issue of The Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences, a U.S. scientific journal, he said.

Karpas called the results of his study "very encouraging," but other AIDS researchers urged caution in interpreting them.

Dr. Bryan Gazzard of St. Stephen's Hospital in London, where the tests were conducted, said the findings were interesting, but said larger trials must be done before anyone could say the treatment offered any clinical benefit.

Dr. James Chin, an epidemiologist with the Geneva-based World Health Organization's Global Program on AIDS, said, "If it's for real, (it) deserves to be further evaluated."

However, "I think that there may be a lot of work between some experimental results like that and what kind of applicability you would have in the real world," he warned in an interview.

"We don't know how effective it would be, how long people would have to take such a product. It could very well be for life. So a lot of things have to be worked out before we can really offer people a real ray of hope," he said.

In trials over the past nine months on six AIDS patients and four suffering from an early stage of AIDS known as AIDS-related complex, the. virus in the patients' blood "immediately disappeared ... following the transfusion of this hyper-immune plasma," Karpas said in an interview.

Shuttle repaired, readied for launching

By The Associated Press

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. -Technicians used glue for a quick fix on Atlantis' nose Wednesday and prepared to load the space shuttle with fuel for today's launch on a topsecret military mission. An approaching storm loomed as the only obstacle to liftoff.

The glue was a last minute substitute for two bolts on an access panel that could not be tightened. Replacing them would have meant a delay.

After deciding the glue would hold, NASA rolled back the service tower which has surrounded the shuttle, clearing the way for filling The access plate, which is covered by half-million gallons of liquid oxygen and liquid hydrogen.

"The bond is OK and we are proceeding on a decision for tanking," said Barbara Selby, a NASA headquarters spokeswoman.

The start of fueling, another of many milestones leading to a launching, awaited a late-evening weather assessment by shuttle managers. In similar situations in the past, NASA has proceeded with the tanking while hoping for a break in the weather.

The bolts were two of 10 that secure a 24-by-18 inch access cover on the right side of the shuttle's nose.

The Newest in

Hair Salons

Sponsored

Consulting

Hair Design and

Hair Care Products =

The Best of Manhattan's

• European Designs

Manicure Products

MANHATTAN:

Demonstrations

THURSDAY • DEC 1

Hair for Holidays

the huge external fuel tank with a 14 of the shuttle's heat protection tiles, is normally removed before flight to fuel a tank for the steering rockets the shuttle uses while in orbit.

The problem surfaced as workmen replaced the cover.

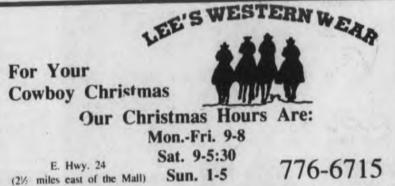

"We have to have to have assurance that panel isn't going to come off in flight," said Lisa Malone, a Kennedy Space Center spokeswoman.

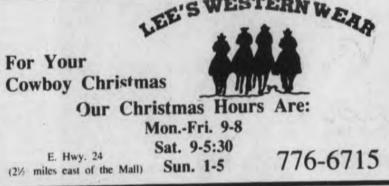

Meanwhile, there was an 80 per- ter," he said.

cent chance the weather would not permit Atlantis to be launched today. The forecast was for low clouds, winds up to 23 mph and a 40 percent chance of rain.

"There is a possibility that a front will come through and things will clear out," said Capt. Tom Strange, an Air Force weatherman. "There is a slight chance of that."

'Saturday is looking a little bit bet-

ART Designing Perm today. REDKEN

20% off Permanent wave with style haircut with style Call our experienced staff Expires 12/20/88

IMPRESSIONS 537-1332 Hair care center

5:30 - 9:00 P.M.

MANHATTAN TOWN CENTER

Graphics Plus

Phi Kappa Phi

An Honor Society Across All Academic Areas Kansas State University Chapter

Congratulations to our new members Evan Thomas Graham David J. Grant Dan E. Green Anita Pauls James J. Grimm Karen Ploder Caroline S. Hackerott Jerry Alan Proffitt David W. Haden

Khaled A. Al-Ali Kerri L. Anderson Michael E. Armou Susan Jeane Ater Rick D. Baden Linda Marie Baker Stephanie Kaye Barton Paula Baruth Beth Ann Bauer Nancy Gail Berry Charles W. Black Janet L. Blaha Virginia Boswell R. Jeanesn Boyer Patrick C. Breckunitch Richard E. Brown Anne M. Brull Christopher Ken Brzon Kenneth M. Bueche Matthew D. Bunker Matthew Burger James E. Butler Lauren Jolynne Camp Barbara W. Carlson Kevin Edward Case Yu-Ching Cheng Jaclyn D. Chestnut Kimberly Ann Clark Anne Clawley Glen O. Coats Gregory Phillip Covington Laura L. Cranmer Shirley A. Lefever-Davis Mark Devane Patrick Edward DiLaura Loretta J. Dillman ennifer J. Dorsch Karen A. Dunne-Thompson Kelli S. Ebert Elizabeth Ann Egger Mark O. J. Esping Mitzi A. Eyestone Kevin J. Forrest Kent G. Frieling Linda Andrews-Frye Estanislao A. Gacitua Mario

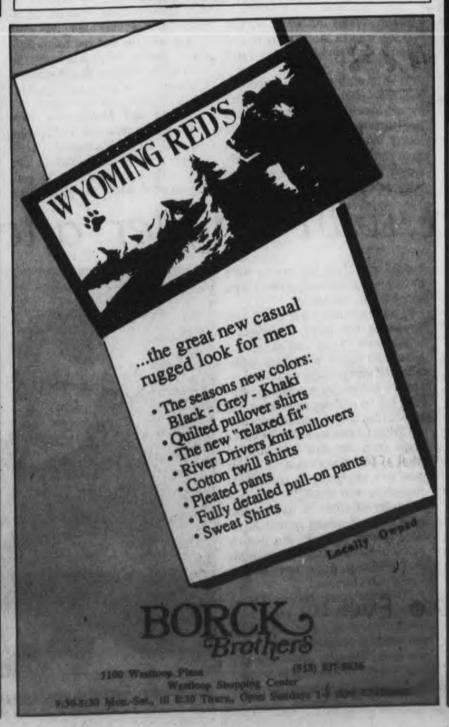

ernando O. Garcia rles Arthur Goin

en Lee Gorma

Kevin Gerard Hamel Marcel J. Harmon Kathleen M. Harsh Russell W. Hart Amy Lynne Hemphill Desiree E. Henderson Patrick F. Henke Nancy Thurow Hill James C. Hu Barbara J. Huggins Jeffrey S. Hunter Barbara Louise Jan Steven R. Janda James Alan Jensen David E. Johnson Cheryl Kim Kickhaefer Gregg Allen Knapp Stanley G. Kobylanski Joseph L. Komer Latane Clark Kreiser Andrea B. Krug Allan Albert La Barre Andrew W. Lenssen Katy Leonard Shelli Rael Letellier Bin C. Lim Robert G. Little III Anita J. Madison Rick Malir Kimberly S. Marble Lee Martin Loren N. Martin Sonya E. Martin Curtis E. Mauler Mary Ellen May Sharon McCaffre Karen I. McCulloh Chris Glen McNabb Victoria L. Melton Therese Marie Meyer Deborah Lynne Miles John D. Nachtigal Mark A. Nagely Kelli S. Nichols

Gregg Evan Nie

Victoria Faye Ohmacht Ethel Darlyne Pettijohn Rosanne Proite Lisa Ann Rahaim Caroline A. Rahberg Tamra Lynn Rankin Craig D. Ratzlaff Sheikh Faisal Razzaq Robert W. Reichenberger Karen McLeod Reinert Larura Lee Riblett Karen Ann Rolf Michael J. Rottinghaus Steve H. Rottinghaus Hossein Saiedian Barbara H. Schroer Todd R. Schultz Jan M. Schwartz Surojana Sethabutra Ellen Sue Sinclair Mary Alexandria Smith Connie Snapp Alhua Song Susan L. Sowles Susan E. Spangle Sharon Leann Spohn Melanie Kay Starns Cynthia J. Stasnopolis Nahid Tavaldkol Amy Crystelle Taylor Gina L. Thompson Lyndra Johnay Ukens Lentz Paul Upshaw Brian E. Vining Sheue-Shya Wang Theodore A. Warker Kimberly A. Warner Jill Maurine Warren Jacqueline S. Wendt Charles Harvey Wilkos Lloyd H. Willard Christine Marie Wolf

Hyundai Computers Introduced to Kansas

DENVER (FSI). The Hyundai Corporation has selected Connecting Point Computer Centers as their exclusive authorized dealer in Lawrence and Manhattan, Kansas. This selection follows the signing of a major supply contract with the 180 store Connecting Point chain here last month.

Hyundai, the $24 billion company known for its high quality, economical cars, has been a major producer of of microcomputers for the past several years.

Hyundai's Super 16TE line of PCs follows their automotive tradition of price/performance. Myles Schachter, Connecting Point President, said that he chose the Hyundai product line because of its great price, high speed and excellent software bundle. Each Hyundai, he said, is fast at 10 Mhz or twice as fast as the original PC; has a full 640K memory, 12" or 14" flat amber screen and a 101 keyboard.

The Electric Desk software included with every computer is a quality word processor, spreadsheet and database. The system also comes with Keyworks, a program to store keystrokes.

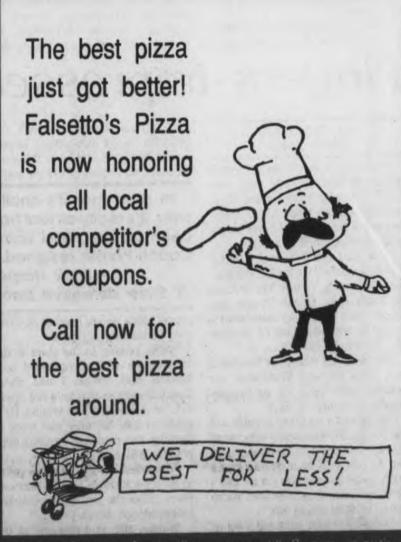

Dr. Rhonda Ross, the firm's Customer Support Manager, has found that the price has not compromised the construction of these powerful PCs. She states that the systems appear to be trouble free and highly compatible. She said this explains the manufacturer's 18 month warranty far in excess of the industry standard.

Hyundai Super 16TE

Due to the new Connecting Point-Hyundai contract, the Manhattan and Lawrence stores are introducing these PCs at more than 20% off already competitive compatible prices with training included with every purchase. Already, United Telephone Midwest Group, Menninger's Foundation and PARS Service has selected Connecting Point to provide Hyundai PCs to their employees.

Ebony theatre play to show apartheid

By Brad Atchison Collegian Reviewer

"Naturalistic theater is not quite art, and not quite entertainment. It ... is there." - David Mamet, playwright.

Tonight is opening night for the Ebony Theatre production of Athol Fugard's award-winning play, "Master Harold and the Boys."

to produce a show sure to be on an individual basis. We work thought-provoking as well as entertaining.

Fugard's play is set in a St. George tea shop in 1950 South racism of apartheid.

Director Tom McLaughlin, graduate student in theater, describes Fugard's work as "dramatic realism."

"Master Harold' is partially an autobiographical play. Growing Fugard to witness the crimes of apartheid," McLaughlin said.

From his experience, Fugard has constructed a drama which in some ways parallels the black/ white relationship found in Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn."

In "Master Harold," the innocence of youth allows Halley, a 17-year-old white, and black waiters Sam and Willie to be friends. Their friendships are an oddity, considering it grew in the soil of a land where black and white separate like oil and water.

water, the separation of black and white is not a law of nature. Such segregation is often due to the effects of socialization.

When we are young, we are often blind to things such as racism. Halley is not aware of the 'problem' with his friendships until society makes it a problem," McLaughlin said.

Although this is a show about "separation," McLaughlin said he is pleased with the unity of actors in this production, and finds it easier to work with a small cast.

"With a small cast, there is a lot Once again, Ebony has chosen of opportunity to work with actors together well. We have learned from each other in every rehearsal," McLaughlin said.

Despite a small number of Africa. As one might suspect from actors, the final product of "Masthe setting, "Master Harold" is a ter Harold" will be credited to drama which revolves around the about 20 individuals - black and white. Although "Master Harold" is an Ebony production - and Ebony is a black theater group being black is not a prerequisite for involvement.

"This is what Ebony is all about - breaking down barriers and up in South Africa allowed making people aware," McLaughlin said. "The conflict that we see in 'Master Harold' is still very alive today, and not only in South Africa. In the United States, the crime of apartheid is perpetuated when businesses and universities, such as K-State, invest in South African business."

In writing "Master Harold and the Boys," Fugard has chosen a medium for his message which is sure to animate an issue of our existence which many of us do not take the time to consider.

"Master Harold and the Boys" Unlike the separation of oil and will be presented in the Purple Masque Theatre at 8 tonight through Saturday. Tickets are $3 for the general public and $2 for students and senior citizens.

Speeches to present campus

By Mark Rader Collegian Reporter

Students in Phillip Anderson's public speaking class will be attempting to sway their audiences concerning public issues during a public forum from noon until 1 p.m. today in Nichols Theatre.

Six students will speak on what they think are important campus issues. The students first gave their speeches in class, then the class voted for their favorite speakers, who will now deliver their speeches to the public, said Anderson, instructor in speech.

Marty Villers, junior in preprofessional business administration, will present a speech titled "KSU Campus Needs Better Nighttime Security." Villers said the campus needs a cadet security program in which students are paid to patrol the campus at night for added security.

He cited a state-funded program at The Wichita State University as an example

"KSU: The Only Big 8 School That Doesn't Offer Academic Minors" will be the subject of Graham Dorian, junior in preprofessional business administration.

Christine Vanderweide, sophomore in pre-professional business administration, said she picked her subject, "Sexual Responsibility at KSU: Dispense Condoms in Campus Restrooms," because she thinks sexual responsibility is a problem, not

"People will use (condoms) more if they are readily available and (if) people have some education about them," she said.

Roger Drake, junior in preprofesional business administration, will speak on "Student Senate Should Support a Student-Run Alcohol Support Group." Anderson said Drake has already given his speech to many different organizations on Campus Lighting: Let There Be Light!" will be the subject of Suzanne Brown, sophomore in preprofessional business administation.

Brown said she stressed the need for the maintenance of the lights currently on campus when she first delivered her speech. She said, however, Campus Facilities had repaired most of the problems so her thesis has turned to maintaining minimum standards for lighting on campus.

Doug Miller, freshman in construction science, will speak on "Student Government Should Pay to Promote Attendance at Football Games." Although the class is in advanced public speaking, Brown said she encourages everyone to take it.

"I love it. I would recommend it to anyone. There's not anything to be scared about, Phillip Anderson is a very good teacher," she said.

Anderson said his philosophy of education was to "teach people to think clearly, critically and creatively ... to give people the opportunity to stretch their mind, brain and education."

SANTA'S GIFT LIST

Goggles

Mittens

Wool Hats

Ski Jackets

Sweaters

Powder Shirts

- ·Ear Muffs
- ·Socks
- Knit Caps
- Gloves
- -Ski Bibs
- T-Necks
- Stretch Pants Underwear
 - Ear Bands

Crazy-Shirt Sweatshirts $10 with $30 purchases

OPEN Monday-Thursday 10-8 Friday & Saturday 10-6 Sunday 1-5

537-9105 1212 Moro, Aggieville

January 10, 1989

DATES TIMES

1/3-1/10 1-5 p.m.

12/27-1/10 1-3:30 p.m.

12/27-1/10 8:30-Noon

12/27-1/10 8:30-11-30 a.m.

LOCATION

Seaton 236

Denison 120

Throckmorton 117

Throckmorton 128

Intersession registration is December 5-7, 1988 in the Farrell Library Basement, from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Beginning December 8 through the first day of class, individuals may register in person at 317 Umberger Hall, from 8 p.m.-6 p.m. Phone or mail registrations will be accepted after December 8, phone 532-5566 or 1-800-432-8222, Continuing Education Registration Office, 317 Umberger Hall, Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas 66506.

Tuition is $47 per undergraduate credit and $67 per graduate credit and is due at the time of registration. The maximum credit allowed is three hours per student.

To request an Intersession schedule with complete course descriptions and prerequisites, please call 532-5566 or visit 317 Umberger Hall.

NOTICE

REF.# COURSE# COURSE TITLE

94101 AGRON 430 Tropical Agronomy

94102 AGRON 615 Dryland Farming

94103 AGRON 910 Plot Design

94104 RNVD 299 Delis

94100 AMC 670 Private Water Supply & Waste Mgmt. 2 UG/G Steichen

The Division of Continuing Education will move its offices from Umberger Hall to College Court, 1615 Anderson Avenue (across from Nichols Hall), on or after December 15,1988. Due to construction constraints, we are unable to project an exact date for occupancy of these quarters. The Intersession Office and Registration Office will continue to be housed in Umberger Hall, third floor until that move.

2 UG/G Smith

2 G

CREDIT INSTRUCTOR

	94104	ENVD 299	Delineation Techniques		UG	Bullock		12/29-1/9	8-30 a.m1 p.n	. Seaton 106 K&M
	100000000000000000000000000000000000000	LAR 510	Delineation Techniques		UG	Bullock		12/29-1/9	12-30-5 p.m.	Seaton 106 K&M
	94106	LAR 741	Cities of Grandeur-	2	UG/G	Forsyth		1/3-1/10	1-5 p.m.	Seaton 200
			Urban Cityscape & Landscape			(tiets now dates & the	-	7178	1000
	94107	LAR 741	Golf Course Design	2	UG/G	Winslow		1/3-1/10	9 a.m3 p.m.	Seaton 251 & 306
	94108	PLAN 590	Environmental Reg & Planng	2	UG	Daniels		1/3-1/10	1-5 p.m.	Seaton 252
	94109	PLAN 815	Environmental Reg & Planng	2	G	Daniels		1/3-1/10	1-5 p.m.	Seaton 252
	94110	PLAN 590	Ping in Developing Areas	2	UG	Lapping		1/3-1/10	8 a.mNoon	Seaton 252
	94111	PLAN 815	Ping in Developing Areas	2	G	Lapping		1/3-1/10	8 a.mNoon	Seaton 252
	94112	ART 300	Problems in Art Abroad	2	UG	Dollar		12/26-1/8		Contract Con
	94113	BIOL 397	Biology of Plants	2	UG	Weis		CONTRACTOR OF THE PARTY OF THE	9 a.mNoon	Ackert 123
	94114	CMPSC 115	Personal Computer Applic.	3	UG	Kichler			12:30-4:40 p.m.	Nichols 122
	94115	CMPSC 490	C Programming Lang.	2	UG	Saiedian		50000000000000000000000000000000000000	9-11:45 a.m.	Nichols 127
	94116	ENGL 150	English Studies Abroad	2	UG	Nyberg		7787000000000	8 a.m10 p.m.	London, England
	94117	MUSIC 310	History of Musical Instr.	2	UG	Cochran			9 a.mNoon	McCain 105
ı	94118	MUSIC 390	Beginning Recorder Plyg.	2	UG	Sidorfsky			1-4 p.m.	McCain 135
ı	94119	MUSIC 390	English Musical Heritage	2	UG	Nyberg			8 a.m10 p.m.	London, England
ı	94120	MUSIC 425	Topics in Jazz-Saxophone	2	UG	Cochran			1-4 p.m.	McCain 105
ı	94121	SOCIO 301	Topics in Socio-Top. of Terriorism	2	UG	Karim			1-4 p.m.	Denison 120
ı	94122	SOCWK 495	Chem. Dep/Co-dependency:	3	UG	Ward		1/2-1/6	8 a.m5 p.m.	Salina
ı			Therapeutic Intervention							St. John's Hospital
ı			Business Start-up for Professnl.	1	UG	Jankovich		/4-1/6	9 a.mNoon	Calvin 18
ı	94124	MANGT 498	Computer Concepts & Applic.	3	UG	Innes			5:15-9 p.m.	Calvin 10
ı	94125	EDAF 511	Career Life Planning	2	UG	Schuette			8:30-Noon	Seaton 130
ı	94127	EDCI 051	Study Skills Lab (Math Skills)	2	UG	Hawkinson		/3-1/10	8 a.mNoon	Ackert 105
ı	94128	EDCI 051	Study Skills Lab	2	UG	Heerman		2/27-1/10	3-6 p.m.	Bluemont 116
ı	94129 1	EDCI 502	Educ. Field Experience	1-	2 UG	Kurtz		/2-1/10	8:15 a.m4 p.m.	Topeka or KC
ı					- 23	& Cohoon				area schools
ı	94130 1	EDCI 502	Teacher Assist. ProgrElem.	1-	2 UG	Smith	1	2/20-1/10	8 a.m4 p.m.	KS schools
ì									CAT WOOL.
ļ			Teacher Assist. ProgrSecond.	1-	2 UG	Scharmann	1	2/20-1/10	8 a.m.4 p.m.	KS schools
	94132 E		Top. in EdWriting in Content Area		UG/G	Heerman	1	2/27-1/10	6-9 p.m.	Bluemont 116
	1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1		Seminar in C & I: MS DOS	1	_	Byars/Rourk		/3-1/9	4:30-6:55 p.m.	Northview Elem.
	94134 (CONTRACTOR OF THE PROPERTY OF	Prob. in Const. SciCAD Appls.	-	UG	Goddard	1	2/27-1/10	8:30-11:30 a.m.	Seaton 221 & 222a
	94135 (CHE 580	Waste Reduction & Minimization	1	UG	Erickson	1	3-6 & 10	Varying	Durland 152
						& Fan			AF IN
	94136 0	CHE 875	Waste Reduction & Minimization	1		Brickson	1	3-6 & 10	Varying	Durland 152
	100	Se Tark				& Fan				100
	94137 0		Transportation Planning	3	UG/G	Russell	1	2/27-1/10	9-Noon, 2-5 p.m.	Seaton 54
	94138 I		Decorative Arts & Arch. in England	-	UG	Villasi				London, Regland
	94139 E	IDFS 590	Group Dynamics for Hum Serv. Provs.	21	UG/G	Balk	. 1			Justin 254

Death

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3 apartment complex in the 2000 block

of Crossroad Lane in Olathe. Pritzel said Wade was alleged to have met the girl the night the rape occured.

The report of the incident was filed Nov. 26 at 10:30 p.m., he said. Because of Wade's death, Pritzel said, the case is considered to be closed.

Rick Guinn, assistant district

Mourners

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

"God's grace says to us, 'you are accepted."

Fallon said people can find themsleves overwhelmed by life's events and can end up feeling trapped. "The promise of God in not that he will take away this suffering but that he will be with us through it," he said. The Men's Glee Club sang two songs during the service. Fallon said Wade had been a member of the organization. In an interview Wednesday evening, Fallon said Wade's family was receiving a great deal of support from friends and relatives.

"They've been very upset. However, they are coming to deal with it,"

Individuals wishing to express their sympathy may call upon the family at 7:30 p.m., Friday, at Frye and Sons Funeral Home 1005 Lula in Olathe. Wade's funeral is scheduled to take place at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at Frye and Sons Funeral Home.

> Buy, Sell or Trade in Collegian Classifieds

4 p.m. 2 DAYS Before Run Date

Collegian Advertising

532-6560

attorney for Johnson County, said Wade was released from custody Monday afternoon after posting a $10,000 bond.

Wade was scheduled to appear at a preliminary hearing in the case Dec. 8 at the Johnson County Courthouse,

The case against Wade will be dismissed because of his death, Guinn

Riley County Police continue to investigate Wade's death, said Lt. Allen Raynor, who is in charge of the RCPD investigation.

"It's just a matter of reviewing reports," Raynor said. "There is no suspicion of foul play," he said. Dr. Robert Cathey, Riley County coroner, said Tuesday Wade's death would be ruled a suicide. Wade was found dead at about 10:45 a.m. Tuesday in his room at the Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity house by his roommate.

Wade was killed instantly when he tributed information to this report.

fired a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun into his forehead, said Dr. John Bambara, deputy coroner.

Bambara declared Wade dead at the scene as 11:25 a.m. He fixed the time of Wade's death at approximately 4 a.m. Tuesday.

One question raised by the RCPD was why no one in the house heard sound of the shotgun being fired.

Raynor said the members of the fraternity were asleep in a large sleeping dorm at one end of the house and that Wade fired the weapon in his study room at the opposite end of the Raynor refused to disclose the name of the owner of the pump shotgun used by Wade, since he was not the owner. Wade did not ask to borrow the shotgun from the owner. "I think he just went down and borrowed it without asking someone," he said.

News Editor Janet Swanson con-

ClassAds 532-6555 Kedzie 103

CLASSIFIED RATES One day: 15 words or fewer, $2.50, 20 cents per word over 15; Two consecutive dates: 15 words or fewer, $3.50, 25 cents per word over 15; Three consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 cents per word over 15; Four consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.75, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $5.00, 40 cents per word over 15. Classifieds are payable in advance unless client an established account with Student Publications.

Deadline is noon the day before publication; noon FRIDAY for Monday's paper. Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion, it is the advertiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not the value of the ad.
Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE

for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103 or by calling 532-6555.

Dieplay Classified Rates
One day: $5.20 per inch; Three consecutive days:
$5.00 per inch; Frive consecutive days: $4.80 per inch;
Ten consecutive days: $4.80 per inch. (Deadline is 4:30 p.m. two days before publication.)
Classified advertising is available only to those who do not disciminate on the basis of race, color, religion, cational origin, ser or encestive.

national origin, sex or ancestry.

Announcements

ALL YOUR Mary Kay needs -skincare -glamor -nails -gifts for all seasons. Floris Taylor, 539-2070. FLYING INTEREST you? For information on K-State Flying Club call Sam Knipp, 539-6193.

HEY ALL you fruitcake lovers! Yes, it's that time again.
The Bakery Science Club is taking orders now! If you would like to order fruitcakes for your holiday party, for gifts, or for yourself; just leave your name, how many you want, and a number where you can be reached. Call 776-2408 today!

PARTY GAS (helium)... you fill... we fill... our balloons... your balloons. 1231 Westloop, 539-4038.

WANTED— 100 overweight people to try herbal weight control program. No drugs, no exercise. Doctor recommended. 100% guaranteed. 776-5114, 539-3333.

59° Tacos

All day, Every day

1.155 Westport Rd.

Offer expires noon Dec. 8, 1988.

Deadline: noon one day

1 off your

Collegian Classified

with your contribution

Kedzie 103 to receive

⁵1 off your Collegian

Not valid with any other

Prepaid ads only.

prior to publication.

to the Flint Hills

canned goods to

Classified.

Breadbasket. Take

(Continued on page 13)

SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING MAJORS!

The Air Force has openings for men and women in selected science and engineering fields. To prepare you for one, you can apply for an Air Force ROTC scholarship. See what it can do for you. Contact the campus Air Force ROTC representative today.

> CAPT EVERETT 913-532-6600

Leadership Excellence Starts Here

on color processing & 4x6 prints

Each picture is the best it can be or we reprint it free...now!

NO LIMIT ON ROLLS!

CPI Film Sale
ock up now for the Holidays!
3 rolls for $8.95 4 rolls for $9.95

5 rolls for $9.95 24 exp. 35mm - 100 ASA (reg. $12.95) 24 exp. 110 (reg. $12.45) 15 exp. disc (reg. $11.45)

Manhattan Town Center main entrance by food court

ANDERBILTS Rockys and Romance... a Perfect Pair

DOWNTOWN WAMEGO (HWY 99) OPEN DAILY 9-8 P.M., SUN. 12-5 P.M. • 456-9100

Lon Kroger and members of the KSU Basketball Team will be in the Union Courtyard TODAY at noon. Get Psyched for the upcoming basketball season!

Pictures with Santa Featuring: Santa of the Hour Only $1.50 Union Courtyard Monday, December 5-Thursday, December 8

Monday, Decembe 11:00-Steve Miller KSU Athletic Director 12:00-Carole Rood

"The Checkcashing Lady"

Sign up in the Union Activities Center from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. Only $11.

ROGRAM COUNCIL... YOUR ENTERTAINMENT ALTERNATIV

k-state union

Today, 11 a.m.-6 p.m. and Tomorrow, 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Union Ballroom Come to this great sale and leave with lots of your Christmas shopping completed!

Westate union

ased on the book of the same title, this animated tale centers on Mrs. Brisby, a widowed field mouse and her efforts to protect her children and save her home. With some help from a crow named Jeremy and some highly intelligent rats form NIMH she is able to preserve her family home. Rated PG. Saturday, December 3 at 2 p.m., and Sunday, December 4 at 2 p.m. & 7 p.m., Forum Hall, Student I.D. required. Admission

LOCAL HERO

From the magic-making combination of Oscar winning director Bill Forsyth, (the producer of CHARIOTS OF FIRE), and Burt Lancaster, comes this treasure critics and audiences have been raving about and enjoying. It concerns a rich, old oil man, a young oil man, a village that wants to get rich and an old man who doesn't, mixed merrily together. Today at 3:30 pm. & 7:30 p.m., Little Theatre. Student I.D. required. Rated PG. Admission $1.75.

Tom Hanks stars his highly acclaimed performance, as a 12 year old boy who gets his wish to be big when a fortune telling machine grants his request. Transformed into the body of a 35 year-old man, he land a job as an executive at a toy company, and falls for one of his co-workers. This gigantic comedy co-stars Elizabeth Perkins. Friday, December 2, & Saturday, December 3 at 7 & 9:30 p.m. Forum Hall. Rated PG. Student I.D. required. Admission $1.75.

ENROLL NOW! Four Ad Production Internships available for

Spring 1988 Title of course: Publications Practice, 1 credit hour, JMC 360. Must attend 8:30-11:30 a.m. one day a week. For more information and permision slip come to Kedzie 113.

The KSU PARACHUTE CLUB

will have its last meeting of the semester. ALL members MUST attend to be considered a current member for next semester. THURSDAY, DEC. 1

7 p.m.

UNION 206

RIDE THE K-STATE UNION Express!!

STEAMBOAT, CO

Port Royal Condos

Shadow Run/Overlook

DAYTONA BEACH, FL

MUSTANG ISLAND, TX

Hilton Head Beach Condos

SPRING BREAK '89

Reservations Available Now

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, TX from $149

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, SC from $107

Don't Wait Until It's Too

Late!

Call Toll Free Today

1-800-321-5911

trom $93*

from $118

from $136

Get Personal With a Collegian Classified!

SO WHAT'S THE

ISN'T IT

OBVIOUS!?

THIS MEANS

SOMETHING

TERRIBLE IS GOING TO HAPPEN!!

PROBLEM ...

Have story or photo ideas? CALL 532-6556

GET IT ...?

EVERY TIME

SOMETHING NICE

AND I FINALLY

START TO FEEL

GOOD ABOUT MY

SELF. SOMETHING

REALLY LOUSY

FOLLOWS IT UP

TO DEPRESS ME

MORE THAN EVER

PPENS TO ME.

m

IN FACT...

THE FIRST

THING IS ..

THE WORSE

THE SECOND

THING IS ...

THE BETTER

2 Apartments—Furnished

AGGIEVILLE NICE one-bedroom in complex, $250, lease, deposit, no pets. 539-3928.

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM basement apartment. Par-tially furnished, washer, dryer, disposal. One-half mile west of campus. Available Jan. 1. Les,

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM, $230 plus utilities, Jan. 1.

LARGE TWO-BEDROOM, $260 plus utilities, Jan. 1.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM apartment. Water, trash, two-thirds gas paid, Laundry facilities. Nice for graduate student or couple. $260, Available Dec. 15 or Jan. 1, 539-2482 after 4p.m.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM efficiency. $175 plus utilities,

NOW IS the time to rent for next semester. One, two or three-bedroom apartments. Nice, close to campus. Not in a complex. Low utilities. No pets. Call

ONE-BEDROOM FURNISHED in 12-unit complex two

ONE-BEDROOM, ONE-HALF furnished, close to campus. Has character. $195 plus utilities. Five-month's lease or longer. Call 776-9845, early

PREFER MARRIED couple or single adult for quiet, well-maintained one and two bedroom apartments. Assorted features: laundry, patio, paid heat, queensized bed, carport and more. $220, $275, $335. One year lease. No smoking, pets, waterbeds. 537-9686 for application.

3 Apartments—Unfurnished

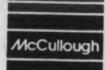

AVAILABLE SECOND semester. Less than one block from campus, two bedrooms, one full bath. Low utilities. Clean and nice. Call 776-3788 or

DUPLEX. TWO-BEDROOM clean plus comfortable, quiet, near west campus. Stove, refrigerator, hoo-kups. Good deal. 539-3524.

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM, campus location, coinoperated washer and dryer. No pets, available January. $265 plus deposit. 539-1465.

SECOND SEMESTER LEASE? One and two bedream apartments aloss to compus. paned from 8 50 8 100

McCullough Development 2700 Amherst (913) 776-3804

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM basement across from City Park. Good carpet. Washer/ dryer included. No pets. Lease. $260. 776-0884 or 776-3804.

NICE TWO-BEDROOM apartment across from Nichols. Available January 1, $330, 539-2920.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate. Across from City Park, own room. 537-1273.

THREE-BEDROOM APARTMENT available now. Main floor of a house. Living room, dining room, kitchen, washer and appliances. $400 plus utilities. Sixmonth lease possible. 776-8393.

THREE-BEDROOM AVAILABLE at 516 N. 14 St. $480, laundry facilities. 776-9262, keep trying.

TWO-BEDROOM, PARTLY furnished, air conditioned apartment, two blocks southwest of high school. Off-street parking. Trash and water paid. Available Jan. 1. $315. 539-5921. UNFURNISHED APARTMENT, $300 plus utilities. Near Aggieville. 537-2811. After 5p.m. 776-0231. VERY NICE one-bedroom basement apartment, three blocks west of campus. Phone 539-5267.

4 Automobiles for Sale

1977 BUICK, great car. $1,050 or best offer. Call Howard at 539-5499.

1977 DATSUN B210, Runs good, $750 or best offer. Carol 776-5012, 10a.m.- 5p.m. weekdays. 1978 CUTLASS Supreme, 70,000 miles, cruise control power steering, air conditioning, stereo. Must selli $900. 537-0560.

1978 FORD Truck, engine overhauled, runs good. Air conditioning, power steering, brakes. Asking $2,000. 537-6830.

1983 RENAULT Allance, 58,000 miles, 4.V, four-door, air conditioning, AM/FM stereo, excellent condition. $2,000. 537-3721. CAN YOU buy jeeps, cars, 4x4s seized in drug raids for under $100? Call for facts today. (602)837-3401 ext

GREAT SCHOOL carl Good condition. Low mileage.

MUST SELL: 81 K-reliant, 73,000 miles, four-cylinde station wagon, excellent condition. $1,500 negoti-able. 532-5654, or 776-9522 (after 5:30p.m.) ask

County Bloom

By Berke Breathed

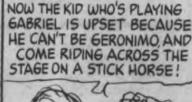

Peanuts

WAS WRITING OUR CLASS CHRISTMAS PLAY, SEE, AND I MADE THIS MISTAKE .. I PUT IN GERONIMO INSTEAD OF GABRIEL

8 Computers

COMMODORE AMIGA 1000 with digital/analog color monitor, extra memory, two drives and over $500 of software. $1,099. 776-9539 after 5p.m.

FOR SALE: Line printer ribbons- Black multistrike no. dozen), $1.25 each. Black nylon no. QM NY (15), $2.25 each. Call 532-6555 or come by APPLE- 2C with Epson LX90 printer. Excellent condi-tion, some programs $550. Call 776-9845 (532-6850, leave message).

ENITH.

PERSONAL COMPUTERS Authorized Warranty Service

also servicing · PC compatibles & printers · Televisions & VCRs

MIDWEST SERVICES 624 Tuttle Creek Blvd. 0 2002 Manhattan 913-776-6650

9 Employment

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential dvertisements in the Employment classification. eaders are advised to approach any such "employ-ent opportunity" with reasonable caution.

ALUMNI OFFICE ASSISTANT Clerical assistant for membership and publications departments of the KSU Alumni Association. Will perform routine office duties, including on-line computer research, word processing, stuffing envelopes and filing. Twelve-plus hours a week. Contact Jeanine Lake at (913) 532-6260. Work-study students are encouraged to apply.

AEROBIC INSTRUCTORS needed. Call for appointment, 776-6469.

ATTENTION- HIRINGI Government jobs- your area $17,840- $69,485. Call (602)838-8885, ext.

BOBBY T'S taking applications for part-time cooks and bartenders. Apply in person. 3240 Kimball.

BUS DRIVER needed to start immediately for Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 11a.m.-noon, to drive children from U.S.D. 383 to child care center. Class B license required. Previous experience preferred. $3.75 an hour. Apply Nancy Bolsen, director, L-9 Jardine Terrace, Manhattan, KS. 539-1806. Equal Jardine Terrace, Manh Opportunity Employer.

CASHIERS WANTED. Must be 21 and able to work lunches noon to 1p.m. Apply in person at Hibachi Hut between 2 and 5p.m. Thursday- Saturday. Ask for Michael.

DO YOU like kids? I need a fun-loving, flexible person for childcare. Room, board, salary plus car provided We are very nice. Call Becky (415)328-8229.

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, Juniors: Train in the summer to become a Marine Corps Officer after graduation. Aviation available. Call collect (913)841-1821.

MAJOR WHOLESALER seeking assistant manager for Kansas City location. Candidate must have a business degree and be a self-starter with good communication skills. Salary $23,000- $25,000. Remit resume to: Dave Gaul, P.O. Box 1138, Denver, CO 80201.

MICROCOMPUTER PROGRAMMERS: You could be a part of a software development team that produces software that is marketed throughout the United States, while still in college, Kansas Careers is offering employment to students at all grade levels who are ambitious, creative and have good programming at all its contraction. ramming skills. Our programming team develops software for IBM PC, Apple II and MacIntosh used, including "C," dBase III, 6502 and others.

Programming at Kansas Careers enhances your college education while providing job experience. and excellent wages. Applications will be accepted at Fairchild Hall room 304 (532-6540) through Dec 1988, Kansas Careers and KSU are Equal

NANNIES NEEDED. New England area- good pay and benefits. One-year commitment. Call 537-0947.

NOW ACCEPTING applications for spring semester Consumer Relations Board Director. Person needs to be resourceful, have leadership qualities, enthuslastic about educating people and capable of handling Consumer/ Landlord- Tenant grievances. Director required to work 15 plus hours/ week gross $335/ month. Applications may be picked up in the Student Governing Office and are due by Dec. 2 at 4p.m.

OFFICE STUDENT help-- Must have office experience and some computer experience. Average 12 hours per week (four-hour slots) and be able to work this summer. $3.50 per hour, starting immediately. Call Forestry Department. 537-7050.

OVERSEAS JOBS. $900- $2,000 month. Summer year-round, all countries, all fields, free information Write IJC, P.O. Box 52-KS02, Corona Del Mar, CA

PAY DAYI Beginning salary $3,60/ hour. All shifts for waiter and waitresses; Hotline server and porter Monday, Wednesday, Friday 10:20a.m.- 2p.m. Apply now at K-State Union Food Service for remaining fall positions. Apply early for spring semester when you have your spring schedule. We offer student pay plan, job variety, and centrally located work place. We require that you must be honest, reliable and display a sense of urgency, must be clean, neat and wear appropriate attire. Food Handler's Card a must.

PYRAMID PIZZA is now taking applications for delivery TRAVEL FIELD Opportunity. Gain valuable marketing experience while earning money and free trips.
Campus representative needed immediately for Spring Break trips to Florida and South Padre Island. Call Echo Tours at 1-800-999-4300.

35 Business

39 Relatives

40 One type of trip's

45 Removed

42 Repairs

49 Writer

50 Fuss

Anita

53 Pouting

54 Promis-

52 "You Can't grimace

sory note

With You"

38 Rung

upheaval

55 Flat

56 Pseudo

57 Allow

DOWN

1 Vending

part

4 Assailed

evictee

8 Accumu-

7 Eden

machine

2 Bee abode

58 Lair

stylish

VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full-and part-time help. Must be able to work some noon shifts. Apply in person.

12 Houses/Mobile Homes for Ren

NICELY FURNISHED, 10x50 mobile home. Ideal for

VERY LARGE house, three blocks west of campus Carpet, drapes, suitable for five. Phone 539-5267

13 Houses/Mobile Homes for Sale

1972 12x60, furnished/ unfurnished, new paint, central

ESCAPED: SIX- month- old black lab. 5416 College View, Quivera Area. 776-9492.

FOUND: CALCULATOR in Cardwell Hall. Call and claim

FOUND: SOUTHEAST on campus. Friendly, black

TAKEN BY mistake Friday evening. Please return the jardinlere- family sentimental attachment. Reward for return of planter and basket- Call 539-2703.

15 Miscellaneous Merchandise

Designer Boutique

New arrivals in time for

Holiday Parties

Original Jessica McClintock dresses

106 S. 4th

DIET FOOD for sale due to quitting diet. Three week supplies, asking $75. Call 537-4861.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUSII New G.I. overshoes, com bat boots and safety-toe boots, wool (blankets, gloves, socks and mittens). Field jackets, overcoats, camouflage clothing. Also Carhartt workwear. Monday- Saturday 9a.m.- 5p.m. Open Sundays till Christmas noon- 4p.m. St. Marys Surplus days till Christmas noon- 4p.m. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734.

PHOTOGRAPHIC EQUIPMENTS: 23CXL enlarger, clock, safelight, papers. Everything. Graduate, must sell. 539-9373.

SKIS- FISCHER, Fire 160s, Look bindings. $60 or best

TYPEWRITER- RENTALS- Sales- Repairs. Good selection of used IBMs and Smith Coronas. Advanced Business Systems 713 N. 12th (Aggieville).

16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale

1982, 550 Yamaha Maxim. Good condition. New tires $700. Call 776-3458.

BICYCLE SALE, lay away for Christmas. Aggie Bike

MUST SELL: Lotus acoustic guitar. $130 negotiable. Call 532-3254 after 3p.m.

Hayes House of Music

Guitar Strings & Drumsticks

Buy 1 Set, Get a 2nd Set

1/2 Price

BIOCHEMISTRY (SHE'S strangel) Cathy- I'm going to

GRADY- WITHOUT you my heart feels empty. I miss

KAREN- SILVER Creek will never be the same, along

SHARLENE AND Erin- To KC we go, shopping, skating what else. Who knows! It'll be fun. It'll be great. We

THETA KAREN- Just wanted to wish you good luck on tests and have a very Merry Christmas. Love,

TO THE girl next door. What? Six months! Remember blue Jays and stop signs, hot tubs in Dallas and DCI and KC, bus rides to Evita and carriage rides through the West End, Eternity from New York and parties in my driveway. Love, the boy next door

PREGNANT? BIRTHRIGHT can help. Free pregnancy test. Confidential. Call 537-9180, 103 S. Fourth St.

PROMPT ABORTION and contraceptive services in

PRIME AGGIEVILLE location for lease. 600 square feet.

STORE YOUR valuables over Christmas break. Aztec Storage, open seven days a week. Call 776-1111 for discount rate, or come by, 5004 Murray Road.

can't wait. -- Love, Your Dates.

20 Professional Services

Lawrence. (913)841-5716.

Suite 25.

21 Rentals

Call (913)642-3366.

9 Prison

19 Former

21 Acorn

24

Cafe order 26 Total flop

3 Iowa city 25 Ordinal

Scoundrel 28 Greek

spouse

source

Kapital'

ending

cross

29 Played escape

10 Young men

11 Cote moms

THETA XI Kipp, No way! Lisa.

with all the guys we tarned. Red, red wine not a drop in the bottle, started to snow so we set home in full miss you next semester. We'll go to NYC and find you a real man -ooh Baby, Baby. You're the best. Muffy.

Station, Aggieville. (behind Hardee's).

17 Musical Instruments

offer. 539-0597 nights, Korey.

539-7931.

327 Poyntz

you, G.G.

18 Personals

female chow mix dog. To claim or adopt call

14 Lost and Found

537-4722.

air, washer, dryer, waterbed, reasonable, 537-0734.

single or married student. Two singles okay, $165 776-8552.

ABOUT ANYTHING typed, editing and transcription services, reasonable rates, by professional secretary. 539-5998 after 5p.m.

22 Resume/Typing Services

COMPLETE DATA processing services, term papers rtations, resumes. Laser jet printing. Call 537-4146.

13

COMPLETE TYPING/ word processing: letter quality printer with Spell Check. 75¢/ page. Call 537-8701

RESUMES DESIGNED for your profession. Typeset and laserprinted. Graphics Plus, corner of Bluemont and N. Manhattan, Aggieville. 539-6027.

TYPING. FAST, accurate, guaranteed. 15 years experience. 537-2249.

TYPING: RESUMES, cover letters, papers, any other typing. Call Debble, 539-2411. TYPING SERVICE: Professional and experienced secretary. Very reasonable rates. Pick-up and delivery available. Call 776-9736.

23 Roommate Wanted

FEMALE; NICE house near campus, own room, washe and dryer. $145/ month plus utilities. 537-8825

FEMALE, OWN room, nice large house, $130/month plus part utilities. Call Arry 776-1790. FEMALE ROOMMATE to share house, close to campus, furnished, washer/ dryer, many more extras. $162.50/ month plus deposit. Call Renee,

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartment. Close to campus. Half rent and half utilities. Starting Jan. 1st. Call 537-7269.

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted to share nice three bedroom house near campus. $150/month, one-third trillities. Call 776-5294.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share three-bedroom house near campus, washer/ dryer furnished. $125. 539-1021.

FEMALE ROOMMATE, 516 N. 14 St. Own room plus one-third utilities. 776-9262 keep trying.

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted. Own room, washer dryer. Near campus, $137.50 plus one-fourth utilities. Available Jan. 1st. Call after 5:30p.m. 776-0572.

FEMALE ROOMMATE- Own room, low utilities, la in complex, close to campus, fun roomies. $145 a month. Call 539-6299.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share apartment. Half rent and half utilities. Own room. 537-7183. FEMALE(S)- ONE: Own room, $187.50. Two: Share room, $125. Spacious, clean, quiet duplex near City Park. 776-6800, anytime.

MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apart near campus. Washer/ dryer turnished. $125. 776-5855. MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bed/bath apartment furnished with dishwasher, microwave, low utilities no deposit. Close to campus. $170 negotiable MALE ROOMMATE needed, Lease up in May. $154 and one-half utilities. One-half block from campus.

776-8584. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share nice three-bedroom Close to campus, Aggieville. $160/month plus utilities. 537-2507.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share furnished two-bedroom. Cats allowed. Call Paula or Brenda. 776-5669. NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate, spacious two-bedroom. Walk to campus and Aggle-ville.$172.50/month. Available January 1. 537-2364 or 539-6585. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share two-bedroom furnished apartment. $152.99 plus one-half utilities.

NON-SMOKING MALE to share four-bedroom house one-half mile west of campus. Washer, dryer, cable. Available Jan. 1. Les, 776-4792 after 2p.m. NON-SMOKING female, to share brand new trailer, own room, washer/ dryer many extras. Three minutes from campus, $150/ month plus half utilities. Call 776-4937. OPEN-MINDED ROOMMATE needed for huge one and one-half bedroom apartment. $125 plus utilities 539-6355.

ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom house trailer. $100/ month, half utilities. Call Allen 537-3909.

WANTED: MALE roommate, have own room. $145 month rent plus one-third utilities, call 537-3799.

24 Situation Wanted

FAMILY WANTS college girl to live in for next semester, summer and fall. Board and room in exchange for duties. Write Box 1, c/o Collegian, Kedzie Hall, KSU, Manhattan, KS 66506.

26 Sublease

CLEAN, SPACIOUS, very nice two-bedroom apart ment, close to campus. Available for sublease. Call

COZY ONE-BEDROOM apartment available immediately, convenient location, air conditioning, water and trash paid, $225/ month. 539-4152 after 5p.m.

FEMALE TWO blocks from campus, clean, spacious, efficiency, furnished or not. $140 all utilities paid. Available Dec. 15 or later. 539-6499.

SLEEP LATE! No parking hassies! One-bedroom apart-ment right across from campus with all utilities paid. Leave message, 537-8548. SUBLEASE: LARGE one-bedroom, next to campus. Water and trash paid. Furnished or unfurnished. Call 539-2484.

SUBLEASE: NICE one-bedroom apartment, one-half block to campus. Available Dec. 19th. New furniture. Call 539-7275.

28 Adoption

ADOPT: A Baby is our dream! We are blessed with a wonderful, happy marriage and financial success. Let us give your baby love, security and the best of everything. Legal. Expenses paid. Call Lynn and Martin collect: (212)362-6884.

Crossword

ACROSS

Barbara"

for adapt or visit

12 Rickey

14 Bird's

crop

15 It might

16 School

use microflavor

13 Down in author

5 Period

8 Ending

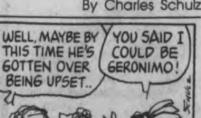

1 "Major

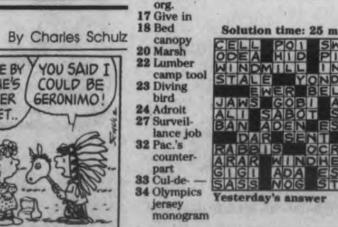

By Eugene Sheffer

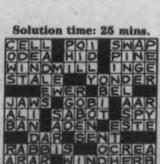

DOBA NIL INGE STALE MONDER BENER BELL MANS GODI AAR SABOT SEY SAEON SEY MOEN ESTE ME SENT OCREA MINDHERS AOA ESNE SAOA ESNE SAOA ESNE 12-1 51 Buck's mate

late (gets by) 48 Fender SCAF

charades 30 Exploit 31 Spigot 36 Sex research 37 Finale 38 Tenderize 41 Oriental game 44 Go 43 Othello, e.g.

SBGGANC. XNUYV

CRYPTOQUIP

DSY GXYDK UBCK JYPY

JYNN LYPKYU AV DSYAP DPBUY. Yesterday's Cryptoquip: OUR ANCHORMAN WAS A CLUMSY BLOKE THAT ALWAYS BROKE THE NEWS.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: P equals R

Column

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 9 his players the best of everything. After all, that's what the new son is here for — to help his players become better human beings.

There was a real sense of belonging demonstrated by Snyder at the press conference announcing his hiring. It was as if he was standing before a group of his peers, proudly announcing to the world that he was going to follow in the footsteps of his father and grandfather before him and make a life of succeeding in the scoring. Youngblood joined Newey in the double digit scoring club as he

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 9

McCoy led all rebounders with 11, while Tony Massop had 9 for the 'Cats. Darrell White led the Aggies chipped in 13 for the Aggies.

cats family business.

That's exactly what Wefald and Miller wanted, and exactly what they've got. Snyder joked openly during the press conference with them, and the emotions seemed genuine. The man cares about K-State already, and that's readily

And it appears as if dad and granddad love who they've brought to the fireplace to be with them.

Let's hope that leads to a wellroasted marshmallow that doesn't get burnt and a family that prospers long after granddad, dad and even the newborn son are gone.

in rebounding with 8. The Wildcats had a 39-30 rebounding edge over

All of the Wildcat players got in the game, giving Kruger a chance to see what some of his less experienced players could do.

the taller Aggie squad.

"There was some nervousness on some of the younger guys but you have to expect that," Kruger said.

Coach

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

ond the shadow of a doubt, that Kansas State University is ready to move forward."

And, with that, Snyder had formally made his first remarks as K-State's football coach and, as he continued, most of the people attending the press conference could tell just why Miller had chosen Snyder.

An 11-year assistant to Iowa coach Hayden Fry, Snyder seemed to be the spitting image of Miller in a different

You see, Snyder, just like Miller, is a people person, and he occasionally stressed that at Wednesday's press conference.

"I have never been any place in my life where I wasn't concerned about people," Snyder said. "I'm really going to care about the coaches I bring in and the players. ... I want all of them to live a quality life while they are here at Kansas State."

The 47-year-old Snyder, a Missouri native, began his job at Iowa in 1978 and he said Wednesday that K-State and the Iowa he and Fry took over had distinct similarities.

"The state of Kansas and Kansas State University, the state of Iowa and the University of Iowa parallel each other in so many ways," Snyder said. "It's an amazing parallel. There was also a tremendous challenge there. The circumstances were identical. And I think that the greatest turnaround in college football exists here today and it's not a challenge that can be taken lightly."

Snyder also let it be known there is not a quick fix to the Wildcat football situation and he will not be pushed around or hurried in the process of turning it around.

"I have no timetable," Snyder said. "I want to establish a firm solid ground with which to work from with no short cuts. ... I will not do that and I will not be pressured to do that.

"This will be an honest program ... top to bottom. A lot of people work extra hard to get the job done, but sometimes maybe they don't do it quite as intelligently as they should have. We're going to do this within the restraints of every major college football program in America."

Snyder will not be able to hit the recruiting trail today, the first day colleges can contact potential high school recruits. He will be on the Iowa coaching staff until after the Hawkeyes' Dec. 31 Peach Bowl game against North Carolina State.

"Those Kansas high schools and junior colleges are good programs and I pray that they'll wait, because I'm coming," Snyder said. "As of about 5 p.m., Dec. 31, I will be at Kansas State University wholeheartedly ... lock, stock and barrel.

"I'm going to do all I can do for everybody, and if the ship sinks, then I'm going to be the one to sink it."

Miller said the whole hiring process had taken so long because of his own stubbornness, thinking that he had to hire an NCAA Division I-A head coach, but then he realized that what he wanted was not a title, but a

"I can honestly tell you," Miller said, "that when I walked into that home (Snyder's), I saw all the ingredients that I was looking for in a head football coach. What I found that was most important was that he is a person who cares."

Dean

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

review allows the individual college deans a lot of flexibility in adopting a policy for a rotating or an established department head," he said.

Flora said the concept of shared governance, through the use of a rotating departmental leadership, would allow the good researchers and teachers - who often become department heads - to return to the "real work of their profession."

"Administration is only a shift in our career," she said. "We love what we do - teaching and research."

Collegian Coupons— They really add up!

COUPONS FOR YOU TO CLIP

1217 MORO IN AGGIEVILLE —NO COUPON NEEDED—

PIZZAS

one item 2 free 16 oz. Cokes PIZZAS

2 free 16 oz. Cokes

$975

Buy One Vistaburger, Get One FREE!

MANHATTAN • TOPEKA • LAWRENCE • WICHITA

Coupon expires Dec. 14, 1988 Authorization: Collegian

This coupon good for

$1.99

expires 12/7/88 Free Delivery with min. $7 order 11 a.m.-1 a.m.

FREE MEDIUM SOFT DRINK

with the purchase of any sub 12th & Moro-Aggieville

WITH THIS COUPON ONLY

Expires 12/16/88

Void with other offers

Yu Shiang Chicken over rice not good with any other special or promo

LARGE PIZZA ONLY 599

with one topping

Brier Rood through OBE 91 dine in or free home delivery

"premium pizza at a cardboard pizza price" 523 South 17th

537-1484

Some Students Don't Need A BANK IV Student Loan.

Studious

"I discovered heretofore unidentified organic compounds in ordinary dorm food which I processed to propel a spaceship the size of Duluth to the Andromeda galaxy and back ..." On one hand: Won every scholarship known to humanity. On the other: Needs money only to buy pocket protector and dental floss.

Industrious

(12 simultaneous part time jobs. Too busy to talk.) On one hand:

Learns value of a dollar. On the other: Collapses of exhaustion 2 weeks before graduation.

Prankster

"... and then we'll get up to their campus, steal the weasel mascot, and hold it for 50 kegs ransom."

On one hand: Lots of laughs. On the other: All assets controlled by bail bondsmen.

Football Powerhouse Star "Hi, Mom!" On one hand: Can turn pro at any On the other: Needs to finish his education to understand the contract.

Most, However, Do. Typical College Student

"$69.95 for one book?!? Used!?!

On one hand: Could qualify for a BANK IV Student Loan. On the other: Hasn't applied yet.

Send me information on BANK IV's Student Loan program.

Name			1
Address		* 1
City
State	-		Zip

Clip out coupon and mail to: BANK IV Educational Loan Department

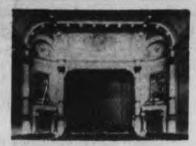

A BANK IV Student Loan Isn't For Everybody.

But it's probably right for you. 'Cause BANK IV believes in you. And in the future you're building for yourself. So if you need money for school, send us this coupon. We'll send you complete details.

The Strength of Kansas. BANKIV

BANK IV Educational Loan Department / P.O. Box 1318 / Wichita, KS 67201 / (316) 261-2103 or 1 (800) 283-LOAN

0/0/0  10

Grand Old Opera

The Wareham Theater, once an opera house, is being remodeled again, in an attempt to bring night life back to downtown. See Page 7.

Weather

Sunny today, high 60 to 65. Clear tonight, low 35 to 40. Sunny Saturday with mild temperatures, high in the mid-60s.

66612 The K-State Wildcats go on the road Saturday to do battle with Oregon State. The game will be aired on radio at 9:35 p.m. Central time. See Page 9.

December 2, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 70

Kansas State Collegian

chemicals in the body. The most commonly used, however, is the urinalysis. The urine is mixed with a special solution. If a positive reaction results, a second test is administered ing that gives a higher degree of validity and reliability," said Bill Arck, director of alcohol and other drug

The drug screening is usually given near the end of the interview process. The test is usually done with the physical exam and costs about $15, which is paid by the company, said Dr. Guy Smith, physician in sports medicine at Lafene Student

Applicants can face problems with drug screening because laboratory results are not always accurate,

according to the College Placement

Council, a national association for career planning, placement and

"The re-test is done with a screen-to confirm the reading.

education services.

Health Center.

Employee drug tests become common

By Amy Bullock Collegian Reporter

Cocaine, marijuana, PCP, opiates, and amphetamines - these chemicals are looked for during drug screenings, which have become a common factor for many companies when selecting and evaluating employees.

According to a 1985 Wall Street Journal, 25 percent of Fortune 500 companies screened job applicants or employees for drug use.

But a figure released by The College Placement Council shows that nearly 30 percent of 497 national employers of college graduates screen applicants for drug use. Another 20 percent plan to adopt the practice. The screening may be done either before or after the person is hired.

Drug screening for internships has also become a common factor in the corporate world. Anne Fraley, personnel director for Allied Signal Aerospace, said the company has administered drug testing to interns for several years. Allied Signal is a contractor for the U.S. Department of Potential employees to Wal-Mart are greeted by this sign on the front doors warning of applicant drug testing.

that is done here, we can't afford not to drug test," Fraley said. "As far as I'm aware, drug testing is common among companies that have intern programs."

Doug Gish, junior in industrial "With the type of technical work engineering, recently completed an internship with Allied Signal. Gish said he was not surprised he was

"I expected to be tested due to the nature of the company," he said. There are several different tests used for the detection of certain tested for drugs.

recruitment. The growth of drug testing is overloading laboratories and is creating a demand for new facilities that may not have established standards for accuracy. Another drawback cited for drug screening is that over-the-counter and prescription drugs can give positive results if a cheaper form concerning how long chemicals stay of test is used.

The council has devised several guidelines for what applicants can do to ensure their rights are not infringed upon, said Patty Sinnott, manager of editorial service for the

"There are guidelines set up that are sanctioned by the council," she

The applicant can ask if there will be drug screening and why. When submitting to drug screening, privacy and dignity are not to be invaded. The applicant has the right to report any prescription drugs or medications taken before testing.

The council recommends that applicants find out what type of laboratory testing is done to ensure fair and accurate procedures are in place, and also the company's retesting policy.

The council also suggests that applicants not try to smuggle in a drug-free sample because "observed" testing is often used. Diluting a urine sample is also not suggested because many companies use toilet disinfectants that color the water, Sinnot said. The council does advise that individuals learn the facts in the body.

Most chemicals are cleared out of the system in a matter of days, Dr. Smith said.

"Marijuana takes about two weeks to clear out of the body, while amphetamines and cocaine take about two to four days. But a lot of this depends on things like frequency of use, method and fluid intake," he

Beginning Oct. 1, Wal-Mart began a company-wide drug screening program. Since the implementation of the program, accident costs have decreased, said Bruce Hoyle, personnel manager for the Manhattan Wal-

"We were having high accident costs company-wide, so drug screening was one of the policies that was implemented," he said. "All new (employees) are tested for drugs, and there has been a decrease in accidents since the policy began.'

Parker Hannifan Corporation, manufacturer of reinforced rubber hoses, began screening all prospective employees in 1987, said Terry Benton, industrial relations manager.

"I think it probably is a deterrent See TESTS, Page 14

Research studies racing's effect on horses

By Stacy Sweazy Collegian Reporter

"A horse is a horse, of course, of course."

Mr. Ed

That's true unless the horse is part of the equine studies conducted in the College of Veterinary Medicine.

Funded by the Grayson Foundation and the U.S. Department of Agriculture Animal Health and Disease Research Funds, students and professors investigate the problems that result when horses - especially race horses - are subjected to intense exercise. The foundation is part of the American Quarter Horse Association.

"What we're trying to do is benefit the horses on the track," said Kipp Erickson, senior graduate student in veterinary medicine and research assistant.

Since 1984, research assistants and professors have been investigating cardiac output and viscosity changes in elevated pulmonary artery pressure and the interaction between esophageal pressure and pulmonary artery pressure in the horse during strenuous exercise.

"Horses on the race track experience a problem of hemorrhage in their lungs, and (blood) comes out of the trachea and appears as a nosebleed. It's not a nosebleed. It's actually hemorrhage deep within the lungs, and that is the problem we were interested in studying," Erickson said.

"Because it has not been possi-

"A number of people around the world are very interested in this animal because of its economic values and its premier role as an athlete,"

"We've made a number of modifications to increase (the treadmill's) speed and enhance its usability," Fedde said. "It has been tion of energy."

Clinically healthy horses weighing about 1,095 pounds are tested on the treadmill. The horses are confined to paddocks and fed a concentrated mixture of grass, hay and feed twice daily.

The animals are trained to run on a high-speed treadmill and to stand ble, until relatively recently, to study a horse while it is exercising at maximum levels, not much is known about equine exercise physiology," said Roger Fedde, professor of anatomy and physiology.

Putting a horse on a treadmill is not play for a student in veterinary medicine.

principally used for horses. "The measurements that we have been making have dealt with the measured amount of oxgen the animal consumes when it runs at various speeds and the amount of carbon dioxide the animal gives off. All of these are expressions of the tissues' use of that material produc-

Ruth Dyer, assistant professor in electrical and computer engineering, monitors data from the treadmill as Gina Ditton, junior in pre-veterinary medicine, holds the horse. The exercise is an equine study conducted to investigate exercise problems.

quietly before and after exercise. Two fans positioned above the horse help maintain air flow.

"A horse is relatively easy to train to run on the treadmill, and most of the time a horse will give you everything it's got," Fedde

"A long-range goal of the project is to predict the performance of the horse," he said. "It's becoming more popular for private enterprise to get into the business of trying to predict which horses will do the best in terms of running and also rehabilitating a horse that has been injured."

Prior to the experiment, the horses undergo simple surgery to elevate the carotid artery.

"The artery is isolated just under the skin and is sutured to the muscle so it is easy to get to," Fedde said.

"It is very difficult to do equine research because of the physical size of the animals," Fedde said. ■ See HORSES, Page 14

Firefighters aware of job's hazzards

By Chris Koger

Collegian Reporter The inherent dangers of a firefighter's job hit home with the deaths of six Kansas City firefighters in Tuesday's chemical explosion at a construction site in Kansas City, Mo.

Although Manhattan firefighters have never had to deal with a similar situation, they have to be prepared for it, said Manhattan Fire Marshall Larry Wesche.

"Fortunately, we don't have any tie-ins to the tragedy - other than the fact they were firefighters," Wesche said. "But it does bring a realization that it could happen here.

know it when they take the job." Stress and trauma are also a part of the job. To cope with these pressures, most fire departments employ psychologists. Cornell Mayfield, director of human resources and personnel at the Manhattan Employee Assistance Program, said a firefighter can request counseling or be asked by a supervisor to get help. "Not too many people do use the service, but sometimes a problem concerning work-related stress affects the performance of the individual, and they need to deal with it,"

Mayfield said. Robert Sinnett, Manhattan psy-

"It's a part of the job, and they all chologist, said firefighters are especially susceptible to work-related traumas.

"I suppose to some extent an accident can be anticipated, but if you are personally involved, the after-effects can be powerful," Sinnett said. "Any intense situation like this can be anxiety-producing - much similar to a combat situation."

Wesche said all Manhattan firefighters learn about the handling and disposal of hazardous wastes during their training.

There has to be an identification of the material before we can take the correct precautions, and even then it might be too late to prevent an explo-

"In some situations, you have to say 'the hell with it' and just back off," Wesche said. "Getting people out and clearing the area is enough.

By doing nothing we would be doing something about the problem." Methods of fighting fires have changed due to the hazardous compounds that have recently been invented, Wesche said. "Historically, the role of the firefighter was to put out a fire," he said. 'Now with the new materials being used, they have to take a different approach. They have to see what the material is and what can be done to combat the fire, and sometimes the best course of action is to back off."

Tuesday's explosion has raised questions about regulations concerning the storage of hazardous materials. Wesche said he believes it is a necessity that these regulations be tighter, and that steps be taken to strengthen national regulations.

Up to 20,000 mourners, including hundreds of firefighters from across the nation, are expected at a memorial service Saturday at Arrowhead Stadium to honor the six firefighters. Several members of the local chapter of the International Association of Firefighters plan to attend, said an dropped By Kendra Gensemer

Staff Writer

The 1989 Student Senate set precedent Thursday by not hearing a bill to revise the 1988 Senate's Educational Opportunity Fund bill. Senate also approved its standing rules, which clarify the attendance policy that caused problems in last year's Senate. The proposed revision to the EOF bill would have changed the decision made in special session by the 1988 Senate after three hours of debate and weeks of investigation and research. The sponsor withdrew the bill from the agenda after hearing 1989

Senate Parliamentarian Justin Sanders speak against it in open period. Sanders said finality of Senate's decision-making power would be lost if the new Senate could change that decision. It would have left all bills open to change at any time after a final vote was taken. The EOF bill allocated almost $250,000 to various student organizations on campus. To avoid misunderstandings experienced earlier in the semester by the 1988 Senate, the 1989 Senate specified exact number of absences and clearly stated visitation requirements in its standing rules. An unclearly written attendance policy, which conflicted with legislation, caused confusion between senators and led to the impeachment proceedings earlier this semester. Standing rules are guidelines used as a base from which to run meetings more effectively.

Senate also affirmed the appointment of coordinator of finances, which evoked some questions in the last meeting.

The 1988 Senate approved Lauren O'Connor, junior in accounting, as coordinator, but senators questioned that action being taken by the old Senate rather than by the new Senate.

The SGA Constitution requires the coordinator be chosen by the outgoing Senate because of the experience gained by having gone through

BRIEFLY

ME ASSOCIATED PRESS

BRIEFLY ACROSS NATION

Drug operation uncovered

WASHINGTON - More than 200 people were charged in a multimillion-dollar heroin importation and cocaine distribution operation involving Sicilian Mafia figures and the Gambino crime family in New York, the FBI and Italian authorities announced Thursday.

A total of 68 people were charged in the United States and 133 in Italy, stemming from a three-year FBI undercover operation in which agents traveled to Italy and posed as interested buyers who discussed making major drug purchases, the FBI

As of midday Thursday, 59 people had been arrested in the United States and 20 in Italy.

Substantial amounts of imported heroin were sold to the Gambino Mafia family in New York, which allegedly arranged for nationwide distribution, according to a complaint filed in the case in Philadelphia. Some of the heroin was passed to buyers in pizza parlors.

Arrests were made in Baltimore; Buffalo, N.Y.; Miami; Newark, N.J.; New York; Philadelphia; San Francisco; and Rockford, Ill. In Italy, arrests were being made in Palermo, Bologna and Florence.

U.S. firm on visa issue

UNITED NATIONS — The United States refused a request by the General Assembly to issue a visa to Yasser Arafat so the PLO chairman can speak to the world body on the Palestine issue, a U.N. spokesman said Thursday.

Arab diplomats said they would introduce a resolution this morning to move the General Assembly from U.N. headquarters in New York to Geneva to hear Arafat.

A ranking U.N. official said a vote to move to Geneva could be taken Monday and approval was certain.

"The secretary-general has received from the United States a reply to the resolution adopted by the General Assembly asking the United States to review and rescind its decision not to issue a visa to Mr. Arafat," said U.N. spokesman Francois Guilinai.

"This reply from the United States is negative, and will be contained in a report by the secretary-general to come out tomorrow morning," he added.

The letter of refusal was "extremely negative," said a diplomatic source who saw the note.

Arafat wanted to speak Thursday, the original opening day of the assembly debate on Palestinian issues. But the State Department denied the visa last Saturday on grounds the head of the Palestine Liberation Organization was an accessory to terrorism.

Universal Studios guard shot

UNIVERSAL CITY, Calif. - A security guard was shot and killed, and another was critically wounded Thursday when a gunman walked up to a guard shack at the gate of Universal Studios and opened fire, authorities said.

"The suspect was shot by a deputy sheriff and is in custody," said Deputy Hal Grant, a Los Angeles County sheriff's spokesman.

Minutes after the attack, deputies and a third guard spotted a man they believed to be the gunman about a block away and "engaged in a gun battle," wounding the man, said Van Mosley, a sheriff's spokesman at the scene.

What provoked the shooting at an employees' entrance shortly before 6 p.m. was not immediately known. "We have absolutely no clues," said Dan Slusser, general manager of the studio, a popular tourist attraction.

County Fire Department spokesman Larry Westby said one guard was killed and another was in critical condition.

Friday

TGIF - 5 p.m.

ree Hors'd'oeuvres

Grill Special

6 oz. T-Bone

$5.25

Grand Opening

Dec. 3, 6 a.m.-3:30 p.m.

THE LIFE OF

BAKERY AND CAFE

205 SOUTH BROADWAY

RILEY

Headache?

Back Pain?

Neck Pain?

$401 million bid for Olympics

NEW YORK - NBC stunned CBS with a record bid of $401 million Thursday to win the U.S. television rights to the 1992 Summer Olympics in Barcelona, Spain.

NBC, which televised the Summer Olympics in Seoul, had been considered a longshot to get the Barcelona rights. CBS was favored because it already owns the TV rights to the 1992 Winter Games in Albertville, France.

The Barcelona fee topped the previous Olympic record of $309 million paid by ABC for the Winter Olympics in Calgary. NBC paid $300 million for the TV rights in Seoul.

"We didn't go into this to lose money," NBC president Robert Wright said at a news conference. "Our plan was designed to minimize losses. It's not designed to make a lot of

Wright also said that as part of the agreement, NBC agreed to spend $10 million to promote the city of Barcelona.

Michael Weisman, executive producer of NBC Sports, said he was a "little bit surprised" that the network got the Barcelona

"The first call after I found out was to Terry Ewert, our coordinating producer (in Seoul)," Weisman said. "said, 'I sure hope you saved all your notes because I threw mine out."

BRIEFLY THE REGION

Lobbyists endorse road plan

TOPEKA - A group formed to lobby for road-improvement proposals has endorsed a $3.1 billion highway plan developed by a special legislative committee. Another survey found strong support for one part of the proposal within the state's business community.

Economic Lifelines, a non-partisan, non-profit corporation formed last year to push for highway legislation, praised the Special Committee on Transportation for an "innovative" approach. The group's board of directors voted last week to endorse the committee's proposal.

The committee studied the highway issue this fall and summer and will forward its plan to the 1989 Legislature, which

Under the plan, the state would increase its sales tax a halfpercent, increase vehicle registration fees and increase motor fuels taxes by seven cents a gallon by July 1, 1994.

Demand for nurses continues

LAWRENCE — Although the number of registered nurses in Kansas increased by 22.8 percent between 1978 and 1987, the demand for nursing services rose at a faster rate and nursing school admissions have been declining, a new study shows.

The study, done by the Kansas Board of Regents at the request of the Senate Ways and Means Committee, suggests that legislators respond to the shortage of nurses in Kansas by enhancing wages and working conditions, granting tuition waivers to students, recruiting more non-traditional students and retaining present nurses.

The report recommends that lawmakers consider investing more money in programs designed to attract young people into nursing and to pull back some nurses who have left for jobs with better salaries and more responsibility.

Officials said a nursing school graduate can expect to earn $28,000 a year at a hospital on the East or West coast. At the University of Kansas Medical Center in Kansas City, Kan., nurses start at $24,000.

Dr. D. Kay Clawson, executive vice chancellor for the KU Medical Center, said legislators eventually will have to permit use of employment incentives to attract qualified nurses to state-financed medical institutions.

BULLETIN FOR CAMPUS

Campus organizations are encouraged to use Campus Bulletin. All announcements must be submitted by 11 a.m. one day prior to publication. Announcements for Monday's bulletin must be in by 11 a.m. Friday. However, publication is determined by the amount of space available on a first-come, first-serve basis and is not ensured. Information forms are available on the shelf outside Kedzie 118. Forms should be left in the box on the shelf after being filled out. All submissions must be signed and are subject to verification. Questions should be directed to the Collegian's campus editors in Kedzie 116.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

EBONY THEATRE COMPANY will perform "Master Harold and the Boys" at 8 p.m. today and Saturday in the Purple Masque

SGA Applications for Student Senate intems and standing committee chairpersons are available in the SGS office located in the Union. Applications are due Friday.

TODAY

FOOD SCIENCE CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in the Winston Place Clubhouse.

INTERVARSITY CHRISTIAN FEL-LOWSHIP will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 212.

AFRICAN STUDENTS UNION will a.m. at the Second Baptist Church in Junction meet at 8 p.m. in the International Students City.

ALPHA PHI ALPHA will meet at 8 p.m. at the Liberty Inn in Junction City.

BAKERY SCIENCE CLUB will meet at 5:30 p.m. in Shellenberger 110.

A LITERARY DISCOVERY Womens Voices in the Season of Change will meet at 3 p.m. in Union 204.

STUDENTS FOR EDUCATIONAL AWARENESS will meet at 3 p.m. in Union

SATURDAY

UNIVERSITY FOR MAN arts and crafts Christmas sale will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at UFM 1221 Thurston St.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in the International Student Center.

Union second floor.

ENGINEERING AMBASSADOR EXECUTIVES will meet at 11:15 a.m. on the

BAKERY SCIENCE CLUB will meet at 9 p.m. in Shellenberger 110.

ALPHA PHI ALPHA will meet at 6 p.m.

WORLD CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP will meet at 7:30 p.m. at 1644 Fairview Ave.

SUNDAY

KSU PEO GROUP will meet at 4:40 p.m. in Call Hall parking lot.

ACACIA LIL' SISTERS will meet at 10 p.m. at the Acacia house.

BETA SIG LIL SIS MEETING will be at

ALPHA PHI ALPHA will meet at 10:45

8 p.m. at the Beta Sig house.

MONDAY

KANSAS STATE STUDENT Speech Language and Hearing Association will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 206.

DEPARTMENT OF CLOTHING, Textiles and Interior Design will present a seminar by Bao Mingxin, director of the textile history research center in the Department of Clothing at Shanghai, China, 1:30 p.m. in Justin 109. The second part of the seminar will be at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday in Justin 326.

K-STATE POLICE

Wednesday

A troubleshooter was called to repair a broken steam pipe in the Throckmorton Seminar.

The theft of a calculator worth $70 from a backpack was reported.

An incident of forgery was reported. Loss was $12.43. A student parking permit and wallet were reported stolen from a vehicle parked in lot A-29. Loss was An information report was filed regarding an incident of phone harassment at Boyd Hall.

Thursday

A wheel lock was placed on a white Dodge van parked in lot A-3. A subject fell near the northeast corner of the Union and was taken to Memorial Hospital by Riley County Ambulance. A wheel lock was placed on a brown Chevrolet pickup parked in lot was reported. ■ The theft of a bike from south contents worth $110 from the Union of Goodnow Hall was reported. Loss was more than $500.

Corrections

Due to a reporter's error in Tuesday's Collegian, the Merieux Institute, which developed the human diploid cell vaccine for rabies, was incorrectly identified as the Mario Institute.

Due to an editing error in a story on national forensics team qualifiers published Wednesday, Shelah Shanks, freshman in environmental design, was incorrectly identified as a junior in arts and sciences.

Due to a reporter's error, the dates for free rides on the Christmas bus service offered by Manhattan Transit Charters were incorrect. Free rides will be offered today through ■ The theft of a backpack and Sunday.

If you need abortion or birth control services, we can help.

Confidential pregnancy testing . Sale, affordable abortion services . Birth control . Tubal ligation . Gyn exams . Testing and treatment for sexually transmitted diseases. Providing quality health care to women since 1974. Insurance, VISA &

MasterCard accepted.

omprehensive Lealth for Women 4401 West 109th (1-435 & Roe) Overland Park, Kansas For information and appointments (913) 345-1400

Toll Free (except KS) 1-800-227-1918

a head start

On your Holiday Season

Now is the time to plan to look your best for the holiday season.

537-1003 NEW BEGINNINGS 1107 N. 3rd a full-service salon.

NEIGHBORHOOD TONIGHT LIVE BAND "The Twisters" Specials-1 shots-12.50 Pitchers "It's Going to be crazy, so don't miss out." 776-4111 1800 Claflin

Regents offer camp for Kansas students

By Scott Dye Collegian Reporter

Although it has been affectionately referred to as "Nerd Camp" by some of its students, the Kansas Regents Honors Academy is not designed for the awkward, stereotypical nerds portrayed in movies.

"I feel we have a collection of Kansas' best and brightest students who are very creative and imaginative. They are students who are challenging to the instructors, as well as to each other," said Stanley Koplik, executive director of the Kansas Board of Regents.

Koplik said the academy is prestigious, with only 150 positions available for the approximately 400 stu-

"I feel we have a collection of Kansas' best and brightest students who are very creative and imaginative."

-Stanley Koplik executive director, Kansas Board of Regents

dents who are nominated from Kansas high schools each year.

Established by the Legislature in 1986, the Kansas Regents Honors Academy is a special summer program for academically qualified Kansas high school students who have just completed their sophomore or junior year.

The academy, hosted at K-State last summer, has no set curriculum, said Sy Seyler, professor of geography and representative to the Kansas Regents Honors Academy Advisory Committee.

'They want the course offerings to be broad, to not require highly specialized preparation, and they want the top faculty involved in instructing (the students). How it follows from there depends upon the way it is structured by the individual institution," Seyler said.

Students attending last summer's academy were required to take Foundations of Western Thought, in which they studied Western literature, philosophy and cultural history. Students were also offered a choice of advanced seminars in math, physics, English, psychology, speech or anthropology, ranked according to each student's preference, he said.

Sevler said the cost of room and board and all instructional materials is paid by the academy, but any students deciding to take the classes for college credit must pay tuition.

About 80 percent of the students chose to take both classes for credit and 5 percent took only one for credit, Seyler said.

Each class was limited to about 25 students to promote stronger communication between students and instructors.

Seyler said last summer's academy built a strong sense of community and everyone had trouble

"I really, really enjoyed it. It was an experience that I'd just never had before, going and staying in a dorm for a whole month. We got to meet a lot of people from all over the state," said Francis Fung, senior at Manhattan High School who attended the academy this past summer.

Shani Roufa, also a senior at Manhattan High School, said she enjoyed meeting new friends at the academy. "The school part was fun but the best part, of course, was just meeting everyone. I made so many good friends," she said.

The students are nominated by their high school to attend the academy. The nominations are based on a student's grade point average, SAT scores, a written essay and recommendations by two teachers, Seyler said.

Seyler said the Advisory Committee attempts to pick at least one student from each of the 40 senatorial districts in Kansas. The remaining students were picked based on a balance of sex, school size and geographic representation, with juniors receiving priority.

Next year's academy will be hosted at Pittsburg State University.

Used car sale

Fiat in front of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity Thursday afternoon. of the car in preparation for an animal house party this weekend.

Matt Tomisac, sophomore in radio-television, cuts into the roof of a Tomisac and other fraternity members took turns in the destruction

Military shuttle mission

By The Associated Press

CAPE CANAVERAL - Weather permitting, NASA will try again Friday to send Atlantis on a secret military mission after scrubbing Thursday's attempt because of violently shifting 104 mph winds in the shuttle's flight path.

Officials said they would look at the forecast late Thursday before giving a go-ahead to fuel the spacecraft again for a launch Friday in a threehour period beginning at 6:32 a.m. EST. If the weather looked bad, NASA would wait until Saturday.

"We're going to take a hard look at the weather again," said launch director Bob Sieck. "If it is clearly a no-go tomorrow, we don't want to exercise the launch team, the crew and the systems."

Navy Cmdr. Robert L. Gibson and his four-man military crew, dressed in uncomfortable, bulky flight suits, had been lying on their backs in cabin seats for nearly five hours Thursday when the decision was made to scrub.

"They took it in stride, so did the rest of the team," Sieck said. "We've been talking about the threat of this ... so it came as no surprise."

The astronauts themselves were not heard from publicly because NASA, operating under strict Air Force secrecy requirements, did not carry the usual shuttle-to-launch control conversations over its radio circuit.

Using all the resources at its command - high-altitude weather balloons, radar, and a shuttle pilot flying through the clouds - NASA continuously sampled the weather before finally calling it quits.

"We were watching the weather all the way and finally scrubbed due to the winds aloft," Sieck said. "There was no hope we were going to get out of the situation."

Rain had left the area and skies had begun clearing, but eight miles above the Atlantic Ocean winds exceeded hurricane force. Lawrence B. Williams, a NASA engineer, said the blasts were so powerful and erratic that the shuttle's computer could not be programmed to safely adjust its flight path.

Superior Cut

& Style

Such winds could cause serious damage to the shuttle's wings.

Col. John Madura, an Air Force weatherman, said the storm front that caused the problems would be offshore Friday but could be followed by strong ground winds that might affect a launch.

Sources said the countdown, blacked out publicly for security reasons, had been held twice for onehour periods.

Makeover

$22.50 value for $10

ades makeup application

1106 Laramie

539-1177

Open 8-8 daily

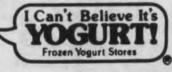

Offers good until 12-23-88

Void with any other offers.

New Nonfat Frozen Yogurt

Same great taste with no fat or cholesterol

Nautilus Towers-Aggieville Phone 537-1616 Manhattan

UNITED ARTISTS $2.50 PER PERSON SHOWS BEFORE 6:00 p.m.

SETH CHILDS 6 TH CHILDS AT FARM BUREAU RD. 778-80

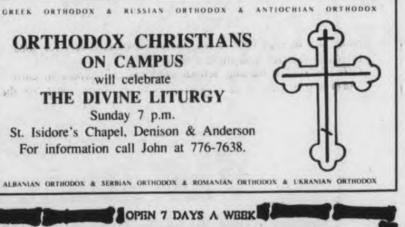

FRESH HORSES PG-13 7:15, 9:40 Sat, Sun. 2:15, 4:35 THEY LIVE R 2:20, 4:40, 7:20, 9:30

IRON EAGLE II PG Daily 7:15, 9:35 SAT. & SUN 2:10, 4:40 EVERYBODY'S ALL-AMERICAN R

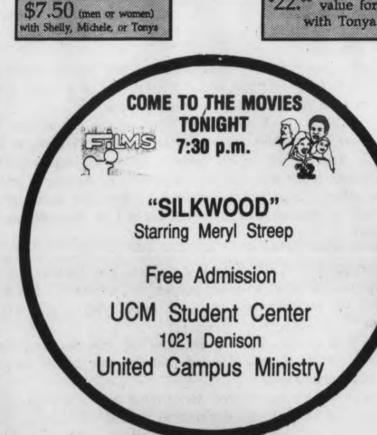

2, 4:30, 7:10, 9:45 LAND BEFORE TIME G 7:10, 9:30 Sat., Sun. 2:10, 4:40

ERNEST SAVES CHRISTMAS PG

Stop by, check out our sale prices & have a BEER on us!

Tonight, December 2 7 p.m.-Midnight 1204 Moro in Aggieville

Editorial

Kansas State Collegian Opinions ■ Friday, December 2, 1988

Post-game remarks were in poor taste

After K-State's win over Purdue, visiting Coach Gene Keady's post-game comments about the quality of officiating were tasteless and unprofessional.

Keady was in a situation where he was under no NCAA or league restrictions on expressing his opinion of the game. Unfortunately, neither was he under any ethical or professional obligations to refrain from saying what was on his mind.

His cheap shots at the game officials and his warning to the Wildcats not to come to Indiana made him look like a crybaby parent who was mad after watching a son lose a peewee league

Big Eight coaches are restricted by a gag rule concerning game officials. If a conference coach makes any type of comment concerning officiating following a basketball game, positive or negative, that person violates the rule and is disciplined in one of two ways. After the first violation, the coach is issued a letter of reprimand. In the case of a second violation, the coach receives a one-game suspension. Surprisingly, Big Eight conference coaches voluntarily requested this restriction be enacted last year. This request is admirable, to say the least. It demonstrates a high level of pride in the profession - Keady should take notice.

The NCAA also has a restriction concerning commenting on game officals once the post-season tournament begins. A coach who insists on discussing the quality of officiating during the tournament can be dismissed or the employing university can be

These rules were created to maintain the integrity and professionalism of coaching college basketball.

Keady did nothing more than prove the importance of having this type of restriction by showing basketball what would happen if no restrictions were in place.

Football coach hiring botched by University

The K-State football team takes enough hard knocks. But the way the athletic department handled the hiring for a new coach has brought a little more mockery to the Wildcat gridiron.

It's not enough that K-State's team is often called the "Mildcats" or that Nebraska fans bought more tickets for the game in Manhattan than K-State fans did, but the athletic department couldn't even conduct a search for a new coach without making a faux pas.

Bill Snyder, offensive coordinator at the University of Iowa, was named head football coach Wednesday at a news conference, but the announcemnt was no surprise.

On Monday, the Kansas City Star and the Manhattan Mercury identified Snyder as the fearless leader who might pull the football program out of the woods. There was no official announcement by the athletic department of Snyder's selection.

The athletic department should have kept the decision secret or made an announcement - not let it leak through unofficial

The department handled the selection process unprofessionally. The search was conducted as if K-State was looking for a scapegoat who likes to wear purple, not a football coach. They handled the annoucement as if the public didn't care who was

This is a crucial time for the football program, and the authorities have already decided that the new coach should start with a disadvantage.

Snyder has an impressive background and a proven record of success, and the athletic department should see that he is treated with the same respect at K-State that he has earned at K-State's football program has to win respect before it can win games, and the hiring of a new coach can put the program on the right track. If publicity surrounding the search was treated more seriously, maybe next season fans would have more respect for the team, on and off the field.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

EDITOR

	NEWS EDITOR
ı	EDITORIAL PAGE EDITOR
	PHOTOGRAPHICS EDITOR
ı	SPORTS EDITOR
	ADVERTISING MANAGER Catherine Doud
ı	EDITORIAL BOARD
	The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publica- tions Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan. 88508. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the school year and Monday and Thursday during summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 68502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Deck, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167. News contributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116. Inquiries concerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560.

Someone may be watching you fter spending several hours in vari-ous airports during the break, I realized that I'm addicted to peoplewatching. This sport doesn't require any of those sweaty workouts or expensive equipment - just halfway decent eyesight and a healthy imagination.

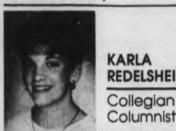

The sport of people-watching is very versatile - it can be done in teams or solo. I remember a few trips to Kansas City's Nelson-Atkins Museum of Art with my dad and that the people at the exhibitions were more interesting than the exhibitions

We'd always get done viewing a room before my mother (who will not pass up any plaque without reading it) and would find ourselves sitting on a bench waiting.

To pass the time, we started playing a little game during which we'd watch people (from afar) and make up stories about their personal lives. There were the starving artist types, decked out in their thrift shop attire, who seemed to understand even the most abstract art. But no museum would be complete without the L.L. Bean-intellect types who thrive on finding the hidden meaning behind every Airports are another great place to watch people, and if you're feeling particularly daring, eavesdropping has the potential to be entertaining too. Airports are primo watching ground because they have the two elements needed for quality observing - a lot of colorful people and a lot of chairs.

The object is to watch people without looking like you're really watching. Airports require props (such as newspapers or magazines) and some fundamental acting skills. The acting skills consist of looking as though you are so into your reading material that you Commentary have no idea of what is going on around you. People tend to open up when they think others aren't listening to what they're saying.

KARLA REDELSHEIMER Collegian

One woman I found myself listening to was discussing stress management with her traveling companion. Apparently, she was so stressed out, she went to a support group for help. I found myself sitting on the edge of my seat and struggling not to make any sudden movements while trying to appear enthralled in my stupid magazine.

She started describing other members in her group, all of whom were professional people. She mentioned a stockbroker, an advertising executive and a lawyer. The curiosity was killing me - what was making this woman so stressed out?

he kept talking about deadlines and how she finally decided that she had three options - she could meet her deadline and turn in awful work, she could ask for help or she could turn in quality work and not meet her deadline. She was just starting to open up about her job when I dropped my magazine and it landed an inch away from her foot. The woman abruptly ended her conversation and left me wondering. Her sensible shoes led me to believe she was an accountant, but I'll never know for Places where families frequent, such as shopping malls and amusement parks, are also supreme people-watching territory. Wherever kids tend to be in masses, there's always a lot of excitement.

t's amusing to watch kids and prophesy about what they'll grow up to be. I always imagine those wild kids who, in amusement parks, tear away from their parents and run straight to the scariest rides as being ones who will work for the Parents also make interesting peoplewatching subjects. Because the image of fathers has been changing during the last few years, I like watching fathers with their children - just to see if all that stuff about the sensitive male of the 1980s really is true. I remember watching one dad with his son in a crowded cafeteria.

The son, like most children, got distracted with all the activities going on around him. He was captivated with the grown-ups rushing past him and the huge selection of food. The father patiently held his son's hand and let him explore his surroundings.

It wasn't exactly an earth-shattering occurrence, but it was neat to watch a parent slowing down his fast-paced world so his son could investigate something new.

I wondered if anyone else had noticed this seemingly unimportant episode. And to my surprise, there was another people-watcher smiling at this small event too.

The sport seems to be growing in popularity, so chances are, if you're in a public place, someone is probably watching you too.

THE GUY WITH THE POMPADOUR JUST LEFT AND SAID TO STICK HIM WITH THE BILL ...

Respect for hazardous chemicals can prevent future explosions

he explosion in South Kansas City which claimed the lives of six firefighters is a tragedy which deserves special attention. Certainly, the families of those who died deserve our thoughts and prayers. But beyond this immediate grief and suffering, we must realize the potential for such a disaster in our own community. In fact, we are so close to these dangers that we deny or ignore them. I am speaking of the hazardous material which our modern lifestyle generates in an unprecedented

Such materials are used for our greater comfort and convenience. Explosive and volatile chemical compounds are used in manufacturing and are transported on our rail and highway systems. Usually, they go unnoticed, but, occasionally, disaster occurs. Not many people have heard of Kingman, Ariz.

However, ask any firefighter about the explosion which occurred there and you will get a detailed account of it. A rail tank car containing an "ordinary" flammable gas ignited and exploded. Twelve firefighters were instantly killed and about 100 spectators, some standing a quarter of a mile away, were burned. Firefighters also know about incidents in Waverly, Tenn.; Houston, Texas; Oneonta, New York; Crescent City, Ill.; and other places. To this list we can now add Kansas City, Mo. After every incident, the dead are buried and the usual investigations Politicians immediately ask, "How could such things happen?" An investigation is per-formed and a report is issued. But after three or four months, only a few remember the incident. The few who remember are friends and relatives of the injured or killed.

We take dangerous materials for granted partly because we use them every day. Gasoline is one example. Right now, there is considerable distress in Manhattan over the price of gas. However, little attention is paid to its danger. There was a serious incident involving a gas leak at 17th Street and Anderson Commentary

TERRY L. HEYNS Guest Columnist

Avenue a few weeks ago. The Manhattan Fire Department stationed a pumper and crew there for several days. (We are fortunate to have an outstanding fire department.) Luck was also with us and we were spared a reminder of just how powerful an explosion can result from gasoline vapor.

On our own campus, there are many hazardous materials. Such materials are needed to conduct research and gain advanced knowledge. The faculty members and graduate students who work with such materials are aware of the dangers. They are careful to keep safety in mind and this is one reason why there have been no incidents. owever, has anyone in Topeka looked at the budget of our campus safety director? Are there adequate funds to provide for better safety? If there is an incident, state legislators will be the first to express astonishment that something like that could occur and demand to know who is responsible. How many of us will react in the same way? Again, such dangerous materials are so close to us that we take them for granted, until a disaster happens.

What can we do about such materials? I have some suggestions. First, look where you live. Are hazardous materials stored in such a way that the pressurized containers will rupture in a fire? What about paint spray cans, pesticides, fertilizers, motor oils, cleaning solutions and other volatile liquids and solids? Are these stored safely? Remember a disaster can involve one or two people as well as many, especially if you or I are among the casualties. nother suggestion is to become more aware of how these dangerous substances are transported. Most of the time, only materials which are "politically fashionable" receive publicity - for example, the transport of nuclear material by rail. But what of other materials such as ammonium nitrate-fuel oil (which exploded in Kansas City), acetylene, butane or propane? How often do organic peroxides such as peracetic acid and benzoyl peroxide come to town? When was the last time a truck containing phosgene passed you on the interstate? Next time you are at a rail crossing, see if you can count the number of cars which might contain hydrochloric acid, phosphorous trichloride or oleum. Do you ever notice barrels of acrylonitrile at a storage shed? These materials are all around us and are used in the manufacture of many products and items which we take for granted. Perhaps that is why we put these hazardous materials out of sight and out of mind. But we should learn how they are shipped and be familiar with the placarding and labeling system used in

Our approach to such materials must be measured and well-planned. To dispense with such materials is not possible or practical, because we depend on them so much.

However, we must clean up after ourselves. Money is needed to train firefighters and to provide adequate equipment to dispose properly of such materials and to ship and handle them safely.

Maybe I would not mind paying a little more for gas if I knew the extra cost was helping protect our community and preserve the health and safety of my family and friends. It is a question of paying now or later. Paying later has deadly consequences.

Editor's Note: Terry L. Heyns, graduate student in curriculum and instruction, is a firefighter and a fire service instructor.

By Scott Berg Collegian Reporter

Winter months in northeast Kansas bring to some people's attics scenes resembling something from a horror movie — thousands of flies clumped together everywhere.

These flies, commonly called attic flies, hibernate in certain attics during the winter months. They are of five different species. The dominant species found is the face fly, said Alberto Broce, professor in entomology and fly behavior researcher.

The flies don't prefer a certain type of building. They are found in both old and new structures including Fairchild Hall, Broce said.

Broce and Doug Burkett, graduate assistant in entomology, are researching the face flies to find a way to control them. The flies feed on the eyes of cattle, and carry the pinkeye virus and thelazzia eye worms which cause blindness.

"Face flies are a serious problem on livestock," Broce said. "They cause eye irritations and transmit the pathogen that causes pinkeye."

The flies came to the United States in 1952, starting on the East Coast and moving west.

Broce studies their winter hibernation cycle to try to find a weakness in the fly in order to control it. Funding for the research is supplied by the Kansas Agricultural Experiment Station.

"If we can understand this migration mechanism and figure out why iust one number to out for.

anymore.

remember for fast delivery of pizza that's every bit

as good as one you'd go

Godfather's Pizza." Now you don't have to settle for anything less,

> 1118 Laramie Aggieville

the flies return to these specific sites, maybe we can interrupt their life cycle at some point," he said.

The research is centered around inspecting the houses, finding the flies' survival percentage rate and seeing how quickly they use their fat reserves, Broce said.

Flies must eat constantly in order to function. They have a high consumption rate of energy when out of hibernation, he said.

Adult flies have an internal clock telling them when days are short enough to gorge themselves in preparation for hibernation, Broce said. Then they find cracks in houses and crawl into attics to sleep for six months until the first warm day of spring in April or May.

The awakened flies then swarm out of any opening they can find, usually invading lower levels of the building, he said.

The flies in Fairchild Hall are terrible in the winter and early spring on warm days, said Marilee Puls, information specialist of the Kansas Careers office.

One office will at times have a layer of dead flies on everything, Puls

"It was unhealthy," she said. "The exterminator comes in two or three times a year and sprays and fogs ... but it doesn't get rid of all of them."

"Our only clue right now is that face flies often choose homes and buildings with very steep, gabled roofs," Broce said.

"The flies' (offspring) usually go

539-5303

One number brings out the best at KSU

$5.99 Medium

Present this coupon and receive a large single topping Original pizza for only $7.99 or a medium for only $5.99.

Now at KSU, there's to the same house every year. There are about seven generations over the summer between the hibernations,"

Their cycle isn't foolproof. Flies have been known to mistake storage silos for protected buildings in which to hibernate. But, in silos the flies freeze due to exposure, he said.

Broce said the flies prepare for sleep by forming a type of antifreeze to keep them from freezing. The compound is similar to that used in

They have an optimum temperature of 32 degrees Fahrenheit that they must stay near while in hibernation, he said.

If it gets too cold, the flies will freeze. If they are too warm, Broce said, they either wake up and go outside to die or their metabolism rate increases which prematurely burns their stored food, causing the flies to die of starvation.

The fly will only breed in manure, so no breeding occurs in the attics, he

The European strain of the face fly carries a parasite that causes "green muscle disease" in cattle, Broce said.

The disease has been discovered coming into the country twice in the past five years in shipments of animals and was stopped before it could spread, he said. The United States has to be prepared in case it comes over en masse.

Infected meat turns a rotting green color and is not edible.

Super Combo

only $9.99

resent this coupon and

Honorary to Student of the year and teacher of the year awards will be presented at the annual Tau Sigma Delta Honor Society banquet at 6 p.m. today in the newly-renovated Wareham Opera House.

Kevin Lew, fifth-year senior in architecture and banquet committee chairman, said nominations have been open for one month. A letter of recommendation about each nominee was submitted by a faculty member or student. aculty member or student.
"The nominee then submitted a resume to the society for review,"

The winners, Leslie Buerk, enior in architecture, and W. Mick harney, assistant professor in avironmental design, were notified Nov. 21, said Lori Fite, fifthear senior in interior architecture president of Tau Sigma Delta. park said it is an honor to be named student of the year.

"It feels good that my peers would consider me for this," she said. "It's good that someone else notices my involvement around campus and within the College (of Architecture and Design)."

bership in Tau Sigma Delta, acting as student representative on the College of Architecture and Design's dean search committee, serving as co-president of the American Institute of Architecture Students and serving on the AIAS national elections committee.

Charney said he is very flattered about the teacher of the year award.

"It's only my second year of teaching at K-State," he said. "I hope I can live up to the award."

Charney said K-State is a "marvelous" place to teach" because his colleagues are-ver encouraging and provide a health environment in which to teach.

"It's a real pleasure to teach nere, and much of that is due to the faculty," he said.

Students in the society are che sen from each of the departments the college. Names are provided by the dean's office, Lew said. Grade ate students were also included this year for the first time.

"This is the first year for graduate students to be selected," he said. "There are about 20 altogether from landscape, regional and community planning and

Tau Sigma Delta Honor Society has 40 members.

Jerry Moore, temporary assistant professor in the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work, will speak at the ban-

SANTA'S GIFT LIST

·Ear Muffs

·Socks

·Knit Caps

·Gloves

Ski Bibs

Ski Jackets

T-Necks

Sweaters

Goggles

·Wool Hats

Mittens

Powder Shirts

Stretch Pants • Underwear

·Ear Bands

20% off Everything on Santa's List Thru Dec. 10, 1988 Crazy-Shirt Sweatshirts $10 with $30 purchases

OPEN Monday-Thursday 10-8 Friday & Saturday 10-6

Sunday 1-5

537-9105 1212 Moro, Aggieville

Closed Classes

0.76 ±0.00 (2.00 m) 0.76 ±0.00 (2.00 m) 0.76 ±0.00 (2.00 m) 0.77 ± 17930
17950
17950
17950
17950
17960
17960
17960
17960
17960
18930
18930
18930
18930
18930
18930
18930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930
19930 1 97-02
1 97-02
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-12
1 98-1

WE WANT TO MAKE YOUR STUDENT LOAN!

Have the professionals at Kansas State Bank make your student loan. Simply contact us at:

> 537-4400 Lender code #821176

ISAS STATE Westloop · Aggieville · K-State Union, Manhattan, Kansas 66502 HOLIDAY SHOPPING AT THE LOFT

size and style. Free gift wrapping is available so your purchase can go straight under the Christmas tree! Bring your holiday shopping list to The Loft!

in Aggieville

1207 Moro

By Melissa Paul Collegian Reporter

A number of Manhattan residents found their own solution to expensive bulk items supplied by presentday grocery stores — the People's Grocery.

People's Grocery is a quality, natural-food store cooperative, said Jayne Link, manager of the store.

A cooperative is a store that is member-owned, operated and controlled, she said.

A membership has an initial $75 investment, which will be returned if the member quits or moves from the area, Link said. It can be paid in installments of $5 during a 16-month period, and it includes a $5 nonrefundable administration fee. A pering twelve hours a month, or a nonworking member.

Members are entitled to set store policies and share the earnings left after the bills have been paid, she said. They also receive 20 percent off purchases, while the non-working members receive a 5 percent discount.

Non-members can also shop at the store, but they receive no discount. Link said about 92 households, from a wide range of backgrounds, are members.

The small, old-fashioned store is stocked to its limit with a wide variety of organic foods.

Along one wall is an abundance of pasta. Wheat-free corn pasta, whole wheat sesame rice pasta and veggie son can be a working member, work- elbow pasta are a few of the kinds fruit and nut bars, carob, sugarless available

Also on the shelves are wheat, rye, buckwheat and other grains; granola; muffin mixes; extracts and cereals, such as blue corn flakes - which really are blue.

"(Blue corn) is a novelty right now," Link said.

The old refrigerators carry more than 30 imported and domestic cheeses, yogurt without gelatin, flours ranging from wheat to blue corn, and garbonzo bean flour.

Other items in the store's stock include chili, prepared Mexican entrees, Ramen noodles and frozen vegetable patties for quick preparation.

The store also carries snacks, such as: tortilla chips, black bean chips, caramel, peanut bars, and holiday carob candy.

Link said the store began in 1985 as a buying club in the basement of the University for Man building. It was originally open one day a week, and is now open Monday through Saturday. The store is now located at 811 Colorado.

With the amount of growth the store has experienced, People's will probably need to move to a larger building, she said, making it the last generation of grocery stores in the building.

The building, which has been a grocery store 'of a sort' since 1911, will remain a business until People's moves out. Then it will be closed due to the residential zone.

Basketball halftime to feature Pridettes

By The Collegian Staff

The Pridettes will perform for the halftime show at six home games in Bramlage Coliseum this basketball season, compared to only one or two performaces in past seasons.

The group's next performance will be at the Dec. 10 basketball game against Vanderbilt.

The squad is shooting for Big Eight games and is scheduled for almost half of all home games, said Jo Byrnes, member and senior in engineering technology. The Pridettes have been represented only by students in the past. However, the group is looking for a non-student sponsor to act as a spokesperson to give it more exposure, said Janelle Rundle, member and junior in pre-professional elementary education.

'We talked to Mrs. Wefald and we decided to get a sponsor," said Cecilia Noland, member and junior in architectural engineering. Ruth Ann Wefald expressed an interest in the Pridettes and is acting as an advocate for the squad.

"I'm doing what I can to facilitate a situation that will be good for everyone, and I think a sponsor would be very helpful to them," Wefald said.

'We want to keep the crowd interested and keep up the K-State spirit," Rundle said.

Diverse homes featured tour

いいこからかいかいかいかいかいかいかい

Weekend Special

Come visit our Pet Dept.

thru Sunday while supplies last.

Colorful fish give pleasure and beauty.

いからかいからかいからかいからかいから

4 p.m. Friday, Dec. 2

in Kedzie 103.

1105 Waters-539-4751 ACROSS FROM ALCO

GREEN THUMB

PLANTS - PETS

Serving Manhattan Over 30 Years

By Becky Jones Collegian Reporter

Five Manhattan homes will be open for tours Saturday as part of the third McCain Auditorium Holiday Home Tour.

The tours, which will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., include a variety of homes, from a historic stone house to those recently completed.

The home of Roger and Shirley Schultz, 4741 Tuttle Creek Blvd., was built without blueprints by the Schultzes, their son and their son-inlaw. The house, which sits on seven acres of land, took them about three years to build, Shirley said. The barn was built and all the landscaping was finished before the house was started.

"We wanted a country home look, and that's what we have," Shirley

Many of the handcrafted items in the house, including quilts, lamps and ceramics, were made by Shirley

Manhattan

Shoe Repair arphi

401 Humboldt

Drive-up convenience Leather Purses

Hours

8:00-5:30 Weekdays

8:00-8:00 Thursday

8:00-4:30 Saturday losed Sun. & Mon.

776-1193

or her mother-in-law.

The home of Margaret Miller and Gary Boomer, 212 Pine Drive, was originally built in 1951 for former K-State basketball coach Jack Gardner, and was purchased by Boomer in 1979. Much of the house has been remodeled, but the new owners have kept the bathroom done in K-State "royal purple" tile, and Gardner's knotty pine office now serves as a bedroom, Miller said.

They are turning an old playroom into a library, and hope to have it finished before the home tours, Miller

Also included in the tour are the homes of Rita and Pat Keating, 156 Bethany Drive; Phil and Karen

Zebra Dania

80¢

reg. $1.20

Silver lyretail molly

$1.50

reg. $3.00

Brokenicky, 3019 Cherry Hill Road; and Jim and Mary Lindquist, 107 N.

The tour is self-guided, and volunteers will be placed throughout the homes to answer questions. Volunteers include members of the pledge classes of Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Alpha Theta sororities.

The homes may be visited in any

The home tour, sponsored by the McCain Auditorium Development Board, is a fundraiser for McCain Auditorium. The first two home tours were held in 1984 and 1985, but tours have not been held since, said Richard Martin, director of McCain

Jack Dempsey

$1.20

reg. $2.20

Angora or Dwarf Rabbits

$29.95

GARDEN

CENTER

Auditorium. Tickets and guide booklets are $6, and are available at the McCain Auditorium Box Office, Kitchens Plus, the Manhattan Town Center information desk, the Garment District and Ben Franklin.

> MOVIE INFORMATION 539-1291 IN JUNCTION CITY CALL 762-4094

> > CAMPUS

COCKTAIL R TODAY AT 7 AND 9:15 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2:30 & 4:45

WESTLOOP CINEMA 6

THE NAKED GUN PG-13 TODAY AT 4:35-7:05-9:30 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2:05

TEQUILA SUNRISE R TODAY AT 4:35-7:05-4:30 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2:05

THE ACCUSED R TODAY AT 9:35 ONLY

OLIVER AND COMPANY o HIGH SPIRITS PG-13 TODAY AT 9:25 ONLY

COCOON, THE RETURN PG TODAY AT 4:25-7-8:25 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2

CHILDS PLAY R TODAY AT 4:40-7:15-9:25 MAT. SAT. & SUN. AT 2:10

NEIGHBORHOOD stablished 1983

Pitchers

Come Party with the Charlie's Gang 1800 Claflin

ときなるとなるとなるとなるとなるとなるとなるとなると Christmas Golf Sale!! Entire Inventory 10-50% OFF

•Goff Balls

Golf Clubs Men's & Ladies Wood Headcovers

Sweaters

· Golf socks

Golf Shirts

Shoes •Golf Bags

Windbreaker Jackets

 Golf gloves Umbrellas Putters & Wedges •Gift Certificates •Pull Carts

STAGG HILL GOLF CLUB PRO SHOP

We have what you need to make Your Gift Special!!

8am-6pm Seven Days A Week 1 Mile East of Manhattan Airport on K-18

Survival Kit.

Call us! Manhattan

539-0561 517 N. 12th Street

Hours: Sun.-Thurs. 4pni-1am Fri.-Sat. 4pm-2am

Cokes available. 12 oz. cans 50c each.

$8.99

$5.99 Special!

Get two 10" cheese pizzas for only $5.99!

No coupon necessary. Prices do not include tax.

Special! Get one 10" AND one 14"

$7.99

cheese pizza for only $7.99! No coupon necessary.

Special! Get two 14" cheese pizzas for only $8.99! No coupon necessary. Prices do not include tax.

Our drivers carry less than $20.00. Limited delivery area. @1988 Domino's Pizza, Inc.

COLLEGIAN KANSAS STATE Journalism experience offered in Kedzie Applications available for Collegian staffs Collegian applications due Friday, Dec. 2 Learn hands on in Kedzie Variety of positions open for a variety of people THE PERSON NAMED IN COLUMN Now Taking Applications for Spring Collegian: News Staff-Advertising Staff-Campus Editor (2) Assistant Advertising Manager Campus/Tearsheet Representative Managing Editor Sales Representative (6) Graphic Artist (2) News Editor Arts and Entertainment Editor Editorial Page Editor Feature Editor Government Editor Photo Editor Sports Editor Science/Health Editor Pick Up Your Application City Editor Staff Assistant Copy Editor (4) in Kedzie 103 NOW! Graphic Artist Staff Writer (7) Applications due by Sports Writer (4)

Sports Columnist (4)

Business Writer

Reviewer (3) Columnist (5)

EntertainmentFriday

Kansas State Collegian ■ Friday, December 2, 1988 ■ Page 7

The marquee lights will be shining upon Poyntz Avenue again as the Wareham Theatre will open tonight as the Wareham Opera House after more than two years in darkness.

The rebirth of the story by Kevin Kramer photos by Jim Dietz

Chuck Lucas, Manhattan, paints in the balcony of the Wareham Theatre. The building has been extensively remodeled inside.

From faded blue to fresh green, the landmark sign on the front of the Wareham Theater has signaled a rebirth of life in downtown Manhattan.

The Wareham Theater, a historic landmark to downtown Manhattan, will reopen tonight as the Wareham Opera House, sponsoring a private party and banquet for the K-State architecture honorary Tau Sigma

The building, which has provided entertainment to Manhattanites for more than a century, has been renovated for the fourth time. The renovation project is the joint venture of the Wareham family, Brent Bowman and Associates, and McCullough Development Inc.

"The one goal of this project is to re-establish the nightlife atmosphere to downtown Manhattan," said Brent Bowman, architect for the Wareham renovation. "It is designed as a versatile facility and will be used for a house is just opening and minor renowide range of entertainment and private functions.'

Bowman's office is coordinating the facilities management, he said. The Wareham Opera House will be providing a variety of entertainment series.

"We look to begin doing two or three dinner theater shows a month, with different restaurants catering the performances, beginning in January," Bowman said.

"The big use for the Wareham will be for wedding receptions and company business parties. The facility offers a different and elegant background not found anywhere else in the area," said Larry Linbocker, owner and manager of The Cotton Club.

The plans for the coming year also include concerts and comedy nights, Bowman said. There are no scheduled events yet since the opera vation is still to be completed.

"The communitywide grand opening is planned for January, with a gala open house," he said.

The Wareham Opera House will open its doors to a public show Dec. 18 with a Christmas Sunday brunch and musical review.

"The show, called 'Opening Night says Merry Christmas ... A Musical Christmas Card,' is a mix of old and new arrangements," said Linda Haynes Uthoff, artistic director for Open-

Opening Night is a theater company based in Manhattan, which has been touring Kansas for the past two years with support from the Kansas Arts Commission.

The show is an hour of popular, traditional and new music, including jazz, classical and calypso arrangements, she said.

"This will be the first public presentation at the newly renovated Wareham Opera House," Uthoff said. "It will be a real treat for Manhattan to see theater back in the Wareham."

Bowman said an underlying purpose of the renovation is to help revitalize downtown by returning one of Manhattan's historic buildings to its original use.

With no cost estimates given for the renovation, Bowman said it is being done on the fast track — design as you build.

'We've tried to restore the classical interior details of omate trim, columns and stenciling," Bowman said. "These were removed during a 1953 renovation."

The new interior color scheme has the modern influence of mauve and shades of blue, he said. The colors represent a fresh and bright look, compared with the green and orange colors used in the early 1900s.

"The downstairs interior has had the sloping floor leveled into three terraces which will have table seating for approximately 400 people, Bowman said. A wooden dance floor has been installed on the stage and the concession area has been converted to a bar."

The balcony seating will be restored to make an additional 300 seats available for shows and concerts, he said.

According to information available from the Riley County Historical Society, the Wareham Theater was built in 1882. It was originally a stone-faced opera house called The Coliseum.

It was later renamed Moore's Opera House after its owner, H.S. Moore. It showed stage attractions typical of the "opera house" era and extended into "vaudeville."

In August 1893, H.P. Wareham ■ See WAREHAM, Page 10

SHOWING

K-State Union

Big 7 and 9:30 Friday and Saturday Forum Hall

> Secret of Nimh 2 Saturday and 2 and 7 Sunday Forum Hall

Campus Theater

Cocktail Daily, 7 and 9:15 Matinee 2:30 and 4:45,

Saturday and Sunday

Westloop Cinema 6

The Naked Gun Daily 4:35, 7:05 and 9:30. Matinee 2:05, Saturday and Sunday

Tequila Sunrise Daily 4:35, 7:05 and 9:30 Matinee 2:05, Saturday and Sunday

Without A Clue Today only, at 9:35. Matinee 2, Saturday and Sunday

Oliver and Company

Today at 9:25 only Matinee 2, Saturday and Sunday High Spirits

Daily 4:30, 7 and 9:40. Matinee 2, Saturday and Sunday

Child's Play Daily 4:40, 7:15, 9:25. Matinee 2:10, Saturday and Sunday

Cocoon The Return Daily 4:25, 7 and 9:35. Matinee 2, Saturday and Sunday

The Accused Daily 4:30 and 7:10

Seth Childs Cinema

Fresh Horses Daily 7:15 and 9:40 Matinee 2:15 and 4:35, Saturday and Sunday

They Live Daily 7:20 and 9:30 Matinee 2:20 and 4:40, Saturday and Sunday

Iron Eagle II Daily 7:15 and 9:35 Matinee 2:10 and 4:40, Saturday and Sunday

Everybody's All American Daily 7:10 and 9:45 Matinee 2 and 4:30, Saturday and Sunday

Land Before Time Daily 7:10 and 9:30 Matinee 2:10 and 4:40, Saturday and Sunday

Ernest Saves Christmas Daily 7:20 and 9:35 Matinee 2:20 and 4:45, Saturday and Sunday

Theater

Master Harold and the Boys An Ebony Theatre production of the play by Athol Fugard. Tonight and tomorrow 8 p.m. Purple Masque Theatre. Tickets are $2 for students

Dance

Winterdance '88 Tonight at 8 p.m McCain Auditorium. Presented by the K-State Dance Department. Tickets are $4 and $6 and may be purchased at the McCain Box Office.

Music

District III Concert KMEA Honor Band, Choir, Orchestra and Stage Band. McCain Auditorium, Saturday 3 p.m. Admission is free.

Photos Courtesy of Rilley County Historical Society

A view of The Wareham Electric Theatre looking toward the stage in 1919.

The Wareham Theatre balcony and lower floor as it looked from the stage in 1919.

The Christmas season is a special time of the year for many K-State students, and, adding to the spirit of Christmas, Boyd Hall's annual Vespers Night begins at 9 p.m. Sunday.

Kelly Reams, Vespess chairwoman and junior in foods and nutrition in business/community nutrition, said the event has been a tradition at Boyd since 1960, if not before.

"We looked in old scrapbooks and found that it dated at least back to 1960," she said. "It probably started before then, but we can't find any records."

Boyd, an all-women's hall, opened in 1951.

Becky Pickens, sophomore in business and fourth forms."

business and fourth floor committee representative, said Vespers is the annual Christmas program in which Boyd residents are invited to participate.
"It's a tradition," she said. "A lot of the women enjoy it. It's a special time at the hall."

Reams said the evening begins on the fourth floor, with residents caroling door-to-door and carrying lighted candles.

"We knock on doors and give the residents a lighted candle," she said. "Then, we go to the next door and so on. This way, they're invited, in a personal way, to

"All the hall's lights are turned off and the residents carry candles," said Julie Ball, sophomore in animal sciences and industry and second floor representative.
"We sing Christmas carols as we roceed to the other floors."

Residents end the caroling in the hall's fiving room, where a Christmas tree and decorations have been placed the day before.

Ball said the fireplace is lit for the

"It's getting people together," Ball said, "Some residents sing special Christmas songs, and others tell the Christmas story."

Planning for Vespers, Reams said, began in mid-October. A committee, with representatives from each of the four floors, held eekly meetings in order to keep informed of the event's progress.

"We didn't want any big sur-prises at the last minute," she said. "We all want to know what's going on."

Christmas tree hunting, finding stored decorations in Boyd, and locating a Santa Claus were part of planning, Reams said.

"It's a big deal around here," Ball said. "Boyd is one of the old-er (residence) halls on campus and has many long-standing traditions. Vespers is one of them."

"It gets us in the mood for Christmas," Pickens said. "And it's a way to meet other residents in the hall."

Have story or photo ideas? CALL 532-6556

SADD increases efforts for holidays

By The Collegian Staff

In an effort to increase public awareness of the dangers of driving drunk, the chapter of Students Against Driving Drunk is having its first Chain of Life.

The "chain" consists of slips of paper that have been signed by students and community members who pledge not to drive under the influence of alcohol during the holiday season. This symbolic chain will be broken only if a "link" is injured or killed by a drunk driver.

Shaun Moore, president of SADD, said the idea came from a Junction City chapter. We hope this will attract attention to SADD, and let people in the community know that we're here," Moore said. "I don't believe that any K-State student honestly believes that there is nothing wrong with drinking and driving.

"We hope this makes people more responsible to a certain extent."

On Friday SADD members will be at a table in the Union so students can sign up, and community members can sign up at the Manhattan Town Center on Sunday. The chain will be placed in the Union for the public to view, although a site within the building has not yet been determined.

"People need to be reminded that it is dangerous to drink and drive, and that's what SADD does," Moore said. "We make it so they think about

The local chapter of Mothers Against Drunk Driving is sponsoring a candlelight vigil on Sunday in its efforts to promote responsible drinking during the holidays. The vigil will be at 3 p.m. at the south end of the Manhattan Town Center.

Marie Ward, member of MADD, said the vigil is being held "in memory of those killed in alcohol-related accidents and in hope for a less violent holiday season for all of us."

Members of MADD will read names of victims who have died in alcohol-related accidents and distribute red ribbons for drivers to tie on their car door handles, mirrors or

200 to attend engineering scholarship day

By The Collegian Staff

More than 200 high school students from Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska are expected to visit the College of Engineering Saturday for its annual Scholarship Day.

This is the sixth year the College of Engineering has had the event for qualified students and their parents. To be invited, the students must

Saturday, December 3

Holiday Hours

Tues.-Fri. 10-6

Thursday 10-8

Saturday 9-5

People's Grocery

Cooperative

811 Colorado

meet one of three criteria - score a 26 or better on the American Collegiate Testing exam, be in the upper 10 percent of their class or qualify to be National Merit semi-finalist.

The students will be awarded with engineering scholarships for attending the special program which will begin in Forum Hall. Associate Dean of Engineering Ken Gowdy will make the opening speech and introduce the principal speaker, Russell also address the students and parents. Eberhart, senior project engineer in the implied physics laboratory at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md.

OPEN HOUSE

ONE DAY

SPECIALS

Speakers from various departments in the College of Engineering and other University facilities will

Students will get an opportunity to see Durland Hall's engineering facilities in the afternoon, when tours will be conducted. An alternate program on robotics will be offered by Bradley Kramer, assistant professor in industrial engineering.

SALE—SALE—SALE—SALE

Taco Burgers—2 for $1

Enchilada Dinner—§2.19

2 enchiladas covered w/chili & cheese. refried beans, salad with picos (reg. $3.05)

Sun.-Thurs. 11 a.m.-11 p.m. Fri.-Sat. 11 a.m.-12 a.m.

Offer good Nov. 30-Dec. 5 Closed Tuesday

"Where good friends get together"

539-2091

2809 Claflin Rd.

Sunday

Start Your Sunday Mornings With The Right Side Up!

Join 95.3, The Kat, for three hours of light, contemporary fusion Jazz-The perfect sound for a relaxing Sunday morning 8:50-11:50 a.m.

Sunday Side Up... Sunday Mornings Never Sounded So Good!

Sponsored by:

THE HOLIDAY OPEN HOUSE

- Award-winning Pizza
 Great Pasta Dishes
- · Farnous Salad Bar · Carry-out · Catering

. Deli Counter

BUFFET SERVED EVERYDAY LUNCH 11 a.m.-2 p.m. DINNER 5-9 p.m.

Open everyday at 11:00 a.m.

537-4350

3019 Anderson Village Plaza

Shopping Center

Book Your Christmas Party Now For Our Back Room

SUNDAY STUDENT SPECIALS

CHICKEN FRIED STEAK DINNER

Mushroom or Cream Gravy Includes choice of Potato plus Toast, Salad, Hot Food and Dessert Bar * P 1 1 Sept 11

SALAD, HOT FOOD AND DESSERT BAR

Show your Student ID Card and request the Student Special of your choice!

Breakfast Buffet Sat./Sun. 6-10:30 a.m.

100 Bluemont SIRLOIN STOCKADE.

Attention: Please read the following letter if you had your portrait taken for the Royal Purple.

(206) 355-8887

8805 46th Place West Mukilteo, WA 98275

Dear Kansas State student:

On behalf of both our company and the Royal Purple yearbook I apologize for your inconvenience and the confusion caused by our mistaken insertion of a notice with some of your proof sets.

The notice requested that some students pay a $5.00 fee to have their selected pose included in the yearbook. This was a mistake! There is no additional charge to any Kansas State student to appear in the yearbook.

If you are one of the students that received the "$5.00 notice", please disregard it! All you need do is mark the pose of your choice (simply write "YEARBOOK" on the back) and return all of the proofs to us at:

> Yearbook Associates P.O. Box 91 Millers Falls, MA 01349

You must return all of your proofs promptly!

If you've already returned your proofs and you did pay the $5.00, It will be refunded to youl

Of course we hope you'll be happy with your proofs and will choose to order a personal portrait package. But you are under no obligation to do so. If you were photographed your picture will appear in the yearbook.

If you have any questions you may either call me at the above number, or our customer service department at (413) 863-9714. Remember, I'm in Washington State, our customer service is in Massachusets, please make allowances for the different time zones.

Again, my personal apologies for the confusion.

Sincerely,

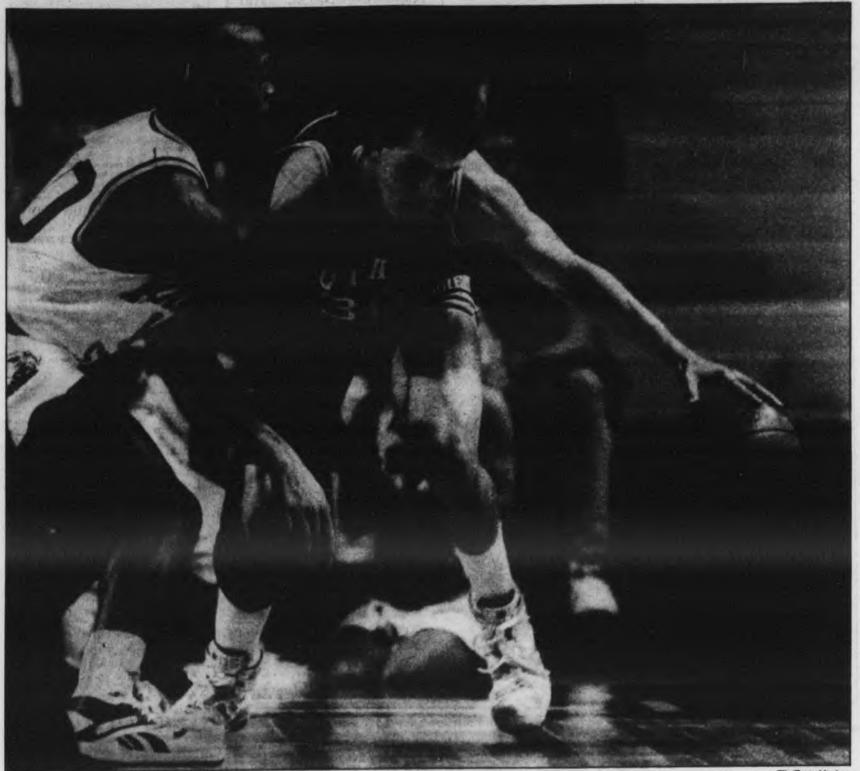

Featuring a variety of gifts at bargain prices.

November 29 thru December 2 Tuesday-Friday 8:30am-4:30pm Union Ballrooms KSU

Look for your discount certificate through University mail.

A K-State Union Bookstore Event

Kansas State Collegian ■ Friday, December 2, 1988 ■ Page 9

K-State quard LaKeith Humphrey puts pressure on Utah State's guard Reid Newey. The Wildcats play on the road for the first time this season as they travel to Oregon State University to battle the OSU Beavers at 9:30 p.m. Manhattan time.

'Cat newcomers to get road test

By Chris Wilhelm Sports Writer

After winning its first two games in the friendly confines of Bramlage Coliseum, the K-State men's basketball team will head to Corvallis, Oregon, for a 7:35 p.m. tipoff with the Oregon State Beavers in the Gill Coliseum Saturday.

"Going on the road is going to be a big test for us," K-State head coach Lon Kruger said. "We have a lot of new people and experience can really make a difference on the road. We just want to go out and do the things that we do well."

K-State and Oregon State have only played each other twice in the past. Both games were decided by two points or less. In the 1980-81 season, K-State beat the Beavers 50-48 on Rolando Blackman's lastsecond jumper in the quarter finals of the NCAA West regional in Salt Lake City. The Beavers retaliated by nipping the 'Cats 56-55 in the 1984-85 season.

"I really don't know a whole lot about them other than they are a good team," Kruger said. "They are returning four starters from a team that went to the tournament last year so I expect them to be tough.

They are a well-coached club. Coach (Ralph) Miller has been there a long time, and he's done some really good things with his teams."

The Beavers (1-0) are coming off an opening game thrashing of Portland 106-59, while the Wildcats (2-0) are coming off an easy victory over Utah State 86-67.

Coach Miller expressed the toughness of his team's contest with the Wildcats.

"K-State is well organized and they have a lot of talent," Miller said. "They will be our severist challenge to date. Their win over defending Big 10 champion Purdue proved that.

"When Coach Kruger took over the reigns from Coach (Jack) Hartman, he really did an excellent job of renovating the team."

While defense has been one of the Wildcats' strong points early in the season, Coach Kruger said he is "Going on the road is going to be a big test for us. We have a lot of new people and experience can really make a difference on the road."

-Lon Kruger men's basketball coach unsure how his team will handle the running game of Oregon State.

"They scored more than 100 points in their first game, so obviously they like to run," Kruger said. "They are a very sound team. They probably will run more than any team think our team can handle it. "I think the biggest thing about this game is that it is our first road game. I'm hoping that our young guys handle it well."

we've faced so far this season, but I

The Beavers will be led on the floor by junior point guard Gary Payton. He dished out 71/2 assists per game last year, while averaging 141/2 points per contest.

The 'Cats will be led by Steve Henson, who has averaged almost 20 points a game, while dishing out five assists a game in the 'Cats first two

UTEP to get Stull

mum / moot it almost

EL PASO, Texas - The University of Missouri won't get into a bidding war over Texas-El Paso football coach Bob Stull, Missouri athletic director Dick Tamburo said.

Meanwhile, the coach and his wife, Kim, plan to visit the Columbia, Mo., campus this weekend, Mrs. Stull said Wednesday. Officials said no offer has been made.

Stull earns about $110,000 a year at UTEP in salary and broadcast contracts, and El Paso business leaders are putting together a $230,000 annuity that could be worth almost $400,000 when it not the main issue.'

By The Associated Press matures in five years. The catch: UTEP for five years to collect.

Last week, KSDK-TV in St. Louis reported Missouri was prepared to offer the school's next coach a deal worth $200,000 to $250,000, but Missouri athletic officials would not confirm the figure.

"We will be very competitive for a quality person," Tamburo said. "But we will not get involved in a bidding war."

He said the next coach's salary will "be very competitive by Big Eight standards."

But Stull said Wednesday: "Like I've said all along, money is

Tigers won't out-bid Lady Cats meet Texas A&M

By Chris Hays Sports Editor

The K-State women's basketball team will make its first road trip of the season this weekend when it ventures to Minneapolis for the Minnesota Dial Soap Classic. The Lady Cats' first round game is at 6 tonight against Texas A&M. The winner will then play the winner of the Minnesota-Radford game in the tournament finals on Saturday.

The Lady Cats are coming off Tuesday night's victory over Missouri-Kansas City, 54-35, but K-State coach Matilda Mossman was not overly pleased with her team's offensive performance.

The Lady Cats hit just 34 percent of their floor shots and, according to Mossman, it was the K-State defense that provided such a lopsided victory

"Defensively, we are very solid right now," Mossman said. "But I don't think we will be able to hold very many teams to 35 points this year and we're not going to win very many ballgames by just scoring 54 points. So it's our ability to score that really concerns me the most right

Mossman said tonight's firstround matchup with Texas A&M should provide a good test for her young Lady Cats.

"I think that they won their first two games by 23 and 31 points and they still have to play North Texas State before we play them," Mossman said Tuesday. "They finished 13-15 last year, but they have four and possibly all five starters returning. They are a very solid ball team."

Mossman said she really didn't know much about Radford except that they finished 21-7 last year, but she did say Minnesota could also give the Lady Cats some trouble.

"They lost to Nebraska by 13, but then beat Washington State by 30," Mossman said. "So we know that they can play. Minnesota is greatly improved this year."

This is the 10th year that Dial Soap has been sponsoring collegiate women's basketball tournaments around the country. This year, Dial will sponsor 10 tournaments in all that will each be at different campus sites. Kansas is also conducting a Dial Soap Classic this weekend.

The Lady Cats will then be back in action Tuesday at Bramlage Coliseum against Central Missouri State.

Sports Briefly

Duper suspended for 30 days

MIAMI - Miami Dolphins wide receiver Mark Duper's failure to appear for two drug tests last week apparently was the cause for his 30-day suspension by the NFL, his agent said

"They think he's trying to avoid these drug tests for a reason," said Dan Bakst, a West Palm Beach attorney. " He's taken 15 or 20 of them over the year. Everything that we have says that Mark has tested negative on those. We've never heard anything to the contrary."

The NFL suspended Duper on Wednesday, saying he had violated the league's substance abuse policy. As usual, the league declined to elaborate or discuss specifics.

Duper also had little to say. "I'm not sure what is what," he said. "I'm disappointed in the situation as far as my family name."

The two-time Pro Bowl player tested positive early this season, Bakst said. Duper disputed the result but agreed to random tests three times a week.

Royals sign veteran Boone

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - The Kansas City Royals announced Wednesday they have signed 16-year veteran catcher Bob Boone to a one-year contract.

Boone, who hit a career-high .295 for the California Angels last year, will be called upon to solidify a position that has been unsettled on the Royals for several years.

"Obviously, we are delighted to add a player of Bob Boone's caliber to our team," General Manager John Schuerholz said. "He had an outstanding season last year and has enjoyed an outstanding career. Not only will he help us with his playing ability, but also with his knowledge and leadership as well."

Boone, 41, is the all-time Major League leader in games caught with 2,056 over a 16-year career. He has won five gold gloves and made four All-Star appearances and appeared in the 1980 World Series with Philadelphia.

Walsh: Sanders deserves Heisman

By The Associated Press

CORAL GABLES, Fla. - If University of Miami quarterback Steve Walsh goes one for two Saturday, he will be happy.

Despite an outstanding year, Walsh expects to be an also-ran when the Heisman Trophy winner is announced in New York. But he hopes to be a winner when the second-ranked Hurricanes conclude their regular season Saturday night against Brigham Young.

"It's not a matter of life or death if I win the award," Walsh said. "It is a matter of life and death if we win or lose football games, though."

Oklahoma State's Barry Sanders is favored to win the Heisman, and Walsh said the junior running back deserves it. But Walsh has compiled Heisman-caliber statistics - 213 completions in 354 pass attempts for 2,878 yards with 28 touchdowns and only 10 interceptions.

Because of the BYU game, Walsh can't be on hand for the Heisman announcement. But his father and 15-year-old brother will be.

"I never really made the Heisman my main goal," said Walsh, a junior. "It hasn't been on my mind all season, and it won't be when they present the trophy."

Walsh led Miami to the national championship last year, but he began this season as a longshot for the Heisman, partly because the school decided against promoting him heavily for the award. That was fine with

"It's ironic that Barry Sanders, who this year really had no preseason publicity, more than likely will win the award," Walsh said. "That's the attitude we have down here - you have to go out on the field and prove

"We're not going to spend thousands of dollars on campaigns trying to promote somebody. We'll be on national TV enough times during the season so if you go out on the field and show that you're a great player, you'll probably win the award."

Quarterbacks Troy Aikman of UCLA and Rodney Peete of Southern Cal were preseason favorites for the Heisman, but Walsh might finish ahead of them in this year's balloting.

"Steve got a heck of a lot of attention this year," said Rich Dalrymple, Miami sports information director. "But he didn't have the preseason buildup the two guys on the West Coast had."

Dairymple said if Walsh matches this season's performance next year, he will win the 1989 Heisman "going away. I think it'll be hard for Steve or Sanders to put up better numbers than they did this year. But if Steve does, I think he'll be it."

It's mine

Kerry Montague hits the ball during the intramural volleyball playoffs. Montague's team will advance to the finals.

Wareham

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 7 purchased The Coliseum for $10,000 cash and named it the Wareham Opera House. The opera house continued to provide stage attractions, including musicals and concerts.

H.P. Wareham, as the owner of the opera house, was called a progressive in his endeavors, according to an article in the 1913 Industrial Edition of the Manhattan Daily Mercury.

The article reported news of good attendance and support of the companies playing in Manhattan. The good advertisement for the city traveled east, resulting in the booking of an even better class of attractions into the theater.

The building was remodeled in 1910, extending it to the alley. It was soon after this remodeling the opera house became known as the Wareham Electric Theater.

In 1911, H.P. Wareham added a movie screen, making it the second theater in Kansas to show movies.

In 1938, extensive remodeling included installing the present building front and marquee. The stage was altered during the remodeling, making it only suitable for the showing of movies. After 1938, stage attractions appeared occasionally,

ClassAds 532-6555 Kedzie 103

CLASSIFIED RATES

One day: 15 words or fewer, $2.50, 20 cents per word over 15; Two consecutive dates: 15 words or fewer, $3.50, 25 cents per word over 15; Three consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 cents per word over 15; Four consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.75, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $5.00, 40 cents per word over 15.

Classifieds are payable in advance unless client has an established account with Student Publications. Deadline is noon the day before publication; noon FRIDAY for Monday's paper.

Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the advertiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not alter the value of the ad.

Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE for a period not exceeding three days. They can be

for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103 or by calling 532-6555.

Dieptay Classified Rates
One day: $5.20 per inch; Three consecutive days:
$5.00 per inch; Five consecutive days: $4.90 per inch;
Ten consecutive days: $4.90 per inch, (Deadline is 4:30 p.m. two days before publication.)
Classified advertising is available only to those who do not disciminate on the basis of race, color, religion, serious dails age; appearing

Announcements

onal origin, sex or ancestry

ALL YOUR Mary Kay needs -skincare -glarnor -nai -gifts for all seasons. Floris Taylor, 539-2070. DISCOVERY TOY, Open House Saturday, Dec. 3, 10a.m. 2p.m. 2106 Prairie Lea Place. Phone 776-9721, educational books, garnes and toys.

excluded

Fri.-Sat. 11 a.m.-2 a.m.

FLYING INTEREST you? For information on K-State Flying Club call Sam Knipp, 539-6193.

With the purchase of Medium Drink Sun.-Thurs. 11 a.m.-Midnight, 620 N. Manhattan-Aggieville

Exp. 12-10-88

PARTY GAS (helium)... you fill... we fill... our balloons your balloons. 1231 Westloop, 539-4038.

WANTED— 100 overweight people to try herbal weight control program. No drugs, no exercise. Doctor recommended. 100% guaranteed. 776-5114, 539-3333.

59° Tacos All day, Every day

1155 Westport Rd.

Hayes House of Music Guitar Strings & Drumsticks

Buy 1 Set, Get a 2nd Set 1/2 Price

KSU Astronomy Club JUPITER JUBILEE

Cardwell Lobby Sun., Dec. 4, 7:30-11

DISPLAY ADVERTISING DEADLINE

4 p.m. 2 DAYS Before Run Date

Collegian Advertising

532-6560

1 off your Collegian Classified with your contribution to the Flint Hills Breadbasket. Take canned goods to Kedzie 103 to receive ⁵1 off your Collegian Classified.

Prepaid ads only. Not valid with any other

Deadline: noon one day prior to publication. Offer expires noon Dec. 8, 1988. SPRING BREAK '89 Reservations Available Now

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, TX from $149* Sheraton/Holiday Inn/Gulf View STEAMBOAT, CO from $93° Shadow Run/Overlook from $118* DAYTONA BEACH, FL

MUSTANG ISLAND, TX from $136" Port Royal Condos HILTON HEAD ISLAND, SC from $107 Hilton Head Beach Condos

Don't Wait Until It's Too Call Toll Free Today

1-800-321-5911

RIDE THE K-STATE UNION Express!!

2 Apartments—Furnished

AGGIEVILLE NICE one-bedroom in complex, $250, lease, deposit, no pets. 539-3928.

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM basement apartment. Par-tially furnished, washer, dryer, disposal. One-half mile west of campus. Available Jan. 1. Les, 776-4792 after 2p.m.

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM. $230 plus utilities, Jan. 1. 776-4805.

LARGE TWO-BEDROOM. $260 plus utilities, Jan. 1.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM apartment. Water, trash, two-thirds gas paid. Laundry facilities. Nice for graduate student or couple. $260. Available Dec. 15 or Jan. 1. 539-2482 after 4p.m.

(Continued on page 11)

If Santa's list of things to buy is weighing down the sleigh — then say you care with a COLLEGIAN PERSONAL — put yours in today!

YOUR NAME _

PHONE_

ADDRESS_

I.D. NUMBER

DAY TO RUN_

MESSAGE

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

CHURCH

Worship 8°30 & 11 am.

Church School 9:30 am.

·Weekday Programs for Youth ·Nursery available

Senior Minister

Rev. Dr. Phillip S. Gittings III

First Congregational Church

United Church of Christ

Church School 9:30 a.m.

Worship 10:45 a.m.

STUDENTS WELCOME!

College Heights

BAPTIST CHURCH

9:15 a.m. Sunday School

10:30 a.m. Worship Service

6 p.m. Training Hour

7 p.m. Worship Service

2221 College Heights Rd.

537-7744

12/20-1/10 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

1/3-1/9 4:30-6:55 p.m.

12/27-1/10 8:30-11:30 a.m.

12/27-1/10 9-Noon, 2-5 p.m. Seaton 54

12/26-1/8 8 a.m.-10 p.m. London, England

Bluemont 116

Northview Elem

Durland 152

Durland 152

Justin 254

Seaton 221 & 222a

12/27-1/10 6-9 p.m.

1/3-6 & 10 Varying

1/3-6 & 10 Varying

12/28-1/7 8:30-Noon

537-7006

700 Poyntz Dr. Robert L. Carlson, Pastor

801 Leavenworth

·College Outreach

The cost for your Personal is only $2.50 for 1-15 words and 20¢ for each additional word. Bring in a CANNED FOOD for the Flint Hills Breadbasket and receive a $1.00 off your Personall Write your message in the space above, clip the form and bring it with your payment to Kedzie 103 before noon on December 7. Ads will run in the December 9th

COLLEGIAN Personals

Winter Intersession

December 27, 1988 January 10, 1989

Beginning December 8 through the first day of class, individuals may register in person at 317 Umberger Hall, from 8 p.m.-6 p.m. Phone or mail registrations will be accepted after December 8, phone 532-5566 or 1-800-432-8222. Continuing Education Registration Office, 317 Umberger Hall, Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas 66506.

Tuition is $47 per undergraduate credit and $67 per graduate credit and is due at the time of registration. The maximum credit allowed is three hours per student.

or visit 317 Umberger Hall.

Anderson Avenue (across from Nichols Hall), on or after December 15,1988. Due to construction constraints, we are unable to project an exact date for occupancy of these quarters. The Intersession Office and

- 0	The state of the s
	REF.# COURSE#
	94100 AMC 670
	94101 AGRON 430	Tropical .
*	94102 AGRON 615
	94103 AGRON 910
4	94104 ENVD 299	Delineatio
1	94105 LAR 510	Delineatio
1	94106 LAR 741	Cities of
н		Urban Ci
۰	94107 LAR 741	Golf Cou
н	94108 PLAN 590	Environm
н	94109 PLAN 815	Environme
ı	94110 PLAN 590	Ping in D
н	94111 PLAN 815	Plng in D
	94112 ART 300	Problems
н	94113 BIOL 397	Biology o
в	94114 CMPSC 115
8		C Program
ı		English S
8	94117 MUSIC 310
1	94118 MUSIC 390	Beginning
8	94119 MUSIC 390	English M
8	94120 MUSIC 425	Topics in
	U. I. D. P. P. ST. ST. ST. ST. ST. ST. ST. ST. ST. ST	Topics in
8	94122 SOCWK 495	Chem. De
		Therapeuti
8	94123 MANGT 498
	94124 MANGT 498	Computer
		Career Lif
		Study Skil
		Study Skil
		Educ. Field
	94130 EDCI 502	Teacher A

94136 CHE 875

94137 CE 570

94138 ID 499

94139 HDPS 590

Assist. Progr.-Elem. 94131 EDCI 502 Teacher Assist. Progr.-Second. 94132 EDCI 786 Top. in Ed.-Writing in Content Area 94133 EDCI 886 inar in C & I: MS DOS 94134 CNS 544 Prob. in Const. Sci.-CAD Appls. 94135 CHE 580 Waste Reduction & Minimization

1-2 UG Smith 1-2 UG Scharmann 2 UG/G Heerman 1 G Byars/Rourk 2 UG Goddard 1 UG Erickson & Fan Waste Reduction & Minimization 1 G Erickson & Fan Decorative Arts & Arch. in England 2 UG Villasi Group Dynamics for Hum Serv. Provs. 2 UG/G Balk

Intersession registration is December 5-7, 1988 in the Farrell Library Basement, from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

To request an Intersession schedule with complete course descriptions and prerequisites, please call 532-5566

The Division of Continuing Education will move its offices from Umberger Hall to College Court, 1615

leg	istration Off	fice will continue to be hou	sed in U	Imberger Hall,	third floo	or until that	move.
EF.	# COURSE#	COURSE TITLE	CREDIT	INSTRUCTOR	DATES	TIMES	LOCATION
100	AMC 670	Private Water Supply & Waste Mgmt.	2 UG/G	Steichen	1/3-1/10	1-5 p.m.	Seuton 236
101	AGRON 430	Tropical Agronomy	2 UG	Withee		1-3:30 p.m.	Throckmorton 117
102	AGRON 615	Dryland Farming	2 UG/G	Smith		8:30-11-30 a.m.	Denison 120
103	AGRON 910	Plot Design	2 G	Bramel-Cox		8:30-Noon	Throckmorton 128
104	ENVD 299	Delineation Techniques	2 UG	Bullock	12/29-1/9	8-30 a.m1 p.m.
105	LAR 510	Delineation Techniques	2 UG	Bullock	12/29-1/9	12-30-5 p.m.	Seaton 106 K&M
106	LAR 741	Cities of Grandeur-	2 UG/G	Forsyth	1/3-1/10	1-5 p.m.	Seaton 200
		Urban Cityscape & Landscape		(note new dates & times)			-
107	LAR 741	Golf Course Design	2 UG/G	Winslow	1/3-1/10	9 a.m3 p.m.	Seaton 251 & 306
108	PLAN 590	Environmental Reg & Planng	2 UG	Daniels	1/3-1/10	1-5 p.m.	Seaton 252
109	PLAN 815	Environmental Reg & Planng	2 G	Daniels	1/3-1/10	1-5 p.m.	Seaton 252
110	PLAN 590	Ping in Developing Areas	2 UG	Lapping	1/3-1/10	8 a.mNoon	Seaton 252
111	PLAN 815	Ping in Developing Areas	2 G	Lapping	1/3-1/10	8 a.mNoon	Seaton 252
112	ART 300	Problems in Art Abroad	2 UG	Dollar	12/26-1/8	8 a.m10 p.m.	London, England
113	BIOL 397	Biology of Plants	2 UG	Weis	224 22 24 25	9 a.mNoon	Ackert 123
114	CMPSC 115	Personal Computer Applic.	3 UG	Kichler	100000000000000000000000000000000000000	12:30-4:40 p.m.	Nichols 122
115	CMPSC 490		2 UG	Saiedian		9-11:45 a.m.	Nichols 127
0.00	ENGL 150	here, and the second black and the	2 UG	Nyberg	12/26-1/8	8 a.m10 p.m.	London, England
117	MUSIC 310	History of Musical Instr.	2 UG	Cochran	12/27-1/10	9 a.mNoon	McCain 105
118	MUSIC 390		2 UG	Sidorfsky	12/27-1/10		McCain 135
	MUSIC 390		2 UG	Nyberg	12/26-1/8	8 a.m10 p.m.	London, England
120	MUSIC 425	The Latest Control of the Control of	2 UG	Cochran	12/27-1/10		McCain 105
200	SOCIO 301	The state of the s	2 UG	Karim	12/27-1/10		Denison 120
122	SOCWK 495		3 UG	Ward	1/2-1/6	8 a.m5 p.m.	Salina
		Therapeutic Intervention			200	The state of	St. John's Hospital
				Jankovich	1/4-1/6	9 a.mNoon	Calvin 18
		STATE OF THE PARTY	3 UG	Innes	12/27-1/10	5:15-9 p.m.	Calvin 10
		Control of the Contro		Schuette	12/27-1/10	The state of the s	Seaton 130
		The state of the s		Hawkinson	1/3-1/10	8 a.mNoon	Ackert 105
		TOTAL CONTRACTOR OF THE PARTY O		Heerman		3-6 p.m.	Bluemont 116
29	EDCI 502	Educ. Field Experience		Kurtz	1/2-1/10		Topeka or KC
		-		& Cohoon			area schools
30	EDCI 502	Teacher Assist, ProgrElem.	1-2 UG	Smith	12/20-1/10	8 a.m. 4 p.m.	KS schools man place of the said

Religious Directory

Collegian.

Sunday Praise Hours 10:15 a.m. and 6 p.m. ·Sunday School-9 a.m. Collegiate Bible Class

Office537-7633 Seth Childs Rd. at Gary Ave.

-Bible Class-Sunday 9:30 a.m. in the K-State Union

St. Luke's Lutheran Church

539-2604 330 N. Sunset

Manhattan

Jewish Congregation

Shabbat Services 8 p.m. Fri.

Religious School 9:30 Sun.

Rides available

sponsor B'nai B'rith Hillel

at K-State

Campus Adviser,

David Margolies, 532-6154

539-8462

1509 Wreath Ave.

LUTHERAN CAMPUS MINISTRY

WORSHIP, SUNDAY 11 a.m. Danforth Chapel (campus) Lutheran Student Movement 5 p.m. Sunday - Lutheran Student Center Don Fallon, Pastor

Comeshare the Spirit!

First Bap ist Church

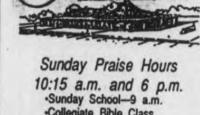

Sunday Worship 11 a.m. Church School 9:45 a.m. 2121 Blue Hills Rd.

Evangelical Free Church of Manhattan S.W. comer 14th & Anderson Steve Ratiff, Pastof Worship 9 a.m. Sunday School 10:15 a.m. 776-2086 Nursery Provided 776-0259

St. Isidore's Catholic Student Center Sunday Massas 9:30 a.m., 11 a.m., 5 p.m. Saurday - 5 p.m. Daily Mass 10 p.m. 711 Dunison

> University Christian 776-5440 8:30-11 a.m. Worehip 9:45 a.m. Sunday School 6:30 p.m. Eva. Service to To Handicapped Statents Wel

539-7496

·Transportation available

Mike Wall, Pastor 537-7967

MINISTRY FOR THE DEAF

Worship Saturday 6 p.m. Sunday 8 and 10:45 a.m. Student fellowship 5 p.m.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

CHURCH

537-7173

537-8532

WORSHIP 8 & 10:30 a.m.

Randy Sly, Pastor

For information on College Class

call church office

SUN. EVE. WORSHIP 6 p.m.

1st, 3rd and 5th Sundays CARE CELLS (Small Groups) 6 p.m.

2nd and 4th Sundays

FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH

Worship at 8:30 and 11 a.m.

Sunday School-9:40 a.m.

(Collegiate Class)

3001 Ft. Riley Blvd.

10th & Poyntz

8:45 a.m. Communion (first Sunday of the month) 9:45 a.m. Church School 8:45 & 11 a.m. Worship Nursery provided for all services

John D. Stoneking, Pastor 612 Poyntz 776-8821

invites you ...

1021 Denison

Trinity Presbyterian Church Church School 9:30 a.m. Worship 10:45 a.m.

«Nursery Provided «Handicap Accessible «Rides Available» 539-3921

Unity Church of Manhattan nday Service 11 a.m. Study group 6:30 p.m. Sun. 1221 Thurston, UFM House 539-8416

DIAL-A-PRAYER (913) 762-4837

762-2287 Someone there to pray with you. 24 hours

First Church of the Nazarene pping out in faith . . . Reaching out in love." Morning Worship-10:50 Evening Praise-6:00

Sunday School-9:45 College Class-9:30 Pastor K. Ray McDowell 539-6376 (home) 539-2851 (church) 1000 Fremont *Nursery Available

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH Church School-9:45 a.m. Worship-8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. Disciples of Christ 115 Courthouse Plaza 776-8790

Manhattan Mennonite Fellowship Sunday School 9:30 a.m. Worship 10:45 a.m. KSU Student Group 6:30 p.m. Dorothy Nickel Friesen, Pastor 1021 Danison

Christian Campus Ministry Worship 10:30 a.m. & 6 p.m. Bible Classes 9:30 a.m. & Wed. 7:30 p.m. Andy Miller-Campus Minister

2510 Dickens Ave. UNITARIAN-UNIVERSALIST FELLOWSHIP of MANHATTAN 10:45 a.m. Service & Sunday School Nursery provided, everyone welcome On K-18, 1/4 mile east of K-177 For info: call 537-2349

539-6581

15 Miscellaneous Merchandise

GOVERNMENT SURPLUSII New G.I. overshoes, com-

SKIS-FISCHER, Fire 160s, Look bindings, $60 or best

TYPEWRITER- RENTALS- Sales- Repairs. Good

WOMEN'S TENNIS racquet. Like new, "Head," over-sized bow, 4 and ¼" handle. Reasonable. 539-3055.

16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale

BICYCLE SALE, lay away for Christmas. Aggle Bike Station, Aggleville. (behind Hardee's).

MUST SELL: Lotus acoustic guitar. $130 negotiable Call 532-3254 after 3p.m.

WASHBURN G-JUNIOR guitar and Washburn SX-12 amplifier. Excellent condition. 532-5381.

BRYAN, WE'LL miss you! You've been a great room-mate! Good Luck! Love ya, Rene'.

CATHY AND Gayla, those three days were great fun. I enjoyed it thoroughly, thanks a lot. Hope you won't forget me, I think this trip paved a way for a new

DU'S CHRIS, Alan and Mike. Tonight is the night to dine and dance, three G-Phis that you met by chance look forward to an evening of fun, our partyin' times

mistletoel Love, Wendy, Jennifer and Alisa

FH DATES Jon, Brandon, Alan, John and Phil, Meet Us have just begun. Lady and the Tramp was quite a "trip," so tonight in the hot tub we will alt and to the G-Phi formal we will go. We'll meet you under the

Under The Mistletoe at 5:30 and off we'll go. The house will be filled with Christmas glee and you'll find gifts beneath the tree. We will party and dance all night because our FH dates are out of sight! Your Gamma Phi Beta dates.

healthy, not wheezing or sneezing, because to-night's date should be very pleasing.

GAMMA PHIS- Tarryry and Laura, we hope you're

KIMBERLY. WHEWI You made it! Does this mean we can do it legally now? Or do I have to wait another year... at least till after X-mas. Bud Light all night

KOREY AND Matt, Tonight's the night as you well know

To the G-Phi formal we shall go. Wining and dining by candlelight. Dancing till the morning's bright. As Santa once said, Ho Ho Ho. "We'll meet you Under the Mistletoe." Love your favorite G-Phis, Christ party tonite. Dresses we'll wear, party before you get there. We'll get rowdy as hell, we intend to rebel. There's a hint of mystery in the air. And a surprise is, we may be able to work something out. The it friend? How old are you? What music do

ODE TO the AGD Actives: The mood is right, for our

ONE FULL of desire, depending on how nice this chest

SECRET AD: Got your note. Am curious, but need more

THETA CORDLESS: Through thick and thin, we've

THETA XI Kipp, No Wayll Bob, Mark and Rick.

THETA XIS Mike and Ernie, Roses are Red, Violets are

TKE DATES: Burt, Brent, Tony and Jay, Top hat and tails it's a formal affair, this Friday night you better

Blue, We're looking forward to Saturday night with you! Theta Love, Kim and Shawn.

beware! We got the champagne, you bring the beer, we'll rock these parties with lots of cheer. A scavenger hunt you'll start with the sun shining bright, so get ready TKEs to party all night! You Chi-O dates, Erin, Kerrie, Tuley and Tania.

TO THE girl next door. What? Six months! Remember The girl next door. What? Six months Hernemoer blue jays and stop signs, hot tubs in Dallas and DCI and KC, bus rides to Evita and carriage rides through the West End, Eternity from New York and parties in my driveway. Love, the boy next door.

WILL- HAVE a wonderful 22nd birthday and remember

PREGNANT? BIRTHRIGHT can help. Free pregnancy test. Confidential. Call 537-9180, 103 S. Fourth St.

PROMPT ABORTION and contraceptive services in Lawrence. (913)841-5716.

PRIME AGGIEVILLE location for lease, 600 square feet

STORE YOUR valuables over Christmas break, Aztec Storage, open seven days a week, Call 776-1111 for discount rate, or come by, 5004 Murray Road.

ABOUT ANYTHING typed, editing and transcription

COMPLETE DATA processing services, term papers, theses and dissertations, resumes. Laser jet print-ing. Call 537-4146.

services, reasonable rates, by professional secretary. 539-5998 after 5p.m.

22 Resume/Typing Services

20 Professional Services

21 Rentals

Call (913)642-3366.

one thing- you're the greatest! Love, Kimmy.

stuck it out -even when you always pout. Saturday night will be a blast, and I want eggs for breakfast we're dying to share.

you like? etc. -Joanna.

THETA XI Kipp, No way!! Lisa.

17 Musical Instruments

18 Personals

friendship. With Luv, JP

selection of used IBMs and Smith Coronas. Advanced Business Systems 713 N. 12th (Aggieville).

Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734.

offer. 539-0597 nights, Korey.

bat boots and safety-toe boots, wool (blankets, gloves, socks and mittens). Field jackets, over-coats, carnouflage clothing. Also Carhartt work-wear. Monday-Saturday 9a.m. 5p.m. Open Sundays till Christmas noon-4p.m. St, Marys Surplus

(Continued from page 10)

NICE ONE-BEDRIOOM efficiency. $175 plus utilities, Jan. 1. 778-4805. NICE ONE-BEDROOM apartment across from Putnam Hall, off-street parking, low utilities, water, trash paid. $210/ month. Call 776-0736.

NOW IS the time to rent for next semester. One, two or three-bedroom apartments. Nice, close to campus. Not in a complex. Low utilities. No pets. Call

ONE-BEDROOM FURNISHED in 12-unit complex two blocks west of carripus. Available immediately. 539-7811 or 1-456-8297.

ONE-BEDROOM, ONE-HALF furnished, close to campus. Has character. $195 plus utilities. Five-month's lease or longer. Call 776-9845, early months (see or longer).

PREFER MARRIED couple or single adult for quiet, well-maintained one and two bedroom apartments. Assorted features: laundry, patio, paid heat, queenstred bed, carport and more. $220, $275, $335. One year lease. No smoking, pets, water

TWO-BEDROOM, DISHWASHER, air conditioning, $420/ month. Close to campus and Aggleville, 920 Moro. Six-month sublease beginning Jan. 1. Call 537-0372 or 537-2919.

UNFURNISHED OR turnished two-bedroom apart-ment, close to campus and park. Available second semester. 776-6338.

SECOND SEMESTER LEASE?

One and two bedroom apartments close to campus. priced from $250-$400.

2700 Amherst (913) 776-3804

SUNSET APARTMENTS

Furn. Apts.: Second semester availability.

l br., gas heat, no pets. $250

539-5051 or 776-3804

WAIT ... ALL I CAN

ruow

COME ON OUT

I KNOW YER'

GONNA' RUIN

MY LIFE 50

DO IS WAIT ...

SPRING SEMESTER in HORIZON III

Half block from campus, 2 bedrooms, exceptional $400 January 1 occupancy 539-8401

WILDCAT INNS

Unfurn. Apts.:

Second semester vacancies in four different sites.

1 br., gas heat, no pets.

$295-310 776-3804

3 Apartments—Unfurnished

AVAILABLE SECOND semester. Less than one block from campus, two bedrooms, one full bath. Low utilities. Clean and nice. Call 776-3788 or

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM basement across from City Park. Good carpet. Washer/ dryer included. No pets. Lease. $260. 776-0884 or 776-3804.

NICE TWO-BEDROOM apartment across from Nichols. Available January 1, $330, 539-2920. THREE-BEDROOM APARTMENT available now. Main floor of a house. Living room, dining room, kitchen, washer and appliances. $400 plus utilities. Sixmonth lesse possible. 776-8393.

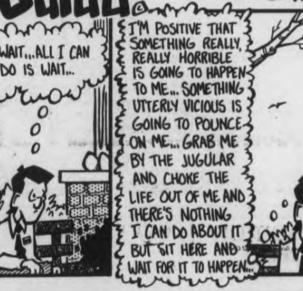

THREE-BEDROOM AVAILABLE at 518 N. 14 St. $480, laundry facilities. 776-9262, keep trying.

TWO-BEDROOM, ONE and one-half bath, dishwasher. 926 Bluernont, $360' month. Jan. 1- June 1, lease available. 637-7785.

TWO-BEDROOM, PARTLY furnished, air conditioned apartment, two blocks southwest of high school. Off-street parking. Trash and water paid. Available Jan. 1, $315, 539-5921.

DUPLEX. TWO-BEDROOM clean plus comfortable, quiet, near west campus. Stove, refrigerator, hoo-kups. Good deal. 539-3524. LARGE ONE-BEDROOM, campus location, coin-operated washer and dryer. No pets, available January. $265 plus deposit. 539-1465.

BY RICHARD BROADFOOT

VERY NICE one-bedroom basement apartment, three blocks west of campus. Phone 539-5267.

4 Automobiles for Sale

1977 BUICK, great car. $1,050 or best offer. Call Howard at 539-5499.

1977 DATSUN B210. Runs good, $750 or best offer. Carol 776-5012. 10a.m.- 5p.m. weekdays. 537-3872 other times.

1978 CUTLASS Supreme, 70,000 miles, cruise control power steering, air conditioning, stereo. Must sell $900. 537-0560.

1978 FORD Truck, engine overhauled, runs good. Air conditioning, power steering, brakes. Asking $2,000. 537-6830.

1983 RENAULT Alliance, 58,000 miles, 4.V, four-door, air conditioning, AM/FM stereo, excellent condition. $2,000. 537-3721.

GREAT SCHOOL carl Good condition. Low mileage. 1981 Chevette, 776-0065.

MUST SELL: 81 K-reliant, 73,000 miles, four-cylinde station wagon, excellent condition. $1,500 negotiable. 532-5654, or 776-9522 (after 5:30p.m.) ask

8 Computers

APPLE- 2C with Epson LX90 printer. Excellent condition, some programs $550. Call 776-9845 (532-6850, leave message).

COMMODORE AMIGA 1000 with digital/analog color monitor, extra memory, two drives and over $500 of software. $1,099. 776-9539 after 5p.m.

FOR SALE: Une printer ribbons- Black multistrike no. QM MS (41/2 dozen), $1.25 each. Black nylon no. QM NY (15), $2.25 each. Call 532-6555 or come by

PERSONAL COMPUTERS Authorized Warranty Service also servicing

· PC compatibles & printers

· Televisions & VCRs MIDWEST

SERVICES 624 Tuttle Creek Blvd. Manhattan 913-776-6650

9 Employment

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential

AEROBIC INSTRUCTORS needed. Call for appoint-

ATTENTION- HIRINGI Government jobs- your area. $17,840- $69,485. Call (602)838-8885, ext.

BOBBY T'S taking applications for part-time cooks and bartenders. Apply in person, 3240 Kimball.

BUS DRIVER needed to start immediately for Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 11a.m.- noon, to drive children from U.S.D. 383 to child care center. Class B license required. Previous experience preferred. $3.75 an hour. Apply Nancy Bolsen, director, L-9 Jardine Terrace, Manhattan, KS. 539-1806. Equal Congruently Employee. Opportunity Employer

CASHIERS WANTED. Must be 21 and able to work funches noon to 1p.m. Apply in person at Hibachi Hut between 2 and 5p.m. Thursday-Saturday. Ask for Michael.

DAIRY SALES Counter, Call Hall 144. Hours available now; finals week; Dec. 19-23; Jan. 3-10; and spring '89 semester. Work study preferred. Apply in person to Kathleen, Monday through Friday, 1-5p.m.

DO YOU like kids? I need a fun-loving, flexible person for childcare. Rooth, beard, salary plus car provided. We are very nice. Call Becky (415)328-6229.

EARLY CHILDHOOD lead teacher, before after kindergarten-age children. Twelve month position, Monday through Friday, 8a.m. 4:30p.m. Beginning between Dec. 27 and Jan. 3. Requirements: Degree in ECE, Elementary Ed or related field and experience with young children. Benefits. Progressive, pleasant working environment. Please send cover letter, resume and three references to: Marsha Tannehill, Seven Dolors Child Care/ Preschool, 728 Colorado, Manhattan, by Dec. 14.

ALUMNI OFFICE ASSISTANT

Clerical assistant for membership and publications departments of the KSU Alumni Association. Will perform routine office duties. including on-line computer research, word processing, stuffing envelopes and filing. Twelve-plus hours a week. Contact Jeanine Lake at (913) 532-6260. Work-study students are encouraged to apply.

By Berke Breathed

Garfield

THIS SNOW, GARFIELD ?

Peanuts

PHONE .. IT'S SOMEONE WHO SAYS HE'S GABRIEL, BUT HE SHOULD BE GERONIMO.

YOU'RE WANTED ON THE

LOOK, KID, I'M TRYING TO

By Charles Schulz

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, Juniors: Train in the summer to become a Marine Corps Officer after graduation. Aviation available. Call collect 913)841-1821.

MAJOR WHOLESALER seeking assistant manager for Kansas City location. Candidate must have a business degree and be a self-starter with good communication skills. Salary $23,000-$25,000. Remit resume to: Dave Gaul, P.O. Box 1138, Denver, CO 80201.

MICROCOMPUTER PROGRAMMERS: You could be a CROCOMPUTER PROGRAMMERS: You could be a part of a software development team that produces software that is marketed throughout the United States, while still in college. Kansas Careers is offering employment to students at all grade levels who are ambitious, creative and have good programming skills. Our programming team develops software for IBM PC, Apple II and MacIntosh microcomputer systems. Several languages are used, including "C," dBase III, 6502 and others. Programming at Kansas Careers enhances your college education while providing job experience, and excellent wages. Applications will be accepted and excellent wages. Applications will be accepted at Fairchild Hall room 304 (532-6540) through Dec. 7, 1988. Kansas Careers and KSU are Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employers.

NANNIES NEEDED. New England area- good pay and benefits. One-year commitment. Call 537-0947.

NOW ACCEPTING applications for spring semester Consumer Relations Board Director. Person needs to be resourceful, have leadership qualities, enthuslastic about educating people and capable of handling Consumer/ Landlord- Tenant grievances. Director required to work 15 plus hours/ week, gross $335/ month. Applications may be picked up in the Student Governing Office and are due by Dec. 2 at 4p.m.

OVERSEAS JOBS. $900- $2,000 month. Summer year-round, all countries, all fields, free information. Write IJC, P.O. Box 52-KS02, Corona Del Mar, CA

ENROLL NOW! Four Ad Production Internships available for

Spring 1988 Title of course: Publications a.m. one day a week. For more information and permission slip come to

Kedzie 113.

Practice, 1 credit hour, JMC

360. Must attend 8:30-11:30

PAY DAYI Beginning salary $3.60/ hour. All shifts for walter and waltresses; Hotline server and porter Monday, Wednesday. Friday 10:20a.m.- 2p.m. Apply now at K-State Union Food Service for remaining fall positions. Apply early for spring semester when you have your spring schedule. We offer student pay plan, job variety, and centrally located work place. We require that you must be honest, reliable and display a sense of urgency, must be clean, neat and wear appropriate aftire. Food Handler's Card a must.

PYRAMID PIZZA is now taking applications for delivery personnel. Please apply in person, 1130 Moro.

STUDENT CLERK to work daily, Monday through Must have a daily three hour period of work time wost have a daily three hour period of work time available. Must have typing skills, microcomputer knowledge helpful. Employment potential of two years given preference. Contact Jacque Meisner, room 23, Cardwell, by Wednesday, Dec. 6 by 5p.m.

THE CITY of Lansing will be accepting applications for the position of an Intern in the Parks and Recreation Department until Dec. 15, 1988. This is a part-time, bepartment of the best of the proximately 20 hours a week during spring semester becoming a full-time position through the summer. This position pays $6/ hour with a possible adjustment for summer. This position will include some minor labor during the summer. Applicants should be an upperclassman (senior, graduate student) with a major in public deministration, parks and recreation or a related field. To apply, send a cover letter, resume (with references) to: City Administrator, City of Lansing, 108 S. Main, Lansing, KS 66043. For additional information contact the City of Lansing. The City of Lansing is an Equal Opportunity Employer

TRAVEL FIELD Opportunity. Gain valuable marketing experience while earning money and free trips.
Campus representative needed immediately for Spring Break trips to Florida and South Padre Island. Call Echo Tours at 1-800-999-4300.

VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full-and part-time help. Must be able to work some noon shifts. Apply in person.

WORK-STUDY ELIGIBLE student wanted for approxi-mately 10 hours per week starting Jan. 9, 1989. Duties include running errands, copying, answering the phone and helping walk-ins. Please call Deb at 532-6432 before Dec. 9th.

12 Houses/Mobile Homes for Rent

NICELY FURNISHED, 10x50 mobile home. Ideal for single or married student. Two singles okay, $165. 776-8552.

TWO-BEDROOM HOUSE on seven acres, large shed, less than 15 minutes from campus. Available Jan. 1, $350/ month plus utilities. 537-2634, 6- 10p.m. VERY LARGE house, three blocks west of campus Carpet, drapes, suitable for five. Phone 539-5267.

13 Houses/Mobile Homes for Sale

1972 12x60, furnished/ unfurnished, new paint, central air, washer, dryer, waterbed, reasonable. 537-0734.

14 Lost and Found

ESCAPED: SIX- month- old black lab, 5416 College View, Quivera Area. 776-9492.

2 Balder

dash

4 Songwriter

Porter

book

agent 8 Schedule

abbr.

9 For the birds

6 Each 7 M's top

5 Reference 26 Lawyer

3 Depressed

10 Washer cycle 1 Asner and 11 Grows dim

17 Animals

fiber

-- -tai

Clarence

(listen) 30 June honoree

32 Confused

33 Bounder

34 Conceit 36 School

marks 38 Belonging to thee

28 Lend -

FOUND: CALCULATOR in Cardwell Hall. Call and claim at 539-7491. COMPLETE TYPING/ word processing: letter quality printer with Spell Check. 75¢/ page. Call 537-8701 RESUMES DESIGNED for your profession. Typeset and laserprinted. Graphics Plus, corner of Bluemont and N. Manhattan, Aggieville. 539-6027.

TYPING. FAST, accurate, guaranteed. 15 years experi DIET FOOD for sale due to quitting diet. Three weeks supplies, asking $75. Call 537-4861.

TYPING SERVICE; Professional and experienced sec retary. Very reasonable rates. Pick-up and delivery available. Call 776-9736.

23 Roommate Wanted

FEMALE; NICE house near campus, own room, washe and dryer. $145/ month plus utilities. 537-8825.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share house, close to carnpus, furnished, washer/ dryer, many more extras. $162.50/ month plus deposit. Call Renee.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartment. Close to campus. Half rent and half utilities. Starting Jan. 1st. Call 537-7269.

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted to share nice threebedroom house near campus. $150/month, onethird utilities. Call 776-5294.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share three-bedroom house

FEMALE ROOMMATE, 516 N. 14 St. Own room plus one-third utilities, 776-9262 keep trying. FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted. Own room, washe dryer. Near campus, $137.50 plus one-fourth utilities. Available Jan. 1st. Call after 5:30p.m.

FEMALE ROOMMATE- Own room, low utilities, laundry in complex, close to campus, fun roomies. $145 a month, Call 539-6299.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share apartment. Half rent and half utilities. Own room. 537-7183.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apart ment near campus and park. 776-6338

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apart ment close to Aggieville. Washer/ dryer, $187.50 plus one-half utilities. Nice, must see. Available now or Jan. 1. 537-2016.

FEMALE(S)- ONE: Own room, $187.50. Two: Share room, $125. Spacious, clean, quiet duplex near City Park. 776-6800, anytime.

MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartment near campus. Washer/ dryer furnished. $125. MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bed/bath apartment furnished with dishwasher, microwave, low utilities, no deposit. Close to campus. $170 negotlable.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share furnished twobedroom. Cats allowed. Call Paula or Brenda, 778-5669. NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate, spacious two bedroom. Walk to campus and Aggieville.$172.50/month. Available January NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share two-bedroom furnished apartment. $152.99 plus one-half utilities.

NON-SMOKING MALE to share four-bedroom house one-half mile west of campus. Washer, dryer, cable. Available Jan. 1. Les, 776-4792 after 2p.m.

NON-SMOKING female, to share brand new trailer, own room, washer/ dryer many extras. Three minutes from campus, $150/ month plus half utilities. Call NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share two-bedroom apartment near campus, $120 all utilities paid. 539-7678 after 5p.m. NON-SMOKING MALE: Own room across from Dur-land. Washer/ dryer, cable. $141.67/ month. Call OPEN-MINDED ROOMMATE needed for huge one and one-half bedroom apartment. $125 plus utilities. 539-6355.

ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom house trailer. $100/ month, half utilities. Call Allen,

WANTED: MALE roommate, have own room. $145/ month rent plus one-third utilities. Call 537-3799.

24 Situation Wanted

FAMILY WANTS college girl to live in for next semester, summer and fall. Board and room in exchange for duties. Write Box 1, c/o Collegian, Kedzie Hall,

26 Sublease

CLEAN, SPACIOUS, very nice two-bedroom apart-

COZY ONE-BEDROOM apartment available immediately, convenient location, air conditioning, water and trash paid, $225/ month. 539-4152 after 5p.m.

FEMALE TWO blocks from campus, clean, spacious, efficiency, furnished or not. $140 all utilities peed. Available Dec. 15 or later. 539-6499. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share nice four-bedroom house one block from campus. $115/ month plus bills. Washer, dryer, parking provided. Available Jan. 1st. Leave message or call after 5p.m. 776-3371. NON-SMOKING MALE needed for spring semester in very nice two-bedroom furnished apartment. Call Bill or Lance, 776-0644. ONE MALE, two blocks from campus. Share apartment with two others, own bedroom, furnished, clean. $120/ month negotiable. Call 537-1502. SLEEP LATE! No parking hassles! One-bedroom apartment right across from campus with all utilities paid Leave message, 537-8548.

SUBLEASE: NICE one-bedroom apartment, one-half block to campus. Available Dec. 19th, New furni-ture. Call 539-7275.

28 Adoption

ADOPT: A Baby is our dream! We are blessed with a wonderful, happy marriage and financial success. Let us give your baby love, security and the best of everything. Legal. Expenses paid. Call Lynn and Martin collect: (212)362-6884.

Crossword

By Eugene Sheffer

drink

41 Joplin 1 Writer Jong 43 Bother 6 Actor Vigoda 45 Seasonal 9 Sandy's comment

47 Briefly — Pass Go" 49 Engine 52 Eggy 13 Kitty 4 By way of 53 "Norma 15 Stable

54 Sports compart-55 Before 16 Having trouble units 18 Dreaded 57 Candidate 20 Luxury of the '40s

24 Window 25 Call from the crow' 27 Age units 29 G&S character 31 Catch sight of 35 Scope 37 River hazard

(1949 movie)

21 Flight less bird

23 Cul-de-

Solution time: 23 min 39 High 361 SHAKEOUT

minute 46 Folk 48 Refinery NEST 50 Wallet bill spitting 42 Lose one's mind 45 Study, at the last

Yesterday's answer 12-2 51 Singer Charles

BWAYVR: "Y , V W T A Z D ' L

Today's Cryptoquip clue: B equals P

BYVLTNR OMFRAS SNIORZ." Yesterday's Cryptoquip: HAPPILY, THE POETS IN OLDEN DAYS WERE VERY WELL VERSED IN THEIR

Horses

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Skin over the previously elevated carotid artery and right jugular vein were doused with antiseptic and catheters were locally placed.

"You can measure pressure wherever you can place the catheter," Erickson said. "Our hypothesis is, if pressures are very high within the vessel, they will burst, causing a hemorrhage.

"We measure pressures within the pulmonary artery, which is in the lung, and so far the pressures are very high. They are higher than pressures in other animials that roam around this earth and are definitely high enough to be of concern.'

Esophageal pressure was measured by running one of the same catheters through the nose of the horse to its esophagus.

"This is a very good index of the pressure," Erickson said.

They also collected carotid arterial blood to help complete the study.

The horses are exercised with two minute warm-up at two meters per second, then accelerated to ten meters per second followed by deceleration to a stop. During rest, exercise and recovery, all cardiovascular variables are monitored continously and plotted every five seconds.

Each horse also wears a safety harness connected to an emergency shut-off switch above the treadmill.

The heart rate was recorded on a multigraph pen recorder and was determined from the tracings.

Horses were categorized as bleeders and non-bleeders. The difference between the two was the amount of blood found in the horse's trachea. The students found there was no significant difference between bleeders and non-bleeders.

The study also found that quarter horses showed more signs of distress during the last 45 seconds of the test than did thoroughbred horses.

The study is considered basic research, which is research that isn't a direct application to a problem. The study is to be published in scientific journals to create common knowlege so others can deal with the problems.

"Our job is research and teaching vet med students. Our goal is to solve problems in vet medicine worldwide and problems that affect the industry," Erickson said.

Tests

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 for drug users," Benton said. "When they find out there is a drug test they usually won't apply. We do see some positive results from time to time. When this happens, the individual isn't hired."

Some companies don't believe there is a need to screen for drugs. The McCall Pattern Company is one

> Stay in tune. Read the Collegian for local and national news.

organization that has not found it necessary to take such action.

Marcia Francke, supervisor of employees for McCall's, said the lack of employee turnover has negated the need for drug screening.

"We just don't have a high employee turnover," Francke said. "Our work force here is really stable and long-term. The issue of drug screening has been reviewed, but we haven't felt the need for it has arisen. However, if we were to do more hiring on a regular basis, I think drug screening would probably be seriously considered.

Questions about civil rights have surfaced with the implementation of drug screening, according to the College Placement Council, but employers have maintained that it is within their rights to see that the work place is free from hazards that can occur when a worker's performance is affected by drugs.

Collegian Classifieds Where K-State Shops

Have story or photo ideas? CALL 532-6556

Aggieville Flowers

6 ROSES FOR $6

The Mistletoe is here!

$1.50 a bag cash n' carry

537-9549 • 10-5 M-S • 12th & Laramie

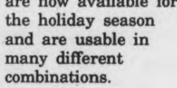

while supplies last

KSU Jazz Groups

in concert at the University Inn 5:30 p.m. Sunday, December 4, 1988

Gift Certificates are now available for 50¢ Gift Certificates Good at any Dairy Queen!

1015 N. 3rd Manhattan

LARGE PIZZA ONLY 599

with one topping

dine in or free home delivery with this poupor offer good through Oct 91

"premium pizza at a cardboard pizza price" 523 South 17th 537-1484

Manhattan

1501 Tuttle Creek Boulevard Manhattan, Kansas 66502

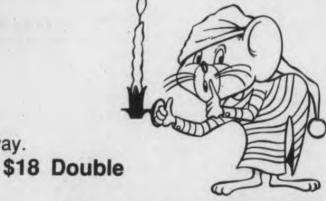

STUDENT SPECIAL Peace and Quiet to study or just get away.

$13 Single

Day Rate 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. - $10

On availability basis only. Student I.D. Required.

Call for reservations, 539-5391

PACE

PACESETTERS WILL BE CALLING YOU!

Sun., Dec. 4 calling

Tues., Dec. 6 7-10 p.m.

Last year's scholarship recipient: Jennifer Dorsch

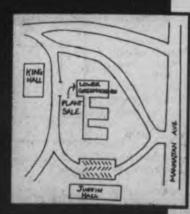

K.S.U. HORT. CLUB Christmas Tree Sale

Fresh Cut Australian Pine "Locally Grown"

Lower Greenhouses

Dec. 2nd & 3rd Fri. & Sat.

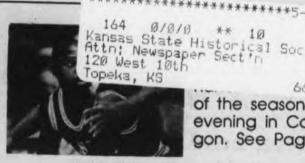

Room Fire

Residents of Goodnow Hall were evacuated Friday after a candle apparently caused a fire in one of the rooms. See Page 3.

Weather

Sunny and warmer today, high in the mid 50s. Variable winds 5 to 15 mph. Clear tonight, low around 30. Mostly sunny Tuesday, high in the upper 50s.

of the season Saturaay evening in Corvallis, Oregon. See Page 8.

Monday

December 5, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 71

Kansas State collegian

Argentina ends 4-day revolt

By The Associated Press

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina -Hundreds of heavily armed soldiers gave up their guns and surrendered on Sunday, ending a four-day military revolt that panicked the country, the government said.

The army said in a communique that the 500 insurgents who were holed up at a military base just outside the capital agreed to give up their weapons and explosives.

At least one anti-rebel demonstrator was fatally shot by the insurgents during the siege Sunday, and as many as 20 were wounded by rubber bullets or injured by tear gas, medical officials and local news agencies reported Sunday.

President Raul Alfonsin — facing the worst threat since his civilian government replaced military rule in 1983 - denied that any deals were made with the rebels.

The rebels had demanded an overhaul in the military hierarchy, a bigger military budget, and an end to prosecutions for human rights abuses committed during the 1976-83 military dictatorships.

"This has been a really important success," Alfonsin told reporters at Government House. "There were no concessions of any kind.

Earlier, the private Noticias Argentinass and Diarios y Noticias news agencies said army chief Lt. Gen. Jose Dante Caridi had agreed to a rebel demand that he resign. Both agencies cited political and military

"The government did not negotiate on an amnesty, changes of (human rights) trials or any claim by anyone," Sen. Antonio Berhongaray, chairman of the Defense Committee,

"Democracy Triumphed," said a message flashed across the screen by the five TV stations that had been broadcasting simultaneous news of the revolt for nearly 24 hours.

See ARMY, Page 12

By The Associated Press

following election

Perez leads polls

CARACAS, Venezuela - Former President Carlos Andres Perez was leading his major opponent by a substantial margin and appeared to be heading to victory in Sunday's national election, according to exit

A Perez win would give his centerleft Democratic Action party two consecutive victories during the nation's worst economic crisis in decades.

The Venevision and Radio Caracas television networks projected Perez, 66, would beat his principal opponent Eduardo Fernandez of the Social Christian Party by at least 54 percent to 32 percent, based on polls of voters.

The projections were based on an estimated voter turnout of 7.8 million, which would indicate 15 percent abstention among the more than 9.1 million people registered to vote. There was no margin of error given.

Polls taken several weeks before the election raised expectations that Perez would win handily.

"This electoral response puts us in a secure position to carry forward our program of government," said

Perez's campaign manager David

Fernandez, 48, trailed Perez in opinion polls taken several weeks before the election by between 10 and 20 points, although his campaign picked up steam as the election drew

There are 23 other presidential Venezuelans also were voting for oil holdings in Venezuela in his 1974-79 presidency, voted shortly after polls opened. He has promised a state-directed economy.

President Jaime Lusinchi, whose five-year term was one of economic decline in a country battered by the drop in oil prices. Oil makes up 90 percent of the country's exports.

The new president, to be inaugurated in February, will face growing poverty in what has been Latin America's richest nation. The stan-■ See ELECTION, Page 12

Morales Bello shortly after polls candidates on the ballot, but none was given a chance to beat either of the two big parties.

a new National Congress. Up for grabs are 182 seats in the Chamber of Deputies and 44 in the Senate.

Perez, who nationalized foreign

His party is the same as that of increased faith in the power of positive thinking. "A positive attitude can lead you to anywhere you (want to) go,"

Marin said. "Life has to go on. Make the best of every situation, and you will be a winner."

science at a high school in Venezuela when she was 16. Four years before, she had earned a bachelor's degree in earth science and general

Tibisay Marin, a native of Venezuela, is pursuing a doctorate in media technology. She hopes to return to Venezuela after receiving

Marin came to the United States in 1981 on a scholarship to study at the University of Nebraska at

"It's difficult at the beginning, when you have to leave everything behind ... but I guess it's up to you to make the best," she said.

"The barrier I encountered at the beginning was the language, but, after I mastered the language, it became easier," Marin said. "Part of that, I guess, is because I like people, and I like to be in touch with people."

In 1983, she moved to Lincoln and received a master's degree in Marin, 30, began teaching earth curriculum and instruction with a minor in geology from the University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

Ph.D. in the earth science field.

Marin received two B's in geology classes in Lincoln, mainly because she was competing with geology students, she said. The rest of the grades she earned toward her master's degree were A's.

After finishing her master's in Lincoln, Marin moved to Manhattan in 1986 to pursue a doctorate in media technology at K-State. That is when the medical problems started.

Even before she was settled in Manhattan, Marin discovered she had an ovarian cyst. She was in Memorial Hospital for two weeks when she had the cyst removed and had to take a month off the job she had just started at K-State's Student Services office. "I struggled very hard with that

Venezuelan making most of life the degree, where she will be the only person in the country with a emotionally because I didn't have anybody here," Marin said.

After making it through her first surgery, Marin developed a whole new set of problems.

In April 1987, an infection developed in her right ear, which had to be treated at Kansas University Medical Center. Doctors there did a bone scan, and, much to Marin's surprise, they found a cancerous tumor on her left arm.

Marin went through a 16-hour operation at the medical center in August 1987 to replace bones in her arm with ones from her left leg and

"I got through the surgery with the help of so many people here," Marin said. "I couldn't believe that I was going through this major surgery by myself, and my family

■ See STUDENT, Page 12

ROTC officials optimistic

ly Kelly Campbell Callegian Reporter

Almost one year has passed since KState's Air Force ROTC program was threatened with the possibility of removal.
But K-Staters involved with the program are positive about the future of the Air Force ROTC at K-State.

"We don't think the program here will be canceled," said Capt. John Taglieri, associate professor in aerospace studies. "We wholeheartedly believe we will be here for a long, long time."

Cadets and faculty in aerospace studies were told in January that K-State's Air Force ROTC program would be closed after the apring 1989 sensester. K-State was one of 37 universities acheduled to lose its program. Reduction of the officer corps and budget cuts were the reasons given for the closings.

In April, the secretary of the Air Force relastated the programs for a two-year

In 1990, the program will be revaluated based on the quality and quantity of cadets it produces. How many pilots and engineers the program produces will be cunsidered. These are the Air Force critical needs, he said.

If the Air Force cancels any programs,
they will shut down two or three at a time.

K-State's program is strong enough that it is unlikely to be one of those, Taglieri mid.

Detachment members were told in April the program would not be canceled. Since they were told early, they were able to do some recruiting, he said. The program at K-State was canceled, Taglieri said.

Overall, however, the size of the freshman class is not bad, he said. There are 53 freshmen, ha said, adding that the detachman across is not bad, he said. There are 53 freshmen, ha said, adding that the detachman across is not bad, he said. There are 53 freshmen, ha said, adding that the detachman across is not bad, he said. There are 53 freshmen, ha said, adding that the detachman across is not bad, he said. The program at K-State was canceled, Taglieri said.

Overall, however, the size of the freshmen the program at K-State was canceled. The program at K-State was canceled. The program at K-State was canceled. The program at K-State was can probationary period.

In 1990, the program will be reevaluated based on the quality and quantity

By Becky Jones

Collegian Reporter

native Venezuela to pursue an education in the United States more than seven years ago, she had no idea of the hardships she would

But after overcoming the odds most foreign students face in a new country plus medical problems - including a struggle with cancer -

Marin has emerged with more pride in her own capabilities and an

When Tibisay Marin left her

After the announcement in January that K-State's program would be closed, cadets began looking for options. They had to decide whether to transfer to another university with an Air Force program or stay, at K-State and look for other ways to fund their education. Taglieri said.

K-State did not have any cadets transfer to another university because the Air Force announced the reinstatement of the program before cadets made commitments to ram before cadets made commitments to other colleges, he said, although some students did drop out of the program,

"For some strange reason, we lost about half of our sophomores," Taglieri said. "I don't know why so many suphomores, dropped out of the program. It could have been that they saw the confusion in the Soviet Union responds favorably to Israeli help

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM - Foreign Minister Shimon Peres said Sunday that the Soviet Union's enthusiastic response to Israel's help in the return of four hijackers has given "new significance" to relations with Moscow.

Peres also noted in a radio interview that Israel agreed to the speedy return of the hijackers to the Soviet Union Saturday after receiving written assurances they wouldn't face the death penalty.

"The Soviets promised us in writing that these people wouldn't be executed and so there was no point in delaying or complicating the process," he said on Army radio. The return of the hijackers ended a drama that began Thursday, when four armed Soviets seized a busload of school-children in southern Russia, then traded them for a plane out of the country and a $3.3 million ransom. The hijackers surrendered shortly after arriving in Israel Friday evening.

Peres cited the reaction of Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze, who personally thanked the chief of an Israeli consular delegation in Moscow, Aryeh Levine, for Israel's help in the affair.

Shevardnadze was the highest ranking Soviet official to meet Levine since the Israeli delegates arrived in Moscow in July.

Shevardnadze was quoted by Foreign Ministry spokesman Alon Liel as expressing to Levine "the thanks and deep appreciation of the Soviet government and Soviet people regarding the noble way the government of Israel has dealt with this barbaric act." Peres said Shevardnadze's gesture was "almost without precedent in our relations with the Soviet Union in recent years. I want to hope this has a significance beyond the event of the day."

"The representations in Israel and Moscow now have a new significance," Peres said. He referred to the Israeli delegation in Moscow

■ See ISRAEL, Page 12

BRIEFLY ACROSS NATION

Actor receives head injuries

CULVER CITY, Calif. - Actor Gary Busey was in critical condition Sunday with severe head injuries after losing control of his motorcycle, authorities said.

Busey, 44, of Malibu underwent two hours of neurosurgery Sunday evening, said Ron Wise, spokesman for Cedars-Sinai Medical Center in Los Angeles. He was then transferred to

"He's in critical condition following a motorcycle accident at about noon. He has extensive head trauma," Wise said.

Busey's work as the doomed 1950s rock star in the 1978 film "The Buddy Holly Story" earned him an Academy Award nomination. The one-time rock 'n' roll musician, who like Holly was born in Texas, performed his own renditions of Holly songs in the film.

Busey's manager, Herb Nanas, said information regarding the surgery's outcome wouldn't be available until today.

No other vehicles were involved in the crash in Culver City, some 10 miles west of downtown Los Angeles, said police Sgt. Gary McEwen. The weather was clear and the road was dry at the time of the crash.

Injured rider wins championship

MURRAY, Ky. - There's always room for improvement but not much room in the case of Tony Hendon, Murray's own national champion motorcyclist.

Hendon, who claimed the 1988 National Championship Hare Scramble title on Oct. 2 in Sand Springs, Okla., did so with a nearly perfect score, despite having to battle back from a painful shoulder injury incurred during the season.

"Hare scramble" is a term many people have trouble applying to a sport such as motorcycle racing. To grasp the concept of the daredevil sport, picture a rabbit being chased by hounds through a forest, dodging trees, skirting thornbushes and leaping over or through other natural obstacles.

"It's like an enduro," Hendon says, "because it's a time event through the woods. And it's like a motocross, because you're full-speed all the time; it's full-blast for three hours.'

Of the 12-race series, riders choose their seven best finishes for the final standings. Hendon won the first race and never looked back, using six wins and one second for his seven scores and the title.

One week after a shoulder separation suffered while competing in a motocross race, Hendon was back in training. He was back in competition in two weeks.

"I wasn't really 100 percent," he says. "I was babying it a little. I still can't put much pressure on it, but as far as grabbing hold of a bike, it's no problem."

Going into the ninth race of the 12-event Hare Scramble series, Hendon had a 50-point lead. After winning that race, only one man - Ed Lojak, the defending national champion - had a chance of beating Hendon for the title.

12 winning tickets sold

NEW YORK - Twelve lottery tickets bear the magic numbers entitling the holders to a share of a record $45 millionplus jackpot so enticing that an estimated eight out of 10 New York adults tried their luck, officials said Sunday. The holders of the $1 Lotto tickets beat odds of nearly 13 million to 1 in winning the jackpet, the biggest in the 12-year history of the state lottery.

The jackpot could go higher, when sales are finally tabulated, said lottery spokesman George Yamin.

Each ticket was worth $3.75 million, meaning each ticket holder will receive $142,857 after taxes each year for the next 20 years. The jackpot could be claimed immediately at lottery offices, which were specially opened Sunday.

Babies enjoy gift wrapping

NEW YORK - Families should splurge on the wrappings and skimp on the gifts for a baby's first Christmas or Hanukkah, says Annette Axtmann, an expert on infants.

"Babies are more interested in ribbons and bows and pretty paper than what is actually in most packages," says Axtmann, director of the Center for Infants and Parents at Teachers College, Columbia University. "What is important for a baby is participation in the joy of holiday giving."

Babies should be included in unwrapping presents for themselves and other family members. "Let them tear the paper and drag the ribbons on the floor," Axtmann says.

Parents should also be aware that a few weeks' difference in the age of an infant can make a big difference in how they join in the holiday spirit.

"While the 5-month-old will enjoy simply watching the lights on a tree or a twirling ornament, many 8-month-olds can use a large gift box as support when trying to stand," the professor says. "The 10-month-old might want to push that same box around the floor, and the 13-month-old would probably enjoy carrying presents to other people in the room."

Axtmann cautions parents that family celebrations may be hectic for a baby, especially if they involve traveling to a new place and seeing new faces.

To ease the baby's tension, she says, parents should bring along a familiar blanket or stuffed animal and a jar of bubble "Blowing bubbles," Axtmann says, "is an excellent way to preserve a relaxed, happy feeling for both baby and parent." Sunken riverboat salvaged PARKVILLE, Mo. - At the rim of the pit, teeming with generators, pumps and spotlights, it is December 1988. Below, where the hulk of a huge paddle wheel protrudes from quicksand, it is August 1856.

Two worlds, 40 feet apart.

A group of adventurers and entrepreneurs is bridging the gap this month with an elaborate project to recover salvageable remains of the steamboat Arabia.

The sidewheeler was plying its way upstream in the treacherous Missouri River, laden with supplies and passengers, when it hit a snag and sank just below the town of Parkville.

The boat now lies in a sandy grave a half-mile south of the present river channel, in a Wyandotte County, Kan., beanfield. The cold, muddy field is bristling with activity as the wood, iron and artifacts of the Arabia gradually are exposed after 132 years of darkness.

Colorado similar to Australia

Colorado's high plains are a lot like the Land Down Under, according to a new advertising campaign designed to draw tourists and jobs to a four-county area billed as "Colorado's Outback.'

"It just seemed appropriate to call ourselves Colorado's Outback because the vast openness, untapped resources and potential are like the (Australian) Outback," said Jo Downey, who heads the East Central Council of Local Governments.

The council represents Cheyenne, Elbert, Kit Carson and Lincoln counties, which lie along Interstate Highway 70 west from the Kansas border and have a combined population of about

In its new campaign, the region also calls itself "The Other. Colorado" to emphasize the topographical contrast of the plains and mountains.

"We've got to apologize for living at what some people think is the end of the Earth," Downey said. "We're not sophisticated like downtown Denver, but that's attraction."

Two years ago, the council formed the Prairie Development Corp., a non-profit group that administers a revolving loan fund to help small businesses relocate to the area.

BULLETIN FOR CAMPUS

Campus organizations are encouraged to use Campus Bulletin. All announcements must be submitted by 11 a.m. one day prior to publication. Announcements for Monday's bulletin must be in by 11 a.m. Friday. However, publication is determined by the amount of space available on a first-come, first-serve basis and is not ensured. Information forms are available on the shelf outside Kedzie 118. Forms should be left in the box on the shelf after being filled out. All submissions must be signed and are subject to verification. Questions should be directed to the Collegian's campus editors in Kedzie 116.

TODAY

PI SIGMA EPSILON will meet at 5 p.m. at Kite's Bar and Grille.

PHYSICAL THERAPY CLUB will meet at 8 p.m. at 1520 Pipher.

RODEO CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in

GYMNASTICS CLUB will meet at 9 p.m. in Natatorium 4.

ALPHA PI MU will meet at 7:30 p.m. in Durland IE Library.

ADVERTISING CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in the Union Big 8 room.

MORTAR BOARD will meet at 10 p.m. in the Union Courtyard.

FARMHOUSE LITTLE SISTERS will meet at 9:30 p.m. at Farmhouse fraternity.

KSSSLHA Kansas State Student Speech Language and Hearing Association will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 206.

TUESDAY

ENGINEERING ASSEMBLY will meet at 7 p.m. in Union Forum Hall.

LATTER-DAY SAINT STUDENT ASSOCIATION will meet at 8:30 p.m. at 1820 Claflin Road.

WOMEN OVER 50 will meet at noon in Union 203.

K-STATE POLICE

Thursday

- The theft of a fire extinguisher from the Jardine area was reported. Loss was $28.
- A student parking permit was reported lost in an unknown vicinity. Loss was $15.
- A personalized license plate worth $40 was reported stolen from a - vehicle parked in lot B-2. A backpack and contents worth $1,280 was reported stolen
- from the Union. A misdemeanor traffic report
- was filed regarding an expired license plate. ■ A case of alleged battery at

Moore Hall was reported.

Friday

- Two intoxicated males making noises at 807 Todd Rd. were brought to the KSU Police Department for positive identification.
- A black, male cat was taken from Moore Hall to the Veterinary Medicine Center.
- Criminal damage to a vehicle parked near Hollis House was reported. Damage was an estimated
- A wheel lock was placed on a maroon Datsun parked in lot A-17E that was displaying a stolen student parking permit.
- A billfold was reported lost or stolen in Goodnow Hall.
 - A non-injury, hit-and-run accident occurred in lot B-3. Damage was estimated at less than $500.

- A fire at Goodnow Hall resulted in $750 damage.
- The theft of a gas cap from a vehicle in lot A-13 was reported. Loss was $50.
- A mountain bike worth $377.50 was reported stolen from north of Boyd Hall.
- Criminal damage to property was reported regarding an individual who drove into lot B-3 over and onto the bank north of that parking lot. The individual was identified by police and released.

Saturday

- Unknown subjects discharged a fire extinguisher outside of Fairchild 202.
- A report was filed regarding a two-vehicle, non-injury accident that occurred Friday in lot A-11.
- A report was filed on an attempted auto burglary in lot B-3. Damage to vehicle was an estimated
- Clothing was reported stolen from the laundry room in Haymaker Hall.

Sunday

- A two-vehicle, non-injury accident occurred at Old Claflin Road in lot A-10. Damage was more than $500.
- Burglary and theft to a vehicle parked in lot B-3 was reported.

"premium pizza at a cardboard pizza price"

523 South 17th

Buy, Sell or Trade in Collegian Classifieds

LARGE PIZZA ONLY 599 with one topping

dine in or free home delivery

with this coupon

offer good through Oct. 31

Comedy Invasion Mon. & Tues. at 9 p.m.

Appearing this Week =

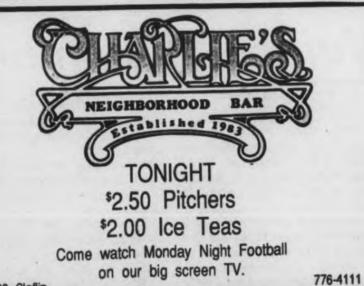

Dr. Gonzo

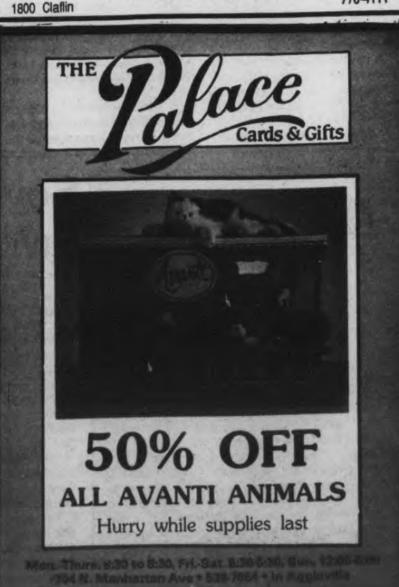

The Doc of Comedy Rock is a favorite. You may have seen him on Star Search or Cable TV. He has toured with the likes of Hewey Lewis, Doobie Brothers & Star Ship. A real crowd pleaser. Don't miss the laughs!

(reservations are recommended but not neccessary) Grill Special-Steak & Shrimp $3.95 (5 to 9) Club 539-9727 531 N. Manhattan Office 539-4321

Lola,, C.P., Cynthia

Candle suspected as cause of fire

Goodnow Hall residents evacuated Friday afternoon

By Susan L'Ecuyer Senior Staff Writer

Residents of Goodnow Hall were evacuated Friday afternoon after a candle apparently caused a fire in a second-floor room.

Chuck Tannehill, battalion chief on duty for the Manhattan Fire Department, said the fire was "apparently the result of a candle left lit" in a room on the southwest B wing of "(The residents) were very cooperative ... and handled it quite well. I was very pleased."

-Scott Sherman Goodnow Hall director

Goodnow. Papers blowing against the candle appeared to have spread the flame, he said. No one was

When firefighters arrived at the hall at 3:43 p.m., the fire had already been extinguished by Goodnow staff member Mark Spinar, senior in electrical engineering, Tannehill said.

"What we had was basically filled with smoke," he said, although firefighters did extinguish a fire "smoldering" along one of the walls.

Scott Sherman, Goodnow director, said no problems developed in evacuating the residents.

"(The residents) were very well," he said. "I was very pleased." The fact that the fire occurred late Friday afternoon was a positive factor, Sherman said. "There were not as many residents in the hall," he said.

Because of the damages to the room caused by the fire, Sherman said the occupants would be transferred to another room available in

The amount of damage was "minimal," Tannehill said. It consisted of light smoke damage, scorch marks along one wall of the room, and several melted floor tiles, as well as damage to the occupants' property,

Campus police estimated the losses to total about $750.

Thomas Frith, director of the Department of Housing, said the occupants of the room would be responsible for the damages caused by the fire.

He said he wasn't sure if burning candles in the hall "was all that legal," but added he is not looking at prohibiting the burning of candles in residence halls.

There had been no room fires in four or five years, but Frith said there was a trash chute fire this year in another residence hall.

Tannehill said the Manhattan Fire Department has not had any significant problems with candles starting fires, despite the the prevalence of burning candles during the holiday

Residents sift through damaged contents in the second-floor lobby from a room fire Friday afternoon in Goodnow Hall. Chuck Tannehill, battalion chief for the Manhattan Fire Department said the fire was apparently started by a lit candle.

Smorgasbord to offer Swedish cuisine

By Jody Hundley Collegian Reporter

Taste buds beware.

The Union's annual Christmas Smorgasbord will feature more than 65 varieties of Swedish food, ranging from five kinds of cheese to Swedish meatballs. Serving will be from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Dec. 8-10, in the Union's Grand Ballroom.

"It's the K-State Union's Christmas gift to the community," said Malley Sisson, Union food service director. "All the departments within the Union provide volunteers for the event. They act as hosts and hostesses and help with bread sales."

Although the cost is $14 for adults and $7 for children under 12, Sisson said only the best food is purchased for the smorgasbord.

The food is the best we can afford, and it's expensive," she said. "The drought situation also affected prices this year. Compared to restaurant prices for the amount of food offered, it's a very reasonable price."

Barb Pretzer, administrative assistant to Union Director Jack Sills, said no one wants to see fewer dishes for a lower price. She added that it is not intended as a profit-making event.

"It's our gift back to the University," said Pretzer, who is in charge of ticket sales and is coordinating volunteers for the event. "It's a break-even event."

The Christmas Smorgasbord began in 1956 upon completion of

Superior Cut

& Style

the construction of the present Union building. Although the event was not scheduled in some years in the 1960s, it has become well-known in the Manhattan community and in other cities. "We have some (people) that come from as far as Olathe," Pretzer said. "Most come from the Manhattan area, and some from Junction City."

Pretzer said 1,260 attended last year's three-day event.

In August, a committee from Union Food Service traveled to Lindsborg, known as "Little Sweden", to find more Swedish food

"It was a time to get ideas for additional authentic Swedish foods for the smorgasbord," Sisson said. "We sampled food from the Swedish Crown Restaurant and a 'bed and breakfast' establishment to get an idea of changes and additions we could make to the menu."

Tickets can be purchased in the Union director's office. It is possible, Pretzer said, to eat at the smorgasbord and attend Saturday evening's basketball game.

"The game begins at 8 p.m., so (patrons) could eat early and take the shuttle service from the Union to Bramlage Coliseum," Pretzer said. "They can save $2 on parking."

"We want the smorgasbord to be fun, not stuffy," Sisson said.

Makeover

ludes makeup application

1106 Laramie

539-1177

Open 8-8 daily

cooperative ... and handled it quite GET YOUR FUTURE OFF THE GROUND Imagine the thrill of flying a jet aircraft! Air Force ROTC offers you leadership training and an excellent start to a career as an Air Force pilot. If you have what it takes, check out Air Force ROTC today. Contact: CAPT EVERETT 913-532-6600 AR FORCE Leadership Excellence Starts Here earn 5.5% APR. Ask one of our employees how you can sign up for direct pay check deposit and automatic transfers for credit union loan and savings accounts. We're in 6B Leasure Hall for approximately two months while our Anderson Hall office is being renovated.

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

A service for faculty, staff and qualified graduate assistants.

Leasure Hall, Room 6B Open 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday (except on University holidays) Telephone 532-6274

Clipping this ad could introduce you to that person you've wanted to meet all semester.

If you've spent the semester watching one particular person, it's time for you to write a Collegian Personal ad. A Personal will intrigue your mystery person and give you the opportunity to introduce yourself. Just bring this ad to Kedzie 103 to start your winter romance.

VOLIE NAME

PHONE	Send Hillsen Self (r. 1997)	_
ADDRESS
I.D. NUMBE	R_balloude are lived	7.30
DAY TO RE	JN	1.
MESSAGE_		101
1	The second second
122 Jan 14	THE PERSON NAMED IN COLUMN
		1 10/1
	All Lyanes with the I had bloom could be	1 24
1 1 1 1	The state of the s	Two

Collegian Pusmals

Offers good until 12-23-88.

other offers.

• 5 disc capability • 32 track RMS progra

HSUBO MITSUBISHI* ·Beautiful Hi-Fi Sound -8 Event/4 Week Timer

On-screen Program -107 Channel Cable Tuner Digital Auto Tracking

Panasonic Rack System

Double Cassette Deck *Turn Table * 28 Key A/V unified remote * Quartz AM/FM Tuner

 On-Screen Programming -Remote Control

Panasonic SC-3027

·Cable Ready

Rack

System

$299

AMITSUBISHI $270

MITSUBISHI 4-HEAD VCR

Flawless Special Effects 8 Event, 2 Weak On-Scre

Sony Cassette Deck

SONY.

LIMITED TO STORE STOCK It's A Whole New World at

Editorial

Kansas State Collegian Opinions ■ Monday, December 5, 1988

U.S. should examine Canada-style elections

George Bush was elected president after what felt like a twoyear campaign.

The campaign for president seems to have caught that premature holiday syndrome, one begins before the last one is over. Come on, America, 1992 is just around the corner and we don't know who will be running in our next political marathon.

The presidential election takes too long. Voters and candidates get burned out and the issues get distorted. A time limit should be set for campaigning and the period between the primaries and the general election should be shortened. There is no need to drag out elections for a year.

Canada elects a prime minister and fills seats in its House of Commons in just seven weeks - no more, no less. Canadian candidates must wait until Oct. 24 to file for the election on Nov. 21. With only a month to reach voters, campaigns must be effective.

Cramming U.S. elections into seven weeks is unrealistic, but a much shorter campaign period would benefit the candidates and boost voter turnout.

Only 53 percent of Americans bothered to vote this year, while Canada boasted a 75 percent turnout. This is embarrassing. The United States already ranks last in electoral participation among the five leading industrialized countries, and our poor voter turnout is a negative reinforcement of voter apathy.

Shorter elections would maintain public interest and the candidates wouldn't have to resort to cheap campaign tactics or spend so much money.

Under the Canadian Elections Act, political advertising can take place only during the last four weeks of the federal elections. Americans could breathe a sigh of relief if they had to look at obnoxious billboards and deal with tons of campaign junk mail for only a month.

Candidates wouldn't have to spend so much money if they didn't have to campaign so long. The two-year elections have turned into money-spending contests. It's a monetary marathon. Whoever has more money can campaign longer and probably be more effective.

American politicians could learn something from our Canadian neighbors, and so could our voters. Shorter campaigns would force the candidates to run on issues that affect this country. It is time for a change in the American political process and that change should be to put some restraints on the presidential election process.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

	News Staff
EDITOR	Chad L. Sanbor
MANAGING EDITOR	Lori Siegris
MANAGING EDITOR	Janet Swanso
NEWS EDITOR	Jeff Schra
EDITORIAL PAGE EDITOR	John La Barg
PHOTO/GRAPHICS EDITOR	Chie Ver
SPORTS EDITOR	Chris Hay
CAMPUS EDITORS	Karen Allen, Robert R. Sho
FEATURES EDITOR	Christine Do
SPECIAL PROJECTS EDITOR	Scott Milk
AGRIVALISINESS EDITOR	Paula Set
ARTS AND ENTERTAINMENT EDITO	RNanoy Chartrar
COVERNMENT EDITOR	Michael Nicho
CORY EDITORS	Nancy Downing, Ann Iseman, Mark Schreiner, Jane Thompson
OPT EUTONS	Cuen I Come Carlo Carlo
SENIOH STAFF WHITEHS	Susan L'Eouyer, Erwin Set Paul Branson, Audra Dietz, Becky Ive
STAFF WRITERS	Paul Branson, Audra Dietz, Becky Ne
	Brian Hummell, Steve Walk
SPORTS WRITERS	Russ Ewy, Chris Hays, Michael Ma
	Mike Rouse, Chris Wilhel
SPORTS COLUMNISTS
COLLIMNISTS	Catherine Doud, Dwayne Lively, Sheikh Falsai Razza
DECIMINO 19 (amminum minum min	Karia Badalahaimar Mark Schmell
	Karla Redelshelmer, Mark Schmell Bradley Atchison, Carrie Miller, Torn McLaughl
TEVIEWERS	orabley Alcrison, Carrie Miller, Torn McLaugh
CARTOONIST	Richard Broadlo
SRAPHIC ARTIST	Scott Opplig
TACE ACCICTANT	Jannifar Lippo
PHOTOGRAPHERS
10.00.00.10.10.10.11.11.11.11.11.11.11.1	Brett Hacker, Jeff Stead, Greg Vog
COTORIAL BOARD
DITORIAL BOARD	Susan L'Ecuyer, Scott Miller, Michael Nichols, Karla Redelsheimer, Chad L. Sanbor
ADVERTISING MANAGER	Advertising Staff Catherine Dou
	Todd Schul
NORTH AV CALED DEDDECENTATIVE	Brenda Birt, Brian Howell, Denise Lambert, Tarrymy McCrea
DISPLAT SALES HEPHESENTATIVES	Michaele Clark Inners White Deed Window
	Michelle Slavk, Jennifer White, Brent Winde. Kim Beyer, Tomari Quinn, Christa Sou
OFFICE/CLASSIFIED AD ASSISTANTS	S
BRAPHIC ARTISTS	Dave Casper, Kendell McMinir
PHOTOGRAPHER	Jennifer Qui PHOTOGRAPHER
PHOTOGRAPHER	Student Publications Staff
PHOTOGRAPHER	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam
PHOTOGRAPHER	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR Gloria Freelar
PHOTOGRAPHER	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR Gloria Freelar Charifa
DIRECTOR DIRECTOR ACTING DIRECTOR/ADVERTISING DI SSISTANT DIRECTOR/NEWS ADVIS SUSINESS MANAGER	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR Gloria Freelar ER. Charle Fa
DIRECTOR DIRECTOR ACTING DIRECTOR/ADVERTISING DI SSISTANT DIRECTOR/NEWS ADVIS SUSINESS MANAGER	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR Gloria Freelar ER. Charles Ann Fost
PHOTOGRAPHER DIRECTOR ICTING DIRECTOR/ADVERTISING DI ASSISTANT DIRECTOR/NEWS ADVIS SUSINESS MANAGER DEFICE MANAGER	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam Gioria, Freeiar ER. Charlie Fa Ann Foota
DIRECTOR	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR Gloria Freelar ER. Charlie Fa Ann Foet Shelly Pott R. Unde Sohmi
PHOTOGRAPHER DIRECTOR ACTING DIRECTOR/ADVERTISING DI ASSISTANT DIRECTOR/NEWS ADVIS BUSINESS MANAGER OFFICE MANAGER ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR Gloria Freelar ER Charlie Fa Ann Fost Shelly Pot Linda Schmi
DIRECTOR	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR Gloria Freelar ER. Charlie Fre Ann Fost Sheily Pote R. Unda Schens Connie Fulterso David Svobox
DIRECTOR	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR Gloria Freelar ER. Charlie Fre Ann Fost Sheily Pote R. Unda Schens Connie Fulterso David Svobox
DIRECTOR	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR Gloria Freelar ER. Charlie Fa Shelly Poth R Linda Schmi Connie Fulkers David Svoboo INATOR Wanda Hayn If 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Public an. 66503. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the year and Monda i. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. In to Kansas State University, Man
DIRECTOR	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR Gloria Freelan ER. Charlie Fa Ann Foels Shelly Pott R. Unda Schmid Connie Fulkersc David Svoboo Wanda Hayn In (20), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Public an. 66508. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the year and Monda as Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. In to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Mar by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116. I classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560, Classified word adver (913) 532-6555.
PHOTOGRAPHER	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR Gloria Freelan ER. Charlie Fa Ann Foels Shelly Pott R. Unda Schmid Connie Fulkersc David Svoboo Wanda Hayn In (20), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Public an. 66508. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the year and Monda as Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. In to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Mar by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116. I classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560, Classified word adver (913) 532-6555.
DIRECTOR	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR Gloria Freelan ER. Charlie Fa Ann Fost Shelly Potts R. Unda Sohmi Connie Fulkerso David Svoboo UNATOR Wanda Hayni In 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publican. 86508. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the year and Monda. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 86502. In to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Mar by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116. I classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560, Classified word adver (913) 532-6555.
PHOTOGRAPHER DIRECTOR	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR
CIRECTOR	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR Gioria, Freelan ER. Charlie Fa Ann Fost Shelly Police R Unda Schmid Connie Fulkersc David Syobod INATOR Wanda Hayni N 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publica an, 66508. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the year and Monda Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. In to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Mar by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116. I classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word adve (913) 532-6565. Kansas State Collegian Subscription Rates
PHOTOGRAPHER	David L. Adam RECTOR
PHOTOGRAPHER DIRECTOR ACTING DIRECTOR/ADVERTISING DI ASSISTANT DIRECTOR/NEWS ADVIS BUSINESS MANAGER DEFICE MANAGER CLASSIFED ADVERTISING MANAGE ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT NEWS PRODUCTION COORDINATOR ADVERTISING PRODUCTION COORDINATOR ADVENTISING PRODUCTION COORDINATOR ADVENTIS	Student Publications Staff David L. Adam RECTOR Gloria Freelar ER. Charlie Fa Ann Fost Shelly Pott R. Unda Schmid Connie Fulkersc David Svoboo Wand Schmid In (20), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Public an. 66608. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the year and Monda a. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. Is to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzie 103, Kansas State University, Mar by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116. I classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560, Classified word adve (913) 532-6555. Kansas State Collegian Subscription Rates

Collegian Editorial Policies

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR are always encouraged. Those which pertain to matters of campus and/or public interest are especially encouraged, and are given the highest priority.

Letters should be kept as brief as possible, preferably under 300 words. Those who cannot condense their opinions should consider submiting their letter in the form of a guest column. All letters are subject to editing for space, style and taste.

GUEST COLUMNS are also encouraged. The column should be no longer than two double-spaced, typed pages. If the submission is used as a column and not a letter to the editor, it will be accompanied by the author's photograph.

SEND SUBMISSIONS to the Collegian in Kedzie 116. UNSIGNED EDITORIALS represent the consensus opinion of the Collegian's editorial board. Opinion columns do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the Collegian management, Student Publications, Inc. or the newspaper staff in general.

The rhetoric of drug testing art Bryce found me sitting in the study room and plopped Friday's

"There, D.L.," he said. "Read that and

The front-page headline read, "Employee drug tests become common." Bart had circled it in red and written "Aw-right! Way to go, guys!" beside it.

"So?" I said. "I don't get it."

"The end of the drug problem in the United States doesn't even phase you one little bit?"

"When did the drug problem end?" I said. "Did they finally legalize them?"
"Of course not!" Bart said. "That would be illegal." "Of course, Bart," I said. "I forgot. So how is the drug problem ended then?" "Well, it's not ended yet, but it's on its way to being ended. Private citizens have finally become involved in stamping out drugs by not letting drug users have jobs." He pointed to the headline again. "Explain further," I said.

"You see, if drug users know they won't be able to get a job without taking a drug test, they are going to stop using drugs in order to pass the test and get a job."
"I see," I said. "I think."

"It's all very simple, D.L. If you want the job, you lose the drugs because if you want the drugs, you lose the job. The people will choose the job. Employers know that." "Do employers really care about us so much," I said, "or are they protecting their own paychecks?"

"They care. That's why they're doing this. It's a sign of their good faith in us."

"Of course," I said. "But what if the drug user is physically addicted? Those people can't just give up drugs overnight." "No one expects them to," Bart said. "They have a few days to get the drug out of their system before the test. The article says so." "I see. But let's say the people can't get off drugs. What can they do? If they can't get a job, won't they turn to crime to get money for Commentary

DWAYNE LIVELY

Collegian Columnist

their drugs?"

"If they do," Bart said, "it just goes to show they didn't deserve the job in the first place. Besides, what right do these drug users have to jeopardize a man's company by bringing their problems to the workplace?"

"What right do business owners have to put people on the streets who might hurt the rest of us?"

"Well, that's different," Bart said. "That's the private sector's problem. We're talking about big business right now, the very thing that made this country great. Please don't try to confuse the issues, D.L.'

"Yes, Bart," I said. "I'm sorry. Tell me how these drug tests are conducted, though." ell, I guess, according to the article, the employer has you urinate in this little cup which is then sealed, signed and delivered to a lab which checks it for drugs. It's all done discreetly."

"I heard they watched you take the test to ensure that you don't cheat. Isn't that an violation of the right to privacy? I mean, if we don't have the right to pee in private, what rights do we have?"

'They don't do that," Bart said. "In fact, the College Placement Council gives a few tips about how to protect your rights if you think your employer is violating them. Which, incidentally, I don't believe they would do because, after all, we're all Americans and we stick together. I quote: 'When submitting to drug screening, privacy and dignity are not to be invaded."

raised my eyebrows and read the paragraph. Sure enough, it said that. But then I read a little farther. "Bart," I said, "just two paragraphs later the council also suggests that, quote: 'the applicants not try to smuggle in a drug-free sample because "observed" testing is often used,' unquote. That doesn't sound private to me. Which face of the Council are we to believe? Paragraph one, or paragraph two?"

"Pargraph one, I guess," he said. "I don't know, I just do what I'm told, like employees are supposed to. We have elected officials that take care of the serious questions. I'm just trying to earn a living.'

"Bart, would you submit to the test?" I

"Of course," he said. "I have nothing to

"You drink alcoholic beverages though,

don't you?"

"Yes, I do, but alcohol's not a mindaltering substance."

"It isn't?" I said. "Then why can't you drink and drive?"

"All right," Bart said. "It can be a mindaltering substance, but only if you drink to excess.' "Can it be physically addictive?"

"Of course it can," Bart said.

"Can excessive drinking affect your "I suppose it could," he said. "Yes it can."

"Why don't they test for alcohol use then, instead of just testing for drugs?" "Because alcohol is not a controlled substance," Bart said. "That makes it different. It's only illegal drugs we have to worry about. If alcohol is so terrible, why isn't it illegal?"

"It used to be." "It was?" Bart said.

"Yes."

"It must have become safe. The government wouldn't legalize anything dangerous."

"Of course not, Bart," I said. "Of course

Letters

Letter short-sighted

As a firm believer in freedom of speech and expression, I was appalled by the letter to the editor appearing in the Dec. 1 issue of the Collegian attacking the cartoon which negatively depicted the National Rifle Association.

The letter told of 13 poor, gun-toting K-Staters who were "infuriated" with the cartoon's "distastefulness" and implied that the cartoon should not have been printed. With regard to their hurt feelings - toughen up and take it like adults. With regard to their implied demand for censorship - tough

The Supreme Court addressed offensive satire last year in the case of Falwell v. Flynt. In unanimously deciding for Larry Flynt, publisher of Hustler, the court ruled that preserving freedom of speech and expression through political and non-political cartoons was more important and took precedence over any offensiveness a cartoon itself might

In short, my point is this: Your letter on the unfairness of the NRA cartoon is essentially a whine. It was the first amendment that enabled you to make your whine and have it printed in the first place. Yet the underlying premise of your letter is to destroy the protection of free speech - which is the very freedom you used to register your complaint.

> David Filippi sophomore in speech

Lockers at K-State

The thought has occurred to me nearly every day I've been on campus that it would be very nice if students had access to lockers. Is it out of the question to have a bank of lockers, large enough to hold a book bag, lining part of one of the many walls of the Union? They wouldn't have to be industrial strength, bank-vault quality. Simple compartments with locking doors would do very well.

How nice it would be if students could stash their after-lunch books instead of carrying them around all morning and then switch books at noon.

How nice it would be to go through the lunch line like a civilized human being, instead of feeling like a pack mule, with a heavy book bag threatening to smash into the tray and send food flying.

It would really be great to enjoy a brisk walk on the attractive K-State campus, but who can manage that while struggling with all that paraphernalia? Also, there are lots of surplus-book sales offered to students, and since I can't resist a book sale, I browse at each of them. It's terrible to feel I'm making a decision on purchasing a book based on its weight, but it does influence me.

Could enough revenue be generated by renting lockers to students by the semester to make their installation feasible?

> LeNore Stumpf arts and sciences, non-degree

Library computer to make filing easier

By Kathy Winklhofer Collegian Reporter

University Libraries recently purchased computer software for a second-generation computerized library system which will make finding and cataloging library material easier.

The purchase is a major step toward developing an automated system which will replace and expand the current Automated Library Information System, said David B. Allen, chairman of the library automation development department. ALIS is a circulation system that was installed in 1982.

ALIS will be replaced by the Northwestern On-Line Total Integrated System. NOTIS was developed by Northwestern University and is a circulation and cataloging system. Students and faculty will be able to use computer terminals instead card catalogs and serial microfiche.

The computer will inform the user of the availability of all materials on a subject and show the user what materials an author has written. NOTIS will show where books and serials are and how many copies are

In about a year, the library will be placing color terminals in the reference section for people to use, said Brice G. Hobrock, dean of libraries.

NOTIS will store 60 percent of the card catalog's data. When the system is in working order, that 60 percent of the card catalog will be removed, Hobrock said. The remaining 40 percent will remain but will eventually be removed when more data can be stored on NOTIS. It has not been decided if the removed card catalogs will be stored as backup for the system or discarded, he said.

The transformation of library systems to the NOTIS system is happening to 200 universities in the United States, Hobrock said, adding that NOTIS is used by large universities and research libraries. The system will provide an electronic catalog mounted on the University's central computer and linked to terminals throughout the main and branch libraries. Ultimately, it will enable users from remote locations such as offices and residence hall rooms to access information on library holdings at K-State and other libraries.

The system is still in development. In order to run NOTIS, the purchase and installation of an enlarged central computer is required, Allen said.

The central computer will be in the library basement, and the site preparation will "take a lot of time and money," he said. "We hope to have the computer in place by late summer

The NOTIS software has been temporarily placed on the University's administrative mainframe for development and testing because the machine is too small to run the system or support the libraries' database, Allen said.

When NOTIS is installed, both systems will be used for about a year. When the new system is in complete working order, the ALIS system will be phased out, he said.

Allen said he hopes the system will be available for users by January

The decision to acquire a new system was made when the ALIS system's company went out of business. The company went out of business before the library received all of the eventually be able to network. Kcomponents of the system.

The ALIS system was bought out and is now being maintained by a company called "Library Systems," Hobrock said.

"The Board of Regents made it a priority to push large automation projects that are compatible with other systems at state and campus levels," he said. The NOTIS system is used at Fort Hays State University and The Wichita State University, and is in the planning stage at Emporia State University. This will enable library staffs to retrieve information from other libraries about material holdings throughout the NOTIS system network.

The University of Kansas does not use the NOTIS system. KU developed its own automation system about eight years before the other Kansas universities, said Jim Ranz, dean of libraries at KU.

"We reviewed all the existing systems in the on-line catalog, but we didn't feel that the other systems fulfilled our needs," Ranz said. "We recognized that we could develop our own system to better serve our

Allen said it won't be as easy to network with KU as it will be with the other NOTIS users because of the difference in the systems. However, the two University libraries will

State is concentrating more on getting the NOTIS system installed than on creating a computer program that would allow networking with KU, he

The way was cleared for purchase of the NOTIS system in May after the Kansas Legislature and Governor Hayden approved funding for the first year of the Margin of Excellence program, which included $200,000 for the new system.

Remaining funding will come from the library's annual operations budget, Hobrock said, adding that the 1988 budget still consists of about $100,000.

The NOTIS software costs $99,500. The database processing, developing and separate authority controls will cost about $30,000 each, he said.

About one-fourth of the money received from the MOE will be used to pay the personnel that helped program, implement and support the system. The remaining three-fourths will be used to purchase the software, convert the data and pay the operating costs of the computer, Hobrock

The high cost of the system "will be justified because the system will be very convenient for the students,"

Have story or photo ideas? CALL 532-6556

Collegian Line-up Thursday-Coupon Page Friday-Religious Directory Entertainment Page

FAST N FREE DELIVERY

investigative units to get seized monet

By The Associated Press

OLATHE - A 37-year-old Prairie Village woman who pleaded guilty to possessing mari-juans with the intent to sell gave up any claim to more than $238,000 in cash seized from her ome by authorities.

Most of the money found last May in grocery sacks in the home of Connie Sue Slater will be turned over to the Prairie Village Police Department and the Johnson County Sheriff's Department.

Johnson County and state law enforcement officials said it was thought to be one of the largest seizures ever in Kansas of money derived from drug sales.

Kansas law allows authorities to confiscate money or property if it is determined that the property was derived from drug profits or was used in an illegal do

Slater signed a waiver duting ther appearance in Johnson County District Court Friday giving up any legal interest in the mon That "effectively gives the mon to the state," said Distr

Attorney-elect Paul Morrison.

Morrison, now an asistant district attorney, said that under the law, most of the money would go to special funds set up by the investigative agencies involved in the case to be used in other drug investigations.

Slater was arrested and charged after police raided her home and found a small amount of marijuana, records of drug transactions, large quantity of packagin materials used to transport the drugs and several grocery sacks containing the cash.

TAIM HIGH

17th & Anderson Ave. . Manhattan, Kansas 66502

WANT MORE THAN A DESK JOB?

Looking for an exciting and challenging career where each day is different? Many Air Force people have such a career as Pilots and Navigators. Maybe you can join them. Find out if you qualify. Contact your Air Force recruiter today. Call

> CAPT RICHARD EDELL 405-733-2963 COLLECT

PREGNANCY Anderson Aversus TESTING CENTER 539-3338 Walk-ins welcome Call for Appointment Located across from campus in the Student Services Center (East of 7-Eleven)

Get the highest rated word processor at an unbelievable educational price - with speller and thesaurus! ☐ WordPerfect V.4.2 -$ 125 ☐ WordPerfect V.5.0 -$ 135

Connecting Point. 111

1115 Westloop Shop. Ctr 539-0801

F/T Faculty & Students ONLY

Attention: Please read the following letter if you had your portrait taken for the Royal Purple.

(206) 355-8887

8805 46th Place West Mukiltco, WA 98275

Dear Kansas State student:

On behalf of both our company and the Royal Purple yearbook I apologize for your inconvenience and the confusion caused by our mistaken insertion of a notice with some of your proof sets.

The notice requested that some students pay a $5.00 fee to have their selected pose included in the yearbook. This was a mistake! There is no additional charge to any Kansas State student to appear in the yearbook.

If you are one of the students that received the "$5.00 notice", please disregard It! All you need do is mark the pose of your choice (simply write "YEARBOOK" on the back) and return all of the proofs to us at:

> Yearbook Associates P.O. Box 91 Millers Falls, MA 01349

You must return all of your proofs promptly!

If you've already returned your proofs and you did pay the $5.00, It will be refunded to you!

Of course we hope you'll be happy with your proofs and will choose to order a personal portrait package. But you are under no obligation to do so. If you were photographed your picture will appear in the yearbook.

If you have any questions you may either call me at the above number, or our customer service department at (413) 863-9714. Remember, I'm in Washington State, our customer service is in Massachusets, please make allowances for the different time zones.

Again, my personal apologies for the confusion.

Sincerely,

James S. Mays, If Regional Director

We've reformed the correction syste

Prisoners of old-fashioned correction systems, freedom is here.

Smith Corona's Correcting Cassette means an end to twists, tangles and fumbles.

It's an easy-to-load, drop-in correction tape you can insert in mere seconds.

There are no spools to unwind. No complicated threading. No more muttering under your breath. It's that simple.

What's just as simple is our Right Ribbon System.™ It simply prevents you from using the wrong combination of ribbon and correcting cassette.

You'll find our Correcting Cassette and Right Ribbon System on the Smith Corona SL 600 typewriter.

You'll also find lots of other great features on the SL 600like the Spell-Right™ 50,000 word electronic dictionary, full line correction, WordEraser* and more.

You might expect a typewriter this sophisticated to cost a bundle, but the SL 600 is surprisingly affordable. All of which makes it one of the best values you can find today.

Case closed.

For more information on this product, write to Smith Corona Corporation, 65 Locust Avenue, New Canaan, CT 06840 or Smith Corona (Canada Ltd.), 440 Tapacott Road, Scarborough, Ontario, Canada M1B 1Y4.

Force may be used to control protesting in Soviet republics

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW - The military commander of Baku warned Sunday that force may be used to contain unrest in the Azerbaijani capital, where authorities have banned protests and meetings in efforts to impose order.

In another development, a newspaper said guards armed with subma-chine guns were protecting Armenian and Azerbaijani refugees as they stream across the border dividing the two republics.

Official news reports have placed the total number of refugees from both sides at about 150,000, and said they are living in tents at summer resorts, vacant apartments and with relatives and friends.

The refugee problem is "standing like a black cloud over everybody's

Is your car on its last leg. and you need a fuel-efficient car? Read the Classifieds.

New Nonfat Frozen Yogurt

Same great taste with no fat or cholesterol

Nautilus Towers-Aggieville Phone 537-1616 Manhattan

UNITED ARTISTS $ 3 PER PERSON

HOWS BEFORE 6:00 p.m. JՀ\ SETH CHILDS 6

FRESH HORSES PG-13 7:15, 9:40 Set, Sun. 2:15, 4:36

SCROOGED PG-13 2:20, 4:40, 7:20, 9:30 IRON EAGLE II PO

EVERYBODY'S ALL-AMERICAN R

LAND BEFORE TIME G 7:10, 9:30 Sec., Sun. 2:10, 4:40 ERNEST SAVES CHRISTMAS PO

2, 4:30, 7:10, 9:45

head," said Col Gen. Tyagunov said in a broadcast on Baku radio. "Now is not the time for staging any meetings.

The officer's first name was not given in the broadcast, which was monitored in London by the British Broadcasting Corp.

"I request leaders of the meetings and demonstrations on Lenin Square and other people to abide by Soviet laws unconditionally," he said. "Force will be used in case of any failure to abide by regulations established by law."

The military law imposed on Baku late last week prohibits meetings and protests, but they have continued in the Azerbaijani capital. Tyagunov's statement appeared to be a toughening of authorities' efforts to impose

An Armenian activist in Yerevan, Rafael Popoyan, said officials in the Armenian capital had permitted activists to hold a meeting Sunday in Echmiadzin, 19 miles west of the Armenian capital.

Popoyan said activists negotiated with military authorities for two days to receive permission for the meeting. He said the strict controls imposed under military rule prevented Armenians from getting information about their relatives still in Azerbaijan.

The official Tass news agency reported Saturday that 24-hour guards had been ordered on key facilities in Armenia and Azerbaijan, where ethnic strife has resulted in at least 28 deaths since mid-November.

If you need abortion or birth control services, we can help.

Confidential pregnancy testing . Safe, affordable abortion services . Birth control . Tubal ligation . Gyn exams . omprehensive

Testing and treatment for sexually transmitted diseases. Providing quality health care to women since 1974.

Lealth for Women 4401 West 109th (I-435 & Roe) Insurance, VISA & MasterCard accepted For information and appointments (913) 345-1400

Toll Free (except KS) 1-800-227-1918

We'll make you a manager if you lettuce

Looking for a greater future? Our Management Training and Development Program will teach you the skills to manage thriving, million dollar business.

We provide an excellent compensation package that includes a salary based upon your accumulative years of experience: Assistant Manager: $15.000-$18.000 General Manager: $22,000-$26,000 +

Other benefits include insurance, vacation and bonus programs Contact: Director of Human Resources

Kan-Okla, Inc. /Hardee's First National Center Suite 717, Dept. 33

Hutchinson, Ks. 67504-1069 (913) 537-4048 or (316) 669-0485

Hardee's is an Equal Opportunity Employer

Christmas Gifts r the Traveler Alarm Clocks Converters Christian Dior 10% OFF MANY MORE ITEMS ON SALE Travel Books, Cards, travel tapes, Travel Flasks and lots of gift items! 957 Seth Child Village Plaza Shopping Center 539-05

Shuttle mission secret

By The Associated Press

SPACE CENTER, Houston -The military mission of space shuttle Atlantis continued under a shroud of official silence Sunday, although there were indications the orbiter would not return to Earth before Tuesday.

Atlantis is under the command of the Air Force, which has said it would give 24-hour notice of landing but otherwise maintain silence unless there is an emergency.

No word was heard from either NASA or the Air Force on Sunday, the shuttle's third day in flight, indicating the earliest day the orbiter would land at Edwards Air Force Base in California would be

At a Sunday briefing at Edwards for NASA and Air Force workers taking part in a simulated landing, a list of activities indicated Atlantis would return to Earth four to seven days after Friday morning's blastoff from Cape Canaveral, Fla. That also would suggest a landing no earlier than Tuesday.

The Air Force gave no information on whether the five-man military crew accomplished its main goal: deployment of a powerful radar satellite designed to gather extremely sharp images of East Bloc military facilities in all

The spy satellite would help American intelligence monitor Soviet compliance with arms treaties. Eventually, it also could serve as the "radar eye" for the new stealth bomber, allowing the jet's crew to pick out targets without turning on their own radar and revealing their position.

Sources said before the flight that the astronauts planned to deploy the $500 million satellite on Saturday.

The astronauts also were to conduct reconnaissance experiments, sources said. It was believed they would test a special handheld optical device that resembles

Getting Your Message Across

If you're looking for a way to publicize your club, living group or event on the K-State Campus, stop by Kedzie 101 and let the Collegian Advertising staff help guide you into a successful year.

Call 532-6560 or stop by Kedzie 101

Advertising deadline 2 days prior to publication

Kansas State Collegian

Everyone wins INSTANTLY in

Win your college ring FREE or win savings up to $100! Order your college ring NOW

Monday & Tuesday, December 5 & 6 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. K-State Union Bookstore

A $20 deposit is required when ordering your ring.

See your Jostens representative for winning details.

Chronic pain avoidable if detected

By Alan Wilds Collegian Reporter

Pain is experienced daily by many people who may not realize its causes or its treatments. Dr. Guy Smith, physician at Lafene Student Health Center, said that pain is a normal process of life, but there are ways to recognize and avoid chronic pain.

"Chronic pain is pain that persists past the normal healing process of the body," Smith said.

He said people who experience depression, anxiety or job injuries have a high risk for developing some type of chronic pain.

Smith said the body reacts to pain much as it does to stress, adding that no physiological response is produced.

He said the theory that states the brains treats pain as a depressant is not completely valid. "Pain affects the nuerotransmitters in the brain much as depression does," Smith

Some people may be able to feel pain more than others. "There are people who say they have no feeling even when everything is in working order," he said.

He said there are a few people who have no nerve fibers in certain areas and are unable to feel pain or other

"Pain can also be a warning sign that something is overloaded," Smith said, adding that this is usually due to exercise and other forms of overexertion.

Pain clinics use hypnosis, physical therapy, medication, electro-nerve treatment and nerve blocks to help control chronic pain. The clinics usually will perform a physiological evaluation of a patient to determine treatment, he said.

"Anti-depressant drugs are sometimes used, but not narcotic drugs, because they are depressive and addictive," Smith said.

He said that electro-nerve treatment and nerve blocks which stop pain transmission to the brain are used as a last resort.

"There are a lot of pain clinics associated with universities and the more money that is available, the more research can be done," Smith

He said most K-State students stay active enough that pain is usually not a problem. "Staying active is the best way to avoid chronic pain," Smith

Dr. Linda Consigli of the Consigli Chiropractic Clinic in Manhattan said chronic pain associated with a sports injury usually results from lack of treatment.

She said she uses X-rays, underwater therapy and ultrasound when

High Energy Snacks Available for Finals People's Grocery Cooperative 539-4811 811 Colorado

You won't notice any difference, but your country will.

The five minutes you spend registering with Selective Service at the post office won't change you. But it will make a difference to your country. So when you turn 18, register with Selective Service. It's quick. It's easy. And it's the law.

A public service message of this publication and Selective Service System.

how to turn it into an OFFER! ...

diagnosing and treating pain.

What I try to do is give preventive medicine to avoid injuries and chronic pain," Consigli said. She said regular stretching programs and physical therapy for athletes will help reduce the risk of a sports injury.

Dr. John Liebeskind, a professor at the University of California-Los Angeles and President of the International Pain Foundation, said the most recent research has centered on the body's own pain inhibition system.

The body releases substances called endomorphins, which produces a natural pain inhibition in the brain, he said.

"The role of the pain inhibition system is still being studied, as well as the things that activate it," Liebe-

Manhattan

SHOE REPAIR

Drive-up convenience

Boot Decorations

Hours

8:00-5:30 Weekdays

8:00-8:00 Thursday

8:00-4:30 Saturday

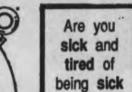

skind said.

He said this has led to research on how the brain treats different situations and when the system is activated. Researchers at UCLA are experimenting with electronic stimuli to the brain of lab animals to see what conditions trigger pain

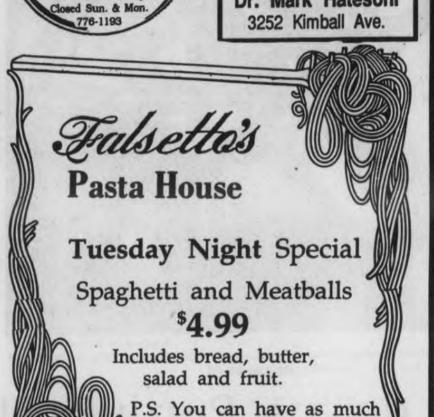

"This technique has also been applied to humans with chronic pain disorders," Liebeskind said.

He said this is always used as a last

"People are also looking for other methods of pain inhibition that do the same thing," Liebeskind said.

and tired? Call 537-8305 Dr. Mark Hatesohl

as you like.

Clothing, textiles topic of seminars

By The Collegian Staff

Bao Mingxin, associate professor at the China Textile University in Shanghai, China, will be presenting the first of his two seminars sponsored by the Department of Clothing, Textiles, and Interior Design at 1:30 p.m. today in Justin 109.

The first seminar is titled "What Textiles and Clothing Means to China Today." The second seminar will be at 4:30 p.m.

Tuesday in Justin 326 and is titled 'Clothing Significance in the Sung Dynasty." Both seminars will last about an hour.

Bao has been a visiting professor this year at the University of Alberta in Edmonton, Canada. He will be at K-State for a three-day visit, said Mary Peterson, associate professor of clothing and interior design.

Peterson said Bao is interested in the social and psychological aspects of clothing and textiles.

dlabal feltner general dentistry

J. Dennis Diabal, D.D.S. Britt C. Feltner, D.D.S. New patients welcome ·Evening & Saturday Appointments Available

·We see emergencies 537-8484 "We Cater To Cowards"

OPTOMETRISTS Drs. Janasek & Oberhelman Welcome students, faculty, staff and friends 'All types of contact lenses Large selection of frames

(fashion & thrift) Diagnosis & treatment of External Eye Disorders

537-2420 1331 Poyntz

of Manhattan

1133 College Ave., Bldg. D Manhattan, Kansas 66502 539-7401

Dr. Hughes Dr. Fulton Dr. Pettle Dr. Strutz Dr. Lala

Pat M. Dreiling D.D.S. M.S.

MEMBER OF AMERICAN ASSN. OF ORTHODONTISTS SPECIALIST IN CHILD & ADULT ORTHODONTICS Building D Manhattan Medical Center 1133 College Ave. 537-0136

Want to Work Your Chosen PROFESSION? ... Do you KNOW HOW TO GET THAT POSITION? ...

I WILL SHOW YOU TECHNIQUES SO POWERFUL, that THEY WILL INCREASE YOUR OPPORTUNITIES. . YOU WILL GAIN AN EDGE over your graduating classiincluded are instructions detailing what to do once you've used these techniques to gain that all important first interview, and

ORDER this book "ADVANCING YOUR CAREER," TODAY! ... Send $9.95 plus $1 for postage and handling to: CAREERS: Box 548, Olathe, KS 66061

GUARANTE STUDENT

WE WANT TO MAKE YOUR STUDENT LOAN!

Have the professionals at Kansas State Bank make your student loan. Simply contact us at:

> 537-4400 Lender code #821176

Westloop • Aggieville • K-State Union, Manhattan, Kansas 66502

Loan-to-Own A Mac

Never So Affordable to Own A Computer

KSU Students may take advantage of one of the best computer financing packages ever offered: the Apple Loan-to-Own Program. This is a special low interest loan designed exclusively for the parents of undergraduate and graduate students.

The Loan-to-Own program lets your parents borrow on their own signature without collateral. There's no need to show financial hardship. And as many as 10 years - which means an extremely affordable price! Stop by Connecting Point Computer Center or visit the KSU Bookstore for more details or an application for this unbelievable Buy-a-Macintosh program.

KSU Apple pricing and this financing program mean its time to buy your MAC.

in cooperation with Connecting Point Computer Center 1115 Westloop Shopping Center - 539-0801

SportsMonday

Kansas State Collegian ■ Monday, December 5, 1988 ■ Page 8

Lady Cats drop two in tourney

From Staff and Wire Reports

The K-State women's basketball squad saw its record drop to 3-2 over the weekend, losing to Texas A & M, 65-62, and to Radford, 74-61, at the Minnesota Dial Soap Classic.

In first-round action Friday, a furious K-State rally with 52 seconds remaining saw the Lady Cats come back from nine points down to one behind, 61-60. A & M's Donna Roper hit two free throws with 36 seconds left to stretch the lead to three, and K-State could not get any closer.

"We got in a hole and had to fight back. Our kids were courageous in their comeback, but they (A & M) hit their free throws when they needed to," Lady Cat coach Matilda Mossman said. "We need to do a better job of scoring. We are not scoring enough to win."

The contest was the second straight in which the Lady Cats made only 34 percent from the floor.

Diana Miller and Nadira Hazim led the Lady Cats with 16 points each, while Kristie Bahner added 13.

In the third-place game Saturday, a pair of cold-shooting spells in the second half cost K-State against Radford.

The Lady Cats, up 33-32 at the half, were outscored 11-5 during the first five minutes of the second stanza and never led again. K-State managed to get within two during the last 2:43, but Radford held on.

Mary Jo Miller's bucket at the 2:17 mark made it 63-61, but the Lady Cats were never heard from again as Radford scored the final 11 points of the game. "Our defense just broke down in the last two minutes," Mossman said. "We didn't stop them and we couldn't hit a shot at the other end." K-State returns to action at 7:30 Tuesday night when Central Missouri State visits Bramlage Coliseum.

LADY CATS (62)
D. Miller 6-13 3-4 16, Bahner 6-11 1-2
13, Boyle 1-50-0 2, M. J. Miller 1-12 1-2 4, Hazim 6-12 4-5 16, Davidson 0-3 3-6 3,
Matteucci 2-9 0-0 4, Funk 0-2 0-0 0, Cobb
2-3 0-0 4, Lane 0-0 0-0 0. Totals 24-70 12-19 62.

TEXAS A&M (65) DeCree 0-0 0-0 0, L. Dillard 1-6 2-4 4, Jordon 2-2 4-4 8, Roper 6-16 4-4 17, Irving 2-5 2-2 6, Russo 6-10 0-0 16, Thomas 0-4 0-0 0, Madison 1-5 0-0 2, Garrett 3-5 2-2 8. Totals 23-56 14-17 65

Totals 23-56 14-17 65.

Halftime — Texas A&M 36, K-State 26.
3-point goals — K-State 2-3 (M. J. Miller 1-2, D. Miller 1-1), Texas A&M — 5-6 (Roper 1-2, Russo 4-4). Rebounds — K-State 47 (D. Miller 11), Texas A&M 40 (Jordon 9). Assists — K-State 14 (M. J. Miller 5), Texas A&M 17 (Roper 6). Total fouls — K-State 14, Texas A&M 17.

LADY CATS (61)
Matteucci 3-6 0-0 6, D. Miller 6-12 2-2
14, Bahner 4-6 5-5 13, M. J. Miller 4-9 0-1
8, Hazim 7-16 0-0 14, Funk 0-1 0-0 0,
Cobb 1-3 0-0 2, Davidson 2-9 0-0 4, Boyle 0-0 0-0 0. Totals 27-62 7-8 61.

Goldsmith 1-9 2-2 4, Bowles 3-7 0-0 6, Sugars 3-7 0-0 6, Howard 9-20 3-4 21, Poney 12-15 1-1 27, Cardel 3-4 0-0 6, Harden 0-3 0-0 0, Hilton 0-0 0-0 0, Smith 1-2 0-0 2, McConlco 1-1 0-0 2. Totals 33-68 6-7 74. 33-68 6-7 74.

Halftime — K-State 33, Radford 32.
3-point goals — K-State 0-3 (M. J. Miller 0-2, Hazim 0-1), Radford 2-4 (Howard 0-2, Poney 2-2). Rebounds — K-State 35 (D. Miller and Bahner 8), Radford 37 (Sugars 9). Assists — K-State 18 (M. J. Miller 8), Radford 18 (Howard 10). Turnovers — K-State 23, Radford 20. Total fouls — K-State 13, Radford 14.

Special to the Collegian/Andy Nelson

Oregon State University guard Eric Knox applies defensive pressure to K-State guard LaKeith Humphrey as

Beavers cruise past 'Cats, 66-48

From Staff and Wire Reports

CORVALLIS, Ore. - Senior forward Eric Knox scored 18 points to carry Oregon State past K-State 66-48 Saturday night in Gill Coliseum.

"(OSU's defense) got us out of sync very early and we never did get into a very good offensive rhythm," K-State assistant Dana Altman said. "We just didn't shoot the ball well and we had a hard time getting it inside against their zone.'

A tight man-to-man and a matchup zone forced the Wildcats into committing 14 first-half turnovers and 22 overall, helping the Beavers jump to a 33-24 halftime lead.

Knox hit a jumper at 14:43 remaining in the first half to put Oregon State, 2-0, ahead 15-2. The Wildcats, 2-1, went scoreless and managed just three shots during a 4:19 stretch of the first half until guard Steve Henson hit a 3-pointer at 14:13.

K-State went on a 13-7 run to close the gap to 24-18 before a 3-pointer from Knox gave the Beavers a ninepoint advantage.

K-State center Fred McCoy, who led the Wildcats with 16 points, pulled K-State to within six at 41-35 with a layup early in the second half.

Oregon State responded with a 13-6 run to lead 54-42 with 4:04 to play. Yugoslavian Teo Alebegovic, who hit two jumpers during the run, finished with 14 points.

Guard Gary Payton added 13 points, nine assists and four steals for Henson, K-State's leading scorer at 21.5 points per game, was held to five points and made just one of seven 3-pointers and was only 2-12 from the field overall. Henson, the nation's best free-throw shooter last season, never went to the line.

K-State shot 41.6 percent from the field, hitting 20 of 48 shots. Oregon State shot 55.1 percent on 27-of-49 shooting.

It was the first time since the 1986-87 season that a K-State team had been held under 50 points. That year they beat Nebraska, 47-45.

K-State will be back home at 7:30 Wednesday night to face the Baylor Bears in Bramlage Coliseum.

K-STATE (48) Smith 1-2 0-0 2, Massop 2-2 0-0 4, McCoy 6-8 4-6 16, Henson 2-12 0-0 5, Dig-gins 0-1 0-0 0, Humphrey 3-10 2-2 8, Dob-bins 2-6 0-0 5, Britt 3-5 0-0 6, Simmons 1-2 0-2 2. Totals 20-48 6-10 48.

OREGON STATE (66)

Martin 4-7 2-2 10, McIntosh 3-5 1-1 7, Alebegovic 6-13 1-1 14, Knox 7-11 2-4 18, Payton 5-11 3-4 13, Brantley 2-2 0-0 4, Celestine 0-0 0-0 0. Totals 27-49 9-12 66.

Halftime—OSU 33-24. 3-point goals— KSU 2-13 (Henson 1-7, Humphrey 0-4, Dobbins 1-2. OSU 3-9 (Knox 2-3, Alebegovic 1-3, Payton 0-3). Fouled out-None. Rebounds—KSU 29 (McCoy 9), OSU 26 (Martin 7). Assists—KSU 9 (Henson, Humphrey 4), OSU 18 (Payton 9). Total fouls — KSU 12, OSU 11. A—9,984.

downs Purdue; Heels top Colorado

By The Associated Press

Colorado's Reggie Morton hit a soft layup with four seconds to play to give the Buffaloes a 67-66 victory over Purdue in the Mile High Classic

The Buffaloes, 1-3, were down 63-36 when they railled in the closing minutes, outscoring the Boilermakers 11-1 for the victory.

The second time around the eighth-ranked Missouri Tigers didn't fare as well against the 10th-ranked North Carolina Tar Heels, and probably wouldn't have done any better if they had played in their own backyard.

At least that's what Missouri Coach Norm Stewart said.

"We have no offense," he said.

'North Carolina did a super job. They took us out of the ball game."

he looks for an outlet during the first half. The Wildcats lost 66-48.

It was the second time the teams had met in 10 days and Saturday the Tigers fell short, 76-60, in the championship game of the Tournament of Champions in Charlotte, N.C. Both teams met for the first time this season in a seminiting the Big Apple NIT. Missouri won that game 91-81.

In Saturday's game the Tigers, 5-2, managed 10 assists and completed only 27 of 66 shots. Missouri committed 28 turnovers.

"This game could have been played down in my hometown (Shelbyville, Mo.) and it wouldn't have been any different," said Stewart.

Even though North Carolina center J.R. Reid remains out with a broken ankle, the Tar Heels got a big boost from Rick Fox, who scored 24

A stingy Tar Heels defense kept the Tigers at bay by creating the turnovers and keeping Missouri scoring down. Only two Tigers scored in double figures, Anthony Peeler and Doug Smith with 10 points each ond half. They outplayed us from start to halftime lead and dominated the sec-

North Carolina, 6-1, built a 48-25 finish," Missouri center Gary Leonard said.

The Kansas Jayhawks broke the 100-point mark for the first time this season and for first-year coach Roy Willams. Kansas had only broken the century mark four times during Larry Brown's five-year tenure at the

The Jayhawks took little time and had little mercy on Loyala-Chicago in Saturday's 100-80 victory before a crowd at Allen Field House that was much less than a NCAA champion team might expect. Kevin Pritchard was the leading corer for the Jayhawks with 20 points, but it was Lincoln Minor's career-high 19 that gave the spark to Kansas.

With the team's top scorer, Milt Newton, out with tendenitis, Minor came off the bench to aid the Jayhawks. "I'm a little more relaxed now," he said. "There's less pressure. If I miss a shot I know I'm not coming out of the game."

Victor Alexander had 21 points

racuse

and teammate Terry Woods added 14 in lifting the Iowa State Cyclones to an 80-66 victory over Drake Saturday in Ames, Iowa.

Iowa State, 2-1, was deadlocked 28-28 with Drake in the closing minutes of the first half, but the Cyclones went on a 12-3 scoring tear for a 40-31 halftime lead.

Three Oklahoma State players had 13 points each Saturday in leading the Cowboys past Texas-Arlington 85-51 in Stillwater, Okla.

Corey Williams, Richard Dumas and Thomas Jordon proved the unlucky number was good for the Cowboys.

Oklahoma State, 2-1, set a school record with seven 3-pointers during a 20-4 scoring streak in the first half.

rally falls Techsters' Michigan 104, South Dakota State runaway with 10 minutes to play.

By The Associated Press Syracuse blew a 23-point lead.

then got six points from Derrick Coleman in overtime to beat Louisiana Tech for the title in the Carrier Classic basketball tournament Sunday. Coleman, a junior forward, wound up with 23 points for the fourthranked Orangemen, who are 7-0. Louisiana Tech, with its first loss in four games, sent it into overtime as time ran out. Randy White scored 20 of his 29 points in the second half for Louisiana Tech.

Stephen Thompson and Matt Roe led Syracuse with 25 points apiece. Roe scored five of his points in overtime.

In Saturday's games, it was No. 1

66; No. 7 Illinois 91, Mississippi 79; No. 12 Georgia Tech 94, George Washington 64; No. 13 Louisville 101, Indiana 79; No. 14 Florida State 104, No. 19 Florida 86; No. 15 Ohio State 77, Western Michigan 66; Southern Methodist 59, No. 16 North Carolina State 57; No. 18 Villanova 80, Vermont 58, and No. 20 Tennessee 91. Tennessee-Chattanooga 76. In the Tournament of Champions when Byron Newton hit a 3-pointer at Charlotte, N.C., No. 11 Arizona beat No. 17 Temple 68-50 in the consolation game, and No. 10 North Carolina beat No. 8 Missouri 76-60 for the title.

> Sixth-ranked Iowa defeated Georgia 102-76, winning the Hawkeye Classic at Iowa City, Iowa.

John Smith ignited a 16-2 Duke run with a 3-point goal, and the Blue Duke 86, Northwestern 62; No. 2 Devils turned a 36-33 lead into a Smith had six points in the spurt for Duke, 4-0. Danny Ferry led the Blue Devils with 21 points, and Brian Schwabe had 17 for Northwestern. Michigan, 5-0, ran off nine straight points to take a 22-10 lead, and the Wolverines buried Division II South Dakota State, which hasn't played a Division I school since the 1985-86 season.

Loy Vaught had 24 points and Glen Rice 23 in the runaway.

Nick Anderson scored 23 points, including a layup and 3-pointer that sparked Illinois to a 12-0 lead in the first 79 seconds, and the Illini romped over Mississippi. Ken Battle had 19 points for Illinois, 3-0.

Mississippi scored 14 consecutive points in the final 90 seconds, pulling within 88-76, after Illinois coach Lou Henson took out his starters.

Tom Hammonds scored 15 of Georgia Tech's first 23 points, and the Yellow Jackets built a 51-26 halftime lead before coasting over George Washington. Dennis Scott had a career-high 31 points for Tech, Pervis Ellison scored 19 points and Louisville won its first game after two losses. It also was the third time in six games this season Indiana, 3-3, has allowed 100 or more points. In Coach Bob Knight's previous 17 seasons at Indiana, that had only happened once.

Florida State, 3-0, reached the 100-point plateau for the third straight game, getting 31 points from George McCloud and 21 from Tony Dawson in beating Florida, 3-2.

way through the first half of its game nament. Iowa is 4-0.

with Western Michigan on a jumper by Perry Carter, and the Buckeyes stretched their lead to 35-27 by halftime. Jay Burson had 17 points to lead Ohio State, 3-1, which led by as many as 15 points early in the second Kato Armstrong hit two free throws with 66 seconds to play, lifting Southern Methodist over North Carolina State, now 2-1.

Villanova, 4-1, outscored Vermont 16-4 over the final five minutes of the first half to take a 16-point lead at intermission. Doug West had 20 of his 22 points in the first half.

Dyron Nix's 32 points and a career-high 20 rebounds led Tennessee, 3-0, over Tennessee-

Roy Marble's 27 points led Iowa Ohio State went ahead to stay mid- to the championship of its own tour-quarterbacks f danger, naps, running

Short shots from the National made them one of the game's tough-Football League while wondering which is more dangerous: waking up in the morning, crossing the street or sticking your face in a fan? How about those "Cardiac Chiefs," the NFL's late-season darlings. I'll have to admit, on Sunday, when the "Chefs" had served up yet another meal that got progressively worse following the appetizers, I quit on them yet again, heading for a short nap on the old waterbed with just over 10 minutes to play and K.C. down 34-24.

I woke up expecting food poisoning, and yet again got a big piece of chocolate pie instead.

It seems as if the Chiefs, displaying that December form that has est teams to beat in month No. 12 over the past five seasons, had shot down the Jets and New York's playoff hopes, 38-34. Wow! It's sure nice to be knocking other teams out of the playoffs after being knocked out yourselves in late October, isn't it, guys? Hove the Chiefs, but, for the life of me, I can't explain how they can beat Cincinnati, Denver, Seattle and New York and can't beat Detroit, Pittsburgh or San Diego. A record of 4-9-1 with wins over those four teams, all four with a chance to make the playoffs entering Sunday's action? Go figure. While we're trying to figure things out, why don't we try to figure out what has happened to the New Orleans Saints and Buffalo Bills over the past two weeks.

Fellas, I know you've got playoff spots wrapped up, but you don't have to play like your old, inept selves. The Minnesota Vikings just flat out spanked the Saints Sunday 45-3, and the Bills were defeated by perennial power Tampa Bay, led by that running quarterback to beat all running quarterbacks - Vinny Testaverde.

That's right, our good buddy from the University of Miami, Mr. Heisman Trophy himself, the world's heavyweight champion of interceptions (he leads the modern world, if not the universe, with 31 this year), ran the ball into the end zone this week for his team's lone touchdown of their 10-5 win over Buffalo.

Guess you figure it's hard to throw an interception when you run the ball, huh Vinny? They taught you well at good old Miami.

Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde from out Denver way showed up in Oakland, ... oops, Los Angeles ... on Sunday, and left with yet another loss, 21-20, to the hated yet hapless Raiders of the Lost Division. What is it with the Broncos? You remember them, don't you? They're the team that kicks butt, gets to the Super Bowl and loses as Mr. Ed (John Elway) never quite lives up to his billing as the second coming of God.

Denver has kicked butt against Cleveland and Los Angeles, two possible playoff teams, and has lost to ... well, you know, those always-tough Chiefs and several other teams that seemingly hate orange almost as much as I do.

If Elway would play every week like he did at home against Los Angeles 8 days ago, Denver would, indeed, be his heaven, of sorts. Instead, after performances like the one this Sunday, it is his private hell every other week.

That's OK, Denver fans. You don't have to play the Chiefs in Kansas City this December, and you lost this week. That means a win is in store shortly. And who knows, you might just be able to win the mild. mild west with a 8-7-1 record. That is assuming you win as scheduled and can stave off that inevitable final week defeat with an impressive showing that leads to a tie.

Merry Christmas to all (except Al Davis), and to all, a good night.

Heisman Trophy race not even close

Oklahoma State University running back Barry Sanders was named the winner of the Heisman Trophy on Saturday afternoon.

Poke star first Kansan to win award

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK - OK, Barry Sanders finally said it: "The Heisman Trophy really is a big deal."

He may have even meant it. The weight of the 54th annual Heisman Trophy, which he won a few hours earlier, and the fact he was playing thousands of miles from home didn't seem to bother the poker-faced Sanders.

He shrugged off the pressure the way he sheds would-be tacklers, rushing 42 times for 257 yards and four touchdowns. Oklahoma State University needed every one of those yards and points in closing out its regular season with a 45-42 victory over Texas Tech in Tokyo on

On Saturday evening, Sanders appeared via satellite as CBS-TV aired the Heisman ceremonies. He never changed his expression, although he did go bonkers and clap his hands together softly several times when he was announced as the runaway winner over quarterbacks Rodney Peete of Southern California and Troy Aikman of UCLA.

He mentioned God, his offensive line, fullback Garrett Limbrick - his lead blocker - and his parents, William and Shirley Sanders of Wichita, Kan. - which declared Jan. 6 as Barry Sanders Day - "for being so inspirational in my life and bringing me up the way they know I should be brought up."

But minutes later, while the assembled media at the Downtown Athletic Club of New York, which sponsors the Heisman Trophy, was awaiting a 15-minute question-andanswer session with Sanders from a CBS studio in Tokyo, he yanked off his clip-on microphone and, without another word, hustled off to face Texas Tech.

As usual, Sanders let his legs do his talking.

The 5-foot-8, 197-pound junior tailback, who was hardly recruited in high school, set NCAA records that may stand for a long time - 2,553 rushing yards (the old mark was 2,342 by Southern Cal's Marcus Allen en route to the 1981 Heisman); 39 touchdowns (the old mark was 29); 3,250 all-purpose yards (Temple's Paul Palmer had 2,633 in 1986), and 295.5 all-purpose yards per game (rushing, receiving, returning punts and kickoffs).

That one erased the oldest record in the book - 246.3 yards a game by Colorado's Byron "Whizzer" White, now a U.S. Supreme Court justice, in

But even in rewriting the record book, Sanders remained true to form, and not just on the field, where he tied Allen's record of five consecutive games of 200 yards or more.

For the umpteenth time, he said he would rather see his team "have a successful season than win an individual award."

But he did call the Heisman something I can take with me for a lifetime."

Sanders became the eighth junior and first OSU player to win the

In his last five games, Sanders came with a rush to overtake Peete and Aikman in the race for the Heisman. He gained 320 yards against K-State, 215 against Oklahoma, 312 against Kansas, 293 against Iowa State and 257 against Texas Tech.

He now holds the NCAA records for most yards in two, three, four and five consecutive games. Those marks, with the old records in parentheses, are 605 (588), 862 (775), 1,140 (987) and 1,397 (1,136). Sanders needed only four games to break the five-game mark. Sanders received 559 first-place votes - ballots were received from 721 of the 913 Heisman electors -77 second-place votes and 47 thirdplace votes for 1,878 points on a 3-2-1 basis.

Peete had 70-264-174-912 and Aikman 31-149-191-582, followed by Miami (Fla.) quarterback Steve Walsh, 16-108-77-341; West Virginia quarterback Major Harris, 27-60-79-280; Michigan State offensive tackle Tony Mandarich, 3-9-25-52; Washington State quarterback Timm Rosenbach, 6-6-14-44; Florida State defensive back Deion Sanders, 0-3-16-22; Indiana tailback Anthony Thompson, 0-3-14-21, and Alabama linebacker Derrick Thomas, 3-2-7-20.

Sanders will officially receive the trophy at the annual Heisman banquet in New York Thursday night.

Sanders runs wild in 45-42 victory over Texas Tech

By The Associated Press

On Sunday, Barry Sanders capped the most prolific season ever for a major college running back, rushing for 257 yards and four touchdowns just a few hours after he became the eighth junior to win the Heisman.

It was good enough to give No. 12 Oklahoma State a 45-42 victory over Texas Tech in a regular-season game played at Tokyo Sunday morning (Saturday night in the United States).

"I don't think there's any question he's the finest player in college football today," Oklahoma State coach Pat Jones said.

In other games Saturday, No. 2 Miami, Fla., defeated Brigham Young 41-17, No. 18 Syracuse beat Pitt 24-7 and Army defeated Navy halftime despite 167 yards rushing and two touchdowns by Sanders. Sanders scored again on a short run with 27 seconds left in the third quarter, giving Oklahoma State a 38-28 lead. He set up the score when he carried a swing pass 65 yards to the Tech 13. His final touchdown of the season came on a 2-yard run with 9:28 to play and gave the Cowboys a 45-35

Oklahoma State is bound for the Holiday Bowl against Wyoming on day. Dec. 30 at San Diego.

No. 2 Miami 41, BYU 17 Miami's defense had five inter-The Cowboys trailed 21-17 at ceptions — three by Bobby Harden - and five sacks, leading the rout over Brigham Young and keeping the Hurricanes in the national championship picture. Donald Ellis returned one of the interceptionis 64 yards for a touchdown as Miami fin-

> Miami plays No. 6 Nebraska in the Orange Bowl on Jan. 2, while topranked and undefeated Notre Dame plays No. 3 and undefeated West Virginia in the Fiesta Bowl the same evened the 89-year-old series at Syracuse 24, Pittsburgh 7 Tight end Pat Davis made two long runs with short passes for touchdowns to lead Syracuse, 9-2, which is headed for the Hall of Fame Bowl against Louisiana State.

Army 20 Navy 15

Army, headed for the Sun Bowl against Alabama with a 9-2 record, wiped out a 3-0 Navy lead when Ben Barnett capped a 16-play, 63-yard drive with a 1-yard touchdown plunge with 12:05 left in the second quarter. Keith Walker kicked three field goals for the Cadets, who 41-41-7.

Mike Mayweather became the seventh player in Army history to gain more than 1,000 yards in a

Small College

In Division I-AA quarterfinals, Georgia Southern beat Stephen F. Austin 27-6, Furman beat Marshall 13-9, Eastern Kentucky routed Western Kentucky 41-24, and Idaho beat Northwestern State 38-30.

In Division II semifinals, North Dakota State beat Sacramento State 42-20, and Portland State beat Texas A&I 35-27.

Ithaca defeated Ferrum 62-28, and Central beat Augustana 23-17 in two overtimes in the NCAA Division III semifinals.

In the NAIA Division I quarterfinals, Central State, Ohio, beat Hillsdale, Mich., 14-7; Carson-Newman, Tenn., stopped Moorehead State 42-6; Adams State, Colo., beat Southeastern Oklahoma State 38-7, and Pittsburg State beat Arkansas-Monticello 23-7.

In NAIA II, Westminster, Pa., defeated Evangel 26-9 and Wisconsin-La Cross whipped Oregon Tech 37-24.

Chiefs pull out late victory, 38-34

Saxon scores with two seconds remaining

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - Needing three points to tie and one foot to win, Kansas City coach Frank Gansz kept the NFL's surest kicker on the sidelines and gave the ball to rookie James Saxon.

Saxon ran from inside the 1-yard line for the winning touchdown on fourth down with two seconds left Sunday to give the Chiefs a 38-34 victory over New York and eliminate the Jets from the playoffs.

"We were down there and I just wanted to go for the win," said Gansz after electing not to force an overtime by having Nick Lowery kick a field goal. "I have always told them, when you have an opportunity, seize it and it will multiply. They deserved to win. They've battled, they've fought, they've worked hard.

"I didn't think they would stop us again," added Gansz, who tried two running plays and a quarterback sneak before giving the ball to Saxon. Saxon followed the block of fullback Christian Okoye.

By The Associated Press Saxon, a sixth-round draft choice "It's too good to describe," said one-game suspension for joking on a up a 32-yard field goal by Pat Leahy from San Jose State. "All your life you wait on a moment like this and it happens to you.

> "He (Okoye) did a great job. He just bulled me into the end zone. I rode in on his back. It's pretty hard to stop a 253-pound guy from getting one yard."

The winning score came after cornerback Bobby Humphrey was called for pass interference on Emile Harry in the end zone.

"I'd like to have seen some (penalties) called on them as well," said New York coach Joe Walton as the Jets fell to 6-7-1. "(It was) a little bit one-sided. We didn't play well defensively.

"It was a gutsy call. I have no feeling at all. I've got no feeling one way or another."

Steve DeBerg threw three touchdown passes for Kansas City, 4-9-1, which had battled the Jets to a 17-17 tie earlier this year. Kansas City was hurt by two fumbled kickoffs by Paul Palmer, playing after sitting out a team bus that he might intentionally fumble to get traded.

Pat Ryan threw for two touchdowns and Johnny Hector ran for two more for the Jets, 6-7-1. Hector ran for touchdowns of six and one yard in the second half for the Jets, who had rallied from 14-0 and 21-10 deficits.

Ryan, who left last week's game against Miami with a mild concussion, directed the Jets on an eightplay, 82-yard drive for a 27-21 lead late in the third quarter. The key play before Hector's 6-yard score was a 38-yard completion at the Kansas City 7 to Al Toon, who had his third 100-yard day of the season. Nick Lowery kicked a 21-yard field goal for the Chiefs with 14:37 left in the game, but New York drove back to score on Hector's 1-yard run.

The Chiefs moved to 34-31 on a 1-yard run by Okoye with 5:22 left after a pass interference penalty on John Booty gave them a first down at the New York 1.

Troy Benson's first career interception late in the second quarter set that brought the Jets within 21-20 at halftime. Leahy had a 22-yard field goal in the second quarter.

Ryan passed two yards to Toon with 1:53 to play in the first half to bring the Jets within 21-17. Ryan and Toon set up the score with a 42-yard play, the longest pass against the Chiefs this season and the longest catch this year for Toon.

Stephone Paige had given Kansas City a 21-10 lead by beating cornerback James Hasty for the second time on a touchdown pass, catching a 33-yarder from DeBerg with 4:58 to play in the second quarter.

DeBerg hit Carlos Carson on a 40-yard scoring play and Paige on a 41-yarder in the first quarter. Mickey Shuler scored on a 42-yard pass and Leahy kicked a 33-yard field goal for the Jets in the opening period.

The game ended on a wild play after K.D. Dunn fielded a short kickoff. Twelve players eventually touched the ball as the Jets lateraled and fumbled several times before the ball finally was downed.

Sports Briefly

Stull visits Missouri campus

COLUMBIA, Mo. - Texas-El Paso football Coach Bob Stull, Missouri's No. 1 choice to replace Woody Widenhofer, saw the campus' athletic facilities and had a dinner date lined up with Missouri Chancellor Haskell Monroe.

Missouri and Stull have not had any contract negotiations yet, said Missouri Athletic Director Dick Tamburo, and university officials were waiting to see if Stull liked Mizzou.

Stull visited the athletic facilities Saturday and was scheduled to have dinner Sunday night with Monroe.

Missouri has interviewed at least three other candidates for the coaching position that was vacated when Widenhofer resigned under pressure at the end of the 1988 season.

Murray traded to Dodgers

BALTIMORE — The Baltimore Orioles traded first baseman Eddie Murray to the Los Angeles Dodgers Sunday for pitchers Ken Howell and Brian Holton and shortstop Juan Bell.

The team also named George "Birdie" Tebbetts major league and farm system scout, Gordon Goldsberry major league and free agent scout, and Gary Nickels Midwest scouting cordinator.

Schmidt re-signs with Phillies

ATLANTA - Mike Schmidt, the seventh-leading home-run hitter in baseball history, Sunday agreed on a one-year contract with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Schmidt will get $500,000 guaranteed next season, $1.65 million less than his 1988 salary. He has bonus opportunities that could raise his salary to $1.8 million if he plays regularly in

The 39-year-old baseman, in addition to $1.3 million in bonuses based on his health and performance, would get a $250,000 bonus if he is named the National League's Most Valuable Player.

Schmidt was limited to 107 games last season because of a torn rotator cuff in his left shoulder. He batted .249 with 12 homers and 62 RBI.

He made $2.15 million in 1988 and the Phillies donated an additional $100,000 to charity in his name.

Becker, Lendl advance

NEW YORK - Defending champion Ivan Lendl, angered and distracted by picture-taking fans, beat Stefan Edberg 6-3, 7-6 (7-4) Sunday to reach his ninth straight Masters tennis final.

Lendl will play Boris Becker for the championship of the season-ending tournament Monday night. Becker, playing his best on crucial points, ended the title hopes of upstart Jakob Hlasek 7-6 (7-2), 7-6 (7-3) in the second semifinal.

Lendl, seeking a record fourth consecutive Masters title, complained repeatedly about fans taking flash photographs during his match. Two people were ejected after ignoring warnings by chair umpire Paulo Pereira.

Allem wins $1 million

SUN CITY, South Africa - Fulton Allem, a South African that local sportsmen said should not have been invited to the Million Dollar Challenge, won golf's richest prize Sunday, pocketing $1 million.

"I do accept that out of the eight players that were here I didn't have the record that probably matched up to everybody else's," said the winner, who just completed his rookie year on the U.S. PGA Tour. "I truly am grateful that they did give me the invitation. I know next year there'll be no doubts.

Allem finished the four-day tournament with a 10-under-par

Cincinnati clinches playoff berth, 27-10 Greg Townsend returned an inter-

By The Associated Press

The Cincinnati Bengals moved into the playoffs and closer to the home-field edge throughout the AFC playoffs with a 27-10 victory over the San Diego Chargers on Sunday.

While the Bengals were clinching their first playoff spot in six years, the Buffalo Bills, the only other conference team already into the playoffs, were upset 10-5 by Tampa Bay. That left both the Bills and Bengals with 11-3 records. If the teams finish tied for the best record in the AFC, Cincinnati gets the advantage because it beat Buffalo last week. A victory next Sunday at Houston would give the Bengals the AFC Central title in Sam Wyche's fifth year as head coach. Elbert "Ickey" Woods ran for a career-high 141 yards and two touchdowns for the Bengals, setting a team record with 15 rushing touchdowns.

Boomer Esiason, the NFL's topranked passer, completed 10 of 19 passes for 178 yards and two touchdowns to complement Woods' running. San Diego is now 4-10.

In other games, it was Washington 19, Philadelphia 10; the New York Giants 44, Phoenix 7; Minnesota 45, Raiders 21, Denver 20; Kansas City 38, the New York Jets 34; Cleveland 24, Dallas 21; San Francisco 13, Atlanta 3; New England 13, Seattle 7; Indianapolis 31, Miami 28; Detroit 30, Green Bay 14 and Pittsburgh 37, Houston 34.

Tonight, Chicago is at the Los Angeles Rams.

Buccaneers 10, Bills 5 Vinny Testaverde, the league leader in interceptions, didn't commit a turnover for the first time this season and scored on a 4-yard run. The host Buccaneers were losers of seven of their last eight games. Buffalo lost its second straight after a seven-game winning streak.

Testaverde, the 1986 Heisman Trophy winner, has a NFL-high 31 interceptions.

Giants 44, Cardinals 7 Phil Simms, ignoring a sore shoulder that sidelined him last week, threw two touchdown passes to Stacy Robinson as New York moved to the top of the NFC East. The Giants, 9-5, can win the division by taking their final two regular-season games. Phoenix, 7-7 after losing its third in a row, has only an outside chance at a wild-card spot.

Redskins 20, Eagles 19 Washington, at 7-7 already elimi-New Orleans 3; the Los Angeles nated from the division race.

damaged Philadelphia's chances with a late rally. Chip Lohmiller's 44-yard field goal with one second remaining capped the comeback after the Redskins trailed 19-10 in the fourth quarter.

Super Bowl hero Doug Williams, who left the game earlier with a bruised shoulder, returned in the third quarter and finished with 18 completions in 30 attempts for 206 yards. The Eagles are 8-6.

Vikings 45, Saints 3 Minnesota's stingy defense turned offensive, too, as Carl Lee and Jesse Solomon returned interceptions for touchdowns. The Vikings extended their string of not allowing a touchdown to 17 quarters in winning their fifth straight game - Minnesota has outscored its last four opponents 123-9 and its last five 167-26.

The Vikings, 10-4, reached double figures in victories for the first time since 1976. They need one victory in their last two games to qualify for the New Orleans, 9-5, lost its second

Saints fell into a tie with San Francisco for first place in the NFC West. Raiders 21, Broncos 20 The Raiders' win threw the AFC West into a three-way tie at 7-7. Denver and Seattle also have that record.

straight and fourth in six games. The ception of a pass by John Elway 86 yards for a touchdown and sacked the Denver quarterback twice. Townsend also recovered a fumble for a touchdown last week at Seattle. Browns 24, Cowboys 21

At Cleveland, the Browns sent Dallas to a team-record 12th defeat this season and 10th in a row. Bernie Kosar passed for 308 yards and three touchdowns, including two less than two minutes apart in the fourth quarter.

With Dallas ahead 14-10, Kosar threw a 14-yard touchdown to Herman Fontenot. Kosar completed 19 of 27 passes, offsetting Herschel Walker's 134 yards on 25 carries for the Cowboys.

49ers 13, Falcons 3 San Francisco, which lost to Atlanta earlier this year, had a rough time with the Falcons again. But Joe Montana threw for a pair of touchdowns and Roger Craig set a team single-season rushing record. Craig ran for 103 yards to give him 1,336 for the year.

San Francisco, 9-5, has won three straight and can win the NFC West by taking its final two games. The defense held the Falcons to 43 rushing yards, well below their average of 138 per game.

Wide open

Houssein Zorkot, 7, reaches for a ball thrown by Niezam Kamar, 6, Sunday afternoon at Jardine Terrace Apartments.

ClassAds 532-6555

One day: 15 words or fewer, $2.50, 20 cents per word over 15; Two consecutive dates: 15 words or fewer, $3.50, 25 cents per word over 15; Three cons

CLASSIFIED RATES

tive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 cents per word over 15; Four consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.75, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $5.00, 40 cents per word over 15.

cents per word over 15.

Classifieds are payable in advance unless client has an established account with Student Publications. Deadline is noon the day before publication; noon FRIDAY for Monday's paper.

Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the advertiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not after the value of the ad.

Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzle 103 or by calling 532-6555.

Display Classified Rates
One day: $5.20 per inch; Three consecutive days: $5.00 per inch; Five consecutive days: $4.80 per inch; Ten consecutive days: $4.80 per inch (Deadline is 4:30 p.m. two days before publication.)
Classified advertising is available only to those who do not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion,

Announcements

ALL YOUR Mary Kay needs -skincare -glamor -na -gifts for all seasons. Floris Taylor, 539-2070. PARTY GAS (helium)... you fill... we fill... our balloons. your balloons. 1231 Westloop, 539-4038.

RIDE THE K-STATE UNION Express!!

WANTED— 100 overweight people to try herbal weight control program. No drugs, no exercise. Doctor recommended. 100% guaranteed. 776-5114.

Keystone, Copper A Basin, Breckenridge

Condos Available During Christmas sleeps 4-6

539-5269

KSU Astronomy Club JUPITER JUBILEE Cardwell Lobby

Tuesday, Dec. 6, 7:30-11

Enroll for Spring Semester 1989 Advertising Production Internship to earn credit. Gain the experience necessary for a PAID parttime position on staff the following semester. Must have instructor's position. Come to Kedzie 113 immediately for more information.

SPRING BREAK '09 Reservations Available Now

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, TX from $149* STEAMBOAT, CO from $93* Shadow Run/Overlook

DAYTONA BEACH, FL from $118* Texan Motel MUSTANG ISLAND, TX from $136* Port Royal Condos

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, SC from $107* Hilton Head Beach Condos Don't Wait Until It's Too Late!

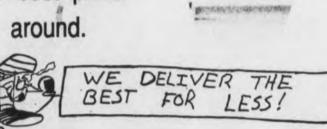

(Continued on page 11)

Falsettos

The best pizza just got better! Falsetto's Pizza is now honoring all local competitor's coupons.

Call now for the best pizza around.

1127 Moro in Aggieville

open till 2 a.m. nightly

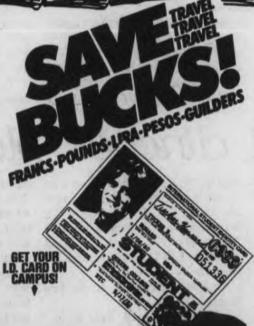

Steve Miller 11:00 Carele Reed 12:00 'checkcashing lady' 'KSU Ambassadors' Trey Lubbers

Tues., Dec 6

Wed., Dec 7 Thurs., Dec 8 Mike Valentine 11:00 Todd Dugan 11am Kete Perkins 12:00

11:00-1:00 Catate union Cost is only $10 and it's good through December 1989! Save on airfare, tickets, hotels, and lots more!

discounts on travel, cultural events, accomodations, and more! -Get it today!

k-state union

ART RENTAL RETURNS

December 6-7 K-State Union Forum Hall Lobby 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

bring 'em back or we'll come a lookin'

SANTA SUIT RENTAL

Bring joy and Christmas spirit to friends and family this season. Rent a Santa Suit from the Activities Center.

The cost, only $10 for one day.

Call 532-6571 Monday-Friday 9 a.m.-4 p.m. for reservations!

November 28 through December 23

Prepaid ads only. Not valid with any other offer.

Deadline: noon one day prior to publication. Offer expires noon Dec. 8, 1988.

2 Apartments—Furnished

AGGIEVILLE NICE one-bedroom in complex, $250, lease, deposit, no pets. 539-3928.

AVAILABLE JANUARY. Convenient locations, apart-ments and mobile homes. Very reasonable rent. No pets. 537-8389, 776-8381. .CLEAN, SPACIOUS, very nice two-bedroom apartment, close to campus. Available for sublease. Call 539-9599.

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM, $230 plus utilities, Jan. 1. 776-4805.

CLEAN, SPACIOUS, very nice two-bedroom apart-ment, close to campus. Available for sublease. Call 539-9599.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM apartment. Water, trash, two-thirds gas paid. Laundry tacilities. Nice for graduate student or couple. $260. Available Dec. 15 or Jan. 1, 539-2482 after 4p.m.

TWO-BEDROOM, DISHWASHER, air conditioning, $420' month. Close to campus and Aggieville, 920 Moro. Str-month sublease beginning Jan. 1. Call 537-0372 or 537-2919.

TWO-BEDROOM, CARPETED, Jan. 1 occupancy, $260 plus utilities. 539-8401. NICE ONE-BEDROOM basement, carpeted, $200 plus

NICE TWO-REDROOM basement, carpeted, $300 bills

NOW IS the time to rent for next semester. One-, two- or three-bedroom apartments. Nice, close to campus. Not in complex. Low utilities. No pets. Call

ONE-BEDROOM FURNISHED in 12-unit complex two blocks west of campus. Available immediately. 539-7811 or 1-456-8297.

SPRING SEMESTER in HORIZON III

Half block from campus, 2 bedrooms, exceptional $400 January 1 occupancy 539-8401

NICE ONE-BEDROOM apartment across from Putnam Hall, off-street parking, low utilities, water, trash paid. $210/ month. Call 776-0736.

SUNSET APARTMENTS

Furn. Apts.: Second semester availability.

1 br., gas heat, no pets. $250

539-5051 or 776-3804

BY RICHARD BRONDFOOT

"WHY JEFF THINKS HE'S DOOMED"

LIE-"WHY HE THINKS THAT EVERY TIME SOMETHING GOOD HAPPENS TO HIM...SOMETHING BAD MUST NECESSARILY FOLLOW IT.)

LARGE TWO-BEDROOM. $260 plus utilities, Jan. 1.

PREFER MARRIED couple or single adult for quiet, well-maintained one and two bedroom apartments. Assorted features: laundry, patio, pati heat, queensized bed, carport and more. $220, $275, $335. One year lease. No smoking, pets, waterbeds. $37-9686 for application.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM efficiency. $175 plus utilities,

ONE-BEDROOM, CARPETED, no pets, $220 plus

ONE-BEDROOM FURNISHED or unfurnished. Sub-lease, central air, no pets. 537-4944 or leave

UNFURNISHED OR turnished two-bedroom apartment, close to campus and park. Available second semester. 776-6338.

VERY NICE one-bedroom apartment three blocks from campus. Sublease $230. Water, trash, gas paid. 537-4515.

3 Apartments—Unfurnished

AVAILABLE SECOND semester. Less than one block from campus, two bedrooms, one full bath. Low utilities. Clean and nice. Call 776-3788 or 776-1222.

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM, campus location, coin-operated washer and dryer. No pets, available January. $265 plus deposit. 539-1465.

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM basement across from City Park. Good carpet. Washer/ dryer included. No pets. Lease. $260. 776-0884 or 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM, PRIVATE bath, ground floor at 814 Leavenworth. $185 plus utilities, lease and deposit.

539-3672, evenings. THREE-BEDROOM APARTMENT available now. Main floor of a house. Living room, dining room, kitchen, washer and appliances. $400 plus utilities. Sixmonth lease possible. 776-8393.

THREE-BEDROOM AVAILABLE at 516 N. 14 St. $480,

TWO-BEDROOM, ONE and one-half bath, dishwashe 926 Bluemont, $360/ month. Jan. 1- June 1, lease available. 537-7785.

TWO-BEDROOM, PARTLY furnished, air condition apartment, two blocks southwest of high school. Off-street parking. Trash and water paid. Available Jan. 1. $315. 539-5921.

SECOND SEMESTER LEASE?

One and two bedroom apartments close to campus. priced from $250-$400.

2700 Amherst (913) 776-3804

WILDCAT INNS

Unfurn. Apts.:

Second semester vacancies in four different sites.

1 br., gas heat, no pets. $295-310

776-3804

VERY NICE one-bedroom basement apartment, three blocks west of campus. Phone 539-5267.

4 Automobiles for Sale

1977 DATSUN B210. Runs good, $750 or best offer Carol 776-5012. 10a.m.- 5p.m. weekdays

1978 CUTLASS Supreme, 70,000 miles, cruise contr power steering, air conditioning, stereo. Must selli $900, 537-0560.

1978 FORD Truck, engine overhauled, rurs good. Air conditioning, power steering, brakes. Asking $2,000. 537-6830.

FOR SALE: 1971 BMW 2002. Call 539-3153.

1978 MONTE Carlo, maroon, great body, no rust, 12K on new V-8 engine, auto with poel rear end, duals, power steering, power brakes, air, cruise, guages, tach, digital clock, awesome stereo/ tape deck, sharp velour interior. Four Crager SS with steel radials. Sharp. Must see. 776-9787.

1980 TOYOTA Corolla. Only 69,500 miles. Immaculate, air, digital cassette, excellent. $2,195, best offer. 537-2396.

GREAT SCHOOL carl Good condition. Low mileage

MUST SELL: 81 K-relant, 73,000 miles, four-cylinder, station wagon, excellent condition. $1,500 negoti-able. 532-5654, or 776-9522 (after 5:30p.m.) ask

8 Computers

Bloom County

By Berke Breathed

Garfield

GEE, I CAN'T PECIPE WHETHER TO HAVE SOME PIE OR SOME CAKE

Peanuts

HAVEN'T YOU HEARD? THE SCHOOL BOARD HAS CANCELED YOUR CHRISTMAS PLAY ...

By Charles Schulz

COMMODORE AMIGA 1000 with digital/analog co monitor, extra memory, two drives and over $500 of software. $1,099. 776-9539 after 5p.m.

FOR SALE: Line printer ribbons- Black multistrike no. OM MS (4½ dozen), $1,25 each. Black nylon no. OM NY (15), $2.25 each. Call 532-6555 or come by Kedzle 103 to see.

9 Employment

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Reeders are advised to approach any such "employment opportunity" with ressonable caution.

AEROBIC INSTRUCTORS needed. Call for appoint-

ALUMNI OFFICE ASSISTANT Clerical assistant for membership and publications departments of the KSU Alumni Association. Will perform routine office duties, including on-line computer research, word processing, stuffing envelopes and filing. Twelve-plus hours a week. Contact Jeanine Lake at (913)

ATTENTION- HIRINGI Government jobs- your area. $17,840- $69,485. Call (602)838-8885, ext. J-1797.

encouraged to apply.

532-6260. Work-study students are

BUS DRIVER needed to start immediately for Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 11a.m.-noon, to drive children from U.S.D. 383 to child care center, Class B license required. Previous experience preferred. $3.75 an hour. Apply Nancy Bolsen, director, L-9 Jardine Terrace, Manhattan, KS. 539-1806. Equal Opportunity Employer

DAIRY SALES Counter, Call Hall 144. Hours available now; finals week; Dec. 19-23; Jan. 3-10; and spring '89 semester. Work study preferred. Apply in person to Kathleen, Monday through Friday, 1-

DO YOU like kids? I need a fun-loving, flexible person for childcare. Room, board, salary plus car provided We are very nice. Call Becky (415)328-6229.

EARLY CHILDHOOD lead teacher, before/ after kindergarten-age children. Twelve month position, Monday through Friday, Ba.m.- 4:30p.m. Beginning between Dec. 27 and Jan. 3. Requirements: Degree in ECE, Elementary Ed or related field and experience with young children. Benefits. Progressive, pleasant working environment. Please send cover letter, resume and three references to: Marsha Tannehill, Seven Dolors Child Care/ Pre-school, 728 Colorado, Manhattan, by Dec. 14.

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, Juniors: Train in the summer to become a Marine Corps Officer after graduation. Aviation available. Call collect

LOCAL FINANCIAL Institution seeking part-time mail-room clerk. Monday- Friday from 8- 10:30a.m. Need valid driver's license. If interested call Sue Carlson 537-0200. EOE.

MAJOR WHOLESALER seeking assistant manager for Kansas City location. Candidate must have a business degree and be a self-starter with good communication skills. Salary $23,000-$25,000. Remit resume to: Dave Gaul, P.O. Box 1138, Degree CO 82001. Denver, CO 80201.

MICROCOMPUTER PROGRAMMERS: You could be a part of a software development team that produces software that is marketed throughout the United States, while still in college. Kansas Careers is offering employment to students at all grade levels who are ambitious, creative and have good programming skills. Our programming team development of IBM PC, Apple II and MacIntosi microcomputer systems. Several languages are used, including "C," dBase III, 6502 and others. Programming at Kansas Careers enhances your college education while providing job experience, and excellent wages. Applications will be accepted at Fairchild Hall room 304 (532-6540) through Dec. 7, 1988. Kansas Careers and KSU are Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employers.

NANNIES NEEDED. New England area- good pay and benefits. One-year commitment. Call 537-0947.

NANNIES: WE are a fast growing, quality placemen firm. All families are screened and interviewed Good hornes, room and board, access to car, Salary starts $150/ week. No fee. Come join our Nannie Network! Call Nannie Network, inc., 1.800.1.5.NANNY

OVERSEAS JOBS, $900- $2,000 month. Summer year-round, all countries, all fields, free information. Write IJC, P.O. Box 52-KS02, Corona Del Mar, CA

PROGRAMMER POSITION available. The Kansas Cooperative Extension Service has openings for two student computer programmers. Work schedules can be arranged around class times. Applicants should be familiar with one of the following: Cobol, Fortran, or KSU mainframe systems opera-tions. For more information, contact Mary Knapp or Sherri Thompson, Computer Systems Office, room 211 Umberger. Phone: 532-7019. Applications are available from the above individuals, or at the Computer Science office. Applications will be accepted through Dec. 9, 1988.

PYRAMID PIZZA is now taking applications for delivery personnel. Please apply in person, 1130 Moro.

STUDENT CLERK to work daily, Monday through Friday, as well as summer and student recesses. Must have a daily three hour period of work time available. Must have typing skills, microcomputer knowledge helpful. Employment potential of two years given preference. Contact Jacque Meisner, room 23, Cardwell, by Wednesday, Dec. 6 by 5p.m.

THE CITY of Lansing will be accepting applications for the position of an intern in the Parks and Recreation Department until Dec. 15, 1988. This is a part-time, temporary position of approximately 20 hours a week during spring semester becoming a full-time position through the summer. This position pays $6/ hour with a possible adjustment for summer. This position will include some minor labor during the summer. Applicants should be an upperclassman (senior, graduate student) with a major in public administration, parks and recreation or a related field. To apply, send a cover letter, resume (with references) to: City Administrator, City of Lansing. 108 S. Main, Lansing, KS 66043. For additional information contact the City of Lansing. The City of Lansing is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full-and part-time help. Must be able to work some noon shifts. Apply in person.

WORK-STUDY ELIGIBLE student wanted for approxi-mately 10 hours per week starting Jan. 9, 1989. Duties include running errands, copyling, answering the phone and helping wak-ins. Please call Deb at 532-6432 before Dec. 9th.

121 COLLEGIAN Monday December 5 1988

12 Houses/Mobile Homes for Rent

TWO BEDROOM HOUSE on seven acres, large shed less than 15 minutes from campus. Available Jan. 1, $350/ month plus utilities. 537-2634, 6- 10p.m.

VERY LARGE house, three blocks west of campus Carpet, drapes, suitable for five. Phone 539-5267

13 Houses/Mobile Homes for Sale

1972 12x60, furnished/ unfurnished, new paint, central air, washer, dryer, waterbed, reasonable.

14 Lost and Found

ESCAPED: SIX- month- old black lab. 5416 College View, Quivera Area, 776-9492.

FOUND: WOMEN'S watch outside of Justin Hall. To claim, call 532-3098.

LOST: ONE ladies Armitron watch- silver band with gold edging. Lost on campus, Reward. Has persona value. Call 537-2399 -ask for Shelli.

15 Miscellaneous Merchandise

SENITON .

PERSONAL COMPUTERS

Authorized Warranty Service also servicing

· PC compatibles & printers

. Televisions & VCRs MIDWEST SERVICES

Manhattan 913-776-6650

DIET FOOD for sale due to quitting diet. Three weeks supplies, asking $75. Call 537-4861. GOVERNMENT SURPLUSII New G.I. overshoes, com bat boots and safety-toe boots, wool (blankets gloves, socks and mittens). Field jackets, over coats, carnoullage clothing. Also Carhart work-wear. Monday-Saturday 9a.m.- 5p.m. Open Sun-days III Christmas noon-4p.m. St. Marys Surplus

Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734 SKIS-FISCHER. Fire 160s, Look bindings. $60 or best

TYPEWRITER- RENTALS- Sales- Repairs. Good selection of used IBMs and Smith Coronas. Advanced Business Systems 713 N. 12th (Aggleville).

WOMEN'S TENNIS racquet, Like new, "Head," over-sized bow, 4¼ " handle. Reasonable. 539-3055

16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale

BICYCLE SALE, lay away for Christmas. Aggie Bike Station, Aggieville, (behind Hardee's).

17 Musical Instruments

MUST SELL: Lotus acoustic guitar. $130 negotiable. Call 532-3254 after 3p.m.

WASHBURN G-JUNIOR guitar and Washburn SX-12 amplifier. Excellent condition. 532-5381. 18 Personals

CARA, I hope that you have a great day. Happy

Birthdayl George. GIRL PLAYING racquetball alone on court 13 Wednes-day at 3p.m. Would you like to play a garne? If so meet me at 9p.m., court 13 Tuesday. Guy across in court 12.

TK. HAPPY 24 to the best. You mean the world to me. Love, Tambino.

19 Pets and Pet Supplies

FREE KITTENS to good home. Two black males, one black female, one black/ white female. Litter box trained. Five and one-half weeks old. 776-0635.

20 Professional Services

PREGNANT? BIRTHRIGHT can help. Free pregnancy test. Confidential. Call 537-9180, 103 S. Fourth St., Suite 25.

PROMPT ABORTION and contraceptive services in Lawrence. (913)841-5716.

21 Rentals

PRIME AGGIEVILLE location for lease, 600 square feet

STORE YOUR valuables over Christmas break. Aztec Storage, open seven days a week. Call 776-1111 for discount rate, or come by, 5004 Murray Road.

22 Resume/Typing Services

ABOUT ANYTHING typed, editing and transcription services, reasonable rates, by professional secret-ary. 539-5998 after 5p.m.

AVOID DISASTERI Hire a professionali Resurres designed for your profession. Typeset and laser printed. Graphics Plus, corner of Bluemont and N

Manhattan, Aggleville, 539-6027.

COMPLETE DATA processing services, term papers. theses and dissertating. Call 537-4146.

COMPLETE TYPING/ word processing: letter quality printer with Spell Check. 75c/ page. Call 537-8701.

COMPOSING RESUMES and letters is our specialty. We have been in business nine years and offer permanent computer storage. Contact the profes-sional staff regarding our full line of services. Resume Service, 343 Colorado Street. 537-7294.

PROCRASTINATORS AND those on the ball, for exper typing give us a call. 537-3166, message TYPING. FAST, accurate, guaranteed. 15 years experi ence. 537-2249. TYPING SERVICE; Professional and experienced secretary. Very reasonable rates. Pick-up and delivery available. Call 776-9736.

23 Roommate Wanted

FEMALE; NICE house near campus, own room, washe and dryer. $145/ month plus utilities. 537-8825. FEMALE- OWN room, two blocks from campus, onehalf rent and utilities. Call 776-2198.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share house, close to campus, furnished, washer/ dryer, many more extras $162.50/ month plus deposit. Call Renee

FEMALE ROOMMATE, 516 N. 14 St. Own room plus one-third utilities. 776-9262 keep trying.

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted. Own room, washer/ dryer. Near campus, $137.50 plus one-fourth utilities. Available Jan. 1st. Call after 5:30p.m. FEMALE ROOMMATE- Own room, low utilities, laundry in complex, close to campus, fun roomies. $145 a month. Call 539-6299.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share apartment. Half rent and half utilities. Own room. 537-7183. FEMALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartment near campus and park. 776-6338. FEMALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apart ment close to Aggieville. Washer/ dryer, $187.50 plus one-half utilities. Nice, must see. Available now or Jan. 1. 537-2016. FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted to share nice threebedroom house near campus. $150/ month, one third utilities. 776-5294.

FEMALE(S)- ONE: Own room, $187.50. Two: Share room, $125. Spaclous, clean, quiet duplex near City Park, 776-6800, anytime.

MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartment near campus. Washer/ dryer furnished. $125. 776-5855.

MALE ROOMMATE wanted. Own room half block to campus and Aggleville. $160/ month, one-third utilities. Call 776-1270.

bedroom. Cats allowed. Call Paula or Brenda, 776-5669. NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate, spacious two-bedroom. Walk to campus and Aggle-ville.$172.50/month. Available January 1, 537-2364 or 539-6585.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share furnished two-

NON-SMOKING female, to share brand new trailer, own room, washer/ dryer many extras. Three minutes from campus, $150/ month plus half utilities. Call 776-4937. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share two-bedroom apart ment near campus, $120 all utilities paid. 539-7678

after 5p.m. NON-SMOKING MALE: Own room across from Durland. Washer/ dryer, cable. $141.67/ month. Call 537-0765.

ONE/ TWO females wanted to share four-bedroom house. Only $180 monthly. Great living! Call 776-5010. OPEN-MINDED ROOMMATE needed for huge one and one-half bedroom apartment. $125 plus utilities 539-6355.

ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom house trailer. $100/ month, half utilities. Call Allen,

WANTED: MALE roommate, have own room. $145/month rent plus one-third utilities. Call 537-3799. 24 Situation Wanted

FAMILY WANTS college girl to live in for next semester, summer and fall. Board and room in exchange for duties. Write Box 1, c/o Collegian, Kedzie Hall KSU, Manhattan, KS 66506.

26 Sublease

COZY ONE-REDROOM apartment available immediately, convenient location, air conditioning, water and trash paid, $225/ month, 539-4152 after 5p.m.

FEMALE TWO blocks from campus, clean, spacious, efficiency, furnished or not. $140 all utilities paid. Available Dec. 15 or later. 539-6499. NON-SMOKING MALE needed for spring semester in very nice two-bedroom furnished apartment. Call

Bill or Lance, 776-0644. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share nice four-bedroom house one block from campus. $115/ month plus bills. Washer, dryer, parking provided. Available Jan. 1st. Leave message or call after 5p.m.

ONE MALE, two blocks from campus. Share apartment with two others, own bedroom, furnished, clean. $120/ month negotiable. Call 537-1502.

WALK TO campus! Sublease till May. One-bedroom apartment across from Durland. Clean and convenient Leave message, 537-8739.

28 Adoption

ADOPT: A Baby is our dream! We are blessed with a wonderful, happy marriage and financial success. Let us give your baby love, security and the best of everything. Legal. Expenses paid. Call Lynn and Martin collect: (212)362-6884.

29 Wedding Accessories

ACROSS 39 Auto gear 61 Sounds of 1 Color-41 They're used as 4 Ralph atomic Kramden's clocks vehicle 43 - Bravo 7 Vault 44 Greek 11 Seed coat

Merkel 14 "Othello" bad guy 15 Punjab (learn) 53 Illumined princess 16 It equals 1/1000

opher pie 22 Gratuity 24 Actor Timothy inch

18 Greek

17 One type

philosutensil 32 Spyri 33 Center (ineffi-

36 Remove the rind 37 Oldcient auto)

28 Kitchen

womanish Yesterday's answer 12-3

21 Stadium hesitation cheer 23 Advance, in cribbage 25 Row 26 Keats's

> 27 World's longest river 28 Swindle 29 Hawaiian windstorm creations

31 Sticky stuff 35 Sun. talk 38 Work unit 40 By way of 45 Nest of pheasants 47 Apple or pear 48 Lion's den 12-5

51 Actress Alicia horse

49 Newts 50 Sign of affection marble

VICZWU OQNOJM DQUOPUZ NUULQJ:

Saturday's Cryptoquip: WHAT A MESSY PERSON

MIGHT ALWAYS MINE: ONLY PIG IRON.

OPZ

WINTER BRIDES- Save money by having your wedding veil custom designed and made by Pearlace Creations. Write to P.O. Box 1984, Manhattan for

By Eugene Sheffer

Crossword

DOWN 1 Twist 2 Soviet 3 Historic ship contest 4 Loafer 13 Actress 46 Health 5 Distinct fruit? part 50 Get the 6 One type - of it dwarfs 55 Bread 8 Corn unit unit 56 Two-toed 9 Impolite sloth "The Raven of surgeon 57 Harem room 58 Anagram 12 Junior for time sports of bar

7 Elves or

Security 19 OPEC's concern Solution time: 26 mins. MAND MBARS MINADO NOTICE MANGE SNAC

30 Spring 42 Wise lawmaker

CRYPTOQUIP ZUMDICVCPW 0

Today's Cryptoquip clue: V equals B

MTCDL

MTOP.

100mmの日本の中では100mmであります。

ROTC

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

electrical engineering and Air Force ROTC cadet. He said plans were not made because everyone thought the program was canceled.

"We're having to really struggle to make up for that," he said. Eric Black, junior in electrical engineering, decided to drop the program and remain at K-State.

"I was on a scholarship. In order to keep the scholarship, I had to transfer to another school," he said. He decided to stay at K-State because he thought the engineering program was good and he did not want to move after being here for two years.

Black said he had already decided to leave ROTC when the Air Force reinstated the program. He chose not to rejoin.

Anderson said he is glad he stayed with the program and feels that some good things came out of the situation.

"It helped pull the cadets together," he said. Cadets are working hard at recruiting people, Anderson said.

"There is still the threat we might be shut down. It has given people motivation to work harder," he said.

Western Auto.

Your Total Automotive Headquarters!!

> *Complete line of Automotive Accessories and High Performance *Discount Auto Parts *Professional Installation Available

*Self-Service Gasoline *Convenient Store Hours *Fast Friendly Service

Western Auto-

Low Discount Prices Everyday of the week

Western Auto The Auto Supply Company

539-0535

Tuttle Creek Blvd. & Kimball Ave. Next to Dutch Maid

auditorium

Tulsa Ballet Theatre Roman Jasinski and Moscelyne Larkin, Artistic Directors in

The Nutcracker Saturday, December 10, 7:30 p.m. Sunday, December 11, 2:30 p.m.

Ring in the holiday season with the ballet that has enthralled audiences of all ages for nearly , 100 years. Thirty local children perform as mice, angels, rabbits, soldiers, and clowns in the Christmas classic that features ,shimmering scenery, dazzling costumes, and Tchalkovsky's everappealing music.

General Public: $14, 12, 10 - Senior Citizen: $12, 10, 8 Student / Child: $8, 7, 5

Charge tickets to Mastercard or VISA at (913) 532-6428, or come to the

A Mid-America Arts Alliance Program th the Kansas Arts Commission. Corpora support by the Kansas Farm Bureau.

Transportation for seniors ble through Kansas State Bank and the tan Arts Council. For information, call Marie Dellen al 537-4400. The same of the same couldn't believe that I was going through this major surgery by myself, and my family couldn't make it. So my family was the people here in Manhattan and my friends in Nebraska."

Student

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Marin said she received many cards, letters and flowers during her seven-week stay in the hospital some of them from people she did not

"Even though I have gone through so much, I was given so much," Marin said. "It's neat to know people care."

Marin carried nine hours while she was in the hospital, but she earned straight A's for the semester.

She was released in mid-September, and she was driving in a

Although she no longer has to walk with a cane, she sometimes feels slight pain in her leg and hip where the bones were removed, she

In the past year, Marin has gone

EREE Vistaburger (a $1.44 value)

with a minimum purchase of 8 gal. of gas at

720 N. Third Where else in Kansas can you get a Great deal like this? (checks with student ID accepted)

VISA CHINA

McCain uditorium

Samuel Ramey, Bass Thursday, December 8, 8:00 p.m.

Hear a rare concert by the former ·K-Stater who is the most recorded American bass in history. From the brute fury of Mephistopheles in Faust to the moving soliloquy of Billy Bigelow in: Carousel, Colby native Samuel Ramey can do it all. Numerous opera engage ments make Mr. Ramey's recitals exceptional events, eagerly anticipated He comes to Manhattan between soldout performances in Don Giovanni at Lyric Opera of Chicago.

'The most extraordinary bel canto basso of our time (and that of our fathers, if not our grandfathers, as well.)' —Fantare

. General Public: $15, 13, 10 Senior Citizens: $12, 10, 8 Students/Children: $10, 8, 5

Charge tickets to MasterCard or VISA at (913) 532-6428, or come to the box office between noon and 5 p.m. · weekdays.

This program is presented in part by the *! Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

war and the Transportation for seniors av through Kansas State Bank and the Election through four ear surgeries and was just relased from Stormont-Vail Regional Medical Center in Topeka Oct. 27 following a four-week stay. She ■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

had a hickman, which allows her to dard of living is still one of the highreceive antibiotics intravenously and est in the region but it has been will avoid the necessity of future reduced by inflation and devaluations since 1982.

Since 1984, the nation's income from oil was halved to an expected $7.1 billion this year, while foreign debt payments have continued at a rate of about $5 billion a year during Lusinchi's term. The debt stands at $33 billion.

The depressed economic climate helped lead to one of the most unenthusiastic campaigns in Venezuela's 30 years of democracy. Public rallies drew mainly the party faithful and few curiosity seekers, while many citizens did not want to be bothered.

Israel

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 and a Soviet consular delegation that has been in Tel Aviv since July 1987. Levine said on the radio that in his meeting with Shevardnadze, he told the Soviet leader "we would be very happy to have more or less normal relations. Normal is a very acceptable term in the Soviet Union and I took advantage of this opportunity to

The Soviet Union broke diplomatic ties with Israel during the 1967 Middle East War, but has gradually warmed relations over the last two years, with the exchange of consular delegations and a liberalization of Jewish emigration permits.

Army

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

The rebel leader, Col. Mohamed Ali Seineldin, was arrested, and the approximately 500 rebels he commanded began to lay down their weapons, the army said.

Soldiers immediately began to remove mines and fill in trenches made by the rebels to defend their positions at the seized Villa Martelli base on the outskirts of the city.

Alfonsin had wide support to quell the rebellion and pledged to "suffocate" it. But government troops repeatedly refused to attack or restrict the rebels' movements.

month, Marin said, even though her Hyundai Computers arm was in a sling for almost three Hyundai Computers Introduced to Kansas surgeries, put in her left ear.

DENVER (FSI). The Hyundai Corporation has selected Connecting Point Computer Centers as their exclusive authorized dealer in Lawrence and Manhattan, Kansas. This selection follows the signing of a major supply contract with the 180 store Connecting Point chain here last month.

Marin is in Manhattan and has returned to her job in the post-harvest documentation section of Farrell

Library, which was kept open for her

Marin also is working on her dissertation on the use of technology to help the hearing impaired. She plans to finish by 1990. When she receives her degree, Marin hopes to return to Venezuela, where she will be the only person with a Ph.D. in the field while she was in Topeka.

of earth science.

Hyundai, the $24 billion company known for its high quality, economical cars, has been a major producer of of microcomputers for the past several years.

Hyundai's Super 16TE line of PCs follows their automotive tradition of price/performance. Myles Schachter, Connecting Point President, said that he chose the Hyundai product line because of its great price, high speed and excellent software bundle. Each Hyundai, he said, is fast at 10 Mhz or twice as fast as the original PC; has a full 640K memory, 12" or 14" flat amber screen and a 101 keyboard.

The Electric Desk software included with every computer is a quality word processor, spreadsheet and database. The system also comes with Keyworks, a program to store keystrokes.

Dr. Rhonda Ross, the firm's Customer Support Manager, has found that the price has not compromised the construction of these powerful PCs. She states that the systems appear to be trouble free and highly compatible. She said this explains the manufacturer's 18 month warranty far in excess of the industry standard.

Hyundai Super 16TE

Due to the new Connecting Point-Hyundai contract, the Manhattan and Lawrence stores are introducing these PCs at more than 20% off already competitive compatible prices with training included with every purchase. Already, United Telephone Midwest Group, Menninger's Foundation and PARS Service has selected Connecting Point to provide Hyundai PCs to their employees.

Manhattan.

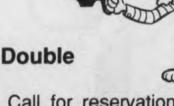

1501 Tuttle Creek Boulevard Manhattan, Kansas 66502

STUDENT SPECIAL

Peace and Quiet to study or just get away. $13 Single

On availability basis only. Student I.D. Required.

$18 Double Day Rate 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. — $10

Call for reservations, 539-5391.

OYALE THE FINAL'S

618 N. MANHATTAN SUN.-THURS, 7 a.m.-1 a.m. FRI. & SAT. 7 a.m.-2 a.m. AGGIEVILLI

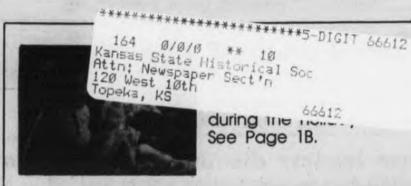

Comeback Try

After two consecutive losses, the Lady Cats will try to get on track as they play Central Missouri State tonight at 7:30 in Bramlage Coliseum. See Page 7A.

Weather

Sunny today with the high in the upper 50s, mostly clear tonight, low in the mid 20s. Partly cloudy and cooler Wednesday, high in the mid 40s.

during The 66612 See Page 1B.

Tuesday

December 6, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 72

Kansas State collegian

Gorbachev to meet with Reagan, Bush

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW - A year after concluding an arms treaty with the United States, Mikhail S. Gorbachev is heading for a meeting with President Reagan and President-elect George Bush to help set the pace for future arms talks.

During the Soviet president's trip, which begins today, he will address the United Nations and visit Cuba and Britain, trying to polish his image as a statesman and dispel the image of the Soviet Union as an

It was Gorbachev's luncheon meeting in New York with Reagan and Bush, planned for Wednesday, that the official media emphasized in its reports Monday.

Tass called the meeting "an extraordinary event" because superpower relations are a determining factor for "the very essence of the world process."

"It is perfectly natural that the new administration will need some time to get its bearings in the complexity of domestic and international problems. But it is very important not to drag out this period," Tass said.

"Marking time in international affairs, especially in the domain of arms limitation and reduction, is tantamount not only to loss of time, but to backsliding," it said.

On Dec. 8, 1987, Gorbachev and Reagan signed an agreement to eliminate their medium- and shorterrange nuclear missiles.

But progress in talks to cut the two sides' arsenals of strategic weapons slowed to a crawl because of the U.S. election campaign and problems including continued differences over Reagan's "Star Wars" program for a space-based defense against nuclear

The government newspaper Izvestia, in a front-page article from New York on Monday, said the U.S. administration was preparing intensively for the meeting with Gorbachev.

"There is a basis to suppose that the administration will not only listen, but propose something in return," the paper said.

Gorbachev has said he is seeking improved relations with the West in order to free up resources to improve the standard of living of Soviet

One Western analyst who spoke on the condition of anonymity said the Soviet Union "doesn't have the resources to sustain the investment it's been making in foreign aid and defense."

Despite Gorbachev's drive for "perestroika," or restructuring, Soviet citizens have seen no improvement in the quality or quantity of food and consumer goods, and there is a pervasive feeling that things actually have worsened.

A survey by a Moscow sociological research institute earlier this fall found that only 2 percent of workers interviewed thought their lives had improved significantly under Gorbachev.

Soviet sources said the presssure to devote more resources to domestic needs means Gorbachev will try to end the "enemy image." He also will try to convince Fidel Castro in Cuba that it is time to de-emphasize the revolutionary movement in Latin Izvestia, in an apparent effort to make the point about the new image Gorbachev is trying to project, pointedly reminded readers Monday of an episode in which former leader Nikita S. Khrushchev pounded his shoe on a table at the United Nations in 1960.

Without naming Khrushchev, the paper said many still recall "how our leader looked then in the hall of the General Assembly, how he jumped up from his place, trying to interrupt speakers he didn't like, pounded his fist on the table (and not only his

Roses peddled

By Mark Rader Collegian Reporter

Students patronizing Manhattan's bars on the weekend may be familiar with Mary Helen Robles, if not by name, by occupation - the rose lady.

For the past four to five months, Robles has been selling roses in Manhattan bars. She said she had heard of the idea and knew of bars in Kansas City where roses are sold.

Robles said she decided to go to area bars to see if they would be receptive to her temporarily selling roses on the weekends for extra spending money.

Robles works The Ranch Saloon, Bushwackers, Brothers and the Blue River Pub.

At first, most of the bar owners were willing to let Robles come in about every other week, she said. Customers requested that she sell roses more often, and now she sells roses every weekend night.

Robles usually starts at The Ranch Saloon with four to five dozen roses and works her way from bar to bar until she has sold them, she said.

Bob Dieball, owner of The Ranch Saloon, said if he had it to do over, he would not allow Robles to sell flowers.

"I'd sell them myself if I had the chance again," Dieball said.

Customers seemed receptive to the idea of Robles selling roses in the bar, he said. It also gives patrons a chance to buy a flower for a date.

The business is fun and challenging, Robles said, because she has established a rapport with the own-

■ See ROSES, Page 10

Mary Helen Robles, Manhattan, is also known as the rose lady to many students who patronize Manhattan's bars on the weekends. Robles started selling roses four to five months ago, for extra money.

House fire causes $3,750 damage

By The Collegian Staff

Firefighters extinguished a fire shortly before 7 p.m. Monday in the living room of a house at 321 Kearney St., said Battalion Chief Steve Burnett of the Manhattan Fire

The fire was discovered by a resident of the house, Shawn Stuteville, sophomore in agricultural education.

Burnett said the fire was reported by Stuteville at 6:48 p.m.

There were no reports of injuries to residents or firefighters, Burnett

A laundry basket resting on a floor furnace was the cause of the fire, Burnett said. When the floor furnace came on, it ignited the basket or the clothes in the basket.

"It's hard to tell which was first.

the basket or clothes," Burnett said. After igniting the basket, the fire spread to a couch which was beside the floor furnace.

Burnett estimated the damage caused by the fire at about $3,750 to the structure and contents. Fire damage was confined to the couch, carpeting, basket and clothes. Smoke damage was spread throughout the Water damage was limited to the living room where the couch was, he

"We were able to get it under control within two to three minutes of arrival," Burnett said.

Two pumpers were called to the scene and 15 firefighters participated in extinguishing the fire. The last truck returned to the station at 8:12 p.m., he said.

By The Collegian Staff

Two males robbed the Dutch Maid Super Market at 1522 Poyntz Ave. of an undetermined amount of money at about 10 p.m. Sunday, said Lt. Allen Raynor of the Riley County Police

No one was injured in the armed robbery, Raynor said.

The RCPD did not release a description of the suspects and did not describe the type of weapon used in the robbery. Raynor said no weapon was displayed during the robbery, but the "implication of a wea-

Super market robbed by two armed males pon" was used.

Raynor said the suspects fled on foot across the parking lot on the east side of the store. The value of the checks and cash taken in the robbery did not exceed

Rob Hayes, store manager, said changes would be made in security arrangements at the business because of the robbery.

At the time the robbery occurred, the two store employees present had pun placing money from the cash isters into the safe, he said.

See ROBBERY, Page 10

Bush will have to come up with even sharper spending cuts if he is to keep to his pledge of reducing the budget begun placing money from the cash registers into the safe, he said.

PTL founder faces charges

By The Associated Press

CHARLOTTE, N.C. - PTL founder Jim Bakker, forced to quit his multimillion-dollar television ministry after admitting a sexual encounter with a church secretary, was indicted Monday along with three former aides on charges of fraud and tax evasion.

A federal grand jury charged Bak- now like the water's clearing up." ker, 48, and former aide Richard Dortch, 57, in a 24-count indictment with mail fraud, wire fraud and conspiring to defraud the public through the sale of lifetime partnerships in the ministry's Heritage Village theme park in Fort Mill, S.C., south of Charlotte.

If convicted, they could face up to five years in prison and $250,000 fines on each count.

Bakker's wife, Tammy, also a target of the grand jury, was not indicted.

At Jim and Tammy Ministries, the Bakkers' new organization's offices south of Charlotte, Bakker's attorneys Jim Toms and Ryan Hovis said Bakker was trying to deal with the indictments and would not have a statement for several days. "Certainly there's a degree of discouragement or regret that criminal charges were brought against Mr. Bakker," Toms said. "But he's glad to know what he's facing, so he can prepare his defense."

Hovis added, "We've been fishing in a muddy pond up till now. It looks

Toms said he and Hovis spent time Monday evening reviewing the indictments with Bakker and his

Toms said it would take several days before Bakker would be ready to face reporters. "He needs time to meet with his friends and his lawyers to reflect on this," Toms said. "Mr. Bakker wants to be very cautious about what he says."

A second, 11-count indictment charged David Taggart and his brother, James, with tax evasion and conspiracy to impede the Internal Revenue Service in the collection of taxes. David Taggart is former PTL vice president and special assistant to

■ See BAKKER, Page 10

Economists: Bush to face recession

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Presidentelect George Bush will be forced to deal with a dramatic slowdown in economic activity next year that will make his job of deficit reduction even tougher, the nation's top business economists predicted Monday.

The National Association of Business Economists said a survey of 200 of its members found them pessimistic about growth prospects because of a belief that inflationary pressures will mean higher interest rates and thus lower consumer demand for cars, houses and other big-ticket

An overwhelming majority of the economists, 88 percent, predicted that Bush would have to deal with a recession in his first two years in office; 40 percent forecast that the country would be in a downturn by this time next year.

The outlook is far more pessimistic than the official forecast upon which the Reagan administration is basing its final budget request to Congress. That assessment is calling for much faster growth, lower interest rates and falling inflation next

If the business economists prove to be more accurate, it will mean deficit without higher taxes.

Jay Woodworth, senior economist at Bankers Trust Co. of New York and president of the association, said the business economists believed Bush should make reducing the deficit his No. 1 priority.

A credible, multi-year deficit-reduction plan "would remove one major risk overhanging the financial markets, threatening to send the dollar lower and interest rates far, far higher," Woodworth said at a briefing for reporters.

Many of the economists surveyed were skeptical of Bush's "flexible freeze" to cut the deficit by simply holding overall spending growth to the level of inflation.

The overwhelming majority said a credible deficit-cutting package will have to include both spending cuts and revenue hikes, something Bush has vowed to avoid.

Woodworth said the last half of 1989 and the first six months of 1990 represented the period of greatest danger for a recession.

The Reagan administration, using far more optimistic economic assumptions, is projecting a federal deficit of $135 billion in the fiscal year that begins next October. That means the administration will have to propose $35 billion in deficit cuts in the budget it sends to Congress on

Jan. 9 to meet the deficit target of See BUSH, Page 10

BRIEFLY

* ASSOCIATED PRESS

BRIEFLY ACROSS NATION

House leaders discuss ethics

WASHINGTON - Rep. Robert H. Michel, re-elected House Republican leader Monday, decried the low ethical quality of the House and called on Democrats to join in an effort to reform ethics standards and election campaign practices and limit outside speaking fees.

"The record of (ethics) enforcement in this House is a national disgrace," the Illinois Republican said as House members met in separate party caucuses to choose leaders for the 101st Congress. Speaker Jim Wright, D-Texas, unanimously selected by the 260-member Democratic bloc for his second two-year term as the top House officer, disagreed with Michel's assessment, but offered to discuss the issues with him.

"For the most part, members of the House ... are decent, responsible and ethical people," said Wright, whose personal finances and possible divulging of government secrets are under investigation by the House ethics committee. He has denied any wrongdoing.

Fugitive scientist arrested

PHOENIX - A California scientist who vanished more than 18 months ago, raising federal officials' fears because of his knowledge of the top-secret research laboratory where he worked, was arrested here Monday on federal charges.

An FBI agent, who declined to give his name, confirmed the arrest of chemist Ronald K. Stump but refused to give further Stump, who lived on a houseboat in the Sacramento River delta, had worked at the Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory in Livermore, Calif., for more than 25 years before he disappeared in April 1987.

Officials said he had access to the laboratory's top-secret Tritium Facility and other national clearances. Tritium is a radioactive form of hydrogen used in some forms of nuclear bombs.

Stump told Lawrence Livermore officials he suspected that he had cancer and asked for extended sick leave. However, the government has charged Stump with fraud over his alleged role in the laboratory's purchase of a $250,000 piece of equipment that malfunctioned.

Tribe trys to reclaim land

DENVER - A federal appeals court in Denver on Monday rejected a claim by the Shawnee Tribe to about 12 acres of Johnson County, Kan., land granted to a mission society in a treaty signed in 1854 and now owned by the state.

The Absentee Shawnee Tribe of Indians of Oklahoma sought title to the 11.97 acres of land now known as the Shawnee Mission State Park from the state of Kansas, which obtained it through a patent issued to the Rev. Thomas Johnson by the U.S. government in 1865.

The ruling by the 10th Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals decided that the patent, under an statute in effect from 1836 to 1976, was good even though Johnson had died before it was issued, a fact which normally would have invalidated the patent.

The question before the court was whether the lands were "public lands," and so affected by the statute.

The land was part of an 1825 treaty that granted 1.6 million acres of what now is the state of Kansas to the Indians.

BRIEFLY THE REGION

Investigators to arrive in K.C.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - Investigators from the U.S. Fire Administration will arrive in Kansas City this week to begin reconstructing the explosion that killed six firefighters last Tuesday, officials said Monday.

Clyde A. Bragdon Jr., the agency's administator, said at a news conference in Washington, D.C., that two investigators would be sent to the city Wednesday to determine why the explosion happened.

A report will be submitted to Congress sometime after the first of the year, he said. Congress also will conduct a hearing-

Republican Rep. Jan Meyers of Overland Park called for the hearing at the same news conference Monday, saying that the explosion showed the need for a wider look at the storage and handling of hazardous materials.

The U.S. Fire Administration is an arm of the Federal Emergency Management Agency. It is responsible for coordinating and conducting the federal government's response to national fire problems.

Bragdon and leaders of firefighting organizations said that preliminary indications suggested that "somewhere along the line, the system failed."

The first trailer that exploded contained 20,500 pounds of ammonium nitrate mixed with diesel fuel and pink dye. The second trailer had 30,000 pounds of the mix.

State crime rate decreases

TOPEKA - The number of reported crimes decreased by 1.5 percent in Kansas during the first nine months of 1988, Kansas Bureau of Investigation Director Dave Johnson announced Monday.

A 25 percent drop in the number of murders between the two years led the decline, while rapes were down 9 percent, thefts off 5 percent, motor vehicle thefts down 4 percent and aggravated assaults down .5 of 1 percent. Burglaries showed a 5.4 percent increase, while robberies were up .6 of 1 percent.

Overall, Johnson reported that there were 88,671 crimes reported in Kansas the first three quarters of this year, January through September, compared to 89,984 in the same nine-month period of 1987.

The statistics are compiled by the KBI from reports sent to it by about 300 law enforcement agencies in the state. Murders have declined from 80 to 60 from 1987 to 1988, while reported rapes dropped from 624 to 568, thefts were down from 50,938 to 48,405 and vehicle thefts were off from 4,526 to 4,346. Burglaries were up from 27,788 to 29,279, while robberies rose by eight to 1,469.

Oil, gas representatives meet

OVERLAND PARK - Oil and gas representatives called Monday for greater U.S. participation in OPEC discussions to help stabilize the world's fluctuating oil market.

'In general, the U.S. has ignored OPEC except in the sense that bombastic statements have been made by various politicians," Alaska Gov. Steve Cowper, chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, said at the group's winter meeting in suburban Kansas City.

The commission is made up of the nation's 29 leading oil and gas producing states.

BULLETIN FOR CAMPUS

Campus organizations are encouraged to use Campus Bulletin. All announcements AND DRIVING will meet at 8:30 p.m. in Goodnow Stereo Room. must be submitted by 11 a.m. one day prior to publication. Announcements for Monday's KSU ASTRONOMY CLUB will meet at 8 bulletin must be in by 11 a.m. Friday. Howevp.m. in Cardwell lobby. er, publication is determined by the amount of space available on a first-come, first-serve basis and is not ensured. Information forms are available on the shelf outside Kedzie 118. Forms should be left in the box on the shelf after being filled out. All submissions must be signed and are subject to verification. Questions should be directed to the Collegian's campus editors in Kedzie 116.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

CAREER PLANNING AND PLACE-

MENT offers services to students, including career counseling, letter and resume preparation guidance, a career library, job opportunity bulletins, credential services and more. The GRADUATING SENIORS should report future plans to the Career Planning and Place-ment Center in Holtz Hall. Seniors who are not registered can pick up forms before leaving

TODAY

ASSOCIATION OF ADULTS

RETURNING TO SCHOOL will meet at 11:30 a.m. in Union Stateroom 3.

campus.

center is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

DEPARTMENT OF CLOTHING, TEX-TILES AND INTERIOR DESIGN will meet at 4:30 p.m. in Justin 326.

STUDENT DIETETIC ASSOCIATION will meet at 7 p.m. in Justin 150.

WEDNESDAY

ASSOCIATION OF ADULTS RETURNING TO SCHOOL will meet at 11:30 a.m. in Union Stateroom 3.

KSNEA CHRISTMAS PARTY will meet at 3:30 p.m. in Bluemont 217.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. at Espresso Royale.

TAU BETA PI will meet at 4 p.m. in the Union Big 8 room.

PUERTO RICAN STUDENT ORGANI-ZATION will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 206.

SUNDAY

KSU ASTRONOMY CLUB will meet at 7 p.m. in Cardwell 119.

K-STATE POLICE

Sunday

A report was filed regarding the theft of a license tag from a car parked near Anderson Hall. Loss was $40.

Monday

- A faculty/staff parking permit was reported stolen from a vehicle parked off campus. ■ A 1981 blue Oldsmobile was
- reported disabled in lot A-14. A stray mixed-breed male dog abled in lot D-1.

was transported to the Veterinary Medicine Center.

A two-vehicle, non-injury accident occurred north of Fairchild Hall. Damage was estimated at less than $500.

A wheel lock was placed on a bronze Honda parked in a reserve stall in lot A-5.

A two-vehicle, non-injury accident was reported to have occurred in lot A-29. Damage was less than $500.

A red Volvo was reported dis-

BRIEFLY A CAMPUS

U-LearN initiates holiday line

University Enhancement and Resource Network, the campus information service in Leasure Hall, has begun the Holiday Hotline, which will offer information about any holiday subject, including international customs, religious observances, Christmas recipes, and special holiday events and rituals.

U-LearN also has a Gift Information Finders Telenetwork, which will provide specific information about any gift that can be purchased in the Manhattan area.

The services are available from 2 to 4 p.m. Wednesday through Friday by dialing 532-6442.

776-5577 776-5577 PIZZA SHUTTLE "NO COUPON SPECIALS"

FAST N FREE DELIVERY

·Appearing this Week.

Dr. Gonzo

The Doc of Comedy Rock is a favorite. You may have seen him on Star Search or Cable TV. He has toured with the likes of Hewey Lewis, Doobie Brothers & Star Ship. A real crowd pleaser. Don't miss the laughs!

(reservations are recommended but not neccessary)

Grill Special-Steak & Shrimp $3.95 (5 to 9) Club 539-9727 531 N. Manhattan Office 539-4321

LARGE PIZZA ONLY 5 with one topping

in of free home delivery Agish this coupon offer good through Oct. 31

"premium pizza at a cardboard pizza price" 523 South 17th 537-1484

TONIGHT Pool tournament at 8 p.m. $1 Bottles—$1 Tonics

1800 Claflin

776-4111

WE'RE PAYING CASH FOR YOUR BOOKS NOW

SELL YOUR BOOKS AT VARNEY'S

(regardless of where you bought them) AND GET YOUR

YELLOW TOKEN PLUS A COUPON GOOD FOR 20% OFF K-STATE SPORTSWEAR

Get your yellow token, which is good for 10% off any non textbook items, when you sell your books during dead week or final week. You decide what the token is worth by the amount you purchase. THE MORE YOU BUY THE MORE YOU SAVE! You can use the token whenever you want. Use it for Christmas purchases or use it next semester.

BUY BACK SCHEDULE Dead Week

Final Week 9 a.m.-9 p.m. 8-30 a.m.-9 p.m. (except Sunday 12-5 p.m. Mon.-Tues.-Wed.-Thurs.

By Scott Berg

Collegian Reporter

Clinic in the Veterinary Medicine

Center and the Northern Flint

Hills Audubon Society are trying to establish a wildlife rehabilita-

There is a need for a place where wildlife and birds of prey can strengthen themselves, preparing for their return to the wild.

said Terry Campbell, assistant professor of surgery and

The animals need to have a non-stressful place to recover, he said. Stress is caused by being in

Some animals, such as the golden eagle, are more susceptible to stress than others, he said. This causes them to contract diseases easier than they would otherwise.

ground zero" and needs to establish a non-profit organization,

Campbell said. Committees need to be started to secure land for the center, find volunteer caretakers and raise funds.

The group is "starting from unnatural surroundings.

tion center near Manhattan.

Employees of the Wildlife

Organizations want rehabilitation unit

getting wildlife biology students to help with it," said John Zimmerman, professor of ornithology for after the intensive care treatment is over and they are still recovering," Campbell said. "The center will also care for orphaned birds and juvenile ones that got after care for my patients," he

No large rehabilitation center exists in Kansas, because the Prairie Raptor Project in Salina closed, Campbell said. There is a small center in Lawrence, but it can't handle large numbers of

No equipment will be used from the center in Salina. The cages were old and were destroyed, he said. Medium-size cages will cost between $1,200 to $1,500 per cage and twice that for

A center could be set up in many areas around Tuttle Creek

Dam and Reservoir, said Paul

Weidhaas, park ranger for the

"(There is) need for proper into trouble.

wild animals.

large cages.

said.

"The convalescence facility is in the Division of Biology.

Non-traditional students benefit

By Stephanie Morrill Collegian Reporter

Students who are only a course or two short of graduating need not attend school an entire semester to complete graduation requirements.

"The Non-Traditional Study Program is designed to help students complete their bachelor's degree," said Cynthia Trent, program coordinator.

"Usually, the instructors inform us of a particular student who is graduating and may be short of hours. We'll work with the student so that (he or she) can complete (his or her) degree," Trent said.

Other non-traditional students may face obstacles such as distance from the educational resources, jobs and family responsibilities. There are 66 students enrolled in the program.

"These students must have already completed 60 hours of college credit from any accredited university or junior college," Trent said.

The program is designed to help these students reach their goals through many options.

Options include regular oncampus courses, intersession, community-based outreach courses, TELENET courses, standardized test-taking and competency assessments.

Degree requirements include a minimum of 30 K-State semester hours, and 20 of the last 30 hours must be earned from K-State.

Students work with advisers throughout the program.

"Because the students aren't on campus, the advisers keep them informed about various campus policies and events, such as buying caps and gowns for graduation," Trent

Upon completion of the student's required number of credit hours, he or she will receive a bachelor of science degree in interdisciplinary social science.

"Usually, the more credit hours a student already has completed, the better. These students are frequently more motivated," Trent said.

Although the pace of the program depends entirely on the student, the average student completes the bachelor's degree in two to six years.

"The students usually take one course per semester, but some take as many as 12 credit hours," Trent said. "It depends on how much the student can afford, both financially and time-

"The program is a fantastic way for a working person to complete a degree," said Paul Scroggs, graduate of the program.

"I first looked into the program because I had a number of college credits from various institutions. I thought this would be a good way to tie them all together and finish my degree," Scroggs said.

The Non-Traditional Study Program began in 1974, and the first students graduated in 1976.

Leakv dangerous turnaces

By The Collegian Staff

Turning on the furnace for the first time each winter is usually a happy event for those who would rather sit in a sauna than in a cold, drafty room. But it also carries the chance of carbon monoxide poisoning from a leaky furnace.

KPL Marketing Representative Marvin Rodriguez said there can be dangerous repercussions when turning on furnaces during this time of year, mainly because the houses are closed and there is little air flow in and out of the house.

"The first (problem) is having a (natural) gas leak in the house, and the second is to have exhaust fumes (carbon monoxide) that leak into the house because of a blocked flue or a cracked heat exchanger (in the furnace)," Rodriguez said.

Headaches, dizziness, nausea, depression, nervousness and burning eyes are symptoms related to a furnace leak, said Dr. Robert Tout. director of Lafene Student Health

Curtis Henning, president of Midstate Mechanical Inc., said there are several ways for carbon monoxide to leak into a house. The first is for the furnace heat exchanger to develop a hole. This can happen if the heat exchanger rusts or if the metal begins to fatigue and then cracks from constant use, he said.

Carbon monoxide also can get trapped in a house if the furnace's flue is blocked, Henning said. He said this often occurs when leaves or other materials get in the flue. "When this happens, the furnace can't vent and the gas goes into the house."

Another potential problem is if the vent pipe for the furnace is in an unheated area, and the vent pipe does not stay warm enough. When this happens, moisture condenses and causes the vent pipe to prematurely rust out, he said.

Having a furnace inspected before it is turned on can help avoid these problems.

"We advise a fall early check with a heating technician to make sure that your furnace and flue are operating properly and in good working order before the furnace is turned on,"

Since carbon monoxide is odorless, tasteless and invisible, homeowners may experience symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning before they are aware of its presence. Rodriguez said if homeowners notice symptoms, KPL can use a measuring device to determine if there is carbon monoxide in the air.

However, "If there is a natural gas leak in your house, you will be able to smell it," he said. KPL adds a smell to natural gas to warn residents.

Tout said there is a blood test that can be done to test for carbon monoxide poisoning. However, he said that since the test cannot be done in Manhattan, it would not be used in an

Ski Pants

"There should be no problem Army Corps of Engineers.

Come see our large selection

Bugabib™ Bergundtal™ Cloth outershell Slimtech insulation Side stretch panels Powder cuffs Back zipper-closed pocket

> Meris S. M. L. XL Ladies' S, M, L, XL Bugaboo Pant™

> > Reversible · Full side zip Velcro® adjustable tabs at waist Cooper Spur Pant™ Ultrex* outershell Slimtech insulation

Bergundtal™ Cloth

 Adjustable trim tabs Extra high back Full side zips with powder cuff

TATHFINDER Aggieville 1111 Moro

Hours: M-Th 9-8, Fri. 9-6, Sat. 9-5, Sun. 1-5

Atlantis to Edwards air

By The Associated Press

SPACE CENTER, Houston -The military astronauts aboard the space shuttle Atlantis planned to end their secrect mission Tuesday, having deployed a powerful spy satellite over the Soviet Union, sources said Monday.

NASA and Air Force officials have kept mum about the mission, saying they would only break their silence to give 24-hour notice on the shuttle's landing time or if a major problem developed.

Although no official word was heard from either agency by early Monday afternoon, a source demanding anonymity said the crew planned to land Tuesday afternoon at Edwards Air Force Base in California.

The flight, under Air Force command, has been shrouded in secrecy since Atlantis blasted off Friday morning from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

As the five military officers began their fourth day in orbit Monday morning, knowledgeable sources said the crew had successfully deployed a $500 million Lacrosse satellite over the weekend.

The sources, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said the satellite was operating well in an orbit that carries it over 80 percent of the Soviet Union. Deployment of the surveillance satellite was believed to be the military mission's chief goal.

The satellite is said to be designed to gather extremely sharp all-weather radar images of Eastern Bloc military targets and would help American intelligence agencies monitor Soviet compliance.

Eventually, it also would serve as the "radar eye" for the new B-2 stealth bomber.

Guide

GIFTS THAT STAND G-I-F-T-S OUT IN THE CROWD

> ·Collector quality hand blown marbles in 3 sizes. $8.75, $11.95, & $16.95 Fused glass earrings, pins & bolo ties in contemporary designs & colors.

$25.95 - $32.25

flower vases. $25.00

·Blown glass perfume bottles in contemporary, nouveau & deco designs. $14.65 - $27.95 Our "Artifacts" line of native Kansas limestone dried

A varied selection of beautiful hand blown eggs & paperweights. $10.95 - $49.95

Laramie - Down The Hall Fri. 11-6 Sat. 10-4 539-4610

GIFT WRAP NOW AVAILABLE

*22.50

Folding vase Museum of Modern Art 332 Poyntz

10-5 Tues.-Sat.

Affordable Gift Ideas

Our popcorn-filled canisters are available in four sizes and make excellent gifts. Flavors include carmel, cheese, cinnamon, peanut crunch, purple pride, and gourmet white.

Popcorn Palace 1319 Anderson Aggieville

Editorial

Kansas State Collegian Opinions ■ Tuesday, December 6, 1988

New cabinet position sets bad precedent

Remember Ronald Reagan, the sworn enemy of government bureaucracy? The guy who was going to get government off our backs? The guy who, as a candidate in 1980, promised to eliminate the departments of energy and education?

Well, it's eight years later and those two departments are still there. They are run by do-nothing administrators with paltry funding, but they're still there.

And now, enter another cabinet-level department - a Department for Veteran's Affairs.

The supreme sacrifices that our veterans have made in service of our country are worthy of tremendous recognition. Their benefits, care and education are vital. Nevertheless, one wonders whether veteran's affairs need to play a cabinet-level role in our government, especially in the purportedly lean executive framework of the Reagan-Bush administration.

One also wonders what sort of precedent this sets for the establishment of new cabinet positions and government departments. Despite cuts in veteran's benefits, veterans have nonetheless been loyal supporters of Reagan. The creation of the veteran's affairs position seems to be a reward.

Perhaps we soon will see cabinet posts for the National Rifle Association and the Moral Majority - both strong supporters of the Reagan adminstration. Moreover, any cabinet position that serves to represent a special interest group - regardless of how esteemed that group may be - raises an interesting question: Why aren't other special interest groups represented? Why aren't minority affairs represented at the cabinet level? And what about women's affairs?

Either the Reagan adminstation doesn't know it, or doesn't care, but they have opened a Pandora's box of new government bureaucracy to get on people's backs and into their checkbooks.

Soviets merit praise; radio jamming ends

On Wednesday, the Soviet Union stopped jamming Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty throughout Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union. For the first time in 38 years, the Western radio stations could be heard clearly.

The Soviets should be praised for this timely action. As Glasnost pushes forward, it has become obvious that they wish to open up to Western ideas. It is also obvious that the Soviets wish to gain the respect of western nations.

It is moves such as this that can lead to more effective diplomacy. Hopefully, people of the Eastern Bloc now can gain a greater understanding of the West's people.

It is likely the Soviets planned the end of the jamming to coincide with the meeting of Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev with President Reagan and President-elect Bush - a nice gesture despite the fact the signals should never have been jammed in the first place.

It is time the West joined in diplomatic gestures of its own. Since the beginnings of beaming radio waves at the Soviet Union, the broadcasts have been little more than a mode of propaganda for the West. Since the airwaves are now clear, we can hope the West will report and broadcast objectively and responsibly. A similar standard for radio stations already in Western Europe and the United States would be a good goal.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

	Chad L. Sanborn
	Lord Stegrist
NEWS EDITOR	Janet Swanson
EDITORIAL PAGE EDITOR	Jeff Schrag
	RJohn La Barge
SPORTS EDITOR	Chris Hays
	Catherine Doud
EDITORIAL BOARD	Susan L'Eouyer, Scott Miller, Michael Nichols, Karla Redelehelmer, Chad L. Sanborn Jeff Schrag, Erwin Seba, Paula Selby, Robert R. Short, Mark Schmeller, Jamet Swanson
tions Inc., Kedzle Hall 103, M. Monday and Thursday durin POSTMASTER: Send addr hattan, Kan. 66506-7167. News contributions will be inquiries concerning local, n	in (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publica- anhattan, Kan. 68508. The Collegian is published Monday through Friday during the school year and ng summer sessions. Second class postage paid at Manhattan, Kan. 68502. ress changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation Desk, Kedzle 103, Kansas State University, Man- e accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzle Hall 116, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6560. Classified word adver- directed to (913) 532-6565.
	Kanses State Collegian Subscription Rates
One Semester (Fall or Sprin	70)
Two Samesters (Fall and Sr	pring)
Summer Session	$10
One Year (Fall, Spring and	Summer)
	To charge by VISA or MasterCard, call (913) 532-6555

Collegian Editorial Policies

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR are always encouraged. Those which pertain to matters of campus and/or public interest are especially encouraged, and are given the

Letters should be kept as brief as possible, preferably under 300 words. Those who cannot condense their opinions should consider submitting their letter in the form of a guest column. All letters are subject to editing for space, style and taste.

GUEST COLUMNS are also encouraged. The column should be no longer than two double-spaced, typed pages. If the submission is used as a column and not a letter to the editor, it will be accompanied by the author's photograph.

SEND SUBMISSIONS to the Collegian in Kedzie 116. UNSIGNED EDITORIALS represent the consensus opinion of the Collegian's editorial board. Opinion columns do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the Collegian management, Student Publications, Inc. or the newspaper staff in general.

Kansans hold their liquor was in the liquor store last weekend, purchasing some holiday spirits, when made the mistake of asking where the club soda was.

"You have to go outside and through the other door," said the trusty fellow manning the counter.

"Why's that?"

"Because that's how you get to the mix

"Oh, you mean I need to go somewhere

"No," he said. "We have club soda." "Well, then I'll just buy yours."

"But you have to go to the mix shop to buy

Needless to say, I was a bit confused. "OK. You have club soda, but I must go next door to the mix shop to get it."

"That's right." "Do you own this mix shop?"

"Of course."

"But it's next door?" "That's right."

Suddenly, I had an idea. "Why not just move your mix shop in here, so people don't have to go next door?" I thought this would help the owner. Maybe he'd even give me something free.

"Are you crazy?" he asked. "That would be against the law."

"What would?"

"Selling mixers with beer, liquor and wine would be in violation of Kansas State Statute 41-308, section B, which goes something like: 'The holder of a retailer's license shall not sell, offer for sale, or give away or permit to be sold, offered for sale, or given away in or from the premises as specified in such license any service, or thing of value whatsoever except alcoholic liquor in the original package ... ' or, to be more specific, state statute 41-713 prohibits said license-holder from encouraging or allowing the mixing of drinks in or on his or her premises."

"Isn't that kind of silly?" I dared to ask.

Commentary

MARK SCHMELLER Collegian Columnist

"Of course not. It's the law in Kansas." "But why do you think it's the law?" I thought I had him there for a minute. But he soon said, "The state of Kansas doesn't want people mixing their drinks."

"Well, that's obvious, but why?"

This guy was no fool. "Because it encourages people to drink more. It's all in line with the principles of Skinnerian psychology. If people are conditioned to associate tonic water with gin, scotch with soda, or rum with (Coca-Cola), every time they see a soda or something in the grocery store, they will feel compelled to mix it with alcohol.'

"I see." The guy had me. But only for a moment. "Isn't it better that people drink mixed drinks? I mean, if people are going to drink whenever it's suggested, isn't it better that they dilute the alcohol?"

osh," he said while scratching his chin, "I never thought of it that "Doesn't that law just encourage heavier drinking? It says, 'We don't want you sit outside the liquor store and pour down a bottle of vodka.'

"You're right," he conceded. "There must be some other reason we have that law." "Maybe it's just a stupid law passed by a bunch of idiotic moralizers." "No, that couldn't be." I could tell this liquor store owner held a stout belief in demo-

"They have the law," he said, "because they want Kansans to be able to hold their liquor."

hat do you mean?" "I mean, the Kansas Legislature has a legitimate interest in encouraging the robustness of its citizens, and what better way to encourage that than to discourage people from mixing their drinks? We don't want a bunch of weaklings in this state, do we?" "Hell, no!" I shouted. I was beginning to catch his drift.

'We don't need a bunch of lilly-livered tinkerbells who have to put tonic in their gin, or water down their whiskey or douse their vodka with cutesy-pie pink bubbly stuff. They don't need any ballerinas with their cocktails, no sissies with their scotch and sodas, no momma's boys with their margaritas!

"Absolutely not!" I continued. "Three cheers for state statute 41-713. If you can't drink it straight, you better move out of our

"By the way, what did you want that soda for anyway?" He eyed me suspiciously. "It's for my sister." That was close.

"Good, because I ain't serving any more of these damn drink-mixing wimps. I'm gonna tear that lousy mix shop down tomorrow." "You should do that," I said. "It will be better for business."

His eyes lit up. "You think so?"

"Sure," I said. "The obvious intent of state mixing your drinks, but it's OK with us if you statute 41-713 was that people drink more expensive hard liquor and less of this cheap carbonated water and fruit juice.' "You're right again!" he shouted with glee. "You're good at this." "Thanks," I said. "Do you think I should be in the liquor business?"

"No," he said. "Your place is in Topeka, writing more laws like state statutes 41-713 cracy and its laws. A rush of admiration came and 41-308, section B."

Letters

Be kind to bikers

In reference to Bob Polley's letter under the headline "Bikes off walks." When you consider student parking permits are now $15 a semester, bicycling to campus sure beats "the old hoof," despite the weather. Some of us obviously live a bit farther from campus than you and your humble 14 others.

I'll stick to the bike paths if you keep your pedestrians off them. There is nothing more aggravating than avoiding a pedestrian on a bike path when there is a sidewalk 10 feet away, as on the north side of the Military Science Building and the east side of Durland

Please be a bit more understanding of those of us who push pedals. Please keep your head up to look out for those of us making our way to the bike racks.

> Jonathan Rude senior in biology

Gifts appreciated

During the month of December, K-State will be participating in the Mayor's Holiday Tree program to collect food for the Flint Hills Breadbasket. I would like to encourage everyone here to get behind this important program.

I am grateful for the wonderful support that was given to make Operation Turkey such a wonderful success. I understand that $3,000 and more than 5,000 pounds of food were collected during that drive by the Order of Omega. This drive, combined with the Mayor's Holiday Tree drive, is helping to meet an important need in this community. Since the USDA Commodity Program has been cut back, there is a need to increase our community support for the breadbasket.

This year, ICAT is promoting a food drive that will take place at three basketball games during the month of December. On Dec. 7, 10 and 22, everyone attending the men's basketball game at Bramlage Coliseum will be encouraged to bring a can of food to the game. Those people contributing food will have the opportunity to participate in a drawing for prizes to be held at halftime.

In addition, there will be a collection box placed in the K-State Union where nonperishable food items can be donated.

As a member of the Flint Hills Breadbasket Board of Directors, I would like to sincerely thank all of the members of the K-State family who have given so graciously of their time and money to help meet the food needs of people in our community. I hope we will all get behind the Mayor's Holiday Tree drive. Ruth Ann Wefald board member, Flint Hills Breadbasket

Office poorly run

Student Financial Assistance is one of the few University services that directly affects a student's ability to attend K-State. For students deemed financially needy, an efficient and compassionate financial aid office is

Unfortunately, K-State's financial aid office fails to be either efficient or compassionate. I have experienced nothing but extreme frustration and irritation every time I've dealt with this office. In my first semester at K-State, I have had the following encounters with the student financial aid Unkept promises of check arrival dates due to administrative failures in the financial aid office. First it was a three-week wait, then four more weeks, then an additional four weeks and I still have not received my aid.

Office staff, who were, by the admission of their supervisors, unqualified to answer student questions or to deal with student requests. The excuse was always, "She's new. She didn't know any better."

Advisers who promised prompt action to rectify abuse, but who procrastinated any action for weeks. Only my returning to the office initiated any action.

■ Confusing and seemingly inaccurate claims about the process to follow in order to receive aid. (Time after time, I was told all was taken care of, only to discover weeks later that something else needed to be done. An overall mentality of the office staff that "the student is always at fault." No matter how many errors the staff of the financial aid office made, their refusal to take responsibility for them reflected their antagonistic, condescending attitude toward students. Their errors were always explained as my fault, regardless of my attempts to fulfill their instructions.

Tragically, these incidents cannot be dismissed as isolated events. Other students have expressed dissatisfaction with the financial aid office, pointing out many similarities to the problems I have encountered.

It has become apparent that the student financial aid office should modify its process to better meet the needs of students. K-State students have the right to expect the financial aid office to help them. When a student is making a genuine effort to fulfill the necessary requirements for financial aid, he or she should have every reason to believe the school's financial aid office is putting forth the same effort.

Incompetence is no excuse for poor service. K-State's financial aid office needs to seriously re-evaluate its ability to serve the students and to consider the reasons why it is failing to help students adequately. It is ironic that I am currently enrolling in my classes for next semester when I have yet to receive my financial aid for this seme

Wendy Tatro

Damage awards studied

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The Supreme Court announced Monday it once again will study the constitutionality of multimillion-dollar punitive damage awards, a growing phenomenon in U.S. courtrooms that has sparked legislative debate nationwide.

The justices agreed to decide whether such awards that far exceed actual damages violate a constitutional ban on excessive fines. At stake are large sums of money awarded in a wide variety of lawsuits.

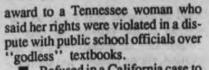

The court, which failed in the past to resolve the question, will tackle the issue in an appeal by a Texasbased waste collection business ordered to pay $6 million to a Vermont competitor. The justices are likely to rule by July.

In other action, the court:

Agreed to decide whether a federal law allowing public scrutiny of governmental advisory groups applies to the American Bar Association's role in picking federal judges.

Agreed in a case from Alabama to hear a Reagan administration appeal aimed at limiting recovery of lawyers' fees for people who win disputes with the government over Social Security benefits.

Refused to revive a $70,000

Refused in a California case to bar police from conducting roadside sobriety tests by setting up checkpoints at unannounced locations.

Barred a New Hampshire community from removing poles bearing sirens that could alert townspeople about an accident at the controversial Seabrook nuclear power

The high court last May declined to decide the constitutionality of very large punitive-damage awards when it upheld on narrow, procedural grounds a $1.8 million judgment against an insurance company that wrongfully rejected a $20,000 claim.

Left unresolved was the legitimacy of skyrocketing punitive-damage awards, a development that has touched off a wave of legislative activity, often called "tort reform."

Some states, reacting to soaring insurance rates, have imposed ceilings on how much punitive-damage money can be recovered.

A recent federal study cited "explosive growth" in damage awards. It said, for example, the average jury award for medical malpractice leaped 2,000 percent from 1960 award to a Tennessee woman who to 1984 - from $52,000 to $1.2 million with adjustment for inflation. Jury awards in some product-liability cases increased more than tenfold to average $1.1 million, the study said.

A number of business groups, including the National Association of Manufacturers, said the situation

Manufacturers, because of their "deep pockets," are bearing "the brunt of a massive and discriminatory increase in punitive-damages verdicts," the groups said.

Kansas crime rate decreases by 1.5 percent during 1988

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA - The number of reported crimes decreased by 1.5 percent in Kansas during the first nine months of 1988, Kansas Bureau of Investigation Director Dave Johnson announced Monday.

A 25 percent drop in the number of murders between the two years led the decline, while rapes were down 9 percent, thefts off 5 percent, motor vehicle thefts down 4 percent and aggravated assaults down .5 of 1 percent. Burglaries showed a 5.4 percent increase, while robberies were up .6 of 1 percent.

Overall, Johnson reported that there were 88,671 crimes reported in Kansas the first three quarters of this year, January through September, compared to 89,984 in the same nine-month period of 1987. The statistics are compiled by the KBI from reports sent to it by about 300 law enforcement agencies in the state. Murders have declined from 80 to 60 from 1987 to 1988.

Manhattan

1501 Tuttle Creek Boulevard Manhattan, Kansas 66502

STUDENT SPECIAL

Peace and Quiet to study or just get away. $13 Single

Day Rate 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. - $10 On availability basis only. Student I.D. Required.

Call for reservations, 539-5391.

auditorium

Tulsa Ballet Theatre Roman Jasinski and Moscelyne Larkin, Artistic Directors in

The Nutcracker Saturday, December 10, 7:30 p.m. Sunday, December 11, 2:30 p.m.

Ring in the holiday season with the ballet that has enthralled audiences of all ages for nearly 100 years. Thirty local children perform as mice, angels, rabbits, soldiers, and clowns in the Christmas classic that features .shimmering scenery, dazzling costumes, and Tchalkovsky's everappealing music.

> "General Public: $14, 12, 10 Senior Citizen: $12, 10, 8 Student / Child: $8, 7, 5

Charge tickets to Mastercard or VISA at (913) 532-6428, or come to the box office between noon and 5:00 p.m. weekdays.

A Mid-America Arts Alliance Program with the Kansas Arts Commission. Corporate support by the Kansas Farm Bureau.

Transportation for seniors available through Kansas State Bank and the Manhattan Arts Council. For information, call Marie Dellen at 537-4400.

Book Your Study Room Today! 539-7531

Falsettos

17th & Anderson Ave . Manhattan, Kansas 66502

The best pizza just got better! Falsetto's Pizza is now honoring all local competitor's coupons.

Call now for the best pizza around.

DELIVER THE BEST FOR LESS!

open till 2 a.m. nightly Moro in Aggieville

MARGARITAS 2.50 ULTIMATE MARGARITA 9 TACOS OR 3 FOR 275

Yes!

WE WANT TO MAKE YOUR STUDENT LOAN!

Have the professionals at Kansas State Bank make your student loan. Simply contact us at:

537-4400 Lender code #821176

KANSAS STATE BANK Westloop • Aggieville • K-State Union, Manhattan, Kansas 66502

PYRAMID PIZZA

For All You Late Night Operators

You've been operating all night with your friends. All the pizza places are closed? And you're hungry. What do you do? Your friends pull through and remember that Pyramid Pizza is open until 2 a.m. weeknights and 3 a.m. weekends. You call. You eat. Yumm. Show them what good times are all about. Tonight, let it be Pyramid.

Pyramid Pizza. Open when you really want it.

Compatibility Defined

IBM-Com-pat'i-bil'i-ty adv. 1. Capable of existing together in harmony. 2. Able to use most common software; usu. of the business/research world. 3. Growth & flexibility. 4. Hyundai 16TE.

HYUNDA

Introducing the Super 16TE PC-compatible.

Introducing a new level of IBM-compatibility, speed (10Mhz) and flexibility (5 expansion slots). Each Hyundai includes 640K memory, a "101" keyboard, full software (wp. spreadsheet, database), orientation, support and an 18 month warranty. Best of all- its backed by $20 billion Hyundai Corporation and your local Connecting Point Computer Center in Westloop Shop. Center.

Retail KSU Price. Disc.

$ 1045. $ 735. 30% O Super 16TE

1299.

1495. 1699.

2 drive, amber monitor 2 drive, color monitor

30Mb, amber monitor 30Mb, color monitor

* Based upon full system purchase. IBM is a reg. tm of IBM Corp.

KSU's "Seoul" Authorized Hyundai Dealer

ConnectingPoint. 111

1115 Westloop Shop. Ctr

Attention KSU Apple Purchasers:

ing your Mac. Connecting Point has a full line of Apple "Add-Ora" from disks to software to cases to drives.

Police can detect 911 callers' addresses

By Stacy Sweazy Collegian Reporter

"Nine-one-one. May I help you?" These are the words a distressed caller or prankster would hear after dialing the enhanced 911 emergency service offered by Southwestern Bell Telephone.

What the caller may not know is that the service supplies personnel at the answering location with the address and telephone number where the emergency call was placed.

"In the past, most Riley County residents have had the benefit of the universally recognized 911 emergency number which automatically brings the caller in touch with law enforcement, fire department or ambulance service," said Marcie Wood, local community relations manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone, which supplies the new Wood said the enhanced service provides invaluable information when a caller is unable to stay on the line or when a caller panics, hanging up without providing necessary information.

"The enhanced 911 service is particularly beneficial when dealing with children who have been taught

The new system is a definite plus," said Capt. Robert Wild of the Riley County Police Department. "Before, it might take 30 minutes to trace a call. Now, we can have an officer there in three minutes."

'Typically, if a caller hangs up, we send an officer to the address immediately," Wild said.

The officer usually determines what kind of help is needed, whether the emergency requires ambulance service, police assistance or fire equipment, he said.

The only way we have of determining what type of help to send is if

HANDSEWN QUALITY

HANDSOMELY PRICED

HOLIDAY SPECIALS

§49.95

reg. $64.95

Black & Dark Brown

the background," Wild said.

Some pranksters abuse the service, violating a Kansas statute that involves jesting an emergency number, he said. Because of the enhanced service, officers know where the call was placed.

If a prankster were to stay on the line, Wild said, police would discuss the violation of the statute with the prankster. If the caller, however, used obscene or abusive language, an officer would be sent to the location.

In this case, contact would be made with the offender and charges

Read Collegian ads for special bargains.

New Nonfat Frozen Yogurt

Same great taste with no fat or cholesterol

Nautilus Towers-Aggieville Phone 537-1616 Manhattan

IBM & MAC COMPATIBLE

severity of the offense, he said.

Each call is documented by its location, phone number and address. A record is kept of what time the phone started ringing, what time it was answered and what time it was disconnected, Wild said.

"The service will be an even greater asset once it is in the Riley and service is already in effect in Manhattan.

The addition of addresses to the system is expected to be completed in the Leonardville and Riley area by mid-1989. Ogden officials are considering an improved addressing sys-tem that would benefit both residents and emergency responders, she said.

WASTE TIME WI

You won't have to with an NEC Silentwriter™ LC890 desktop publishing printer. Its extra memory puts information together faster. So you'll save minutes on every page. It features the powerful PostScript' page description language allowing you to layout the most sophisticated text and graphics imaginable.

If you don't need all this pizazz, check out our other two Silentwriters. No matter which one you choose, you won't waste time with breakdowns. They all have an average life of 600,000 pages—more than twice as much as ordinary lasers.

So if you want to get the most out of desktop publishing, don't waste time with other printers. Connecting Point 111

Manhattan

1115 Westloop Shop. Ctr. 539-0801

NEC PRINTERS THEY ONLY STOP WHEN YOU WAN

Friday-Religious Directory Entertainment Page Collegian Advertising

Collegian Line-up

Thursday-Coupon Page

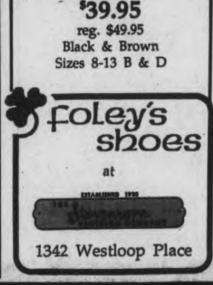

We're leaving our competition behind. 532-6560

Pre-Christmas

Bring in Coupon and Receive an Additional 10% off

Loan-to-Own A Mac

Never So Affordable to Own A Computer

KSU Students may take advantage of one of the best computer financing packages ever offered: the Apple Loan-to-Own Program. This is a special low interest loan designed exclusively for the parents of undergraduate and graduate students.

The Loan-to-Own program lets your parents borrow on their own signature without collateral. There's no need to show financial hardship. And repayment is just as easy because payments can be spread over as many as 10 years - which means an extremely affordable price!

Stop by Connecting Point Computer Center or visit the KSU Bookstore for more details or an application for this unbelievable Buy-a-Macintosh program,

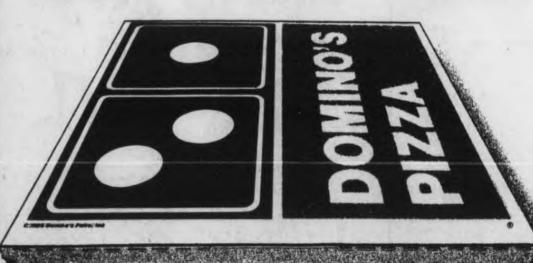

KSU Apple pricing and this financing program mean its time to buy your MAC.

in cooperation with Connecting Point Computer Center 1115 Westloop Shopping Center - 539-0801

Call us!

Hours: Sun.-Thurs. 4pni-1am Fri.-Sat. 4pm-2am

$7.99

Cokes available. 12 oz. cans 50¢ each

Special!

Get two 10" cheese pizzas for only $5.99!

No coupon necessary. Prices do not include tax.

Special! Get one 10" AND one 14"

cheese pizza for only $7.99! No coupon necessary.

$8.99 Special! Get two 14" cheese pizzas for only $8.99! No coupon necessary. Prices do not include tax.

Kansas State Collegian ■ Tuesday, December 6, 1988 ■ Page 7A

K-State out to end losing skid tonight

Lady Cats entertain Jennies at Bramlage

By Mike Rouse Sports Writer

After two consecutive losses over the weekend in the Dial Soap Classic, the K-State Lady Cats will be looking to stop their losing skid when they play Central Missouri State at 7:30 tonight in Bramlage Coliseum.

CMSU enters with a 4-2 record and is led by senior forward Tammy Wilson. She averages about 25 points and 11 rebounds a game.

They are very solid on the offensive side of the ball," Lady Cat coach Matilda Mossman said.

The Lady Cats lost to Texas A & M Friday, then lost to Radford on Saturday, the Lady Cats' second loss this season. K-State shot 34 percent from the field against Texas A & M and 43 percent against Radford. A pair of cold-shooting spells against Radford was the key in the loss.

"We haven't shot well in the last five games. We are still a very young team," Mossman said. "We have been struggling on making smart shot selections from the field."

Mossman said there were a number of reasons the team didn't perform well over the weekend.

One of the reasons was that Janet Madsen was out with a knee injury she suffered last week in practice.

"Our co-captain (Madsen) was out with a knee injury and she was our team leader," Mossman said. "Plus, three of our players are from Minnesota, so there might have been some extra pressure put on them to do well.

"There is also some pressure on the new girls who haven't played at this level before." Sophomore Kristie Bahner has been averaging almost 14 points a game and Mossman said the team has been working on getting the ball to her. "We have been working on getting Kristie open for the shots down low near the basket," Diana Miller also has impressed Mossman by averaging nearly 14 points and eight rebounds a game. Miller has stepped up and taken charge late in the game.

Diana is that kind of player. Her shot selection has improved since the beginning of the year and she is starting to think smarter about shooting the ball," Mossman said.

K-State's defense has been strong, but the scoring has not been high enough to win the close games.

"Our defense is very strong. Our offense is more solid than earlier, but we still haven't been able to put enough points on the board," Mossman said. "If national stats came out right now, we would probably rank first in defense and last in scoring."

K-State leads the series, 12-7, and the Lady Cats won the last meeting, 93-70, in the 1983-84 season.

Last year, the Jennies won the Lady Cats' McCall Pattern Classic with wins over Rockhurst and Arkansas-Little Rock.

Washington named MVP at annual football banquet

From Staff and Wire Reports

nized Sunday at the Wildcat Football

Greg Washington, who broke K-State records for most receptions and most receiving yards in a season, was named the team's most valuable player. The junior from Austin, Texas, also has been named Big Eight Offensive Newcomer-of-the-Year by the conference coaches.

The Ken Ochs Award, which goes to the most courageous and inspirational player, went to Manhattan senior Tom Dillon. He was third on the team in rushing, receiving and all-purpose yardage. The most outstanding freshman was defensive lineman Elijah Alexander, a native of Fort Worth, Texas. Alexander played in all-Seven K-State football players were recog- 11 games, finished in a tie for second in sacks with four and was third in tackles for losses with seven.

> The Red Raider Award for the most outstanding redshirt player went to Richard Boyd, a freshman walk-on from Denver.

The Post-season Captains, chosen for their leadership, were Dillon, defensive tackle Jim Oehm, fullback Lee Pickett and place-kicker Mark Porter.

Oehm, a Marysville senior, led K-State's defensive linemen with 51 tackles. Pickett, a senior from Webb, Miss., finished sixth in the Big Eight in rushing with 736 yards. Porter finished in a tie for most career field goals at K-State with 37.

Staff/Greg Vogel

K-State's Stephanie Lane stretches for a rebound during last week's game against UMKC. After losing two games during the weekend, the Lady Cats will play Central Missouri State at 7:30 tonight in Bramlage Coliseum.

Crowd greets Sanders

By The Associated Press

STILLWATER, Okla. - Heisman Trophy winner Barry Sanders received a hero's welcome Monday on his return to Oklahoma State and, as usual, did what he could to deflect the spotlight.

"On behalf of my teammates, I want to thank you guys for coming out here today," Sanders told a crowd of about 1,000 people. "We have one more favor to ask. We want to get these seniors 10 wins. With your support, I'm sure we can pull out a

The Cowboys, 9-2 after their 45-42 victory over Texas Tech in Tokyo on Sunday, play Wyoming in the Holiday Bowl in San Diego on Dec. 30.

The welcome-back celebration was short as university officials, Coach Pat Jones and Sanders addressed the crowd for about five minutes soon after the team's return to the campus.

Before the arrival of the team by bus from Dallas, a disc jockey played music for the crowd - some of whom wore the school colors of orange and black. At least one person wore a T-shirt geared toward Sanders' Heisman victory.

The shirt with Sanders' name said "Let The Records Speak For Themselves," a reference to the records Sanders has broken this year.

Jones thanked those on hand for their support throughout the season and introduced the Cowboys' team captains - David Bailey, Garrett Limbrick, Hart Lee Dykes, Chris Stanley and Mike Gundy. Sanders was the last to be introduced.

Several players stood in front of and alongside the stage - a flatbed trailer - on the practice field on the east side of the Gallagher-Iba Arena as Sanders addressed the crowd. Sanders was on the first of two buses to arrive on campus. The players were met with loud applause as they started getting off the buses. After the ceremony, Sanders was whisked away by an assistant coach and met with the media briefly. He said the publicity surrounding his award, announced Saturday in New York, has become a hassle. "I wish people would consider the way I feel about it, that it's no big deal. ... Maybe in 20 years it will hit me, but, right now, it's just another

Cubs send Palmeiro to Texas in largest trade since 1980

By The Associated Press

ATLANTA - Rafael Palmeiro. the second-best hitter in the National League last season, went to the Texas Rangers in baseball's biggest trade since 1980, while Hank Aaron verbally sparred with Commissioner Peter Ueberroth at the winter meet-

The Rangers made the only two trades of the day, including a nineplayer deal with the Chicago Cubs that included Palmeiro and five lefthanded pitchers. It was the largest swap in the majors since the 1980 winter meetings when Seattle and Texas exchanged 11 players.

In a minor move, Texas sent reserve outfielder Bob Brower to the New York Yankees for utility infielder Bobby Meacham.

Dale Murphy continued to attract attention. San Diego and Houston joined the New York Mets as the latest teams to set up meetings with Atlanta about its star.

The Dodgers kept trying to fill their second base slot, inquiring about All-Star Harold Reynolds of Seattle, Wally Backman of the Mets and free agent Willie Randolph.

Schmidt and the Phillies spent the day trying to agree on a new contract. They have until Wednesday to settle, or Schmidt cannot play for the team

They were close to a one-year contract Sunday night - the Phillies even passed out a press release announcing the agreement - before they had trouble with terms in case of an injury.

The Phillies offered a $1.5 million contract, with $500,000 guaranteed. With bonuses, Schmidt could earn more than $2 million.

Hurst's situation remained in limbo. The San Diego Padres are said to be the favorites to get the free-agent pitcher although Boston is expected to bid hard to re-sign him.

"I don't know when he's going to make a decision," Padres general manager Jack McKeon said. "We're looking for a pitcher and he could be the one. But if not, I'll get someone

Irish still top poll

By The Associated Press

Pitt and Penn State are the only teams to have played both No. 1 Notre Dame and No. 3 West Virginia this year, but their coaches are loathe to pick a winner in a Fiesta Bowl game that is being billed for the national championship.

"It's tough to do that," said Pitt's Mike Gottfried, whose team lost to Notre Dame 30-20 and to West Virginia 31-10. "They're both good in every area and I can only say good things about both teams.

Penn State lost to Notre Dame 21-3 and to West Virginia 51-30 and, when Coach Joe Paterno was asked to compare them, he replied: "I don't think that's fair to either team. They're both fine football teams that have everything."

Everything but a 1-2 shootout in the Fiesta Bowl. Notre Dame and West Virginia are the nation's only unbeaten college football teams but Miami's defending national champions own the No. 2 ranking in The Associated Press' final regular-season poll, released

Notre Dame received 49 of 53 first-place votes and 1,055 of a possible 1,060 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters. There were no changes in the top seven places.

Miami, a 41-17 winner over Brigham Young, received one first-place vote and 994 points.

Huskies in Top 20; Duke rated No. 1

By The Associated Press

STORRS, Conn. - After years of playing like a punch-drunk fighter in a league of heavyweights, Connecticut's basketball team awoke Monday to find it had gained new respect. The Huskies, with victories in their first two games, were ranked No. 18 in The Associated Press poll. "I'm happy to be in the polls," Connecticut coach Jim Calhoun said before his team played Marist Monday night. Meanwhile, Duke and Michigan continued to top the poll. Duke, 4-0, received the same number of first-place votes as last week, 47, and 1,266 points from a nationwide panel of sportswriters and broadcasters. Michigan, 5-0, held second place, with nine first-place votes and 1,214 points. Syracuse, 7-0, and Georgetown, 2-0, swapped places from a week ago. Each received one first-place vote and 1,131 and 1,075 points, respectively.

Connecticut and Seton Hall marked their first appearances among the Top 20 this season, joining Big East teams Syracuse, Georgetown and No. 17 Villanova. Seton Hall was No. 20 with 5-0 record, including the championship of the Great Alaska Shootout.

The Atlantic Coast Conference had four members in the Top Twenty - Duke, No. 8 North Carolina, No. 12 Georgia Tech and No. 19 North Carolina State - as did the Big Ten, with Michigan, No. 5 Iowa, No. 7 Illinois and No. 14 Ohio State.

That meant three conferences provided 13 of the 20 ranked teams. Since the Big East was formed in 1980, Connecticut has finished eighth twice, seventh three times. fifth and fourth. The team's highest finish was in 1981, when it was third with an 8-6 record, tying St. John's and Villanova.

Last year, Connecticut finished with a 20-14 record, but was last in the Big East with a 4-12 record. The Huskies closed the season by winning the National Invitation Tournament.

The last time Connecticut cracked the Top 20 was in the 1980-81 season, when it started 11-0 and was ranked No. 20 on Jan. 27, 1981, with a 13-2 record. The Huskies finished with a 20-9 record and a secondround loss in the NIT.

1,2661

Duke (47)

Michigan (9) Syracuse (1) 5-0 1,2142 7-0 1,1314 1,0753 2-0 Georgetown (1) lowa (1) 961 5 Oklahoma 2-1 917 Illinois 3-0 North Carolina 859 10 781 9 UNLV 2-1 Arizona 619 11 Missouri 5-2 596 8 Georgia Tech Florida St. 3-0 585 12 571 14 3-1 468 15 Ohio State 301-13 1-2 Louisville Tennessee 3-0 285 20 3-1 252 18 Villanova Connecticut 2-0 107 N.C. State 101 16 2-1 Seton Hall 5-0

Others receiving votes: UCLA 51; Memphis State 45; Notre Dame 39; Florida 36; Loyola-Marymount 35; temple 33; Wichita State 32; UNC-Charlotte 29; SMU 27; Stanford 26; Louisiana Tech 13; New Mexico 13; Oregon State 13; South Carolina 11; DePaul 10; St. John's 10; Alabama 7; Arkansas-Little Rock 7; Georgia 7; Pittsburgh 7; Xavier, Ohio 6; Southern Illinois 4; Cal-Santa Barbara 2; Colorado State 2; Arkansas State 1; Murray

Choir offers living cards for holiday

By The Collegian Staff

Sending Christmas cards is a holiday tradition. Many people spend a lot of time picking out the card that is just right.

There are traditional, funny, sentimental and even musical cards. At K-State, though, people can actually get a singing Christmas card.

This semester, many people will open their doors and be greeted by a group of K-State Choir members singing about the joys of Christmas. This living Christmas card is sponsored by the K-State Choir and can be given to friends or relatives as an ideal Christmas gift.

For $20, a quartet from the choir will sing seven selections, for about 15 minutes of Christmas carols. The time can be divided for performances to be done for two groups or the giver may pay $10 for half the singing time.

The quartets began singing to individuals or at parties Nov. 28 and will continue through Dec. 17.

The living Christmas cards will help finance the choir's trip to Australia next year.

ClassAds 532-6555

CLASSIFIED RATES
One day: 15 words or fewer, $2.50, 20 cents per word over 15; Two consecutive dates: 15 words or fewer, $3.50, 25 cents per word over 15; Three consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 tive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.25, 30 cents per word over 15; Four consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.75, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive days: 15 words or fewer, $4.76, 35 cents per word over 15; Five consecutive for fewer $5.00, 40 tive days: 15 words or fewer, $5.00, 40 cents per word over 15.

Deadline is noon the day before publication; noon FRIDAY for Monday's paper.

Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the adver-tiser's responsibility to contact the paper it an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not

Display Classified Rates
One day: $5.20 per inch; Three consecutive days:
$5.00 per inch; Five consecutive days: $4.80 per inch;
Ten consecutive days: $4.60 per inch. (Deadline is 4:30 p.m. two days before publication.)
Classified advertising is available only to those who do not discirminate on the basis of race, color, religion,

Cheap, but effective, Collegian Classifieds.

Be informed. Read the Collegian. Announcements

ALL YOUR Mary Kay needs -akincare -glarnor -ne -gitts for all seasons, Floris Taylor, 539-2070. JUPITER JUBILEE. KSU Astronomy Club. Cardwell Hall lobby and lawn. Tuesday, Dec. 6th 8-11p.m. PARTY GAS (helium)... you fill... we fill... our balloons your balloons. 1231 Westloop, 539-4038.

PICK UP your fruitcakes at the Bakery Science Club Fruitcake Bake Sale Wednesday Dec. 7th in Shellenberger 105 from 3:30- 6p.m.

SEASON BASKETBALL ticket for sale. Call 539-5972 STUMPED AS what to get Mom? Dad for Christmas?
Come to the Dairy Bar in Call Hall and order them a Cheese Gift Box. Order while supplies last!! Hours:
Monday- Friday 8:30s.m. 5:15p.m.

59° Tacos

1155 Westport Rd.

539-4400

1217 MORO IN AGGIEVILLE

-NO COUPON NEEDED-

one item

2 free 16 oz. Cokes

PIZZAS

to the Flint Hills Breadbasket. Take canned goods to Kedzie 103 to receive ⁵1 off your Collegian Classified. Prepaid ads only. Not valid with any other

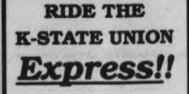

1 off your

Collegian Classified

with your contribution

Deadline: noon one day prior to publication.

Offer expires noon Dec. 8, 1988.

WANTED— 100 overweight people to try herbal weight control program. No drugs, no exercise. Doctor recommended. 100% guaranteed. 778-5114, 539-3333.

Need a fuel-efficient Car? Check the Classifieds

Apartments—Furnished

AGGIEVILLE NICE one-bedroom in complex, $250, lease, deposit, no pets. 539-3928. AVAILABLE JANUARY, Convenient locations, ap ments and mobile homes. Very reasonable rent. pets. 537-8389, 776-8381.

WILDCAT INNS

Unfurn. Apts.: Second semester vacancies in four different sites. 1 br., gas heat, no pets.

> $295-310 776-3804

> > (Continued on page 9)

Today's look in quality shoes 20% Off Store Wide Were Now

Brown Ruff

3039

Buy now while all sizes are still available

Standing Room Only Aggieville Manhattan

YOU CAN'T BUY THE PERFECT CHRISTMAS GIFT BUT YOU CAN GET IT FREE!

Just listen to KMKF 101.7 FM for your opportunity to call in and register to win the perfect Christmas gift, a retired Pepsi machine, loaded with Diet and regular Pepsi. Improve your chances of winning by registering at our sponsor locations:

PIZZAS

Browne's Shoe Fit, 311 Poyntz Casual Encounter, 1208 Moro The Palace, 704 N. Manhattan Valentino's, 3019 Anderson

Enter once on the radio and as often as you like at sponsor locations. On December 23rd, we'll draw one name from every sponsor, including KMKF call-ins. One of those entries will win the grand prize, a retired Pepsi machine. The other tour e second prize consisting of:

Classified Categories

Buffet for two at Valentino's A Manhattan High Sweatshirt from Brown's Shoe Fit One case of Pepsi from Pepsi $15 Giff Certificate from Casual Encounter $20 Giff Certificate from the Palace

It's the perfect Christmas gift from Pepsi and All New All Hit KMKF 101.7 FM.

Worried about the high cost of a college education?

Let us help

one item

2 free 16 oz. Cokes

Peoples Heritage

Federal Savings

2710 Anderson Manhattan, KS 66502

We offer Stafford Loans (formerly Guaranteed Student Loans), Parent Loans for undergraduate students, Junilemental Loans for students.

> Call Kristen or Nancy at 537-0550 or come by 2710 Anderson.

19 branches across the state to better serve your needs.

Collegian Classified Advertising

CLASSIFIED AD FORMS

Write your ad in the form provided below, and mail it in, along with the correct payment, to STUDENT PUBLICATIONS, INC., KEDZIE HALL, ROOM 103, KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506. You can also stop by Kedzie 103 to place your ad or call 532-6555. Student Publications now accepts MasterCard and Visa. (Minimum charge of $5.) The DEADLINE for Classified Ads is NOON the day before publication; NOON Friday for Monday's publication. Deadline for cancellation is NOON the day before publication.

CLASSIFIED AD POLICY

* Only the FIRST TWO words of each ad will be in all caps; all other words will be in caps/lower, except initials.

No abbreviations, please

* No last names or phone numbers will be printed in the Personals section.

* Student Publications will not be responsible for more than one wrong classified insertion. It is the advertiser's responsibility to contact the paper if an error exists. No adjustment will be made if the error does not alter the value of the ad. • Items found ON CAMPUS can be advertised FREE for a period not exceeding three days. They can be placed at Kedzie 103

or by calling 532-6555. If mailed ads do not arrive by the Noon deadline, they will be placed in the next day's paper.

* Ads which are incorrectly calculated will be run only for amount paid.

Classified Ad Rates

* The Collegian reserves the right to edit or reject any advertisement at any time.

Words/Day 1-15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25	1 2.50 2.70 2.90 3.10 3.30 3.50 3.70 3.90 4.10 4.30 4.50	2 3.50 3.75 4.00 4.25 4.50 4.75 5.00 5.25 5.50 5.75 6.00	3 4.25 4.66 4.85 5.15 5.45 5.78 6.05 6.35 6.65 6.95 7.25	4 4.75 5.10 5.45 5.80 6.15 6.95 7.20 7.55 7.90 8.25	5.00 5.40 5.80 6.20 6.80 7.00 7.40 7.80 8.20 8.80 9.00	1.05 1.10 1.15 1.20 1.25 1.30 1.35 1.40 1.45 1.50	01 Announcements 02 Apartments for Rent—Furnished 03 Apartments for Rent—Unfurnished 04 Automobiles for Sale 05 Automobile Rentals 06 Card of Thanks 07 Child Care 08 Computers 09 Employment 10 Financial Services	16 Motorcycles/Bicycles for Sale 17 Musical Instruments 18 Personals 19 Pets and Pet Supplies 20 Professional Services 21 Rentals 22 Resums/Typing Services 23 Roommate Wanted 24 Situation Wanted
26 27 28 29 30 Over 30 words (per word)							11 Garage and Yard Sales 12 Houses and Mobile Hornes for Re 13 Houses and Mobile Hornes for Sal 14 Lost and Found Mail Order Form ———	25 Sporting/Recreational Equipment 26 Sublease 27 Welcome 28 Other
Name	14		4	-	AL.	11- 1	Phone no.	N. C.
Address			0				Student ID #
			,			8		10
44		- 12	2			10	17
16		. 17	,	4.	1,	18	19
						-	24	96
	- 1	2	,	N S		28	20	30
Date ad	begir	15				5 1 1 1 1	_ Amount paid
Total day	s in	pape		16	1-1		Category

HOLIDAY GIFT BOOK SALE These are just a few of the hundreds of holiday sale books

we brought in to meet your gift-giving needs. The quantities are limited, so come in today!

b&w illus, by Troy Howell. Beautifully crafted edition of the children's classic. Bound with gold-stamped bonded leath-

MICKEY MOUSE TO THE MAGIC KINGDOMS. By Christopher Finch. Beautiful, color-filled study of the artist who created Mickay Mouse, with info. from studio archives as well as personal recollections. Animated classics like Snow White and Pinocchio studied in detail, Incl. more than 250 illus., most in full color, many previously unpublished. 160 pages, 1 gatefold, 8% x 10%. Pub. at $15.95 Only $9.98 at $15.95 Only $9.98
THE AUDUBON SOCIETY ENCYCLOPEDIA OF ANIMAL LIFE. Ed. by J. Farrand, Jr. 1025 photos, 583 in full color, 10 line drawings and one full color gatefold illustrate this all-inclusive survey of the animal world. Ranges from one-celled protozoans to mammals and man himself. 608 pages. 8 5/16 x 10 5/16. Pub. at $45.00 Only $29.95

BEYOND BLACK BEAR LAKE. By ALL ABOUT DINOSAURS. Kids will dis- Anne LaBastille, Photos, A female ecolocover loads of fascinating facts and info.

gist sets out on her own to escape what illus., full-color treasury of facts about about the great prehistoric beasts in this big picture book brimming with color illus.

sanctuary in the Adirondacks. An amazation bearing her info about the some illus. 10%. Only $2.98 pages. 5½ x 8½. Pub. at $15.98 Maud Montgomery. 8 hill color

According to Leo, "Life is a paradise to those who love many things with a passion." From food and flowers to music er on spine, with stained top edge, printed and colored endpapers and antique rough front. High-quality acid-free paper will last for generations. 256 pages. 7½ x Only $4.98

9½. Only $9.98

THE ART OF WALT DISNEY: FROM

tells of an orphanage director and his strange relationship with his favorite orphan. 560 pages. Pub. at $18.95 Only $4.98

FREDERICK FERDINAND FOX. By obscure but crafty mailman with a bushy pages. 9% x 10%. Pub. at $19.95 tail, with the secret papers that can save the nation. Young readers. 32 pages. 9 x THE COMPLETE WORKS OF WILLIAM 7. Pub. at $9.95.

WE ARE OPEN: 9:00 am-9 pm Mon-Sat 12-5 Sun

623 N. Manhattan Ave. 539-0511

DINOSAURS: AN A-Z GUIDE. From Albertosaurus to Zephyrosaurus, a fully illus., full-color treasury of facts about a picture and a chart with key info about the animal's eating habits, environment, physical characteristics, more. 176 pages. 7% x 10. Only $7.98 ***
THE ENCYCLOPEDIA OF WORLD MILITARY POWER. By C. Bishop, etal. 1,100 Full Color and B&W Photos. Timely exploration into the weapons of modem warfare, their development and operation. The various types of weaponry in turn, with superb color photographs, artwork and technical data supplementing each entry. 256 pages. 10% x 14%. Only $19.05 FAVORITE RECIPES OF THE SOUTH. Experience the culinary wonders of the south with this incredible two-in-one volume! Combines scenic full color photos Edward Miller. Full-Color Illus. The king with mouthwatering recipes for dishes-of Coralville entrusts Ferdinand, an with that distinct southern flavor. 192

Only $2.98 SHAKESPEARE. Complete and unabridged edition containing every word that Shakespeare wrote-all 37 tragedies, comedies and histories, plus the sonnets. Beautifully bound in genuine bonded leather, complimented by shin-ing gilding on the edges. Luxurious gold stamping on the spine and cover add a

SUNSET APARTMENTS

Furn. Apts.: Second semester availability.

I br., gas heat, no pets. $250

539-5051 or 776-3804

SECOND SEMESTER LEASE?

One and two bedroom apartments close to campus, priced from $250-$400.

Development 2700 Amherst (913) 776-3804

NOW IS the time to rent for next semester. One-, two- or three-bedroom apartments. Nice, close to campus. Not in complex. Low utilities, No pets. Call

ONE-BEDROOM FURNISHED in 12-unit complex two blocks west of campus. Available immediately. 539-7811 or 1-456-8297.

ONE-BEDROOM, CARPETED, no pets, $220 plus

ONE-BEDROOM FURNISHED or unfurnished. Sub-lease, central air, no pets. 537-4944 or leave SMALL LAWN for barbecues. Walk-out level basement apartment. Centrally air-conditioned; disposal. Liv-ing room, kitchen, bath, one huge bedroom. West of campus. Quiet location for study. Suitable for student or couple. No off-street parking. Available Jan. 8. No children, pets. $245 includes utilities.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM efficiency. $175 plus utilities, Jan. 1, 778-4805.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM basement, carpeted, $200 plus NICE TWO-BEDROOM besement, carpeted, $300 bills

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM. $230 plus utilities, Jan. 1, LARGE TWO-BEDROOM. $260 plus utilities, Jan. 1.

NICE ONE-BEDROOM apertment. Water, trash, two-thirds gas paid. Laundry facilities. Nice for graduate student or couple. $260. Available Dec. 15 or Jan. 1, 539-2482 after 4p.m.

TWO-BEDROOM, DISHWASHER, air conditioning, $420 month. Close to campus and Aggieville, 920 Moro. Six-month sublesse beginning Jan. 1. Call 537-0372 or 537-2919.

TWO-BEDROOM, CARPETED, Jan. 1 occupancy, $260 plus utilities. 539-8401. TWO-BEDROOM spartment seat of campus. Quiet conditions. Ample parking. Reasonable rates. 776-3624.

UNFURNISHED OR furnished two-bedroom apart-ment, close to campus and park. Available second semester. 778-6338.

VERY NICE one-bedroom apartment three blocks from campus. Sublease $230. Water, trash, gas paid. 537-4515.

3 Apartments—Unfumished

AVAILABLE SECOND semester. Less than one block from campus, two bedrooms, one full bath. Low utilities. Clean and nice. Call 778-3788 or

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM, campus location, coin-operated washer and dryer. No pets, available January. $265 plus depoelt. 539-1465.

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM basement across from City Park, Good carpet. Washer/ dryer included. No pets. Lease. $260. 776-0884 or 776-3804.

SPRING SEMESTER in HORIZON III

Half block from campus, 2 bedrooms, exceptional $400 January 1 occupancy 539-8401

BY RICHARD BROADFOOT

COUNTDOWN TO THE SEASON ENDING CLIFF-HANGER EPISODE ...

IN THE FINE TRANSITION OF CLIFF-MANGER EPISONES. SEVERAL SUB-PLOTS NAME BEEN INCLUDED TO THROW THE AUDIENCE OF OF THE REAL STORY... THAT'S LIMY WE'D LINE TO REASSURE YOU THAT THE BULLET AT LEFT WILL NOT WILL JEFF, BUT WILL, IN FACT, RICCORET OFF HIS FOSTBALL HELMET... TRAVEL HARMLESSY THROUGH "BLOOK - COUNTY" AND LODGE ITSELF IN "GARFIELD'S" TAIL FAT... -

PHOT!

PHOOT:

Bloom County

PLACE THIS IN

YOUR LEFT NOSTRIL

NICE TWO-BEDROOM apartment across from Nichols. Available Jan. 1, $330, 539-2920.

ONE-BEDROOM, PRIVATE bath, ground floor at 814 Leavenworth. $185 plus utilities, lease and deposit.

THREE-BEDROOM APARTMENT available now. Main floor of a house. Living room, dining room, kitchen, washer and appliances. $400 plus utilities. Six-month lease possible. 776-8393. THREE-BEDROOM AVAILABLE at 516 N. 14 St. $480. laundry facilities. 776-9262, keep trying.

TWO-BEDROOM, PARTLY furnished, air conditioned apartment, two blocks southwest of high school. Off-street parking. Trash and water paid. Available Jan. 1, $315, 539-5921.

VERY NICE one-bedroom basement apartment, three blocks west of campus. Phone 539-5267.

4 Automobiles for Sale

1978 CHEVROLET Impala station wagon, clean reliable second car. Must sell before Christmas break, $1,200 or best offer. Call Robert at 537-7587, 1507

1978 CUTLASS Supreme, 70,000 miles, cruise control, power steering, air conditioning, stereo. Must selli $900, 537-0560,

1978 FORD Truck, engine overhauled, runs good. Air conditioning, power steering, brakes. Asking $2,000. 537-6830.

1978 MONTE Carlo, marcon, great body, no rust, 12K on new V-8 engine, auto with post rear end, duals, power steering, power brakes, air, cruite, guages, tach, digital clock, awasome stereof tape deck, sharp velour interior. Four Crager SS with steel radials. Sharp. Must see, 778-9787.

1990 TOYOTA Corolla. Only 69,500 miles. Immaculate, air, digital cassette, excellent. $2,195, best offer. 597-2398.

1982 ESCORT, two-door, AM/FM stereo, air, exceller condition, must sell. $1,500 or best. 537-3721. FOR SALE: 1971 BMW 2002. Call 539-3153.

8 Computers

PERSONAL COMPUTERS Authorized Warranty Service also servicing

· PC compatibles & printers Televisions & VCRs

FOR SALE: Line printer ribbons- Black multistrike no. QM MS (41/4 dozen), $1.25 each. Black nylon no. QM NY (15), $2.25 each. Call 532-6555 or come by Kedzie 103 to see.

9 Employment

Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of rileements in the Employment classification. lers are advised to approach any such "employ-t opportunity" with reasonable caution. AEROBIC INSTRUCTORS needed. Call for appoint

ATTENTION- HIRINGI Government jobs- your area. $17,840- $69,485. Call (602)838-8885, ext. J-1797.

BUS DRIVER needed to start immediately for Monday, Wedneeday, Friday, 11a.m.-noon, to drive children from U.S.D. 383 to child care center. Class B

Some required. Previous experience preferred. $3.75 an hour. Apply Nancy Bolsen, director, L-9 Jardine Terrace, Manhattan, KS. 539-1806. Equal Opportunity Employer. DAIRY SALES Counter, Call Hall 144. Hours available now; finals week; Dec. 19-23; Jan. 3-10; and spring '89 semester. Work study preferred. Apply in person to Kathleen, Monday through Friday, 1-

DO YOU likelyide? I need a tus-loving, flacible person for childows. Room, board, salary plus car provided. We are very nice. Call Becky (415)328-6229.

EARLY CHILDHOOD lead to kindergarten-age children. Twelve month poeltion, Monday through Friday, 8a.m.- 4:30p.m. Beginning between Dec. 27 and Jan. 3. Requirements: Degree in ECE, Elementary Ed or related field and experience with young children. Benefits. Progressive, pleasant working environment. Please send cover letter, recurre and three references to: Marsha Tannehlli, Seven Dolors Child Care/ Preschool, 728 Colorado, Manhattan, by Dec. 14.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL teacher would like college girl to live in for second semester and summer. Help with house. Board and room in exchange. Write Box 1, c/o Collegian, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kansas ENGINEERING STUDENT for part-time work during Spring semester. Shop and/or electronics experience desirable. Apply in room 201 ERL (accessible through Seaton 64).

MAJOR WHOLESALER seeking assistant manager for Kansas City location. Candidate must have a business degree and be a self-starter with good communication skills. Salary $23,000. $25,000. Remit resume to: Dave Gaul, P.O. Box 1138, Denver, CO 80201.

summer to become a Marine Corps Officer afte graduation. Aviation available. Call collect HEAD TEACHER for Child Development Center, full-time. BA or BS degree in Child Development or ECE or related degree with 12 semester hours of child development/ ECE. Obtain an application at Kansas Job Service, 621 Humboldt. Submit appli-cation, letter of application, resume, transcripts and three work related letters of reference to them. United Way Agency, E.O.E., partially funded by the City of Manhattan. Deadline for application: Friday, Dec. 9

LOCAL FINANCIAL Institution seeking part-time mail-room clerk. Monday- Friday from 8- 10:30a.m. Need valid driver's license. If interested call Sue Carlson 537-0200. EOE.

ALUMNI OFFICE ASSISTANT

Clerical assistant for membership and publications departments of the KSU Alumni Association. Will perform routine office duties, including on-line computer research, word processing, stuffing envelopes and filing. Twelve-plus hours a week. Contact Jeanine Lake at (913) 532-6260. Work-study students are encouraged to apply.

MICROCOMPUTER PROGRAMMERS: You could be a part of a software development tearn that produces software that is marketed throughout the United States, while still in college, Kansas Careers is offering employment to students at all grade levels who are arribitious, creative and have good programming skills. Our programming team develops software for IBM PC, Apple II and MacIntosh software for IBM PC, Apple II and Macintosh microcomputer systems. Several languages are used, including "C," dBase III, 6502 and others. Programming at Kansas Careers enhances your college education while providing job experience, and excellent wages. Applications will be accepted at Fairchild Hall room 304 (532-6540) through Dec. 7, 1988. Kansas Careers and KSU are Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employers.

MOTHER'S HELPER position available Jan. 1, 1989 Work schedule, five days a week including Satur-days. Room, board, and car provided. Salary and length of employment negotiable. Location: Darien, Connecticut. Care of three boys, ages 5%, 4 and 2%. I worked for this nice family the summers of 1987 and 1988. If Interested, please call Julie,

NANNIES NEEDED. New England area- good pay and benefits. One-year commitment. Call 537-0947.

OVERSEAS JOBS. $900- $2,000 month. Summer, year-round, all countries, all fields, free information. Write IJC, P.O. Box 52-KS02, Corona Del Mar, CA

PROGRAMMER POSITION available. The Kansas OGRAMMER POSITION available. The Kansas Cooperative Extension Service has openings for two student computer programmers. Work sche-dules can be arranged around class times. Applic-ants should be farmilar with one of the following: Cobol, Fortran, or KSU maintrame systems opera-tions. For more information, contact Mary Knapp or Sherri Thompson, Computer Systems Office, room 211 Umberger, Phone: 532-7019, Applications are available from the above individuals, or at the Computer Science office. Applications will be accepted through Dec. 9, 1988.

PYRAMID PIZZA is now taking applications for delivery personnel. Please apply in person, 1130 Moro.

STUDENT CLERK to work daily, Monday through Friday, as well as summer and student recesses. Must have a daily three hour period of work time available. Must have typing skills, microcomputer knowledge helpful. Employment potential of two years given preference. Contact Jacque Meisner, room 23, Cardwell, by Wednesday, Dec. 6 by 5p.m.

THE CITY of Lansing will be accepting applications for the position of an intern in the Parks and Recreation Department until Dec. 15, 1988. This is a part-time, Department unit Dec. 15, 1866. This is a part-time, temporary position of approximately 20 hours a week during spring semester becoming a full-time position through the summer. This position pays $6' hour with a possible adjustment for summer. This position will include some minor labor during the position will include some minor tabor during the summer. Applicants should be an upperclassman (senior, graduate student) with a major in public administration, parks and recreation or a related (leid. To apply, send a cover letter, resume (with references) to: City Administrator, City of Lansing, 108 S. Main, Lansing, KS 66043. For additional information contact the City of Lansing. The City of Lansing is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full-

WORK-STUDY FLIGIBLE student wanted for approxi mately 10 hours per week starting Jan. 9, 1989.
Duties include running errands, copying, answering the phone and helping walk-ins. Please call Deb at 532-6432 before Dec. 9th.

12 Houses/Mobile Homes for Ren

TWO-BEDROOM HOUSE on seven acres, large shed, less than 15 minutes from campus. Available Jan. 1, $350/ month plus utilities. 537-2634, 6- 10p.m. TWO-BEDROOM FURNISHED with washer/dryer. No pets. $325. Water and trash paid. 776-1111.

VERY LARGE house, three blocks west of campus. Carpet, drapes, suitable for five. Phone 539-5267.

13 Houses/Mobile Homes for Sale

GOOD CONDITION three-bedroom, 12x65, stove, re-frigerator, insulated storm windows, storage shed. Reasonable financing available, 537-8649.

14 Lost and Found

ESCAPED: SIX- month- old black lab. 5416 College View, Quivera Area. 776-9492.

FOUND IN Denison Hall: Silver pen (blue ink) engraved with name. Call 1-456-9291 and identify by name. FOUND: LADIE's ring. To the lady who called the Rec. Complex on Friday, Dec. 2- we found it. Call Joyce at 532-6980 to claim.

FOUND: WOMEN'S watch outside of Justin Hall. To claim, call 532-3098.

VISSING FROM Union ballroom: Blue backpack containing textbook, class notes, colo. Reward. Call 532-3869.

15 Miscellaneous Merchandise

DIET FOOD for sale due to quitting diet. Three weeks supplies, asking $75. Call 537-4861. FOR SALE: Full-size, four-poster bad with matchir mirrored bureau, couch mini trampolene, rotatin table fan, 6x12 carpet. Cell after 4p.m. 539-292

FOR SALE: GE two-head VCR model IVC8004X, variable speed playback, one touch recording, four-event two-week timer, remote. 639-3320 after

FOR SALE: GE lour-head VCR model 9-7250, HQ, variable speed play, one touch recording, four-event two-week timer with remote. 599-3320 after

GOVERNMENT SURPLUSII New G.I. overshoes, com-bat boots and safety-toe boots, wool (blankets, gloves, socks and mittens). Field jackets, over-coats, carnouflage clothing. Also Carhartt work-wear. Monday- Saturday 9a.m. 5p.m. Open Sun-days till Christmas noon- 4p.m. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734.

HIDE-A-BED COUCH: $100 or best offer. 776-9582,

MUST SELL: Two roundtrip plane tickets K.C.- Houston. Dec. 18-28. Negotiable. 539-9540. Early morning, after 5:30p.m.

SKIS-FISCHER. Fire 160s, Look bindings. $60 or best offer, 539-0597 nights, Korey. TYPEWRITER- RENTALS- Sales- Repairs, Good selection of used IBMs and Smith Coronas, Advanced Business Systems 713 N. 12th (Aggleville).

WOMEN'S TENNIS racquet. Like new, "Head," over sized bow, 4¼ " handle. Reasonable. 539-3055

17 Musical Instruments

MUST SELL: Lotus acoustic guitar. $130 negotiable Call 532-3254 after 3p.m.

WASHBURN G-JUNIOR guitar and Washburn SX-12 amplifier. Excellent condition. 532-5381.

18 Personals

LADIES OF Gamma Phi Beta- The "secret santas" of a certain scrotty wish you good luck with finals and happy holidays! -Guess Who!

LAMBDA CHI V.B. Tearn: "If you reach for the moon and miss, you'll still be among the stars?" -M. Allen Love, J.B.

SILAS-SATURDAY night was great! (Too bad we didn't get any rolls). Thanks for the roses. Many.

19 Pets and Pet Supplies

FREE KITTENS to good home. Two black males, one black female, one black/ white female. Litter box trained. Five and one-half weeks old. 776-0635.

20 Professional Services

PREGNANT? BIRTHRIGHT can help. Free pregnant test. Confidential. Call 537-9180. 103 S. Fourth S test. Confi Suite 25. PROMPT ABORTION and contraceptive services

Lawrence. (913)841-5716.

21 Rentals

FOR RENT: One-bedroom studio apartment on Anderson Ave. across street from Union. Six months lease. $220. 537-4261 evenings.

RIME AGGIEVILLE location for lease. 600 square feet Call (913)642-3366.

STORE YOUR valuables over Christmas break. Aztec Storage, open seven days a week. Call 776-1111 for discount rate, or come by, 5004 Murray Road.

22 Resume/Typing Services

ABOUT ANYTHING typed, editing and transcription services, reasonable rates, by professional secretary. 539-5998 after 5p.m. AVOID DISASTERI Hire a professionall Resumes designed for your profession. Typeset and laser-printed. Graphics Plus, corner of Bluemont and N. Manhattan, Aggleville. 539-6027. COMPLETE DATA processing services, term papers, theses and dissertations, resurres. Laser jet print-theses and dissertati ing. Call 537-4146. COMPLETE TYPING/ word processing: letter quality printer with Spell Check, 75¢/ page, Call 537-8701. COMPOSING RESUMES and letters is our spe

We have been in business nine years and offer permanent computer storage. Contact the profes-sional staff regarding our full line of services. Resume Service, 343 Colorado Street. 537-7294. PROCRASTINATORS AND those on the ball, for expert typing give us a call. 537-3166, message. TYPING. FAST, accurate, guaranteed, 15 years experience. 537-2249.

Graphics Plus 722 N. Manhattan • Aggieville • 539-6027

TYPING SERVICE; Professional and experienced sec-retary. Very reasonable rates. Pick-up and delivery retary. Very reasonable rat available. Call 776-9736.

23 Roommate Wanted

FEMALE: BLOCK from campus, behind 'Ville. $165/month, Water and trash paid. Partially furnished. 537-1268.

FEMALE; NICE house near carrous, own room, washer and dryer. $145/ month plus utilities. 537-8825.

FEMALE- OWN room, two blocks from campus, one-half rent and utilities. Call 776-2198. FEMALE ROOMMATE to share house, close to campus, furnished, washer/ dryer, many more extras. $162.50/ month plus deposit. Call Renee.

FEMALE ROOMMATE, 516 N. 14 St. Own room plus one-third utilities, 776-9262 keep trying.

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted. Own room, washer/ dryer. Near campus, $137.50 plus one-fourth utilities. Available Jan. 1st. Call after 5:30p.m.

FEMALE ROOMMATE- Own room, low utilities, laundry in complex, close to campus, fun roomles. $145 a month. Call 539-6299.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share apartment. Half rent and half utilities. Own room. 537-7183. FEMALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apart ment near campus and park. 776-6338.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apart-ment close to Aggloville. Washer/ dryer, $187.50 plus one-half utilities. Nice, must see. Available

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted to share nice three-bedroom house near campus. $150/ month, one-third utilities. 776-5294. FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted to share comfortable two-bedroom duplex. 776-0402.

FEMALE ROOMMATE to share three-bedroom h near campus, washer/ dryer furnished. $125. 539-1021.

FEMALE(S)- ONE: Own room, $187.50. Two: Share room, $125. Spacious, clean, quiet duplex near City Park. 776-6800, anytime. MALE (ONE or two): Two-bedroom, one block from Durland, $160. Laundry, driveway privileges. 776-4750.

MALE ROOMMATE to share two-bedroom apartment near campus. Washer/ dryer furnished. $125. 776-5856. MALE ROOMMATE wanted. Own room half block to campus and Aggieville utilities. Call 776-1270. ieville, $160/ month, one-third NON-SMOKER to share large three-bedroom house

Own room. Close to campus and Aggieville, $100 a month. Low utilities. Call 776-6036. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share furnished two-bedroom. Cats allowed. Call Paula or Brenda, 776-5669.

NON-SMOKING female, to share brand new trailer, own room, washer/ dryer many extras. Three minutes from campus, $150/ month plus half utilities. Call

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share two-bedroom apartment near campus, $120 all utilities paid, 539-7678 NON-SMOKING MALE: Own room across from Dur-land, Washer/ dryer, cable, $141.67/ month. Call

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share one-bedroom furnished apartment, $147.50 plus utilities a month. Call 776-5229 after 5p.m.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE: To share two-bedroom apartment, close to Aggleville. 537-1273. ONE/ TWO females wanted to share four-bedroom house. Only $180 monthly. Great living Call 776-5010.

ROOMMATE WANTED to share two-bedroom house trailer. $100/ month, half utilities. Call Allen 537-3909.

24 Situation Wanted

FAMILY WANTS college girl to live in for next semester, summer and fall. Board and room in exchange for duties. Write Box 1, c/o Collegian, Kedzie Hall, KSU, Manhattan, KS 66506.

26 Sublease

CLEAN, SPACIOUS, very nice two-bedroom apart-ment, close to campus. Available for sublease. Call

COZY ONE-BEDROOM apartment available immediately, convenient location, air conditioning, water and trash paid, $225/ month, 539-4152 after 5p.m. FEMALE TWO blocks from campus, clean, spacious efficiency, furnished or not. $140 all utilities paid Available Dec. 15 or later. 539-6499.

LARGE TWO-BEDROOM apartment. University Ter-race Apartments. Need to lease for second semes-ter. Available Dec. 16. Call Army or Kathy.

NON-SMOKING MALE needed for spring semester in very nice two-bedroom furnished apartment. Call Bill or Lance, 776-0644. ALK TO campus! Sublease till May. One-be apartment across from Durland. Clean and conve-nienti Leave message, 537-8739.

28 Adoption

ADOPT: A Baby is our dream! We are blessed with a wonderful, happy marriage and financial success.

Let us give your baby love, security and the best of everything. Legal. Expenses paid. Call Lynn and Martin collect: (212)362-6884.

29 Wedding Accessories

WINTER BRIDES, Save money by having your wedding veil custom designed and made by Pearlace Creations. Write to P.O. Box 1984, Manhattan for

30 Christmas Events

IMPORTANT NEWS Bulletin: Santa's elves have gone on strikel Help stop this tragedy. Donate a new or used toy until Dec. 8th in the big present at the TIRED OF studying? Take a break! Experience the spirit of the season-Winterfeet'88. Thursday, Dec. 8th at the K-State Union.

By Eugene Sheffer

Crossword ACROSS DOWN

36 Mine

matched 5 Aries Mansard, for one

1 One of a

13 Psych. org. 14 Try to persuade 15 Pursue 17 Undesir able prom date' 18 Small barrel

colloq.

20 Burton's

homeland 21 Vintage 22 Irish sea god 23 City in Italy

26 Spring 30 Draft 31 It might hand

33 Sadly

51 Actress

Anna

NAN BUS LEAR ARUC UNA HAGO RANI MIL TRE BUATO TART TIP DALTO

23 Kind of art 24 Woodsman's

(movie) 16 One type 37 Davis or of market Midler > pencil 40 Seek's partner 41 Skier's earnestly 43 Destroy 44 Fairy tale

47 Winter in N.Y.

CRYPTOQUIP

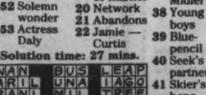

BQSFTMAS: ZCAXPW

SPT-JCZT XAAW WHMAWO."

Today's Cryptoquip clue: T equals N

のではないないというできません マイン

output 37 Future 2 Chills tool flower and fever 25 Cozy 38 Hawaiian 3 Sharp retreat taste 4 NOW's flowering 26 Cereal tree grass 27 Dos Passos 41 Dry, as 5 Propor-42 In favor 6 Mimicked 28 Saul's 7 Calendar relative 45 Mine abbr. entrance 8 Series of initials 46 Fleeing evasive 31 Day 48 Prank: excuses before colloq. 9 City on 34 Bank acct. 49 Camp bed the Oka 35 "- Good 50 Levantine 10 Monster Friends' ketch 19 Restraint: 11 Govt. men

1 Gospel

46 Wood

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: DESCRIBING A BRIDGE ALWAYS CLEANED WEEKLY: "SPICK AND SPAN."

hope 42 Ask

QSAMMO

I HEAR YOUR CHRISTMAS PLAY WAS CANCELED

6000 PLAY, TOO.

By Berke Breathed

SWELLINK WILL #27,059.17 BILL US.

Garfield By Jim Davis JON, THERE'S A LUMP IN THE TABLECLOTH. FLATTEN IT OUT WITH THIS FRENCH BREAD JAM DAVES WAIT A MINUTE! OPIE?

Peanuts

THE SCHOOL BOARD DID US IN.

THOUGHT I WROTE

By Charles Schulz

Holiday meanings differ for students

By Stuart Puls Collegian Reporter

Christmas, the Christian celebration of the birth of Jesus, evokes a smile or two from many students on campus. Finals are over, and students are able to spend more time with friends and family during the Christmas holiday.

But not all students look forward to the same Christmas homecoming. For international students who are not Christian, Christmas vacation has other meanings.

Mahmoud Mansour, graduate student in biochemistry and adviser for the Muslim Community Association, said most Muslim students travel across the country to attend conferences about the Muslim community.

At these conferences, speakers talk about news in the Middle East and about the Islamic faith. One conference which MCA members will attend during the Christmas break is in Oklahoma City.

"This conference is pretty devoted to the teaching of the Islam faith. The conference also talks about what is going on in the Middle East," Mansour said.

About 5,000 people from across the nation will attend the conference, Mansour said.

Students who don't attend a conference often shop, visit friends or travel, Mansour said. "Students treat (Christmas) like just another day. Most will celebrate the new year though," Mansour said.

Like Muslim students, Buddhist students celebrate the new year. But, unlike Muslims, many Buddhists celebrate the birth of Jesus, said Leon Rappoport, adviser for the Buddhist Student Association.

Rappoport said, however, Buddhists view Jesus as an "enlightened being" and a good man - not the savior of

Bakker

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 Bakker; James is a former interior designer for PTL.

U.S. Attorney Thomas Ashcraft declined to comment or say whether other indictments were possible. "There has already been too much publicity on this already and we don't want any more," he said. The defendants were ordered to appear in federal court Dec. 15. Bakker built PTL into a multimillion-dollar organization before he resigned in March 1987 after admitting money was paid to buy the silence of former church secretary Jessica Hahn about a 1980 sexual encounter in a Florida motel in ministry money. He admitted the tryst with Hahn but denied her charge that she was an unwilling participant, as well as other charges that quickly surfaced including financial mismanagement and homosexual encounters.

Bakker's Pentecostal denomination, the Assemblies of God, dismissed him and Dortch in May 1987, and in June, PTL filed for protection under federal bankruptcy laws.

charged in Monday's indictments. Hahn, who works for a radio staroom. The payment totaled $363,700 tion in Phoenix, predicted Bakker ment said.

would be convicted. She told a news conference that she is willing to testify in court, but other than that wants nothing to do with the story.

Bakker and Dortch diverted PTL funds for their own use. Bakker and his wife were given bonuses totaling nearly $3.5 million and Dortch obtained bonuses totaling $550,000,

The indictment also accused

Dortch of authorizing a payment of $265,000 to Hahn, saying that he asked a contractor to supply the funds. The contractor, Roe Messner, was instructed to get his money back by overbilling PTL by the same amount by inflating construction costs on a PTL project, the indict-

Messner, who was PTL's chief builder under Bakker, was one of several targets of the grand jury investigation. But he was not the indictment said.

"This is where it ends for me," she

The indictment charged that in 1984, Bakker announced the sale of lifetime memberships for the purpose of financing construction of a large hotel at Heritage USA.

Roses

Bush

difficult.

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 need to be a good judge of people and know who not to bother. "I feel like it puts my date on the spot to buy, if a seller comes to us. If it is (my date's) own decision, then it's OK," she said.

Rein was given a flower Saturday night at The Ranch Saloon. It was a nice gesture, she said, but she would

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

$100 billion called for in the Gramm-

However, Woodworth said the business economists believe the federal deficit will be much nearer the $155.1 billion deficit run up in the fiscal year that ended Sept. 30, meaning Bush's task of reducing the deficit without new taxes will be more

Ranking along with the budget deficit in urgency, the economists said the Bush administration would have to move quickly to propose a solution to the crisis confronting the Rudman balanced budget law.

hopes to quit selling roses someday because "it makes for a long day." Robbery

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

have perferred a drink - especially give advice on ways to expand her a camera to take pictures of various situations," she said.

Robles said the customers often

"People will tell me I should carry

Robles probably won't start carrying a camera in the bars. She said she since someone ate the flower.

In the future, Hayes said, the employees will make sure the store's front doors are locked and the store is empty before placing money from the cash registers into the safe.

The two robbers had entered the store shortly before closing time and demanded money, he said.

Dutch Maid is not offering a reward in connection to the robbery. Hayes did not know if the store's insurance company would offer a reward but said information about the robbery will be sought through the Crime Stoppers program.

savings and loan institutions. Monday's indictment alleged

CHIMICHANGA! (One coupon per person-not valid with any other offer.)

Offer good through 12/30/88

1219 Bluemont Open Daily at 11 a.m.

THE PERFECT GIFT! LEE LEVIS & WRANGLER JEANS Christmas Hours: Mon.-Fri. 9-8 Sat. 9-5:30 Sun. 1-5 E. Hwy 24

776-6715

$ Buy, sell or trade anything $ of value

> Remember us for your Christmas gift ideas.

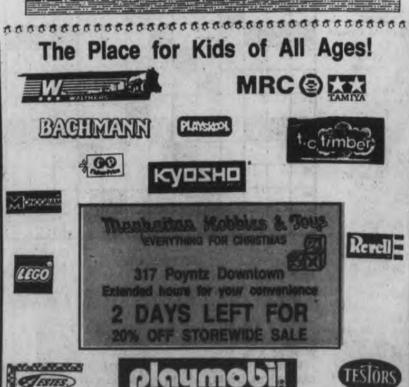

CASH PAWN & GUN, INC.

1917 Ft. Riley Blvd. 776-3332 Jewelry

できるないないないないないないないないないない

Entire Inventory 10-50% OFF Windbreaker Jackets Golf Clubs Men's & Lade Wood Headcover Putters & Wedges •Golf Bags •Golf Balls Golf socks Golf Shirts Gift Certificates STAGG HILL GOLF CLUB PRO SHOP 539-1041

We have what you need to make Your Gift Special!! 8am-8pm Seven Days A Week 1 Mile East of Manhattan Airport on K-18

If you need books . . . go to a Bookstore If you need K-State Sportswear or gifts-

GO TO "WILDCAT SPIRIT"

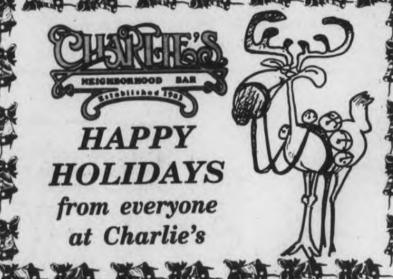

We have plenty of Jackets. Doubleweight T-shirts. & KSU Sweatshirts ready for Christmas wrapping!

Our #1 traditional Sweatshirt $15.95

we stock white, aveford, purple, & silver gray (special on white only please)

-Don't forget us for sew-on lettering in time for Christmas!

THESE LITTLE FOLKS HAVE BEEN GNOME TO MAKE GREAT CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.

Tom Clark's gnomes make delightful gifts for collectors and non-collectors alike. And then there are Tom Clark's Santas and country people and carolers . . .

Lakin's Gift Shop & Metal Polishing

Stone house corner of Westwood & Ft. Riley Blvd 537-7712

Holiday Sweaters

Reg. 9400

Turtlenecks Reg. 1600

Harpers Price 3990 Harpers Price 8º0

M-F 10-8 p.m. S Sun. 1-5 p.m.

DOWNTOWN MANHATTAN

InFocus

Kansas State Collegian ■ Tuesday, December 6, 1988 ■ Page 1B

MMERCIALIZED CHRISTMA FROM HOLIDAYS TO SHOPPING DAYS

Snowflakes fill the air as shoppers bustle in and out of stores toting red and green packages. Children peer into store windows, and church bells ring in the distance.

This classic scene of the Christmas shopping season epitomizes the spirit of Christmas for many people. But for retailers, there is another story of Christmas. In it, the difference between church bells and cashregister bells can barely be distinguished.

"Thirty-five percent of all sales which occur in any year take place between the day after Thanksgiving until Christmas," said Chris Heavey, general manager of Manhattan Town Center.

The high percentage of sales during the Christmas shopping season is not unique to the mall.

"Sales between Thanksgiving and Christmas amount to 20 percent of the year's sales," said Dean Taylor, owner of The Palace, a gift shop in Aggieville.

Several factors go into making the Christmas shopping season successful for retailers.

"At Christmas time, everybody gets a gift. It's the only holiday of the year where everybody gets a gift," Taylor said. "December is also one of the top-six birthday months, so people are buying birthday presents."

Other things also can affect buying trends.

"Moods are important," Heavey said. "If we can change the weather, we can make some big, big sales."

Cooler weather seems to be the and Christmas key to getting shoppers in the pur-

"Fifty-five degrees is terrible retail weather. It's a little frightening, because weather has a lot to do with sales," he said.

Extending store hours can also extending its store hours an additional ten hours per week during the Christmas season, Heavey said.

We base our store hours on what the anchors are doing — the anchors being J.C. Penney and Dillard's," he said. "We always open the mall with at least one anchor."

Independent stores have more freedom in deciding when to lengthen store hours. "As long as people are out and shopping, we stay open. We're very flexible," said Don Carrel, owner of Kitchen's Plus, a gift store in the Westloop shopping area.

The Christmas story for retailers is becoming longer each year because it starts earlier, some retailers said.

"It's not something I really like, but it's a fact," Heavey said. "Some malls today are bringing Santa promotions in before Thanksgiving."

This year Manhattan Town Center brought out St. Nick and North Pole Christmas decor after Thanksgiving, he said. "Some of the individual stores increase sales. did set out their Christmas gifts right Manhattan Town Center is after Halloween, though," he said. "Those decisions are up to the individual stores."

Many retailers said they think customers are pushing for the earlier Christmas shopping season.

"We have people in August asking about the Christmas things. Many gripe about the things being out so early, but they buy them," Carrel said.

Although many stores set out Christmas gifts after clearing away Halloween pumpkins, some stores - such as The Palace - don't.

"We don't like to put Christmas things out until after Thanksgiving, with the exception of cards. We set those out in the middle of September, because there are so many people in Manhattan who have families and friends overseas. They take so long to get there," Taylor said.

Christmas may be profitable for retailers, but they usually spend extra money preparing.

"You're talking between $300,000 and $400,000 budgeted for marketing a year, with 25 percent of that going into Christmas," Heavey said.

"We've spent some major dollars on our decorations. It's meant to give that special feeling," he said.

Although many merchants tend to decorate for Christmas with the use of the merchandise they sell, they pay extra money in salaries and special events.

"We don't hire extra employees as many stores do, but the employees we have work longer hours,"

> Taylor said. The Palace and Kitchen's Plus began their Christmas promotions with an open house.

"We send out more than 6,000 invitations. All of the employees dress up, we have demonstrations of products and we serve refreshments,"

Carrel said. During the holiday season, consumers do not mind spending a little extra money, especially if it means rewarding people with something special.

This is a time when people say 'thanks' to employees, and one of the easiest ways is to take them out to eat," said Jerry Reynard, food and beverage director for the Manhattan Holiday Inn & Holidome.

"Liquor sales go up. Everyone wants a bar for their employees. They want them to feel happy this time of year," he said. "Prime rib is very popular. Everyone says, 'What the heck. It's Christmas-time. We'll spend a little extra."

For the retailer, Christmas begins long before most shoppers have visions of Valentine's Day chocolates dancing in their heads.

"We plan to leave Jan. 13 to go buy next year's ornaments and trees," Carrel said.

"We write down our ideas for next year while they are still fresh in our minds. Then in July or August, we pull those notes out," Heavey said. Retailers admit there are drawbacks to having the jump on the "It's hard to be a retailer and enjoy Christmas when all of our Easter stuff is in the back room ready to be unpacked," Carrel said.

story by Heather Huntington

illustration by Mike Venso

photo by David Mayes

Bobby Walters keeps his father Pete close while sitting on Santas lap in the Manhattan Town Center Monday evening. Paxton Schneider, junior at Manhattan High School played Santa for the children.

Items courtesy of Main Street Revival Co.

Nutcrackers, a handsewn Raggedy Ann doll and a Santa Claus are among the many traditional gifts available this shopping season.

Faithful groups simplify holiday

By Lisa Pfannenstiel Collegian Reporter

The hustle and bustle of the Christmas shopping season is here - people scurrying for the best gifts at the best prices. In the commercialized atmosphere, some religious groups choose an alternative.

"Mennonites celebrate the Christmas season with a theme of simplicity," said the Rev. Dorothy Nickel Friesen, Mennonite Student Group adviser.

"We focus our efforts on responsible living and try to reduce the significance of commercialism during the holiday season," Friesen said. "Giftgiving has value. Mennonites do not want to take away the positive aspect of sharing. We stress exchanging homemade gifts or buying gifts that support individual artists.'

Examples of gifts that are inappropriate are toys promoting violence or war, Friesen said.

Families do not emphasize Santa Claus. Although they don't disregard the tradition, they don't include it as a significant part of the holiday,

Santa Claus also plays a minor role in the Christmas celebration of the Church of Latter Day Saints, whose members are known as Mormons.

"Members accept what convention accepts. Santa Claus is part of the American tradition and is included in the holiday festivities," said Thomas Parish, Latter Day Saints Student Association adviser. The Mormon celebration is not dissimilar with beliefs of other Christian faiths, Parish said. The emphasis is on the birth of Christ.

Hyde Jacobs, assistant dean of agriculture, said members prepare for the celebration during group meetings, emphasizing the mission of the Savior and his servants from both the past and present.

The Quaker celebration deemphasizes rituals, paying more attention to the basic principle of the celebration - the birth of Christ, said Margaret Conrow, associate professor of English and a member of the Quaker faith.

"Overall, we celebrate the event, ■ See TRADITION, Page 8B with over 50 styles of Furs to choose from.

Dec. 9-1:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Dec. 10-9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

1342 Westloop Place Westloop Shopping Center (913)537-7201 Open 9:30-5:30 Mon. Sat.; Thursday till 8 p.m. Sunday 1-5

1212 Moro, Aggieville

LOCATION! AGGIEVILLE • MANHATTAN TOWN CENTER GIFT CERTIFICATES ARE ONLY $2.50

-COUPON-Deluxe

Fajita

mexi-fries med. drink expires 12-31-88

save 58¢

Sunday 1-5

539-5303

One number brings out the best at KSU

Now, at KSU, there's just one number to remember for fast delivery of pizza that's every bit as good as one you'd go out for.

Godfather's Pizza!" Now you don't have to settle for anything less, anymore.

> 1118 Laramie Aggieville

Flint Hills Bread Basket five years

By Amy Rosebrough Collegian Reporter

The Flint Hills Bread Basket is in its fifth year of distributing food to more than 30 commodities programs in the Manhattan area. This is its third year of working with the Mayor's Holiday Tree to aid low-income families in the Manhattan area.

This year the non-profit organization set its donation goal at 62,000 pounds, said Rick Mann, former Mayor of Manhattan and founder of the Mayor's Holiday Tree.

"We have had a tremendous response (for the Mayor's Holiday received 32,000 pounds and last year 48,000 pounds were donated."

Tina Hanna, coordinator for the Flint Hills Bread Basket, said the Mayor's Holiday Tree was established to minimize hunger and poverty on the local level and prevent waste of surplus food. Many of the underprivileged families are under an increased strain to make ends meet during the winter months.

"There is very little left in the winter and stress is very high this time of year," Hanna said. "Our hope is that the food donations will make (the families') dollar more powerful Tree)," he said. "The first year we so low-income families can buy other items during the holiday s'eason."

> The idea of the Mayor's Holiday Tree was also meant to coordinate community giving during the holiday season, she said. Although donations are received throughout the year, the majority of the donations are received and distributed from Thanksgiving through Christmas.

The Bread Basket distributes food to several commodity organizations, including the Manhattan Crisis Center, Senior Citizen Organizations and the Manhattan Emergency Shelter. More than 560 families received a holiday basket last year and more baskets are expected to be distributed this year.

Food donations were originally given by greek houses, which continue to donate to the Bread Basket. Many other organizations donate food for the Bread Basket, including the Farmers Market, churches, campus organizations and grocery stores.

Hanna said the Flint Hills Bread Basket has set two main criteria that families must meet to be eligible for a holiday basket.

■ The families must be Riley County residents and they must meet income guidelines established by the local Welfare Office.

■ The income for a one-person family must be no higher than $600 a month, plus $200 for each additional family member.

Each basket contains one meat, usually a ham during the Christmas season; two or three canned goods, such as beans, corn or other vegetables; and, depending on the size of the family, one loaf of bread, and other perishable items.

In 1987, single men in the Manhattan area drew the most from the Manhattan Emergency Shelter. These men were provided with 185 items from the Manhattan Shelter. Fami-

Mon.-Fri. 10-6

Thurs, till 8

Sat. 9-5

lies drew the second highest amount of food and commodity items, with their total numbering 107 donations. Others who received donations last year were couples and single women. Kathryn Kelly, Manhattan Emergency Shelter employee, said the non-profit organization accepts donations of food and commodity items throughout the year. "There was a little bit of everything - spaghetti, day-old bread donated from grocery stores. Some commodities were donated throughout the year," she said, "but there seems to be more donations this time

WORRIED ABOUT YOUR HOLIDAY TRIP?

Prevent a break down on cold and icy roads. Treat your car to complete fast quality service at Wayne's Quik Lube. Includes oil change, filter, lube, and all key fluids filled. We do minor mechanical work. WAYNE'S QUIK LUBE

こうこうこうこうこうこうこうこうこうこうこう

Celebrate the Season with

Looking forward to serving you next semester!

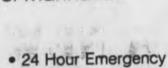

218 S. 4th

for appts.

)ental Associates

of Manhattan

1133 College Ave. Bldg. D

Manhattan, KS 66502 Drs. (913) 539-7401 Drs. Hughes, Pettle, Lala, Service Saturday and Evening Appointments

· Here to serve you when you're away from home Fulton, and Strutz, D.D.S. Make your wishes come

Unique Holiday Gifts

Holiday Gift or Cheese baskets

Wine-Unicef Gifts-Gift Soaps

People's Grocery Cooperative

811 Colorado

539-4811

9009000000000 true with our gifts, antiques, vintage clothes and much more:

Manhattan Town Center

•776-5797 •

Take Us Home For The Holidays.

At I Can't Believe It's Yogurt, you'll find an unbelievable selection of Fresh Frozen Yogurt Pies -German Chocolate, Neapolitan Delight, Strawberry Smoothie, Mud Pie Madness, Oreo Fudge Supreme, Turtle Pie, Classic Pecan Praline, Black Bottom Pie, Your Idea of Cheesecake, Gummie Bear, Chocolate Chip Cookie or you can even create your own custom combination!

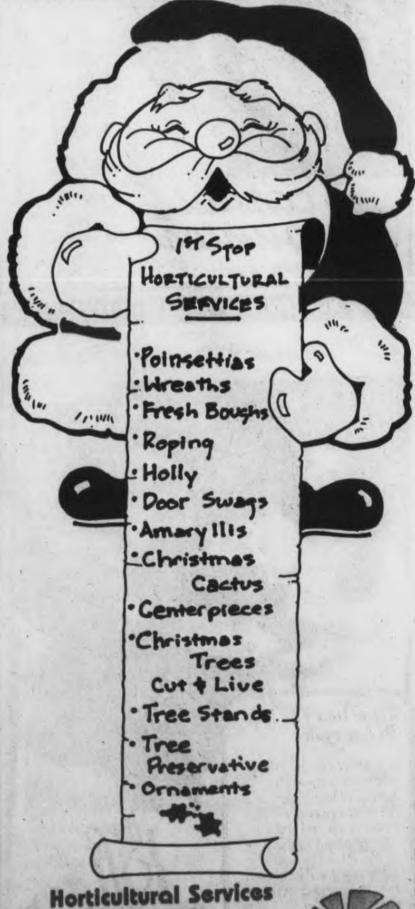

Fresh Frozen Yogurt Pies Place order one day in advance Call 537-1616 705 N. 11th Nautilus Towers Open 11 a.m.-11 p.m. Daily Noon-11 p.m. Sunday Offer good thru Jan. 3, 1989

day in advance Call 537-1616 705 N. 11th Nautilus Towers Open 11 a.m.-11 p.m. Daily Noon-11 p.m. Sunday Offer good thru Jan. 3, 1989

50¢ Off Fresh Frozen Yogurt Pies

Place order one

· Garden Center · Mon-Sat 8-6 Pri 8-7:30 Sun 10-6 776-5764

Tannenbaum remains holiday favorite

Department of Forestry studies Christmas trees

By Eva Craig Collegian Reporter

The Charlie Brown Christmas tree - one that's small and scraggly may become extinct to Christmas tree plantations due to ongoing research in the Department of Wayne Geyer, professor of forestry; Keith Lynch, assistant professor of forestry; Richard Kopp, professor of forestry; and F. Van Haverbeke, a University of Nebraska scientist, are evaluating genetic and environmental factors affecting the growth rates and appearance of Christmas trees grown in the Great Plains.

The study, funded with a $1,000 grant from the Kansas Christmas Tree Growers Association in cooperation with the Kansas Agricultural Experiment Station, also has been supplemented with federal funding from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Lynch said.

The researchers have been searching for varieties in Scotch Pines, the most popular Christmas tree, that will grow faster and have better natural form, he said.

Faster growth will reduce time between plantings and harvest, Geyer said. Also, a more attractive form will require less shearing, which may account for between 5 to 10 percent of the trees' production cost.

This 15-year effort began with researchers collecting seeds from European Scotch Pines with superior Christmas tree characteristics. Female Scotch Pine conelets were artificially pollinated by male trees. The resulting seeds were planted near Milford Reservoir dam.

"We have found that the needle length, height and color of the trees are under strong genetic control,"

In the future, selection of superior trees could be made in the Kansas and Nebraska plantings to develop better Christmas trees.

"This research is important because a lot of people grow Christmas trees in Kansas," Geyer said. In 1985, 57,000 Christmas trees were grown in Kansas. In 1987, 102,000 trees were grown, and it is ■ See RESEARCH, Page 8B Evergreens require care; hints given for purchasers

By Heather Huntington Collegian Reporter

It's a problem every year. The family wants a real Christmas tree, but there are many to chose from, and it's hard to keep the tree from shedding needles toward the end of the Becoming familiar with evergreens and learning how to take care of trees could be the answer.

"Most people don't know how to properly care for their trees," said Terry Olson, owner of East and West Side Market.

Following a few steps could produce a healthier and more attractive tree, Olson said.

■ Take a fresh cut from the bottom of the tree right before putting it in water. Trees that have been cut earlier and then displayed for the purpose of sales often have wax on the bottom of the trunk to keep sap and moisture in the tree. Aerosol sprays may be purchased and applied to the needles to keep them from losing moisture. The sprays are especially helpful when the tree is going to be inside for more than two weeks.

A tree owner also may purchase a liquid preservative to put in the water. The preservative, a combination of fertilizer and an antibacterial agent, keeps the water fresh and the needles moist.

Although many people did not know how to care for their trees, most tree shoppers know what they want in a tree, said Don Seedle, an Optimist Club member.

"Because of the military and college population, we have people from all over the world who come here to buy their trees, and it depends on what part of the world they come from as to what kind of tree they want," Seedle said. The Optimist Club's annual tree sale is one of the largest and oldest in Manhattan, he said.

"We've been selling trees for over 20 years," he said.

The club sells about 3,000 trees annually, all of which come from Oregon. Many Christmas tree businesses, however, sell primarly ■ See TREES, Page 8B

A CHECO DE LA CARCARCA DEL CARCARCA DEL CARCARCA DE LA CARCARCA DE

NORTHERN ISLES IN WARM WOOLS OR SOFT COTTONS.

IN REGULAR AND TALL SIZES

STOP IN AND SEE OUR HUGE SELECTION

encounter

-fashion clothing for men-

TODAY AT 1208 Moro Aggieville

OPEN 10-8 Mon.-Thurs. 10-6 Fri.-Sat. 1-5 Sun.

HOLIDAY SHOPPING AT THE LOFT

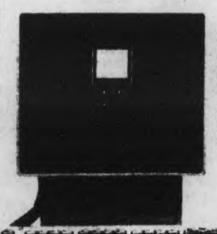

1207 Moro in Aggieville Mon.-Thurs. 9:30 AM to 8 PM • Fri. & Sat. 9:30 AM to 5:30 PM • Sun. 1-5 PM

The Tandy 1000 SL for $109895

The IBM PS/2° Model 25 for $169500

MOGA ilt-in Color Grapi Disk Operating Sy (DOS) Bulk in $120 Only for a strated Time 10 4 No 8086 Disk Drive Yes No 2 1098.95 $1815.00

IBM PS/2 Model 25

The Tandy 1000 SL is the clear winner, and it's easier to use.

Right now, IBM® is promoting their PS/2 Model 25. For $1695, you can get a Model 25 with a color monitor and a coupon which you can redeem for a software package.

But in order to use that software, or any other applications software for that matter. you'll need to pay an additional $120 to get the operating system. Hmm.

On the other hand, the Tandy 1000 SL is now sale priced with a color monitor and DeskMate software for only $1098.95.

You won't need to buy an operating system because it's permanently stored in the SL's memory. In just five seconds from the time you turn the SL on, MS-DOS has loaded and up comes a neat, organized display of your programs. Welcome to the DeskMate Graphical User Interface, the simple, plain-English approach to personal computing. The DeskMate software included with the SL gives you ten easy-to-use applications: a word processor with spelling checker, spreadsheet, a filing system with a custom form setup program, a calendar, an address book, a graphics drawing program, hang-man word game, communications and PC-Link®, a low-cost online information service.

(Theirs gives you four applications: a word processor with spelling checker, database, spreadsheet and communications.)

Michigan State University professor Norman Bell wrote to us to say that DeskMate software is "one of the most outstanding products that I have seen on the market." Sound good so far? Well listen to this:

Tandy offers the only PC compatibles that let you make audio recordings on 514" diskettes. Stewart Alsop, editor and pub-lisher of P.C. Letter, says, "This new capa-bility puts Tandy in a leadership role in the world of digitized speech and music."

Another consideration: no one sells more PC compatibles than Radio Shack, and no one offers better support.

Naturally, you may charge your purchase on most major credit cards. Or open a Radio Shack ValuePlus® account. It's as easy to buy a Tandy computer as it is to use one!

The Tandy 1000 SL gives you so much more for so much less, it's not even fair to compare. Case closed!

Tandy Computers: Because there is no better value."

US COMPUTER DEPT

2609 Anderson

in Anderson Square 539-6151

The Technology Store"

Radio Shaek

Holiday Store Hours Weekdays 9-8 Saturday 9-5 Sunday 12-5 and the second second

Live nativity scene to be at Sunset Zoo

By The Collegian Staff

The first Christmas will be reenacted during a live nativity scene from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Dec. 13 and 14 at the Sunset Zoo Pavilion.

This will be the seventh year for the live nativity scene at the zoo. The scene will be portrayed by junior zookeepers — students from 9 to 15 years of age who work in the children's zoo. The scene will include angels, shepherds, three kings, Mary and Joseph, said Don Wixom, curator of education at the zoo.

The scene will include a manger made of straw, with a pen next to the manger containing the animals. "Minor breeds" will be used in the scene. These animals are the direct descendants of the original stable animals and originated in Europe, North Africa and the Middle East, Wixom said.

These rare species will include the African Pygmy Goat, the Sicilian Donkey and the Jacob Sheep, which is the breed of four-horned, spotted sheep that is mentioned in the Bible.

Remote control cars

By Stuart Puls Collegian Reporter

As Christmas approaches, children - and sometimes adults - make out their annual "what-I-want-for-Christmas" list, and parents rush to the local shopping centers to buy the toys requested on the lists.

So what are children asking for this Christmas? What's hot and what's not?

According to Kathy Yates, employee in the toy department at K mart, remote control cars and Fisher Price items are popular. Traditional toys, such as the Barbie doll, are also big sellers.

'We can't keep (Barbie dolls) in stock. We had a special edition Barbie that sold out in a matter of a few hours," Yates said.

Curtis Stewart, Wal-Mart toy department employee, said Wal-Mart is also selling remote control cars quickly. Other toys selling well at Wal-Mart are Burger King playdough sets and computer games, he Barbie dolls are not selling exceedingly well at Wal-Mart, Stewart said, but G.I. Joe is "hanging in there."

Ravi Sachdeva, owner of Manhattan Hobbies and Toys, said science kits and Playmobile action toys are selling well at the store. But the biggest sellers are remote control cars.

"Remote control cars are selling for all ages again. They pretty well seem to sell every year," Sachdeva

Some new toys on the market that are selling well are the E.T. stuffed animal, Galoob army gear, Galoob micro-machines, Hot Wheels Color Racers and the Purr-Tenders stuffed animals.

Stewart said the new board games Jenga and Tuba-Ruba are also selling well, as well as the older Monopoly and Pictionary games. Yates said Alf suction cup dolls, which stick to the back windows of cars, are selling surprisingly well.

Toys that aren't selling are the Pee Wee Herman scooter and the talking Alf dolls. Also, Stewart said, the Thing games aren't selling this year like in years past.

"One item we've had trouble selling, which I'm surprised about, is the Athearn train miniatures," Sachdeva said. "They usually do quite well, so I ordered more this year, but they aren't selling." Yates said K mart has sold toys well this year. "We haven't had a whole lot of problems not selling toys this year," Yates said. "It's been pretty good for

Toy sales seem to be about the same for K Mart and Wal-Mart, as compared to last year.

"Sales are about the same this year as last year, maybe a little higher," said Bruce Hoyle, employee in Wal-Mart's toy department.

Bernina House Ideas Unlimited

QUILTING SUPPLIES AND BOOKS Quilting Classes Metrosene Quilting Thread Snap™ Quilting Frame Wool and Silk Batting Fiesta Amish Cottons

537-8919 Dorine Elsea

BERNINA E

Bernina Sewing Machines Patterns • Notions • Classes Passap Knitting Machines Yarns

Judy Nelson Bernina Sewing Center 537-8919

4th & Osage

Tussy Mussy VICTORIAN GIFTS

Vintage clothing

Linens Jewelry Victorian Collectables 539-6759

Susan Tolley

B-A-S-K-E-T WORKS Gift Baskets

for all occasions we deliver & UPS

> Cheryl Sieben 539-7499

537-3200

537-3200

537-3200

Sale 10.99-14.99. Reg. $15-$20. Ladies' gowns and nightshirts of cotton flannel, silky polyester/ nylon,

Sale 11.25, $12 Reg. $15, $16. Men's print or solid cotton flannel, cotton/poly P.J.'s.
Sale 11.99, 24.99 Orig. $18, $36. Men's slipper and wrap set or cotton/poly terry robe.

Store Hours

10-9 Daily 12-5 Sunday

All Leather Handbags reg. $22 and up

P.J.s for kids Save on sleepwear for girls, boys and infants. Even styles featuring favorite movie and TV characters!

776-9241 for more information.

denominations of any redeemed for any amount. They may be merchandise from our catalogs or stores. Call

JCPenney gift certificates are available in Manhattan Town Center 776-4867 © 1958, JCPenney Company, Inc.

"Your Competitive Edge Sporting Goods Store"

HOLIDAY SPECIALS

All Childrens Leotards..... 40% off Winter Jackets 20% off Big 8-NFL Shirts..... 40% off 10% off All Tennis Racquets..... Aerobic Workout Clothing 20% off

Holiday Hours: Mon-Thurs 8:30-8:00 Fri & Sat. 8:30-5:30 Sunday 1:00-5:00

500 Ft. Riley Blvd.

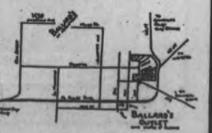

"STREEETCH Your Holiday Dollars" 30-50% Off Name Brand Shoes

Russell Athletic Irregular Sweats Large Selection of College and other printed shirts. 40% Off!

SPECIAL HOURS: Mon-Fri 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. Sat. 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Sun. 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Dieters fight extra Christmas pounds

By Nancy Prosser Collegian Reporter

Eat, drink, and be fat and drunk. That seems to be the battle cry of some holiday partiers across the nation. Even confirmed lovers of yogurt and granola may have a difficult time resisting the temptations of chocolate holiday treats.

For most people, the holiday season will signal a substantial weight gain. The national average is about seven pounds, said Laurie Pomeroy of The Diet Center.

"Usually, holidays are a low point in business for the Diet Center because no one wants to think about dieting," Pomeroy said. "However, this year, most of my dieters seem more aware of what they are eating and are trying to keep the weight off, instead of losing it later."

Nutri-System offers tips to help its clients avoid unwanted pounds, said Shirly Derbis, Nutri-System counselor.

"The philosophy of 'thinking thin' is something we preach to our dieters," Derbis said. "I handed out a sheet of tips to keep my clients aware of simple ways to beat the holiday eating binge."

The tips emphasize positive thinking.

■ Wear "skinny clothes" to gatherings. People eat less if their clothes fit snugly.

Don't starve before a party. Drink water or diet drinks and eat vegetables. Don't let wellmeaning friends sabatoge plans to stay on a diet.

Chew sugarless gum while cooking to prevent nibbling.

"Food should not be the focus of our socialization. Concentrate on family and friends. Sit with talkers, not eaters," Derbis said.

Making simple substitutions for fattening foods during the holiday season also can help. For instance, switching from mayonnaise to mustard on a sandwich can save 100 calories. Skipping the cheese on burgers saves another 100 calories.

Besides extra eating, many parties signal drinking alcohol, which can add up to a lot of empty calories. The average light beer contains 100 calories, and the average drink contains 200 calories. Switching from a gin and tonic to a scotch and soda saves 35 calories per glass. Instead of pure fruit juice, drinkers should try equal parts juice and seltzer. The substitution will curb at least 30 calories per glass.

Some other pointers to help partiers through the season unscarred include eating fresh vegetables and cold fruits, instead of hors d'oeuvres, and skipping the dip. A raw carrot stick has about eight calories. Dip adds 27 calories. Eating from the bowl makes it difficult to gauge exactly how many calories are consumed.

There are simple ways to look thinner during the holidays. Being aware of good posture improves body shape, Derbis said.

Dark colors slim, while whites and brights enlarge. Black is a traditional holiday favorite. Shoulder pads can do wonders to reproportion a more slender waist, and accessories can emphasize and draw attention to the face.

Nutri-System and The Diet Center plan to offer special diet packages at the first of the year for those who didn't make all of their weight goals during the year or who want act on New Year's resolutions that involve weight loss.

Fortunately, if all else fails and a person wakes on Jan. 1 with a raging hangover and the national average extra seven pounds, the person still has at least four months until the swimsuit season.

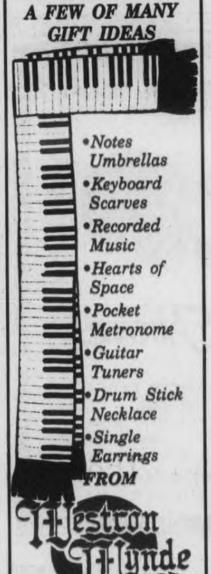

Made to order 776-4117

1015 N. 3rd Manhattan

712 N. Manhattan 776-9911

A Different Special Every Week in December

1327 Anderson-Next to Kinko's Aggieville, Manhattan

Phone ahead for large orders 776-5211

2½ gallon-60 gallon Aquarium Tanks

·Oceanic & All Glass brands ·Complete line of accessories Complete Aquarium set-ups

Don't miss out on our weekend fish specials. Our friendly, trained personnel are always available to offer assistance.

GREEN THUMB PLANTS - PETS

Serving Manhattan Over 30 Years 1105 WATERS-539-4751 ACROSS FROM ALCO

Good Writings We Bring

PWP 40 PERSONAL WORD PROCESSOR

A truly portable word processor with an 8 line by 80 character backlit liquid crystal display, 42,000 character memory, built-in disk drive with Data Disk storage of 100,000 characters, full word processing capabilities, Spell-Right™ 50,000 word electronic dictionary, Word-Right® AutoSpell®, and a prepackaged tutorial disk. list price $599

Impressive features include a 16 line by 80 character backlit liquid crystal display with 50,000 character memory, built-in disk drive with DataDisk storage of 100,000 characters, complete word processing capabilities including Headers and Footers, Undo and AutoSave, Spell-Right[™] 75,000 word electronic dictionary, Electronic Thesaurus and more. list price $799

our price $649

713 N. 12th Aggieville

Advanced Business Systems

ICAT sponsors food collections

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

from:

Manhattan Jown Center

Come see our unique gift items: WatchesScartsEarringsImported bags Crystals•Oll Lamps•

776-9739

For the Holidays

Seasons Greetings

1129 Laramie Aggieville

Have a burger with a friend at

The Roundtree Boutique

By The Collegian Staff

Domestic assistance programs have been hit hard by cuts in federal government assistance, and the Flint Hills Bread Basket is no

To help make up for the loss, members of Students that Back the Cats are sponsoring food collection drives at the men's home basketball games in December.

The collections will be for the Mayor's Holiday Tree, which donates food to the Flint Hills Bread Basket.

Matt McMillen, ICAT adviser, said this is the first year the group has been involved in the food drive. It will probably become an annual event, he said.

"I think this is a very positive thing to do, and the timing is very good," McMillen said. "People need help around the holidays, and I hope we can do this every

Sandra Ransopher, senior in marketing, is helping coordinate the food collection.

Fans attending the games Wednesday, Saturday and Dec. 22 are asked to bring canned goods. Those who donate items will be eligible for prizes drawn at halftime. Some of the prizes are K-State sweatshirts and hats. John Fairman, assistant vice president of University Relations, said ICAT's goal of 5,000 pounds of canned goods will add to the 5,182 pounds collected by the Kansas Order of Omega earlier this year. The Order of Omega, a $3,000. The Mayor's Holiday Tree's goal is to collect 62,000 pounds of food. Last year, 46,000 pounds were collected.

greek honorary, also collected

Fires threaten holidays

By Brenda Birt Collegian Reporter

Awareness of fire safety rules is one of the best ways to ensure a happy holiday season.

Candles cause many Christmastime fires, said Larry Wesche, Manhattan Fire Marshal.

"We've had a problem lately at the University with candles," he said. "In all cases, (the candles) were unattended. If you want to burn candles, don't put them near dry greenery and never leave the room without blowing them out."

Christmas lights are another cause of fires. Wesche said people should check their lights closely before putting them up, especially on the tree.

"Be sure the lights are ULapproved and that there are no bare wires," he said. "Once the lights are on the tree, be sure to turn them off when you leave the room."

A third area of fire danger is live Christmas trees. Freshness is the key to a safe tree, said Carl Meyer, president of Horticultural Services.
"A fairly fresh, green tree doesn't burn very easily," Miller said. A simple test can tell you how fresh your tree is, he said. "If the needles fall off in your hand, the tree is too dry to be in your house," Wesche said.

He suggests watering trees daily and placing them away from air vents, fireplaces and wood-burning stoves, so they will not dry out.

The tree's placement is particularly important in small areas, such as in Zentz, K-State Fire Safety officer

"Trees should not block any exits," he said. The best way to decrease firm hazards is through a fire retardant Wesche said. "Retarding slows down a fire considerably," he said. A combination of seven ounces borax, three ounces boric acid, and two quarts lukewarm water can be sprayed on trees and decorations to increase retardancy, Wesche said.

rents Santa Claus costumes

By The Collegian Staff

K-Staters don't have to look to the North Pole to find Santa. He's as close as the Union.

The Union Program Council's Special Events Committee is renting Santa suits this Christmas season for $10 per day.

Although the promotion is directed at K-State organizations, anyone can rent the suits, said Mike Penner, program adviser for the Union.

"We don't advertise off campus,"

The suit rentals began in 1978 when UPC purchased one Santa suit, Penner said. The council purchased a second suit for about $250 this year.

"We'll rent them through Christmas, and last year we had it rented would be worth it to buy another one," Penner said.

The suits include coats, pants, spats, belt, beard, wig and hat. The newer suit also has a padded stomach.

People rent the suits for various reasons, said Arlene Barnes, UPC

"They basically rent them for par-nearly every day, so we thought it ties," she said. "Last year, a professed rented it and wore it for class. He said he had good response from http:// students.'

Profit from the suit rentals is minimal, Penner said.

"It helps pay our costs — cleaning repairs and (buying) the new suit. So what profit we might make on it goes back into the committee to help sup port other programs," he said.

Holiday Gift

Guide

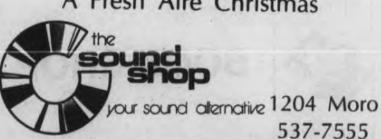

The Sounds of Christmas

on sale NOW

Featuring Mannheim Steamroller's A Fresh Aire Christmas

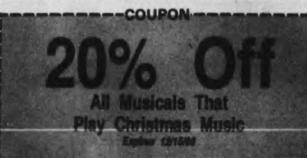

Manhattan's "Christmas Headquarters"

TO THE HOUSE "OF COUPON FOR And Garlend

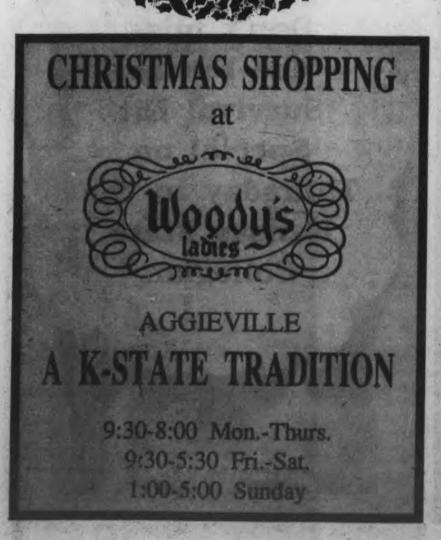

Kitchens Plus Has Manhattan's Finest Selection Of Artificial Trees. Ornaments And Christmas Accessories!!

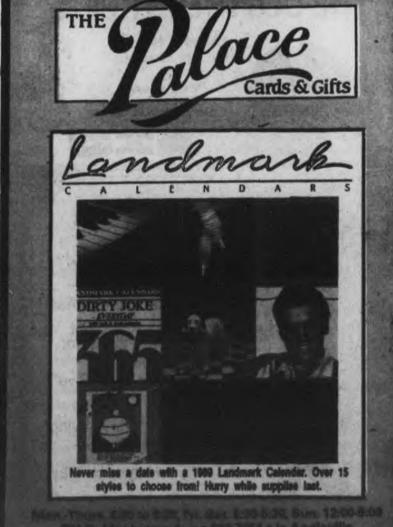

Open Evenings and Sundays too!!

537-4046

1110 Westloop Shopping Center

Ballet troupe to present 'Nutcracker' on campus

By The Collegian Staff

The world-renowned ballet "The Nutcracker," a fairy-tale ballet about Christmas and happiness, will be performed by the Tulsa Ballet Company Saturday and Sunday in McCain Auditorium.

The music for the ballet was composed in 1892 by Peter Tchaikovsky. It was first performed as a concert piece and then choreographed by Maurice Petipa and Lev Ivanovas as a ballet. It is based on a story by E.T.A. Hoffman.

The first performance of "The Nutcracker" was Dec. 17, 1892, in St. Petersburg.

"The Nutcracker' is probably the world's best beloved ballet," said Richard Martin, director of McCain. "The Tulsa Ballet is a very professional troupe which has won critical acclaim and is always well received everywhere they perform."

Included in the cast of "The Nutcracker" will be 30 local children, who won their parts in the ballet after auditioning in Manhattan in

The company regularly tours in Arkansas, Kansas, Colorado, Missouri, Nebraska and Texas.

Tickets may be purchased at the McCain box office.

Ticket prices for the general public are $14, lower floor; $12, lower balcony; and $10, upper balcony. Student tickets are $8, $7 and $5. Senior citizens' tickets are also available for $12, $10, and $8.

Performances of "The Nutcracker" will be at 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Trees

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 4B

Kansas-grown trees. "Seventy percent of the trees we sell are Kansas-grown," Olson said. Christmas trees are not created equal, Olsen said. For example:

■ Spruce trees tend to be expensive and difficult to find in this area. Many tree retailers do not like to sell them because they tend to dry out and shed easily. Despite the problems, many people still consider them attractive because of their blue color.

they tend to be more expensive than some other types of Christmas trees. ■ Douglas Firs are generally the and give the look of a spruce tree, but

■ Noble Firs keep their needles least expensive and are grown in the northern states.

Tradition Research

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 2B not the certain day," Conrow said, adding that material gifts are not stressed as part of the celebration.

Quakers do not have a creed. As a member of the Friends General Conference, Conrow said the group didn't congregate in a church, but in a meeting house. The unprogrammed meetings are entirely silent, similar to a meditative group. Messages are exchanged when individuals feel their thoughts come from the "inner

She said it is important to realize that not all Quaker groups observe the same principles. Some communities have a church, ministers and programmed meetings.

■ CONTINUED FROM PAGE 4B projected that 192,000 trees will be grown in 1993, he said. Buying Kansas-grown Christmas

"When you buy a shipped tree, it's already four to six weeks old from the time of the cut," Lynch said. "These trees dry out quicker, becoming a fire hazard, and (they) don't retain their needles or fresh smell."

trees could benefit Kansans, Lynch

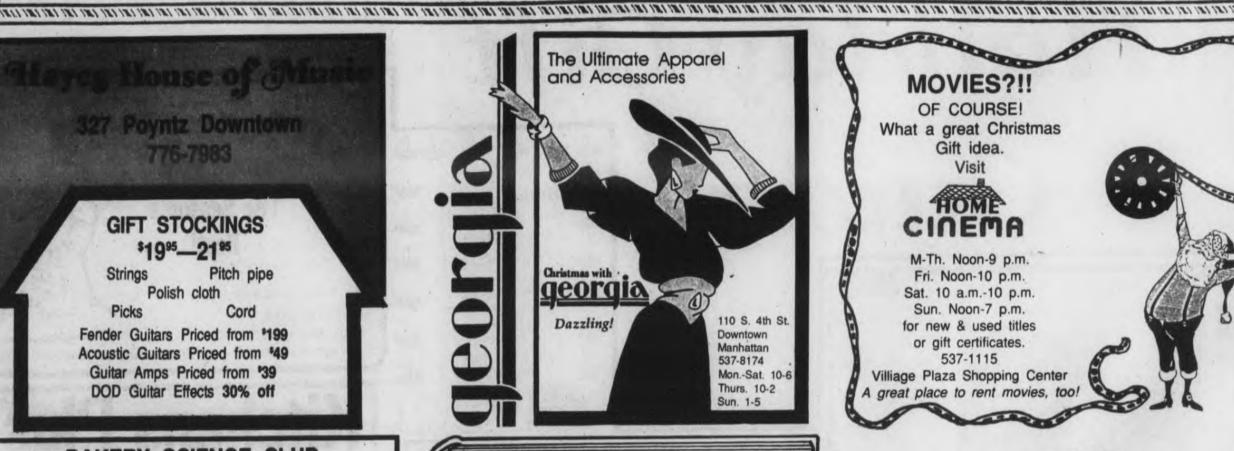

To get more Kansans interested in purchasing trees grown locally, many plantation owners sponsor a "choose-and-cut" campaign, Lynch

The campaign allows tree buyers the opportunity to pick a tree and reserve it.

BOOKS BOOKS BOOKS BOOKS-BOOKS-BOOKS

The Perfect Gift for the Reader of the Family!

- •We discount New York Times Fiction List
- •Ahearn Traditional Book-$19.95

•Far Side Cups & Calendars

•Free Gift Wrap

BOOK SHOP

Open Mon.-Sat. 9-9, Sun. 9-8

Don't miss the Finals Survival Kit Special on Thursday in the Kansas State Collegian

Fashion Bags

For many people, backpacks are more than a convenient way to carry books. Book bags are a fashion statement. See Page 7.

Weather

Partly cloudy today, becoming mostly cloudy this afternoon. Windy and much colder with the high in the lower 40s. Cloudy and cold tonight, low 20 to 25. Cloudy Thursday morning, high around 30.

Amough mey shot only 40 percent from the field, the Lady Cats defeated Central Missouri State 55-53. See Page 9.

*5-DIGIT 66612

Wednesday

December 7, 1988

Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas 66506 Volume 95, Number 73

Kansas State Collegian

Soviet leader seeks accord

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK - Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev arrived in New York on Tuesday and said he hoped his luncheon discussions with President Reagan and President-elect George Bush would lead to an "expansion of cooperation" between the superpowers.

Gorbachev made his arrival statement in a sun-splashed ceremony at Kennedy International Airport as U.S. officials said they were preparing for the possibility of a "grand gesture" from the Soviet leader to reduce troop strength in Eastern

